CHAPTER VI.

Lord Ottershaw and Beth.

Seen in the moonlight the Glen farmhouse had a picturesque air; yet, as Elizabeth drew nearer to it, its silence, its lack of light, made the desolation more pronounced.

A dog ran out barking shrilly as she emerged from the shadows, and the sound brought that hard-faced woman to the door again.

"What do you want here?" she asked, roughly, but before Elizabeth could stammer out some explanation of her presence, David Barostan's voice was heard commanding the woman to stand aside.

She obeyed with a scowl, and walked rapidly around the house toward the back quarters.

As David emerged from the darkness of the house into the moonlight, Elizabeth saw that he was restored in a great measure to his usual self.

Shabby he was, roughly dressed, having the look upon him of

Psoriasis All Over Body

Doctors Said Incurable, But Now There is No Sign of Disease, Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Concession, Ont., writes—"For five years I suffered with what three doctors called psoriasis. They could not help me, and one of them told me if anyone offered to guarantee a cure for $50.00 to keep my money, as I could not be cured. The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

The soothing, healing influence of Dr. Chase's Ointment is truly wonderful. It cures eczema, salt rheum, barber's itch, ringworm and scores of such torturing ailments. It is relieved at once and is certainly cured if I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

pocket and drew out a small leather case. He threw it at her feet.

"I took that from my brother's pocket—it is your sister's likeness. For the sake of that trumpy thing, whom you held to be so much too high for him," he said, "my boy went to his grave to-day. Pick it up, Elizabeth Forsyth, and you will see that there are blood stains on it. Do you think, with such things before my eyes, such knowledge stamped on my brain, that I could forget what you have done? Do you think that all the tardy words of kindness would wipe away those words that you wrote? For your sister I have nothing but contempt. She must be but a plaything of a woman to let herself be dominated so easily; but for you," he said, "I have hatred. I live only to humble you, to make you suffer, to take from you all that you pride so much, and to bring you down to the dust at my feet."

Elizabeth shivered. Another woman might have taken another stand, might have adopted a matter-of-fact air might have uttered that she, even if she had written that letter, had been right in doing so, as such a union as one between Lil and the dead boy was absolutely out of the question; but Elizabeth did none of these things. She only remembered her promise to Lil, and that coffin that lay in the newly made grave.

She turned and walked away a few steps, and he followed her. When they were in the shadow of the trees again she spoke. "Strange as it may seem to you," she said, in a broken voice, "I—I recognize your right to demand this justice; but we live in a prosaic age—revenge seems out of date. Will you not accept from me the assurance of my heartfelt sorrow? Will you not let me move you from your hatred? There may be ways in which I can show you that atonement is possible without resorting to any fierce ways."

Again David Barostan laughed. "I thought so!" he said, and he spoke scornfully. "I knew you would try and play this game! Move me?"

"If it pleases you to doubt my word," said Elizabeth, proudly, "I must suffer that, yet I am speaking the truth."

He put out his hand with a rough gesture.

"Then keep such paltry truth to yourself," he said; "I want none of your pity, none of your tears and sympathy. I want only one thing from you, and that is atonement."

Elizabeth's hands stole to her heart.

Before her eyes there floated the image of her lover's face. There came the recollection of Ottershaw's devotion. She had with her own hand divided him from her, yet that would not kill his love, and at this moment it was natural that, woman-like, she should turn her thoughts to one who would protect her.

As she stood silent, Barostan

So thinks Mr. Nathaniel W. Reid, of Enterprise, Ont. Here are his grounds for thinking so: "Some time ago I was troubled with a lump growing on the side of my neck near the ear. I had consulted several physicians, and tried everything I could hear of, but obtained no beneficial results. I was told to use Douglas' Egyptian Liniment, which I did and was permanently cured. Since that time I have used this liniment for everything where an outward application is required, and have yet to learn of anything in reason that I cannot cure with it. No man has any idea of its value until he has used it, and no one will be without it after once using."

Mr. Reid is exactly right. No amount of praise impresses one so favorably as a trial of the Liniment itself. Try a bottle.

No, that you will never do," he said, harshly. "I care not which bears the suffering, you or that sister of yours; but hear me, Elizabeth Forsyth before God I swear it, one of you must answer to me for my brother's death!"

A little cry escaped Elizabeth's lips, and she covered her face with her hands.

Without hoping definitely, she realized at this moment that she had still clung to hope, that vaguely she had believed that he would yield and accept her offer of friendship.

And he seemed to understand what was passing in her mind.

"For a clever woman like you," he said, "it seems absurd that you should have buoyed yourself up with false hope. It is the working out of destiny, too," he added, "and makes the reason that a Barostan hates a Forsyth more clear, more just; for you know, don't you," he said, roughly, "that your father's second wife treated my father's brother as her child has treated mine? Therefore, with his double story of treachery written in our history, you are surely a fool to hope for mercy from me. But I have talked enough to-night," Barostan said, changing his tone roughly. "I desire to be alone; you can go, and be very sure that within the next twenty-four hours you will feel my hand on your shoulder. There is more to be settled between you and me than this last black business. But listen—just one word, and you may take it from me that I do not jest—if fall me, than I will not be satisfied till I have dragged that fair-haired doll in the dust and silenced her lying lips. Why," he stretched out his two hands, "it would not cost me two minutes of strength to crush the life out of her. Ah! that touches you," he said, exultingly, as Elizabeth winced and drew back, "you cannot bear to think of death coming to her, but you never stopped to think of the death you were dealing to a high-spirited, proud and loyal-hearted boy. Oh, go!—go!" he said, hoarsely. "It—it is not safe for you to stand so near to me. I am not sane when I think what you have done!"

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM.
This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its cause (for there are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same: more or less prominent being depression, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and loss of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vigour.

The Lawyer for the Other Side.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

When you are a thing in a question in your mind do you give the lawyer for the other side a chance, or have you long ago silenced him? What on earth do I mean? There is a woman in our little circle with whom it is a pleasure to discuss anything because she is so fair. I asked her once how she was able to do so just and reasonable and get the other person's point of view so wonderfully, and this is what she said: "I guess it's because I've always tried to encourage the lawyer for the other side instead of silencing him."

"Why, what do you mean?" I asked—just as you did. "Well," she said, "it's this way. When you are thinking over any matter that has two sides, something like a wrong you feel someone has done you, or some disagreeable thing you know you ought to do and just hate it—there's a part of you that starts in to tell you the other person's side of the case. Of course, your first instinct is to hush that part of you right up and dwell on your own side of the case. Now if you yield to that instinct, the next time the lawyer for the other side speaks up inside of you, he isn't quite so bold. And every time you silence him, he gets more and more timid until finally he doesn't speak at all. And then you gradually get to be the kind of person who never sees the other fellow's point of view."

of his own accord and can scarcely see it when it's forced on him. But if you start out by being willing to listen to the lawyer for the other side he's always ready to show you the other person's point of view. And if you give him plenty of practice he learns to do it so skillfully that he teaches you to be fair minded.

"I'm mighty glad to have you say I'm fair minded. I mean to be, and if I am, I owe it all to the lawyer for the other side, and the fact that I've tried not to silence him."

Do you recognize in yourself the conditions that the fair minded lady describe? Perhaps it will help if I make her concrete for you. Suppose you have done a great deal for a certain friend and suppose she has some spare tickets for a play which she knows you are very anxious to attend, and suppose she gives them to someone else. Of course, you feel very much injured and you are rehearsing your grievance and all you have done for her when the lawyer for the other side steps up and says, "But she didn't really have time to get the tickets for you. Do you say 'Stuff and nonsense!' and try to silence the lawyer for the other side by your emphasis, or do you consent to his argument, or do you return to listen to him? Do you encourage him to bring forward whatever justification he can think of?"

It is not easy to be fair minded, but it surely is a splendid quality. And of all the deserving personages I know I'm sure none deserves more encouragement from all of us than the lawyer for the other side.

Ruth Cameron

Why Have "Nerves"?

"This is the reason why women have 'nerves.' When thoughts begin to grow cloudy and uncertain, impulses lag and the seat of the brain is disturbed, as if by a lightning messenger throughout limbs and frame, straightway, nine times in ten, a woman will lay the cause of the trouble to some defect at the point where she first felt it. Is it a headache, a backache, a sensation of irritability or twitching and uncontrollable nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, a woman naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centers in the womanly organs. In nine cases out of ten the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The local disorder and inflammation of the delicate special organs of the sex should be treated steadily and systematically."

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made from medicinal extracts without the use of alcohol, relieved over 90 per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years, his private practice he put it up in form of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that would make it easily procurable, and it can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

Mrs. LILA B. HAWKINS, of Zepp, Va., writes: "I had been failing in health for two years—most of the time was not able to attend to my household duties. Female weakness was my trouble and I was getting very bad but, thanks to Doctor Pierce's medicine, I am well again. I used three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and used the 'Lotion Tablets.' I have nothing but praise for Doctor Pierce's wonderful medicines."

Letter From Sir Edward Morris.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—In the House of Assembly on February 22nd last I made the following statement:

"I have never had any interest, direct or indirect, near or remote, in any timber or mineral wealth. I have never made an application for a piece of timber or a mineral grant."

You having again called attention to this matter in your issue of Saturday last, in a more offensive and objectionable manner, I now desire to point out to you that the damaging inference against me sought to be drawn by you from the documents to which you refer, is unwarranted.

The facts of the matter are embodied in the following correspondence:—

Prime Minister's Office,
St. John's, Nfld.,
10 August, 1912.

Dear Sir—

Since my arrival from England, my attention has been drawn to a copy of the Evening Telegram of June 12th containing a statement to the effect that a declaration made by me in the Legislature on February 22nd, 1912, namely—"That I had never had any interest, direct or indirect, near or remote, in any timber or mineral wealth, and never had made an application for a piece of timber or mineral grant," was in direct conflict with the fact that the share-list of the St. George's Lumber Company, filed in the office of the Registrar of Companies at St. John's, Newfoundland, on March 2nd, 1911, sets forth that I held on February 21st 1911, 40,000 shares in this Company.

The inference attempted to be drawn from the statement of the Evening Telegram is, that I had been interested in timber properties in Newfoundland, now or at one time owned by the St. George's Lumber Company, and that the fact of my name appearing as a shareholder in that Company is conclusive proof on this point.

As you were the promoter of the St. George's Lumber Company, and as it was on your representation that those shares were allotted to me, I will thank you for a statement, over your own signature, which, if necessary, you will be prepared to substantiate upon oath, of the circumstances under which those shares were allotted to me, when they were allotted, and why they were allotted.

Yours faithfully,
E. P. MORRIS.

Soper & Moore

10th, and in reply I beg to state the following facts:—

In the year 1906 I first came to Newfoundland from Truro, accompanied by Steward, and he made application in the "Royal Gazette" for certain timber limits at St. George's which were approved to him and afterwards sold to me and others.

After I had the title to these properties, I employed you as Solicitor, to incorporate myself and a number of others into the St. George's Lumber Company, which you did. For two years afterwards you acted as Solicitor of the Company. At no time had you any interest or share in the Company, or in any of its properties, directly or indirectly.

Some time in the year 1908 you sent me your bill for professional services, for work done for the Company, amounting in all I think to about $500. The Company at that time had no funds, and I offered you in payment of your account, stock in the Company, which you agreed to accept, and 10,000 shares were allotted to you which at that time could not have been sold, nor any time since, for an amount which would have paid your account.

The Company was capitalized at $200,000. The nominal value of the shares was set at $1 each, but they never had any market value, as there were never any on the market, and the Company has never paid a dividend.

In May, 1909, when you became Prime Minister of Newfoundland, you notified me that you could no longer act as Solicitor for the Company.

In December 1909, I notified you as a shareholder, that it was the intention of the Company to increase its capital and to issue bonds for the purpose of increasing the output and for general improvements, the stockholders in New York deeming this advisable.

At a meeting of the Company afterwards held in New York, the stock was increased to 900,000 shares, and afterwards in 1910, on account of the increase in capital of the St. George's Lumber Company, authorized by the shareholders by special Resolution, passed at a meeting held in Truro on December 16th, 1909, you were allotted 40,000 shares being your pro rata allotment on the original holding of 10,000. Since then the Company has ceased operations, and its entire property is now in the hands of the bond-holders, as far as I know.

You have never taken part in any way in the work of the Company, nor has the Company ever paid any dividend. You have never received one cent for the professional work you performed. You never had any interest in the Company, or its promotion, or in obtaining the lands held by the Company, and you were given the stock in the Company in the same manner as you might have been given cash in payment of your account.

The total area of land held by the Company by purchase previous to 1908 was 82 square miles. As I believe the whole of the property is now in the hands of the bond-holders, who advanced the money to pay for the mill, machinery and operating expenses, I do not think your share of any value.

Any further information you require, I shall be glad to furnish you with.

Yours truly,
T. R. PRINCE.

It will be seen from this correspondence that the St. George's Lumber Company, having no funds at the time that I sent them my bill for professional services, offered me 10,000 shares of stock in the Company, which the President then assessed at a value to cover my account.

I accepted the stock in lieu of any better recompense then available and took it in the hope that at some future time the Company's operations would have established it on a solvent basis, and it might bring me some return. Subsequently, on reorganization, the Company increased my holding to 40,000 shares, when its capital was enlarged.

I never made any attempt to dispose of the stock to anybody else, or to put it on the market. To-day it is valueless, and as the Company has ceased operations for over a year, I am out of pocket $500 and have never received one cent for my work and cash disbursements for the Company.

As you have more than once referred to this transaction, and appear to attach some importance to it, I trust you will give publicity to this explanation.

Yours faithfully,
E. P. MORRIS.

IN THE YEAR 1932

how much will you have accumulated at your present rate of saving? Most men will have little or nothing saved if conditions are at all similar to those of to-day.

Every prominent young man appreciates the wisdom of accumulating for his own benefit at least, and looks forward to an old age of comfort and enjoyment relieved from want and worry. And every thoughtful man endowed with manhood feels that a duty rests upon him to make some provision for others dependent upon him.

The safest, simplest and most profitable way to accomplish all this, and to be sure of a snug competency by the year 1932, is by investing in a Canada Life Endowment Policy for $5,000 or $10,000, according to your means and requirements. The policy can be bought on easy instalments and facilities are provided to assist in carrying and enjoying the insurance.

Send in your name and age and let us submit to you a good proposition.

That Explanation

To-day we publish the letter from Sir Edward Morris, which we announced yesterday.

A perusal of it will show that it deals with a statement made in the House of Assembly, last session, in the course of a reply to a speech of the Leader of the Opposition, Sir Robert Bond.

Part of the statement was as follows:—"I have never had an interest, direct or indirect, near or remote, in any timber or mineral wealth. I have never made an application for a piece of timber or a mineral grant."

On a number of occasions we drew attention to this avowal of the Prime Minister and asked him, how he could tolerate in his Executive the presence of the Hon. Donald Morison if the statement under consideration, contained the rule to guide the conduct of a Minister of the Crown.

To this query Sir Edward deigned no direct reply. But there was an inferential reply in his retention of the Hon. Donald Morison in his Ministry, and in his attempt to justify it in his correspondence with the Governor on the F. E. Memorials.

Five months ago we drew attention to a document filed in the Registry of Companies here, which shows that Sir Edward Morris had 40,000 shares in the St. George's Lumber Company.

Then we went on to make this statement which was quoting word for word as it appeared, omitting not a word.

"This latter statement is apparently in direct conflict with Sir Edward's statement in the House of Assembly last February, viz:—

"I have never had an interest direct or indirect, near or remote in any timber or mineral wealth."

It will be observed that we drew attention to the apparent conflict between Sir Edward's holding of the 40,000 shares in the St. George's Lum-

Death of Mr. Thomas Browne.

Passed peacefully away in the arms of his son, Rev. P. W. Browne, at St. Jacques. Mr. John W. Browne who is now in the city received a message from St. Jacques Monday apprising him of the death of his father at that place. The despatch said that he passed peacefully away in the arms of his son, Rev. P. W. Browne, after His Lordship Rt. Rev. Bishop Power, assisted by Rev. Father Nolan had administered the last Sacrament. Deceased was born at Carbonear in 1832, and his father being the famous fish killer, Capt. Patrick Browne, who was then pioneer of the fishery on the lower part of the Labrador coast for a quarter of a century. Capt. Browne was the first man to go north of Cape Harrington in the William Stairs and later in the Thomas Ridley. After his death his son the subject of this Memoriam, followed up the Labrador fishery in the schooner Provision and later in the Frederick, out of Balne Johnson's. He was very successful in the early days, but within the Eighties, owing to a succession of bad fisheries he decided to draw out of the fishery, retire from active work on the sea, and settle down at home in Carbonear. This he did with honor and a pursuance of the honest principles that characterized his whole life. He paid all fishermen's wages and every man to whom he owed a dollar, and kept his spirit of independence unswerving. His room at Dead Island passed into other hands and his place there knew his familiar form no more. In 1891 deceased removed with his family to Whitbourne which was then in the height of its prosperity. His son, Rev. P. W. Browne, had shortly before been appointed Parish Priest of the Inland town. Here the deceased opened a hotel and a store and during the time that Whitbourne remained prosperous carried on a successful business. When the town went down owing to the railway headquarters being transferred to St. John's, deceased with his family returned to Carbonear where he resided till last year with his daughter, Mrs. Philip Moore. About a year ago he removed to St. Jacques to live with his son, Rev. P. W. Browne, who was appointed to that parish by His Lordship Bishop Power. Deceased is survived by his wife, four sons and two daughters. Messrs. Thomas and Hugh Browne are now in Chicago holding good positions. Mr. John M. Browne is doing business at Carbonear, and Rev. P. W. Browne, the popular and respected parish priest of St. Jacques. One daughter, Mrs. Philip Moore, is residing in St. John's, being the wife of Mr. P. F. Moore of the General Post Office; the second daughter is Mrs. Albert Ryan, of Placentia. His surviving sisters are Mrs. P. Hogan, Carbonear; and the Nun Sister Mary Magdalene of the Presentation Convent, Carbonear. The Telegram extends to them its sincere sympathy. The body will be brought to Placentia by the Gloucester and taken to Carbonear by rail. The funeral took place there to-day. His Lordship Bishop Power who with Rev. Fr. Nolan happened to be at St. Jacques on the regular visitation will come along to Carbonear to celebrate the Requiem Mass on the occasion. In the death of Mr. Thomas Browne the country has lost one of the good old stock that helped to build up their native land. He was a man of sterling character, and one whose life is worthy of imitation by all who love honesty and independence. After life's titful fever he sleeps well.

School Children's Annual Entertainment.

At North River.

The annual entertainment given by the pupils at North River and Hallow's schools, took place in All Hallows' Hall, on the night of Monday, Nov. 4th. Other years this event took place somewhat earlier, but owing to the late return of a great number of our fisherfolk, it was thought advisable to prolong the date this year. Long before the appointed time people were wending their way towards the Hall, and the doors were only opened a short while when to all appearances it seemed that there would be a "bumper" house. The program numbering about twenty items, consisted of Choruses, Solos, Recitations, Dances, Action Songs, Physical Culture, Figure Marching and Dialogues. There was every evidence of harmony in the Choruses, whilst the rendition of the different solos brought forth favorable comment on the musical talent of the children. The recitations showed careful training and in turn received encores. The dances and action songs which were confined to the smaller children received well merited applause, whilst special mention must be made of the physical culture and figure marching. These last two items, which were performed by the senior girls, would do credit to any of the military organizations which we have seen perform in similar manner. The three dialogues entitled, "Recess Speeches," "Matrimonial Advertisement," and "The Census Taken" were in turn well acted. The children spoke very fluently and could be heard distinctly in all parts of the Hall. It may be mentioned that the "Census Taken" evoked the greatest attraction and the applause was so deafening at times that the performers had to often await an opportunity to speak.

At the conclusion of the program the audience was thanked for their patronage and it was announced that the entertainment would be repeated on the following night.

After the second night's proceedings a very enjoyable dance was held when all enjoyed themselves to the utmost until the wee small hours of the morning.

On previous years it was customary for the distribution of school prizes to take place at the conclusion of the second night's program, but owing to the absence of our Pastor, Rev. Dr. Whelan, who takes such a keen interest in the furtherance of education in his parish, it had to be deferred until his return.

The proceeds exceeded those of other years and were beyond the expectations of all concerned. Every credit is due the teachers, Misses Mary and Kathleen and Mr. W. H. Casey, who must have been untiring in their efforts to bring the concert to the success it has attained. VISITOR.

Carnegie Heroes.

The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission has rewarded the men who displayed so much gallantry in the disaster which fell the Shore and the Kronen in October, 1910. The information is contained in a letter to the Daily News from the Hon. D. Morrison who interested himself in the case. Mr. Morrison says the facts were verified at first hand by Mr. Benitz, a representative of the Commission after the attention of the Trust was drawn to the matter. The Commission has awarded to Lewis Little a silver medal and $1,500; to Robert Brown, Jas. Little, William Ford, James Ford and Eli Paul a bronze medal and $1,000 each.

SCHOONER DAMAGED.—The schr. W. M. Dohny, Capt. Geo. Miles, arrived here yesterday from Bonavista, in rounding Cape St. Francis she had a tough time of it. Her foremast was sprung near the top and lost her jibboom and received other damage of a minor character.

BRIDGES DANGEROUS.—Two bridges leading to the coast at the C. E. Cemetery at Portugal Cove are not fit to go over. Yesterday a funeral procession passing there had to make a wide circuit to avoid going over them. If a serious accident is to be averted, the Government should immediately repair them.

VESSEL IN DANGER.—When the Stella Maris was on her way to Catalina she picked up the schr. Altruist, Capt. Kelly, in a very dangerous position and at anchor off Catalina. She was from Labrador, fish laden, was caught in a fierce snow storm and there was every danger of her chains giving out and she being swept ashore. She was towed safely to Catalina.

PAINFUL INJURY.—While proceeding to Petty Harbor over the Waterford Road yesterday afternoon, Mr. John Pridham's horse took fright at a passing auto and caught the driver between the wheels and a telegraph pole. The man received painful injury, one of his legs being badly crushed. He was taken into Mr. C. Murphy's residence and attended to and later had to be driven to a doctor.

SCHOONER LEAKING BADLY.—The Ingraham arrived here this morning after leaving the schr. Laddie at Harbor Grace at 9 o'clock last night. The vessel was bringing home freighters from Labrador, sprung a leak and all the passengers left her, coming up on the mail boat. The crew stayed by her, and though there was 4 feet of water in the hold, kept the pumps going until she reached Seldom, where the tug took her in tow. She will be docked at Harbor Grace for repairs.

Quips and Jest.

There are no jokes that are not old—they all came down from ages dark; the freshest of them all were told by Shem and Japhet in the ark. So say the scholars, who have sought the pedigrees of jests and things, through dusty tomes of tommyrot, and in the tombs of ancient kings. The jests we see in almanacs, which we imagine freshly canned, were old when Moses made his tracks toward the milk and honey land. You cannot spring a cheerful jest that was not known in Pharaoh's time; and Cleopatra used to brag of how she framed the comic rhyme. But let us never take it hard that all our jests are old and stale; a joke, though bearded like the pard, is always better than a wall. I'd rather far come down the street dispensing jokes that Noah knew, old things with whiskers to their feet, than go around morose and blue. While I still frolic on the stage I'll strew around my harmless chaff; and if the same is green with age, what difference, if people laugh? The chestnut is a noble fruit that should not be manking by feared; I don't respect the fresh galoot who damns it merely for its beard.

Household Notes.

Instead of scrubbing bath tubs and white enamel sinks, wipe them out with a cloth dipped in kerosene. All the stains will come away at small expense of labor.

Remove the hot-water marks from the Japanese tray by rubbing it well with sweet oil till all marks disappear. The tray should be polished with a soft cloth.

Brushe articles should be immersed in boiling water, then rubbed with a piece of flannel dipped in yellow soap, then with a soft cloth and chamolis.

Remember that nothing ruins ivory-handled knives more quickly than to put them into water. The proper way is to wash the blades and rub off the handles.

When the vinegar cruet has become clouded, clean it by putting a teaspoonful of lye in it; let this remain for a few days, then wash out. It will be perfectly clean.

A hint for the laundry: To set the colors, green, blue, lavender, reds, purple and pink, soak them in a tub of water to which two ounces of water has been added. Black, grey and dark blues should be soaked in strong salt water.

Every kitchen that is covered with linoleum should have rag rugs or strips of carpet placed on the floor where one stands to wash dishes and in front of the working table. The feet do not get nearly so tired if this is done.

When turnips are young, wash them off carefully and boil without peeling. You will find the thick rind will cook as tender as any part of the vegetable and the flavor will be much improved.

Black kid gloves are bound to wear rusty at the finger-ends. When that is the case, add a few drops of black ink to a teaspoonful of olive oil, and with a camel's-hair brush paint the rusty places.

Needles kept in a needle book with the leaves made of flannel are bound to rust. There is a dressing in flannel which causes this. Better make the leaves of your needle book of small pieces of chamolis skin.

Old ink stains in cotton goods can be removed by melting tallow and while it is boiling drop the ink-spotted material into it and keep it there until the spot is saturated. Then rub with soap until the spot disappears.

When black lace grows rusty, it can be restored by dipping it in a strong solution of vinegar and water. Then rinse in coffee and iron while damp, with a piece of flannel placed between the lace and the iron.

Creamed ham is very delicious. Cut cold ham into thin shavings, put one rounding teaspoonful of butter into a small saucepan, melt and add one-quarter cup of milk. When hot, put in the ham and dust with pepper. When all is cooked creamy, serve at once.

Water bottles, pickle jars or any glass that is stained where it is impossible to get the hand inside, do wash it with an eggshell and force it through the neck of the bottle, add a little warm water, shake well, and you will find the glass clean and polished.

Oysters are bound to be tough if they are cooked long. In a stew they should remain over the fire only long enough to curl their edges, and in frying they should be taken out of the fat when they are golden brown. The fat should be hot enough to brown them almost immediately.

CONVINCING

't is impossible for any argument in favour of Sunlight Soap to be more convincing than a trial of the Soap itself.

The Stella Maris Here.

The Stella Maris, Capt. E. Hann, arrived here at 5 a.m. to-day. She went as far as Cartwright on her last run down the Labrador and had it very stormy all the way coming and going with a very high sea. She brought a large number of passengers for various places up to Hr. Grace and Marconim from Macovick, Cape Harrison, Indian Hr., and Vension Tickle. The ship was supposed to make a trip to Nain to take a large freight from Rigolette but not having the capacity the Solway had to take the goods. She met the Solway Monday week, the 4th inst., at Cartwright. All the wintermen have gone in the bays on Northern Labrador and the people having done well north with cod are in good circumstances for the winter. The winter has set in on the coast. The ship may make another trip down there.

Bazaar Opened.

The St. Bon's Mammoth Bazaar was formally opened at 3.30 this afternoon in the British Hall by His Grace Archbishop Howley in the presence of hundreds of onlookers. His Excellency the Governor and Lady Williams were present. The interior of the spacious hall is superbly and artistically decorated. The lady co-workers have charge of the stalls, which occupy conspicuous places in the top flat, and are expecting to do a brisk business. The Bazaar will be continued for three days.

Good Advice.

We would advise our many friends and patrons who would like to secure some of "The Picturesque" scenes of Xmas cards, to place their orders early as the demand is sure to exceed the supply.

THE ENGINE THAT MASTERED NIAGARA

What the Vikings of Newfoundland say about

"Ferro Engines."

The following Sealing Captains and others who have used "FERRO ENGINES" the past season recommended them highly for Reliability, Speed, Efficiency, etc.:

CAPT WM. WINSOR, M.H.A.

"My 7 1/2 H. P. FERRO Engine gave entire satisfaction the past season. No Engine made could run better. I am thoroughly pleased with it in every way."

CAPT. JOS. KEAN, S. S. Portia.

"The 15 H. P. FERRO I bought from you ran as regularly as a steam engine all summer, and gave no trouble of any kind. It is so simple to operate it a child can run it."

CAPT. NOAH BISHOP.

"I say from my heart with all sincerity that I would not sell my 7 1/2 H. P. FERRO for ten times what it cost. I knew nothing about a gasoline engine when I bought it, but with the aid of the instruction book I got with the Engine, I could do anything with it in a few days. I can confidently recommend FERRO Engines for fishing purposes. My FERRO was a great benefit to me this summer."

CAPT. DANIEL BRAGG.

"I want nothing better than a FERRO Engine. My 5 1/2 H. P. FERRO drives my trap skiff 8 miles an hour, and can tow my 56 ton schooner easily. I had no trouble of any kind with my FERRO all summer."

CAPT. GEORGE HANN.

"I cannot say too much in praise of my 11 H. P. FERRO. It gives me entire satisfaction, and I am recommending FERRO'S to the fishermen."

CAPT. WES. KEAN.

"I wish to say that no Engine could give better results than my 11 H. P. FERRO did the past season. My sharemen were so delighted with the amount of labor the FERRO saved them that they volunteered to pay for the gasoline we used."

CAPT. RICHARD FOWLOW.

"We took our 7 1/2 H. P. FERRO to Labrador this summer, and we never had a minute's trouble with it. It towed our trap skiffs and our 58 ton schooner 5 hours at a time at the rate of 4 miles an hour."

CAPT. BAXTER FOWLOW.

"The 11 H. P. FERRO I bought from you last spring ran 5,000 miles up to October 1st, giving perfect satisfaction all the time, although the man who used the Engine never ran one before."

MR. JOSEPH PARSONS, Newtown.

"I cannot speak too highly of my FERRO Engine. The wheel was never turned once the summer that she did not go, and never missed a stroke for the whole season. We used gasoline and kerosene with perfect satisfaction."

MR. DENIS MAHER, Flatrock.

"I'll never be without a FERRO. My 7 1/2 is a beauty. Never out of order, and always ready to go the minute she is wanted."

MR. P. J. BRYAN, of Tilting, writes:

"My 7 1/2 H. P. FERRO proved a success, and paid for herself well this summer. The FERRO is as good as can be made. Our boat is 33 feet on top, and her speed is 8 miles an hour."

MR. RICHARD ANSTEY, Little-Bay Islands.

"I knew nothing about Engines before I bought my 7 1/2 H. P. FERRO, but I found it so simple to operate, and so reliable at all times, that I cannot recommend it too highly for fishing purposes."

MR. MARTIN GOSSE, Spaniard's Bay.

"We had every satisfaction with our 7 1/2 H. P. FERRO this summer, and reckon it paid for itself this season many times over. We towed a large Norwegian barque of nearly 200 tons against a strong tide in calm weather."

CAPT. BAXTER BARBOUR, S.S. Fogota.

"The FERRO Engine I purchased from you ran perfectly. This Engine was also used by Mr. Stone of Pogo and Mr. James Adams of Jackson's Arm, both of whom speak highly of the efficiency and reliability of the FERRO."

These are only a few of the many testimonials we are receiving from men of practiced experience in the fisheries.

Is it any wonder, then, that there are more FERROS in use in our fisheries than any other make?

FERROS have the guarantee of the biggest Engine Factory in the world behind them. 40,000 FERROS are in use in different parts of the world.

Danger of massacre and looting in Constantinople appears to have abated. The cholera epidemic is now causing greater fears, although, if the Army is driven into the capital, no one can foresee what the disorganized soldiery may attempt. The Daily News' correspondent says that there seems to be a quarter of a million of people dying from starvation outside the city walls, which will soon be surrounded by a pestilence-stricken and famished horde. Even now people are fighting with the soldiers for handfuls of grain. Every effort is being made to transport refugees to Anatolia, which is the only means of averting a ghastly catastrophe. (Anatolia is the district on the Asiatic side of the Straits of Dardanelles and the Sea of Marmora). The German officers report the troops deserting because of hunger. Men are dying of starvation in the trenches.

To Europe By Train.

Several years ago a plan to tunnel under Behring Strait and connect the railway systems of North America and Siberia aroused much interest. At the time nothing came of the plan. Now, it has been revived in earnest with the result that it may some day be possible to travel by train all the way from New York to the capitals of Europe. Both in Alaska and Siberia long railway lines will have to be built to connect with the tunnel entrances. The tunnel itself will have to be forty miles long. The promoters propose to sink shafts from islands in the middle of Behring Strait, so that they can begin work at several points at the same time. These shafts would ultimately serve to ventilate the tunnel.

Building Larger Stores

Under supervision of Engineer P. D. Park the A. N. Co. are putting up two large stores at Botwood. One which is now about completed is 400 feet long, 80 feet wide and 25 feet high and will store 10,000 tons of pulp. The other which was recently started is of the same dimensions and will store a similar quantity of paper. Over 150 men are at work putting up these erections.

The New Humphrey

Intensified Incandescent Gas Lamp.

Using Ordinary Gas Pressure.

The excellent results obtained with the above lamp are worthy the consideration of all business men who desire to obtain the most light at the least cost.

A good example of this system of lighting may now be seen at the West End premises of the Hon. George Knowling, where the new lamps have recently been installed.

We invite comparison, and will be glad of the opportunity to prove the merits of the "Humphrey" Lamp, which we will instal free of charge on trial.

Wedding Bells.

The wedding of Mr. M. Keough, of Ferryland, to Miss J. Williams, of Treassey, took place at the former place Sunday night. Both are popular on the Southern Shore and a large number of their friends participated in the wedding festivities.

Monday night, at Brazil's Square, Mr. Arthur Jeans, of Broad Cove, Bay-de-Verde, was united in Hymenal Bertlett, and the happy couple received many valuable presents, including a substantial cheque from Hon. Jas. Baird. After the ceremony a number of friends of the bride and groom attended a sumptuous wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Jeans left for their future home in Broad Cove by yesterday morning's train.

DON'T WAIT. During changeable weather in Spring and Fall thousands of children contract Sore Throats as result of exposure, getting feet wet, etc. A neglected sore throat is likely to develop into Tonsillitis, Quinsy, Diphtheria, or a chronic state of Rheumatism that will impair hearing. Often operations on the Tonsils become necessary because a simple sore throat is neglected. Stafford's Phoratox is the best preparation known for all sore throat troubles.

To Dr. Stafford & Son, St. John's, Newfoundland.

Dear Sirs,—I received the medicine you sent me for my child. I thank you very much for sending it so quick and believe it had just arrived in time to save my child as he was nearly gone. After giving the child a few doses, it completely cured him and now he is as well and hearty as a child can be. It was genuine medicine for that complaint. Wishing you prosperity. Yours truly, Signed,

Don't forget the name PHORATOX prepared only by Dr. P. Stafford & Son, St. John's, Newfoundland. Price 25 cts. Postage 5 cts. extra. P. S.—We have this letter in our possession and can be seen at any time—nov.12.12.
