Protests Filed

Two new suits were filed in the gold commissioner's office today. One is a protest brought by George R. Lucas against Alexander Kenning over the lower half of 8 Glacier creek. The plaintiff alleges that the claim in question became open for re-location on or about July 25, 1902, and that he staked it August 18, applying for record the following day. He was informed by the mining recorder that a certificate of work had been issued on which account the record was refused. It is also alleged that the defendant had allowed his free miner's certificate to expire. Plaintiff prays that the grant issued to the defendant be cancelled and that one for the same ground be issued to him.

By Republicans of New York

Special to the Daily Nugget. New York, Sept. 24.—Governor Odell has been re-nominated as governor of N. Y. Republicans in convention today endorsed Roosevelt's presidency. The balance of the ticket is as follows: Lieut.-Gov. F. W. Higgins, Cattaraugus, Secretary State, John F. O'Brien, Clinton, Treasurer, J. G. Wickser, Erie, Attorney General, Henry B. Coman, Madison, Comptroller, N. B. Miller, Cortland, Engineer, E. A. Bond, Jefferson, Judge of Court of Appeals, W. E. Wersner, Montrose. The convention adopted platform as presented; approves Roosevelt's administration and pledges support for presidency, advocates good roads and enlargement and improvement of canals to adequately meet requirements of commerce, expense of such improvement to be met through sources of revenue other than direct taxation. It condemns all combinations and monopolies in whatever form having for their purpose the destruction of competition in legitimate enterprise, the limitation of production in any field of labor or increase in cost of necessities of life. It pledges the party to support such legislation as will suppress and prevent organization of such illegal combinations.

Will be Ready

A meeting of the shareholders of the athletic association has been called for Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the board of trade rooms for the purpose of effecting the permanent organization of the association, but it is now thought that by that date the parlors of the club house will be ready for occupancy in which event the general meeting will be held there instead of the place to which it was first mentioned.

Meeting Tonight

The committee on constitution and bylaws of the athletic association will meet this evening at the office of McKay & Shannon at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the draft that has been prepared. A full attendance is desired.

The Stage

Richard Mansfield, who speaks as one having authority, has again given his idea of the person who is fitted for the stage. It is as follows:— "A person to succeed upon the stage should be possessed of good eyes, good teeth (minus gold fillings), a good figure, a good voice (imitated by competent teachers), and a slight knowledge of the French language (sufficient to pronounce properly, monsieur, madam, an revoir, monseigneur, etc.) He should know how to sit down and how to stand up, and have the manners of being accustomed to good society. Upon the stage, appearance is everything. One must possess the outward and visible signs. It is a fact that every gentleman should be an honorable man, but on the stage and in society every honorable man is not necessarily a gentleman. It is manifestly absurd for a person with the manners of a hostler to attempt to play the Admirable Crichton, or for a down east school-marm to play the role of the Lady Vere de Vere. And, given the education, the cultivated voice, the figure and the necessary polish of manner, the actor must in addition be the painter and the poet. Without imagination there can be no actor. By actor is meant actor, not a puppet. He must be willing to learn from the masters. His perseverance, his patience, must be unending. To secure the precise meaning of a line, a word, a glance of the eye, a movement of the hand, he may have to try a hundred times for perfection."

THE CURTAIN DRAWN ASIDE.

The childish exchanges of hostilities now taking place between the Sun and the News constitute the most ridiculous scene yet enacted in the farce-comedy in which those papers have been engaged for the past year.

It is a fact known to everyone directly or indirectly interested that the control of the Sun has passed to the management of the News. An employe of the latter paper has been placed in charge of the Sun, and its every utterance and action is dictated from the News office.

Such being the case the secret stabs now being made by the Sun at the candidacy of Governor Ross, although still maintaining an outward semblance of loyalty, are occasion for surprise to no one.

The latest incident of this nature was contained in the article which appeared in yesterday's Sun, casting ridicule upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the purpose being to stir up feeling among the French-Canadian supporters of the government.

In last night's News attention was called to the Sun's treachery and as much capital as possible was made from the incident for the benefit of Joe Clarke. The Sun this morning exposes the whole thing by laying the responsibility for the appearance of the article in the Sun upon the shoulders of the editor of the News, who it now appears is working double shift and editing both papers.

In order that there may be no doubt as to the accuracy of this statement we quote herewith from this morning's Sun. Referring to the anti-French article of yesterday the Sun delivers itself today as follows: "This matter, with the objectionable headline, was selected by the News, and the same man on that paper who dishonestly wrote the editorial criticism of the article in question knows very well that he is the author of that very headline. If the said writer has one grain of honesty or honor he will now retract the statements published in last evening's News, and publish an apology to the French-Canadian residents of the Yukon."

The annals of journalism might be searched from the time that Gutenberg first began printing from movable types until the present day and a parallel for the situation in the News office could not be found.

If the Sun's own statement of the facts can be accepted, Editor Beddoe of the News inserted in yesterday's Sun a gross attack upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian premier, and then followed it up with a fierce onslaught upon the Sun, which appeared in last night's News, for publishing the objectionable article.

As a matter of fact the thing began description. The Sun's exposure of the duplicity to which the public is being subjected by the combination in the News office furnishes an example of moral depravity almost incredible. Think of one man editing two papers upon diametrically opposed lines—one for the government and the other opposed to it. And yet such is the fact in connection with the Sun and News - well understood by the public for months, and finally admitted in this morning's issue of the first named paper. The curtain has now been drawn aside and the details of the whole shameful farce laid bare. The Sun and News have both forfeited every grain of public confidence and respect to which they may ever have laid claim.

SELF INTERESTS INVOLVED. A campaign of education is steadily in progress on the creeks, which each and every day is bearing fruit in favor of the candidacy of Mr. Ross. In the roadhouses, cabins and other places of assemblage discussion of the situation is continually in progress and the more light that is thrown upon the situation the greater are Mr. Ross' gains.

The element of self-interest is largely represented in the question and it will be for the miners to determine which of the two candidates asking for their votes will give them the best service. There are matters of vital importance to the welfare of the mining industry of the Yukon which will be taken up and settled at the coming session of parliament. With these questions the platform upon which Mr. Ross stands deals in detail and leaves no doubt as to the position he will occupy in connection therewith. If there is any man in the territory who can secure from the government the various concessions asked that man is Mr. Ross.

Joe Clarke would not be able to interest the members of parliament, for the simple reason that an exposition of his record would be every thing necessary to prove his unreliability and absolute lack of sincerity. At the end of his term he would be able to point at nothing accomplished other than the fact that as long as he was able to secure a hearing he had slandered and abused everyone who had opposed him.

The Nugget feels confident that it voices public sentiment in saying that the voters of the Yukon territory will not send a man to parliament for any such purpose. They have great public improvements to be undertaken, new roads to be opened and other important interests to conserve and they have no intention of appointing an agent of Clarke's calibre to look after their affairs. Clarke would make no better record in handling public business entrusted to his keeping than he did in managing certain private interests, concerning which he recently made explanation in court.

On the other hand Mr. Ross has proven true and loyal to every trust reposed in him, has demonstrated his ability to deal with large public issues, and in short is fitted in every particular for the high trust which the electors of the Yukon will repose in him by their ballots.

Every day, almost, brings tidings of frightful disasters resulting from driving automobile machines at too high a rate of speed. Strong agitation has already been inaugurated in England against the high speed automobile and in all probability it will shortly spread to the States. The public highways frequented by automobile enthusiasts are no longer safe for pedestrians—a fact in itself sufficient to justify strong anti-auto legislation.

Joe Clarke has been unceremoniously kicked out of every position he has ever held—which fact is probably what the News has in mind when it states that Clarke has enjoyed a liberal education.

About 1,500 girl cheroot-makers at Richmond, Va., have gone out on strike, the complaint being that too large a proportion of the cheroots are thrown out as bad and not paid for.

SIR WILFRID IN FRANCE

The Montreal Witness, discussing Sir Wilfrid Laurier's visit to France, uses these noble and pregnant sentences: "If the Imperial Government had requested Sir Wilfrid Laurier to go on his present trip through Europe and make public speeches such as he has been making, it could not have taken better or more effectual means for refuting the slanders of the continental press. As a living representative of the success of British colonial policy and an eloquent exponent of the practical excellence of British methods of government, he presents an object lesson to the rulers and peoples of Europe of unexampled impressiveness. None but he could have associated the toast of France with the King of Great Britain in an assembly of Frenchmen and won their applause. That he did so was a daring proof that while he was loyal to the traditions of the land of his forefathers, he was true to the British Crown under which he was born, and the institutions which he so nobly represents. We are thankful for what may well be regarded as the wonderful physical and mental endurance which has been accorded to one who has been able to do so much to bless his country and the world. When one follows the personal history of Sir Wilfrid during the past six years, and realizes how, during that period, he has passed, without intermission from one 'agrossing' strain to another, 'one cannot but wonder at the survival in one not robust of the good temper, sagacity and even elasticity and grace which continue to make him equal to every occasion, no matter how trying. When we hear that he has now occasionally to take absolute rest in bed for days at a time, our sympathies are with him, and for the sake of the country and the empire we wish him the recuperative relaxation he so much needs."

Eager to Sell Coal.

London, Sept. 5.—The anthracite coal shipments to the United States are the result of orders which have been coming in for the past fortnight. There are probably 20,000 to 30,000 tons contracted for, to be shipped immediately to New York. Dealers regard the New York market as ephemeral. They prefer to serve their regular customers, and cannot possibly supply 2,000 tons daily.

Bramwell, W. Va., Sept. 5.—The fire of West Pocahontas mines continues.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 5.—It is rumored here that the Kanawha and New River strike will be declared off at once, and that the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway has ordered all equipment rushed back into the coalfields.

Another Monster Steamer

London, Sept. 5.—The White Star Line has ordered another steamer to be built by Harland & Wolff of Belfast, which is to be twenty feet longer and a few feet wider than the same company's steamer Cedric, now the largest liner in the world.

The White Star Line steamer Cedric, of 21,000 tons, the largest liner afloat, was launched at Harland & Wolff's yards, Belfast, on August 21 last. She is 700 feet long, has 75 feet beam, and a depth of 49-1/2 feet. Her carrying capacity is 18,400 tons, and she has accommodation for 3,000 passengers. Although the Cedric is inferior in length by about seven feet to the Kaiser Wilhelm II, (launched on August 12), yet her greater beam of three feet makes her the larger ship.

Kitchener's New Duties

London, Sept. 5.—The Central News states that Lord Kitchener has booked his passage to India for November 7th. His Lordship may, however, pay a visit to Khartoum before taking up his duties as Commander-in-Chief in India. The general is due to reach Bombay on November 28th, whether he will proceed en route to Delhi to conduct the manoeuvres.

According to the London correspondent of the Calcutta Indian Daily News, Lord Kitchener's personal staff in India will include the following:—Military Secretary, Col. Hubert Hamilton, C.B., D.S.O., Interpreter, Lieut.-Col. W. R. Birdwood, 11th Bengal Lancers, Aide-de-camp, Major Markes, Coldstream Guards, Capt. V. R. Brooke, D.S.O., 9th Lancers, and Capt. F. A. Maxwell, V.C., D.S.O., 18th Bengal Lancers.

Journeymen tailors of New Haven, Conn., will organize and again demand an increase in wages. The last move of the workmen in the latter direction was a failure.

ISOM IN DANGER

Rides Terrific Storm in Behring Sea

Her Two Barges Drifting and the Klondiker and Her Barge Aground.

The story of the great storm in Behring sea which threatened the loss of the great steamer Will H. Isom and the two barges she had in tow, with all its details, is well told in a report by the N. A. T. & T. Company's agent at St. Michael to Mr. Isom. Mr. Miller says in this report: "The steamer Isom left St. Michael on the evening of August 18th, with the barges Huron and New York in tow. The evening was still and seemed ideal for making the trip from St. Michael to the Yukon."

The next evening the Klondiker left with the barge Superior, completing the Isom's tow for the trip, having cleaned up all freight for the trip up river. Captain Brown went with the Klondiker to see the tow made up at the mouth of the river.

The Isom returned to St. Michael August 20th. Captain Clark reported to me having anchored his barge beyond Stebbins pass and having barely succeeded in making St. Michael harbor in safety. He said the barge Huron had lost her anchors and was drifting to sea, and that when last seen the barge New York appeared to be riding anchor.

The tug Meteor, belonging to the N. C. Company, was towing the Gustin to the Yukon when she encountered the storm of Romanoff and was forced to return to St. Michael, arriving at about the same time as the Isom. The Meteor had spoken the Huron in Stebbins pass, in answer to distress signals, and after arriving here immediately returned to pick up the drifting barge. This she succeeded in doing, first taking off the Huron's crew at their request when she was thus abandoned. She took the barge in tow to the lee of Egg Island, where she weathered the gale and finally came into port with the Huron at six o'clock on the morning of the 21st.

Neither the steamer Isom nor the Meteor had seen anything of the Klondiker and her barge, and I was exceedingly anxious for their safety. They were, however, reported to be aground off St. Michael canal and I therefore requisitioned the Meteor for the trip. Captain Hibberd explained that he had already arranged to send the Meteor, but gave Captain Clark and myself permission to accompany her. We found the barge New York anchored below Stebbins, about six miles off shore, riding a considerable sea, leaking some and dragging anchor.

The weather at this time was very bad; all indications were of storm and the barometer was falling fast. Captain Clark agreed with me that the best judgment was to take the barge back to St. Michael harbor, which was accordingly done.

The Klondiker returned on the 23rd, about noon, having finally succeeded in placing her barge at anchorage inside the Yukon.

The value of the cargoes and property belonging to the N. A. T. & T. Company which was endangered in this storm is approximated at $350,000, from which one may gain some idea of the anxiety of the agents of the company during this terrible period. What made the situation particularly exasperating was that the company had kept a tug of its own in St. Michael harbor until shortly before the storm, when it had been sent back to San Francisco for the reason that there seemed to be no call for it.

South African Garrison

London, Sept. 5.—The War Office expects that the work of bringing home troops from South Africa will be completed by the end of October. Already 80,000 have returned. Of the 50,000 troops to form the permanent garrison of South Africa, a large proportion will be mounted men. Fourteen batteries of artillery will remain. Arrangements are being made which point to Bloemfontein becoming the military capital of South Africa on account of its central position. A new military prison is to be erected there. On account of the cost of living in South Africa an addition of 25 per cent. has been made to all military allowances. Three hundred portable huts for officers' quarters are to be shipped shortly at a total cost of about $250,000.

To Represent the King.

Simla, India, Sept. 5.—At a meeting of the council today the Viceroy announced that the Duke and Duchess of Connaught would represent King Edward and Queen Alexandra respectively at the Delhi coronation durbar, the King being unable to absent himself from England long enough to be personally crowned at Delhi.

The strike of the street car employes at Lafayette, Ind., will likely be settled by arbitration.

ATHLETIC INSTRUCTOR

Probably be Engaged by Association

Professor Judd Formerly of the New York Athletic Club in Town.

Prof. J. R. Judd, instructor in boxing and physical culture and a gentleman of extensive reputation throughout the east, has recently arrived in the city and the probabilities are that he will be engaged as athletic instructor by the board of governors of the athletic association. The professor has made application for the position and as he bears the very highest letters of recommendation his engagement will doubtless follow as soon as the permanent officers of the association have been selected.

Professor Judd has been actively engaged in athletics for over thirty years and was for a long time one of the instructors at the New York Athletic Club and later manager of the St. Nicholas athletic club in New York, the largest of its kind in the world. He is the inventor of several athletic machines which have been used and approved of by Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons and other noted athletes while in training and has also written two books on physical culture, which are regarded as standard works by those who take an interest in the training and proper development of the human body. After leaving New York the professor was for a long time physical instructor to the police department in New Orleans. During his younger days such men as James Gordon Bennett, Perry Belmont, J. Pierpont Morgan, the Jerome Bros., James Work, and many other notable New Yorkers passed through his hands, men who a quarter of a century ago were the young men of the metropolis and since have come to be known from one end of the earth to the other. Then for several years he conducted a large store on Nassau street next door to the celebrated Spaulding institution, handling gymnasium fittings and sporting goods. The professor is a veritable encyclopedia on sporting events and records that have taken place and has been made during the past twenty-five years and has brought to the front at least two sprinters who became noted.

The plans and arrangements of the association building and gymnasium have been shown Professor Judd and he is highly pleased with the same. Only one addition he recommends making and that he is strongly in favor of—Nowadays Turkish baths are among the strongest features in gymnasiums and athletic associations on the outside and the board of management is strongly advised to make that addition to their present plans. They will become so popular that they will be self-supporting from the very start.

The gym will be 40x60 in size and until next season when a more complete assortment can be obtained from the outside will contain only such appliances as can be obtained here such as parallel bars, vaulting horse, spring boards, rings, clubs, wands, etc.

The application of Professor Judd is being considered but a definite understanding can not be arrived at until the next general meeting which will be held October 7.

Hot Pursuit of a Negro

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 5.—A negro answering the description of "Peeve" Johnson, who shot and killed another negro named "Yellow" Johnson at Kenilworth race track, Buffalo, last night, was seen in the G. T. R. freight yard here this morning about 9 o'clock. Chief Mains of the Ontario police and his men attempted to capture him, but the negro took to his heels up the Wahash tracks towards Port Robinson on the Welland canal. The police followed on a trackman's jigger, but the negro then took to the fields just west of Stamford switch. After a chase of about an hour the police gave up the pursuit.

Real Estate Sale

It is sad to see how city property is depreciating in value, owing to the falling off of business which a certain portion of the community is always talking about. Mr. Gandolfo had to sell a portion of his real estate this morning, the cigar store and bowling alley in the Monte Cristo building. He managed to find a purchaser in the person of W. H. Mendham, the jeweler, who by hook and by crook has managed to keep his store open during these hard times, and even to enlarge it and make many improvements on it. He also managed this morning to pay Mr. Gandolfo $9,000 for the property before mentioned, which has only a frontage of 16 feet 8 inches and a depth of 100 feet.

"Another of my foolish bargains when I believed in the future of this city," observed Mr. Gandolfo, with a knowing smile, when the deal was completed. "I was foolish enough to buy that property in 1900 and to pay no less than $4,333 33-1/3 for it. I have only received since then a little less than two years, $10,000 in real from it, and I have had to sell it for $9,000. What are we coming to?"

Have Smallpox

London, Sept. 5.—According to the Athens correspondent of The Chronicle a most extraordinary disease, extremely infectious, and resembling smallpox among human beings, has broken out among the statues in the Egyptian room of the National Museum there. A few days ago the distinguished politician and archaeologist, Mr. Stephanos Skouliodes, noticed some strange green marks on one of the bronze statues of the famous Egyptian collection presented to the museum in 1881 by Mr. Demetrios of Alexandria. He at once communicated his discovery to the curator, who called in experts to examine the statue in question. They pronounced the marks to be due to an infectious complaint, to which bronze is liable, and which gradually spreads from the surface of the object affected to the inside, till the whole crumbles away into dust. The other bronze statues in the same room were then inspected, with the result that they were all found to be more or less tainted with the disease, while five of them had taken it in a most aggravated form. These five are the statues of Anta, the goddess of war, of Maout, wife of Jupiter Ammon, of Isis, and two statues of Osiris, one of them of the greatest value. Worse than that, the infection has spread to the Mycenaean room, which contains the results of the late Dr. Schliemann's excavations in 1874. There, a dagger, which was found in the fourth and finest of the six tombs, has fallen a victim to the malady. Altogether, about fifty statues are badly affected, and the loss will be enormous unless the plague can be stayed.

A leading Athenian chemist pronounces the cause of the malady to be the presence of salt in the bronze, of which the statues are made, and his remedy is to extract it by means of baths. Mr. Momphatos, the minister under whose department the museum comes, is taking steps to save the bronzes.

LIBRARY LOCATION Sites Spoken of for the Carnegie Gift Are Much Too Far From the Central Part of the City to be Acceptable.
The securing and later the maintenance of the Carnegie free library is at last beginning to assume tangible shape. Double the appropriation asked for by Mr. Carnegie as an assurance that his gift will be properly cared for has been voted, $2500 each by the city council and the Yukon council, and now all that remains to be done is to select the site and begin the work of construction as soon as the funds are available.

Trade Licenses

Up to the present there have been about ninety trade licenses taken out the revenue from which will amount to about $8,000.

The Breezy Western Way

The chaperon is not so much of an institution in the breezy west as she is in the east, and in some quarters there are rather hazy ideas as to her duties and responsibilities.

When the young man left the matron asked who he was.

"Oh, he's from Denver," answered the girl.

"It is a chaperon's duty to decide who are proper acquaintances for a young girl," explained the matron.

"You should have presented him to me."

"I suppose so," answered the girl, nonchalantly.

On another occasion this girl, who thought it her duty to protect the chaperon, was present when an international marriage was under discussion.

"Well," she announced decisively, "I'd never buy a husband, anyway."

"Perhaps that's safer," admitted the westerner, without any effort to conceal her contempt.

It appears that Mr. M. P. Grace, the new tenant of Battle Abbey, does not intend that the historic pile shall remain a show place throughout the year as heretofore.

Saved His Life

Some mail advices tell how Mike Kobetich, a well-known miner of that section, owes his life to a raft.

He lay down to die on July 1, but when he had rested for a short time he resolved to make one more trial.

Kobetich last winter and spring was prospecting on the Koyuk, and in June he started for Candle creek.

The committee of prominent Catholics appointed to prepare a welcome and draft an address to the new bishop of this diocese, Right Rev. Father Braganza, a list of which was published yesterday.

Ancient Warfare

According to a Bengali native paper war is less civilized in these days than of old.

(1) Animosity must end with the war, when the combatants must regard one another as friends.

(2) The fight must be between equals, that is to say, charioteer must fight with charioteer, cavalry with cavalry, infantry with infantry.

(3) A man who is not strong enough to fight should be allowed to go scot free.

(4) No man is to be struck without previous and distinct warning.

(5) A man who shows nervousness in war should not be interfered with before war is over.

(6) No one is to be taken a prisoner unawares on any account.

(7) No man who has been deprived of his arms or armor, or is badly armed, should be hurt.

(8) The persons of the following classes of people are to be considered sacred: (a) The man who drives a chariot; (b) the bearer who carries a wounded man; (c) the surgeon; (d) the military bands.

(9) Two are not to attack one.
