Phyllis Dearborn

OR, THE Countess of Basingwell

CHAPTER XXV.

She went to her boudoir to think—to think. She was not throwing away without a pang the love that had sprung up in her heart; but she knew it would soon pass away of itself in the turmoil of dread and suspicion that would take possession of her heart from then henceforth, and she knew she must face it.

Yes, she must face the gradual change in herself, and she must face the chance of betrayal by Simmons. That would mean to be hounded by Lord Gree. How her soul writhed at the thought! But she had thought of that before she entered on her present course.

"Oh!" she cried, rising from her chair and pacing the room like an Amazon, "let them look to themselves if they goad me too far!"

"My lady," said a gentle voice.

She turned to the door of the sleeping-room, and Marta stood there. Marta belonged to the pack, too. She had been moderate in her demands, but she had been the one thorn, and Lady Basingwell had been wondering how she could get rid of her. For some time she had dreaded the gentle voice of her maid. To-day she smiled in a wicked way.

"Come in, Marta. You want blood-money, do you not?" and she laughed harshly at the indignant face of the maid. "You were going to make some timid request which you were sure I would be afraid to refuse."

Marta's eyes snapped viciously.

"I do not like to be talked to in that way, my lady."

"Ah, do you not, Marta?" She put her hand on the maid's shoulder and looked fixedly into her eyes. "Well, I shall talk to you in this way, and I shall say even more that is unpleasant if you give me occasion: Little fool! Did you think it was to last forever? Did you suppose that I was to remain a cat's-paw for you? No, Marta, I have nothing to fear from you any more. And the question with me now is, shall I send you away because you are disagreeable to me, or shall I keep you because you intend to become my devoted little maid? Eh, Marta—which is it?"

If ever a sly little vampire of a maid was taken aback it was Marta then. She had accustomed herself to looking upon her mistress as a delightful sort of Fortunatus' purse, which had only to be shaken to be made to discharge new heaps of gold.

"My lady," she stammered.

"Which is it, Marta?" remanded Lady Basingwell, the cold light of her blue eyes making the foolish girl shudder. "Are you going to behave yourself like a good girl, or must I send you away, to tell your idle tales of me to the wind? Come! speak! I wish to know."

"I will stay, my lady, if you will keep me."

"That is sensible, for there is money to be made here yet; but not by threatening, Marta. Did you wish some money, just now?"

"N-no, my lady."

"Yes, you did. How much did you want?"

"Well, my lady," said the girl acutely trembling before the woman, who had so suddenly changed from a timid, yielding mistress, to a hard, imperious, mocking Amazon, "I was going to ask for the advance of a month's wages and a day to myself, if you didn't mind."

"Advance of a month's wages! Marta, you shall have fifty pounds for being so sensible as to understand me without further fuss," and she wrote out a check for that amount and gave it to the astonished girl.

CHAPTER XXVI.

It would not be correct to say that nothing of the startling change that had taken place in Lady Basingwell had been observed by Mr. Simmons. He had noted the change, and he had been uncomfortably affected by it. It is even doubtful if he would have thought of betraying her to Lord Gree if he had not hoped to turn an honest penny by it. Any penny that came into his coffers was honest enough for him. He had no squeamishness about such matters.

The same afternoon that he reached London from Basingwell he went to see Lord Gree, who was glad to see him than he would have been to see his brother, for his brother would have been sure to ask for a loan; whereas Mr. Simmons usually cheated him deftly.

"Well, I hope you have something definite to tell me," said Lord Gree.

"There ain't nothing in it," said Mr. Simmons.

"What do you mean by that?" snarled Lord Gree.

"I mean the bargain between us is off," said Mr. Simmons.

"And my note?" demanded Lord Gree, savagely, thinking he was being duped.

"I'll give you the money. It's collected."

"Do you mean to tell me," said Lord Gree, made nervously anxious by the tactics of the money-lender, "that you have settled the whole matter, so that there's no chance for me to put the screws on?"

"She came down very handsome, she did," said Mr. Simmons.

"So much the better for you," said Lord Gree; "but I don't see why it should make any difference in our arrangement."

"I get so much a year to keep still."

"The duse you do! How much?"

"Seven thousand five hundred a year," answered the truthful Mr. Simmons, feeling remarkably virtuous that he had not said ten thousand pounds.

"You're lying," said Lord Gree, candidly.

"All right, you may think so," said Mr. Simmons. "Here's my check for seven thousand five hundred."

"She must have been pretty well scared to agree to give you seventy-five hundred a year," said Lord Gree, without taking the check.

Permanent Cure of Piles Certified By Minister

Sixteen Years Ago This Man Was Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment—Had Suffered Keenly for Twelve Years.

You might almost say that there is only one actual cure for Piles, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment. Every day this conclusion is corroborated by reports from persons who had tried one thing and another without success. Some have even been operated on, only to have the old trouble return, and finally to obtain cure by use of this ointment.

Why not avoid waste of time, waste of money and needless risk with operations by using Dr. Chase's Ointment at once?

Some will say "that is all very well for itching Piles, but my trouble is from bleeding Piles." Well, here is a letter from a man who had bleeding Piles for twelve years, and suffered most keenly. For sixteen years he has had no return of the old trouble, and naturally considers the cure permanent.

Mr. O. B. Peters, Salmon Arm, B.C., writes: "I was troubled with bleeding Piles for about twelve years, and suffered everything but death. I was so bad I could scarcely walk about, and though I tried many things, could

How To Make the Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy

Much Better than the Ready-Made Kind and You Save $2. Fully Guaranteed.

This home-made cough syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Its promptness, ease and certainty in conquering distressing coughs, chest and throat colds is really remarkable. You can actually feel it take hold. A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, 16 ounces of better cough syrup than you could buy for $2.00. Takes but a few minutes to prepare. Full directions with Pinex. Cakes good and never spoils.

Get how quickly it loosens dry, hoarse or tight coughs, and breaks the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also loosens the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in vitamin, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, be sure and get your druggist for 2½ ounces Pinex—don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, money promptly refunded, goes with the preparation. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

"Scared!" said Mr. Simmons. "She cried like a baby, and said I could have anything if I wouldn't let the thing out."

"Ah, did she say that?" ejaculated Lord Gree, a look of hate distorting his features. "What's to hinder your letting me have the paper, anyhow? She won't dare to go back on her agreement."

"Not so green as that," said Mr. Simmons, with the slyest of a wink. "Do you think my chances would be worth anything after you were through with your revenge? I guess not."

"What will you take to sell out to me?"

"No, no," said Mr. Simmons. "Take your check."

"No, I won't. You said it was a bargain, and I won't let you off. What'll you sell out for?"

"Five thousand a year is equal to one hundred thousand capital."

"Oh, das't that! What will you take?"

"What'll you give?"

"Seventy-five hundred."

"Take your check."

"Eight thousand."

"Take your check."

"Well, what will you take?"

"Ten thousand, and not a penny less. It's dirt cheap at that."

"Done, and if I don't get it back again I'm a fool."

"I wouldn't stand in your shoes," was the mental comment of Mr. Simmons; but he took the check of ten thousand pounds, muttering at the folly of Lord Gree in having so much money idle.

"I gave Lady Flora the original document," he said to Lord Gree; "but here is a sworn copy that'll do just as well."

Lord Gree did not understand, but took the paper and read it over. His dark face lighted up with malignant joy as he read and comprehended how Lionel's deposition would be accomplished.

"Where is the girl?" he demanded.

"Don't know," said Mr. Simmons, coolly.

"Don't know!" cried Lord Gree.

"Then this paper is useless. I can't do anything unless I have the girl."

"Nobody knows anything about her. She doesn't know herself. One girl will do as well as another," said Mr. Simmons.

"You mean for me to set up an impostor? No, sir, I'm not going to do anything of the kind."

"Just as you please," said Mr. Simmons. "Here is your check. Give me the paper and let the thing go."

Lord Gree hesitated.

"The thing's too risky," he said.

"Not if it's worked right."

"Will you help me?" asked Lord Gree, too bent on revenge to stop long at such a matter as a failure to have the missing girl.

"No," said Mr. Simmons, flatly.

He knew better than to tamper with a thing of that sort. Mr. Simmons had a profound respect for the law, and kept always on the shady side of it. Any violation of morality that did not come within the reach of the law he did not consider wrong, but there was something magical in the law that gave a new aspect to everything it touched.

"I need some help," said Lord Gree.

"You'll find plenty to help you," said Mr. Simmons, who, having made as much as he thought he safely could out of the affair, was disinclined to waste any more time over it. "I have an appointment. Good-day, my lord."

"Say, you are sure this paper isn't a fraud?" demanded Lord Gree.

"You'll find the records in the church register—St. Martin's, over at the east end. If anybody was to go back on this there would be the register."

"I wonder," said Gree, meditatively, "if I could find the heiress, if I tried?"

Simmons looked at him with a grin.

"If you tried in the right way, in the right place, I have no doubt you would," he answered.

"I fancy," said Lord Gree to himself, when he was alone, "that I know a good place to search for her, and perhaps I can think of the right way. It is going to cost me a nice penny to do it; but if Simmons can bleed her ladyship, why can't I?"

By which question, though put to himself, in the privacy of his own thoughts, it would be possible to gain some idea of the character of that noble lord.

Lord Gree had had the germ of an idea while he talked with Mr. Simmons, and it had been assisted by the covert hint of the money-lender, so that he found himself only in need of a trifle more of definiteness before taking active steps.

That afternoon he studied, and that night he went forth alone, taking a cab, instead of his more aristocratic and noticeable private conveyance. He had himself driven to the east end of London, and as what is known in fashionable society as "slumming it" had been popular at one time in his set, and as, moreover, his tastes had led him thitherward more than once, he was anything but a stranger in that unsavory quarter bordering on Whitechapel.

It was not yet late enough to make it dangerous to go about in that section, or it is more than likely that his lordship would not have ventured there alone. He had come early, however, because he had no notion of sharing his confidence with anybody.

His way led him into a court rather more quiet than most of the others in that neighborhood, though perhaps not any the more safe for that reason. He went up it like one who had had been there before often enough to know his way without a guide, and having passed what seemed by the noise that came from it, to be a drinking den, he turned to a closed door and knocked three times in the manner of one giving a signal.

There was nothing at all mysterious in this, however, for above a hundred of the same sort of gentlemen in London, were admitted by the same knock, which, though they did not know it, was only a signal to those inside that a bird was coming to be plucked. The young gentlemen for whom the signal had been devised were pleased to believe that they were the exclusive patrons of that exceedingly vicious place, or they would never have frequented it.

There was only an old man smoking in the room beyond the door, when Lord Gree made his way into it, and he greeted the nobleman with an obsequious:

"Evenin', my lord."

"Hello, Jimmy," said Lord Gree.

"Where's the old woman?"

A PROCLAMATION
LONDON, Feb. 16.
The Governor, Newfoundland:
The following order has been issued:
At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 15th day of February, 1916.
Present: The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.
Whereas a state of war exists between His Majesty and the German Emperor, the Emperor of Austria, the King of Hungary, the Sultan of Turkey and the King of the Bulgarians; and whereas His Majesty holds it to be his prerogative duty as well as his prerogative right to take all steps necessary for the defence and protection of the realm; and whereas His Majesty did by Order in Council, dated November 10th, 1915, prohibit the carriage of cargo by any British steamship exceeding 500 tons gross tonnage, registered in the United Kingdom, from one foreign port to another, unless exempted by license; and whereas it has been made to appear to His Majesty that it is essential to the defence and protection of the realm that in the exercise of his prerogative aforesaid he should prohibit from and after the 1st day of March, 1916, any British steamship registered in the United Kingdom exceeding 500 tons gross tonnage, except steamships engaged in the coasting trade of the United Kingdom, from proceeding on any voyage unless the owner or charterer of such steamship has been granted a license hereinafter provided:
Now, therefore, His Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of his Privy Council, and in exercise of his prerogatives aforesaid and of all other powers given him thereunto enabling to order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the first day of March, 1916, no British steamship registered in the United Kingdom exceeding 500 tons gross tonnage, except the steamships engaged in the coasting trade of the United Kingdom, shall proceed on any voyage unless a license to do so has been granted to the owner or charterer of such steamship by the Licensing Committee appointed by the Board of Trade under the provisions of the aforesaid Order in Council of November 10th, 1915, which license may be granted general in reference to classes of ships or their voyages, or special in reference to particular ships, and the President of the Board of Trade is to act and give instructions and directions accordingly. A PROCLAMATION
 LONDON, Feb. 16. The Governor, Newfoundland: The following order has been issued:

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, 19th day of February, 1916. Present: The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas a state of war exists between His Majesty and the German Emperor, the Emperor of Austria, King of Hungary, the Sultan of Turkey and the King of the Bulgarians; and whereas His Majesty holds it to be his prerogative duty as well as his prerogative right to take all steps necessary for the defence and protection of the realm; and whereas His Majesty did by Order in Council, dated 10th day of February, 1916, prohibit the carriage of cargo by any British steamship exceeding 500 tons gross tonnage, registered in the United Kingdom, from one foreign port to another, unless exempted by license; and whereas it has been made to appear to His Majesty that it is essential to the defence and protection of the realm that in the exercise of his prerogatives aforesaid he should prohibit from and after the first day of March, 1916, any British steamship registered in the United Kingdom exceeding 500 tons gross tonnage, except steamships engaged in the coasting trade of the United Kingdom, from proceeding on any voyage unlicensed by the owner or charterer of such steamship; and whereas a license aforesaid has been granted to the owner or charterer of such steamship by the Licensing Committee appointed by the Board of Admiralty under the provisions of the said Order in Council of November 10th, 1915, which license may be varied or revoked by the Board of Admiralty in reference to classes of ships or their voyages, or special circumstances, and the Board of Admiralty has acted accordingly; Almeric Murray, Esq., Secretary of State for War, is authorized to give such directions accordingly. Almeric Murray, Esq., Secretary of State for War.

GOVERNMENT AND DISTILLERIES
 LONDON, Feb. 16. The Central News says it is able to confirm the report that the Government is about to commandeer all distilleries in the United Kingdom, with as little delay as possible. This step is rendered necessary, it is said, owing to the constantly growing demand for alcohol in the manufacturing of light explosives.

'PUNCH' TAKEN TO TASK.
 LONDON, Feb. 16. The Chronicle this morning takes Punch to task for its disrespect to President Wilson. Punch, this week, in its chief cartoon, represents Uncle Sam as addressing the Prophet Job on the subject of President Wilson's attitude towards Germany, and boasting that America possesses in Wilson a man able to knock spots off Job's record for patience. The Chronicle says that such attacks are neither good form nor good policy; and that Punch makes exactly the same mistake by which the German propagandists made themselves so much disliked.

THE DAILY MAIL PROPHESYING.
 LONDON, Feb. 16. The Daily Mail expresses the opinion that the first of March, on which date the German memorandum comes into effect, respecting armed merchantmen, will see the inauguration of a new German submarine campaign with newly built vessels of an alleged tonnage of five thousand. These vessels are reported to be capable of crossing the Atlantic without needing fresh fuel on the water, and according to the Mail they will act as long range commerce destroyers.

AMENDMENTS TO ADDRESS.
 LONDON, Feb. 16. No fewer than thirty-five amendments to the address in reply to the King's Speech were down for discussion when the debate was resumed in the Commons to-day. The majority of the amendments are unimportant, but others raise serious issues which promise a lively discussion. A list of 165 questions addressed to Ministers is also to be disposed of. The amendments include one by William Johnstone Hicks, on defence measures against Zeppelin raids. It was expected the Government's reply would be made by Harold J. Tennant, Parliamentary Under Secretary for War. The requisitioning of shipping was brought forward in an amendment proposed by Robert Houston, Unionist member. Charles P. Trevelyan, Liberal, has given notice of motion calling on the Government to announce the general terms on which it would be willing to enter into negotiations with a view to bringing about a just and lasting peace. Another peace amendment was sponsored by Arthur Ponsonby, Liberal, who suggested the establishment of an International Tribunal, to which diplomatic disputes should be referred in future.

CANADA'S FINANCES.
 OTTAWA, Feb. 16. The outstanding features of the Budget introduced in the House of Commons yesterday may be summarized as follows: War appropriation, $250,000,000 for 1916; National Debt now stands at $580,000,000 an increase of $131,000,000 over last year; Revenue for year estimated at $170,000,000; surplus expected, $45,000,000; Trade balance estimated at $200,000,000.

BRITISH LOSE TRENCH.
 LONDON, Feb. 16. (Official.) Last evening after a heavy bombardment on the whole front of the Ypres salient and to the south of Hooge, the enemy made several infantry attacks. Between the Ypres-Comines Canal and Ypres-Comines railway, the enemy broke into our front trench on a front of about six hundred yards; all his other attacks failed. Heavy bombardment continued on both sides.

BELGIANS DROP BOMBS.
 PARIS, Feb. 16. The following Belgian official communication was made public to-day: As reprisals for recent enemy aerial raids, one of our battalions dropped successfully sixteen heavy bombs on Handzaem aerodrome.

CAPTURE ERZERUM FORT.
 PETROGRAD, Feb. 16. (Official.) On the Caucasus front, in the course of our offensive in the Erzerum region, after artillery preparations we stormed and carried one of the Erzerum forts, capturing more than twenty guns as well as prisoners and munitions.

PRAISES BULGARS.
 PARIS, Feb. 16. News from hostile lines is that the Germans are directing the construction of a railway from Uskup to Mostastir, by way of Krusovo, and the line is nearly completed, says a Temps despatch from Salonika to-day. Field Marshal Von Mackensen, who has been reviewing the Bulgarian troops at Uskup, made a public speech to them, eulogizing their achievements.

REVOLT OF MONTENEGRINS.
 ROME, Feb. 16. The correspondent of the Idea Nazionale telegraphs that the Montenegrins in the Kusoewic, Plawl and Gusinge districts, goaded by the ill usage of the Austrians, have revolted with such success that the Austrian authorities have been obliged to send to Scutari for reinforcements. The Montenegrins, backed by arms and ammunition, which they had hidden, continue to resist.

GERMAN NAVAL ACTIVITY.
 LONDON, Feb. 16. The Times naval correspondent expresses the belief that the recent increased activity of the German fleet is due to the appointment of a new Commander-in-Chief, whose name has not been divulged, and the passing into service of certain new vessels and probably faster and heavier torpedo craft.

BERLIN'S BUTTER.
 BERLIN, Feb. 16. The magistrates in Greater Berlin held a conference to-day over the uniform distribution of the butter supply and decided to introduce butter cards similar in their application to bread cards.

THREE KILLED; TEN WOUNDED.
 AMSTERDAM, Feb. 16. According to the Echo de Belge, three persons were killed and ten wounded at Assende, Belgium, when German soldiers fired into a crowd assembled to protest against further German requisitions.

ALLIES WITHIN THEIR RIGHTS.
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. The United States, it was said by high authorities at the State Department to-day, concedes that the Entente Allies are within their rights, under prevailing international law, in arming merchant ships for defensive purposes, no matter what conditions exist on the sea, consequently it is admitted that should the Allies decline to adopt the American suggestion to disarm merchantmen, this government cannot announce its approval of the intention of the Teutonic Powers to torpedo without warning after Feb. 29th all armed vessels.

REACHED PLYMOUTH.
 PLYMOUTH, Feb. 16. The crew of the Japanese steamer Kenkon Maru, reached port last night, on the steamer which rescued them in mid-Atlantic, after they had abandoned their steamer in a sinking condition, consequent upon springing a leak. The Kenkon Maru was bound for Baltimore. The crew of the steamer spent several days in stormy weather at the pumps, which became exhausted. The boats of the vessel were submerged, when the Plymouth bound steamer arrived on the scene.

MESSAGES EXCHANGED.
 PARIS, Feb. 16. Emperor Nicholas sent the following telegram yesterday from the General Headquarters of the Russian staff to President Poincare: "I have just received news that the Serbian army finds itself removed from all danger, thanks to the efforts of the French Government. I wish to address to Mr. President my warmest and most hearty congratulations for

DEARBORN'S National Cream of Tartar Compound

Conforms to all the Government's Pure Food Laws, is PURER than Cream of Tartar, contains no LIME, SULPHATE OR FREE ACID; is slower in acting, does not release gas from Soda until actually in the oven, which is an advantage over Cream of Tartar, which starts to release the gas as soon as the dough is mixed.

Perfect Satisfaction Guaranteed. RETAIL PRICES. 1/4 lb. pkgs. 10c. 1/2 lb. pkgs. 18c. 1 lb. pkgs. 35c.

CAUTION. Beware of imitations, containing alum, see that the name Dearborn's National Cream of Tartar Compound is on every package. Used just the same as Cream of Tartar. jan23.1m

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

CURES RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, BURNS, SCALDS, DIABETES, GRAVEL

A pretty white sport suit has a deep border, cuffs and shawl collar of rose-colored corduroy. Pretty and novel is the frock with a skirt, very full and trimmed with two rows of ribbon bows placed irregularly around the bottom. "There is a material called 'velutina.' It has the texture and appearance of velvet, but it drapes like broadcloth. This material is admirable for the making of a dressy street suit. The dropped shoulder line is generally more becoming than the high puffed shoulder, and it is quite as fashionable. Very soft woolsens seem to be in favor for spring skirts. Little capes of gold cloth, edged with marabou and lined with some contrasting color, are coquetishly used with evening frocks. Effective corsage bouquets are made of velvet roses with black net leaves, edged with chenille. "Leather belts and trimmings are a feature of many winter sports suits. Changeable silk coats are promised for the spring. They are prettiest trimmed with silk ruchings. If you want to make the frock fashionable as to sleeves, sleeves of black taffeta or satin are correct. You may combine serge and satin broadcloth and velvet, plain and plaid serge and checked and plain taffeta. Minard's Liment Cures Diphtheria.

Well Done, Grand Falls!

A good start has been made in the way of response to the appeal for more men to form a second battalion of the Newfoundland Regiment. Grand Falls has promptly faced the situation and given a lead which will inspire other settlements around the country to be up and doing. At the meeting on Monday night at Grand Falls, the Chairman tells us that 40 young men responded to the appeal. Yesterday morning the number was increased to 45; this morning it stood at 56, and the Committee hopes to reach 100. This is grand work for a few days and Grand Falls is to be commended for the excellent lead it has set. Encouraging news has been received from Rose Blanche. The Recruiting Committee was told at first that the prospects there were poor, but that a meeting would be held and an effort made. The result of the effort was that 20 men offered to serve King and Country when their fishery engagements terminated in April. Such news is most encouraging and inspiring and shows that when the case of the country's need is put to our young men they do not fail to respond. The Executive of the Recruiting Committee will meet to-night and the matter of organizing the whole country and making suitable appeals will be taken up.

Less Frosty Along Railway.

The temperature along the railway yesterday afternoon and last night was a decided change from the severe spurt of Tuesday last. At Bishop's Falls where it was 33 below zero on Monday last, the glass showed 28 above last night. It was 11 above at the Quarry, at Port aux Basques, 20 above, and at Whitehouse 4 above, while the mercury registered 17 above zero in the city last night.

McMurdo's Store News

THURSDAY, Feb. 17, 1916. As a laxative in occasional or chronic constipation there is no remedy that can compare with Cascara Sagrada. It is not an ideal Cathartic, and there are many things better for this purpose in the comparatively rare occasions where cathartics are indicated, but as a gentle certain laxative that tones up instead of weakening the bowels, and does not form a "habit," the sole objection to this valuable medicine is its bitter nauseous taste when in its natural state, which makes it difficult in all cases and impossible in some to be taken by those who need it. In McMurdo's Aromatic Cascara Compound we have a preparation of cascara which is not open to the above objection, being perfectly sweet and palatable, without being in any way deprived of its medicinal virtues. Price 25c a bottle. MINARLI'S LIXIVENT RELIEVES NEURALGIA.

56 NEW Recruits

At Grand Falls-- Hope to Get 100.

The accompanying message was received last evening by Dr. W. F. Lloyd from Grand Falls: "Public meeting held last night in town hall; packed and two hands present. Earnest and patriotic addresses; no excitement but a determined feeling to avenge the death of innocents. Forty-six volunteered and number will be increased to-day."

N. PIKE, Chairman. In a message this morning, Mr. Pike stated there were 56 recruits to-date, and after the next night shift they expected to reach 100.

Ice Blockade.

As a result of the prevailing N.E. wind at present the harbor is filled with slob ice. Outside the headlands the ice is tightly packed which extends for many miles to sea in different directions, there being no water to be seen as far as the naked eye can see. Hourly the ice is cementing more firmly together and closing in on the land, reports Cape Spear. Such conditions are a great hindrance to shipping and a serious obstacle to the export of coal and several fish laden foreign bound schooners are being held in consequence. A change of wind is badly needed now to loosen the foe.

In Memoriam

Mary O'Neill who died at Littledale Academy, Feb. 10, 1916, at 10.15 p.m. Youth is always associated with life—yet with immortality. Sudden then is the shock and great the grief when we learn that a dear one in the full flush of the morning of life has been suddenly snatched away by death like some fair flower rudely plucked by the hands of the rose light of the dawn. We may well imagine the sorrow and consternation which enshrouded Littledale Academy like a gloomy pall, when Mary O'Neill, one of the brightest pupils died at that institution after a very brief illness on last Thursday evening. In apparently good health on the previous Wednesday, with alarming rapidity pneumonia developed on the following day and despite the unremitting care of the Rev. Mother and the Sisters and all that medical science and skill could do, she passed away at 10.15 o'clock p.m. on the vigil of Our Lady of Lourdes. When it became evident that the innocent youth was fast flickering to a close the last Sacraments were duly administered as a viaticum on the last journey, and to be an Angel of the Covenant and a pillar of light to guide the soul to that unknown country home. Modest, simplicity, sweetness, these were the charming qualities which endeared her to the Nuns and her schoolmates and will be always cherished sacredly in the garden of hallowed memories. The sincere sympathy of all will go out to the parents of the deceased, Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill, of Bay de Verde, on the sudden loss of their only daughter who was just fifteen years old. A void has been made in their home and in their hearts which only Christian faith and hope can fill but the souvenir of the dead child's piety, affection and love must ever remain as a sweet consolation when time has softened grief and has dried sad tears. The body was embalmed and sent to Carleton Place by rail, the boarders walked to the railway station as a last mark of respect. Soft wisps of snow, light as gossamer, were falling ever so gently on the coffin, and it may be fancy as we thought it a symbolical fitness of a spotless life gone to its heavenly reward. "Behold, I come quickly and my reward is with me, to render to every one according to his works."—(Apoc. 22: 12.) R. I. P.—Com.

Amusements.

AT THE CRESCENT. "The Way of the Transgressor" is the great three reel Broadway Star feature that the Crescent Picture Palace is showing to-day is certainly a wonderful production. Leah Baird, the noted Broadway star, plays one of her best roles in this masterpiece. The Edison war drama: "The Corporal's Daughter" is another fine production. Gladys Hulet is featured. Some clever and funny acrobatic stunts are shown in the comedy: "He Was a Travelling Man." Mr. Dave Parks sings a charming ballad: "In the Heart of a Rose." Altogether this is one of the best programmes seen for a long while in the city; don't miss it.

THE CLUTCHING HAND ENDS AT NICKEL.

The Nickel Theatre was crowded at the holiday performance yesterday both afternoon and evening. The pictures were excellent and every one spoke in highest terms of the pictures. The great feature film was "The Exploits of Elaine," the final picture of the Clutching Hand series being shown. It was highly thrilling from start to finish. It showed who the Clutching Hand was, how he was discovered by the wonderful detective and what became of him. This programme will be repeated to-day and we advise all our readers to attend. To-morrow the greatest of all Charlie Chaplin's comedies "Work" which is in two reels will be presented.

PRIZES.—The prizes in the farmers race yesterday were given by Messrs. W. E. Deans, R. Strang and J. J. Mulcahy, whilst the cat-prizes of the race held some weeks since, were contributed by Messrs. Geo. Williams, H. Macpherson and A. E. Parkins.

Horse Races.

Although the weather and ice were not ideal, there were some good and interesting races yesterday afternoon on Quidi Vidi Lake. Four spanking heats were run by the citizens' horses, resulting in H. Macpherson's black mare, "Sheila," taking first place. This mare is worthy of comment. She was purchased in New York about a year ago and brought to this city as a brood mare. She is bred in the most approved lines, being by Electmont 214, by Chimera, by Electioneer, Sheila has a sister in Austria, "Lady Seal-skin," 2064. A mare of more beautiful lines and classic conformation has rarely been seen in this Colony. She is a lady by the royal right of inheritance and her every movement shows good breeding.

The popular horse in this race was "Fennister," a remarkably fine animal and much admired. "Fennister" was the contender and stepped a fine race, and like a gentleman gave first place to a lady, "Sheila." Mr. Kelly is to be congratulated on the fine form of his best. Third place fell to "Jim," owned by Mr. Wylie. "Jim" trotted square and clean for the four heats and well earned the place.

The farmers' race was well contested, Mr. McDonald taking first place and Mr. Bert Ross second. It was hoped that a larger number of really farm horses would have presented themselves, and we trust the future will show a more representative number. At this time we would acknowledge with sincerity the splendid gift of prizes presented by private citizens, and we would remember also those that contributed in time and thought to make these races interesting and clean. Genial Chas. Lester, Esq., ploughed the six tracks free of charge, practically a day's work for two horses and three men. How good and kind we do appreciate such service. Then the Judges, Thos. Curran, Esq., and M. Butler, Esq., kept the races in this city, are amongst the most interested in the better production of good horses. Rev. Bro. O'Regan and Mr. Flanagan were very helpful in getting the animals off at the starting point. Let us as citizens determine to maintain this health giving sport in cleanliness and decency.

Florizel Still Jammed.

The s.s. Florizel is still jammed in the ice off Low Point, according to the latest report from her. It is not definitely decided whether the ship will go to Sydney or Louisburg when she gets free, as, according to the report of the s.s. Meigle, there is very heavy ice approaching Louisburg, that ship being unable to contend with it. After leaving there yesterday for this port she had to retreat after going a few miles and is now at Louisburg.

Train Notes.

Tuesday's No. 1 arrived at Port aux Basques at 8.40 this morning. Yesterday's No. 1 left Port Blandford at 8.25 this a.m. The Southern Shore train arrived at 11.40 bringing only a few passengers. The local reached the city at 12.30 p.m. A cross-country freight train reached the city early this morning. Several cars of paper from Grand Falls came along. An express leaves Port aux Basques to-day after arrival of the Kyle.

Personal.

Mr. Geo. Turner, Government Surveyor, went as far as Carbonear by train this morning. Roadmaster T. P. Connors went over the line by last evening's train.

Here and There.

EXPRESS ARRIVES.—The express reached the city at 11.45 a.m., bringing a number of passengers and several bags of mail matter.

SPECIAL EVENING TELEGRAM. Wind north, light weather fine, slob ice off about 3 miles; no vessels sighted to-day. Bar. 29.55; ther. 20.

STEPHANO REPORTED.—The s.s. Stephano left Halifax at 9 a.m. yesterday for this port, due to-morrow morning. She has a large mail, English and American and a full cargo.

REMAINS ARRIVE.—The remains of the late W. Furlong, W. Furlong, of the express which reached the city at 11.45 this morning. Undertaker Myrick was at the railway station, and immediately on arrival of the train the corpse in a hermetically sealed casket, was placed on the hearse, and brought to the late residence of the deceased. Amongst the large number of mourners were Messrs. Jas. and Thos. McGrath, M. P. Cashin, M.H.A., P. Johnson, R. T. McGrath, T. S. Devine, R. Alsopp and J. W. Kinsella. The funeral will take place at 2.30 to-morrow afternoon.

DIED. At 1 p.m., on the 16th inst., John Clancey, second son of the late Denis and Bridget Clancey, leaving four sisters and three brothers to mourn their sad loss; funeral to-morrow, Friday, at 2.30 p.m., from his late residence, 31 Prospect Street; friends and acquaintances please accept this, the only, intimation.

This morning, Jane, beloved wife of Thomas H. Lawrence, leaving 3 sons and 3 daughters; funeral on Saturday at 2.30 p.m., from her late residence, 23 Hayward Ave. Wednesday evening, at 2 o'clock, Patrick Costigan, aged 74 years, funeral on Friday at 2.30 p.m. from his late residence, 274 Theatre St. Friends and acquaintances please accept this the only intimation. R.I.P. (Boston papers please copy).

FUNERAL NOTICE. The funeral of the late Martin W. Furlong will take place from his late residence "Winterton," Winter Avenue at 2.30 p.m. to-morrow, Friday.

Household Notes. The difficulty so often experienced in cutting soft, filmy goods, such as chiffon, silk, muslin, etc., is easily overcome by pinning the material to paper and cutting both together. Stew meat properly, be sure that the water is boiling when it is poured over the meat, stand it where it will simmer and add salt when the meat is half done. Always wipe the clothes lines carefully before hanging the clothes out to dry; see that the pegs are clean and remember to double the corners of the articles before putting the peg through. Starch should be mixed in a scrupulously clean pan; pour on sufficient cold water to mix it into a smooth thick paste, then add the boiling water, stirring briskly all the time, until the starch is cooked. There is a great deal of nourishment in the proper kind of cereals, for instance all cracked grains are good, also the rougher the texture of the cereal the greater are its properties for correcting digestive troubles. When the steel parts of a kitchen range become brown, damp a small piece of cloth in ordinary vinegar and rub the parts affected. The brown tinge will very quickly disappear, and then the usual polishing may be done with a most pleasant result. Wearers of eyeglasses are greatly troubled with the steam caused by EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE. "When stopping at a large hotel should I wear my hat down to dinner or not?" asked the prospective bride. "You may enter the dining room in your hat and gown or in evening clothes without a hat, if you can wear a pretty suit and hat, if you intend to go out after the meal," replied her mother. BELOW THE STANDARD.

How do you feel to-day? Not quite right? Energy a little below standard—not strong enough to make much exertion? Perhaps a slight cough?

Nyal's Cod Liver Compound is what you need. Don't get frightened about those words "Cod Liver." You'd never know it from the taste.

It's a real tonic containing cod liver extract, extract of malt, wild cherry and hypophosphites—a splendid combination.

The cod liver extract builds you up, does the extract of malt. The wild cherry soothes the bronchial tubes and the hypophosphites supply phosphorus to the nervous system.

And the taste is pleasant. It's an all round tonic, strength builder and body-builder. You'll find it's better than Nyal's Cod Liver Compound—so why look further? The price is one dollar.

Know What You Want.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

"I want a dark suit," I heard a shopper say to a saleswoman the other day. "Something in blue or black?" "Oh, no, I don't want black, because that's so unbecoming, nor blue, because my spring suit is blue." "Here's a very pretty little brown suit."

"No, I don't want brown. I've just had a brown suit."

The saleswoman twirled the reel around. "Grey or green," she suggested hopefully.

"Mercy, no!" said the shopper. "I detest grey, and green makes me look pallid."

When I left the shop the saleswoman, having suggested wistaria and purple, and had them vigorously condemned as "too old" was looking hopeless and the customer was saying impatiently:

"It does seem as if you might find something in this whole shop that I'd like."

She Wanted A Color That Never Was On Land Or Sea.

Doubtless the saleswoman might have "found something" if she could have produced a color that never was on land or sea. Otherwise her chances were small.

On another occasion I heard a clerk who had evidently been suffering from a similar experience murmur to a fellow worker, "She doesn't know what she does want." Unfortunately, the customer overheard and left the store indignantly. Bad salesmanship! Yes, but can you much blame her? Think how many times a day she has to deal with this type of woman.

Perhaps the shopper has some vague ideal that no prosaic concrete reality could possibly approach. Perhaps she expects her new suit to make her look entirely different, young if she is old, handsome if she is plain, well set up if she has a poor figure. And when she looks in the mirror and sees much the same woman, she thinks it is the fault of the garment, and says with restless dissatisfaction, "No that's not just what I want. Haven't you something else?"

The woman who knows what she wants, but wants something almost impossible, is another type that must be trying.

For instance, she wants a blue light enough to be becoming, but dark enough not to soil easily, and every blue that is light enough to be becoming is too light not to soil, and vice versa.

An Evening Coat That Would Be Nice For The Morning.

I once went shopping with a woman who wanted a coat that would be suitable to wear for an evening coat and yet all right to wear in the morning when she went out with the baby. Every coat that was dressy enough for evening she objected to as too dressy to run out in, and every coat that would have been good for that latter purpose wasn't suitable for evening wear. Naturally!

Of course there are many women who, for good financial reasons, have to make one garment serve two purposes. These should make up their minds before starting out which is the more important use and what they will sacrifice.

up your mind before you leave your house as nearly as possible what you want in color, style and price. Then tell the clerk these factors. Don't leave her to "guess the price from your appearance and then blame her if she guesses too high or too low. Don't force her to find out the color and style you want by a long, tortuous process of elimination. Of course it is her business as a saleswoman to help you make up your mind, but it is yours as an intelligent woman to have a mind ready to make up.

Use "Cascarets" for Liver and Bowels When Constipated.

When bilious, headachy, sick, for sour stomach, bad breath, bad colic.

Get a 10-cent box. Take a Cascaret to-night to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets — or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

1ST NEWFOUNDLAND REGIMENT HEADQUARTERS.

St. John's, Feb. 15, 1916.

Regimental Order.

By Lieut.-Col. Sir W. E. Davidson, K.C.M.G., Officer Commanding.

It is announced for general information that the Army Council has appointed Lieut. Colonel A. L. Hadow, of the Norfolk Regiment, to the command of the 1st Battalion, The Newfoundland Regiment, with effect from the 6th of December, 1915.

The Lieut.-Colonel Commanding has been pleased to approve the following appointments:—

To be Captain—Lieut. J. J. Donnelly, for Distinguished Service in the Field; to date from August 16th, 1915, with seniority next above Capt. W. J. Pippy.

GERALD W. AYRE, 2nd Lieut. and Acting Adjutant.

Obituary.

PATRICK COSTIGAN.

Mr. Patrick Costigan, a well known citizen, died at his home on Theatre Hill yesterday afternoon. The deceased up to a few years ago carried on a big fish business on the Labrador having several vessels of his own. Mr. Costigan had reached his 74th year and leaves a widow and two daughters, Mrs. A. O'Reilly and Mrs. James O'Toole, to mourn him besides several grandchildren. To them the Telegram offers its sympathy.

JOHN CLANCEY.

At dinner hour yesterday the soul of John Clancey passed to the Beyond, he was well and favourably known in the city, and besides four sisters and three brothers, a large number of friends mourn their loss. A sad circumstance is that within the past four months death has removed from this family two brothers and a sister-in-law. The Telegram offers its sympathy to the relatives and friends.

MRS. ELIZABETH GREENE.

A respected and favourably known old resident of Signal Hill in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Greene passed away Tuesday evening after a tedious illness. Deceased who had passed the allotted span of life was a native of Berlin. She is survived by 2 sons and 2 daughters. The funeral will take place this afternoon.

The Roarin' Game.

The point games for the Cowan, Wright and Brookes Medals will be held this afternoon and night at the Curling Rink.

The Bennett Shield will be competed for to-morrow night by the Greens and Whites.

Finishes This Afternoon

The unloading of the S.S. Alconia's big coal cargo finishes this afternoon and to-night the ship will begin taking aboard the pulp and paper cargo at the Furness Wilby premises. Work on this cargo will also be carried on continuously day and night in order to get the steamer away for London with the least possible delay.

BOMBED BULGARIAN

LONDON.—Thirteen French aeroplanes out a raid on the town of Strumitza, Bulgaria, according to a Reuter message Salonika to-day. The raid resulted in 158 bombs, causing a great deal of damage. It is added, the despatching machines, although subjected to severe bombardment, remained unharmed.

POURING IN AMERICAN

WASHINGTON.—American made war munitions are pouring into Europe at nearly two million dollars weekly, with the figures swelling as the production increases long time after the war. Estimates were negligible. In the middle of 1915 did millions worth of war munitions began to pour in. It is estimated that the production will begin to move in large quantities. Estimates made by the Department of Commerce began to purchase for export at close to a quarter of a billion dollars. At the rate of production going now, the next year would see this total doubled. The production remains still, but the production is growing faster now than time since American munitions began the conversion of plants into munition factories.

BIG SHIPPING

NEW YORK.—No evidence of inflation has been found by the Federal Reserve Board, which was announced in connection with the waterfront, early yesterday caused the destruction of fish steamships, 37 lighters, a new 900 foot pier and New York Dock Co. property worth of merchandise on the Entente Allies. The total estimated at between $1,000,000 and $4,000,000. Although the ships were impelled by the war, the loss was a heavy one. The missing man was a crew of one of the steamers persons were injured.

Vics. Put It Over Terra Novas in Fast Hockey Game.

In the fastest and cleanest exhibition of hockey yet seen this season at the Prince's Rink, the Terra Novas went down to defeat at the hands of the Victorias last evening, the score at the close being three goals to one. The former meeting of both teams resulted in a win for the Terra Novas by a slight margin and the fans were eagerly awaiting to see them clash again. The line-ups were:—

Terra Novas.	Victorias.
Duley	Right
Tobin	Goal
Watts	Point
Stick	Cover
Mews	Rover
Trappell	Centre
Sellers	Left

Play began at a fast pace set by the Victorias who seemed to outclass their opponents and six minutes had just ticked off when the Victorias landed their first goal by (Capt.) Ford, who played a rattling game.

Again facing off a fine exhibition was served out by both sides, the Terra Novas putting forward all that was in them to equalize whilst the Vics. were equally determined to increase their score. The keenest enthusiasm prevailed amongst the large gathering of fans present. Ere one hour had elapsed the Terra Novas had secured an opening and notched up No. 2 for his team. The Terra Novas worked harder than ever and their efforts were rewarded with a goal scored by Tobin. Then the excitement followed and Terra Nova supporters expected to see the score evened but they were disappointed, as the Vics. landed their third and winning goal. No further scoring was done during the first period.

After the interval the teams appeared in even better form and good hockey was displayed on both sides. The goal keepers in particular did clever work. Periodically the Vics. made some brilliant runs, but failed to beat Duley. The game ended 3 to 1 in favour of the Vics. The officials were:—G. Herder, referee; Messrs. Simms and Mackenzie, timekeepers. The Victorians and St. Bon's will meet to-morrow night.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Yesterday and last night were very severe and few people were about. The whole harbor is now frozen over and a bridge will soon be formed to and from the South Side.

Mrs. Hilda Budden, who lived with her daughter and grand-daughter on Death Hill, was suddenly seized with illness on Saturday night about 11:30 and expired a few minutes afterwards. Much sympathy is felt for the family in their sad and sudden bereavement.

There is to be a carnival at the rink here on Thursday night next. The ice is now in excellent condition and it is said a number of people from Bay Roberts and Carbonear will come to town to attend this pleasant gathering.

Mr. Albert Spencer of Harvey St. has been appointed caretaker of the Methodist Church here and commenced his duties on Saturday last.

Miss Lizzie Murphy of St. John's is at present on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Edmund Taylor, South Side.

Yesterday was Leap Year Day at the rink, and it was the young ladies' privilege to request, or shall we say command, the young men to skate a band with them. It is scarcely necessary to say the night was very much enjoyed.

The thermometer stood at zero at 7 o'clock last evening, but during the night 4 below was registered. Today (Tuesday) is also cold, but bright and very pleasant.

Miss Ellie Shea, the obliging telephone operator at Riverhead, has been very sick for some time, but it is pleasing to note that her pleasant "Hello" is once more to be heard over the wires.

If you have a son whose age and qualifications would allow of his going to help his King and Country, and if he has not offered his services, then we would advise you not to be too quick to blame another for not going, as in the case that occurred on the street here a few days ago. If your own boy is there, then blow for all your worth.

CORRESPONDENT.
Hr. Grace, Feb. 15th, 1916.

Battles Won by Soldiers Feet.

Sounds peculiar, does it not? But quite correct. A military expert says: "Much of the success of the Canadian Army depends upon its feet!" Napoleon said: "Wars are won by marching." Imagine an army with blistered, sore, frost-bitten feet! What good would it be?

Zam-Buk applied to sore feet acts like magic. It soothes soreness, cures blisters, frost-bite, and chafing; and if used regularly keeps the feet in first-class condition. For chapped hands, cold cracks, and sores due to chafing, blistering from trench-digging, etc., Zam-Buk is fine! At the front everybody praises Zam-Buk. One soldier writes: "On the retreat from Mons (a 37-mile march) not one man who used Zam-Buk on his feet fell out." Be sure to include Zam-Buk in your next parcel to "the front."

Patriotic Hockey.

Those of us who are not at the fighting line are supposed to assist in some way for the safeguard and comfort of those who are there, hence it is hoped that citizens generally will attend in large numbers the hockey matches at the Prince's Rink this evening, as by doing so they will be contributing to the W. P. A. Fund which is badly in need of help just now. The first game will be between the ladies, which event proved so interesting before. The veteran hockeyists will show up and they intend to give the best exhibition of stick-handling seen this winter. The C. C. C. Band will be in attendance and render patriotic selections and after the matches tea will be served by the energetic W. P. A. Ladies. The players of the hockey teams will be:—

Private W. J. Long Entertained.

Lodge Empire of the S. O. E. held a very pleasant re-union last evening at the hall to honour Private W. J. Long who has just returned from the front on furlough. Mr. F. W. Pike, the W. President of the body, was in the chair, and the following toast list was done honor to:—

"The King"—Prop. by the President; resp. G. S. Phillips.
"Our Guest"—Prop. Bro. G. T. Phillips; resp. W. J. Long.
"Song"—Bro. C. Udle.
"Supreme Lodge"—Prop. Bro. Jas. Chaffey, W.P.P., resp. C. W. Udle.
"Song"—Bro. S. Merrill.
"Lodge Dudley"—Prop. Bro. W. J. Pike; resp. W. T. Quick, W. P.
"Song"—Bro. G. S. Phillips.
"Curs Boys on Active Service"—Prop. Bro. L. Hallett, W.P.P.; resp. W. H. Strong.
"Song"—Bro. Hallett.
"Chairman"—Prop. Bro. G. S. Phillips; resp. The Chairman.
"God Save the King."

Second Exhibition.

The lantern exhibition at the Presbyterian Hall last night and the various items given were much enjoyed. Great applause was forthcoming when the pictures of Nurse Cavell and the Memorial Service in St. Paul's Cathedral were shown. H. M. S. Britton's band which was present rendered some appropriate airs. Part of the proceeds will be handed over to the W. P. A.

Debate To-Night.

The M. C. L. I. debate takes place to-night. The subject is:—
"Resolved that an Imperial system of Government based on the Canadian system would lead to a great solidarity of the Empire."
The leaders will be Rev. Dr. Curtis and Capt. A. Kean.

Weather-Proof

Any man with a title to normal health may hurl cheery defiance in the teeth of the weather, even in its wilder moods.

It's wholly a matter of blood-current and tissue cells, and everybody knows that sturdiness and vigor in these regards depend largely on good, nourishing food.

Much of the food in the ordinary dietary is lacking in certain vitalizing elements which Nature has designed for sturdy growth and resistance to disease. Especially is this true of white bread and white flour foods, because in making flour white most of the energizing mineral phosphates of the grain are thrown out in the milling process.

These vital elements are retained in the scientifically prepared food—

Grape-Nuts

Made of whole wheat and barley, this food provides all the nutriment of the grain, including those vitalizing phosphates that mean everything in building up and maintaining a robust, vigorous body and keen intellect.

A ration of Grape-Nuts along with the other food has worked wonders for thousands. Ready to eat, economical, appetizing.

AFFECTATION.

The men of simple manners please; they boast not of their pedigrees, or look proud or put on airs, or get swelled up with futile pride. The wise man's every action states, "I'm just like other mortal skates!"

Advice to Dyspeptics Well Worth Following

In the case of dyspepsia, the appetite is variable. Sometimes it is ravenous, again it is often very poor. For this condition there is but one sure remedy—Dr. Hamilton's Pills—which cure quickly and thoroughly. Sufferers find marked benefit in a day, and as time goes on improvement continues. No other medicine will strengthen the stomach and digestive organs like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They supply the materials and assistance necessary to convert everything eaten into nourishment, into muscle, fibre, and energy with which to build up the run-down system.

Why not cure your dyspepsia now? Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills to-day, 25c. per box at all dealers.

Boston Building a Machine to Eclipse the German Fritz.

New York, Feb. 9.—G. Douglas Wardrop, editor of Aerial Age and member of the Aero Club of America, told a large audience in Public School 157 last evening that an all steel bat-tleplane was being constructed in Boston which would eclipse the German "Fritz", the double motored, double propelled biplane, which sent Pegoud, the pioneer French looper, to his death.

"The machine," said Mr. Wardrop, "will have a wing spread of over a hundred feet and will be equipped with two 140 horse power motors. The gun turrets will be located on the wings several feet from the central carriage in which the pilot sits, and will have an arc of fire of over 240 degrees. Each turret will carry a gunner, rapid firing machine-gun and 200 pounds of ammunition."

Dogs-The Pug.

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old S'wash."

The pug is a sort of parody on the dog which flourished principally in the days of the hoopskirt, the Queen Anne cottage, the Burnside whisker and other necessities. All of these are now happily extinct, except the pug, who, however, is also becoming increasingly scarce with commendable rapidity.

The pug was of Oriental design, his beauty lying entirely in his curves. He was round in every direction and had a round tail which curved neatly over his back in the shape of a doughnut, making it necessary for the dog to revolve it, instead of wagging it.

The pug had a large Ethiopian face with a retroussé nose. It was as homely as a Beardsley poster, but not as awe-inspiring. The rest of the dog was a light gray color, and was of a size convenient to be booted out of the best chair in the house with energy and success by those who did not appreciate his virtues and talents.

The pug was immensely popular in his day and was used as a substitute for babies in thousands of homes. He had no brains, but made up for them in dignity, like many humans. He was as dignified as a horse doctor in a plug hat. He could not fight. He could not do anything useful. But he could proceed from the dinner table to the sofa with all the ponderous importance of a man who has risen in life by inheriting a cabbage patch which has been swallowed by a metropolitan. This gave him a high standing among the worshippers of dignity and he was listed as one of our leading citizens for a long time. Among the earliest insurgents were those who believed that dignity is not all that is required of a dog or a statesman, and their sarcastic criticisms contributed greatly to the pug's downfall.

The pug spent his life in eating and sleeping and was more modest than our modern Salome dancers, wearing a ribbon and a string of bells around his neck. At the age of ten, he usually became too fat to walk and was tended with great devotion by his family until he became too fat to breathe, after which death and the garbage man slipped in and did their duty. There are a few pugs left today, but they are not taken seriously and have to curl their tails by their own unaided efforts.

War on Co-Operative Loan Society Opens.

Quebec, Feb. 8.—Aiming at the abolition of co-operative loan societies in the Province, T. D. Bouchard, deputy for Ste. Hyacinthe, is to introduce to the Legislative Assembly a Public Bill, of which notice has been given. This signals the commencement of the campaign carried on by Mr. Bouchard for the last two sessions against the societies. His first Bill was presented two sessions ago. A special commission was appointed to study operation of such organizations and reported last session, members being divided on the question.

Optimism.

(From Punch.)

A conversation in the trenches:—Private Douglas McTavish (late of the Alberta police).—"Men, in my section 'tis often fifty degrees below zero. But, bless ye, 'tis dry cold; ye'll never feel it."

L. C. Owen Tyrrell (late of Carpentaria Telegraphs).—"Down under it is usually 125 in the shade. But thin it is dry heat; you are never sensible of it."

Corporal James Brown (late tram conductor, Vancouver).—"In B. C. we stare upon 312 to 314 rainy days in the year. But it's dry rain; it don't wet you!"

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS

Harsh punishment has no place in the bringing up of a baby. A baby knows nothing of right and wrong but follows his natural inclinations. If these lead him in the wrong direction the mother must be on hand to guide him in another and better one, and to divert his eager interest and his emergency into wholesome and normal directions. This is the golden rule in the training of babies and one which applies to the training of children of all ages.

Many parents conceive that their whole duty is to thwart and forbid, enforcing their prohibition with penalties of varying degrees of severity, forgetting that they are dealing with a sensitive being endowed with all the desires, inclinations, and tendencies that they themselves have, and that if these natural feelings are constantly suppressed and thwarted they are sure to seek and find some outlet for themselves.

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the motes until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play."

Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, tasteful lighting effect that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X Lamp and GASTREAM Radiators fill all light and heat requirements.
