But with the advent of an excessively hot summer, servants from nearby estates discovered the lake made an excellent swimming hole and repaired there each evening in time to spoil the quiet shimmer of the sunset on the water by splashing and shouts.

A few days ago the manager solved the sunset shimmer problem by importing two seven-foot alligators from Florida, but the alligators grew restless and took to the golf course, where they raised new objections from hotel guests by following them about, devouring golf balls and watching them with cold eyes as they teed off. Now the hotel manager can find no one to catch and crate the alligators, and his only remaining hope is to fence in the lake to shut out the water-mad bathers and shut in the golf-mad alligators.

Revision of Lists Made As Result of Vigorous Protests — Government Officials Influenced by Threatened Unemployment Situation Throughout Dominion This Winter — Gustoms Employees Retained.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, July 26.—Further revision of the lists of the proscribed in the postoffice department of the civil service is in progress and from present indications there will be a considerable number of reinstatements. Rumors have been afloat to the effect that the Government, in view of a threatened serious unemploys ment condition throughout the Dominion, had decided upon complete reinstatement excepting on the cases of pensioned employees. Questioned regarding this rumor today, Hon. P. E. Blondin, post-master-general, merely said: "If it is half true I will be satisfied, but I don't know." Sir George Foster did not confirm the rumor. He declared that the process of elimination had been proceeding, but that an opportunity had been given for revision and for the hearing of representation from employees and heads of departments.

It is a fact, however, that in the customs department a very large number of those originally slated to go have been reinstated. In the postoffice department similar, though possibly not as extensive, reinstatements may be expected.

Not a True Sample. Not a True Sample.

"Not a true species of flapper," said the city editor upon the interview being dutifully reported to him. "Flappers don't smoke cigarettes, and if they did, we couldn't possibly report the fact, without precipitating another moral reform outbreak, which we haven't any form outbreak, which we haven't any time for in the hot weather, with the picnic season still in full blast.

Rather discouraged, the writer decided to wander out in the suburbs just to kill time until the late afternoon, and on the way out he met an old college friend who was driving an ice-wagon. Getting quite confidential after some mutual reminiscences of youthful days spent at Ann Arbor, he confided to his better-paid classmate his predicament over the flapper story.

Easy to Find.

"That's easy," said the iceman. "I know them like a book. Come with me and we may find a few before I finish my route. Maybe we will run across one or two in the next block." Luck was with the unsophisticated one at last. Helping to carry in an extra-sized chunk of ice to a workingman's home, the writer let the ice fall kerplunk into the refrigerator, when strident tones sounded over his shoulder. It was 2:15 p.x.

"But tell me," pleaded the reporter, "don't flappers ever do anything unusual besides wiggling their shoulders and trailing their tootsies along Dun-das street, or painting or powdering, eating ice cream, doing the movies and dancing at Springbank? Don't they ever have real romances? Aren't they ever very bad or very good?"

"No." said the iceman who hasn't forgotten the sound, philosophical train-

That the local unemployment situation will be greatly alleviated in the next few days by the departure of dozens for the harvest fields of the great west, is the feeling of local officials. Numerous inquiries have been made recently as to the probable date of the annual harvesters' excursions, and the one-way fare. Up until this morning such was not available. It is now definitely announced for the benefit of many who are desirous of trying fit of many who are desirous of trying their fortunes on the rolling prairies, that the same rate of last season will prevail, that of $15.

tains 100 Per Cent Classes Not Good Policy.

Following the statement of Public chool Inspector V. K. Greer, published in The Advertiser Saturday, where he registered his disapproval of advertising 100 per cent entrance classes, Times-Journal of St. Thomas says: "Principal John A. Dale of the Myrtle Street School, considers that an unwarranted and malicious at-tack was made upon him by School Inspector V. K. Greer of London, Ont., when the latter criticized his record of passing 100 per cent of his pupils at entrance examinations for three consecutive years. Inspector Greer said a record such as this was a 'sure sign of bad classification.'

"Interviewed on Monday morning,
Mr. Dale said he thought the inspec

"'An inspector should be a man to encourage teachers, not to discourage them, commented Mr. Dale, and besides, if to pass 100 per cent every teacher, then what should be his aim?

"The only interpretation that I can put upon Mr Greer's remarks is that he wishes to intimate that the entrance classes are especially picked. This is, of course, absurd. Any pupil who has fulfilled the requirements of the lower classes has the opportunity of trying the entrance examinations, so that my classes are composed of pupils just as they come.'

"Inspector Greer, Mr. Dale main. tained, was in no position to know the facts of the case in the first place, and was, besides, acting en-tirely outside his province when he undertook to criticize examination results in neighboring inspector-

SINN FEINERS WILL STILL INSIST ON IRISH INDEPENDENCE

Official Organ of the Dail Eireann Makes Official Declaration From Headquarters in Dublin-Valera Is Taking Up British Peace Proposals With Followers.

London, July 25 .- Nothing less than national independence will content the Sinn Fein leaders. The Irish Bulletin, official organ of the Daff Elreann, makes this declaration from the headmakes this declaration from the head quarters in Dublin.

While nothing is actually known of the nature of the Government's proposals beyond the general outline of dominion home rule and fiscal autonomy, the Bulletin contains an outburst against the assumptions of the British press concerning the negotiations, which appears to show that the proposals are unsatisfactory so far as Southern Ireland is concerned.

Resentment is expressed at 'lints in the British newspapers that there would be a revival of the "military terror" unless the so-called "concessions" were received.

accepted.
This outburst, which incidentally redudiates any wish to coerce Ulster, is taken in certain quarters to be more of an expression of impatience with the patronizing air of some of the London papers than an indication of a breach the negotiations.

Plan Reorganization.

According to Associated Press dispatches from Ireland, the Government proposals include a plan to reorganize the Irish police on a civil basis, eliminating the military element and dispanding the auxiliaries. This would be an important concession to Irish feeling.

the Irish police on a civil basis, eliminating the military element and disbanding the auxiliaries. This would be an important concession to Irish feeling.

Eamonn de Valera, the Republican Eader, took up with the membmers of his cabinet today details of the British proposals preparatory, it is understood to submitting them to the Dail Eireann. The British cabinet council tonight decided to bring the session of Parliament to an end August 9, "unless an Irish settlement makes an autumn session necessary." The provisional decision is taken to mean that the Government is still hopeful of peace in Ireland. The day was without progress towards a solution, and the public was left to flounder in the realms of conjecture, for the prime minister was able only to promise the House of Commons a statement on the situation some time in the future, and to warn the House against reliance upon unofficial reports.

Mr. Lloyd George declared that all the House against reliable upon ficial reports.

Mr. Lloyd George declared that all the published statements regarding the ferms of settlement were inaccurate.

Complaints received from officers of the "Irish Republican army" regarding the violation of the truce conditions by British soldiers have not yet been fully considered; they are said to be of a rather technical nature.

CONSIDERING PLANS. CONSIDERING PLANS.
BELFAST, July 25.—Plans for the complete reconstruction of the Irish Police Force are under consideration by the Irish executive.

The points under discussion include the early disbandment of the auxillaries and the complete reorganization of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and the merging of the Dublin Metropolitan Police in a newly constituted force in which all the men now serving have the option of joining.

It is regarded as certain that the duxiliaries will be disbanded at an early date, but will be given the choice of joining the new organization, the same as other members of the force.

The Royal Irish Constabulary, being intimately interested in the proposed changes, recently organized a meeting of delegates of various ranks, including officers, at which definite proposals were formulated. These are to be submitted to the Irish executive tomorrow, when assurances will be asked from the Government of several points.

the Government off several points.

EXPRESS RESENTMENT.

DUBLIN, July 26.—The Irish Bulletin, the official organ of the Dail Eireann, dealing today with comments in the British press on the Irish negotiations, expresses resentment at hints that refusal to accept reasonable terms will result in a renewal of the terror and declares that Ireland has its own views and will accept nothing which is the negation of the right of self-determination. On the contrary, she will return to the wilderness rather than accept anything, compromising national honor and national independence.

Do Not Understand.

The Bulletin complains that British comment during the last ten days has falled completely to understand Ireland's ambitions or her determination to realize them. It says that they talk of "the liberal and generous concessions of dominion home rule with modifications and some even talk of revival of miltary terror unless we accept those concessions," which would be more accurately described as the negation of the right of self-determination which British statesmen, during the war, considered essential to world peace.

The alderman charges that the police department is inefficient, and says that the rates for burglary insurance in Windsor are the highest of any place in the country.

the highest of any place in the courtry.

"Instead of taking a holiday during the summer months, the police commission would do well to hold its weekly sessions and give some consideration to the outbreak of burglaries and shootings which threaten to rival Detroit's record if not speedly curbed," he said. Ald Hooper declared he had been informed by men who had applied for burglary insurance that the rates for Windsor were prohibitive, because the police protection was inefficient.

IFARMERS WORK BY MOONLIGHT

Hot Weather Has Caused All Crops To Mature Rapidly.

WHEATLEY, July 25.—Haying and the harvesting of wheat, rye and oats have made busy days for the farmers. The extreme heat has hastened the crops so that they are all maturing at once. Corn and potatoes have been helped wonderfully by the heavy rain a week ago, and roots are doing splendidly. Tomatoes are ripening fast, and these, with green corn and cucumbers, are bringing good prices. During the hottest part of the day farmers have been unable to work in the fields, but have worked until very late at night when there was a good moonlight. Several valuable horses and cattle have died from the extreme heat, which has been continuous now for over a month. This is the hottest summer on record, old-timers say, and it isn't hard to believe this statement to be a fact. Alian Coulter Dies.

Such a candidate would poll a small vote, especially in the villages of the riding and in the country. A leading Liberal stated today that it was almost sure that a straight Liberal would be placed in the field, and that the chances were that the candidate would come from the rural section.

The U. F. O. will bring out a straight candidate, according to farmers high up in the affairs of the Oxford association. Just what action the Conservatives and G. W. V. A. will take is unknown. It is certain, however, that when the time comes it will find North Oxford in a red-hot fight for the Legislature seat.

[Special to The Advertiser.] CHATHAM, July 25.—The anounce-ment of Referee Henderson this afternoon that no changes would be made in the decision which he handed down in this city on July 14 has caused general dissatisfaction in the city and in the country. rate of 35c per thousand cubic feet. The last-named rate is an increase of 133 1-3 per cent over their previous rate, which was 15c per thousand cubic feet. Intense indignation was expressed by county and township officials over the decision at the time of the first promulgation and the confirmation will, it is expected, bring forth additional caustic comments.

Viewed With Alarm.

The average citizen of Chatham views the action of the referee with alarm as it makes a deep inroad into the pockets of the laboring man, a large number of whom are expecting cuts in wages before the winter comes on. The decrease in the price of many household and other articles, it was thought, would have a distinct bearing on the possible reduction of natural gas prices, but in this the consumers were doomed to disappointment.

TORONTO. July 25.-Natural gas rates for the Counties of Essex and Kent have been decided upon by G. F. Kent have been decided upon by G. F. Henderson, referee, following the inquiry July 11, 12 and 14, 1920, at Chatham. Briefly, consumers in all the territory covered by the Union Gas Company other than Petrolea, Sarnia and the border cities and the four producing townships will pay 45 cents per thousand. For Petrolea, Sarnia and the border cities the rate will be 50c. The four producing townships will pay 35c. A service charge of one dollar for each of the five summer months will be made.

In his judgment Mr. Henderson says these rates should remain in force until November 1922, and should be effective Basis For Schedule.

The rates were arrived at on the basis of evidence given that the gas has a value to the company, unsold, of 30 cents.

At 8 o'clock tonight, many hours after the outbreak, the flames were still eating into the Interior of the great steamship, and it was certain that the fire-fighters would be at work throughout the entire night. The fire is supposed to have originated from a lighted cigarette, dropped upon the carpet in the main saloon, and it had made very considerable headway before it was discovered.

Thus far the first-class dining saloon and all of the staterooms on the "E" and "D" decks have been burned out. The damage is estimated at many thousands of pounds, and it is said it will take months to repair the vessel.

London, Ont., Tuesday, July 26. EMPIRE RECONSTRUCTORS.

Writing in the Contemporary Review for July, Prof. W. P. M. Kennedy of Toronto points out that since Hon. Arthur Meighen became the leader of the Government there has been a marked silence with respect to constitutional changes. He argues from this that the present rulers of the country have discovered that there is no widespread demand for any constitutional tinkering; that, rather, there is a pretty general desire to see no change at all in the present loose relations with Great Britain other than a clearing up of some of the responsibilities that are the result of the present system. Recalling the speeches that were delivered from time to time by Sir Robert Borden before he left office, and by Hon. Mr. Rowell at intervals since 1917, Prof. Kennedy is of the opinion that these two men, who could perhaps best appreciate the "irritating irregularity of Canada's position within the Empire," were, after all, ahead of their time, and in no way reflecting widespread public opinion. Indeed, he thinks that the House of Commons was mistrustful of some remarks that the Minister of Justice made during last session on the question of Canada's place in the Empire. matter is one that it is wise to avoid.

"Mr. Meighen is none too secure in power. His majority is unreliable, and a series of byelections has gone against him. There is a rather wide feeling that there ought to have been a general election when Sir Robert Borden resigned office, and the present Government is occupied in steering a difficult course in ambiguous waters. Imperial issues have not figured largely."

The writer of the article thinks it would fare badly with any Canadian political leader who attempted to lead phrase. the Dominion into any closer bond. Quebec would be a unit against it, and "the average English-speaking Canadian seems to mistrust the side-issues raised y every kind of suggested change-centralized control organization of the forces of the crown within the empire and taxation for them-even though the incidence of the taxation might be under the control of the federal executive." Sir Robert Borden's ministry, in its talk of a rearrangement of imperial relations, did not in any degree represent Canadian public

The present conference of overseas premiers in London has been more or less innocuous, but it is a cretty safe guess that if Hon. Arthur Meighen had ken any steps to commit this country to change nis home-coming would not have been pleasant. It is ot that there is distrust of British statesmanship, with the possible exception, as Mr. Kennedy points out, Winston Churchill in his new office. Rather it is he conviction that the process of change is not going be brought about by round-table methods. As Prof. Cennedy says:

"We have got to avoid the academic thinker who hoists Canada on the horns of a dilemma and mutters prophetically that the Empire is in a violent process of disintegration, and is crashing to its doom unless reconstructed by 'rule and square.' Canada believes in the British Empire. In that belief lies the living, vitalizing future, which must not be mortgaged by the ephemeral triumph of a logical parchment and a pretty seal."

RUSSIA'S DILEMMA.

Russia has been for some years dominated by a nall clique which terms itself the Bolshevik party. Although the population of Russia is estimated at out 150,000,000 people, the numerical strength of he Bolshevik party, according to a calculation given y Lenine himself, amounts approximately to only half million. This figures out at less than one-half of e per cent of the entire Russian nation. Only a nall minority of this half-million are sincere comunists, and the heads and brains who direct this ovement in Russia number no more than, roughly,

The form of government thus set up was supposed be a "dictatorship of the proletariat," but the Rusan workers and the Russian peasants have discovered hat it is really a dictatorship over the proletariat.

stablished a body known as the Extraordinary Comission for the suppression of the counter-revolution, nd this simply meant that anything not in accordce with the ideas of the ruling class would be rigidly appressed. This institution has at its beck and call army of well-paid and well-fed spies and agents, and Le people of Russia have discovered that they have hanged one form of tyranny for another more idious and more terrible in its results. Centers industry and commerce have become depopulated. land has lost its fertility and productiveness, and m famine stalks abroad. Owing to the Government having followed the licy of seizing all their produce beyond that which have curtailed their agricultural activities to such an extent that, apart from having any surplus, they have barely sufficient to support the relves. This has brought about a most deplorable state of matters, because in the famine area, which involves over 25,000,people, no relief is forthcoming from the other parts of the country, for the peasants have nothing to

So serious has become the situation that the anti-Bolshevik elements are uniting with the Bolsheviki in a desperate effort to meet the danger. A conference been held at the headquarters of the Moscow Soviet, which was attended, among others, by Maxim Gorky, the author, Alexandra Tolstoi, Leonid Krassin, Soviet minister of trade and commerce, and Maxim Litvinoff, assistant commisar for foreign affairs. Cast-Litvinoff, assistant commisar for loreign and the state of the winds, they agreed to concentrate as it goes. The most exalted personal intelligence, be it philosopher or archangel, differs from him with regard to angel, differs from him with regard to on doing what they could to fight the famine, but find themselves in the position of having little or nothing to fight it with.

This bringing together of the two opposing elements angel, differs from him with regard to cosmic consciousness only in degree, and not in kind. Mary, who had the little lamb whose fleece was white as snow, was cosmically conscious. So show some of them is a big question, but the lamb whose fleece was white as snow, was cosmically conscious. So show some of them is a big question, but the lamb whose fleece was white as snow, was cosmically conscious.

This bringing together of the two opposing elements in Russia through the wave of misery that is sweeping over the land is fraught with significance, and adds another and perhaps the most important sign to the indications of seeking some sane passage to more normal conditions, which have been evident for some time. Krassin's mission to foreign countries in an effort to enlist capital to come to the rescue of the ruined industries of Russia made it plain to all the world that the Bolshevik dream of creating a new world that the Bolshevik dream or creating a new from the absorption of all mental life heaven for the workers had turned out a terrible nightmare, and that they were imploring outside help to pull them out of the quagmire into which their own in humanity. ignorance and folly had plunged them. Starvation and death are now following in the footsteps of folly, and an "S. O. S." has been sent out to both hemispheres. cism. As Leo Kamenoff, president of the Moscow Soviet, said at the meeting, it was necessary to procure aid from Europe and America, which they should be urged to give, regardless of social differences with Russia. The wreckers of Russia at last realize where they Cosmic consciousness is a term which no one has, so far, clearly and intelligently defined. It may mean: 1. A consciousness of the cosmos or universe. According to this signification, a child engaged in nature study is cosmically conscious, for he has a knowledge of the universe as far also was Dante, who conversed with spirits in the after-world. Mary's experiences are confined to the earth. Dante's knowledge of the universe is much wider, and extends to two worlds; but the mental agency by which the experiences the constant of the world is sobering down also. A CRIMINAL STRIKE. [London Spectator.]

Mr. Frank Hodges, the miners' leader has admitted in the Western Mail that the miners' strike was wholly unneces-He says that he and his saner colleagues wanted in March to drop the demand for a "pool," because they foresaw, rightly enough, that it was bound to fail. He denounces the wild men, and especially Mr. Noah Ablett of South Wales, as "responsible for prolonging the stoppage and for much of the misery which has been and is yet to be endured by our people."

"Everything goes to prove that we could have secured a better wage set-tlement then (in March) than we have got now. Who stood in the way? The got now. Who stood in the way? The Ablett type. They exploited the doctrine that leadership was unnecessary; freedom to negotiate was freedom to sell your people; initiative and adaptability were cowardice; leaders were merely paid servants whose job was to be led by the rank and file. SANE BRITISH LABOR. [London Daily Mail.] The position of the railways is difficult enough in all conscience, but there as has been shown at the railwaymen's conference in Newcastle, has taken up a thoroughly patriotic and sensible atti-tude. It has "turned down" the extremists and pronounced against further suicidal strikes. It has followed Mr. Cramp's wise lead in condemning the jaw-waggers." One of the gravest langers to the railway industry, which af-fects railwaymen as well as shareholders, comes from the rapid development of motor competition. Our slogan: " Maines for president in 1922."

Yesterday's Grand Prix of France, the premier speed event of the continent, and the first held since 1914, must have recalled forcibly to the mind of Parisians the Grand Prix pulled off extemporarily by Gen. Gallienni in 1914 when Paris was threatened and a whole army was transported to a critical point in the battle line in every conceivable kind of motor conveyance, but with the familiar taxi cabs of the Gay Paree predominating. Every Frenchman who drives a motor is at heart a Grand Prix driver, to judge by his

The longer De Lave is allowed to encumber the Mint, the more facts ncerning him come out.

This happened some time ago, but is common gossip around the circuit. Worley was at the plate in Port Huron with De Lave umping. Worley was at the plate in Port Huron with De Lave umping.

"That one was low." commented Worley, in a quiet, gentlemanly tone as De Lave called the first strike.

"That one was right across my face," opined the Port Huron player as the second ball flashed across, and Unips De Lave called it a strike,

"What ya say?" queried De Lave.

"It was right across my face," answered Worley.

"It was right across my face," answered Worley.

"Well, my fist will be right across your face if you don't close it," was the suave repartee of Mister De Lave.

De Lave is about 50 years behind his time. He should have been a mate when the belaying pin was in vogue along with "sail."

Since the affair of the disappearing baseballs, it is suspected that probably De Lave's reputation as a "two-gun" man was a mistake in the advance dope about him from Des Moines. It should have been "two-pocket" De Lave.

A lone hold-up man poked a revolver through the glass in one of the ticket booths while the lights at the park were temporarily extinguished by the blowing out of a fuse and robbed a ticket-taker of $990. He made his escape in the darkness.

Joe Lynch of New York entered the fing at 10:12, and was given an ovation by the crowd. Pete Herman followed almost immediately and also received an outburst of applause.

LEMANS, France, July 25.—Jimmy Murphy of Indianapolis won the grand prix of the Automobile Club of France here today. Ralph DePalma and Jules Goux in French cars were second and third respectively. Murphy led in a majority of the thirty circuits of the course, making the 323½ miles in four hours, seven minutes and ten seconds, an average of 78½ miles an hour. Murphy passed DePalma early in the race and fought for the lead with Chassagne, who drove a French car, until the Frenchman was compelled to drop out in the seventh lap. Nine of the thirteen entrants finished the race. There were no casualties.

Thousands of automobiles lined the course. Most of the spectators slept the night in the open waiting to see the contest, the first grand prix since 1914. NOW that he can order it at once by Long Distance from his favorite dealer in village, town, or city, nothing is too good for the farmer. "You advertised a special sale on phonographs in to-day's paper. Ship me one"he telephones.

Within the same convenient radius of your store are scores of thrifty housewives who would be pleased to have a merchant solicit their trade by Long Distance. Even if a sale does not result, you have advertised your business in a very effective way. They will probably call when they come to town, or order from your advertising. It's human nature.

We know a tire dealer who called up 29 strangers by Long Distance and sold tires to 8 of them. A follow-up letter or personal call later brought nearly all the others to his store.

THIS OFFICE WILL CLOSE BATURDAY NIGHTS DURING JULY AND AUGUST.

It is fully expected by the local officials of the C. P. R. that the divisional penice of that road, to be held at Springbank on Thursday, will be the largest outing ever held in this district by the Canadian Precific. Arrangements are being made to transport at least 1,500 employees from points between this city and Windsor, Goderich, Toronto, which are the limits of the local division. Besides those who will come by special train, several hundred more will come by automobiles, swelling the total number who will celebrate on that day, it is expected, to well over 5,000.

Although at first it was believed that Vice-President MacTier would be here for the outing, it is now considered doubtful, as no official advice concerning the movements of his private car has been received here.

BRANTFORD, July 25.—Animosity towards the department of public works continues to be shown by the local motor club, which declares that Mr. Biggs is issuing false statements The club, in a statement issued today, statement that the son of Mr. Biggs had come up from Hamilton to Brantford by motor, covering the highway, barriers nothwithstanding, which appeared in the press, was entirely misleading. Local motorists were misguided by this statement, and consequently suffered accordingly yesterday when trying to get through. This morning they say that the only way to get through in safety on this route is by aeroplane.
