FIRST EDITION. GENTLEMEN OF ENGLAND.

Lord Hawke's Cricketers Meet THE PHILADELPHIA ELEVEN.

A Large and Fashionable Gathering Watches the Play in the Opening Game of the English Team's Tour.

The exhibition of cricket was of the best order, but the batting of H. J. Kay was disappointing.

The performance of Lord Hawke, on the other hand, was an exhibition of free, hard hitting and brilliant cutting, and he deserved his 74 runs.

The advantage of the loss was won by Lord Hawke. The Philadelphia eleven contested the field, sending to the wickets C. S. Patterson and H. T. Bailey.

When Lord Hawke made his way to the wickets, his appearance was greeted by a round of applause.

After a short interval, during which a smug expression was served in the clubhouse, the two sides again took their positions at the wickets.

The result of the day's play was the completion of Philadelphia's first innings for 248-18.

The two Belmont men at the end of time were at the wickets with 29 runs to their credit.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 26.—For six hours in a thrilling hot sun Lord Hawke's eleven contested the field of the Germantown Cricket Club at Manheim today.

The work of the home team in the second was far above their display of yesterday, every man seeming to play with more confidence.

The match which the Englishmen were to play in Baltimore on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week has been postponed until after the Boston match.

There is a large number of people that ever saw a cricket match in this country.

The visitors' batting and throwing was greatly admired. Woods especially distinguished himself by his marvellous stroke of his hand hit ball.

FIRST EDITION. THE EXHIBITION.

THE ATTENDANCE SHOWS THAT THE PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED.

New Attractions Being Put in—Some Points in regard to the Handsome Displays Made in Different Parts of the Exhibition.

The interest in the big industrial fair and exhibition is still increasing and the weather is so far all that can be desired.

On Saturday the number of persons who passed through the turnstiles reached 5,225.

Mr. J. F. Fraser placed a handsome ship model near the entrance on the main floor Saturday, and near it the people are entertained and amused by the photographs of Mr. Hugh Urquhart and Mr. Young.

The photograph tubes in their rare the spectators with delight and the selections by military bands, minstrel troupes and other acts which they hear.

Mr. J. F. Fraser's exhibit of all descriptions is seen near the north end of the building.

A fine display is made of the large variety of all kinds and from the largest spikes down to the smallest tacks they are of the best quality.

On the opposite side of the main floor the goods exhibited being manufactured by the well known firm of E. A. Small & Co. of Montreal.

The goods quality and style make up of these goods and the remarkably low prices at which the firm are enabled to sell them in this city shows what a great advance has been made in Canada within a few years in the way of manufacturing goods at low prices.

Mr. J. F. Fraser & Co. in representing this firm and displaying the goods they manufacture can do business with the assurance that they will give the patron a satisfaction every time.

A large exhibit of ready made clothing in the form of suits and over suits, and both Messrs. Small & Co. and their representative, Messrs. Scott & Fraser, are to be seen in the main floor.

On the opposite side of the gallery is the exhibit of Messrs. MacFarlane & Co. of a specialty which they handle.

This history is supposed to be ordinary history in the fact that the handiwork caused by Messrs. Fraser & Co. in representing this firm and displaying the goods they manufacture can do business with the assurance that they will give the patron a satisfaction every time.

On the opposite side of the gallery is the exhibit of Messrs. MacFarlane & Co. of a specialty which they handle.

AN OIL CAR CATCHES FIRE NEAR FARGO, N. B.

Two Men Burnt to Death, a Third Lost Both Eyes.

FARGO, N. D., Sept. 28.—Last evening a stock train collided with an oil car that had been accidentally started on down grade.

The oil immediately took fire, Engineer Curtis, fireman Dodge and brakeman Benton jumped and tried to smother the flames in the grass.

Dodge was literally scorched to death on the spot and Curtis died shortly afterwards. Benton lost both eyes and is otherwise badly injured.

THE DUTY OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Parliament will be prorogued this week, and then the government will have an opportunity of considering their position before parliament and the country.

The unfortunate death of Sir John A. Macdonald has been the subject of the session was a great cause of embarrassment, and the reconstruction which took place necessarily involved some arrangement which could only be of a temporary character.

It now will place the duty of the government to become themselves in such a position that they will be unassailable. If there are any members of the administration whose public conduct is likely to be a source of weakness they must be asked to retire. If there are any changes in the cabinet, the government will be likely to draw strength from the government they must be made. It is thought that the premier should be in the House of Commons.

Hon. Mr. Abbott, will have to find a coalition if there is any leading member of the party now outside of the government whose presence would do it to prestige and efficiency he must be brought in. The idea that a loyal Conservative government devoted to the interests of Canada should have to give place to a minority of the United States is not to be thought of for a moment. The integrity of Canada must and shall be preserved and it can only be done by means of the Conservative party.

THAT EXTRA $500.

We doubt whether the people of Canada will be well pleased when they hear that the members of Parliament are this year to receive an extra $500 a session...

It is quite true that the present of this extra indemnity is favored by members on both sides of the house, and that Mr. Laurier has written a letter to the premier expressing the opinion that it should be granted, but the assent of the majority of the opposition does not make the matter any better. People will merely say that the members of parliament of both political parties have united to take $100,000 out of the public treasury and transfer the same to their own pockets in sums of $500 each. We regret their action, especially as this extra grant will become a precedent, and will lead to the payment of a like sum in future sessions, thus adding a permanent charge of $100,000 a year to the expenses of the country.

THE HARVEST.

The harvest is well-nigh over and the agriculturists of Canada have abundant reason for thankfulness because of its wealth and the exceptionally favorable weather in which it has been gathered.

In this western world a scarcity of the products of the soil has rarely been known, and never such a scarcity as resulted in serious suffering to our people. This is not because our soil is any better than that which is cultivated elsewhere, but because the agricultural community is generally intelligent, sober and industrious, and our producers and consumers are pretty evenly balanced. Of course farming, fruit raising and stock breeding, as compared with those industries pursued in some older and more thickly settled countries, among us are somewhat crude in method, but time as the necessities of denser populations will change all that, and a hundred years hence people will wonder how men in this age could spend their energies as they do not only in rural but in most of the affairs of life so idly, when by concentration they might have secured larger and more satisfactory results. Looking back upon the achievements of the fifty years just past, one is led to a sense of wonder in contemplation of those who are likely to mark the century which is yet to come. It is not only in the matter of the necessities of our life, but in the necessities for larger food supplies, that constantly augmenting and as necessity is the mother of invention, who shall say in view of the discoveries that are being constantly made in other directions, that within a hundred years an acre of land may not be made to produce as much food as is again changing in their favor, for the obvious reason that they afford safer and better returns than those of any other country, besides possessing a ready market at all times for their sale. The only reason for apprehension in this respect, for, while a sudden crisis might cause a temporary depression in the price of the end product, the United States would in the end suffer least of all nations in such a condition, and that thousands of her securities would be the most desirable investment. England has usually been our best buyer, but French purchasers have lately been a feature, and even the Germans are reported to be increasing their holdings. This means still larger imports of gold than would have been sent simply in payment of our grain and cotton. We may look for some resistance, especially from the Bank of England, to our importing gold in settlement, and it may be that the foreigner better to hold our stocks than gold they will take the former and return the latter, as indeed they are already freely doing. All the best authorities in Europe unite in saying that the United States will draw heavy sums of gold from Europe, and nearly $8,000,000 will shortly arrive. This is a prospect in view of the former tendency of the local money market. Call loans have been steadily advanced, and the increasing probabilities of manipulation tend to check the rise in stocks. Should gold continue to arrive as freely as is generally expected, the chances of any protracted stringency will be greatly lessened.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The developed and undeveloped quarries of gypsum on the Bras d'Or, Cape Breton, are believed to be the only extensive supply of the world for a century to come. These quarries lie almost directly on the borders of the lake and are destined to add largely to the wealth of the island. Gypsum is very largely used in the mechanical arts and on some scales is the best and cheapest fertilizer known.

The movement of the Vermont Steamship Company, lately announced by several of the Nova Scotia railway lines and many private individuals, to take that province prominently into their plans, has been met with some interest.

In Messrs. Scamell Bros. Weekly Freight Circular, dated New York, Sept. 28, we find the following:—Sail Tonnage.—There has been practically no change in the condition of the freight market this week. The spot market is still moderate and so evenly toned as to preclude any decided advantage to either party in interest. While there has been no activity in any department, the volume of the week's business looks up to large proportions, and well distributed. Long voyages and news of all kinds continues slow, but rates remain nominally firm, as, in the United States for general cargo, 22¢ to 24¢ to West Coast South America, and 20¢ to 22¢ to West Coast North America.

Case Oil freight Eastward are firm though lower and lower than they were at this time last year. Calcutta appears to be just now a favorable objective point with a view to large cargoes, inasmuch as the good of home-made freight the ensuing season, consequent upon the diversion of a considerable percentage of the Calcutta steers to the Pacific grain trade. The orders for outward freight, however, are so far as to enforce the quietude that has prevailed for a long period.

Foreign and local trade are momentarily quiet, though rates remain firm. In the case of the Calcutta steers, the orders for outward freight, however, are so far as to enforce the quietude that has prevailed for a long period.
