SACKVILLE, N. B. JULY 16, 1891.

JOGGINS RAILWAY LAND.

Damages have for years been a subject for agitation. District No. 5, being primary liable, but declined payment both because the damages were excessive, and the contention that the county ought to share the expense.

Mr. Burgess, the Minister of the Interior, has been placed under the bar, by paying through a check to a third party $100 to his father-in-law for copying he had done, being ineligible for work.

On Friday evening last, in response to invitation a large number of those interested in grange work met in Chignecto Hall for the purpose of revising the work of the grange here.

The budget debate was opened by Mr. Desjardins, formerly financial secretary of the grange here, who pointed out that a favorable comparison existed between the Cartwright administration and that of today, with the advantage on the side of the latter.

Mr. Clarke Wallace, replying, pointed out that all opposition anti-protectionists made exceptions. Protection opposed protection, except on candy, of which he was a manufacturer, and was hostile to combines except the biscuit combine, to which he pledged.

Mr. King of Queens, N. B. spoke of the industries which had been killed by the N. P. lime burning, granite working, freestone working and shipbuilding.

July 13.—Parliament will be asked for an appropriation to have a monument erected on parliament grounds in honor of Sir John A. Macdonald.

July 9.—At the McCreery investigation Mr. Perley asked to testify regarding Murphy's charges of yesterday. He said:

In January, 1887, Murphy came to his home at Ottawa and warmly expressed his appreciation of the able management of the Quebec works.

articles was what it subsequently appeared to be, but considered it much too large and when he saw Murphy next he told him so very clearly.

Questioned by the minister of justice, Mr. Perley admitted that he had not made any repayment for more than two years after he received the articles.

Having made this statement, Mr. Perley was allowed to withdraw.

In the McCreery investigation, Mr. Connolly said his firm had not paid money to Thos. McCreery for election expenses.

Nicholas Connolly of the firm Larkin, Connolly & Co., swore that the dredging extras were perfectly legal as the work was more difficult.

The house went into committee this afternoon on a resolution authorizing the sale of the Carleton branch of the city of St. John for $10,000.

PRESENTATION TO DR. INCH.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS AND REPLY.

On Monday last a few of the many friends of Dr. Inch, feeling that they could not allow such an old and respected citizen to take a quiet leave, met in Memorial Hall and presented him with the following address.

THE ADDRESS. TO JAMES R. INCH, LL. D. We contemplate with profound regret the severing of your connection with us as a citizen of this city.

Mr. Inch and yourself carry with you a warm admiration for your work and profound esteem for your Christian character.

As a token of the regard in which he was held and of the very general sorrow with which his removal was witnessed, a small number of his friends, who had gathered to bid him farewell, presented to him a piece of plate, an emerald, not on account of its material value but solely as a lasting token of esteem, which he hopes will be treasured by him as a reminder of the affectionate regards of his friends.

Mr. J. L. Black followed and referred to the long years in which he had enjoyed the pleasure of Dr. Inch's friendship. While he heartily endorsed all the sentiments of the address, he felt that he should like to be remembered for as much to what had already been said.

Local Matters.

Miss Marianne Vernon, of Amherst, died suddenly while going to a picnic on Friday on Friday morning last at Harvey, N. B. She left Amherst about a month ago.

A Merionish gentleman has attempted canning fresh butter for the West India market. One shipment has gone forward and it is thought the experiment will be a success.

While Brakemen Ernest Estabrooks of Walter Wellings' special was abouting at the Amherst station Saturday morning, he had his right hand jammed between the buffers of the cars. Dr. Allen dressed his hand and he returned home to Moncton.

The schooner Oriole, purchased by Capt. Wesley Patterson and others last spring, made a trip from Shulee, to New York and back in 11 days, one and a half of which she was detained in New York. This the fastest trip on record.

Schooner 'Orion' Capt. Monday, which sailed from Moncton on Friday, loaded with sleepers for Freeze Workmen of Salisbury, for Boston, ran ashore Friday night at Grand Ance Lodge. She was towed off by the sloop 'Arbutus' and taken to Hopewell Cape. She looks badly and part of her cargo will have to be discharged.

Mr. R. B. Steel of Amherst has accepted a challenge and will back Mr. F. A. Wilson of that place to shoot Alex. Wright of St. John a match on July 20th. Steel locks hands and counted one of the best trap shots in these provinces and will doubtless acquit himself favorably.

Archibald, English reports that while driving down the south Macan road last evening, he saw right ahead of him a large crown bear. The animal apparently was armed proceeded right across the road and then made his way in the direction of the woods on what was formerly the Chignecto coal company's land.—Amherst Press.

The ladies of the congregation of St. Mark's church, Westmorland Pt., intend holding a strawberry festival in Mr. Thomas Carter's new house (near Mountain house), this evening, 16th inst. Doors open at 5.30, standard. Admission 10 cts. Should the night prove rainy it will be held the next fine night.

Oxford had a small sized riot Dominion Day. The S. A. were holding an open air meeting when some young bloods threw fire crackers into the ring. Being ordered to desist they refused and the battle waged for some time. Parties have been procured in Amherst for the arrest of the parties concerned and some fun is expected when the matter comes before the Amherst courts.

Mr. H. D. Chapman, grocer, opened a chest of tea (?) yesterday that contained one of wooden nutmegs. The box was a part of a China importation, but the contents consisted of a soft, white substance, resembling arrowroot, in the form of tea leaves, but slightly larger. The article is not known to have any marketable value. Evidently the 'Chinese' is becoming civilized.—Moncton Times.

Mr. Eider's 'Sir Nutwood,' arrived home on Wednesday last, after a very successful season in the stud at Auburn, Me., in Mr. C. L. Cushman's stables, which are said to be the best in that state. The stable has a colt track nearly 1/2 of a mile, and 1/4 of a mile drive, both under cover, and there is a quarter mile track around the buildings, which makes the whole very complete. This part of Maine is noted for its heavy horse and the class of mares served there by Sir Nutwood will no doubt produce stock that will do no dishonor to the Nutwood name.—Press.

On Thursday morning Alphonse Duro, Joseph Legere and Charles Groves went out in a boat and went down the shore from Shelvic, to catch muskeler. About 9 o'clock when a mile and three quarters from the shore Charles Groves was standing up in the boat throwing his line out. In the swing of his body he slipped and fell against the side of the boat. He had hardly got up when a large breaker struck the boat and knocked Groves off. He sank and was never seen again. The accident was noticed from the shore by two men driving in a wagon who rushed to the water side and obtained a boat and went off to the rescue, saving both Duro and Legere. Deceased was 22 years of age.

Acadia Mines, N. S.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars, held their annual meeting this town on Tuesday last and two following days. On the evening of the 7th inst. they held a public meeting at the hotel. The audience was large and the addresses were of an interesting nature. About seventy five delegates were present and among them were Rev. G. W. Lane, A. B. Bernard, Rev. A. J. Jones, and J. T. Bolmer, of Halifax, Dr. Black of Amherst, and the permanent men of the order. Reports have been read showing an increase in the membership, now the Order numbers about 6000 in this province. Finances also showed improvement.

At present there is a great depression in business in connection with the mines. About one hundred men have been laid off. Some of the men from the Company's Works, and report says that after a few days quite a number of these will fall in line for employment here. Some estimates of the value of the mines of West mines, some to the over production and some other to the fact that at a great expense the Blast Furnace was made over last year. Some of the men from the West mines, some to the over production that the quantity and quality of iron would increase, and the improvement is not at all in keeping with the amount expended. Some of the men from the West mines, some to the over production as to say that the N. P. is the cause of the depression. What ever the cause is the working and business men feel most keenly the depression.

The deceased gentleman was taken with an attack of influenza on the 10th inst, and died in the morning of the 18th of last month, at his residence in the Custom House. DEATH OF MR. LIA B. PATTERSON.—The San Benito, Cal. Advance July 3, continues the following: A sad case of drowning happened at Sackville, Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock. Mr. Estabrook and his cousin, Mr. Patterson, went bathing in the river. They swam across the river, and on returning Mr. Patterson sank. Mr. Estabrook endeavored to save him, and he himself had a narrow escape from drowning, in his futile efforts to save his cousin. The station is quite deep, and owing to the cold condition of the water, it is supposed the drowned man took a cramp. The deceased was, until recently, in the employ of the Railroad Company, in Arizona, as agent. His death is a sad loss to Mr. Estabrook, who is prostrated with grief. The body was recovered with assistance from Mr. Patterson, and was taken to Girty for inquest and interment.

The deceased was son of Mr. John Patterson formerly of Coler Island and went to California some four years ago.

YORKSHIRE PICNIC.

A LARGE GATHERING AT PROSPECT FARM.

A Successful Historical Meeting.

On Tuesday last in response to invitations, upwards of 500 persons gathered at Prospect Farm, Point de Bute, to witness the historical meeting of the Yorkshire Immigrants in this country. The descendants of the Yorkshires had invited the Chignecto Historical Society, recently formed, to be present and the formal proceedings of the day were under the auspices of the latter.

After dinner, Judge Morse as president of the Historical Society, in a neat speech spoke of the objects of the Chignecto Historical Society. It was his desire to put out who were the early settlers, and where they came from, and to collect all valuable information concerning the early history of this vicinity. He was pleased to see so many descendants of the original settlers of our country present, and see among them the most prosperous of our people. Mr. W. C. Milner, Secretary of the Society then read an interesting paper on the expedition from New England to capture Fort Cumberland in 1758, under the command of Col. Eddy, and the influence that led to its defeat, notably the firm stand taken by the Yorkshires against the troops of the continental Congress, and in favor of the mother land and the old flag. A good many facts connected with this episode in local history, have been instrumental in shaping the destiny of the Province of New Brunswick, were for the first time placed in full in an early issue of the Post, together with other papers of the Chignecto Historical Society, it is unnecessary to reproduce in this issue. Judge Morse delivered an interesting address upon the Yorkshires Settlers. The condition of our country in 1763 was one of a vast unpopulated waste. The English on the one side and the French on the other. But in 1763 the Yorkshires were victorious, the French driven back and the country then thrown open for the settlement by the Yorkshires. In 1764 Governor Franklin proposed to settle the very fertile land at the head of the Bay of Fundy with the proper class and after some correspondence with Earl Hillsboro, Lord of the Plantations in England he paid a personal visit to Yorkshires, where lived the thriftest farmers in all England, and induced in 1764-5 a large number of families to try their fortunes in the New World. In April and May the first arrivals landed on the bleak and rocky coast, near Halifax and surrounded as they were with every discomfort, it was no wonder that they felt discouraged. With their wives the men passed on to Windsor where they first got a glimpse of the budding orchards led by the French settlers. Here a division was made in the party. The women and children were sent to the head of the Bay by a series of ferries and the men pushed on to Annapolis, and later joined their families at Chignecto To the pluck, loyalty, and industry of the Yorkshires, Judge Morse paid many a tribute. To them do we owe our present connection with the mother country. When this country from north to south was rent by the rebellion, when the rivers ran blood and when the prestige of English arms in Northern America seemed to totter, it was the 'Yorkshire Immigrants who remained firm, and although compelled to suffer untold hardships and privations, yet they remained loyal to that old flag whose folds he was pleased to see flying in the breeze to-day. The speaker gave fully in detail various particulars of the settlement, of the persons interested and the location of several of the settlements in the Province. Yorkshires men have done three great acts. They made the country; they preserved the flag; and they through the efforts of Preacher Black, founded in this country the principles of Methodism, which has made such steady progress, and which has been the prominent religion for over a century. He closed by saying that he who had any historical relics in their possession to communicate with the officers of the society, and allow them to inspect them as a part of their country. Address and Presentation to the Rev. James Crisp.

Last Saturday evening after the usual choir practice Mr. Crisp was presented with the following address and a gold-headed cane.

"This being the last evening we shall meet you (for some time at least) at choir practice, we wish to say we appreciate the kindly interest you have taken in the choir here not sparing yourself any trouble to help us in every possible way. For all this kindness we heartily thank you. We regret that the time has come when we must be separated, but as such is the case will you accept with our very best wishes this cane as a small token of our esteem and a remembrance of us. May it help you over any rugged places you may encounter, which we hope will not be many. May our loving Father lead you and yours by His hand as He hitherto has done, in the sincere wish and best intention of expectation of an occasion like this. I heartily appreciate your esteem and good wishes. I think I know something of the importance of good singing as a part of religious service. To sing with the spirit and understanding is also acceptable unto God and forms a very interesting part of Divine worship. You have endeavored to make the singing a part of the service of God and in harmony with the other parts of that service. I thank you all for your assistance and the general interest you have taken in the master's service and work.

The address was read by Miss Aggie Carter and the case presented by Miss Maggie Freeman. The engraving was done by M. S. Brown of Halifax.

Would you be blessed? Then read the following and do as they do.

On A Texas Prairie.

Sunset on a Texas prairie. A glory of gold and purple clouds above the peaks of the distant mountains, a glory of many colored flowers, every lapping of the sea of waving grass that stretches for miles away, bounded by the rim of the sky upon three sides and by the peaks of the mountain range upon the other.

The half dozen cow boys sitting in front of a brown tent on the prairie were little heed to the glories of sky or prairie. Two of them are playing poker, the stake being drinks for the crowd, two others are pitching quoits and Sam the cook for the week, is preparing supper over a little fire of brush chips and china wood sticks.

Despatches from Naples give details of a terrible accident which occurred Wednesday on Mount Vesuvius, by which a Brazilian traveller named Jardim lost his life and another Brazilian was rescued with difficulty.

It is now nearly twenty years since a catastrophe was caused by the sudden activity of Vesuvius, such as that by which Dr. Silva Jardim of San Janerio, lost his life.

On A Texas Prairie.

Sunset on a Texas prairie. A glory of gold and purple clouds above the peaks of the distant mountains, a glory of many colored flowers, every lapping of the sea of waving grass that stretches for miles away, bounded by the rim of the sky upon three sides and by the peaks of the mountain range upon the other.

The half dozen cow boys sitting in front of a brown tent on the prairie were little heed to the glories of sky or prairie. Two of them are playing poker, the stake being drinks for the crowd, two others are pitching quoits and Sam the cook for the week, is preparing supper over a little fire of brush chips and china wood sticks.

He has beaten the blonde stranger two games already, and is sure to win the one in hand, for his opponent of the amethyst eyes plays absent mindedly. Now and then he knits his brow and bites his yellow moustache as if some thought not pleasant to dwell upon crossed his mind.
