Rev. Mr. Bartlett at George St. Church

SERMON TO YOUNG MEN. Rev. Mr. Bartlett gave a very edi-fying and impressive sermon at George St. Church on Sunday evening. His topic was the Barren Fig Tree," and his exposition and illustrations were remarkably lucid and conto know that Mr. Bartlett's pulpi ministrations are not likely to be seriously affected by the new theology. His earnest utterances on Sunday evening conveyed no uncertain sound to the large congregation present and afforded ample evidence that the new psychological students of the ### Death of Mr. Kielly.

We record with deep regreat the death of Mr. James J. Kielley, which took place at his late residence, Prescott Street, yesterday. He had been ill only a few days of bronchitis. Deceased was a well known and popular citizen and was highly respected by all who were acquainted with him. He always had a kind greeting and cheerful word for all the customers coming to Edens' store at Rawlins Cross, where he was so familiar a figure, the past fifteen years. He leaves a widow, two sous, Edward and John. and two daughters, Mrs. F. McNamara and Miss Etta, to mourn their great loss. We heartily extend our sympa thy to them.

Driver's Brutal Action.

At 1 o'clock Saturday, a boy named Joshua Snelgrove, son of Mr. Levi Snelgrove, 32 Mullock St., aged 16 years, was run over on Duckworth Street by an outharbor man driving a horse and carriage. When the boy fell the horse's noofs struck him and instead of checking his Horse and rendering aid to the injured lad the brutal driver whipped up his horse and vanished from the scene. The boy who was dazed from his injury, was picked up by two men who brought him into Dr. Campbell's surgery. A severe wound was inflicted in the lad's head, it being cut to the bone, and after examining it the doctor feared concussion. Dr. Campbell at first syringed the wound and then had to insert a number of stitches to close it. It was thought that one of his legs were broken but such had not occured, though it was bad!y hurt. After being treated by Dr Campbell, the boy was driven home by the police who hired a cab for him. Expressions of indignation at the brutal conduct of the driver were heard from the crowd which gathered. His name has been communicat ed to the police.

How Fat Cattle Are Massaged for the Market

Farmers here and there have begun to practise a new method of bringing their fat cattle, of which the bulk is sold this week, to the pink of perfection required by the very exacting requirements of buyers of beef. On one large farm a number of men have been told off during the last few weeks to massage the cattle several times a day. The animals are brushed and rubbed with hardly less energy and care than a good groom expends on a show horse. The results are astonishing. The coats of the animals grow satiny and sugges. tive of the highest state of health. The rubbing causes the muscles to swell so that all the hollows are filled up and the cattle are firm to the touch, a mode of judgment on which dealers and butchers much rely.

The increase in price following such reatment has more than justified the rouble expended; and it is probable that the health of the animals is greatly improved, to the beaefit of the consumer. "Passive exercise." as one of the originators of the method said. is substituted for active, with equal advantage to the increase in weight and the improvement in health of the stock.

To make celery sightly and crisp, cut white, tender stalks into two inch lengths and score the pieces lengthwise about half an inch from each end until both ends are fringed. Drop them into a pan of ice water in which a slice of lemon is soaking and let stand for half an hour before serving. Dry thoroughly before putting on the table

A recipe for sugar cookies is as ollows: Four even teacupfuls of flour, one even teaspoonful of soda two even teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar, one heaping coffeecupful of butter, two teacupfuls of sugar and milk enough to make a pastry.
