DEFENCELESS KOREANS MADE VICTIMS OF MASSACRE AND WIDESPREAD BRUTALITY

Commission, After Three Months' Study of Korean Affairs Makes a Report Substantiating the Charge That the Japanese Colonial System is Thoroughly Prussian in Its Military Severity—Everywhere in Korea the Sword is the Emblem of Authority—Korean Christians Subjected to All Manner of Cruelties and Torture.

New York, July 15.—The following statement, concerning the situation in Korea, was given out here today by the Commission on Relations with the Orient of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, of which commission William Haven is chairman and Sydney Dulick is secretary.

"The reports of atrocities against the Korean population, and especially against the native Christians, that have been coming from Korea for several months are confirmed in substance by a special report, about to be issued by the commission on relations with the Orient of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The commission has no jurisdiction to speak on the political issues at stake in Korea, yet, representing the Christian sentiment of a majority of American churches, it cannot remain silent when a defenceless people are made the victims of massacre and widespread brutality.

"After nearly three months' study of the Korean situation, this commission is issuing a statement, based on the examination of about 1,000 pages of manuscript reports of committees, letters, and of the personal accounts of responsible eye-witnesses to the events attending the Korean demonstrations in favour of national independence, and their ruthless suppression by the Japanese military government, which substantiates the charges that the Japanese colonial system, which has been forced upon the Koreans, is thoroughly Prussian in its military severity and its treatment of the native population.

"Everywhere in Korea, it is stated, the sword is the emblem of authority, and the civil and military police, but it is in general use by all Japanese officials, and even by male school teachers in the classroom. The attitude of the Japanese officials toward their Korean subjects is overbearing in the extreme. The recent movement for independence was crushed by the Japanese, and the country is now a scene of national extinction, and for the recovery of the national rights of justice, such as

MARINE STRIKE REACHES VERY SERIOUS PHASE

Now Takes on International Aspect With Crews from Ships of Foreign Register Quitting Their Duties Despite Protests.

History All "Bunk," Says Henry Ford in His Libel Suit

Mr. Ford admitted ignorance of history, and said that more than ever he considered it "bunk" growing out of tradition; nor had he any personal use for music or other forms of art. He reaffirmed his belief that professional soldiers are murderers, nor would he exempt General Pershing or General Grant from this category. He said that his present view is for the fullest preparation, unless there is a League of Nations, and that if the war just concluded in Europe does not result in such a league, he favors another great war without delay in order to clean up the situation so thoroughly that universal peace would be had. It developed that Theodore Lavigne, a publicity agent for the League of Nations, and that of Mr. Ford's pacifist literature, and that much of it was circulated broadcast without Mr. Ford having read it.

Mr. Ford stated that he would send a cable message to Joseph H. Wilson, head of the National Firemen and Sailors' Union of Great Britain, and informing him of the sentiment among British crews here.

"We don't want this," he said, "but you can see how the strike festered. We must stop it, and I have ordered my delegates to instruct the crews of foreign ships to stay on their boats."

About 10,000 members of the American Seamen's Union are employed on ships of foreign registry, Mr. Brown declared. He does not possess a complete list of the foreign vessels, but he said that he had named the Dutch steamer Pollock, the Cuban steamer Constantine, and the Booth ship.

A general conference of leaders of all workers' organizations, including those involved in the strike, and unions not yet affected, was held here today at headquarters of the Marine Engineers. General strike headquarters of the workers were established here this afternoon, and tonight reports were received from Philadelphia, Philadelphia, Port Arthur, Galveston, Mobile, Boston, Newport News and New Orleans, declaring ships are being tied up in those ports as fast as they dock.

Thomas Conway, business agent of the Marine Firemen's Local at Buffalo, reported by telegraph that the Great Lakes board for European ports through the St. Lawrence has refused to sign on for further than Montreal. It was stated tonight that several companies have met the union demands. Among those enumerated were the Eastern Steamship Company, Boston; French-American Transport Company, Brook Steamship Company, Cuban Distilling Company and Foreign Transport Mercantile Company.

CONSIDERED IT A PLEASURE TO SERVE CANADIANS

A. and Bull Dog Club all express pleasure at the opportunity of serving Canadian soldiers and appreciation and assistance shown by military authorities. The Canadian Red Cross says it has been a great privilege to assist the sick and wounded.

MINTO MINERS RESTLESS AND ALL READY TO STRIKE

Have Made Certain Demands of the Minto Coal Co. Which Must be Granted by 17th or Strike Follows.

Sydney, N. S., July 15.—Failure of the management of the coal mines at Minto, New Brunswick, to accede, by July 17th, to the demands as to wages and working conditions, made by the Minto local of the United Mine Workers, will result in an immediate application by the miners for an appointment of a conciliation board. Silby Barrett, who returned from an official trip to Minto, states. Mr. Barrett said for some little time past there had been difficulty between the Minto miners and Manager Henderson, formerly of Inverness. The men, he went on, were working a ten hour day under conditions which made it impossible for them to earn more than $3.50 or $4.00 a day. Complaints were made by the men, but Manager Henderson, Mr. Barrett declared, had refused to meet committees of the workers. Mr. Barrett, on reaching Minto met the men and also made an endeavor to have a conference with Manager Henderson. The management, however, refused to confer with him, saying that he had nothing to discuss with Mr. Barrett. The membership of the United Mine Workers' local is so greatly increased that it now includes 96 per cent of the working forces of 450 men. After consideration the men decided to demand a ten per cent increase in wages, the institution of

SHANTUNG PENINSULA AFFAIR PROVOKES STORMY SCENES IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE

Sir Carson's Speech Gets the Hammer

Manchester Guardian Thinks Sir Edward Should be Punished Under Defence of the Realm Act for Inflaming the Public.

London, July 15.—(O. A. P.)—Sir Edward Carson's speech, condemning the Dominion Home Rule scheme for Ireland, and threatening in extremity to call out the Ulster volunteers, was mentioned in the Commons, but the Ulster leader is unrepentant and has made another speech attacking his adversaries in the press. He is again subject to newspaper comment. The Times calls upon the government to do something for Ireland and says that Carson has conferred a character of lawlessness upon others who do like the present state of things.

The Daily Express says Carson must know that Great Britain does not dream of inflicting injustice on Ulster. It is serious, in these times, to talk of revolt, and it is amazing such talk should come from Sir Edward Carson, the paper concludes.

The Manchester Guardian thinks the speech could be heavily punished under the Defence of the Realm Act. "We know from Carson that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, and if this kind of incitement is permitted on one side, it cannot be punished on the other."

The Morning Post, the uncompromising opponent of the separation policy, applauds the speech, it says: "The Dominion Home Rule is no more acceptable to Ulster than it is among the Sinn Feiners. It is applauded only by those who are disgraced either in England or in Ireland, and who, if they had the power to impose the scheme, would certainly back the Ulster Home Rule as a means of escape, and in regard to that act of the Ulster Home Rule, it is not for its beneficiaries any single one to say a word for it."

CHEMISTS MEET IN CONVENTION AT SYDNEY

A. F. Blake, of This City, Chemist at the Atlantic Sugar Co's Plant, Gives An Interesting Paper.

Sydney, N. S., July 15.—The Maritime Chemist Association, which is composed of the leading chemists of the Province, opened its semi-annual convention here this morning with a short business session in the N. S. Mining Society's rooms on Charlotte street, which is to be followed by a visit to the Dominion Iron and Steel Company's plant this afternoon. Dr. E. MacKay, of Dalhousie University, president of the Association, was in the chair at the meeting. Two interesting papers were read, one by A. F. Blake, chief chemist at the Atlantic Sugar Company's plant, and the other by I. C. Mackie, of this city, on "the use of benzol products as motor fuel."

FOODS ARE STILL GOING HIGHER

Ottawa, July 15.—The cost of living is still going up. Labor Department returns show the increase during June to have been slight, however. The average cost of a list of twenty-nine staple foods in some sixty cities at the middle of the month, was $13.72 as compared with $13.53 at the middle of May; $12.79 in June, 1918, and $7.25 in June, 1914.

THE ALLIED COUNCIL ADVISES AGAINST BUYING SECURITIES

Paris, July 15.—The Inter-Allied Council today asked all nations to oppose the sale in their countries of the securities held in Hungary and which the Hungarian Soviet government has ordered the banks to deliver. It was said that the deliveries of these securities were being made. The council directed the attention of these securities were being made, well as Germany and Austria, to the danger that might follow the use of these funds for propaganda.

The Council of Five, it was said in a despatch on July 9, was considering a note to Bela Kun, head of the Hungarian Soviet government, disapproving his plan to sell securities held in Hungary, and also a note to all nations advising that these securities be not purchased.

CANADA NOW PERMITTED TO EXPORT TO FORMER ENEMIES

The Trade Commission Will Now Grant Export Permits to Germany and German Austria on the Same Terms as to Other Countries.

Ottawa, July 15.—As trading with Germany and German-Austria is now allowed, export permits to those countries can be granted by the Canadian Trade Commission on the same terms as to other countries. A cablegram received today from the Canadian mission states that a "trading with the enemy license" has been issued in Great Britain, and that all goods not on the conservation list are allowed to be shipped without individual export license.

This is supplemented by the information forwarded to the trade commission from Washington, that a general enemy trade license is being issued by the United States government enabling "all persons to communicate and trade with persons residing in Germany" subject to a few specific limitations.

Hungary and Bohemia-Russia are not included in the permission. Another cable from London to the commission states that the importation of goods into Great Britain from other former enemy countries is permitted, as it was not found possible to establish working machinery for certifying the percentage of German, Austrian or Hungarian manufacture in the importation.

VETERAN KEEPS HIS VOW MADE 48 YEARS AGO

Hero of the Franco-German War Vowed After Disarmament in 1871 Never to Cut His Hair or Beard Until France Had Revenge on Germany.

THE HAIRY GROWTH REMOVED MONDAY

Special to The Standard.

Montreal, July 15.—J. A. Cholley, a veteran of the Franco-German war, has made good his vow, pronounced after his disarmament in 1871, not to cut his hair or his beard until France had taken her revenge on Germany, and, after waiting for 48 years, he sat, last Monday, in a barber's chair for a complete clipping of his scalp and a fancy trimming of his beard. He had been like that of Peter the Hermit, and now is like that of Napoleon III, the last French Emperor. But that patriotism of Mr. Cholley did not confine itself to a superfluous growth of hair and beard. It affirmed itself in many other ways. He was wounded twice during the 1870-1871 campaign, got two promotions, and in the grand total of two medals, one of which is for having been made a prisoner after he had been wounded. He came to Canada in 1888 and took to farming, but what success he met with was not enough to keep him out of the city, and so he came into Montreal, some fifteen years ago, and worked as a laborer in the streets of Montreal.

Immediately after the declaration of war in 1914, Cholley was, like in 1870, on the first to report for duty. He was exactly the 146th to report to the French Consulate and took the first ship to France. Unfortunately his age was against him, and he was sent back to Canada, having to pay his own return fare. He then took employment with Harbor Board. He wrote to the Duke of Connaught personally, asking to be taken in the British army without the required medical examination. The Duke of Connaught replied, through his secretary, that it was impossible to ignore age restrictions, but that the veteran was as useful on the water front as on the battlefield. That letter Cholley is keeping as his most precious belonging, and he wrapped it in his white locks of hair and beard to be secreted in the value which the guardian of his most tender souvenirs. He intends going to France again next winter and will part neither with the Connaught letter nor the wrapping of his 46 year old hair and beard.

A sweeping request for information about the conversations at Versailles also was sent to the White House by the Foreign Relations Committee, which adopted a resolution by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, calling for all proposed drafts for a league covenant, for reports of the arguments relative to the League, and for all data bearing upon, or used in connection with, the treaty of peace."

At its meeting the committee began the reading of the treaty, covering in less than two hours about one-fifth of its sections, but passing over future consideration the League covenant, the boundaries of Germany, and many minor provisions. The reading will continue tomorrow.

FOUR SEPARATE SETS OF PRIZES FOR SEPARATE DISTRICTS IN ST. JOHN'S

Candidates Enter Contest from District in Which They Reside But May Secure Subscriptions Anywhere and Compete for the Prizes Against Those in Their Own District--This Makes Four Separate Contests Under One Big Head--Choice of Automobiles Goes to Highest in Each District.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL NEARLY END OF CONTEST TO SEND IN YOUR APPLICATION

There seems to be some question in the minds of candidates and prospective subscribers in regard to where they may solicit subscriptions, many whom the contest manager has interviewed seem to think that they are permitted to secure subscriptions only in the district from which they enter the contest. To correct this misunderstanding it might be well to say that a candidate is permitted to secure subscriptions anywhere in the world and are not confined to the district from which they enter the contest. Candidates for instance who live in one of the districts outside St. John may come to St. John and solicit subscriptions, also those who are abroad in St. John may solicit subscriptions in the districts or anywhere they choose for that matter. It is not uncommon to get subscriptions from all over the Dominion or even from the United States. Candidates are furnished with a form letter which they may send to their friends anywhere and these letters which are being subscriptions from all parts of the world. Subscriptions have been received from China and many foreign countries.

A candidate enters the contest from the district in which they live and they compete for the prizes offered for that district. The prizes are awarded in each district besides the cash prizes for those who do not win one of the grand prizes. This makes four separate contests under one big head. The candidate getting the greatest number of votes in the entire contest territory will have first choice of the four automobiles offered, the next highest vote-getter will have second choice, the third highest third choice and the remaining automobile will go to the remaining district. Only so far as choice in the district is concerned are candidates competing against those in their own district. In sending in your application, look over the districts as published in the Standard or in the prospectus, decide which district you live in and fill out your application blank accordingly. The contest territory is divided into districts as follows:

District 1—City of St. John.
District 2—Includes Kings, Albert, Westmorland and St. John counties (City of St. John excluded) and Nova Scotia.
District 3—Includes Charlotte, Queens, Sunbury, Kent, Northumberland and Gloucester counties.
District 4—Includes York, Victoria, Madawaska and Restigouche counties.

One prospective candidate writes in saying that he is late in starting but thinks it possible to win an automobile if the territory in which he lives is not already taken. Perhaps others feel the same way about it and the answer to this is that the contest has not started yet and it will not be too late to enter for some time and as for a territory being already taken, there is no such thing in this contest for no one candidate has a claim on any one territory, all being permitted to solicit anywhere they care to. The only way a territory could be in any way taken, would be in a case where some live candidate had entered and secured a prize. The prospectus of subscriptions from everybody in rather elaborate and would take time to set in motion. Proper care of the children by early states was the policy he advocated. Dr. Melvin was of the opinion that stam conditions were responsible for most of the subacute deaths. Dr. Abramson was of the opinion that stam conditions were the prime requisite. Doctors McDonald, Rowley and Wetmore also discussed the topic.

Dr. Murray then read a paper on serum treatment of hantavirus pneumonia, saying that three distinct types had been recognized and serums were being prepared for them. For the first time a serum had been prepared through infection of horses. He spoke of the need of diagnosis of type by laboratory tests and the methods of administering the serums stating that its effect as a life saving discovery was very striking. Campbellton spoke of the use of phytogen serum and Dr. Wetmore asked Dr. Abramson if too much time would not be taken in making the serum and said that he believed within the same time by special connections along the North Shore.

Dr. L. G. Plunk, Campbellton, continued his talk on a rare variety of double uterus, which was commenced at the afternoon session, and his talk, which was interesting and curious personally, was particularly interesting and was duplicated to a certain extent by the experience of Dr. McKenzie, of Montreal, who spoke of peculiar growths which he had encountered, one of which, a Moncton case, was the only one of its kind in the Dominion.

Dr. A. R. Landry, Moncton, spoke on "The Common Cause of Abdominal Pains in Children," stating in the course of his remarks that eminent chest and surgeons had concluded that no matter what the symptoms might be it would not be an erroneous matter to look first to appendicitis as the cause of the complaint. Acute pneumonia and acute pleurisy, he pointed out, are common things taken for appendicitis, and it would be a proper caution to look to chest conditions first to the abdomen when treating abdominal afflictions in the children. He cited cases he had observed in Paris and elsewhere, and the case of a child who had been in hospital for a long time with a stomach and intestinal trouble. For six years he had practiced in Edmonton and there did not come across a single case of intestinal worms, but at Moncton where his present practice is, he stated that practically 80 per cent of the children there are so infested with intestinal worms that he would, participated in by the chairman, Dr. White, Dr. Macaulay, Dr. Curran and Dr. Heddon.

Dr. St. John, gave a most interesting and particularly amusing talk on "Foreign Bodies," the cases and exhibits covered the removal of whistles, safety pins, coins— which he got from the children's operations—buttons, gall stones (large as a pre-war whiskey cork, (large as a doctor), and gum, the various objects removed from the body. The X-ray photos shown were very interesting. In the discussion which followed, Dr. McKenzie referred to a patient taken from the G. P. H. Dr. Landry recalled the removal of a set of false teeth which had been swallowed. Dr. McKenzie, in a case, in which a thermometer was recovered, also a watch of gum and a small glass pen-holder, while stapes, stapes, Dr. Curran, Dr. Prater and an ordinary shoe button figured in other cases which were brought up by Dr. White and Dr. Pinaut.

The convention will meet this morning at ten o'clock for sectional sessions and will conclude this afternoon with joint discussions.

Canadian Shipping Is Greatly Needed

Not One Soldier Crossed the Atlantic in a Canadian Registered Ship—Lack of Canadian Ships Has Proven Costly to the Dominion.

"It is a rather humiliating fact that not a single Canadian soldier was taken to the war or brought back in a ship registered in Canada," said a local shipping man yesterday. "For a country that was once fourth in the list of shipping nations, and has now the greatest single railway system on earth or neglect of our Maritime opportunities is peculiar to say the least. If the strike of miners in Cape Breton serves to direct public attention to our shortcomings in the matter of shipping, it may prove a blessing in disguise, for to a great extent the trouble there is a result of our policy of neglecting shipping.

"When the British government requisitioned the shipping, 75,000 tons employed in the Canadian coal trade, the effect was serious, Senator Nickle pointing out the other day that owing to lack of shipping the transport of Nova Scotia coal to St. Lawrence ports had fallen off by 2,000,000 tons per year. This threw the business of supplying coal to Upper Canada in the hands of the United States, the result being that the consumer has had to pay a big price for coal, while it has been necessary to export gold to pay for the $30,000,000 worth of coal purchased in the States. More or less directly we may attribute to this the fact that the rate of exchange in now against the Canadian dollar in the States, which affects business men everywhere.

"If the coal boats had been registered in Canada, the British shipping controller could not have requisitioned them, and there would have been no excuse for an increase of 600 per cent in the cost of moving coal from Sydney to Montreal. The shipping shortage has meant a loss of $100,000 to Nova Scotia government in royalties on coal, and owing to the inability to ship coal the six thousand Nova Scotia miners who have returned from the war have little immediate prospect of employment."

The annual reunion of the staff of the P. S. Simms Company was held last evening in Bond's. About one hundred and fifteen were present at a banquet and a most enjoyable time was spent. L. W. Simms, president of the company, was in the chair and during the evening gave an interesting address on reminiscences of the year. He dealt with his recent visit to Europe and the conditions prevailing there. In a comparison of France and Canada he pointed out the great advantages we have in this country. He referred to the hardships of life on the continent, the difficulties of travel, and the scarcity of food. In Canada where there was such an abundance of raw materials there was a great opportunity for business expansion. Canada should be able to supply much of the goods needed to bring Europe back to her pre-war state.

Mr. Simms spoke of the wonderful record of the Canadians on the battle fronts of Europe and the fine impression made by them. He thought this fine showing would be a great help towards expanding business relations with the Old Country.

He remarked on the good work done by the sales department of his firm and of the business records established. Mr. Simms' talk was illustrated with views taken in Europe.

The representatives present were: H. Champey, Winnipeg; F. W. Baker and K. C. Baker, Toronto; H. G. Agnew, London; J. T. Gifford, Hamilton; J. R. Melchior and T. B. Turnbull, Montreal; W. J. McDonald, Maritime Provinces; R. C. Lewis, sales manager, and R. H. Peterson, sales department.

The directors of the firm are: L. W. Simms, president; G. F. A. Anderson, vice-president; J. L. Brown, secretary; A. L. Foster, treasurer and S. D. Purdy, superintendent.

Many improvements are planned for the welfare of the staff. Arrangements are being made for the placing of a bowling alley and recreation rooms. The programme carried out last evening was:

GOLFING TOPICS IN ENGLAND

The St. Andrews Tournament.

No doubt the great and from all points of view, successful tournament at St. Andrews has led to not a little head shaking there. They cultivate long memories in the traditional sense of the game, and there has not been an Open Championship there for over twenty years, indeed, since the rounds test was instituted, that was not won by a member of the Big Three. But for Harry Vardon's very worthy effort, it would have been the glory of the Transvaal had at length departed. It would have been misleading to encourage the belief by the evidence of one result, though it was the occasion regarded by the professionals themselves as the most important substitute for the Open Championship, and Vardon's finish just one stroke behind the leaders shows that no sound reckoning of chances can be made from the result.

In his defence of the law, the President said that he believes in the law as it stands, and that he would not be deterred by the evidence of one result, though it was the occasion regarded by the professionals themselves as the most important substitute for the Open Championship, and Vardon's finish just one stroke behind the leaders shows that no sound reckoning of chances can be made from the result.

WEDDINGS

Riley Brook, July 9.—Perhaps one of the prettiest weddings ever held in this part of Victoria County took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gaunce, when over one hundred guests assembled to witness the marriage of their youngest daughter, Miss Alice Kathleen, to Mr. W. Victor Miller, of Nictau.

The marriage ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock p. m., in the presence of the trustees and secretary were read and approved. The returning trustee, J. H. Touge, was selected for the ensuing year. W. G. Waters was appointed auditor. It was decided to hold a special meeting of the ratepayers at the East St. John schoolhouse on August 4 to consider the matter of a new school building at East St. John.

NEW BRUNSWICK MEDICAL SOCIETY'S ANNUAL MEETING

Three Sessions of Thirty-Ninth Convention Held Yesterday—Delegates Welcomed to the City by Mayor Hayes—Interesting Reports Submitted and Papers Read—Officers Elected and Dr. J. S. Bentley Chosen President—Convention Will Close Today.

The thirty-ninth annual meeting of the New Brunswick Medical Society opened in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and was called to order by the president, G. G. Melvin, M. D. There were about fifty present, including three lady doctors, Misses Hanning, McLeod and Parks.

Prayer was offered by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, and His Lordship in a brief address said he was greatly pleased to accept the invitation to be present at the meeting.

After the reading of the minutes, the members of the Society were welcomed to St. John by His Worship Mayor Hayes in a brief yet fitting address.

A number of communications were read, as well as several bills, which were ordered to be paid.

Dr. Vanwart consented to continue as correspondent of the Canadian Medical Journal.

Drs. Allingham, Desmond and Wetmore were appointed a committee to consider the revision of the fees.

The reading of the report of the committee on Workmen's Compensation Act was postponed till Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. J. D. Lawson, treasurer, St. Stephen, read his report, which showed a substantial balance on the right side of the accounts. An audit committee of two was appointed.

J. S. Bentley, M. D., first vice-president, as chairman of the medical section, read an interesting and valuable paper on the Intoxicating Liquor Act.

Dr. Bentley said there still exists a certain proportion of the community which does not admit that alcohol is necessary for medicinal purposes; more that it is occasionally required, and he doubted if even the medical profession fully realized until now the great necessity for alcohol for therapeutic purposes. He mentioned the great necessity for good stimulants for medicinal use during the recent epidemic of influenza; and he was of the opinion that the results obtained in this province (or at least in this city) were shown by the comparatively low death rate and small percentage of complications. He further pointed out the sale of seized liquors by the Provincial Government to a dealer at what can only be termed a nominal figure. Was an analysis made of the liquor? If made, did such analysis show that the liquor was of such poor quality that it could command only a nominal price? If of such poor quality, why should it be allowed to be put upon the market to be disposed of for medicinal use at prevailing prices? If the liquor was of good quality, why did the Government give it away? Is the Government aware that excessive and, in some cases, prohibitive prices have prevailed? If so, has the remedy been supplied? The man-on-the-street today can purchase at fair price a better quality of liquor than the average of what is sold on prescriptions. Within a week, a man who has no apparent connection with the liquor business quotes me the price for a standard brand of whiskey, c.o.d. at my home; and it seemed just as easy for him to let me have six cases as one.

In conclusion, Dr. Bentley said there were three resolutions:

1. Licenses to be sold with open bars, as existing prior to 1917.
2. The use of beer and light wines, which has much to recommend it in preference to adulterated and poisonous liquors which are obtainable at present.
3. Prohibition. The ideal solution, provided that it prohibits.

The papers were referred to a committee consisting of Drs. Barry, Bentley, Dunlop and Malcolm.

The session was brought to a close by the reading of a paper on Shell Shock, by Dr. W. E. Ferguson, on motion of Drs. White and Addy, a vote of thanks was passed to the speaker.

Afternoon Session.

Dr. G. G. Melvin, retiring president, delivered his address at the opening of the afternoon session. In his report he gave the great sweep of epidemic influenza throughout the country and the heavy toll of human life which was inflicted there. He touched feelingly on the death of two members of the society during the past year—Dr. P. R. Inchee, St. John, and Dr. Richard, of Bathurst.

The annual election of officers followed, resulting in the elevation of Dr. J. S. Bentley, St. John, from the first vice-presidency to the presidency for the term of 1919-1920. The Hon. W. P. Roberts, M. D., St. John, is the new first vice-president; Dr. L. G. Pinaut, Campbellton, is second vice-president; Dr. J. D. Lawson, St. Stephen, was re-elected treasurer; Dr. C. J. Venard, Bathurst, was re-elected recording secretary, and Dr. A. E. Macaulay, St. John, was re-elected corresponding secretary for the ensuing term. By unanimous vote the new board of three trustees is composed of Drs. H. L. Abramson, St. John; W. P. Kirby, Hillsboro, and R. G. Dunsmuir, Bathurst.

The report of the Council of Physicians and Surgeons of New Brunswick presented by Dr. Stewart Skinner, registrar, showed that there are 231 names on the medical register, and that there was a balance on hand in the treasury of $1,648.25. The report states that a good deal of thought was devoted to the revision of the medical act, as the present act has been found cumbersome, badly arranged and difficult of interpretation. The new act and are now ready for distribution.

Following the report of the registrar, the meeting divided into sectional sessions, the medical section being presided over by Dr. J. S. Bentley, with Dr. J. E. L. Brown as secretary, and a surgical session being conducted by Dr. W. A. Ferguson, Moncton, with Dr. Kelley, St. John, as secretary.

Surgical Section.

Dr. J. H. Allingham, St. John, opened the surgical session with a talk on "Empyema," or pleurisy effusions, as related to tuberculosis. He illustrated his talk with a simple apparatus which has been used by him and found very expedient for making surface drainage by vacuum. Examples of this apparatus had come under his personal treatment were discussed, and X-ray photographs shown.

In the place of Dr. F. J. White, Moncton, who was absent, Dr. G. G. Vanwart, Fredericton, gave a few personal experiences in the treatment of "Empyema," stating that most of these cases are found in the hospitals, as patients do not seek care until they are in a common thing which is happily passed from the disease as having but a few years to live, seven years, or six years, or whatever the case may be, he had known many who have been so long known twenty-five years ago and who are living and healthy today. His talk, which covered the subject from the practical standpoint, was well received and evoked considerable discussion from Dr. Emory and others.

Dr. H. H. Inchee, St. John, read an interesting paper on "Acute and Chronic Infection of the Middle Ear." He was of the opinion that flushing by gravity, which can be obtained by using the ordinary fountain syringe, was a good remedial agent, especially in the case of pus formation. A clean cut heals more quickly than a wound which has been soiled, he pointed out that modern surgery promptly relieves disorders which were considered fatal or were left to fester for some years ago.

Dr. S. H. Calne, St. John, formerly of the Military Hospital Staff, and an "original" of the Great War, gave a most interesting and interesting talk on "Diaphragmatic Hernia," which is a disease of the transverse colon. The cases which he described were ones treated at the local military hospital, and his observations, which are of scientific value, were considered one of the outstanding features of the afternoon surgery talks.

Dr. H. H. Inchee, St. John, was down for papers in the afternoon session. Dr. L. G. Pinaut, Campbellton, gave a short talk on uric acid disorders, which he stated, he intended to be concluded at the evening session.

Medical Session.

Dr. H. A. Harris, of the East St. John County Hospital, gave the opening talk of the medical session on "The Need of Home Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis." He spoke of the unsatisfactory results from treating patients for a short time in properly prepared hospitals and then sending them back to their homes where a recurrence of the disease was practically certain, through neglect and improper attention. In this connection he advanced a system of home treatment which he believed to be of great value in the expense of the municipality, and his patient's household and his own. He looked as his platform the establishment of a dispensary at the expense of the municipality, which would be a home for incurable cases, and a hospital for the treatment of tuberculous patients, to be supported equally by the government and the municipality.

In the discussion which followed Dr. Roberts said there was a pressing need for education with a view to the prevention of tuberculosis and the co-operation of the medical society in interesting municipalities in the matter. He advocated a home for the segregation of advanced cases.

Dr. H. L. Abramson spoke of a "ventricle" where the children of affected parents or with a suspected "tendency" could be kept from contact with patients and raised in healthy conditions. Dr. Ross thought the machinery for such improvements was

Evening Session.

The opening address of the evening session was given by the combined section by Dr. D. W. McKenzie, Montreal, who, taking as his subject "Constitutional Symptoms of the Genito-Urinary Infections," stated in part that quite a number of the common disorders were caused by an infection of the genito-urinary tract, and which also referred to the point of departure for a number of diseases which locate in other parts of the body. His talk was illustrated by X-ray side views of X-ray photographs, and was interesting to all. Some of the cases which illustrated the talk were comparatively recent, an X-ray thorax view showing being one of a patient taken in Montreal a week ago.

At the conclusion of Dr. McKenzie's lecture, a vote of thanks was moved by the Hon. Dr. Roberts and tendered the speaker by Dr. Melvin. The convention then moved into departmental sessions.

Medical Section.

Before the evening session of the medical section of the society the election of officers of that branch was held, resulting in the appointment of the Hon. Dr. Roberts as chairman, with Dr. L. W. Dougan as vice-chairman, and Dr. J. H. L. Brown as secretary, re-elected.

Dr. J. M. Barry, St. John, read a well written paper on "Report of Cases," which described two rare and interesting cases which had come under his observation and attention. The first case was successfully treated at the General Public Hospital and in the discussion following the reading of the paper, Dr. Skinner stated in having a professional interest in

EXCHANGE AND OTHERWISE

ENGLAND MAKES RULES OF ROAD FOR AIR PILOTS

Whole Country is Laid out in Routes, With Certain Areas Prohibited With Regard to General Safety.

TWO KINDS OF LICENSES

Special Examination Necessary for Those Who Plan to Take Up Passengers.

England is now ready to pass in earnest from military to civil flying. The country has been officially laid out in air routes, and prohibitive areas and detailed rules and regulations for civil flying have been adopted by the Air Ministry. The rules provide for two kinds of flying certificates:

Flying certificate for private pilots (not valid for flying passenger or goods aircraft.)

Pilot's flying certificate, for flying passenger or goods aircraft.

The minimum age limit for a pilot is fifteen years, and all pilots have to go through the same medical examination, which requires:

Good faculty and personal history, with particular reference to nervous stability. Absence of any mental, moral or physical defect which will interfere with flying efficiency.

General Surgical Examination.—The applicant must neither suffer from any wound, injury or operation, nor possess any abnormality, congenital or otherwise, which will interfere with the efficient and safe handling of aircraft.

General Medical Examination.—Applicant must not suffer from any disease or disability which renders him liable suddenly to become incompetent in the management of aircraft. He must possess heart, lungs, kidneys and nervous system capable of withstanding the effects of altitude and also the effects of prolonged flight.

Must Prove He Can Fly.

If he gets his medical certificate the young man may then give a few practical exhibitions of his flying ability. A private pilot has the following tests:

In each practical test the candidate must be alone in the flying machine. Test for Altitude and Gliding Flight.—A flight without landing, during which the pilot shall remain for at least an hour at a minimum altitude of 6,000 feet above the point of departure.

The descent shall finish with a glide, the engine cut off at 4,000 feet above the landing ground. The landing shall be made within 150 yards of a point fixed beforehand by the official examiners of the test without starting the engine again.

Tests of Skill.—A flight without landing around two posts (or buoys) situated 500 yards apart, making a series of five figure-eight turns, each turn reaching one of the two posts (or buoys). This flight shall be made at an altitude of not more than 500 feet above the ground (or water) without touching the ground (or water). The landing shall be effected by finally shutting off the engine or engines at latest when the aircraft touches the ground (or water), and finally stopping the flying machine within a distance of fifty yards from a point fixed by the candidate before starting.

But if he intends to carry passengers or goods he must also submit to:

Tests of Endurance.—A cross-country or overseas flight of at least 200 miles, and the final landing shall be made at the point of departure.

Night Flight.—A thirty minute flight at an altitude of at least 1,500 feet made between two hours after sunset and two hours before sunrise.

Some Man on Theory.

The candidate is then about ready to fly. There remains only a little theoretical examination, including:

Practical Astronomy.—True and apparent movements of the celestial bodies; different aspects of the celestial sphere; hour angles, mean, true and sidereal time; shape, and dimensions of earth; star globes and maps; methods of determining latitude, longitude, time and azimuth.

Navigation.—Maps and charts, how to read them; compass, magnetic meridian, declination, deviation, variation; courses, bearing and their corrections; compensation of compasses (theoretical and practical); calculations of azimuth; flight by dead reckoning, measure of the relative speed, drift, traverse table; chronometer, chronometer rate, comparison; sextant; adjustments; nautical estimates; determination of positions by means of bearings and altitudes of stars; knowledge of great circle navigation; aeronautical navigational instruments.

General Knowledge.—International rules for aerial and marine navigation; practical knowledge of international aerial legislation; good knowledge of meteorology and of weather charts.

Rules of the Road.

Assuming that the ambitious pilot now has his certificate and has bought his machine, the rules of the air laid down to prevent his colliding with other equally ambitious pilots are as detailed as those for automobile driving. They say:

Flying machines shall always give way to balloons, fixed or free, and to airships. Airships shall always give way to balloons, whether fixed or free. An airship when not under its own control shall, for the purposes of the rules of the air, be classed as a free balloon.

A motor-driven aircraft must always manoeuvre according to these rules as soon as it is apparent that, if it pursued its course, it would pass at a distance of less than 200 yards from any part of another aircraft.

When two motor-driven aircraft are

AFTER WAR BEER

Stronger beer and more of it is the prospect opened up by the new concessions of the Government announced in Parliament on Wednesday. The average strength of beer is to be raised from 40 degrees to 44 degrees; and there is no limit on the quantity to be brewed. The expression, "44 degrees," has relation to the specific gravity of the beer; the full strength is 1044 as compared with 1044; but ordinarily the gravity is expressed shortly by eliminating the first two numerals. Beer of the new strength will make an appreciable advance towards beer of the pre-war strength, but will still be considerably short of that standard. The strength allowed at the opening stages of the war was 30 degrees. This was increased later to 32, and afterwards to the present strength of 40. Some of the familiar bottled beers of full strength in pre-war times were of about 60 degrees.

meeting end on, or nearly end on, each shall alter its course to starboard. When two motor-driven aircraft are on courses which cross, the aircraft which has the other on its own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

An aircraft overtaking any other shall keep out of the way of the overtaken aircraft by altering its own course to the right, and must not pass by diving.

Where by any of these rules one of the two aircraft is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep its course and speed. When, in consequence of thick weather or other causes, such aircraft find themselves in collision, they cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way aircraft alone, it shall take such action as will best act to avert collision.

In following an officially recognized aerial route every aircraft, when it is safe and practicable, shall keep to the right side of such route. Aircraft on land or water about to ascend shall not attempt to "take off" until there is no risk of collision with alighting aircraft.

The dropping of ballast other than the sand or water from aircraft in the air is prohibited.

Safety of Passengers.—There are rules for landing as well, among which are that side-slip and trick landings are prohibited and both the landing and take-off shall be made up wind, while no aeroplane shall commence to take-off until the preceding machine is clear of the aerodrome.

Safety of passengers is also considered in the provision that no passenger aircraft carrying passengers shall on any day proceed on any journey unless it has been inspected, and at least once on that day by a competent person licensed for the purpose under this schedule, who shall not be a pilot of the particular machine.

The Air Ministry recognizes that persons on the ground may be in some danger as well as the birds. Hence, there are the following general safety provisions:

An aircraft shall not fly over any city or town except at such altitude as will enable the aircraft to land outside the city or town should the means of propulsion fail through mechanical breakdown or other cause; provided that this prohibition shall not apply to any area comprised within a circle with a radius of one mile from the centre of a licensed aerodrome or of a Royal Air Force aerodrome, or of an aerodrome under the control of the Secretary of State.

No person in any aircraft shall carry out any trick flying or exhibition flying over any city or town area or populous district; or carry out any trick flying or exhibition flying over any regular race meeting or meeting for public games or sports, except where special arrangements for in writing by the promoters of such race meeting, or carry out any flying which by reason of low altitude or proximity to persons or dwellings is dangerous to public safety, or drop or cause or permit to be dropped, from the aircraft any article except ballast.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND FREE

The Archbishop of Canterbury's Enabling Bill for the Church of England passed its second reading with a large majority, and after a debate of very marked ability. The opposition was led by Lord Haldane, and it was fortunate for the Bill that he selected himself as its opponent. The Peers presented the independence of a Scot who did not belong to the Church, against whose reform and liberties he showed himself in such bitter animosity. The Peers who belonged to the Scottish Presbyterian Church were regarded by those who were pleading for the liberties of the Church of England in her spiritual affairs, as a body who were in a very favorable position, and English Churchmen were found almost desiring that they were within the pale of the National Church of Scotland. The most remarkable speech against the Bill was made by the Bishop of Manchester, and he dwelt much, as did Lord Haldane and certain others, on the new test imposed on the franchise of the Bill, which makes the voter exclude all but a narrow sect within the Anglican communion, made the House of Lords look very unfavorably on this clause, and the way it might be used. Who is to decide with what body the Church is in communion?

asked the Bishop, and he drew the inference which always attends a democratic constitution. Those who are excluded from a franchise are necessarily placed in a position of inferiority. The promoters of the Bill did not undertake to withdraw this test, and they only defended it on the ground that those who did not belong to the communion of the Church of England could have no desire to interfere with her concerns. But the Bishop of Manchester reminded the House that every Englishman has rights in the National Church and a claim to her services at any time, and he added that many a countryman has a suspicious attitude towards putting his name against anything which binds and commits him in such matters of the conscience. The Bishop of Ely made the best debating points for the Bill. His speech was illuminated by a quiet and dignified humor, such as shown in the description of "the sacred state of tongue in Concoction."

He deplored the constitutional alarms raised by his brother of Manchester, and told Lord Haldane he would be more in his proper place were he an elder in the Church of Scotland. That Ecclesiastical Court has never shown any desire to elect him to that office. Whether elders were laymen was a point the Lords were slightly puzzled over. That they ministered in holy things and were ordained, Lord Ely thought should be placed apart, and the elders who were present among the Peers reserved themselves for the day when the affairs of a United Church in Scotland might appear in Parliament.

Two Scottish Archbishops showed that they knew the true meaning of spiritual independence, and the whole debate proved how the Church of England and that she had no power to effect fostered by the ways of Parliament, any spiritual reform within her borders.

Reconstruction was the key note. Reconstruct, and make the Church, in deed and in truth, the living Church of a people who love their Church with a great devotion. It is the first effort to give the laity a real voice in the direction of the affairs of that Church, and if the laity are not at this time granted this spiritual right, then the Church of England will cease to represent the nation.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. LORD JELlicoe

PRaises WORK OF U. S. ADMIRAL

Sydney, Australia, June 19.—Recognition of the service rendered by Rear Admiral William S. Sims, as commander of the American Naval forces in the war zone was accorded by Lord Jellicoe in a speech he delivered at Adelaide on a visit there recently. He said:

"While we were developing offensive measures against the submarine we were also developing a defensive or offensive system of convoying ships. Admiral Sims, for whom I have the highest regard, and whose assistance was always valuable, looked upon the conveyer as an offensive system because it was possible to be destroyed by the conveyer. He saw that the conveyer was an opportunity of dealing with them. At first we had not sufficient cruisers and destroyers for convoys but the success of the system was shown almost immediately we had."

JAPANESE WORKERS BEGINNING TO ASSERT RIGHTS

Becoming Possessed With the Socialistic Theories Which is Causing Leading Japanese Statesmen Some Worry

Tokyo, June 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The increasing tendency of the Japanese workers to assert their rights and to interest themselves in socialism is causing leading Japanese to study the means of meeting this labor problem. It is pointed out that strikes are increasing and that as Japanese labor has no organized union, the strikes are liable to lead to dangerous violence, as in the case of the rice riots last year.

The Herald of Asia says that there is a considerable element affected by socialist theories, but that owing to the severe repression imposed by the authorities there is no means of knowing how far socialism has spread. The journal adds: "That the workers exist here, there is no doubt. It is kept under so far, but it only smoulders, ready to break out on occasion. If socialism cannot legitimately raise the head, then it will try to do so silyly, and the result is Bolshevism and anarchy."

The journal recommends immediate and effective improvement of labor conditions in line with the suggestions of the League of Nations, political and educational reform, the elimination of bureaucratic methods and a true restoration of the ideal of democracy.

Careless Shampooing Spoils The Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoo or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary milled coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water, and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, leaving every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and the hair feels soft, and the hair fine and easy to manage.

You can get milled coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Common Council Meeting Yesterday

Resolution Adopted Asking Government for a Loan of $200,000 for Housing—Committee Appointed to Deal With Question—Presentation to Nathaniel A. Palmer.

At a special meeting of the Common Council yesterday morning a resolution was adopted asking the Government for a loan of $200,000 for housing. The Mayor named a committee of citizens to deal with the question of municipal housing.

On behalf of the city, the Mayor presented a gold watch to Nathaniel A. Palmer for bravery in saving Edward Birmingham from drowning on June 1st.

The report of the committee of the whole as previously published was adopted.

A letter from Mrs. James H. Frink in regard to her property line dispute with the city was, on motion, referred to the Commissioner of Safety.

A delegation from the West St. John County Hospital was heard. H. B. Schofield said the hospital needed more money. The council had voted $3,000 to erect balconies, and it was thought this, with a promise of $2,000 from a private donor, would have provided balconies on the east and south sides. When tenders were called over $5,000 was asked for the work, and the balcony scheme was abandoned.

Since then a military wing had been put on the hospital. Now they wanted the balconies on the military wing extended right across the building on both floors. Fresh air was absolutely necessary in the treatment of tuberculosis.

They had no estimates for the work of extending the balconies. They wanted the council to revoke the $3,000. The private donor would only give $700 now.

Mr. Schofield said they also wanted to rebuild the chimney on the power house, the draft not being satisfactory. A new boiler to meet military needs had been put in, and there was not now draft to the chimney. The present chimney could be added to an extent of 30 feet for $3,000. But his suggestion was that a new chimney be built. The council should appoint a committee to decide what plan was best and give it $5,000 to spend.

Mr. Schofield was averse to asking Council to spend more money, but the military people have spent a very large amount improving the hospital arrangements, and they should be met one-on-one the way to make the chimney right.

Commissioner Bullock moved that a committee be appointed to expend not more than $5,000 to build a new chimney, or do whatever is best. Councilor Howard said the county had expended more money than they ever intended, and if further expenditures were necessary the government should make them.

The motion was carried.

Councilor O'Brien moved that $4,000 be voted to erect balconies on the south end of the hospital, and this was adopted.

Councilors Hayes, Thornton and Stephenson were appointed a committee to act in the matter of rebuilding the chimney.

Councilor Hayes submitted the report of the finance committee. The report recommended that the Public Hospital Board be asked why they had spent more than $4,000 to equip a refrigerator plant at the hospital.

Councilor Fisher said they should have the information in writing. The county secretary said the commission had estimated the cost at $5,250, but a mistake had only asked $4,000. On motion of Councilor Fisher it was decided to pay the bill, provided the written explanation was satisfactory.

The report recommended that the Warden and Secretary be authorized to protect the county's interest in connection with the government's railway plant which encroached on the rights of the Municipality on the foreshores of Courtenay Bay.

Councilor O'Brien said it was a serious responsibility to throw upon the Warden and Secretary. The chairman of the finance committee be instructed to act with the Warden. This was agreed to, and the employ-ment of expert assistance was authorized.

Juvenile Court.

The finance report recommended the establishment of a juvenile court, and the voting of sufficient money.

Councilor Jones said the county secretary and somebody else should act as a temporary court. They could deal with children without bringing them in the atmosphere of the police court.

Councilor Howard said they did not need a juvenile court in St. John. If the city wanted a court, it should pay for it. If they started a juvenile court there was no telling how much money was needed; it might be like the East St. John hospital which was running away with the money.

Councilor O'Brien said a juvenile court would cost $10,000 before it got properly started. He did not see the necessity of it, the grand officer could act as a probationary officer.

Councilor Thornton said the county secretary and treasurer, and A. M. Keeling had agreed to prove that the

COUNTY COUNCIL QUARTERLY MEETING HELD YESTERDAY

Decided to Ask for Loan of $300,000 to Build Houses—$4,000 Was Voted to Erect Balconies on South Side of County Hospital—Will Get Expert Information to Proposals for Rebuilding Court House.

The county council held its quarterly meeting yesterday afternoon with Warden Keeling in the chair. He decided to ask for a loan of $300,000 to build houses, voted $4,000 to build balconies on the south side of the East St. John Hospital and $5,000 to build a new chimney for that institution, then overheard the proposition to establish a juvenile court, and gave the cover leave to run at large on the road between Miramichi and Red Head.

It also decided to get expert information relative to the various propositions for rebuilding the court house.

Those present were Henry Shillington, J. B. Carson, J. O'Donnell, Fred Stephenson, Robert Dowheast, John A. Howard, Wm. Keeling, J. S. O'Brien, J. E. Bryant, Fred Thompson, W. P. Bentley was granted leave of absence.

St. John's Greatest Mercantile Event

Oak Hall's Annual Mid-Summer Sale Starts Today—Great Things Prepared for.

The day has finally arrived for the opening of Oak Hall's Annual Mid-Summer sale, an event which thousands have been waiting for and one now conceded to be the Greatest Mercantile Event in this vicinity.

Every possible effort has been made in the face of adverse market conditions, to make this sale a greater success than any of its predecessors.

After months spent in gathering in large volumes of special priced and finally the sweeping deductions made on all merchandise on hand; together with the motto of "Large Volume at Minimum Profit" Oak Hall confidently believes that their prediction that this is going to be the greatest of all sales, will amply justify some time.

When people realize that the well known Oak Hall guarantee is behind every piece of merchandise sold during the regular off-peak sale, especially for this occasion, it gives them added confidence in the value and economic opportunities being taken advantage of. They know that the Oak Hall guarantee is not merely an empty phrase, but is taken seriously by every employee of Oak Hall and is interpreted in the most satisfactory to the customer, first, foremost and all the time.

Many new salespeople have been added to the regular off-peak sale force, so that the greatest throngs expected during the opening days may be taken care of with the greatest of ease. Even so, it will be advisable for those who can arrange to do their shopping in the morning.

Britain Growing Wetter While U. S. Is Soon to Be Dry

More Beer in Prospect for England—Public Houses Are Now Unable to Supply the Daily Demand.

While America is going dry, England is getting wetter. The following article from "The London Times" shows how much more the prohibitionists would have in England.

"More beer is in prospect, but as yet it does not seem to have reached the public houses. During the war, when the public houses were closed, the supply of beer has been very marked, and has been a cause of much grumbling.

"Until the supplies are sufficient to meet all reasonable requirements, during the six and one-half hours each day when houses are permitted to be open for the sale of intoxicating liquor, the situation cannot be regarded as satisfactory. Publicans, for months past, have made the death of the beer supply a constant topic of conversation, and have been unable to meet all reasonable requirements, during the six and one-half hours each day when houses are permitted to be open for the sale of intoxicating liquor, the situation cannot be regarded as satisfactory.

"There is no reason why the brewing of additional beer, or even the release of additional spirits, should lead to increased insanity. What happens only too frequently at present is that the hard drinkers, knowing that supplies are limited, drink fast and often, and are thus able to get the most out of their limited supply. The result is that the public houses are unable to supply the daily demand.

Being used by over three million people annually. It will strengthen the blood, improve the circulation, and give the public a profit of 75 per cent on each bottle. There would be more chance of whiskey being on sale at 10s. a bottle in the wine merchants' shops.

"In a summary of a statement issued by the Whiskey Association, it should have been made clear that whiskey now being distilled must be kept in bond for a minimum of three years under the provisions of the Immature Spirits Act.

Mrs. McEwen Has Gained 15 Pounds

Vancouver Woman is So Happy Over Recovery By Taking Tanlac She Wants Whole World to Know of it

"If you had known me before I took Tanlac and were to meet me now, you would hardly believe I was the same woman," said Mrs. H. McEwen, who lives at 372 28th Avenue, East Vancouver, and made the above statement while on a visit to her daughter who lives at 1339 Johnson Street, Victoria, the other day.

"I suffered with indigestion and stomach trouble," she continued, "and during that time I spent lots of money trying to find a medicine or treatment that would give me some relief, but all my efforts failed until I commenced taking Tanlac. I simply can't describe the awful suffering I underwent on account of my food souring, and my suffering from headaches was even worse than that. Why, I would actually be frantic from pain when those terrible spells of headache would come on me. I was so nervous as to be unable to sleep, and when the telephone would ring, I would actually be frantic from pain when those terrible spells of headache would come on me. I was so nervous as to be unable to sleep, and when the telephone would ring, I would actually be frantic from pain when those terrible spells of headache would come on me.

"Then Tanlac came along, and I thought I would give it a trial, and I must say that it was the most fortunate decision I ever made in my life. I began to improve by the time I had finished my first bottle, and now I am a healthy, happy woman, and I never have indigestion or sour stomach now, and I eat just anything I want. All that nervousness has left me and I sleep just like a child every night. And best of all, Tanlac has delivered me from those terrible headaches, and that alone is enough to make me sing its praises the longest day I live. In fact, my health has been completely restored in every particular and I just feel like all the world is mine. Why I am on my feet all the time, doing my housework and going from place to place, and it doesn't seem to tire me at all. My recovery seems so wonderful to me, and I am so happy over my recovery that I would like to tell the whole world to know about it, and I am glad to have the chance of letting others who suffer from the same trouble to know that Tanlac and be relieved as I have been."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., and W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative—Advt.

Returned Men Receive Gifts

The Cottagers at Pamdenec on Monday Evening Welcomed a Party of Soldiers and Presented Each With a Locket.

On Monday evening about one hundred and seventy residents of the district in Pamdenec gathered at the home of James H. Hamilton and enthusiastically received soldiers who were presented with returned heroes who were given a warm welcome and congratulated for their gallant work overseas. Those receiving lockets were: A. R. Spence, C. W. Brown, H. B. Bustin, H. E. Hunt, H. E. Fowler, G. M. Williams and L. H. Berdon.

After a brief speech of welcome Mr. Hamilton on behalf of the summer cottagers read an excellent address to the returned men. After the presentation an enjoyable musical programme and dance followed.

Last year at the same place similar presentations were made to Major Douglas McArthur, Lt. Louis Offord, Sgt. Murray Latham, Pte. James Archibald, Harold Manning and Clayton Teal.

Philadelphia, July 15.—Announcement was made today that Walter Trautman, catcher, has been obtained by the Philadelphia National League Club. He came from the Boston Nationals through the waiver process.

Little to Drink in Station.

"Now that the government is taking measures to relieve a serious situation some attention might well be given to the railway station refreshment rooms. At the more important stations, and particularly at great junctions where passengers have to change trains, it has long been impossible for travellers at night to obtain either beer or spirits. Nothing ever seems to be on sale but government ale and very poor port wine.

"Not only are better supplies required, but it is felt that among any forthcoming relaxations of the regulations of the Central Control Board a concession might be made whereby bona fide travellers could obtain a drink at any hour, except perhaps between midnight and 11 a. m., on production of their railway tickets. Only a limited number of people can obtain refreshment in the dining-cars of the express trains. Many third-class passengers find that when the trains stop restrictions prevent the sale of intoxicants, or, if the hour is right, the buffet is without supplies.

"While it was intended that the additional duties on spirits should not be passed on to the consumer, the price of whiskey, gin and rum has been raised since the introduction of the Budget. In many houses full advantage of the power to charge 4s. a quart for spirits in saloon bars had not previously been taken, and sales by 'tips' were arranged on a basis which worked out of 2s. or 2s. 4d. a quart, the charge being 9d. or 8d. a glass, according to whether four or five measures were taken out. These prices yielded a fair profit on the bottle, but now that the price of whiskey has been raised by the manufacturing firms to 10s. a dozen the price of the 'tip' has been advanced and works out at the full sanctioned rate of 4s. a quart. This means that licensed victuallers as a body are now getting 21s. for a bottle of whiskey which costs them 17s. Many people think that if the maximum retail prices were reduced to 2s. a quart, which would still give the public a profit of 75 per cent on each bottle, there would be more chance of whiskey being on sale at 10s. a bottle in the wine merchants' shops.

TAMING A BAD MAN.

Like Jess Willard when he tackled Jack Dempsey, "Bad Man" Secours, of the National Amateurs team, is said to have met his master. Secours, who has been masquerading around the N.L.U. for many seasons, battling with his opponents, made a great hit in the Dominion Day game here against Billy Secours, rugged defense holder of the Ottawa team.

In the return game at Montreal last Saturday Secours singled out a shrill and attempted to make good. They carried Secours in off the field with his nose broken and his face badly cut that he required several stitches. Secours coolly walked to the National dressing room after the battle and quietly informed Mr. Secours that he was prepared to return the contest then and there. Incidentally he added that if any of the crowd's team notes like substituting for the badly battered defence line, he was ready to take them on one of a time.

Stalls in ordinary a cinema play or add his record in the N. L. U. is good. Secours struck the first blow and according to the Ottawa press the National "bad man" deserved all he received.—Ottawa Citizen.

St. Peter's Does The Trick Again

Y. M. C. I. Could Not Stop Winning Streak of League Leaders—Good Baseball.

St. Peter's took the measure of the Y. M. C. I. in a City League fixture last night on Queen Square. The final tally was 8 to 3. The teams put up a good exhibition in places. Taking everything into consideration the game was well worth watching. Dan Britt for the roses showed his old time form and raked in some hot ones.

The street car time was in evidence throughout the game and hostilities had to be suspended whenever a car passed.

ying Down The Styptic In Golf

w Players Realize the Advantages of This Little Instrument.

The styptic has been cried down by golf associations have legislated against it, but in championship circles where national titles are at stake it still remains as a part of the game. Few players and even few spectators seem to understand the value, which is one reason they take no account of it and insist it should be barred.

Looking over golf history no golfer could ever lay claim to a title without the aid of the styptic. No champion ever claimed a title without the aid of the styptic. It is because in the long run the golfer who uses the styptic is sure to win. The golfer who does not use it is sure to lose. The golfer who uses it is sure to win. The golfer who does not use it is sure to lose.

The player who knows how to use the styptic will never count on the styptic. The golfer who does not use it is sure to lose. The golfer who uses it is sure to win. The golfer who does not use it is sure to lose. The golfer who uses it is sure to win.

In a great many cases it is a player's own fault when he is forced to use a styptic. He either lays himself out too far or fails to get close enough to the cup in his approach, thereby leaving an opening for the opponent's ball to block the hole. The styptic is laid purposely. If a player were skillful enough to do this he could put his ball into the hole, thereby stopping all argument.

ST. JOHN REPRESENTED. St. John is to be represented in the contest to be held in Antigonish, N. S., Thursday, J. P. Morgan, a local sportsman, has entered for the high jump and shot-put, and his friends are confident that he will make a good showing. He has competed in local events and has won consistently.

In England and Wales the farming outlook is much more promising than in Scotland. Soomoon who travelled last week to the Royal Show at Cardiff are of the opinion that the drought-affected areas through which they passed, the hay crop is exceedingly light, and a general scarcity of hay is certain. Other kinds of fodder will be limited in quantity. Oat straw, which is one of the best substitutes for hay, appears to be short in bulk, so that there will be need for the extra straw in Scotland this year. Many of the oat crops are little more than a foot high, and as they are developing the crop the prospect is not encouraging. Apart from some useful crops in Haverfordshire, there was hardly a field of turnips or mangold to be seen on the journey between Perth and Cardiff. From other parts of England (detailed reports were received at the Show of the condition of the crops generally. The drought ended too late to avert serious injury, and its stunting influence has been widespread. In York-shire the outlook is described as "serious." Hay is about 25 per cent. below the average; roots are reported to be "practically non-existent," potatoes are growing slowly, and "the prospect for the cereal harvest is bad." The corn on a good deal of the newly ploughed land has suffered considerably, and straw generally is short.

How You Can Remove Every Trace of Hair
(Toilet Talks).
A stiff paste made with some powdered starch and water and spread on a hairy surface about two minutes, when removed, takes every trace of hair with it. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining detritus. No harm can result from this treatment, but be sure it is detritus you get and you will not be disappointed.
