Seasonable quiet reigns in Canadian trade, but the underlying features are largely favorable, and the fall trade outlook is really a flattering one. Crop accounts are the best, the production and demand for dairy products, and prices hold steady. Warm weather has helped trade in the territory tributary to Montreal. Summer dry goods are moving better at Toronto, and canned goods are firm on light stocks. Canadian woollen mill owners are reported using foreign material, owing to high prices for domestic articles. ## GREAT DAY FOR NELSON

Home Players Carried of all the Honors in the Big Events

First Day of Celebration Witnessed Fine Exhibitions of Baseball, Lacrosse and Marksman: hip-Program Today

Nelson first day of the celebration of the 39th anniversary of confederation came off most successfully yesterday, in every way.

The weather was as nearly perfect as possible and although it was warm, yet a pleasant breeze blew all day long and no one found the heat excessive. No accident or misadventure occurr to mar the day's proceedings. The attendance of outside visitors was gratify-ingly large and the receipts at the recreation grounds, both morning and afternoon relieved the finance committee of any further anxiety about today's atendance, the crowd exceeding anticipations considerably.

It was Nelson's day so far as sporting events went, from start to finish. At the Gun club's successful shoot the two Spokane experts took the best money but of the B. C. shooters, C. H. Ink of Nelson, stood at the head of the list. The Patenaude cup was won in the final shoot off by Watson of Pilot

Nelson senior baseball players won from Colville by 8 to 4 and the juniors walked away with Trail 16 to 3.

At lawn tennis Nelson won three ou four events and Rossland one. The Queen's hotel was easily the best decorated building, the whole front of the house being dressed up, the Nelson colors, green and white, being the cen bunting and drapes making up the rest. The Royal hotel had a generous dis-play of bunting and flags and the Hume had a special display of solored Hume a special display of colored light

The children's sports were scheduled to come off at 10 o'clock but the heat was so great that it was decided to hold them on Baker street in the shade about 6 o'clock. This was accordingly done, and Mr. Waterman carried out his usual program, marching the youngsters around to lively airs from the band to the enjoyment of the onlooking crowd—and the children. Before the children were disbanded each one of them received a prize.

The Indians turned out in full force yesterday and made an interesting and picturesque group on Baker street dur-ing the day.

The band did yoeman service, playing steadily all day at the different points. The street lighting decorations were particularly effective, rendering the business section a fairy-like scene in the Odd Fellows' dance at Fraternity hall, and fireworks on the bluff at the east end of Baker street concluded the day's The Kaslo brought down about 150 passengers in the morning and the Rossland train about the same number. All the hotels were taxed to their limit but every one was looked after and no com-sports this afternoon. Chingren and Forbes, of Spokane, headed the list yesterday being first and second respectively. In the 4th event Chingren made a possible and in the 3rd made only one miss. Forbe just one short of a possible in the 2nd and 6th events.

LAWN TENNIS

Nelson Players Win in Three Event and Rossland in One.

There was a good gathering of players and spectators at the Tennis courts yesterday morning and afternoon, the weather being warm —warm enough for the most ardent lover of the game. The Rossland players came over in force and several good games resulted. The men's singles go to Rossland Nelson winning in the other three con-

The junior baseball match between Trail and Nelson was called at about 10.30 and Nelson was called at about 19.30 o'clock and at the outset considerable ginger was displayed by both nines. In the third innings, however, the little fellows from Nelson began to find the pitching of N.Trussell with good results for they made nine tallies before being retired. From that time the game dragged, for the visitors seemed to be out-classed by the home team. The locals classed by the home team. Luck seemed against the visitors yesterday for in every line of sport Nelson won. The Rossland boys put up a good stiff game but it was clearly shown that the strength of the streng combination and team play—small though it be—is superior to individual work. On the visitors lineup were several first class individual players and they worked hard but they seemed to lack harmony in their teamwork. More practice will make them a first class

The local boys deserve full credit for The local boys deserve full treat to their victory for they had a hard game and showed up well. They had a better combination than the visitors and it counted considerably. Some of the players need more and steady practice to strengthen the teams but if they continue their regular work as they have tinue their regular work as they have in the past they should have no fears of any team in the Kootenays this year. The game was started at 3.45 yester-day afternoon before a large crowd which overflowed from the grandstand onto the field.

Rossland put up a game fight to even the score but at quarter time no further tally had been made.

Seven minutes of play in the second quarter gave Rossland a chance to score and Funk did the trick. Steel thought that it was time to put Nelson ahead again and it took them five and a half minutes to do it. In the third quarter Bell and Steel each scored a goal and this completed the scoring of the day.

Thompson seemed a little stiff and did not put up his usual game. The star player for the visitors, and in fact of both teams, was McQueen. CLOSE OF CELEBRATION

ANOTHER DAY OF SUNSHINE AND GOOD SPORT.

RESULTS IN VARIOUS GAMES ATHLETIC EVENTS

(From Wednesday's Daily) Entirely satisfactory and under ceedingly pleasant conditions the loca elebration of Canada's natal day came to a successful conclusion last evening

Raker street from 7 until 9 o'clock last night made a very pretty and thoroughly enjoyable scene for everyon who took part in it. The cool, moon lit night, the gaily illuminated street with its crowd of well dressed, happy with its crowd of well dressed, happy-looking people promenading up and down listening to the melodious strains own isteming to the herodicus strains of the city band, combined to make a not easily forgotten picture. Indeed, the street band concert last evening proved one of the most enjoyable events of the two days' celebration and emphasized the strong desirability of having the con-cert repeated weekly during July and August if at all possible. For its share in the two days' celebration the band is entitled to all kinds of credit. The members of the organization worked steadily and faithfully and rendered excellent music. They should be encouraged and induced to render the citizens still further service. During the morning the log rolling contest and the Caledonian sports were successfully carried out, and in future successfully carried out, and in future events, log rolling as a sport will pro-bably take a more prominent position. In the Caledonian sports H. M. Fuller-ton's victory in the fat men's race was most rougher. most popular.

Blackwood distinguished himself a the second and closing day of the Gun club tournament by winning the high average trophy, the Ink and Ward cup, coming within two of Forbes, the Spo-kane expert, for the day's shooting. Nelson won a well contested football match with Coleman by a score of 2 to 1 and the Colville baseballers turned the tables on the local players, who defeated them the previous day, by winning out with a score of 8 to 3.

In the evening the basket ball match, the band concert on Baker stret accompanied by a display of fireworks, and the dance at Fraternity hall completed the festivities.

One of the pleasing features yesterday and one of which Nelson people never seem to tire, was the children's parades on Baker street about 5 o'clock and again later in the evening. To the inspiring airs of the band the youngsters marched and counter marched up and down the street under the direction of marshal Waterman, and it is difficult to say whether the children or the onlookers, who warmly applauded them, enjoyed the proceedings most.

conlockers, who warmly applauded them, enjoyed the proceedings most.

The time was when Nelson depended on the balance of the Kootenays to help her celebrate Dominion Day successfully. Yesterday and the day before there were elaborate celebrations east and west of the territory from which the crowds used to flock here as a matter of course, and yet no one will gainsay that this year's celebration has been most successful in every possible way. It is clear, therefore, that on celebration days now we have a territory all our own which can be counted upon to loyally support local effort, and Nelson can count upon having the streets crowded with pleased sightseers and the recreation grounds filled with enthusiastic audiences whenever a good program of sports is anneunced.

The financial returns for the celebration are not all in yet but there is certain to be a substantial balance on hand for the N. P. A. A. O. regatta, which takes place here on July 27 and

The second day of the celebration opened with fine weather and a good crowd at the first event—the log rolling contest in front of the city wharf.
Only two contestants were entered, but they put up an interesting exhibition and displayed marvellous activity while on that fast revolving log. George Broderick of Creston found the pace to hot for him after a few minutes and dropped into the water. He soon put in an appearance on the log for a second heat, but once more S. A. until the word to start was given and then they started it rolling. The one who could keep his feet the longest was the winner of the heat. While it did not last long the contest furnished plenty of amusement and it is expected that there will be many more entries the next time a like contest is pulled off in Nelson.

Headed by the city band the crowd then adjourned from the waterfront to the recreation grounds where the Caledonian sports were pulled off under the management of Harry Wright, M.L.A..

GOOD FOOTBALL

closely Contested Game Between Coleman and Nelson, Won by Home Team Coleman, 1; Nelson, 2.

"One of the prettlest, cleanest and best football matches ever played in Nelson," is the way a soccer enthusiast summed up yesterday afternoon's big attraction at the recreation grounds.

The attendance was not as large as that of Monday, but the crowd was sufficient to pack the grand stand. They were very enthusiastic and impartially cheered both teams. A good play—no matter by what team—met with just appreciation and as a result the visitors are all well placed with result the visitors are all well pleased with Nelson even though they did not win. The game started at 1:30 and from the kick off the players worked with a will. Nelson early settled down to business and two goals were kicked in the first half by Cox and Taylor. On resuming play the Coleman players showed better form and for a time they outplayed the home team, which was kept on the defensive. Sharples was given opportunity after opportunity to make spectacular plays and he did all that was expected of him. The pressure of the visitors forwards became too great and they finally scored. Everybody seemed on a par and to be there with the intention of doing his very best. with the intention of doing his very best Nelson won the game, but it kept the local boys hustling at their very best gait.

DRILLING CONTEST

Foulds Brothers of Greenwood Win-Drilled 25 Inches

As the brilliant summer sun started to sink down behind the hills last evening all interest centered in the rock drilling contest and a great crowd gathered along the east end of Baker street, where upon the vacant lot adjoining the Queen's hotel a newly hewn block of granite had been put in place under the direction of Frank Phillips. Numerous rock drilling contests have taken place here and around the drilling platform on the grass lay seven other drilled blocks of granite used in formel celebrations.

Frank Brewer was official time keeper and Jakey Dover shouted the changes, while Frank Phillips looked after the arrangements.

Just two teams finally entered, one from Rossland hesitating and finally withdrawing. Jim and George Foulds of Greenwood were first on the ground and they were quickly followed by Robert Walters and A. J. McGillivray of Silverton. The former drew the start and about 7 o'clock Brewer shouted "start" and on went the human machine amid aplause and the drills commenced sinking down little by little. The Faulds brothers are well known in the Kootenays and have drilled here at many previous celebrations. They won last year with $5 inches to their credit and they were looked upon as winners last night before the contest started. The crowd applauded the teams good work particularly in the good changes made, and as the 15 minuites was drawing to a close, friends and supporters urged the men on, shouting and cheering them enthusiastically. Both men are splendid specimens of muscular development and were in fine form. When time was called Phillips measured and announced 35 inches flat, whereat there was more cheering.

Then the Silverton men got ready. They were a lighter built team but had plenty of supporters in the crowd and were very were a lighter built team but had plenty of supporters in the crowd and were very warmly applanded when they got to work and all during the 15 minutes. When time was called it was announced that they had driven 31 1-2 inches, so the Fauld Bros, won with a good margin.

The coal, the variety of which depending upon the stage to which the change had progressed. Peat grades into brown coal or lignite; lignite grades into semi-bituminous coal, which gradually changes into bituminous; from thence into semi-anthracite, and anthracite which is the highest form of coal extant. From anthracite further changes take place, this coal giving up its hydrogen, oxygen and nitrogen and leaving practically pure carbon in the form of graphite which is one of the highest stages of the changes of vegetable carbon into mineral matter; the other, the diamond, being the final stage, when it is in form of pure crystallized carbon. The different varieties of coal are classified principally according to the proportion of volatile matter they contain and the character of this volatile matter. The volatile matter is composed mainly of hydrocarbon gases, oils, and tarry matter; water and sulphur being also greatly from one another, in fact no other mineral shows a greater incon-stancy of composition, structure, lusand carry the series through in the order of their formation as given above. PEAT—Peat is vegetable matter more or less decomposed and chemically altered. It is found throughout temperate climates in boggy places where marshy plants grow and decay. It varies from a pale yellow or brown fibrous substance like turf or compressed hay in which the plant remains are abundant and conspicuous, to a compact brown or black material, resembling black clay when wet and some variety of lignite when dried. After being dried at 100 degrees C. the analysis of a sample of Irish C., the analysis of a sample of Irish peat gave the following results: Carbon 60.5; hydrogen 6.1; oxygen 32.5; nitrogen .8; whilst the ash was only 3.3 per cent.

There is always a large proportion of There is always a large proportion of water present, which cannot be driven off even by drying the peat. In the manufacture of compressed peat for fuel this water which of course lessens its commercial value as with an equal weight of coal, is driven off to a great extent by cutting the peat into fine pieces, and thereby exposing a larger surface to evaporation. The ash present in "peat" varies from less than one per cent to more than 65 per cent, and mainly consists of sand, clay, and oxide of iron. Under great pressure peat is converted into a hard, black, brilliant substance having all the physical aspects of coal and showing no trace of rganic structure.

LIGNITE—Lignite or brown coal (the next step in the coal formations above peat), is sometimes pitch-black but oftener rather dull and brownish-black, varying from this into a yellowish brown; but some shade of brown is the usual color whence the name "brown coal" by which it is often known. Ligoften retaining a ligenous texture, with tains from 55 to 75 per cent carbon and has a specific gravity of .5 to 1.5. It is non-coking coal, but affords a large roportion of volatile matter; burns asily to a light ash, with a sooty flame and a strong burnt smell.

Jet is a black variety of lignite, compact in texture and taking a good pol-ish, whence its use in jewelry.

The balance of this article containing scrpitions of the various kinds of bituminous coals, anthracite, etc., is un-avoidably held over until next week. CORRESPONDENCE

In some districts this class of rock carries fair gold values, in others no values at fair gold values, in others no values at all and as you do not state the district it is from it is impossible to say anything further about it. Should you desire us to have it tested for gold we shall be pleased to have it attended to. The fee will be $1.00.

It was decided to allow no members on the club float during the regatta days without the production of their membership cards. Those who have not yet received their cards should apply to the secretary at once for them.

For the ladies it was decided to held double and single cance and skiff races as part of the program.

The crew to represent the local club in the fours will be composed of the following: F. Nott, stroke; N. McIntosh, R. Sharp and Archie Bishop.

Should it be possible to secure a second shell a second crew to be picked from the following will be entered: Messrs. Arundel, Manhart, Poole, Teague, Johnstone and H. Bishop.

It is expected that the Vancouver, James Bay (Victoria), and Portland clubs will enter both junior and senior fours, and also doubles and singles from each city.

Portland is training hard. Gloss and Portland is training hard. Gloss and a couple of university of California Bis oarsmen are acting as coaches and Fred Smyth, sporting editor of the Telegram, says that the four from the American city will take some beating. The committees have been a long time in setting down to work and they should realize that it will require steady work from now on to be ready in time and to have the regatta properly ranged and advertised.

NINE HOUR DAY

urface Workers at all Chief Boundary Mines Have Shorter Day

(Special to The Dally News)
Phoenix, July 4—Announcement was made at the Mother Lode mine of the British Columbia Copper company, last Saturday night that hereafter the time of surface men at the property would be nine hours, with the same pay as heretofore. The Granby company put the nine hour day into force at its mines last week, and the Dominion Copper company did the same thing this week, the surface employees of all kinds working nine hours now instead of ten as heretofore. At the Mother Lode mine the rule was to work nine and a half hours, it now being cut down to mine hours. Thus all three of the big operating companies in the Boundary have voluntarily made the work day for their surface employees somewhat shorter, with the same pay as heretofore. Group 3—Yellow Newton Pippin, Northern Spy, Gravenstein, Cox's Orange Pippin. In planting an orchard I should strongly advise against planting a large block of any one variety. The reason for this is the advisability of getting different varieties in close proximity so as to render effectual the operation of interpollination by the action of wind and honey gathering insects.
