> (To be continued.) THE NEW-COME SPRING.

BY ADAM ST. VICTOR. TRANSLATED BY H. M. M.

Joyful from her earthy bed, Spring leads forth her new-born train; Jesus, rising from the dead, All things calls to life again; All the elements obey, Feeling their Creator's sway,

And keep solemn holiday. Now He gives serener skies, And the billows cease to rise; And the wind breathes still and

And our vale is blooming bright; Green the thirsty uplands grow; Winter's fetters melt and flow As the vernal zephyrs blow.

Ice-bound Death thus melts and fails, And the "prince of this world" quails,

And his cursed empire all Totters to its final fall. Satan came and nothing found; Jesus, whom he would have bound, Shook his throne to hell profound,

For mankind recovers more Than they lost or knew before-

And, as promised by the Lord, Lo! He sheathes the flaming sword.

And the cherub-guarded way Opens into endless day. -Ave Maria.

High Pressure Days. Men and women alike have to times, when the air is thick with work incessantly with brain and hand conspiracies and plots, in Germany, to hold their own nowadays. Never Italy, France, the Netherlands, not were the demands of business, the to speak of Scotland, which bubbles wants of the family, the requirements over like a witches' kettle! And of society, more numerous.
