A big celebration at Blacks' Harbor on July 1st.

It would seem that the fighting game was doomed to die in California.

'He was driven to his grave!'

'Sure he was. Did you expect him to walk there?'—Pittsburg Observer.

The Emperor of Austria has called Canada a 'blessed country.' The crowned heads are gathering knowledge.

Scott-Teddy has come for a good deal of castigating lately.

Mott-Well, a man who lives in the public eye must expect to be under the lash you know.

Herring still continue to be very scarce and the season has been a wretched one so far. The fishermen are looking forward to the fall catch with expectancy.

Is everyone going to sleep in St. Geo. on Dominion Day. Has Blacks' Harbor to show St. George how to hold a big day? For the sake of the town let some of our townpeople take hold and do something.

Mr. Roosevelt was heartily greeted by friends on his arrival at New York on Saturday. He speedily went to his home at Oyster Bay, and all the way from New York city to that place there were hearty demonstrations by large crowds expressive of the pleasure which it gave them to see him once more in America.

'You are probably not aware, sir,' said the angry father, 'that last year my daughter spent $1,500 on her dress.'

'Yes, I am,' said the young man firmly. 'I advised her to do it over a year ago, when we first became engaged.'

Two telephone girls were talking over the wire. Both were discussing what they should wear. In the midst of this important conversation a masculine voice interrupted, asking humbly for a number. One of the girls became indignant and asked:

'What line do you think you are on, anyhow.'

'Well,' said the man, 'I am not sure, but judging from what I have heard I should say I was on a clothesline.'

Mr. Thos. Choynet Leaves For Parrsboro N. S.

Mr. Choynet has been prominent in the church and in society; always ready to do his part for the enjoyment of others he has taken part in many local entertainments and with his talent--song--he has been appreciated. He has been a prominent member of the choir in the St. Mark's church and was a great addition to it. As a fellow partner with him in the toil and tribulations of every day life the writer can say 'Tom was a good fellow.' His new sphere in Parrsboro will give him full charge of the Parrsboro Leader as Editor and Manager. We wish him success.

On Wednesday evening last a party of twelve enjoyed a motor boat run to the mouth of the river in the 'Black Prince.' Herd Grass made a trip to St. Stephen this week.

General News.

Ottawa, June 17 The results of the recent civil service examinations show a number of New Brunswickers to have qualified for government positions. In the open competitive examinations for a clerkship in sub-division B of the second division, Gladys Vaughan of Sackville, is seventh; Robert McCully of Bathurst, E. Rideout, of Fredericton, sixteenth.

New York, June 20--One hundred thousand dollars reward has been awarded to Richard Parr, the customs deputy, through whose efforts the government recovered more than $2,000 in the sugar trust underweighting frauds. The decision was reached at a conference in Washington between President Taft and Secretary MacVeagh.

When Mr. Parr was informed of the decision he said: 'The reward is just about one-tenth of what I expected. The government gives me this $100,000 just like a master drops a crumb to a yellow dog; has saved millions of his master's property from thieves.'

Jackson, Ky., June 20--A man and a woman are dead and another woman is perhaps fatally wounded, following a quarrel, which had its tragic end Sunday at Jett's Creek, Breathitt county. News of the tragedy became public today. The alleged slayer is Asbury Spicer who figured prominently in the Hargis and Mockrill feud and in connection with the murder of Dr. Cox.

The victims of yesterday's shooting are Spicer's nephew, Asbury Fugate, Mrs. Demit Johnson, who lived in Fugate's household, and Fugate's mother the latter a sister of Spicer. The two former were killed. The affray is alleged to have been the result of a business disagreement.

Hon. W. Fielding goes on from surplus to surplus in his administration of the finances of the Dominion. Last year he broke all records with the showing of having paid for all expenditures on both ordinary and capital accounts, and having a balance of more than Eight Million Dollars left to apply to the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway. In other words, if we are not building this great national highway, the public debt would have been reduced by nearly Nine Million Dollars.

Both Italy and Switzerland are fortifying the entrances of the Simplon Tunnel, while in the tunnel itself engineers are engaged in constructing mines and strengthening those already in place in order to blow up the tunnel at a moment's notice in the event of war. Near the middle of the tunnel, a few yards from the Swiss frontier, Italian engineers have put in place a double iron door which can resist the rush of an express train travelling at 60 miles an hour. The iron door is worked by electricity from Iselle, the station at the Italian end of the tunnel, and under ordinary conditions it is hidden in the rocky side of the tunnel. The door is carefully tested once a week. The mines are connected with Brigne and Iselle by electricity also, and by simply pressing a button the Simplon Tunnel would be destroyed in a second.

Money Making

Is the object of the world's pursuit. Men in every walk of life are striving for gain. It is a legitimate object. It gives bread, clothing, homes and comfort, and the world judges wisely when it makes the position a man occupies hinge comparatively more or less on his ability to earn money, and somewhat on the amount of his possessions. If he is poor it argues either some defect in his expenditures or a lack of practical education to cope with men in the battle for gold.

When a boy leaves home it is generally to enter upon some business, the end of which is to acquire property, and he will succeed just in proportion as he has trained for work. Every community is filled with young and middle aged men who are failures because they know nothing of business—their training having been theoretical, not practical and useful. Many are tied to pursuits they heartily dislike, and which are much below their capacity and ability, and would change their course of life and better their condition but for the fact that relatives and friends generally oppose rather than encourage them.

Do You Lack Self-Control?
If you are constantly keyed up, nervous, depressed, look to your over-worked nerves for the cause. They are starving for the nourishment that Ferrozine so quickly supplies. Besides its tonic action on the nervous system, Ferrozine has marvelous blood-forming properties. It thus supplies strengthening materials to every nook and corner of the body and brings the system to a condition of perfect health. To be strong to eat well, and work long without fatigue, use Ferrozine; it is the best nerve system tonic known. All all dealers in 50-cents boxes.

Prepare for Lumbago!

If You Have Nerviline
Handy One Rubbing
Cure the Pain.

The 'strike' of lumbago is like a bolt of lightning—you never know when it is coming or where it is going to strike. Probably the one certain thing about lumbago is the fact that it can be cured by Nerviline, the only liniment that penetrates deeply enough to reach the costed chords and muscles.

"Years ago I strained my back and suffered considerably with weakness over the spine," writes Darius P. Millan, a well-known farmer, residing near Kingsville. "Then lumbago attacked the weak spot, and for days at a time I would have to lie up in bed, unable to move or turn. Liniments, poultices, and hot applications failed to bring the desired relief, and I was in despair of ever getting really well again. I at last decided to test Nerviline. I got five bottles from the drug store and had it rubbed on three times a day. The stiffness and pain left my back quickly, and by continuing Nerviline I was completely cured of Lumbago."

This is similar testimony to that of nearly five thousand Canadians who have written unstinted words of praise to the manufacturers of Nerviline. For the cure of lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, and rheumatism there is no liniment with one-fifth the pain-relieving power of Nerviline. Refuse any substitute. In two sizes 50c. and 25c. at all dealers, or the Carrhorne Co., Kingston, Ont.

General News.

At the grand lodge of Masons in New York, a resolution was adopted condemning the practice of putting Masonic symbols and signs on business cards.

The British mint has struck 12,000,000 aluminum coins for use in Africa, especially in Uganda and Nigeria. The coins are worth from two mills to one cent.

Wellesley, Mass., June 13.—Wellesley College's beautiful new library building was dedicated late today with appropriate ceremonies.

President Caroline Hazard of the college presided. The opening address was made by Mrs. Henry F. Durant, wife of the founder of the college and Andrew Piske, of Boston, spoke as a representative of the board of trustees of the college.

Ottawa, June 13.—The National Transcontinental Railway arbitrators, Messrs. Scribner, Kellher and Grant, left tonight for the Northwest to continue the arbitration of district B. Collingwood, Scribner stated that the Grand Trunk Pacific would not be completed before the end of 1913, the difficulties being the mountain section and the lack of labor. Nine hundred and fifteen miles of track has been laid west of Winnipeg and of this 820 miles is in operation.

Last Monday morning while Mr. J. Laswell was quietly studying, his house was being consumed by the demon fire, says Harris Review. Mr. Bradley saw the blaze spoke to his wife, Miss Creta saw it, threw a wrap over her shoulder and like an angel on a mission of love went tripping down the walk and aroused the doomed, yet unconscious family. The fire department got busy, one went up like a squirrel, no ladder was handy, and the fire was soon extinguished.

Her Serene Highness the Duchess of Talleyrand-Perigord, who was Anna Gould of New York, then Countess Boni de Castellane, had a fixed, undisputed position in the foremost rank of Parisian Society, her husband is fifth Duke of that historic line. Her latest photograph taken with her eldest son indicates that she is not discontented with high life in a foreign land. She is now the mother of four sons; Boni de Castellane, 12 years old; George de Castellane, 10 years old; Jay de Castellane, 7; and Prince Charles de Sagan, who will be one year old July 16.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are noted for promptly curing biliousness, sick headaches, constipation and stomach trouble. They work like a charm, very mild, yet searching and health-giving. Mrs. Suburban (to neighbor) Willie and Bobbie aren't home from school yet and here it is, 11 o'clock. Did you see anything of my precious jewels as you came along, Mr. Newdore?

Jokers' Column

A large and pompous person, wearing a high hat, a long coat, yellow spats and a congenial sneer, for several days made himself obnoxious around a Washington hotel a bit ago.

He announced he was from New York, ragged the bell boys, jawed the clerks, cursed the service, roared at the food, complained about his room and the elevator and the telephones and the bar, and everything else.

One afternoon he walked over to the porter and said:

I want you to buy me two seats in the parlor car at the four o'clock New York train. Get me two seats, now, and meet me at the station with the tickets. I want one chair to sit in and one to pay my feet in.

The seats were delivered at the train just before it pulled out. One of the seats was in Car No. 3 and the other in Car 4.

When the celebrated divine Edward Irving was on a preaching tour in Scotland two Dumfries men of decided opinions went to hear him. When they left the hall one said to the other:

"Well, Willie, what do you think?"
"Oh," said the other contemptuously, "the man's cracked!"

"Well," said he, "you'll often see a light peeping through a crack."

One Sunday morning little Alex, aged six years, was in the garden violently shaking a choice apple tree. His mother called to him and said, "What are you doing Alex?"

He quickly replied, "Nothing mother dear."

"But I saw you shaking the apple tree," answered his mother.

"No mother, I wasn't," he said. "I was only holding up the tree to prevent the wind blowing the apples off."

Little 4-year old Thelma had been punished by her mother by her trifling offence, and when her father came home she ran to meet him with her eyes full of tears.

"Oh, p-p-papa," she sobbed, m-m-mamma whipped me to-day, an' my f-feelings are b-black and b-blue!"

"How absurd!"
"What's absurd?"
"Five years are supposed to have elapsed since the last act, and that man wearing the same overcoat."

"Nothin' absurd about that. He's takin' the part of a married man, isn't he?"

Hubb (crossly) What earthly interest do you find in shopping, looking over a lot of expensive things you can't afford to buy?

Mrs. Hubb Would you deny the pleasure of looking at the lovely gowns if I'd only married the man I threw over for you?

"I'm afraid my husband is developing the gambling instinct," sobbed the bride.

"What's the matter, dear? Has he been playing poker?"

"No, but yesterday he offered to match pennies with Brother Frank to determine which one should pay the car fare."—Detroit Free Press.

Dad—Son: I'd like to have you be a literary man.
Son—Dad: I'd rather study law, dad.
Dad—But why?
Son—I've got a hunch that I'll have to contest your will one of these days, and I want to save fees.

"I am in the hands of my friends," said the political sidestepper.

"Yes," replied the harsh critic, "and every time your friends look over their hands they seem impatient for a new deal."—Washington Star.

Editor—But, my good fellow, why do you bring this poem to me? Impeccable One—Well, sir, because I hadn't a stamp, sir.—London Tatler.

How Farmers Can Practice Conversation

Canada being a nation of farmers has to pay a very large seed bill each year. Last year our crops called forth 33,000,000 bushels of seed grain—wheat, oats and barley, and we are constantly increasing our agricultural acreage. This being so, the economy of sowing good clean seed is at once apparent. The advantages to be derived from it are like the proceeds of a sum of money laid out at compound interest they are cumulative in their effect and grow in ever increasing ratio. Some years ago a competition was carried on in some 450 places in Canada to see just what the actual results of using clean pure seed would be. If we reason from the results obtained from it, we find that our grain yield last year would have been increased by 190,000,000 bushels had clean vigorous seed been sown on every acre under cultivation. Now, 190,000,000 bushels of grain would fill 1,500 miles of railway grain cars. It is such a large amount that it is hard for the mind to comprehend, but, at any rate it goes to show that it would pay our farmers to be particular about the kind of seed they sow.

Grand Trunks Enormous Business

With regard to the amount of business handled, the Grand Trunk also stands in the forefront. During the year 1909, on the entire Grand Trunk System, the number of tons of freight handled amounted to 19,233,485 tons, while the number of passengers handled was 13,916,147. According to the official report for 1909 the Grand Trunk takes rank among the ten largest systems on the Continent of North America, based on the business handled (freight tonnage and passenger) while on its lines in Canada only it handled 1,431,754 tons of freight and 1,167,000 passengers more than the railway ranking next as a common carrier, and according to the Government's reports, it handled 25 per cent of the total freight hauled, and 33 per cent of the passengers carried by all the railways in Canada.

Catarrh Cured or Money Back.

The cause of Catarrh is a germ. It multiplies in the lining of the nose and throat, spreads to the bronchial tubes and finally to the lungs. Cough syrup can't follow to the lungs, it goes to the stomach, and fails to cure. Catarrhoxone is inhaled. It goes everywhere, gets right after the germs, kills them, heals the soreness, stops discharge and hacking, cures every trace of Catarrh. You are absolutely certain of cure for Catarrh, throat irritation, colds or bronchitis, if you use Catarrhoxone. 25c. and $1.00 at all dealers.

At a meeting of the lodge in a way back village a member suggested that cuspidors be secured.

"I move, Mr. President," said an ever ready member, "that the executive committee be empowered to employ two competent cuspidors to serve during the ensuing year."

"Now, Stella," said the Sunday school teacher to a small pupil, "what is our duty to our neighbors?"

"To wait until they get settled, then call on them," was the reply.

"Why, Johnny," exclaimed an anxious mother, "what is that long mark on the back of your head?"

Clarence: Why don't you marry Miss De Cote?
Cholly: Well, old chappy, I thought some of that, but to tell the truth, I don't believe she can afford me.

"Have you completed your graduation essay?"
"No," replied Mildred. "I read it over to father and he understood every sentence. 'I've got to rewrite it.'"

Bridget—Sav, fer why is it they calls this our tin wedding?
Patrick—Faith an, it's because we have been married tin vees.

Ether-Reggie said I was the first girl he had ever kissed.
Geraldine-Yes, and doesn't he do it delightfully?

KEEP YOUR MUSCLES LIMBER

And Relieve Soreness with Father
Morrisey's Liniment.

Athletes owe their prowess not so much to natural bodily superiority, as to the systematic conservation of Nature's gifts, particularly by means of regular rubbing with a good liniment. We are not all athletes, but in any walk of life, if we keep our muscles limber, the walking will be much easier.

Father Morrisey, the priest whose medical skill was known from ocean to ocean, was especially successful in compounding a liniment of superior merit. It is unequalled for rubbing the muscles. It rubs in quickly and thoroughly, scarcely a trace of it staying on the skin. And it certainly drives out the stiffness from the joints.

Father Morrisey's Liniment has repeatedly cured and healed cuts, bruises, burns, frostbites, chapped hands, chilblains, sprains and strains, sore muscles, back-ache, toothache, earache, and similar affections. ### Vive La Joie

A celebrated bon viveur, being asked how he would arrange to get the most out of life, answered as follows:

"How I would live my life? John, I'd try to think that my grizzled wig has taught me to know the secrets of this world so wicked and b? How would I win my smiles, boy? And leave to old men the tears? By all that's human, a pretty woman I'd be for thirty years.

Then, as a major general, I'd let loose the dogs of war On the scroll of fame I would write my name

Blood red is the nation's gore, I'd rule the fate of millions And laugh at their life fears Mid smoke of battle and cannon's rattle I'd wear out thirty years.

Then, as a grand old abbot, With a pipe and a flowing bowl, In cloister walls I would make at list An effort to save my soul.

I would square accounts with Satan And smile at Death as he nears With pious thinking and jolly drinking I'd fill up thirty years.

To make a home out of a household, nice things may help, but nothing does so much as kindness.

Teach a child to mind as you teach him his letters. You don't expect him to learn them all in a minute, but one at a time.

Don't rob your wife all your life time in order to make some provision for her in case you should be first taken away.

If you have a home and are out of debt, don't fret and worry yourself and good wife into the grave for the sake of making money. You have only one life to live, and it is brief at best. Take a little pleasure and comfort as you go day by day, and try to do a little good to others. A morbid, insatiable desire to possess the earth, to grab everything in sight, is at the foundation of more misery than almost any one thing. Wealth alone will never keep memory green; a good life and kind actions will.

A tickling or dry cough can be quickly loosened with Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. No opium, no chloroform, nothing unsafe or harsh. Sold by All Dealers.

One of the most interesting vessels of the White Star Line fleet, the Mersey, a graceful three-masted sailing ship, painted white from stem to stern, is being the part of London. She is the schooner of the line and on board there are 60 sailors, who are being thoroughly trained for the coasted officers in the merchant service, who will be in the time of the war.

A Financier's Advice.

Mr. Henry Clews, the Wall street financier, in an address to the students of the State University of Kentucky, last week, gave some counsel to the young in choosing their company. He told them that outside from shunning bad or incompetent advisers in business there were others they should be careful to avoid. Mr. Clews thus stated the characteristics of these persons--

Who unjustly accuses others of bad deeds;

Who never has a good word for anybody;

Who, when he drinks, habitually drinks alone;

Who talks religion downtown in connection with his daily business affairs;

Who will not work for any honest living;

Who looks down upon those who do;

Who is always prating about his own virtues;

Who imputes bad motives to those trying to do good;

Who betrays confidence;

Who is honest only for policy's sake;

Who deceives his wife and loasts of it to others;

Who chews tobacco in a public conveyance;

Who gets intoxicated in public places;

Self Reliance

G. B. on well and truly said, "Every person has two educations--one which he receives from others, and one, more important, which he gives himself." Help yourself and the Lord will help you. It is no use in these days to sit around, and Micawbar like, wait for something to turn up. You must take hold of a wheel of fortune and use your muscle. It has wisely been said: "He who begins with crutches will end with crutches." It is said the lobster, when left high and dry upon the land, has not energy enough to work back into its element, but waits for the sea to come to it, and if the sea fails, lays there and dies. The world is full of human lobsters; young men who have the ability and muscle, but are waiting for something to turn up. The struggles of life produce self reliance. It is the self school of education. He who battled with poverty and ill luck, will be far stronger than he who has revealed in the lap of luxury. Read the biographies of the world's great men, and you will find they started in very humble circumstances. Abraham Lincoln, James Garfield, and a score of others, testify to this. Help yourself. Every man has all he can do to attend to his own business. He has no time or inclination to help you. If you get mired by the wayside in life's struggle, pull the harder and catch up with the maddening, hurrying crowd in the bustle of life. Once out in the world's varying scenes, you have to depend upon your own endeavors. There are many things that bring out self-reliance. The canary sings the sweetest when its eyes are put out. The flower gives forth its full fragrance when crushed. It is always the darkest with us before dawn. John Calhoun, who at college, was laughed at by his schoolmates for his untiring exertions. He replied, "I must, to be able to fulfill my position in the legislative hall of this nation." There is no excuse for any young man of ordinary ability to sit down and mope over spilt milk. The world is before you. The places of nature are open to you. Any young man with honesty, sobriety and industry, can accomplish his highest ambition. If this article happens to strike any young man who is waiting for something to turn up, may he be awake to the realities of this life.

Canada and the Tariff.

(Toronto Globe).

The Dominion government has adopted a sound principle in encouraging industries by lowering tariff rates. The applicants who have made out a clear case have been relieved, not as under the old regime, by higher tariffs that would enable them to levy enhanced prices on the public, but by reductions in the tariff on finished products, and consequently no attendant necessity for the reduction of prices. But the important fact remains that the adjustment of inequalities has been effected by the lowering and not by the increasing of tariffs.

Six lines of raw material have been added to the free list, and here have been reductions in many items of raw material of productive industries. The confining of these axes to those who import for manufacturing purposes may be difficult to defend among people firmly grounded in the principle of equality before the law. But since the objects are technical and theoretical rather than material, for the articles specified in the order in council are regarded as raw material for the manufacturer, not as finished products, and the reductions and adjustments have been effected generally in regard to duties on materials not yet manufactured in Canada. The appeal of the industries on which large numbers of employees are apparently dependent is naturally the more effective.

It may at any time become necessary and desirable to reduce the duties on goods such as are manufactured in the dominion, not to effect necessary and proper reductions in domestic prices. All such changes, however, when made under intelligent governmental supervision can be carried out without any serious disturbance. The policy of the government will give the people the continuous benefit trade, avoiding the serious and unreasonable tariff and the disturbing effects of sudden or considered changes.

Our Boys

Yes, boys will be boys; and what should we do about it? Now, a boy should be a school, but there is no particular pleasure in that, for fun he wants and fun he will have. Your boy should go to meeting, once or twice during the week, but good as he is, he will crave for pleasure. We love a boy with a merry twinkle in his eye; he looks so unassuming; and besides he will need all the spirit of a young colt before he gets through the world. If properly trained it will be to him who steam is to an engine. Did it ever occur to you to turn to yourself and lay a wisp of your dignified serious airs? Try it with them; laugh with them; play with them; sing with them; and, when night comes, you can try with them with a result you little dream of. If you can't leave more pleasure with you than anybody else you will always know where they are. Did you ever notice how the older animals play with their young? It looks funny will you admit. We have often laughed at an old stiff legged horse playing with a colt, and what a queer game of "tag" it was; the baby horse beat every time but the little one always kept close to its mother and was never heard to neigh. Parents take a lesson and it will be possible to know where the wandering boys are tonight.

A Painless Corn Cure.

Easily applied, costs but a quarter, Putnam's Corn Extractor, fits every case in use. Insist on "Putnam's" only.

Probably no Premier will have his name mispronounced more frequently than Father. The "P" is pronounced "P" and "P" is pronounced "P".

Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic. Many thousands of pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

What Canada Looks Like

The Boston Transcript, one of the ablest and most influential newspapers in the United States, frankly concedes that on certain broad matters of public policy Canada has pursued a course the results of which are more substantial than has been the case in the United States. Among these, the Transcript mentions the revision of the Inland Navigation Act, the Canadian Industrial Disputes Act of 1879, popularly known as the Lemieux Act, which has been interpreted for two and a half years so as to sufficiently long to afford a reasonable test of its efficiency and value.

The scope and working of the Act are reviewed in the latest quarterly bulletin of the United States National Bureau of Labor, by Dr. Victor S. Clark, who explains the purpose of the Lemieux Act and states some of the things it has accomplished. Dr. Clark, who is associated with the Bureau of Labor, spent several months in Canada last year, studying the operation of the Act. He notes that it applies to all public utilities, including municipal service corporations, transportation companies of all kinds and occupations subsidiary to transportation; also coal and metal mines.

The application of the law to railway disputes, he says, "covers what would be the chief field of jurisdiction of a Federal State, should one ever be enacted in the United States." Under its provisions, with respect to those industries where it is operative, Dr. Clark goes on to say, it becomes unlawful for employers to lock out their workmen or for employees to strike until an investigation of the causes of the dispute has been made by a Government board appointed for each particular case, and its report made public. It usually tries by conciliation to bring the conflicting parties to an agreement.

Each board continues its own procedure. It has no power to force men to work against their will, or employees to give them work. It is in no sense a scheme of compulsory arbitration. After the board has made its report the strike or the lockout can proceed as it no action had been taken, though the public is more likely to be annoyed as to the merits of the dispute and the force of public opinion becomes more potent accordingly. If a strike action is taken by either party before the board has acted, the employer is liable to a fine of from one hundred to one thousand dollars and each striker to one varying from ten to fifty dollars.

During the last session bills embodying some of the provisions of the Canadian legislation were introduced in the Legislatures of New York and Wisconsin. In the former State this has never emerged from the committee. In the latter it has received somewhat but no consideration though not yet enacted into a law. It has been opposed there by organized labor on the ground that it would weaken the unions, but in Canada, Dr. Clark notes, the law has been found difficult of application only in those cases where labor was not well organized. Commenting upon Dr. Clark's admirable review of Canadian effort to minimize the evils of industrial troubles, the Boston Transcript emphasizes that "the most appropriate remedy for the sober second thought and frequently counts for a good deal." It is a frequent declaration of the other side of the coin, however, that there is nothing to arbitrate. Under the provisions of this Act, the question is determined by a more impartial tribunal than the parties themselves and the public is not left so much at the mercy of the other side of the coin as it is in the case of the strike which affects the welfare of the community.

Merchants' Day ?

It was suggested to the Greetings not long ago that something might be done by the merchants to secure a portion of the large amount of cash that is going out of the town and vicinity to help swell the bank accounts of department store merchants in Upper Canada. Merchants' Day has proved an excellent institution in various towns of the provinces and might well be adopted by the merchants of St. George. For several years no attempt has been made to attract a crowd, as it usually done in other towns, by public forms of entertainment on public holidays, but in days gone by St. George has given some very successful "celebrations," and the large throngs of out-of-town people that gathered here on these occasions prove that it only needs some motive to bring the people together and they will not disregard the opportunity. Splendid results have been reported from other towns, and where once tried Merchants' Day generally becomes an established feature.

To make it a success the plan should be well organized, the merchants working in harmony and agreeing upon individual lines to offer discount upon, so that there may be a fair understanding and a fair opportunity for each.

Some offset to the greed of outside merchants and their attractive cash bargains is becoming a necessity if the retail merchants of the towns are to hold what rightfully belongs to them.

"In union there is strength" and what one merchant cannot do individually can be successfully accomplished by co-operation. It is a problem that the merchants must work out for themselves sooner or later, either individually or collectively and the sooner they combine to meet the enemy on his own ground the better. They must also meet him with his own weapons. The catalogue has undoubtedly come to stay. So has news paper advertising. This paper has turned down several attractive advertising propositions from the mail order houses in the past few weeks. The same methods must be employed by the home merchants as by the outsider if his competition is to be successfully met.

The home dealer might just as well close his doors to the public first as to discard his weapon in the shape of advertising, for by doing so he only admits his weakness which the public will not be long in finding out.

Opening of New Baseball Diamond

(Written by Dan Gillmor, Jr.)

The new baseball diamond was formally opened on Thursday evening. Two teams picked by the managing committee met at O'Brien & Gillmor's corner, and headed by the St. George Cornet Band marched to the new field, in the rear of the Baptist Parsonage. That the Baseball Association is determined to have the best attainable is evinced by the appearance of the new grounds. The latter once uneven, swampy, and uneven with rank grass is now level and dry. It has been ploughed, harrowed, and rolled and now lies smooth and hard and when it is roughly dried out will be the fastest diamond in the lower provinces.

The infield is almost perfect, and with a little use it will be. The outfield is some yards larger than the regulation grounds in the large cities. In the rear of the catcher's box is a wire screen back stop to stop foul balls. Arrived at the grounds the parade broke up and the teams scattered over the new field for a little practice. At 12 Mr. George Frauley, who umpired the game, called for order and introduced Dr. Taylor—the team's generous benefactor—to the players and crowd. The Doctor congratulated the Association on their field and thanked them for the honor they had done him in selecting him to pitch the first ball in the game. Umpire Frauley escorted the Doctor to the pitcher's box. The two teams lined up along the home plate and then the Doctor with the skill still left from the college days threw the ball, and amid great applause the Doctor walked from the diamond, and the teams lined up for the game as follows:—

|------------|-------------|--|
| Kentites   | O'Neillians | Hinds  |
| Magowan    | Pitcher     | Gillmor  |
| Austin     | Catcher     | J. Meating   |
| Kent       | 1st Base    | A. Johnson   |
| Lord       | 2nd "       | C. McGrattan   |
| Young      | 3rd "       | O'Neill  |
| Mann       | Short stop  | McNichol   |
| H. Stewart | Left field  | Matheson   |
| F. Hubbard | Right "     | McLanaghan   |
| J. Gordon  | Centre "    | O'Neill's side took the field and McGowan faced Hinds. Haze started the fireworks and before the inning was half over the O'Neillians were in the air; easy grounders went through the infield the out field dropped nearly all the flies that came their way and the runners stole bases at will on the catcher. Hinds seemed to be the only steady man on the team and he succeeded in cooling down the others and eventually the Kentites were retired having scored eight runs. In their half of the innings the O'Neillians had scored one run before they were retired. In the second inning the Kentites were blanked and from that on they seemed to deteriorate as the O'Neillians piled up fifteen runs before the game was called at the end of the fifth inning on account of darkness. Taken all around it was a good game. Perhaps its most prominent feature was the hard hitting and the good pitching. The fielding was poor. The excitement was intense and at some points was even at fever heat. The attendance was estimated at over 500 and they were not slow in praising good work and roasting errors. As an Umpire George Frauley was a success. His decisions were delivered conscientiously and he got very little roasting, a good deal of which the best of umpires generally get. |

Summary of Game.
Kentites 5, 0, 0, 0, 0—8
O'Neillians 1, 2, 4, 5, 3—15.
Umpire—Frauley.
Attendance 500.

What the Fans Think.

From those playing in Thursday's game there will be no difficulty in picking a strong team to defend St. George's laurels. With Magowan, Hinds, Gillmor and Austin there is a good supply from which to pick a battery and all the material has not yet been tested. McNichol is a find, with adequate coaching he will develop into a top notcher. Tom Kent belongs the honor of having made the first long hit on the new grounds. He lined out a beauty for centre which will stand as a record for some time. Taken all round the hitting was good but the fielding was poor. Much practice must be put in on throwing before the team can be perfected. Magowan pitched with his old time cleverness. His curves were well arranged and very baffling. Both teams showed up fast on the bases and the way in which they got around the bags was not altogether due to the poor throwing. Their speed will be the terror of many a catcher. The new grounds are a pleasure to play on. St. George is lucky to possess such a fine diamond, it is as far ahead of the old field as day is of night. Hinds swift ball fanned many a batter on Thursday. He watched the men on bases well, had good control and was cool all through the game. He was weak at the bat, however. The crowd was the best behaved and most enthusiastic which has watched a game here for many a day. Perhaps this was due to the large number of the fair sex who attended. The out fielders, though they had little work to do showed up well. They are fast and judged what balls they got very nicely.

The chauffeur, who was badly injured, says something went wrong with the flow of gasoline, and Gibson got out to see what the trouble was. He opened the tank, and in some unknown way, let off the highest car that he was smoking. Instantly there was a frightful explosion and the machine was blown to pieces. Gibson was pushed against a tree and broke his neck. Gibson's body was sent home to Newark.

Baseball at Lord's Cove

The Baseball Season began at Lord's Cove when on the 14th, of June they played their first game of the season when a picnic was held at Cline's Grove, one of the wilder places that a man can find. It is passing you will find the neat little store of J. D. Cline, general merchant.

Two games were played on the 14th, of June between Eastport and Lord's Cove also the Indians of Pleasant Point were present. The Lord's Cove Crescents defeated the teams Eastport 5--Lord's Cove 9; Indians 3; Lord's Cove 5. Both games were interesting. The Crescents deserve credit as this was their first game of the season. St. George was loaned a fine team so we would welcome them to Lord's Cove at any time. The Crescents propose playing a number of games this season, providing Mr. Richardson's arm will do the work. N. B.--Send to "Greetings" from a Lord's Cove fan.

Five Weeks With the Fruit Growers

A. G. Turney, Provincial Horticulturist returned ten days ago from a five weeks tour among the illustration orchards and fruit growers. The Government orchards at Agdover, Stanley, Doaktown, Chatham, Teta-gouche, Balmoral and Bucotouche were visited and pruned and a number of trees replaced. New illustration orchards were set at Little Shenogue, Westmoreland County, and Plaster Rock. All the illustration orchards have been pruned with the exception of those at New Brandon, and Kingston and Upper Queensbury. Five hundred trees were planted and pruned on the farm of Philibert Dupres Corn'erville, Kent Co. Five hundred trees belonging to Stanislas Cormie at Aboujajane, Westmoreland County were pruned and assistance in planting and pruning private orchards given in the counties of Kings, Victoria and Carleton. The trees are in bloom exceptionally early this year and in some localities slight damage from frost is reported. As an instance of the early season the eggs of the tent caterpillar were reported hatched April 27th. This insect and the larva of the bud moth are increasing steadily from year to year and spraying will have to be more generally adopted if their ravages are to be checked.

EXHIBITS FROM EVERYWHERE

The Executive of the big Dominion Exhibition to be held in St. John, N. B., September 25th to 15th next, divided upon two important matters when they abandoned the idea of charging floor rent for exhibitor's spaces in their buildings, and decided also to pay all freight charges on western exhibits as far east as Montreal. These two decisions to exhibit have proved a veritable boon, and the wisdom of Manager Good's suggestion is already exemplified in a heavy response from all over the Dominion. Already applications have been received from manufacturing concerns in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton and other points west, as well as from notable America establishments.

It will be somewhat familiar and exceedingly interesting to come in close contact with the exhibits, personal representatives and demonstrators of goods which most eastern folks see advertised in their magazines and in the national press. As de from this, the national character of the exposition will bring with it a large number of displays usually seen at the official fairs of the Dominion Government, which the Dominion St. John will enjoy this year. Spurred by special offers because of these conditions, St. John, New Brunswick, and Maritime Provincial manufacturers and others are planning upon making expensive displays and the St. John Board of Trade is putting forth a great effort to bring towards the same end. This is a fine and long weeks prior to the opening of the exhibition a great number of exhibits, entertainment, amusements, exhibitions, camp and shows, will be given in the same and all in all the available remaining space. This means that it will show in every sense of the word.

THE NEW REMEDY FOR
Nervous Exhaustion
The depression experienced by women during convalescence from childbirth is never forgotten. The sense of utter nerve fatigue blots out interest in everything. "ASA-YA-NEURALL" is invaluable at such times. It feeds the nerves, induces sleep, quickens the appetite, aids digestion, and soon buoyancy of spirits and the sense of nervous vitality returns. It is a bottle. Obtain from the local agent.

Deputy Minister Johnston

The appointment of Mr. Alexander Johnston, of Sydney, to the position of Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, rendered vacant by the transfer of Mr. Desbarats to the deputyship of the new Naval Service Branch, enrolls in the public service of the Dominion a young man of excellent business and executive ability and of the highest personal worth. In the Provincial Legislature and in the House of Commons Mr. Johnston early exhibited the qualities of a capable parliamentarian, and during his eight years at Ottawa he won distinction as one of the brightest and ablest members of the younger element in Parliament. The fact that he had been marked out for abuse and calumny by a certain small section of the Opposition press, did not impair the good repute in which he is held by friend and foe. Nova Scotia has had no more popular representative at Ottawa during the past ten years and none who was more faithful and alert in presenting its claims and forwarding its interests than Mr. Johnston. He enjoyed in a special degree the confidence of the Parliamentary leaders, and on many occasions he was able to render invaluable service for the Province. Liberals everywhere, and we believe, too, the fair-minded and fight-thinking men of the Conservative Party, who are free to recognize Mr. Johnston's many good qualities of head and heart, his rigid integrity and his sterling character, will welcome his selection for this important office—one of the most important departmental posts in the administrative service of the Dominion. The operations of the Marine and Fisheries Department affect the Maritime Provinces so intimately, that it is a matter for congratulation that a gentleman so well equipped by training and experience and so familiar with Maritime conditions as is Mr. Johnston has been chosen as Deputy Minister. We congratulate the Government upon a most worthy appointment. There may be ample confidence that the duties of the Deputy Minister, in Mr. Johnston's hands, will be honorably and efficiently performed.

The Doctor's Record.

A leading doctor in a big Western city has a dash of Indian blood in him and is very proud of it. While walking with a friend one day he said: "I have just found a book about a chief who was one of my ancestors. He was a great man. He was a warrior, a man of mighty prowess in battle. Why, I learn from that book that he, personally killed scores of his foes. He killed nearly a hundred persons himself."

"Well," said the friend, "he hasn't got anything on you."

"Perhaps not," replied the doctor thoughtfully, "but we must give him credit just the same. You see, he never had my opportunities."

Lucky Clergyman in Nova Scotia

Amherst, June 11.—A rather interesting story, says the News, comes from the vicinity of the Cobequids, where a young Baptist minister was laboring for love of the cause and a small salary. Like many young men he was not heart whole and was anxious to take to himself a helpmate to assist him in his work. He lately received word that a relative in England who had completed his days of tribulation here below had left him about $100,000 in cold plunks. The young clergyman at once applied for a leave of absence and rumor hath it that he will shortly make claim to both bride and fortune.

Roosevelt's Speech Discussed In Commons.

Britain Is Prepared To Act When Occasion Demands It.

London, January 13.—Theodore Roosevelt's Gaihi Hall speech led to a lengthy discussion of Egyptian affairs in the House of Commons tonight. The Conservatives demanded what course the Ministers proposed to pursue, and some of the Liberal members denounced what they termed Mr. Roosevelt's interference.

Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the Opposition, expressed warm appreciation of Mr. Roosevelt's sympathetic and kindly treatment of the subject. There was nothing in the speech, he said to which the most sensitive being could take exception. The situation in Egypt, he declared, called for prompt action, and he hoped that the government would take steps to support the British representative there without which they would be helpless.

Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary replying to the criticisms on behalf of the Government, said that Mr. Roosevelt's speech was communicated to him before it was delivered. He had seldom listened to a speech with greater pleasure. Its intention, he said was obvious and taken as a whole it was the greatest compliment to the work of one country ever paid by a citizen of another. There was nothing in the present situation in Egypt, the Foreign Minister declared to occasion disquiet or justify a sudden resort to unusual methods, but if the symptoms already noted of anti-British agitation continued, the Government would take measures to assert its authority and protect the Egyptian Ministers who followed the Government's advice.

Interpellations were submitted to the House during the course of the day hearing on the same subject to which the Secretary of Foreign Affairs made a brief reply.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. The old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of the prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by All Dealers.

Back to the Old Home

The Amherst Daily News has signalized the forthcoming "Old Home Week" in that town—from July 10th to the 23rd—by issuing a coviously illustrated 24-page special number which reflects great credit upon the enterprise of Nova Scotia journalism. Naturally enough, a good deal of the space is devoted to recounting the industrial progress of the Birmingham of Nova Scotia and the achievements of her captains of industry, some of whom have won national reputation. But other departments of the town's life are not overlooked. The news assemblies a number of well-written, interesting and illuminating articles, dealing with the educational, church, athletic and social life of the Town. It contains, too, many well-printed illustrations of the larger industrial plants, public buildings, and excellent portraits of many of the Town's leading citizens and public men. The Old Home Week Number of the Amherst News is a Progress and Prosperity Number, and altogether is so attractive that it ought to serve to induce many of the Camberland's sons and daughters who have gone abroad to revisit the old scenes and to remain there. It will be a useful souvenir of the Old Home Week celebration.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. ### Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the roots of all nerve, all brain, and all blood ailments.

"The Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, causes nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and animation, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Why Take Alcohol?

Are you thin, pale, easily tired, lack your usual vigor and strength? Then your digestion must be poor, your blood thin, your nerves weak. You need a tonic and alterative. You need Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. We believe your doctor would endorse these statements, or we would not make them. Ask him and find out. Follow his advice. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The endorsement of your doctor will certainly greatly increase your confidence in Ayer's Pills as a family laxative. Liver pills. All vegetable. Ask your doctor about them.

The New British Columbia

A. C. Flamerfelt has just issued in pamphlet form, the following essay on British Columbia, by Miss Agnes Deans Cameron:

"So thank I God, my birth Fell not in Isles aside-- Waste headlands of the earth, Or warring tribes untired. Surely in toil or fray, Under an alien sky, Comfort it is to say, 'Of no mean country am I!'"

The native-born of this province who is old enough to look about him and to think may well exclaim: "Fair is our lot, O goodly is our heritage!" "Is British Columbia," we are asked, "as rich potentially as the other provinces of the Dominion?"

Let us count our blessings. In size and location, in magnificence of scenery and diversity of natural wealth, is there any other corner in this good world by nature so richly dowered?

One firm foot on the borders of Alaska, the other on that imaginary dividing line between Canada and the United States, her back resting against the everlasting hills, her face turned westward, looking it into the glare, "seven, indifferent to Fate, she sits at the Western Gate," the waters of the Continent, "British Columbia, brave young giantess, is fitting mother for a lusty and free people."

We have the largest province in the Dominion. British Columbia is big enough to enable us to place in it side by side the sacred time two English, three Irish, and four Scotlands, and when we have these nine countries in, there will be no danger of their dropping out again or falling over the edge, for there will still be 5,000 square miles of country uncovered.

As regards location, it has placed us at the nerve-centre of things. For at London is the centre of the land hemisphere, so British Columbia is at the heart of the Empire, being set at almost equal distances from India, Australia and the Motherland. And we are in the temperate zone, the zone of the thinkers, the cultured, intellectual and progressive people of the race--the world's workers.

We have in our wondrous system of land-locked fjords, islands and mainland, some 7,000 miles of coast-line, with the full sweep of the Pacific, its heaving breezes, modified by the warm waters of the Japan current.

Oceans no longer separate, they join continents. Looking across the water of the millions of our British cousins in India, in Hong Kong, in Australia, and the Isles of the Sea, we catch brief prophetic glimpses of that commercial greatness which the Pacific is just beginning to wait to our shores.

Some one once, in derision, called British Columbia "a sea of mountains," and it is true we have not our share of the rolling prairies of the great North-west. Nature with prodigal hand has given us treasure; it is hidden deep in the earth's bosom. It is from her mines more than from aught else that British Columbia will derive her material wealth as a great nation. Let us escape as a beautiful gift from the hands of generous nature our mountains; they give us scenery majestic and unrivalled; they are nurseries of great rivers which pour their tribute into three oceans; and in their rocky embrace they hold a mineral wealth second to none in the world.

In a measure the mountain separates us from the rest of the Dominion, that rocky rampart would seem to declare that north and south and west rather than to the east should our future commerce be. Seward was our trade in the old days, to the California gold fields, to the mines of Russian America and to sought Honolulu. So seaward to our destiny calls us.

Our commercial future would seem to be invrought with that of Alaska and Mexico, with imperial Japan and the hungry hordes of the Orient.

Inexhaustible, as yet hardly guessed at, are our resources. British Columbia's coal deposits are big enough to fill the world's wants for centuries; we have the greatest compact area of merchantable timber in America; our mines have produced a quarter of a billion dollars, and as yet the surface only of the metaliferous measures has been scratched; the fisheries add to the world's wealth a yearly tale of six millions, and as yet of our three score of food fishes the salmon only has been taken in earnest. Agriculture and fruit return annually to the farmer over six millions, and one tenth only of the land is settled upon, and not one-tenth of that is under cultivation. We have, unexploited, millions of acres of pulpwood running down to sea free winter harbors, Petroleum deposits, magnetite and hematite iron of the highest quality, pyrites, asbestos, plumbago, mica in 28-inch sheets, large deposits of gypsum, native silver amalgam, ores of manganese, chromic iron ore, all these await development.

Building materials of unequalled quality--lime, fire-clay cement, marble, granite and sandstone like the Douglas fir and the pulp-woods, run down obligingly to the sea.

And in the sea swims untouched all up the scale of nature from sardine to cachetot whale economic wealth that would enrich an empire.

With his plethora of potential wealth, "are we sharing ratably in the general prosperity of Canada?"

Perhaps not.

"What is required to bring about the desired condition?"

"I would say that as a Province we need publicity. To attract and hold population two things are needed--first, to have natural advantages; second, to let the world know we have them. The prairie provinces were seized with this truth some three or four years ago, and a determined propaganda of publicity has resulted in an unprecedented rush to possess these golden wheat lands; the great central wheat belt of Canada is the scene today of the greatest economic trek in the world's history.

With a diversity of attractions that the prairies can never hope to offer, British Columbia has seemed to wait for some good-from-the-machine to strike her hour of destiny. Too long a modest violet trumpet-flower would be seasonable variation.

The time is ripe to cry our waves in the market. A vigorous policy of publicity should be inaugurated by the Government. The work already accomplished and that with a very few means, by the Tourist Associations of Victoria and Vancouver, should convincingly prove the wisdom of this. On a larger scale, with wider scope, the Province could work. Illustrated lectures could be undertaken in America, Europe, Australia and the Far East--the three wheat Provinces that the money they spent on the western Canada exhibit, at the Milan exhibition, will return an 80-fold harvest. Authors and artists, by a system of money bonuses, should be encouraged to tell the story of British Columbia, its manufacturing and commercial possibilities.

Incidentally, we need to be seized ourselves with an adequate conception of the bigness of our heritage.

Some one locally suggested last year that the old Quadra street cemetery might be smoothed off and made into a 'rest place.' Rest place forsooth? A rest would seem to me the very last thing that we as a people need. We want some prophet full of nerve and force and initiative to arise in our midst and with live coal from the altar sting us into the vitality of a vigorous aliveness, a realization of the fact that

"This world's no blot for us, nor blank. It means intensely and means good." "Does the difficulty lie in the lack of manufactures, transportation, population, labor, available capital, or in ourselves?"

"The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves." We have most of us been taught the fallacy that this life is a "scale of tears," a "fleeting show," a "time and place of probation," and we sit passive, waiting for some great change to be wrought upon us from without.

Life is real. Five minutes now are as valuable as five minutes of eternity, and as possibility. These are no bible times when men lived and worked two or three hundred years, and if we "would do any good in our day we must about it now. Some of us could count grey hairs before we were seized of this truth, and this brings us to the last demand. 'What steps should be taken to secure the permanent well being of every man and woman in British Columbia?'"

We have enumerated the multifarious factors of the economic wealth of the province, but the greatness of a country in the last analysis does not depend upon the character of its people. History is mankind's message delivered to every man, history is looking backward that we may intelligently look forward. Every national character has been built up through the struggles and poverty harshness of conditions. Not once or twice, but many times have we seen nations out of the very fatness decay. Per head of population, the trade of British Columbia today is the largest in the world, amounting to close upon $300,000,000. Should the development of our natural resources and the intension of thousands of new people increase that trade to $600 or $1,200 per capita, would the wealth without concomitant mental and character development spell 'well-being' for British Columbia.

"I think not. Mr. Flamerfelt's demands strike at the roots of things and touch the verities of life. If the object of existence and the end of education is merely to teach men to make a living, then let us rest as we are. There are no poor in British Columbia, and we can jog along in comparative comfort as it is, three meals a day for us all, and for the luxurious, a long lie and a tea breakfast on Sunday.

The hope of British Columbia lies in her children. These, more than coal measures or seines of lordly salmon or heaven-lifting Douglas firs, are her richest asset. The most perplexing questions of today will be in the hands of our children for solution after we are dust and our spool swords rust. In their training to a full sweet womanhood, a virile manhood, is our hope as a nation.

Great is the power of environment. In her giant mountains, lone lakes, deep rushing rivers and lush valleys, nature intended the Pacific Province to cradle a people big and broad and unselfish. To this and we want an educational system, freed from politics, we want as teachers men and women big enough to know their power and their high privilege, strongly possessed of the truth that dollars do not spell 'well-being,' that this sorry scheme of things embraces more than make a living, that we are here for a deeper purpose--to live a life. They must teach our boys and girls that in the deepest and truest sense each of us is our brother's keeper, that in the final analysis nothing that is selfish can survive, be that selfishness national or individual, and that all questions must be settled not by self-interest but by justice, by merciful considerations and mercenary ones.

We want in British Columbia an aroused public opinion, and we want our broadest-minded and deepest-thinking men to forego personal ease and take hold of the helm.

Our hope is in the homes and the schools. Here and not in the bank-clearings and customs returns our national destiny is even now being wrought out. If ever a new country had an opportunity of covering a school system to meet its own needs, British Columbia is that country. A people somewhat apart we can afford to slough off from our school programmes some of the dry bones of the valley, and from the very beginnings let our children realize that they move in a live world. Let the message we bring them a mile-stone farther on be one of good cheer, and remember that it is the feet of Him who brought glad tidings that are beautiful. Nine times out of ten if you make a child happy you have made him good. All the grand beauty of this favored land is lost to the children if we cannot contrive to let them live near to nature's heart. I often think a child gets more moral uplift from the six weeks in summer when he wanders at will, than during the forty-six weeks when we ostensibly "educate" him within walls. Blessings on that rare teacher (may her tribe increase) who takes her little flock into the fields and teaches them to name and love every British Columbia bird and flower.

We should make our children realize that destiny has not intended them to

They come of a race of workers, and to whom much is given them is much required. As British subjects, they belong to the greatest commercial nation of the world; Anglo-Saxons; they are the dominant race; Canadian; they are a self-governing people, a free people, they will be called upon to make the laws under which, and protected by which, they will live. Tell them of their inheritance, not also the inheritance of rich mine and fertile field and fortune holding forest. Let them realize into what a glorious brotherhood they are born, they truly are sprung from earth's noblest--the good King Alfred; de Montford, the Father of the Commons; John Hampden; Latimer and Ridley; Nelson and the Iron Duke; the gallant Sidney, on Zutphen's field dying in agony that another's first might be quenched; silver-haired Caxton, in the old Almonry bending over the clumsy types of our first printing press; Wilberforce, who made of slaves free men; Florence Nightingale and John Howard, bringing life and hope and courage to the dying and the soul sick, heroes on the battlefield, martyrs for the faith!

Within them as we look on the scroll of the past enrolled, we are very proud, as we look forward to the road we are opening up for the children we are very humble.

If commerce is enterprising enough to build a million dollar hotel on the mud flats, and if politics ensconces itself in a stone palace of equal cost even now somewhere amid the oak groves of Victoria should be building the walls of the British Columbia University, a new vital, growing institution dedicated to the making of men and women, and full of the mellow juice of life. We have talked university and written university and in the temple of the wise at James Bay has been debated university for more than one decade. When we really want it, we will simply start to build it.

"There shall come from out this nose of strife and groaning A broader and a juster brotherhood, A deep equality of aim juxtaposing All selfish seeking in the general good; There shall come a time when knowledge wide extended Sinks each man's pleasure in the general health, And all shall hold irrevocably blended The individual and the commonwealth."

--Victoria Colonist.

The Trooper's Wise Steed.

Trooper Brown of the British Territorials was "green." His horse, likewise unaccustomed to war, seemed from its appearance and general structure to have not been very long ago a gray horse. But it was a wise animal, and learned through experience that to keep one's mouth shut is to avoid many troubles. Much practice had enabled it to keep its mouth shut very successfully, and very tight.

On the first morning parade in Trooper Brown's first camp the Lieutenant rode down the lines of his company.

"All the men turned out, Sergeant-Major," he queried.

"Yesir," said the Sergeant-Major, "all except Trooper Brown. He's waiting for his horse to yawn, so's he can slip the bit in, but the worst of it is, sir, the brute doesn't seem a bit tired--Trit-Bits."
