Peace Worth Having Not Based Upon
Truce and Territorial Bartering
Says Ex-Premier Asquith of German
Offer to Evacuate Belgium

London, Sept. 26.—"Any peace worth having cannot be found in a cessation of active hostilities followed by a process of territorial bargaining to be embodied in protocols and pacts, and still less in an arrangement imposed either by victors or vanquished which sets at defiance the historic traditions, aspirations and liberties of the people's affected."

Ex-Premier Herbert H. Asquith, who has recently returned from a visit to the western front, made this declaration in addressing a mass meeting at Leeds last night under the auspices of the War Aims Committee. He described the German reply to the Papal note as teeming with "nebulous and unctuous generalities," but giving no indication that Germany will take any practical steps to open the road to a real and lasting peace.

Some were arrested, it was said, at the headquarters of the I. W. W., but the majority were taken from their homes.

Petrograd, Sept. 25.—(Delayed)—The committee of five in temporary control of the government at its first meeting since the return of Premier Kerensky from the front, determined to-day that the Premier and General Verkhovsky shall appear before the Democratic Congress which convenes to-morrow. This action followed a four hour session of the committee at the Winter Palace at which the attitude of Premier Kerensky is said to have been substantially this: "While the government is not bound to recognize the democratic congress and is not conceding that it represents the greatest part of Russia, it is admitted that the congress represents a large percentage of the people through elements which must be taken into consideration."

Petrograd, Sept. 27.—(British Admiralty per Wireless Press)—The war office to-day issued the following statement: "In the region of Riga, south of Pskoff high road, near the All-achi Castle, enemy reconnoitering parties which approached our lines were repulsed by our fire." "Western and southwestern fronts: "Fighting activity has been limited to fusillades." "Roumanian front: "In the region southwest of Gory-Sereth-Onoudouy, the enemy at five o'clock in the afternoon opened an intense artillery fire with heavy and light guns. Towards six o'clock he undertook an offensive in dense waves, penetrating our trenches. However, he was driven out again by our counter-attack and the position restored." "Baltic Sea: "Since September 14, the enemy activity has been intensified, characterized chiefly by aerial reconnaissance, and submarine manoeuvres in an endeavor to prevent our vessels from approaching the Courland coast. Near the Courland coast and in the Irbe channel our torpedo boats and submarines and aerial forces are preventing enemy vessels from entering our waters. Enemy activity has been observed recently on the Courland Coast of the Gulf of Riga, during the night searchlights, rockets and fire signals being observed. Our coast defences in the Irbe channel were attacked by Zeppelins on the night of Sept. 25, nearly 40 bombs being dropped.

"Two enemy airplanes have been brought down in the region of Hnslatyn, while the Russian machine was put out of action. With burning liquid an enemy airplane set fire to a Russian captive balloon in the region of Baranovichi. The occupants of the balloon reached the ground safely with their parachutes. An enemy airplane and its two occupants has been captured near Kilia, in the region of the mouth of the Danube."

Washington, September 27.—In the first of a series of carefully prepared statements to be issued from time to time, in a review of the military situation on all fronts in Europe, Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, asserts that the ascendancy of in the west has "passed definitely to the allies." Secretary Baker says that with the near approach of winter, it has become plain that Germany is unable to make good the boast that by a big offensive she would "end the war victoriously by Christmas."

NEWS OF NORFOLK

General Acquiescence to Signing Food Pledge Cards in Simcoe.

CAMPAIGN GOING ON
A Dangerous Turn on Road Between Brantford and Waterford.

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, Sept. 27.—The thrift pledge canvassing organization reports a general acquiescence to the pledge, and the card is already displayed from many residences windows. Boarding house keepers complain that their guests insist on bacon for breakfast. And a few others for want of information or from opposition to the waste of cereals in the manufacture of beverages, refuse to sign, but on the whole the objectors are not considerable in number. The bacon is so high in price, and there is really so little waste in food stuffs owing to the high prices generally, that the spirit of the pledge is being pretty well observed.

A Dangerous Turn.
 More than one automobile party have come to grief at the short jog in the road near Wilsonville between Brantford and Waterford. South-bound cars speeding somewhat at night, frequently go to the ditch before they can pull up, and the night mists of Autumn which rise here and there, have increased the danger. Monday night the second serious spill occurred with a big car and four occupants. One of the four was seriously injured, and a passing car hurried on to Waterford for a doctor, and was unable to get one in the village. Help was obtained from Brantford about 2 a.m. on Tuesday. Under the good roads system, these kinds will probably be taken out of this road.

Walpole Township Fair is on today at Jarvis.

Old Ends of News.
 Yesterday was the quietest day about town for months. Only when the Lyric opened in the evening was there much life down town. Already preparations for winter are domestically under way.

Most of the Niagara fruit offered here for sale this season comes in by freight.

Press Photographs.
 Miss Ernestine Dalton, of Hamilton general hospital, is home for holidays, and is accompanied by her friend, Miss Jennie Main.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Burt, of Wainah, visited relatives in town recently.

Mr. John Hall, of Head St. north, has been suffering from a stroke of paralysis for some time, and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

Mayor Williamson is home from his motor trip with W. L. Innes, through Chatham and points west.

Mr. Harrison Stringer is recovering slowly, and last night was much better than usual.

N. S. Boughner was in St. George on Monday.

Soldiers Nearing Home.
 Henry Howarth, who enlisted June 15th, 1915, and spent two years in France, has wired from Quebec, to Mrs. Howarth of Agricultural St.

Howarth is about 47 years of age, and after two years service at his age, has earned discharge. We have not yet learned of his physical condition, but trust that over age is his only disqualification. He has done his bit. His son, Ben, enlisted Nov. 6th, 1914, and was killed in action.

James Donly is reported at Quebec, too, and will turn in for hospital treatment after a short leave at home. "Jim" was one of the underage youths who were subjected to such abusive banter during the recruiting for the former 133rd, that life of a student about town became intolerable. He has the reputation as a "prince among the boys," both at home and overseas.

If Mayor Williamson receives notice of the expected time of arrival of these men in Simcoe, they will no doubt see enough cars at the depot to escort them home. We are informed that it is quite possible that we might draw a couple of impromptu speeches from them. The

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend 25 Cents! Dandruff disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, lustrous, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scrub rubs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness, itching of the scalp; the hair roots fashish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy, or is oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed, and in ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff, no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

The Courier's Simcoe agency again requests first information regarding men overseas or returning home. Was He Innocent or Rubbing It In? This morning a passenger on the north-bound trolley asked, on arrival at the depot, what was the name of the town, "Simcoe," was the reply. The stranger noticed the hum of the controller and continued, "Well, are we near in to the depot? This, I suppose, is the power sub-station?"

We are reliably informed that the Simcoe station will get its boards presently, and we had satisfactory explanation for the circumstances which gave Paris a better depot than Simcoe. This town has really no kick against the depot, and the hum of N. of course we would appreciate an over-tour and name boards for the depot. But we can travel without them.

Port Dover, Sept. 27.—The Vigilant is still busy lifting poachers' nets, off Long Point, Saturday, 11th Monday, 13th Wednesday, 112. Total 426, and the boys are enjoying the work. We found them this morning cleaning up for another run. Meanwhile the skipper has nets for sale.

The south-east wind is constantly coming away the bank at the base of the east break-water, and threatens to break through into the slip, in which event this would soon be filled up with sand.

BUILDING PERMITS.
 Building permits were issued at the office of the city engineer this morning to Thomas Darwin, 140 George St., for the erection of an iron garage, and to Richard C. Moffat, 44 Sheridan St., for the erection of a concrete foundation under a dwelling, and for shifting a part of a house. The estimated cost of the work is placed at $177.

INSPECT ROADS.
 Deputy Minister MacLean of the Department of Highways of the Provincial Government, will go over the county roads system on Friday and inspect the work that has been accomplished during the summer months. In the evening he will confer with representatives of the city and county and discuss the undertaking.

Daily Courier Recipe Column

To-morrow brings another meatless day. If you are paragonizing the Government fish here is "creamed cod," which may prove a change. It is particularly welcome for the woman who has to be out in the afternoon and has to prepare an evening meal in a hurry. For the fish may be cooked in the morning, then just before dinner, put a good tablespoonful of butter in a pan let it brown slightly (the browning gives the sauce a rich color) and add an even tablespoonful of flour; blend well and add milk till consistency of rather thick sauce or gravy. For seasoning use a level teaspoonful of salt, a half spoonful of pepper, or if liked, the same quantity of ginger; a shake of cayenne and two or three of mace. Cook two or three minutes, add a cupful of cold cooked fish in pieces size of lima beans or larger, and cook ten minutes. Serve in hot platter garnished with parsley.

If you are making a vegetable your chief dish try "Potatoes with Cheese Sauce" as follows:

- 1 quart diced potatoes.
- 1/2 tablespoon butter.
- 1 tablespoon flour.
- 1 cup milk.
- 1-8 teaspoon white pepper.
- 1 tablespoon salt.
- 1-2 cup grated cheese.
- 1/2 tablespoon grated onion.

Put the diced potatoes on and boil until tender; drain, add the sauce, nut into sauce and sprinkle with parsley. Sauce—Put the butter into saucepan with the onion, add the cold milk and mix well; then add the cream and slowly; cook five minutes, add salt and pepper and cheese, stir until cheese is melted. Do not boil after adding cheese.

Or for baked cabbage, parboil one head of cabbage fifteen minutes, pour off water, put on fresh boiling water and cook until tender. Let it get cold. Chop, add two beaten eggs, one tablespoonful of drippings, a heaping spoonful of pepper and three-quarters spoonful of salt. Mix and bake until brown. Serve hot.

While if you despair of an unpatric husband, who revels at both fish and vegetable meals and if you face a Friday with some remnants of meat, try this: Season and spice left-over pieces of roast, stuff them in green pepper shells, bake them as a surprise, and serve with stuffed-meat peppers, a dish that is not at all common. Use lean meat chopped two tomatoes chopped (or half a cup of stewed tomatoes, one cup of bread crumbs, one small onion and two stalks of celery chopped, one tablespoonful of drippings with six cloves in white melting, one tablespoonful Worcester-shire sauce. Mix thoroughly; have ready a great many peppers, with seeds removed and soaked in salt water for six hours. Stuff the peppers with the mixture; stand up on points in a baking dish; put half spoonful of drippings on top of each; pour a little boiling water around them. Bake one and a half hours.

Again to add nutriment to greens and at the same time to vary the form in which this important food is served. Cook two quarts of spinach, Swiss chard or other greens. Drain and dress with one tablespoonful of butter. Chop and add one cupful of grated cheese and bread crumbs enough to make a mixture sufficiently stiff to form into a roll. Place in oblong pan and cook in moderate oven for twenty minutes. When cold the mixture may be sliced in one-half inch pieces and served on lettuce leaves with salad dressing.

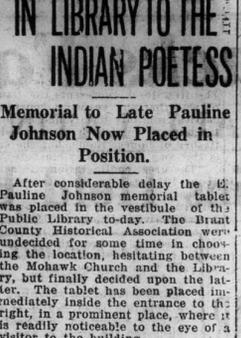

If baked leave the mixture more moist and bake in casserole or baking dish and serve hot.

A sensation has been created here by a report that Nikolai Lenine, the extreme leader, has reached the capital from Finland. The authorities, it is reported, know where Lenine can be found but they are undecided whether to carry out an old order for his arrest.

The Bolshevik orators have begun to accuse M. Tseretelli and other moderates of paltering with the bourgeoisie and proceeded to introduce a resolution declaring that the cabinet to be nominated by the congress must not contain members of the bourgeoisie. They propose to place the following tasks upon the cabinet: "Settle the Korniloff affair; re-establish capital punishment; strain efforts to attain peace; to summon as soon as possible, the constituent assembly to dissolve the Duma and the Council of the Empire, to transfer the land to the peasants immediately; to establish state control of production; to pass an eight-hour labor law; to change radically the command of the army."

The central committee of the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Delegates, which is still moderate in tone has voted in favor of a coalition cabinet responsible to a parliament elected from among the members of the Democratic Congress. There appears little doubt, but that the congress will create such a parliament.

PLOTTED AGAINST BRITAIN Judge D. F. Cohagan, of New York, who is said to have advised Germany on how to aid revolution in Ireland.

IS KERENSKY? A NAPOLEON? Personality of Russian Premier Recalls Tolstoy's Prophecy. FORECAST THE WAR And Rule of a Powerful Journalist From the North.

Four years before the outbreak of the war in the fall of 1910, Count Leo Tolstoy prophesied the coming of a great world conflagration. This prophecy, part of which has come true, contained a prediction of the rise of a new Napoleon. The vision Tolstoy had of this Napoleon immediately suggests Kerensky. Tolstoy saw a "strange figure from the north" enter the stage of the bloody drama, and described him: "He is a man of little military training, a writer or a journalist, but in his grip most of Europe will remain till 1925."

Retrenchment the Watchword (By Bernard K. Sandacell.) Canada's Imports from U. S. A. $664,219,653 Canada's Exports to U. S. A. $286,616,330

EVERY dollar unnecessarily spent by a Canadian (individual, corporation, or government) to-day is a dollar diverted from the urgent task of maintaining the economic activity and national prosperity of the country. The most rigid retrenchment economy is to-morrow a word will suffice to keep this country in a sound and safe position during the remaining months of the war and the opening months of the peace readjustment. The need for economy has been preached by far-sighted citizens for several years past, but with very little effect on the public at large. Urged to practice thrift for various reasons, and in preparation for certain distant and vaguely-understood contingencies, Canadians have curtailed a few specific extravagances and gone cheerfully on with most of their ordinary expenditures, comforting themselves with the thought that the country has made it do without thrift for the last twenty-five years and should therefore be able to continue. But Canada is to-day faced by an entirely new situation. This country, for years among the heaviest per capita borrowers in the world, is now not merely precluded from any further borrowing of new capital, but is unable to collect cash for her own present output, and must either contrive to finance her own customers or cease to find a market for a large portion of her products. With the entry of the United States into the war, and the mobilization of the financial resources that country for the service of the Allied cause, the last available market for funds was closed to Canada. In the month of August not a dollar of Canadian municipal financing was done in the United States. The terms exacted for the recent Dominion Government loan in New York made it evident that no further assistance need be looked for from that quarter. While the United States is making and will continue to make, large advances to various Allied countries, the condition of these advances is that practically the whole sum supplied shall be spent in the lending country. This condition forbids Canada from participating in such advances, for Canada's need is for cash for the carrying on of her own industries of war equipment and food production. At the same time, the willingness of the United States to finance the orders of the Allied belligerents, when placed with American products, has naturally led the Allies to refuse to place orders in any country which cannot grant the same terms. The present reduction in activity in Canadian munition plants is due not to any cessation of demand from Europe for munitions, but to the fact that Canada cannot compete with the United States in offering financial accommodation to the purchasers. Until she was excluded from the American money market, Canada had been able for some time past to extend partial financial accommodation to the Allied countries for the supplies which they obtained here, and this without enforcing upon herself any strict regimen of thrift. But this was due in part to the fact that while lending to her customers she was herself borrowing from her neighbor. The sales of Canadian bonds of all classes in the United States in 1915 were $154,000,000, and in 1916 $267,000,000. This year the Dominion Government has sold $300,000,000 and municipalities about $7,000,000. Under these circumstances it was not difficult for Canada to make advances to the Allies, on the purchase of munitions in this country, which at the end of July totalled $285,000,000. The difficulty consists in continuing this process without ay aid from the United States; and not only in continuing it, but in increasing the range of the transactions upon which such credit is granted—for the Finance Minister recently announced the arrangements had been made by the Government to furnish Great Britain with $40,000,000 for the purchase of Canadian cheese and $10,000,000 for the purchase of flour. There is good reason to expect that a similar extension of credit for the present fiscal year; the magnitude of this item is instanced by the fact that the export of wheat alone to Great Britain for the fiscal year ending March 31 last amounted to $194,839,995, and wheat flour to $26,006,600. The only way in which Canada can pass her credit to any other country for this immense and unprecedented task of financing her customers is by rigidly curtailing her own expenditures on all unnecessary and superfluous items. It is necessary that all superfluous imports should be stopped. In the last fiscal year Canada imported from the United States no less than $484,219,653 worth of commodities, while exporting to that country only $286,616,330. These imports included $15,900,000 of automobiles and parts thereof, $14,000,000 of fresh fruits, $2,400,000 of musical instruments, over $3,900,000 of furs and manufactures thereof, $2,000,000 of "fancy" articles, $3,500,000 of vegetables, $4,850,000 of tobacco and its products, and many millions of dollars of smaller items for articles which can be dispensed with or in large part without any grave difficulty. In addition to these articles, which reach Canada in the form of finished luxuries, there is an uncountable amount, which must be very large, of various raw materials which are employed in the manufacture of luxuries in Canada itself; to say nothing of the commodities which, while not luxuries in themselves, are made so by extravagant consumption or by being used where cheaper or domestic products would do just as well. Canada, while compelled to extend credit upon almost everything which she herself sells abroad, is obliged to pay cash for all of these imports, which are consequently draining the resources of the country without conferring any real benefit upon any part of it. Few if any luxuries that are consumed in Canada do not contain a considerable proportion of imported goods among their raw materials, even if they are not wholly of foreign origin. But even in the case of luxuries entirely produced in Canada, if any such there be, the case against their consumption is equally strong. Their production diverts Canadian labor from the production of commodities saleable abroad, and thereby increases the balance of trade against this country; and the funds employed in their production are needed for the financing of export trade. Under the heading of "luxuries" and "unnecessaries" come, at the present time, all capital expenditures which will not be immediately productive of an increasing export of commodities. This includes all municipal and government works which affect merely the convenience or comfort of the citizens. Broadly speaking, no public works are justifiable at the present juncture except those which remove an immediate menace to health or an immediate obstruction to the process of production or trade. This is a time for the patching up of old plant rather than the substitution of new, however much outworn the old may be. To repeat: Every dollar unnecessarily spent by Canadian (individual, corporation, or government) to-day, is a dollar diverted from the urgent task of maintaining the economic activity and national prosperity of the country.

WANT WAR GOVERNOR By Courier Leased Wire. Boston, Sept. 26.—The desire of the Republicans of Massachusetts to continue the "war governor" in office for a third term, was emphatically shown yesterday when Governor Samuel W. McCall was re-nominated at the primaries by a majority of 58,180 over Grafton D. Cushing, of Boston, former lieutenant-governor, who opposed Governor McCall in the election last year again was nominated for governor by the Democrats without opposition.

MARKET COMMENT NEWS OF THE EXCHANGES. (Written especially for Brantford Courier.) Smelter and Silver—Silver continues to rise in price until it looks now as though it would reach in parity with gold, which is placed at $1.29. Among other companies, the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada should be benefitting by this enhanced price. If this year's average was, say 90 cents, it would mean, on a similar production, an increase of $680,000. MISS' DRESS. By Anabel Worthington. At first glance this simple little frock appears to be one of those Russian blouse affairs with a separate skirt, but in reality it more nearly resembles a shirt waist dress, for the straight skirt in two sections is gathered to the waist line all around. The waist is made rather plain, with very little fullness and a most attractive trimming is achieved by having a panel of horizontal stripes set in the front. The edges of this panel are turned back and attached to the collar, giving the effect of revers. The long sleeves are gathered into trim, flare cuffs. A broad belt with a double crossing covers the waistline. The dress pattern, No. 8429, is cut in size 16, 18 and 20 years. The 16 year size requires 5 1/2 yards 36 inch material, with 3/4 yard 36 inch contrasting goods. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

THE SITUATION

A renewed British offensive in the Ypres area has yielded splendid results. There could be no more eloquent demonstration of the fact that Haig's men now have the upper hand of the foe than is to be found in the circumstance that after taking and holding much important ground earlier in the week, they have been able to launch still another successful attack on a large scale.

This time their operations were on a six mile front and at points the defences of the foe have been penetrated to the extent of a mile. "Our operations were entirely successful" is the laconic phrasing of the British commander, and such words, when used by him, convey a certitude beyond all cavil.

In fact the Berlin War Office concedes the triumph in the announcement: "The enemy has succeeded at places in penetrating as far as one kilometre (two thirds of a mile) deep into our fighting zone."

All objectives have been gained, but desperate fighting is still in progress. The official report for last week shows the smallest number of British vessels sunk by submarines since February last. The total was thirteen of over 1,500 tons and two under that figure.

The menace still exists but has manifested by a rebuff of much of its potentiality, probably more because of a number of methods rather than any one device.

As a further offset for the undersea craft activity it is announced that the United States has well in hand a program for the output of a tremendous amount of tonnage. Including vessels seized, the total is stated to represent 1,306 cargo vessels of 5,924,700 tons capacity.

Peru is the latest country to fall foul of the Hohenzollern outfit. That country has demanded satisfaction from Peru within eight days for the sinking of the Peruvian Barque Lorton, or diplomatic relations will be broken off.

The statement that Germany is now prepared to evacuate Belgium on condition that she has the full power to develop her economic enterprises there is said to be based on official authority. Whether it is or not doesn't matter. The Hun will have to be brought to time to a far more sweeping extent than that in order to suit the demands of the Allies.

CONFERENCE OF CHARTIES

By Courier Special Staff Ottawa, Sept. 26.—At the annual convention of the Canadian conference of charties and corrections, which closed here last night, the following officers were elected for the forthcoming year: Patron, His Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire.

Honorary president, Don Dr. Brett, lieutenant-governor of Alberta. President—Dr. J. H. Riddell, Winnipeg.

Vice Presidents—Dr. J. D. Page; Dr. E. P. Lachapelle, Montreal; Mrs. A. M. Huestis, Toronto; J. J. Kelso, Toronto and E. T. Riley, Winnipeg; General Secretary—A. H. Burnett, Toronto.

Treasurer—F. M. Nicholson, Toronto.

J. H. McMenemy, of Hamilton and W. H. Mackay, of Windsor, were elected members of the executive committee.

The next conference will be held at Edmonton.

The main question under discussion was the problem of immigration as related to Canada.

THE QUEBEC IDEA OF IT.

Speculation is often heard as to the manner in which Quebec will submit to the selective conscription draft. There has been a lot of wild talk with regard to resistance, but from present indications the feeling is commencing to be one of submission on the basis that something is going to turn up to block the whole business.

For instance La Tribune of Sherbrooke, advises parents to send their boys to the colleges and seminaries as usual, irrespective of what may be done by the authorities in putting the Conscription Bill into force. "We understand," adds La Tribune, "that a good number of parents hesitate to send their sons, aged twenty years and more to the seminaries or universities because of conscription. There are some, in fact, who propose to keep the pupils at home this year, at least, till the situation becomes more clear or changes for the better. We consider this a grave error. In the first place the future conscripts are quite as safe in the colleges as anywhere else, for the fact of the boys being near their parents will not absolve them from conscription. They, in fact, lose precious time in asking themselves from day to day what the future reserves for their children for, if the law is not applied before the election, which seems probable, in spite of the denial of the First Minister, it will be equally a loss of time. We know well enough that if the obligatory service is applied in such manner as the Government intends, the seminarians and collegians able to bear arms will not escape this arbitrary measure, yet at the same time it would be idle to cry over the matter, for during the next few weeks something may take place to bring tranquility to the minds of our people."

That "something" of course is the hope that Borden may be overthrown in the coming election.

La Tribune and all the rest of them feel that if Laurier succeeds, an end will be put to the needed draft system for reinforcing the brave Canadian men at the front, and his victory would undoubtedly mean just that.

It is most emphatically up to the rest of us to show Quebec and all other influences at work on behalf of the enemy, that Canada is not thus to be defamed and humiliated.

THE BIRTH PLACE OF THE PHONE.

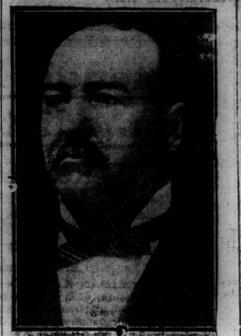

The fact that the Governor General will shortly dedicate the Bell memorial in Brantford in honor of the birth here of the telephone, has led to some comments in U. S. papers, as that country has always laid claim to the honor named.

The Buffalo Express, for instance, says:—"Americans who have all along been under the belief that the telephone was a product of this country will be enlightened by a speech in the Canadian Parliament by Mr. W. F. Cocksbutt, member of the Commons for the City of Brantford, who asserted that the Bell Telephone Memorial Association of his home city, has it under the hand of the inventor himself, that the means of communication, which has since become such an important factor in life was invented in Brantford, not Boston, in 1874, and that the first long distance transmission took place between Dr. Bell's home in Brant, and Mount Pleasant, a suburb, and Mount Pleasant and Paris, Ont., five miles away."

The Express proceeds in a sarcastic vein to say that Boston will now probably tear down its tablet, and adds:—"We shall expect to hear that Edinburgh, Scotland, or London has erected a memorial, for Dr. Bell first became interested in the subject in 1867, three years before he had crossed the water."

Prof. Alexander Melville Bell, father of the inventor, in a letter to the local association said:—"I had the pleasure of living in Brantford—at Tutela Heights, on the farther side of the river—from 1870 to 1881 and within those years the telephone was completed. One of the first lines ever operated was from the porch of my house to the woodshed in a back building. My son at this time, lived in, or near, Boston, Mass. On one of his visits to me we tacked a naked wire to the fence between my house and the Dominion Telegraph Co's line, and about one hundred invited guests came from the city to have talking and singing transmitted over the ordinary telegraph wire."

But far more important than this testimony is the statement of Dr. Bell himself, that his successful experiments and first transmission of speech took place at the Tutela residence. The fact that he and his family will take part in the dedication ceremonies, still further puts the stamp of validity on the Brantford claim without any question.

Rippling Rhymes

I hired a man to work around, to groom the cow and feed the snakes, and after seven weeks I found he wasn't worth a brace of shakes. I'd say, "Oh, James, I wish you'd start and paint the fence dark blue and pink." He'd say, "Have some respect for Art! That combination's rank. I think, if I should paint it red and green, the colors nicely would combine, and every passer-by, I mean, would cry, 'Oh, chee! That fence is fine!'" Then I'd reply, "I pay the man to have that fence the way I wish, my way I'll surely have it done, or you will lose your job, oddsfish!" Then he would quote a lot of jays, old Rembrandt, Titan and that mob, to show that artist folk would raise a clamor over the messy job. So we would stand in joint debate, until the sinking of the sun, and when the daylight pulled its freight, there was no job of painting done. Now, James is poor, and always was, and always will be till he dies; he labors too much with his jaws to satisfy employing guys. My way of doing things is punk. I'm always in the wrong, I know; but when for toll I pay the plunk, I guess my way will have to go.

WHITBY HOSPITAL BEST IN AMERICA

Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General, High in Praise of M. H. C. Institution.

"The finest military hospital on this continent" was the tribute of His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire after he had inspected the hospital and vocational training centre of the Military Hospitals Commission at Whitby.

His Excellency formally opened the great $55,000 recreation hall, which has just been completed, and a big day of sports and exhibitions was staged by the convalescent men in honor of the occasion.

The veterans' band, under the directorship of Bandmaster Reeves played, two teams from the various cottages in the institution put on a baseball game, and all the chaplains around the hospital were pointed out to the Governor-General.

These "champions" represent nearly every branch of sport, for the wards are there for all athletics, and the returned boys are a lively ed out to the Governor-General.

The splendid buildings housing the wards and the vocational training rooms were praised highly by the viceroyal party, and the men beamed over their work.

Whitby is said to be unsurpassed in any country in the world to-day in its location and equipment, as a centre for the convalescence and training of soldiers.

WITH THE MOUNTED SADDERS

British Forces in France Were Equipped With Steeds of Every Variety in Early Days of the War—Mules Doing their Bit at the Front.

(By Victor MacClure)

Horseflesh was scarce with us at the beginning of the war, and I believe that the dearth was common among the mounted units of the new armies. About the beginning of 1915 all sorts and conditions of horses began to troop into camp; gentle beasts and tricky youngsters, good animals trained to the saddle if not to drill, cabs from tradesmen's carts, some taken to the army work with unimpaired good little habits from intensely. By the time the spring weather arrived, we had them cropped, sleek and smart in army harness or under army saddles. The good horses were given the treatment that the army rules insist upon made a difference in these new comers in a very short time.

There were some old stagers in the riding school, steady beasts who played no tricks when your arms were folded and your stirrups were crossed. But there were others. Half-broken, they were nervous of the riding master's long whip and ever ready to swerve and throw the raw recruit. There were those horses who should walk when they trot, or canter when they should "walk, march, and unweildly beasts some of them, with a broken trot and a stumbling center, that bucketed one about in the saddle and jarred the spine. Then there were good little horses from unknown places, bad little horses from the Argentine, but splendid workers when one could sit them and control them. Surprisingly well-trained horses we sometimes had, too, horses that could be controlled by a cotton thread, the sort of horses that gather their feet to turn at the feel of one's knees. We took them all or nearly all, and some had to be cast—and we taught them how to walk and where to put their feet, just like any Tommy.

The noble looking, big transport horses that come from brewers' drays were another kind, and they were mixed with others whose bones showed, over-worked Clydesdales and Shires from quarry and small contractors. These we took, too, and taught them to carry their drivers, army fashion, and we fed them up and cared for them until they all looked straggly. They horses we missed the shafts, some of them, and may have felt strange in the army harness; more than one of the patient, big animals we could see taking curious looks at the strange weight on their broad backs.

Our way with horses in the army is gentle. The order after exercise

Early in the Spring of 1915, mules began to arrive for the company, and by the time we were ready to proceed overseas they predominated in our lines. Our horses were early in the open, that is about the middle of March—the men had gone under canvas at the same time—but they threw the same as ourselves despite the severity of the weather at first. Our troubles really started with the rules, for they lacked the patience of the horses. Many of the half-tamed animals were unshod, and we had much trouble at the forge. In most cases we had to throw the animals and lace them well, before our farrier could make any progress. Even then, they were fractious. We invented a sort of shoeing-box after a time, a rough structure of unresseded caplins, and into this we drove the horses. One there, the regg was easy, but we seldom got a mule into the box without trouble. Another box was planned, the scheme being that the mules were to be shod with an arrangement of lines and blocks over head, so that the animal once driven on the flooring could be enclosed by the sides which were to be pulled erect by means of the lines. But the time for going overseas came before the plan was carried out.

We found that patience with the mules was not well as it did with the horses. It is not too much to say that the mules were better than the horses for the transport work and, once used to their peculiar stride, many of the sappers preferred them to an indifferent horse. Their staving power was marvellous, and their strength was wonderful; with decent treatment we seldom found them stubborn at their work, but an odd bad driver would have his hands full. As it happened, the company went with its division to the East, and the mules stood the hot climate admirably.

The mule, we soon found, is a cunning animal. The stable picquets every night had a long chase over the moor where our camp lay, after one or other of our ridiculous mules which had slipped its halter or nibbled through its headrope. The innocent of our detachments showed in fleeing not only themselves but other innocents was nothing short of devilish. At the time of chasing the delinquents over coarse in the pitchy night, we cursed the mules fleetly as we stalked them, taking good care to be out of hoof range. We found, as everyone does, the mule's acrobatic dexterity when he wants to kick the unwary; if he cannot get you with his long hind leg, he will with the fore.

But despite the trials he inflicted upon us, our animalizing was more good natured than ill; we owed the mules for many a real bit of fun, and because he is half an ass, with the ass's sometime docility, patience, capacity for work—and his sense of humor, we got to like him immensely, the better we understood him.

RALPH CONNOR CLUB

There is a movement on foot among readers to organize Ralph Connor clubs in Canada with general headquarters in one city in each province. When Major Gordon (Ralph Connor) was apprised of this some months ago he looked jocularly at his informer and is quoted as saying with a smile "wilt thou draw out thine anger on all generations" (Psalm 5, 5). The idea is set aside by the Jews in the club according to those interested, is to have a club started in every Canadian city, the organization to be open to all readers of Ralph Connor books, both men and women. Officers of the organization it is planned will bear the names of characters described in the Connor books, "The Sky Pilot" to be the presiding officer, organizers already are busily at work.

DAY OF ATONEMENT

Special Jewish services were held in the synagogue here yesterday to celebrate the feast of Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement. The day is set aside by the Jews in which to atone for their sins of the year. For twenty-four hours, concluding at sunset last evening, no food or drink is consumed by the orthodox Jews, and no work was done by them. The "shofar" or ram's horn, which sounds at sundown, announces the conclusion of the fast.

UPSIDE DOWN

A quaint character, Charles McGuire, was removed from the county goal, where he has been incarcerated for several days, by officials from the Provincial Asylum for the Insane at Hamilton yesterday afternoon. McGuire is an old trapper, who has been living in a shack in the woods in the township of South Dumfries, near St. George. He had a peculiar mania for having everything about him turned upside down. In his shack the meagre furniture, the dishes, and his few other possessions all occupied this grotesque position. When he was placed in one of the cells at the goal he immediately inverted his bed and chair. While not considered dangerous, the unfortunate man was evidently on the point of starvation, for no food was found in his shack, when it was visited recently.

GAS COMPANY HAS FRESH ALIBI NOW

Claim Work on Purifying Plant is Delayed by Lack of Equipment.

The progress that is being made by the Dominion Gas Company in purifying their product from the Tilbury field for consumption in Brantford and other Western Ontario cities, and what relief may be expected during the coming winter, was outlined in a letter received to-day by Mayor Bowby from the General Manager of the Company, with a copy of a report on the work at Glenwood.

The letter reads as follows: His Worship, Mayor Bowby, Brantford, Ontario. Dear Sir:—Conforming to your request we take pleasure in submitting to you a brief account of what we are doing at our purification plant at Glenwood.

As you are aware, we have for over three years been endeavoring to purify the sulphur gas from the Tilbury field, by passing the same through aqua ammonia. We have never had any trouble in removing sulphur from the gas, and in order to make the process a success, it is necessary to remove sulphur from the ammonia, so that it can be used over again. We have done this by heating the ammonia in iron stills. These stills were operated at the same pressure as the gas, and at a temperature of over 400 degrees. In practice it was found that the ammonia is very rapidly destroyed by the corrosive action of the sulphur contained in the ammonia. To overcome this we have experimented with various systems of protecting the ammonia with various materials in their construction, but have been unable to find any substance which combines the necessary qualities. We were led to abandon the plan of handling the ammonia at the same pressure as the gas, as this process is attractive by reason of its simplicity. This summer our engineers worked on a process of purifying the ammonia at atmospheric pressure. Every man who has had experience with this plan has made a thorough study of our new plan, and every one has given us his unqualified approval as obviating all the objections to the old process.

Under the new plan the temperature required for purifying the ammonia is below the boiling point of water. At this temperature and pressure we are certain that there will be no corrosive action. We started to work on this new plan about the first of August and I am happy to enclose a report received to-day from our engineer in charge of the work, which shows that everything is proceeding according to schedule. We should not be in regular operation before the first of November. In conclusion, we wish to express our appreciation of the work which has been done for us by the Waterworks Engine Co. Ltd. of your city. They have furnished us with this new necessary apparatus for this new process and have in every case complied strictly with their promise of delivery.

Southern Ontario Gas Co. Gen. Supt.

The Report.

Mr. H. R. Davis, Gen'l Supt. Buffalo, N.Y. Dear Sir:—On my way down here last week I stopped off in Woodstock and found that the people had done absolutely nothing on the tank which they were expected to do. I thought our only salvation was to find someone ready and willing to do the work. I gave the job to the Waterworks Engine Co. Ltd. of your city. They promised delivery in two or three weeks. The tank which they are building for us is to be shipped some time this week, same having been somewhat delayed by their boiler shop crane having been out of order.

"Everything here is going along fine, and I don't believe we are going to be troubled for a single thing unless the tanks from Brantford do not arrive. We have plenty of labor here, and sufficient fittings, suitable material such as pipe, valves, etc. The large tanks are the only thing yet to be delivered. "The more we know about the new scheme which we are now working on, the more I believe it is going to be successful. "I am doing everything I can think of to have the plant ready for use at the schedule time and if you can think of anything or anyway where the job can be hastened, please let me know so as to get action while the opportunity is before us."

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE

A practical suggestion of a means to prevent molestations of women and girls of the city by the foreign element, was made to-day by Ald. M. M. MacBride to Chief of Police Slemin. Ald. MacBride suggested that as the police force is somewhat limited in their numbers, owing to the war, that a vigilance committee consisting of one or two hundred citizens, residing in various sections of the city, be organized, and that each man be given a badge to distinguish him as a member of the committee. Following this that cards be printed containing the names of the members of the committee, their street addresses and their telephone numbers. These cards would be distributed to the houses, and in the event of any young lady being followed or interfered with, she could immediately communicate with some one who could protect her, no matter in what district she found herself in trouble. "The vigilantes" would have the authority to take the offender in charge and take him to the police station where he could be adequately punished for his actions.

MUST REMOVE SIGN BOARDS

The following letter has been sent by Mayor Bowby: Brantford, Sept. 24, 1917. Mr. Ewald, City:

Across the way from your station are still those unsightly signs. The Railway Board at Ottawa several months ago, ordered your company to widen the street out to the wall of the building at your station. I waited patiently some time, and your company did nothing to obey the order of the Board, that being so I directed communication to the President of the C. P. R. at Montreal, calling his attention to the disregard of the Railway Board's order. He advised me that he had communicated with Mr. Todd, your then President of the L. E. and N. He communicated to me that Mr. Brewster had the matter in hand. Apparently he still has it in his hands.

I suppose will continue to have it in his hands indefinitely. This is to advise your company that further trifling with the right of the citizens of Brantford will not be tolerated, and it is the duty of myself as the Mayor, to see that this matter comes to some end. If those sign boards and fences be not removed in the immediate future, an application will be made to the Board of Railway Commissioners at Ottawa to enforce their order and compel respect to their decision. I ask a prompt reply to this communication.

Yours very truly, J. W. BOWBY, Mayor of Brantford.

BRITISH HOLD

Continued from page one. Barrage fire before this morning's attack, but it did little damage. Much machine gun fire and sniping was encountered at many places, but not make a determining stand. The British houses gave little trouble. The British artillery preparations here have been exceedingly good, and the ground was strewn with enemy dead. Serious but brief fighting occurred at a few of the fortified farms, and near the railway the Germans delivered an immediate counter attack, but this was broken quickly. Among the prisoners in this section were a number of Prussians, who are sturdy looking troops. Prisoners were coming in well all along the line of the offensive, but it is impossible to estimate the total number that several hundred had been accounted for at an early hour.

POLICE COURT

Lucky Louie White escaped a severe penalty in the police court this morning when he faced a charge of stealing grease from the Canada Glue Company, where he is employed. It transpired that he had stolen the grease to make soap, and a quantity of grease and the home manufactured cleanser were displayed in court. Crown Attorney Wilkes pointed out that a penalty of fourteen years in gaol could be imposed on an employee who stole from his employer, and that this practice was becoming altogether too common. White, who is a foreigner, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs of $3.64.

The first charge to be laid under the civic by-law that prevents merchants from purchasing goods on the market square before ten o'clock was heard against John Muradian this morning. The evidence showed that the produce, a basket of tomatoes, had been purchased by another man who requested Muradian to deliver them to his house. The charge was dismissed.

The theft of a quantity of fance from the vicinity of the Pottery Factory was the cause of a fine of $16.51 costs being imposed on Peter and Mary Magurek. Joe Kondor, charged with being intoxicated was remanded until to-morrow. Dan Chalk and John F. Schultz were each fined $2 and costs for driving their automobiles without headlights. On a similar charge C. H. Brown was remanded until Tuesday.

Hilton Sterlin and Robert Todd, for riding their bicycles on the sidewalks in the county, each contributed $5. The case in which Mrs. Esther Evans charged James A. Nightingale with non-payment of wages was laid over until to-morrow.

NAVY LEAGUE

Lt.-Col. Cecil G. Williams, who for the first three years of the war was the chief recruiting officer of the Dominion, has been appointed general secretary of the Navy League for Ontario and the Western Provinces, and will proceed immediately in the work of organizing branches of the league in that territory. This information was contained in a letter received by the city clerk from Mr. P. Fennell, honorary secretary-treasurer of the League, who states that Col. Williams will write making arrangements for a visit to this city. The organization will be of a permanent nature, and will carry on the work of the British Sailors' Relief Fund, which was but of a temporary character. October 21st, "Nelson Day," has already been decided upon as a day when Canadians will be again given an opportunity of contributing towards the relief of the dependents of the sailors who guard the seas and commerce of the Empire.

ITALY HAS REASON FOR PRIDE OVER SOLDIER LEADER CADORNA

An Intimate Character Sketch of Man Responsible For Success of Italian Army—Deeply Religious, the Idol of the People, He is the Only Allied Commander-in-Chief Who Has Retained His Lead From First of the War

It is said in the little Italian water town of Pallanza on the border of the Lago Maggiore, away up toward the Swiss Alps, where a young and hardy and Piedmontese, some years ago a learned German with a particular interest in heraldy paused at some length before a weather-beaten, ornate doorway, and observed to those in his company: "Remarkable—most remarkable! The composition of this coat of arms points to a line of fate running in the same family from father to son, and to tremendous achievements to crown the family tree. I wouldn't care to be pitted against the star of that family."

And he marched himself off, growling. "Remarkable, most remarkable!" But it never occurred to him to ask the name of the family who had once gone through the deserted gateway, nor, at the time, did his reflection strike his Italian host as anything but a freak of Kultur.

Time has proved that the German was right for once. The star on the oak tree and what not that had struck his fancy so are the crest of the Cadorna, who came from poor unambitious provincial nobility, two chief ideals running in the family. The present General Cadorna's grandfather was Minister to King Carlo Alberto, who set the movement for Italian independence, granted the Constitution to his kingdom (then restricted to Piedmont and Sardinia) and advocated in favor of his son when he thought that such a course of action would help the formation of a new Italy.

It is whispered among those who know that, in the early days of the war, the task of drafting the daily communiqué had been entrusted to the brilliant journalist, General Cadorna, after having firmly established his men on the outer side of the Italian border-line and carried the war into the heart of the enemy, a feat which the Italian Army alone of the belligerents has enjoyed since the beginning of the war, turned back and saw that the reports were not so good as at the work. Later, he got his Colonelcy, he has been identified with the Bersaglieri, the "widespread" of the Italian army.

All these years were spent by him in active study of general military problems, as well as of Italy's particular characteristics in the military line. To this day his essay on the Franco-German war of 1870 and his pamphlet about tactics and the proper use of infantry in legitimate warfare are consulted by the experts to advantage, as are his studies on the Italian boundary lands. These he knows to perfection, so that he hardly ever needs to resort to charts or maps for his plans; he has it all mapped out in his head, and the faculty with which he draws from memory the names and positions of intricate passes, valleys, mule paths, and roads is nothing short of marvelous.

When he took command of the Tenth Regiment of the Bersaglieri, he started to work on it after his own mind and brought out in the grand manoeuvres of 1895 in splendid form, practising, in fact, on the adversary forces that same type of outflanking and surrounding move that works so capably on the Carso do-day. Again, in 1911, he had attained his Generalship then (since some years), he led in the "grandes manoeuvres" the Blue party against his party, and astonished all experts by the working out of a capital plan first; and when this fell through in circumstances by the promptness with which he sized up the new situation and turned it once more to his advantage.

But nothing then seemed to point out the magnificent heights to which he was called. In fact, the breaking out of the European war in 1914 still found him a General on the list for the army in case of war. And the Italian Chief of the Staff was General Pollio, who by the way, was blessed with an Austrian wife. His timely death was a good turn of fate for Italy, for the King appointed General Cadorna to his place. General Cadorna, it may be frankly stated now, found the Italian army in practically desperate conditions of unpreparedness. The way he went to work and reorganized and equipped it was remarkable and as brilliant an achievement as any of his most brilliant achievements in the fighting line; in fact, it was only the preparation of that makes victory possible in 1917.

He is the only commander in the allied world that has retained his position, we might say, kept steadily his job, throughout the war, without ever as much as a hint of a breakdown either in the wholesale confidence that his country, his king, his army—and the Allies—have placed in him, or in the lively, energetic, all-round quality of his action and hardy and Piedmontese, some years ago a learned German with a particular interest in heraldy paused at some length before a weather-beaten, ornate doorway, and observed to those in his company: "Remarkable—most remarkable! The composition of this coat of arms points to a line of fate running in the same family from father to son, and to tremendous achievements to crown the family tree. I wouldn't care to be pitted against the star of that family."

OLD MEN OF THE WORLD HOLDING THEIR OWN

In Spite of Strenuous and the Game They Live Ripe Old Age.

OLD MEN OF THE WORLD Gotch Retired at 43—Gubney, the Russian General is Over Fifty.

Wrestling is the most strenuous of all sports. It demands the utmost strength and endurance and the mat game is the severest most exhaustive form of exercise yet take a look over the world. They last longer than any other.

Ball players, tennis players, even runners and jumpers are usually "through" as at the age of 35—most of the latter than this. Wrestlers are still reaching their peak at 45. Able to be good for at least 10 years. Gotch retired at world's champion at the age of 43—and then of course he suffered a knock-out thought Gotch an old man?

Yet we always speak of Haner as an antique, and he is of wrestling champion, and the man to defeat Stecher, is over 60. Madrali and Charlie about that age. Abern, the Greco-Roman champion of the world, is nearly 45. Able not lost a single fall in the 15 years, either.

Dr. Boller, who is known as the country, is over 40. Tom Jenkins, the former champion who now teaches at West wrestling continuously for 37 Stanislas Zyzsko has been 27 years before he was prisoner by the Russians at the break of the war. He is still of the most formidable men in game, and will no longer be content with wrestling.

Antone Pierre, the Greek, 60 years ago at the age of 66, a good man up to the year death. Remarkable Russ. The most remarkable athlete the world is probably Patoubay Russian Giant, Patoubay years ago in a wrestling match, a world of him. However, let that Patoubay is also 70 and weighs over 300 pounds.

Little Freddie Beel, who the 70m years ago in a wrestling match, a world of him. However, let that Patoubay is also 70 and weighs over 300 pounds. George Bothner, who his lightweight champion for years, is now a member of what good athletes can do in 51 years old—but does even 40. He is still one of the best wrestlers in the world. He recently wrestled a draw with a husky young man of the name of Nifcock.

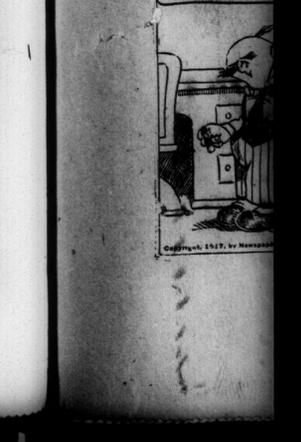

Will Hingham, the Ju-Jitsu champion, is 40 years old, and never Hingham is a small man, he had to struggle with big, tall fellows in most of his matches. Clarence Whistler and Jerry Evan Lewis were champions between the ages of 45 and 60. Those two famous German wrestlers, John Koch, friend of the "Old" are still old, at speaking, but still first class. They are still alive. Koch and Siegfried is over 50. Siegfried, the Russian.

Daddy of "Em All" William Muldoon, who they all, has a big health of snow-white hair, and a lot of row, but can still give them a struggle. Muldoon was prime over thirty years ago and a high class fellow, a great and a great wrestler.

M.H.C. SURGEONS WORK MIRACLES

Operations by Canadian Military Hospitals Commission Peer of Any at The Front.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 27.—Not all the surgical miracles of this war are being performed on the battlefield. In the calmer atmosphere of the convalescent hospitals 7,000 miles from the battle front a little group of British Columbia medical men, one or two of them world famous, are assisting to recover out the work of the base hospital surgeons with those finishing touches which are often more difficult than the emergency remedies called forth by the fresh wound. Veteran civilian doctors of highest standing have given of their services unflinchingly for small and often no pay to assist the Military Hospitals Commission's medical staff.

Remarkable Head Cases
 Conspicuous among the class of operations performed are those which can best be described as patching holes in the skull. Take the case of a 19 year old son of a prominent Victoria merchant. A piece of metal had damaged his skull so that a section of it had to be removed. The scalp was caused to grow over the hole and for a time he was all right. After his return to Canada the lad had several fits and the doctors at Esquimalt discovered that the brain was protruding slightly through the membrane which is supposed to cover it, and an adhesion had formed between the brain and the scalp. So long as the membrane is intact the absence of skull bone is no menace to a man's health, but these adhesions lead to ever increasing frequency of fits. Accordingly the head was opened, the membrane sewed together and a piece of shin bone grafted over the hole to protect the sewed membrane from further danger.

Several such operations have been performed not only in Victoria, but in other parts of the Dominion.

Saved From Disfigurement
 Another remarkable case was that of a New Westminster lieutenant, a singularly handsome man, whose forehead was punctured right between the eyes. This horrible disfigurement, which was so open that one could see down his nostrils from above, was repaired by a bone grafting operation. The piece of shrapnel lodged in his head was removed, and the young man as presentable as ever, now shows this souvenir as proof that the faintly visible white mark on his face was once a ghastly wound. The union of skin can be detected by a pale line only upon close examination.

Nerve suturing, as it is called by the doctors, and the removal of painful nerves in amputation stumps gives great relief to the men in ways that could not have been foreseen, at the time the original wounds were cared for.

RETURNED TOMMIES
 KEEP COOKS BUSY
 Meals Often Total 4,000
 Daily at The Big M. H. C.
 Discharge Depots.

Tommy may suffer necessity to reduce his rations to bully beef warmed over a trench candle when he's in the front line trench, and curb his capacity in England where they count crumbs these days, but when he strikes Canada, the memory of a thousand griddle cakes, pies and the unfurling larder of the land of plenty fall upon him, and according to the dietitian at the great Quebec Discharge Depot of Military Hospitals Commission, he loosens the hobbles from an appetite that puts a crimp in all the world's gastronomic records.

4,000 Meals a Day
 Four thousand meals are often served in a single day at the big discharge depot where at times 1,100 men are held over a few days, and to say meals, Canada does not mean a half-hearted "hand-out," but servings that will tighten their belts. Habit has taught the men to be careful of supplies, but when they see bread measured by the plateful instead of the square inch, and no guard on the sugar bowl they slip back into the old Canadian ways of things. Six slices of bread spread with the yellow butter, that they had begun to suspect was just a vagary of their boyish imagination, slip down their throats just as a side line.

Canadians Tea Tippers
 "Tea? They just can't get enough," exclaimed the dietitian. "The English may be the tea drinkers by tradition, but if our boys can be beat, it will be a revelation to me." "Some of these men drink as many as six cups at one sitting when they first return. Sometimes I think they must have been hungry ever since they left Canada."

MOOSE JAW HOSPITAL
 AFTER GERMAN PLAN
 School Built by German Converted for M. H. C. Work at Small Expense.

The Ross School in Moose Jaw, declared by Sir James Loughhead of the Military Hospitals Commission to be one of the best equipped hospitals in the Dominion, required only an expenditure of $200 to put it in shape for the accommodation of sick and wounded men due to the fact, it

"And He looked up and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.
 And He saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites.
 And He said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all.
 For all these have of their abundance cast into the offerings of God: But she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had."
 St. Luke Chap. 21.
 1 to 4.

—a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites.

For all that there were but two mites, the sacrifice counted high with the Recording Angel.

For all that we ask of you is but little, the Multiplication of That Little will count high in the record of Canada's War Service.

And because of the Spirit and Sacrifice of those valiant men who are defending us, we feel that a great and noble Legion of Canadian Women will respond to this appeal.

Food is scarce---not because we have not had good crops, but because of the Lack of Production in Europe. Canada must make up for this, else hunger defeat her own and the Allies' Armies.

Enough food is wasted in Canada every day, to feed the entire Canadian Overseas Army for that day.

We do not ask you to deny your family food. Merely substitute certain other foods in place of a proportion of the white bread, beef and bacon they now eat.

For example: When baking use one-third corn, oatmeal, barley or rye flour with your white flour. Or tell your baker to bring you some brown bread each day.

Substitute for beef and bacon such foods as fish, peas, lentils, potatoes, nuts, bananas.

And---this is most important---Prevent waste of food in your home.

We ask it in the name of those who are fighting for us.

The Food Service Pledge is your Dedication to War Service. The Window Card your Emblem of Honour.

Practical Housekeeping Hints

GENERAL DIRECTIONS FOR CANNING FRUITS WITH SUGAR.

Pack fruit compactly in jars. It will pack better if put in a strainer or piece of chees-cloth and lowered into boiling water for about one minute. This is called "blanching". Blanch fruit in small lots, that the water may not be cooled much. Press fruit gently down in jars with spoon or small wooden spatula. Fill jars with syrup. Release any air-bubbles by slipping knife or spatula down between fruit and jar. Put on rings and cover without fastening them down. Place jars on rack in boiler. Pour warm water in boiler, enough to come about half-way up the jars. Put cover on boiler. Bring water to a boil and boil gently as long as required. Remove boiler from the stove, fasten down covers, take jars out and let them cool. If, when jars are taken from the boiler, there is more than half an inch of space between fruit and cover, the contents of one jar may be used to fill the rest, before the covers are fastened down. Put jars again in boiler and boil 5 minutes more.

These directions apply to fruit bought in towns and cities. Less time is required for fruit freshly picked. Ten minutes for quart jars, five minutes for pint jar of freshly picked berries is sufficient. The shorter the time in cooking, the better the berries retain their flavor, shape and color.

Live up to your Food Service Pledge is said, that a German architect built it four years ago after the design used for schools in Germany that they may be almost instantly turned into barracks or military hospitals.

Whether this German believed that he was building it as the Kaiser would have it after the conquest, no one can say, but many believe he entertained some such fancy.

To-day, however, he is in California and 200 men in varying stages of convalescence are sheltered in the school. An addition is being built now and 600 men will find accommodation there when it is finished.

VIGARES OF FIGURES ARE EXERCISED IN U.S. DRAFT

Drawings Showed Laws of Chance— Holders of Low Numbers Shown to Have an Advantage of Twenty Per Cent

An analysis of the first 3,000 drawings in the draft lottery at Washington, says the Boston Globe, reveals some curious vagaries in the operation of the so-called laws of chance. Inasmuch that there had been such previous lottery in the United States since the Civil War, it was an expected opportunity, so far as the present generation of Americans is concerned, to study the workings of those laws on a big scale.

In a general way the drawings showed the truth of the mathematical proposition that even "chance" must submit in the long run, to a higher law, namely the law of averages.

Thus, in the 3,000 capsules opened at Washington, the registration numbers, 1 to 4,999 came out 1,404 times, or 46.6 per cent of the drawings. These numbers, 1 to 4,999, represented approximately 47.5 per cent of the 10,500 capsules. This was a variation of the law of chance from the law of average of but 1/10th of 1 per cent, and on the same ratio, would have totalled less than 2 per cent in the entire 10,500 capsules.

Curious Changes

But in the first 600 drawings the registration numbers 1 to 4,999 came out 307 times, or in 51.1 per cent of the drawings, as against 47.5 per cent that should have come out under the law of averages.

The number of capsules containing the registration numbers 1 to 4,999 in the five series of 600 capsules each was as follows:

First 600 capsules	307
Second 600 capsules	275
Third 600 capsules	282
Fourth 600 capsules	283
Fifth 600 capsules	265

These figures, showing as they do a reduction in the first 600 capsules, and the number of serial 1 to 4,999 drawn out, are in general accord with the actual mathematics of the law of averages.

For it is evident that, under the actual conditions, the number of capsules containing the series of figures that can be drawn out will gradually diminish toward the end until the whole series is exhausted.

There were very considerable variations in the totals of the drawings in the serial thousands in the first 3,000 capsules. Of the 100 capsules contained the registration numbers 1 to 999.

There were 298 of the capsules containing the registration numbers 100 to 1,999.

There were 274 capsules holding the registration numbers 2,000 to 2,999.

There were 281 capsules in which were the red numbers 3,000 to 3,999.

298 capsules appeared the registration numbers 4,000 to 4,999.

Had Big Advantage

First of all the figures show that the young man whose registration number was below 1,000 was in much less danger of being drawn in the first 3,000 capsules than was the holder of any red number above 1,000. He had a 20 per cent advantage over the holders of registration numbers 1,000 to 3,999, or 4,000 to 4,999.

But in the first 600 capsules drawn there was an equally different situation. In that 600 capsules only 50 contained the red numbers 2000 to 2,999, as against the following others:

1 to 999	67
1,000 to 1,999	67
2,000 to 2,999	58
3,000 to 3,999	68
4,000 to 4,999	61
For numbers above 4,999 the totals were:
5,000 to 5,999	53
6,000 to 6,999	52
7,000 to 7,999	47
8,000 to 8,999	53
9,000 to 9,999	54
10,000 to 10,500	31

This was an advantage of more than 33 per cent in favor of the holders of red numbers 2000 to 2,999.

In the second 600 capsules the results were:

1 to 999	51
1,000 to 1,999	46
2,000 to 2,999	58
3,000 to 3,999	68
4,000 to 4,999	61
5,000 to 5,999	44
6,000 to 6,999	55
7,000 to 7,999	77
8,000 to 8,999	64
9,000 to 9,999	53
10,000 to 10,500	34

Here the advantage was very decidedly with the holder of registration numbers 5,000 to 5,999.

In the third 600 capsules 49 contained the red numbers 3,000 to 3,999, as against 61 containing the red numbers 4,000 to 4,999.

In the fourth 600 capsules 47 capsules in each of three series held numbers 1 to 999, 4,000 to 4,999 and 8,000 to 8,999 as against 72 capsules holding the red numbers 1,000 to 1,999.

In the fifth 600 capsules only 40 held red numbers 1 to 999 as against

Are The Four Fruits Used in Making "Fruit-a-tives"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the only medicine in the world that is made from the juices of fresh ripe fruits. Thus, it is manifestly unfair to say, "I won't take Fruit-a-tives because I have tried other remedies and they did me no good". On the other hand, the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" is entirely different from any other preparation in the world, is just why you should give it a fair trial, in any trouble of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys or Skin. "Fruit-a-tives" is composed of the active principle of fruit and the greatest nerve tonic ever discovered. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c.
