PROPOSED TO THE CONTRACT

Gen. Advocate General of U. S. Army Raises Point in Connection With Transportation of Troops and Military Supplies—Before War Secretary.

Special to the Daily Nugget. Washington, May 9.—Gen. Davis, advocate general of the army, has raised a strong point in regard to the question of awarding a contract for the White Pass Railroad for transportation of military supplies to the army posts of the upper Yukon. He has returned all the papers in connection with the setting of the contract for transportation in Canada and upon any other of the conditions raised by the Northern Transportation Co. and North American Transportation & Trading Co. who are proposing the proposed award. Davis refrained from passing upon the questions for the reason that he believes the whole question of the contract in question is another issue. This is because it would be impossible to trans-

Specialist recently from Duncan has the information that the past fortnight pay has been advanced on that much talked of in a spot where it has hitherto been unknown and which extends some of known pay on the creek for a mile. The claim was first discovered has been made at 155 below and the quality is to be fully in keeping with the best along the creek. Do not make is now considered to be the best continuous payment of any creek in the territory. At the rate discoveries are being made at Duncan the latter will give the neighbor a close race for money.

MEETING TONIGHT

Baseball League to Arrange the Final Details

The baseball league will meet this evening at the Idyle Hour club for the purpose of completing the details relative to the play this season. Another matter that will also be discussed is that of the layout of the diamond. The first game is scheduled for May 19 and there will be two games a week played thereafter. The attention of the public is again called to the necessity of entering the grounds at the Fifth avenue gate as the police will allow no trespassing of the barracks square. Members of several teams are out every evening limbering up and getting in shape for the opening of the season. The ground is in very good condition with the exception of one or two spots and they will be perfectly dry within another day or two.

Special to the Daily Nugget. San Francisco, May 9.—President Roosevelt jumped into a warm squabble between the governor and legislature when he reached California. He found Governor Pardee at Redlands occupying a position at the head of one camp and the law makers holding down the ammunition in another. It all came about because the governor wanted to take the members of his staff from Sacramento to Redlands on a special train which the legislature provided for the trip. The legislators said he could take one or two handsomely gold laced brasses along but there would not be room enough for the rest. "If my entire staff cannot go Miners in the Klondike and Indian River districts are not the only ones troubled with the ubiquitous claim jumper and the consequent protests attendant upon such proceedings; there are others, some of whom are on creeks but seldom heard of one of which was filed with the clerk of the gold commissioner's court today. Fred B. Kennedy and his two partners are the owners of claims 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28 below discovery on Thistle creek, Kennedy having bought them from the crown at public auction on November 10, 1900, afterwards disposing of an interest to two others. The grants were issued on January 18, 1901, and according to orders in council passed at Ottawa on October 31 of the same year it was decided unnecessary for purchasers to do the representation work on such claims until within one year after they had been surveyed by a Dominion land surveyor and it was determined beyond all doubt that the claims bought were in existence.

Mrs. Crane Will Not Prosecute Capt Galpin

The information laid by Mrs. Alice Rollins Crane, now Countess Moreczewski, against Capt. William Galpin charging the latter with assault has been withdrawn. The case was scheduled to come up on Wednesday and in preparation the defense had arranged to bring a number of witnesses from Eagle and Fortymile. The evidence promised to be exceedingly racy and sensational and the conclusion of the case has deprived the public of a few columns of choice reading matter.

Assistance Is Needed to Restrain Russia From Gobbling Manchuria—Believed That Concerted Action Will Result in Bringing Czar to Terms.

Special to the Daily Nugget. London, May 9.—The London press warmly welcomes the prospects of the United States joining with Great Britain and Japan against the designs of Russia in Manchuria. It is believed that such concerted action will induce Russia to beat a prudent retreat. The Standard says: "The only fault to be found with the diplomacy of the United States in the far east, in the excessive caution displayed and the reluctance to co-operate with European powers. Now, however, Russia has dropped the mask and Washington's forbearance has become exhausted and if the United States has the will it has the power to enforce its views." In a despatch from its Peking correspondent the Times says the situation in Manchuria is not improving. China is already yielding. She is afraid to open new treaty ports and

PASSING RAPIDLY

Chances for Winning Hershberg's Outfit

General Belief That Yukon River Ice Will Not Go Out for a Week to Come.

With every passing hour a number of men are losing all hope of ever being decked out in the outfit offered by Hershberg to the winner of the guessing contest. Some of the guessers lost as early as the 5th and from now on until the ice moves hundreds will lose every day. The general opinion entertained by river connoisseurs today is that the ice will go out between the 14th and 17th, the 16th probably having the confidence of more guessers than any other day. A few bets are being made that it will go out before midnight of the 14th. It is believed that the warm wave which struck the country today will cause the river to rise very rapidly and in case it does there is a possibility that the middle of next week may see the river open. But little ice has as yet passed out of the Klondike but appearances indicate that it is liable to go out any time. Water is still flowing over the top of the Klondike ice, giving the river the appearance of being open already. It was the Yukon Trust Company and not the Syndicat Lyonnais, as stated in yesterday's Nugget, which purchased from Liza Griffin the Northern Case property. It is said that the transaction was engineered by the well-known real estate agent and broker Mr. H. Grisehaber.

EXCELLENT RECITAL

New Soloists Appear for the First Time

Best Musical Talent in the City Assisted in Making the Concert a Success

The organ recital given at the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church yesterday evening by Mr. Ernest Searelle served to introduce two new soloists to Dawson audiences, one of whom had never been heard before and the other only in a church choir and not on the concert stage. And more is the pity, too, of the latter, as her voice is one of marvelous sweetness and purity, as clear as a bell and as true as it is possible for a voice to be.

Mr. Victor Durand is a violinist but recently from New York and will prove a decided acquisition to musical circles. During the program he appeared twice, first in an obligato to the "Angel's Serenade" sung by Mrs. P. R. Ritchie and later in a solo, the berceuse from Godard's "Jocelyn," responding to an encore demanded of the latter and giving Tobani's familiar "Coeurs et Fleurs." Mr. Durand plays with excellent taste, his tone is large and of splendid quality and he plays in perfect tune, a rare thing in violin soloists. His selections portrayed the tone of his instrument, his perfect phrasing and faultless playing rather than any brilliancy of execution, and especially was this true of the berceuse, a soft, plaintive, tender lullaby of exquisite beauty. Mr. Durand's efforts would have been much more effective had he stood instead of sitting down while playing.

The other soloist who is comparatively new to Dawson is Mrs. J. A. McDougal who rendered Trotere's "A Rose in Heaven" and for an encore gave "Violets." Mrs. McDougal betrayed a little nervousness at first, but before she had sung a half dozen bars the audience had entirely lost sight of it if it was noticed at all. Her selections were particularly well adapted to the delicious mezzo voice of which she is the happy possessor and her number was the distinctive pleasure of the evening, an opinion also held by the audience as evinced by the hearty reception accorded the singer upon her entrance and also by the manner in which an encore was demanded. There is not a note in Mrs. McDougal's voice that is harsh or metallic, but on the contrary it is as rich, round and full of sympathy as possible, possessing a quality that is a gift of Nature and can not be acquired by cultivation. It is unfortunate that the public has not had more opportunities to hear Mrs. McDougal.

Mr. Searelle contributed three numbers, the coronation march from Meyerbeer's "Le Prophete," and offertoire by Lefebure-Wely and a more-cean characteristic "The Enchanted Bells," ending the program with the familiar march from "Tannhauser." All were well received, were excellently played and very enjoyable. The effect produced in "The Enchanted Bells" was very beautiful.

A mixed quartette consisting of Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Thompson, Mr. McMeekin and Mr. Bozorth gave two numbers, the first an arrangement for a quartette of "The Lost Chord," and the second "God is a Spirit." Both were well sung, particularly the first named. In all his writings Sullivan never penned a more beautiful theme than that contained in "The Lost Chord" which has been sung as a solo, duo, trio, quartette, and chorus for the past twenty years. The voices of the quartette blended admirably and their singing was very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Ritchie sang the "Angel's Serenade" with violin obligato by Mr. Durand, a simple but very effective piece, and very well sung through a tone too low to be suitable for Mrs. Ritchie's voice which is a high soprano. The phrasing was admirable and so pleasing were her efforts that an encore was demanded.

Mr. Frank Johnson gave a couple of his French dialect stories in a manner that none can imitate. "Le Vieux Temp" provoked so much laughter that "La belle p'tit Canadienne" was given as an encore.

Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Torry were heard in a duet that was very pleasing and upon an encore being insisted upon repeated the same selection.

Mr. Searelle in the accompaniment had more than one opportunity to display the beauties of his organ which he did not fail to do. The wood-wind stops have a most exquisite sweetness rarely heard in an organ of even twice the size of that over which he presides and in the accompaniment to Mr. Durand's solo they spoke with a plaintiveness that was almost human.

The church was comfortably filled and it was considered the recital was one of the most artistic ever given in the city.

When the friends of the Rev. Ridley Herschell used to remonstrate with him for allowing his son to stay up until the early hours of the morning toiling away at his books, he would answer: "Oh! I mustn't interfere with him. You see, Father has made up his mind to be lord chancellor, and those who live long enough will surely see him on the Woolstack."

The late Mr. Sidney Cooper was not kept long in doubt as to his destiny, for when, as a boy of eight, he was busy drawing the bell tower of Canterbury cathedral, a canon who was passing asked to be allowed to look at his work. "Very good, my boy," he exclaimed, as he handed the slate back; "if you go on like this you'll be a Royal Academician some day." And this was the goal the youthful artist kept steadily in view although it took him just over half a century to reach it.

A friend of Dean Swift one day sent him a fowl as a present by a servant-lad, who had frequently been on similar errands, but had never received anything from the Dean. He opened the study door, and, dropping his burden on the floor, called out, "My master has sent you a fowl."

"Young man," said the Dean, "is this the way you deliver a message? Let me teach you better manners. Sit down on my chair. We will change places, and I will show you how to behave in future."

The boy sat down, and the Dean, going out, came to the door, and, making a low bow, said: "Sir, my master sends you his kind compliments, and hopes you are well, and requests your acceptance of a small present."

"Indeed!" replied the boy. "Return him my best thanks; and here is a half crown for yourself."

The Dean, thus caught in his own trap, laughed heartily and gave the boy a crown for his ready wit.

My Inver Bay
Och! Inver Bay, on a harvest day
And the sun goin' down the sky
When with many's the laugh the
boats put af,
And many's the merry cry!
To Cork's own Cove, the one might
rove,
He wouldn't find, machree,
A rarer bay, a fairer bay,
A sweeter bay, nor thee!
For the Kaiser's rod and his realms
so broad,
I wouldn't swap, not I,
My Inver Bay of a harvest day,
And the sun goin' down the sky!

A sweeter boat there's not afloat
Than Patheick Ross's Nam;
A boulder crew, nor lads more thrue
Is not in wide Irelan'
A long, long pull, a strong, strong
pull,
An' 'twan right hearty cheer—
Out-Nan so brave she cuts the wave,
An' our comrade boats we clear,
We lead the throng, we strike a
song,
An' rise it loud an' high,
On Inver Bay of a harvest day,
And the sun goin' down the sky!

Till we reach away where the ber-
rin's play,
There's neither slack nor slow;
When quick as thought our nets are
shot,
On the thatts then we lie low,
And many a stove rolls over the
wave,
And many a yarn is told,
The sea all white with silver bright
The air all filled with gold—
A scene more grand God's good
right hand
It ne'er reached from on High
Than Inver Bay of a harvest day,
An' the sun goin' down the sky!

"Young man," said the Dean, "is this the way you deliver a message? Let me teach you better manners. Sit down on my chair. We will change places, and I will show you how to behave in future."

The boy sat down, and the Dean, going out, came to the door, and, making a low bow, said: "Sir, my master sends you his kind compliments, and hopes you are well, and requests your acceptance of a small present."

"Indeed!" replied the boy. "Return him my best thanks; and here is a half crown for yourself."

The Dean, thus caught in his own trap, laughed heartily and gave the boy a crown for his ready wit.

My Inver Bay
Och! Inver Bay, on a harvest day
And the sun goin' down the sky
When with many's the laugh the
boats put af,
And many's the merry cry!
To Cork's own Cove, the one might
rove,
He wouldn't find, machree,
A rarer bay, a fairer bay,
A sweeter bay, nor thee!
For the Kaiser's rod and his realms
so broad,
I wouldn't swap, not I,
My Inver Bay of a harvest day,
And the sun goin' down the sky!

A sweeter boat there's not afloat
Than Patheick Ross's Nam;
A boulder crew, nor lads more thrue
Is not in wide Irelan'
A long, long pull, a strong, strong
pull,
An' 'twan right hearty cheer—
Out-Nan so brave she cuts the wave,
An' our comrade boats we clear,
We lead the throng, we strike a
song,
An' rise it loud an' high,
On Inver Bay of a harvest day,
And the sun goin' down the sky!

Till we reach away where the ber-
rin's play,
There's neither slack nor slow;
When quick as thought our nets are
shot,
On the thatts then we lie low,
And many a stove rolls over the
wave,
And many a yarn is told,
The sea all white with silver bright
The air all filled with gold—
A scene more grand God's good
right hand
It ne'er reached from on High
Than Inver Bay of a harvest day,
An' the sun goin' down the sky!

A friend of Dean Swift one day sent him a fowl as a present by a servant-lad, who had frequently been on similar errands, but had never received anything from the Dean. He opened the study door, and, dropping his burden on the floor, called out, "My master has sent you a fowl."

"Young man," said the Dean, "is this the way you deliver a message? Let me teach you better manners. Sit down on my chair. We will change places, and I will show you how to behave in future."

ORDERS FOR MONDAY

Council to Meet In Afternoon Only

List of Select Standing Committees to be Appointed—Will Last About Ten Days.

The meeting of the Yukon council held on Thursday was strictly in the nature of a preliminary to the main event that will take place during the week of next week.

1. Motions by Mr. Newlands: (a) For the appointment of a special committee to revise the rules of the house; (b) For the appointment of the select standing committees; (c) For the appointment of a special committee to name the members of the select standing committees.

2. Motion by Mr. Clarke: For leave to introduce a bill entitled "A mechanics' and wage earners' lien ordinance."

3. By Mr. Thompson: (a) To present a resolution to the council to ask the Canadian parliament to rescind the Treadgold orders in council; (b) For leave to introduce certain bills relative to the charter of the city of Dawson.

4. By Mr. Justice Dugas: For leave to introduce a bill respecting stenographers and the taking of evidence in the judicial courts.

In addition to the foregoing there have also been several notices filed in the notice book which until such are made public are accessible to members only.

One of the first matters to be attended to will be the appointment by the commissioner of a special committee which will name the members comprising the select standing committees. Since the incorporation of the city the committees formerly in vogue have been rearranged to a large extent, several such of the committee of health, that of license, etc., now being done away with, being superfluous. The committees to be named include the following:

- Standing orders and private bills. Finance. Mining. Public works. Civil justice and miscellaneous matters. Municipal laws. Education.

Each committee will consist of from three to five members to whom will first be referred all the communications, petitions and bills brought before the council. Unless a special emergency should arise there will be no night sessions, the council convening every afternoon with the exception of Saturday at 3 o'clock.

Choice cooking butter—60 lbs. to case, $18.—Ahlerst & Forsha's.

FOR TANANA!

Str. Seattle No. 3 Will sail from N. C. Co. dock direct to Fairbanks on or about May 25. For freight and passenger rates apply N. C. Co. freight office.

STEWART RIVER

Str. Prospector Will Sail From Dawson First of Season. Mr. H. C. Davis, principal owner of the handsome little steamer Prospector, says that boat will again ply on the Dawson-Stewart river run this year and will be ready to sail on her first voyage of the season within 24 hours after the river is clear of ice.

The rapid growth and development of the Stewart river country and the continued good reports coming from there assure Mr. Davis of a good season for his steamer. Mr. William Meed, manager of the prospector, will arrive on one of the first boats down from lower Lebarge. Mr. and Mrs. Meed spent the winter in California.

NUMEROUS APPLICATIONS

Being Made for Use of Athletic Grounds

Sergt.-Major Tucker Must be Seen for Dates—Entrance From 5th Avenue.

Major Wood and Sergt.-Major Tucker are both desirous that the public shall have as much use of and benefit from the barracks' athletic field as possible and that application for use of the ground be made to Sergt.-Major Tucker.

The grounds will be used by the baseball league two evenings each week, exclusive of holidays and Saturdays. When the grounds are engaged for an evening a notice will be conspicuously posted stating the date and hours for which it has been engaged. The custodian of the grounds reserves the right to refuse to grant their use when he sees fit, also to cancel grants previously made in case circumstances should so warrant.

Enough applications are said to be already coming in from "kid" ball teams to occupy the grounds nearly every evening in the week. But the boys must take their chances with the others. They will be allowed to occupy the grounds a proportionate time.

The entrance to the athletic field will be from Fifth avenue nearly opposite the Administration building instead of from First avenue and across the barracks' square as was the case last season.

The Office Towel When I think of the towel, The dirty old towel That used to hang up by the printing house door, I know that nobody In these days of shoddy Could hammer out one that could wear as it wore.

The "comp." who abused it, The "devil" who used it, The tramp who got at it when these two were gone, The "make-up" the foreman, The editor, poor man! Each rubbed some grime of white he put a heap on.

In over and under 'Twas blacker than thunder, 'Twas harder than poverty, rougher than sin, From a roller suspended It never was bended And flapped on the wall like a banner of tin. It grew thicker and rougher And harder and tougher And daffily put on a more inkier hue, Until one windy morning Without any warning It fell to the floor and was broken in two.

COUNCILOR ROBT. LOWE

Talks of His District's Resources

Will Insist That Government Aid in Development of Copper Properties

Mr. Robert Lowe, member of the Yukon council from district No. 3 and one of the leading and most public spirited citizens of the enterprising town of Whitehorse, has great faith in the future of his section of the territory, the copper resources alone being sufficient to insure permanency and wonderful growth.

Nearly a dozen large deposits of copper have been discovered, the nearest four miles and the furthest, the Grafter group, seven miles out from the town of Whitehorse. Of these a large amount of work has already been done on the Grafter, Copper King, Rabbit's Foot, War Eagle and Le Roi.

From the Grafter mine several heavy shipments of ore have been made to the smelter at Crofton, B. C., also to the smelter at Tacoma, Wash. One year ago the cost of transportation of ore from the mine to the smelter, hauling by wagon to Whitehorse, railroad and steamer charges and the cost of treatment at the smelter aggregated $18.50 per ton, leaving but little profit after the further cost of mining the ore was deducted. Lately, however, the charges of transportation have been reduced until that item, in addition to the charges for treatment at the smelter aggregates only $10.25, a reduction of $8.25 per ton. The result is that considerable ore will now be shipped.

As member of the Yukon council Mr. Lowe is very zealous in behalf of his constituency and that the interests of district No. 3 are safe in his hands is a certainty. Mr. Lowe will insist on government aid in the development of the copper resources of his district and will insist on steps being taken which will eventually lead to the establishing of a government smelter.

Last year the government constructed a wagon road from the town of Whitehorse to the Grafter mine, a distance of seven miles, and that road, Mr. Lowe reports, is in first class condition this spring, although a claim can not be successfully operated on other than a very small scale so long as its output of ore is required to be transported seven miles in wagons. Even if the government does not erect a smelter on its own responsibility Mr. Lowe will insist that it give substantial aid to some company that will erect such smelter.

Judging from Mr. Lowe's statements Whitehorse is unlike the general run of small towns and very unlike Dawson in that he says the residents of his town all pull together on matters of public interest, that "knocking" is unknown among them and that every man in the town, regardless of his calling or station in life, is ready at any and all times to assist in any measure that will serve to advance the public interest and welfare.

Mr. Lowe will be in Dawson for some time yet, he being of the opinion that two weeks will be required by the honorable body of which he is a member to transact the business which will come before it.

While in the city Mr. Lowe is a guest at the Regina.

Liverpool, April 16.—The White Star line steamer Celtic, which collided yesterday with the British steamer Heathmore, and had a small hole stove in her port side, amidships, repaired the damage and proceeded today for New York.

St. Petersburg, April 16.—A political malcontent named Skakodipsey has been arrested at Moscow, where the czar is staying. The prisoner was found to have a revolver on his person.

ERMINIE.

Production of Jakobowski's Popular Opera at Auditorium.

On May 23rd, 25th, 26th and 27th, the Dawson Amateur Operatic Society will wind up their winter season with the production at the Auditorium of Jakobowski's popular opera "Erminie."

The opera is too well known to need more than a passing description, and the reputation that our local operatic society has achieved in all its former efforts is a sufficient indication that the forthcoming production will be presented with all the artistic care for detail which has characterized the past productions of the society.

As will be remembered, the success of "Erminie" depends largely upon the characters of "Ravennes" and "Cadeaux," the two thieves. In the hands of Messrs. C. S. W. Barwell and H. D. Hulme, it is needless to say these parts will be done full justice to.

The music, which throughout is most sparkling and tuneful, will be rendered by a powerful cast, and a full chorus of forty voices, who have all been trained by Mr. Ernest Searle with the painstaking care for which he is so well known.

The cast of characters, which appears below, is an exceedingly strong one, and comprises the best known people of Dawson, and we predict for the society for this opera, the greatest success they have yet achieved.

On Victoria day (May 25), the opera will be made a special feature of the sports program, it having been arranged that the last sports event will conclude in ample time to allow the holiday makers to witness the performance of the opera.

The plans for the four performances will be shortly opened at Cribbs' drug store on First avenue. The following is the cast of characters: Marquis de Pontvert—Mr. George Craig.

Eugene Marcel, his secretary—Mr. R. L. Cowan. Ernest, Vicomte de Brissac—Mr. P. X. Genest. Captain Delaunay—Mr. Ralph Torry.

Sergeant—Mr. Chas. Shannon. Dufois, landlord of the Lion D'Or—Mr. Halfdan Grottschier. Simon, waiter of the Lion D'Or—Dr. R. A. Blondin. Henri—Mr. S. G. McLellan. Pierre—Mr. John McKeekin. Robert—Mr. Fred Forrest. Benedictine, a waiter—Mr. J. S. Cowan. Chevalier de Brabazon—Mr. Frank Javennes and Cadeaux, two thieves—Mr. C. S. W. Barwell and Mr. H. D. Hulme.

Cerise Marcel, Erminie's companion—Mrs. J. Langlois Bell. Javotte, Erminie's maid—Mrs. P. Mullen. Marie, a peasant girl—Mrs. Frank Maltby. Celestine—Miss Belle Craig. Clementine—Mrs. C. D. Macaulay. Princess De Gramponneur—Mr. F. N. Atwood.

Erminie, the Marquis' daughter—Mrs. W. S. Herbert. Chorus of soldiers, peasantry, waiters, guests, etc.

Paris, April 10.—Premier Combes is actively pursuing the task of enforcing the laws against the congregations. He issued today two circulars addressed to the bishops. One notifies them that they must absolutely forbid the members of congregations from preaching in the churches of their dioceses, and warns them that neglect to do so will result in the closing of those churches in which the law is infringed. The other circular directs the immediate cessation of religious services in all establishments to which authorization has not been granted.

NOTICE Dawson, Y. T., May 6th, 1903. Bids will be received by the undersigned up to July the 15th next for the supply of hay and oats for the Dawson Fire Department in the following quantities, to be delivered as required: Hay, 13 tons. Oats, 13 tons. All bids to be addressed to the undersigned. JAMES F. MACDONALD, Chairman Fire, Water and Light Committee.
