NEW BRUNSWICK POTATO EXPORTS

Movement Was Active Last Week--
Low Priced Seed Indicates
High Priced Crop

The heaviest movement on record, in the report of the potato traffic from New Brunswick to the States during last week, given by the C. P. R. this morning. This week business was easier.

Shipments of seed potatoes were especially pronounced, there having been considerable quantities shipped to West Virginia and Maryland. The brisk demand for potatoes followed a lowering in the price, with the result that quotations advanced somewhat.

Potato experts state that potatoes will be dearer next Fall as an advance in price usually follows low prices for seeds, one reason for the paradox is that when seeds are low farmers put down better potatoes, hence the yield is of superior quality.

Large quantities of pulpwood have also been moved to this province into the States. In the past week there has been a slackening as the roads have softened and also because contracts are being completed.

The good business in potatoes and pulpwood made up in railway traffic for the stagnation in lumber.

Concerning the pulp wood situation during the past winter, it is said that operations were facilitated and accelerated by good road conditions and by the fact that there were plenty of choppers available.

T. W. CALDWELL ON PATRONAGE

T. W. Caldwell, M. P., has written the following letter to the daily press:

I always believed that the patronage system as practised in times past was not in the best interests of Canada, and when the Union Government stated that they would abolish the old patronage system I believed that they had taken a long step in the right direction, but to my disappointment, while they have professed to abolish the patronage system and have appointed a Civil Service Commission, which is supposed to have the appointment of all Civil Servants, I find that at the present time the most important appointments are being made under the old patronage system; for instance in the appointing of the Census Commissioners of which there will be one in every constituency in Canada for the supervising of the taking of the Census the coming summer. The appointment of these Commissioners has been made by the Minister of Trade and Commerce on the recommendation of the member from that constituency, if he is supporting the government otherwise on the recommendation of the defeated candidate. Again, there was a new Dominion Election Act passed in 1920 which makes it necessary to appoint enumerators or registrars for every rural or urban polling division, respectively, and instead of these officials being appointed by the Civil Service Commission as would naturally be the case of the old patronage system was completely abolished, they are now appointed by the Chief Electoral Officer who in turn is appointed by the Government.

With regard to the inside service, I believe the Civil Service Commission have a fairly free hand in making appointments, but as shown by the two instances cited above, the outside appointments in the Civil Service where political advantage may be gained by the government making appointments, the old patronage system is still in effect in a most partizan sense. In conclusion I would say that while I was never in favor of the old patronage system I believe that the present system as carried out at the present time retains all the evils of the old system while pretending to abolish them.

Yours sincerely,
T. W. CALDWELL

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE CONCERT A SUCCESS

The entertainment given last Thursday evening by the local Women's Institute was a highly enjoyable affair and was greeted by a packed house. The receipts of the evening amounted to more than $100. The main feature of the program was the play enacted by a number of the members. Each part was well carried out and some of the local hits produced much mirth. After a few introductory remarks by Mayor Kelley, a quartette composed of George Lucy, Guy McGinley, Alfred Moore and A. B. Plummer rendered a selection, which was followed by a solo by E. C. Morgan. After the play, "A sewing circle at Mrs. Martin's" there was a duet by Mrs. A. Y. Dickinson and Mrs. F. A. Allen; a piano solo by George Lucy; Monologues by Guy McGinley; vocal solo by George Lucy; reading by Miss Clara Hagerman; the national anthem.

NEWMAN CLARK HOPELESSLY INSANE

Attorney General Byrne is expected to take action soon regarding Newman Clark, condemned to be hanged for the murder of Phoebe Bell at Grand Falls on March 25, 1920, but recently reprieved and granted a new trial by the Supreme Court of Canada.

The defence in this case has relied upon a plea of insanity as several witnesses were present when Clark shot and killed the girl. Clark later turned his revolver upon himself and afterwards escaped from a hospital at Grand Falls, where he was supposed to be hovering between life and death and was captured across the international boundary in Maine with his feet so severely frozen that an operation was necessary.

If Clark is to be tried again his case will be on the docket of the next Victoria County Circuit Court, but that does not meet until September 27, when Mr. Justice Crockett will preside. According to reports reaching the Attorney General's department here recently Clark is now hopelessly insane at the Andover jail. The opinion is expressed here that the outcome of his case will probably be his commitment to an insane asylum and that alienists might be called upon to examine him before long.

Attorney General Byrne came here from Edmundston where he had been conducting the St. Pierre trial. But again on Saturday he left for his home at Bathurst, to return here on Tuesday for the resumption of the session of the Legislature.

B. Y. P. U. SOCIAL

On Monday evening, March 14, the B. Y. P. U. held their monthly social in the vestry of the Baptist church. A pleasing program was carried out. Opening--"Sound the Battle Cry" by Sunbeam Class. Duet by Warren White and H. A. Sippell. "Asleep in the Deep." Solo--"I am Lonesome that's all" by Kathleen Kennedy. Song--"A volunteer for Jesus" by the Commerce Class. Trio--"Rebecca at Sunny Brook Farm" by Lorne Britton, Mabel Morgan and Queenie Britton. Reading--"How to avoid getting married" by Gage Montgomery.

A demonstration by H. A. Sippell, "How gramophone records are made," followed, after which delightful refreshments were served.

IS ACCUSED OF KILLING HER CHILD

St. John Girl to be Arrested at McAdam--
Ill and May Not Recover

The body of an infant child, with a shoestring tightly tied about its little neck, was found in a bathroom at the C. P. R. Hotel, at McAdam, on Sunday. Sheriff John B. Hawthorne was notified and drove to Harvey Station, where he picked up Dr. B. H. Dougan, coroner, and together they proceeded to McAdam, where last night they held an inquest, which did not conclude until five o'clock this morning.

The verdict of the jury was that it was a case of infanticide, and that the child had come to its death at the hands of Miss Margaret Long, of St. John, who was its mother. Miss Long, who is about 21 or 22 years old, is now in such a condition at McAdam that she cannot be moved from the hotel, but when she can be moved, she will be brought to the Victoria Hospital here, and later will be placed under arrest on the charge of having killed her infant child.

The evidence heard by the jury showed that the finding of the infant's dead body at the head of the bath tub in the bathroom had been reported to Miss Grant, manageress of the hotel, and she had at once called a doctor, who found that Miss Long had given birth to the child, and, it was said, she had admitted tying the shoestring about its neck.

AN OCTOGENARIAN

On Tuesday The Observer office was brightened by a call from Shepherd M. Boyer who was celebrating his 81st birthday. Mr. Boyer is still an active worker, still cultivating a few acres of land and doing all the chores about his premises. Physically well preserved he is most remarkable for his memory. He recalls many interesting events of his early days. He was born at Victoria Corner, the son of Moses Boyer and there his boyhood was spent. His first schooling was in a log house, near the brook that flows across the main road at Somerville directly opposite Maple street, Hartland. Mr. Boyer recalled in an interesting manner events of "the winter the soldiers went through"--1861-62. He with others was engaged in transporting them.

Mr. Boyer has been all his life a great reader and acquired the desire to see for himself the people and places he had read of. Therefore he visited the World's Fair at Chicago in 1893 and the great Exposition at Paris in 1900 and it is safe to say that he absorbed more knowledge from what he saw and heard than any other one in ten thousand.

Eighty-one years old, with sight and hearing almost as good as new and speech and quickness of understanding not at all impaired, Mr. Boyer is indeed to be congratulated. The Observer joins with his many friends in wishing him many happy returns of his birthday.

Rev. F. E. Bishop who has been the Baptist pastor here for nearly three years has accepted a unanimous invitation to the Baptist church at Newcastle and will be leaving here about the first of May having resigned his present charge. Many will regret Mr. Bishop's departure as he has made many friends and proved himself a good preacher and faithful pastor.

Mrs. Flanders of Piaster Rock, Grand Worthy mistress of the L. O. B. A., and a number of others, were here on Monday last and organized a new Lodge of the order with thirty charter members. After organization the new members partook of an oyster supper the guests of Mrs. Harry Smith in the Methodist basement. It is expected many more will join this fine association. Its officiated title is "Wightman Lodge, L. O. B. A. 344."

It is learned that the Quarterly Board of the Methodist Church has extended an invitation to their former pastor, Rev. G. A. Ross, now in Bathurst, to succeed Rev. F. A. Wightman, whose term expires next June. Mr. Ross left here nearly four years ago and has many warm friends here who will be glad to welcome his return.

ONE WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Of Interest to Childless Women.

Toronto, Ontario.—"I suffered for a long time from a female weakness, inflammation, and a terrible backache caused by that condition. One day one of your booklets was left at my door, and I read how other women with troubles like mine had been made well, so I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Sanative Wash, and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have the finest little baby boy that any mother could want. I want to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who has female troubles." — Mrs. JOSEPH LA BELLA, 778 Shaw Street, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong, and this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

On Wednesday evening Rev. F. A. Wightman showed some lantern slides in the Methodist church. The views were of England, Ireland and the Isle of Man and were very pretty and interesting. Mr. Wightman first gave a short address and then told a little about each picture as it appeared. It is a pity more people did not avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing some really good pictures.

"Made at Windsor, N. S."

Approaching the planting season the farmers are in the most unusual state of uncertainty they have been for many years and indeed it is doubtful if anyone can remember a time when he felt less sure of the proper course to take than he does now. This is due to the present low price of farm produce and particularly the low price of potatoes compared with the extremely high price of a year ago.

However, the potato growers must always consider a planting time, not what conditions are then, but what he expects them to be when he harvests his crop and it is for sale nearly a year later. It is the general impression that business conditions are now at their lowest ebb and an upward swing is expected to start at any time and some think it has already started. Even the most pessimistic agree that next summer or fall will see business going along at a good safe rate and at the latest before the end of the year.

At times like these farmers receive advice and warning from many sources. Up to the first of March there was a general feeling that the "Fordney Bill" which had been introduced into the U. S. Senate would practically shut off the U. S. market to the Canadian farmer. This bill, however, was not passed and the U. S. market is entirely open and while at the present the prices there are no better than the local prices, nevertheless an open market at any price is better than a closed one.

Two years ago in the spring of 1919, the potato growers were advised to hold back, not to buy fertilizer and not to plant as a reaction from the war conditions was expected to follow immediately and if they held off prices on fertilizer would be lower and it was not a season to plant the usual amount as crops would not bring good prices the following fall.

This resulted in a decreased acreage and a year ago when the 1919 crop was in the market, potatoes went to their very highest level, in some cases up to $10.00 a barrel and even higher. This resulted from a decreased acreage, making the supply slightly under the demand with the prices that go with that condition.

It is the opinion of those who follow the course of events that a recurrence of two years ago can be expected. There is a general feeling among the farmers, less acreage will be planted this year, and there is a general feeling that next fall business conditions will be greatly improved and these two will surely make higher prices the same as two years ago.

The Canadian farmers are fortunate in being able to know what course other farmers are taking, their planting season coming the latest of any, and reports from the Southern States indicate a reduced acreage, and this in itself is enough to make the farmers here realize that a reduced acreage anywhere will mean shortage of crops, and a shortage of crops means better prices. Everything is taking the same course as that of two years ago, as our records show that at that time Southern farmers decreased their acreage using less fertilizer and curtailing all along the line, but the real farmer took the opposite course, planting a large crop when others were curtailing, and reaping the advantage of the good prices of the following year.

It is particularly no time to take any chance on the crop outturn, as the supply of Potash fertilizers has been limited for the past six years, and indeed up to last year there has been none offered at all, and while in some cases holding back on fertilizer one season, might not make any decided difference, it will at the present. Potatoes need a complete fertilizer, and with the lack of Potash the past few years, a good crop cannot be depended on without it.

The importance of the use of fertilizer for increased production even now is not realized by many farmers. Dr. A. D. Hall, director of the Rothamstead Experiment Station in England says: "The great factor has been the introduction of fertilizers and purchased feeding stuffs. As soon as you can introduce on a farm some extraneous source of plant food elements, you can raise the standard of production." The Minister of Agriculture, Paris, France, says that of the greatly increased yield of crops, seventy per cent. is due to the use of fertilizers. The Royal Agricultural Experiment Station, Germany, makes the same comment and the Deputy Director General, Holland, says, "I can only say that the largest proportion in the acreage of different crops in the Netherlands, I would attribute to the proper use of commercial fertilizer."

To these can be added the testimony of Experimental Farms everywhere, a twenty-five year series of experiments in Ohio, a three year test in West Virginia, and experiments now being carried out by the Canadian Department of Agriculture, and even a report from China. All give the same results.

The best advice to the farmers is for them to go along following their usual methods, planting their usual crop and to remember they are planting for conditions nearly a year from now instead of conditions as they are.

Finally, every man must decide for himself and the decision should be based on whether or not you will be better off a year from now if you have a large crop to sell or a small one.

We are ready to take care of the late orders which we expect to come in. We have a good supply of all our different brands made up and ready to ship. It is all well seasoned and in good mechanical condition, and will be shipped in new bags and new barrels arriving in the best of condition.

Allen A. Waters offers for immediate sale his fine house situated just off the Main street, south end. The location is a beautiful high and slightly one and the house is surrounded by lovely shade trees. The house itself has 10 rooms and bathroom, nicely fitted up and with a constant supply of running water. The house is thoroughly well finished throughout and is warm and comfortable in winter and accessible to pure, fresh air in the summer. There is a large woodshed attached and a clapboarded and painted barn that will accommodate several horses; also a garage. Never-failing supply of water in the yard and at the kitchen sink. Enough ground for a good-sized garden. This is an ideal home for a couple that wishes to retire, or for any family. The house has four sleeping rooms and more could be finished in the attic, which is reached by stairs.

Mr. Waters also offers for sale a farm in Ashland district, three miles from the river, with a down-hill haul to market. Of this 100 acres, 30 acres are cleared and a part freshly seeded, 10 acres ploughed and the remainder in grass. There are 70 acres of woodland that will yield enough fire-wood to pay for the place and leave many years supply. There is also a good quantity of pulp and lumber. The prices of both these properties will interest any buyer, and full particulars of the whole may be had from Mr. Waters at the house. DON'T DELAY. These properties will move quickly. Part of the purchase price may remain on mortgage if desired.

WHY MEN DO NOT MARRY

A correspondent of Miss Ann Merrill's page, in the Mail and Empire, wonders why so many men in these days, show little or no disposition to marry. The question may not be easy to answer, but an old-fashioned fellow may be permitted to make a guess. Perhaps the number of young women taking employment long sought by or offered to men only has something to do with it. Also, it is not improbable, thoughtful men take note of the price tickets on boots, stockings, frocks, hats, and other articles of feminine clothing and adornment, and figure it out that it would take all of two months' salary to half cover a woman from toes to the waist, and the wages of three months more to dress her from the waist to the tip of the plume which waves gaily in the air from one to two feet above her head. There need be no question that another discouragement to matrimony is the fact that so many girls make themselves cheap. Any hour of the day you may see a young woman walking up or down Mississauga street, accompanied by a complacent, loose-jointed youth, blowing the smoke of a cigar or cigarette in her face; or, if not smoking, he will probably be seen shoving her along the sidewalk by the arm, with an air of proprietorship, quite as insolent and objectionable. It is human nature not to prize that which is easily obtained, and if young women wish to be not only respected, but coveted, they must respect themselves and cultivate reserve. A further undoubtedly reason is that girls encourage young men to spend their money on them so freely that it is found impossible to save anything on which to begin housekeeping.—Orilla Packet.

RESULT OF RECKLESS BUYING

An article in the Farmers' Sun says: "The Windsor balliff has over $40,000 worth of motor cars for sale, which were purchased by the 'newly rich' during the recent boom period, but which have been seized by him for payment of debts."

This is only another case of false hopes coming in with the prosperous times. These "boom" periods strike us with a certain degree of regularity, and with every such period there are too many reckless buyers. Many seem to have a feeling the good times will continue. They do not know, or have evidently forgotten that good times are followed by periods of depression, as certainly as night follows day. It is always well, even in prosperous times, for a person to go slow. It is well to make hay while the sun shines, and be in a state of preparedness for the rainy days that will inevitably follow. Our period of prosperity has proved to many a period of reckless extravagance, and it didn't come without warning.

NOT SO BAD HERE

We wonder if some of our U. F. readers, who complain so bitterly of the fall in prices of foodstuffs they produce on their farms would have to say if Kansas prices ruled here. Some one must have been responsible for saving Canada from the ill of a panic deflation. Mr. M. M. Smith on his way to California, passed through Kansas and he sends us a copy of a Wichita newspaper, from which we take from actual advertisements these quotations: Roast beef, 12½ cents per pound; pork tenderloins, 15 cents per pound; 2 lbs pure lard, 25c; pot roast, guaranteed fatted steer beef, 9 c. per pound; guaranteed tender round steak, 11½c per pound; bacon, 25c per pound; pork sausages, 12½c per pound; flour $2.40 cwt.—Simcoe Reformer.

NO WHERE TO GO

Pat had died, and Mike while seated with the rest of the mourners burst into laughter. When he returned home his wife said: "What was the idea of laughing at Pat's funeral?" "Well, about two weeks ago, Pat told me he didn't believe in heaven or hell, and while I looked at him lying there so peacefully, it just came to me that he was all dressed up and had no place to go."

NOTICE OF REMOVAL

On the first of April we shall open in our new stand next to Clark's Hotel, Main street, with supply of Fresh Meat and Fish as usual. We hope to see all our old customers and some new ones.

J. E. DONKIN

AND THEY ALL "STOOD PAT"

While Mr. James Corbett, Who Had Manipulated the Deck, Sat Apart and Laughed.

In a club much frequented by men of the theatrical business, a poker game which began as a mere pastime grew, by degrees, to an undesirable intensity. The chaps who usually "sat in" were all friends and fellow-laborers in a non-to-inerative occupation. They agreed among themselves that there must be no more raising of the limit and no more reckless betting. The game must be one for amusement only. On the night when this agreement was solemnly concluded, they sat down and sent for the cards. Jim Corbett brought them. "I'll just sit and look on for a while," he said. "May take a hand a little later."

One man took the cards out of the box and threw around for a deal. The dealer shuffled them and passed them for the cut. Then he dealt a hand while the banker was giving each man his checks. The first man after the deal bet the limit. Every man of the seven around the table came in, each "tilting" the pot for the limit.

"Say," said Corbett, "I thought you fellows were going to play light. That's a fine way to start out."

This evoked not even a response from the players. Each was sitting tight and covertly eyeing his neighbors. The dealer asked the first man how many cards he wanted. He stood pat. Every player around the board looked startled. Then the next man stood pat. And after him the next and finally all seven. It was at that moment that some one observed Mr. Corbett apparently about to choke in his secluded corner. Corbett had combined 25 per cent of four separate decks, so that the 52 cards he had handed the players were all spades. Each man had a pat flush when the betting began.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Depressing Personality.

"There comes Blithersby."

"I see him. Let's avoid him."

"Why?"

"He's the worst crepe hanger I know. Every time he hears me start to talk about buying a new motor car or taking a little trip to Florida, or Cuba he wants to tell me how many babies die every day in Europe."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

THE EMINENT TORONTO EYE SPECIALIST

Luminoscopy Test Used

HE LOOKS INTO "HE EYE"

Headaches Cured in Most Cases

Here for 11 Days, Commencing

Thurs. Mar. 31, ending Tues. April 12

We have engaged FREDERICK W. MAYOR, the Eminent Eye Specialist of Toronto to teach us the most advanced and positive system of Eye Testing known to science, the LUMINOSCOPY SHADOW TEST SYSTEM. Mr. Mayor is the originator of this distinctive system, whereby the interior of the eye is illuminated and the defect corrected by scientific internal eye measurement, and has proven to hand the reds of eye sufferers in New Brunswick that his wonderful LUMINOSCOPY TEST succeeds where many others fail. The more complicated your eye trouble is the greater will be your comfort and satisfaction when tested by this system. Like many other originators he has many imitators, but we know by investigating that we are bringing to Perth the originator of the "Luminoscopy Test," in the person of Mr. Mayor. His students in the Province are the leaders of the profession. We especially ask all to come—those now wearing glasses, or those who suffer from or suspect any trouble. Make an appointment. Consultation: morning, afternoon or evening, by appointment. His success in Fredericton, Woodstock and Hartland proves his ability.

Remember—We are adopting Mr. Mayor's special Luminoscopy Test after careful consideration. It has been our policy to give an absolutely reliable service in optical work and the addition of the latest model Photometer and the Luminoscopy Test makes our service to you second to none.

Eyes tested free. Guaranteed satisfaction. Glasses only advised when needed. Prices moderate. Children's eyes our specialty. Make this your opportunity. This system eliminates all guesswork and that tiresome trying on of glasses.

Please bear in mind that this is not a money-making scheme; it is purely of an educative nature, a link in the chain of demand for better Opticians from coast to coast. We will benefit by your patronage in the future.

Coral's Varying Colors.
 Genuine coral may be red, pink, white, blue, yellow, green or black, the last being the rarest and most highly prized. The next valuable is the red coral, which is susceptible to a high polish and is most in use for jewelry, being the coral of commerce. Corals are roughly classed under two heads, the horny corals and the lime or stone corals. To the former belong the red and black forms and the white to the latter. Red coral is chiefly found in the Mediterranean. The corals found on the Atlantic coast of Florida are the lime, or stone corals, which are the reef-building forms.
Good Reason.
 "You needn't be alarmed about women running for office, now so many of them can vote."
 "I'm not. They couldn't do it in the recent style of skirts."

HARTLAND, N. B.

H. W. BORING, a well-to-do Kansas farmer, says he has gained twenty pounds and is in better general health than he has been in years, since taking Tanlac.

"Since Tanlac has overcome my troubles, I have gained twenty pounds in weight and am in better general health than for years past," was the straight-forward statement made a few days ago by H. W. Boring, a prominent and well-to-do farmer living at Overland Park, Kans.

"During the two years I suffered I tried everything I knew of to get relief, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tanlac. My appetite was poor and my digestion was so bad I could hardly retain my food. Nothing seemed to agree with me; in fact, I was almost a confirmed dyspeptic. My whole system seemed to be out of shape. I would have pains across the small of my back so bad at times I could hardly move around.

"My nerves were all unstrung and I would become upset at the least little thing. I seldom slept well at night and finally, became so weak and run-down that I lost weight rapidly. I was also troubled a great deal with catarrh and of mornings had to spend a half hour or more clearing up my head.

"This is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac and it certainly has been a blessing to me. It just seemed to be made especially for my case. I improved from the first. My digestion now is perfect and regardless of what I eat I never suffer any bad after-effects.

"The pains across my back have entirely disappeared. The catarrh has left me, too, and my head is perfectly clear. I am no longer nervous and rest well at night. I have regained my lost weight and am feeling better and stronger than I have in years. I am going to keep Tanlac in my house so it will be handy at all times."

Tanlac is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

CORRECTION BY C. M. SHERWOOD

Dear Mr. Editor:

I would thank your Bath correspondent to adhere to the truth when writing me up. I have not "had a gripe," consequently did not "recover" from it. I have not "had a relapse," neither am I "back in bed again." I had an attack of bronchitis last November, but got all well of that some months ago.

Thanking you for space in your valuable paper.

Yours truly,
C. M. Sherwood.

White Children Cannot Be Reared in West Africa On Account of the Climate

THE life of Englishwoman who follow their husbands—civil servants, officers, merchants—to the British colonies on the West Coast of Africa is described in the London Telegraph by Ethel and Alma Letherbridge. The outstanding fact of the situation, they say, is that the climate forbids the rearing of white children.

"Only in parts of Northern Nigeria," they write, "is it safe to risk the presence of a young white life, for there fresh milk is obtainable and the heat is not so trying. We have seen one white child in our travels. It was pathetic in its pallor and apathy. Its little legs, which should have been plump and sturdy, were merely sallow broomsticks; and this in spite of the most devoted and tender care. Truly, the life of a mother on the West Coast is no bed of roses!

"But it must not be thought that existence among the feminine element is a sad one. There are many wives who trek with their husbands into out-of-the-way portions of their districts and even dangers of the journey with positive zest.

"We recall one athletic, fair-haired girl who thought nothing of rising at four in the morning, slipping into a 'bush' skirt, breeches and field boots, and trudging along by her husband through hunters' paths until the rising sun compelled her to take to her hammock. Her pet monkey and parrot always traveled with her, and were as skilled at making themselves comfortable as she.

"Long practice had made her an adept at what might be called the 'multum in parvo' type of luggage, and she could always produce a dinner gown and accessories out of a microscopic bag when necessity required. When we asked her if she did not prefer to be in one of the large ports where bridges and dancing were the order of the evening she bluntly said that she was fed up with that sort of life and that she preferred to shoot for the pot rather than to chase golf balls, and to sleep the sleep of healthy fatigue in a palm leaf hut in the bush than to jazz to a gramophone until the early hours of the morning.

"That is one way of helping one's husband upon the coast. There is still another. It consists in doing most of his work for him until he sinks into the state of a cheerful nonentity and is known merely as 'Mrs. X's husband.' Masterful women there are in plenty all over the world, but nowhere is it so easy for a masterful woman to grasp the reins in her own hands as on this coast. Take the case of least resistance is an insidious doctrine which adopt out here, and if the work is done, well, what matter whether Mr. or Mrs. X, is responsible?

"We have known wives who signed their husbands' official documents, others who seemed to forget that a woman should not take a military salute, and others who spoke of 'the soldier in my company.' These women, as a rule, are not good housewives. They are short-tempered with the black boys, and are too interested in what they enjoy not their province to pay attention to the duller problems of the home.

"We were taken to call at one house of this sort, where six bottles half full of flat, warm beer was the only refreshment available, and where our hostess wrathfully slapped the head boy for his neglect, though the fault was really her own.

"Black servants are quick to take their cue from their mistress, and if she is lax they become so likewise. Again, there are other women to be found who resent the presence of any increase among their own sex out here. They like to be the only ones in a community of attentive men, even though they may be devoted and loving wives.

"In their own country, unfortunately, the feminine element predominates, and they enjoy the novel sensation of being undisputed queens, even though their kingdoms may be small. One such was known contemptuously to refer to each new arrival as 'one more hussy,' until some one asked her what the others might perchance call her. There is also the butterfly wife, who, until she finds her soul through sorrow or illness, dances the hours away as though nature were not waiting to exact the inexorable penalty. For one cannot burn the candle at both ends with impunity on the West Coast, as men and women have both learnt. These little Undines usually realize their mistakes early and settle down into the best wives and mothers.

"Which brings us once more to the problem of children. Hard, though it may be in India, it is still more bitter

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR FIVE YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON
P. O. Box 123, Parramatta, N. S.

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance. I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-a-lives' would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since.

Anyone who would care to write me as regards 'Fruit-a-lives' I would be glad to tell them what 'Fruit-a-lives' did for me."

here. No white child must be born in these regions; no wise mother brings out with her a daughter under the age of eighteen or twenty. Therefore, she must make her choice. Shall she leave her children to the care of relatives, seeing them for from four to six months yearly, or shall she herself superintend their upbringing and be content with her husband's society only during his leave at home?

"Either way there are strings pulling at her heart. Either way there is anxiety and possible tragedy. The mail steamers are both longed for and dreaded, and sometimes these painful a stranger might condemn as frivolous are actually plunging into gayety to provide an antidote against thought.

"Therefore, taking them as a whole, all honor to the women of the West Coast! One must not grudge them their small pleasures nor be too severe upon their weaknesses.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Complete Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. It cures Catarrhal Deafness by its action on the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE forces the blood on the mucous surface of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

"It's now or never, girl. The train goes inside of ten minutes. It's come, or good-by. Now Rachel, decide and be quick about it."

"Oh, Jake! I love you dearly, but the baby here? Let me run home with it and leave it with mistress."

"I've said my say. It would delay me six hours to miss this train."

"But I can't leave the baby as if it was a piece of luggage!"

"Yes, you can. Put the baby on the park bench beside that innocent fated fellow yonder. Ask him to mind it for a few minutes. I'll scribble Miss Dole's address on a card. Slip it into the baby's clothing. When you don't come back he will find it."

"But what will they think of my abandoning the little dear in this cruel way?"

"Save your sentiment for me, if you've got any to spare."

"And my two week's wages?"

"I've got plenty of money. Don't fret on that score."

Thus Rachel Mine and Jacob Daltor, the former the average nurse girl, the latter a young man who had worked as a barber when he worked at all. His flashy ways had fascinated the comely maid, he had courted her briefly, but persistently, and now with the prospect in view of a new and better situation in another city he put the question plump of immediate marriage.

The young man they had indicated suggested an easy, accommodating person of a kindly nature. Alvin Stanley was not much experienced in worldly ways. He was reasonably fortunate as to means and position. When the artful Rachel placed the sleeping babe on the bench beside him and said: "Please mind the child for a few moments, will you?" Stanley readily replied: "Certainly, Miss," and beamed down at the serene face of the infant.

He treated his involuntary charge as daintily and carefully as though it were a precious piece of fragile bric-a-brac, as at the end of five minutes it awoke. It first stared at him steadily, then its little mouth was wreathed with a seraphic smile, and then as he cooed to it and dangled his watch before its dazzled eyes it consented to remain quiet for a few minutes. It was when it began to whimper that Stanley grew alarmed. He picked it up and moved to and fro in his arms, and as its complaints grew louder he became decidedly concerned.

"I don't see what keeps its mother or nurse, or whoever she is," he soliloquized uneasily, but in vain he strained his gaze in the direction the nurse had gone, for he gained no further sight of her, and never would. The baby grew more and more demonstrative as the minutes wore on. Stanley took to walking with it, which somewhat soothed its hunger and impatience. An hour went by. The babe began to make a violent outcry. People passing him staring, others indignant.

"I can't stand this!" declared Stanley. "But what am I ever going to do?" Then he turned cold all over as he recalled newspaper stories he had read where children had been abandoned to the mercy of confiding strangers. Stanley waited another half an hour. Then he formed a decision. "I'll take it home," he resolved. "Mrs. Morse will know how to care for it and tell me what to do."

Mrs. Morse had been a rock of refuge ever since his mother had died. For 30 years a favorite family servant he had retained her in service at the old home, and hailing a taxi he was soon relieved of the strain of the occasion.

She was a motherly, warm-hearted creature and the idea of a baby in the house seemed to brighten up the old soul magically. She heard Stanley's story.

"I don't see what you can do but advertise, or something like," she observed.

"Maybe—maybe we could keep the little cherub?" timidly suggested Stanley, enraptured as the infant, its wants attended, clasped his big finger caressingly in its little hand.

"It was an hour later when Mrs. Morse, appeared from the impromptu nursery established, quite excited: "I found this card in the little one's clothing," she reported. "It reads: 'Take the child to Miss Marcia Dole, 510 Waverly place.'"

Instantly it was a second taxi and in half an hour Stanley found himself ringing the door bell of the place indicated. A servant came to the door, looked pale and agitated.

"Does a little child belong here," began Stanley stammeringly.

"Oh, Miss Dole, quick! quick! Here's word about the missing little one," and a young lady with traces of tears in her eyes hurried to the spot. Her rare loveliness made Stanley embarrassed, but he managed to tell his story. Miss Marcia Dole insisted that they go at once for the child, which belonged to her sister who had left her in charge of the infant while she went on a visit to another city.

In rapturous joy Miss Dole took the child in her arms when they reached the Stanley home.

"See," she said, as the little one extended its arms towards Stanley, "Eve wishes to kiss you."

Stanley pressed his lips to the baby's cheek, little dreaming then that before a dozen weeks had passed by he would duplicate the act upon the sweet red lips of his lovely aunt.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

Friends of all denominations filled the Opera House on Saturday evening to tender good wishes and give expression to the highest esteem in which guests of honor Rev. and Mrs. J. Rees-Jones were held. The reverend gentleman assumed charge as rector of St. James Episcopal church here about two years ago and by his genial, hearty manner has won a host of close friends, while at the same time by indelible zeal and energy he has accomplished a great deal in the three several churches over which he has held charge, both spiritually, financially and in remodeling and placing in excellent condition the different church edifices. Mr. Jones, a native of Wales, has spent eight years in Canada as pastor of three churches, the first in Saskatchewan, coming from there to Richmond and thence to Centreville. He leaves on Tuesday for England where he takes up his work again at Bristol. Hence the party aforesaid. After an hour of pleasant social converse, followed by most delicious refreshments served by the ladies of his flock. Dr. H. W. Peppers called the meeting to order and in a very pleasing and fitting address presented Mr. Jones with the best wishes of all present and a purse of $110 contributed by the friends from Centreville, Greenfield and Florenceville. Mr. Jones replied in a jovial speech and said with no degree of flattery that this party had afforded him the most pleasant period of work he had enjoyed since entering the ministry. Then followed a spirited rendition of "For he's a jolly good fellow" and three rousing cheers. The Centreville orchestra furnished most pleasing and acceptable music for the occasion.

Tuesday for St. John from which port they will on Thursday embark on the Empress of France for Liverpool, Eng.

The present proprietor of the Centreville House is considering leaving at the end of the month and the prosperity and popularity of the place may be judged by the flood of applications. It surely must be an all proposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt White and family plan on leaving soon for Grand Falls where they will in the future reside.

Mrs. Wilmot Ritchie of Greenfield was the recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Norris DeLong.

Mrs. DeLong who had the misfortune recently to fall and seriously injure herself is making a nice recovery at the home of her son, Norris DeLong.

A. A. Nevors of Hartland, inspector of corals, spent Friday in Centreville. John McLean of St. John was here on Friday.

Roy Waterson of Manchester, Robertson and Allison, St. John, called on C. M. Sherwood, Ltd. on Wednesday.

On Monday evening upwards of 40 Oddfellows comprising the Degree staff of Central Lodge, Bridgewater, paid a fraternal visit to Centre Lodge and exemplified the second degree. They brought a good lively yankee goat along and made the evening a most vivacious one. Following the closing of Lodge all present sat down to a banquet prepared by the local Lodge.

On Easter Sunday Rev. Dr. R. Bell will preach at Centreville 11 a.m. and at Carvell 3 p.m. and Lakeville 7:30 p.m.

There was a sing at Wm. Forester's one night this week. We have no preaching services here this winter, so the people gather together Sunday evening at the different homes and sing.

The Windsor people have decided that this has been one of the most pleasant winters in every respect, that they have ever seen. The union among them seems to be complete.

Your humble servant was not able to attend the Farmers' meeting at Heward Pecker's, but has been informed that it was an interesting and profitable meeting. We farmers must keep busy.

POTATOES IN AROOSTOOK

The market or eating stock is now very quiet indeed, the price being from $1.00 to $1.25. Some of our shippers are not buying just now. Good seed stock, whether Cobblers or Mountains, bring $1.50. Many are wondering what the Aroostook plant will be the coming season. Probably about an average, as Aroostook is accustomed to raising potatoes, and can not get much big and quick money otherwise. Some of the fertilizer companies report sales equal to those of last year at this time, a few even greater. Those who can secure fertilizer and probably all who wish to do so will succeed, in some way or another can be relied on to put in a rather good acreage of potatoes the coming season, as usual.—Fort Fairfield Review.
