Biggest Vote in History of Riding is Being Polled To-day---Both Sides Are Confident of Victory To-night.

[Canadian Press Despatch] LONDON, Ont., Nov. 27.—Early conditions to-day in the East Middlesex by-election indicate that one of the biggest votes ever polled in the riding will have been registered when the polls close this afternoon. Apart from the interest in the fight which has been growing since the last few days has grown to a fever heat, the weather conditions are favorable to a big poll. Last night both fusion and Conservative camps wound up the campaigning with half a dozen rousing rallies each. At noon to-day both sides express themselves as confident of victory. The temperance people are particularly confident that Mr. Laidlaw, the fusion candidate will be elected. Liberal workers claim that the Conservatives are taking many to the polls who will vote for Mr. Laidlaw. A feature of the fight that has come to the front within the last few days is the widespread interest that women are showing in the contest.

CHARLES NOBLE SURELY A MAN OF HONESTY

How would you feel if you should, perchance, pick up a roll of bills, amounting to $610, in the good coin of the realm? How would you feel, after having picked it up, kept it for a week and gone to considerable trouble to find the owner, said owner turned up, took his property, and failed to say: "Here's a cigar for your trouble?"

Such was the experience on Saturday last of Mr. Charles Noble, baggage-man at the T. H. & B. The Saturday previous he picked up the roll of bills, neatly wrapped up in a bank-book and ready for deposit, in the baggage-room at the depot. To be exact, the parcel contained $610.51. Mr. Noble could easily have destroyed the bank-book and pocketed the cash—but not Mr. Noble. He was not built that way. He notified the bank, and got the address of the owner, who was notified of the recovery of his money. It took him a whole week to come in to the city to recover the money. He proved to be a farmer from the Vanessa district.

It is not recorded that the owner of the money did not say "Thank you." He probably did. He should also have thanked his luck that the money fell into the hands of Charles Noble. Had the parcel dropped in a good many other directions, it would have been harder to pick up again so easily and unobtrusively. However, there are honest people in the world. Mr. Noble is one of them; and yet an honest man might in this case reasonably have said: "This wasn't worth the reward of a five-cent cigar, or even a 'two-fer,' which it is suspected the Vanessa man is used to smoking."

Residents To Enroll Names All Britishers in Mexico Asked to Go to Legation.

[Canadian Press Despatch] MEXICO CITY, Nov. 27.—Sir Noel Carden, the British minister, notification yesterday to all British residents to register at the legation in pursuance of the plan of defence against a possible emergency. British residents, who are not represented diplomatically, were likewise invited to enroll. A similar step was taken by the chamber of deputies held a five-day session yesterday, the time necessary to read and approve of the bill. Adjournment was taken because there was no other business. The question of passing upon the declaration of the president and the president of the republic, it was said, will not be taken up for several

EMPEROR OF INDIA IS LAUNCHED TO-DAY

Last of Four of Britain's Big Battleships is in the Water.

BARROW-IN-FURNESS, Eng., Nov. 27.—The British Battleship Emperor of India, the last of the four battleships on the 1911-12 naval construction program was launched to-day. It was at first intended to call her the Delhi. Her construction had been considerably delayed owing to labor troubles at the shipyard, so that the new vessel is not of such modern type as some of the ships already launched. She was laid down on May 31, 1912.

The British Admiralty to-day departed from its recent custom and invited the naval attaches of the foreign embassies in London to be present at the launching, its reason for doing this being probably because details concerning the construction were already known.

Drowned with His Dog When the body of Charles Reynolds, a cabinetmaker, of Newhampton, Wolverhampton, who had been missing for two days, was discovered in the canal near his home on Wednesday, the body of a favorite dog was found attached to his neck.

Admiralty Lords Went on Strike

[Canadian Press Despatch] NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A cable from London to the Tribune says: An astonishing story of a strike among the lords of the admiralty is told in this week's Truth. It seems that Winston Churchill, the first lord, brought the strike upon himself by personally interfering in a personal grievance on the part of a junior officer. The incident having been reported to Whitehall through the usual official channels, the sea lords respectfully remonstrated with their chief, and then, the remonstrance not being favorably received, resigned in a body. Apparently this had the desired effect, for the affair has evidently blown over.

Plymouth Port Is Hard Hit

It Has Been Abandoned as a Port of Call by Big Line.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A London cable to The Tribune says: The decision of the Hamburg-American Line to abandon Plymouth as a port of call for its express steamers from New York is a serious blow to the prestige of the port. Local hotels, too will suffer greatly by the Emperor ceasing to call, as in addition to the large number of friends going there to meet passengers, those who embark there for the continent had to spend the night in the town. Nothing is definitely known concerning the cause for the alteration of the plans of the Hamburg-American Line with regard to their vessels, but the attitude of the naval authorities may have played an important part in the matter as it is known that they refused their sanction for the Emperor to be berthed inside the breakwater. So far this has never been necessary as it is only in rough weather that ocean liners calling at Plymouth are not dealt with outside the harbor.

Archbishop's Heirlooms Antoniette Mementoes of Marie Antoinette were included among a number of curios, heirlooms collected by the Archbishop of Ontario and Mrs. Travers Lewis, offered at a sale at Holy Trinity Church Room, Brompton, in aid of the Ada Home in Paris for British and American girls.

City Sustained in Every Step Thus Far Taken, Solicitor Henderson In Statement Concerning Railway

City Solicitor Henderson this morning made a statement in regard to the street railway situation. The city he says has been sustained in every legal step yet taken. Mr. Henderson said: "The situation is one of considerable public interest, and while I do not trouble the press much with my views, it is but right I should make a short statement in the matter. Under the judgment of The Honorable Mr. Chief Justice Meredith, delivered at the close of the trial here at Brantford on September 17th last, the Brantford Railway Co. and the Grand Valley Railway Co. have been declared to have forfeited all their rights to a franchise to operate a railway system upon the streets of the City of Brantford. The Chief Justice gave to these companies the option of accepting certain terms upon which they could relieve themselves from the forfeiture, which terms they have declined to accept, so that at present their franchise stands forfeited. These companies have, however, appealed from this judgment as has also the Receiver (having now received leave of the court to do so), and this appeal is now standing for hearing before the Appellate Division, which will be argued as soon as it is reached upon the list of cases entered for appeal. The rights of the mortgagees or bondholders were reserved at the trial and will come up for decision as soon as possible after the appeal is determined. "In the meantime I have asked the Courts for permission to issue distress warrants to collect, if possible the balance unpaid of the current year's taxes. We succeeded in collecting $7,500 on account but there is a balance owing of about that amount and it seems to me a public wrong for the Receiver to be permitted to collect the revenue of the system and not to pay the taxes which are surely a first charge thereon. I accordingly obtained the permission asked. The Receiver appealed without obtaining leave from the court, and his appeal was promptly dismissed. He has now obtained the necessary leave to appeal under the penalty of having to pay the costs and his appeal will be argued in the next ten days, as nearly as I can foretell. Pending the hearing of the appeal, we may, if we think wise, issue the

NO TRACE RECEIVED OF MISSING BROTHER OF REV. MR. LAVELL

Distressing Case for Relatives--Note Left By the Missing Man--Reward of $500 is Offered for Information as to His Whereabouts--Details of Disappearance.

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 27.—Although up until 2 o'clock this afternoon the police and his relatives had failed to get any trace of Cecil F. Lavell, the missing Columbus College professor, who disappeared after going for a row on the bay on Monday afternoon, reporters gathered information which would indicate the man is wandering around Hamilton. Two street car conductors tell of having seen a man on Tuesday on the street cars, answering Lavell's description, and who was acting strangely. Lavell had no overcoat and shed his other coat and hat on the north shore. On Tuesday afternoon a man answering his description, without a coat and with his sleeves rolled up, went to a James street pawnshop and inquired about the purchase of an overcoat. He left without buying. Later a man, believed to be Lavell, was seen on James street, south of Cannon, waving his arms as though addressing an audience. He wore an old coat and hat but otherwise was well dressed.

A pathetic feature of the case is the frantic search Mrs. Lavell, who arrived here to-day from her mother's sick bedside, at Toronto, is making for her husband. Armed with his photos, she walked the principal streets to-day, stopping people, and trying to get them to identify the picture.

Dr. Pierson of Toronto, a relative of Lavell's, is also here. Dragging operations were continued to-day on the north shore of the bay.

Rev. A. E. Lavell, pastor of Brant Avenue Church, is still in Hamilton, assisting in the search for his brother, Cecil F. Lavell, professor of the state university of Columbus, Ohio, who has disappeared. A search of the city of Hamilton and vicinity is now being made. In fact the faint hope is being held that the missing man in his period of abstraction, may have boarded a train and gone out of Hamilton. The case is indeed proving a most distressing one.

HAMILTON, Nov. 27.—The country-wide search for Cecil F. Lavell, professor of the state university of Columbus, O., and brother of Rev. Alfred Lavell of this city, who has been missing since Monday afternoon, when he landed from a row-boat on the north shore of the bay, is still in progress. Relatives offered $500 reward for information that would lead to his whereabouts, and the police kept the wires humming with messages to points where it is possible the man, unconscious of his wanderings, may have gone, if he has not lost his life on the bay.

Chowan said he noticed nothing out of the ordinary about the man until he had lost his memory temporarily. When Lavell arrived here he went to the International hotel. There was nothing about his actions to excite suspicion. About 6 o'clock in the afternoon he called at the priest's palace on Mulberry street, and asked for Dr. Mahony, rector of St. Mary's cathedral. He was not acquainted with Dr. Mahony previously, and stated that the object of his visit was to have some one he could rely on to notify relatives in case of illness. He said it was possible he might be taken ill and not be able to explain this condition. In this event he desired Dr. Mahony to phone to Professor Chowan, his brother-in-law at Kingston, his intention, however, he said, was to leave for New York on an evening train. The arrangement he made with Dr. Mahony was to telephone to the International hotel in the evening and inquire as to whether he had left.

Had Lapse of Memory. Professor Chowan explained that Lavell, who was recently appointed to the professorship of the Columbus university, was on his way to Toronto to visit his wife, who was called there on account of her mother's illness. No explanation could be volunteered as to why he stopped off at Hamilton, other than that he suffered a very severe lapse of memory, similar to which he was seized with two years ago. On that occasion he was connected with the University of Columbia, New York state. He suddenly appeared in Kingston, where his mother was, and called on Professor Chowan. He told his mother that he was going to take a short rest before lecturing at Syracuse. In three or four days he returned to Kingston, and he had no idea of how he got to Kingston, and that he had an engagement to lecture at Syracuse. At that time Professor

Chowan said he noticed nothing out of the ordinary about the man until he had lost his memory temporarily. When Lavell arrived here he went to the International hotel. There was nothing about his actions to excite suspicion. About 6 o'clock in the afternoon he called at the priest's palace on Mulberry street, and asked for Dr. Mahony, rector of St. Mary's cathedral. He was not acquainted with Dr. Mahony previously, and stated that the object of his visit was to have some one he could rely on to notify relatives in case of illness. He said it was possible he might be taken ill and not be able to explain this condition. In this event he desired Dr. Mahony to phone to Professor Chowan, his brother-in-law at Kingston, his intention, however, he said, was to leave for New York on an evening train. The arrangement he made with Dr. Mahony was to telephone to the International hotel in the evening and inquire as to whether he had left.

When Dr. Mahony called at the hotel, he ascertained that Lavell had been inquiring there about a boat house. Dr. Mahony then made inquiries among the boat-houses and found that Lavell had been to Bastien's boat house, and later to Astew's, where he secured a boat and started across the bay.

SYNDICATE GETS PLANT OF FARMER'S TWINE CO.

The Greater Brantford Board, or the Industrial Realty Company, which works in harmony with the former, has not secured the Farmers' Binder Twine Company's plant. Yesterday the plant was sold to a syndicate composed by Mr. A. L. McPherson and others. It is understood that the plant will be immediately occupied by the Brantford Scale Company and the Grey Iron Company, recently organized here by Mr. Rowell and others. It is understood the sum of $20,000 was paid for the property.

What's Up On The L. E. & N. Railway

The C. P. R. has withdrawn its engines from work on the L. E. & N. Railway near Galt, one of the engines being ditched in the process. A number of men have also been laid off, and all along the line there is a general uneasiness as to what is happening. Resident engineers are up in the air, and a cessation of work is feared. If such results, it is generally regarded that it will be serious, as a large number of men are employed.

REBELS MOVE AGAIN TO CAPTURE THE CITY

Entrenched at Juarez, General Villa Drives Back 4000 Federals Who Are in a Deplorable Condition.

[Canadian Press Despatch] EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 27.—Entrenched with wounded, lacking provisions and practically without ammunition, those left of the 4,000 government soldiers who for two days fought to regain Juarez for Huerta, continued their struggle today to reach Chihuahua city, where they hope to entrench themselves in the federal garrison. In Juarez to-day General Villa continued preparations to move against Chihuahua City which even now may be in possession of Constitutionalists under General Manuel Chao, who was known to have been in the vicinity of the capital when the fighting south of Juarez began. For another day, at least, the commander of the rebels will permit his men to rest, while he assembles provisions and arms for an attack on Chihuahua, which if successful, will give the Constitutionalists complete possession of the state and will drive the Federal from their last stronghold in the northern Mexican states. General Villa said that he did not intend to execute the Federal prisoners whom he spared on the battlefield and brought to Juarez. They have been placed in jail with those taken in the Juarez battle and will be held until the close of hostilities in Mexico, when they will be pardoned.

Never Failing Source Of Water Supply Here

When the present job at the water works system is completed, this city will have a never-failing source of supply. This announcement was made this morning by Secretary Frank of the Water Commissioners. Mr. Frank stated that citizens generally had no idea of the enormity of the work involved. He further stated that things were being done right. Many people were under a false impression that water was being drawn up out of the river, and pumped to the consumers. As a matter of fact the filtration process was of the very best. The enlargement of the storage capacity, it is thought will protect the city against any possible drought for many years to come.

CITY HAS LOST LOT BY CARELESS SYSTEM

The Finance committee of the City Council last week refused to pay the Western Counties bill for street lighting. Members of the committee knew personally of lights which were out and for which outages no deductions were made. The company officials have also admitted that their system is one of kelter at present.

Sensation In Naval Circles

[Canadian Press Despatch] NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: A sensation has been caused in naval circles by the disappearance of Fleet Paymaster Lowery from H.M.S. Ganges, a cruiser which is stationed at Harwich. A large sum of Government money, believed to amount to about $60,000, has also disappeared, and the missing naval officer is wanted in connection with the matter by Scotland Yard.

PRINCE OF WALES TO GO TO PANAMA

Would be a Popular Briton on Part of Great Britain to Send Him.

[Canadian Press Despatch] LONDON, Nov. 27.—A suggestion that the Prince of Wales should attend the official opening of the Panama canal is under consideration by King George, according to the Liverpool Courier. Such recognition of the international importance of the event would be popular in the United States. The Courier says, and would help to obliterate some of the ill-feeling caused by the British Government's decision against official participation in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco.

Gift to Cambridge University

Mr. Otto Beit has offered £2,000 to Cambridge University for the acquisition of a library of German works, to be kept under the control of the Schroeder Professor of German at Cambridge, and securities to the value of £1,000 for the purpose of providing an annual income to keep the library up-to-date.

Cat Kicked Law suit

A black-and-white Persian cat, the ownership of which was in dispute at Rochester County Court on Tuesday, was quite unresponsive when the plaintiff's wife called "Jim!" When the defendant's wife called "Smart" the cat went to her and rubbed its nose affectionately against her. The judge concurred with the cat's decision.

GRAND OLD MAN PASSED AWAY

Sir Aemilius Irving of Toronto Died Today—He Was 90 Years Old

TORONTO, Nov. 27.—Sir Aemilius Irving, the grand old man of the law profession passed away at his residence at 9.30 this morning at the age of nearly 91 years. He has suffered from a protracted weakness due to old age and for over a month but milk—sometimes one glass a day, and at others four or five. He had been ill for some months and only his great vitality had preserved the spark of life during the last few weeks. He had been unconscious for some days. All his children were not with him when he died. They had surrounded his bed some time before when the end was imminent, but he had rallied. Sir Aemilius' strength, mental and physical was particularly noticeable in his last illness. Despite the fact that he was beyond even the four score years and ten, his mind was clear until he lapsed into coma as dissolution drew near. His physical endurance, too, was such that while his death might come at any moment, he lingered for some time.

Kaiser William Has Income of Over Four Millions, But is Really Hard Up.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A cable to The Tribune from Berlin says: Although he has a civil list income of nearly $4,000,000 a year and although in addition he receives nearly as much again in revenue from his castles and estates, the Emperor, William, according to himself, is having quite a bad time and can scarcely make both ends meet. For this reason he has decided to part with one of his castles. It is expected that one at Monbijou, which has great historical interest and which is now used as a museum will be chosen for the sacrifice. The Emperor has so far recovered from his recent indisposition that he was able to depart yesterday on a visit to his brother-in-law, the Duke of Sleswick-Holstein at his hunting lodge.

LAD WAS TEMPTED BUT HEART FAILED

Had a Forged Cheque and Went to a Local Bank.

Securing a cheque, value $10, which was made out in favor of his employer, a young lad proceeded to a local bank yesterday morning for the purpose of cashing his new acquisition, probably planning as he went how he would dispense coin and excite the admiration of his chums.

In he walked and proceeded to the teller, with a request that he cash the cheque. The teller, seeing the cheque made out in favor of his employer, asked the young lad if that was his name. The lad's heart failed him and he left the bank, leaving behind him the little piece of paper which would, had he cashed it, paved a downy path to the shows and would assured him a welcome at the seat of all refreshments.

Of course the comedy could not go overlooked, so the young lad was escorted to the station, when Magistrate Livingston gave him some fatherly advice, and in privacy, and the boy who took his first step saw the error of his way.

Strange Wedding

Bride is of the Opinion That She "Started Too Quick."

A market porter, named George Holmes, aged thirty-five, of Guy street, Bermondsey, was charged at the Tower Bridge Police Court on Tuesday with being drunk and disorderly, and committing wilful damage.

Mrs. Eliza Harris, of Theobald's road, Southwark, said the previous night Holmes knocked at her door. She told him to go away, and he smashed two windows.

The Magistrate: What made him do it?—I don't know, but I was told afterwards that he married my daughter yesterday morning. I don't know nothing about it; I was out at work.

Didn't you know it was coming?—No, I don't know their business. How old is your daughter?—I don't know, but I think she is about thirty-eight, sir.

The bride was called into court, and she said it was true that she did not tell her mother.

The Magistrate: Why not? You are not ashamed of him, are you?—I'm not sure, I think I started too quick.

You have made a mistake. Yes, I fell into it.

Holmes was bound over to keep the peace.

Earl Matthews, Col. Sergt. Vansickle, Corp. Lieble, being responded to by Mr. Bowdler, Major Smith, H. C. L. H. Rogers, Corp. Gun and Sergt. Instructor Cockshutt. Songs were given by C. L. Matthews, Cadet C. Bourne and Mr. Finn. Recitations were given by Miss Johnson, Sergt. Cockshutt and Cadet Johnson.

Presses was also given by Mr. James Hawke and Mr. Miller. Major Smith made a fine explanation of the value of the work of the militia to the country at large, and also of the cadet system which at the present time means so much to our boys.

Mr. Bowdler dwelt on the great boy movement that was now going on and the need of the adult to back every movement of this nature. He also spoke most highly of the work of Mr. Hunt.

Sergt. Cockshutt spoke of the growth of the boy knights and the good they were accomplishing.

Mr. Mace pointed out the advantages of first aid work in ordinary life.

Mr. C. L. Matthews gave the history of the corps and what it had accomplished.

Mr. Hunt spoke of the future outlook which was very bright, the enrollment was far larger than it ever had been, and the present quarters were too small for carrying on the work.

REPORT PRESENTED BY MISS BUTLER

Interesting Sidights on Conference, Held at Owen Sound.

The regular prayer service at Colborne street Methodist church was withdrawn last evening for the purpose of receiving a report from Miss Butler, the delegate to the Owen Sound Sunday School convention. There was a good attendance and Mr. C. F. Verity, superintendent of the school presided. Miss Butler first dealt with the value of a child to the country. One of the speakers at the conference had said that the Sunday school had been considered too small a proposition for grown-ups to deal with, but it was now considered almost too big a proposition for grown-ups. The children were the greatest assets of the country, and if the children were properly taken care of when young it would only be a short time before intemperance and crime would be eliminated.

The Sunday school teacher should know each member of his or her class personally. By this great results could be obtained. One speaker at the conference had stated that he went one third of his time in the interests of his class and found that it paid him handsomely.

Older classes should be thoroughly organized, each member having something to do, and made to feel that part of the success of the class depended upon them individually.

During the evening a quartette composed of Miss Butler, Mrs. Babcock, and Messrs. Smith and Ayliffe rendered one of the conference songs.

Leper Mission

The regular meeting of the Leper Mission was held in the club rooms of the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday afternoon with an attendance of 31 ladies. The president, Mrs. Dr. Barber, presided, and opened the meeting with devotional exercises. The treasurer reported having sent $310 to Toronto this year. After the general business had been transacted a very interesting programme was carried out. Miss Butler gave a bible reading, the subject being Prayer, after which Mrs. Gardner led in prayer. Mrs. F. Drake read a pathetic story on the life of a widow in India. Miss Small favored the society with a solo, after which Mrs. Wm. Louden read a letter from Mr. Davies, a missionary, and a leper who is an inmate in the Lazaretto in Treada. An account of a visit to a leper village in China was read by Mrs. Myers. Mrs. Shultz read a report from a leper asylum. An abstract from a letter from Miss Watt of Toronto, giving some late news of leper work was read by Mrs. Hill. While the offering, which amounted to $6.76, was being taken, Miss Perry rendered a piano solo. The next meeting will be held on Dec. 23rd.

MISSING BRIDEGROOM

Dentist Who Disappeared on the Morning of His Wedding

The disappearance of a dentist on his wedding morn was described during the hearing in the King's Bench Division, Dublin, on Tuesday, of an application arising out of an action for breach of promise of marriage brought by Miss Maud Junk, a boarding-house keeper of Portlewart, against Mr. Ross Bell, a dentist of Bangamon, Co. Tyrone.

Mr. Bell applied to have the case tried in county Tyrone or Londonderry; he application was resisted by the lady, who, in an affidavit said Mr. Bell had promised to marry her in May last, and subsequently gave notice of betrothal to another lady. Messrs. R. J. Eacrett, A. Burnley, F. Gott, Robinson, Sheppard and Angus. The flowers received, were very beautiful, being: Gates-a-Jar and wreath, grand children; pillow family, wreaths, Bricklayers, carpenters and laborers of C. W. Bank, Doris, Lodge, A. E. and A. M., Messrs. R. J. Eacrett, A. Burnley, F. Gott, Robinson, Sheppard and Angus.

On the Sunday before Mr. Bell married the mother of the bride, and brought with him his nephew, who was to be the best man, Miss Junk's uncle, who was to give her away, as well as her uncle's daughter who was to be bridesmaid. The wedding arrangements were discussed on the Sunday night and everything was settled, it being arranged that they were to motor to the church at a quarter past eight in the morning. Mr. Bell also showed her the wedding ring, and went to the sexton of the church and told him to have it opened in good time.

On the Monday morning Mr. Bell who had been staying in her (Miss Junk's) house, went out before seven o'clock, saying he was going for a walk and that he would be back for breakfast. He never returned, and never gave any explanation for his conduct. They were all waiting in the house for his return, but he did not even send a message.

The only thing she heard from him was in the shape of a telegram, which was handed in at Belfast. "Please send back my instruments by the chauffer, Dungannon-Bell." She wrote to him asking for an explanation as to why he did not keep his promise, and his only answer was a letter asking her to return his instruments, without which he said, he could not get on with his business.

The court refused the application.

GRANDMA NEVER LETS HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept Her Locks Dark, Thick, Glossy, With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use product called "Wreath's Sage and Sulphur Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wreath's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger. Agent T. George Bowles.

Yorkshire "Balkans"

At a conference of the West Riding District Council Association held at Leeds on Tuesday to consider various Mr. W. T. Pinder of Hunslet, stated that the West Riding territory might be compared with the Turkish Empire. There were the greedy Servians in Bradford, and the wily Greeks in Halifax, all ready to carve out a fat slice for themselves. When these had been satisfied there were Huddesfield, Wakefield, Rotham and Barnsley ready to make a desperate grab for such plunder as remained. A Delegate, that about Brightside, Mr. Pinder, who, in a strong way, did not mention the title principality of Pindsey, and the mysterious Kingdom of Speh, borough.

Burglary Film Banned

The police at St. Helens have taken a strong stand against the spread of "imitative crime" by means of the cinema. One particular film banned showed a burglary. The regulations of the Watch Committee prohibit the display of any film showing the scene of a crime in such a way as to educate the young in the methods employed by criminals.

STREET RAILWAY SITUATION

The statement of City Solicitor Henderson with reference to Street Railway matters abundantly serves to clarify the situation.

As he rightly points out, there are many interests involved in the tangled web, and the Courier has all along urged, the municipality should not take hold until all the private legal entanglements have been straightened out.

Mr. Henderson rendered very valuable service with regard to the Market street bridge settlement, and he has been equally watchful in connection with the subject under consideration.

EAST MIDDLESEX FIGHT

The outcome of the above bye-election for the Ontario House has attracted very general attention.

The straight issue has been that of "Abolish the Bar" versus the strict enforcement of the liquor laws and the retention of the three-fifths clause with reference to local option.

Mr. McFarlane, the Conservative candidate, has been a lifelong temperance worker, and he thus expressed himself during the contest:

"I have the fact before me that a large part of Ontario has gone 'dry' without any special act of parliament. We have also the certainty that still more of it will go 'dry' at the first of the year. In no instance has a local option fight become political, and my Conservative friends and my Liberal friends have each voted as they pleased on the question, with results that are very clear. That, to my mind, is the proper way to solve the question."

Yet this is the man whom Rowell, for political purposes, and for these alone, has been trying to defeat as not a true enough temperance man to his liking.

And it was Mr. Rowell, it will be remembered, who was a Globe director when that paper was accepting liquor ads, and one of whose stumbers in the present struggle was solicitor for the liquor interests when for technical reasons local option was upset in London Township.

THE STATEMENT OF A MAYOR

Mayor Carter of Guelph was one of those who took part in the East Middlesex fight ending to-day, and during the course of a speech he said (Globe report):

"The fact that Mayor Carter has been one of the leading figures in the development of the municipal enterprise of Hydro-Electric power, and as he stated to-night, was in the movement before Hon. Adam Beck, was of special interest, owing to the fact that the Conservatives, in the hope of attracting public attention from the temperance issue, have been usurping all credit for Hydro. Mayor Carter did not hesitate to give due justice to Mr. Beck, who, he said, had done wonders on the Commission, but he reminded the audience that, true to the Tory traditions, the Government had attempted to make Hydro a provincial department, so as to make it political. But the Government had failed. It was a municipal enterprise, and had it failed, Guelph and London and the other municipalities which had plunged into it would have been the losers."

"He believed that the municipalities that were paying the money should have greater representation on the Commission, and he hoped that the Union of Municipalities would always be an independent organization. The business of the Hydro-Electric Commission, he declared, free from Government interference, and backed up by both Liberals and Conservatives, had been clean and good. "But," he reminded his hearers, "it was not started by the Conservatives and Adam Beck; it was started by the Liberals as a municipal enterprise, and it is still a municipal enterprise."

When he uttered the above Mr. Carter was simply talking through his hat.

To the Liberal party as such there does not belong one iota of credit for the fulfilment of the Hydro-Electric scheme.

As Hon. Mr. Beck recently pointed out, he could not recall, one Liberal member who had openly helped the measure in any riding.

In Brantford the local Grit organ, for political and private ownership reasons, most bitterly fought the proposal, and a like thing is true of other Liberal papers, although some, like the Toronto Star, took a broader view.

Mr. Beck's department was not created for purposes of party advantage, but in order to have him continue at the head and receive a proper salary.

From the very first he has kept matters on an entirely non-political basis, and has received the co-operation of the various municipalities in that course.

Mayor Carter's attack was not only unwarranted, but distinctly outside of the facts.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER AT HAMILTON

The ex-Premier had a good reception last night in Hamilton, and that was as it should be, for leading public men on either side deserve the acclaim of their adherents for the arduous and self-sacrificing duties which they perform.

Referring to the navy question, he said: "Speaking as a Liberal to Liberals, I believe, may, I feel certain, I am convinced in my mind and heart, the policy which has been followed by the Liberal party upon the ground of absolute autonomy is the only policy that will be acceptable to the Canadian people."

In other words, Sir Wilfrid believes that in some mysterious way the gift of the price of three dreadnoughts to John Bull, same vessels to be recalled at will, is going to imperil the nationhood, within the Empire, of Canada. He must size up his followers as a gullible lot if he actually expects them to swallow that.

In the rest of his remarks he dropped reciprocity like a hot brick, and made a dramatic demand for absolutely free food, on the ground that such a course would lessen the cost of living. Here is a portion of his language in that regard:

"It is true I might say something about reciprocity, but I have no re-primations to make. The problem is before us. Let us bury the past and look to the future. There our duty lies. The situation requires action, prompt, unhesitating action. The policy I give you at this moment, the policy I believe every patriot in Canada ought to now support, and the policy I believe it to be the duty of the Government to immediately inaugurate, is a policy of absolutely free food—free from customs duty."

"It will be said to me, you advocate that policy do you not advocate a revision of the tariff to that extent? Certainly I do. But somebody will tell me that the tariff which is in force to-day is the Fielding tariff of 1897. So it is, but the Fielding tariff was made for the needs of that time, not for all eternity. It has been the policy of the Liberal party at all times to stand so far as possible for stability in tariff, but when the needs of the people call to action, action must be taken."

All very fine, no doubt, but largely theatrical. That freedom lessens cost has yet to be established. The Laurier Government put binder twine on the free list. Did that serve to lessen the price of the same? The whole question is very complex, and calls for earnest consideration, but to rush pell-mell into the matter, without due reflection, would be just as foolish as the course of Sir Wilfrid when he announced reciprocity like "a bolt from the blue," to quote the language of the Brantford Expositor, at the time."

The public may rest assured that the Borden Government will take any necessary steps in their interest.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

After speaking in Middlesex, Mr. Rowell went to Hamilton and addressed the fair sex.

The headmaster of Harrow has ordered the students not to smoke, or to have anything to do with those who do smoke. That's enough to show their feelings.

In France they are going to tax bachelors and spinsters thirty years old, twenty per cent more than proposed. As to that, lack of proposals, in all probability, has led to their present state.

"The Brantford contingent of Liberals caused great excitement when Dr. E. Hart, one of the Telephone City's Liberal residents, presented a political song eulogizing Sir Wilfrid and all his faithful and sending 'all Tories to the deuce.'"—Extract from report of Laurier meeting.

Now, Doctor, be merciful. You know full well the extremely limited value of a deuce. Although this is the "Hello" city, we are not all of necessity going there.

To The Editor

MR. LAING HEARD FROM.

To the Editor of The Courier: Sir,—It is not my ambition to enter into a controversy in the public press re the widening of Lawrence street, as it does not impress me very forcibly that the public in general is interested in this matter. However, there are a few things which present themselves for discussion and which of necessity remain to be answered.

In the first place, this property in question was purchased from Mrs. Lawhead through her father, Mr. Woods Lyons, who by the way, acted as her agent and transacted her business satisfactorily. I presume, in the sale of this land, after receiving a clear deed for the lot, we then purposed building a house and received a building permit, which entitled us to that privilege. After the house was erected an agitation began to make itself felt, its chief end being to widen Lawrence street. This was followed up, I believe, by a letter or so from Mr. A. C. Lyons on the question.

In the second place I wish to point out, that if this street is widened, Mr. Lyons really thinks it should be it will necessitate the removal or the taking down of that house, which is unnecessary for me to say, going to be rather an expensive investment for someone and a rather costly venture for the city, insofar as land expropriated all along this street would, of course, have to be paid for. Now, does it not appear to every intelligent person that Lawrence street to-day is just as wide as a number of other streets in our fair city, one of them being Queen street. Everyone is practically no comparison in the traffic on these two streets. Needless for me to say that if the traffic becomes so great on Lawrence street, some of it could easily be diverted to Alonzo street, which runs parallel and connects with the street in question.

Referring to the closing of St. Paul's avenue I quite agree with Mr. Lyons, and it is unnecessary for me to say, almost every person would, after seeing the gigantic error on the part of some of our former aldermen. Nevertheless, the street will of necessity have to be re-opened as ably set forth in the argument of Mr. Lyons, as everyone knows that the St. Paul's community is at large. Seeing that this is the case and that in all probability this street will be re-opened, would it not be an unnecessary expenditure of money on the part of the city to expropriate the property in question.

Why not leave the street as it now stands even though it is somewhat narrow in comparison with some of the other streets. It has been perfectly adequate in every respect for all traffic up to the present time and it will in all probability render sufficient service to the travelling public for all time to come.

This street as all the residents of Lawrence street will frankly admit, is a nicely located residential street, and just because there is one store situated opposite the house in question does not seem to impress me that this street belongs to the business section. With a tremendous amount of traffic.

In fact it does not make it a business street any more than one swallow makes a summer.

Thanking you, Editor for your valuable space, I beg to remain, Yours sincerely,

JOHN LAING, 20 St. George St., Terrace Hill.

CHRISTMAS APPEAL

FOR THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN COLLEGE ST. TORONTO

Dear Mr. Editor: Thanks for your kindness in allowing me the privilege of appealing at this Christmas season on behalf of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

It would take more space than you can spare to tell of the good work done for the sick and deformed children of the Province. However, in a few words, tell you of the progress of the work of the Hospital.

One nurse, six little white beds, a few dollars, a few friends—this was the beginning. The beds have grown to 250, the dollars to thousands, the friends to hundreds. 1875, the first year, 44 in-patients, 67 out-patients; 1913, last year, 1,648 in-patients, 25,507 out-patients; 1875, 1 nurse; 1913, 76 nurses.

Since 1875, thirty-eight years ago, the Hospital has admitted within its walls 21,018 children as in-patients and 159,231 as out-patients, a total of 180,249. Of these, 47,875 were cured, and 5,367 were improved.

In the Orthopedic Department last year, of the 1,648 in-patients, 278 were treated for deformities, 25 hip disease, 37 Pott's disease, 2 knock-knees, 18 bow-legs, 82 club feet, 8 lateral curvature of the spine, 44 infantile paralysis, 15 neck and 15 tubercular disease of knee, hip and ankle. In 1913, the Surgical Apparatus Shop manufactured 127 appliances for in-patients and out-patients, including ankle braces, spinal braces, hip splints, bow-leg splints, club-foot splints, plaster jackets, etc.

In this Department in 33 years nearly 800 boys and girls have been treated for Club Feet and 650 corrected. Half of these came from places outside of Toronto. Surely we have a claim for help from the people of this Province.

Will you, the reader of this letter, help to give crippled children a fair start in life?

Busy dollars are better than idle tears. The sympathy that helps is good, but the Hospital has to have the sympathy that works.

While Christmas Bells are ringing to the glory of Him "Who made the lame to walk and the blind to see," give, give, and help the Hospital to help God's little ones, upon whom the heavy hand of affliction has been laid.

Will you please send a dollar, or more, if you can spare it, to Douglas Davidson, the Secretary-Treasurer of the Hospital, or to

J. BOSS ROBERTSON, Chairman of the Trustees, Toronto.

The Cash Intrigue

By George Randolph Chester

(Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

Sawyer, panting for breath, nodded his head vigorously. "You are quite right, Mr. Kelvin," said he and stepped away from Blagg's side.

"You are letting me go at your own peril," warned Blagg, gasping out the words.

"If you stay it will be at yours," returned Phillip and got upon his feet. As he did so something heavy and metallic and bright dropped to the floor. Blagg took a step forward, stopped, laughed bitterly and tottered out into the hall.

Kelvin stooped and picked up the object that had fallen. It was the heavy paper-weight dagger that Blagg and stolen from Phillip's desk a year before. Phillip held it up by its tip.

"That's twice this thing has threatened me," said he, "and each time it has failed. I think I shall keep it as my emblem and my talisman."

An unusual commotion arose in the street, and there were loud cheers and calls for Kelvin. He looked inquiringly at Sawyer.

"It's none of my doing," declared the senator. "I'd better show yourself and say a few words, I guess."

Kelvin advanced hesitatingly to the window and held out his hand for Blagg to come with him. Before he emerged upon the balcony he turned and once more held up the dagger. He stood in the shape of a cross, and he immediately reversed it with the glittering point in the air.

"In this sign I conquer," he laughingly quoted, and then he went out upon the balcony to exhibit himself as a president elect of the United States.

Senator Sawyer after having awaited his turn for nearly an hour in the outer offices came red faced with anger into the presence of President Kelvin.

"By George, it's true!" he spluttered, looking about him. "At first I thought it was a joke, but it's true. You are polluting the White House with all the pomp and trappings of actual royalty."

The portly senator glared about him in fine indignation. "A low platform had been erected at the end of this apartment, and upon it stood a richly carved, flat-top mahogany desk, while behind this sat Kelvin in an enormous high backed chair, strikingly suggestive of a throne. On one side of him stood Sam and on the other a black shaggy black negro—exactly matching his ugly left shoe. Both of them were clad in blue and gold liveries. Besides Phillip's there was not another chair in the apartment, it being the obvious intent that visitors should stand."

"I do not understand what you mean by it," Mr. Sawyer went on. "The entire press of the country is aflame with it. When I picked up my paper in Chicago yesterday morning and read of the alterations you had made I was astounded. I took the first train out and came straight here."

"Very prompt and decisive in you, I am sure," returned Kelvin, with open sarcasm.

"Prompt and decisive action is necessary to save the party," the senator hotly retorted, "and the country," he added as an afterthought. "While you were installing yourself in all this to the train in Chicago that monster parade of the unemployed. This morning I read of the brutal and unprovoked police attack upon them, of the riot which followed, of the calling out of the state troops, of the killing of a score of men and of your edict late last night placing the city under martial law. That is a long score added to your account, Kelvin. To the twenty killed in Chicago add the seventeen killed in Philadelphia, the nine in Cincinnati and the six in St. Louis, and you have more than I would care to carry on my conscience."

"What did you come to see me about, senator?" demanded Kelvin coldly. "There are many others waiting."

"I came to protest against your entire administration," blazed Sawyer. "Before your nomination, to gain the influence of certain powerful corporations, you had Vice President Hollins, as manager of the United railroad system of the United States, give them valuable 'retreat' concessions. Since your election you have, through Phillip, who succeeded Hollins as czar of the railroads, stopped every concession and forced a perfect riot of restrictive legislation. With your railroad policy, legislative meddling and artificially produced money stringency you have stopped mills and factories by the hundred and have disrupted the entire industrial system of the country."

"Precisely what was needed," was the surprising reply. "Next will come the readjustment. We shall return to the era of smaller competitive concerns and a far better distribution of wealth."

"I do not believe it," snapped the senator. "To me such conditions would look like going backward. Left to itself the trust and combine and monopoly situation would work out its own salvation, for these aggregations of units were in the line of logical commercial progress, but while we stand here arguing this purely abstract question 100,000 men are on the verge of starvation. They are desperate men and some relief must be offered them at once. What are you going to do about it?"

"Go right on with my program," announced Kelvin calmly, picking up from his desk a heavy paper knife made in the shape of a dagger and toying with it.

"You will not go right on with it," declared the senator, striking his closed fist upon a corner of Kelvin's desk. "You're going to have a revolt on your hands in both the senate and house."

"And I suppose that you will lead the revolt in the senate," suggested Kelvin quietly.

"If need be, sir," thundered the senator. "I know at what you are hinting, but my self interest will stand in the way. But I hope, sir, I am sufficiently patriotic that when my country calls I shall answer her cry of distress."

"Exactly," rejoined Phillip dryly. "I would expect nothing else from a gentleman of your well known patriotism. In the meantime you have a stiff mortgage on your house in Washington and an equally heavy one on your place out west, both of which mortgages have eventually found their way into the hands of Breed, which perhaps you did not know."

Sawyer was shocked into highly uncomfortable silence.

"You at least are not going to revolt," went on Phillip, "and if you came here representing any scheme of combination of law peddlers, you may go back and tell them that I intend to have my way first, just and all the time. I shall not permit any interference. Did you come upon any other errand?"

"The senator's red faced rage had given way to pale blue apprehensiveness. "About those mortgages," he said, shifting uneasily. "I don't suppose that there will be any present trouble about them."

"I couldn't say, I'm sure," returned Kelvin. "You'll have to see the head of Mr. Breed's real estate department."

"I don't understand what you mean by it," Mr. Sawyer went on. "The entire press of the country is aflame with it. When I picked up my paper in Chicago yesterday morning and read of the alterations you had made I was astounded. I took the first train out and came straight here."

"Very prompt and decisive in you, I am sure," returned Kelvin, with open sarcasm.

"Prompt and decisive action is necessary to save the party," the senator hotly retorted, "and the country," he added as an afterthought. "While you were installing yourself in all this to the train in Chicago that monster parade of the unemployed. This morning I read of the brutal and unprovoked police attack upon them, of the riot which followed, of the calling out of the state troops, of the killing of a score of men and of your edict late last night placing the city under martial law. That is a long score added to your account, Kelvin. To the twenty killed in Chicago add the seventeen killed in Philadelphia, the nine in Cincinnati and the six in St. Louis, and you have more than I would care to carry on my conscience."

"What did you come to see me about, senator?" demanded Kelvin coldly. "There are many others waiting."

about that. If you should need any ready cash my private purse is open to you to the extent of, say, a thousand."

The senator wheeled instantly. "If you can accommodate me with a trifling temporary loan of a thousand for sixty days, say—I would appreciate it very much," he said, smiling ingratiatingly.

"No trouble at all," said Phillip pleasantly and immediately began writing out a check.

The senator was followed by a procession of office seekers and favor hunters, of whom Kelvin disposed briefly, and then came Hollins. Much recent worry had left him pale.

"Kelvin, we have been wrong from the first," he confessed after brief greetings. "You are carrying out many of the alleged reforms over which we talked, but they are not reforms. The ultimate aim was right, but the means are wrong. They are too violent, too drastic, and they have succeeded only in disturbing the economic system to an appalling extent."

"Not to my greater extent than I had calculated," returned Kelvin. "This confusion must prevail in the interim between the passing away of the old order of things and the institution of the new. You will see that the period of suffering will be but a brief one and that we shall emerge from the entire revolution—for it amounts to nothing less—upon a sounder basis than any commonwealth in the history of the world, with a larger ultimate percentage of happiness than heretofore enjoyed by any state."

Rollins shook his head. "You are mistaken," said he earnestly. "No peaceable economic readjustment is possible when any large number of the members of the body politic have reached the stage of starving desperation."

"You don't see very far, Rollins," replied Kelvin patiently. "You are basing all your calculations for new emergencies upon old principles. Has occurred to you that the solution of all our economic difficulties might be found in an entirely new system of government?"

(From our own Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 27.—District Scoutmaster Scott has received word that "A" troop Paris boy scouts has again gained the coveted distinction of winning the "King's Colors." They are now entitled to hold the standard until the end of 1914.

The wedding of Mr. Moses Innes and Miss Mary Greenaw was quietly solemnized in St. James' church on Tuesday. Rev. C. C. Purton officiated.

A rather exciting runaway occurred yesterday morning when a delivery horse of Mr. Thos. Dunn's made a dash for liberty while being unhooked at the barn. After making a circuit of the south end of the Flats, he turned on to William street and made for the business section, where he ran into another wagon on Mechanic street, breaking to a stop. The horse was attached to a parcel that might have contained wearing apparel, but this is now thought to have been his overcoat. He had also had a magazine with him. It is not thought that he could wander around the country without a hat or coat and not excite someone's suspicions.

His Description. Lavell is forty years of age, and 5 feet 10 inches in height, and weighs 150 pounds. He has brown hair, which is beginning to turn grey, and is slightly bald in front. He has a brown moustache and a mole behind his left ear. His eyes are blue. He wore a grey cheviot suit which was made at Benjamin's in New York.

Robert G. Clarke, a former resident of Paris, and son of the late Dr. Clarke, passed away this week in Tahoe Cal. The remains are being brought to Paris for interment.

The Lion Brewing Co., of Berlin, which was charged by Inspector Kirkpatrick with shipping ten dozen of beer into the local option territory of Burford, entered the defence that their traveller received the order for the beer in Toronto, and as the sale did not take place in local option territory they were not violating the law. Magistrate Patterson reserved his decision for one week.

MT. VERNON. (From our own correspondent.) Mr. and Mrs. W. Glass and little son, Mervyn are spending a few days with relatives at Paris.

Mr. Jay Mott of Brantford, spent Sunday at the parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stickle of Burford and Mr. John Stickle and children of Muir, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. Cleaver and family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Fowler and children spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. Tapley of Burford.

Mrs. Everett of Burford, spent Tuesday with Miss Judson.

Mr. Fred Macdonald and Mr. Anderson Townsend have returned after spending a week at the Fat Stock Show, Toronto.

LATE WIRES

WERE BOTH FINED. HAMILTON, Nov. 27.—Frank Herbert and Robert Taylor, the Grand Trunk employees held responsible for failing to close a switch near Bronte, which nearly resulted in the newspaper flyer plowing through the bridge, were each fined $100 to-day. The magistrate said he was satisfied there was no criminal intent, hence the fine instead of a jail sentence.

WILL PROSECUTE. HAMILTON, Ont. Nov. 27.—The controllers decided to-day that if they could get enough evidence to show there was a milk dealers' combine, a prosecution in the courts would follow. They are going to start right in and try and collect the necessary evidence. This is part of the fight Mayor Allan started in his boycott on the dealers when they advanced the price.

TANGO IS STOPPED. KINGSTON, Nov. 27.—A ban was placed on the tango at a big affair which was held in the city hall by the Iroquois Club of the city when it was announced for the benefit of all dancers that such dances as the tango would not be allowed. The Alma Mater Society of Queens University has also barred all such dances from their social functions and at the Royal Military College they are not allowed.

BODY IS IDENTIFIED. HAMILTON, Ont. Nov. 27.—Mrs. Catharine Holland of Providence, R. I., to-day wired Chief Smith that she positively identified the body of the unknown sailor, brought here by John Thompson's relatives from Goderich, under the impression that it was in Thompson's home, with his weeping relatives surrounding it, when Thompson himself walked in to the house and almost scared his folks to death. Mrs. Holland says she cannot take charge of the body. In the meantime it still remains at the morgue here.

Cottage Gardeners' Dinner. The Borden (Kent) Cottage Gardeners held their twentieth annual dinner at the Maypole on Wednesday.

A large company sat down to a capital spread. The year president, and was supported by Mrs. J. C. Prentis, A. Hinge, Goodnow, and other prominent residents in the district. The usual toasts were proposed, that of the visitors being responded to by Mr. J. H. Parham, who is an old Harden School boy. A concert followed.

NO TRACE OF MISSING MAN

Mr. Askew saw that Lavell could handle a boat all right and did not want to boat him. He saw the man pull over towards the north shore and land in the vicinity of Carroll's point. When he did not return by night, Mr. Askew himself, became somewhat alarmed, but he had no way of finding out who the man was until Dr. Mahony called.

While Lavell's relatives are hoping against hope that he got on a train and went to some other point where he is safe, yet grave fears are entertained. When the man appeared at Bastien's boat house he had what appeared to be a parcel that might have contained wearing apparel, but this is now thought to have been his overcoat. He had also had a magazine with him. It is not thought that he could wander around the country without a hat or coat and not excite someone's suspicions.

His Description. Lavell is forty years of age, and 5 feet 10 inches in height, and weighs 150 pounds. He has brown hair, which is beginning to turn grey, and is slightly bald in front. LAVELL'S GRIP IS STILL AT THE INTERNATIONAL HOTEL, where he registered on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. After putting his grip in his room he went out and never came back.

WROTE TO FRIENDS. Missing Man Intimated That His Head Was Giving Him Trouble. KINGSTON, Nov. 27.—While extremely anxious, the relatives of Prof. Cecil Lavell in Kingston are hopeful that he has not been drowned at Hamilton. P. A. Lavell, Smith's Falls, came to the city last night to be with his mother and sister. A letter reached here on Tuesday from the professor, dated Hamilton, in which he intimated that he had come there from Columbus, Ohio, where he was teaching in the university, owing to ill-health. He had been suffering lately with his head. In the letter he intimated that he intended going out for a boat ride. He thought the physical exercise might clear his head and that he would afterwards return to Columbus.

With the City Police

In contrast to the list of yesterday that of to-day's police court business was very short, and the cases were disposed of expeditiously.

Archie McCoy, who was last week given a chance to make good, was down to appear unless he was working, and his non-appearance was taken as a sign of his social advancement.

A young man of this city was alleged to have stolen a ring. He pleaded not guilty, and the case was enlarged until Monday at the Chief's request.

For being drunk and causing a nuisance at the Grand Trunk station last night, T. Winstanley was fined three dollars. He said he knew nothing about the matter and only came to himself this morning at the court.

The name of Pat Shanahan resounded in the building, but Pat did not put in an appearance and he will have to come up with the aid of a little "force."

A couple of drunks were both let off, this being their first appearance.

A WONDERFUL COLD CURE. Just think of it—a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarrhoxone." You inhale its soothing balsam, and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—headache and gripe disappear at once. It's the healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in Catarrhoxone that enable it to act so quickly. In disease of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's a marvel. Safe even for children. 25c and $1.00 sizes, at all dealers.

Brant Deanery Met At St. Jude's Yesterday

Resolution Of Regret Sent To Retiring Rural Dean Wright—Business Transacted.

The Fall meeting of the Brant Deanery was held yesterday in St. Jude's. The administration of the Holy Communion was observed at the morning service and in the afternoon a business meeting was held at which papers were given by Rev. Saunders and Rev. Lester.

A public service was held in the evening at which Rev. Norwood of London preached. Rev. Strong and Saunders assisted in the service.

The choir rendered the anthem, "Fear Not I Land," solo part taken by Mr. Farnsworth.

Rev. Norwood took his text from 11 Kings, 2nd chapter and 10th verse. "If thou see me when I am taken from thee, it shall be so unto thee, but if not, it shall not be so."

The time at which the text points was at the close of Elijah's ministry. The speaker went on to state that seven years previous to this, know that his end was drawing near, he began to look round for one to carry on his work. In choosing his successor, Elisha, he went not to the sons of the prophets, but to an obscure farmer. This may seem strange but God does not act according to what we expect. God has a man first before he is chosen.

Were Not Chosen. The sons of the prophets were not ready therefore, Elisha was chosen because he was prepared to carry on the work successfully by working with Elijah.

Received a Double Portion. When the end was drawing near, three great and final tests at Gilead, Bethel and Jericho. At each of these places where Elijah requested Elisha to return he said: "I will not leave thee." It was upon the faithful Elisha the double portion of Elijah's spirit fell; having been proved at Gilead, Bethel and Jericho.

The speaker closed with words of counsel to his brother clergymen and the congregation. "Only those who prove true in the time of the great tests receive the outpouring of the spirit."

Afternoon Session. The Rural Deanery chapter opened yesterday morning with the administration of the Holy Communion. At the afternoon meeting the usual business was transacted.

Rev. Saunders Chosen. The first item was the election of a Rural Dean to succeed Rural Dean T. A. Wright, who leaves here Jan. 1. Rev. C. W. Saunders, rector of St. John's Church, was chosen as Rural Dean.

Work Appreciated. Archdeacon Mackenzie spoke in eulogistic terms of Mr. Wright and moved the following resolution, which was seconded by Rev. Strong: "That this Deanery express its deep regret on learning that Mr. Wright owing to ill-health, must resign, not only his parish, but his position as Rural Dean. And that this deanery place on record the high esteem in which he has always been held because of his courtesy, kindly bearing, wise judgment, and sterling Christianity in all his work."

Rev. Mr. Purton of Paris has been appointed inspector of Sunday Schools in Brant Deanery.

Papers Given. Rev. Saunders gave a paper on "Our Obligation to African Missions"

Under these heads, the need of that field, the encouragements and the prospects, the speaker dealt with his subject.

Rev. Lester. Rev. Lester gave a paper on "Some Tendencies of the Church to-day." The foremost tendency of to-day is ultra organization. This leads to several dangers. The clergyman in charge must oversee all work and this is overlooked. There is always a danger of regarding these organizations as an end rather than as a means to an end. It also sometimes produces overlapping in that the same officers must work in two or more societies. Another tendency is of developing all into mere money making machines. Cheap advertising deteriorates the real value of service.

The papers were further discussed by those present and the meeting closed with the benediction by the Rural Dean.

CHANGES MADE IN THE DEPARTMENTS

Inland Revenue Department Being Removed to Colborne Street.

Owing to the cramped conditions of the customs and inland revenue offices, a deal was closed yesterday for the lease of part of the old Y. M. C. A. building on Colborne street for the inland revenue department. The lease is a short term affair, and is intended to provide adequate room both for the customs men and inland revenue officers until such time as the new post office is ready for occupancy. The present examining station in the American Hotel building is also to be moved to the Hurley building on Dalhousie street, at present owned by Mr. A. C. Lyons.

Special Economies in Corsets and Gloves

Gloves Are Safe Gifts

The Countess of Pembroke, in her diary, under date of Christmas, 1675, recorded: "After dinner I had my folks into my chamber, and did give my cousin Thomas Sandford's wife a pair of Buckskin Gloves, and to Mrs. Finch five pairs of Gloves that did come from Kendall."

There is small danger that any woman will get too many Gloves, but if she did she would surely keep these newest kinds:

Ladies' Mocca Gloves, 2 domes, best quality, pique sewn, in shades Tan, Brown and Grey, at $2

Ladies' Mocca Gloves, 2 dome fasteners, fur lined, at $2, $2.25, $3

It may be quite true that Mr. T. J. Nelson, President of the Brantford Baseball Club, realizes that one, Rube Deneau, is tied up religiously with the London Ball Club, and has therefore deemed it necessary to enter a denial that he is after Deneau. Such action is quite in accordance with all baseball rules. But, nevertheless, it is quite true that Deneau is anxious to come to Brantford, and that he will come here, unless spite work on the part of the London directorate prevents him. In the meantime, President Nelson is playing the game safe, and has not addressed one word to Deneau and will not do so until Deneau is properly released by London. Inasmuch as it is assumed that the Kockneys will have a new manager next season, and that they will not have Deneau on any consideration, it looks from this distance as if it were only revenge which prevents the London directorate from giving the big Rube his unconditional release, so that he may get a start in Brantford. The action, or rather the inaction of the London club is interpreted in these quarters as a direct slap at Brantford, where it is desired to build up a strong Canadian League club, not only in the interests of the owners here, but in the interests of every other club in the league. The Canadian League is not so rich or plutocratic, that the different owners can afford to fight and squabble. There is no Ban Johnson in this league, who can say that it will be a good thing for London as well as Brantford that the manager discarded by the Kockneys in 1913 should come to Brantford, and whose say goes. A little bit of the statesmanship of Johnson would be a good thing for the Canadian League at present. There is a surfeit of peanut politics, which is hurting the league by destroying public confidence. London has an investment to protect, and the only way to protect it is by having a good league, well balanced with clubs capably handled. Rube Deneau is and has been a factor in the league ever since it was organized, and the personal grudge of a few London directors should not drive him out of the league or out of organized baseball. If perchance, Deneau were able to produce a strong team in Brantford next summer, it would be London's as well as Brantford's gain. In fact, it would be to the benefit of every other club in the league.

The situation at present is this: London won't have Deneau; Deneau won't have London. The Rube will come to Brantford and President Nelson will have him, providing he does not transgress the rules of organized baseball.

Under the situation, Mr. Nelson rightly refuses to pay a price for Deneau's head, because such head is not valued by London as worth keeping because of the trouble up there. What value there is attached to Deneau in London would be more than returned to London and to other clubs in the league, by having a strong team in Brantford, for the simple reason that Deneau is a man who has always filled expectations in the Canadian League.

TINKER MAY GO BACK TO CUBS

Deposed Cincinnati Manager May Play Old Position On Windy City Team

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—John Evers, manager of the Chicago Nationals, will try to have Joe Tinker, deposed leader of the Cincinnati baseball team, brought back here to play his old position at shortstop.

"I am sure things would be different now," said Evers yesterday, "I certainly would be glad to get Joe back."

Evers did not say what sort of an offer he would make the Cincinnati team for Tinker. A hard-hitting shortstop would be appreciated by the West Side team according to the critics.

Less Than Two Runs Per Game Off Johnson

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Following the method of ranking pitchers which was tried last year, the officials of the American League have left out the games won and lost and only given the earned runs per game in the averages which were announced yesterday.

This change has in no wise affected the claims of Walter Johnson to the leadership. First in victories, he is also first in effectiveness, allowing the opposition only 1.09 earned runs per game last season. Cleteo, Scott and Russell of the White Sox are second, third and fourth on the list, forming a pitching staff more effective than the Athletics.

Stakeholders Vamoosed With Caps Bank Roll

It is estimated that fully $1,500 was bet on yesterday's D. R. F. U. junior game at Oakville between Dundas and Capitals. Both teams were confident of victory and most of the bets were at even money. About two hundred supporters accompanied the Dundas and the Capitals who were waiting to bet their money soon had all taken. Several of the stakeholders disappeared before the game was over and took with them a considerable sum of greenbacks.

Pitre Thinks That He Has Been Libelled

MONTREAL, Nov. 27.—Didier Pitre the hockey player entered action yesterday against the Montreal Star claiming $5,000 for alleged libel, committed on Thursday last.

Pitre bases his claim on an article which is alleged to have said that his transfer to the Pacific Coast Hockey League would be beneficial to him, as he was not, it was intimated, leading a life conducive to the best physical condition.

Packey M'Farland Wins Windsor Bout

WINDSOR, Nov. 27.—Nearly 2,000 fans jammed the arena of the Windsor Athletics Club last night to witness the scheduled eight-round go between Packey M'Farland, of Chicago, and Harry Brewer, of Kansas City.

For the entire eight rounds Packey played with Brewer as a cat would with a mouse, hitting him almost at will within and where he pleased. The Kansas City boy, while entirely outclassed as was to be expected, put up a good front and showed himself willing to stand some hard punishment.

Heffernan will stick to the T. R. and A. A. champions. He has turned down offers from Ottawa "at any reasonable salary." Lately he refused to go with another senior O. H. A. team.

"CASCARETS" ALWAYS STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

Get a 10-cent box now. You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous, and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or sugar oil? Cascarets work while you sleep, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret-to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

Sentence Will Be Inflicted

(Canadian Press Dispatch)

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 26.—Sentence will be passed to-morrow by Magistrate Jells on Frank Herbert and Robert Taylor, Grand Trunk employees, found guilty of a breach of the Railway act. They were part of a train crew on the freight which took the siding near Bronte, to allow the "last newspaper" train to pass. They forgot to close the switch. The engineer sent R. C. Hamilton, another brakeman back, after he pulled into the siding to make sure. This was what prevented a terrible wreck. Hamilton found the conductor asleep in the caboose. The other brakeman had forgotten about the switch. His excuse was that the train had started again before he had time to wind the switch, and he was not aware that the newspaper train was due in five minutes.

"Five men would probably have been killed, if not more, as a result of this negligence," said the magistrate. "It is a very serious offence."

Rev. Atlas Will be Witness at Inquiry Into Kingston Prison.

(Canadian Press Dispatch)

KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 26.—It is stated that Rev. Mr. Atlas of Toronto, who served a term in the penitentiary, will be one of the witnesses called when the prison reform commission meets in Toronto, in addition to a number of ex-guards and ex-convicts who reside in and around Toronto.

Guard Ingledew against whom charges of neglect of duty were lodged will ask that the convict who testified against him be summoned before the commission and questioned regarding the confession he made to Warden Irvine some weeks ago to the effect that he had told lies in his evidence against Ingledew. The charges against H. S. Beg, overseer at the penitentiary hospital have not yet been heard.

Death Mystery

Received £169 in Two Months, Yet Took Poison.

No motive could be assigned for the suicide of Arthur Sewell, thirty-four, a veterinary surgeon, lately residing at Wickford, Essex, who was found dying on the platform of Marlboro Station, and on whom an inquest was concluded at Southwark on Monday.

It appeared from the evidence given at the first hearing that Sewell who was not following his profession, had no troubles of any kind and had never threatened suicide. When he was found on the platform, however, it was discovered that he had a poison bottle in his pocket. He died on the way to Guy's Hospital.

Dr. Taylor said death was due to prussic acid poisoning.

The coroner reminded the jury that on the previous occasion he read an extract from a letter written by Sewell, who complained of having been under "great mental strain."

The coroner's officer said he found two documents in Sewell's pocket showing that he (Mr. Sewell) had not been short of money. He had received £169 from his brother during September and October, and there was £10 in his pocket.

The coroner said the case was a very mysterious one, there being absolutely no motive for suicide. It was evident that Sewell took his own life, however.

The jury returned a verdict of suicide whilst of unsound mind.

BANKS TO OPEN SUBSCRIPTION

Appeal for Sailors Relief Fund is Strongly Made.

City Treasurer Bunnell today addressed the following letter to the Mayor, in which an appeal is again made for subscriptions in Brantford for the sailor's fund. It is felt in municipal circles that the fund in this city has not been sufficiently subscribed.

Mr. Bunnell's letter is as follows: Editor of the Courier.

Sir:—His Worship the Mayor, as you know, undertook the collection of a Brantford fund for the relief of the families of the sailors, who lost their lives in the recent storm, on our northern lakes.

A letter has been written to each of the banks, including the Royal Loan & Savings Company, asking that they receive any sums tendered to them, and a notice calling public attention to the fund will be displayed in every bank.

Will you please use your columns to forward this good work, especially in view of the fact that His Worship the Mayor is at present confined to the house through illness, and unable to make a personal appeal.

Yours truly,
A. K. BUNNELL,
Treasurer.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and his wife will celebrate their silver wedding on Saturday.

The announcement of Mr. Chamberlain's engagement to Miss Mary Endicott, daughter of the Hon. W. C. Endicott, Minister of War in President Cleveland's first Administration was exclusively published in the Daily Chronicle at the time. The wedding took place on Nov. 15, 1888, in New York, the President and all the members of the Cleveland Cabinet being present.

There is a romantic story connected with the engagement and marriage. Mr. Chamberlain's journey to America to receive the acknowledgment of his success in negotiating the Fisheries Treaty between this country and the United States, and he first met his future wife at the British Legation, at a dinner in honor of the Plenipotentiaries.

Twelve months later the marriage took place, and after a honeymoon on the Riviera Mrs. Chamberlain met at her new home in Birmingham for the first time her husband's family and relations. Public presentations were afterwards made to Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, and the member for West Birmingham, in reply, humorously replied: "I have done all in my power to promote union between this country and America."

SURPRISES MANY IN BRANTFORD.

The QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika, the remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis, is surprising Brantford people. Many have found that this simple remedy drains so much foul matter from the system that A SINGLE DOSE relieves constipation, sour stomach and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY. Adler-ika is the most thorough bowel cleanser ever sold. M. H. Robertson Limited, corner of Dalhousie and Market streets.

TUMOR IN THE STOMACH

Completely Removed When She Took "Fruit-a-lives"

NEWBURY, ONT., April 4th, 1913.

"Some years ago, I was sick in bed, and thought I was going to die. I had a growth in my stomach, which the doctors said was a tumor and they said that the only thing to do was to go to the hospital and have the tumor cut out. I decided on an operation although both doctors said it was the only cure. I said I would die before being operated on. At this time, my mother in Alvinston sent me some "Fruit-a-lives" and induced me to try them as she had heard of another woman who had been cured of a similar growth in the stomach by taking "Fruit-a-lives."

To please my mother, I began to take "Fruit-a-lives" with the happy result that they cured me. I have not been to see a doctor since and my health is first class.

I recommend "Fruit-a-lives" every time I get a chance and I will be glad to have you publish this letter as someone who has now been a sufferer from the same trouble and "Fruit-a-lives" will cure her." Mrs. A. McDONALD.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all drug stores or send a receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

After Thirty Years

If you have tried most of the "cures" for hemorrhoids, you will have found that they do not cure. The only cure is "Fruit-a-lives". It is a natural, non-toxic, and safe remedy. It is the only cure that has been known to cure hemorrhoids in all cases. It is the only cure that has been known to cure hemorrhoids in all cases. It is the only cure that has been known to cure hemorrhoids in all cases.

distress warrants; but I have not taken this step since this appeal will be heard so shortly, and so long as there is no interference with the property of the company, I am inclined to let the warrants stand until the Courts have determined this appeal.

"I have throughout advised that this entire 'Street Railway' matter would take time to unravel. The rights of many persons are involved and have to be finally determined. A franchise of this kind, once granted, creates vested rights and interests which it is right the Courts should protect to such an extent as is their duty. So long as the Receiver can hold on to the property, collect the revenues and receive a substantial return thereon for his services, he will, of course, do so; but every effort is being made to bring the entire situation to as early a solution as possible. I have been and am giving it every attention and am glad to say that so far the courts have upheld the city in every step taken."

THANKSGIVING IN UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. - Thanksgiving dinner to-day will be the most expensive meal the average American has eaten during the last 25 years. It will cost from 35 to 100 per cent more than it did ten years ago, and from 15 to 50 per cent more than any Thanksgiving dinner during the last six years, according to recently gathered government statistics.

Thousands of turkeys spoiled by having been shipped to market during the unseasonably warm wave which overtook the country a week ago; the drought of last summer which shortened crop yields, particularly white potatoes; an alleged cold storage combination which Attorney General McReynolds now is investigating to find if millions of dozens of eggs and millions of pounds of dairy products have been withheld from the market by middlemen to force high prices; and the steady soaring of prices generally during the last decade are among the contributing causes to which economists point.

POOR RELIEF IN NEW YORK
NEW YORK, Nov. 27. - Thanksgiving feasting began in New York as early as one o'clock this morning with the opening of Bowery Mission's bread and butter food enough on hand to satisfy the needs of 3,000 hungry vagrants. The work of the various charitable organizations continued throughout the day, very close to the program carried out in previous years notwithstanding that high prices for food stuffs made the work more expensive than ever. At least half a dozen dinners at each of which from one thousand to three thousand persons were served, were provided and in addition to the work of the regular philanthropic organizations.

In many ordinary households the dreaded spectre of the high cost of living, detroned the traditional turkey, the retail price of which had risen on the eve of Thanksgiving to 45 cents a pound for the best grades, and from 25 to 30 cents a pound for the ordinary grades.

Although it had been predicted that the arrivals of poultry, which were larger than for several years, would show that the turkey was holding its own, the total receipts are said to show about twenty-five tons less in turkey arrivals than in other years.

According to retail dealers, the sharp increase is due to the fact that storage warehouses are full, that the birds already killed for the Christmas and New Year trade, and the farmers are keeping their stock for another month so that the turkeys will be fatter and command higher prices.

Y.M.C.A. ARE JUBILANT
NEW YORK, Nov. 27. - This was a true Thanksgiving day for the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations of this city, jubilant as they were of having established a world's record fund raising by obtaining over $4,000,000 within fifteen days. The announcement was reported last night that the total of $4,062,501 had been raised.

This morning, the interesting detail of the campaign. The gift of the odd dollar of the over-subscribed amount came at the last moment from the janitor of a downtown building, who sent it with the following simple and earnest, if ungrammatical note:

"I see by the paper this morning that you have not got your four million dollars, and so to help you, I have to give you a lady gave me one dollar for a turkey; then I thought that I have to be without turkey and send that one dollar for your fund. I am a janitor that loves the Lord. God bless you."

It is shown that 17,244 separate contributions were made to the fund, and that five of these, their gifts alone gave so generously, their gifts alone totalled $1,752,000. John D. Rockefeller was the chief contributor, giving half a million dollars. Cleveland H. Dodge was a close second, with gifts of $325,000. A number of rich persons clothed their philanthropy with modesty, and the total of anonymous gifts was over $300,000.

Salisbury Solicitor Arrested
At Salisbury Bankruptcy Court on Thursday Robert Michael Field, solicitor of Salisbury, came up for his public examination. He admitted that he owed £1,200 to a beneficiary under an estate of which he was one of the trustees. At the close of the proceedings the debtor was arrested and charged with misappropriation under the Larceny Act. Mr. Field's arrest for the Director of Public Prosecutions, said there was five charges involving £297. The accused was remanded until Tuesday. The magistrates agreed to accept bail in £2,000 if sureties were forthcoming.
