Tam in opposition to the Mowat government. The opposition have not during the present of the railway is fighting me in this way. Thomas Temple. Whether the decision of the government as to the railway subsidy referred to in the telegram is to be in any way dependent on the withdrawal of the protest against the election of Mr. Temple for York, N. B?

The railway referred to is the Miramich Valley road, for which a deputation has arrived seeking dominion aid. The question be put is an awkward one, for the government will scarcely dare to say that the baidy is to be granted upon condition the protest; is withdrawn, and unless do so Mr. Temple will be embarrassed, use he will have no further public $\theta_s$ for asking that his protest be ed.

To Mr. McMaster—In the past years cancuses have been held in the Mail office. The timber policy of the government in the protest; is withdrawn, and unless do so Mr. Temple will be embarrassed, use he will have no further public $\theta_s$ for asking that his protest be ed.

The sub-committee appointed to inquire as to the best method of performing printing services in future have reported. They examined Messrs. Romaine, Desbarats and others, and are of opinion that $200,000 may be regarded as the minimum cost per annum in future of the public printing and binding, including departmental and parliamentary work, and printing of official debates of the senate and house of commons. Such information as they obtained points to this result that the government printing office, under the superintendence of an experienced man, printing would be done about as cheaply, privating would be done about as cheaply, and certainly better than by the contract lystem. The committee do not venture upon a positive recommendation. They believe the subject is one which should be thoroughly inquired into before a final decision is arrived at, and with the view of permitting that inquire to be mediately.

> St. Thomas v. Credit Valley. The case of the city of St. Thomas against the Credit Valley railway was an action brought against the railway com pany to compel the erection of a station at the foot of Church street in St. Thomas. The city had granted a large bonus to the railway, who agreed to build the station. Instead of doing so, however, they ran their trains into the Canada Southern station, and subsequently to a small station in an inconvenient space. Judge Ferguson in his judgment yesterday, however, re-fused to compel the station being built, but decided that a reference should be had to the master to ascertain the damage sustained by the city.

Scott act work, literature, nominations legislation and business were appointed. In the afternoon the president delivered his annual address. Mr. Blake began by sketching his recent tour through England. Temperance was making great strides there, as the liquor business was no longer respectable. He held that public opinion was slowly but surely moving. There is a cloud no larger than a man's hand hovering over the unholy business, which must burst sconer or later. Those engaged in the trade can already see the awful handwriting on the wall. As Cato of old, when reaching in the forum of his beloved Rome.

ferred in particular to the wonderful work now being done by the church of England. In the diocese of Toronto there were over sixty-two branches of the temperance alliance. The paper will soon be printed in pamphlet form.

F. S. Spence spoke at the means and methods of temperance work. His was a simple, practical address, in which it was plain that he meant business. The means were five: organization, literature, speakers, a temperance paper and missionary work. He held that speakers should be enlisted to go about and lecture freely on enlisted to go about and lecture freely o temperance, with a view of having the Scott act submitted in every city and county in the province simultaneously.

A long and spirited discussion followed in which almost every delegate to the convention had something to say. The majority were in favor of submitting the Scott act. But it was held that for isolated counties to undertake it was unwise and that the act should be submitted simultaneously everywhere. Every county and city, however that determined to submit the act should be assisted in every way with speakers, literature and advice.

In the evening the delegates were treated to a banquet at the Shaftesbury coffee house. Mr. Blake presided and the tables were fully occupied. After the guests had partaken of a nice spread the evening was given up to orations. Mr. Blake made a few impressive remarks and was followed by Rev. Poor Bunting.

As it is he is stated to the Montreal Gazette writes that he has be in a condition of emasculated funk, disabled bodily and mentally from tending to business. His hired man, however, keeps on piling up excuses and apologies, But he omits to state what Mr. Bunting had to do with Mr. Stimson, in whose staved in Toronto. Can it be asserted that he was bent on imitating a greater person than himself in his tollowing the great Senator Brown's example and going into shorthorns, or what had he to do with Mr. Stimson? Whatever Mr. Stimson's mission to Toronto was it is abundantly clear that Mr. Bunting must have known all about it. Perhaps he will be good enough to rise and explain-or tell the hired man man to do so. If he does not do so all will come out in good time, that is to say when Mr. Bunting is called as a witness in the case of any one of his fellow conspirators and comes under the tomahawk of the cross-examining counsel.

Drunken Ministers of the Crown.

The conduct of Mr. Costigan in the house of commons is certainly extraordinary. Much wonder is expressed that Sir John Macdonald, though in the midst of all the perils now surrounding him, should continue even for the remainder of the session, to allow Mr. Costigan to sit in the house as his colleague. The exhibition he made disgraceful. Whatever the premier's own failings may have been in that line we know that he has before now dismissed an inebriate from his cabinet, to wit the late Mr. Foley. The present is one more grievous illustration of the absurdity of representative ministers, that is to say, men supposed to represent any particular denomination or section of the country. Let us have the best men apart from religion o

Imported Bishops.

The good catholics of Hamilton are ge ting ready to receive their new bishop. Mgr. Carberry, who comes direct to then from Rome. On a previous occasion Th World voiced the opinion of a promine section of the catholic church in Canada when it said that there were lots of priests in Canada competent for the office of bishop, and that it was merely because we were colonists that the pope rewarded his faithful priests in Ireland with bishoprics in Canada. He does not send Irish priests to dioceses in the United States, or German ones into France. Nor should he any more send Irish priests to Canadian sees. Priests who have been born, bred and trained in Canada will make better bishops understand their high office better, than the imported article, and that for obvious

No Children or Dogs.

A good many Toronto landlords are practical disciples of Malthus. The number of children in the family of a would-be tenant is frequently made a pretext to demand an exorbitant rent, or to frowningly reject the applicant's proposal. If the in fant industry of rearing children were abandoned it would be a bad thing for the landlords themselves, whose property would soon depreciate in value. The Master suffered little children to come to Him, but His mansions are in the skies, where it is possible that our owners of tenements never expect to hold title deeds. One of these gentlemen exceeded all his fellows the other day by advertising in the Telegram that "neither dogs nor children would be permitted his tenants. A man capable of placing children and dogs in such conjunction does not deserve to be honored by the affection of either animal,

Retaliation.

Commercial circles in Montreal are somewhat excited over a private despatch received by a firm there from the secretary of the chamber of commerce of St. Johns, Newfoundland, requesting them to inform the trade that a bill had been passed by the legislature imposing a duty of 100 per cent on the value of all packages containing merchandise imported-to apply to importations from countries to be menoned therein which shall levy a tax on packages from this colony or in which inspection of merchandise from this colony is amade compulsory. On this the Witness

This is, it appears, a retaliatory measure directed against Canada. The Newfoundlanders are greatly grieved over the law passed during the last session making the inspection of Newfoundland fish, especially herrings, subject to the same inspection which Canadian fish have to pass. Another grievance is that that the tax complained of amounts to only half a cent per gallon.

Some Montreal dealers think that this tax had better be repealed, as it is merely n annoyance, and does no good to anybody, or to the revenue, worth speaking of. A meeting of the Montreal corn exchange has been called to consider the mat-

The Hudson's Bay Route-Important Tes-While our kindred in Newfoundland are showing themselves extremely "touchy" exculpation, of Mr. C. W. Bunting. If their fish, they give us hints of some value with regard to the navigation of Hudson's

The Newfoundland correspondent of conversed with some of the most intelligent and experienced of our sailing captains on this subject, especially with Captain Adams, who has spent twenty-five years in Arctic navigation, and who has been often in Hudson's straits. Captain company he was seen half-a-dozen separate Adams' opinion is that the route is quite times during the few days that the latter practicable for steamers properly equipped to encounter ice, during three or four months each year. generally. He says, further:

It is a matter of importance to those who are in favor of this route to know that here in Newfoundland there is a splendid fleet of steamers built expressly for ice navigation whose services are available for carrying freight and passengers by this route. As a rule, when the seal fishery ends they are laid up in port till the following year, as no employment can be found for them. Their owners, therefore, would only be too glad to charter them for such a service. I have no doubt the Dundee steamers would also take part in it. Ample facilities would thus be secured. Dundes steamers would also take part in Ample facilities would thus be secured the initiation of such a project. As a rule, dson's straits are navigable by the 1st of y, often considerably earlier. Our ice capse generally consider the project feasible. There are probably no better "ice captains" in the world, or with better men in their command, than those of the Dundee

We must agree with the Gazette that this is a very valuable suggestion, perhaps the most practical yet made on the subject, we may add,

Training Home Labor. Just now we may learn a valuable lesson

rom California, if we choose to avail ourselves of it. Two or three weeks ago we had the news by telegraph that some three thousand five hundred Chinese cigarmakers in San Francisco had been locked-out by their employers, and that it was propose to bring workmen from New York and other places in the east to supply their places. We learn from Bradstreets' that since then the cigarmakers' association of the Pacific coast has taken a new and im portant departure, this action being the result, as it candidly admits, of the operation of the law restricting Chinese labor immigration. The executive committee reported to the association, at a meeting held in San Francisco on March 8, a plan whereby a supply of skilled white labor might be provided, independent of Chinese or imported workmen from the eastern states, these sources being deemed insatisfactory and unreliable. It is believed to be quite possible to provide a superior class of home labor by training youn people in San Francisco, who are no growing up in enforced idleness, owing to the monopoly by Chinamen of all the lighter branches of industry, productive or It is the same of everything. Talk to any-This plan, says our New York contem

It is proposed to establish a technical school in San Francisco for the education and training of white youths in the trade of cigar making. Suitable rooms are to be chosen, and furn ished with the necessary tools, machinery and appliances of an ordinary eigar factory, a stock of leaf tobacco purchased, and superintendents and instructors appointed. The product of the labor of these appren tices is to be applied to defray the expenses of the establishment. Lectures on the technicalities of the trade are to be delivered, whereby students would acquire in a short time greater familiarity with the calling than they could ever do as ordinary apprentices. The object is to train a mor intelligent class of workmen than has here tofore been available in the cigar trade and ultimately to displace Chinese labor entirely. Habits of neatness, order and conomy in the use of stock, judgment in its selection, and other knowledge neces sary to a thorough understanding of the trade, would thus be acquired, which could of the Newfoundland agents, are agreed that the inspection of Newfoundland harrings is absolutely necessary. One dealer pointed out a lot of 150 half-barrels of Newfoundland herrings, branded No. 1, which only passed No. 3 by Montreal inspectors. Mr. Morin, the inspector, points out that of 35,000 barrels of herrings inspected last year, only 500 barrels turned out No. 1, although all were so branded. In lot after lot inspected, without exception, the fish branded No. 1 turned out to be largely No. 2 and No. 3, with a percentage of rusted in every case, and of tainted in most. Newfoundland dealers think the fish should be left unbranded and sold on their merits.

By the Canadian act of 1879 a duty of 20 per cent was imposed on packages capable of holding liquids, but a discretionary power was left with the government, and this provision was not enforced until last year. It is stated that the duty on a barrel containing 60 gallons of seal oil is 30 cents, so that the tax complained of amounts to

It is high time that the question of trainwhile at our own doors we have an army of native street arabs growing up at home and comparatively uncared for. Suppose that we did more in the way of training home labor; and less in the way of importing labor from abroad, would it not be for the good of the country? The cigar nanufacturers of San Francisco are setting us a good example, and it would be greatly to our advantage to follow it.

A greater danger threatens our working classes than even the system of assisted passages to Englishmen, Irishmen cotchmen. This is the bringing out by contractors and large employers of labor of gangs of men from Italy, Hungary, Southyear the straits might be packed with ice ern Germany and other congested districts in Europe. These people are nearly, if not quite, as objectionable as the Chinese They live in gangs and will work for little more than half the wages paid to Americans or English or Irish. The result of their coming must be disastrous to the wage earning class. After a bit they may make good citizens, but in the meantime they will have done the injury. Besides the system once in vogue can, unless legislation interferes, be continued for all time When one district in the old world thinned out another can be levied on, the supply being almost exhaustless. The principle of the thing is really little better | the action of the Ottawa government in than slavery, the men being bought and fleets. And an opinion from such quarters from this matter are likely in time to come imported almost as slaves. The evils to be almost incalculable. The trades and > What extraordinary sage things are eing said anent this bribery business! People are talking, and alleged journalists are writing, as if the iniquity of corruption were never realized before, as if nobody previously understood that it was dishonorable and immoral either to bribe or he bribed. One wise-acre, who apparently thinks he was born after the manner of El Mahdi, to set the world right, remarks :-"If bribery is a crime in individuals, it should be made a crime in governments.' As if bribery were not a crime in governments and did not carry its penalty when brought home. Before our friend goes further in his task of universal enlighten ment, it might be as well if he would dabble a little into history and post himself on the constitution of his country.

Oscar Wilde has been lecturing in England on his impressions of America. His views are original, but in some instances not far from wrong. For instance, when he says that in the south the people date from before the war, he hits the nail exactly on the head. A traveler of our acquaintance going down the Mississippi made the remark to a native, "How beautiful this part of the country appears." "Yes," was the reply, "but you should have seen it before the war." As a matter of fact there was not in view one sign of shining brightly and the shores of the mighty river were marked by cultivation. body more than twenty years old and he or she will almost immediately begin to sigh

Wilkinson stated yesterday that he had attempted a big game in trying to upset the government by bribing members, but that he was working purely for himself and by himself. Mr. Bunting was entirely innocent. Wilkinson is willing to offer up himself as the scapegoat. But the evidence is too strong against Mr. Bunting. His relations with Stimson are known and these have yet to be unfolded. They will show that Bunting, Wilkinson and Stimson were hand and glove in the conspiracy.

Election vs. Appointment

To the Editor of the World. SIR: If experience teaches us anything it is thatour system of government is exceedingly weak and consequently dangerous, and it behooves all good men, lawmakers or otherwise, of either party, or no party, to point out a remedy.

There are two causes of danger should be avoided and remedied. First, the system of electing member of parliament is very faulty and most dangerous, and has led up to the present trouble. secondly, the abominable system of appointment so universal in this country of all kinds of officers, both great and small. The remedy for the first evil is simple and easy, and just in the estimation of nineteen people out of twenty, viz., let all members of parliament be elected and members of parliament be elected and elected alone by their own constituencies. Let there be no one pedling himself from politicians and wire pullers. Witness John A. Macdonald defeated in his own con stituency going off to British Columbia to be returned by a handful of electors in order that he may drive the coun one suppose if he home, as he should

been, after his own constituency so de-cided, that any leader of the tory party would have arisen who would have disgraced that party as he has or so nearly ruined the country? The great mistake our politicians labor under is that the country would necessarily go to the dogs if our Sir Johns, and Blakes, and Hardies, Pardees and Tuppers should be left at home. It would be a great boon to the people if when we elect them to stay at home they would be use to first least one town. It would have to for at least one term. Let there be be no making room by resigna-tion or otherwise for our great politicians so that they may sit always in parliament. the highest judges, many of them and their practices are a stench in the nostrils It is high time that the question of training home labor received more attention in Canada than has yet been bestowed upon it. We are importing, or allowing others to import for us, shiploads of paupers, who know nothing of farm work, and most of whom are too old to learn, while many more are too feeble to be of any use. Every year witnesses the arrival here of the people to be dealt with at their elections. My word, and the experience of other people for it, we would have much more efficient, civil and painstaking officials. How many of our offices which are filled by appointment are held by weak, old, inefficient and inexperienced and too often uneducated men. A poorer lot the people sould not possibly elect if they tried. Every year witnesses the arrival here of hundreds of young waifs and strays, picked out of the gutters of old country cities, Besides there is no getting rid of the brood except by the expensive method of pen-sioning. By electing them every so many years there would be an end to their mis-rule or usefulness, If useful the people would be apt to return them at their elecwould be apt to return them at their elec-tions. If inefficient they would he apt to be elected to stay at home, which would be far cheaper and better than pensioning, Let us elect all our officials, from constables up to the highest, just as we do our government. If we are to be trusted in the one why not in all the others? More elections of officers means more public spirit, or patriotism, and an elevation of coolers with a politically and intellect.

A READER.

Mt. Vernon, Brant Co., March 24, 1884. A Grange Senator.

To the Editor of The World. SIR: To the farmers it was very pleas ing the words of appreciation spoken by his Excellency the governor-general on the occasion of the dominion grangers presenting him with an address at Ottawa. In his reply he said that:

You came here as the representatives of an industry which from times of the remotest antiquity has held an honorable place amongst the industries of the world—an industry the pursuit of which has conferred upon the human race many of its most sterling and admirable qualities. Here in Canada probably more than in any other country it is the duly of the community to recognize its obligation to those who have followed the art of husbandry.

of the address of the worthy master of the ninion grange, Jabel Robinson, when he ought it necessary to refer with regret to the matter of senate appointments. He said, "last year this body (that is, the dominion grange) with the Ontario provin-cial grange and a number of other granges throughout the dominion petitioned the of navigating Hudson's Bay is under consideration. The Newfoundland sealers get take the bull by the horns and grapple government to appoint senate W. C. Beaty, one of our members, and a live and practical agriculturist, but is it that while his excellency properly comprehends the importance of the husbandman to the community, and "here in Canada, the duty of the community to recognize its obligations to those who have followed the art of husbandry," the govern-ment of Sir John Macdonald (who owe their osition largely to the votes of the farm should refuse the moderate demand of the grangers for only one seat in the senate? In the language of the worthy master the dominion grange, "Our wishes were entirely ignored." We, who are seven-tenths of the people of this dominion, have a remedy, and that remedy is very well expressed in the address of the worthy ster of the Ontario provincial grange

when he says:

I would like to keep before the agricul-turalist the fact that, if united, no earthly power can come between us and the justice GRANGER. Ontario, March 25, 1884.

The Factory Act.

To the Editor of The World. SIR: In the summary of proceedings of our local legislature published in the Mail, I am surprised and alarmed to learn that a factory act modelled after that in force in England has been passed. Will you kindly state if this is correct, and if possible pubwar's desolation, and the fall sun was shining brightly and the shows of the said act? I cannot credit that a piece of legislation so unfriendly to both the manufacturer and employe could be hurried through an Ontario legislature without challenge and without the opportunity of discussion by those most interested.

The English act applied to Canada mean disaster all round, and its enforcement must inevitably sap all our pretensions to becoming a manufacturing people. I await your report with anxiety. A MANUFACTURER.

Catarrh-A New Treatment. Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for Catarrh. Out of 2000 patients treated during the past six months, fully ninety per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent of the patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefitted, while the patent medicines and other advertised chres never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissues, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination; this accomplished, the Catarrh is practically cured, and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him years ago are cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cure Catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured Catarrh. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent most ravorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Messrs. A. H. DIXON & SON, 305 King street west, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for their treatise on Catarrh.—Montreal Star.

Upon the influence of Australian, Indian and Russi ompetition in the European wheat markets re is no need to dwell any more. The Sur has repeatedly discussed this question at a time when the Solomons of the produce exchanges of New York and Chicago laughed at the idea of the United States being undersold by any country. The condition of the wheat market is such that bets were offered on Saturday that July wheat, which was selling then at 97 cents a bushel, would see the figures reversed and sell at 79 cents before July is over.

A large sale of trotters, including many owned by Commodore Kittson, will take place at St. Paul June 11. The English racing season commenced yesterday. To-day the race for the Lincolnshire handicap will be run.

A race track is shortly to be built in St. Louis to cost $250,000. It will be somewhat similar to the one at Saratoga. It is said Fred Archer will ride Dog Fox, 5 yrs., by Xenophon—Brown Vixen, in the Liverpool grand national on Friday.

The St. Mary's curling club are to build a new rink twice as large as the old one, which will accommodate four rinks. The annual meeting of the Trinity college cricket club will be held this evening at the college, commencing at 8 o'clock. The Hop Bitters and Union baseball clubs of Hamilton will probably be amalgamated at a meeting on Thursday night. Much regret will be felt at the loss by death last week of Mr. John Forbes' filly Vic. Taw, by Long Taw out of Bon-vic Vic.

Jay-Eye-See is jogged every day with a view to the coming campaign. While inspecting some trotters in Illinois the other day, Mr. Case said that he is confident that Jay-Eye-See will lower his record to 2.10 this year. The $25 El Padre cup that was to have been presented by S. Davis & Son as a special prize at the dog show has not arrived, so the firm have very generously substituted a $50 silver water set, consisting of a tray, pitcher and two goblets. L. E. Myers, the champion runner undertook to run three-quarters of a mile at the spring games of the Adelphi athlytic club, New York, on Saturday last, while T. M. Buckley walked a half a mile. He beat Buckley by two yards.

The death is announced of Mr. Edward Corrigan's b. c. Ten Full by Ten Broeck out of Full Cry, the dam of Checkmate. This colt was purchased by Mr. Corrigan as a yearling for $6000, and was engaged in all the prominent three-year old fixtures of 1884. Mr. Corrigan stood to win very heavily on Ten Full for the Kentucky Derby.

Malcomb W. Ford, N.Y.A.C., the cham pion amateur all-round jumper, undertook to lower the record at one-hand standing vault at the New York athletic club's gymnasium on Saturday last. He cleared the bar easily at 5 feet 3½ inches, which beats the record 1¾ inches. Ford now holds the the record 14 inches. Ford now holds the record at five events—namely, 50-yard run, three standing jumps, standing broad jump, one-hand standing vault and standing hop, step and jump.

The London World says: "The farce called the National cross-country cham-pionship was duly enacted at Birmingham pionship was duly enacted at Birmingham on Saturday last, and the Moseley harriers, with the assistance of friends from a distance, for the third year succeeded in winning their bets. We hope the performers are satisfied with the rapidity with which they have dragged the pastime of paper chasing to a depth lower than the lowest degree of professionalism."

In 1834 Mr. John C. Stevens advertised in the New York Courier and Enquirer tor a man "white, black, red or any intermea man "white, black, red or any intermediate color who will undertake to travel on foot ten miles an hour." To the man who should accomplish the feat an offer of $1000 was made. Henry Stanard of Connecticut, competed for the prize, and he won with twelve seconds to spare. In April, 1863, L. THE PEOPLE'S PASTIMES,

An elaborate and instructive table showing the time of a mile by quarters from two minutes to three minutes, and the number of feet per second a horse must travel in going at different gaits, has been prepared. It is calculated that a horse traveling fifteen feet from the pole will take 2 and 2-10 seconds longer to make the mile, thirty feet from the pole 4½ seconds, forty-five feet 6½ seconds. That is if a horse trotted in 2,12, another outside of him, fifteen feet from the pole, and finishing with him, would have covered the mile in Canada.

This is expected to be a great year both for running and trotting.

Mayor Boswell will preside at the sportsmen's convention in the city hall to-lease farther in a carvet second, or three feet, seven and five-sixteenth inches per second, or three feet, seven and five-sixteenth inches per second. The pole will be the visited and no longer excites remark.

General Gordon's Liberal Religious Views and Fearlessness.

From the Pall Mall Gazette. Naturally enough, there is a strong sym pathy in General Gordon's character with Mohammedanism. Replying to a correspondent who had spoken of Mohamme

There is a story to the effect that when the king of Abyssinia said to him: "You are an Englishman and a christian," Gordon replied: "I am an Egyptian and a Mussulman." But whatever truth there may be in this story, he certainly views all religious questions in a very broad and catholic spirit. "The heathens are God's inheritance, and He hears their prayers." The incantations of the native magicians, when employed in good faith, are to him prayers which the Highest does not disdain to hear. When a Moogi Balaam cursed him from the river bank he noted that it was odd a disaster soon afterward followed.

During the past five years thousands of patients have used my medicines and treat ment by the Spirometer, and the result shows that every one who has properly followed out the instructions has been benefited and a larger percentage cured than by any other treatment known. Encouraged by this fact, the great and increasing demand for my medicines, and finding that many who could be cured are financially unable to procure the Spirometer, I will give the Spirometer free to any one, rich or poor, suffering from catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, weak lungs or consumption who will call at 173 church street, Toronto, Manager Harry Wright has arranged the players of his Philadelphia club into two teams, to be known as the Whites and the Reds. day school picnic, or a cordial invite to a church-fair oyster stew. Dr. J. Corlis, St. Thomas, writes:
"During ten years' active practice I have had occasion to prescribe Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites. Since Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda came under my notice I have tried it, and take great pleasure in saving that it has given great pleasure in saying that it has given great satisfaction, and is to be preferred to any I have ever used or recommended. I have used it in my own family almost as

as a beverage during heavy colds, and in every instance a happy result has followed. I cheerfully recommend its use in all cases of debility arising from weakness of the muscular or nervous system."

brought that artist with him. I explanation that he had been dead for so little time elicited the inquiry, "Who shot him?" Among the more elderly inhabi-tants of the south he found a melancholy tendency to date every event of importance by the late war. "How beautiful the moon is to-night!" he once remarked to a gentleman who was standing next to him. "Yes," was the reply, "but you should have seen it before the war." So infinitesimal did he find the knowledge and appreciation of art west of the Rocky mountains, that an art patron—one who in his day had been a miner—actually sued the railroad company for damages because the plaster cast of Venus of Milo, which he had imported from Paris, had been delivered ported from Paris, had been delivered minus the arms! And, what was more surprising still, he gained his case and the

I like the Mussulman; he is not ashamed of his God; his life is a fairly pure one. Certainly, he gives himself a good margin in the wife line, but, at any rate, he never poaches on others. Can our christian people say the same?"

There is a story to the effect that when the same?"

—"Ido not like thee, Dr. Fell.

The reason why, I cannot tell."

It has often been wondered at, the bad door this oft quoted doctor was in. Twas probably because he, being one of the old-school doctors, made up pills as large as bullets, which nothing but an ostrich could bolt without nausea. Hence the dislike. Dr. V. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are sugar-coated and no larger than bird-shot, and are quick to do their work. For all derangements of the liver, bowels and stomach they are specific.

him from the river bank he noted that it was odd a disaster soon afterward followed. "I believe," he writes, "that God may listen to the cries for help from heathen who know Him not. These prayers were earnest prayers for celestial aid, in which the prayer knew he would need help from some unknown power to avert a danger. That the native knows not the true God is true, but God knows him, and moved him to prayer, and answered his prayer."

Bunting Not Worth Sticking To.

In hastening to the rescue of Bunting, in following the lead of the Mail by making light of Bunting's conduct and blackguarding the witnesses against him, the tory papers have done more than their party ould reasonably expect them to do-more than respectable conservatives would desire them to do. For who is Bunting? What service has he ever performed for the conservative party that could evoke gratitude enough to induce the rank and grattude enough to induce the rains and file of the party to wallow in the mire and eat dirt for his sake? When Sir John Macdonald disgraced the party in the Pacific scandal business, there was a shadow of excuse for sticking to him. He shadow of excuse for sticking to him. He had long been the leader of the party. He had fought at the head of the column, and he had generally been successful. Though he richly deserved punishment, there was a relationship existing between him and the party that could induce many to overlook his crime. But what the party could stand for Sir John's sake, its members need not feel called upon to swallow for the sake of Runting, a nobody who has for the sake of Bunting, a nobody who has simply come to the front as a clerk or agent of the paper manufacturer who owns the Mail newspaper. Under his management the paper has done the party more than the cond. If the party abarrates harm than good. If the party character can be redeemed by the sacrifice of Bunting, the whitewash is cheap at the price.

Electric Light Company.

The committee on street lights held meeting last week, and took final action with regard to Worcester's electric lights. The determination was the signing of a contract by the mayor with the Worcester dectric light company, in which the latter agree to furnish the city with electric lights for one year, dating from the first day of this month, at 65 cents for each light. The time set for furnishing the light is from dark until daylight, and the hours will vary with the season. The contract calls for 50 lights, 45 of which are now in order, and the other five will soon be ready. of general history. An interesting ceremony took place at Birmingham, England, recently on the occasion of the "home-coming" of a man named Hall after twenty years' penal servitude for wife murder. Thousands of people, it is stated, met Hall at the railway station, and gave him an enthusiastic restation, and gave him an enthusiastic reception, greeting him with loud cheers until he was driven off in a cab with his relatives. These tokens of sympathy and esteem must have somewhat surprised Hall. The value of his estate has never yet transpired, nor have the provisions of the prince's will ever been made public. It is not easy to ever been made public. It is not easy to-understand why Queen Victoria should have made such a profound mystery of the matter, but it is a fact that the most stringent precautions were taken, and have been continued, to keep everything connected with the prince's property and its disposition a dead secret.

The Rev. Robt. Collyer spoke in the queen." He described the life of Queen Victoria, as given in the book just published by her. The picture it presented was that of a loving wife, a good mother, and a simple and true-hearted woman, who delighted more in a quiet home life than the pomp and splendors of the palace and the tinsel of royalty. Her affection for her tinsel of royalty. Her allection for her servants was one of her highest traits. Mr. Collyer said that the oftener her life was read the better would the reader appreciate her character as a true woman.

From the Modern Age. It appears from the gathered statistics of the world that women have a greater tenacity of life than men. Despite the intellectual and physical strength of the latter, the softer sex endures longest, and will bear pain to which a strong man succumbs. Zymotic diseases are more fatal to males, and more male children die than female. Deverga asserts that the proportion dying suddenly is about 100 women to 780 men; 1080 men in the United States in 1870 committed suicide to 285 women. Intemperance, apoplexy, gout, hydrocephalus, affections of the heart or liver, scrofula, paralysis, are far more fatal to males than females. Pulmonary consumption, on the other hand, is more deadly to the latter. Females in cities are more prone to consumption than in the country. All old countries, not disturbed by emigration, have a majority of females in the population. In royal families the statistics show more daughters than sons. The Hebrew women is exceptionally long-lived; the colored man exceptionally short-lived. The married state is favorable to prolongation of life among women. Dr. Hough remarks that there are from 2 to 6

What is Catarrh

From the Mail (Canada) Dec. 15.

Catarrh is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of the vegetable parasite amæba in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favorable circumstances, and these are: Morbid state of the blood, as the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, mercury, toxemea, from the retention of the effeted matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauces or back of the throat, causing ulceration of the throat, up the eustachian tubes, causing deafness, burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hearseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

Many attempts have been made to discover a cure for this distressing disease by the use of inhalants and other ingenious devices, but none of these treatments can do a particle of good until the parasites are either destroyed or removed from the mucous tissue.

Some time since a well known physician of forty years' standing, after much experimenting, succeeded in discovering the necessary combination of ingredients which never fails in absolutely and permanently eradicating this horrible disease, whether standing for one year or forty years. Those who may be suffering from the above disease should, without delay, communicate with the business managers. Messrs. A. H.
