CURLING CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Semi-Annual Meeting Held Last Evening—Banquet at Close

The Semi-Annual meeting of the Campbellton Curling Club was held at the Waverly Hotel, Wednesday evening, and was well attended.

The following officers were elected: President—H. A. Carr. Vice-Pres.—R. K. Shives. Sec.-Treas.—D. C. Firth.

Directors: M. M. Mowat, E. A. LeGallais, H. R. Smith, Thos. Wren, H. A. Marquis.

After the election of officers, Judge Matheson in a very pleasing speech, handed back to the custody of the Club the Alexander Cup, which he had won previous to the fire and managed to save.

A vote of thanks was tendered Judge Matheson on behalf of the club.

His Hon. Judge McLatchey, on behalf of the donor, ex-Pres. Thos. Wren, then presented to the winners of 1913-14 the handsome medals put up for play. The winning rink was composed of E. A. LeGallais, Skip, F. F. Matheson, Allan Miller and Austin Murray.

John White, on behalf of President Miles, presented to the winning rink the president's medals for 1914-15. The winning rink was composed of R. K. Shives, skip, E. Mowat, R. D. Innis, W. Jamieson.

After the business was transacted, the simple members paid the penalty of leaving in the married vs. single series by providing a banquet, which was much enjoyed by all. After ample refreshment had been done to the men, the evening was proposed and songs and recitations rendered, and a most pleasant evening was spent.

BRITISH WOUNDED

Proof of Charges is Found in Prussian Officers Diary.—Wounded Beaten to Death

Recruiting for the 55th Battalion still continues good, and the reports from the various organization centres are very encouraging. Lieut. Gardiner, medical officer of the Battalion, returned to St. John Wednesday and reports that the class of recruits offering is of a very high physical standard and that very few were rejected at Chatham, Newcastle, Bathurst and Campbellton. Reports from Prince Edward Island indicate that there will probably be one hundred recruits enlisted there.

The Toronto Star asks is Mr. Foster, M. P., quite sure that the two patriotic gentlemen from Boston to whom he entrusted the work of buying army horses, were not Mr. J. Rufus Wallingford and Mr. Blakely Daw?

COUNCIL ELECTION HELD ON TUESDAY

W. H. Wallace is Defeated For Office of Councillor by Very Small Margin

The election for Councillors for Ward I, took place on Tuesday, three gentlemen, Messrs. Jas. S. Evans, John M. Maclean and Wm. H. Wallace offering themselves as candidates for the two seats.

The polling was tight all day, out of a total of 168, only 125 being qualified to vote. The total ballots cast was 101 and one spoiled, which had been intended for Mr. Wallace. At the close of the poll, the returning officer, Mr. G. E. Asker gave out the following figures:

Evans, 61
Maclean, 53
Wallace, 50
and the town clerk declared the first two elected.

The vote as disclosed by the above, was very close, and Mr. Wallace made a good showing in his first essay into municipal life.

The following compose the new council: Mayor—Albert A. Andrew. Councillors at large—Chas. A. Alexander, and W. H. Miller.

Councillors Ward I—Jas. S. Evans, and John M. Maclean.

Ward II—Jas. W. Patterson and John Quinn.

Ward III—Thos. Ellsworth and Chas. Goss.

London, Apr. 17.—Despite the German submarine warfare against British merchant ships, the first month's experience on the Board of Trade in operating its plans for insuring officers and men of the mercantile marine against war risks, has proved satisfactory. It is announced that it has been decided to make a fifty per cent. reduction in the rates of premiums charged. It is stated that all six months' policies already issued will remain valid for one year.

MANY RECRUITS FOR 55TH BATTALION

Medical Officer Returns to St. John After Tour Through Various Recruiting Centres

London, April 21.—That German soldiers in a rage beat British wounded to death is the charge made by a narrative by the official eye-witness.

In view of false accusations in the enemy's newspapers regarding the conduct of the British at Neuve Chapelle, the narrative says, "the following extract from the diary of a German officer dated December 19, 1914 is interesting. 'The sight of the trenches and the fury not to say the bestiality of our men in beating to death wounded British affected me so much that for the rest of the day I was fit for nothing.'"

"The writer of this," the British official observer continues, "was in the 13th regiment 13th division of the 7th German corps. His testimony is borne out by the evidence of our men on numerous occasions."

QUIET REIGNS ON BOTH WAR FRONTS

Little News Today—French Generals Placed on Retired List For Younger Men

(Special to Graphic)

Paris, April 22.—Twenty nine more French Generals have been placed on Reserve or retired lists to make way for younger and more active men.

Rome, April 22.—Conference lasting three hours was held Wednesday by Premier Foreign Minister and Minister of War to discuss war matters following cabinet meeting this morning is considered highly significant.

London, April 22.—British expeditionary force in France, which at the beginning of the war consisted of six divisions, has been increased to more than thirty-six divisions or roughly speaking 750,000 men according to a statement made by David Lloyd George in the House of Commons. He added that the place of every man who had fallen in battle had been filled and that the army was adequately equipped. He reiterated the need of greater supply of munitions, declaring that during the battle of Neuve Chapelle more ammunition was used than in the whole of the South African war. Interesting information also was given, that the output of munition factories had been increased more than nineteen fold since the outbreak of the war, but the call was still for more and as Lloyd George continues to hold opinion that consumption of liquor is interfering with work he promised Legislation to deal with this matter.

It is likely that many of the new men have already been under fire, as Germans are making repeated attempts to re-capture Hill No. 60 near Ypres which the British took on Sunday, and have been repulsed with great loss.

Paris Despatches say that the opening Session of the Hungarian Chamber was a gloomy sitting. The deputies refused to vote new military credits demanded by the General Staff. Attempts of Count Tisza, the Premier, to break down opposition was futile.

Russians everywhere have suspended operations until spring. Floods have subsided and conditions are favorable for manoeuvring," says the

NO DECISION WITH REGARD TO BRIDGE

Department Awaiting Report of Engineer in the Information Given Hon. Chas. Marcell

Mr. MARCELL: I desire to call the attention of the minister to the request repeatedly made by the people of Campbellton and Monmouth opposite for a bridge across the Restigouche river. Seven or eight years ago a bill was passed to erect a joint highway and railway bridge at this point to connect the Gaspe system of railways and the Intercolonial. Fifty thousand dollars was voted as a subsidy. But this was deemed insufficient, and it was not found possible to float the securities necessary for the work. Meantime, the change of Administration took place. Since that time, the people on both sides, apparently assuming that the prospect of the joint highway and railway bridge was rather remote, organized a crusade in favour of a purely highway bridge. Deputations have come to Ottawa, and I understand that the Campbellton Board of Trade and all the municipal councils concerned have joined in this request. I understand that the last move made by the minister or the department, in answer to the deputation, was to instruct Mr. Stead, the department engineer for New Brunswick, to report upon this project of a highway bridge. Has any progress been made in ascertaining the cost? Has the department abandoned the policy of a joint railway and highway bridge and decided to limit itself to the highway bridge? The time will come when a railway bridge will be needed at this point to connect the Intercolonial with the Transcontinental and other railways.

Mr. ROGERS: We had a deputation here about a month ago of the different councils interested in this work. They pressed for a highway bridge. The information we have goes to show that this is a very, very expensive undertaking, much more expensive than was at first anticipated. After going into the facts with the deputation, it was decided that we should have a re-survey by Mr. Stead, who is supposed to be a first-class engineer, and Mr. Stead has undertaken that service. We shall not have his report for some considerable time. We thought it would be a good time to make a more extensive survey, in order to get at the facts in a detailed manner and to judge what is best in the public interest.

Mr. MARCELL: Has the department come to a conclusion as to building merely a highway bridge? Has the project to build a combined railway and highway bridge been abandoned?

Mr. ROGERS: We have not come to any decision and cannot arrive at a decision and cannot arrive at a decision, showing the difference in the estimated cost of the two.

Mr. MARCELL: If a combined railway and highway bridge were built it is calculated that Gaspe Basin with a railway connection with New England cities, especially with Boston, the great fish market for the United

OWES HER LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Cured Both Stomach Trouble and Headaches

PALMERSTON, ONT., JUNE 20th, 1913.

"I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctor's bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old Stomach Trouble and distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Sometime ago, I got a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked the reason. I replied, 'I am taking Fruit-a-tives'. He said, 'Well, if Fruit-a-tives are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can'.

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box. 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CAPTAIN KNEW THAT WAR WAS COMING

Given Sealed Orders 14 Months Before War—Evidence in Damage Suits

New York, April 17.—Testimony given in admiralty suits against the North German-Lloyd Company, which have been instituted because of the failure of the captain of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie to continue the voyage to Plymouth and Cherbourg after July 31, 1914, reveals two exceptionally important facts. One is that the captain of this steamship had a sealed package which was not to be opened until he received a message concerning "some disease" and signed "Siegfried." This package had been in his possession for fourteen months. At 10 o'clock on the night of July 31 a message was received on shipboard concerning a disease and signed "Siegfried." The captain opened the package and found there a code message, which he translated as declaring: "War has broken out with England, France and Russia. Return to New York." Here is further evidence of the thoroughness with which Germany prepared for war.

The other important fact is that this message from the owners announcing the outbreak of war was received several hours before Germany had declared war on Russia, which did not occur until the following day. War between Germany, Great Britain and France was not declared until August 4. The only declaration of war at the time the message was sent was that of Austria-Hungary on Serbia. It can hardly be doubted that the officers of the steamship company had information from the highest quarters in Berlin before they sent the message to the Kronprinzessin Cecilie. The inference, seemingly, is that Germany had made up its mind as to war while it was still talking peace with Russia, Great Britain and France.

The fact that war had not been declared at the time the message was received on the steamship is the basis for the suits for damages by the New York bankers who were sending several million dollars in gold on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie to England and France. The libellants assert that the action of the captain in turning his ship about constituted an abandonment and deviation from the voyage undertaken, and add:

"Such action operated as a complete breach of contract and entitles us to recover the damages we have sustained." It is a long time since so interesting a suit has been instituted in the admiralty courts. Apparently the outcome will depend largely on whether or not the Kronprinzessin Cecilie could reasonably be expected to reach her ports of call in England and France and her home port within the three days before Germany, Great Britain and France were at war.

PATRIOTISM and PRODUCTION

"Looking at the situation in even its most favorable light, there will be a demand for food that the world will find great difficulty in supplying."

HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

Great Britain Needs Food

VEGETABLE growers can render a real service to the Empire by increasing the production of vegetables, especially those that can readily be stored and transported. The war in Europe has devastated thousands of vegetable-producing acres and made it difficult for Britain to obtain her usual supplies. Vegetable growers are urged to select carefully the best varieties of seed and plant in properly cultivated and fertilized soil. Work hand in hand with the agricultural specialists of both the Canadian Department of Agriculture and your Provincial Department.

POTATOES

There is no farm crop the yield of which, perhaps, can be increased so much as potatoes. Potatoes have been grown in a small plot at the rate of over 700 bushels per acre at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. So great is the difference in the yield of varieties that while one gave this large yield, another, under same conditions, gave but 154 bushels. It will thus be seen how important it is to plant a productive variety.

BEANS

The fact that beans have been a good crop for a number of years, and also that they are of very great food value, should encourage every person who can to grow beans. Western market prices will not be influenced this year by foreign beans, and for that reason we should produce a bumper crop. The world will need them.

To the farmer's wife, the Government makes a special appeal. In many cases the vegetable garden and the poultry are largely under her direct management. Anything that she can do to increase production will be so much aid given to the Empire.

Canadian
Department of Agriculture,
Ottawa, Canada

POULTRY AND EGGS

Up to the commencement of the year, Great Britain imported from Belgium, France, Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary poultry to the value of $3,000,000 per year and eggs amounting to 136,000,000 doz. Canada in 1914 imported $200,000 more poultry than she exported and imported $500,000 more eggs than exported. Canada needs 1,500,000 more hens, averaging 100 eggs per year, to supply the home demand before having any eggs for export. The average egg yield per hen in Canada is but 80 eggs per year, which is very low. Careful selection, feeding and housing could in a few years bring the average up to 120 eggs per hen per year. It would be a profitable thing to strive for.

LIVE STOCK

Meat is today Canada's most valuable asset. The one outstanding feature of the world's farming is that there will soon be a great shortage of meat supplies. Save your breeding stock. Plan to increase your live stock. Europe and the United States, as well as Canada, will pay higher prices for beef, mutton, and bacon in the very near future. Do not sacrifice now.

STRINGENT MEASURES

The Town Treasurer has stated that instructions have been issued for stringent measures to be taken for the collection of arrears of taxes. Some arrangement ought to be made to engage out door collectors for this work and a systematic method taken up, whereby all defaulters could be collected from. Little benefit will accrue from a system which only touches isolated cases, the bulk of defaulters never being approached with a request for payment.

The mere fact of giving out executions to the town policemen to serve is not sufficient, for this work can only be attended to by them in their spare time, and anyone who understands the work our policemen have to do, knows that the spare time they have is nil.

Two or even three collectors could be appointed under bonds on a percentage basis, say 10% of the amount collected, and at this figure it is a matter of little doubt that persons could be got for this work and make money at it with little trouble. All the necessary legal machinery is ready to our hand, and a real genuine effort should be made to clean up these arrears. To the man in the street it does not seem fair that those who do pay taxes should be saddled year after year with increased assessments to make up for those who don't pay. There may be a large number on the tax list who are really unable to pay taxes, and the work of these out door collectors would soon give data to the committees as to whom were able to pay and whom were not. The appointment of an out door collector would not interfere in the slightest with the duties of the town treasurer, and the 10% cost would be no charge on the town. 5% of this would be paid by the defaulter and the money received would reduce the overdraft, thereby making a saving to the town of 2%. This matter is worth thinking over and is commended to the notice of the councillors. Something must be done and that at an early date, as the dissatisfaction with regard to the large defaulters list is growing daily.

POSTAL LAWS OF CANADA

Under the Post Office Act, Sections 65 and 66, the Postmaster General has the exclusive privilege of receiving, conveying and delivering letters within Canada.

Bills and accounts whether in open or sealed envelopes, as well as circulars or other printed matter enclosed in envelopes sealed or ready to be sealed, are "Letters" within the meaning of the Post Office Act.

There is a penalty under Section 136 of the Post Office Act which may amount to $20.00 for each letter unlawfully carried.

It has been brought to the attention of the Post Office Department that some business firms desiring to avoid paying the War Tax which became effective on the 15th April, propose making arrangements for the delivery of accounts, bills, circulars, etc., through means other than the Post Office, contrary to the Postal Act, and a warning is hereby given that the Post Office Department intends to take the law shall be rigidly lived up to, and will in no circumstances allow these parties to avoid paying the one cent tax which has been imposed for such purposes.

All letters conveyed, received, collected, sent or delivered in contravention of the Post Office Act will be seized and necessary steps immediately taken for the prosecution of the offenders in all cases where the law has been contravened.

BATHURST VISITED BY TWO MORE FIRES

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)

Last week an unusually busy one for Bathurst's Fire Department, no less than three fires having called them out. The first was on last Tuesday when the office and residence of the Drs. Coffin was totally destroyed. This was followed on Wednesday by a slight blaze in the house on King St. owned by Mrs. M. McKendry, and occupied by Capt. Hugh Alcorn. A bundle of clothing had been left close to a stovepipe, and when the pipe became heated the clothing took fire and the smoke was so dense that a serious fire was feared. The blaze was extinguished without the aid of the firemen, however, before much damage was done.

Just at midnight Saturday, the bells clanged again for a more serious fire in the building on St. Andrew's St., owned by Mr. Arthur Hussey and occupied by Chas. McDermott as a store and dwelling. The blaze was first discovered by occupants of the houses on the opposite side of the street, who burst in the store door and found the whole interior in flames. The occupants of the house were aroused by the smoke, and had barely time to escape through the windows, as the fire spread very rapidly, preventing all possibility of saving any of the contents of the house. The flames spread very quickly to the adjoining house, owned and occupied by Dan Morrison, and in a very few minutes it too was a mass of flames. Quick work by a number of persons who were early on the scene saved practically all of Mr. Morrison's furniture.

Some delay was caused the firemen in their efforts to get water on the blaze by the distance it was necessary for them to stretch the hose. The nearest place at which the engine could be placed was at the foot of St. Patrick's St., which is fully a quarter mile from the scene of the fire. The engine worked splendidly, throwing two good streams once connections were made, and in a very few minutes had the blaze drowned out. Good work was done by bucket brigades in saving the houses just opposite the burning buildings and those close beside it, which were in greatest danger before the fire department had its hose connected. Fortunately there was no wind and flying sparks caused no damage when they alighted on the roofs of the surrounding buildings which had been well soaked by the rain of Saturday. The great advantage of metal roofs was well illustrated too, and this probably saved a number of the nearby buildings from catching fire from the heat and flying sparks.

DesBrisay, of Madisco, who died in St. John last week after a lingering illness, was held from St. George's Church, where the funeral services took place, to the Anglican cemetery on Wednesday morning. The pallbearers were Messrs. A. E. Loosen, E. P. Mackay, F. H. Eaton, A. N. DesBrisay, Geo. Gilbert and J. H. Corbett.

WHY WOMEN SHOULD TAKE AN INTEREST IN CIVIC AFFAIRS

(Contributed.)

The British North America Act, passed in 1867, with its additions and amendments, contains the formal constitution of our Dominion of Canada. Under this Act, the provinces retained their right to legislate along certain lines affecting only their own interests. In a similar way, the counties into which each province is sub-divided may make provision for the interests of those living within their borders. Again, any town within these counties which attains a certain population, may on application to the provincial government, be erected into a separate municipality. These municipalities have to some extent the power of taxing and governing all who live within the boundaries laid down by the Act of Incorporation. This taxation is carried on by the body known as the town council. This is elected in the majority of places, every year; in some only every two years. In our own town, the elections are held in the month of April every year.

The council consists of two councillors from each ward, with two others, known as councillors-at-large. These latter are elected by the votes of the whole town. So is the Mayor, who presides over the meetings of the council.

The powers of this council have been summed up in the word "taxation"; their responsibilities in the word "government." The council may impose direct taxation for the following purposes: the efficient maintenance of a sufficient police force; the erection of a town hall, lock-up, etc.; the erection of suitable school buildings; the payment of teachers for the schools, and of all paid town officials, and for the installation and upkeep of a water and sewerage system, and for fire protection. Quite a large order. Perhaps there is some excuse for the size of our tax bills.

ed by the men who have been empowered to shoulder them.

So it is with every one of the duties of the town council. Who should be interested in the education of our children if not the mothers who bring them? Who should see that the water which they drink, and which prepares their food is pure, that the air which they breathe is kept free from taint of pestilence, if not the wife and mother? Who has the largest interest in seeing the town kept neat and clean, and even made beautiful to the eye, if not the housekeepers of the community.

Further than this we spoke of a town hall. Who has a larger interest, for her children's sake if no other, in the class of amusements for which it may be used than the mother? And the laws against cigarette-selling, etc. Whom do they affect more strongly than the mother? And how can she have any influence in demanding their enforcement, if she knows nothing of how they are supposed to be enforced? How can we complain that laws are broken, when as in nine places out of ten, we do not know what the law really says, nor whose duty it is to enforce it?

We are citizens of our town just as truly as though our names were on the voters' list. We have the same interest in every public ordinance as the actual voter. We have even a larger share of interest in many public actions than the male section of the population. Let us then show that we are keenly alive to our interests. At present we have no ballots, excepting only a minority of us, too small to be of much weight. Our tongues seem to be our only weapon. Let us use them judiciously and carefully, speaking only out of certain knowledge, not of idle hearsay. Then when we have done our best to see that the members of the council shoulder something more than a nominal responsibility for the good government of our town, we may persuade the opposite sex to let us stand beside them at the polls. We may convince them that the economical housewife would be no bad partner in their civic housekeeping, and that we are as well qualified as themselves to say who shall spend the civic funds, and how.

At any rate, it will not hurt ourselves to turn aside from the discussion of home economies to take up the smaller question of civic economies. I said smaller, and I meant it. Were it a problem of supplying bread and meat and clothes on a limited income as simple as the questions of income and outgo before the town council, there would be fewer women with anxious lines on their faces. Many women have coped successfully with the problem of making one dollar do the work of a dollar and ten cents. They

This power to impose taxation carries with it a proportionate responsibility. Given the means of accomplishment, the "sinews of war," our council can be held responsible for the state of our streets and sidewalks; for their lighting at night; for their safe guarding by the police; for the education of the young; and for a sufficient water supply. And it is the duty of all good citizens to see that these powers are properly exercised, and these responsibilities fairly shouldered by the men who are elected to office.

Right here we are prepared to hear the objection: "What has that to do with women? They have no votes." But some women have votes; and all loyal W. C. T. U. workers hope—and expect—that some day all women may have the right to vote. And the vote will come none the later because women show themselves conversant with public business, and qualified to exercise the franchise intelligently, when it shall be granted to us. The sounds like unto the wisdom of the man who resolved on learning to swim before he entered the water, to avoid the danger of drowning. But there is some degree of logic in the argument. Aside from this view of the case, we have noted that some women have votes. Any woman who pays taxes on property held in her own right, acquires by this payment the right to a voice in the selection of the men who are to spend her money. It is not hard to realize that any woman who thus pays directly a share of the money required by the town, should be keenly interested in seeing how this money is spent.

But suppose the case to be that of the ordinary wife and mother, whose income depends entirely on the husband's purse. Or that of the single woman who may earn and control her own income, yet pays out no cent of this income for taxation. Wherein does her interest in civic affairs appear? She has no money stake in the concern; what then is her interest in the affairs of the town?

Has not every woman occasion to pass along a street, to make use of a sidewalk, to navigate a crossing? And if the sidewalks are badly kept, the streets unclean, the crossings filthy and dangerous, do not her outer sole and her inner soul alike rebel? Does not the rough and broken sidewalk affect alike her shoe-leather and her temper? And she has no patient wife, or sister, or mother at home who will patiently or even cheerfully remove the traces of a muddy crossing from her garments. Too often she has this office to perform for the male members of her household.

Similarly, there are very few women who are so protected and hedged about with care as not to be occasionally obliged to be out alone after night has fallen. If the streets are must traversed are dark, if the police force is so insufficient, inefficient, or careless that she cannot leave the shelter of her home with safety, does it not become a matter of some moment to her that this state of affairs should be remedied, and that these responsibilities should be fairly met and discharged are skilled financiers, compared with the men. Let them take the same interest in civic affairs, and the results will be the same.

In short, these ought we to have done, and not left the other undone.

LOCAL MATTERS OF INTEREST IN HOUSE

Matapedia Road Improvements and Repairs to Wharf at Paspébiac are Discussed

In the House of Commons last week in Supply the following matters of local interest were discussed.

Matapedia road—repairs and improvements, $2,500.

Mr. MARCIL: Will the minister give some explanation of this item?

Mr. ROGERS: This is to repair and improve seven miles of this highway. This road was built as a military road and has always been considered as Federal property, and the Government has authorized repairs several times. It is in good condition, and is under the control of the municipalities, except for nineteen miles, where there is no municipality.

Mr. MARCIL: I understand this work was done in the unorganized territory along the Intercolonial. This was the road along the line of railway. I would call the minister's attention to the fact that between Millstream and Matapedia in the municipalities of St. André de Restigouche and St. Laurent de Matapedia, ninety-five per cent of the population live on the high land, while down along the line of railway there are very few residents, indeed.

They have to pass through there to reach Matapedia, and Campbellton, where they do most of their business. The work is not yet completed, and I think the minister might as well see that the work is completed right through, especially through that portion beyond Millstream which is known as St. André de Restigouche. It would be unfortunate if the usefulness of the road, which is now being put into first-class condition, should be destroyed by the last two or three miles being left in an impassable condition.

Paspébiac—wharf repairs, $2,000.

Mr. MARCIL: Will the minister explain this item?

Mr. ROGERS: This amount of $2,000 is required to renew the planking and place some of the stringers and fenders of the Robin, Jones & Co. wharf. The work is necessary in the interest of trade and navigation as the wharf under existing circumstances does not provide the necessary accommodation. It will be gone on with this year.

Mr. MARCIL: Has the department acquired the Robin Jones wharf?

Mr. ROGERS: No, we are not the owners of the wharf; we are just repairing it for the public benefit.

Mr. MARCIL: There is a public wharf already. Why is that not used?

Mr. ROGERS: I do not know. The district engineer, Mr. Tache, in his report of Dec. 27, 1912, states that:

There are two wharves, one belonging to Robin, Jones, Whitman and Company and the other to the Government. This wharf is the most useful on account of its situation and facility of access and the Government wharf, more used as a breakwater, is a great protection against the accumulation of sand and makes the harbour at this point a perfect shelter.

The work is entirely departmental and is done under the recommendation of Mr. Tache.

Mr. MARCIL: Why does the Government spend money on a private wharf or a wharf that belongs to Robin, Jones & Company? That is something new?

Mr. ROGERS: That has been a very common practice of the department for many years in a very limited way. Where the expenditure of a small amount will be of advantage to the travelling public, repairs are made but not with the view of building a new wharf.

Mr. MARCIL: Has the department been asked to acquire this wharf or has it been offered at any price?

Mr. ROGERS: The wharf has been offered to us but we have not purchased it.

Mr. MARCIL: Would the minister have any objection to stating the price that was asked?

Mr. ROGERS: I have not that information here; I can get it for my hon. friend.

Mr. MARCIL: Will wharfage fees be charged on this wharf?

Mr. ROGERS: No, it has not been transferred to the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Mr. MARCIL: Then it remains a private wharf?

Mr. ROGERS: It would until we bought it, but still there will be no charges to the public for using it.

Mr. MARCIL: This wharf has been built right in front of the property of Robin, Jones & Co., a large fishing firm, and has been used by them as a private wharf for a long time. The people of Paspébiac wanted a public wharf, a public wharf was built and now the department seems to have abandoned that wharf and is spending money on private property. That is rather an unusual departure. Will the work be done this year?

Mr. ROGERS: That is the present intention.

Mr. MARCIL: Is the whole amount to be expended on the wharf?

Mr. ROGERS: Yes.

Mr. MARCIL: I might as well call the minister's attention to the breakwater at Paspébiac which was started some years ago and which was not extended far enough for the use of the fishermen. Paspébiac is the most important shipping point on the Baie des Chaleurs and it is the headquarters of this large fishing firm of Robin, Jones & Co., or, as it used to be called, Robin, Colas & Co. The fishermen look to this breakwater for the protection of

POPULAR COUPLES SILVER JUBILEE

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McIntyre Celebrate Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Their Wedding

A very pleasant evening was spent at the residence of Mr. Henry McIntyre, on the first of this week, when some thirty-five or forty friends assembled to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre on having reached the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day. At about eight o'clock a splendid tea service of silver was presented to the happy couple, and a beautifully worded address, voicing the kindest sentiments and most sincere congratulations of all friends for the jubilee was read by Dr. Martin.

Brief, but heartfelt responses were made by these to the visitors, and addresses in harmony with the occasion, were also made by Rev. Fr. Wallace, A. T. LeBlanc, John Harquail and A. C. Belle-Isle. During the course of his remarks, Fr. Wallace read two charming letters from two of Mr. McIntyre's children unable to be present, one, Sister Kathleen McIntyre of the Hotel Dieu, Chatham, the other from their son John, who is an undergraduate at the College of the Sacred Heart, Caraquet, N.B.

April 14th, 1890, was the date of the marriage, when Mr. McIntyre returned to this town having become the fortunate partner of one of the esteemed youthful maidens of Maria, P. Q. Miss Theresa Clapperton, daughter of Mr. W. H. Clapperton, ex-M.P.P. for Bonaventure. Taking up their residence immediately in this town, their assiduity in discharging the duties of domestic life, has borne fruit as witnessed by their numerous and prosperous family. Their home was ever open to hospitality, and friends always knew where to meet to experience a cordial reception and spend some pleasant hours.

After the addresses, the party enjoyed a series of impromptu, varied and well chosen numbers of songs, recitations, addresses and dances. Mr. J. P. Gallagher in "Spartacus to the Gladiators," Mr. A. T. LeBlanc in "Waterloo," Messrs. A. C. Belle-Isle and L. P. Martin in comic recitations were especially enjoyable. Songs by Dr. Martin, F. Champoux, Miss Annette Theberge and Mr. Couette followed by "La Marseillaise," "Tipperary" and "The dearest old flag of all," with a few step dances of "ye olden time" and a set of Lancers, were items of the program. This series, which composed the second act, were brought to a close by a quaint and facetiously told tale of a freak of nature in the apocalyptic class, which for novelty and humor added much to the general merriment.

After refreshments and before bidding adieu, the party sang "For Aid Lang Syne," "Bon Soir mes amis, bon soir," and "God save the King."

The McIntyre family have a home orchestra made up of piano, violins, guitars, mandolins, and cornet, in which all the family take part, and lend to the attractiveness of their receptions.

The interesting social was a unmistakable testimony to the high regard in which the family is held by their numerous friends.

Among those present were Dr. Aug. Martin and Mrs. Martin, A. T. LeBlanc and Mrs. LeBlanc, S. A. Poirier and Mrs. Poirier, J. F. Gallagher and Mrs. Gallagher, Miss Pinault and Mrs. L. G. Pinault, John Harquail and Mrs. Harquail, A. C. Belle-Isle and Mrs. Belle-Isle, D. A. Harquail and Mrs. Harquail, Jno. McIntyre and Mrs. McIntyre, Geo. St. Onge and Mrs. St. Onge, Mrs. Theberge and Miss Theberge, M. E. Couette and L. P. Martin, Mr. J. Lachance and Mrs. Lachance, M. F. K. Champoux and wife.

The following was the address:—To Mr. and Mrs. Henry McIntyre, Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir and Madam: You perhaps ask yourselves why this concourse of friends, at a time when nature does not yet invite us to those joyous feasts which are our delight during summer.

We bid you cast a glance into the past and to that day among all blessed, on which, by that wonderful sacrament which from two beings forms one, your loving hearts became united. What happiness was then yours and how vivid the souvenir of that day!

That day, dear friends, is already twenty-five years ago. During these years you have shared together what each day furnishes of roses and thorns, of joy and sufferings! We feast at this moment these twenty-five years of continued labors of daily cares, endured with so much courage, to rear your family, twenty-five years of true, sincere and loyal friendship.

Let us be permitted to unite ourselves with your dear children to offer to you both, our homage and our felicitations. Friends, as it were of the family circle, and such has been our experience in the even gracious, amiable and cordial reception, given us by the Queen of this hearth. To her our sincere thanks, and the expression of our high esteem.

Another voice must be called upon their boats. We made a start there and spent, I think, $36,000 under the old Administration. The extension of the breakwater is very badly needed. I do not know whether a request has been made for an extension or not.

Mr. ROGERS: We have had no request for an extension.

to assist us to increase the extent of this feast; that of the beloved child whom God had lent you and whom He now calls to His service. Let us listen to this voice rising to Heaven from the Choster: "O Jesus; remember that answering to Thy call I have left Father and Mother. Be pleased to console them ever for my absence, especially on the 25th anniversary of their union. Be their support and their happiness, give them aid, counsel and strength. May they find in each one of by Brothers and Sisters the affection and gratitude of their dear sister Kathleen who, is as ever theirs, while being wholly to God."

We unite our prayers to those of this dear daughter and to those of your beloved son John, to those of your other children, who are grouped about you today, and we hope that twenty-five years hence you may be enabled to celebrate your Golden jubilee.

Be pleased dear friends to accept this present as a souvenir of this anniversary, and as a pledge of our sincere friendship.

Your Friends of Campbellton.
April 14th, 1915.

QUE VADIS AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Quo Vadis in eight reels was shown last night at the Opera House, and without a doubt was a grand production and deserves all the credit that has been said about it by the different papers all through the country. The management of the Opera House wishes to apologize for the mistake made last night by the reels being run out of order, which was no fault of the operator, as the films were disarranged by the Film Exchange. Quo Vadis will be shown again this afternoon and again tonight for the last time.

Matinee price .10c, evening price .15c. Ten reels of pictures will be shown, starting at 7.30 sharp, the first reel of Quo Vadis will start at eight o'clock (one show only). Come early.

Frederick Mail—Bread flour has had another advance of twenty cents a barrel. The price today of such brands as Five Roses and Purify is $9.30 per barrel. This is the highest price flour has reached in over twenty-five years.

GASPE

The Rev. Warren, curate for Cape Cove, was in town this week.

Mr. John LeMasurier, agent for Wm. Frueing & Co., Gaspe, was nearly drowned on Saturday afternoon, owing to the uncertain condition of the bay. Wanting to cross the bay to Peninsula, on his way home to Grande Greve, he naturally selected the shortest route; never thinking there would be any possible chance of the ice breaking. However the unexpected happened, because after leaving Gaspe Harbor at 2:30 p.m., he fell through the ice at 2:45. Luckily for him it occurred in the day-time, otherwise there might have been serious consequences. The moment the accident was noticed everyone rushed to give all possible help; the first man to reach Mr. LeMasurier was Mr. L. V. Beattie, and he promptly laid the plank he was carrying as near to the breakage as he could, without further breaking the ice, and hauled Mr. LeMasurier to safety. In recovering the plank Mr. Beattie also took a winter bath, but quickly clambered out, and did not feel any the worse for it. After two hours attendance at Kenney's boarding-house, Mr. LeMasurier was able to leave the house and heartily thank the man who had saved his life. The inhabitants of Gaspe have high praise for Mr. Beattie's life-saving action.

It is highly probable the Government will build some new sheds this summer, in connection with their wharf at Sandy Beach. The wharf will be the means by which all grades of lumber, received from Chandler by the special pulp train, will then be able to be exported by steamer to any port. It will be of great advantage to the working class; and the railway will also be doing a lucrative business.

The Gaspe and York ferry, will commence her usual task some time this week, and the ferry will be appreciated by all.

The framework of the splendid Catholic church, which has been erected within the last few months, will be completely finished by December. When the building is ready for use, it will represent an up-to-date and imposing structure, and will easily accommodate the Gaspe population.

A further sign of an early spring, was assured us last week, when the inhabitants of Malbay commenced catching lobsters.

Messrs. Bert Vibert and Jack Powell were in town last week.

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved.
Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sensitive Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, R.F.D., No. 1, Hebron, Maine.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

IDENTITY NOT TO BE DISCLOSED

An organization known as an Anti-Prohibition League has been formed in Richmond, Virginia, its stated purpose being, "to stand for the right to buy drinks containing alcohol." It is interesting to note that "members of the league shall be known only to the temporary officers, who shall not disclose their identity unless they especially agree to it." Immensely proud they seem of their connection with the organization! Imagine a Woman's Christian Temperance Union whose members tried to conceal from the world their relation to it; who wore their white ribbons tucked away under a ruffle or frill for fear it would be seen! On the face of it an organization of which its members are ashamed is not one that can command the respect of the public.

What the Witnesses Say

Let us call the witnesses and see what they think of prohibition in Kansas. If anyone should know, they should know, for they live with it and under it:

The Governor of Kansas says prohibition is a great success.

Every state official who has spoken out says prohibition succeeds.

More than 700 editors and newspaper men of Kansas, in state convention, unanimously endorsed prohibition.

Every political party in Kansas favors the prohibition law.

No minister has ever opened his mouth in favor or return to license; neither has any school teacher.

The president of Kansas Retailers says prohibition pays.

The president of the State Bankers' Association believes that prohibition is a tremendous asset to Kansas.

One hundred and sixty-six bankers have filed their testimony in favor of the law with the Temperance Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, and only six could be found in all the state who doubted the wisdom of this legislation.

The president of the Kansas Medical Society believes in prohibition.

The president of the Commercial Clubs of Kansas has said that prohibition has added real value to every acre of Kansas land.

The Supreme Court has testified in the following strong language to the benefits of the prohibition law:

"The prohibitory law is well enforced throughout the state. It is as generally well enforced as any other criminal law. The enforcement of the law distinctly promotes social welfare and reduces to a minimum economic waste consequent upon the liquor traffic and allied evils. The saloon-keeper and his comrades have been excluded from effective participation in the politics of the state."

Does it Pay to Outlaw the Liquor Traffic?

TESTIMONY OF A NATION

Russia, the only nation that has ever really tried it, is emphatic in saying that it does pay. Some of the ablest economists and general observers in Europe say that prohibition in Russia has marked the beginning of the real and evidently permanent prosperity of that nation. Notwithstanding the sacrifice of revenue involved in the prohibition decree, the credit of Russia, even in one of the most costly wars of history, is so good that a Russian loan of $50,000,000, according to Chancellor Lloyd George of Great Britain, has been oversubscribed in London within the last few weeks. It is becoming a well-understood fact that the credit of the state or the nation that gets itself into a right position on the prohibition question, like the credit of the individual who has taken the right attitude in the same respect, is greatly strengthened and may be greatly extended.

To support this statement as it applies to Russia since the edict of the Czar, there is no lack of evidence if the words of the men in control of the policies and finances of the nation may be believed. No less an authority than Mr. Bark, the man to whom was entrusted the task of raising the deficit in the revenue due to the prohibition of the sale of intoxicants, declares, "We have stopped the gap without difficulty or effort. We had 500,000,000 roubles ($250,000,000) in the free reserve and other available funds from which we drew, and the problem was solved." And as proof of the improved financial condition of the individual citizen which in the long run determines the condition of the nation, he cites the increase in the savings banks accounts. He says, "Although only a few months have elapsed between the promulgation of the Czar's humane and patriotic edict and the end of 1914, the excess of deposits over withdrawals amounted to $4,000,000,000 or twice the amount of the preceding year. In summing up the situation he says, 'Russia's economic situation, therefore, is not merely excellent, but it is rapidly improving, and my faith in her future—not a blind, but a carefully reasoned faith—is boundless.'"

PORT DANIEL WEST

On Wednesday, April 7th, at 4.30 p.m., a very pretty wedding took place at St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, Port Daniel West, when Miss Jennie Chisholm, and Mr. James Bisson, of Barachois, and Port Daniel West respectively were united in marriage by the Rev. A. T. Love.

The ceremony was opened by the

LETTER FROM THE FRONT.

The following is an extract of a letter received from Francis Maguire, of New Carlisle, who is now at the front with the 2nd Battalion, First Canadian Contingent. Writing on March 7th he says:

"This is Sunday noon and the name of the place is Baue-sur-Côme (Back you Come the boys call it). We got here last night for a rest, after coming out of the trenches, and had the pleasure of some letters from home.

How we got to France I will not write, but we spent our first night at a village called Merris (Department du Nord), within sound of the guns. From there we marched to Armentieres, where we entered the trenches relieving the 1st North Staffords. The famous or rather infamous Prussian Guard was against us, but we held our own and had very few casualties. We were then relieved by the Leinster Regiment, and returned to Merris for a day and then marched to Sailly-sur-Lys, and next day entered new trenches near La Bassée, opposed to the Bavarians. Here we stayed till night before last. I like the life in the trenches except for the mud. The food is good and there is little to do during the day. All the work is done at night. During the day you keep your head down and take life easy, except when the shelling starts, and then you stick as close to the front of the trench as you can. During the night, however, it is a different question, some sleep for a watch while others look out; more go out in front to inspect and repair the barbed wire, while others have to go out on a listening post and the remainder are employed bringing in the morrow's rations of food and water, as well as ammunition. It is then that most of our casualties occur. Of course, when they start shelling there are bound to be casualties too; but our own artillery always replies, and they scarcely keep it up long. All the same shell fire is no fun. One shell got eight of my section, the other day. I say my section as I am now a section commander. We are not far from the Gorkhas now, but I think we are doing much better than they, what with the cold and the special food which their religion calls for, these poor fellows, Sikhs, Punjabis and Gorkhas, are always in trouble.

Our own artillery has done wonders. Its accuracy is marvellous. Shall I try to describe last Tuesday's performance. The German trenches were 200 yards in front of ours and just behind them were the ruins of a few houses in which they had snipers posted. Finally we signalled the artillery in our rear to shell these houses, which it did most effectually. In return the enemy started throwing shells into our trenches from their trench mortars. Our artillery replied by bursting sharpnel over them, and to this the German artillery answered by directing its fire on our guns which in turn gave their attention to the German guns and silenced them shortly. On the whole it was sufficiently interesting for us, as we were either the target or between the opposing batteries and the shells from both sides were whizzing over our heads. All this part of the country is deserted and in ruins. The church where I heard mass this morning is full of holes, made by lyddite shells. I have met several English regiments in the trenches and have the highest regard for the English "Tommy". Our own officers occasionally do a mad stunt. A few nights ago one of them walked right up to the German trenches and fired 3 shots from his revolver in them, and got away in spite of their machine gun. I have not seen a paper for about 3 weeks and so cannot say how the war is going, but all here seem to think it cannot last very long now. But this will do for the war part of my letter. I shall do better "viva voce".

well known hymn, "The voice that breathed o'er Eden", played by Miss Alma Bisson, sister of the groom.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Thos. McCallum, looked extremely pretty and was most beautifully and becomingly gowned in white satin with overlace; the long bridal veil was prettily arranged, and of fringed blossoms.

She carried a bouquet of white roses and was attended by Miss Muriel Bisson, cousin of the groom, who was very prettily dressed in a gown of white embroidered voile. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Thos. Bisson.

At the close of the ceremony the new couple proceeded from the church amidst the joyful peals of a wedding march played by Miss Alma Bisson.

On arriving at the home of the groom, the interior of which was very tastefully decorated with flags and flowers, the host of guests were greeted by another march, this time by Mrs. H. H. Mortimer, after which a very elaborate tea was served, and needless to say was highly appreciated by all.

Music and games of various kinds entertained the guests until the wee hours in the morning, when each took their departure with a feeling that never before had they so thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

A large number of the brides many friends and relatives, came all the way from Barachois, Caspe Co., to see her welcomed to her new home.

To attempt to enumerate the many presents which the bride received would be almost an endless task; sufficient to say that she was the receiver of many costly and useful household gifts.

We wish Mr. and Mrs. Bisson to accept from their friends, every sincere and heartfelt good wish, for a long, happy and successful wedded life.

DEATH AT MAPLE GREEN

The death of James St. Onge occurred on Saturday, April 18th, at the home of his father in Maple Green. Deceased leaves to mourn their loss, a sorrowing father and mother, one sister, Margaret, three brothers, namely, Patrick, Albert and Paul, all at home. The late Mr. St. Onge had been ailing for over a year, but his death will be heard with much regret by his numerous friends. He was a young man of sterling Christian character, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was a member of the M. E. A. and Artisans of Campbellton. The funeral was held from his residence Monday morning, the pall-bearers being members of the Artisans, namely, Mr. Poirier, Mr. La Chance, Mr. Comeau, Mr. Bourdage, Mr. Corpeau and Mr. L. L. Arseneau. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. St. Onge, this being the third death in their family in two years.

DR. J. N. MICHAUD

ELECTED MAYOR
(From the Gloucester Northern Light)
The election for Mayor held yesterday resulted in a victory for J. N. Michaud by a majority of 49 votes over A. N. DesBrisay. Great interest was manifest in the contest, 363 votes being polled out of a total of 459. The votes polled was as follows: Wards 1 and 2 (Town Hall), Michaud 137, DesBrisay 117. Wards 3 and 4, (Village), Michaud 69, DesBrisay 40, making a total for Michaud of 206 and DesBrisay 157.

After the election was announced to the large crowd of citizens who had gathered at the Town Hall, short speeches of thanks to their supporters were delivered by both Mayor Michaud and Mr. DesBrisay.

MR. W. R. PAYNE

TO RETIRE SOON
(From the Gloucester Northern Light)
After a service of over forty years with the Intercolonial Railway, Mr. W. R. Payne, station agent at Newcastle for the past ten years, is to retire from active service early next month.

Mr. Payne spent most of his long railway career as station agent at Bathurst, taking the position almost at the opening of the line in 1873-1874, and continuing until he was promoted about ten years ago to the more important post at Newcastle. During this long period he conducted the business of the railway with utmost satisfaction to the management as well as to the travelling public, and the citizens of Bathurst were very sorry when more important duties called him from the place he had filled so acceptably for so many years.

Now that Mr. Payne is to retire to enjoy an unusually well earned rest, the best wishes of all his Bathurst friends will be with him, and all hope that he will see his way clear to spend a portion of his time at least, in the town to whose interests he devoted so many years of his long and busy career.

CAMPBELLTON FOLKS ASTONISH DRUGGIST

We sell many good medicines but we are told the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler's-ka, is the best we ever sold. Campbellton folks astonish us daily by telling how QUICKLY Adler's-ka relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation. Many report that "A SINGLE DOSE relieves these troubles almost IMMEDIATELY." We are glad we are Campbellton agents for Adler's-ka, A. McG. McDonald, druggist.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank the electors of Ward 1, for the splendid support given me in Tuesday's civic election and particularly the ladies from whom I received a large vote. Also for the many kindnesses shown me during my short canvass of the Ward. Being defeated by but only three votes and considering the forces and many influences arrayed against me, fully convinces me that the ratepayers are evincing more interest in town affairs as though I were a large voter. While I will not be a member of the Town Council this year still I shall take as deep an interest in town affairs as though I were and shall always continue to do so. Again thanking you for the handsome and most creditable support given me Tuesday, I am,
Yours sincerely,
WILLIAM H. WALLACE.
