ACTION IN MATTER OF MUNICIPAL HOME

Some Councillors Said To Be Ready To Reconsider

A CALL ON THE COURTS?

May Be Injunction Against Option or Court Order Quashing Resolution—The Matter of Blasting as Related to This Business

Public interest in the option on the Municipal Home has not decreased since yesterday. The longer the citizens have had to think about the matter the more set against it they have become and the more eagerly an explanation is sought.

It is not known, however, that those who are opposing the option will take any chance of the matter taking that course and it is understood that the necessary steps preliminary to an application to the courts for an order for a stay of proceedings might take the form either of an application for an injunction or an application to the court to quash the resolution under which the option was authorized.

Several reasons are given why this should be done. The chief argument advanced is that the vote on the resolution to grant the option was not taken on the merits but that there are other considerations which affected the vote.

Among these considerations is mentioned a matter of vote for certain improvements which the representatives of one of the parishes wished to see adopted.

The members of another parish are said to have been influenced by the belief that their parish would profit by a change in the location of the home.

In addition to these arguments it is said that a story was circulated among some of the county members that the property would be needed by the government in connection with the development of the eastern harbor and that they were told that in this case the land would be expropriated without any return to the municipality and it was suggested that it was better to sell out now at any price.

The suggestion, of course, was ridiculous as in any expropriation proceedings the government would have to make good the damage and this would mean a sufficient sum to purchase another farm and erect a new home and other buildings which, with the expense of the move from one location to another and the various other losses and expenses would probably bring the amount of remuneration up to the vicinity of a quarter of a million dollars.

Stories of this kind which are in circulation might help to explain, if they would not excuse, the action of the county members but there are other explanations which are still sought for.

Nobody seems to believe that a majority was secured for the measure by accident and there is some curiosity regarding the identity of the person or persons who organized the support of the resolution and their reasons for doing so.

One of the features of the whole matter is the fact that the consideration for the option was to be the nominal sum of $1. It is thought that if the applicants for the option had a definite purpose in view for the land and really intended to complete the purchase, even at the ridiculous low figure of $75,000, they would have been quite willing to have put up a substantial amount as a forfeit. The fact that no such consideration was mentioned has led to the suspicion that the option has been sought merely for purposes of speculation.

It is a long time since the citizens were united so unanimously on any subject and there seems to be no intention of allowing the matter to drop.

Some additional light on the argument that the value of the Municipal Home property has deteriorated to the extent of $75,000 on account of the blasting operations at Courtenay Bay is given by a statement made this morning by G. F. Palmer, of the Norton Griffiths Company in reply to an inquiry from the Times office. Mr. Palmer said that, as far as they could tell, there had been absolutely no deterioration in the building from this cause.

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WESTMINSTER SIGN FORMAL DEED OF SEPARATION

Lord Morley's Mission to Berlin Speculated On

A PEACE SUGGESTION

Lord Norton Suggests Arbitration Convention by England, United States and Germany—Mediterranean Visit of Uncle Sam's Ships

(Canadian Press)

London, May 15—The Duke and Duchess of Westminster have signed a formal deed of separation. She is to receive $100,000 a year from him. She has taken a house called Lachmere on Ham Common, a London suburb.

Their intimates say the duke tried hard to persuade his wife to divorce him, but she refused. Her mother, Mrs. Cornwallis West, strongly supported her in this determination. Besides she took legal advice and was informed that the king's proctor would probably intervene on the ground of collusion, should the case come before the divorce court.

London, May 15—Premier Watt of Victoria suggests that "some organism" which would interest itself in the finances of the overseas dominions and give advice to help the ministers, who came to London for assistance, not in raising money for them, but in adding them in their judgment and in general projects.

He suggests a small central body with the prime minister and foreign and colonial secretaries serving along with the representatives of the ministry of the day in each of the self-governing dominions. It seemed to him that the great democratic concern might be induced to place in its hands the momentous issues of war, peace and neutrality.

London, May 15—Reports from 220 points in the Canadian prairies show that wheat seeding is practically completed, which is as it should be, it being unwise to seed wheat after May 15. About 60 per cent of the wheat is up. A few points report wheat three inches high, but the majority state that it is just through the ground. A few points report wheat having been frozen or put back by severe weather.

A majority of the reports show the condition of wheat to be two weeks later than in 1912, but the seed seems to have gone on a better bed and with more moisture. About half a dozen points report too much rain and the balance reported sufficient moisture to start the crop and carry it well about into June and some even to July.

About fifty per cent of oats and twenty-five per cent of barley are seeded, but a great many points report plowing still to be done for these grains and still many more points state that plowing has actually been retarded by heavy rains at night.

FREIGHT THEFTS ON GRAND TRUNK

Goods Coming To The Maritime Provinces

CONDUCTORS ARRESTED

Moncton Reports Cleaning up of Mystery at Point St. Charles—Claims Had Been Made Against I. C. R. For the Goods

(Special To Times)

Moncton, N. B., May 15—For some time heavy claims for missing goods in transit have been put into the I. C. R. by the Grand Trunk Railway, but at last the mystery surrounding the disappearance of a greater portion of the stuff has been cleared up, as a result of police investigation at Point St. Charles, where the I. C. R. takes charge of goods shipped over the G. T. R. for the maritime provinces. Seven or eight Grand Trunk trainmen are under arrest.

Special Agent A. J. Tingley, of the I. C. R., arrived home last night from Montreal, where he was called in connection with this matter. He says that during the last three or four days Special Agent Hodges of the G. T. R. and I. C. R. Inspector Moore succeeded in establishing the fact that breakage of seals on cars and theft of goods in transit was done at Point St. Charles. On last Saturday the railway police, acting upon information, arrested five G. T. R. conductors and three brakemen, while three other conductors and one brakeman, for whom warrants had also been issued, left.

Mr. Tingley says they searched eight houses around Montreal and St. Charles and found a great quantity of goods that had been in transit. They were taken to the railway police station, where they were taken to the warehouse and various kinds of toilet articles. The goods were taken to the warehouse and various kinds of toilet articles. The goods were taken to the warehouse and various kinds of toilet articles.

Some of the men accused of stealing this stuff from the railway were brought up on Friday.

This is considered one of the most important roundups the railway police have made for some time. The cleaning up of the mysterious disappearance of goods en route to the maritime provinces is important from more than one standpoint. The Grand Trunk has been making claims for goods shipped to Point St. Charles in good order with the result that there was the suspicion that the missing articles were taken while passing over "The People's Railway." The facts brought to light at Point St. Charles, however, are taken to prove that the trouble was on the G. T. R. end and not on the I. C. R.

AN AGREEMENT WITH GERMANY?

Lord Morley's Mission to Berlin Speculated On

A PEACE SUGGESTION

Lord Norton Suggests Arbitration Convention by England, United States and Germany—Mediterranean Visit of Uncle Sam's Ships

(Canadian Press)

London, May 15—Although it is officially asserted that the proposed visit of Viscount Morley of Blackburn to Berlin is purely of a private nature, there is a strong belief that it may involve political possibilities as did Lord Haldane's last visit.

It is suggested that he may be entrusted with some mission in connection with Balkan settlements or with the task of arranging an Anglo-German understanding.

The King and Queen are going to Berlin for the wedding of Princess Victoria Louise and Prince Ernest Augustus of Cumberland, on May 24, and it is said that they will, at the Kaiser's request, remain in Germany until June 1.

The Daily News is convinced that Viscount Morley has a political mission to arrange an entente with Germany. Referring to reports that an agreement has been reached between England and Turkey regarding the Baghdad railway, which will give a foothold to Germany in the Persian gulf, the Daily News believes that this agreement will be published on the occasion of the wedding of Princess Victoria Louise, and that it can hardly have been concluded without a general Anglo-German understanding covering the near, middle, and possibly the far east.

Further, the resignation of Sir Gerard Augustus Lowther as ambassador to Turkey, and the report that Sir Arthur Nicholson, permanent head of the foreign office, is likely to retire, while Lord Morley is known to be an advocate of a German entente, all seem, according to the paper, to point to a special mission.

LAST OF MONTENEGRINS LEAVE SCUTARI; THE POWERS ARE IN CHARGE

The keys of the city of Scutari were formally turned over to the naval commandery at noon yesterday. The international force was commanded by Vice-Admiral Cecil Burney of the British navy. A touching feature was the presence of several thousand semi-starved and gaunt men, women and children, inhabitants of Scutari, who lost all their possessions during the siege and who are still destitute. The British commander and Capt Spezia, the last of the Montenegrin regiment officers and men to distribute food and clothing. After the presentation of the keys, the last of the Montenegrin regiment withdrew.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF MR. GREANY TODAY

Many private expressions of sympathy which have reached the family of E. F. Greany from this city and elsewhere, and a large gathering at his funeral today in public tribute to his worth, showed the great esteem in which he was held and the widespread feeling for those so deeply bereaved. Among the floral tributes was a beautiful shield from the Knights of Columbus, St. John Council, of which, Mr. Greany was a member.

The funeral took place this afternoon from his late residence, 46 Pitt street to the Cathedral, where the services were conducted by Rev. E. J. Conway. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery, M. Ryan, R. J. W. and Thomas Gorman, from the C. M. B. A., and T. Collins, J. B. Daly and J. Crowley from the Knights of Columbus acted as pall bearers. Delegations from the Knights of Columbus and C. M. B. A. attended the funeral.

Many friends and acquaintances attended the funeral of Thomas N. Sargent this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late residence, in Moore street. Rev. Pierce conducted the services and interment was in the Church of England burying ground. The large number of floral remembrances placed on the grave showed the esteem in which he was held by a large circle of friends.

Potato parings, baked in an oven, will light more quickly than wood when used to kindle a fire.

A product of Norway is wood flour, which is made from sawdust and comes from clean spruce or pine logs which are first freed from any particles of bark. This Norwegian wood flour is a different article from the wood pulp which is used in the various manufactures of dynamite and linoleum. Most of the flour which is made is exported and the principal markets are England and Germany, though the United States takes a small amount.

Two Drowned

Alfred Quigg and Charles Cunningham Lose Lives. NORTH END FATALITIES. Former Fell From Boat in Marble Cove; Latter Carried to River Depths With Spail From Scow in Dredging Work.

Falling, it is supposed, from a motor boat which he was repairing, Alfred Quigg, about thirty-five years of age, of 122 Paradise Row, was drowned yesterday afternoon at Marble Cove in about fifteen feet of water and only a few yards from the shore. No one saw the accident but Quigg's body was found just alongside the boat by William Gray and others who went in search of him when he failed to show up at supper time.

After the body was brought ashore it was taken to O'Neill's undertaking room. Quigg is survived by a wife and one small child. His mother and father are living at Lorneville.

Quigg has been employed with Frederick Haines. Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock he was attending the Canada Club, which the Duke of Connaught was the guest of honor, and was the promoter of the boat race. He was in the boat when it was overturned and he was carried to the river depths with a spail from the scow in which he was engaged in dredging work.

Charles Cunningham was drowned yesterday in the Kennebecas River while working on a mud scow in connection with dredging operations. He was a resident of Millville and was only nineteen years of age. His parents, two brothers and five sisters survive.

Cunningham was employed by the New Brunswick Construction Company whose dredge is at work near Reed's Point. It was his duty to release the chains which hold up the bottom of the mud scow, when it is to be dumped. When the accident occurred he was standing on top of the mud dredging a stone which had caught in the cog wheels. His position was dangerous and, it is said, he succeeded in releasing the chain the bottom opened suddenly and he was carried through into the river with the mass of mud. Vigorous efforts to save the man or at least secure his body were unavailing.

The news was telephoned to the owners in the city the tug leader, which was working in connection with the dredge and the scow, was ordered to the city and left again this morning with special apparatus for dragging for the body.

Midnight Fire in Rockland Road. Families Driven to Street and Belongings Destroyed—Was New Building. A three story dwelling in Rockland Road with the furniture and household effects of the three families occupying it was destroyed by fire a little after twelve o'clock last night. The occupants escaped in their nightclothes and had no time to save any of their belongings.

The building, which was completed and ready for occupancy on May 1 was owned by W. J. McKenna, who occupied the second floor. The second floor was rented by James Grant, of the C. P. R. service and the top floor was occupied by James Day, insurance agent. The fire broke out in the middle flat. Mr. Grant is out of the city and Mrs. Grant had barely time to seize her two children and make her escape. The other occupants of the house also escaped hurriedly and a full alarm was sent in for the fire department.

When the firemen arrived and saw the extent of the loss, additional apparatus was summoned by the alarm system but it was too late to save the building.

An exciting incident occurred when three of the firemen were caught on the collapsing roof. They reached the edge of the roof in time to avoid the worst danger, but were rescued by means of a ladder from the adjoining house.

The building cost about $5,000 and had $800 on file in fire insurance. The loss was phoned for part of the value of their effects.

F. W. Wallace of Sussex was in the city yesterday. Mr. Wallace says there is not a vacant house in Sussex nor a man idle who is willing to work, and some furniture is stored because the owners cannot get house room for it. A board of trade was organized in the town on last Tuesday night and will meet next Tuesday to elect officers.

Mr. Wallace says that natural gas is certain to be found at Sussex, for as a matter of fact it was struck when borings were being taken for the foundation of a building. Boring for gas will be carried on this summer. Mr. Wallace himself has the most extensive undertaking plant in Eastern Canada, and was the editor and publisher of the Funeral Director for tea trade was organized in the town on last Tuesday night and will meet next Tuesday to elect officers.

A Constant Change In Body's Tissues

"Our bodies," says Huxley, "may be likened to an eddy in the river, which retains its shape for a while, though every instant each particle of waste is changing. The tissue of the body, composed of millions of tiny cells, are being constantly broken down and wasted away by the process of life, and especially by overwork, worry and disease.

In order to reconstruct these wasted tissues there are necessary such elements as iron, sulphur, magnesia, potash, etc., and when these are not supplied in sufficient quantities in the food we eat it is necessary to aid nature by the use of some restorative preparation.

Most people find Dr. Chase's Nerve Food particularly effective under such circumstances, because it is composed of the very elements of nature which go to form new, rich blood, create new nerve cells and rebuild wasted tissue.

This great food cure is radically different from medicines which are usually employed in the treatment of nervous disease. For, while they stimulate third nerves to overexcitation or by narcotic influence soothe and deaden them, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food revitalizes wasted nerve cells and so accomplishes lasting beneficial results.

Such symptoms as sleeplessness, irritability, headache, indigestion, brain tire and feelings of fatigue and discouragement soon disappear when the system is built up by the use of

Corns of 1913

Call for Modern Treatment. It is time to stop the old-time treatments, "such as mother used to know." Modern chemistry has found out how to terminate a corn. Apply a little Blue-jay plaster, and the pain stops instantly. Then a wonderful wax—the B & B wax—And that ends the corn.

A in the picture is the soft B & B wax. It softens the corn. B stops the pain and keeps the wax from spreading. C wraps around the toe. It is narrowed to be comfortable. D is rubber adhesive to fasten the plaster on.

TUESDAY'S PROGRAMME

Boston Stars Will be Heard in Two Distinct Programmes of Opera and Concert—Great Interest is Aroused—No Tickets Sold Till Saturday Morning

The big musical events of next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Opera House are decidedly unique in their character. Formerly interest has been aroused mainly because of the personality of the artist, and the desire to see just as much as the opportunity to hear a celebrity.

In this instance, however, attention is engaged not only with the fact that singers of note will occupy the stage, but opportunity will be given to hear ensemble numbers which, rendered by such singers, should long remain in the memory of those who attend. This is notably true in Tuesday's programme, which will include, beside a condensed version of "Martha," such operatic gems as the "Luda di Lammermoor" sextette, and the "Rigolotto" quartette.

"Martha" will, of course, be sung in costume, thus giving opportunity for action. Probably the only other instance when grand opera in this form has been heard here was on the occasion of Madame Albani's first visit, more than fifteen years ago, and hundreds who attended that well remembered event can recall the great pleasure received.

There will be no subscription list for these concerts, and under no circumstances will any tickets be sold until the plan opens Saturday morning. No telephone orders will be accepted Tuesday, neither will it be possible for the ticket seller to lay aside tickets unless paid for. For the interest of the public this rule must be rigidly enforced.

WHIRLPOOL GRIPS
LARGE AUDIENCE

New Play by Thos. E. Shea and Company Very Strong in Plot and Well Written and Acted

The Whirlpool, a detective play of absorbing interest, by Henry Irving Dodge, presented last evening at the Opera House by Thomas E. Shea and his excellent company thrilled and delighted a large audience. The theme, which is based on the career of a gentleman thief developed in a novel fashion and is worked out logically to a satisfactory conclusion.

The big role is that of Dudley Rutherford, judge of the criminal court, which Mr. Shea portrays in a manner which evoked the hearty appreciation of the audience. Judge Rutherford, in public life, is an upright and fearless judge whose record has made him the inevitable choice of his party as candidate for governor. There is another side to his life, however, that arising from the compelling force of a mania springing from the fascination which diamonds hold for him. This obsession drives him to a career as a diamond thief in which he seems to be actuated by a dual nature. The intellect which has made him a leading member of the bench is applied to the theft of the gems which he covets and a series of unexplainable robberies have taken place, each of which has been marked by the audacious act of the criminal in leaving his card bearing the name of Jim Robinson.

In the first act the audience is allowed to see the inner workings of the plot with the result that there arises a natural feeling of curiosity as to how the interest can be sustained in a play of a type which generally depends upon the suspense for its success. The dramatist solves this problem by a series of developments, each of a surprising nature and each giving a fresh turn to the approval of the play.

In the second act is given a glimpse of the home life of Bessie Wilson, a simple but wholesome girl who supports her blind father by her typewriting and who has met and fallen in love with Jim Robinson, who she believes is a race-track gambler whose success on the turf enables him to buy the diamonds which he gives her.

Robinson is traced to her home and in a scene in which the latest device of the modern detective, the dictograph, is used, the girl learns the true character of her lover and their conversation, overheard by the dictograph, is sufficient to incriminate Robinson. The next act is devoted to a battle of wits between the thief and the detectives in which the former turns the tables on his captors and escapes.

In the last act, a year has passed during which the judge has conquered the obsession of his love for diamonds but almost falls when the opportunity again presents itself. He again conquers but decides that he must resign his judgeship and decline the nomination for governor. In a startling climax he severs his connection with his shady past and is reunited to the girl whom he loved while a diamond thief.

The play is cleverly written and aroused the closest attention until the last curtain fall. There are the dramatic struggle between the clever diamond thief and the detective, the psychological interest of the battle between the two natures of the one man; the heart interest of his love for the typist balanced by the part played by the ambitious society woman, whom I deem his life is more likely to be linked; in addition, a rich vein of comedy which serves to lighten the plot and side as a relief to the stronger dramatic situations.

Mr. Shea gave a realistic interpretation of the leading role and received capable support from all the members of his company.

AT CANARY ISLANDS.
Capt. F. H. Colwell has received a cable that the schooner Peris A. Colwell arrived at Canary Islands on the 12th inst.

TWO OF ONE MIND.
He was teaching her to play golf. They were getting on excellently, but they would have got on much better were it not for the fact that they had a saddle. At last the instructor threw discretion to the winds and imprinted a chaste salute on the fair learner's ruby lips. Then he took a shilling from his pocket and threw it to the unwashed one. "Here, my boy," he remarked, "put that in your pocket. You can forget this." The youth pocketed the bribe, and a smile spread over his unwashed countenance. "That's you were 'ry, guv'nor," said he. "Why, I'd give this bob to do the same."

PROPOSES SLANG GRAMMAR America's Idiomatic Speech Always a Puzzle, Says Writer

Some day, when I have learned the American language properly, I mean to write a large book about it. In the meantime the following condensed grammar for foreigners may prove useful for Englishmen coming to America:

Rule 1—(Very important)—Whenever you say "in" or "by" in English say either "in" or "by" in American.

Rule 2—All English people say "on a ship," except British naval officers. If you say "on a ship" to a British N. O., or for instance you say "Jones is on the Dreadnought," he will get very angry and correct you, and say "in the Dreadnought."

Rule 3—The two most important words in America are "proposition" and "statut."

Rule 4—Any collection of objects either animal or inanimate, is a "bunch."

Rule 5—In writing in American on theology, philosophy, literature, history, the fine arts, the technical terms of the game of poker should be used—Maurice Baring in Metropolitan Magazine.

THE LORD MAYOR'S MOTTO

St. Wm. Thayer when Lord Mayor of London, said: "My motto for womanhood is, 'The better the cook, the happier the husband.'"

There is no earthly reason why wives should not, nowadays, perfect themselves in the gentle art of cooking. Instruction of the very best is open to them; the accumulated experience of centuries is theirs to command and culinary helps which have never been available before, are brought within the reach of the narrowest purse.

Take, for instance, the delicious H. P. Sauce, introduced only a short time ago from England. The different choice flavors of Oriental fruits and spices are perfectly blended in this new and delightful relish, and the young housewife, with a bottle of H. P. Sauce at her elbow, will make a certain success of the little steaks, ragouts, and hashes, which are the basis of a puzzle and trial to the inexperienced cook.

London, May 15—A dead bomb was found during the night outside the National Gallery, which contained inflammable art treasures and is in the very centre of London in Trafalgar Square.

The Rainbow, Too Vancouver, B. C., May 15—Within the next few weeks the armored cruiser Rainbow will cease to be an active unit on the Pacific coast and the warship placed in charge of an officer pending further instructions from Ottawa.

SINGING BEFORE KINGS

Reminiscences of Former Queen of Song, Madame Albani

(London Tit-Bits.) Much interest has been aroused by the report that the king and queen contemplate reviving the state concerts which were discontinued after the death of Queen Victoria in 1901. It is used to be the custom to give two concerts every season in the ballroom at Buckingham Palace, and the Lord Chamberlain issued invitations for about 1,000 guests for each of them.

In "Forty Years of Song," Mme. Albani, Queen Victoria's favorite singer, who appeared at a state concert once at least every season for many years, gives some interesting facts regarding the etiquette which prevailed at these state functions.

After remarking that they were organized by the "Master of the Music," Mme. Albani records that it was in 1872, during her first London season, that she was honored by a command to sing at a State concert. She was very grateful, but extremely nervous, for it is an ordeal for a singer to stand before a gathering of royalties and a crowd of celebrated persons.

"On this occasion," she says, "my nervousness was increased by my recognition for no one had thought of telling me that it was not etiquette to applaud, and consequently when my first effort was received in dead silence, as it seemed to me, I sat down, feeling that I had made a complete fiasco.

"But my equanimity gradually returned when I found that every piece, however greatly it might be appreciated, was never openly applauded or encored. A quiet solemnity prevailed at these state concerts, but on one occasion I remember the room being disturbed by the entrance of a very unusual and not particularly pleasant sound. The most excellent scotch whisky was being poured into the glasses of the guests, and the sound of the glass being filled was heard all over it and it was then seen that the King and Queen, who were seated at the end of the table, had been talking to the Master of the Music, who had just entered the room.

"The Master of the Music," Mme. Albani reminds me that this position has been held for many years by Sir Walter Parratt, who, apart from the value of the state concert, has been distinguished by his services to the nation as a composer, and has been honored with the title of Knight of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

"The Master of the Music," Mme. Albani reminds me

our curriculum and staff of instructors is admitted as strong, if not stronger, than that of the competing colleges, yet in spite of all these advantages the attendance is not increasing, but is rather slightly falling off.

The University of New Brunswick is a non-sectarian. A large percentage of possible students prefer a college of their own denomination. We can hold out no religious inducements and are consequently at a disadvantage in competing for students.

The second reason is more important; it can moreover be remedied. We don't advertise enough. Other universities devote a large sum each year to newspaper advertisement; means are also provided whereby professors can visit the high schools and make known the advantages they respectively college afford.

The third obstacle in the way of an increased attendance in the institution, which is the case of this university, has acquired for severe initiation. I make that statement only after serious reflection. Every fall reports of our latest proceedings are mottled in the newspapers of the province.

A highly exaggerated opinion of their severity prevails in every section. As a consequence nervous parents, who would otherwise prefer to send their sons to our institution, select one of the rival colleges. To superficial observers I may seem to lay undue emphasis on this fact, but those who are trying to extend the popularity of the university, appreciate its very great importance.

The remedy lies largely with the students, the only way to effectually combat the prevailing impression is to abolish initiation row and branch—a drastic suggestion some will say; possibly, but reflect; is the game worth the candle? Do the fun and excitement, harmless though they may be in themselves, compensate for the injury the university sustains in consequence?

The matter is worth serious consideration on the part of next year's students—we missed our opportunity for reform, how broad gauged and progressive is the class of 1914?

The final reason for our lack of students is old and much hackneyed, but nevertheless very important—the absence of a residency. Schoolboys, if they think of such matters, conceive college to be a place where you live as well as study—where the social life and advantages are equally as important as the contents of the curriculum or the personnel of the faculty.

"I ATTRIBUTE MY CURE SOLELY"

And Entirely to Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

Hull, Que., Dec. 24th, 1909. "For the past twelve years, I had painful attacks of Dyspepsia. I could not digest my food and was suffering caused the most agonizing pain in my stomach. I also had a fearful attack of Constipation and at times I had no movement of the bowels for two weeks.

Three doctors attended me for two years and gave me all kinds of medicine but did me no good. My weight came to only 80 pounds and everyone thought I was going to die. Finally, I had the good fortune to try "Fruit-a-tives" and as soon as I began to take them, I felt better. I persisted in the treatment and college calendar. We would suggest therefore that if the college is to expand, a much larger sum be set aside each year for the purpose of bringing the university more fully to the attention of prospective students—that this be done moreover even though it necessitates curtailing of expenses in other directions, for without students and many of them, the university cannot progress.

The natural result of close intimacy and more concentrated endeavor. "But of what avail all this," it is remarked, "even though it is true? We have no means of providing a residency." In this regard permit me a suggestion: four of the maritime provinces universities—Dalhousie, Acadia, Kings and Mount Allison—have very recently raised large sums for purposes of expansion by means of forward movements—through contributing societies from graduates, etc. Why not a forward movement for the University of New Brunswick with a residency as its goal? Several objections may be made to this proposal: that such a movement would be without the denominational support which has been so largely instrumental in the success of similar schemes; that we have no large city interested in our welfare and able to contribute to a government institution and for that reason is cut off from assistance from other sources. All these objections contain a large degree of truth; on the other hand I would urge that we have a large alumni—six hundred and fifty, no less many very prosperous, all strongly attached to their Alma Mater, why not give them a chance? And again, the very fact that the University of New Brunswick is a state university, should be incentive enough for all patriotic men of the province to lend us material and generous assistance. Why not give them a chance? The need is surely greater here than elsewhere. Now I have already mentioned two of the most urgent needs of the university (1) more students (2) a residency; there is a third, more professors. The engineering students are seventy-two in number and thus comprise, approximately, one-third of the total student membership. Their instruction for the first two years is shared largely by about all members of the faculty but in the last two years the greater part of the burden falls on one or two men—while for the first two years the work, though of a high standard, to be sufficient as possible. We would suggest therefore that an assistant professor of engineering be appointed, as soon as the resources of the university will stand the additional strain.

A similar condition of affairs exists in the department of forestry; each year since it was established there has been a great need for more professors. In conclusion a word to you, fellow classmates. After four years of effort, pleasant perhaps to some of us, toilsome and irksome to others, we have at last reached our goal; this is the day which heralds our horizon of thought; and as we have been passing through the final stages of our course the idea has gradually, with ever increasing intensity, forced its way home that there is another field of endeavor awaiting us—one where the toll is more excessive, competition keener, but where the incentives and rewards are more substantial and permanent. We, a class of forty men and women, leave behind us a reputation for the work of the mart and the forum, the plan and the forest, each according to his ability and his own peculiar talents. Up to the present Canada has been in a stage of preparation for the day when she will be a nation; and not over abundant; now, however, the preparatory stage is past, Canada and her people are entering upon the full enjoyment of their marvelous natural dowry, nowhere in the world today are there so many opportunities for ability and resolution.

But in such a country when the rewards are great the dangers are likewise great; dangers of materialism, of shortsightedness and corruption. The inherent duty of University men and women lies in combating these pernicious tendencies; they must preserve the ideal; they must teach that the present profitable should always be weighed against the welfare of the future; the whole object of the past four years has not been to instill knowledge—that has been a secondary aim, but rather to provide scope; to inspire ideals; we are consequently versed in theory, ignorant of practice; the next few years will bring us close to the practical, let us see to it that we retain the outlook which only the broad theory can give.

We are fortunate in our alma mater; the University of New Brunswick is an institution of proud traditions; among her graduates are counted men of the finest caliber of veracious reputation. In our hands rests her fame for the future; let us make sure it is not sullied; let us make sure there is no shadow of doubt as to her standing and elevated.

Lastly as "Bapers Aude," the motto of the University of New Brunswick is to greet us when we entered these halls and for some have continued a source of inspiration through our course, so now as we stand assembled together perchance for the last time, let us impress those words "Bapers Aude" to heart—in our minds, engrave them in our hearts; and if in the future, though we shall very probably have more to do, we live in accordance with their command, success should be assured.

A few remarks about offices and elections to office would perhaps be timely. In the presidencies of the different societies and in the explanation of the different teams there is a training at once profitable and exacting. The tendency of late has been to place upon two or three men the duties which should be performed by many to turn what, if properly distributed would be enjoyable privileges, into burdensome tasks. Nine out of every ten students could do the work if the responsibility were placed upon them—any advice therefore spread your offices, give many the opportunity, eliminate overburdening and thus get better results. Upon the real students of energy and ambition, upon the men who follow knowledge for its own sake as well as for its rewards, there has recently come an epidemic for honors—the result partly of parental ambition, partly of competition. This malady is gradually losing its force and well it is that this is so. Many subjects demand concentration of energy, the loss of concentration, the development of superficiality; especially is this true because upon those who carry the heaviest courses usually fall the greater bulk of student responsibilities. The true student, who is seeking the greatest benefit and satisfaction from his course, should take the first two years to discover his bent; then he should pick his course and concentrate, know his subject thoroughly,

When Everything Else Had Failed. Rev. Henry J. Munton, of Barchin, Ala., writes: "My wife had a very sore foot, which it seemed impossible to get anything to heal. The sore would not get better and I was in a great deal of pain. I procured a box of Zamb-Buk and after persevering with this balsam for some time, the sore was completely healed."

"We are so grateful for this cure, Zamb-Buk acted so differently to any of the numerous remedies we had that I thought you ought to know of it. I have since recommended Zamb-Buk to several of my parishioners, and it always gives satisfaction."

Another instance in which Zamb-Buk proved of unequalled value is told by N. L. Gerry, of Brandon, Man. He said: "I had my left foot run over by a wagon loaded with wheat. The foot badly crushed, and my little toe and next toe were laid open. I applied Zamb-Buk and only had to miss work for a few days. Zamb-Buk healed the wound so quickly that on the third day I was able to put on my boot and walk to work, very short time my toes were quite healed, and the foot is now as good as thanks to Zamb-Buk."

Just as good for chronic sores, ulcers, blood poisons, burns, scalds, eczema, and all skin injuries and cases. 50c. box at all drug stores and Zamb-Buk Co., Toronto, Try Zamb-Soap, too, 25c. per tablet.

IF YOU HAVE GREY HAIR YOUR ABILITY IS DOUBTED. Young Looking People Are In Constant Demand Everywhere. Competition is keen. You can't hold down the Big Job if you are a "Buck Number." You can't expect to be a successful wage-earner, man or woman, if you are old looking, but whether you work or not, you owe it to yourself and family to keep looking young.

Get a bottle of Hay's Hair Health Tonic. It solves the grey hair problem for every man and woman, young or old brings back the rich, natural color of hair—restores it to its natural color medically. Don't waste time with others; only one, Hay's Hair Health Tonic, has sold thousands of bottles in twenty years. Druggists have sold Hay's Hair Health so long to so many that people everywhere who come back for it and won't use any other, that are perfectly willing to guarantee it give your money back if it's not satisfactory.

The splendid positions which the senior foresters have secured this year will very probably be made more to enter that course next year. But at present we have but one professor in forestry subjects, the amount of work he has to cover is excessive and will steadily increase. An assistant professor of forestry is one of our most pressing needs.

Some interesting ones. A few words now on student problems: The question of student fees has for a long time past caused much perplexity. Up to the present the students have themselves assessed and collected the money spent in their activities; but this system has resulted both in extravagant expenditures and in uncollected fees. Two plans have accordingly been suggested by means of which the defects of the present system might be remedied: One proposal has been to have the Registrar collect the fees with the regular college fees and, in consideration for this service, to give the faculty supervision over student expenditures. A preferable scheme, however, would be to have the Senate share in the student expenses provided that those expenses be restricted to certain limits and be made under close faculty observation. Either of these plans would be very superior to that which is at present in vogue; we sincerely trust one of them will meet with favorable consideration from the Senate.

BASEBALL

I remember, I remember. The games in days of yore. I stood outside the baseball yard And heard the rosters roar And will do I recall that day Of agony intense—I found some wicked wretch had plucked The knob in the fence.

Geo. E. Choir. In Seckville. The Post says—Seckville is going to have base ball this summer, if we may judge by the interest that was shown at a meeting last evening in the curling rink. There were sixty or seventy-five men and boys on hand when Howard Wry was elected to the chair. It was decided to form the Seckville Athletic Association, F. J. Wilson was elected president and F. W. Wry, secretary-treasurer. The feeling was in favor of having three ball teams in the town. A representative from Middle Seckville said there would likely be two teams from that part of the parish, so that there is a good prospect of having five teams in the field from the neighborhood. An effort will be made to secure the Mr. Allison field for the summer, and it is understood there is not likely to be any difficulty in this matter. It certainly looks as if baseball were going to boom in Seckville.

Joe Page's Prediction. That Montreal will be playing Vancouver for the baseball championship of Canada, and that the winners of that series will be playing the winners of what is now known as the world's series in the United States is the prediction made by Joseph Page in the introduction of the Canadian Edition of Spalding's Baseball Guide, which has just come to hand. "Joe" predicts baseball in Canada for the last twenty years and believes with the continuation of the progress made in that time a Canadian team in a world's series is a question which will come up within a very few years. Spalding's Canadian Guide, besides containing information to be had in the regular edition of this book gives a complete record of baseball in Canada, with the official records of every organized Canadian league from Sydney to Vancouver. Mr. Page who is the inventor of the Europa Baseball Game, which was put on the Canadian market last winter, has just returned from New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh in which cities he has been successful in placing the baseball game on sale. It was the first glimpse the Americans had of the game and the devotee-in-the-woods fans who inspected it there declared it to be an excellent winter game, and it has already met with a large sale there.

Looks Like Deal-up. The New York team of the United States Baseball League, which began its season last Saturday at Newark has lost its franchise according to Empire Column, who was on hand for the scheduled game with the Newark team Monday and for which the New York players failed to appear. The umpire declared the game forfeited, and also the franchise, because the New Yorks chose to play an exhibition game at New Brunswick where there was a larger attendance than here.

AQUATIC. Sifer Type of Races. Bristol, R. I., May 14—Old boat building experts here who have helped produce America's cup defenders for twenty years, believe that the latest Lipson challenge will be accepted and are preparing for an active winter's work on one or two 75-foot sloops built on what are known as "wholesome lines."

It is also believed that two or three other boats will be constructed in Boston and New York and that the American trial races in the summer of 1914 will find half a dozen able looking boats at the starting line.

"The day of the racing machine for the America cup defense is passed," said one of the old timers. "It reached its maximum in the Reliance. The 1914 fleet will show speed, safety and comfort, a combination that has been missing in these cup races since we pushed the Vigilant overboard twenty years ago. "In the old days of the Vigilant, Volunteer, Mayflower and Puritan no one thought of building as ending the career on the boat itself. But the Defender of 1890 and her successors, the Columbia, Constitution, Independence and Reliance, as well as the three Shamrocks had no accommodations whatever, and a fleet of tenders were necessary to make all ends meet. Furthermore, the 75-foot sloop will cost her owners not more than $50,000, if built of wood, and perhaps double that amount if constructed of bronze. The Reliance was launched at a cost of $223,000 and as much more was spent before she was hauled out at City Island the day after the race. "She is there yet and worth perhaps $5,000 in junk. Her sailing days are over. But these 75-footers will have as useful a future as the Puritan, Mayflower and Volunteer and Vigilant, all of which were raced and used for cruising after the primary object for which they were built was attained. "Again it will take scarcely more than twenty men before the mast to handle one of these boats, compared with the thirty-five required to sail the Reliance. "The challenge for the America cup is therefore welcomed as ending the career of a type of boat that was enormously expensive to build and sail, and which was always a menace to the lives of every one on board."

BANGOR CLUB ORGANIZED WITH STRONG MEN BEHIND THE TEAM

Bangor, N. B. (New). The Bangor Baseball Association was organized Tuesday night at a meeting held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, with the following officers: President, John G. Uterback; Secretary, Wilfrid A. Hennessey; Treasurer, Charles R. Gordon. Directors, John G. Uterback, A. L. Poirer, T. W. Peckard, J. E. Dempsey, William W. Abbott, John P. Frawley, Robert Burr.

At a meeting of the board of directors G. H. Magoon, coach of the University football team, was elected manager of the Bangor club, and James P. Forrest was chosen business manager. The organization meeting was called to order by John P. Frawley and Charles A. Fowler was elected chairman. Mr. Forrest made a report of the league meeting which was held in St. John, N. B., on Saturday, and read the constitution and by-laws. It was announced that the $1,000 necessary to start the Bangor baseball was assured, and that all that remained was organizing the Bangor club, electing a manager and business manager and the team and sign the players. Mr. Forrest reported that the other clubs in the league, St. John, Fredericton and Colebrook, had their players and that great enthusiasm is being manifested in the prospect of the Bangor team.

Mr. Magoon was called upon for his opinion of the prospects for the Bangor team. He held the fans present the proposition looked good to him. He believed Bangor to be a good ball town, he felt, and had found it so when he played here a number of years ago as a member of the Portland and Brockton, New England League teams. He said that he would put into this Bangor proposition, "I would like to take hold of it myself, if I should elect me manager of the team I would do my best to get together the spirit of Stallings is working wondrously with the Braves, who out of their last six games have won five and tied one. The Pirates have yet to experience the sensation of a victory in the east and have dropped six straight games on the Atlantic seaboard."

Tom Gibbons and Young Milo Donovan, who also will clash in a ten round bout in the Garden Friday night, have agreed to make 154 pounds ringside. Neither has suffered a loss so far and both are highly regarded by some of the best judges of pugilistic skill.

McCarty vs. Peley. Calgary, Alta., May 15—When Luther McCartney and Arthur Peley of Calgary met in a ten round bout at Tommy Morrison's arena, on Monday night, May 13, it is said that McCartney will receive $5,000 as his end of the purse. Peley boxed Tommy Burns in Calgary recently. Burns was awarded the decision at the end of six rounds during which the former heavyweight champion of the world lost his lost of score a knockout. Peley's showing was a surprise and Burns immediately pitched him with Peley of New England. This bout took place on May 1 and was stopped at the end of the eighth round to prevent useless punishment upon Morris. Peley's showing in these two bouts decided Burns to match him with McCartney.

Peley is a big man, six feet one inch in height and is very strong. He is clever, although lacking in experience. Burns declares that McCartney will meet the surprise of his life in Peley.

New York Bout. New York, May 14—The first series of elimination contests for the welterweight championship was held here tonight. Young Alern, of New York, had the better of Al McCoy, of Brooklyn, throughout ten rounds. Young Hickey, of New York, outpointed Young McCartney, of Philadelphia, in a bout of the same length. The second series will be held May 28.

WRESTLING. For Big Purse. The return match between Constant Le Marin and Stanislas Zybko will take place in Montreal at the Arna, on May 15. For the return match a $10,000 purse has been hung up, of which 60 per cent. goes to the winner.

ATHLETIC. A Deficit. The financial statement of the M. A. A. presented at the annual meeting in Montreal, shows a deficit of $2,383. This loss is due to the fact that the increase in the number of members, from 7,387 to 8,000, in addition to this, the hockey and football teams each lost money, the former $1,254, and the latter $683. In contribution to the failure of these clubs the toboggan and skating clubs provided a record.

EXPERTS IN DISCUSSION ON SCORING

The committee appointed by the Baseball Writers' Association to clear up points in the scoring rules so as to bring about more uniformity met in New York this week and adopted some recommendations to be presented to the National Commission and through that body to the playing rules committee of the big leagues for action. The committee was unanimously in favor of the much discussed plan of giving a hit to a batsman who advances a base runner on an infield play when the batsman reaches first base before the runner is out. It was argued that the "good points" of this method of scoring outweigh any defects it might have and that it was the logical and equitable way to score the play. Instructions already had been issued to National and American League officials across to record the play as a base hit.

The wording of several of the rules was clarified, one being that only one assist shall be credited to a player who takes part in the rundown of an opponent in a single play. A fielder might have two assists in a double play. Some scorers have been in doubt whether or not to charge an error in case of a runner being caught napping but getting back to his base because of the man taking the throw dropping the ball. The verdict was that in case the runner would have been out if the fielder had held the ball the latter should be charged with an error.

There is a rule which reads: "An error shall not be charged against the catcher or an infielder who attempts to complete a double play unless the throw be so wild that an additional base is gained." It was noted to add that provided that this, however, does not exempt from an error a player who drops a thrown ball when, by holding it, he would complete a double play." In other words there is no additional exception imposed on the man taking the throw, as in the case of one making a throw and no reason why he should be excused from an error.

Opinion has differed widely whether, when a runner starts to steal, a passed ball or wild pitch, the battery error should also be charged. It was the opinion of the committee that the batter should be charged with an error if he should be charged with an error. Another recommendation adopted, suggested by E. J. Lanigan, a statistician, was that a record be kept of the number of times catchers throw out men attempting to steal.

BEWARE Young Man

It's the Little Dandruff Germs That Are Causing Your Hair To Thin Out. Parisian Sage Stops Falling Hair and Does Not Contain Poisonous Lead or Dyes. The clever young man of today doesn't take any chance on losing his hair. A man who is baldheaded at 30 looks like 45 and is placed at a disadvantage when seeking employment.

If you have dandruff it means down near the roots of your hair an army of dandruff germs are attacking the hair root and destroying its vitality. Then hair falls out, your hair becomes thin and baldness results. Young men; put your faith in de-lightful PARISIAN SAGE, the only hair restorer that actually makes arrests, abolishes dandruff and itching scalp, or money back.

A BOY POLICE FORCE

Portland, Ore., May 14—After a conference between police and juvenile court officers it was announced that a boy police force will be instituted here. It is proposed to have a boy chief of police, with captains, sergeants and other sub-officials for each ward of the city. The boy officers who will range from twelve to eighteen years, will be provided with uniforms and will be provided with a complete code of procedure to govern their force will be adopted. With certain exceptions the code will not permit the boys actually to make arrests but they will report any youthful offenders to their superiors who will notify the police department and a regular officer will be sent to make the arrests.

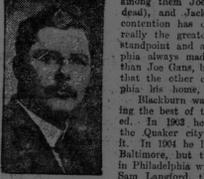

Wheat King in Saskatchewan. Saskatoon, May 14— Endeavoring to avoid unnecessary publicity, traveling as quietly as possible, James E. Patten, the former wheat king of Chicago, is touring Saskatchewan. It is understood his visit bears direct relation to the anticipated revision of the United States tariff schedule.

Rev. Frank O. Erb has accepted the call of the Free street Baptist church, Portland, Me. He is now at the Chicago University and will enter upon his work in Portland in October. A complete code of procedure to govern their force will be adopted. With certain exceptions the code will not permit the boys actually to make arrests but they will report any youthful offenders to their superiors who will notify the police department and a regular officer will be sent to make the arrests.

JACK BLACKBURN, A WONDERFULLY CLEVER BOXER, MAY BE PARDONED FROM THE PENNSYLVANIA PRISON

By TOM ANDREWS

It is reported from Philadelphia that Jack Blackburn, a colored fighter, who is serving a sentence of fifteen years for killing another negro four years ago, is to be pardoned by the governor of Pennsylvania upon the recommendation of Warden McKenny.

There have been several very clever colored fighters, among them Joe Gans, George Dixon, Peter Jackson (all dead), and Jack Johnson (retired), but the contention has often been made that Jack Blackburn was really the greatest of them all, that is from a scientific standpoint and ability to fight. His friends in Philadelphia always made the boast that he was away clever than Joe Gans, but that he never had the opportunities to show his prowess. He made Philadelphia his home, but came from Indianapolis originally. Blackburn was barely a light-weight when he was meeting the best of the 133 to 140 pounders, but he never falling the best of the middle-weights, let alone a light-weight meeting him and holding his own. In 1904 he lost the decision to Gans in 15 rounds in Baltimore, but two years later fought a hard draw again in Philadelphia with Joe. He had some hard bouts with Sam Langford, the husky heavy-weight, who now claims Johnson's crown, getting a 12-round draw in 1902 and Johnson's crown, getting a 12-round draw in 1902 and Johnson's crown, getting a 12-round draw in 1902.

Just at the time when Blackburn should have been getting into his big coat he got into an altercation with another colored man over some "lady" affair and the result was a shooting. Blackburn being convicted of manslaughter and sent up for fifteen years. It was always contended that Jack shot in self-defense, but no one appeared to act in his behalf. He went to prison and proved a good prisoner. He taught Warden McKenny's sons how to box and behaved himself so well that the warden was finally induced to interest an attorney in behalf of Blackburn, with the result that it is believed now that he will be pardoned.

INTERNATIONAL LAW AND THE COLONIES

First of University of London Lectures is Given by Rev. Dr. Lawrence

London, May 15.—The first course of lectures on colonial problems, organized by the University of London, was opened yesterday at King's College on "The Colonies in International Law." The lecturer was Rev. Dr. T. J. Lawrence, formerly deputy professor of international law in the University of Cambridge.

Dr. Lawrence, in connection with the question of neutrality laid it down that the great self-governing colonies could not invoke the principle of limited liability in war and that all parts of the empire must sink or swim together. He expressed much sympathy with the school of political thought, which had arisen, more prominently in Canada, which objected to being obliged to spend their blood and treasure in any war which did not affect their rights and interests, and which they might hold to be morally indefensible.

Hence arose a disposition to say that their armed forces should be entirely under their control. He did not think that Great Britain disputed that, but neutrality and belligerency were functions of sovereign states. A power could no more be neutral in part and belligerent in part than a man could be married in part and single in part. No foreign country would recognize any such "in and out" arrangement.

MAY TRY CROSS-OCEAN FLIGHT FROM HALIFAX

One of Doctor Bell's Assistants Plans Going After British Prize

Sydney, N. S., May 14.—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell announces that F. C. Biddis, one of his associates, will endeavor to cross the Atlantic in an aeroplane in an effort to win the British prize of $5,000 to the first aviator who spans the ocean in less than seventy-two hours.

The inventor of the telephone, who is also an enthusiastic student of aviation, believes that many alterations must be made in the existing type of air craft before the flight is attempted, and that the journey itself will be made it all in one spurt.

"Starting from Halifax in the early morning we should reach the coast of Ireland in time for a late dinner," he said.

EIGHTEEN MEN NOW ON THE MARATHONS' MUSTER IN LYNN

Word From Manager Leonard Tells of Others Possible and of Games Arranged

A letter received today from F. J. Leonard, manager of the Marathons, reports the arrival of William Riley, who will work out with the team, and gives the following list of players now on hand at Lynn:—

Catchers—Bren, Curtis and Teed.
Pitchers—Wilson, Deidrich, Griffin, Shanley, Swallow.
Infielders—Gillespie, Mulligan, O'Brien, LeBoeuf, Nolan, Westhouse.
Outfielders—Hoffman, Riley, Little and Sibers.

Manager Leonard has also been negotiating with Corcoran, who played last year with the Woodstock team and who was drawn by the Marathons in the division of the Woodstock and Houlton players this spring. He has also been in communication with Joe Farrell, but there is no decision in either case. There is also another pitcher under negotiation and altogether the Marathons expect to start the season with a very strong team.

Arrangements have been made for the Marathons to play an exhibition game at Springfield on Saturday, the 17th probably at Fort McKinley, Portland on Sunday and another at South Berwick on Tuesday. Reports from Bangor are very encouraging and the outlook there is exceedingly good. Fredrickson has a good strong aggregation and the fact that the Calais-St. Stephen team defeated their opponents in their first game this year, is encouraging.

What the fans here would like to have now is something about the men on the St. John team, who they are and what is their record.

ICE FORMS IN MAY

Mercury at Freezing Point Today After Heated Conditions of Yesterday

Notwithstanding the heated condition of the atmosphere yesterday when it was learned that the county council had given an option for $75,000 on the Municipal Home, this morning found a decided chill in the air. Mother Nature must have taken the situation in hand and sent the cold wave to cool the wrath of indignant citizens.

The thermometer registered its lowest at 24° below zero at the time of the freezing point. Considerable ice formed on the pools left by yesterday's rain in and about the city. Having a maximum report 24 above as the coldest last night and in Quebec the temperature went down as far as 28. These figures are not unusual during the present month, however, as last year the thermometer went down to the freezing point several times in May.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. MARTIN'S TELEPHONE CO.

Reports covering a successful year's operations were submitted at the annual meeting of the St. Martin's Telephone Company Limited yesterday afternoon. The company's lines extend from St. John to Salmon River, Black River, Tynewood, Cape, Loch Lomond and other places in that district and during the year a large proportion of their lines were rebuilt. The equipment is now declared in a better condition than ever before. The improvements were all paid for out of the earnings of the company.

The election of directors resulted in the election of W. A. Ewing, Richard O'Brien, Robert Carson, W. E. Skillen and Robert Connelly. At a subsequent meeting of the directors W. A. Ewing was elected president and Robert Carson, vice-president and Horace G. Black was appointed secretary-treasurer and business manager.

THE CARPENTERS

While some of the woodworkers who have been on strike have returned to work with an average increase of 12 per cent. in wages, there are quite a few still out who refuse to return until further demands are granted. One or two of the woodworking factories are running short-handed, and work on some of the building projects is being somewhat interfered with. Both factories of the Christie Woodworking Co., Ltd. are now in operation, some of the men employed therein having returned with permission from the union at the increase offered, even though the concession was not up to expectations.

An invitation was yesterday issued by the firm of Murray & Gregory for the men on strike from the factory to meet this morning with the superintendent and discuss the situation. Accordingly at eight o'clock the thirty-six workmen who have been out were on hand and talked the matter over, but no settlement was reached.

It was expected a few days ago that one of the officials of the Intercolonial Union would come here, but thus far no definite word of his coming has been received, and it has been decided to let matters stand as at present, so that no word of a sympathetic strike will be heard, at least for a while. A. W. Reynolds, business agent for the union, said today that practically all the outside men were at work under the improved schedule. Some had left the city, and yesterday he had received a card from two of those who had gone to Niagara Falls to work that they were engaged there under better conditions.

Reading About Good Clothes Isn't All, Seeing Is Better--And Convincing

Talk never yet made a poor suit good. And while the statements made by reliable stores should be given full credence, we never yet have been able to put in print all the ways in which Oak Hall clothing appeals to men of taste as strongly as would seeing the suits—feeling the fabrics, noting the distinctive colorings and realizing the good, strong individual lines of the garments.

No merely "ironed-in" lines that soon disappear, but the permanent shape given by careful and expert tailoring.

The stocks are full and fine today. You are welcome to come in and look them over even for curiosity, keeping in mind the things we have been saying about them.

Prices $6.00 to $30.00

You will notice the unusual variety between $15.00 and $25.00 in Worsteds, Cheviots and Serges, and in styles going from the extreme of fashion to the extreme of conservatism.
