Before the Court.

The question as to whether or not the Railway Bridge will pay taxes to the city, has come before the Supreme Court for decision.

The company has made an application to the court for an order to set aside the assessment on the bridge.

The point raised in the case is that under a local act passed in 1870, relieving all property from taxation which is used for railway purposes, the bridge company is exempt, being all intents and purposes a railway company. The court considers

END OF THE LAST STORY.
Of the present night is bright,
But in the coming years I see A brilliant and a cheerful light,

Which burns before the constantly.
At the appointed hour the next morning, Traverse Rocks repaired to the cell of his mysterious patient.
He was pleased to find her up and dressed with more than usual care and taste, and looking upon the whole, much better in health and spirits than upon the preceding day.

Traverse poured out a glass of water, and handed it to her.
She drank it, made an effort at self-control,
and resumed:
"Thus, scarcely sixteen years of age, I was a widow, helpless, penniless, and en-

"Why do you leave us?"
"Is it necessary," he answered, tersely,
"Will you come back?"
"Barbara, I never saw such a girl as you are to meek and moan. Don't you get lonely sometimes?" cried a brisk voice, as the footsteps paused near her.

AMERICA AS A NAVAL POWER.

The advent of the Americans on the high seas is the first naval power in the world as certain as the rising of the sun, but the development of the

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL.

Confusion arises occasionally when a year like 1900 is discussed, as to whether it is a leap year. This is the rule:
Every year of which the number is divisible
by four without a remainder is a leap year, excepting the centesimal years, which are
leap years only when so divisible after suppressing the two zeros. Therefore,
1900 was a leap year, sixteen being divisible
by four without a remainder; and so 2000 will be a leap year. But 1700 and 1800 were common years, and so will 1900 be, because seventeen, eighteen, and nineteen are not divisible by four without a re-

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered for the cure of Spavin, Ringbone, and all other ailments of the horse.

Counting is not unlike a game of poker in that a young man sometimes gets a flush on the go in.

Prof. Loisset's memory system is creating greater interest than ever in all parts of the country, and persons wishing to improve their memory should send for his prospectus free as advertised in another column.

The Wellesley girls are said to want a college cry. Very natural; there is nothing a woman enjoys more than a good cry.

A sponge eight feet in circumference is on exhibition in a store in New York.

Confusion arises occasionally when a year like 1900 is discussed, as to whether it is a leap year. This is the rule:

Every year of which the number is divisible
by four without a remainder is a leap year,
excepting the centesimal years, which are
leap years only when so divisible after suppressing the two zeros. Therefore,

1900 was a leap year, sixteen being divisible
by four without a remainder; and so 2000
will be a leap year. But 1700 and 1800 were common years, and so will 1900 be,
because seventeen, eighteen, and nineteen
