Dairy Company Defendants in Interest Case—Kings Co. Court

HAMPTON, Kings Co., Jan. 30.—The adjourned sitting of the Kings county court, which was opened by Judge Wedderburn this morning, had four civil cases on the docket, three of which were speedily disposed of, while the fourth bids fair to last well through tomorrow.

The first case was an appeal of George Myers of Sussex against a Scott Act conviction for a "second offense" violation of the act, but its merits were not gone into, as W. B. Jonah, who appeared for the appellant, stated that since his arrival developed a bad case of pneumonia, a relapse from a recent attack, and could not possibly appear in court at the present sitting.

The second case was Berry v. Robinson, assumpt, Messrs. Fowler, Jonah and Parlee for plaintiff, and Messrs. White and King for defendant. In this case a jury was sworn, but on account of the absence through illness of a material witness, the plaintiff elected to be nonsuited.

In the third case, Fred L. Fairweather v. Annie Quirk, also an assumpt case, the counsel agreed to have the issue tried out by the judge in chambers at St. John, on a day to be mutually agreed upon. Messrs. Fowler, Jonah and Parlee for plaintiff, and Daniel Mullin, K. C., for defendant.

The only cause which actually came to trial was that of the Maritime Dairy Company v. Bohemian Keith, in which the plaintiff company was represented by Messrs. Fowler, Jonah and Parlee, and the defendant by J. Milton Price, of the St. John firm of Stockton and Price. The claim is for damages resulting from the nonfulfillment of a contract to supply a certain quantity of cheese at eleven and a half cents a pound free on board of Havelock, in September last. The offer was made by defendant by letter on Sept. 19th, 1905, and was accepted by plaintiff on Sept. 22nd, but the defendant claims that he did not receive the answer until Sept. 25th, and meanwhile had disposed of the cheese to other parties. The defendant's counsel is attempting to prove that it is the custom of the cheese trade that if quotations are not accepted on the day made or immediately on receipt, the offer is off.

Mr. Fowler for the plaintiff rested his case on the correspondence of Sept. 19th and 22nd, supported by the evidence of Manager Friars and Miss Burgen, the company's stenographer. Mr. Price wanted a non-suited judgment upholding his claim there by a formidable array of legal text books and authorities, but as it was not granted, but on the stand of the other party, W. C. Whitaker, assistant post office inspector, to prove mail dates and routes, and the defendant in regard to the offer and reply.

The court adjourned over until nine a. m. tomorrow to enable the St. John men to catch the down C. P. R. at five o'clock.

In the matter of the assignment to the sheriff of his estate, and effects by Mildred Lawrence, a farm widow, a short distance east of Hampton Station, with liabilities which he estimates at $2,200 and assets at about $1,200, the creditors who met here on Saturday last appointed O. W. King, and W. T. William Barnes, inspectors, who after going over the property will report to the creditors at a future meeting.

HAMPTON, N. B., Jan. 31.—The Maritime Dairy Company vs. Keith case was continued in the county court this morning and removed by holders of the defendant proceeded.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—James Bourke who said he was a valet in the employ of L. V. Sone, was arrested in the house of John McDonald in Mamaroneck, yesterday afternoon, and the conditions surrounding his capture caused such a sensation as the village has not experienced in many a year.

Mr. McDonald served twenty years as a detective in the New York police department, and now lives in a fine residence on the Boston post road. Mrs. McDonald is wealthy and possesses a great deal of jewelry.

Late yesterday, when she went to her room to dress for dinner, she was startled at seeing a well dressed young man standing before her mirror brushing his hair. As she entered he turned and spoke to her politely, and continued with his toilet.

Mrs. McDonald called to her husband, and with the instincts of an old policeman, McDonald put a leather-bound club in his pocket and he started to go upstairs. When he entered the room the mysterious stranger turned to him, greeting him pleasantly, and said he hoped Mr. McDonald was quite well.

"What are you doing in this house," demanded McDonald, laying his hand on the stranger's shoulder.

"Ah, yes, naturally it must seem quite odd to you," replied the young man, "but I am rather particular about my appearance and just took advantage of this opportunity to brush my hair before dinner."

Mr. McDonald grappled with the large vessel, but the stranger was so strong that he was unable to get a grip on the floor, with his knee on his neck. Then he called to his wife to get a pair of old handkerchiefs that had lain unused in a bureau drawer, and while McDonald looked on, the stranger pulled out a white handkerchief and the handcuffs on his wrists. Then McDonald started with him for the office of William A. Boyd, justice of the peace. The unusual sight of a carefully dressed young man walking through the streets handcuffed to the wrists, attracted a crowd and by the time the justice of the peace was ready to hold court his office was surrounded by two thousand persons.

When asked how he wished to plead to the charge of burglary, the young man expressed great surprise and indignation. "Not guilty, of course," said he. "This is a most extraordinary performance. It's an outrage. I have never seen such shameful inhospitality. I merely stepped in to the gentleman's house to make my toilet and here I am under arrest. I am the most innocent man you ever saw."

Judge Boyd telephoned to White Plains for the sheriff, and presently J. Campbell Thompson, sheriff of Westchester county, who is also a man of much wealth, arrived on the scene in an automobile. Meanwhile Sheriff James D. Merritt arrived and the mysterious prisoner was further examined. He circled the crowd and a valet for L. V. Sone, who lives on the Quaker Ridge road. He said he had left Mr. Sone's house for a walk and simply stepped in to make a friendly call on Mr. Sone, who had been absent for the unconventionality of country life. Judge Boyd informed him that he happened to know that Mr. Sone's house was shut up and that Mr. Sone was travelling in Europe. The young man replied that he had never met such suspicious persons.

Survivor of Wrecked Valencia Gives Startling Testimony That Sea Was Not Rough and That Victims Facing Death Were Ignored by Passing Vessels.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 30.—At today's session of the investigation into the loss of the str. Valencia, C. Allison, of St. Paul, a passenger, testified that the sea was not rough. He explained that he had himself been a sailor and that the surf that finally battered the Valencia to pieces could not be called high. This testimony caused a mild sensation as all published accounts of the wreck have been described as "high seas" and a "terrible surf."

"Everyone seemed to shun us," said Allison, testifying before the board of United States inspectors in the Valencia investigation. "All seemed to be afraid to help or to attempt to help the unfortunate men and women who were facing death."

"All those that succeeded in getting ashore immediately left the scene. The vessels at sea stood off and made no attempt to lower a boat. In the morning after the last raft put off from the Valencia there was no great sea. There might have been a comb on the water for the Queen not coming closer, but there was a tug alongside of her that did not come any closer than the large vessel. It all looked wrong to me. I was in my bunk when the vessel struck and immediately went on deck. Everything was quiet and orderly then. Some one gave an order to lower the boats to the saloon deck. When they were lowering the starboard boat the crowd gathered around it. After people began jumping in there was some confusion. The boat went down the ship's side and for a moment it hung, one end up, the other down, and all the time banging against the side of the vessel. Finally it was caught and sank."

"How did it happen that so many of the crew were on the life raft?" asked Inspector Whitney.

"As soon as the raft struck the water the crew took possession," said the witness.

"What kind of weather was it when you were picked up by the Topeka?"

"It was a trifle foggy, but there was no wind blowing. The waves did not have combers on them. I do not see why a boat could not have been lowered."

A. Willis, another passenger, testified that the first boat was not lowered. He said that the life on which the Valencia was wrecked was so abrupt that he landed that he could not get the lifeline that was shot ashore to wards him.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—After a stay of forty-eight hours in the Tombs, Captain William H. Van Schaick, former master of the General Slucom, was released yesterday afternoon on the bail set by Judge Thomas on Saturday afternoon. The amount, $10,000, was deposited in cash with the clerk of the United States district court, a friend, Charles H. Ehrenstron, furnishing the money in two crisp new bills of $5,000 each.

General Henry B. Burnett, United States district attorney, holds an opinion that it is in opposition to that expressed by Captain Van Schaick, and it was his belief, in an interview with a Herald reporter yesterday, that the higher court would sustain the verdict and the sentence.

"Captain Van Schaick himself said that he had had no fire drills and that the fire hose on the General Slucom had been on the boat since 1891. There had never been a steam boiler through the hose. These things were required by law to be done, and manifestly they were not done."

"There has been some comment on the apparent severity of the sentence imposed by Judge Thomas, but in this case it is reasonable to suppose that Judge Thomas, who is, I know, a considerate and humane man, imposed it to show other masters of vessels that the lives of the passengers in their charge are in their hands for safe keeping."

TRAIN DELAYED BY MADDENED BULL.

And Lives of Several Persons Endangered.

WAKEFIELD, Mass., Jan. 31.—A maddened bull which escaped from a slaughter house today, endangered the lives of several persons, delayed an express train and cleared Wakefield street of pedestrians for a time. The bull, which was a hundred men and police armed with guns, pistols and revolvers, pursued the infuriated animal for miles and discharged their weapons at frequent intervals, but it was not until the bull fled to Melrose Highlands that its career was ended.

When the bull made its appearance puffing and blowing in the streets here, women shrieked and fled to the nearest buildings, men and children sought shelter in fear of their lives. The bull dashed down Main street. At one point Selectman Geo. W. Abbott was walking along unaware of the monster's approach behind him. Several persons in buildings warned the selectman just in time and he found refuge in a back yard.

The bull's attention was diverted from Abbott by the appearance of Frank Ford. Ford saw the mad beast charging down upon him and boarded a moving electric car which was along just before the bull reached him.

The bull did not molest the car, but transferred his hostility to Gardner Campbell who was riding a bicycle. Boston and Maine tracks. An express train was approaching, but when the engineer saw the chase he brought his train to a standstill in order to avoid an accident. Campbell succeeded in evading his pursuer.

The bull then headed for Greenwood, followed at a safe distance by about fifty persons armed with guns, revolvers and other weapons. A running time was kept up, but the animal failed to bring down the animal. The chase was continued until the bull got to Melrose Heights, where it was slain by a shot fired by Greenwood. Gould fired thirty shots before life was extinct.

The bull escaped from a slaughter house in Lynnfield. In making its escape the animal attacked a young man employed by Wm. Gould. The helper was thrown down and bruised, but not injured otherwise.

EUROPE MOURNS DEATH OF DENMARK'S KING.

Father of Queen Alexandra Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon.

Business World of Denmark Unnerved by the Startling News--Had Intended to go South in Near Future For His Health--Canadian Flags at Half Mast.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 29.—Christian the Ninth, the aged King of Denmark, dean of the crowned heads of Europe, father of King George of Greece, of Queen Alexandra of Great Britain and of the Dowager Empress Maria Feodorovna of Russia, grandfather of King Hakon, the seventh of Norway, and related by blood or by marriage to most of the European rulers, died with startling suddenness in the Amalienburg palace this afternoon. The accession of his successor, Prince Frederick, his eldest son, who will be known as Frederick the Eighth, will be proclaimed tomorrow.

The following official bulletin was issued this evening: "His majesty died at 3:30 this afternoon. After his majesty had brought his speech to a conclusion he appeared to be quite well and proceeded to luncheon as usual. Towards the end of the meal he gave evidence of indisposition and was compelled to retire to bed at 2:30 p. m. His majesty passed away peacefully, the symptoms indicating heart failure."

The death of King Christian has plunged the courts of Europe into the deepest mourning and brought a sense of personal loss as well as of sincere grief to everyone throughout the kingdom Denmark, reaching even to the humblest cottage, evidences of which are shown everywhere tonight. It has cast a pall over the palaces of the monarchs of Great Britain, Russia, Norway and Greece. This is the first time that a monarch of Denmark has died in his own country but throughout the civilized world, almost the entire community and unnumbered thousands of the world of Denmark. Even late tonight the men of affairs are only recovering from the shock and beginning to prepare for the changed conditions.

Every flag in the city is at half-mast, all the places of amusement are closed and the people walk the streets as though they were passing through the chamber of death. The king's health appeared to be in his usual health this morning. After taking breakfast he held a public audience which it has been his custom to do every Monday morning. The reception today was largely children, and his majesty conversed freely and affably with a number of officials and other persons. When the function was over the king, though appearing to be slightly fatigued, attended luncheon with the members of his family, among them being the Dowager Empress of Russia and his brother, General Prince Hans. During the meal his majesty complained of indisposition and was assisted to his bedroom by the Dowager Empress and Prince Hans. A court physician was quickly summoned. At the time he arrived the king had collapsed. The physician used prompt re-activatives, but his efforts were useless and King Christian expired almost without uttering a word in the presence of the court physician and Prince Hans.

Just as the king breathed his last, Crown Prince Frederick, who had been summoned, entered the room as in other members of the royal family arrived shortly afterwards. Telegrams and cablegrams of condolence are pouring in tonight, including messages from the sovereigns of Europe and the Danish monarchs. Premier Christensen tonight tendered the resignation of the cabinet to the king, who expressed a wish that the present ministry should continue to carry on the affairs of the government.

Both houses of parliament will assemble tomorrow, when their respective presidents will formally announce the death of King Christian. At 3 o'clock the members will assemble in the hall of the Folketing to receive the royal message announcing the accession of Frederick the Eighth. It had been known for some time that King Christian's health was failing. His physicians recommended a change of air and the king decided to take their advice. It was his intention to go south in the near future, accompanied by the Dowager Empress of Russia.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—In view of the death of the King of Denmark, the official and other engagements in which the British court is concerned will be postponed or cancelled although nothing affecting the arrangements has yet been given out. It is said that the opening of parliament cannot take place before February 19, according to the original programme, but it may be opened by a royal commission as in the later years of Queen Victoria's reign. One of the earliest functions on the return of the court to London was the launching of the monster battleship Dreadnought, Feb. 10th, which probably will be indefinitely postponed. The holding of a court at Buckingham palace had been fixed for February 16th and leaves had been arranged for February 20 and February 26, but they also will be put off.

It is expected that a memorial service will be held in London. The advertisement and the salesman together fight the battle of trade—Nathl C. Fowler, Jr., Boston.

vice in honor of the late King Christian will be held in the cathedral, St. James' palace, simultaneously with the funeral service held in Denmark. King Edward has arranged to come to London, Jan. 30, and Queen Alexandra was to leave Southampton at the same time. It is not yet known what changes in their plans have been decided upon.

The new king has been highly popular since his earliest youth. His bearing is stately and his manner quiet. He is noted for his culture and possesses many foreign distinctions. While self-reliant, he has taken an active part in all public movements and is a constant attendant at all important diplomatic functions. He is chancellor of the Copenhagen University and head of the Freemasons of Denmark and is well known as a promoter of all philanthropic objects. His interest in general is keen, and he has introduced several reforms which have improved the lot of the private soldier, as the result of which he is extremely popular with the troops.

The new queen, Louise, is reported to be the tallest and richest princess in Europe. She is a handsome woman of the blonde type, and reflects the beauty of her famous grandmother, Desirée Clary, the cadet's daughter who captivated Bonaparte and married Marshal Bernadotte, who subsequently became King of Sweden and Norway. She and her husband have adhered to the plainness and simplicity characteristic of the Danish peasantry, showing the nation the happy spectacle of a united couple living in the closest affection and sympathy with their subjects.

PURITY OF THE BLOOD

THE BEST PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE—OBTAINED BY USING DR. CHASE'S Kidney-Liver Pills.

If you enquire into the cause of sickness, pain and suffering, you will find that fully ninety per cent. of the results from derangements of the liver, kidneys and bowels. This was the truth arrived at by Dr. Chase when he began experiments which led to the discovery of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The liver and kidneys are intimately related as filters of the blood, and the regularity of the bowels depends on the healthful action of the liver. Hence it happens that when the liver and kidneys are made healthy and vigorous by the influence of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills such diseases as biliousness, liver complaint, kidney disease, indigestion and constipation soon entirely disappear. With the liver and kidneys in healthful working order, the purity of the blood is ensured, and you are protected against colds, fevers and contagious and infectious diseases. As a family medicine to promptly cure the most common ills of life there is no preparation that can be compared with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In every neighborhood there are people who have proven the merit of this great medicine. Ask them. Mr. Stanishla Hache, Burnsville, N. B., writes: "Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have entirely cured me of kidney disease and backache, from which I have suffered for several years. Besides the pains in my back there are weakness and lameness which bothered me continually, and to say that these troubles were entirely removed by one box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills seems almost incredible. This is a fact, however, and there are many people in this locality who have proven the merits of this great medicine." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Pain cannot exist where Dr. Chase's Backache Plaster is applied.

REVIVAL'S FIGURES.

Interesting Statistics of Torrey-Alexander Meetings--Over Four Thousand Hymn Books Missing.

(Toronto News.) From a statistical point of view the Massey Hall mission is of interest, especially in the large figures of the combined attendance, the number of "Get Right With God" cards that have been distributed, the penitents, and the number of hymn books bought and carried off. Some of the figures covering various points in connection with the mission are as follows:

Meetings in Massey Hall	44
With Business Men	8
With Ministers	3
At Yonge street mission	14
Overflow	19
Conferences	3
Total number of meetings	89

In addition a large number of special meetings for prayer preceding and during the mission. Attendance in hall 191,600. Total attendance 211,250. Ushers 300. Choir 600. Workers 700. "Get Right With God" cards 400,000. Penitents—adults, 2,405; children, 1,200; total, 3,605.

COMPARISONS IN ATTENDANCE. The total attendance at the meetings was a very high figure. On the opening day, Monday, Massey Hall was packed at both services. On Monday the hall was nearly filled. By Thursday all could not get in to the evening gatherings and early the following week the same was true of the afternoon meetings. Since that time the capacity of Massey Hall has been taxed at every meeting. A fair estimate of the hall's capacity is 4,750, though on four occasions, two of them the children's meetings, fully 5,000 were present.

The attendance at the evening meetings now foots up to 103,000, with the afternoon about 15,000 each, at $8,100, a total for the hall of 121,600, which is the (Friday) evening will have passed the 200,000 mark; still less, however, than the total population of the city in which the meetings are held. The overflow meetings, including the two children's overflow gatherings, amount to 2,750, while adding the meetings at St. James' school house and the conferences with ministers and workers on Tuesday and Wednesday, the total would be 15,150. The grand total is thus brought up to 211,600, which should reach the quarter million by next Sunday night. The membership of the various committees is close on 700. The choir numbers nearly 700, while the ushers are set down at 300. These last were divided into relays of forty for an evening meeting and twenty for the afternoon, but lately the afternoon meeting has received more attention. The workers, who are also in relays, number 600.

A definite statement of the finances will be made public as soon as a complete report has been submitted to the executive committee. The treasurer, J. N. Shonstone, reports that it is difficult at present to make an estimate of the total expenses, as the accounts have not all been received yet from the various committees. Outside of the gifts to the two evangelists the expenses amount to $250. These last were distributed from the collections at the meetings will cover this amount. These average about $200. One went as low as $130, while the highest was $310, received at the Sunday evening meeting two weeks ago.

A guarantee fund of $1,200 was raised before the revival started, but it may not be necessary to make a call upon this. NUMBER OF EXCURSIONISTS. The extended reports given in the Toronto press have stirred up a great interest in other parts of the province, and up to yesterday's special excursion from Toronto to St. John, furnished for these are as follows, the name of the places sometimes including intermediate points: London, 500; Guelph, 300; Barrie, 200; Belleville, 175; Brantford, 250; Owen Sound, 300; Teeswater, 450; a total of 2,175.

OLD FRENCH CANNON FOR QUEEN SQUARE.

(From Wednesday's Daily Sun.) The regular meeting of the Historical Society was held last evening in the rooms, Market Building, Col. J. R. Armstrong presiding. Communications were read from Col. A. J. Armstrong and the militia department at Ottawa with reference to the old French gun which had been unearthed at the old Fisher shipyard where some excavation was being done for the purpose of having a suitable carriage prepared and have the gun mounted on Queen Square or some other appropriate place to be selected later. The gun is about fourteen feet in length, of which has been removed by the probably a part of the armament of one of the old French forts here. It was also reported that the printing of the report of commissioners on Loyalist claims, the manuscript copy of which has been on file at Washington for some years, has been completed by the Ottawa government. The 600 copies available for the New Brunswick Historical Society will be issued as soon as the $500 contributed by the local government has been paid. This publication will be of much interest as a record of the claims made by and allowed to the original Loyalist settlers in New Brunswick. The attention of the meeting was called to a paragraph in last week's issue of the Times in which Director Wisely is quoted as saying "that the Historical Society which had the top floor of the (market) building does not pay any rental for the city, but that they sub-let their premises from time to time and have in this way derived a revenue of about $500 a year."

SCHOOLBOYS MAKE AN AWFUL TREAT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Unless the parental stipper or some other influence interferes the boys in Miss McNab's class at Public School No. 8 in Paterson will go on a strike this morning.

Owing to the congested condition half day sessions have been held at the school for several months. One-half of the pupils report at eight o'clock in the morning and are released at noon. The principal has reported that at half-past five and remain in session until five. Miss McNab has charge of the morning class and Miss Boyle has charge of the afternoon class.

The afternoon pupils were pleased, but instantly they arose a spirit of revolt among the boys in Miss McNab's class. They held a meeting and appointed a committee to file a proposition with the principal. Mr. Black told the committee that the boys must obey orders and that the new rule would take effect this morning.

"Let us go on strike," suggested one of the boys when the committee returned and reported the result of the interview with Principal Black. Every boy voted "yes." It was also decided to report to school at the usual time this morning and then formally declare the strike on.

EFFICACY PLUS PRAYER.

Ethel, one of New Hampshire's seven-year-old daughters, is devoted to the birds. She was enraged at her older brother, whose enjoyment seemed to be to trap them, but all to no effect. So Ethel took a new tack. When prayer-time came the other evening her mother heard this final petition added to those which she directed with the spiritual and material welfare of the family: "An' dear God, please smash all Willie's nasty traps, for Jesus sake, Amen."

"Ethel, dear," said mother, seriously, "do you really think that last is a petition to ask God to do? Do you expect Him to do such a thing as that?" Ethel smiled beamingly, and answered, "Oh, that'll be all right, muxer. Jes before I comed, up-stairs I smashed 'em all my own self."
