IMPORTANT NEWS.

Something the People of Canada will Appreciate.

A Word from Halifax in the Right Direction.
Annapolis Speaks with no Uncertain Sound.

The late Hon. W. F. DesBarres was for more than 25 years a Judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, and the name of DesBarres is held in the highest estimation by the people of the Maritime Provinces. Samuel W., son of Hon. W. F. DesBarres, is Registrar of the Admiralty District of Nova Scotia, having held the office for 25 years. In conversation with our Representative, a short time since, he made the following statement:

"I have used SKODA'S DISCOVERY and SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS, for a few weeks, with the most gratifying results, and am of the opinion that they are of a high medicinal quality. I have no hesitation in endorsing the Skoda line of Remedies, and recommending them to the people of the Dominion, as articles of superior merit, and well worthy their confidence. I fully believe these Remedies to be all their proprietors claim for them."

The people of Nova Scotia are justly proud of their institutions of learning, and their educators rank among the finest in the country. At the head of many of the Universities in the U. S., are placed men, who hail from the Dominion, and whose methods of teaching and discipline are regarded by the American people, as the finest in the world. For 15 years Mr. S. C. Shaffer has been one of the leading educators in the Province of Nova Scotia. As present he is Principal of the Public Schools in Annapolis. In speaking of SKODA'S REMEDIES he says:

"Having used two bottles of SKODA'S DISCOVERY with the LITTLE TABLETS, I have formed a very favorable opinion of these Remedies. For Diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Kidneys, I believe them to be most excellent Medicines. I am so thoroughly convinced of their curative properties, that I shall take the full course of these Remedies, as recommended by the Company."

Song of the Gaspareau.

(ORIGINAL.)
Low down in the valley, secluded and peaceful,
Flows winding and surging, the bright Gaspareau;

Past orchards and meadows and banks populated with willows,
Past woodland and pasture where sweet wild flowers grow.

When winter the valley clothes in a white mantle,
And gone are the flowers and leaves from the trees,

Thy mourning and sadness are but for a moment,
For the first-coming snow brings to thy throbbing heart peace.

And now o'er thy bosom once heaving and restless,
The bright steel of the skater so gracefully winds;

Hailing thy fetters with boisterous gladness,
Thine epithet carving in fantastic lines.

But the sun having finished his southerly journey,
Now warmer and brighter the smile of his face;

And these with the tears the sky sheds so remorsefully,
Their forces unite o'er thy burial place.

Then as the germ of the seed sown in spring-time,
Warmed by the sunlight and moistened by rain,

Bursts from its bounds and springs upward rejoicing,
Fed from the sources that dormant have lain—

So, bursting under the chains that have bound thee,
Thou pour'st down the valley with deafening roar;

Heaving and tossing on billows the giftwood,
Piling the ice-cakes high up on the shore.

The brooks down the hill-side dash madly to meet thee,
Swelling thy waters to furious wrath;

Till reddened and angry they spread o'er the meadows,
Leaving the refuse behind in their path.

But sweet are thy ripple and song in the summer;
And blue are thy wavelets as dancing they go—

Now lapping in pools, now clattering o'er shallows,
Now gurgling so softly the bank just below.

The valley-born wanderer afar from his country,
Is dreaming of home and the dear friends of yore;

When lo! through his vision thy current is sweeping,
And dreaming he strolls down the path by the shore.

Many the hands that have wrought in the valley;
Many the feet that have strayed by thy stream;

Now 'neath the sod they are quietly sleeping—
But thou sleep'st not to mourn o'er the end of life's dream.

Then flow on, Gaspareau,—on swift to the ocean;
But impress on men's hearts the refrain of thy song.

Thy waters now passing like lost opportunities—
Will ne'er pass us again—they forever are gone.

Kensel Point is a long neck of land lying parallel to the main shore, and almost severed from it by a landlocked harbor, opening eastward through a narrow inlet into the broad Hilbury bay. The neck is connected at the western end with the main land by a long sweep of sand beach, generally some fifty yards or more in width, but in high tides or easterly storms often quite covered in some parts. A carriage road winds around over this beach to Willowside dock, where the steambost touches morning and evening, on her way to and from the city. From the dock the ground rises abruptly to the high table land above, which constitutes the major portion of the point.

Half a mile from the dock, along the harbor shore, a back from and above the road, stood the old Haliburton homestead, a square, two-story building, painted a dull, washy red, and looking rather shabby and weather-beaten without but comfortable and pleasant within. Here Kit Grale and her father came to live now, and to take a new start in life. The ground slopes away into the road in front, to which a rain gullied path leads straight from the door. THE ACADIAN

WOLFVILLE, N. S., FEB. 2, 1893.

Fruit Growers' Association of N. S.

ITS TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL MEETING.

The above meeting was in session as we went to rest last week. All the meetings were fairly well attended, and as usual the papers and discussions were of general interest to fruit growers.

In addition to those whom we always find attending these meetings, and without whom the association would have a precarious existence, we notice Prof. Higgins, Prof. Caldwell, Dr. DeWitt, W. H. Chase, Charles E. Brown, of Yorkmouth, Rev. F. I. Axford, F. C. Johnson, Prof. Keirstead, Principals Patterson and Seaman and Dr. A. P. Reid.

As anticipated, the presence of Mr. John Craig, the Horticulturist from the Central Experimental farm at Ottawa, and his practical replies to numerous questions added greatly to the value of the discussions.

On a table through the centre of the hall was a fine display of apples left over from the collection now in cold storage at Chicago awaiting the opening of the world's fair next spring. And although in most instances these samples were inferior to those sent to Chicago, they were much admired.

Thursday at 2 p. m. President Bigelow called upon Secretary Parker to read a portion of the minutes of previous meetings, after which the president presented his annual address, a portion of which appeared in our last issue. The address contained a vast amount of information, and it would be doing the writer an injustice to attempt to review it here with only brief notes before us from which we gather the following points.

The past season had been a fairly successful one. The quality of all the fruits had been good. And notwithstanding the quantity had been very largely diminished by unprecedented storm in June last, the cash returns for fruit would exceed the revenue derived from all other farm products in the counties of King's and Annapolis. He estimated the season's apple crop at 200,000 bbls., and although the return from early shipments to England were disappointing, he believed the whole season would yet average $2.00 per bbl. The cranberry crop he averaged at 1200 bbls. and has sold at from $1.00 to $6.00 per bbl. This is becoming an important crop and is increasing rapidly. Insect pests are becoming more numerous and require the prompt attention of all fruit growers to prevent serious damage to crops.

Referring to the fruit exhibit at the world's fair, he said the association had undertaken to prepare for the exhibit at the request of the Nova Scotia Government, who had guaranteed a small amount toward defraying the expenses. The Dominion grant would pay transportation charges. He expressed regret that the failure of Prof. Saunders' health had compelled that gentleman to resign his position as Canadian Commissioner to Chicago. Mr. Bigelow also referred to the necessity for the establishment of an experimental fruit farm in the valley, of which the need was becoming more and more apparent each season. The possibilities for fruit growing in Nova Scotia were very great and should be better appreciated.

Dr. A. P. Reid, in moving the adoption of the president's address, remarked that he had noticed a marked improvement in fruit culture in districts outside of the Annapolis valley whose orchards were being planted and more attention was being paid to fruit culture than formerly. It was evident that the influence of the association's work was extending.

Mr. J. E. Starr seconded the motion and said it paid to plant the best lands in orchards. The figures presented by President Bigelow proved that beyond question.

Mr. Craig, being called by the president, was received with applause. This was his first visit to Nova Scotia. He had heard much about the Annapolis valley and was pleased with what he had seen during a short drive. We were highly favored people. He was surprised to find that the F. G. A. had not a more general support from the fruit growers of the country. The association was one of the oldest on the continent and among the first to investigate the diseases and insects to which fruits are subject.

Mr. Craig delivered an able address on Fungus Diseases and the remedies found most effective in curing them, illustrating the same by elaborate charts showing the results of experimenting with several mixtures used to prevent the black spot on the apple. At the close of Mr. Craig's instructive address he appealed to the Nova Scotia fruit growers for their co-operation and assistance in their work, and promised that the staff at the experimental farm would render any assistance in their power at all times.

Mr. Craig's address was followed by a running fire of questions and answers. Then followed a paper by Mr. R. S. Eaton entitled:

"POINTS IN FRUIT GROWING WORTHY OF FRUIT ATTENTION."

This paper contained many practical hints and suggestions of general interest to fruit growers, and showed much care and painstaking in preparation by the writer, and Mr. Eaton's paper will be read with interest when published in the reports of the Association. We regret that we have not the paper before us, but we were impressed particularly with the closing remark:

"Fruit growers should not be discouraged with the enemies they have to contend against when they have as allies an experimental stations in nearly every province in the Dominion and state in the Union, with their specialists devoting so much time and disseminating so much information for their benefit, but let them endeavor to extend the market and improve the quality of their fruit."

Discussion followed the reading of this paper taken part in by Mr. Archibald, Mr. Patterson, Mr. Craig, Dr. Reid and others. The meeting then adjourned to 7 p. m.

EVENING SESSION.

At the request of the President, the Senior Vice-President occupied the chair. Dr. A. P. Reid read an admirable paper entitled:

THE RELATION OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND FRUIT GROWING.

The members of the association fill two positions—the citizen and the fruit grower. Not the least function of the public school should be to train up good citizens. With a properly directed public opinion improvement in this direction would not be difficult. As a fruit grower, amongst the varied duties of the public school these two loom up most prominently and are as well most intimately allied: (1) to make the individual not only self supporting but to enable him to use the powers bestowed on him by nature to the best advantage; (2) to develop the capabilities of our common country in general and Nova Scotia in particular.

The public schools should be so managed as to bring out the latent ability of the individual rather than to lead him with unappropriated information. The successful orchardist must be an educated and practical entomologist and equally posted in economic botany. Such a system of practical education should obtain in our public schools that the capabilities of Nova Scotia, can be utilized; that her energetic and enterprising growing citizens will be able to have exercise for their best ability in furthering their interests while building up our province, and that our treasure lavished on public schools shall not be for the building up of another country.

This was followed by Dr. Chipman, who read an excellent paper pointing out the advantages of:

DAIRYING IN CONNECTION WITH FRUIT GROWING.

Dr. Chipman made many strong points in this paper. He contended our geographical position gives us great advantages in the shipment of produce to the European markets. Prof. Robertson, the Dominion expert, had declared that no better natural facilities for dairying are to be found anywhere, and the same has been repeated without fear of contradiction in reference to our fruit growing. Natural conditions have determined that these should be our leading departments in producing, and they are admirably suited to go hand in hand. This paper bristled with facts and figures and was listened to with marked attention throughout its reading. It was undoubtedly one of the best papers presented at these meetings. Mr. J. E. Starr, who is recognized as one of the most successful dairymen in the county, complimented the Dr. very highly upon the thorough and practical nature of his paper.

In the absence of Prof. Smith, whose name appears here on the program, Mr. W. G. Archibald was called upon to read a paper entitled:

"OUR PRESENT AND FUTURE" AS FRUIT GROWERS.

Mr. Archibald endorsed the suggestion made by the president in his address, and advocated the establishment of an experimental fruit farm in the Annapolis Valley; and at the close of his paper offered a donation of $50 and also a resolution for a committee to procure ways and means for such a purpose. Mr. T. H. Parker promptly offered another $50 for the same purpose.

The meeting adjourned at a late hour to meet at 10 o'clock the following morning.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION.

Business Meeting.—The secretary presented his report of the year's work. The association had held two meetings during the year—at Middleton and Bridgewater—both of which had been successful. The association had also made an extensive collection of apples for the world's fair. In this work the association were largely indebted to Mr. R. W. Strong, from whom there was no better authority on questions of nomenclature and pomology in the province, and perhaps in Canada. The collection had been packed in cases and sent to Chicago where it was now in cold storage, and it was expected to come out in first-class order and prove a credit to Nova Scotia. A vote of thanks was unanimously accorded Sec'y Parker for his indefatigable efforts in behalf of the association.

THE TREASURER'S REPORT.—Treasurer Thomson made an elaborate report showing the finances to be in a very satisfactory state. And he also received the well earned thanks of the association which were heartily tendered him.

REPORT OF THE FRUIT COMMITTEE.—R. W. Starr, chairman of the above committee, had taken great pains in compiling the report which contained much information gathered from as many of the county vice-presidents as he could induce to contribute. We hope to give our readers a summary of the report in our next issue.

The following were elected office bearers for the ensuing year: President—J. W. Bigelow, Wolfville, re-elected; Senior vice-do—C. R. H. Starr, Wolfville, da; Vice do—A. P. Parker, Bridgewater; T. H. Parker, Berwick; W. H. Blane, Windsor; Prof. Lawson, Halifax; Judge DeBriary, Bridgewater; W. W. Jones, Weymouth; C. E. Brown, Yarmouth; R. W. Freeman, Jordan River; J. M. Freeman, Bear River; Prof. Smith, Truro; W. O. Creighton, West River; Hon. H. Black, Amherst; A. Kirk, Antigonish; H. L. Cronin, Guysboro; W. F. McCurdy, M. P. P., Baddeck; Wm. Purvis, Sydney; John McKeen, Cape Breton; Hon. Isadore LeBlanc, M. P. P., Arichat; Secretary—S. C. Parker, Parwick, re-elected; Assistant secretary—R. W. Starr, Wolfville, re-elected; Treasurer—Geo. Thomson, Wolfville, re-elected.

Mr. W. G. Archibald presented a list of some 30 subscribers who had paid their annual membership fee. Meeting adjourned to 2 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

President Bigelow in the chair. Prof. H. W. Smith, Provincial School of Agriculture, Truro, addressed the meeting at some length, giving an account of the work at that station. He recommended fall plowing as the best remedy for wire worms.

Principal Patterson, of Acadia Villa school, read a paper upon the Transportation of Fruit. Mr. Patterson with his usual force that the fruit growers should own or control a line of steamers and ship their own apples. This paper elicited a long discussion which was taken part in by W. H. Chase, Alfred Whitman, T. H. Parker and others. Secretary Parker read a letter from Mr. D. M. Dickie upon the same subject. This closed the discussion and an adjournment was voted to the College Hall at 8 o'clock.

INCORPORATION AGAIN.

Mr. Editor.—The ACADIAN of the 20th inst. contains a letter from "On Looker," in which he comes to the conclusion that "One of They" is incapable of understanding the English language. This is not a very grave charge coming from that source. No claim has been made to capability in the direction alluded to. Learned lawyers often differ as to the correct interpretation of the law, and if one does not possess all the mental acumen requisite to construe and assimilate such English as the law is couched in, he can derive some solace in the thought that "On Looker" regards himself quite equal to the task. Capability is not to be despised, Mr. "On Looker." Enjoy the good opinion entertained of yourself. I shall studiously avoid plucking one flower from the wreath you have appropriated to yourself. He concludes again that "One of They" has some purpose for which he wishes to mislead the public. Here is knowledge pressed to the verge of prophecy. He even ventures to over, he is not right. I must disclaim all intention of misreading any one. The expression is the law that income shall be assessed at its full value, when read in connection with a subsequent clause and modified by sundry clauses and sub-clauses of the Assessment Act of 1888, does not turn out to mean just what it says. As I am not a lawyer or the son of a lawyer and am "incapable of understanding English," it is not to be wondered at that a conclusion should be arrived at, based upon the clause as it is first given. I hope my friend was not made a convert to incorporation by this slight error. If so he may need to be converted again very soon. I regarded the case as I put it before as favoring incorporation, since it seemed to relieve the property to the extent of the tax on income. Now, according to one capable of interpreting the English language, it appears that certain small exemptions from income will still further tax the property and thus increase the rate per cent in that direction. The same amount has to be raised but in a slightly different way. The gain comes to the salaried men and men of income, and the burden falls upon real estate and personal property. What is the net gain, Mr. "On Looker?"

Perhaps "On Looker" will favor your readers with the population of Wolfville and the other towns compared with it. There will, in my opinion, be more information in such a statement than in the insinuation that my statement in regard to their size lacks confirmation.

"On Looker" has studied the Incorporation Act, the Assessment Act, and talked to persons of the advantages and disadvantages of incorporation—and he is capable of understanding. Now will he not enlighten some of his neighbors as to his duty? He must be prepared to give one reason why incorporation will be an advantage. Perhaps he can inform your readers how the salaries of town clerk, stipendiary magistrate, policeman and road commissioners are to be met and not increase the assessment. Or he may be able to tell how these officials can perform their duties without going to the expense of renting or building offices providing fuel and light for the same, meeting the expense of stationery, postage, incidentals, etc., so that nobody will feel burdened; or he may have some scheme to transform Wolfville from its present slow progress to a town of bustle and push, in which all will prosper. If so, by all means launch your scheme. Many of the people of Wolfville do not feel like having incorporation until there is something to incorporate. It is suggested that half the attention given to some honest industries that will employ the working people and bring in more of the same class, that is now bestowed upon incorporation, would in a few years increase the population and wealth of the town so that it may be among the things to be regarded with a greater degree of seriousness than at present. Keep the town free from such burdens as incorporation for ten years, stimulate its industries and add to them, and the conditions of business, etc., may be so changed as to generate belief in a scheme for the expenditure of money, much more rapidly than now.

It must be a source of very great encouragement to the friends of incorporation to have such an acquisition to their ranks as "On Looker," especially when their stock is such a drug on the market. ONE OF THEY.

We are in receipt of a neatly gotten up pamphlet containing the "Report by the Mayor, and Statement of Accounts of the Town of Kentville for the municipal year of 1892." It is made up of 31 pages of facts and figures showing the present status of the town.

A special school-meeting is called for this evening to consider the best means of heating and ventilating the new school-house and to vote money for same. Also to make arrangements for borrowing money, etc. There should be a full attendance of the ratepayers as the matter is one of importance.

As will be seen by notice in another column the annual meeting of the ratepayers in the Wolfville Water District is to be held on Monday evening next, Feb. 6th, in Witter's Hall. This meeting is one in which every ratepayer should be interested, and there should be a large and representative attendance on that occasion.

A meeting in connection with the jubilee of Mount Allison Institutions, Sackville, is to be held this evening in the Methodist church, Lower Horton.—Dr. Carman, general superintendent of the Methodist church, is to be present and deliver an address suitable to the occasion. The meeting will be interesting to all and will no doubt be largely attended.

The special services held by Rev. P. W. Wright, in the Methodist church, Lower Horton, for the past week or two, have been largely attended and the results so far have been quite satisfactory to all. Upwards of twenty-five have signified their intention of changing their mode of life, and hereafter taking a stand on the Lord's side. It is expected that these special efforts will be continued for another week.

The Greatest Cure of the Age for Indigestion is K. D. C. Have you tried it?

On Tuesday evening last, while Fred J. Faulkner and H. C. Vaughn, of Grand Pre, were driving from Kentville and passing through New Minas, the horse, which was a spirited animal, bolted, throwing both occupants out on the ice. Mr. Faulkner was picked up unconscious and taken into a neighboring house and it was found that he was severely cut about the head while Mr. Vaughn escaped without any serious mishap. Subsequently Mr. Faulkner was driven home and Dr. Bowles dressed his wounds and put several stitches in the cut. He is now doing as well as can be expected.

Tug Storm King, which was engaged to tow the American bkn. Edward Cushing out of Port Williams, has returned to St. John without accomplishing the undertaking. On the way up ice was met at late Haute, and Capt. Ferris worked the steamer through different channels until he reached within two miles of Kingsport wharf. Here a solid jam was met, and the bay and river were full of ice. It was found impossible to get any nearer than about eight miles of the Cushing. Capt. Ferris then went across to Parboro' and telegraphed to the captain of the Cushing the state of affairs. Capt. Ferris says the ice is from two to three feet thick from where he was to Port Williams. The ice was so bad that schooners could not get into Kingsport.

The King of Remedies. Dock Blood Purifier.

Victory after victory is the record of Dock Blood Purifier, which never fails to do good. Read what Mrs. Outhouse says about it.

From MRS HENRY OUTHOUSE, TIVERTON, N. S.

About three years ago I was sick with consumption, which was brought on by a heavy cold. I employed a doctor who advised me to use emetics. I did so but they did me no good. I was growing weaker fast—my cough was very bad—with night sweats; in fact my parents had given me up as I belonged to a consumptive family. Two of my sisters and one brother have already died with that dread disease. As my appetite was very poor a friend advised me to use Dr. Norton's Dock Blood Purifier. I got six bottles, the use of which soon gave me a craving for food. Soon my cough was better and I began to gain in strength and by that time had gained forty-four pounds in flesh with good health. Have had no symptoms of any lung trouble since and believe that Dr. Norton's Dock Blood Purifier saved my life.

Three Kinds of Lightning.

Lightning often injures without destroying life. Its effects may properly be classified into those that are mild, severe, and fatal in their character.

In mild cases the person struck may or may not lose consciousness for a brief period of time. There may be a temporary paralysis of one or more of the limbs for a few hours.

In severe cases the victim may be knocked down with violence or may be thrown several feet and lose consciousness.

In fatal cases death is usually instantaneous, but it has been known to occur after the lapse of several days from the receipt of the electric shock.

Heaven is above all yet: there sits a Judge that no king can corrupt. Minard's Liment is the best.

Nothing pays a poorer interest on the investment than wearing a long face. It is a wrong impression a man gets when he thinks he can pull himself out of trouble with a corker.

Garfield Tea is sold by all druggists. "No, Harold. If you had five thousand I would, but with only three I'm afraid mamma wouldn't like it."

USE SKODA'S DISCOVERY, the Great Blood, and Nerve Remedy. "Did you enjoy yourself in the country, Johnny?" "Yes, but. And the funniest thing I saw was the hired man unmilking the cows."

Garfield Tea really is for constipation and sick headache, send a postal card to D. Denmore & Co. 317 Church Street, Toronto, for a free, trial package.

She: "Dudes haven't more than half sense." Mr. Snappy: "Aw, Miss Maw, are there no exceptions?" "O, yes, Mr. Snappy; some haven't any."

It may be well to state, Scott's Emulsion sets as a food as well as a medicine, building up the wasted tissues and restoring perfect health after wasting fever.

How about the rent of this house of yours, Jones? Doesn't the landlord ask a good deal for it? Jones—"Yes; he often asks five or six times a month for it."

THE duty for me to tell the public through you just what your remedy has done for me. I am 45 years of age. My life during the past 23 years has been a misery.
