TORONTO LETTER.

TORONTO, Monday, Oct. 13.

Mortality returns for the week ending Saturday show 98 births, 39 marriages and 83 deaths.

Owing to the death of a relative Sir Adolphe Caron was unable to keep his appointment with the Royal Grenadiers in Toronto yesterday.

Trouble with the electric connection of the organ of St. James' Cathedral last evening caused the instrument to stop in the middle of a hymn, when the service was about half through. The paraffine coating of the cable had caught fire, and the congregation had to be dismissed. This was done very quietly, and a panic averted. Little damage was done.

Wm. Seymour and John Wallace, sons of Toronto constables, were arrested last evening charged with robbing a yacht. The two own a boat house, and an immense quantity of goods was found there, supposed to have been stolen from the yacht and from various boat houses which have from time to time reported losses.

According to the statistics published by the Globe Toronto possesses revenue-producing real estate valued by the assessors at a little over $2,000,000, and really worth at least double that amount. Yet the total revenue derived is only $63,000 yearly, an amount representing a fraction over 3 per cent. on the assessed value, or about 1½ per cent. on the real value.

FATAL FLAMES.

Four Lives Lost in a Chicago Death-Trap.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—A fire broke out early yesterday morning in the Putnam European Hotel at Adams and Lasalle streets. Ladders were run up by the firemen, and most of those who did not get out by the stairway descended with the aid of the firemen. Mrs. Minnie Robinson, who was sleeping in a front room on the fifth floor with her husband and baby, became crazed with fright, and rushing to the window leaped to the pavement with her infant in her arms. She was terribly crushed and lived but a short time, but the infant escaped unhurt. Besides Mrs. Robinson three others lost their lives; Tom Dowler, a barber; H. K. Sims, formerly a Pinkerton detective, and Edward Peyton (colored). The fire was confined to the top floor. The total loss is about $63,000. Dowler left his room and entered the flaming hall to meet his death. One of the windows of his room opened on the fire escape, and his room mate escaped easily. The building resembles a fire trap. The halls are narrow and crooked, and the narrow stairway is in the center of the structure. When the firemen reached the fire the upper floor was ablaze. The hotel was one of those houses were no register was kept, and it was next to impossible to find out how many people were in the house or to tell who they were. It was stated the fire was caused by the bursting of a lamp left in one of the hallways, but the proprietor insists there was no lamp in the hall, as the house was lighted throughout with gas.

Went Back to His First Love.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 13.—R. W. Mackie, of Fort Wayne, who deserted his affianced, a Miss Steele, of Cooperstown, N. Y., on the eve of the wedding and fled to Montreal, Canada, with Mrs. Falkers, was married to Miss Steele at Denver, Col., Friday night.

A Farmer Poisons His Entire Family.

OSTARK, Ala., Oct. 13.—Clayton Lilly, a farmer, 35 years of age, Saturday poisoned his wife and children with rat poison. The poison was cooked, the little children partook of it, three of them falling dead at the table. Mrs. Lilly died in a few hours. The baby breathed its last yesterday morning. Lilly was captured and is now in jail.

Death of Ex-Secretary Belknap.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Ex-Secretary of War, W. W. Belknap, was found dead in his office rooms, Fourteenth street and New York avenue this morning. It is not yet known what was the immediate cause of his death. Deceased has been in ill-health for some time past. His family are absent and the General has been lodging in his office.

Business Embarrassments.

Grover & Co., drygoods, Dresden, have failed. The creditors of Messrs. Clark & Cook, tailors, at Orillia, have accepted a compromise at 50 cents on the dollar. Joseph Lowrie, carriagemaker, Sarnia, has called a meeting of his creditors. The unsecured claims amount to $32,000, while $35,000 is secured. Mr. Lowrie's statement shows a surplus of $30,000.

To Mark Benwell's Grave.

GALT, Ont., Oct. 13.—The stone being finished by Scott & Martindale, of Galt, which is to mark the resting-place of the young man Benwell will bear the following inscription:

In Loving Memory of
FREDERICK CORNWALLIS BENWELL,
Born 15th September, 1865,
Murdered in the Township of Blenheim, February 17th, 1890.
ELDEST SON OF LIEUT.-COL. BENWELL, OF CHELTENHAM, ENGLAND,
Formerly Captain 100th Regiment.
"What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

Incendiarism at Strathroy.

STRATHROY, Oct. 13.—On Saturday Mayor Johnston issued bills offering a reward of $50 for the conviction of the party or parties who cut the hose at the late fire, corner of Front and Colborne streets and which was the work of an incendiary.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning our citizens were disturbed by the fire alarm and the building was found to be another carriage and blacksmith shop. The owner was Mr. Walter Wright, a most respected citizen. He says there was no fire in the shop the day before and undoubtedly it must have been set on fire. Carriages, wagons and everything were a total loss. Wright was insured for $600.

Two Children Lose Their Lives.

PORT HURON, Mich., Oct. 13.—The little 9-year-old daughter of George Sutton, a sewing machine agent of this city, was drowned in Black River Friday evening. She had been playing on a raft with two companions, and remained on it alone. No one saw her fall into the river, but a child's scream was heard about that time. The river has been dragged in vain to recover the remains.

Shenny, the 12-year-old son of Samuel Scott, met with a horrible death at the Grand Trunk crossing on Pine Grove avenue Saturday. About 2 o'clock the lad climbed aboard a freight train, when he slipped and fell beneath the wheels. Nearly the entire train passed over him, severing the head from the body and also one leg. An inquest will be held.

Engineer Murphy's Heroism.

HUNTINGDON, Ind., Oct. 13.—An engine manned by Edward Murphy, engineer, and Geo. Kirby, fireman, was sent from here Friday night to take a freight train from West Point to Chicago on the Chicago and Erie. In a deep cut two miles west of here the engine exploded. The front end blew out and flew 400 feet. Murphy was badly scalded, but jumped off, his leg being broken by the fall. Kirby was blown from the cab back over the tender and upon the track. His recovery is doubtful. The engine ran 700 feet, the wheels keeping the track. Murphy was found crawling up the track on his hands and knees with a lantern to flag vestibule No. 8, due in a few minutes. The train was stopped at the entrance to the cut. Murphy's heroism prevented a terrible wreck.

Dropped Dead in a Theater.

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—Mme. Amelia Lange, the well-known authoress, died suddenly during Saturday afternoon's performance at the Lessing Theater here. She suddenly rose from her place, and crying "Water, water," fell in the aisle dead. She has been a resident here for some time.

Effect of the McKinley Tariff.

A London dispatch received in New York says: "Already the English manufacturing districts are beginning to feel the effects of the McKinley Tariff Bill. In Sheffield the change is marked. Formerly that place exported £360,000 in cutlery annually. It is feared the greater part of this trade may be lost. Birmingham will also suffer severely and almost every other English manufacturing town, as indicated by the number of orders already countermanded.

Grand Duke Nicholas Hopelessly Insane.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—It has been learned that at the close of the Russian military maneuvers in Volhynia, the Grand Duke Nicholas, who had the chief command of the army, suddenly became insane from the effects of the disease from which he had long suffered, and that melancholy and heartrending scenes occurred until he was removed incognito to General Martyroff's estate in the Don steppes. The physicians declare that his condition is hopeless. It is reported that the Czar wishes his son to abandon his proposed Eastern tour.

Strauss Suffers a Severe Loss.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Strauss has suffered a severe loss. The third act of his new opera, "Ritter Pazman," has disappeared in a most unaccountable way. The opera was complete and was about to be given over to the artists. The composer, before he left his country house for town, thought he had locked it safely in a cabinet, but it can be found nowhere. Some time ago the composer gave a heap of old manuscript to his valet to be burned, and he now fears that the third act was in that heap. As he has destroyed his notes and will have to compose the whole act over again, the first performance of the opera will have to be put off indefinitely.

The Death of Mrs. Booth.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Twelve thousand people have been daily flocking to Salvation Hall to gaze upon Mrs. (Gen.) Booth in her coffin. Newspapers which formerly only sneered at the Booths, now give columns in large type to this remarkable woman, and all the indications go to show that the Salvationists were never so much respected in England as at the present time. The remains of Mrs. Booth will be taken to Olympia to-day, and it is expected 25,000 people will attend the funeral service. The interment takes place at Abney Park Cemetery on Tuesday, and the pageant then will be of a nature only surpassed by royal occasions.

Fatal Fire in London.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The four-story building on Middle street, occupied by Rowley & Brock, hat, cap and helmet manufacturers and Government contractors, was destroyed by fire this afternoon. Six persons were burned to death and thirteen were seriously injured. The premises occupied a frontage of 30 feet on Middle street and the same on Front street, and extended thence 50 feet to Newbury street, where was situated the entrance used by the people who worked in the building. The fire broke out at 1 o'clock in the workshops in the upper floor. There were 30 persons in the building. Two minutes After the fire was discovered the whole building was a mass of flames. The spread of the fire was so rapid that the people found every avenue of escape except the windows cut off. Through these some of the employes jumped to the ground. Two women employed by the firm were killed by jumping from the windows.

Is He Jack?

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A sensation has been caused here by the statement to-day by a lodging-house keeper in the Whitechapel district that Jack the Ripper lived at her house during his crimes committed thereabouts. The woman came to Mr. Albert Backert, the chairman of the Vigilance Committee, and told her story. She says a young man engaged a bedroom at her house. He said he had been to sea up to that time. He was in receipt of an allowance from his father of £1 per week, and his brother, who was a physician, gave him a further small allowance. He had a great quantity of clothing, and had revolvers, guns, and many other articles not often found in the outfit of a working man. He asked for a door key, and she noticed that he went out and came in at unusual and irregular hours of the night. He was in the habit of lying abed generally until the afternoon, and would rise about 5 o'clock and leave the house. What first excited her suspicion was the bloody condition in which she often found the towels sent from his room. For this she finally spoke to the man. He said he was very fond of painting, and in his preparations for artistic moments he was in the habit of wiping his brushes on the towels and thereby stained them. He sent several persons pieces of what appeared to be raw liver. One afternoon she happened in his room, and there saw him with a newspaper spread out on his table, and upon it a large piece of raw meat that she took to be liver. He said it was a piece of frozen mutton that had been given him by a friend who was employed on a boat that came from New Zealand bearing a cargo of this meat.

She saw the man do up a piece of this meat in a small box and address it to the Chairman of the Vigilance Committee, and leave the house with it under his arm. She saw the man place small bits of flesh in envelopes, which he addressed to different news agencies and newspapers and also to prominent members of the police. With great apparent carelessness he left these envelopes and their contents in the room when he vacated it, and the woman threw them into the dust bin.

On two occasions he brought home with him blood-stained aprons, which he gave to her, and which she still has and is ready to turn over to the police, believing now that they belonged to two of his victims, for now she is convinced her lodger was Jack the Ripper.

On the morning of the Castle Alley murder, which was the last Jack has thus far committed, her lodger left and has not yet returned. In addition to the envelopes that he left behind him, the woman found in his closet a pair of silent shoes, several bags and a long overcoat, all of which she asserts are blood-stained in almost every part.

THE MONETTE MURDER.

Trial of Mrs. Monette and Philip Lamoureaux—The Accused Acquitted

L'ORIGNAL, Ont., Oct. 13.—The trial of Christine Monette and Philip Lamoureaux, for the murder of the former's husband, Oliver Monette, at Casseman on Sept. 13 of last year, which began here on Wednesday last before Mr. Justice Falconbridge, came to an unexpected termination on Saturday. The female prisoner, who is 36 years old and by no means unamiable in her looks, is the mother of six children. The male prisoner, who gave his age as 19, is a dull-featured lad. The Crown prosecutor, B. M. Britton, in opening the case, said that the deceased and the male prisoner were employed at Flatt & Bradley's mill, and the latter boarded with the Monettes. Evidence showed that the prisoner was not at work on the night of the murder or the night after. The morning of the murder one Fourget saw Lamoureaux and Monette start for the woods, the former carrying a single and the latter a double-barreled gun. Afterwards Monette was seen going home alone and returning again to the woods. After a sufficient time had elapsed to enable deceased to reach the woods, shots were heard, followed by screams. Nothing more was seen of Monette until the following Sunday, when his body was discovered in the Nation River, bearing wounds, one of which had severed the jugular vein and was sufficient to cause death. Next day the dead man's hat was found under a log, and on Wednesday the two barrels of Monette's gun were found. The stock had been torn off, and there was a quantity of hair on the nipples. It was shown that the relations of the deceased and his wife were not the happiest, and from the prisoner's own statements it would appear improper relations existed between him and Mrs. Monette.

Wm. Benson testified to having had improper relations with Mrs. Monette with her free consent, only that she demanded money from him. Mrs. Merkeley and Miss Casselman deposed that about 11:30 on Sept. 13, they heard two shots, followed by loud screams; this seemed so unusual and so alarmed them that she (Mrs. Merkeley) went into the house and shut the door. Other witnesses testified to having found the body which had a string tied about the feet.

Francois Parent, father of the female prisoner, gave the most sensational evidence in the case. He visited Casselman on the day Monette's body was found and saw Lamoureaux and his daughter there. Lamoureaux was shivering and trembling as he asked him "Why are you so excited? They must find out who did the harm." He (Lamoureaux) said: "It is I who done it. I put him from my way." About 35 witnesses were examined.

Constantineau, counsel for the defense, made an address, which lasted two hours and a half. It was possible, he said, and most probable that Monette committed suicide. Mr. Britton, Crown prosecutor, made a lengthy reply, speaking an hour and a quarter. The Judge's charge was severely against the prisoner. It was the Crown's theory that the whole plot had been laid out by the female prisoner and carried out by Lamoureaux. Notwithstanding this the jury, after being absent 1 hour and 45 minutes, returned a verdict of "not guilty," much to the surprise of the audience. Lamoureaux throughout the entire trial did not show the least excitement. The female prisoner kept her face well out of sight during the trial, and seemed to feel her position keenly.

Fell Thirteen Hundred Feet.

HANCOCK, Mich., Oct. 13.—Peter Berbabahpi, an Italian miner, rode up in a skip in the Huron mine contrary to orders, and in jumping off fell 1,300 feet to the bottom. The body was an unrecognizable mass.

Hanged Himself.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—James Hanna committed suicide by hanging on Saturday at Miami, in this Province. He had been despondent of late, owing to bad health. Deceased was aged 35, and was unmarried.

Found Drowned.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—On Saturday evening the body of Annie V. Dallas was found in the lake at the foot of Peck Court. On Sunday morning two fishermen found the body of Lawrence McBeth floating near the same place. Both bodies had been a week in the water. The woman was of questionable character. The man's real name is said to be Beath, of Sarnia, Canada. He had been an actor. A week ago the couple had had a spat, and left the house, where they had lived together, about midnight. Nothing more was heard or seen of them until their bodies were found in the lake.

The Ontario Election Trials.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—The trials of the Ontario election petitions will be held at the following places by consent: For East Hastings at Belleville, for East Durham at Millbrook, for West York at Toronto, for Muskoka at Bracebridge, for North Perth at Stratford, for North and South Essex at Sandwich, for West Middlesex at Strathroy, for East Middlesex at London, for South Wentworth and Hamilton at Hamilton—former to be taken first if counsel can arrange it, for East Elgin judgment deferred as to place, for South Norfolk at Simcoe. In the case of two Algomas it is not yet decided whether to hold trials immediately before the close of navigation or to wait until spring.

Mr. Langevin left an estate valued at $4,000,000, divided pretty equally between his five children with the exception of his only son George, to whom he left nothing on account of his waywardness. It is stated Mrs. Langevin, with the consent of all the children, will burn the will.

More Than Conquerors!

"Thrice is he armed that hath his quarrel just;
And he but naked, though locked up in steel,
Whose conscience with injustice is corrupted."

So said the immortal bard of Avon, and so it will be to the end of the world. Imitators and manufacturers of common package dyes are quarreling amongst themselves in the vain endeavor to make their dyes popular, while "Diamond Dyes," invincible, powerful and popular, are quietly pursuing their way, and doing satisfactory work in every household. "Diamond Dyes" are honest, truthful, reliable and never disappoint.

The Pearl of Pekin Company stranded in Philadelphia on Saturday.

It is a fad now in New York to take the more handsome lithographs and have them framed.

Primrose & West's Minstrels played at the Grand Opera House, New York city, all the past week.

W. H. Crane is drawing large houses right along in "The Senator" at the Star Theater, New York city.

Sam T. Jack's Lily Clay Company will invade Mexico and open a season in the City of Mexico on Oct. 25.

A large portrait of Mattie Rooney adorns the front page of this week's issue of the New York Clipper. She is but 12 years of age.

Bessie Bonehill, the English vaudeville actress, was married to Wm. Seeley at Buffalo lately. They are both with Tony Pastor.

James B. Mackie has made a hit in "Grimes' Cellar Door," and the piece has proved popular. Mr. W. H. Birrell, formerly of this city, is interested in the company.

On Oct. 6, at the Academy of Music, New York, began another season and the fourth year of Denman Thompson and original company in the wonderful "Old Homestead." The big play-house was crowded to the doors.

Mr. W. Jacques, the new manager of the Chatham Opera House, is a courteous gentleman and the most energetic manager the house has ever had. Since he has taken control he has been busy renovating and refurnishing with new carpets and scenery, until now we have one of the finest theaters in Canada.—[Chatham Correspondence Dramatic Mirror.

New York has 28 theaters, the gross seating capacity of which is over 50,000 people. There are hundreds of concert, music and lecture halls all over the city, two-thirds of which are used every night. It is safe to estimate the total capacity of the various places of amusement in the metropolis at 150,000. Over $75,000 are spent every night in the big city for theatrical and musical entertainment. The new Madison Square Garden is the largest place of amusement; next comes the Academy, where "The Old Homestead" is a permanent attraction, then the Metropolitan Opera House, and Niblo's, where the great spectacular production of "Nero" is to occur Oct. 20.

FALL FAIRS.

Among the agricultural exhibitions to be held this fall are the following:

Aldborough	Rodney	Oct. 14
Norfolk Union	Simcoe	Oct. 14-15
Blenheim	Drumbo	Oct. 14-15
Bothwell	Bothwell	Oct. 15-16
Burford	Harley	Oct. 16-17
Orford	Highgate	Oct. 18
Chatham, Dover and Sombra	Wallaceburg	Oct. 25-26
Art. Ind. and Agr.	Windsor	Oct. 21-31

The "Exposition Universelle de l'art Culinaire" awarded the highest honors to Angostura Bitters as the most efficacious stimulant to excite the appetite and to keep the digestive organs in good order. Ask for the genuine article, manufactured by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons, and beware of imitations.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

Sing a song of sixpence,
The price of "Diamond Dyes;"
The fairest of all colors,
That please the ladies' eyes;
They happy make each mother,
Each wife and daughter true;
And all tell one another,
What "Diamond Dyes" can do
So sing a song of sixpence
For what these dyes have done,
In giving glorious colors,
That hold in rain or sun.

Talmage Talks About His Tour in Palestine.

The Visit to Calvary—Mount Moriah—The Mosque of Omar—Sights from the Housetop.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 12.—This morning Dr. Talmage delivered his third sermon on his recent tour in Palestine. Text: "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning."—Psalm, cxxxvii., 5. Paralysis of his best hand, the withering of its muscles and nerves, is here invoked if the author allows to pass out of mind the grandures of the Holy City where once he dwelt. Jeremiah, seated by the River Euphrates, wrote this psalm and not David. Afraid I am of anything that approaches imprecation, and yet I can understand how any one who has ever been at Jerusalem should, in enthusiasm of soul, cry out, whether he be sitting by the Euphrates, or the Hudson or the Thames, "if I forget thee, O Jerusalem, may my right hand forget her cunning!" The city is unlike all others for topography, for history, for significance, for style of population, for waterworks, for ruins, for towers, for domes, for ramparts, for literature, for tragedies, for memorable birthplaces, for supulchres, for conflagrations and famines, for victories and defeats. I am here at last in this very Jerusalem and on a house-top, just after the dawn of the morning of Dec. 3, with an old inhabitant to point out the salient features of the scenery. "Now," I said, "Where is Mount Zion?" "Here at your right." "Where is Mount Olivet?" 'In front of where you stand." "Where is the Garden of Gethsemane?" "In yonder valley." "Where is Mount Calvary?" Before he answered, I saw it. No unprejudiced mind can have a moment's doubt as to where it is. Yonder I see a hill in the shape of a human skull and the Bible says that Calvary was the "place of a skull." Not only is it skull-shaped, but just beneath the forehead of the hill is a cavern that looks like eyeless sockets. Within the grotto under it, is the shape of the inside of a skull. Then the Bible says that Christ was crucified outside the gate, and this is outside the gate. The Saviour's assassination took place beside a thoroughfare along which people went "wagging their heads," and there is the ancient thoroughfare. All recent travelers agree that this place was, without doubt, the scene of the most terrific and overwhelming tragedy this planet ever witnessed.

On visiting Calvary and coming to the base of the hill we first went inside the skull of rocks. It is called Jeremiah's grotto, for there the prophet wrote his book of Lamentations. The grotto is 35 feet high and its top and sides are malachite, green, brown, black, white, red and gray. It is possible for you to realize what our emotions were as we gathered, a group of men and women, all saved by the blood of the Lamb, on a bluff of Calvary, just wide enough to contain three crosses. As I opened the nineteenth chapter of John to read, a chill blast struck the hill and a cloud hovered, the natural solemnity increasing the spiritual solemnity. I read a little, but broke down. I defy any emotional Christian man sitting upon Golgotha to read aloud and with unbroken voice, or with any voice at all, the whole of that account in Luke and John, of which these sentences are a fragment: "They took Jesus and led him away, and he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the Place of a Skull, where they crucified him and two others with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst"; "Behold thy mother!" "I thirst"; "This day shalt thou be with me in Paradise"; "Father, forgive them; they know not what they do"; "If it be possible, let this cup pass from me." What sighs, what sobs, what tears, what tempests of sorrow, what surging oceans of agony in those utterances!

While we sat there the whole scene came before us. All around the top and the sides, and the foot of the hill, a mob rages. They gnash their teeth and shake their clenched fists at him. Here the cavalry horses champ their bits and paw the earth and snort at the smell of the carnage. Yonder a group of gamblers are pitching up as to who shall have the coat of the dying Saviour. There are women almost dead with grief among the crowd, his mother and his aunt, and some whose sorrows he had comforted, and whose guilt he had pardoned. Here a man dips a sponge into sour wine, and by a stick lifts it to the hot, and cracked lips. The hemorrhage of the five wounds has done its work. The atmospheric conditions are such as the world saw never before or since. It was not a solar eclipse, such as astronomers record or we ourselves have seen. It was the bereavement of the heavens! Darker! Until the towers of the temple were no longer visible. Darker! Until the surrounding hills disappeared. Darker! Until the inscription above the middle cross became illegible. Darker! Until the chin of the dying Lord falls upon the breast, and he sighed with this last sigh, the words, "It is finished!"

As we sat there, a silence took possession of us and we thought; this is the center from which continents have been touched, and all the world shall yet be moved. Toward this hill the prophets pointed forward. Toward this hill the apostles and martyrs pointed backward. To this all heaven pointed downward. To this with foaming execrations perdition pointed upward. Round it circles all history, all time, all eternity, and with this scene painters have covered the mightiest canvas, and sculptors cut the richest marble, and orchestras rolled their grandest oratorios, and churches lifted their greatest doxologies, and heaven built its highest thrones.

But we must hasten back to the city. Stop here and see a startling proof of the truth of prophecy. In Jeremiah, xxxi, 40th verse, it is said that Jerusalem shall be built through the ashes. What ashes, people have been asking? The meaning has been recently discovered. Jerusalem is now being built out in a certain direction where the ground has been submitted to chemical analysis, and it has been found to be the ashes cast out from the sacrifices of the ancient temple, ashes of wood and of bones of animals, accumulation of centuries of sacrifices. It has taken all these thousands of years to discover what Jeremiah meant when he said, "Behold the days shall come, saith the Lord, that the city shall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel unto the gate of the corner, and the whole valley of the dead bodies and of the ashes." One handful of that ashes on which they are building is enough to prove the divinity of the Scriptures.

Explorers have been digging, and they have found 75 feet beneath the surface the corner stone of the ancient temple, laid by Solomon 3,000 years ago. Yonder from a depth of 40 feet a signet ring has been brought up inscribed with the words "Haggai, the Son of Shebnaiah," showing it belonged to the prophet Haggai, and to that seal ring he refers in his prophecy, saying "I will make thee as a signet?" Further on, look at the pillars on which Mount Moriah was built. You know that the mountain was too small for the temple, and so they built the mountain out on pillars, and I saw eight of those pillars, each one strong enough to hold a mountain. Here we enter the Mosque of Omar, a throne of Mohammedanism, where we must put on slippers before we take a step further, lest our feet pollute the sacred places. Yonder is a curve of stone which is part of a bridge which once reached from Mount Moriah to Mount Zion, and over it David walked or rode to prayers in the temple. Here is the wailing-place of the Jews, where for centuries during the day time whole generations of the Jews have stood, putting their heads or lips against the wall of what was once Solomon's temple. It was one of the saddest and most solemn and impressive scenes I ever witnessed to see scores of these decendants of Abraham, with tears rolling down their cheeks, and lips trembling with emotion, a book of psalms open before them, bewailing the ruin of the ancient temple and the captivity of their race, and crying to God for the restoration of the temple.

But I must get back to the house-top where I stood early this morning. Here I see that the city was built for military safety. It stands on a hill 2,600 feet above the level of the sea, and deep ravines on three sides do the work of military trenches. Compact as no other city was compact. Only three miles journey round, and the three ancient towers, Hippicus, Phasaelus, Mariamne, frowning death upon the approach of all enemies. From this housetop I see in imagination Herod's temple built for the one purpose of eclipsing all its architectural predecessors. There it stood, covering nineteen acres, and 10,000 workmen had been 46 years in building it. The temple! The temple! Doxology in stone! Anthems soaring in rafters of Lebanon cedar! From side to side and from fountain to gilded pinnacle, the frozen prayer of all ages! And I imagine I see the king's palace covering 160,000 square feet. O Jerusalem! Jerusalem! Mountain city! city of God! joy of the whole earth! stronger than Gibraltar and Sebastopol, surely it never could have been captured.

But while standing there on the housetop I hear the crash of the 23 mighty sieges which have come against Jerusalem in the ages past. The siege that most absorbs us is that of the Crusaders. England and France, and all Christendom, wanted to capture the holy sepulchre and Jerusalem, then in possession of Mohammedans, under Saladin. Against him came the armies of Europe, under Richard Cœur de Lion, King of England; Philip Augustus, King of France; Tancreed, Raymond, Godfrey and other valiant men, marching on through fevers, and plagues, and battle charges, and sufferings, as intense as the world ever saw. With all the world looking on, the armies of Europe come within sight of Jerusalem. At the first glimpse of the city they fall on their faces in reverence, and then lift anthems of praise. Then the battering rams rolled, and the catapults swung, and the swords thrust, and the carnage raged. Godfrey of Bouillion is the first to mount the wall and the Crusaders, a cross on every shoulder or breast, having taken the city, march bare-head and bare-footed to what they suppose to be the Holy Sepulchre and kiss the tomb. Jerusalem, the possession of Christendom. But Saladin retook the city, and for the last 400 years it has been in possession of cruel and polluted Mohammedanism!

Another crusade is needed to start for Jerusalem, a crusade in this nineteenth century greater than all those of the past centuries put together. A crusade in which you and I will march. A crusade without weapons of death, but only the Sword of the Spirit. A crusade that will make not a single wound, nor start one tear of distress, nor incendiarize one homestead. A crusade of Gospel Peace! And the Cross again be lifted on Calvary, not as once an instrument of pain, but a signal of invitation, and the Mosque of Omar shall give place to a Church of Christ, and Mount Zion become the dwelling place not of David, but of David's Lord, and Jerusalem, purified of all its idolatries, and taking back the Christ she once cast out, shall be made a worthy type of that heavenly city which Paul styled "the mother of us all," and which St. John saw, "the holy Jerusalem descending out of heaven from God."

A Good Appetite

Is essential to good health; but at this season it is often lost, owing to the poverty or impurity of the blood, derangement of the digestive organs, and the weakening effect of the changing season. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, toning the digestion and giving strength to the whole system. Now is the time to take it. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsparailla. z

Imperial Federation

Will present an opportunity to extend the fame of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the unfailing remedy for cholera, cholera morbus, colic, cramps, diarrhea, dysentery, and all summer complaints, to every part of the Empire. Wild Strawberry never fails.

The self-made man is always interesting—especially to himself.

By falling from a wagon, a Chinaman, whose life was insured for a large amount, was seriously hurt. There was some doubt as to his ever getting better, and at length one of his friends wrote to the insurance company: "Charley half dead; likee half money."

Timely Wisdom.

Great and timely wisdom is shown by keeping Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry on hand. It has no equal for cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhea, dysentery colic, cramps and all summer complaints or looseness of the bowels.

A Mormon apostle says that what the church needs is persecution, and plenty of it. He is sufficiently near right to be very far wrong. It is prosecution—and plenty of it, with a strong penitentiary flavor—which is the church's most pressing need just now.

Mr. George Helm, of Musselburg, pulled 42 pails of plums from nine small trees this year, for which he received 60 cents per pail.

Banker Steward, of Tilbury, one of Essex's wealthy men, burst a blood vessel in his head a few days ago and is dangerously ill.

Mr. Sutherland, who has been acting for some time past as relieving officer of the Bank of Commerce, Strathroy, left on Thursday for Cayuga.

Messrs. Wm. Ardiell, Wm. Routledge and F. Fenwick acted as judges on horses at the Caradoc show at Mount Brydges on Thursday last.

The farm of Mr. William Michael, New Sarum, consisting of 150 acres, has been sold by public auction to Mr. John Penhale, Yarmouth, for $7,800.

During the quarter ending with September there were 72 prisoners committed to the county jail at Brantford. The cost of keeping them was 6½ cents per diem.

The Galt School Board seriously considers the advisability of appointing an officer to inquire into the reason why so many boys and girls of that town do not attend school.

The death of Mr. James Bowlby, of the township of Metcalfe, near Walker's station, took place on Tuesday from typhoid fever. Deceased was 40 years of age, and was a son of the late Samuel Bowlby, of Talbotville.

Mr. William McCarthy, of Rockwood, who has just returned from an extended trip through Ireland, expresses the opinion that the blight on the potato crop will destroy about three-quarters of the yield in the Southwestern counties.

Rev. J. Ridley, of Trinity Church, Galt, lately received an invitation from a congregation in a city in Western New York, with a view to his appointment to the rectorship of the vacant parish. Mr. Ridley decided that he preferred to remain in his present rectorship and declined the call.

The death occurred at Brantford Thursday of Mrs. Alanson Harris. Deceased would have celebrated the 50th anniversary of her wedding day next Saturday. She had a family of twelve children, of whom only three survive her, viz., Rev. Elmore Harris, Toronto; Mr. T. M. Harris and Mrs. Popplewell.

Mr. G. Briggs, constable of Tara, traced Walter Cooper, who hired a horse and buggy of Mr. John Telford, of Southampand never returned it, all the way to Toronto and took him back for trial at Walkerton. Cooper pleaded guilty and Judge Kingsmill sentenced him to serve one year and ten months in the Central Prison.

An accident which might have resulted seriously occurred on the fair grounds at Thorndale on Wednesday last. Mr. McLean was speeding his horse on the ring when one of his sulky wheels went down and his horse ran away, plunging through the crowd and knocking down a little girl; but she was uninjured, though greatly frightened. Mr. McLean received a slight injury to one of his legs.

Last week the American tug Parks was seized by the customs authorities at Amherstburg for infringement of the customs regulations. On the Tuesday previous the steamer Ossifrage broke a link in her machinery and the Parks took it to Detroit, but failed to take out the clearance papers at Amherstburg, and on the return of the tug it was tied up and released by paying $400 fine. The matter has been appealed to Ottawa.

The following cases were dealt with at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Friday: Ontario Natural Gas Company vs. Wigle—H. S. Osler, for the plaintiffs, obtained on consent an order changing the venue from Toronto to Sandwich. Ontario Natural Gas Company vs. Township of South Gosfield—D. Armour, for the defendants, moved to disallow an appeal bond filed by the plaintiffs on their appeal to the Court of Appeal as irregular. H. S. Osler, for the plaintiffs, contra. Enlarged for one week, with leave to the plaintiffs to remove the bond from the files for the purpose of amending it.

CHATHAM.

As some men who were digging a cistern at W. Grey & Son's carriage works on Friday were hauling a bucket of dirt out of the well the bucket slipped and fell on one of the men, hurting him very seriously.

While tearing down the old frame building next to the postoffice Mr. F. Gillett, slipped on the scantling, which gave way with him, letting him and ceiling to the ground floor, a distance of about ten feet. Outside of the scare no injury was received by him.

THE HORSEMAN.

Salvator at one time had a ringbone that resisted treatment. He was then a yearling, and so bad was his case considered that he could have been bought for a song. The ringbone got better, however, and Salvator was saved to be the champion of his day.

⁂

Sunol will in all probability pass next winter in California, being taken back by Marvin, in whose stable she will remain. It was in the contract, when Sunol was sold, that Marvin should have her for the present season, Mr. Bonner then to take possession of the mare, but the New York man is so pleased with the way in which the filly has been handled that he has about concluded to let Marvin have her another year.

⁂

In the New York Sportsman attention is called to the astonishing amount of crooked work on the running turf which has of late become so barefaced as to be the subject of general remark among turfmen who have the welfare of racing at heart. It seems that the executive hands of the different jockey clubs are tied through absence of any actual proof of criminal collusion between certain owners, trainers, jockeys, and the betting ring. But, by the way, has the running turf a monopoly of the crooked work, and is everything in trotting circles "Simon pure?"

⁂

The Kentucky Stock Farm, published at Lexington, Ky., occupies among journals of that class a unique and commendable position, in that it caters to the breeder of trotting horses, and not to the sporting man. The aim of the publishers is to get all the trotting horse news of the day, and a skim through its handsomely-printed pages shows that they are neck-and-neck with everything of that sort going on in the country. Strong editorially, it has also a clever staff of contributors, who thoroughly ventilate the very latest topics in the horse world.

⁂

A stock conference was recently held in Melbourne, Australia, to consider measures for preventing the introduction of diseases by the importation of horses. A resolution was adopted asking the respective colonial governments to provide that all horses imported in future should be subject to a quarantine of fourteen days. The governments of South Australia and Tasmania have agreed to carry out the recommendation. The other colonies have it under consideration.

⁂

It will be found that those who can see no good in a certain class of horses, have failed to take into consideration that there is a certain kind of work for which they are exactly suited. Otherwise as a breed such horses would not have existed at all. A very heavy horse may be almost useless on the farm, and yet be the right horse in the right place when hitched to a heavy wagon hauling freight for the G.T.R., the C.P.R., or the M.C.R., on the streets of London.

⁂

The editor of the Commercial Gazette pays the following tribute to the trotter: "There is poetry in motion, and the best form of its expression in the trotting horse. The swift pace of a trotting horse is the perfection of rhythmic action, and the sonorous impact of the horse's hoofs on the beaten track is as regular as the beat of a clock. The action of the horse is as perfect as a chronometer, and when half a dozen trotters swing in the home stretch, every nerve in their sleek-coated bodies strained to the utmost, and rush past the wire, it is difficult to refrain from cheering."

⁂

Horsemen will be pleased at the final decision on the location for the World's Fair of '93. Washington Park, with the contiguous course of the Washington Park Club, the midway Plaisance and Jackson Park, all combined, certainly affords an ideal site for the great exposition. Something like 1,000 acres of park property is thus made available, and the well-appointed track of the club above mentioned will be tendered if wanted.

⁂

Hon. M. H. Cochrane, of Hillhurst, Quebec, well known to Advertiser readers, as a successful live stock breeder and importer, is just now conducting an experiment at his farm which will be of great interest to horsemen. He has for many years been impressed with the wearing qualities, fine action and finish of the English Hackney, and is the owner of some costly specimens of this famous British breed. He has during the past few years also acquired by purchase a choice collection of American-bred trotting brood mares and stallions, and he now proposes to interbreed these to a limited extent, with a view to determining what sort of a cross will result from an admixture of the two bloods. His attention was turned to this point several years ago, and he has already a few cross-breds which certainly afford good ground for the belief that the "nick" will be a success, so far at least as the production of a thoroughly useful driving horse is concerned. Just how much speed can be attained is, of course, an open question, but that a long-distance trotter can be evolved by this method seems entirely within the range of probability. The two chief trotting-bred sires in service are Floren, by Piedmont, out of Flower Girl (own sister to Manzanita, 2:16, and Wildflower, 2:21), by Electioneer, and Aubrey, by Epaulet, 2:19, dam Bonny, by Kentucky Prince; second dam, Bonnie Lassie, by Rysdyk's Hambletonian. A track has been provided at the farm with a view toward developing somewhat the youngsters in the stud, and it seem probable that ere long Hillhurst will acquire quite as much prominence as a horse-breeding establishment as it has so long enjoyed as a headquarters for choice Herefords and Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

⁂

The Kentucky Stock Farm, commenting on the stallion Nelson's remarkable mile in 2:11½ on the kite-shaped track at Kankakee, says: "That horse now holds the world's stallion record. Nelson, 2:11½, is a bay horse, foaled in 1882. He was sired by Young Rolfe, 3517; dam, Gretchen (dam of Susie Owen, 2:26), by Gideon, son of Rysdyk's Hambletonian; second dam by Black Hawk, 5. Young Rolfe, his sire, was by Tom Rolfe, 306; dam Judith, by Draco, 116; his grandam, Lady Balch, by Rising Sun. Tom Rolfe is a son of the great pacer, Pocohontas, 2:17½, the first animal, trotter or pacer, to beat Flora Temple, 2:19¾. Nelson is bred in the purple, and is a good illustration of what a sensible course of breeding, pursued through generations, will do. He is a trotting-bred trotter. Nelson's mile was a great one, and while it gives him the stallion record, it must yet be conceded to be inferior in actual merit to Axtell's 2:12, on a track that lacks at least three seconds of being as fast. Axtell's record was made as a 3-year-old, Nelson's by an 8-year-old horse, another very important distinction. It would be an interesting experiment to send Nelson a mile on the Terre Haute track, when both the track and horse are in the best condition. This would show the difference in the speed of the tracks, and also how near Nelson can come to wiping out Axtell's record under like conditions. For both reasons the performance would be looked forward to with interest."

OFFICE OF THE PUBLIC ANALYST.
MONTREAL, Sept. 9, 1887.
To the Canada Sugar Refining Co., Montreal.

GENTLEMEN,—I have personally taken samples from a large stock of your Granulated Sugar, "REDPATH" brand, and carefully tested them by the Polariscope, and I find these samples to be as near to absolute purity as can be obtained. The test by the Polariscope showed in yesterday's yield 99.90 per cent. of Pure Cane Sugar, which may be considered commercially as ABSOLUTELY PURE SUGAR.

AN EGG ARGUMENT MET.

If it should turn out that the McKinley tariff does not ruin the Canadian farmers the Liberals will themselves be ruined. They have all their political eggs in one nest now—[Montreal Gazette.

This is a specimen of the numerous misrepresentations of the Liberal policy that are to be found in the restrictionist press these days. A careful and dispassionate study of speeches by leading Liberals and of arguments to be found in Liberal newspapers will not bear out our Montreal contemporary.

No one has said that the farmers of Canada will be ruined by the McKinley tariff, and no one can truthfully assert that the indictment between the taxpayers of Canada and the present Ottawa Administration is restricted to one or a dozen counts.

There certainly is a difference between an allegation that the McKinley tariff will ruin Canadian agriculture, and the assertion, founded on past experience, that the policy of high taxation, persisted in by the Government, is and will continue to be hurtful to the people of both countries. But Canada will not be ruined by any tariff legislation. It will not be ruined by the heavy taxation which has been imposed upon it by the present Ottawa Government. The country is young; it is possessed of almost boundless recuperative powers; it has resources yet undeveloped capable of affording sustenance for many millions of inhabitants. And above all it is peopled by a race that is noted for its indomitable perseverance and determination to make the best of everything.

Still there is such a thing as overloading a man. Suppose an army setting out on an expedition, and suppose each man capable of carrying, with ease, a kit of 50 pounds. But suppose a number of men high in position were to come along and say, "Fifty pounds is a fair burden, but these men are big, sturdy fellows; their backs are broad and their limbs are strong. They can carry 150 pounds. Let them be loaded up with our burdens; they can carry them and still live through the campaign." Does anyone suppose that these overburdened soldiers would fight as well, live as comfortably or as long with their burdens so augmented to the relief of a comparatively few of their fellows? He would be regarded as a fool or a knave who would suggest such an idea.

The simile illustrates the problem of existence in Canada to-day. The restrictionists assert that so long as the victims of overtaxation and extravagance do not totally collapse they are not sufferers by the system. This is their only answer to the contention that the fewer burdens the workers have to bear—whether they toil in the shop, in the field or in the forest—the better off they will be; the more unnecessary burdens heaped on them, the less happy will be their lot. For this cause does the Liberal party support a policy which has for its object the relief of the Canadian people from every unnecessary tax and the extension of their liberty to buy and sell in the profitable markets which exist at their doors. Pursuing a policy fraught with so much benefit to the farmers and to every independent and spirited worker in the Dominion, the Liberals need have no misgivings as to their future.

THE SPEAKER AND HIS POWERS.

We are at a loss to understand under what theory of government a Speaker in the United States Congress works. In Great Britain the Speaker of the House of Commons is chosen on the assumption that he will be a thoroughly non-partisan official, and so well have the incumbents of the chair justified this assumption of their fair-mindedness that on a change of Government taking place they have repeatedly been confirmed in their office. For example, Mr. Brand, the late Speaker, and Mr. Peel, the present holder of the office, though Liberals, were given the confidence of the Conservatives just as if they had been members of the Conservative party, and deservedly so, for despite the extension of the powers of the Speaker, rendered necessary by the growing tendency of M.P.s to talk too much, it can never be said that a British Speaker has, either for personal or partisan purposes, overstepped the bounds of strict justice and impartiality.

The trouble with Mr. Reed, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, has been that he regarded his office as a trust to be used to forward party interests. He has so turned it to account. In theory, he was a judicial functionary, but in reality he assumed the duties of the leader of his party in the House and put himself in direct charge of the pending legislation, adopting every means, short of physical force, within easy reach, for the passage of such bills as he approved of. Mr. Reed went further; he abandoned his place for a stumping tour in his own State, which was chiefly devoted to gloating over the victories which his party had achieved, in no small degree, through the arbitrary use of his official powers.

Such action on the part of a Speaker must necessarily impair public confidence in the rectitude of his character, and suggest the great danger to popular institutions which so pernicious a practice is calculated to bring about. Parliamentary institutions can only be upheld in a free land by a strict regard for the principles on which they are established, not the least important of which is that the Speaker shall be a man who will inspire confidence and respect for the law and precedents on which representative government is founded.

THE STANDARD OF LIVING.

Mr. Dodge, the statistician of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, read a paper at the recent meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science which has been a subject of much merriment to English newspapers. Mr. Dodge's topic was the standard of living, and he undertook to show that in the United States that standard is the highest known, and is progressive. The average consumption of meat in Great Britain, he said, is only two-thirds that of the United States, while that of France is scarcely half the latter. The consumption of cereals, too, is three times greater by man and beast in the United States than in Europe. Then the American people are no less profuse in their clothing; besides which their houses are finer, their land is richer, the rate of wages is higher, and so on to finity.

This is a matter of rare sport to English newspaper writers, and if Mr. Dodge ever reads an English newspaper and is capable of enjoying humor at his own expense, we do not know any man in America at the present time who can have such a jolly good time of it. But should he see the great bovine Englishmen and Germans who are now visiting America, he may wonder what use his own countrymen are making of the great rations of meat and breadstuffs which they consume.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

—The McKinley Bill is giving employment to millions of people. They are busily employed marking up the prices of the people's everyday necessaries.

‡‡‡

—Premier Mercier, of Quebec, will celebrate his 50th birthday on Wednesday, and on Thursday assist in opening the Quebec Protestant Teachers' Convention in Montreal.

‡‡‡

—Every man to his trade. Berry, the professional English hangman, says he has hanged over 100 persons since he succeeded Marwood in 1883, and that he scans the papers every evening to see if a job has been provided for him.

‡‡‡

—No crime has a greater fascination than that of counterfeiting. Men who could earn $12 a week at honest work will go into counterfeiting with the knowledge that even with the best of luck they cannot make more than $3 or $4 weekly.

‡‡‡

—The Secretary of the Hamilton Central Fair acknowledges that the institution has been a failure. He proposes that the citizens should cease holding a fair, and concentrate their energies on a carnival, for which an annual civic subsidy of $10,000 would be required.

‡‡‡

—A Minnesota court has decided that the man who pays for the lower berth in a sleeping car is entitled to have the upper berth closed, and hence to the use of the section unless the upper is sold to some other traveler. But it has not decided upon any method for soothing the temper of the man who may be rudely awakened at 1 o'clock in the morning by the sable attendant, who desires to open and make up the upper berth for some newly booked traveler.

‡‡‡

—The Sarnia Canadian is thankful for small mercies. It joyfully states that an M. P. named Skinner, who has been Liberal or Conservative in turns for the last twenty years—always being on the side that for the time being is in power—spoke in favor of the visiting Tory leaders at Halifax the other night. Yet it is but the other day that this Mr. Skinner told the electors of St. John that "the greatest annexation power in Canada for the past twenty years has been the Conservative party." At the same time he said the N. P. is a disastrous thing, "falling like a frost on a buckwheat field in August," leaving not "a kernel to make pancakes." Mr. Skinner's story will be in another strain, when the Liberals attain power at next general election, for he has been a consistent disciple of the Vicar of Bray for many a long day.

‡‡‡

—Eccles division of Southeast Lancashire, will elect a representative to the Imperial Parliament on the 22nd inst., and as this is the first vacancy which has occurred in a British constituency for some time a great deal of interest is taken in the contest. The seat was represented in the last Parliament by Hon. J. F. Egerton, a Conservative, who carried the constituency on two occasions by majorities of over 300. A big effort is being made by the Liberals and it is probable that they will defeat the Tory nominee. The last by-election in Southeast Lancashire was that of Gorton division, which the Liberals carried by 846, increasing their majority as compared with the election of 1886 by over 400 votes. The British people are tired of the Salisbury-Balfourian policy, and a general election would route the combination which has maintained it.

‡‡‡

—Is it not consummate cheek for the men who are responsible for the addition of $13,500,000 to our annual taxes and $89,000,000 to our debt since 1878 to denounce those who question the wisdom of this overtaxation as unpatriotic? The Liberals have faith in their country; they know that in its boundless prairies, vast forests and rich mines they have a splendid heritage, but they cannot close their eyes to the fact that our future has to a far too great degree been drawn on for the benefit of needy politicians and liberal subscribers of election funds. Canada should be for the Canadians, not for a pampered few. With reduced taxes on all necessities of life, the right to buy and sell freely in the great market to the south of us, and an honest administration of public affairs, the Dominion would soon reach that condition of prosperity which in the interests of the people is so desirable. The barnacles must go.

THE FLAG CRY NOT AN ARGUMENT.

Toronto Monetary Times.

When Sir John Macdonald raises the cry that the McKinley tariff is intended to endanger the British flag in Canada, it is quite clear that he is in search of political ore in the economical mine. As a cry this may do as well as any other, rather better perhaps, but it is not an argument, and it does not help us to solve the problem which is brought before the country by this action of a neighboring legislature. Such talk is rather foolish than unfriendly, though nobody likes to have his motives misinterpreted. If the agricultural schedule was made for political effect in Canada, what genius of political evil presided at the drafting of the manufacturers' schedules? The truth is, Congress had to do something to secure the farmer's support to the new tariff, and the best thing was, if possible, to make him believe that it was framed in his interest. The same thing is done here, and the men who do it in one country know very well the real motives of those who do it in the other. The discovery of occult motives, foreign to the real motives that lie on the surface, is pretense, and sorry pretense at best. But it would be too much to say that the waving of the flag cannot bring a politician's reward. All the fools are not dead; if they were, such appeals would cease to be made. So long as they live similar pretenses will be made not wholly without effect.

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

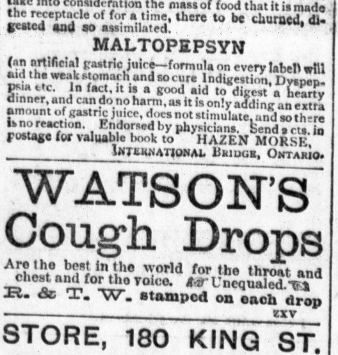
"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.



"THE BEST ARMOR AGAINST DISEASE IS GOOD DIGESTION."

It is a hard, uncontrovertible fact that more disease is directly attributable to disorders of the Stomach than to all the other organs combined; this is not hard for even the unprofessional to understand when we take into consideration the mass of food that it is made the receptacle of for a time, there to be churned, digested and so assimilated.

MALTOPEPSYN

(an artificial gastric juice—formula on every label) will aid the weak stomach and so cure Indigestion, Dyspepsia etc. In fact, it is a good aid to digest a hearty dinner, and can do no harm, as it is only adding an extra amount of gastric juice, does not stimulate, and so there is no reaction. Endorsed by physicians. Send 2 cts. in postage for valuable book to HAZEN MORSE, INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE, ONTARIO.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

MR. JOAB SCALES, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Lame Back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man out of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

WONDERFUL CURES.

FOR THIRTY YEARS.—Mrs. L. Squire, Ontario Steam Dye Works, Toronto, says: "For about thirty years I have doctored for Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia without getting any cure. I then tried Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and the benefits I have received from this medicine are such that I cannot withhold this expression of my gratitude. It acts immediately upon the Liver, and its good effects are noticed at once. As a Dyspepsia remedy I don't think it can be equalled."

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE.

HARDENED AND ENLARGED LIVER.—Mrs. H. Hall, Navarino, N.Y., writes: "For years I have been troubled with Liver Complaint. The doctors said my Liver was hardened and enlarged. I was troubled with Dizziness, Pain in my Right Shoulder, Constipation, and gradually losing flesh all the time. All food soured on my stomach, even with the closest attention to diet. I was under the care of three physicians, but did not get any relief. A friend sent me a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and it affords me much pleasure to inform you that the benefit I have received from it is far beyond my expectation. I feel better now than I have done for years."

APPRECIATION.

"And that which we appreciate must in the value lie."

People appreciate our up and down square way of dealing.

They appreciate the solid worth of our goods.

They appreciate the completeness of style and make of our clothing.

They appreciate the prices which the manufacturers can make and which no others can meet, no matter what hurrah they make or pretended claims they present.

The profits of the middlemen are "chopped" out when the manufacturers retail directly to the consumers at wholesale prices.

Clothing men would rather we would pay anything than this. They would like to have us blow and puff and shout and make big figures, and all such nonsense, which they can meet by doing the like themselves; but when we put it, "Retail Clothing at Wholesale Prices by the Manufacturers," do you hear from "'Em," not much; but the people appreciate what we are doing all the same.

TUG-OF-WAR TOURNAMENT.

The Chicago Men Take the First Prize.

Remarkable Work of a Local Colored Team—London Footballists Defeated at Stratford—Various Sporting Events.

ATHLETICS.

THE TUG-OF-WAR TOURNAMENT.

The 400 or thereabout number of people who attended the tug-of-war tournament in Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon, certainly received the worth of their money and the right change back, but probably 4,000 would have attended had it been thoroughly advertised. Mr. John Fairgrieve made a first-class starter, and Mr. R. Hodgins filled the position of time-keeper, the judges being Dr. Mitchell, Water Commissioner George C. Davis and Mr. Simon McLeod. Mayor Taylor acted as referee.

At 3 o'clock the programme commenced, with four teams ready for the fray, namely, the celebrated Highland team, of Chicago, champions of Illinois, captained by McLeod; the boarders of the McFarlane House, Captain Hall; a picked team from Parkhill and London township, Captain Robson, and a local colored team, Captain Siggins.

The first pull was between Hall's and Siggins' teams, the latter pulling the boarders neatly over the scratch in two minutes.

McLeod's champions then tried conclusions with Captain Robinson's redoubtable team. The former were drawn over in a second, but claimed they were not ready, so another pull was granted. On the start the Americans secured a few inches, which their opponents could not regain. From the commencement the superior skill of the Chicago team was evident, as compared with their less scientific but perhaps more muscular adversaries. The Canadians, however, no doubt anxious to emulate the victory of their West Zorra brethren the day previous, gave the visitors a splendid pull and were heartily cheered for their pluck. Charlie Curry, the stalwart young Parkhill giant, anchored the team, and was under the disadvantage of having the bare rope wound around him, which pained him greatly, while McLeod's anchor was protected with a well-padded belt. Notwithstanding this, and the fact that the team had very little experience in pulling together, it took the champions 34 minutes and 30 seconds to gain the victory.

Siggins' and Hall's men went in for the second heat, but the latter were not in it. They were pulled over in 30 seconds.

After a brief rest the McLeod and Robson teams took up the rope again. This was a very different contest from their former one, the Americans having a walk-oevr. Time, 4 minutes, 20 seconds.

The Chicago and the Siggins teams next entered for first money. The locals held out well for a time, keeping the ribbon opposite the stake, but their opponents soon showed the result of trained practice, and securing their purchase with a few spontaneous pulls, drew the rope over the scratch. Time, 6 minutes 30 seconds.

Last, but not least, came the pull for second prize between the Robson and the Siggins team. More interest centered in this battle than in the previous ones, as the participants seemed more evenly matched. The men accordingly braced themselves and at the word "Go" set to work. In about fifteen minutes there was only three inches variation in favor of Siggins' team. Another quarter of an hour made no difference, many of the spectators going home for supper and returning again to see it out. One individual facetiously suggested that time be called on account of darkness; but the teams took this as a personality and indignantly refused. A draw was then proposed, but neither side would consent. Liquid refreshment was applied liberally to as many of the teams as could disengage their attention long enough to open their mouths. Meanwhile the best of humor prevailed, and Hodge kept the crowd laughing by his repeated avowals to make the Parkhill boys miss the train, together with his assertions of being perfectly warm, although it was a cold day. After an hour's pulling and tugging the Siggins team had gained considerably. With this encouragement their anchor took in a few reefs, and with a united pull brought the rope clean over, amidst prolonged cheers, the men shaking hands all round. The time was remarkable—1 hour 7 minutes and 22 seconds.

The Chicagos were composed as follows: J. N. McLeod, Wm. Tavendale, H. R. McLeod (captain), Allen Mackenzie, Lawrence Neilson and James Calder. They were accompanied by Messrs. A. Gordon Murray and John Keith. The team are well-built, athletic-looking fellows, and won many comments on their gentlemanly behavior. Siggins' team consisted of H. Duncan, Hodge Duncan, I. Duncan, R. Duncan and Harris. Robinson's team were: Ronald Currie, Charles Currie, J. C. McColl, D. Ross and Wm. Gordon.

The prizes were $50, $35 and $15 respectively; won by (1) Chicago, (2) Siggins', (3) Robinsons'. The gate money will not cover the expenses. It is to be regretted that the enterprise of the gentlemen conducting the affair was not as well patronized as it should have been. Several other teams were to have been present, but sent word at the last moment that they would not appear. Messrs. A. Milne and Geo. Angus inspired each side with the stirring strains of the bagpipes.

THE AMERICAN AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIPS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The annual contests for the Amateur Athletic Union were held Saturday on the grounds of the Columbia Athletic Club of Washington.

The lacrosse match between the teams of the Schuylkill Navy and the Staten Island Athletic clubs for the championship was won by the Staten Islands, 7 games to 1.

Putting the 16-pound shot was won by Geo. R. Gray, with 43 feet 9 inches.

The running high jump was won by Nickerson, 5 feet 10 inches.

The team tug-of-war, first trial pull, was won by Acorn A. C. against Manhattan A. C. by seven inches.

The mile walk was won by Nicol, of the Manhattan A. C.; time 6:41 1-5.

In the 440 yards' run, trial heats, the first heat was won by Downes, New York A. C.; second Carey, W[illegible]kinson, Columbia A. C. In 9 4-5. [illegible] won by Owen [illegible] won in 50 seconds. This break[illegible] between Owen, of Detroit, [illegible]

In the two-mile [illegible] first was won by Ma[illegible] [illegible]ington was 5:54. Second heat won by [illegible] in 6:13½.

The one-mile run was won by [illegible] M. A. C., in 4:24 4-5; Conneff, M. A. [illegible]

The winners of heats in the 120 yards [illegible] race were Puffer, Ducharme, Williams, Copland. The final heat was won by Ducharme, Detroit A. C., in sixteen seconds, the best world's record.

Copeland broke the running broad jump record with 23 feet 3¼ inches. The pole vault was unfinished, Jordan, Hollock, Baxter, Casey and Cooper getting stuck at 10 feet 6 inches.

The Manhattans scored 78 points to 35 by the New Yorks, and have won the Bailey, Banks & Biddle plaque.

THE TURF.

A match race for $100 a side has been arranged between Albert Fox's Strogoff and Colonel John Atkinson's Colonel Pepper. It will take place at Amherstburg on Oct. 28.

Two more world records were nailed to the mast that flies the Terre Haute Trotting Association's flag on Friday. The mile was made in 2:16¾ by Belle Hamlin and Globe.

It is rumored in Philadelphia that another race track will soon be laid out at Lincoln Park on the Jersey shore, six or seven miles south of the Quaker City. The track will be a mile, and figures like $75,000 are reported to be its probable cost, buildings and all.

Belle Hamlin with Justina as mate, driven by W. J. Andrews, trotted against the world's record. Andrews nodded for the word. Mindful of the turn, Andrews let them go easy and is to the quarter pole 34¾ seconds. Now he lets them have their heads and they go to the half in 1:08½, and a murmur go up from the throng: "It can't be done." But the drive has commenced, and with their tails floating like banners in the breeze, another link is let out, the third quarter being done in 33½ seconds, and without a skip or warble, the mile is done strong in 2:15. The second world's record of the day and the fifth of the week was the average time for 43 heats in class races of 2:19.

Chicago is to have a kite-shaped track next year.

Mr. C. Lundy, of Newmarket, purchased recently from the owner, Mr. J. Waite, the gelding Poorhouse Boy for $400.

Mr. M. Grose, of Ridgetown, has sold a 2-year-old colt sired by Ontario, dam Bonan, to G. Lewis, of Dresden, for $230.

FLYS.

Rochester is reported to have signed Tommy Kearns.

Shiebeck has been doing some excellent batting and fielding of late.

An excellent portrait of Count Campau was in the last issue of the Sporting Life.

George Washington Bradley is now night watchman in a Philadelphia carriage store

Joe Battin was badly injured at Utica last week, and will be laid up for some time.

The world's championship series between the Louisvilles and the Brooklyn leaguers will begin at Louisville on the 16th.

Billy Hoover, of the Kansas Citys, formerly of the Torontos, tops the batting list for his team with a percentage of .331.

The McKinley Bill that has just been passed does not additionally affect the importation of sporting goods to any great extent in the United States.

Pat Wright is easily the best second baseman in the League, and his stick work is of the best.

Denny Connors has a sore arm and cannot throw, but his work with the stick keeps him on the team all the time. The cranks are always disappointed when he fails to find the ball for a hit.—[Tacoma, Wash., correspondence of Sporting Life.

According to averages the best League fielding team would be made up of these players: Bennet, catcher; Rhines, pitcher; Whistler, first base; Myers, second base; McGarr, third base; Foster, center field; Carroll, right field, and Cooney, short stop.

The heaviest batters, according to averages of the respective league clubs, are as follows: Luby, of Chicago; Hamilton, of Philadelphia; Glasscock, of New York; Reilly, of Cincinnati; O'Brien, of Brooklyn; Brodie, of Boston; McKean, of Cleveland, and Decker, of Pittsburg.

O'Connor, the Canadian oarsman, has sailed from Queenstown for New York.

FOOTBALL.

The Montreals defeated the Britannias on Saturday by 19 to 4.

In the Rugby match at Hamilton on Saturday the home team defeated the Torontos 8 to 5.

At Aylmer Saturday Woodstock College defeated Aylmer Collegiate Institute by 3 goals to 0 in a match for the Hough cup.

The football match of the championship series between the Berlin Rangers vs. Ayr, was won by the Rangers at Ayr on Saturday. Score—Rangers 1, Ayr 0.

Essex Center and Windsor played a match in the southwestern district at the latter place on Saturday. A dispatch from Essex Center says it resulted in a draw, each team scoring two goals. A Windsor dispatch says it was a Windsor victory by 3 goals to 2.

CHATHAM DEFEATS DETROIT.

CHATHAM, Oct. 13.—The first championship match of the southwestern district took place Saturday on Tecumseh Park here between Chatham and Detroit before an attendance of 800 people. The game was very fast and exciting throughout and was won by the home team 3 goals to 1.

"D" COMPANY VS. HIGH SCHOOL.

"D" Company, I. S. Corps, football team opened the season on Saturday by a football match (association) with the High School team, which after a most exciting game, lasting over an hour, was won by "D" Company by one goal to nil. For the High School team the play of Messrs. Mills, Little, Grey and Hobbs, and for the privates Dunlevy, Williams and Evans was all that could be desired by the most ardent lover of the game.

LONDON FAILS TO SCORE.

STRATFORD, Oct. 13.—The championship match between the Stratford and London Rugby Football teams played here Saturday afternoon was a closely contested game throughout, and resulted in a victory for the home team by a score of 12 points to 0. During the first half of the play neither side scored, but soon after the commencement of the second half Panton secured a try, which was converted into a goal, and towards the close of the game McFadden secured another try, which was also converted into a goal by Watson. This was all the scoring that was done. The teams were made up as follows:

London—Back, Townsend; half-backs, Beltz, Gordon and Farncomb; quarter, Vercheres; wings, Milligan, McE[illegible] Robins and Barnhardt; forwards, Sea[illegible]erd, Skey, Allan Cleghorn, Andy Clegh[illegible] Marsh and Watson.

Stratford—Back, W. S. Watson; half-backs, J. R. Martin, P. R. Bayne and J. A. MacFadden; quarter, C. Watson; wings, D. D. Hay, C. Filey, A. Panton and P. C. B. Werham; forwards, G. A. Potter, D. Smith, R. Y. Kilvert, R. Hampson, M. Vanbuskirk and S. J. Radcliffe. J. McEwan acted as field captain for Stratford team and Hume Cronyn p[illegible] the same duty for the visitors.

[illegible] W. [illegible]rth Curling Club has elected [illegible] vice-pre[illegible] officers for the [illegible] year [illegible] president: J. Laidlaw [illegible] treasurer; [illegible] Weir, se[illegible] lain, Rev. A. [illegible] Y. McI[illegible] and representatives [illegible] The chap[illegible] have been re-elected. [illegible] tee, Alexander Wilson, A. [illegible] Wilson, John Lyon, George Paterson [illegible] skips, John Weir, John Lyon, [illegible] Young, George Paterson, D. D. Wilson, E. C. Coleman, Alexander Wilson, R. [illegible]mmon, John A. Wilson, J. C. Laidlaw and J. S. Roberts.

SWIMMING.

The 100-yard amateur swimming championship of Great Britain was won at Liverpool by W. Evans, of Manchester. The long plunge championship was won by G. A. Blake, of London, who went 69½ feet.

"CHRISTIAN SCIENCE."

Rev. W. M. Roger Replies to Mr. Robb's Strictures.

The Queer Doctrines of the Organization Combatted.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

When the teacher of this new pretentious gospel, recently come among us for our evangelization, is drawn into print by a grave exposure of its errors, one would expect a serious attempt to answer the solemn charges made against it or to teach us that truth of which it claims to have the monopoly, instead of which three-fourths of the "reply" is given to personal remarks upon your humble servant and his church, and the remainder to a simple repetition of the brief stereotyped creed in which they so cunningly misrepresent their views to an unsuspecting public. He makes no attempt no rescue them from the damaging exposure they had received. He says: 1. "As adherents of truth we take the Scriptures for our guide," but does not deny that they take the liberty of interpreting them in a fancyful fashion like Sweedenborg to suit themselves, and, when this can't be done, to fall back upon their mission to correct the errors of "mortal sense," which have crowded in to obscure the pure "spiritual sense." 2. "We acknowledge one Father, Son and Holy Ghost, one God," but he does not deny the correctness of my statement of their real rejection of the ordinary view of the Trinity, as per quotation from Mrs. Dr. Eddy, the high priestess of the system (page 121, Science and Health), that the "theory of three persons in one, God (i.e. the Trinity or Triunity), suggests a heathen God" (page 182); "God the Father, Jesus the Son, Divine Science the Holy Ghost—these three titles express the threefold essential nature of the infinite, as the everlasting scientific being, and they indicate the relation between God and men," that, is to borrow light from other pages, the presence of that original and representative man Jesus in such a position harmonizes with their view that he and all other men are parts or particles of the one great and only substance, "Divine Mind." This substance they find it convenient for practical purposes to call "God," though when they wish to be accurate they prefer the term "Mind," as distinguishing principle from person. As this applies to men as well as God, in fact everything that has life, we would hardly imagine them capable of accepting the logical conclusions to which it must lead, but having cast off the trammels of common sense, as well as Scriptural authority, they are equal to the occasion, even though it involves the surrender of human personality and of authority, and reliability in the teaching of Jesus. Thus (page 165): "Man a separate intelligence from his Maker—impossible"; (page 181) "The only real substance and intelligence are life, truth and love; one in essence, in office infinite; they are three in one, which constitutes all. Personal causation or effect was put aside from first to last in the life of that original man Jesus."

Our friend ventures still to assert of Jesus, "We believe him to be divine, the Son of God," but does not deny the explanation I gave that this applies alike to all men. Hence while he says we acknowledge "the forgiveness of sins," he adds, "which is the destruction of sin," that is convincing the sinner that there is no reality in sin and so "reforming" instead of "regenerating" him. He says we acknowledge the "atonement of Christ" but adds "which is the efficacy of truth and life." "The real atonement, so infinitely beyond the heathen conception of God requiring human blood to propitiate his justice and bring his mercy." (Page 483.) "Person may pardon, but principle reforms the sinner."

As to the absurd Burkleyan doctrine that nothing exists but mind, all else being the dream of "mortal sense," he does not deny that they accept as the basis their system of "cure." Persuade the patient that all his ills, including sin, sickness, and all manner of disease are purely imaginary, "Then if your morals are half equal to the virtue of your plea, you will heal the sick." (Page 325.) And now here comes in their one great argument: "By their fruits ye shall know them." To this I reply: 1. It is a misapplication of Scripture as any one may see by a careful reading of Matthew vii, where we find the test is (verse 27) an obedient life following from a devout acceptance of all the teaching of Christ. 2. Their vaunted success proves unreal upon examination. A few instances easily explainable upon natural causes have to be set over against a large proportion of most lamentable and sometimes culpable failures, as in the case of Mrs. Stuart, now under arrest in Toronto for manslaughter. Miss Louise M. Alcott, the well-known writer, went to headquarters in Boston and submitted herself for treatment with only failure as result, as she tells us in the Woman's Journal: "This is my experience, and many others who have made the experiment tell me the same story, while half the fabulous cases reported to me prove to be failures, like my own, when investigated." From evidence in today's ADVERTISER it would seem that the experience of this neighborhood will not be different from that of others. So, too, in regard to prayer, the pretense of which seems to have taken in some good people. He does not deny that as they reject the idea of a personal God to hear and answer prayer so they reject as absurd what is ordinarily meant by prayer. I need, therefore, now give the verbatim sample which lies before or repeat the statement of Mrs. Dr. Eddy herself.

As to why I and other ministers of the Gospel do not "heal the sick," I reply some others do not—just as Scripture says in I. Corinthians, xii., 4, 8, 9, etc.: "Now, there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. To one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom, to another the word of knowledge, by the same Spirit; to another faith by the same Spirit, to another the gifts of healing by the same spirit." Till I receive the "gift of healing," or have its possession revealed to me, I am not of course responsible for its exercise. But without it, I am thankful to say, God has heard the prayers of myself and people for relief and restoration from recent suffering. Yours, with thanks for valuable space,

WALTER M. ROGER.

COMMERCE AND FINANCE.

Latest Financial News by Mail and Telegraph.

Finance Notes.

The foreign drygoods market is benefited by the settlement of tariff legislation. Demand is active, and prices tend upwards. Woolen men's wear goods are stronger in tone. Wool is active on immediate consumption demand, and lower grades are 1c higher. Wheat has advanced 2½c; corn, 1⅛c, and oats 1c on the week, notwithstanding the reaction following a sharp advance. Stocks of wheat available increase very slowly—only one quarter as fast as they piled up in October, 1889. Exports of wheat, both coasts, and flour as wheat, equal 1,516,759 bushels. Last week the total was 1,593,900 bushels. The total shipped abroad from July 1 to date is 27,276,960 bushels. In a like portion of 1889 it was 27,685,105 bushels and in 1888 it was 35,019,196 bushels. Anthracite coal costs 10c to 15c more per ton than it did a week ago, and is moving freely. Hogs and cattle are lower, or unchanged at Western markets.—[Bradstreets report, Oct. 11.

Bradstreet's report of Oct. 11, says: Business failures number 183 in the United States this week, against 192 last week and 243 this week last year. Canada had 30 this week, against 26 last week. The total number of failures in the United States from Jan. 1 to date is 7,808 against 8,737 in a like portion of 1889.

The New York bank statement is much worse than had been anticipated. Legal tenders and specie decreased to the extent of nearly $10,000,000 during the past week, a large amount of gold going to pay customs duties. The reserve fund decreased $8,355,975 during the week, and the surplus is now only $3,155,236. At the corresponding period of last year there was a deficiency in reserve of $708,025, while in 1888 the surplus was $10,314,880.

On the London Stock Exchange the American railroad market was thoroughly disorganized during the past week. Prices have fallen heavily, especially for the more active securities. In several instances quotations have been at the lowest points of the year. Carrying over rates were extremely onerous. The greater part of the business was adjusted on terms equivalent to 7½ per cent. per annum and even higher terms in special instances. On the Paris Bourse prices were firm at a fairly general advance. Paris is now considered the only really sound stock market in Europe.

The Cheese Markets.

LONDON.

There was a large attendance at the London cheese market Saturday. The first part of the proceedings was devoted to a discussion of Mr. James Creighton's motion, made previously [illegible] M. Blake seconded the motion. Mr. Thomas Ballantyne, M.P., spoke strongly in favor of retaining the system, and gave the cheese makers some practical advice. He expressed the opinion that a fortnightly meeting would be better than the present weekly one, and would save those attending a good deal of time. The motion was lost by a large majority.

On the first call 160 boxes August were sold at 9⅝c, and 300 September at 10½c. On the second 300 boxes September were sold at 10½c. A good many factorymen refused the latter price. The Liverpool cable registered 47s 6d. The Trade Bulletin says the cheese market at present seems to be a difficult one to report on, although the tendency of the general situation was doubtless shaping itself towards weakness. There were 12,150 boxes boarded, 11,845 being September and balance, and 305 August, as follows:

—The Ward property [illegible] on Friday, was withdrawn from a[illegible] being high the figure offered ($1,40[illegible] enough.

—James Johnston,[illegible] G. T. R. brakeman, of this city, wh[illegible]d his thumb cut off at Merritton a[illegible] time ago, is recovering.

—The [illegible]xcursion train from Chicago arrive[illegible] returni[illegible]ere to-day, bearing hundreds of pe[illegible] from this city and other points in Onta[illegible]

—The Col[illegible]te Institute flag is flying to-day, the [illegible] anniversary of the battle of Queens[illegible]eights and of the death of the gallan[illegible]eneral Brock.

—W[illegible]ilkes, an old man, living on South [illegible]eet, complained at the Police Statio[illegible]-day about some boys who make a pr[illegible]e of throwing stones at him.

—[illegible]muel Gilders, of Westminster, was [illegible]ed before Squire Jarvis this afternoon [illegible] cruelty to animals. The complainant, [illegible]ry Horne, said that the accused was in [illegible]e habit of throwing stones at his horses [illegible]nd cattle. The case was adjourned until Wednesday.

—Amy Hurst, wife of Prof. Achille Philion, the French equilibrist, left for New York on Saturday afternoon somewhat suddenly, without informing her husband. She was detained at Fort Erie by the authorities and the Professor left for that place this morning. She has been subject to hysterical fits.

—A citizen who apparently takes an interest in civic affairs has addressed a communication to Mayor Taylor respecting a new India-rubber pavement, for which every merit that a pavement should possess is claimed. The correspondent, however, forgot to affix his name to the communication and as a result it will find its way to the waste paper basket.

—A very handsome granite monument arrived yesterday from Sweden for erection in Greenwood Cemetery in memory of the late Russell Hardy and his wife Julotta, parents of the Hon. A. S. Hardy and Mr. A. D. Hardy, of this city, and whose remains were brought here from London some time ago for reinterment. The monument, which consists of four heavy pieces, is of the celebrated Swedish granite, sarcophagus in style, with highly-polished surface, and is appropriately inscribed. Frank Peel, of Detroit, a brother of the famous Paul Peel, is superintending its erection.—[Brantford Expositor.

The Coming Consecration.

Very Rev. Dr. O'Connor, president of the Assumption College, Sandwich, will be consecrated as bishop of the Diocese of London on Sunday morning next at St. Peter's Cathedral with imposing ceremony. The Archbishop of Toronto, ten bishops and 50 Canadian and American priests will be present on the interesting occasion, the consecration commencing at 9 o'clock and lasting three hours. It is expected that Bishop Foley, of Detroit, will preach the sermon. An excursion will leave Windsor for this city on Sunday at 5 o'clock in the morning and will return at 9:30 in the evening. A large number of people from that section will be in attendance.

Sunday School Anniversary Service.

Unusually large congregations attended the Sabbath School anniversary services of the Dundas Street Center Methodist Church yesterday. In the morning Rev. A. C. Courtice, B.D., preached, and adapted his remarks principally to the children, laying down some excellent precepts for future guidance. The Sunday school service in the afternoon was specially interesting, Rev. W. K. Little, of the Hamilton Road Methodist Church, delivering an instructive and pleasant address, which kept the attention of the children throughout. The pastor, Rev. A. C. Courtice, illustrated his remarks by means of various colored candles, a method greatly assisting his youthful audience to comprehend his meaning, while adding to their entertainment. Rev. C. E. McIntyre, of the Askin Street Methodist Church, preached in the evening from Proverbs, xxii., 6: "Train up a child." He gave some sound advice to parents, having a practical bearing on the bringing up of the young. Too much cannot be said of the musical portion of the services, for which the well-trained choir of the Dundas Street Methodist Church is noted. Miss Detta Ziegler and Mr. J. Marshall Williams participated for the last time before leaving for New York to pursue their musical studies. Liberal collections were taken up for the Sabbath school fund.

Memorial Service.

The congregation at St. James' Presbyterian Church last evening was one of the largest ever seen in that edifice. The services partook of the nature of a memorial sermon on the death of the late David S. Walton, who was a member of the choir of that church. He was to have partaken of his first communion on Sunday last. Rev. M. P. Talling preached an impressive special sermon to the members of the Ancient Order of Foresters, about 300 being present, and occupying the center seats in the church. The reverend gentleman took for his text St. John, ii., 3: "Therefore his sisters sent unto him saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick." He referred to the many beauties of the life of Lazarus and touched on the lessons to be derived from the chapter from which the text had been selected. He eulogized the Ancient Order of Foresters and its objects and concluded with a touching refererence to the deceased and his character. During the evening the choir, under the leadership of Mr. W. J. Crone, rendered some appropriate selections. The choir gallery was draped in black, and the chair heretofore occupied by Mr. Walton was vacant and also draped.

[illegible]sing Proceedings of the Convention at Stratford.

[illegible]teresting Papers on Matters of Moment—An Interesting and Helpful [illegible]

The proceedings of the Y. M. C. A. convention at Stratford on Saturday began at 9 o'clock with a prayer meeting conducted by [illegible] George McLagan, of St[illegible] [illegible] which an excellent pa[illegible] [illegible]fore, after[illegible] Secretary Sayer, of [illegible]rew read [illegible]ng Men's Meeting," [illegible] Then discussion. [illegible] W. F. Chapman [illegible] prepared [illegible] on "The Best [illegible] of Enlisting [illegible] Organizing [illegible]mittees." Discussion [illegible]wed, in w[illegible] many of the delegates [illegible]k part. O[illegible] suggestion was thrown out [illegible]at deserv[illegible] special attention—that of [illegible]etting ea[illegible] church to set aside two of their acti[illegible] members in order to represent them in [illegible]e work of the association, and thus b[illegible] the church the more closely to this d[illegible]partment of their work. Many valuable [illegible]nts were also given concerning commi[illegible]e work.

Mr. Thos. Cole, the Provincial secretary, [illegible]hen gave an address on "What special work for young men can be carried on in towns where no organization exists." He referred particularly to the great power one man can exert in a small town, and spoke of the grand work that has been accomplished by one man in many of the smaller places.

At the afternoon session a Bible reading was given by Mr. Geo. Foster, of Brantford, on "The Holy Spirit," which was much appreciated.

A paper on "Finances, how secured and how administered," by Frank M. Pratt, of Hamilton, elicited much discussion and will prove very helpful.

A paper by R. A. Orr on "Bible Class Work" was read by O. C. Elliott, the general secretary of Woodstock, after which "The Work Among Railroad Men" was ably presented by Secretary Anderson, of St. Thomas.

Mr. Thos. Cole then conducted a question drawer, which proved very interesting. This closed the business session.

In the evening an evangelistic service was held for men only, which was very impressive. Secretaries Elliott, Chapman and Sayer were the speakers.

SUNDAY.

Sunday morning at 9:30 a consecration service was held in the rooms of the local association, and at 4:15 p.m. a mass meeting of men was held in the City Hall, presided over by Frank Pratt and addressed by Chas. R. Sayer and W. F. Chapman.

In the evening the pulpits of the Central Methodist Church and the Congregational Church were filled by visiting delegates, and at 8:30 an immense farewell meeting was held in Knox Presbyterian Church, presided over by Mr. Thos. Cole. Nearly all the delegates took part in this service, and at the close the delegates and members clasped hands and united in singing the well-known hymn, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," after which the Rev. Mr. Gilmore, of Orangeville, pronounced the benediction, and the convention was declared closed.

UNDER THE SEMAPHORE.

Canadian Pacific Earnings—New Palace Sleepers—Railway News in General.

During August the Schenectady Locomotive Works delivered thirteen engines to the New York Central.

It is rumored in Montreal that the Canadian Pacific is negotiating for control of the Montreal and Concord Railway.

All first-class passenger coaches on the New York Central and West Shore roads are now supplied with the Martin system of car heating.

The New York Central has sold nearly all its light locomotives, and is shipping them from East Buffalo to various points in the country every day.

Canadian Pacific traffic returns for the week ending Oct. 7 were $390,000; same week last year, $374,000. The earnings of the New Brunswick Railway are included in both years.

The Pullman Palace Car Company furnished 2,050 sleeping and drawing-room cars to the various railroads in the United States last year. It operates its coaches over 126,037 miles of road.

Three more new palace sleeping cars are being built by Barney & Smith, of Dayton, Ohio, for the Canadian Pacific Railway, to be run between Montreal and Chicago. They will equal the "London," recently built by the same company, which cost $30,000.

Bradstreet's report says: The total earnings of 143 railroads for September aggregate $41,568,482, for a total of 85,978 miles—a gain of 7.2 per cent. in earnings, and 2.8 per cent. in mileage, the gain in earnings being the smallest, except one, of any month in 1890. For nine months the earnings aggregates $321,654,985, for a total of 83,731 miles—a gain of 10.1 per cent. in earnings and 2.8 per cent. in mileage.

THE WORKING WORLD.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—In connection with the threatened strike on the New York, Lake Erie and Western, the eastern divisions of the road number among its employes a great many knights, and during a portion of the meeting Saturday their case was considered. The council decided to co-operate with whatever action is to be taken by the men in the East.

The Lord Mayor's Show.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A novel feature of the forthcoming Lord Mayor's show, which will be held in accordance with the usual custom on Nov. 9, to mark the inauguration of the new mayor, Mr. Joseph Savory, of the ward of Langbourn, will be the appearance of the few survivors of those who took part in the memorable charge of Balaclava on Oct. 26, 1854. They will be hospitably entertained by the City of London for three or four days before and after their participation in the show.

A tremendous rain storm visited Wheeling W. Va., and its vicinity on Sunday. Six or eight families were flooded out and a number of bridges carried away and many cattle drowned. The main line of the B. and O. was blocked, and the Chicago express is stuck on the Bellaire bridge over the Ohio. The Eighth ward is without water or gas, through the breaking of street mains.

Sweetly Feminine.—Emma—Does my dress hang all right, dear? Lucile—It certainly deserves to. The style is positively criminal.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

THIS DAY

Frank Wilkinson, grain buyer at Hamilton, says: "I used several medicines and found no relief until I tried Wilson's Compound Syrup Wild Cherry." Less than one bottle cured him of a long standing and painful cough, with tightness of chest and short breath. Sold by all druggists.

Wilson's Wild Cherry has been prepared by Archdale Wilson & Co., Wholesale Druggists, of Hamilton, for nearly twenty years, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, etc. It has no equal. Take no substitute but get the genuine with white wrappers

The Old Reliable.

In these days of humbug it is a relief to hear of something that can be depended upon. Wilson's Wild Cherry has been tested as a remedy for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, for nearly twenty years, with such success as to earn for itself the title of the Old Reliable cure for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Asthma Bronchitis and other affections of the respiratory system. See that you get the genuine, in white wrappers.

Worth Ten Dollars a Bottle.

Any person who has used Polson's Nerviline, the great pain cure, would not be without it if it cost ten dollars a bottle. A good thing is worth its weight in gold, and Nerviline is the best remedy in the world for all kinds of pain. It cures neuralgia in five minutes; toothache in one minute; lame back at one application; headache in a few moments; and all pains just as rapidly. Why not try it to-day? Large bottles 25 cents, sold by all druggists and country dealers. Use Polson's nerve pain cure—Nerviline.

Dr. Jones has removed his office and residence to 739 Richmond street.

Desperate Remedies

By Thomas Hardy.

AUTHOR OF "A PAIR OF BLUE EYES," "THE TRUMPET-MAJOR," ETC.

She appeared now no more than 35, though she might have been ten or a dozen years older. She had clear steady eyes, a Roman nose in its purest form, and a round prominent chin with which the Cæsars are represented in ancient marbles; a mouth expressing a capability for and a tendency to strong emotion, habitually controlled by pride. There was a severity about the lower lines of the face which gave a masculine cast to that portion of the countenance. Womanly weakness was nowhere visible save in one part—the curve of her forehead and brows—there it was clear and emphatic. She wore a lace shawl over a brown silk dress, and a net bonnet set with a few blue cornflowers.

"You inserted the advertisement for a situation as lady's-maid giving the address of G., Cross street?"

"Yes, madam. Graye."

"Yes; I have heard your name—Mrs. Morris, my housekeeper, mentioned you, and pointed out your advertisement."

This was puzzling intelligence, but there was not time enough to consider it.

"Where did you live last?" continued Miss Aldclyffe.

"I have never been a servant before. I lived at home."

"Never been out? I thought 'too at the sight of you that you were too girlish-looking to have done much. But why did you advertise with such assurance? It misleads people."

"I am very sorry; I put 'inexperienced' at first, but my brother said it wss absurd to trumpet your own weakness to the world and would not let it remain."

"But your mother knew what was right, I suppose."

"I have no mother, madam."

"Your father, then?"

"I have no father."

"Well," she said more softly, "your sisters, aunts, or cousins."

"They didn't think anything about it."

"You didn't ask them, I suppose?"

"No."

"You should have done so, then. Why didn't you?"

"Because I haven't any of them, either."

Miss Aldclyffe showed her surprise. "You deserve forgiveness then at any rate, child," she said, in a dryly-kind tone. "However, I am afraid you do not suit me, as I am looking for an elderly person. You see I want an experience maid who knows all the usual duties of the office." She was going to add, "Though I like your appearance," but the words seemed offensive to apply to the lady-like girl before her, and she modified them to, "though I like you much."

"I am sorry I misled you, madam," said Cytherea.

Miss Aldclyffe stood in a reverie, without replying.

"Good-bye, Miss Graye—I hope you will succeed."

Cytherea turned towards the door. The movement chanced to be one of her masterpieces. I was precise; it had as much beauty as was compatible with precision, and as little coquettishness as was compatible with beauty.

And she had in turning looked over her shoulder at the other lady with a faint accent of reproach in her face. Those who remember Greuze's "Head of a Girl," have an idea of Cytherea's look askance at the turning. It is not for men to tell fishers of men how to set out their fascinations so as to bring about the highest possible average of takes within the year; but the action that tugs the hardest of all at an emotional beholder is the sweet method of turning which steals the bosoms away and leaves the eyes behind.

Now Miss Aldclyffe herself was no tyro at wheeling. When Cytherea had closed the door upon her, she remained for some time in her motionless attitude, listening to the gradually dying sound of the maiden's retreating footsteps. She murmured to herself, "It makes it almost worth while to be bored with instructing her in order to have a creature who could glide around my luxurious indolent body in that manner, and look at me in that way—I warrant how light her fingers are upon one's head and neck. What a silly modest young thing she is, to go away so suddenly as that!" She rang the bell.

"Ask the young lady who has just left left me to step back again," she said to the attendant. "Quick! or she will be gone!"

Cytherea was now in the vestibule, thinking that if she had told her history, Miss Aldclyffe might perhaps have taken her into the household; yet her history she particularly wished to conceal from a stranger. When she was recalled she turned back without feeling much surprise. Something, the knew not what, told her she had not seen the last of Miss Aldclyffe.

"You have somebody to refer me to, of course," the lady said when Cytherea had re-entered the room.

"Yes; Mr. Thorn, a solicitor at Reading."

"And you are a clever needle-woman?"

"I am considered to be."

"Then I think at any rate I will write to Mr. Thorn," said Miss Aldclyffe with a little smile. "It is true the whole proceed ing is very irregular; but my present maid leaves next Monday, and neither of the five I have already seen seem to do for me. Well, I will write to Mr. Thorn, and if his reply is satisfactory, you shall hear from me It will be as well to set yourself in readiness to come on Monday."

When Cytherea had again been watched out of the room, Miss Aldclyffe asked for writing materials that she might at once communicate with Mr. Thorn. She indecisively played with the pen. "Suppose Mr. Thorn's reply to be in any way disheartening—and even if so from his own imperfect acquaintance with the young creature more than from circumstantial knowledge—I shall feel obliged to give her up. Then I shall regret that I did not give her a trial in spite of other people's prejudices. All her account of herself is reliable enough—yes, I can see that by her face. I like that face of hers."

Miss Aldclyffe put down the pen and left the hotel without writing to Mr. Thorn.

CHAPTER V.

THE EVENTS OF ONE DAY.

§ 1. August the eight. Morning and afternoon.

At post-time on the following Monday morning, Cytherea watched so anxiously for the postman, that as the time which must bring him narrowed less and less her vivid expectation had only a degree less tangibility than his presence itself. In another second or two his form came into view. He brought two letters for Cytherea.

One was from Miss Aldclyffe, simply stating that she wished Cytherea to come on trial, that she would require her to be at Knapwater House by Monday evening.

The other was from Edward Springrove. He told her that she was the bright spot in his life; that her existence was far dearer to him than his own; that he had never known what it was to love till he had met her. True, he had felt passing attachments, to other faces from time to time: but they had all been weak inclinations towards those faces as they then appeared. He loved he past and future, as well as her present. He pictured her as a child; he loved her. He pictured her of sage years; he loved her. He pictured her in trouble; he loved her. Homely friendship entered into his love for her, without which all love was evanescent.

He would make one depressing statement Uncontrollable circumstances (a long history, with which it was impossible to acquaint her at present) operated to a certain extent as a drag upon his wishes. He had felt this more strongly at the time of their parting than he did now—and it was the cause of his abrupt behavior for which he begged her to forgive him. He saw now an honorable way of freeing himself, and the perception had prompted him to write. In the meantime might he indulge in the hope of possessing her on some bright future day, when by hard labor generated from her own encouraging words, he had he had placed himself in a position she would think worthy to be shared with him?

Composition of Butter.

Dr. MacFarlane, chief analyst of the Dominion, in concluding his recent bulletin on the subject of butter, makes the following observations, which will doubtless interest our numerous dairy readers:

It has hitherto been the practice of this branch and the public analysts to condemn all butters containing less than 80 per cent. fat, and the question arises as to whether this standard should be maintained and established. An important paper bearing upon this subject has just been written by Dr. P. Veith, chemist to the Aylesbury Dairy Company, in London, Eng., and an eminent authority on dairying. It is published in the Milch Zeitung of May 14, 1890. It contains a record of 191 analyses of butter from different countries, the classification and average results of which are given in the following table:

Class.	No. of Samples.	Water.	Butter Fat.	Salt.	Other Constituents.
From Schleswig-Holstein	28	11.99	85.47	1.35	1.19
From Denmark	12	13.35	83.49	1.86	1.39
From Sweden	25	13.75	82.89	2.03	1.33
From France, salted	5	12.05	84.34	2.01	1.60
From France, unsalted	78	13.73	84.82	0.09	1.36
From England, mostly unsalted	50	11.64	86.93	0.83	0.60

On comparing these averages with those of the Canadian butters given in this bulletin, the first striking fact observable is the low percentage of salt. In the case of the Danish butter, which is specially made for the English market, the quantity of salt is only about one-third of the Canadian average. On the other hand, the percentage of water is much higher. Dr. Vieth's remarks on this constituent are well worth reproducing here. He says that although a high percentage of water in butter may be a disadvantage to the consumer, still it is not to be desired that its quantity should fall below a certain limit. Apart from the fact that too great a reduction of the water percentage can only be accomplished by an excessive working of the butter, by which its quality is impaired, it must also be remembered that when the percentage is too low the salt is not completely dissolved, or, from evaporation of the water, shows itself in crystals on the surface of the butter. In order that unsalted butter made from sweet cream may keep well, it is undoubtedly of advantage to remove the albuminous substances as much as possible by washing. But under this treatment the taste of the butter suffers. It has little or no aroma, as the tongue distinguishes only a fatty taste, which is the more pronounced the more the butter had been washed. Dr. Vieth proposes in view of the results of his analysis, to exact that butter publicly offered for sale should contain not less than 70 per cent. butter fat, not more than 15 per cent. water, and not more than 2 per cent. of "other constituents," excluding salt. This would not vary much from the practice hitherto followed by our public analysts, and certainly no inconvenience would result were such a standard established in Canada.

—"Yes," said Mr. J. N. McLeod, the genial anchor of the Chicago Highland tug-of-war team, Saturday, as he swallowed a dipperful of London's aqua pura, "it's the finest water I ever tasted. I never saw anything like it." The team left for home Sunday morning at 11:25.

—Mrs. Samuel Turner, of this city, who has been visiting her brother in Petoskey, Mich., for the last two weeks, has gone to San Jose, Cal., accompanied by her daughter. She intends spending the winter there for the benefit of her health with her sister, Mrs. J. A. J. Morse.

—Miss Nellie Garden returned to Thorold the other evening from an extended visit to relatives in London, Ont. She was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Lottie Sutherland, and Miss Edith Walker. Miss Walker will be the guest of Miss Neta Keefer during her stay in town.—[Thorold Post.

—Fields and Winchell, the favorite comedians, Harry Austin, the great musical artist, Johnny Patten, the clog dancer, will all be at the Grand Opera House tonight with Harry Austin's "Two Old Chums" Musical Comedy Company. A night of pure fun and good music can be relied on.

—William Cunningham insulted some ladies on Hill street Saturday. When P. C. Chalmers attempted to arrest him Cunningham dealt him a terrific blow on the face. The latter tripped Cunningham up neatly, however, and soon had him in the station. The penalty imposed at this morning's Police Court was $5 or ten days.

—Meredith, Cameron & Judd is the latest law firm to be formed in this city. The members are Messrs. Ed. Meredith, J. C. Judd and E. R. Cameron. The first two were in the firm of Meredith, Meredith & Judd, from which Mr. R. M. Meredith, the newly-appointed judge, will retire. Mr. Cameron has long been favorably known in connection with the firm of McMillan & Cameron.

—Mr. Andrew Thomson and family are moving to London this week. Mr. Thomson has been a resident of Mitchell for many years, being among its first manufacturing citizens. His well known personality, so many years a prominent feature in the community, will be missed, but we congratulate him and his family on their removal to so desirable a community as London.—[Mitchell Recorder.

—A correspondent writes as follows to the Essex Free Press: "On Saturday, 29th, I had occasion to visit the London, Ont., market, and was pleasantly surprised. The first thing I saw was a fine display of Essex county grapes tastily arranged for sale, with the grower's name attached to each basket. I said to myself, 'That speaks well for fruit growing in Essex.'"

—James Dawson, the "D" Company deserter, who stole property valued at $75 from "Left-Handed Charley's" party at the Fair Grounds two weeks ago, came up for sentence this morning. He admitted having served two terms in the Central Prison, coming out in July last. His brother, who is a respectable coal and wood dealer in Woodstock, had previously given him money to leave the country, but he had come to London instead. The Magistrate sentenced him to six months' imprisonment.

—Geo. H. Adams' role in "He, She, Him, Her," on Thursday evening will be that of a lad supposed to be about 9 years old. A motherly old lady witnessed a performance of the piece in Chicago, and she was under such an illusory spell with Adams' make-up and acting as the small boy, that she sent him a number of boy's story books and a bat and ball, accompanied by a letter containing wise precepts and maxims for his future guidance. Mr. Adams returned his thanks to the good old soul for the unconscious compliment she paid him, and broke the spell by informing her that he had sent her valued gifts to his little son in New York.

Clara Louise Kellogg.

The plan opened at the Grand Opera House box office this morning for Wednesday evening's performance by Miss Clara Louise Kellogg and her superb opera and concert company. The company will give a choice programme and the entire fourth act of "Il Trovatore" in full costume and with elaborate stage settings. It is well known that Clara Louise Kellogg takes the lead not only in musical matters, but in point of fashion. The society journals publish columns of descriptive matter about her Parisian costumes, her diamonds and laces, and although they do not belong strictly to art, they are a very welcome addition to the other achievements of the great singer.

Presentation at the Barracks.

On Saturday evening the members of "D" Company, I. S. C., assembled in their library at 7 o'clock for the purpose of saying farewell to their comrade, Private James A. Austin, who leaves on Monday morning to accept an appointment in "C" Company, Toronto. Private Austin, during his stay in "D" Company, has made a most enviable record for his soldierly qualities and for his conduct, which was beyond reproach. Quartermaster Sergeant D. C. Kennedy took the chair, and after a few preliminary remarks called on Private H. T. Millie to make the presentation. The gift consisted of a valuable snake ring set with diamonds, and a gold-headed cane bearing the inscription, "Presented to Private James A. Austin by his comrades of "D" Company, I. S. Corps." Private Millie referred to the high esteem in which Private Austin was held, and the deep regret which his fellow-comrades of the cricket and football teams would feel at his removal from their midst. He was followed by Private Burns, who hoped that Comrade Austin would win as high esteem in "C" as he had done in "D" Company. After several musical selections from Private Hutchinson the meeting broke up with three hearty cheers for Private Austin.

Askin Street Methodist Church Sunday School Anniversary.

Anniversary services in connection with Askin Street Methodist Church Sunday school were held yesterday. There were three services, and despite the inclement weather all were well attended, both by the pupils and by parents and friends of the school. The morning service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Treleaven, of St. Thomas, a former pastor of the church. He chose for his text, I. Samuel, xvi., 11: "Send and Fetch Him." He drew part of many choice lessons from the life of David, illustrating his topic with stories and anecdotes from every-day life, and interested both old and young in the study of the subject.——In the afternoon there was an open meeting of the school in the church, when short addresses were given by Mr. Learn, the genial superintendent, who introduced Rev. J. E. Lanceley, of Colborne Street Church, Rev. Mr. McIntye, the pastor, and Mr. Brenton, a former superintendent of the school, all of whom gave short appropriate addresses.——In the evening the preacher was Rev. A. C. Courtice, of Dundas Street Center Church, and the foundation for his discourse was Ecclestiastes, xii., first clause, first verse: "Remember also thy creator in the days of thy youth." The importance of directing the youth of the land to a proper understanding of their relation to God, and the ease with which it can be done in early life by parents and teachers, was exemplified. A proper recognition of God and his laws, the preacher pointed out, would enable the young to live happy lives here and prepare for a glorious hereafter. It was, he said, a devil's lie to say that a boy had to "sow his wild oats." Wild oat-sowing was always disastrous and degrading, for was it not asserted in the Bible that "whatsoever a man sows that shall he also reap." At all the services, the children, under their indefatigable music master, Mr. John Ward, sang in a most harmonious manner a number of concerted pieces. Miss Clara Thomas presided at the organ efficiently. An orchestra, consisting of Messrs. Melville Hicks, Covert Jarvis, R. Tatham, S. T. Cook, Eldon Westman and Ed. Land accompanied the singing. Though they have played together but for a few weeks, they proved a valuable acquisition. The school is prosperous, and the visiting pastors congratulated the superintendent and teachers on the fact.

The Emma Juch Festival.

The opera festival at the Grand Opera House next Friday evening by the Emma Juch Grand English Opera Company will undoubtedy prove the musical sensation of the season. The Juch organization numbers 150 people, requiring a special train of nine cars to transport them from place to place. This company is pronounced by the press of the entire United States to be the largest and most important musical organization traveling. During Miss Juch's recent engagement in Washington, she was the recipient of more social attention than was probably ever bestowed upon any American artist. Her performances there were attended by President Harrison, Mrs. Harrison, Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, Lady Pouncefote and her charming daughter, the French, Russian, German and Austrian Ministers, the Spanish Envoy, and in fact the chiefs of all foreign legations. During the week Miss Juch was received privately at the White House by Mrs. Harrison, entertained there, and was made the recipient of many musical floral offerings, sent to her during her different performances, by the first lady of that land. The opera selected for her will be Richard Wagner's masterpiece "Lohengrin," with Miss Juch as Elsa, a characterization for which she has received unstinted praise from the leading musical critics throughout the country. This production will be mounted in the most sumptuous manner. It requires no less than four cars to handle the scenery, costumes, electrical and other novel effects used by this company. The orchestra will number 30 solo instrumentalists, while the chorus will consist of 80 powerful voices. The sale of seats will open to-morrow morning, and a great rush is sure to ensue for the choice of seats.

Temperance Sermons.

Rev. T. E. Harrison, pastor of the Elizabeth Street Church, preached a powerful sermon Sunday evening on temperance, and impressed upon the members and adherents of the church the necessity of joining themselves with those who were fighting against the liquor traffic. He founded his remarks on Joshua, v., 13: "Art thou for us, or art thou for our adversaries?" He declared that the greatest obstacle man had to contend with was intemperance, which has strongly fortified itself in every part of the world. It had some of the greatest forces on its side, inasmuch as it had pressed sociability into its service. Many would gladly join the church of God but that they were fast in the chains of intemperance, and nothing but the power of God could free them. Men might reason and fight on the side of the liquor traffic, but it was doomed. God had declared its doom, and he had cursed the man who put the bottle to his neighbor's lips with a bitter curse. Some men in defending the liquor traffic say that it is as respectable as any other business and that the Government had given men permission to engage in it, but God's word declares that men shall not engage in it. Ontario had, perhaps, the best license system in the world, but that did not make the evil any better. There had been many laws on the statute books regulating the traffic, but they had failed to do any good. What was needed was a prohibitory law which would stop the traffic entirely. There could be no neutrality. Everyone must be on one side or the other. The cause of previous defeats in this matter has been neutrality. Where there was the least fighting, there the great mass of people were to be found who professed to be on the right side, but all they did was to profess. Mr. Harrison concluded by exhorting his hearers to get on the right side, and that at once.

In the King Street Methodist Church last evening the Rev. S. Bond preached a sermon on temperance, particularly discussing the question whether the Bible approved of the use of intoxicants, and condemned only the abuse so called. As many assumed that the Bible condemned only drunkenness and allowed the use of wine, it was necessary to investigate, to find out whether it approved of intoxicating wine. He showed that in 38 cases the word wine referred to vine fruit as to corn and oil, and approved of it. "English readers by taking Young's Analytical Concordance could investigate for themselves. In 141 cases a word is used which does not in itself determined its character. Yet here it is mentioned with condemnation by warning or incident 71 times, without uncertainty or neutrality 31 times, and with the idea of permitted enjoyment 26. In these latter cases there is nothing to show it intoxicating, and not once is that which certainly intoxicates spoken of with approval. But where it certainly means intoxicating drink it is condemned 130 times. An able author says that only 20 times is wine approved, and then it is unintoxicating. The whole scope of Bible teaching is to condemn the use of that which intoxicates. He pointed out the subterfuge of quoting one set of passages to prove that wine is mentioned which was intoxicating, and another class to show that the use of wine was approved. This proves nothing. Is the intoxicating wine approved? It is not; it is condemned many times. So even its so-called moderate use has no countenance, but condemnation. How can any good or any sane man use such a beverage!"

The Brute.

Mrs. Cumso—Take care how you hold the baby, John. The sun is shining on his face.

Mr. Cumso—I don't care. I've often thought a tanning would do him good.

Impurities of the blood often cause great annoyance at this season; Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and cures all such affections.
