Cork Rebels Intended to Revolt With Dublin But the Plans Went Wrong

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 29.—We planned to rise simultaneously with our Dublin comrades, but something went wrong with the arrangements, said a leader of the Sinn Feiners in Cork in an interview published here today.

RIOT BROKE OUT AT MID-DAY MONDAY ON ST. STEPHEN'S GREEN

Crowd Rushed Out to See What Happened and Found Rebels Firing on Soldiers and Constables - Post Office Seized and Employees Turned Out at Bayonet Point.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 29.—The following description of the revolt in Dublin was given by an eye-witness who reached England from Dublin last night: "The first incident of the outbreak was a sudden firing of musketry in St. Stephen's Green about midday Monday, which startled the populace. The streets speedily filled with people rushing out to see what had happened."

WHERE ALLIED PRISONERS WERE CONFINED—LEADER OF IRISH REVOLT

THE WITTENBERG CAMP

SIR ROGER CASEMENT, LEADER OF THE IRISH SEPARATISTS WHO FLED TO BERLIN EARLY IN THE WAR AND UPON WHOSE HEAD THE BRITISH AUTHORITIES PLACED A PRICE OF $25,000, HAD, BEFORE HIS CAPTURE, WHILE TRYING TO LAND ARMS ON THE IRISH COAST, A MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE IN A DETENTION CAMP AT LEMBERG, WHERE HE WAS ATTEMPTING TO RECRUIT AN IRISH BRIGADE. AFTER THE IRISH PRISONERS HAD GIVEN HIM A QUIET HEARING THEY ARE SAID TO HAVE KICKED HIM AROUND THE CAMP, GIVING HIM, AS ONE EYE-

SIR ROGER CASEMENT WITNESS PUT IT, "THE SOUND OF LIFE," THE GERMAN GUARD EST BATING HE EVER HAD IN HIS CHARGED, REOPENING THE

WOUNDS OF MANY OF THE PRISONERS. "IT WAS WORTH IT, THOUGH!" SAID ONE OF THE MEN. SIR ROGER CASEMENT HAS BEEN TAKEN TO LONDON FOR TRIAL AND IS DETAINED IN MILITARY CUSTODY. IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT EVIDENCE OF HIS PROCEEDINGS IN GERMANY SINCE THE OUTBREAK OF THE WAR WILL BE PRODUCED AT HIS TRIAL. HE IS FIFTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE. HE IS HEART AND SOUL WITH THE IRISH NATIONALISTS IN THEIR STRUGGLE FOR HOME RULE. HE ENTERED THE BRITISH CONSULAR SERVICE IN 1895.

BARBED WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS

Young Irish Girl Rushed In to Street and Rescued Soldier.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 29.—Passengers in London from Dublin describe the raising of the rebel flag over the general post office there as follows: "It was just three o'clock in the afternoon when we witnessed the dramatic raising of the new flag on the government flag staff. On the right was the Sinn Fein flag of green, white and orange and on the left side of the building was a new green flag of the same size with the words 'Irish republic' in yellow letters outlined in white. There was no other mark or device on the flag. The hoisting of the flag was carried out by a group of three or four Sinn Feiners amid the wild cheering of their comrades."

AID FROM AMERICA

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, April 29.—A special cable to The World from London, says: "Papers found in the possession of Sir Roger Casement implicate Irishmen in the United States of high standing, according to a statement made last night from an authoritative source. Although the arms and ammunition involved in the plot were from Germany, it is declared that some prominent Sinn Feiners in America were active and participated largely in its administrative ramifications."

DUBLIN BURNING.

By Special Wire to the Courier. LONDON, April 29, 12.40 p.m.—Parts of the city of Dublin are in flames, an Evening News despatch filed at Belfast last night says. Street fighting continues, and there is much looting, it is said, but the reinforced military is making steady progress. Most of the shops are closed and passenger communication is still cut off.

Hon. T. W. McGarry addressed a recruiting meeting in Barrie Opera House.

100 CASUALTIES UP TO DATE

Killed and Injured List in Dublin Revolt is Very High.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 29.—Upwards of 100 persons have been killed or injured thus far in Dublin, a correspondent at Belfast of The Evening News reports in a despatch filed last night. He says the rioters, hidden in houses commanding important street junctions or covered by barricades in the streets, are keeping up a constant fusillade. The list of casualties continues to lengthen. It includes many civilians who, the correspondent says, have been picked off by Sinn Fein snipers for no other reason than that they were believed to be loyal. The cordon of troops is being drawn gradually but surely around the rebel strongholds. The authorities are carrying on their difficult task with the greatest forbearance. Every effort is being made to avoid unnecessary blood shed and damage.

"TOUT" LECKIE KILLED.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Hamilton, Ont., April 29.—Major W. R. Leckie, son of City Treasurer Leckie of this city, and a well known football star, has been killed in action. "TOUT" Leckie, as he was known in Rugby circles, graduated from Queen's as a mining engineer.

STOPPED ASSAULT

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, April 29, 12.30 p.m.—After a violent bombardment of French positions near Avocourt and Hill 304, on the Verdun front west of the Meuse, German troops were massed for an assault. The War Office report of this afternoon says the attack was prevented by French artillery, which dispersed the troops. A vigorous attack was made on French trenches east of Thiaumont farm, but the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses.

MUST GET PERMIT.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Ottawa, Ont., April 29.—The Canada Gazette contains the British order-in-council prohibiting the employment of aliens on munitions work except under permit from the minister of munitions. No one also must obtain the services of aliens in such work (wherever resident). Employers are required to furnish lists of aliens employed by them previous to the issuance of the order-in-council to the British minister of munitions and report his intention on leaving the work.

BRITISH LOSSES.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 29.—British casualties this month, as compiled from published lists, are slightly in excess of those in March. The total from all fields of operation is 7,255 officers and 19,255 men, compared with 1,707 officers and 19,317 men in March.

ENGLAND IS STILL IN IGNORANCE OF LATER EVENTS IN THE REVOLT

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 29.—Although the story of the early hours of the Dublin uprising has now been disclosed in considerable detail, England is still without authentic information as to the progress of later events. Normal telegraph, telephone and mail services with Ireland have not been restored, and the existing means of communication are subject to such a strict censorship, that it is possible to obtain only fragmentary information. Such news despatches as came through this morning added little to the information contained in last night's official advices and stories of eye-witnesses.

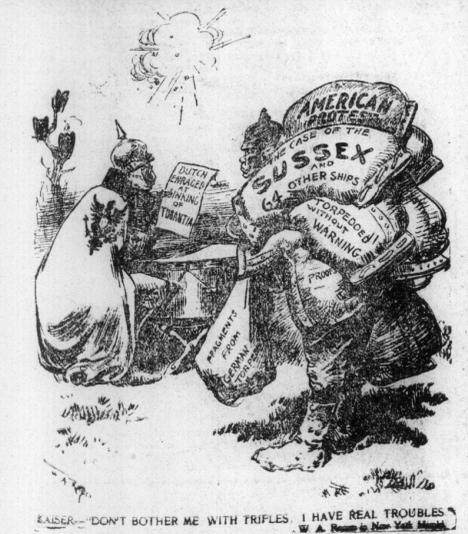

So far as official reports show, the situation in Dublin is gradually being brought under control. The most important recent news, that the rebels have been driven out of St. Stephen's Green with bombs, sustaining heavy losses in killed, wounded and prisoners, has not been confirmed officially. There seems to be no doubt, however, that the rebels are still in control of various parts of Dublin, and that street fighting continues with a lengthening list of casualties. It is reported the casualty list already exceeds 100. Of the situation outside of Dublin, little is known beyond the official admission that disaffection has spread to various localities in the west and south of Ireland. Field Marshal French's statement of last night described these disturbances as local in character, and so far as has been revealed by information which has passed the censorship, they have not been attended by heavy fighting.

REBELS WERE WELL ARMED

Germans Have Been Landing Munitions For Some Months.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 29.—"The thing that surprises me the most about the uprising in Dublin is the supply of munitions in the hands of the rebels," said an Irishman who arrived in London this morning. He spent ten hours in Dublin on Tuesday and departing that evening remained until last night in Kingstown. "There is little doubt in the popular mind that Germans have been landing arms from submarines for months," he continued, "and it is even said—though I don't believe it—that a few Germans also landed and organized."

tele equipment equal to anything on the continent. These are, however, local activities, and the time has come, in the opinion of Lord Shaughnessy, when a Dominion-wide organization should be formed for the scientific research of Canada's vast mineral, metal, hydro-electric and chemical resources, which will result in the practical application to industry of many minerals heretofore neglected or exported for manufacture to other countries, of by-products in existing industries, and of other natural resources which were neglected or insufficiently exploited. The waste of straw, for instance, in our wheat fields, of the fibre of lumber, seventy-five per cent of the produce of which has been wasted in the forest or at the mill, while in tungsten, molybdenite, graphite, oil shale, mica, manganese, magnetite, talc, feldspar and other minerals there is a field for the profitable investment of much larger capital than at present.

The Canadian Pacific Ry. Co. aims to secure the mobilization of the ablest and most scientific and chemical brains of the Dominion, and to associate them with a central organization to direct the activities of all the scientists and experts engaged in research work in all parts of the Dominion. The discoveries and information gleaned by the central organization, while supplies for the special information of the Canadian Pacific, will be disseminated from time to time by bulletins which should be of great value to merchants and manufacturers as well as to students and prospectors.

to carry out these views arrangements have been made with Mr. Arthur D. Little for the establishment of a central organization at Montreal for research work. Mr. Little has been President of the American Chemical Society and is a member of the Institute of Chemical Engineers, and a director of the Chemical and Engineer Department of the Institute of Technology, in Boston. Mr. Little's fame as a chemist and a chemical engineer is world-wide, and he will be an organizer and investigator in the scientific and chemical activities which have been extended to every branch of industrial and chemical research work, having many scientific chemists associated with him. Lord Shaughnessy is confident that Mr. Little will build up an organization in Canada which will bring to the Dominion the same benefits which he has brought to the United States.

A Dominion charter has been obtained and the Canadian Research Bureau will begin operations in Montreal on May 1st, when they will be in a position to co-operate with scientific workers and others of the Dominion already engaged in research work.

The Situation.

As predicted, the trouble in Ireland is proving much more formidable than first sparse despatches indicated. That Germany has had a hand in the uprising is not doubted, and the fact that a list has been given of British officers killed will make glad some news for the Kaiser and his advisers, who are representatives of the nethermost region more than anything else.

The indications grow that compulsory service is likely to be adopted in Great Britain. It has long been difficult to see how any other plan could be taken, France and the allies are giving all of their available sons and why should John Bull still longer be restricted to volunteers only when no one doubts that the work still ahead will demand the services of every available man?

The Russians have captured Sasun, a hill fortress, northwest of Bitlis, an important town of Asiatic Turkey. The position of the beleaguered British forces at Kut-el-Amara, becomes more and more disquieting and it looks as if General Townshend might have to give in.

Lavergne's Threats. Lavergne is still spouting his traitorous talk in Quebec, and the following editorial taken from the Montreal Mail is one of the nastiest things of the kind which the Courier has come across in a long while:

"If Canadians would be truly terrified by the threats made by Mr. Armand Lavergne last night at Longueuil, he says, for instance, that it was merciful for the English which stayed the land of the Quebec Legislature in the matter of requiring the English-speaking people of this Province to contribute to the dual language propaganda in Ontario."

"As if this prospect were not sufficiently direful, Mr. Lavergne intimates that unless the demands of the French-Canadians of Ontario are fully met, annexation with the United States will come. 'Will the English people understand that,' he snaps.

"No, the English people do not understand that any more than they do the scores of similar bombastic utterances which emanate from this loose-mouthed demagogue. They do not understand why any able bodied Canadian citizen wearing the soldier's uniform in time of peace, is afraid to wear it in time of war. They do not understand why a man professing an attachment for British institutions should refuse to fight for them, nor yet why one so profligate in his expressions of love for Canada should seek to advertise it as a nation of poltroons. The English-speaking people understand most of their fellow-countrymen of French origin, but they do not understand spurious specimens of the race like Bourassa and Lavergne.

"Mr. Lavergne talks as if the English speaking people of this province are at the mercy of some mysterious power, that they are here on tolerance, not as a matter of right, and that unless they become evangelists of bi-lingualism in Ontario, their money will be appropriated for the promotion of that cause. Let him divest himself of the illusion that anyone is influenced or swayed by such threats. The English-speaking people, like the French-speaking people of this province are here because they're here. It would be a dark day that brought the questioning of the right of either people to the enjoyment of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"The two have common rights, common duties, and despite the frothy fumblings of firebrands like Lavergne, a very wholesome understanding of each other.

"As for the theory that annexation would follow the failure of any one section of Canada to get what it wanted from another, section, that merely reveals Mr. Lavergne's painfully feeble appreciation of the power that guarantees the integrity of the Dominion. Most countries have their internal differences, but it is not of ten that a section disagreeing with another section threatens to annex itself to some other country. When such threats are made the sober sense of the country usually finds a way of taking care of them. Mr. Lavergne is the only person in Canada who is thinking about annexation these days. He is not in earnest. At any rate, Mr. Lavergne wouldn't fight for annexation. That is one fact in which timid ones may find solace. A man who in time of war won't fight for his own country, or yet for an ally which happens to be the land of his forefathers, hasn't enough manhood to fight for anything."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Sinn Feiners are sinning for the Huns.

Ingersoll is to have a tax rate of 29 mills. Great cheese centre that, and the residents do not relish this mighty levy.

A big merger of Ontario gold mines is announced. If there could be another merger of those who have lost in mine enterprises, there would be a dozen overflow meetings.

The liberty which those Sinn Feiners foolishly expect to get under German sponsorship, would be about equal to the joyful freedom of a mouse in the power of a cat.

The British Admiralty refers to warships as "she," while air machines are designated as "he." This may be right. Most men are disposed, now and then, to "go up in the air."

Vessels by the way are called she, because they are often in stays.

CHAPLAIN'S FUND OPENED

Capt. Lavell of the 125th, has opened what he calls a "Chaplain's Fund." The object is to secure subscriptions in order to purchase for the men of the battalion, a phonograph, records, magazines, books and games for their indoor diversion. Any contributions to Capt. Lavell, or to the Courier will be gratefully acknowledged. This is something which should appeal to all the residents of Brant county.

VILLISTAS SEIZE AMERICAN TOWN

Lajitas, Texas, in the Hands of Six Hundred Bandits.

Presido, Texas, April 29.—Between five and six hundred Villistas have crossed the Rio Grande River at Lajitas, Texas, 75 miles from the nearest railroad point, and have taken possession of the town, according to telegraphic messages, reaching here from Americans coming from Lajitas by automobile.

There has been no fighting so far, according to the Americans, no resistance being offered, but several stores have been looted.

Lajitas is 15 miles from Toluca, where several mines employing about 20 Americans are situated. A corporal and 12 American soldiers are at Toluca.

According to the Americans from Lajitas the bandits have announced themselves Villistas, and have said they are under General Villanueva, who with two hundred more men, is a few miles south of the border. They are in possession at present of about 20 miles of United States territory.

ceder from a big hotel, it was paid for. According to reports, the money came from the post office vaults, where, it is alleged, a large quantity of new paper money was seized.

Holyhead, via London, April 29, 3.30 a.m.—Eye-witnesses arriving here state that when they left Dublin Thursday night, Sackville street was completely in the hands of the rebels and was blockaded with barbed wire entanglements. Hundreds of visitors in the hotels were unable to get away. Looting of shops was in progress in many quarters and horses were lying dead in the streets. A resident of London returning from Dublin praised the heroism of an Irish girl sixteen years old, who ran from her home like a deer in the face of a hail of snipers' bullets to rescue wounded soldiers. The informant said:

"She grasped a wounded soldier under the arms—a stranger to her for he had just arrived from England—and dragged him to where others stood ready to carry him to a hospital. Then back she ran for another of the stricken soldiers. Her example inspired scores. She repeatedly led nurses and doctors from a hospital, almost in the face of a rain of fire from buildings to places where the wounded lay. Loud were the cries that she deserved a Victoria Cross."

W. F. COCKSHUTT HAD A GREAT RECEPTION IN N.Y.

When He Spoke to an Enthusiastic Audience of Over Fifteen Hundred.

The papers of Rochester (N.Y.) all gave very flattering reports of the speech which Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., delivered in that city recently to an audience of upwards of 1500 enthusiastic sympathizers with England and her Allies in the war.

Enthusiasm for the mother land ran high yesterday afternoon when her part in the European war was discussed at a British relief mass meeting held at the Lyceum Theatre. The speaker was William Foster Cockshutt, member of the Canadian Parliament and a lecturer of international repute.

Rev. Harry Idle, acting rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, made a plea for contributions. Members of the Primrose Guard took the offering, which amounted to $221 in cash and pledges, while Mr. Cockshutt's gifts are not yet all in. The meeting was held under the direction of the Rochester Committee of the British relief funds. John H. Roberts, chairman of the committee, presided.

"Nearly one-half the world's population is individually affected by this war," said Mr. Cockshutt. "Our men feel that there is not the shadow of a doubt that we are in the right. Great neutral nations like the United States can give us a support greater than that of guns, sometimes. I don't doubt that you feel that your success is more or less bound up with the success of the Allies."

STRONGER THAN BEFORE WAR. "When the war began Great Britain could in no sense be called a military nation. We had not more than 50,000 troops in readiness. Our men and ships have been made up faster than they have fallen out."

There are persons who regard wars as barbarous, as un-Christian. To my mind there are wars and wars. We are a peace-loving people. We have been taught not to retaliate. But on the head of the enemy and he has not responded we will kindle a fire under him that will compel him to yield.

"And we'll do it. This war we are fighting for a just cause. We feel that right will not be right, but that right will be might. I am proud to take what part I can in this war and to have my family take part in it. Three of my sons are to-day wearing the King's colors. One has been wounded in battle. I love my boys, but I want them to do their duty, and I think they are none too good to go into war for this just cause."

WORK OF WOMEN PRAISED. "There is amid the destruction of war a consoling side. Service is not without its rewards. Honor is not without its rewards. Many men and more women are to-day doing for their fellow men than they have done for a hundred years; not only in France, not only in England, but also in Canada. War has brought us women no only compensations. We men no only sons and sweethearts, but they see that all the necessities in the way of needful work are supplied.

"The voluntary system is on trial for its life. That is, do we prize freedom enough to fight for it?" "We know that England is spending the rate of $25,000,000 a day for the war and also lending to her neighbors to help them to keep on in their part; a man from the floor called out:

"And we'll do it. Applause here, as at other points, interrupted the speaker. One of the greatest outbursts came when Mr. Cockshutt paid a tribute to France. WARM WORDS FOR FRANCE. "I should like to spend an hour or two in telling you of our noble ally, France," he said. "That nation to-day is absolutely a nation in arms. Every man is in his place. Every woman and every child has a place. We in Great Britain don't know what war is, in comparison with France. France has suffered and sacrificed as we have not. We admire France with all the admiration there is in us. We can speak hardly less warmly of our ally Russia. Poor little Serbia! Some say she is the cause of the war, but I think she had almost nothing to do with it. Drop in a few pence for Serbia and for Poland. We have great faith in an all-controlling Providence. We believe that all the people in these little countries will yet be restored to their own humble freedoms.

REDMOND IS IN DESPAIR OVER REVOLT

Freedom Almost Granted Her, a Few Extremists Spoil All.

LOOKS AT RECORD OF GERMANY

If Huns Win, What Then Would Become of Irish Liberty?

London, April 29.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists in the Commons, last night gave The Associated Press a statement concerning the uprising in Dublin.

"My first feeling, of course, on hearing of this insane movement, was one of horror, discouragement, and almost despair," said Mr. Redmond. "I asked myself whether Ireland, as so often before in her tragic history, was to dash the cup of liberty from her lips—was the insanity of a small section of her people once again to turn all her marvelous victories of the last few years into irreparable defeat and to send her back, on the very eve of her final recognition as a free nation, into another long night of slavery, incalculable suffering and weary and uncertain struggling."

Mr. Redmond pointed to the great progress made by Ireland during the last 40 years, finally placing on the statute books the "greatest charter of freedom ever offered her since the days of Grattan." "Is all this to be lost?" asked Mr. Redmond.

Referring to the sufferings of Ireland in the past, Mr. Redmond said: "What Ireland suffered in the past which Poland, Alsace, Belgium and Serbia may not have suffered at the hands of Germany? And I may add also that portions of the soil of France, her friend and ally, which is in the hands of Germany?"

"What has been the record of Germany, but the suppression of nationality, of freedom and of language—in short, the suppression of all things for which for centuries Ireland has struggled, the victory of which Ireland has achieved. Take the case of Belgium. Has there not been there the same ruthless shedding of blood of the priests and the people that is part of Ireland's own history? What did the situation demand?"

NO NEUTRALITY. "Neutrality? That was impossible. Hostility to the just cause of the allies? Is there a sane man in Ireland who does not see that this meant the drowning of Ireland newly won liberty in Irish blood. Be this view right or wrong, this was the opinion of an overwhelming majority of the Irish people. It was the opinion that thousands of Irish soldiers have sealed with their blood by dying in the cause of the liberty of Ireland and of the world."

"That doctrine has been contested only by the very same men who to-day have tried to make Ireland a cat's paw of Germany. "In all our long and successful struggle to obtain home rule we have been thwarted and opposed by that same section. We have won home rule not through them, but in spite of them."

A GERMAN PLOT. Dealing with Germany plotted, organized and paid for the revolt, Mr. Redmond says: "Blood has been shed and if Ireland has not been reduced to the same horrors of Belgium, with her starving people, her massacred priests and her violated convents, it is not the fault of Germany."

Charging that certain Irishmen in America had taken part in the uprising, Mr. Redmond says that as America is now demanding reparation for the blood of innocent American men, women and children shed by Germany, "they are guilty of double treason—treason to the generous land that received them, as well as to the land that gave them birth."

Mr. Redmond concludes: "As to the final result: I do not believe this wicked and insane movement will achieve its aim. A majority of the people of Ireland retain their calmness, fortitude and unity. They abhor this attack on their interests, their rights and their principles. Home Rule has not been destroyed. It remains indestructible."

The Parliamentary branch of the United Irish League in Great Britain at a meeting here last night indorsed John Redmond's condemnation of the Irish "crime."

picked off. The rebels wore ordinary civilian clothes and carried old-fashioned rifles. "The killed and injured were taken to a nearby hospital. All vehicular traffic was stopped. Sometimes the drivers were fired at without first being told to halt."

"The rebels took possession of all the public houses near the Green, over one of which they hoisted the republican flag. Soon after this incident, the firing became very indiscriminate and many more civilians were wounded."

"The rebels also took possession of a public house near Portobello barracks, and constantly fired from it. This stronghold afterwards was captured by the military with the aid of a machine gun."

"Throughout Monday afternoon and night, firing was heard in different parts of the city. In the outskirts, however, there was no trouble whatever. "Simultaneously with the seizure of the post office, the rebels also rushed into other public buildings including the College of Surgeons, the College of Science and the railway stations at Westland Row and Broadstone street."

ATTACKED DUBLIN CASTLE. "An attempt was made on Dublin Castle, but the guards defeated the mob after considerable fighting. "At the railway stations trains were stopped, the tracks were torn up and the employees were dispersed."

"In College Green, St. Stephen's Green and Sackville street, street cars and other vehicles were commandeered and used as barricades. "Throughout the greater part of Monday afternoon most of the city was in the hands of the rebels. In considerable portions of the city, however, there was no fighting. Perfect calm prevailed. Theatres and moving picture shows were opened as usual, and the people were allowed to pass through the streets as in ordinary times."

TROOPS ARRIVE. "Early Tuesday troops began to arrive and a concerted movement was begun to eject the rebels from the positions they had taken. The plan of the authorities was obviously to surround them, and with this aim troops were hurried to strategic points. Fire was opened upon the rebels as they were being driven from the College and Dame streets. Military snipers upon the roof of the college and sheltered by chimneys fired continuously at the rebels approaching the college. One rebel was shot dead immediately in front of the building and his body was taken inside."

"On Tuesday the rebels in the trenches on St. Stephen's Green were barricaded with a great collection of automobiles, other vehicles and paraphernalia of all sorts. A little boy, who was passing through the railing here, was shot by a rebel sniper. During the day ambulances made many visits to the hospitals, carrying injured men."

CC's MANDEERED FOOD. "Just before lunch time Tuesday, a big body of rebels sallied from the post office and marched to the Green. They were met by the police and returned safely to the post office with supplies of meat, flour, bread and vegetables. "In the evening the authorities determined to drive the rebels from a shop at Kelly corner, where there had been much sniping, trained a machine gun on the building, and its front was quickly smashed in. A number of prisoners were taken here. "The situation was taken more strongly in hand by the military early on Wednesday. Nobody was allowed to stand in the streets and concerted measures were taken against Liberty Hall, the headquarters of the Sinn Feiners. A plain green flag floated over this building. Two small guns were brought up and fire was opened upon the hostile headquarters. Forty shells were fired in five minutes and the flag and little was left of the building when the firing stopped. Most of the rebels managed to escape by back exits."

"As soon as the bombardment stopped soldiers rushed the hall from different sides and took possession of ruins with loud cheering. The building fell at eight o'clock. CLOSED CAMDEN STREET. "At noon the military closed Camden street, which leads to the Portobello barracks. There was a good deal of firing here and soldiers took possession of a saloon which the rebels were occupying and made prisoners of the rebel garrison. "Soon afterwards all the saloons in the city were closed by order of Col. Benard. As soldiers began to appear in greater numbers the excitement died down somewhat. "Although there were still some parts of the city in possession of the rebels when I left Dublin at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, there was no fear of any further outbreak."

MOVIES, MUSIC AND DRAMA

AT THE GRAND

A Minneapolis paper has the following regarding "Omar, the Tent Maker," which will be at the Grand Opera House shortly—

"Tully and Buckland's sumptuous production of 'Omar the Tentmaker,' with Guy Bates Post starred in the title role, is paying its second and last visit to Minneapolis, where it will fill the week at the Metropolitan opera house. After a season's run in New York, this atmospheric drama of the Medieval Persia of Omar Khayyam, vitalized by his figure and those of his associates and poetized by many well-placed quotations from the Rubaiyat, has been played almost continuously throughout the United States and Canada. Its popularity shows no sign of waning and the reason given for its continuance at the end of the present season or early in the next is given by Mr. Post's manager, James G. Peede, to be that Mr. Post is ambitious to play a fresh part and that Richard Walton Tully has such a part for him in a new drama now nearing completion.

"Omar the Tentmaker," while not a perfect drama, is one that furnishes plentiful entertainment for all sorts and conditions of theatre-goers. It is scenically and textually poetic; it is pleasantly instructive in regard to one of the most picturesque poets and fearless philosophers who ever lived; if human kindness is overshadowed in its agitated action by human hate, just bigotry and greed it is a tribute to its accurate reflection of the time and region it depicts. It covers too great a lapse of time in disconnected episodes to be clearly consecutive, but the powerful link which connects and blends them all is that of the drunken poet and philosopher, Omar, played with magnificent gusto and irresistible sardonic humor by Guy Bates Post, one of America's most capable, talented and artistic actors.

The only way really to disarm Fate and to beat Destiny at the funny game called life, is to be able to laugh at both of these allegorical deities. One never laughs at them more effectively than Omar Khayyam, and Omar, himself, in all probability did it no better than does Guy Bates Post, in his impersonation of him.

"A PAIR OF SIXES." There has probably never been a play produced in New York City that received such glowing, bubbling criticisms as that given by the ordinarily very-hard-to-please metropolitan critic to Manager H. H. Frazee's production of Edward Peple's farce, "A Pair of Sixes," at the Longacre Theatre, New York. For once the writers allowed themselves to indulge in superlatives of praise without stint, and they showed that even the critics had enjoyed themselves.

The opening paragraph of the criticism of the New York Times (that most conservative of metropolitan papers) was so unusual that it is worth quoting: "When the curtain fell at the end of the first act or the new farce that came to the Longacre Theatre last night, seemed too good to be true that playwright and players could keep up fun all evening at so fast and furious a pace. But it was true. The audience that waited incredulously for that second act found it crammed full with fun all its own, and as for the third and last, the people on the stage, shout as they would, could hardly make themselves heard above the howls of laughter that came from the other side of the footlights. The playgoer who cannot find amusement in 'A Pair of Sixes' would have scowled at 'Seven Days,' sobbed at 'Officer 666' and wept outright at 'Seven Keys to Baldpate.'" There are not many adjectives left to adequately describe the heartiness of its quality as an entertainment. The new farce will be seen at the Grand Opera House with a cast of unusual excellence. Saturday, April 29th, Matinee and Night.

AT THE BRANT

A GREAT RAILROAD WRECK ON BROADWAY

Everything we should say about the story of The Juggernaut is so pale and poor and thin compared to the tremendous climax of this, the Colossus of railway drama—that we shall give only an outline of the plot. Two young men—one the brilliant son of poor parents—the other the dissolute heir of a great railway king, become friends at College. One thinks he has accidentally killed a drunken rowdy in saving the other's life—they two only know this secret.

Both fall in love with the same girl who marries the rich boy only after his chum has withdrawn from the race because of his poverty. Years later one becomes president of his father's old railroad—the other a righteous, fearless district attorney. Both again worship the same girl—daughter of the old sweetheart of both—one with a father's deep affection; the other because she is her mother's counterpart.

The district attorney bitterly attacks the railroad in the courts. His former chum threatens to expose him as a murderer. And now—imagine the girl on a train approaching a bridge which cannot possibly stand its weight. Both men know this. Both are rushing madly by automobile and motor boat to intercept it.

You see all this. See the girl's sweet face at the window of the flying train—feel the swaying of the automobile as it skids desperately around sharp turns—and the bounding of the motor boat slashing through rough waters. Both men and the train come crashing into the picture at the same instant—too late!

For a moment that seems an eternity, you feel yourself sitting almost upon the tottering trestle as the enormous engine—a mass of whirling steel—leaps thundering and quivering into the empty air and falls shrieking to the swirling river.

The big coaches crumple like cardboard before your eyes and pile themselves up on the wreck—their passengers floundering and struggling in the debris. Again you see the girl—Again her father—Again—THE MAN—The car of Juggernaut rolls on. But who are the victims? Come and see this tremendous spectacle.

That it was Vitagraphed by Ralph W. Ince, under the personal supervision of Albert E. Smith and J. Stuart Blackton, tells the story of its quality as a Feature Film. The Juggernaut, direct from the Vitagraph Theatre, New York. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. THE TWO ORPHANS. Adapted and Produced by Herbert Brenon. Henrietta (Theda Bara) and Louise (Jean Sothern) are the two orphans. Henrietta is vividly beautiful, and Louise, while equally fair to look upon, is blind. On the death of their parents in a French province they are sent to Paris, where an uncle has promised to provide for them. On their arrival in the capital, Henrietta, who has attracted the eye of the rascally Marquis De Presles, is abducted by his orders. Louise falls into the hands of Mother Frochard, a professional beggar. Mother Frochard has two sons, Jacques, a swaggering, handsome daredevil, too proud to work, and Pierre, a hunchback, who earns an honest living as a knife grinder. In the squalid cellar that the Frochards share, Louise is tormented by the unwelcome attentions paid to her by Jacques. Pierre, on the other hand, does all in his power to protect the blind girl. Meanwhile Henrietta has been taken to the Marquis' chateau. Frightened by her experiences and half mad with apprehension, she appeals to the assembled guests, one of whom, Chevalier De Vaudreux, rescues her after a duel with

Gossip of Notables

It is well known that since the beginning of the war women have been fighting in the European armies. The latest and perhaps the most picturesque heroine is Mile. Emilienne Moreau, a young French girl only seventeen years old, who received the Military Medal from General de Saille at Versailles in recognition of her great gallantry under fire.

Mademoiselle Moreau, says the London Sphere, formerly resided in Loos, the town that was captured by the British under Gen. Sir Douglas Haig toward the end of last September. During the German occupation of the town Mademoiselle Moreau lived there with her aged father and mother and her brother. As she was a school teacher, the children of Loos who remained in the town were in her charge. Her old father died not long ago after the Germans occupied the town.

When the great attack was begun, Mademoiselle Moreau waited in eager suspense for the result. Hidden away in the cellars and in other places of comparative safety were several families, including old men, women and children. She herself refused to remain under shelter when it became evident that the Germans were being driven back. As soon as the British entered, Mademoiselle Moreau sallied out into the streets and during the ensuing struggle assisted the wounded to places of safety. Although not physically strong, her determination increased her strength tenfold. To those who needed them she gave drink and stimulants, and she dressed as best she could the wounds of others. When the British soldiers entered the town they found her bending tenderly over her charges.

As the British reinforcements moved up, she heard them singing "God Save the King" with true British vigour. When they had finished, Mademoiselle Moreau dashed forward and began to sing the "Marseillaise." The soldiers surrounded her and joined in with a will, singing Rouget de Lisle's undying lines with the greatest enthusiasm.

A few days later this French army order was issued:—"Mlle. Emilienne Moreau, aged 17½ years, living at Loos (North France) on September 25, at the taking of the village of Loos by the British troops she organized a first aid station in her house and was employed the whole day and night in caring for the wounded. With no regard for herself she placed all her resources at their disposal without the slightest reward. She went forth amongst them armed only with revolvers, and with the aid of a few British soldiers disabled and captured two of the enemy, who, hidden in a neighboring house, were firing on the first aid station."

Following the presentation of the Military Medal, Mademoiselle Moreau was presented to Monsieur Poincare by Senator Jean Dupuy.

The French government has accepted from Col. Hodgetts, commissioner for the Canadian Red Cross Society, 5,000 cases of supplies for the French wounded.

Francis Gratton, who arrived at Simcoe on Monday as Sergt.-Major of the 13rd Battalion, was placed in confinement on receipt of advice from Regina that he is wanted there on a charge of bigamy. Gratton has served with the Princess Pat's.

FLYING SECTION FOR INDIAN ARMY

Dutch Will Purchase Seaplanes From U.S. to Add to Establishment.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Batavia, Dutch East Indies, April 26.—The government has decided on the establishment of a regular Flying Section for the Indian Army. Twelve more machines of the seaplane type at present in use in the experimental flying section here are to be purchased in the United States. A special commission will be charged with the selection and approval of the aeroplanes. Five trained airmen, including naval officers, are to be sent from Holland to join the new flying establishment.

Hitherto there have been only two flying machines in Java. They are seaplanes of American manufacture, on which the first military flights were made at the beginning of November last. Unfortunately, the flying record in the Colony has since been sadly marred by the tragic accident, in which the commander-in-Chief of the Netherlands Indian Army, General Michielien, lost his life. The choice of seaplanes as the first flying machines for India's forces arises from the fact that their first use would be to give speedy warning of the approach of a foreign enemy across the sea and information on the composition of his fleet.

Revolutionists Have Aeroplanes Chinese Government Easy Over Modern Equipment of Rebel Army.

Peking, April 25.—Much uneasiness has been caused in Peking by insistent rumors that the revolutionists have constructed a number of aeroplanes in Yunnan province and have purchased flying machines from abroad, which they intend to use in attacking government troops throughout the southern provinces. The central government already has several flying machines on duty along the Yang-tze river, and has four machines at the aviation school near Peking.

Recently the department of military affairs has issued instructions to provincial officials concerning the protection of their districts against aeroplanes. The instructions provide that a search shall be made throughout the mountains and forests to discover possible hiding places for aeroplanes. It has ordered that watch-towers be built on high hills for the purpose of observing approaching aircraft, and roofs of all important buildings and all watch-towers are to be covered with water to a depth of six inches.

The Siege of Kut-el-Amara The siege of Kut-el-Amara promises to take a place among the long sieges of history.

It is now nearly four and a half months of history. The British force, retreating from the vicinity of Bagdad, was shut up at Kut-el-Amara. During most of that time General Townshend and his men have been within hearing of the guns of a British force trying to advance upon the Tigris to their relief. The latest news from Mesopotamia indicates some progress for this second British army.

The siege of Paris, during the Franco-Prussian war, was the most striking and perhaps the most desperate of modern times. It lasted from September 19, 1870, to January 28, 1871. That is just about the length of the Kut-el-Amara siege up to the present time.

The British at Ladysmith, during the Boer war had to endure another of the great sieges of modern times. The Ladysmith siege lasted from November 1, 1890, to February 28, 1900. During those four months the garrison suffered severely from want of food, but not as severely, of course, as the French had suffered at Paris.

The fighting around Plevna, 1877, covered a period of about five months. The actual investment of the town, however, lasted only about three months. The siege of Vicksburg, during the Civil War, lasted less than a month and a half. While the present war in Europe has been described as one great siege it has not produced many notable and prolonged sieges of individual cities or fortresses. Namur, Liege, Maubeuge fell quickly, thanks to the big howitzers. Premysl, in Austrian hands, held out four months against a Russian investment. But the siege of Kut-el-Amara already holds the time record for sieges in this war.

The British force engaged at Kut-el-Amara is not large, but the moral effect of the relief or capture of that force will be felt all over the East. Agreement Reached. London, April 29.—An agreement has been reached between the Danish chamber of commerce and the British Government by which cablegrams from Denmark to the United States and England, concerning business transactions in accordance with the Anglo-Danish agreement are allowed to pass the British censorship without delay. Sheephead Bay is to have a 200-gold course on which $900,000 will be expended.

DAILY FEMININE FO

Advice to Girls. DEAR ANNIE LAURIE. I am a girl, 15 years old, and many people say I am not homely. I know, myself, I am not homely. Can you tell me why I can't get any boy friends? I am so worried I am going to be an old maid. I am very particular who I make up with. Now, dear Annie Laurie, can you tell me where I can meet some nice, rich young men? I'd be glad to go to the dance, because whenever I go I don't enjoy myself, because I don't like that class of boys. I dress very nice. WORRIED BLUE EYES. Have you ever thought that beauty really isn't so important? I don't count very much in making friends that are worth while? It seems to me, my dear, that if you gave more attention to your good looks and less to the things you should learn, both at school and at home, that you would find yourself attracting a better class of young men and many more of them. Why don't you try this plan for a while?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE. I am a young girl of 18. I have golden hair, a fair complexion, rosy cheeks and soft blue eyes. My friends all admire me, and the young men especially seem to think me beautiful. Now I am very much in love with a deep-looking young man who works at —. He is married, and has several small children. He calls me up real often. Do you think he loves me, and do you think it wrong for me to love him? Please do not tell me to give him up. It would break my heart, for I love him dearly. BROWN-EYED SUSIE. You know it is wrong for you to permit the attentions of a married man. If way down in your heart you did not know this you would not have felt the stings of the guilty conscience which suggested your bringing your problem to me. But the very fact that you have felt how wrong your actions have been proves there is much good in you. Just follow the dictates of your conscience and everything will come out all right for you.

Honored Bishop

Friends Will Provide Residence For Him if He Will Stay in Japan.

Tokio, April 29.—Unusual honors were paid to Bishop Merriman C. Harris, of Korea, before his departure from Japan for the United States. It is understood that the Bishop, who is the head of the American Methodist Episcopal mission in Korea, will retire, but friends and admirers have agreed to provide a residence at Kamakura-by-the-sea, if he will return to live there permanently.

Among the prominent men present at a farewell dinner were Baron Ishii, the minister of foreign affairs, Geo. W. Guthrie, the American ambassador and Viscount Kaneko. Baron Ishii in the name of Emperor Yoshihito conferred upon the Bishop the second order of the Sacred Treasure and at the same time eulogized the veteran missionary's work in Korea. Ambassador Guthrie likewise made a speech of appreciation of the Bishop's labors.

Agreement Reached. London, April 29.—An agreement has been reached between the Danish chamber of commerce and the British Government by which cablegrams from Denmark to the United States and England, concerning business transactions in accordance with the Anglo-Danish agreement are allowed to pass the British censorship without delay. Sheephead Bay is to have a 200-gold course on which $900,000 will be expended.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT The "Science" of Music

THE sun was setting and the sea was rose color, and across the bay the tall peaks were purple and silver.

Again I saw the face of one I loved, so dear, so dear. I thought I had forgotten it—the dear face, the kind face, the patient eyes.

What was it about that little refrain she played that brought before me your face, oh, kindly friend and true?

You came back again, just now, in that refrain, just as you used to be—she—don't you hear it now, way across there in the crowded city—my voice speaking to you and calling you, my friend?

Dear boy, the one I love that is not with me now, did you feel something on your cheek? Don't start—it was just your face, those deep and earnest eyes.

Secrets of Health and Happiness How Some "Dead" Tissues Are Brought to Life Again

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

WHILE it may not be true that seeds of wheat and other plants found in Egyptian mummy cases, thousands of years old, have sprouted, there is no doubt at all—for you may verify it yourself—that dried seeds year after year, in fact, have sprouted.

Prof. Paul Becquerel of the French Academy of Sciences recently announced a number of new discoveries concerning the resuscitation of a number of human tissues.

When is a wholly inert living thing alive or dead? Prof. Becquerel attempts to solve this problem. You may pick up a colony of dead or living bacilli and be unable to distinguish between them.

Experimentally it has been shown that there is no known way to prove that life is present in "revivified" creatures or tissues. Hat tails and pieces of human cartilage dried for eight days, kept for two hours at night heat, dried then refrigerated four days later were growing properly in their new positions one month afterwards.

Suspended life in the light of these and many other observations is an extremely singular, intricate, non-generated, anaerobic existence. If there were instruments precise on the order of those used to detect the wheels within wheels which are turning in the ultra-microscopic jelly of suspended vitality.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a girl, 18 years old, and many people say I am good looking. I know, myself, I am not homely.

WORRIED BLUE EYES: Have you ever thought that beauty really doesn't count very much in making friends that are worth while?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a young girl of 18. I have golden hair, a fair complexion, rosy cheeks and soulful blue eyes.

BROWN-EYED SUSIE: You know it is wrong for you to permit the attentions of a married man. If you were in your heart you did not know this you would not have felt the sting of the guilty conscience which suggested your bringing your problem to me.

After cutting out the sections of the petticoat from the net I French-canted them together by hand. Then I passed the seams flat and turned up a rather deep hem which I hand-stitched in place.

The camisole was no trouble at all to make. I simply took a strip of net, wide enough to extend from the waist line to the armpits.

IRON MOLDERS MAKE PROGRESS International Officers Secure Better Conditions in Hamilton and Kingston.

Melborne, Australia, April 28.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The question of post-bellum trade, which is being considered by the Entente Allies, is receiving its share of attention in Australia. The Federal Parliament has already annulled certain metal contracts under which German concerns gathered supplies of ore from Australian mines and had entered largely into the conduct of the mining industry in the Commonwealth. It has furthermore set out to insure that smelting of native ores shall be done in Australia so that by the time the war is over the local smelting plants shall be independent of German works of the kind. The Federal Government has also tackled the complicated question of patents held by German firms or individuals and has removed from them the protection of the British law on the principle that that protection had been abused; and certain firms declared to be "enemy firms" have been shut out from further business while others of suspected quasi-ally character have been obliged to purge themselves of reputed or personal and monetary.

POOR WAGES Lead to Poor Homes, and This Leads to Crime.

Professor Scott Neating, professor of economics in the University of Toledo, in commenting upon the Keating-Kenyon resolution for investigation into the extent of child poverty in the United States, claims it is made especially timely by the accumulating weight of evidence that child poverty is a fertile breeding ground for vice and crime. A Chinese proverb holds that "Crime begins in poverty." Most recent social investigations lead an ever-growing emphasis to our belief in the correctness of this statement. The home surroundings under which many boys and girls grow up furnish a wholly satisfying explanation into which the children fall. The fairest flower is ruined if it is dragged in the mire. Children cannot hope to learn decency in homes where, according to a recent report on the poor school children of a great American city, "Many have no beds to sleep in. They cuddle together on hard floors."

LEFT CREW IN OPEN BOATS 120 MILES FROM LAND

London, April 28.—The British Steamship Industry has been sunk by a submarine, which left the crew of the vessel in open boats 120 miles from land. The crew was picked up by the American liner Finland. The sinking of the steamship was made known in the following official statement: "The British Steamship Industry was sunk by an enemy submarine and the crew was left in open boats in the Atlantic, 120 miles from the nearest land. The boats with the entire crew were picked up by the American liner Finland. The industry was proceeding to a United States port, and was unarmed. The industry was a 400 foot boat, 4,044 tons gross, built in Belfast in 1888 and owned in Liverpool. She was last reported as having sailed on March 17 from Newport News for St. Nazaire, France. Boston is to have a belt line freight railroad to cost $10,000,000."

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT TACKLES PROBLEM OF POST-BELLUM TRADE

Has Already Annulled Metal Contracts With German Firms and is Investigating Patents Held by German Concerns—Scientific Management Becoming Talked About, But It is Hindered by State-Socialist Laws.

Melborne, Australia, April 28.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The question of post-bellum trade, which is being considered by the Entente Allies, is receiving its share of attention in Australia. The Federal Parliament has already annulled certain metal contracts under which German concerns gathered supplies of ore from Australian mines and had entered largely into the conduct of the mining industry in the Commonwealth. It has furthermore set out to insure that smelting of native ores shall be done in Australia so that by the time the war is over the local smelting plants shall be independent of German works of the kind. The Federal Government has also tackled the complicated question of patents held by German firms or individuals and has removed from them the protection of the British law on the principle that that protection had been abused; and certain firms declared to be "enemy firms" have been shut out from further business while others of suspected quasi-ally character have been obliged to purge themselves of reputed or personal and monetary. But it is being urged that private and individual steps in the directions indicated have so far amounted to almost nothing, and that chambers of commerce and of manufacturers should enter more heartily into the campaign. Notwithstanding there have been speeches, interviews and suggestions by business men of more or less prominence all over Australia and trade fairs and like affairs have been held to give point of view for "trade within the territories" and "home manufacture and consumption" the net effect it is contended has been small. Recently the Sydney Chamber of Commerce adopted this resolution which may be taken as a fair example of action by other similar bodies in other parts of the Commonwealth. "That this chamber places on record with a view to stimulating and increasing production within the territories, and thereby to some extent ease the enormous financial burdens forced upon us by the nations at present at war with us, its desire to cooperate with any practical proposals for the encouragement of trade within the empire and believes that the imposition of a surtax on goods manufactured within the territories of such nations will be the most effective means to attain this end. "That the British and Australian governments be urged to co-operate with the manufacturing industries by establishing laboratories and centers of scientific research such to be available to manufacturers throughout the empire. "Scientific management" as it is known in the United States and is practised in Germany has been applied in Australia before the war by the British Government. The principles of it had met with a cold reception. Now it is coming to the fore with an emphasis derived directly from the war, but what will be the outcome of time alone can tell since the average employer in Australia believes that he has little to learn on this score; he is impatient by state-socialist laws and the powerful trades unions hold to the view that "scientific management" is merely another name of exploitation of the working classes. "Then there is the matter of shipping with which in the case of Australia it is said a heavy load could be dealt German commerce after the war, should Britain, the British dominions overseas and the Allies of Great Britain resolve upon a policy of penalization. The Commonwealth has a coast line as great as that of the United States, it is a heavy importer and it maintains a huge waterborne traffic with Europe, Asia and America. On this point the Australian section of the London Chamber of Commerce has come out strongly in support of this proposal of a British Chamber of Commerce committee. Evidence brought before us has disclosed the extent to which enemy goods were subsidized by the German government mainly for the benefit of the export trade in commodities in other parts of the Commonwealth. "That this chamber places on record with a view to stimulating and increasing production within the territories, and thereby to some extent ease the enormous financial burdens forced upon us by the nations at present at war with us, its desire to cooperate with any practical proposals for the encouragement of trade within the empire and believes that the imposition of a surtax on goods manufactured within the territories of such nations will be the most effective means to attain this end."

SUFFRAGE WINS AGAIN Premier Bowers of British Columbia Pledges Government.

The news that comes from British Columbia that Premier Bowers has made a definite pledge that he will introduce a bill in the Legislature to confer full citizenship and the right to vote upon the women of the province will show that the rising tide in favor of woman suffrage in Canada still continues to make rapid headway. This means that probably inside of another year in the four western provinces of the Dominion women will stand clothed with the same political rights that the white man has the privilege of using the ballot, and if they so desire to aspire to represent the electorate on the floor of the legislatures. In Manitoba during the present year this right has been conferred upon them, and in succession in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia the governments have pledged themselves to support similar legislation. "There is hardly any doubt but what public opinion in Ontario will also force the hands of the government in this province, for there is no doubt that it will soon be a live question here. In the United States the newspapers are impressed with the rapidity with which sentiment in favor of the enfranchisement of women is manifesting itself on this side of the border line. With Canada's solid West in the suffrage line, it follows as a natural sequence that Ontario will be the next to follow suit, no matter what the present government may think upon the subject. The forces that are gathering behind the cause of equal citizenship and the political rights of womanhood are becoming too strong to be much longer dammed back, and it can almost be taken for granted that eventually the powers that be in old Ontario will gracefully bend, and when it is futile to oppose will acquiesce in as graceful manner as possible and accept that which formerly and up to the present they have so unwaveringly opposed.

736 SHIPS LOST TO EUROPE SINCE THE WAR BEGAN

Estimates, Made by British Admiral, Excludes Loss of Trawlers.

Washington, April 29.—British estimates of the European war's toll of merchant ships, given in figures today by the department of commerce, put the number at 736, with a tonnage of more than two million. Allied vessels lost number 538 and neutral 198. The estimates made by a British admiral, give British losses as: 410 ships; French 53; Russian 35; Italian 27; Belgian 10; Japanese 3. This does not include the loss of 237 trawlers by the British, seven by the French and two by the Belgians. Norway, with 81 vessels destroyed, leads the neutral nations in losses. Sweden, with 40, is second, and Denmark with 28, third. Holland has lost 24, and the United States 7. British losses amount to four per cent of the total number in service and six per cent of the tonnage. French losses are four per cent, in number and seven per cent, in tonnage. Despite these losses it is declared, the aggregate of ships owned by the allies is being steadily increased through building. New Steamship Sailings. Madrid, via Paris, April 29.—The new regular steamship service between Vigo and New York, soon to be inaugurated by the Spanish transatlantic line, will begin with three sailings each way monthly, according to an announcement by the company.

GUARD OF HONOR GONE FROM MONTE

Was Recruited From France and Italy, and War Dissolves It.

Monte Carlo, April 29.—The old Guard of Honor of the Prince of Monaco, four officers and 82 men, which constituted the military force of the principality in pre-war times, has disappeared since the European war came, for the whole gendarmery of Monaco was recruited from abroad, and the members were all either Frenchmen or Italians. They have now been called to the colors of their respective countries, so that neutral Monaco found itself suddenly without adequate protection. Then the people volunteered for service, but to prove their independence as well as their dislike for militarism, they wear no uniform, merely their ordinary civilian costume and a red and white woollen armband. In front of the main entrance to the palace stands a sentry, a 15 year old boy, leaning on an old pattern rifle, its fixed bayonet towering several feet above his head. He is dressed in a nondescript tweed suit, very baggy at the knees, and wears no carriage belt, merely the red and white armband. Yet Monaco is not entirely neutral. Many of its youths have entered the French Foreign Legion, and the heir apparent, Prince Louis, holds a commission in a French regiment. Cost of War Pensions. London, April 29.—The War Office estimates that the cost of pensions arising out of the war for 1915-16 will be $1,000,000, and for 1916-17, assuming the war to last through the year, will be $5,000,000. In addition there is a charge of nearly $25,000,000 for pre-war pensions.

IRISH REBELS ALL WORE GREEN HATS

And Flew a Green, White and Orange Flag on the Post Office.

London, April 29.—A graphic story of the situation in Dublin, as told by a clergyman who got away from the city by motor to Belfast, is printed in the Daily Telegraph. The clergyman said there was hardly a soul to be seen in the streets of Dublin. The St. Stephen's Green over night and on Wednesday morning were blazing away promiscuously with their rifles. He was unable to discover at what they were firing.

All around St. Stephen's Green are the houses of gentry, judges and leading Government officials, while at one corner of the green is the Shelburne Hotel, the occupants of all of which are virtually prisoners. At the head of Grafton street, Dublin's fashionable thoroughfare, the rebels had erected strong barricades.

At Dublin Castle there were few traces of Monday's struggle. The entrance was barred up. It was here that two of the earliest fatalities occurred, the policeman on duty at the gate and the city inside, both being shot dead.

To reach the centre from St. Stephen's Green, the clergyman had to proceed by way of York street, where it was easy to go to the quays. There was no traffic south of the Four Courts, which were still in the hands of the rebels, who could be seen inside wearing their green hats. A hospital close by had been completely wrecked and the inmates made prisoners in the upper rooms.

At the General Post Office a green, white and orange flag floated to the breeze. The rebels were still in possession of the building.

Sackville Street was a scene of desolation, the sidewalks littered with glass, shops had been looted and their contents carried away in large quantities.

Travelling by circuitous route the clergyman left the city unmolested, and on the way to Belfast turned back a number of motor cars which were going to Dublin.

or use your eyes at other concentrated tasks?

If you do, chances are a thousand to one you need glasses.

You should be able to read ordinary fine print with perfect comfort at a distance of fourteen inches, if your eyesight is all that it should be. And if you read comfortably you will not scowl.

Scowling is a danger signal that should be heeded.

MAY DAY BRINGS THE UNITED STATES STREET RAILWAY

2000 Machinists of York Out—Marine Traffic affected—Building Trade Strike.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, May 1.—Owing to the unusual ferment in labor circles, union leaders predict that the May Day parade here this afternoon will be one of the most notable labor demonstrations New York has ever seen. Estimates of the number of men and women in line ran as high as 100,000. After the parade there will be a great mass meeting in Union Square and smaller meetings in between 30 and 40 halls throughout the city.

The nucleus of the parade will be the Garment Workers, 50,000 of whom have been locked out in a contest with the manufacturers over the closed shop question.

To prevent disturbances unusual precautions have been taken by the city authorities.

STREET CAR MEN OUT.

Pittsburg, May 1.—A strike of street car men here began shortly after midnight. Operations were completely suspended on all lines.

Akron, May 1.—The strike of the Pittsburgh Railway Co. in Pittsburgh and vicinity and the Washington and Charlot interurban lines, as well as the Beaver Valley and Washington local lines.

The strike affects 3,000 conductors and motormen and about 800 other employees of the company. The men first demanded 30, 35 and 38 cents an hour respectively, for the first, second and third year's service, but later yielded to 30, 33 and 35 cents. The company refused to pay more than 30 cents as a maximum wage, two cents above the present rate.

MACHINISTS OUT.

Youngstown, O., May 1.—About 2,000 machinists employed at the various industrial plants of the city did not report for work this morning and a number of these plants are operated in a crippled condition, several being entirely closed. As a result of meetings held all day Sunday and far into the night there is possibility that the number of idle men will be greatly augmented before the day is over. There is no disorder.
