BOURLON WOOD AND VILLAGE CAPTURED BY BRITISH TROOPS

BRITISH TAKE 9774 PRISONERS AND OVER 100 GUNS IN DRIVE FOR CAMBRAI FRENCH TAKE TWO GERMAN LINES AND 800 PRISONERS IN VERDUN REGION SIR R. BORDEN REFUSED HEARING AT KITCHENER

Tumultuous Scenes at Meeting When Organized Attempt Succeeds in Preventing Premier From Delivering Address.

Kitchener, Nov. 24.—Pandemonium let loose, not lightly describes the scene in the big auditorium here this evening, when the premier of Canada, Sir Robert Borden, who came here to support the candidature of W. G. Weidner for re-election to the house of commons as a Unionist, was howled down and prevented from obtaining a hearing.

A MEETING THAT SHOWED.

The best Unionist meeting so far held to show the strength of Sir Robert Borden and his associates in their war policy was that at Dundas on Saturday afternoon, where a mixed town and country community packed the large hall and listened in the keenest way to the speech of Sir Robert on the necessity of Canada sending more men to the front, where it involved sacrifices of many kinds.

SUPPORT BILLY MACLEAN.

From the Markham (South York) Economist (Liberal).

South York is to be blessed (?) with a full array of political candidates, representing all shades of political opinion. Whether or not we want all these shades of politics just now does not seem to have entered into the calculations of the candidates. Some of them will be sadder and wiser men after election day, and if they all go to the poll at least two of them are likely to lose their deposit.

TWO IMPORTANT STATEMENTS BY THE PREMIER

There was a deliberate and successful attempt to break up the meeting at Kitchener on Saturday evening. From what has since transpired it is apparent that the arrangements for this purpose were organized several days in advance of the meeting. The disturbance which prevented Mr. Mowat and myself from speaking was the work of three or four hundred roughs and hoodlums and cannot in any wise be attributed to the respectable people of Kitchener. In twenty-one years of public life this is the only occasion upon which I have been prevented from speaking to a meeting that I sought to address.

INDIGNATION MEETING OVER INSULT TO PREMIER

Kitchener Citizens Protest Outrage, Which is Also Condemned by Clergy--City Council to Act.

Kitchener, Ont., Nov. 25.—This afternoon an indignation meeting was held with regard to the organized interruption and insults to Premier Borden last night. Mayor Gross was present and stated he was calling the city council together at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon to endorse a resolution addressed to Sir Robert, deploring the outrage. As a number of the aldermen are strong Euler followers there is a prospect of a stormy meeting.

TO THE WOMEN OF SOUTH YORK

Dear Sir: In the present contest in South York, I have decided, after careful consideration of the candidates offering themselves in this constituency, to give you my support and influence. I am, on this occasion, unable to support a candidate who owns as his leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

I have been always a consistent supporter of the Liberal party. I am impressed, however, with the fact that you have been a consistent Advocate of the Conscription of our available Manhood and also the whole of our War Effort. I have personally believed for two and a half years at least, that this was the only solution of the great problem, therefore, I am unable to support Mr. McGregor, who is an old personal friend, because he is the follower in this matter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

TO THE WOMEN OF SOUTH YORK

First of all I take off my hat to you, the Ladies of South York: Those of you who are the Women Kin of our Canadian Soldiers, and, therefore, have the right to be put on the voters' list and to vote in this coming election;

More than Five Thousand Men have gone to the war from South York, probably the banner record of any one constituency in Canada. They will vote overseas or in the camps here.

At least Six Thousand of you Women, the kin of these men, have the right to have your names put on the voters' lists forthwith; and then the right to vote in South York on December 17th—only three weeks off. But you must see that the enumerators get your names on the list this week, so that you can vote on election day.

There are those who'd like to see your names left off the lists. I will help you to get on the lists at any of my committee rooms.

And the reason why I want to see you on the lists is first that you may be able to support by your votes the efforts of the Union Government (under Sir Robert Borden), that is now appealing to the country on a policy of selective conscription to send more soldiers to the support and relief of our boys now in the war service of Canada.

I am the Unionist, Win-the-war Candidate in South York, designated as such by Sir Robert Borden and the Unionist Win-the-war Government of which he is the leader.

In the recent session of parliament I voted for all the war measures brought in by the government. In the house and out of it I consistently advocated and helped to bring about the Union Government, and the consequent patriotic feeling that has united all Canada in a more vigorous war policy. I say that it was absolutely necessary to unite the west, the east, with Ontario, to this end. The best part of the country is a unit in support of the win-the-war government. I regret some of my former political friends rebuked me for advocating such a Union Government. Everybody's for it now.

But there are other questions, questions that have arisen out of this war in which you, the Women of South York, have a vital interest.

I believe and have said so in public that we must have total prohibition of the making and the sale of all strong drink and liquor in this country until after the war!

We have closed the bars and the liquor stores in Ontario and the result has greatly improved our abilities to carry on the war. We got this by provincial legislation, thanks to Sir William Hearst, Hon. N. W. Rowell, and their followers.

The Dominion Parliament has also strengthened this legislation. But the shipping into Ontario of strong drink from Quebec (Montreal and Hull chiefly), and from the border States is still allowed to those who can buy in quantities and who can pay in cash.

Further legislation must be passed both in the province and in the Dominion Parliament to cut out this traffic completely until after the war!

If elected I will support a law to that end. But I want your support and your votes, and you can only have votes if you are enumerated this week, or later on next week when appeals are permitted. But you must first get on the list. Get on this week.

Not only have I supported and obeyed the prohibitory law of Ontario, but for about a year now The Toronto World, with which I am identified, has refused to carry liquor advertising through these outside traffickers in Quebec and in the States. That policy has cost The World in a year over seventy thousand dollars of business! I ask you ladies, those with votes and those who have influence with voters, to get all the women voters on the list and have them vote for me because of that record and the above declared purpose to improve the law.

All the soldiers' women kin can register in the city and in the suburbs, in the Townships of York and Markham. The enumerator must put on your names. If he doesn't do it go to my committee-room.

If you live in the city east of the Don and north of Danforth (No. 1 ward), to my committee-room on Danforth avenue.

If you live in the city (old North Toronto) on either side of Yonge street and north of the Belt Line Railway, to my committee-room on Yonge street.

If you live in No. 6 ward (Earlscourt) north of the C.P.R. tracks and between the Grand Trunk's Northern line and Oakwood avenue, to my committee-room in Earlscourt.

And if you live in the suburbs or in York or Markham, to the nearest committee-room. Or telephone me at The World office, Main 5308.

But get on the list and help others to get on. This is the first time any women have had a vote in Federal Elections. I am in favor of a federal law forthwith giving the franchise to women equally with men.

Ladies, again I salute you and ask you for your support in this election as the Unionist Win-the-war candidate of the Borden Unionist Government.

That "living on letters" which is the experi- ence of women all over the world to-day is vividly portrayed; also the state of helpless watching when the letters cease and only the official mes- sage remains, pointing the way to a blind alley of surmise and apprehen- sion.

Mr. Ward has never become acquainted with "the new woman," but here she pictures one in beravement, who seems meant only for the joy of life, and shows how she comes to the place where "to endure hardness like a good soldier" seems the only way to peace of spirit. To this author, feminine youth is a flower that should be gardened, not exploited. Her view- point, heightened now by the great emergency of the time, will be interest- ing to many readers. The descriptions of the En- tle Lake country, where the story is set, are fascinat- ing.

"Missing" Mrs. Humphry Ward's War Novel, Reviewed for Us By "Katherine Hale."

"MISSING!" The very word strikes a chill to thousands of hearts to-day; all doubt, all apprehension, all question, is involved in the two syllables. Mrs. Humphry Ward has taken the word as the theme for her latest novel. The spirit of the war has invaded even her English calm, and she interprets with cultured but no less certain touch the fortunes of a little English war bride, whose husband returns to the Front after three weeks of honeymoon.

WAY OUT in the trackless wastes near the North Pole, in the boundless forests of Russia, in the jungles of Asia not so long ago, and now they are here! And think at what risk of life and limb they were brought all those thousands of miles for the adornment of Canadian homes! Skin rugs have always seemed the height of luxury, and these are really beautiful specimens, beautifully mounted with splendidly modelled heads.

A polar bear with thick, soft fur, smaller than that sketched, is $200.00. Silver tip Russian bears, with beautifully shaded brown fur, can be obtained at $300.00, and in a smaller size, but just as good quality, at $200.00. Then there are Russian timber wolves with greyish skins, beautifully marked and pointed with black, at $90.00 and $125.00. —Fourth Floor.

WE have heard the appeal. Canada must raise money in immense sums to maintain our soldiers Overseas, and asks us to invest in the great Victory Loan.

We realize our responsibility in the matter—that it is our duty, if we boast a shred of patriotism in our make-up, to respond to our country's call.

We have had two weeks to turn the question over. After such deliberation, can we with any vestige of right feeling, refuse to do our part? Then let us buy to the very limit of our ability.

Perhaps it was "Sister Susie's" father, or even her small brothers and sisters, who grew tired of picking up those everlasting balls of wool that simply will roll over the floor, but at all events someone hit upon the happy idea of a movable stand, with a receptacle big enough to accommodate the largest ball of wool. Here on the right you may see it—the "Sister Susie" knitting stand, and a very graceful piece of furniture it is. Made of mahogany, the wool holder is fitted with a cover and provided with a little "kick," through which the wool passes. It has four feet, which keep it perfectly steady, and the price is $10.50.

MONDAY MORNING, NOV. 26

Minding Our Business.

On a bet a man once stood on London Bridge and offered gold sovereigns for sale at half-price, believing that the suspicious incredulous nature of humanity would protect him from loss and win him his wager. He won.

Offering Canadian bonds at 5 1/2 per cent. interest and over is almost parallel to this. It would take 5 1/2 per cent. on good mortgages, according to financial men, to equal the bonds as an investment. Yet there are still people who hesitate to transfer their savings, on which they are drawing possible three per cent., to the government, which offers the highest security that anyone in Canada can get, at this unprecedented rate of interest. The wonder is that the loan is not doubly and trebly over-subscribed.

The small saver may be certain that when shrewd investors like Henry Ford put $500,000 into Victory bonds he knows his money is safe, that it is getting him a big return, and most important of all that it is readily realizable. The big men like to have their securities in liquid form just as much as the small men. Henry Ford wants something, just as good as gold, and he has something better, for gold draws no interest.

The big men are putting their loose cash into the Victory Loan, and their reserves, and any small economists or thrifty savers can find no better way of getting ahead than by taking as many bonds as their savings will cover, or they can manage to pay for between now and May next.

This is the third side of it. But there is a far more important one. It is the investment side. For, after all, this Victory Loan is an investment. The security is absolute. The interest will be paid. The capital will be returned. But there will be other collateral returns. As citizens, we are all interested in Canada as a business organization, as a going concern, upon the success of which depends the security of everything we have or are. The Victory Loan is intended to make that organization safe, to keep Canada running as a going concern. As a branch establishment of the big firm over the sea, we are confronted with a formidable rival who does not scruple to adopt any means, the most dastardly and mean, the most dishonorable and contemptible apparently preferred, with the object of destroying our whole connection and putting us out of business. Should he succeed in that design our savings, our mortgages, our gold, our property of every description would no longer be ours, for his intention as illustrated in Belgium and elsewhere would be to levy on our wealth and our industry, our labor and our food until we were reduced to beggary. If we are not willing to invest in Victory bonds from patriotic or financial reasons, the iron terror of self-preservation should drive us to the bond headquarters with every dollar we can collect.

It is little that is asked of us, to be brave in our pockets as other men are brave with their blood and their lives. We are to have Col. Roosevelt this week, and Mr. Samuel Gompers, and Mr. Harry Lauder, all men of affairs, representative men, men of wide grasp and great strength of mind, to tell us as Canadians what we ought to do, what is wise and reasonable for us to do, what we should not hesitate a moment about doing. These gentlemen will help us to wake up out of the apathy that we are in danger of falling under, but it ought to be even more of an incentive to stimulate us, that we have an opportunity to let these gentlemen and all the world beside see how we value our heritage and the privilege of doing something to save its name and fame from the assaults of tyranny, embattled on the fields across the seas.

No Alcohol From Sugar.

Conflicting statements continue to appear in regard to the uses being made of raw sugar and molasses—two of our most important foodstuffs—imported into Canada.

On the one hand, it is claimed—and the claim is backed up by statistics from the inland revenue department—that a considerable quantity of these imports are used by certain sugar refineries in the distillation of alcohol.

The refineries which conduct distilleries as an adjunct to their business, on the other hand, maintain that the only sugar products used in the making of alcohol are "waste" material not available for the making of edible sugar.

The situation seems to call for a thorough investigation upon the part of the food controller of Canada, so that the facts may be ascertained and made public.

If, as is being charged, the refinery-operated distilleries are turning sugar into alcohol, because of the greater amount of profits obtainable by so doing, to the detriment of the country's supply of sugar, such an investigation as is here suggested, should show the relative profits of the two methods, the monetary returns to the spirit-distilling refineries, and the necessity, if any, for permitting any such valuable food material as sugar being converted into alcohol, whether for beverage or other purpose.

A Call to Dedication.

We have no field of Gettysburg within our bounds where we may go and dedicate ourselves to carry on.

Our dead have given their lives, our maimed have spent themselves, to keep the war remote from us. They have kept it so, they and the ships of England.

And because their sacrifices have secured that remoteness, today they stand in danger from our hands.

We seem to be judging them, we are asked to say that they wasted themselves. We cannot try them! We can but condemn ourselves.

The price of freedom is service, and the law of life is service. We must serve, and the issue is the eternal issue: Choose ye this day whom ye will serve!

Three years ago we made our choice gladly, eagerly. Now we are called to say whether we shall dedicate ourselves anew to the great task remaining, or shall declare that this nation is not entitled to endure. The our battlefields are not here, yet here we can make a deeper dedication than that of Gettysburg. On the fields of Flanders, in the valleys of the Somme, and on the hills between our brave who fought for us have made Canada a beacon light, not only for that western line, but for all our allies. If that light flickers all will stumble. If that light falls, will they keep from falling?

Let us then highly resolve that our army shall have men and light on; that we stand fast even to France's tenfold measure of devotion; that our neighbors be spurred to equal us.

And to that end let us all now dedicate each what he can give, of time or work or gift of speaking, that in the next three weeks this country may be swept with the sense of its duty, and brought to the polls to dedicate itself, its fields, its riches, and its spirit, and above all, its fighting men, that this nation under God shall not perish from the earth.

The British Labor Party.

In Great Britain the Labor party is pointing the way, by its preparations and its general attitude and conduct, to what may be expected in the reconstruction of social conditions that must certainly follow the war. It is only in a very general way that the developments of the future can be anticipated, but it does not require much prevision to see that there will be changes of a radical character. Many shrewd politicians foresee what is inevitable and some of them are making the usual mistake of trying to head on the new developments instead of making an effort to guide, to direct or to divert them into wiser or the wisest channels.

An instance of this mistaken generalship is to be seen in the house of commons vote last week on proportional representation when the measure was defeated by a vote of 202 to 126. This damping of the flood tide will only bring the greater inundation when the dam breaks, as it surely will. At the same time a step forward was taken in the adoption of the alternative vote which applies in cases where more than two candidates are running. In this case the alternative vote on the ballots of a minority candidate are given to the second choice. It is believed by some to be as effective and more simple than proportional representation.

At all events Labor is going to take advantage of the new state of affairs and at the next election there will be 300 or 400 seats contested by Labor candidates. The alternate vote will determine how the balance of national opinion lies among Unionists, Liberals and Labor men.

In order to give the decision the greatest possible effect the national executive of the Labor party has drafted a new constitution which is to be considered by the party conference at Nottingham in January. It will be remembered that in 1906 there were 29 Labor members returned, and in 1910 there were 42. Under the new rule Labor may easily hold the balance of power, if, indeed, it does not dominate the other two parties or any capitalistic coalition they may form.

The new organization is intended to include on a large scale the local constituency organizations as well as the big trade unions and the Socialist societies. Individual members will also be enrolled in the party as well as members of local branches and affiliated societies. These individuals will have separate representation on the local executive committee, and delegates at the party conferences. Men and women will form separate sections, so that women are sure of full representation. Of the 8,000,000 new electors about 6,000,000 will be women, and these, who are not members of the union, are provided for by the individual membership plan.

The executive is to be chosen by the conference as a whole, but to ensure fair representation the choice must be made from three separate lists of nominations, 11 members to be chosen from nominees of the trades unions and other societies, five from the constituency organizations, and four from the women. There will be one delegate to the conference from every 1000 members.

From the five objects of the Labor party as recently defined by the executive, the first three dealing with organization and action, we may quote the last two, which indicate the social aims of the party.

"To secure for the producers by hand or by brain the full fruits of their industry, and the most equitable distribution thereof that may be possible, upon the basis of the common ownership of the means of production and the best obtainable system of popular administration and control of each industry or service."

"Generally to promote the political, social and economic emancipation of the people, and more particularly of those who depend directly upon their own exertions by hand or by brain for the means of life."

This avoids the error which has gained a strong hold on the continent of placing the Labor party and its members as a class against all other classes in the community. Any party or class which aims at dominating, rather than at sharing in proportion to its strength, but not beyond its strength, in the government of the country, is adopting the autocratic principle which has been found so obnoxious in other parties and systems, and which is fatal to true democracy, and which does not change its character when wielded by one party instead of another. The British Labor party is steering a wise course, and may set an example to be generally followed.

Women's Opportunity.

"Beware of people who are trying to sow dissension, distrust, suspicion, division. There is but one party, and that is the nation. Keep steadfast. The warning from such a source should not go unheeded and women must use their insight—be ever on the alert to expose any plausible persons whose speeches do not ring true—and there are such among us; women cannot be too quick with unceasing vigilance along these lines."

Women have become citizens, therefore they must now think nationally, learning the real meaning of true democracy—the greatest good to the greatest number—and a very remarkable coincidence indeed it is that just as they reach enfranchisement, party partisanship is being attacked.

We dare not bandy words on parties. We women want a clean government. No cobwebs or shibboleths, ment composed of our best, brave, true men of all parties, unswayed by personal motives, and in this "testing time" we will use our votes for them.

Our patriotism is genuine—our duty is plain—our fighting men are calling for support and a glimpse of home once more.

We arise as one for a Union government whose whole business it is to send support and "the good news" bringing back the remnant of our beloved in honor and peace.

INVESTING IN VICTORY LOAN

he said. "The men must work double shifts. Our trucks must run any two shocks, and you know it, but it's too much to expect them to do the work of two men. Give them a chance!" he cried out. "In God's name, give them a chance to do their best. Let's that right!" he asked, and the crowd yelled. "Yes!" Then for God's sake send them more. That's why I can't understand, that's why I can't tolerate, the idea, and I can't understand the idea, Canadian patriotism, the patriotism of those who would send them reinforcements at once or not. Suppose I should go back to my work, they would say, 'Well, Major, how can you say that? I would say, 'Well, boys, can you hang on for a year? They are going to talk to you about Canada for a year. What do you think of that? Let's that right!"

Supports Union Government. Major Gordon said that why I support Union government is because it is the only government that stands for the people of Canada. It is the only government that offers Canada the chance to get together.

The British Empire is still standing strong and united from line to line. Canada be the first to step out. "No, Canada," Major Gordon said. "No, Canada," the Japanese ambassador said. "Japan claims the right to stand with the best of men of the world." So I say Canada belongs with the honest men. But with some mistaken leadership that had been given to the people of Canada could really get a true and honest leadership. It is not the name of Canada that matters, but the name of the man who is leading it. The line at the front is getting thinner and more men are needed at once to back them up and they are forced to retire. And it's up to you."

Major Gordon went on to tell some stories from the front, some personal stories and some about things he had heard. He told some of the atrocities that had been committed in Belgium, and said he thought of the people of Canada could really get a true and honest leadership. It is not the name of Canada that matters, but the name of the man who is leading it. WHERE ANTI-UNION IS STRONG or your publicity there is always a large section of the people who have to be convinced through a personal interview. These interviews take time and they require a great deal of patience. The bond salesman, who is really not a salesman at all, but simply a representative of the government thru the committee, deserves a great deal of credit. It is a new proposition to the general public of the city and entirely different from any other campaign ever held here, and it is a bond on the people of the Dominion who are taking the orders for the bonds. From incidents that have come to my personal notice I feel quite safe in saying that were it not for the tireless efficiency of these 850 workers our campaign would be many millions behind the daily objective.

Position is improved. "Canada's Weak Spot One Bond for Every 187 of the Population" is now a bond on the people of the Dominion. There are now over 240,000 holders of Victory bonds in Canada, or approximately one for every 81 of population, this condition would be vastly improved before the drive is over. In the last Liberty Loan in the United States a bond was sold to every 11 of the population. Great Britain's record is 1 in 23, and Victory Loan circles believe this record will be exceeded in Canada.

Official reports received up to midnight last night showed subscriptions in the Dominion so far recorded at $123,000,000, of which over 83 per cent. come from Ontario. However, nothing has been heard from Montreal since Friday noon and from several of the provinces for a similar length of time, and making allowance for these on a conservative basis, Chairman Hodgson of the Dominion business committee estimates that the actual investment through Canada up to Saturday night was over the $200,000,000 mark.

London Times Thinks Quebec Will Accept Verdict of Canadian People.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.

London, Nov. 25.—Discussing the Canadian election, The Times observes that Sir Robert Borden has declared, with his usual blunt sincerity, that if elected, he will root up the patronage evil, a system so engrained in the Canadian administration, that threats against it mobilize innumerable vested interests, while public opinion is so used to it that it hardly seems to most men an evil at all. Against this and other handicaps Sir Wilfrid Laurier has several advantages. His anti-corruption program is decidedly well supported by his support of a referendum, and he has a solid nucleus of safe seats in Quebec. His personal qualities, long record of services, eloquence and experience as a political campaigner are all very valuable assets.

In spite of all this, the probability is that Borden will have a substantial majority. If that is the case, the immediate reinforcement of the Canadian troops will be assured, and Quebec, if the people follow the advice of the French-Canadian press, will accept the verdict and abandon the active opposition to conscription.

Some of the members of Boston Grand Opera Company as they arrived in Toronto at Union Station last night for a three-day engagement at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, commencing tonight.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

Boston Grand Opera
The Boston Grand Opera Company opens its engagement tonight at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, where they are appearing for a half-week's engagement in a repertoire of standard operas, including Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be sung this evening. Tomorrow night they will offer Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" on Wednesday afternoon they will sing "Tales of Hoffman" closing their brief engagement on Wednesday night with Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor."

Cunning, the Miracle Man
Cunning and his company of wonder workers, who have just completed a six months' tour of the Canadian west, open an engagement at the Grand Opera House this evening, and will present their famous program of magic, illusions and other weird things which created a sensation throughout the west. Cunning has a novel in mystery shows, for he devotes considerable time to thought-provoking and mingling with his audience, answering all questions that may be put to him, no matter on what subject they refer.

At Shea's This Week
Five acts, all of headline calibre, come to Shea's Theatre this week. Boston's Riding School is perhaps the most pretentious novelty ever presented to vaudeville patrons. Magnificent horses, famous circus riders, who show in an offering entitled "How Circus Riders Are Made," Dolly Connolly returns with her partner and accompanist, Percy Wenzelich, in a novel home selection. Everett Rusky's pleasing sketch, "Cranberries," is another feature of the bill, while Clark and Verdi provoke much laughter in their portrayal of two Italian characters. Marie Fitzgibbon, "the woman with the sense of humor," is a clever monologist, while the Vernon Five are exponents of the new music known as the "Jazz." Rome and Cox, in bright comedy chatter. The Four Trumps, in a sensational aerial offering, and the Kinograph are also on the bill.

Low's Theatre
"Arms and the Girl," the feature photodrama of this week's offerings at Low's Theatre and the Winter Garden, is a particularly timely picture. In it Billie Burke, the star, is seen to splendid advantage in a story dealing with the great world war. The vaudeville attractions, which will be headed by Harry Stafford and players in "Children of France," also include George N. Roscher, the London music hall entertainer; Will and Gaxy Rosevelt, in a timely comedy sketch; the Six Stylish Steppers, offering a unique variety of dances; Chauncey and Kathleen Jesson; Leonard and Ward, offering "The Hebrew Father and Son," and Peppino and Perry.

The Hippodrome
Monroe Salisbury and Ruth Clifford will be featured this week in the stirring Bluebird feature of the frozen north, "The Savage," an interest-compelling film which headlines the bill at the Hippodrome, "Second Childhood."

is a comedy sketch which, with a cast of six people, heads the vaudeville bill. Nettie Carroll and Company have a clever aerial offering. Burns and Jose are talented exponents of modern and old-fashioned dances, while The Sylphons are musicians of exceptional ability. Knowles and White, variety specialists, in a new entertainment, and Wells and Belle, "the aerial kings" are also features of an excellent bill.

Harry Lauder
This will be the last opportunity theatregoers of this city will have of seeing Harry Lauder, who will appear at the Royal Alexandra Theatre for three nights and three matinees commencing Thursday, November 29, with the greatest vaudeville company that his manager, William Morris, has ever marshaled together.

Star
Jack Reed and his far-famed forty "Record Breakers" are to occupy the stage at the Star Theatre this week. This means that "burlesque" of the highest possible order, genuine comedy, new song hits, lively drills and dances and bevy of young and shapely show and chorus girls and a large cast of handsome and talented principals are to be seen. Buy a Victory bond and then lie yourself to the Star Theatre and enjoy yourself.

Star Theatre
Beginning with a matinee today at the west, Cunning has a novelty in present his well-known Parisian burlesque attraction, "Puss Fuss." The entire production has been handsomely equipped and costumed, and from a scenic point of view "Puss Fuss" vies with the most elaborate production ever seen over the Columbia wheel. The burlesque, entitled "Somewhere There" and "Somewhere Here," are written along bright, breezy lines with numerous novelties, tuneful melodies and vaudeville specialties blended in a manner that is bound to please. The cast is made up of a number of well-known vaudeville and musical comedy stars, and includes such capable entertainers as Clark and McCullough, tramp comedians; Bob Burton, eccentric comedian; Syd Malcolm, juvenile; George Brooks, character; Bob prima donna; Mae Meyers, ingenue; ruman donna; Mae Meyers, ingenue; Marie Sabbot, soubrette, and Jean Bedini himself.

Star Theatre
Stagecraft became Robert Henley's hobby when he was still a student. He studied technique to use it as a setting for the finer gems of human interpretation in his later work. His first picture experience began with the Reliance Company six years ago. Since then he has appeared in hundreds of well-known photodramatic successes, and with his own innate knowledge and experience as leading man and director, he has blended his training into an ability which has been focused with all its power and human force in "Parentage, a Message," which will be seen at Massey Hall week of December 3.

"The Man From Painted Post"
Douglas Fairbanks never appeared to better advantage than he does in "The Man From Painted Post," which is being presented this week at the Allen Theatre. This thrilling story of cattle rustling days was filmed right out in the wild and woolly west, where a number of crack riding

Royal Alexandra Theatre Mass Meeting Addressed on Union Government.

A mass meeting of women was held in the Royal Alexandra Theatre last night. Mrs. L. A. Hamilton in the chair. Rev. Dr. Johnston gave an address on "United We Stand, Divided We Fall." He showed that in all the nations it had been proved that only in unity lay strength. All the colonies except Canada had found that to be true. "Unless we can get together and keep together we will win out yet!" he said. "I fear disunion and discord as much as I fear the enemy. Isn't it our duty to get together, at least until this struggle is over?"

FRESH GAINS MADE BY HAIG'S MEN

counter-attacks forced our troops back from Bourlon Village, which we had entered on our first advance, and in the early morning of Saturday a powerful attack delivered by the enemy further to the east pressed us back a short distance on the hill in Bourlon Wood.

Later in the morning a successful counter-attack by our troops drove the enemy from the hill, and before mid-day we had re-established our lines on the northern edge of Bourlon Wood.

Fighting continued during the afternoon, and at dusk the enemy again attacked with strong forces from the northeast, forcing our troops back slightly in the northeastern corner of the wood.

Early in the night our troops again attacked and re-entered Bourlon Village, capturing it after a fierce struggle in which parties of the enemy offered obstinate resistance at strong points in the village.

Bourlon Village and practically the whole of Bourlon Wood, including all the high ground within it, now are in our possession.

In the course of these operations English, Welsh and Scottish battalions and dismounted cavalry displayed the utmost courage and tenacity both in attack and defense.

The Germans have continued to stiffen their resistance against the British advance and, as one British officer remarks, "the Boche has been fighting us hard."

If the British retain their hold on Bourlon Wood and have taken the village, they will have acquired a position on high ground which overlooks wide reaches of the surrounding territory. The Germans today were working desperately to construct a line of defense about the western and southern side of Cambrai, which lies four miles east of Bourlon. The position at Cambrai is a strong one because of natural defenses.

CAMBRAI WORTHLESS AS GERMAN BASE NOW

City Dominated by British Guns—Fontaine is Also Being Deluged With Shells.

London, Nov. 25.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—The correspondent of Reuter's at British army headquarters in France, reviewing the battle, points out the fact that Tuesday's advance was greater than the base. This necessitated widening the latter by bombing the various Hindenburg lines. This was entrusted to the U.S. Marines, who forced their way three miles northward against continuous opposition. Altho the British in two days overran 40 square miles of new territory and captured ten villages, the Scheidt Canal, 6 feet wide, was a great obstacle behind the Hindenburg line, yet we overleapt it and are now two miles from Cambrai. A tank-trail line of trenches intervenes and here the Germans have massed many guns. But it seems immaterial whether or not we attack, because Cambrai is now worthless as an enemy base since its communications are commanded by our fire.

Along the Hindenburg line west of Mouscron, again enlarging the base of our wedge into the German defenses to the northwest, in Mouscron, where we were on the south edge of the village on Friday, street fighting of great ferocity has been in progress, the enemy continually bringing up new waves of men only to be thrown back every time.

Even fiercer at times was the struggle around Fontaine, which has been taken is now in flames. After we evacuated it the previous day the Germans pushed in, manned the houses, mounting machine guns and firing from the windows. Fontaine is absolutely commanded on both flanks; our posts encircle it on three sides.

9774 PRISONERS TAKEN BY BRITISH

mirable, and the results gained by their efforts are of far-reaching importance.

Altho practically all the divisions employed have already been engaged in severe and prolonged fighting this year, all arms and services have met these fresh calls on them in a manner worthy of the highest traditions of the British army.

In this battle the tanks for the first time have been afforded an opportunity of working in large numbers and of showing their special value under conditions suitable to them. Without them the complete surprise gained would not have been possible, could not even be attempted, their performances have entirely justified the trust placed in them.

Splendid Co-operation. Infantry, artillery and aircraft have co-operated with efficiency and complete devotion to duty in which they never fail. The cavalry has co-operated with the other arms with excellent results. The royal engineers, the signal services, the transportation services, army service corps, and the various administrative services concerned, each performed most valuable work.

To Sir Julian Byng and his staff, to the commanders and staffs under him, and to all arms and services engaged in these operations my thanks and warmest congratulations are due for the manner in which they prepared and carried thru the operations, and for the splendid results achieved.

"I also express my obligation to all ranks at general headquarters for the success with which they have met the severe strain imposed by the arrangements for these operations, in addition to the sudden movement of troops to Italy, the operations on the Flanders front and the many other movements and tasks which had to be carried out simultaneously.

"The operations on the third army front would in all probability have miscarried if the enemy had gained timely warning of our intentions, and a most satisfactory feature in connection with these operations is the complete secrecy maintained. For this my thanks are due to all concerned."

Care and Trackage Facilities to Be Pooled in Interest of General Efficiency.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Operation of all railway lines east of Chicago as one centralized system was decided yesterday by the railroad war board, to obtain a maximum of efficiency in traffic movement. Care and trackage facilities will be pooled regardless of ownership or the railroads' individual interest.

Bolsheviki Discouraged By Diplomats of Russia

Washington, Nov. 25.—Baron Reunaud d'Urgun Stenberg, second secretary of the Russian embassy, announced today that he had resigned yesterday with the three other officials, who, with the approval of Ambassador Bakmeteff, left the service of the Russian Government because of the Bolshevik control of the foreign office at Petrograd.

RESIGNS FROM BOARD

Chatham, Nov. 25.—Mayor J. G. Kerr, who has sat on local exemption tribunal No. 128, has received word from the minister of justice that his resignation as a member of the board has been accepted. James Bennie, concessionaire of Dover Township, a farmer, has been appointed in his place.

SMALL, BUT GENEROUS

Onondaga Township Gives Sixty-one Dollars Per Capita.

Special to The Toronto World. Brantford, Nov. 25.—The Victory Loan campaign returns here have reached the two-million mark, and gone eight thousand beyond. Perhaps the best record yet made is that of Onondaga Township, where the subscriptions totaled $61 for every man, woman and child in the township. The smallest unit in the county, Onondaga's total, is away above all others.

TEN OFFICERS KILLED WHEN BOMB EXPLODED

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 25.—Ten persons were killed and several injured last night when a bomb, designed to destroy the Italian Evran Baptist Church, in the heart of the third ward, an Italian settlement, exploded in central police station, when it had been carried for examination.

An Open Letter to My Own People

From a Toronto Boy who is in France fighting for his Country

To My Own People:

There is a little tightening in my throat as I write that--- Somehow, away over here in France, a realization has suddenly come to me of how dear my home land is to me---my country---and old Toronto.

I can close my eyes and see that last day I spent with my loved ones, very clearly. I can see that crowd that filled the depot---the silent crowd with hearts too full for even farewells---as the train pulled out---and on our way---I can see clearly---so very clearly---that little white-haired woman who suddenly darted from the crowd to gather the lad next me in the line to her breast for a brief, last, straining embrace.

Her arms and her heart hungered for him to stay.

Her splendid spirit bade him go---and gloried in the glory of his going.

It is this spirit which will make our---I say our because I am with you in spirit if not in person---Victory Loan Bond subscription a tremendous and inspiring success.

Over here in France, making our last preparations before going into the trenches, our eyes are watching, our ears waiting for the result.

I wonder sometimes if you are fully aware how great the need is that every one of you put your shoulder and your pocketbook behind this Victory Bond Loan.

In your safety so far from the raw and bleeding truth of this horrible war it might well be that you would not feel the absolute and imperative necessity for Canada's Victory Bond Loan to be away over-subscribed.

Do you not see that by the size of your response to the call for investment in Victory Bonds will our enemies judge the fibre and the character of the Canadian people?

Germany knows the fibre of our fighting men---

It is the people---you, and you, and you---that the enemy is wondering about.

Buying Victory Bonds is the only way most of you can show Germany whether you are a united people or an apathetic people.

I understand, of course, that you will get 5½ per cent. interest on Victory Bonds. But, somehow, I cannot talk to you about these cold financial advantages of Canada's Victory Loan.

The soul of a soldier who counts not the cost even to the extent of giving his life has nothing in common with that of the man or woman who delays to weigh the precise profit of a Victory Bond investment.

My Toronto, my heart is full. I had to try and reach out to you---to try and touch your hearts---make you see what we are seeing over here---make you feel what we feel, whose eyes are saddened daily by the spectacle of German barbarity.

This may be the last letter I will ever write. If it is so divinely directed I want these to be my last words: "All that you can invest, Toronto, invest in Victory Bonds. DO THAT AT ONCE."

Will you help him finish the war---will you help bring him back to Home and Loved Ones?

ITEMS FOR AND ABOUT THE FARMER

IMPORTANCE OF FARM LABOR RECOGNIZED BY GOVERNMENT

Sir Robert Borden Admits Tribunals Have Dealt Harshly in Some Cases and Advises Farmers to Appeal Their Cases Direct to the Minister of Justice—No Province Will Be Favored.

There is an imperative need that farmers clearly understand the intentions of the Military Service Act, and that they keep cool in the face of the acts of apparent injustice on the part of certain of the exemption tribunals. Sir Robert Borden in his speech at London on Thursday, Nov. 22, "I am aware that difficulties have arisen, and that certain tribunals have dealt harshly with men entitled to exemption under the purpose of parliament. If a man can give better service at home he ought to be kept at home. I am satisfied that Canada will send forward the 300,000 men in detachments of 30,000, all out of the class already called out and without disturbance of the national interest. Any man unjustly treated by any tribunal has the right of appeal, and even if the three days allowed for appeal have gone by he may take his case to the minister of justice. It will be brought before the appeal court of the province, and, if necessary, before the supreme appeal judge, Mr. Justice Duff.

"The government has also a remedy and proposes to exercise it in the case of a community, district or province where exemptions have been granted indiscriminately and by wholesale. It is the intention of the Unionist government to see to it that the Military Service Act is administered justly, considerately, impartially and firmly.

Labor Problem Recognized.

Here is the "more exact rendering of the government's intentions" which is desired by so many farmers and voiced by Farm and Dairy. This "exact rendering" is given to us by the prime minister himself, and farmers should closely read it and clearly understand the broad, impartial and sympathetic attitude of the Unionist government towards the farmer. Sir Robert Borden well knows the imperative need of producing and shipping foodstuffs to our gallant soldiers at the front as well as helping to feed the people in the allied countries of not the Italy and Great Britain. It is not the intention of the Unionist government to disturb the labor situation on the farms by the operations of the Military Service Act. It is the intention of the Unionist government to uphold the arms of the farmer, to leave the farmer and the farmer's help on son, therefore, whose application for exemption has been refused by the tribunal, should make his appeal direct to the minister of justice at Ottawa.

CLOSER CO-OPERATION WOULD BE APPRECIATED

Price Paid by Consumer Should Be Brought Nearer That Paid to Producer.

Barring farmers from cutting and selling meat on the market in less quantities than a quarter carcass unless they pay the town council has taken towards driving the farm trade from Walkerton and at preventing the poorer classes here from getting cheaper meat. What farmer, who has a beef to cut up and sell, will pay $10 for the privilege of doing so on the market? And hence as far as the agriculturists are concerned the market will be as empty as an exploded cartridge. As a result, while the nation is urging the producers and the consumers to get closer together and thus assist in reducing the high cost of living, the town council is erecting fresh barriers between the two here. Taxing farmers for selling meat to the poor people in Walkerton is certainly about the puniest war-time measure yet put.

—Bruce Herald and Times.

GREY.

A great crop of sweet clover was grown on the farm of John A. Spelran, 10th con., that attracted no small attention. There were 10 acres of it, from which were threshed 60 bags of seed. As it is worth about $10 a bushel the value of the crop is not difficult to estimate. It was one of the best crops of clover seen for many a day. Deputy Reeve McNabb's machine did the threshing, and it was no light job either.

The Arpent farms, 16th con., known as "Camp Borden," has been receiving considerable attention this fall by the owner's employees, who are transforming them into fine properties.

The auction sale of Wm Livingstone, 10th con., totaled about $2000.

WALDEMAR.

The farmers are making good use of the fine weather these days in finishing up their plowing.

Geo. Gamble is home from the west with two carloads of western cattle.

Mr. Busby is hustling these days looking for the grain and turps that are coming in to the town market.

ONTARIO PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR OUTLOOK

Imported Clydesdales, Herefords, Sheep, Berkshire Pigs and Poultry Classes Have Record Entries.

There are 331 entries in horses, the Clydesdales leading with 157 entries. There are entered 21 aged imported Clydesdale stallions, which is a record entry. The Percherons have a good display, leading with 16 entries in the aged stallion class. The standard breeds have a record entry with 15 entries in the aged stallion class, and the Hackneys are well represented in nearly every section.

In the beef cattle department there are 177 entries, well distributed among the Shorthorn, Aberdeen-Angus and Hereford breeds. The Herefords are making a particularly good showing this year. The grade classes, owing to the fact that only one class for heifers is given classification, are not quite as heavy as last year. In the dairy cattle department the entries are 105 with 74 cows in the dairy test.

In the sheep department there are 522 entries, a record entry for the show.

In the swine department there are 302 entries, the killing class not being quite as heavy as usual, but the breeding classes unusually heavy. The Berkshires are especially heavy.

In the poultry department there are 6100 entries, which is very much ahead of any previous entry.

In the seed section the entries, while not as heavy as last year, the banner year, will likely be up to any other record.

Taking one class with another, the 1917 Winter Fair promises to excel any previous show. The fair is, of course, held at Guelph, and the dates are Dec. 3, 4, 5, 6.

BOBCAYGEON.

The Bobcaygeon cheese factory, which closed its doors on Nov. 2 for the present season, has had a very successful season. Mr. Kelso, cheesemaker, took in over 1,690,000 pounds of milk and manufactured over 73 tons of cheese, which brought in $30,738. The cheese were sold during the summer to Flavell's Limited, being boarded each month by Salesman Isaac Lewis. Two patrons of the factory, Messrs. R. T. Robertson and Jos. N. Taylor, both of South Verulam, and both breeders of Holsteins, drew out over $800, each one coming almost to the thousand dollars.

NEWMARKET.

Thos. Hayes, who went to the west for the harvest, has returned home. He thinks old Ontario is good enough for him.

Geo. Hobson has moved back to town, having sold his farm in Scott.

Newmarket's sixth annual poultry show will be held in the market building, Dec. 11, 12 and 13. The show will be judged by the well-known poultry expert, Geo. Robertson of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa. Not only Mr. Robertson an authority on form and feathers, but also on all problems pertaining to poultry rearing. It is expected that Mr. Robertson will present the last day of the show (Dec. 13) to answer inquiries and assist poultry breeders in any way possible during the limited time at his disposal. Prize lists for the show are now ready, and may be obtained at the show.

Large Supply of Hog Feed Available

The farmers of Canada and the United States are asked to do their utmost to increase the production of hogs in order to relieve the critical situation in regard to the shortage of meat and fats in Great Britain, France and Italy, there being a shortage of 32,425,000 hogs in Europe.

Government Co-operation

The Dominion Government and the Provincial Governments are co-operating in every way possible to bring the gravity of the situation before the farmers of Canada and to safeguard the producers from loss in the undertaking.

Allies Killing Animals

On account of the scarcity of ocean tonnage the Allies are adopting the policy of slaughtering their animals to save the space on the ships occupied by the grain hitherto imported for feeding these animals. They prefer to import bacon rather than to produce it, because a given weight of bacon occupies very much less space on board ship than would be required to accommodate the grain it would be necessary to import for the production of hogs.

Bran and Shorts

By licensing the Flour Mills, the Government allows a profit of but 25 cents a barrel on the flour only—the bran and the shorts are to be sold at cost, which ensures the farmer getting this feed at a moderate price.

Steps have also been taken to prevent the adulteration of bran and shorts.

Bought Through One Channel

The buying of the meat for the Allies will all be done by the one Commission representing the Allies which will be an influence in stabilizing the market and preventing wide fluctuations in price.

United States Corn

The United States has the greatest corn crop in her history—more than 600,000,000 bushels in excess of 1916 and nearly 250,000,000 bushels more than the bumper crop of 1915. The United States will have a large surplus for export which will be available to Canadian producers.

United States Committed

The Allies are dependent upon Canada and the United States to save the meat situation in Europe. Many shops in Britain have no bacon at all for sale—and for some months past the rising price of bacon has been simultaneous with deterioration in quality, indicating an increasing and general scarcity of this commodity.

Because of the shortage of the 1916 crop, and to prevent speculation, the United States has sold its corn under license.

The licensing system will not likely be used in connection with the 1917 crop which will be on the market about the middle of December, but the United States Government will exercise some form of control that will prevent speculation.

World Shortage of Meat

In the meantime, anyone in Canada can import American corn for any legitimate purpose, such as for feed, by obtaining a license. Application for license is made through the Canadian Food Controller.

The world shortage of meat indicates security as to the market. The depletion of the herds of animals in Europe is proceeding with increased rapidity, there now being 115,000,000 less animals in Europe than before the war.

SAVE THE YOUNG SOWS

Their progeny will be a vital factor in winning the war. A young sow slaughtered now will only produce about 150 lbs. of meat. One litter will yield many times that quantity.

United States Committed

The United States has committed itself to increase its hog production by 25 per cent in 1918.

The determination and fighting spirit of the heroic Canadian troops in Flanders is one example of what Canadians can do when called upon. The appeal is to Canada as well as to the United States to provide the boys in the trenches with their daily ration of 1/4 lb. bacon per man, and to supply the women and children of Great Britain, France and Italy with the food they so urgently need.

United States Committed

The United States has committed itself to increase its hog production by 25 per cent in 1918.

SAVE THE YOUNG SOWS

Their progeny will be a vital factor in winning the war. A young sow slaughtered now will only produce about 150 lbs. of meat. One litter will yield many times that quantity.
