Calkin and LeBlanc to Evaluate NFCUS

SRC President Tom Calkin and Vice-President Sandy LeBlanc will leave tonight by plane for Sherbrooke, to attend the Annual Conference of the National Federation of Canadian University Students. Arriving back tonight, after covering the first part of the Conference, will be First Vice-President Sandy LeBlanc. Eva Fairweather will stay in Sherbrooke all week as a delegate from the local NFCUS association.

Plans for the Conference were finalized at the first meeting of the SRC last week. President Calkin explained to the Council that the Executive had decided to send both himself and the Vice-President to the Conference as well as Miss Fairweather, pointing out that the Council would have to authorize and pay for one fare. Questioned by Representative Copeland as to the reason why all three delegates were not to stay all week, the President stated that at this time of the year he and the Vice-President could not both be away from the campus at the same time.

President Calkin pointed out that the reason he and the Vice-President were going was to evaluate NFCUS and find out if it was worthwhile for UNB to remain within the organization and pay annual dues of one dollar for each UNB student.

The Fall Formal will be held on October 10, it was announced at the same meeting by Social Committee Chairman Mary Trites. The Council granted her $750 for decorating and expenses for the event, which will have as its theme the musical "Camelot."

Hope Hyslop, Senior Representative, was appointed Chief Returning Officer for the coming elections. Treasurer Dave Munson stated that the Council was solvent by $1,074, while President Calkin mentioned that the SRC might adopt a standard accounting system for all the campus organizations. The meeting was concluded with a unanimous vote of thanks to Lally Mitchell for her work in producing the Freshman Handbook.

LITTLE ROCK—B.C.?

VANCOUVER (CUP) — Homeowners near the campus have built a Little Rock on the University of British Columbia doorstep. Negroes are turned down daily on racial grounds when they apply to rent rooms or suites in private homes. Chinese and East Indians are subject to discrimination also, but less frequently.

A survey of UBC's reporters of the student newspaper the Ubysey found:

- a Negro reporter was turned down at more than 50% of the houses at which he applied.

- a white reporter who followed him a few minutes later was accepted at every house refusing the Negro.

- white reporters were told stories voluntarily of how members of other races had been turned away.

The 'Ubysey' investigation followed an article in the Toronto Star which charged that many of the landlords given on a housing list at the University of Toronto were turning down Negroes. The Ubysey selected 50 houses at random from a list compiled in August by the University housing administration. All owners of these houses had informed the housing administration that they wished to rent suites to university students or take them on as boarders. The Housing Administration said the discrimination was unknown to them.

City officials said a Vancouver bylaw forbids discrimination on racial grounds in selling food and letting rooms. The maximum penalty is $10.00.

A team of girl reporters who visited houses looking for rooms asked if they permitted Negro tenants. Sample comments:

"I don't allow coloured people

"I'm not prejudiced but I know my neighbours are." This same woman had refused to rent to a Negro student the day before.

But the Ubysey found that prejudice is a long way from being universal. One woman was incensed when asked if she would accept Negroes. "I'm a Christian woman," she said indignantly. "All races are welcome in my home."

The Student's Administrative Council at the University of Toronto is considering a motion to carry out an educational program for landlords, designed to alleviate a similar problem in Toronto.

GUEST SPEAKER

Noted British author and educator, John Innes Macintosh Stewart, will receive his honorary degree of Doctor of Letters in convocation ceremonies October 4. He is a writer of detective stories, novels and books on literature. He will speak to UNB faculty and students on Thursday, Sept. 27 at 11:30 a.m. in Memorial Hall.

The following day, Sept. 28, he will speak to students and the public in Teachers' College Auditorium beginning at 9:00 a.m. UNB faculty and students will have another opportunity to hear Mr. Stewart when he will give an address on modern novelists Tuesday, October 2 at 1:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall.

There will be a meeting of all interested in working on the Brunswickian tonight at 7:00 in the Tartan Room of the Student Centre. The Brunswickian needs Typists, Reporters, Proof Readers, Layout Staff, Writers, Columnists, and other miscellaneous staff members. If you are interested, Be THERE!

executive requirements

There are twenty-three members on the S.R.C. That body has ultimate responsibility and control over all student affairs at UNB. An almost equal number of students is appointed by the S.R.C. to fill the executive positions of the chief campus institutions. In this category are the editorial staffs of the Yearbook, Brunswickan and Radio UNB, and the leaders of the Winter Carnival Committee, Campus Police and the Students' Disciplinary Committee.

At the beginning of last year, student affairs were in a muddle because the S.R.C. President had failed his year, and a replacement had to be found and trained. To guard against a similar recurrence, the Constitution was changed so that all nominees for the five S.R.C. executive positions must have an academic average of at least sixty per cent.

This year one third of the S.R.C. members failed and had to resign, while the appointed positions suffered an equal number due to academic failures. The result is that all phases of student government are thrown into chaos, and those who remain are left to start from scratch to rebuild the student organizations.

It seems only common sense to extend the sixty per cent academic requirement to cover all the responsible student positions, both elected and appointed. Not only would this provide an incentive toward better academic standards, but it would ensure smoother and more efficient operation of all aspects of student government.

abbreviation

After the five month summer break, students who had left UNB in a tired and uncongenial state arrived back on campus to greet their fellows with the most amazing heartiness. Even those who were not particular friends in May hailed each other like long-lost brothers . . . and sisters.

In the first couple of days, the conversations began thusly:

"Hi there, Kid! How was your summer?"
 "How did you make out on your exams?"
 "Are there any freshettes here yet?"

By the end of the week, the whole process had been shortened to:

"Hi! Nice summer?"
 "How many you got?"
 "Is she back?"

EDUCATED?

"Whom, then, do I call educated? First, those who manage well the circumstances which they encounter day by day and who possess a judgment which is accurate in meeting occasions as they arise and rarely misses the expedient course of action; next, those who are decent and honourable in their intercourse with all men, bearing easily and good naturedly what is unpleasant or offensive in others, and being themselves as agreeable and reasonable as is humanly possible to be; furthermore, those who hold their pleasures always under control and are not unduly overcome by their misfortunes, bearing under them bravely and in a manner worthy of our common nature; finally, and most important of all, those who are not spoiled by their successes and who do not desert their true selves, but hold their ground steadfastly as wise and sober-minded men, rejoicing no more in the good things which have come to them by chance than in those which through their own nature and intelligence are

FROSH QUEEN

Miss Peggy Blair, a petite 5'5" blue-eyed blonde from Moncton, N.B., was chosen Freshman Queen for 1962-63 on Friday night at the Freshman Banquet and Dance held at McConnell Hall. This eighteen year old beauty pictured above with Sheila Hutchinson, last year's Freshman Queen, will spend her next four years at UNB as a protegee of Miss Florence Nightingale. Peggy plans to work with mentally retarded children when she progresses into the nursing profession.

A girl with a magnetic personality and an aim to do what is right at this university, she thinks very poorly of the sex ratio at UNB. Peggy loves university life and she said she found it much more than she expected it to be. Like all co-eds, she likes the dances and going out to make your own fun. Peggy plans to add to her academic studies by working on the Brunswickan as a typist and on Winter Carnival in what she hopes will be a public relations or administrative capacity.

As a resident of the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel, Seventh floor, Miss Blair is looking for theirs since birth. Those who have a character which is in accord, not with one of these things, but with all of them; these I maintain are educated and whole men, possessed of the virtues of manhood."

ward to moving into the new women's residence Up the Hill. When asked about the food in residence, Peggy had only one comment, "It is very good for institutional cooking."

Peggy, being a very enthusiastic and ambitious person, took a secretarial course after graduating from high school in 1961. She decided on a University nursing course rather than a hospital course because it would broaden her mind and her outlook on life. I am sure we will all agree that we would much rather have Peggy grace our campus for four years instead of hospital halls. Peggy enjoys meeting people and therefore she thoroughly enjoyed Frosh Week.

We wish Peggy the best of luck in her future years at UNB. She is a girl with a mind of her own and she will have no trouble carrying out her aims at this university.

— From Our Readers —

To the Editor:

In past years students have been able to receive the results of their final examinations within a few days after they had written them. Last year, however, they were forced to wait for months due to some administrative intricacy. As a result, many students did not know their marks soon enough for them to apply for summer school, and they are suffering from this now, in some cases by repeating their year. Could not this be remedied in some way?

Brian Copeland

If your facts are straight, it should be remedied. We suggest you check with the Registrar and write us another letter telling us what she said.—ed.

To the Editor:

First of all, let me say I like to read the Brunswickan, and I usually find at least one thing in it which is not wholly trash. But . . . I don't like the paper well enough to wait around the campus until three or four o'clock in the afternoon for it to appear. With one issue a week, the news is stale enough without having to wait until the following morning to get it.

Also, why do you not put more papers where there is a demand for them. They can be seen sitting in the Old Arts Building many days after they are gone elsewhere. The Women's residences are short of them, and the Student Centre could use them, rather than letting them gather dust where they are never seen. Of course there are some issues when it would be wise to send the whole lot to the Old Arts Building, but we hope there won't be too many of those.

Sincerely yours,
 A Senior

We are adjusting the number of copies which are distributed in each place, and we are trying to see that our publisher gets them out on time.—ed.

M. Bell:

I speak for many people on campus who are just as irate about this as myself. Why can one not get one's yearbook? Some were given out last year, but it was merely a case of "the word getting out". Are those who didn't get the word doomed to do without their yearbooks? Because I felt studying more important last spring than the collection of my yearbook, am I to be punished this fall by lack of it? I paid my SRC fees last year and by all rights am entitled to one. When do I get it?

yours truly,
 Rheese Dickie

We don't know either, but will endeavor to find out for you by next week.—ed.

Dear Sir:

For the last three days, I have spent all my spare time running around between various administrative offices. If this were entirely my fault I would not mind, but it isn't. All this could have been saved at registration if the people who signed my cards had read the courses I intended to take, and told me then and there, that it could not be done. Instead I was allowed to sign up for more courses than I am allowed in one group, and have since had to change. I realize that registration is a bit of a mess, but surely it would be possible to catch these things a little sooner, if the administration would keep its eyes open. If two days makes it too much of a rush and confusion, perhaps registration could be spread out over three or even four days.

Yours,
 A disgruntled artsman

We thought it was much better organized than other years. What do you expect, perfection? Then too, you could read the calendar.—ed.

Dear Sir:

This letter is to wish upon Dick Grant, the Dean of Men's Residences, a very large bouquet of flowers for the lovely accommodations I enjoyed for $22.00 a week in Jones House basement. My hearty congratulations to him and his staff for their far-sightedness in arranging this type of accommodations for my return to UNB.

T. A. Vern
 Thank you,

Petty, my boy, petty.—ed.

Red PR Effort Fails

OTTAWA (CUP) A Finnish newspaper, the Helsinki Youth News, has come out with an entire edition blasting the communist-sponsored 8th World Youth Festival held at Helsinki in August.

The Festival was boycotted by the Finnish National Student Union and many national unions in the western world. The Finnish Government agreed only under pressure from Moscow to allow the Festival to be held in Finland the paper says.

The Festival, which cost its communist organizers an estimated $25 million, failed on four counts the Youth News says.

* it was either unwilling or unable to conceal the oneness of its political criticism.

* the Finnish people, though realizing the difficult position of its government because of threats by the Soviet Union, responded coldly to the event. Four nights of rioting in protest of the Festival were staged by the "teenage irresponsible element," the paper says.

* the local Festival organizers, members of communist parties from 15 countries, were prevented by Finnish politicians from taking the hard line desired by the financial sponsors.

* Festival organizers were unable to generate continuing enthusiasm beyond the opening day parade. The boredom and inattention were shown in early departures and the statements of what the paper calls "obviously disillusioned" young people.

In another story in the eight-page edition, the paper examines, in detail, the background of the 19 Festival organizers. All are either members of the communist party or active members of communist youth organizations, the paper claims.

Elsewhere the paper says one of the main functions of the Festival, to demonstrate the superiority of the Soviet brand of "peace and friendship" to members of student groups from the newly-developing, uncommitted countries, failed because very few of the 13,000 students attending came from such countries.

The paper claims that the right to free expression was suppressed even on the conference floor itself. It claims that this, as much as anything else, was one of the main causes of disillusionment among the delegates.

"They find it difficult to see where the freedom comes in when thunderous applause greets such anti-Western statements as 'we will soon bury you all,' and 'I don't give any of you more than 20 years of life,' while delegates objecting to such oneness were ruled out of order by meeting chairmen and told to 'shut up and sit down.'"

At least seven and perhaps as many as 30 East German delegates to the 8th World Youth Festival in Helsinki, Finland, fled their delegation to seek political asylum in the West the Helsinki Youth News claims.

The Youth News says the West German Trade Mission in Helsinki confirmed the escape of seven East Germans. The East German delegation totalled 500 members.

Those who did escape did so in the face of tough obstacles, the Youth News said. The East German delegation was one of the most closely guarded at the Festival. No more than one-quarter of the group was allowed to leave the living quarters at one time.

A NEW TWIST

LBR outdid the other six dorms up the hill once again Monday past by holding the first big social of the year. In order to remove all fears that the freshettes might have on attending their first college social, the LBR boys rolled past the Womens' Residences in their "Socialmobile" and provided free transportation for the freshettes to the hallowed lounge of LBR. The Socialmobile, a farm tractor and haywagon, provided a fine start to the evening, but seemed just a little bit sluggish going up the hill. Consequently the boys had to walk. They were getting too friendly anyway.

The social in the form of a "get-to-know the freshettes" dance was a highly successful affair. Twisting was the main attraction until some party crasher stole the light bulbs.

LBR has set the pace for the other Residences, let's hope they can keep it.

Terry Toons

It's about this new telephone system on campus. Now, I'm not one to complain, but this is the most fouled up conglomeration of operators, wrong numbers, and sore dialling-fingers since Alexander Graham Bell invented this fabulous little social aid. The other evening I tried to call LBR (why I don't know) and was told by a not too sweet local operator that I had the wrong number. Then I called the university and found that LBR had been relegated to the position of a common extension. After an unsuccessful call, I found it necessary to call the Brunswickan office—(at least now I knew how to go about it)—but no! The office had a private line—what do you do?

It also appears that if you find yourself in dire emergency after 11:30 you sit it out until the morning unless you happen to have an "in" with the operator. Heaven help the residences!

Now this may go by the absolutely absurd name of progress or organization, but that's no excuse for such inconvenience.

Incidentally . . . why hasn't anyone shot Dave Tilson yet?

You have to hand it to the judges for their decision Friday night, and to those who decorated.

We hear that the quality of the food at one of Fredericton's newly re-opened restaurants is slipping drastically.

Red 'n' Black got off the launching pad last Thursday night but it still needs lots of punch. Get together with some other kids and work up a skit to present at the "Greatest Show on Earth" (well in Fredericton at least).

Did you know that some people pull strings better than others—with the result that the newly-enforced academic rulings on exams and supps is being evaded by a favoured few?

CLUBS NIGHT - SPORTS NIGHT

Last Wednesday evening in Memorial Hall was the scene of the annual UNB Clubs' Night, under the direction of the Sophomore class President, Dave Tilson.

He outlined the purpose of the evening which was a chance for new students to get an insight into the makeup and purpose of the major organizations on campus.

The first speaker of the evening was SRC President Tom Calkin. Tom spoke briefly on the role of the SRC and announced that Fall Elections to fill the vacancies would be held on Oct. 10.

Next speaker was Ed Bell, Brunswickan Editor. Speaking of the advantages of working on the Brunswickan staff, Ed mentioned that there would be an organizational meeting for all interested next Wednesday night, Sept. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Tartan Room.

Dave Tilson then introduced Bruce Ward, Radio UNB President. Bruce spoke to the new students of the outstanding progress Radio UNB has made since its initiation, to such an extent that they were now capable of broadcasting live events back to the UNB campus. He also outlined the technical and programming side of the organization.

Following Bruce, Dave Wilson, the Winter Carnival Chairman gave a brief talk on Winter Carnival. Dave also narrated a short but representative film of last year's tremendously successful Carnival.

Dave Wilson came back for an encore, but this time he spoke of Red 'n' Black. He announced that this year the Revue would be held on Nov. 15, 16 and 17, emphasizing that the show is only seven weeks away. Dave asked for all help that could be given in making this year's show as good as last.

The last speaker of the evening was Doug Baggs, editor of the yearbook. Mr. Baggs put forth his plan of operation for the coming year.

Sports Night, on Thursday, saw a dismal turnout in the Gym parking lot. Twenty teams of five, each under a Sophomore captain, played vigorous games of volleyball, table tennis, bowling, shuffleboard and swimming.

J.V. POSSIBLE WINNERS

Approximately forty-five prospects hit the field last Tuesday, making a bid for the 1962 Junior version of the Red Bombers.

With the first game here on October 6th, against Prince of Wales followed by a home and home series against St. Thomas and Mt. "A", coaches Arsenault and McLennan are working hard at a starting lineup.

Bright prospects in camp include quarters Ross, Ward and Radcliffe, along with backfielders Lynch and Gibson.

Along the line, Coach McLennan is pleased with Guards Rankin, Johnson, Watson and Swan; tackles Tucker and Wace; but is still looking for some heavy prospects to fill in the gaps on defence.

The juniors will run from multiple offensive systems, including the Wing T, Double Wing and Double Quarterback setups.

This week the coaches are mainly concerned with setting up their offensive and defensive systems with the final cuts coming after the intersquad game this Sunday.

Saints Here Saturday

Middies Sink Bombers 33-0

Sports Corner

The Red Bombers open their 1962 football season here Saturday against Saint Dunstan's. This will be their first league game of the year, since Maine-Maritime was only an exhibition game to allow the coaches a chance to evaluate their players' potentiality and to serve as a warm-up for the oncoming season. This year's edition of the Bombers could provide spectators with an entertaining brand of ball playing providing no more serious injuries occur. Unfortunately, four of the starting twelve offensive players have suffered injury during the past ten days. The upcoming game should result in victory for the big Red team, unless the opposition has improved over last year's showing against our J. V. in the "B" league.

It is interesting to hear that Mount Allison sent three people to scout and take films of the U.N.B. game last weekend. Wonder if U.N.B. has thought of covering Mt. A. yet?

The Cross country team, the Harriers, travel to Bangor, Maine, Saturday trying to resume last year's undefeated season when they meet Husson College. Returning members are captain Mike Nobel, Chris Williamsen, Pete Schuddleboom, George Levesque and Bob Jarvis. Several promising new members are also preparing for the meet.

U.N.B.'s Red Shirts, the varsity Soccer Team also travel to Bangor this weekend, where they will play Husson. Paced by captain Brian Bunner and hold overs Tom Hanley, Peter Staffield, Joe Szammer, Bernie Irungu, Mike Jackson, Ron Searles, and Bob Sherry the team is preparing for the annual grudge matches against Mt. A.

Last weekend Miss Shaw, director of female Phys. Ed. took twenty-three girls down to Mt. A. to attend a coaching clinic held by Chiki Geraci. Miss Geraci is the present captain of the United States Women's Field Hockey team that just completed a successful tour of Europe. This clinic explained the fundamentals of the game to all the girls attending since this is the first year that Field Hockey has been an intercollegiate sport in the Maritimes. Saturday the team will play an exhibition game against Moncton High.

A women's intramural Tennis tournament was held Sunday at Queen's Square courts to decide our varsity team. Unfortunately time ran out and the final matches were not able to be played. This will be completed soon and then Miss Shaw will announce the varsity Tennis team.

At the same time as the tennis tournament, a women's softball tournament was held. Joan Carson, a first year Phys. Ed. student was the winning pitcher for City and Hotel as well as providing a powerful array of hitting when up at the plate.

U.N.B.'s most successful team, the Beavers, held their first swim team meeting Monday evening in the gym. There was a poor turnout and any persons interested are asked to contact coach "Amby" Legere at the gym immediately. This also applies for interested female swimmers.

The Maine-Maritime Coast Guard Academy football players thoroughly trounced U.N.B.'s Red Bombers 33 - 0 in an exhibition game held last Saturday afternoon in Castine, Maine.

Completely dominating the play throughout the game, the midshipmen recorded five touchdowns, a convert and a safety to obtain their victory, while holding the Bombers scoreless.

Aside from the lopsided statistics, Coach Don Nelson had very little to comment about the game. Admitting the Bombers were decisively clobbered; he is still not very optimistic about the future. The Bombers' offence was a disappointment obtaining only four first downs and compiling a measly 85 yards gained on the ground and five through air; while the other half of the team, the defensive squad received quite a workout.

The Bombers started out the game strong, only trailing by six points at the end of the first quarter. Then the size and conditioning of the Middies took its toll in the second quarter with the Americans building up a 27 point lead at the half.

The last half was close after Maine-Maritime completed their scoring within the opening minutes of the third quarter. They played their second string team in this half and the teams were more evenly matched.

The Middies compiled twelve first downs as a result of 245 yards gained rushing and 107 yards through the air.

The Bombers learned a substantial amount about blocking, tackling fundamentals as their opponents were very proficient in both departments.

Injuries have again plagued the Red Bombers as Steve Doty, Ken Harvey and Wayne Spino had knee injuries previously to the weekend. This casualty was added to in the exhibition game as co-captain Richard "Pooch" Clark early in the game reinjured his tendons that have kept him out of football action for much of the past two years. This resulted in his having to leave the game in the first five minutes. Tony Dew did not return to action after the half due to a hip injury.

It is hoped that all five will be available for Saturday's game when the Red Bombers face Saint Dunstan's Saints on College Field at 2:00 p.m.
