CONSTANTINOPLE REVOLT PROVES A FOLL SUCCESS

Young Turkish Party Thrown Out of Power—All the Demands of the Troops Freely Granted by Sultan—Quiet Restored Today

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 14.—Constantinople is quieter this morning after the exciting occurrences of yesterday, and business is gradually being resumed. A majority of the garrison, however, still occupy positions in front of the Chamber of Deputies and the war office, where they await the formation of a new cabinet.

The night, however, was one of alarm. The troops celebrated the overthrow of the Young Turks by firing continuous rifle volleys which alarmed the entire population of the city. The people were ignorant of the cause of the firing and thought a fight was going on.

The Sultan has granted practically all the demands of the riotous troops, namely, the adoption of the Sherif laws as the basis for new laws, the dismissal of the grand vizier, the ministers of war and marine, and Ahmed Riza, president of the chamber, the latter to be replaced by Ismail Kemal, provisional leader of the liberal union, the removal from Constantinople of Musselm Kahid, chief editor of the liberal union, and Jahid, deputy from Saloniki, the appointment of Zohrab, an influential member of the liberal union, as vice-president of the Chamber of Deputies, and finally, the removal of the Sultan's battalions of chassateurs.

The casualties resulting from the rioting of yesterday include Nesim Pasha, minister of justice in the late cabinet, who was mistaken for Riza Pasha, minister of marine, and killed; Riza Pasha, minister of marine, who was wounded, and Sadiq Pasha, who was killed. There were also several casualties among the troops.

The events of yesterday came as a surprise to nobody in Constantinople. An upheaval was expected as a result of the recent developments of the increasing dictatorial methods of the committee of union and progress. The efforts of this organization were aided by a general order from the commander of the First Army Corps, insisting that the troops must fire when so ordered by their officers, even upon theological teachers and students when these individuals participated in demonstrations. They seized and bound their commissioned officers and marched to the Mosque of Saint Sophia, where they voted the demands that since have been granted.

The association took the grounds that it tended to encourage poaching, and its use was inimical to lawful sportsmanship. In the discussion of the subject, Edward H. Litchfield said that the annual meeting of the Association for the Protection of the Adirondack, held in the farmers' loan and trust company building yesterday afternoon.

NO LUCK IN THE ODD NUMBERS FOR THIS MAN

Got Five and a Half Year Term on His Third Appearance in Court.

TORONTO, April 14.—Christopher A. Holland made his third appearance before Magistrate Dixon yesterday in the police court. This time he was up in connection with a forgery case at St. Thomas in which he succeeded in obtaining $2,500. He admitted his guilt and was sentenced to serve five and a half years in the penitentiary, the sentence to run concurrently with that imposed upon him a few weeks ago when he was sent down for five years. His latest sentence means that he will have an additional six months to serve. The Dominion Express Company were the complainants and the information was sworn to by Private Detective Welch.

CAUGHT WHILE TRYING TO REDEEM STOLEN NOTE

Montreal Man's Plan to Catch a Thief Worked all Right, But the Culprit Objects.

MONTREAL, April 14.—Monday night a man furnished a ten dollar Molsons bill in a bar. Another man snatched it and ran. He got just one-third of it. The owner went to Molsons in the morning and explained the circumstances. He asked if any one tried to cash the other third that he should be arrested. A few hours after a man strode into the bank and showed a third of a bill which bore the same number as the torn bill. It had been signed around the edge and he said that he was smoking and hid his cigar on it. He was arrested but still sticks to his story. The other man got a brand new Molsons ten dollar bill for his.

ROCHESTER'S LOSS NEARLY HALF MILLION

Big Reward Offered for Arrest of Incendiaries

Underwriters Advance Insurance Rates Twenty Five Per Cent—Hundreds are Homeless.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 14.—Revised estimates of the damage caused by yesterday's spectacular fire place loss at between $400,000 and $500,000. Three churches, an entire business block and forty houses were destroyed, hundreds were made homeless and scores were thrown out of employment by the conflagration, the most serious since the fire of 1894 in the retail dry goods district.

The scores of fires, some accidental and some incendiaries, which Rochester has been afflicted, has resulted in an increase of 25 per cent. in fire insurance rates by the State Board of Fire Underwriters. The common council of the city has increased the amount of the reward offered for the apprehension of incendiaries from $1,000 to $2,500, although it has practically been decided that yesterday's initial fire was not due to the torch of the fire bug.

Throughout the night streams of water were played on the smouldering ruins by the firemen who were relieved at intervals by volunteer organizations. National Guardsmen and members of the Naval Reserve patrolled the fire swept districts with loaded rifles and fixed bayonets to prevent looting. Only those who were wounded were permitted within the fire lines.

The heavy downpour of rain which began early in the evening and continued most of the night, gave assurance of lessening danger from flying embers, but caused much damage to household effects which had been hastily thrown out of the houses in the path of the flames by the panic stricken occupants.

BASEBALL SEASON COMMENCES TODAY

NEW YORK, April 14.—The baseball season opens all along the line today with games in the east and west between clubs of the National League and between all the teams of the American League organizations. The preliminary distributing of the last two days of the western wing of the American League in Washington and Philadelphia has only put a finer edge on the baseball appetite.

The New York baseball season is inaugurated at the remodelled Polo grounds with which the additional grand stands and bleachers can accommodate crowds variously estimated at from 25,000 to 40,000 persons, said to be the largest seating capacity of any baseball park in the country.

Although it rained almost all night, the prediction for New York and vicinity for today was "clearing and cooling." The advance sale of seats for the Polo grounds indicates a record-breaking crowd if the weather permits and Police Commissioner Blinheim expects to detail extra detachments of police to keep order in the throng-fares approaching the grounds.

Mr. Livingstone said that the future course of these two companies was of no moment to the Lake Carriers' Association as they were no longer members. Asked whether they had withdrawn their membership, he answered in the negative.

CHILD SAILS ALONE TO JOIN UNCLE IN ENGLAND

Massachusetts Girl of 11 Adopted by Rich Relative

NEW YORK, April 13.—Among the cabin passengers who sailed today on the Cunarder Coronet was an 11-year-old girl, Hilda Hoyte of Methuen, Mass. She was all by herself and seemed perfectly at her ease.

When she parted with her father just before sailing time, she didn't shed a tear, and seemed as blasé about her first ocean voyage as any woman of fashion for whom crossing the ocean is about as much of an event as a trip in a Hoboken ferryboat.

That the attitude of the members of the New Brunswick Kennel Club is wholly unfavorable to the proposed new by-law was clearly demonstrated at a meeting held in Berryman's Hall last evening, when the law was discussed section by section. It was decided to send a delegation to Fredericton, backed by a petition, to oppose the law. The meeting was largely attended and much enthusiasm prevailed.

RETURN OF BIG COMET

Before the Natural History Society last evening, Mr. F. Burditt gave a highly instructive and interesting lecture on the approaching return of Halley's comet. In addition to many other interesting features connected with this comet the lecturer referred to its great clarity, showing that there are now no undoubted records of its appearance before the time of Halley. The lecturer by the aid of clear descriptions and numerous slides and pictures from which splendid illustrations were thrown on a screen by the reflector and magic lantern and a large chart showing the positions of the earth and other planets, showed many celebrated comets in various positions and at various times; also when and where Halley's will likely be seen on its visit next year, after its seventy-five years of traveling. All modern theories regarding the composition of comets were given and the application of mathematics are able to tell with certainty the time when any of the known comets will be observed in the different sections of space. Some of those who heard the lecture will likely ever lose any sleep through worrying that a comet might come in contact with the earth and cause trouble, as Mr. Burditt assured them that such portions as would likely reach this planet would be so minute that their presence would not likely be realized. Many references were made to the supposition that the appearance of comets meant pestilence, war or other undesirable happenings; but the foolishness of this was shown by the ease with which their appearance could be counted on at specified times. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Burditt and presented by Senator Ellis who presided.

CHILDREN IMPRISONED IN CLOSET 20 HOURS

Three Little Girls Have Fearsome Experience in Vacant House.

BAY CITY, Mich., April 13.—Annes and Helen Phillips, 11 and 10 years old, and Gertrude Carpenter, 11, were missing from their homes since yesterday. As they had been teasing to go fishing, it was feared they had been drowned.

This afternoon the three girls were found in the closet of a nearby vacant house, where they had been for twenty hours. They had gone there to play, and the door, which had a spring lock, blew closed, making them prisoners. The children's plight was discovered accidentally by two women who were passing the vacant house. They heard a dog barking in one of the rooms, and entered the house to release the animal. When they opened the door they were started to hear a faint cry for help from the closet.

IN THE HANDS OF A RECEIVER

Ennis and Stoppall Fall — Liabilities Heavy.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The stock brokerage firm of Ennis and Stoppall, one of the largest operators on the Consolidated Exchange, with branches in various cities of the United States and Canada, was today placed in the hands of a receiver on the application of three creditors claiming an aggregate of $5,145.

Counsel for these creditors in their petition to the United States district court, alleged that the liabilities of the firm would amount to $1,500,000, and the assets $400,000. Lindsay Russell was appointed receiver and a few minutes later Treadwell Cleveland filed a paper in court showing that the firm had assigned to him last night. Mr. Cleveland, however, retired in favor of Mr. Russell, and the latter assumed control of the firm's offices. One of the allegations in the bankruptcy petition was that Ennis and Stoppall had failed to meet its maturing obligations on the Board of Trade of Chicago. Ennis and Stoppall had branch offices in Chicago, Boston, Brooklyn, Paterson, N. J., Newburgh, N. Y., Milwaukee, N. Y., Brockton, Mass., Milwaukee, Wis., Toronto, Montreal and Halifax, N. S.

MR. BALFOUR SPEAKS ON PREFERENCE TO COLONIES

New Zealand's "Dreadnought" Offer and the Return it Deserved.

Mr. Balfour, addressing a meeting at Inlington on the British Government's naval policy, referred to the colonial offers of help and colonial preference. On these aspects of the subject he said: "One great and magnificent result of recent events is a revolution of the imperial sentiment which has been effected. I know nothing more moving, nothing more significant, and, I believe, every great centre of the Empire. I know nothing more moving, nothing more significant, and, I believe, every great centre of the Empire. I know nothing more moving, nothing more significant, and, I believe, every great centre of the Empire."

It is further decided to make extensive repairs to the rink. The ice space will be materially increased. The dinner was an excellent one, and after the good things had been done justice to the presentations were made. Alderman Scully received the Magee cup from Alderman Baskin. President Belyea spoke of the flourishing condition of the club and of the excellent playing of the older members, who had retired from the club, intended to enter again next season.

MORNING FIRE SPREADS OVER A WIDE AREA

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 13.—Fire, which broke out at 11 o'clock this morning in the Palmer building, a four-story brick structure, devoted to manufacturing interests at Main and Gibbs street, was the starting point of a $500,000 conflagration in Rochester today. The fire spread over a wide area, at one point jumping nearly a mile and starting a second series of fires of such proportions that the local fire department was for a time unable to cope with the situation.

Aid Summoned

Aid was summoned from Buffalo and Syracuse, and both of these cities rushed companies to Rochester. By the time they arrived, however, the local firemen were masters in both fire areas. The outside companies were held on reserve duty in the centre of the city, and the Rochester company having been called out by the local series of alarms.

WEST SIDE CURLERS HAD A FINE SEASON

The following officers were elected: President, Percy W. Wetmore; vice-president, S. A. Kindred; secretary, Samuel Irons; treasurer, Charles Coster; chaplain, Rev. G. S. Sovell. The winners of the cups for the season were: Points medal—W. H. Databrooks. Magee cup—Harry Belyea. However, President Belyea declined to accept the cup, but handed it over to Alderman Scully, who played mate and is one of the oldest members of the club. Rink medal—S. M. Wetmore. Newcomer's cup—Roy Baskin. Wilson trophy—Thomas Shipley, Wm. Langton and Murray Long; recreation, A. E. McGinley, and violin solo, John Christopher. On account of Mr. Adams being out of town the trophy was held over until next year.

The ladies who assisted at the tea deserve the highest praise for not an empty plate or cup was to be seen. Why even more man did his best, though small were his duties. The dinner was promised to last for a week, and no wonder.

The General

By REM A. JOHNSTON.

On the playground he was called The General, but in teacher's room he was known by another and less honorable title. In person he was a steel-limbered, toad-headed toment, with a humorous mouth and an ingratiating twinkle, marked out from the dull average of Center School children because of his appalling, nerve-racking ingenuity for stirring up the devilment that wears down the "offendee average" of suffering teachers. At heart he was a hero—sort of—though he never suspected the fact.

The General, taken as a whole, was what the superintendent (who had a leaning toward psychology) called a "reactionary agent." He was abominably rebellious, superlatively mischievous; three-fourths bad and one-fourth boy. The Auditor of the building knew this, and named him "the little devil" because the term fit well and everybody could understand it. And teachers who commented on The General used to say, "Miss Wilson—poor thing—no wonder she has no government. Who could govern with that Bunnies boy in the room?"

It was true enough. And beside the evil which was patently the bulk of The General, there was also a dullness as touching books. He did not learn. Largely this was due to the fact that he had no time to devote to study either in or out of school. His mother op-ed him concerning the necessity of keeping the Dead Sea and the star that stood for Constantinople where he could watch her constantly.

"We learn by desiring to learn—by trying very hard to learn, James," she said.

"Yes—Miss Wilson," he responded in a penetrating whisper that was heard at every desk in the whole schoolroom. "I'm going to try mighty hard." With winning sweetness he asked audibly, "Don't you Nelson, B. C.?"

"Think I'd do study hard enough, I think Mister Denton's job?"

The school roared at the question. "Mister Denton" was none other than Superintendent Denton, and it was plain to the immature mind that The General was having fun with Teacher.

Miss Wilson tapped her bell for silence. This morning her voice lacked force, and there was a drop to her lips that suggested tears. Jimmy reacted to the school's laughter and the people who had mouths that cut across like a thin red line over square jaws. Jimmy's mouth was a thin red line at times and his jaws were square. He made the "kids" in his set do the things he wanted done.

Unconsciously The General was pondering a large subject. He did not know that Teacher was sick unto death, with the falling that slaps him in the face when school boards learn that in spite of educational accomplishments, pedagogues cannot "manage children" or "keep the room in order." Perhaps his heart would have been tender had he known that twice before she had fallen miserably. This year all had gone well until the coming of Jimmy—then her weakness wore through the veneer of success. But with this bitterness there had been a little sweet until recently—until that strange better color. He had been so kind—the writer of that letter—and her success or lack of it had not seemed to matter. Now—ah, well! Plainly Teacher's wits were weak gathering. Bobby Burns was playing with a live toad, and Jimmy was wearing through the veneer of success that morning.

The General was incautious. He traded his largest glass marble for the toad, and he started the toad down Rebecca Smith's collar.

"It wath the cold," wailed Rebecca, when order was once more restored.

"James Bunnies," Miss Wilson commanded uncertainly, "bring your book and come to my desk. You are disgracing." "You may say so, Miss Wilson, I am surprised at your temerity."

"Yes," answered Jimmy obediently. "I am surprised at your temerity."

Again the school roared and beat the many desks ecstatically. To the forty-nine urchins who constituted his world The General was a god. In the hysteria of the moment Polly Sinclair fell out of her seat, and to cover the fact that he had just seen Betty Engle complained of swallowing a toad.

"I tasted sharp goit," he said aggressively. "I ort to be performed on by somebody."

This was just a straw, perhaps, but it was the last straw—the straw that plunges into the pool like a log, dragging a thousand tons with it. A wave of sickness dominated Teacher, she went white to the lips and then turned purple. With a small, ineffectual gesture of despair she stepped out of the door into the corridor and sat, crouched uncertainly in the hallway that led to the cloak room.

"I cannot govern them," she moaned. "What must I think of me? This year a failure, too. I cannot do a heart." And she crumpled up with a suddenness that was almost hysterical that she pushed her backward into velvet blackness where she could rest.

NICKEL'S GREAT NEW FEATURES

TODAY

Today the Nickel will commence its second programme in connection with its anniversary festival, and in music, pictures and talking pictures, it will be fully as good as the first one of Monday-Tuesday. The 12-piece Festival Orchestra will play the following numbers: Overture, "Foot and Peasant" (Suppe); waltz, "Language of Flowers" (Roberts); march, "Entry of the Gladiators" (Riick); march, from "Faust" (Gounod); Spanish Serenade, "La Paloma" (Yadier). Miss Edwards will sing "The Children's Home" and Mr. Courtnall, "Open Thy Lattice," whilst in duet these vocalists render Love's "Old Sweet Song." The New York Talking Picture Company will have one of the loveliest little dramas ever put on film entitled "A Salvation Army Lass," by the Biograph Company. The star feature of the motion picture bill will be The Mid-Winter Carnival at Montreal '08. There will be three other pictures. In every way this is a wonderfully strong bill, catering only to the refined tastes of the Nickel's refined patronage. Crush again last evening; be early today.

NEW PICTURES AND NEW VAUDEVILLE AT THE PRINCES.

Last night bumper crowds attended this popular resort, and to say that everyone enjoyed themselves is putting it mildly. The musical Buskirk and Company in that laugh-producing sketch, "Finagles" and the Bessinger Boy, is a scream from the time the curtain rises till it falls. Their act is the best yet. Then for a novelty act and one that you will laugh at when you are sick, is Gilbert Sarony as the Giddy Old Maid. This is one of those "Two Acts" that are being given in the city. Both acts appear after and evening. Today there is an entire change of pictures and illustrated songs. The leading picture for today is "The Tell Tale Blotter," one of the latest Esauy productions. Be early.

ROMANCE OF GREAT GOLDFIELDS

There is an especial fascination in connection with the gaining of gold which surpasses that of all other kinds of metals. One surprising fact in connection with gold is that the early discoverers rarely benefited greatly. It was usually late comers who reaped the benefit. In the middle of the nineteenth century a Mr. Marshall decided to make alterations at his saw-mill on a river in California by widening the tail-race of the mill. As a consequence a mass of sand and gravel was deposited. The next morning while walking along the bank he happened to notice a number of shining objects, but he paid no attention to them. Simply to while away the time, however, he later picked up one of the glittering fragments, and to his astonishment found that it was a thin scale of pure gold. He picked up a number of the objects and found that undoubtedly they consisted of gold. These he imagined had been buried by some of the earlier mysterious tribes, ruins of whose cities and temples still are scattered in the solitary wild. Further investigations, however, proved that the whole of the soil was auriferous. He mentioned his discovery to a neighbor. Soon the two men had collected a considerable quantity of the precious metal. They soon discovered that gold was abundant over the whole of the river course, and in the dried up gulches and creeks which led into it. Nuggets of gold could be picked out of the dry gorges with a penknife. Some of the mill hands, however, suspected that something was in the wind and dogged the footsteps of the two men, with the result that in a very few hours the secret of the find became public property, and the great gold-fever commenced.

the, and having a value of over $20,000.

Actually gold could be picked up from the surface, one party of five men obtaining $25,000 of gold in eight hours. Considerably larger nuggets than these were found. For instance, the Welcome Stranger nugget weighed 2,283 ozs. and another nugget was sold for $25,500.

According to legend one of the principal West Australian fields was discovered owing to a boy picking up a stone to throw at a cow. It was found that this stone contained gold, and the fact was reported to the warden. The official immediately telegraphed to the Governor of the Colony that a boy had picked up a stone to throw at a cow in the excitement of the moment however, he omitted to state that the stone contained gold. The astonished Governor therefore wired back, "Yes, and what happened to the cow?" Now the goldfields in Western Australia occupy an area eight times that of England.

Probably the most remarkable incident in the history of gold mining are those occurring in frozen North America. In the case of every other gold-field the original discoverers fared about the worst owing to the fact that the news became at once public and attracted vast hordes of adventurers. The men who first discovered gold in the Yukon had no competitors for months owing to the isolated position of the fields, and the enormous difficulties of reaching them. In fact, the news of the discovery did not leak out until the original discoverers had taken all the gold they wanted, and had come back to civilization wealthy men. At the time of the discovery the district was practically unknown territory containing only a handful of inhabitants.

Take the case of the discovery on the Bonanza Creek of the Klondike River. The discoverer and the 100 inhabitants of Forty-Mile had the richest known gold deposits in the world to themselves for many months, and accordingly made astonishing fortunes. A barman in the town was too idle to go to the top of the creek so he turned side into a smaller creek close at hand. Astonishing as the fact is, he made $300,000 out of the gold he won. The districts round about were simply a mass of gold deposits, containing gold-sized nuggets. Throughout the whole of the winter the miners were up the "pay dirt," and then when the spring came set out to wash it, and not one of the claims proved valuable.

When the first batch of the miners reached San Francisco by boat they carried the dust in every imaginable article from canvas bags to jam jars covered with writing paper. The result was an enormous rush which, in the case of every rush, ended in disappointment for the majority of treasure seekers.

One remarkable fact regarding the Canadian goldfields, however, was the lack of violence and lawlessness which the people traded in every imaginable article to such an extent that when a purchaser entered a store he threw his gold dust upon the counter and turned his back while it was being weighed, as it would have been an insult to the store-keeper to doubt his honesty by watching the weighing process.

Gold was not discovered in the famous Witwatersrand district of South Africa until 1886, Johannesburg springing into existence the next year. The history of these goldfields singularly parallels that of the others, and it is owing to the fact that the precious metal occurs in reefs and therefore it was out of the question for individual men to pick up fortune.

The Rand gold mines have to be worked by means of corporations possessing large capital, and the work being carried on in much the same way that coal is mined in this country. The gold is found in strata, and some of the reefs dip to great depths. It is believed that each mile length in the central section of the Rand has gold of the enormous value of $300,000,000.

TRAVELLERS' CHECKS.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce has just brought out a new form of Travellers' Checks which will surely prove very popular among tourists and travellers. They are issued for the sums of $10, $20, $50 and $100, and are cashed by banks, hotels, etc., in practically every country of the civilized world. All over Canada and the United States the amount in dollars is payable without deduction. In Great Britain and Europe the amount of foreign money which can be obtained for them is stated on the face, and disputes as to overcharge or exchange cannot arise. These checks can be obtained at any office of the bank.

WESTERN ABORIGINES.

Traces of an Ancient Race Have Been Found in Iowa.

There are few sections of the United States which would repay so thoroughly careful archaeological study as the region comprised within the boundary lines of Harrison County, Iowa. During an excursion by the writer, made possible through the courtesy of Chas. L. Crow and Dr. C. S. Kennedy, of Logan, the county seat of Harrison County, during which more than thirty miles of country was covered, I saw some remarkable evidences of the peopling of that section by that race whose history, judging by their handicraft left behind, proves them to be very far advanced toward civilization.

When I examined the earthwork I found it somewhat circular in form, 400 feet in diameter, and rising to a height of approximately fourteen feet. Dr. Kennedy told me that a score of years ago it was fully twenty feet deep. This earthwork is located on the south half of the southeast quarter of section 4, range 79, Jefferson township, on the flood plain of Six Mile creek. There seemed a possibility that the mound might have originally been a spur of land running from a neighboring ridge cut off from the main portion by some sudden rise of the creek, but as the ridge runs in a direction parallel with the mound this theory seemed untenable.

It was difficult to imagine any primitive people performing such a vast amount of labor as must have been expended in erecting the mound, and, should they have erected it on a flood plain, subject to the washing of the stream at high water. Today, however, continuous farming for more than forty years, the earth of the mound is a compact mass filled with the refuse of an Indian village. Broken shells and implements, chips of flint and innumerable unlooted shells are scattered in profusion all over the surface, and the deeper the plowshare enters the ground the more liberal is the supply of material. It is not far from the mound to find in adjacent soil in its undisturbed condition and found today being deposited where it was most likely by human agency.

Dr. Kennedy is authority for the statement that a great quantity of pottery, including caliche, Homansia, and a reddish clay burned to a rich orange color over which singular line designs have been painted, of which shows what might be intended for the mythical Indian "Thunder Bird." Small round pots, blue painted, were found in the mound. The binder used in the wares is similar to that of other savage pottery of the powdered granite. No similar pot has ever been found in this region within the writer's knowledge. The mound is situated on the edge of a village site, and that the heavy rains of the last few years has again cut the earth to the old level. Mr. Lamb is a large number of the objects in the neighborhood of his farm ninety feet from the surface of the ground. It seems probable that wash from the hills had covered to the depth of ninety to a hundred feet an aboriginal mound, and that the heavy rains of the last few years has again cut the earth to the old level. Mr. Lamb is a large number of the objects in the neighborhood of his farm ninety feet from the surface of the ground.

The archaeological of Harrison County has not one feature similar to that on the Nebraska side of the Missouri River, and a careful study of the objects and conditions under which they were found would amply reward the investigator.—Omaha World-Herald.

WILL INSPECT SALOONS FIRST

Granting of the liquor licenses in the city from the list of applications received was deferred yesterday afternoon by the commissioners until an inspection has been made of the premises of the liquor dealers. The commissioners of the city met in the Inspector's office, Justice building, Prince William street, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The attendance was not as large as on former occasions, probably owing to the fact that there had been no formal protest entered against any of the applicants for licenses. There were several visitors, however, present, including Dr. A. W. MacDermid, K.C., and Messrs. H. E. Schofield and Charles McLaughlin. The two last named gentlemen appeared as representatives of the trustees of the Mission Chapel, Paradise Row.

Dr. MacDermid, in reply on behalf of Mr. Harding, said that the reason Mr. Harding was applying for the premises, No. 3 Paradise row, was solely because Mr. Harding was unable to adapt his present premises to satisfy the requirements of the law. Should the requirements of the law, should in no way add to the number in the neighborhood now. Apparently Messrs. Schofield and McLaughlin were satisfied with this explanation of the matter and withdrew from the meeting.

You know they have weakened your nerves and taken the life out of your blood. Get back to Nature. Consider how she cares and gives her assistance. Nature will cure you if she has the power. This power is electricity. That's because electricity builds up—supplies nourishment, strength to the body. Druggists destroy, tear down, because they cannot give you the power of Nature. BLAME FOR DEATH OF MRS. McLAUGHLAN NOT LAID ON THE DOCTORS

That Mrs. McLaughlan's death was due to natural causes and that no blame may be attached to any of her medical advisers was in effect the verdict reached last night by the coroner's jury after an hour's deliberation. The proceedings of last night were wholly taken up with the coroner's charge to the jury. In his address Dr. Berryman stated that the inquiry had not been instituted for the purpose of testing the competence of certain medical men and to assist in ascertaining whether or not any doctor had been negligent in his profession. He emphasized the fact of Mrs. McLaughlan's neglect in submitting to the treatment of her advisers and asked the jury to decide whether or not the men in attendance could be held responsible for this.

DR. PUGSLEY DEMANDS THE EVIDENCE BEFORE ANSWERING CHARGES

OTTAWA, April 13.—It was expected that Hon. Dr. Pugsley would make a statement in the Commons today relative to statements made by the New Brunswick Royal Commission reflecting on himself and Lieutenant Governor Tweedie. The Minister of Public Works, however, has decided to postpone his reply to the strictures of the Commission until he is in possession of the printed evidence taken by the Commission and is able to refute circumstantially the charges made. "I have concluded," he said, "that as the request of the Commission does not in any way relate to my conduct as a member of the Dominion government, it would not be appropriate for me to introduce the subject here. I have asked one of my friends in the New Brunswick house to ask the government of that province to have the evidence printed, and as soon as I get a copy of it I will prepare a statement in answer to the findings of the commission."

ADVICE TO GIRLS BY WAR OFFICE

Diet and Blouses Share Attention With Dreadnoughts. Sick Team Compares Unfavorably With That of Male Employees, So Circular is Issued.

LONDON, April 13.—Notwithstanding the existing labor necessities by the new territorial army scheme, and the efforts to satisfy the demands caused by the production of "An Englishman's Home," the War Office has found time to investigate the question of proper diet for the girls "Empire." The War Office claims that the sick leave taken by girls compares unfavorably with that taken by men. It declares there can be no leveling up of the sexes as regards remuneration until the girls have learned to consider their health. At the same time the War Office has sent a circular to all its girls' employes warning them against excessive tea drinking, especially between meals and with their lunch. It enjoins them to wear warm clothing, and points out that short sleeves and transparent lace fronts are dangerous traps without adequate safeguard. In regard to food, it recommends potatoes, cereals, fruits and vegetables in preference to meats, as these will make the girls better able to resist colds, influenza and headaches.

DAMAGE NOW AMOUNTS TO A MILLION DOLLARS

Fear Greater Loss If Ice Jam in Niagara River is Not Freed Today.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 13.—The wind today shifted to the southeast and blew up a fifty mile gale, sending immense fields of ice from Lake Erie into Niagara River. Below the falls the mild weather and a warm rain had freed the ice jam from the upper arch bridge to Lewiston, but the pack held solid from that point to Lake Ontario. If, as is feared, the ice again jam above the rapids, solid to the falls, the damage already done amounting to nearly a million dollars, will be greatly increased. The only hope is that the river-pack has been sufficiently cleared to carry for thousands of tons of ice going over the falls tonight.

CHEATHAM, April 14.—The Wallaceburg Glass Factory was completely wiped out this morning by a fire which started from defect in electric wiring in the room where the glass is tempered. SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Belleriver, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—MRS. EMMA CHATEL, Valleyfield, Belleriver, Quebec.

Another Operation Avoided. Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and my doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—LENA V. HENRY, R.F.D. 3. Thirty years of unparelleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

INTRODUCES BILL TO AUTHORIZE TRANSFER

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 13.—The House met at three o'clock. A number of bills were read the second time. Hon. Mr. McLeod, for the committee on standing rules, presented his report. Hon. Mr. Fleming, in reply to Mr. McLeod's inquiry regarding public printing, stated that the new schedule of prices was now in force. The total cost of printing departmental reports for 1908 was $2,529 less than in 1907. Hon. Mr. Hazen, replying to Mr. Lowell's inquiry, said Stephen Schofield, a freeman, suffered injuries at the hospital fire and claimed a doctor's bill of $35 and $2 per day for eight weeks. Dr. Anglin on investigation found the claim just, and it would be dealt with at the next meeting of the hospital commissioners. Hon. Mr. McLeod presented a petition against a bill to incorporate the Tobique Pulp and Paper Company, and introduced a bill relating to immigrant children. The latter was introduced at the request of Middlemore Home, making that institution guardian of all children placed in the province. Hon. Mr. Hazen introduced a bill to provide for additional assistance for support of pupils at the Halifax School for Blind and the Deaf and Dumb School. Also respecting hard labor in county jails and to provide for secret ballot and principle of one man one vote at municipal elections. Hon. Mr. Hatheway introduced bills to authorize St. John to transfer its harbor properties to a commission, relating to civic elections in St. John, and a petition for a bill to amend the city charter of St. John. Hon. Mr. McLeod on grounds of urgency and by unanimous consent moved the second reading of bills relating to immigrant children. Hon. Mr. Grimmer introduced a bill to amend the act incorporating the Canadian Terminal Railway, and presented petition of St. Stephen parties to incorporate the National Power Co. Ltd. He also introduced bills to amend acts incorporating the town of St. Stephen. Mr. Byrne, for Mr. McKeown, gave notice of an enquiry into expenditures upon the Central Railway as outlined in his report of the Central Railway Commission. Hon. Mr. Hazen moved that rule 156 be added to the rules of the house providing that proof of publication of advertisement of bills be by affidavit. The time for the introduction of private bills was extended for three days. The third reading of a bill regarding the custody of children was rescinded and bill ordered back before committee of the whole house. Hon. Mr. Morrissey, replying to Dr. Sormany, said the government was not aware that the bridge over Grand Lake, Shippagan Island, was impossible, but if such was the case it would be repaired. Hon. Mr. Morrissey, replying to Mr. Lowell, said the government had not as yet made preparations for a bridge to replace the Suspension bridge at the Falls. The government was not aware that the Suspension bridge was dangerous for continuation of same restricted traffic now permitted. The house went into committee, Mr. Pinder in the chair, upon acts relating to probate court, life insurance, general mining act, and an act to cancel certain grant improperly issued at Pokemouche, in county of Gloucester. STRUGGLE WITH MAD WOMAN

Doctor, Nurses and Firemen Figure in Exciting Incident.

NEW YORK, April 13.—A thrilling struggle to save a mad woman from suicide occurred tonight on a ledge of a fifth story window of the Hospital for Women at 13th street and Second Avenue. The woman, Mrs. Nora Hickey, 28 years old, was finally saved from jumping to the street through the pluck of a doctor and a nurse, and with the help of the fire department. Mrs. Hickey, who had been a patient for several weeks, became suddenly insane tonight, and in the temporary absence of the nurse, thrust her feet through the heavy plate glass window panes in her ward. Through the jagged hole thus made the woman pushed her body, cutting herself frightfully, and crept to the edge of the sill, 60 feet above the sidewalk. She was about to jump when Dr. Cranston Conklin and Nurse McDougal, who had come running with the crash of alarms, caught her by the arms. The woman struggled, screamed and bit, but they pluckily held on. Other doctors and nurses came to their aid, and sheets were twisted about the screaming, struggling woman, who was now dangling in the air, resolute rescue with mad fury. The doctors and nurses, five in number, could do nothing but hold the woman, and some one in the crowd of thousands who had gathered in the street below realized this, for an alarm was turned in and the fire apparatus came clattering in the scene. The ladders were run up and the mad woman was carried to safety by sturdy firemen.
