Paris Ten Hours On Witness Stand

Attorney General is Not Yet Done With Him.

Defence Witnesses Excluded from Court While Prisoner's Evidence is Being Taken—Goes Over a Good Deal of Ground Again.

John Paris, on trial for the second time, charged with the murder of Sadie Auley in St. John, on August 2, was on the stand when the court resumed this afternoon at one o'clock, after having been under examination since yesterday morning at ten o'clock, making a total of nearly ten hours. Cross examination by Henry J. P. Byrne, attorney general, will continue this afternoon.

Paris did not vary his story under cross-examination except in a few details which did not agree with the evidence given at the first trial at which jury disagreed. Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., assigned the attorney general in the courtroom, while G. H. Vernon of the bar was counsel for the prisoner.

According to an order made yesterday, all the witnesses for the defence were excluded from the court while Paris was being examined. He was freshly shaved with his moustache waxed neatly when he was brought to court, and wore the same clothing as he did since the trial commenced. There were several spectators at the door when he arrived, and on account of the small amount of snow available in the court, none but officials and witnesses were allowed in.

When the attorney general resumed his cross-examination, Paris said it was at 8 o'clock that he was at the office of the Eastern Hat and Cap Co. on August 2. He did not know if he was clean shaven or not.

Asked about the other John Paris, he said he was fifty years of age, and was sitting on his veranda with something wrapped around his shoulders. His work in the Dinwock's land, he said, took about 1/2 hours and he had never seen before.

The work for Mr. Ogilvie of the Eastern Hat and Cap Co. was done in the month of 1920, Paris said. He was not digging holes to set out trees. He said he lived in St. John off of the street for the last nine or ten years, but he could not say how long he was in Truro during the time he worked for Mr. Ogilvie.

He said he did not know Dr. McCurdy, he said, was in the yard house between half and hour and one-half. Paris said he passed the time of day with Dr. McCurdy when the doctor was the way out. Besides the Clyde case but himself and the doctor. The prisoner said he had no brothers.

Paris said that on August 2, when he returned to St. John, he went directly home. Willie Sweet, he said, rowed him across the river.

"Willie Sweet was rowing you across on the evening of the 3rd," said the attorney.

Paris said on the way home after Willie Sweet rowed him across, he saw nobody whom he knew.

REAL WINTER IS WITH US TODAY

Snowfall Amounts to Seven and Half Inches.

Heavy for November—Reports are That the Province Generally Has Been Blanketed With White—Work on City Streets.

St. John took on a genuine winter aspect last night and this morning with a heavy snow fall. During the storm seven and a half inches of snow fell, said to be the heaviest fall in years during November. The thermometer early today registered fourteen above, but at noon had climbed to twenty one.

The Public Works department were forced to extend themselves this morning. They had every available plough sent out to clean the sidewalks and sent teams to narrow streets where drifts interfered with traffic. For the first time people in Millville avenue had their sidewalk ploughed for them and many expressed their appreciation.

A crew of men were put to work shoveling off the sidewalk in Prince Edward street so that the asphaltum could continue work. This is expected to be completed in three days.

The sweepers were kept out keeping the street car tracks clear and first morning the cars were able to operate on schedule time.

Reports from the railways said that the storm had not interfered with their operations to any extent.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 25.—Fredericton has been plunged into mid-winter conditions again by a heavy snowfall which was general all over central and northern New Brunswick last night and is still raging on the north shore today.

The official measurement here this morning was six inches, which brought the total snowfall for November here up to 19 inches. The average snowfall for this month for the last forty years is between five and six inches. In 1894 the total snowfall in November was 19 1/2 inches and in 1903, 24 1/2 inches. The total snowfall in November last year was only 4 1/2 inches.

OLD GLORY SALE BEST IN DECADE

New York, Nov. 25.—(Canadian Press.)—Yesterday, the third and final day of the Old Glory Trotting Horse Sale at Squadron A, armory, was again featured by lively bidding and brisk demand at high prices, while Thanksgiving Day did not reduce the large attendance of the opening day.

The daily average of sales was $100,000 for about 125 head sold each day, thus making the 1921 Old Glory sale the best in more than a decade.

Yesterday's leading consignments were from James R. Magowan of Mount Sterling, Ky., who disposed of thirty head, practically all he owned except the noted stallion and speed sire, J. Malcolm Forbes.

One of yesterday's buyers was H. H. Ingram, of Sherbrooke, Que., who paid $510 for Alice Brooke, b. f., 1917, by Justice Brooke.

SCOTCH CURLERS TO VISIT CANADA

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Scottish curlers will be seen in action on Canadian ice early in the 1922-1923 season in a series of matches against Canadian curlers in various parts of the Dominion from Nova Scotia as far west as Winnipeg.

As Hiram Sees It

Mr. Hiram Hornbush wore his fur cap and mittens this morning, and there was snow in his whiskers.

"Well, sir," he said to the Times reporter, "we got good sleidin' out to the Settlement now. I tell you it's fine to get back an' go along so nice an' slick in the old sleigh, with the robes tucked round you. Makes you feel you'd like to be about forty years younger. Of course, I wouldn't want to be young again unless Hiram was, too—but me an' her was talkin' this mornin' about some of the old sleigh sides when we was courtin'.

Say, Mister, we wasn't courtin' kings or queens, or the folks that goes down south in the cold weather. If I was choppin' in the woods I was thinkin' 'bout Hanner. If she was makin' a quilt or hoodin' a mat she was thinkin' 'bout me. An' when we got them buffalo robes tucked round us an' the shinin' up above—we knowed the Garden of Eden was right out there to the Settlement—Yes, I had a little ketch 'o rheumatism this mornin'—so I guess I ain't as spry as I used to be—but this here good sleidin' made me forget it. Look—here—if you want to see somethin' worth while, come out an' see the country. It's as white an' clean as some of these here politicians try to make you believe they be—By Hen!"

"A miracle," said the reporter.

"Ye, sir," said Hiram.

JAPAN PLACED UNDER REGENCY OF CROWN PRINCE

Tokio, Nov. 25.—Crown Prince Hirohito has been designated regent of Japan.

Designation of Crown Prince Hirohito as regent of Japan follows reports which have been in circulation for a year that Emperor Yoshitomo was in bad health. A despatch to a Honolulu newspaper in May last year reported that he had suffered a mental and physical breakdown. Early last month a rumor that he was dead, was circulated in Tokyo and the imperial household in denying it at that time stated that he was so ill that it was feared he could not recover.

OTTAWA ELECTRIC RAILWAY AND CITY

Tantamount Refusal of Company to Accept Valuation Made.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—(Canadian Press.)—Much interest will be aroused in the local city world by the tantamount refusal of the Ottawa Electric Railway Company to accept a valuation made by the arbitrators appointed by the city council to determine the value of the property.

When the president attempted to speak he was greeted with cries of "coward" and "liar."

An effort to suppress the agitation on the part of the women failed. The anger of the women was aroused during a vote on a statute outlining the Landtag's business procedure. Sixty-four ballots had been taken, all of which were padded. The statute was passed on the sixty-fifth ballot after it had been established that the parties of the Right were guilty of the attempted fraud.

PRINCE'S VISIT TO BOMBAY WAS NOTABLE SUCCESS

London, Nov. 25.—(Canadian Press.)—Surveying the entire stay of the Prince of Wales in Bombay after the prince's departure from the city, the Daily Mail's Bombay correspondent says it was an unqualified success, and every the prince and the people had every reason to be well content that all anticipatory misgivings were swept away by the tumultuous popular reception. Referring to the rioting, the correspondent says:

"I am unaware what impression it made in England. To us here, though deplorable, the whole thing was trivial. If any moral is to be drawn from it, it is that the conditions that would be likely to prevail were there no British authority.

WOMEN FIGHT WHEN VOTE IS PADDED

Members of the Prussian Landtag, angered by cheating during a vote, yesterday, threw sneezing powder and bombs containing foul-smelling gases in the chamber. Afterwards they lit pipes and cigarettes and blew smoke into the face of the president of the Landtag, who had ordered the members to cease smoking.

When the president attempted to speak he was greeted with cries of "coward" and "liar."

Grave and Critical Irish Situation

That Was Official Word as Lloyd George and Craig Today Began Conference Which Lasted an Hour—Griffith of Sinn Fein, and Craig Going to Ireland Tonight.

(Canadian Press Cable.)

London, Nov. 25.—As Premier Craig of Ulster went into conference with Lloyd George this morning, it was admitted officially that the Irish peace negotiations have reached a "grave and critical stage."

Prominent members of the Sinn Fein bore this out. "The situation is too serious for talk," they said. "Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and George Duffy (the Sinn Fein delegates) have gone to Dublin to take council with Mr. DeValera and the Dail Eireann cabinet and to receive instructions as to the attitude they are to adopt. They will return to London on Saturday night to meet Lloyd George after he has received Sir James Craig's reply."

The Situation.

London, Nov. 25.—Hopes for a break in the deadlock in the Irish peace negotiations seemed to hang upon the meeting of Premier Lloyd George, Lord Chancellor Birkenhead and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, this morning. This conference, it was said last night, might be the last attempt of the British premier to induce the Ulstermen to discuss alternative plans which would provide the demands of the Sinn Fein for an all-Ireland parliament.

The Sinn Fein representatives, meanwhile, are in Dublin, Arthur Griffith, Valera being the first since the negotiations began. The Sinn Feiners, it is thought, wish to appraise Mr. DeValera of their recent attitude and to receive instructions as to the attitude they are to adopt. They will return to London on Saturday night to meet Lloyd George after he has received Sir James Craig's reply."

In this connection it became known last night that, contrary to previous reports, Lloyd George at no time had assured the Sinn Fein that they would acknowledge allegiance in return for consent by Ulster to an all-Ireland parliament.

At today's interview Mr. Lloyd George was unable to give Ulster assurance that, even if she agreed to his proposals, the Sinn Fein would admit the point of allegiance to the king as King of Ireland.

Such admission has been refused by the Dail Eireann representatives, who are declared to view Ireland's position solely as that of an independent state which, however, might make treaties with the other states of the British Empire and possibly even acknowledge the King as president of a federation of free states.

This is nothing like the settlement plan the British government had in mind, and it appears that if the Sinn Fein maintains its attitude the negotiations must be broken off, with the resumption of fighting an immediate possibility.

An effort is being made by the moderate element in Ireland to induce the Sinn Fein to modify its views. It is understood, but so far without effect. It was learned last night that Arthur Griffith would not leave on his trip to Dublin until tomorrow.

Ulster members of the imperial government who resigned because of the difference between the government and the Sinn Fein have been continuing their duties at the government's request, and it is not expected that in the event of the failure of the negotiations, acceptance of their resignations will be necessary, as would have been the case if a break came over Ulster's position alone.

London, Nov. 25.—The interview between Ulster premier and Lloyd George today lasted about an hour. Sir James said upon leaving that he was not sure whether there would be another conference this afternoon, but that he was going to Belfast tonight.

Belfast, Nov. 25.—Considerable forces of troops and special police are expected to arrive here today to assist in quelling the disorders which have raged intermittently for the last five days.

The death list for the series of outbreaks stood last night at twenty-seven, in which seven persons were killed and three trams and desultory shooting in which seven persons were killed and three trams were seriously injured.

Two persons were killed and eight injured when a bomb exploded in a load of shiphard workers along Royal Avenue, Belfast. Later two other trams were bombed, three persons being killed and a number seriously injured.

This brings the number of deaths to twenty-five. A man named William Smallwood was arrested charged with the Royal Avenue bombing. He protested his innocence. The crowd tried to lynch him. Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, said last night that he was preparing to take drastic action against the rioters. The Dail Eireann issued a statement last night saying that volunteers had not been sent to Ulster from other parts of the country.

WILL PASS 200 JEWS DETAINED AT HALIFAX

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 25.—Immigration officials here have received word from Ottawa that a change has been made in the order-in-council requiring immigrants to be in possession of passports from their native land, and so fifty of a party of 200 Jews from Poland detained here for more than a month were to be released today. They come from a part of Poland which was once Russia, and have been held here because the immigration regulations did not recognize the new State of Poland, according to an official of the Jewish Aid Society.

Against Eight Hour Day.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 25.—A bill designed to support the eight hour day movement was defeated in the provincial legislature last night.

Mr. Thomas advocated cancellation of war debts between nations to assist trade recovery. This policy is now rapidly becoming an orthodox tenet of both the Liberal and the Labor parties.

CARGO WORKERS TIE UP PORT OF NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, Nov. 25.—The port of New Orleans was completely tied up today by a strike of between 12,000 and 15,000 cargo loaders and handlers who quit work on Monday. About seventy ships are in port awaiting cargo. The public cotton warehouse and ten private warehouses were closed.

FORECASTING ELECTION IN MOTHERLAND

London, Nov. 25.—(Canadian Press.)—The Laborites are still forecasting an early general election, with great persistence. J. H. Thomas, M. P., and leader of the railwaymen's organization, repeated the prediction in a speech at Derby yesterday, but thought a general election at a time when the premier said there were signs of trade revival would be criminal folly. They could not have an election on the Irish issue alone, he said. The House of Commons could give a sufficient mandate on the question as to whether Ireland should remain a part of the empire, but with the status of a nation.

Mr. Thomas advocated cancellation of war debts between nations to assist trade recovery. This policy is now rapidly becoming an orthodox tenet of both the Liberal and the Labor parties.

Re-inforcements

When companies and battalions were depleted during the war reserves were quickly rushed in.

So the season's selling has broken up our selections of ready overcoats at $25, $30 and $35. Instead of buying others we have reduced a number of higher priced ones.

The assortments at these prices are refilled with overcoats that sold at $5 to $10 more.

Mostly Young Men's styles, as the larger proportion of our trade is with young men, but there are plenty of Meltons and other cloths in regular models.

Tailoring of a high order; good fabrics; latest styles; perfect fit; and a saving of five to ten dollars.

THE PARTIES COMPARED.

There is not today, as Premier Murray of Nova Scotia pointed out in a speech in Halifax this week, a single province in Canada with a Conservative government. Is the party which is not regarded by the people as qualified to conduct the affairs of a province any better qualified to conduct those of the Dominion? And is the Liberal party, which is the governing party in all but two of the provinces, not capable of administering Dominion affairs?

MURDOCK TO LABOR.

Mr. James Murdock, the labor leader who is running as a Liberal candidate in South Toronto, and who is well known in labor circles in these provinces, has sent the following telegram to the Sydney Record in response to an enquiry:—

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

The following is a report of a portion of a speech by Premier Murray of Nova Scotia this week:—

A HINT FOR ST. JOHN.

Toronto is taking vigorous measures to cope with the unemployment situation. The Telegram says: "The sub-committee on unemployment relief work is furnishing its report to the Board of Control today. The report states that there is $14,700,485 worth of public works which may be gone on with this winter, including $11,000,000 which the Transportation Commission requires to be done."

LIGHTER VEIN.

Folks and towers. Mrs. Kawler—Those new neighbors of ours must be rich, judging from the clothes they wear.

Guests Drove.

Dave S. stepped into Ed Wise's the other day and asked "the man who knows" for a pair of socks.

All The Way Back.

"Jones went to Maine to get back to nature."

Story Bits About Canadian Authors

When one hears of a London publisher selling the thirty-third edition of a Canadian author's work he may surely conclude that that writer has made a name not only for himself but also for Canada. Such an announcement was recently made by Robert W. Service's London publisher in regard to "Songs of a Sourdough," his first book, and this is all the more remarkable when one notes that until the war took an influx of Canadian boys, who began to talk about Service and his characteristic

BRITAIN'S PRESS AGENT AT THE CONFERENCE

(Mail and Empire, Toronto.) Critics of Great Britain say that for generations her diplomacy has been the best in the world. The Germans blame the alleged hypocrisy of British diplomacy for reconciling the rest of the world to her vast territorial expansions.

THE TROUBLE SHOOTER.

Lord Riddell was one of those British peers who started in the race of life from scratch. He is of humble origin, and, as he says himself, was "shunted into the world without a shilling."

MEIGHEN AND TARIFF.

In the session of 1910-11 Mr. Arthur Meighen, now Premier of the Dominion, moved a resolution in the House that "substantial reductions in the import duties on agricultural implements should be put into effect."

MEIGHEN AND TARIFF.

In ringing tones he declared that the Laurier government "preached a doctrine in which they had no real belief."

A NEW FOREST INDUSTRY.

In these days of lowered prices for farm products anything which gives a farmer another crop is of importance. At the request of the British Forestry Commission, which bears the expense, the Forestry Branch of the Department

BRITAIN'S PRESS AGENT AT THE CONFERENCE

The expert is Lord Riddell, owner of the News of the World, a weekly with a circulation of 3,000,000. He is admitted one of the ablest newspaper men in the world, and a press agent without a peer in Washington.

TORY CANVASSES PUNCTURED BY SIR HIBBERT

(Moncton Transcript.) Sir Hibbert Tupper has been making some speeches in Nova Scotia, having come from the Pacific Coast to do so. Probably it was hoped that he would render some service to the Grand Old Party, but, by all accounts, he has reversed the performance of the prophet Balaam.

SURVIVORS TELL TALE OF DEATH AND DISASTER AT SEA

The crew of one of the late storm victims, the stout little schooner "Vogue" of St. John's (Nfld.), six in number, including the captain and mate, were sheltered at the Seamen's Institute last evening. They arrived from Boston on the noon train, having been landed at that place by the Norwegian steamer Elida Clausen, outward bound from Manchester (Eng.), which picked up the unfortunate men 150 miles from St. John's on the outward journey from Caspou (Nfld.), to Gibraltar, with lumber.

RED CROSS RELIEF

Three calls for relief were made at the Red Cross depot yesterday. One returned soldier came to seek employment. He has a wife and five small children and has been out of work for some time. He was referred to the local branch of the society which deals with such cases. A sailor, who had just come to St. John, and had only this clothing, called at the depot and asked for aid as he had been in the imperial army. He was also sent to the local branch emergency committee. The third emergency case was that of a semi-invalid who had settled in England but who was sent back to Canada. He wanted both work and assistance and he was also sent to the emergency committee. The day before a man came in to ask for bandages. He had been wounded in the knee, and it had been re-opened by a fall a short time ago and he was in need of bandages. The knee was bandaged and he was fitted out with new socks.

YUKON ONE OF GREAT RIVERS OF THE WORLD

Described in Geographic Bulletin as the Mississippi of the North.

"The closing of the Yukon river to navigation because of ice, noted in a press dispatch late in October, serves the double purpose of bringing attention to the attention of stay-at-home Americans one of the greatest of their rivers, which to the majority is probably little more than a name, and of warning of the southward thrust of the icy fingers of winter which will soon grasp the shores and straits of the Great Lakes," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"The Yukon, despite the general failure to recognize it as such, is one of the great rivers of the world," continues the bulletin. "It is over 2,200 miles long and is both the longest and the largest river flowing into the Pacific waters in the Western Hemisphere, surpassing by a considerable margin its nearest competitors, the Columbia and the Colorado. Among all the rivers of North America the Yukon is surpassed in length only by the Mississippi system and the Mackenzie. It is longer than the St. Lawrence as well as all the other rivers except the Mississippi system which flow into the Gulf of Mexico or the Atlantic. Among the Great Rivers of the World, it has not been accurately measured it is its tremendous volume of water rather than its length that causes it to be ranked as a great river. It is of course far outdistanced by the vast Amazon, greatly surpassed by the Congo, which prob-been estimated to have three-fourths of the volume of discharge the Mississippi and if this estimate be accurate the stream which it pours into the sea is probably among the half dozen greatest in the world.

"To Alaska, heretofore having no highway of steel into its interior, the Yukon has been indispensable. Because of the shallow bars at its mouth, ocean steamers cannot enter the river; but at the harbor of St. Michael, just north of the mouth, freight is transferred to shallow draught, stern-wheel river steamers which ascend the stream not only throughout the breadth of Alaska, but for several hundred miles into Canada.

"The Yukon, flowing through Alaska roughly from east to west, divides the territory into northern and southern halves. Large areas along the banks of the river and its tributaries as well as at considerable distances from the stream can thus be served by freight boats. The principle objectives of the river steamers, however, are Dawson, on the Yukon about sixty miles from the mouth and Fairbanks, the 'metropolis' of interior Alaska, near the head of navigation on the Tanana, a tributary of the Yukon. Route of Telegraph Line to Europe.

"The Yukon is an international river, rising nearly 500 miles within Canadian territory, and sweeping in a great arc to the north and east. Although the river is over 2,000 miles long, one of its sources, a small lake, is within twenty-five miles of the salt water to which it makes such a roundabout journey.

"The existence of such a large river as the Yukon in the far north was long unsuspected. A Russian lieutenant, Zagoskin, entered its mouth by boat in 1842 and traversed it for several hundred miles. The Hudson Bay Company had discovered its headwaters in Canada; but the two bits of information were not pieced together. The existence of the river as a stream of great magnitude and length first became really known through the daring and romantic project of installing land telegraph wires between America and Europe across Alaska, Behring Strait and the wastes of Siberia. Robert Kennicott, in connection with this enterprise, blazed the Yukon trail by descending the river in 1896. The first train of steamers ascended the stream in 1899. The Yukon really came into its own with the discovery of gold in the Klondike in 1896.

"The Yukon is not alone in being a great river which has remained in comparative obscurity because of its far northern situation. Just to the east the Mackenzie—a brother stream of hardly less magnitude—which is now also beginning to feel the throttling grip of frost, flowed almost unnoted through a little known wilderness until the discovery of oil along its banks brought it into the lime light. And in the eastern hemisphere three rivers, worthy to be classed among the mightiest streams of the earth—the Ob, the Yenisei and the Lena—four hundreds of thousands of gallons of water into the Arctic each second in a mighty but long battle against the congealing power of cold."

RECONCILIATION BETWEEN ITALY AND THE VATICAN?

(Canadian Press Despatch.) London, Nov. 24—A Central News despatch from Rome says the newspaper Tempo publishes an interview with Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, who is quoted as having asserted that Pope Benedict is ready for a reconciliation with Italy.

The separation of the vatican and the kingdom of Italy occurred in 1870 when the celebrated Pius IX. occupied the papal throne. An army headed by Giuseppe Garibaldi entered the eternal city, and the territory known as the papal states was confiscated by the kingdom of Italy. This historical event is generally referred to as the fall of the temporal power of the popes. Before that time several of the Italian states and a large part of Rome itself was under the direct authority of the pope. The action of the Italian government was felt deeply in church circles, and since that time no pope after his coronation has ever left the grounds of the vatican.

If a reconciliation is accomplished successfully the event will be one of the most important in the history of the modern world and is expected to contribute greatly to the gradual diminution of the extreme radicalism in Italy, which even at the present time is destroying

COL. F. B. BLACK TO BE SENATOR

Ottawa, Nov. 24—Senate and bench are still awaiting the next recruits to be sent them by the Meighen government. Many mouths were open on Monday last for falling plums because the premier was here and had a cabinet meeting. No plums fell, but they will fall before election day. For disciplinary reasons and to keep the hopeful working it is thought best to make the distribution late.

There is one senatorial vacancy for Nova Scotia, and it is thought inadvisable to make the appointment until near election day, because Hon. F. B. McCurdy, minister of public works, wants Peter Martin, the former member from Halifax, to get it, and the Hon. E. K. Spence, minister without portfolio, wants Dr. Farrell, a former Liberal, appointed. Mr. Martin will probably get it, but it is not desired to destroy too soon the friction of Liberals forming a part of the present regime.

Antiquity of Asbestos.

The silky fibre derived from certain rocks which we call asbestos was familiar to the ancient Greeks and Romans, and was commonly used by them to make fireproof rope, and fireproof cloth. These are the uses to which asbestos is chiefly put at the present time. It is now spun so fine that a pound of asbestos will yield two-thirds of a mile of thread. To "wash" a piece of asbestos cloth one has only to put it into fire. That cleans it. Canada's asbestos mines are very valuable.

TRUST THE PEOPLE

A Toronto Globe Expression of Opinion on the Forthcoming Elections.

(Toronto Globe.)
Fears of class conflict and class domination in Canada are much exaggerated by some prophets. One day we are presented with a picture of Canada ruled by farmers, with cities and towns at their mercy. Then, by way of consolation, it is pointed out that the rural districts are much over-represented, and that when this is rectified, and more seats are given to Toronto and Montreal and fewer to the countryside, the farmers will be made to "go away back and sit down." The fact is that any permanent division on such lines is a fantastic idea, which will not be realized. The present state of affairs is temporary and transitional.

It is true that the rural districts are over-represented, and the cities under-represented. It is true also that recently the cities and towns suffered no practical grievance because the farmers did not use their power to elect members of their own to anything like the full extent. The proportion of farmers in the late House of Commons was far less than the proportion of farmers in the community. The proportion will undoubtedly be increased by the Farmers' political movement. But that movement will not give the Farmers a majority of the House of Commons; it will probably not even elect a House of Commons in which farmers will be represented in proportion to their numbers. Suppose that in the next redistribution there should be an exact representation by numbers. The rural representatives would be in a majority, judging by the last census, which gives a rural population of 3,925,879 and an urban population of 3,280,968. Judging by the Ontario returns, the next census will show less difference, the cities and towns having gained at the expense of the country. Taking the population by provinces, we find that by the census of 1911 the rural population is in a majority everywhere but in Ontario and British Columbia.

If the idea of occupational representation were to prevail and grow it would hardly stop with the farmers, nor would the only division be between city and country. The workers of Canada are classified as follows in the census of 1911:

Agriculture, 933,735.
Building trades, 346,207.
Domestic and personal service, 214,012.
Civil and municipal government, 76,604.
Fishing and hunting, 34,812.
Forestry, 49,914.
Manufactures, 491,342.
Mining, 62,767.
Professional, 120,616.
Trade and merchandising, 283,087.
Transportation, 217,544.

It is not to be expected that each of these classes would seek occupational representation, but a strong Labor movement such as has arisen in Great Britain and Australia is not beyond the bounds of probability, and would be a natural development of the occupational idea. We do not, however, apprehend anything like a class conflict of a kind that would imperil either peace or progress. Farmers, for instance, would find that their interests sometimes agreed, sometimes differed, with those of workers in cities. Nor is it certain that the occupational idea will be permanent. Not long ago it was generally agreed that the two-party idea was as much a fixity as our institutions. We have seen it displaced by the group idea, which may give us three groups not far from equality in numbers. We do not know that that will endure, or what may be the outcome of the present conditions.

We live in a period of transition. Men and women are in an inquiring frame of mind, examining new and old ideas, disposed to follow their own judgments, rather than opinions bearing the stamp of authority and tradition. We must accept that condition. The franchise has been granted practically to all men and women, and we must be prepared to see that democratic idea carried to its logical conclusion. Millions of individual judgments will determine the result of the election and the quality of the next House of Commons. Edmund Burke said that it was useless to quarrel with the people, because there was no other material to work with. With universal franchise the truth of his saying is emphasized. We must trust the people and await without fear the result of their verdict.

THE SAME OLD POSTERIOR STORY

To the Editor of The Halifax Chronicle: Sir—I went to hear Sir George Foster at the Casino the other night and while a movie show might be more exciting it was still a pleasure to listen to the eloquence of the old war horse.

About two score years ago I listened to the then Hon. George E. Foster in a political speech at Moncton and he said it felt very deeply the possible results of the contest because the elections were the most important ever held or likely ever to be held in Canada. The Senatorial Knight has been saying the same thing at every election since and if the old gentleman is spared, as we hope he may be for other elections yet to come, no doubt every one of them will be the most important in the history of the Dominion. He must therefore not be taken too seriously.

All must agree with him, however, that the elections in 1896 were the most important ever held because they resulted in the return to power of the Liberals and the introduction of the most prosperous era in the history of our country. Hon. Mr. Foster was replaced as finance minister by Hon. Mr. Fielding, whose political opponents even grudgingly admit was the greatest, the ablest, the most successful finance minister that ever held that office since the inception of the Dominion. The general public realize that Fielding is essentially a safe man and they almost universally desire to have him back on the job, doing business at the old stand, and getting Canada out of her present slough of despond. When this comes to pass it will be the dawn of returning prosperity.

Proposals were to be submitted to the government in this regard.

CENTRAL W. M. S. CRUSADE DAY

The W. M. S. of the Central Baptist church held its annual Crusade Day yesterday, observing the occasion with a special meeting in the afternoon and an open meeting in the evening, when Miss Martha Clark and Dr. Zella Clark, returned missionaries from India, were the speakers. Miss Edith Allen, the president, was in the chair at both sessions. Refreshments were served in the afternoon and the mite boxes were opened. In the evening Mrs. F. H. Bone, the pastor's wife, was on the platform with the president. The two missionaries spoke very interestingly of their work in India and special music was enjoyed. Solos were sung by D. Thorne and Miss Nila Brown.

A pleasing incident of the evening session was the presentation of life membership certificates to three new life members by Mrs. F. H. Bone. Those who received the certificates were: Mrs. George Scalpin, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. E. Ellison. The mite box receipts and the collection taken totaled $35.35.

CAPTURING A NEW MARKET.

Canada's flour is the standard of the world. This is pretty generally admitted. One citizen of the United States, on every visit he makes to Canada, carries home, under strict instructions from his wife, a number of loaves of bread, the claim being that no bread obtainable in the United States can approach that made from Canadian flour. As an instance of the increasing popularity of Canadian flour, it is interesting to note that Dr. A. H. Stafford, born in Winnipeg but for some time past domiciled in Jamaica, recently said that until the steamships "Canadian Forester" and "Canadian Fisher" of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine Service came into Kingston last spring, every pound of flour used on the island came from the United States. Now it all comes from Canada. This very valuable market for Canadian products has been captured by three ways, Dr. Stafford affirms: First, the fact that Canada had ships to deliver it there; second, the quality of the flour itself, and third, the fact that the people of Jamaica desire closer commercial and social relations with the people of Canada.

There was a slim attendance at the Conservative meeting held last night in the Manor House at Glen Falls, owing to bad weather conditions. The chairman of the meeting was J. P. Clayton and the speakers were Colonel Murray MacLaren, Lieut.-Col. W. H. Harrison and S. W. Palmer.

WEST END SCOUTS' ENTERTAINMENT

The Boy Scouts of the First Presbyterian church, West St. John, No. 4 troop, with an enrollment of fifty, gave a fine entertainment last night in their room in the church and had a large and appreciative audience. It was a well-planned social, when the patrons paid according to their girth and the percentage of substantial citizens in the audience was gratifyingly large and the proceeds correspondingly great. The chairman of the evening was the Chaplain, Dr. J. A. Morrison, the minister of the church, and the programme was given under the direction of the scout master, W. W. Allingham, assisted by the assistant scout master, J. S. Williamson. After the opening remarks by the chairman the programme was given as follows: Violin solo, Scout Allen; vocal solo, W. T. Lanyon; recitation, Scout Bodley; piano solo, Miss Marion Smith; demonstration of first aid by Patrol Leader Keith Young and Scouts Craft, Allen, Bodley, McVicar and McCavour, who did the bandaging for a broken jaw, a broken forearm and a broken thigh; reading by J. L. Robinson; comic entertainment by J. L. Cameron. The final number was a very realistic camp scene in which all the members of the troop took part and for which all scenic details were admirably attended to. During an interval in the programme refreshments were served and the tea used was kindly donated. The programme closed with the National Anthem. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used to buy equipment for the troop. Miss Margaret Newcombe, as accompanist, added materially to the evening's success.

FAIR PRIZE WINNERS. At the L. O. G. T. fair being held in Murray street the prize winners last evening were as follows: Door prize, pair of lard, ticket No. 88, unclaimed; ladies' bean toss, sofa cushion, Miss M. Crandell; men's bean toss, pair of gloves, Charles Fullerton. The door prize this evening will be a load of hardwood.

SIGNIFICANT STRAWS IN THE CAMPAIGN. (Sydney Record) There have been significant events in newspaper circles in Ontario within the past few weeks. For instance, the Kingston Whig, a Liberal journal which announced some time ago that because of doubts of the wisdom of certain provisions of the Liberal policy it would not support Hon. Mackenzie King in this campaign, has become convinced that its doubts were without good reason and is now energetically supporting the Liberal candidate in Kingston. Toronto Saturday Night, a weekly periodical of high standard which has been aggressively supporting the Meighen Government, has recently changed front and adopted a neutral attitude. The Maclean publications, Toronto journals of important influence, hitherto known as favorable to the Conservative cause, are now outspoken in their criticism of many of the attacks upon Hon. Mr. King and the Liberal Party, and are frankly critical of the

N. H. S. LADIES PLAN FOR WINTER. The executive of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society met yesterday afternoon in the society's rooms in Union street and made plans for the winter activities. Mrs. W. H. Shaw, the president, was in the chair and there was a good attendance. Returns from the fall course of lectures were not quite complete but so far as received were satisfactory. Conveners were appointed to take charge of the Ladies' Association's part in the annual conversation and tentative arrangements were made for the lectures in the winter course for which the association is to be responsible. Among the speakers suggested as possibilities were Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, Mrs. T. N. Vincent and Mrs. John Sealy. Two new members were added to the executive,

Mrs. W. P. Bonnell and Mrs. T. N. Vincent. Mrs. R. O'Brien wrote to regret her inability to act on the executive and her letter was regretfully received. An appeal for Armenian relief was read and it was decided to take no action as the association is not a philanthropic one.

POLITICAL NOTES

Humboldt, Sask., Nov. 24.—(Canadian Press staff correspondent)—Announce by the chairman as "the hired man's representative," Hon. T. A. Cress, the Progressive leader, told his audience here last evening that after six weeks' campaigning he had found everywhere a profound interest in the new movement. The movement, he said, had its origin nineteen years ago in Saskatchewan. It amounted to a widespread aspiration for greater purity and a higher degree of efficiency and economy in public administration.

Mr. Cress referred to the Price Waterhouse audit of terminal elevators in 1918. In the season of 1919 and he thought of 1920, the government was asked for a copy of the report. It had finally been announced that the report had not been made public. Yet, Mr. Cress said he would like to know how the government campaign managers had been able to secure the document in order to use an extract from it for their own particular ends.

In regard to the premier's proposal of a voluntary wheat pool with directors appointed, and financing done by the government, he doubted very much its value. If there were any merit in a wheat board, it lay in the control of the grain in order to feed the market as required.

King Still Fighting.

Woodstock, Ont., Nov. 24.—That nothing was further from his mind than letting any government candidate win a seat in this election which could be taken by the Liberals, was a statement by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, last night in answer to a dispatch to the effect that the Liberal candidate in Marquette, Man., had entered the fight to split the vote and let General Hugh Dyer, government candidate, win. According to the dispatch received here, it was said that instructions were issued by Mr. King, that a Liberal was to be placed in the field against General Dyer and Hon. T. A. Cress, to split the vote with that purpose.

"I urged that Liberals be placed in the field everywhere," Mr. King said, "in order that people who believed in Liberal principles might have an opportunity of voting for those principles, but certainly there was no idea of splitting the

The Kidneys

The office man and the outdoor worker suffer alike from derangements of the kidneys. Backaches and headaches are among the symptoms. In some cases Bright's disease soon develops, others suffer from high blood pressure until hardening of the arteries sets in.

In order to forestall painful and fatal diseases, prompt action should be taken at the first sign of trouble. Mr. A. D. MacKinnon, Kirkwood, Inverness county, N.S., writes:

"I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to all suffering from weak kidneys. I suffered from kidney disease for a long time. I may also say that for three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and no treatment seemed to do more than afford temporary relief. I was finally sold of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using a few boxes was completely relieved. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment with its best results, and never fail to recommend these wonderful remedies."

ELEPHANTS STARTLE CROWDS IN STATION

(New York Times.) Four passengers, whose weight aggregated more than twenty tons, left Grand Central Terminal on the midnight train for Boston last night. The passengers whose unexpected appearance on the main level of the station caused considerable excitement among several hundred persons waiting for trains were elephants, who had just completed an engagement at the Forty-fourth street theatre and were on their way to open an engagement in Boston this afternoon. To reach the tracks Tilly, Foss, Clara and Pitt descended the taxicab driveway which runs under the Biltmore Hotel, stooped under two seven-foot door-ways and passed through the waiting room to the side-door elephant sleeping car, which had been hoisted up on track 80.

Ordinarily elephants entering and leaving New York city by railroad detain at the Matt Haven freight yards, but this would have necessitated cutting last night's performance to get the elephants into Boston in time for today's matinee. The railroad officials gave John T. Robison, the owner permission to take the elephants through the station if he could manage it. Tilly is twelve feet tall with head erect, and the others are nearly as large.

Accompanied by their trainer, Curley Noonan, the elephants left the theatre in the usual tail-and-trunk marching formation, which is the elephantine method of holding hands, descended the slope of the taxicab tunnel without difficulty, and halted in front of the first door. Tilly, the leader, stuck out one of her forelegs tentatively, dipped almost to her knees, gave a shimmey-like wriggle, to get her massive shoulders through, and dragged her hind legs after. The other three followed suit, without breaking formation.

The second doorway leading to the tracks was passed with equal ease. In the opinion of interested members of the theatrical profession, no elephant stunt approaching it has been accomplished since Postmaster General Will H. Hays introduced a living emblem of his party at a convention in an Indianapolis hotel, when he was the Republican State Chairman of Indiana in 1914.

First Rubber Factory in Canada. Built in Montreal, 1854. The Canadian Rubber System covers this area.

To some people rubbers are just rubbers. They think so little of comfort and wear, that they say: "I want a pair of rubbers" and take anything that happens to go over their shoes.

As a matter of fact, there is as much difference in the quality of rubbers as in cigars or silk stockings, with practically no difference in price.

Premier Briand, Sailing for Home, Makes Comment on Speech of Lord Curzon re France and Germany—China Matter Today.

(Canadian Press.) Washington, Nov. 25.—Belief was gaining ground today among foreign delegates that the armament and Far Eastern questions might adjourn the first fortnight of December to give time to the delegates to go home for Christmas.

FREIGHT HANDLERS ACCEPT REDUCTION

An amicable settlement of the differences between the Freight Handlers' Union and the Canadian Pacific Railway was arrived at yesterday afternoon when representatives of the union held a conference with J. M. Woodman, district superintendent of the C. P. R., in the latter's office. It was agreed that the rate to be paid this season should be forty-eight cents per hour. This compares with fifty-eight cents paid last year, the reduction being in line with that accepted by the longshoremen. Working conditions will be satisfactorily settled.

GROWING TIMBER ON THE FARM
Timber is essentially a poor-land crop. Steep slopes, poor soil, rocky land, unusual corners, gullied and wooded tracts—all these afford opportunities for growing timber profitably. A careful survey of the average farm will reveal a surprising number of spots of this sort which can be utilized to advantage if they do not already have trees, planting them with the proper varieties will materially increase the value of the land.

HEARTBURN A SEVERE CASE

Many people are troubled with heartburn who really do not realize just what it is. In cases of this trouble there is a growing and burning pain in the stomach attended by disturbed appetite. It is generally caused by great acidity of the stomach, and whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment and become extremely sour, causing heartburn. In such cases vomiting often occurs, and what is thrown up is sour and sometimes bitter.

The one way to get rid of heartburn is to keep your liver active by using MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles such as constipation, sandstone, water brash, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, foul breath, etc.

Miss Agnes Cutting, Shallow Lake, Ont., writes: "I have had heartburn for a long time. There were gnawing and burning pains in my stomach, and then when I vomited there was a sour and bitter taste. I used two vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and I have cleared me of my heartburn. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine."

PUSSY WILL AID EX-SERVICE MEN

Profits from Cat Show Go to Disabled Soldiers' Association—Lauder to Help.

(Montreal Herald)
It is hoped that Lady Williams-Taylor, accompanied by Sir Harry Lauder, will be able to open the cat show given by the Canadian Cat-Fanciers' Association.

Possibly Sir Harry Lauder will sing against one of his own records on the McLagan Phonograph, which may be donated and later perhaps auctioned by a kitchen cabinet which has been kindly donated by Messrs. Woodhouse & Co.

After expenses have been covered, all proceeds remaining will be given to the Disabled Soldiers' Association of Montreal. This association will have a booth at the show and will sell handicraft.

About fourteen cats have been presented including one from Lady Williams-Taylor. This is a special cup and is to be won by the best Blue Persian. Various money prizes have also been given, including $11 to be reserved strictly for the common cats shown by the children in four prizes, $5, $3, $2, $1. The object of this is to encourage kindness among children for stray and other homeless cats.

Seven-Toed Cat.
About 200 entries are expected and all returns are in. Among the 86 entered by Dr. Etienne alone are two Angora cats from Belgium, a Manx cat from the Isle of Man, 4 Persians from Detroit, others from Detroit, Toronto, Ottawa and New York. A seven-toed cat is among the curiosities. One of the most celebrated cats is a blue-black Persian, great-great grandson of the famous Black Thorn, who was

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It.
In the year of 1898 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-Acute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

"I had sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints."
I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address, and I will send it and it has proven itself to be long looked for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, One Dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer, when relief is thus offered you free. Don't delay. Write today.

IS FULL OF LIFE AND ENERGY NOW

Halifax Man Advises People With Stomach Trouble How to Get Relief.

"My health was restored by Tanale last winter and ever since then I have depended on it to keep me in good condition," said Harry Faulkner, 6 Cunard Court, Halifax, N. S.

"The first thing I noticed wrong with me was that after every meal I began to have a tight, stuffy, bloated feeling. As time went on, the discomfort increased until I got to where I suffered positive torture no matter what I ate. Mrs. Edward Kincaid, 60 Bryden St., St. John, N. B., writes: "I wish to express my hearty thanks to your valuable remedy, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and what good it did me. Last fall I contracted a severe cold, the like I never had, my head and nostrils were so clogged up I could get no vent, and could scarcely get my breath. I tried remedy after remedy until at last I thought I would try "Dr. Wood's." After the first dose I felt relief, and by the time the bottle was finished I was all better. I will always keep it in the house."

NEW YORK POLICE RAID LUXURIOUS DEN

Richly Clad Patrons Escape from Chinese Opium Resort.

New York, Nov. 25.—Armed with axes and crowbars, detectives of Deputy Police Commissioner Simon's squad, early today, beat their way through an iron-clad door into a sumptuous furnished apartment on the fourth floor of a five-story tenement in Canal street, where five Chinese were taken.

They found an opium den such as those pictured in the average fiction story of the Chinatown underworld.

Forty men and women escaped by way of the fire escapes through a secret trap door while the detectives were beating their way into the room.

When the detectives rushed into the room, they saw men and women, some of the latter richly clad, rushing out through a secret trap door. The detectives confined their attention to the Chinese, who, they felt assured, were conducting the establishment.

TURKEYS GIVE WAY TO PORK.
Tendency to Boycott Birds Because of Price is Noted in Boston.

Boston, Nov. 25.—A tendency on the part of the public to boycott turkeys because of high prices and turn to pork as the principal setting for the Thanksgiving dinner was noted today by the State Commission of Necessaries of Life and by market men. Conditions, the commission said, should force a drop within forty-eight hours.

Retail dealers, who in most instances are asking sixty-five and seventy cents a pound for choice birds, said the demand was not nearly as large as usual. Regular customers were in many instances ordering turkey, they said, but there was little transient trade.

In summarizing the result of an investigation of market conditions the commission said:

"From government reports and reliable trade authorities there appears to be a large supply of turkeys in the country this season. In spite of the general liquidation of food costs during the last year, and especially corn, the price of turkeys in the Boston market is practically the same this year as last year.

"Should the present high prices be maintained, either by the farmers or the jobbers, it will act as a 'boomerang' to their financial loss. With the boycott of

ENGLISH GIRL—Sorry you are losing your good color, but that is because of our climate. It is so much drier than it is in England, and dry climate is ruinous to a good color. The best thing you can do is to massage your face well each night and morning with CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM and particularly after each washing. I would also recommend you to use it for your hands. It will keep them soft and white and prevent redness and chapping. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any Druggist, see a large bottle.

HIS CAR HITS ANOTHER
Owen Sound, Nov. 25.—Dr. J. Herhey, a well-known physician of that district, died suddenly while driving a automobile in the busiest section of the city. He collided heavily with a light car. Following the impact, Dr. Herhey was found to be dead, and it is thought that he died before the collision took place.

BRIDGE AND DANCE.
An enjoyable bridge and dance was held on Wednesday evening at the Manor House by the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, about eighty being in attendance. A special car took the party from the city about eight o'clock, returning an hour after midnight. Dainty refreshments were served and music was provided by an orchestra. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Williams. The dance was a most successful affair.

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors, but they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."
—Mrs. P. HUSSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to try it.

A Ticklish Point

There is a trifling disadvantage to daily newspaper advertising which those who sell other forms of publicity use for all it is worth, and trust that the prospect will not reason too far to refute it.

That is: the absence of color. They point to certain other forms of advertising and say: "Look, you can show your product big and in color so that he who runs may read."

That's good selling argument from their point of view. But stay! Is the running reader apt to gather the impression which the advertiser intends? May not the impression be too cursory? Will it be seen at all?

The fact is that the daily newspaper is the Great Intimate Human Medium.

Insofar as the woman in the Home is concerned, it is her only point of contact with what is going on in the outside world. From the birth of a neighbor's baby to the marriage of a King's daughter it is her news mentor—the loom that weaves for her the knowledge of what is going on.

This is the Time of Times for concentration upon Daily Newspaper Advertising. Daily Newspaper Advertising is the most powerful vehicle of publicity yet given to the use of man. It is the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End of all successful advertising.

Advice as to the best ways and means of doing Newspaper Advertising will be given to those who inquire of us; or, consult any recognized advertising agency—a list supplied on request.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Sals before breakfast if you Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uretic which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork; become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney troubles, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizziness, nervous spells, acid stomach or you have rheumatism, when the weather is bad get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Sals; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set free.

This famous Sals is made from the acid of grapes and cranberry juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Sals is inexpensive, cannot be abused, makes a delightful effervescent little-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any day.

You know yourself when you are away from home how much it gladdens your heart to get a sight of your local paper. Do you read it—you do!

Well, just what your newspaper means to you, other persons' newspapers mean to them.

If every paper in this country published a ten-line display advertising paragraph reflecting upon your integrity, do you think you could offset it by using all the billboards, street cars and circular advertising available?

Get the point!
The world could get along without billboards, street car cards, booklets, circulars and a thousand and one other forms of publicity, but it could not get along without its daily newspapers.

NICK WONDERS WHY MONTREAL POLICE MADE ALL THE FUSS

(Montreal Herald) The happiest go-lucky individual to lay a complaint at headquarters appeared this morning in the person of Nick Engine, of Regina, on his way to Luxembourg. Nick came to Montreal with $125, a passport, a gold watch, his steamship ticket and small change. He will stay here for some time hoping the detectives to trail the stolen articles and the four men who held him up to get his belongings. Four men waylaid him on St. Antoine street last night. When he told his name, Engine, he joined in the laugh which followed the advice. "You should put on more steam." He came back with something about a "Dummy Engine," said he must have had a heavy freight on board and that "My Dad, the Engineer," was asleep. He tried to remember the number of his watch and gave up. The denomination of the stolen bills he guessed at, and when told that he should have taken note of the bank issuing the bills, said, "To H— with the money, I need it alright, but what's the use of all the fuss over it?"

ONLY FEW MATCHES AND BAR OF SOAP IN SUICIDE'S POCKET

New York, Nov. 25.—Only a few matches and a bar of soap were found in the pockets of an unknown man who plunged beneath the wheels of a subway train at the Times Square station and was instantly killed. Shabbily dressed in a worn black suit and a gray woolen sweater, the man was apparently one of the city's workless thousands, but whether he jumped to his death or fell by accident could not be determined. Theatre crowds on their way home thronged the long platform at Times Square when the tragedy occurred. Many women fainted and had to be carried up to the street by their escorts.

LUMBER PRICES CUT.

Reduction of From $2 to $10 Per 1,000 at Ottawa. Ottawa, Nov. 25.—A drop in price from $2 to $10 per thousand has taken place in the Ottawa lumber market, and principally affects the manufacturers' quotations to the wholesalers. The decrease, while not general in all grades of wood, applies to practically all grades of pine. Good pine siding, shorts and good pine dressing stock are the grades to show the greatest reduction, and have come down $10 a thousand feet in price. The drop in the price of lumber, wholesalers say, is caused by the small amount of trading that has gone on in the market this fall, with the result that the turnover in stocks has been considerably less than in other years.

TELEPHONE DANCE.

The staff of the New Brunswick Telephone Company held one of their series of dances planned for the winter months in their rooms in Prince William street last evening and all who attended, despite the stormy weather, were loud in their praises of the efficient committee which staged the entertainment, for providing such a fine programme of dances and for the refreshments which were served at the close as well. The music was furnished by an orchestra, and George Stinson acted as floor manager. The committee in charge last evening was under the chairmanship of G. E. Elliott. He was assisted by H. Boyd, H. Dakin, Miss K. Shaw, Miss S. Stevens, Miss G. Whippley and Miss Moran.

NORWEGIAN HAY HUNG UP TO DRY ON RUDE FENCES

Visions of Beauty—A Clear, Cool, Deep Lake Surrounded by Lofte Mountains, Snow-capped in Places.

It has been said, and with a good deal of truth, that the Bratland Valley is one of the most picturesque stretches of scenery in Norway. The road, which is hewn out of the bare face of the rock, was only completed a little more than twenty years ago, and before that the valley was quite inaccessible. Here and there, it is carried through tunnels, where the overhanging rock extends almost to the margin of the river-bed, and the whole impression conveyed to the mind is one of imposing grandeur.

Once at the top of the hill the scenery became more placid, and almost pastoral, save for the presence of the eternal mountains. The sides of these mountains were dotted on either hand with a number of little hillside farms, or gaards, soon to become a familiar feature to the traveler in Norway. Sometimes, where the hills were steep, they extended far up towards the crest; in other places the valley became almost flat, and the farms were practically level with the road. There are no fences or hedges along this or any other Norwegian road, and nothing apparently to mark the boundaries of the farms. Fruit trees often overhang the road itself, offering temptation to the passing traveler or the casual wayfarer.

A word as to these farms. Here the Norwegian peasant moves and lives and has his being, eking out a mere self-supporting livelihood. In summer they look picturesque enough. The chief means of this self-support is the hay crop, or rather crops, for they get two, the second and smaller crop in October.

The peculiar, though eminently sensible, method of drying the hay gives to these farms their unique appearance, making them such a noticeable and, therefore, as I have said, such a familiar feature of the landscape. Two stakes are driven in some twelve feet apart, such about the height of a man, and other stakes are nailed to them crosswise (occasionally wires are used), the whole forming a sort of hurdle. These hurdles are placed in every available position, some distance apart from one another, and on them the grass is hung to dry. Thus the hillside appears to be covered, whenever there is an open space, with a succession of isolated grass fences, which makes it look absurdly like a steeplechase course. Even when one knows the meaning of these odd-looking erections, the effect is still a strange and almost a humorous one.

Cattle on Hill Top. In the summer you see practically no cattle on the farms, as they are all sent up to the hilltop, "driven to the saeter," as it is called. The saeter is a hut (or huts) built for the girls who live here during the summer months in order to look after the cattle, and to make the butter and cheese.

The placid journey went on with a sense of deep repose that was only interrupted by the jolting of the stolljaerre. A vision of beauty lay unfolded as we approached the narrow Ljonevand, a picturesque lake dominated in the distance by the high Ljonehals, a mighty cliff that has been worn quite smooth by the action of the river. The warm air was redolent of peace; hardly a breath of wind was stirring, and the absence of bird song served to accentuate the silence. A hare darted across the road, almost the only sign of animal life I had seen that morning. The rabbit, so ubiquitous in many other countries, is to total stranger to Norway. A few evil-looking crows were circled overhead or alighted by the roadside, chattering in their own uncouth fashion. It was a moment of dream, and dream. The sudden stopping of the stolljaerre brought me back, mentally, to earth. My driver was standing up behind me and pointing ahead of us.

The vision of the Ljonevand quickly faded from my memory, for here was another vision, a hundred times more beautiful. Before me was the Roldalavand, a lake of incomparable beauty, surrounded by lofty mountains, snow-capped in places. It lay—a thine of glittering glory in the sun—calm, cool, and deep, its clear waters a mirror for the most wonderful reflections. So clear these waters are that one could almost see to the bottom for some way out from the shore, and spy the baby trout disporting themselves.

The first transports of enthusiasm over the driver sat down again, well pleased with the effect he had created, and we proceeded. The road skirted the full length of the lake, and I was able to feast my eyes on its recumbent beauties for a most half-hour. Above us, on the left, stood the Rindford Hotel, on the site of the old routine station of Thorpe. This was my halting-place for the lunch, and a chance of horses, — available in Norway," Harold Simonsen

Machinery Inadequate For Child Welfare Work

President of Children's Aid Society Sets Forth Need for Mothers' Allowances, Provincial Superintendent, Probation Officer and Care for Mental Defectives—Officers Elected at Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held in the Children's Aid Home, 68 Garden street, last night with the president, A. M. Belding, in the chair. Election of officers resulted as follows:—President, A. M. Belding; first vice-president, Mrs. W. B. Tennant; second vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Doody; third vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Secord; secretary, Rev. George Scott. Appointment of a treasurer in succession to the late James Patterson was deferred until the next meeting.

The annual reports of the president and agent were, on motion, referred to the incoming executive. Before the election of officers, Mr. Belding intimated his desire to resign from the presidency. Those present, however, were unanimous in refusing to consider the matter, and Mr. W. M. Duke and David Hipwell spoke in high terms of the work done by Mr. Belding while in office. Representatives were appointed for the Woman's Council. They were—Mrs. W. B. Tennant, Miss Pratt, Miss Annie O'Neill and Miss Sinclair.

President's Report.

The report of the president, A. M. Belding, was as follows: I desire to repeat at the outset the plea made in previous years for a provincial system of mothers' allowances. Such a system, properly administered, would enable many good mothers to keep their homes instead of having them broken up and the children scattered. I would repeat also the plea for a provincial superintendent of neglected and dependent children. Four agents and myself have many appeals from places outside the jurisdiction of this society, or those of Fredericton and Moncton, and some are very pathetic cases; but because there is no Children's Aid Society and Children's Shelter in this county, town or village, there is no machinery to bring the law into prompt action. A provincial superintendent would organize such societies, appeal to the municipal authorities, get shelters provided, and himself have authority to act in any case in any part of the province. It is not easy to understand the widespread apathy in regard to these matters. If we must have fire wardens and game wardens, surely we should also have child wardens, to conserve the greatest asset of the province. May I be permitted also to remark once more that until St. John has a fully equipped juvenile court with probation officer it cannot deal effectively with the problem of juvenile delinquency. There is also need of a police woman to protect the girls of tender years whose parents are indifferent to or ignorant of their conduct in the streets at night.

That your agent should have to place eight children in institutions within a week, and that seven of these should be deserted by their mothers, emphasizes a condition which is the despair of child-welfare agencies. The chief aim of mother who is only too ready to rid herself of the care of her children presents a problem with which it is extremely difficult to deal. A number of such cases have been brought to our attention during the last few weeks. Mothers' allowances would be of no benefit in these cases, unless under a very close supervision, because the maternal instinct appears to be lacking. It is a distressing fact that such mothers are found, and they present a social problem of grave significance, which calls for the devotion and influence of sympathetic social workers constantly following up such cases. I may add that of five children taken into our care today four were of school age, and while three had been at school, the eldest being twelve years old, none of them had not been in the first grade. This suggests the need of stricter enforcement of the compulsory attendance law in this city, as the case cited is by no means an isolated one.

Effect of Prohibition. Our society, since the advent of prohibition, has not been called upon to deal with such glaring cases as formerly when police raids left groups of helpless children to our care; but there are still many cases of neglect to be dealt with, and the extent and value of the work done from day to day and week to week cannot be shown by any set of figures, especially as our aim is not to break up but if possible to build up the home, and only in hopeless cases is the law invoked.

One of our troubles at the moment is that of finances. Last January, knowing the many demands upon the municipal treasury, and hoping for generous support from private sources, we asked for a grant far short of our actual needs. Our hopes were not fulfilled, but we now trust that the tag day to be held by our ever sympathetic friends of the Local Council of Women will meet our needs until the next grant is made.

While the total of our expenditures is large, it must be remembered that the children who are brought to our Home need special care and good nourishment. We are especially fortunate in having our present matron in charge, and the whole work of the Home, under the careful supervision of our ladies' committee, is well conducted. There has been very little sickness, and no epidemics during the past year. I am sure that every member of the board would appreciate it if more of the citizens found time occasionally to visit the Home and see for themselves what it is doing for the children committed to our care.

Because there is not sufficient accommodation in other institutions we are constantly being asked to take children who should be otherwise provided for. We have to explain over and over again that this is not a boarding house for children, although in extreme cases we have had to provide a shelter, and have now in the Home a number of little ones not committed by the courts. If there were a home where children could be placed to board, under proper care, in the many emergency cases that arise, it would serve a real and pressing need, for the orphanages are not large enough to take care of all that need a temporary home while a mother is in hospital, or when for some other adequate reason they cannot be looked after in their own home.

The problem of the mental defective is still with us, and cannot be dealt with in a satisfactory way until a home for the feeble-minded is provided; and it should be a properly equipped provincial institution. One grows weary of referring the list of our shortcomings as a people in relation to child-welfare, but some progress has been made, and it is well to maintain a hopeful frame of mind.

This year, as last, I desire to pay tribute to the faithful and fruitful work of our agent, Rev. George Scott, and my most sincere thanks to the members of the board for hearty and cheerful co-operation, and a devotion to the work which I feel has been more active throughout the year than my own.

Agent's Report.

In his annual report the agent, Rev. George Scott, referred to the unselfish services rendered by Dr. McAlpine, as well as by Dr. McGregor, who kindly volunteered their services. While there was no serious outbreak of sickness in the home there were innumerable calls on these two gentlemen which were answered cheerfully and promptly. He also acknowledged his indebtedness to the police department of the city whose services were always willingly rendered. The commissioner of public safety, too, had in many ways aided him in his work. The actual hearing of cases, Chief Justice McKewen, J. King Kelley, K.C., and J. L. Thorne had shown ready sympathy, while Kenneth A. Wilson, often at much sacrifice to himself, had attended all hearings on behalf of the society's children. The total number of visits made during the twelve months was 890, to fifty-five families. The number of children admitted to the Home; thirteen were sent to other institutions; five were committed to reformatory institutions, and one died. The average number of children in the society's care per month was twenty-four, and the number in the Home on October 31 was twenty-five.

Inquiries in regard to cases from outside points were received from nine sources in this province, three were from Nova Scotia, two came from Boston, and one each from New York and New Hampshire. In the last twelve months 850 letters were written and 240 post-cards were sent out. The financial statement showed, besides the grant from the municipal council, the following receipts:—Woman's Council, tag day, $1,250; care of chil-

WAS SERIOUS FIGHT WITH SMUGGLERS IN CAPE BRETON (Canadian Press Despatch) Sydney, N. S., Nov. 24.—Sixty-two kegs of choice liquors, captured at Mainville after a sensational fight between revenue officers and smugglers Tuesday night, were landed here today by the cutter Restless, which later started back for the south coast to bring around to Sydney the seized schooner Linn and day's battle. More detailed advices reaching Sydney today indicate that the resistance encountered by revenue officers in seizing the $16,000 liquor cargo of the schooner at Mainville is the most serious smuggling incident of recent years on the Cape Breton coast. The Isma had already unloaded contraband when the cutter Restless arrived in the harbor and the cases had been concealed in various caches, but footprints in the snow were traced by Captain Bragg to a path of woods where thirty-two barrels of French wine and spirits were found hidden. Armed with carbines were left in charge while the Captain searched elsewhere for the rest of the stuff. At night the two sentinels were attacked by eight men armed with rifles and revolvers, and an exchange of shots took place. The sailors were driven off and the raiders brought up motor trucks and were busy loading up when they were in turn attacked by Captain Bragg and his men, who came upon the run when the alarm was given. In this second fight fists and sticks were the weapons, because, although several shots were fired, the smugglers seemed afraid to use their guns except for intimidation.

MORE CLASHES LOOKED FOR (Canadian Press Despatch) Montreal, Nov. 24.—The Hon. Rodolphe Monty, secretary of state, today indicated his intention of continuing his controversial meetings with Mr. L. J. Papineau, notwithstanding the disagreeable incidents which arose from meeting at St. Stanislas yesterday, in which Adair Raymond, a seventy-year-old member of the audience, sustained a broken arm, and now lies in one of the Montreal hospitals, and in which several persons sustained more or less serious injuries. The Hon. Mr. Monty and Mr. Papineau are contestants Beauharnois riding in the interests of their respective parties. Monty declares that he will join the Liberal candidate wherever the latter holds meetings as "it is necessary that light be shed on your public life."

GIRL KILLED Toronto, Nov. 24.—A verdict of the effect that Ellen Lyons came to her death in the General Hospital on Nov. 19 as the result of an illegal operation, and that "we are strongly of the opinion that the operation was performed by Mrs. Louise Leslie, London (Ont.), and that Norman Urquhart and John Collins were accessories to the crime," was returned by Coroner Graham's jury. Mrs. Leslie is under arrest on a charge of murder.

BRITISH DIVORCE COURT FREES 27 IN SINGLE DAY London, Nov. 24.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A new high record was made in the divorce court here when Lord Justice Sir Henry Duke made absolute 27 decrees nisi—the highest number in single day in the courts in this country. This record list of cases is the sequel to the big rush to clear off divorce cases which was organized by the Lord Chancellor in April and May

NOT GUILTY OF BIGAMY

DUE TO TECHNICALITY
Twenty-four Years Ago

First Marriage Not Registered in Poland

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Because the technicality of registering his marriage had not been observed twenty-four years ago in the burgomaster's book in the Polish town where it had been solemnized, Benjamin Switzer, in the Sessions court, could not be convicted of bigamy. After living with his original wife in England for nine years and in the United States for four years, the accused had contracted a second union. The court, however, was unable to uphold the validity of the first marriage, owing to the technicality.

STEELE IN DOMINION

The upward trend noticeable in so many lines towards the latter part of October was reflected in the output of pig iron for the month, the total being almost 6,000 tons higher than the amount reported from the Mining Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics as the output for the preceding month.

The output of steel ingots and castings for the month of October established a new high record for the year at 72,294 long tons, an increase of nearly 10,000 tons over the production during the preceding month, and some 200 tons more than the output for August, when the previous high record for the year was made. During the latter part of the month, particularly, there was a favorable turn in the steel making industry closely following the increased output of pig-iron recovery.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN EDITED BY MANSFIELD F. HOUSE

Here's One Merchant Whom Rent Doesn't Bother. When Nathan Wellman becomes the proprietor of a chain of groceries or one of the solid-block stores, he can point to the fact that he got his start in a store made of four dry goods boxes purchased for a dollar and remodeled into a store several years ago. It will make an ideal illustration to contrast the facts and figures that were more interesting than the percentage examples he was learning at school. He looked about and bought a two-wheeled cart which he used to sell fish to the families of shipyard workers of that city.

WALKER CHEWING TOBACCO 2 Big Plugs 2 for 25¢ And the quality and flavor are just the same as you have always enjoyed.

Seventh. It enables people to examine the flowers at a distance of a few inches. Its novelty catches the eye where an ordinary window might not.

"Mysterious Mr. Mark Down" Started Things. "Who is he?" "What will he do?" These muffled whispers went the rounds of the city recently when Louis Traxler Company, of Dayton, O., announced that "The Mysterious Mr. Mark Down" would descend upon its store on an appointed day at ten o'clock in the morning and again at two o'clock in the afternoon, and would slash prices from the main floor to the roof.

The store promised further that the "mysterious one" would be a "real fish and blood, brown and brain human being, an honest-to-goodness Daytonian, a man prominent in Dayton business circles, known to every man, woman and child through his civic spirit, philanthropic activities and love for Dayton." Long before his scheduled appearance the sales and entrances of the store were filled with curious and eager humanity. Promptly at ten o'clock the much-looked-for "mysterious" dressed in evening clothes and topped off with a high silk hat, below which emerged a great shock of red hair, and a glaringly attractive moustache, edged his way through the waiting crowd to perform his special mission of price-cutting.

The stranger's solemn look gave way to a genial smile and nod, and then the next moment Daytonians all, ancient, honorable and budding, recognized "The Mysterious Mr. Mark Down" as none other than Leon Berg, manager of the Victoria Theatre, one of the city's most popular impresarios. Holding his big pencil as a sweeping angle, he proceeded to go up the front aisle, reducing prices as he moved from one department to another.

The vanguard comprised not only enthusiastic shoppers who watched his every stroke of the price-pruning pencil, but also two employes with megaphones who relayed the news of activities to those too far back to see him, and two crews of clerks and cashiers. These patrons acted as a relay squad to a department after prices had been slashed and buyers stormed the counters to take advantage of the reductions.

But even these re-enforcements were helpless in some of the departments where he made the most complete "For instance, on the second floor 85 dresses were marked down to $1, and as soon as word was carried back by megaphone a rush was made on the counter. Many patrons actually snatched dresses from the counter and held them tightly until the clerks could attend to their wants.

In the afternoon "The Mysterious Mr. Mark Down" was greeted with a record-breaking crowd due to the wide publicity which his morning activities received. His tour of the store lasted two hours, during which time the shoppers were in a constant state of excitement. He reduced prices on a wide variety of goods to fill the demands which his pencil had made.

It wasn't incorporated into the facade of the window or the door and the window are important, owing to the direction in which the crowd travels. A framework covering neatly with burlap and having a rectangular opening of the desired size with a trifle below the level of the eye of the person of average height is set flush against the glass. Back of this opening is placed a burlap-covered shelf, with side and back walls. The top of the miniature window, which could only be seen by a person stooping down, is left open, and just above it, but, of course, concealed from the pedestrian, is an ordinary electric bulb and reflector.

A typical display is on or two small vases of rare flowers, with perhaps an exquisitely bound and illustrated little volume on horticulture opened at a page describing that particular variety, and a little card, inviting one to step into the store and see the blooms on display there.

The advantages of this little window to the Battles store are almost legion. First, the "display" can be changed easily and often. Second, the same can be made to fit the display. Third, it attracts customers before they have passed the door. Fourth, it naturally leads them into the door. Fifth, it gives the store two windows in the space of one. Sixth, it displays the average-sized purchase.

The annual bean supper and sale held by the Guild of the Holy Cross and the Guild of St. Monica's of the Mission church in the church schoolroom yesterday was a great success. HOCKEY LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED (Canadian Press Despatch).

Moncton, Nov. 24.—At a meeting of some twenty representatives of hockey here tonight the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island amateur hockey league association was organized with the following officers:

President—Dr. Allan Sterling, Fredericton.

Vice-president, eastern section—S. F. Doyle, Charlottetown.

Vice-president, northern section—Max Mowat, Campbellton.

Secretary-treasurer—Myron V. Stokes, Sussex.

The association is divided into three sections, eastern, northern and southern. The towns represented were Fredericton, Miramichi, St. John, Sussex, Dorchester, Sackville, Charlottetown, Shediac, Campbellton and Bathurst. Besides these places the association includes Moncton and Chatham.

After the formation of the association the work of drafting a schedule was taken up but was not available tonight. The first part of the meeting was taken up with a discussion as to an eastern hockey league but there was no action along this line.

Amherst Meeting. Moncton, Nov. 24.—A meeting of provincial representatives of M. P. B. A. A.

U. was held here this evening to consider the applications for reinstatement to amateur ranks of players of last year's independent hockey players of the Amherst and New Glasgow teams. No action was taken by the meeting, which was composed of Byron Brown, of Charlottetown; C. P. C. Neville, of Halifax, and J. D. MacBeath, of Moncton.

Although Amherst and New Glasgow independents are anxious for reinstatement and have submitted affidavits, the Moncton players are not asking for reinstatement as they say they cannot sign the necessary affidavits in good faith.

Amherst team members' applications for reinstatement, submitted to the annual M. P. B. A. A. U. meeting held in Amherst a short time ago, were thrown out. It is unlikely, in view of the fact that tonight's meeting had some pretty direct evidence re the Amherst hockey situation, the Amherst applications will get beyond the advisory committee.

In the meantime Mr. Neville will go to Amherst tomorrow to talk over the situation with players there.

GANG SPIRIT HELPS IN IMPROVING BOYS
How it is Capitalized to Build Churches, is Shown by N. Y. Children's Aid Society.

The extent to which the Children's Aid Society has been able to capitalize the gang spirit, reduce juvenile delinquency and build character among the thousands of boys with which it has to deal, was partly illustrated by the report of Secretary G. Loring Brace, at the annual meeting of the officers of that organization, says the New York Times.

William Church Osborne was elected President of the society; Edwin G. Merrill, Treasurer, and Mr. Brace, respected Quaker, Mr. W. Lambert Arbutnot, Secretary, Thomas W. Osborn, Dr. Eugene H. Pool and William H. Wheelock were elected Trustees.

"Our aim is to capitalize the gang spirit," said the report. "The boy is a social being. He must have companionship. If the street corner and the sidewalk is his only playground, he will, in the nature of the case, fall in with that element which enables him to get money easily. One of the resultant achievements of our work is the reduction of juvenile delinquency. The policemen, the business men, the residents of the district in which the Newsboys' and Kips Bay Houses are situated, comment upon the improvement of the neighborhood as the years have gone by."

Mr. Brace estimated that there were 800,000 boys between 8 and 18 in Manhattan offering a wide field for the society's activities. He said that apart from the public schools there was "no general city-wide plan for the development of character and physique for the boys," and that the benefits of home training should be supplemented by strong agencies for moral and physical growth and for recreation. He said that the number of boys coming here from foreign lands presented an increasing problem.

"During the past year," Mr. Brace said, "we have taken care of 2,487 homeless boys and girls in our shelters and 3,203 boys have been provided with recreation and intensive club work through our neighborhood clubs."

"The Employment Bureau of the society," the report showed, and the Boys' Club of the Children's Aid Society are reaching about 3,000 boys out of a combined boy population of 80,000 within a half-mile radius of the three club units. The report emphasized the growing of the normal boy for amusement which he will seek in commercialized public places unless provided with wholesome places to spend his surplus energy. The report continued: "There are in Manhattan more than 400 public dance halls, 1,000 public pool rooms, 500 moving picture shows and scores of penny arcades. But few are conducted in a decent and orderly manner, and the arcade pictures are quite generally suggestive."

"It has been definitely proved that the sections where the lower grade amusements prevail, furnish the greater proportion of juvenile delinquents. On the other hand, the incoming of a Boys' Club or recreational centre into a particular district has immediately reduced juvenile delinquency and made a decided improvement in the character of the neighborhood."

The income of the society "applicable for current expenses," according to the report of the treasurer, Edwin G. Merrill, was $697,428.52, which will bequests, additions to trust funds, etc., brought the grand total up to $1,145,262.73. The total current expenses were $690,264.59, and some of the important items were: $283,295.60; maintenance of welfare work, $147,285.42; cost of summer charities, $188,297.40.

PARIS TELLS OF HIS DOINGS ON AUGUST SECOND

The cross-examination of John Paris was continued yesterday afternoon in the circuit court and was not concluded when the court adjourned last evening. At the request of the attorney-general all the witnesses for the defence were excluded from the court room while Paris was giving evidence.

Paris resumed his place in the witness stand and the attorney-general continued his cross-examination. Paris said when he went to Truro on July 23 he traveled second-class. He said he remembered some parts of Sunday, July 31. He remembered Aug. 1. He said he remembered Saturday, July 30, Friday, July 29, and had a slight remembrance of Thursday, July 28. He could not say he remembered July 27 very well.

He said he remembered that on the night of July 27 he was at Truro station at different times. On July 26 he said he remembered where he was. Asked if that was the day the gasoline was stolen, Paris said it was either July 26 or 27, but he did not know at what time of day the stealing took place. He said he could leave Truro on Sunday night, July 31, and be in St. John on the morning of Aug. 1. He said he was in doubt whether he was at Truro station on Sunday, July 31, but he believed he was there.

His Story of Aug. 2. Asked by the attorney-general to tell all he had done on Aug. 2, Paris said in the morning he went to town with Louis Bayard who went to get a basket of clothes from Mrs. Archibald. They went to Hill's store and got some groceries and drove home. In the afternoon, Paris said, he went to town on a bicycle. He met Louis Bayard who was driving a team. There was a car in the wagon which Bayard said contained five gallons of gasoline. They went to several garages—Blakes and Spencers, to a man named McCarthy and a man named Stevens, Norman Groves and then to Nichol's, where they sold the gas. He received $2 for it. He then went to Snook & Rennie's and from there to Mr. Hill's grocery and bought two dozen cookies. From there he went to the Eastern Hart & Cap Company factory where he told the man that Mr. Ogilvie had sent him to collect some money. He received ninety-five cents.

He left the cap factory, he said, about 8.30 or 4 o'clock. On the way home he overtook Annie Clyke and Lou Collins, two colored girls, talking with Annie Clyke borrowed Paris' bicycle, but she could not ride it. Paris said he went back to town for her on the bicycle and gave a paper he got from her to Hill, the grocer, and got some groceries. He then went to Snook & Rennie's about 4.45 to get some meat but he had none. He returned towards home and overtook the two girls and got back to "the island" about five or ten minutes after 5. He said he reached home at 6 or 7 o'clock.

He rode first, he said, to the home of William Bayard, father of Louis Bayard, and gave Louis back his bicycle. He then went to John Bayard's house, reaching there at about 6 o'clock. Between noon and the time he met the girls, Paris said that he was in William Bayard's yard. He recalled seeing officers looking for a can of cream which had been stolen. He said he went to James Talbot's house and gave him a pair of child's trousers and helped him to take a load of wood off. He said he went over to Bible Hill, about a mile and one-half away, reaching there soon after 1 o'clock. That was all he remembered from noon till he met the girls.

In the evening he said he went to a store run by Leslie Jardine and got some sardines on credit, taking them to John Bayard's house, where they were eaten. He crossed the road with some other men and they made a bonfire. He said he went uptown as far as the park, which he thought was Victoria Park, leaving William Bayard's house about 8 o'clock. He said he bought a package of cigarettes and reached home about 10 o'clock. He went back to the bonfire and fooled around there until about 12 o'clock. Between the time he left John Bayard's house until he reached the park he had done nothing but ride the wheel.

Memory Improved, Says Prisoner. The attorney-general asked Paris to recount again what he had done in the evening. Mr. Byrne called attention of accused to the fact that at the previous trial he had sworn he was not in town on the evening of Aug. 2. Paris said he must have been mistaken and if he had said that he had sworn to what was not true. The accused's memory was improved by three months' rest and nobody to talk to, he said.

The attorney-general then asked Paris to tell again what he had done between noon and 4 o'clock on Aug. 2. Paris repeated practically all of what he had already said. Asked to tell what he had done between 4 o'clock and 9 Paris repeated his doings of the evening as before. At first he mentioned unloading the wood and taking the chain traces to Talbot but started out again after an interruption from the attorney-general and told the same story of his movements as he had already done.

"Have you told us all?" asked Mr. Byrne. "No," he said. "I did not tell him, no sir," said Paris. Asked to recount his doings on Aug. 2, he said he went to his grandmother's house about 8.30 in the morning. He went to John Bayard's, stayed fifteen or twenty minutes and then went down to get a can of mushrooms back of the pasture. He returned to the island about 9.30 and about 11 or 11.30 that morning sold the mushrooms to Mrs. Archibald, who lived in town.

After returning back from picking the mushrooms he said he went to Will Bayard's, then to Talbot's, arriving there about 10 o'clock. From there he went to town and will Lawrence's arriving at Mrs. Archibald's about 11 o'clock. He arrived back home about 12 o'clock. He had met the Bayard boy at Talbot's. He was not correct in saying at the last trial that he had met Bayard at the hotel. He met Bayard about 9.30 in a little later and the two of them went to town together, Bayard in a wagon and Paris on a bicycle, arriving in town about 10 or 10.30 in the morning of Aug. 2. The two went to Inglis street, then to Lawrence's store and then to Mrs. Archibald's, arriving there about 11 or 11.30. They went to Hill's store and then home. Asked if they had been paying place else said they were at the Learmont Hotel between 10 and 11. From the hotel they went to Mrs. Moxon's. He arrived back home about 12 o'clock. He did not see Mrs. Moxon but saw the servant girl. From Moxon's they went back to Lawrence's store and then to Mrs. Archibald's. Bayard collected clothes at Mrs. Archibald's. They got back to the island about 12 o'clock. He ate his dinner at his grandmother's, got a wheel and went to Bible Hill, arriving there about 1 o'clock. He went to town, to Lawrence's store, rode around town and about 2 o'clock met the Bayard boy at the post office and after that they tried to sell the gas. He did not know the gasoline was stolen.

His Movements on Aug. 3. He denied he left St. John for Truro on the night of Aug. 3. He fixed the date of Aug. 3 from the date he sold the gasoline. About 5.30 or 6 o'clock in the morning of Aug. 3 he went picking mushrooms on the flats and got back about 7 o'clock. He stemmed the mushrooms, had his breakfast and went to town about 9 or 10 o'clock and sold the mushrooms to Mrs. Moxon about 10.10 or 10.15. He could not remember whether he was at the station more than once on Aug. 3. He went to W. B. Dimock's before he went to Moxon's. He also went to Lawrence's and a Chinaman's. He did not know whether he went to Moxon's drug store before or after he went to the house. About eleven o'clock he met Bernard Paris and went to the house with him and drove in his automobile to the station. He got out, but stayed no time there. He went to Inglis street and met Bernard Paris again and got into his automobile about 11.30 or 11.45, and went down to the island, arriving there about 11.50 or 11.55. The attorney-general asked Paris if he knew the man who had been around different people's houses in the island. Pressed to say what time he left the island, he said it must have been about 7.30 or 8.30 in the evening, with the Bayard boy. He went to Moxon's store for the mushroom money, but Mr. Moxon was not in. Both went to the park and came back again. He left Bayard by the store. He went into see Mr. Moxon, but failing, went down to the station. That was the second time he was at the station that day, he said, in reply to a question from the attorney-general.

This was about nine o'clock, or perhaps after. There were an unusually large number of people there. Louis Bayard came along and got talking about going west. They talked with some white and some colored men. He went back to Moxon's and this time was paid for the mushrooms. This must have been about ten o'clock, he said. He returned to the station and asked Louis Bayard if he would tell his (Paris') mother that Paris was going to St. John. He left about eleven o'clock. He thought the train was a little late.

The Return to St. John. He had met Archie Paris at the station. He lay in the seat in the train with Archie Paris, getting into that seat maybe three or four hours after the train left Truro. It was after the train left Amherst that he got in the seat. He was asleep when the train got in Moncton. He paid the conductor $3 to come to St. John, telling him he needed $5 the worst way and that he would not him up later. There was a third colored man named Maxwell in the seat. Paris denied that, instead of leaving Truro for St. John that night, he had left St. John for Truro on the night of August 3.

He had known Archie Paris for seventeen or eighteen years. He was not a witness at the last trial. He did not know whether he would be at this trial. It was about 6.10 o'clock when this stage of the cross-examination was reached, so the judge adjourned the court.

NO REDUCTION YET IN TOBACCO (Montreal Herald). Tobacco, cigars and cigarettes will not be cheaper, according to information gathered from the big tobacco people in Montreal. In order to induce in the price of the weed, nearly twice pre-war prices must be paid. With a reduction going on in the form of tax cuts, and a general tendency to lower prices wherever possible, smokers began to ponder on the possibilities of paying less. But all such pipe dreams must end in smoke for the time being at least. One big manufacturing concern pointed out that in the south, from whence the tobacco comes, prices were inclined to be firmer, and certainly showed no sign of weakening. As in other things, the war brought a tremendous demand for tobacco, which, with the men away fighting, taxed the fields to the utmost. Now there is a demand slightly in excess of the supply, and this helps to keep prices up. It might be lost sight of that a large part of the price for a packet of ten cigarettes goes to the government in the form of tax. For some time one of the most famous brands of cigarettes included in the packet a slip, which was a receipt for 7 1/2 cents of the price paid had to be paid in turn to the government.

The man in the street pays eighteen cents for a packet of ten cigarettes as against ten cents paid in pre-war days, a difference of eight cents, but the tobacco manufacturer points out that the difference is caused by the taxation and not by the manufacturer or retailer. Without the tax, cigarettes are the same as before the war, despite the fact that manufacturing costs have increased in price.

A CLEVER DOG Gets Back Purse and Catches Alleged Thief Quickly. (Montreal Herald.) When Mrs. MacFarlan, No. 728 Fourth avenue, Viaire had her purse containing over one hundred dollars snatched from her hand while a few yards from her home yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, she little thought that it would be recovered as quickly as it was. She had just stepped off an Ontario street car, when a man accosted her. She screamed, and J. Cote, who was passing in his car with his pet Belgian police dog, came to the rescue. Seeing the fleeing man, he shouted to his dog to follow him. The dog sprang after the thief, who was now out of sight. Mr. Cote and Mrs. MacFarlan waited at the corner, and in a moment the dog was back with the stolen purse in his mouth. He dropped it at his master's feet, and immediately returned to attend to the man. When Mr. Cote, who followed him, came upon them the animal had the man by the coat, and was holding on for grim death. The captured one was brought to No. 34 station, and appeared before Judge Leet this morning on a charge of highway robbery. The dog was the hero of the hour, but appeared to accept it all in the day's work.

WILL SCRAP FIVE WOODEN SHIPS TO FIND THEIR VALUE AS JUNK. Washington, Nov. 25.—The Shipping Board is planning an experiment to determine the "scrap value" of its fleet of wooden ships, which has become practically a "white elephant." A contract will be let for scrapping five of the wooden vessels. The contract will specify that an accurate account be kept of the salvage cost and the return in money from machinery, equipment and lumber, in order to determine whether it would be advantageous to scrap the whole fleet. It is not expected that the work will be started for several weeks.

NOW OVER 500 PURITY ICE CREAM AGENCIES -IN- NEW BRUNSWICK One Hundred and Fifty Thousand quart Increase in our Ice Cream Sales this year MAY we thank you the people of New Brunswick in behalf of our five hundred agencies and ourselves, for the favor of this enormous, unprecedented increase which you have given us this year. WE have given to you, at a great expense to ourselves only, the latest scientific process in the making of Ice Cream. We refer to the Carbonating Process by which the dangerous multiplication of bacteria is absolutely prevented. WE have also given you in our Ice Cream the full measure of butter-fats and food values which our high standard calls for. We have done this faithfully, even during the hottest part of this Summer when the commonest "Trick of the Trade" is to skimp such food values. WE have kept foremost in our minds that Ice Cream is first of all a food by which the weakest loved one in a hospital is made strong and the sturdiest little rascal at home is kept strong. And if we were to skimp these food values, by even a single ounce we would feel in no different class from the old time grocer who weighed his thumb with the sugar—and sometimes his fist. ICE Cream not only tastes good, but is good for you, if you get what you pay for. Because Ice Cream is one of the fundamental foods, equal in food value to porterhouse steak.
