YORK COUNTY Liberal - Conservative Gandidate THOS. TEMPLE, Esq.

The Liberal Conservative Commit tee Rooms, in Inches' Building, corner of Queen and York Streets, will be open every day and evening (Sunday excepted) during the cam-chise. We ask the young men of York paign, and Mr. Temple's friends in County to consider this matter well, be of fourteen Conservatives to start with. town and country, are cordially in- fore they ally their fortunes with those vited to call.

It is just three years since we appealed to the electors of York to send Mr. Temple to Parliament, and to-day, we again make the same appeal, conficlent that it will be followed by the same might not be enjoyed. Young men, result as in 1884. But Mr. Temple's work is only half done, and we ask the electors of this constituency to return him again to Parliament to complete it. There are two great public works projected in this county that deprices and expensive living, and gener mand and deserve the assistance of Parliament. We want the railway to Woodstock, and we want the railway bridge across the St. John river. For the former, Mr. Temple has already secured a guilty of misrepresentation; of course handsome grant, and he has good reason

BLACK & HAZEN, Agents. WONDERFUL!

PETWEEN eight and ten years ago, a medicine was introduced to the public, and suffering humanity was invited to try the same.

The proprietor knew from experience, that success was certain, but the human breast—so imbued with prejudice that it forms one of the strongest barriers to break down and the greatest enemy to overcome before any headway can be made towards the mansion of success. Truth has often proved itself to be "stranger than fiction," and it is a fact as solid as truth that SMITH'S CHAMOMILE PILLS have now become one of the leading Patent Medicines of the present day, from north to south, and from east to west, they are to be found in the homes of the rich and poor. All classes of society use them, and they are by thousands declared to be Worth their Weight in Gold.

For a Weak Stomach, Impaired Digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like "MAGIC," and a few doses will be found to work wonders on the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long-lost complexion, bring back the kean edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the rose-bund of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame. These are "facts" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of society; and one of the best guarantees to the nervous and debilitated is, Smith's Chamesnile Pills have the largest sale of any Fatent Medicine in the Dominion.

These are only a few taken from the hundreds in mypossession, and are minent business and professional men, well known.

The river goes drifting past me On toward the great wide sea,
Dalling here with the lillies,
Wood'd by the wind and the bee,
And whispering there to the rushes
And recal is the soldier's age,
Where the player's next is hidden,
Deep in the cool green seage.

So, idle and dreaming ever, It drifts to the great wide sea, And is lost in the world of waters:

And it is a type of me.

My life goes drifting stilly, Like a river with the years, And it has enough of sunshine To make the long for tears. I am drifting idly onward, And I throw the hours away, For an hour is counted squander If it holds no good, they say.

And nothing of good in me, Then life is an utter failure. As it drifts to the unknown sea If the force in the idle river
Wene made to work for men,
as it figs a slong to the ocean,
To come not back again,

In turning the busy mill wheel
On its green and pleasant edge, Instead of its aimless drifting Past tily and reed and sedge, Then as it nears the ocean, And it merged in the mighty flood, They would say to the little river, It has done the best it could."

am tired of aimless drifting A leaf on the tide of time, I will force the power within me To deeds which, if not sublime, Shall be something healthful an heartf To those I meet in the way. I will be no more like the river;
