DESERTIERS FROM THE FEDERAL ARMY. A New York paper, the "New Nation," says:

"There are now more than 200,000 deserters. You may listen to the conversation of the men in the New York and Pennsylvania regiments; you will hear the soldiers carry contempt of morality and law so far as to boast of having sold them from 15 to 17 times; of having deserted each time, and received a fresh bounty. We meet men every day in New York who, engaged for three years, have not been six months under the flag; out of 40 persons engaged in New York, in a certain circle or workmen, we heard a few days ago that from 30 to 37 had deserted and from three to ten only under the flag. The same soldier is paid eight or ten times over, so that in paying 100,000 men we have really 10,000. If we add that in many cases each of these men figures under his different names of engagement in the effective and receives his rations, etc., we shall see what disorder may exist. The Detroit Advertiser says:—"

"One of the first questions asked of the substitute brokers by half the candidates for substitutes is, 'Will you help me to get away?' Upon receiving a promise to aid him to desert the man consents to be enlisted."

A serious casualty occurred to Dr. Hamilton's horse yesterday afternoon, while standing in front of a house on Queen's Square where the Doctor was visiting a patient. A horse and farm wagon, driven at a furious rate by a boy, approached from behind, when the Doctor's horse, probably in the act of looking round, was struck in the neck immediately behind the collar and pierced through and through by the shaft, which broke off, leaving the piece still in the neck. It is considered quite impossible that the unfortunate animal can recover. The horse was a favorite, and one upon which the owner set a high value.—[Telegraph.]

FATAL CALAMITY.—The Bridgetown Free Press of the 13th says:—"A little girl, aged 5 years and 3 months, daughter of Mr. Hango and grand-daughter of A. Henderson, Esq., of Annapolis, while the family were absent to Divine Service, on Sunday, 2d inst., was so badly burned, from her clothes taking fire, that she died on the following evening. An aged domestic was left in charge of four young children, each young than the deceased, and while she was in the upper part of the house, the children ignited a match which communicated with the clothes of the deceased, and before assistance arrived the fire had done its work."

FRESHET.—Heavy and continuous rains during the latter part of last week and the beginning of the present one, have caused a rapid rise of water in the small streams and in the river. On Monday large quantities of lumber floated down, and a general clearing out is looked for. The river is as high now as at any time during the spring, having risen over eight feet within a week. We have heard of no damage as yet having occurred on the low lands.—[Lead Quarterly.]

INCENDIARISM.—On Saturday night, or Sunday morning an attempt was made to fire the building in Carleton, on the corner of King and Ludlow streets, occupied by Mr. William Quinton as a grocery store, and by Mr. Joseph Wetmore as a dwelling house.—Fire was lighted in three several places and nothing but the absence of a draft prevented it spreading over the whole building. As it was, it is a wonder that the inmates of the house were not smothered. In one case, fire was lighted under the stairs, and had this burned, the only means of egress for those residing up stairs would have been cut off. When the fire was discovered it was found that both of the back doors of the store had been opened.—[Globe.]

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.—On Tuesday last, as two little girls, aged respectively 2 and 5 years old, children of Mr. Aibel Seelye, were passing towards the Carding Mill, at Williamstown, in which their father was then at work, they in some way fell off the plank, leading to the mill, into the raceway; the oldest child after a little struggling succeeded in getting herself out of the water; the younger was carried down the raceway, over a distance of 100 feet, to the waterwheel, over which she passed, and wonderful to say was there found entirely uninjured.—The wheel was a 12 foot one; and the child had to pass through a space of not more than 4 inches, where the raceway connects with the wheel. We have seldom heard of so miraculous an escape.—[Carleton Sentinel.]

IN THE SUPREME COURT.—Michiganus Term, 28th Victoria, A. D., 1264.—John Gratias Clifford, and Gustavus H. Beardsley, Esqrs., Attorneys-at-law, are called to the Bar, and sworn and enrolled as Barristers.

Silas Alward, A. M., Peter Miller, Robert Brooks Peters, and William C. Lee, A. B., having produced the requisite Certificates are admitted, sworn and enrolled Attorneys of this Honorable Court.—W. CARMAN. Mr. Robert A. Weldon, a student at law from the office of William Wedderburn, Esq., and for some time at the Law School of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., passed his examination at Fredericton, on Wednesday, and will be enrolled an Attorney of the Supreme Court on Saturday.—[Globe.]

PROMOTION.—John S. Hay, Editor of the St. Croix Herald, has been appointed First Lieutenant and Quarter-Master of the 9th Regiment.

RARE AND RACY.—Dame Rumor sets forth that Prof. O'Leary's lecture on Saturday evening to females only, was attended by a representative of the sterner sex in female attire. The Dame says the suspicious most observant were communicated to the Professor, and to remove their prejudices he was compelled to examine the hands and scrutinize the features of the suspected demurelle. The Professor satisfied himself that the suspicions of the company were groundless, and so declared. But it appears he was mistaken, for subsequent proceedings proved that his examination of the features, necessarily cursory and made through a thick veil, did not establish beyond a doubt the sex of the suspected party, though it in some measure reassured the crowd. The dame says that on leaving the hall the gay demurelle's ungainly attitude caused him to be regarded suspiciously by the departing crowd, and their futile efforts to penetrate the mystery forced him to "introduce in a loud 'horra laugh' as he started off from the hall at a gallop which knocked the rules of correct deportment sadly out of joint.—[News.]

A. H. Stephens of Georgia, vice President of the Jeff. Davis concern, has written a letter defining his position on the peace question. We must acknowledge the right of secession, and then he has no objection to representatives of the two confederacies of states meeting in convention and forming another Union, if they can agree, and each state will ratify it.

On Friday last a crazy fellow named Norwood, went into the barracks at East-post, and seizing a bayonet from a gun, made a dash at the dozen soldiers within and cleared them out of the room. He was knocked down with the butt of a musket and secured. He arrived at Portland yesterday en-route to the Insane Hospital.

The Waterville Mail says that Mr. C. M. Morse, continues as Superintendent of the Maine Central Railroad, Hon. A. P. Morrill having declined the office.

ST. ANDREWS, OCT. 26, 1864.

LATEST NEWS.

From Boston papers of Monday, we glean the following items:—

One of the St. Albans riders, upon his arrest in Canada, sent the following despatch:—

"George N. Sanders, Ottawa Hotel, Montreal: We are captured. Do what you can for us. C. C. WALLACE."

Clyde, the leader, was recognized as the person that shot Morrison at St. Albans. He expressed to his captors his regret that his party did not burn St. Albans, but they were so fast for plunder that they neglected to do so.

The national authorities are making special efforts to render the defenses of New York harbor secure. Besides adding to the strength of the fortifications already built, and pushing forward the new works, many heavy guns are mounting, particularly at Fort Hamilton, and nearly all are of fifteen-inch calibre.

At about eight and a half o'clock on Friday evening the mills well known as the Merrimac Woolen Mills, at Dracut, near Lowell, Mass., were discovered to be on fire, which resulted in the destruction of the new brick mill with all its contents, valuable machinery, &c. A wooden building used as a counting room and several dwellings were also destroyed. The loss is estimated at $150,000 to $200,000, and the insurance on the part destroyed is about $150,000 in Boston, Providence, Connecticut, and New York offices.

Wilmington, N. C. papers report that 119 deaths from yellow fever have occurred in Newbern during 24 hours. They advise the people to remove their families from Wilmington for the present. At Charleston the yellow fever was fearfully increasing, and the mortality among children was terrible.

The Richmond Examiner states on good authority that the cartel for exchange of prisoners has been to a certain extent resumed. Arrangements have been made to exchange immediately ten thousand of the Union prisoners in Georgia. Savannah is to be the point of exchange, and an officer was to leave Richmond in a few days to superintend the whole affair.

Col. Lowell, of the 2d Massachusetts Cavalry, was killed at the battle of Cedar Creek, on Wednesday last.

The official list of definite appropriations for the last session of Congress has just been floated up, and amounts to eight hundred and thirty-five millions eight hundred and seventy-five thousand six hundred and thirty-four dollars. The indefinite list of appropriations is not completed, but will swell this amount three or four hundred millions.

The Richmond Examiner of the 10th inst. says the colored prisoners put into Richmond fortifications have been returned to prison, and expressing the hope that Butler will release the Confederate prisoners placed under fire at Dutch Gap. This has been done, as appears by despatches from the army.

When we copied the communication and reply from the "Freeman" in our issue of the 5th inst., in which the correspondent R. said, "there is not a single prize offered for fish of any kind excepting salmon," and that "even preserved lobsters are excluded," we had no idea of who the writer was, and having the prize list before us, said "comment is unnecessary." We now give an exact copy from the published list:

No. Sec. Department B. Class 4. 151 51 Fish, smoked, sample best, 2d do 2 152 52 " Dried " best 2d do 2 153 53 " Pickled " best 2d do 2 154 54 " Preserved " best 2d do 2 155 55 Lobsters, or other Shell Fish, preserved, best 2d do 2

With these facts, circulated throughout the Province, we hold the attack was uncalled for, and ungenerous; and we can prove from our files, that we have advocated the respected writer's interests, and defended when necessary his public acts, and would do so again, notwithstanding the remarks in his letter of the 10th inst.

ST. STEPHEN BRANCH RAILWAY.—A spirited meeting was held at St. Stephen's last week with reference to the Branch Railway. Several speeches were made, and subscription list opened, and in a few minutes $49,000 subscribed, $300,000 stock to be issued, $200,000 of which is taken by Boston capitalists, and $100,000 to be subscribed by the people of St. Stephen and Orlais. It is said that the whole amount will be subscribed immediately, which with the Government bonus of $10,000 per mile, will be sufficient to construct the Branch.

A Major General in the English Army—Lord St. John—has on a visit to the Army of the Potomac.

Richmond. On Friday last we went by Railway to the thriving and picturesque Parish of Richmond, Carlisle County. The day was pleasant and the ride an agreeable one, indeed it could not be otherwise, with a number of pleasant passengers, and an attentive conductor, as Mr. Hipwell is admitted to be.

Our visit was brief owing to ill health, but it may not be out of place to record our impressions. The appearance of the farms and buildings on entering the Parish, is striking; the land generally is of a superior quality, smooth and undulating. At Red river station there is a small village, with a large number of little children, which denotes a degree of prosperity, in one respect at all events; here also may be seen piles of saw lumber beside the mills of Mr. DeBeck, who recently purchased and repaired them, and also erected a neat and commodious dwelling store and other buildings, and made other improvements, which give the place an air of business; the time the train stops gives but small opportunity for observation. Passing further on, we arrive at North Richmond at Mr. James Bell's extensive and well cultivated farm, with its large nicely finished and handsome residence, which would do credit to places of much greater pretensions than the quiet parish in which it stands. Situated on an eminence, with commodious out-buildings, well laid out and thoroughly cultivated fields, and in the background a forest of stately elms, birch, beech, basswood, butternut, hornbeam, maple, ash, and other hardwoods, presents a fine rural picture at this season of the year, when the trees wear their gorgeous autumn tints. The land is a rich black mould and produces abundant crops, as his barns and cellars amply prove. Mr. and Mrs. Bell's kindness and friendly attention to our little party, will long be held in grateful remembrance.

Here too, we had the pleasure of meeting that devoted servant of his Majesty the King, James Kidd, M. A., whom we learned is esteemed and beloved by all denominations in that neighborhood; for he it is known that in the settlement there are four places of worship, the new Roman Catholic Chapel nearly finished, situated near the road to south Richmond, and at McKenzie's corner, Methodist and Baptist chapels, and a neat Presbyterian Church of Scotland, enclosed by a substantial pointed fence. On Sunday morning last, we had the privilege of hearing in the church, the Rev. gentleman's eloquent and impressive discourse from the text Psalm 50, first clause verse 14—"Offer unto God thanksgiving." The scope of which was returning thanks for the bountiful harvest with which they had been blessed, and concluding with a powerful appeal on behalf of the Bible Society, for which a liberal collection was afterwards taken up. The sermon was listened to with profound attention by a respectable congregation. We were informed that our Rev. friend's duties are most arduous; in addition to preaching each Sabbath in two churches which are several miles apart, he also superintends a Sabbath school. When Mr. Kidd arrived in the Parish nearly three years ago, the Presbyterians had been for some time without any stated ministrations, and some had wandered into other communions; but since commencing his missionary labors, the number of communicants has been considerably augmented, the church repaired, other houses of worship erected, and the depositories for the dead enclosed. His weekly visits among his parishioners are of essential benefit; he likewise takes a warm interest in education, all matters; several schools have been opened in remote parts of the parish, and his visits among them as a trustee, has tended to stimulate the teachers and scholars. In a word, his labors of love are never ceasing—and it may be easily understood why he is so much beloved by the inhabitants.

The thirty farmers of the district have the prospect of being connected by rail with the white town, Woodstock. Our respected townsman, W. M. Buck, O. E., whom we met, has been engaged for some time in making surveys for a branch from the main line into the town, he is now forming another supposed favorable route for the Branch, and will commence locating the most feasible line in a short time. The main Road is in good running order; the manager keeps up a constant personal supervision, and the trains, as we can attest, make good running time. Circumstances prevented our visiting the new station at Hillman valley, which we hope to notice in a future issue. We returned on Monday by the 9 A. M. express train; and found the car full of passengers at that early hour, and the conductor, Mr. Law busy receiving fares, and otherwise looking to the interests of the Railway. On reaching Dumbarton station, a piping hot breakfast breakfast was ready, served up in good style by Mrs. Trenholm. The train arrived at St. Andrews in good season, and some time in advance of the steamer. We must now close with thanks for the courtesies and attentions extended to us.

During last week we had a visit from the editor of that independent and well conducted sheet, the "Aroostook Pioneer." Mr. Gilman's visit was brief, as the Railway train, which waits not for man or weather, sounded the whistle for departure, and he was on his return home from a tour to Boston. In his paper of the 18th he noticed in commendatory terms, the work of Provincial artisans at the Exhibition, adding that some had exceeded "every thing of the kind we have ever seen on exhibition." This is worthy of record coming as it does from the editor of a paper, who is a son of the "universal Yankee nation."
