TALLYHO BUGLE SENDS "CITY CHAPS" INTO THE TRENCHES

Brilliant Achievement by Clerks and Stenographers of Old London----The Crack Prussians Raided and Rounded Up.

BY WILLIAM PHILIPS SIMMS.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]
With the British Armies Afield, Feb. 23.—To the hunting call, blown on a tallyho bugle, clerks and stenographers, part of a London battalion, on Tuesday at dusk raided the Germans between Hill 60 and the bluff. They took 119 German soldiers and one officer, with seven machine guns, and destroyed a mine shaft and numerous dugouts, in which there were several hundred men who

A THOROUGH JOB. A British officer remarked today that the Londoners carried out the raid with the same methodic thoroughness that they formerly cleared up a day's mail.

The zig-zag nature of the British lines necessitated the attackers lining up on the open ground. The 'City Chaps' stood calmly, merely tightening their helmets as they awaited the blast of the hunt horn, while shrapnel from German guns was bursting about them.

Circled the Enemy. At the sound of the tallyho, they charged, bending in a 500-yard circle about the Germans and shaking hands at the junction point of their circle behind the enemy's line. Their German prisoners stood agape at such incomprehensible conduct. The risoners were all of the 185th Prus-

BERLIN CLIMBING DOWN?

Significant Statement Appears In One of the Big Berlin Dailies.

London, Feb. 23 .- It is quite possible that the American steamers Rochester and Orleans may escape German submarines on their way through the barred zone from New York to Bordeaux, says the Berlin Anzeiger, as quoted in an Exchange Telegraph Company Amsterdam dispatch, but America should not rely upon their doing so.

In Berlin political circles, the Exchange's correspondent adds, it is believed the submarine commanders have been definitely instructed not to sink these American ships.

Liner With German Ambassador Expected To Sail on Saturday.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 23.—The Scandinavian-American liner Frederik VIII., with the late German ambassador to the United S'ates, Count von Bernstorff, and embassy and consulate officials on board, prepared to leave Halifax this morning. The ship was moved up last night to one of the port piers from secluded Bedford Basin, where she has been anchored since arriving here from New York. This was rendered necessary, partly because the boat had to take on water and coal, and partly because the boat had to take on water and coal, and partly because the customs officials had found it impossible to excoal, and partly because the customs officials had found it impossible to examine baggage in her hold because of cramped quarters, and it was too cold to operate on deck. The baggage remaining to be examined will, therefore, be handled in the pier sheds. It is thought here that the steamer should get away by tomorrow night.

while the Frederik VIII. was in the harbor, while armed guards on the dock kept at a distance the numerous people who tried to get a glimpse of the ship and her noted passengers.

Rumors have come from the ship that some of the neutral passengers who have been examined have not taken kindly to the methods used. It is said that some have threatened to send protests to the American Government by wireless as t to the responsible naval authorities re and the request made that detail the operations of the examination b rnished the press to offset them.

Lloyd George Says Triumph For the Allies Depends On British Shipping---All Non-Essential Imports To Be Barred.

London, Feb. 23 .- Premier Lloyd George said in a speech in the House of Commons today that the success of the Allies' cause depended on their ability to solve the tonnage shortage, which was now affecting the ordinary needs of the nation. The situation, he declared, called for the gravest measures.

The premier said there was no sure way to victory without hunting the submarines from the deep.

Enormous sacrifices were necessary from the British public, said Mr. Lloyd George. He stated that the Government proposed to dispense with all nonessential importations to save tonnage.

Mr. Lloyd George said that for some time there has been a shortage of tonnage required for the general needs of the nation, and even slight shortage in the tonnage for military purposes. The nation should realize aboslutely what the conditions were.

DRASTIC MEASURES NEEDED.

"If we take drastic measures," he continued, "we can cope with the submarine menace, but if the nation is not prepared to accept drastic measures for dealing with the menace disaster is before us.

for dealing with the menace disaster is before us.

"The Government is hopeful of finding means of dealing with the submarine, but we should be guilty of folly if we rested tranquilly upon the expectation of realization of that hope. We have to deal ruthlessly and promptly with the tonnage problem by measures which impose great sacrifices upon the George A. Benson, a former member of the 63rd Battery here, is alleged to have had a scheme to make soldiering pay, but he ran foul of the police. He joined the battery last fall, and this January, he decided that a move or a change of air would do him good. In order to make a good job of it, it is alleged he succeeded in getting a couple of checks from Manly Wankel and H. F. Dennis, members of the battery, which he cashed. The proceeds went to his health fund. Detroit was his place of abode, and there he took unto himself a wife. He returned to London the other day, and the detectives got hold of him, and this morning he answered three charges, one of desertion, another of theft, and still another of theft and forgery.

to remember with regard to Zam-Buk is that, unlike ordinary ointments, Zam-Buk is so refined that it is capable of penetrating to the seat of the trouble, which in the case of skin diseases and old sores is found in the diseased underlying tissues. This is due to the fact that Zam-Buk contains no animal fat or coarse mineral drugs whatever, but is entirely of herbal origin. Ordinary cintments, on the contrary, owing to the animal fat and mineral drugs contained in them, are incapable of penetrating beneath the surface skin, so that the relief, if any, can be only temporary.

In addition to this, Zam-Buk is a strong germicide, and having reached the underlying tissues, it destroys all germs and thoroughly cleanses the diseased parts. Then Zam-Buk's healing essences promote the growth of new skin and a permanent cure results.

Zam-Buk is best not only for old sores, eczema, and all skin diseases, but also for blood-poisoning, ulcers, abscesses, boils, scalp sores, piles, burns, scalds, cuts and all skin injuries. All druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. box. 2

W. C. M. Robertson, a farmer residing in London Township, wrote that the canvassers had called on him last year, and he was expecting them again. Since they had overlooked him, he was forwarding his check for $50. The sum of $169.50 was received from the Technical School; $100 from Fashion Craft, tailors; and an additional subscription from Woolworth & Co. One of the largest subscriptions received by Mr. Nelles at headquarters was the sum of $25, with which a young man called.

Mrs. Allan McLean yesterday afternoon received a subscription for $240 from F. P. Riddell. Mrs. D. McLean had an additional $150, probably the final gleanings of her team.

Among all who have taken part in the canvass, none have worked more strenuously or unobtrusively than the members of the staff of the Bank of Commerce. Following their regular duties each day, they have cheerfully remained until 10, 11 and 12 o'clock each night, checking over subscriptions and entering them up, counting money and doing all the similar necessary grind work involved by such a canvass.

A small part of this band has been heard in London and elsewhere, but owing to the expense, it has so far been impossible to send it throughout Military District No. 1. However, it is hoped that prior to the battalion's departure for England the band will be given an opportunity to play in most parts of the district. The pipe band includes many pipe artists of well-known ability, and many of the men are adepts in the intricate Scottish dances. On the route marches the band is surrounded by the small boys, most of whom are undecided yet as to whether they will be drummers or pipers when they grow up. mers or pipers when they grow up.

The Canadian Scottish Borderers are making an appeal for recruits in No. 1 Military District, to bring up the unit to full strength, so as to enable it to proceed overseas as a unit. They need something over four hundred men. Lieut.-Col. McGregor is appealing for at least 150 to 200 men from London and vicinity. The battalion is essentially a Scotsmen's battalion, but Irishmen, Englishmen, Americans and Canadians are found in its ranks. Their slogan is "Come With the Kilties." Enlisting in the only Scottish battalion in No. 1 M. D., should appeal very strongly to the young manhood of this district. GREATEST FILMS MADE IMPOSTORS SOLICITING

Brought Vividly Home to Onlookers.

Although shown almost continuously since Monday, the motion pictures of the battle of Courcelette, in which Canadian troops played such a prominent part, are still a centre of attraction to hundreds of London people at the Lyric Theatre.

This is accounted for perhaps by the fact that the men seen in the greater part of the pictures are Canadians, many of them in battalions to which men from London and this district have gone. It has become almost a duty men from London and this district have gone. It has become almost a duty on the part of everyone who has a relative at the front to see these pictures of the boys in action, for they do show them in action, not the hand-tohand, bayonets-at-ach-other's-throats stuff, which one sees in the illustrated supplements of American papers, but in "action" as it is in modern warfare. Right up into the front line trenches the pictures transport the spectators, so close at times that the figure of one man will shut off from view the remainder of those in the trench. One can see the bayonets drawn and fixed firmly and surely to the rifles, the slow tightening of the muscles, the grim set of the jaws as the men wait for the word to "go over."

"You could not get the money anyway," answered the mayor.

Commissioner McFarland took the mayor to task for not supporting the issue of $50,000 to complete the building. The board was unanimous in deciding on the construction of the shop.

"You made a grandstand play," declared Mr. McFarland.

"The hydro commission will not let you have the money," retorted the mayor. "Things have changed a lot since we first started the plans for the building."

Trades and Labor Delegates | Ask Council to Reconsider Matter.

Civic coalyards were again inforesed by the London Trades and Labor Council at its meeting on Wednesday night, and a motion was made by Delegate Hessel that the city council be asked to reconsider the matter.

The indorsement of the militia act by the ministerial alliance caused some discussion, members of the council stating that the ministers should devote a little of their energy to reducing the high cost of living.

The council also expressed the opinion that the $6,000 which it is proposed to pay in salaries in connection with the dental clinic in the schools could be better spent in the purchase of free textbooks. The council will ask the board of education why the books cannot be supplied this year.

The members expressed their belief that the banners used in connection with the patriotic fund should have borne a union label. The officers of the association will be notified.

Greater efforts to prevent the importation of American labor were urged by a delegate from the Musicians' Union.

Organizer Watt of the Tailors' Union urged a general agitation for more wages by all trades unions. While work for the tailors had decreased since the outbreak of war, he pointed out that enlistment and migrations to the United States had depleted the number of workers.

Our Western University Rump thus praises the kaiser: is excellently situated in an industrial centre, and might develop wonderfully along the lines of industrial research.

The universities must supply the skilled men and rare instruments for this work. Within their walls many of the most intricate experiments might be carried on. Men should be trained there who will be able to go forth into the manufactories, to continue and supervise the investigation there.

The state also has a great part to play in this work. There are many small firms which cannot afford to pay specially qualified men, and so their problems go uninvestigated, and the particular industries which they repregent are hampered. WOMEN'S AILMENTS Come From the Heart and Young girls budding into womanhood who suffer with pains and headaches, and whose face is pale and blood watery, will find Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills build them up. Women, between the ages of 40 and 50, who are nervous, subject to hot flushes, feeling of pins and needles, smothering feeling, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, etc., are tided over this trying time of their life by the use of this remedy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have a wonderful effect on a woman's system, making pains and aches vanish, bringing color to the pale cheek and sparkle to the eye.

The old, worn out, tired out, languid feelings give place to strength and vitality, and life again seems like liv-

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Major Hugh Green, who is in charge of the fish supplies of the Canadians overseas, and who is also looking after the interests of the British Board of Trade for shipments which are for use by the British troops in England, states that the shortage of the choice varieties of fish this Lent has absolutely nothing to do with the shipments overseas.

Major Green also pointed out that lone was twenty million pounds, and on top of this, the large cold storage plant of the Canadana Fishing Company in Vancouver, containing an enormous quantity of choice halibut and salmon which would have been available for the Lenten season, was recently burned to the scround. Another result which has increased the price of fish this year, is the fact that the public are buying more fish and are now recognizing fish as a staple article of food, and a steadily increasing demand is the result.

Major Green also pointed out that none of the choicest kinds of fish such as halibut and salmon, are being bought for shipment to England. All kinds of fish which the fishermen here to case of the choice of the shipment of the shortage of the Londoners of th ments which are for use by the British

HOUSEKEEPING IS A BUSINESS. ECONOMICAL COOKING IS A SCIENCE.

Our Consumers' League

"The time will come when it will be an infringement of the law to sell in Can eggs which are not properly graded and of a required standard." The fore, ag statement was made last week to the editor of this department by a representative of the poultry division of the livestock branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, who was in charge of an egg demonstration at the corr show of the Ontario Corn Growers' Association in Kingsville.

With the arguments offered some time ago in this department in favor of selling eggs by weight prominently in mind, the question was asked of the expert, "Do you think eggs should be sold by weight or by number?"

His reply came quickly: "Our standards for Canadian eggs adopted by the third annual convention of the Canadian Produce Association in Guelph in January, 1915, cover this point. In grading, weight counts five points."

The definition of grades was obtained as follows: Specials—Eggs of uniform size weighing over 24 ounces to the dozen, or over 45 pounds net to the 30-dozen case; absolutely clean, strong and sound in shell; *air cell small, not over three-sixteenths of an inch in depth; white of egg to be firm and clear and yolk dimly visible; free from blood clots.

Extras—Eggs of good size, weighing at least 24 ounces to the dozen, or 45 pounds net to the 20-dozen case; clean, sound in shell; *air cell less than

No. 1's-Eggs weighing at least 23 ounces to the dozen, or 43 pounds to the O-dozen case: clean sound in shell, "air cell less than ½-inch in depth white of egg to be reasonably firm; yolk my be quite visible but mobile, no stuck to the shell or seriously out of place; air cell not necessarily stationary No. 2's-Eggs clean; sound in shell; may contain weak watery eggs and eggs with heavy yolks, and all other eggs sound in shell and fit for food. *Definitions of grades in class cracked and dirties to be same as fo grades in fresh gathered class, except that the terms referring to soundness and cleanness are not to apply. Canadian egg standards are not yet compulsory, more is the pity. But here is a good time coming, the poultry department believes, when all the educational work in progress at the present time in the way of demonstrations, bulletins, etc., will bear fruit, and the public enlightened to the point where egislation will be made possible.

The more quickly producer and consumer avail themselves of the oppo-tunity to become educated on the subject, the sooner will laws be enacted.

The consumer recognizes at once the advantage of such protection. What of the producer? The advantage will also be on the side of the producer who makes an intelligent effort to raise the standard of the eggs intended to be offered for sale, through selection of good stock, proper care, feeding and housing of birds, providing clean nests, careful gathering of the eggs and crating to prevent damage, proper storage and effort to get them to the con sumer as quickly as possible

That producer is the one who can command the highest price and enjoy the satisfaction of giving efficient service.

Prince Edward Island, the one province in Canada which has adopted the apadian egg standards, is a striking illustration of what may be accompanied ough the improvement of methods. Formerly, the eggs which came to th ontreal market from Prince Edward Island were the poorest from any pa. Today they rank highest. The egg industry is rapidly bed leading one in the island. Egg circles have been formed and a large egation has been built, owned and operated by the farmers.

The export of eggs from Prince Edward Island for last year, graded coording to the Canadian standards, amounted to something like a quarter

Until the time when legislation provides that eggs shall be properly grade according to freshness, weight, quality and cleanness, the thrifty housewift can help herself by demanding new laid eggs of good size and color; insisting that eggs be clean; learning to distinguish between a new laid egg and a sta fresh egg and a storage egg; demanding compensation if bad eggs 1 urnished; being willing to pay a premium for good eggs; and, finally ering that eggs are of a perishable nature and giving them proper care after

The live stock branch has the following suggestions to offer to the poultr; raiser in regard to the proper care of market eggs, with a view to improving

"Remove male birds from the flock immediately after the breeding season and market no fertile eggs. "Provide roomy nests and plenty of clean nesting material, preferably dry shavings or cut hav. "Keep the nests clean and sanitary,

"Collect the eggs regularly, at least once, better twice, a day in racderate weather, and more frequently in very warm and very cold

"Remove at once in clean utensils to a cool, dry cellar. "Cover with a clean cloth to prevent dust from settling upon them and also to prevent evaporation and fading.

"Do not pack loose when taking to market, but rather secure suitable egg cases and thus avoid breakages.

TEACHING THE GIRL THE VALUE OF MONEY.

"Market as frequently and as directly as possible."

It was a woman of ample means who said in regard to the Consumers League column a few days ago: "I was very much interested and my husband as well, in the experiences given by several London women in regard to keepng household accounts. I have done that ever since I was married. use, and I am glad to say that in 24 years I haven't once exceeded it. Perhaps he has been unusually generous. In any case, I have made a business my nousekeeping and tried to manage the house as I would a business. found this experience most valuable when I was given responsibility in one the organizations doing patriotic work after the outbreak of war.

"I was so engrossed with household and other duties that when daughters were growing I didn't at first appreciate the fact that it was m duty to also train them in business methods. Their father gave them wha they asked, and it was my pleasure to make them as happy as possible. But at last I awakened to the fact that they were becoming extravagant and had no idea of the value of money. I talked it over with my husband and we decided to put them each on an allowance, making it purposely smaller than we could afford, in order to teach them to be economical. It was hard for them at first and they made mistakes. It was hard for me also not to step in nd make it easy for them, but I considered it was for their best interests to et them take the consequences when they had been extravagant and were blight to go without other things they wanted very badly or, under other rcumstances, I would have thought they actually needed.

"They found they required to do some simple bookkeeping in order to use their allowances to the best advantage. After a time we increased the allowance when we saw they had learned to take good care of their money and to Another mother, who is a reader of Our Consumers' League department and a past president of a mothers' club, says: "The only way to teach a girl the value of money is to put her on an allowance and insist that she shall keep within it. It is a valuable business experience for her."

A third mother echoes the other two, and adds: "If a girl can't keep within a certain allowance in providing for her own needs, how is she going to be prepared to manage and buy for a home? "It isn't fair to call a girl extravagant or careless and not give her a fair chance, or a boy either for that matter."

Someone says that thrift is an inherent wirtue. It is with some people and early manifests itself in some children. Everyone has known two small bows in a family who have each received half a dozen candles. One eats his all up at once or gives them freely away as long as a crumb remains. But the other hoards and nibbles and fortifies himself against a candyless period. Perhaps a week later, when there are grounds for suspicion that he has a hole somewhere in his knickers, a hard, dirty, sticky little mass is found in his pocket, the remains of his treasure.

Bcy No. 2 is the one whose bank at home always jingles, and who is piling up a nice account in the school bank. He is always ready for an emergency. Boy No. 1 is the one who needs to have habits of thrift fostered. Permps with boy No. 2 the training will necessarily be somewhat in the other direction, to teach him to distinguish between miserliness and stinginess on he one side, and good sense in the husbanding of resources on the other Corcerning teaching children the real value of money, Kathleen E. Steacy, writing in Everywoman's World, has the following to say

"Teach children the value of money. They must learn some day, and their mistakes are less liable to be costly if made while they are under your

"Give them an allowance, with the understanding that they must supply certain of their own wants out of it. Then let them go without if they fail to make provision for these wants. "The small child may have to supply his own pencils and pocket knife, and the little girl her hair ribbons and handkerchiefs. Go with them at first to buy their things, but let them do the buying themselves. "When they are older, let them earn a little money in some way, so as it get an idea of its earning power. To teach a child the buying power of money without letting him learn the earning power is only half fthe lesson."

LONDON, Feb. 22.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The death Germany's colonial posses- German bases were to be permitted sions has been sounded, so far as the the southern hemisphere, with Germ Allies can effect that result, warships within a day or two's steam Entente Allies can effect that result, by the almost simultaneous announcement of the British minister of colonies, Mr. Long; the Japanese minister of foreign affairs, Mr. Motono, and the prime minister of New Zealand, Mr. Massey, who voiced the view of Australia, as well as New Zealand. Together these statements declare there will be no return to Germany of her colonies in Africa, Asia or the Pacific. This attitude is not only held by Japan and the British colonies chiefly concerned, but it has the backing of the west coast is now a patchbut it has the backing of where the west coast is now a patchconcerned, but it has the backing of the British and French Governments, work of little colonies, alternating be-which have the largest interest in Colonial Africa and Asia. It develops the fact, also, that the late Asquith (Avvernment was opposed to any extensions). Government was opposed to any extension of British colonial possessions in Africa, whereas the new Lloyd George Government approves this extension, as in line with the aspirations of the British colonies in Africa. This, in turn, has established that there will be a general reshifting of African colonies, so that the possession of Great Britain, France, Portugal and Belgium will be made more homogeneous, instead of being, as at present, scattered and irregular in outline.

Japan's Aspirations.

Japan'

French draft of the reply to President Wilson was being cabled to the various Entente governments for approval.

Japan approved the terms as far as stated, on Serbia, Belgium and in other respects, but pointed out that the terms omitted any reference to the German colonies of Kiao-Chau and the respects, but pointed out that the terms omitted any reference to the German colonies of Kiao-Chau and the Pacific islands, in which Japan had established an interest. France and Great Britain thereupon replied to Japan that it had been deemed de-Japan that it had been deemed desirable, in answering Mr. Wilson's request for terms, not to make these terms embrace everything which might come up later, but to confine them for the present to the readjustment of territory in Europe. Later on, it was pointed out, the future of German territorial possessions outside of Europe would be considered, so that Japan's rights would be properly safeguarded and secured for future determination. This was satisfactory to Japan, which then gave its approval to the joint reply to Mr. Wilson, stating the Allies' main terms.

Understanding Exists. The Japanese embassy here has given Japan's understanding of the arrangement as stated by Foreign Minister Montono. He stated:

Montono. He stated:

"The absence of any allusion to the future disposal of the German colonies has justly attracted the attention of public opinion in Japan. That point has, however, never escaped the attention of the Imperial Government. The reply to the American note does not certainly contain all the conditions of peace to be demanded by the Allied powers. They reserve the right to present these conditions when the terms of peace are discussed. Reference is made to this point in the note to the United States. In order to avoid all misunderstandings we took steps to safeguard our right when we addressed our adhesion to the draft by the French Government, and I am happy to say that a satisfactory understanding exists among all our allies on this point."

The attrude of the new British administration was announced about the same time in the statement of the men.

to the British policy toward those colonies:

Will Not Return Colonies.

"Let no man think that their struggles for these colonies have been in vain. Let no man think that these colonies will ever return to German rule. It is impossible. Our overseas empire will not tolerate any suggestion of the kind. We have been able to rectify saistakes since the war began, and it now rests with the people of this country to help to an early and satisfactory peace, and to take care that they prepare before the war ends to face that other bitter and ruthless contest in trade and commerce which will follow hereafter."

About the same time the view of Australia and New Zealand as to German island colonies in the Pacific was expressed by Sir Joseph Ward, finance minister of New Zealand, and W. F.

CHATHAM, Feb. 22.—The condition of Conductor Emmerson Gaskin of St.
Thomas, who was found yesterday morning on the ice 40 feet below a still very grave. He is suffering from concussion of the brann, frozen feet and an injured spine, as a result of the fall when he endeavored to crawl past a train standing on the bridge. The unfortunate man has not regained consciousness. Very little hope is entertained for his recovery.

city of London bill with the Legislature.

City Engineer Brazier reported that $518,000 of the $520,000 set aside for storm sewers had been spent. Of the original issue, $10,000 was to have been expended in West London, and only about $2,000 remained for that purpose. The report was laid over.

The offer of the Standard Paving Company to sell their plant here for $26,000 was laid over for the report of City Engineer Brazier.

Office supplies for the city will be purchased through the utilities commission, which can get better prices. It was decided to call for tenders for repairs to the registry office, and Building Inspector Piper was instructed to prepare the specifications.

The procedure bylaw amendments were not discussed, being laid over for further discussion. Over $38,000,000.

The board of control at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon decided to meet the overdraft from Victoria Hospital at once, and the necessary money will be provided when the estimates are struck. City Solicitor Meredith explained that the council must meet the deficit as any other deficit is met.

"These men should be paid," said Controller Little. "I move that we pay the merchants at once, and provide the money in the estimates."

"That's my idea, too," declared Controller Shaw. Controller Saunders coincided, and the motion passed without discussion.

NOW FIRMLY BELIEVES FRIDAY MOST UNLUCKY

Fireman McLean's Experiences Last Week Seem to Justify Him.

Walnut Cake

a light, rich, white cake, with nuts through and cream icing on top,

20c Each

Week seem to Justify Him.

An experience of the past week has afforded Fireman McLean of the C.P.R. good reason for believeing that Friday is an unlucky day on which to begin a journey. He started out on his run on Friday last for Toronto. Mishap No. 1 occured near Guelph Junction, when the train broke, and in stopping it, the rear end piled up. At the Junction, the engine ran short of coal and, after being so long on the road, could not be brought back to London. McLean was ordered to Toronto, while the engineer waited on a siding for a relief crew. For some reason, the engine blew up.

Beturning from Toronto. Finance blew up.

Returning from Toronto, Fireman McLean was on the train when Conductor Barnes of London, had several fingers cut off by falling under the train.
