CHIGNECTO POST AND BORDERER

SACKVILLE, N. B., JUNE 7, 1894

MT. A. COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.

The letter of a prominent business man of Sackville in regard to Mt. Allison institutions will be found elsewhere and will be read with interest. It will be observed that in places the writer interferes to some extent with the prerogative of the Board of Regents—a body to whose wisdom and experience all that Mt. Allison has been and is stands as a monument; it is true that in one place he speaks of certain branches of the institution in an unbecomingly and ill-natured manner, but his opinion in regard to the commercial college will be endorsed by very many people in this vicinity. It is felt that a commercial college at Mt. Allison ought to pay and ought to be of benefit and experience goes to show that such an institution would be a good thing. The letter was called forth by the report, current during the past week, that the Commercial College was either to be done away with or modified in such a way as to be of little benefit to students who wished to take commercial work.

The report has been contradicted by another. As yet the exact nature of the future commercial course has not been definitely determined upon, nor will it be until Mr. Harrison's successor is appointed. We are therefore largely able to speak only in probabilities and possibilities. It is certain however that no resolution was passed at the meeting of the Board of Regents abolishing the commercial college. It is equally certain that it was determined by the Board to modify the relation of the commercial department to the general work of the institution. It is probable that in future no student will be permitted to take the commercial course at Mt. Allison who has not sufficient age and education in other ways to fit him for entering business life. It is possible that diplomas will be given next year as usual. It is possible that Mr. Young will return as teacher in commercial work. But much remains to be settled.

In Business Man's opinion of the charming singer whom Sackville is proud to claim as its own. The Post heartily joins, and we trust that wherever Mrs. Harrison may make her home in the future she will be a frequent visitor to Sackville.

THE Wilson Bill which was to overthrow the McKinley tariff has been tinkered out of shape until, in order to get chance of passing, it is to be expected that the celestials will insist on staying in the United States and will smuggle in their families and friends. Such is the irony of fate.

MEXICO wants 200,000 Chinese to work at developing its natural resources. The United States want to get rid of about 200,000 Chinese. It is to be expected that the celestials will insist on staying in the United States and will smuggle in their families and friends. Such is the irony of fate.

CANADIANS are hardly more welcome in the United States than Chinese. It is now illegal to employ a Canadian in any work of any municipality of the state of New York, or by a contractor doing business for the state, or any city, town, village or county of the state. The law will prove more profitable to Canada than the United States.

A RECENT debate between Belgium and Great Britain shows France out of the Nile basin in Central Africa. Both countries have more African territory than they will be able to improve in centuries, but each shows a constant anxiety to get more for itself and keep the other from adding to its area. It is not when dealing with real estate that nations show their noble qualities.

THE London Times has concluded its series of articles on Canada. The writer has in general treated the problems which Canada is meeting with fair play, good sense, and an appreciative spirit. He notes, that, while Canadians are apt at times to lament the comparative slowness of their growth, they have the consoling compensation that their material expansion has not outrun their political training and social organization. "The native Canadian and the British element have never been swayed by an alien population untrained to citizenship. There has been no upstart infatuation, to be followed by a corresponding depression or revolt of labor, no excessive concentration of population with the evils which follow in its train." Such is the opinion of the Canadian which universally prevails.

DELEGATES from Australasia and Cape Colony are now on their way to Ottawa to attend the Colonial Conference which meets the 21st of this month. Imperial delegates will also be present. The main subjects to be discussed fall under three heads. There is a desire to amend the Imperial Act of 1873 so that the Australian colonies may be able to make trade arrangements with Canada and South Africa as easily as with one another. Her Majesty's government will be asked to modify the treaties with Belgium and Germany so as to permit of preferential trade arrangements between the United Kingdom and her colonies. And lastly it will be determined whether it is expedient whether it is not in the interests of the whole empire, that Canada should be recognized as an imperial highway and alternative route, not alone to China and Japan, but also to British possessions in the Pacific sea and to the Antipodes.

The colonies claim that the steamship and cable connections are, by reason of their strategic value, of primary importance to the Empire, as a whole; and in view of the preponderant trade interests of Great Britain they ask that the Mother Land shall bear her due share of the burden.

Dominion Parliament.

In the Dominion Parliament on Friday, Sir O. H. Tupper's bill to amend the inspection of ships act; Mr. Daly's bill for the preservation of game in the unorganized portions of the Northwest; and Mr. Wood's bill to further amend the general inspection, were read in committee and passed.

Sir John Thompson then moved the following resolution:

"That it is expedient to provide that the salaries of the judges of the courts of Carleton, New Westminster, Yale, Nanaimo and Kootenay, in the province of British Columbia, shall be $2,400 each per annum."

On this resolution a great discussion arose, Fraser and Mills (Annapolis) strongly urging the claims of the courts, and Judge Johnson, of Halifax, especially Judge Johnson, of Halifax, to an increase of salary.

Mr. McMillin vigorously opposed this suggestion, and said that the judges were all getting enough. If they were not, let them resign and their places be filled by those who were.

He said that the lawyers in the house of both parties were always talking about the judges not being paid, and he intimated that they did this to curry favor with the judges before they parted.

Mr. Foster warmly resented this intimation. He pointed out that neither he nor Mr. Mills prefaced before Judge Johnson, and said it was not true that lawyers equal in ability to many of the county court judges of Nova Scotia could be got to fill their places at the salaries now voted.

The subject was still under consideration at six o'clock.

Judge Wells, of Moncton, is gazetted reving officer for Westmorland county.

After recess the debate on Sir John Thompson's resolution was continued. Forbes spoke in favor of larger salaries to Nova Scotia county court judges, but said that the supreme court judges of the province were not overworked and that some of them, at least, were no better than they should be.

He was replied to by Mr. McMillin, who again urged his plea that if the judges were not satisfied with their pay they could resign.

COAL DUTIES. The house then went into committee on the tariff changes of which notice had been given and some other important business. The tariff on coal reached McMillen protested strongly against this duty. He said he knew that strong pressure had been brought to bear on the government by railway and manufacturing companies to remove this duty in whole or in part, but he was sorry to see that the government had been too weak to resist.

Yesterday in the case of Queen vs. C. B. MacDonnell application was made for the indictment. The indictment was returned. The prisoner was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. The case is now down for hearing today at 2 p. m. and no further delay will be permitted. Several of the cases on the new docket were disposed of. In numbers 2 and 3 the prisoner was withdrawn. No 5 was set out of court. No 4, Charles Fawcett vs. C. Oscar Rowe was before the court when it adjourned.

Mount Allison Institutions

The people of Sackville are deeply regretting that the Board of Government of the Mount Allison Institutions have thought it advisable or are thinking of abolishing the Commercial Department.

If one judged by the number of students that received their diplomas, having successfully completed the work assigned to that department, he would think it one of the most prosperous in the institution, and to give up to any other, would be a great loss to the institution.

It is one of the most prosperous in the institution, and to give up to any other, would be a great loss to the institution. It is one of the most prosperous in the institution, and to give up to any other, would be a great loss to the institution.
