SISTERS PRAY AS FIRE MENACES CHAPEL

Yesterday's fire at Mount St. Joseph Catholic orphanage was one of he most spectacular and remarkable London has experienced. The building burst into flames at about 1 o'clock, at a time when risk to human life was considerable, for the children were scattered in almost every room of the building. The blaze itself, although not too destructive, at times threatened the whole institution. Sisters of Mount St. Joseph today realized the danger which was only averted by the quick response of children to a general alarm and the veering of the wind when the flames were sweeping west across the top to destroy the chapel.

The sisters today gave general thanks to the students of the University of Western Ontario and citizens who bravely offered their assistance in clearing the building of its fittings. The sisters themselves come in for much praise and commendation for their own heroic work in caring for their charges at critical periods of the fire. Opposition to the demolition Rectory street public school is said to be growing in the east end of the Daily new arguments are being advanced to meet those of the board of education, which body argues that the school must make way for the new collegiate institute.

"We don't want Rectory school torn down," declared T. B. Richard son, 844 King street, to The Advertiser, "because we consider it a piece of extravagance to do so. The enrollment at the school is not being depleted, despite the fact that the school has been robbed to fill up Boyle Memorial school, while the building is good for five to ten years

"There is a total enrollment of 358 pupils at Rectory school," continued Mr. Richardson, "and if those pupils are distributed amongst the schools in the vicinity as proposed they will in the vicinity, as proposed, they wi have to cross Dundas street 1,432 times a day.

Crossing is Dangerous. Crossing is Dangerous.

"Is it as dangerous for high school students to cross 12 tracks at Egerton street, supposing the collegiate is built out there," asked Mr. Richardson, "as it would be for infants and small children to cross Dundas street 1,432 times a day?

"Egerton street is not as busy a railway crossing as Rectory street, which, with engines going to the

Touching on the enrollment at Rectory school, Mr. Richardson stated legal point. that there is an average of 38 pupils per room, as compared with Lorne avenue school, 40 pupils; Boyle Memorial, 41 pupils, and Lord Roberts along with a number of others, intend sending their children to St. Mary's school, 36 pupils.

"Lorne avenue school has only one empty room, as has Boyle school. The Quebec street school, which has been discarded, has only two rooms, and how are they going to put eight rooms of pupils without disturbing them all over the place?"

Mr. Bichardson stated that his two

Mr. Richardson stated that his two children and at least 25 other children and at least 25 other children of the Rectory street district would be sent to St. Mary's separate school sc be sent to St. Mary's separate school if the Rectory school is torn down. To do this, Mr. Richardson said that he would transfer his school taxes to the support of the separate schools.

Alternatives Are Offered. Two alternative solutions are of-fered the board by east end citizens fered the board by east end citizens rather than the wrecking of the Rectory school. The first, which is considered more economical by Mr. Richardson, embraces the turning of Trafalgar public school into a collegiate institute, as suggested in the board by Trustee Rev. R. D. Mess, M.M., and the adding to it of an addition at a cost of $100,000. The pupils of Trafalgar school could be taken care of by building a $100,000 addition to Ealing public school.

The section means simply that to transfer their school taxes to separate schools, all Protestants would have to inform the cierk in writing that they were Roman Catholics, or the transfer could not be made.

"This solution would clean up a mess already made," asserted Mr. Richardson, "because the board admits that Trafalgar school is not in the proper position for a public school, placed as it is so close to Chesley avenue school. At the present time children directly across the siders Apply For C. of C. road from Trafalgar go to Chesley school, while pupils across from Ealing have to go ten blocks to Trafalgar school. Moreover, nearly half the students who will attend the new east collegiate come from below the C. N. R. tracks in the Hamilton road

Fallon and Gandier Appeal For Religious Education

Head of London Roman Catholic Diocese Points Out That Plan Is Practicable in Every Respect-Head of Knox College Agrees With Principle, Claiming It Is Fundamental in Character Building.

ONTARIO EDUCATIONAL ASSOC. CONVENES

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, April 15.—Appeals for more religious teaching and Bible instruction in the public schools were made today by Dr. Alfred Gandier, principal of Knox college, and Bishop Fallon, of London, speaking before the ratepayers and trustees section of the Ontario Educational Association. Rabbi Brickner of Toronto opposed the teaching of the Bible in the schools.

"I appeal for religious education for all God's children in this province without exception-Catholic, Protestant and Jew," said Bishop Fallon. "I ask that they be taught the theory of religion that they be trained into habits of religious observance and religious life; and that these theoretical phases of religion conform to one or another of the broad religious divisions which mark our popula-

The bishop thought that the teaching of religious knowledge in the schools of Ontario was not impracticable.

Principal Gandier, in urging more religious education in the public schools of the province, declared that it was high time the churches waked up to their responsibilities in the matter. He claimed that all people were coming to recognize that the religious element in human life was so essential to citizenship and character that they would rather see them good Methodists, or Anglicans, or

W.C.T.U. OF LONDON WILL ASK FOR DISTRICT CHARTER

Expect To Seek Incorporation at Dominion Meeting in June.

PLANS HONOR ROLL

The London Central W. C. T. U hopes to become incorporated as a district union in the near future. Application for a charter will be made as soon as the total membership in London warrants such a move. And as that membership now goes far beyond the required 300, it is possible that the application for incorporation as a district branch will be made at the meeting of the Provincial W. C. T. U. next autumn. This announcement was made at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Central Union, held in the Clarence street rooms. Mrs. H. W. Paddell occupied the chair.

Such a district body would be composed of representatives from every branch union in London, and would probably meet quarterly. There are now in existence three London unions, the Central Union, Ward 1 Union and Ward 3 Union.

By SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE. "It can't hurt now." was Mr. Sherlock Holmes' comment when, for the tenth time in as many years, I asked his leave to reveal the following narrative. So it was that at last I obtained permission to put on record."

tained permission to but on record what was, in some ways, the supreme moment of my friend's career.

Both Holmes and I had a weakness for the Turkish bath. It was over a cigarette in the pleasant lassitude of the drying-room that I have found him less reticent and more human than anywhere else. On the upper floor of the Northumberland avenue establishment there is an isolated corner where two couches lie side by side, and it was on these that we lav upon Sept. 3, 1902, the day when my narrative begins. I had asked him whether anything was stirring, and for answer he had shot his long. Thin, nervous arm out of the sheets which enveloped him, and had drawn an envelope from the inside pocket of the coat which hum beside him. "It may be some fussy, self-important fool, it may be a matter of life or death." said he, as he handed me the note. "I know no more than this message tells me."

If was from the Carlton club and dated the evening before. This is what I read:

Indispensable in Every Home

THE mother who permits constipation in her baby or older child is risking the health, even the life, of her little one.

Fretfulness, feverishness, night terrors, grinding the teeth in sleep, biliousness, coated tongue, loss of appetite, any of these may indicate constipation. Poisons from the child's stagnant intestine are flooding the little body, and if left unchecked may lead to serious consequences.

Avoid Laxatives—Say Doctors

A noted authority says that laxatives do not overcome constipation, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition.

Medical science has found in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and hastens its passage through and out of the body. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Let your infant or child have Nujol regularly, and see rosy cheeks, clear eyes and happiness return once more.

Nujol is used in children's and general hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world.

could deceive you by saying no, Holmes, but it would not be true. De Merville is a broken man. The strong soldier has been utterly demoralized by this incident. He has lost the nerve which never failed him on the battlefield and has become a weak, doddering old man, utterly incapable of contending with a brilliant, forceful rascal like this Austrian. My client, however, is an old friend, one who has known the general in-timately since she wore short frocks. He cannot see this tragedy consummated without some attempt to stop it. There is nothing on which Scotland Yard can act. It was his own suggestion that you should be called in, but it was, as I have said, on the express stipulation that he should not be personally involved in the matter. I have no doubt, Mr. Holmes, with your great powers, you could easily trace my client back through me, but I must ask you, as a point of honor, to refrain from doing so, and not to break in upon his incognito." Holmes gave a whimsical smile.

"I think I may safely promise that," said he. "I may add that your problem interests me, and that I shall be prepared to look into it. How shall I keep in touch with you?" "The Carlton club will find me. But, in case of emergency, there is a private telephone call, 'XX.31.'" smiling, with the open memorandum book upon his knee. "The baron's present address, please?" Holmes noted it down and sat, still

We All Do It

Wherein we score the fickle race that dodges when the brickbats fly, but gather round with outstretched hand when pleasant words be comin' nigh.

It be no doubt a human thing that we should dodge when brickbats fly, and stand erect with manly pose when pleasant things is passin' by. You see it most in any place, in you and me like all the rest, when bouquets be tossed in the air we grab and pin them on Old Skinflint hears the preacher preach in words what's got a brimstone hue, a-tellin' folks what's sittin' there the things they ought to go and do.

And when the parson waxes warm and tells the people in his flock that there be some the law should take and bounce a hammer on their crock; how they have stripped the widow's purse and seized her hens and fatted sow, and closed the mortgage on the farm and driv away the brindle cow.

Old Skinflint he be just the man at whom the parson aims his crack, but it's like pouring water on a duckling's tail or on his back. For Skinflint sits and smiles a bit and stamps his foot upon the floor, he knows the jay next seat to him who this bombardment's loaded for. And so he goes from out the kirk and says to them what walk with him, how that the parson hit that jay and got a message 'neath his skin,

But when the parson starts next time to speak about a goodly deed, how some has spread their ducats out a-helpin' them what be in need, old Skinflint flaps his ears about and gathers up the pleasant sound, and figures how that virtue smiles when he be takin' of himself around.

And every person in the kirk is reachin' for the word of praise, and pinnin' it upon himself and baskin' in its happy rays.

We dodge the brickbats when they fly, because we know, of course we do, that words what's harsh and solemn like were never meant for me and you-but when they spread the roses out and speak the words what's honey-kissed, 'tis then we rise upon the pew and reach for them our horny fist.

Premier Outlines His Scheme Before Ontario Educational Association.

WIDEN SCHOOL UNIT

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, April 14.-Hon. G. H. Ferguson, premier of Ontario and minister of education, tonight outlined a scheme by which the rural schools of the province can cut their costs by 25 per cent and still obtain greater efficiency, before the general session of the Ontario educational association at the opening meeting of that organization, which is holding its 64th annual meeting at the University of Toronto.

The scheme concerned the bill which Mr. Ferguson introduced in the session of the legislature just closed, and which he presented and had withdrawn merely to get its principles before the teaching profession, inspectors, trustees and those interested in education with the hope that they would give it consideration and submit their views next year.

Widen School Units. Widen School Units.

The bill, it will be recalled, asks for a widening of the school unit. That is, instead of the school administration coming under school sections as at present, the unit would be the township with all schools in one township coming under the school of trustees. the direction of a board of trustees for that particular section of the province. If the trustees and others interested in educational matters concluded that the township was a better one, Hon. Mr. Ferguson was confident that within a few years after its application the rural schools would be getting greater efficiency with a cut of one-quarter of the cost of operation.

He pointed out that the average cost of educating a pupil in the rural schools of the province was from $87 to $88. The general bill was $32,000,-00 yearly, and when he realized that e began to feel that there should be some changes.

The tournament committee this year will endeavor to make the tourney as enjoyable an event for all bowlers as its revival here was last year, and an improvement if possible.
The bowling classic of the district will probably attract a record list of entries as last season witnessed revival of interest in trundling in great many centers.

Good Boys Will Give Locals Test in Pro

Four bouts were yesterday cinched for next Wednesday's card at the arena, and it will constitute an invasion from Hamilton against local boys who are making their first start in the professional game.

As the card stands so following are stacked:

Jackie Jones vs. Charlie Bear. Billy Gibbs vs. Bud Barnes. Johnny Conkle vs. Art Woodham. Al. Smith vs. Inar Benson. Billy Gibbs chances in the bantamweight ranks were considered very highly in Hamilton until he began to show signs of taking on too much weight for the division. He has fought numerous semi-final engage-ment on the larger cards in Hamilton and though he will be giving away weight to Barnes, he will give the local youngster a real test. Gibbs is a fine little ring general and has been fighting for two years.

"That it is in the interest of amateur baseball in this part of Ontario that these clubs be permitted to play in the Inter-County league this year, and that this league take all the necessary steps to obtain the con-sent of the O. B. A. A. to this arrangement.

Long Session.

Following a session that lasted over two hours, the above resolution was passed by the Inter-County league in session here tonight, and a delega-tion consisting of W. A. Smith of Galt, J. M. Kearns of Guelph, A. Schlegel of Preston, and C. R. Penfold of Guelph, was appointed to see President Snyder of Hamilton or the O. B. A. A. sub-committee and lay the facts before him. The Inter-County feels that the

O. B. A. A. was not wholly acquainted with the facts of the case, else it would never have ordered Stratford and Brantford to the Southern Counties. The Inter-County takes the definite attitude that the Brantford Cordage team, which has never been in the Southern Counties, an which has operated for the past two years in the intermediate inter-county series, is inter-county property and cannot be taken away from them. Strengthening their hand, B James, a director of the company stated to the meeting registrally than

A. W. McKenzie of Stratford state that the executive there had met to day, and in view of the definite at titude taken by Brantford, had de cided positively that they would no enter a three-team league with London and St. Thomas.

Talk Independence.

If the O. B. A. A. declines to recede from its position, the likelihood is that the Inter-County will operate as a six-team circuit, independent of that body, with a longer schedule It was quite evident a the meeting that the teams are pre-pared to take this course if necessary, as they feel they owe it to the Brantford club, which was admitted to the senior circuit last fall. Indications are that five of the six clubs favor the breaking-away proposal, and that all six will eventually stick together to stand or fall.

A definite charge was made that Lucan wanted to play senior ball, but that London and particularly St. Thomas did not want this, and that the Lucan team was squeezed out.

Representatives of the Kitchener club stated that they would carry on, provided that the games carded for Kitchener which clashed with Mint league dates were transferred away and the rate split. Preston and Guelph did not favor the idea, but the matter was left over until the league's members are definitely bers of the

All-Star Eleven May Visit N.Y.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, April 14.—It is practically certain that a Canadian
"all-star" soccer football aggregation will meet a United States team next month, possibly at New York on the 16th, according to officials of the Dominion Football association.

Sam Davidson, secretary of the D. F. A., stated today that the Canadians had suggested that the game be played in New York May 16, and that the United States would be permitted to field their best eleven, amateur or profes-sional, as otherwise the game would not be a real test of skill of the players on both sides of the

If the game is played this year, next year a return international match will be played in Canada.

The semi-annual meeting of the members of the Thistle Lawn Bowling and Curling club will be ushered in by a magnificent banquet at 6:30 p.m. Friday evening, April 17.

The banquets of the club have gained a wide reputation and this one promises to be no exception. There will be food for all and enough left over to sustain those who stay away.

The entertainment is under the capable direction of Bill Stewart, who promises features of a unique character. The business meeting will be short and "snappy." Arrangements will be completed for the Scotch doubles, Mintee and other trophles. A new trophy—the Woodmen of the World cup—has been donated and will be competed for at an invitation singles tournament. This competition is unique in Western Ontario.

Before Connie Grabbed Him.

New York, April 14.—Connie Mack's quick action in attempting to patch the hole at first base, created when Hauser broke his knee, may hold the Philadelphia Athletics in the first division this season. Poole of Portland, Ore, has been pushed into the gap, and if Hauser's knee never recovers so that he can play fast ball again. Poole will carry on better than a novice. Meantime the Athletics, like three or four other major league clubs, will be digging into the minors in search of high-class first base material.

Erooklyn was urged to take Poole on some time ago, not so mach because fournier cannot wallop the ball as because he is acquiring a growth of feet which is handicapping his speed. But Brooklyn passed Poole up, probably figuring that the first base question could be let go one more year anyhow. Cincinnati also was urged to get Poole, and there are some Cincinnatians who think Jack Hendricks turned down a good chance when he passed up Poole for Bressier, the outfielder whom he is trying to convert into a first baseman, which, by the way, is something that has not been done successfully very often.

trying to convert into a first baseman which, by the way, is something that has not been done successfully very often.

Pittsburg, too, was urged in some quarters to acquire Poole, in addition to Niehaus, in order that the team the bedoubly fortified at first base. Niehaus is coming along finely, but the ill-luck that has been pursuing Pittsburg, as well as other teams, has developed a slight injury to Niehaus, which may retard his speed at the start, when he needs it so much. Poole batted .353 for Portland last year. Duffy Lewis, who once was with the Yankees, batted .392. That will give the best line on Poole. Welsh, the player taken by the Boston Nationals, batted .342. Poole had quite a number of errors at first, most of which were the result of fighting grounders. Guisto outfielded him, and so did Ellison. Fred Mollnitz, who was once one of the best fielders in the National league, led him by seven points and almost led the league. Yet on the whole, the Athletics can afford to take chances a little in the field in order to get a man at first who knows how the base should be played and who can bat.

Hauser, whom Poole replaces, was in better form this spring than he was last year. The team played up to him, and he could hit a mile. True, it was only spring pitching he was batting, but he looked for a .350 season. If Poole makes good and if Hauser is out all season and perhaps even longer, the Athletics than Miller, because the latter isn't the easy going handler of thrown balls that Poole is.

If Poole makes good and if Hauser is out all season and perhaps even longer, the Athletics will be benefited a heap by the acquisition of this Coast league player. And if Brooklyn or Cincinnation Pittsburg should develop any weakness at first during the season, Connie Mack will have the laugh on them.

The coast fans thought several clubs should have got after Poole, and any success Foole may have in major circles will add to the opinion out on the coast that they know a ball player when they see one.

LEAGUE TO ORGANIZE

Due on Friday Secretary Calls General Meeting at Palmerston For Tomorrow Night.

Palmerston, April 14.—James Mahoney of Palmerston, who was elected acting secretary of the new ladies' softball league at the organization meeting here last week, has issued a call to the clubs in Drayton, Moorefield, Palmerston, Listowell Brussels, Wingham, Harriston, Drew, Hanover, Mount Forest and Durham asking that they attend the general meeting here Thursday night, when the new league will be given a name, officers elected and a constitution drawn up.

The C. G. I. T. girls' team, which cleaned up in 1924, are already in practice, and will likely play their opening game in Guelph on May 24.

Much interest is being shown in the formation of the new league.

New York, April 14.—Connie Mack's Dr. Johnston of Strathroy Heads New Local District Group.

SCHEDULE LATER

The local district juvenile O. B. A group was organized last night at the Orient clubrooms, when five clubs were represented and admitted to the loop. The teams represented were St. Thomas Yannigans and Comets, Strathroy and the London Orients and Firates. The circuit will be known as the Elgin-Middlesex baseball league.

The officers for the conding season were elected, with a member from each club being chosen. Dr. Johnston of Strathroy was elected as president of the loop; first vice-president, Mr. W. C. Kumble of the East End Pirates; second vice-president, Mr. J. Fraser, Orients; secretary, V. Cosen, St. Thomas Yannigans; treasurer, Mr. W. H. Lane, St. Thomas Comets.

It was decided that an equal division of the gate be made between the home and visiting teams. The entry fee into the league was set at $5, which shall be forwarded to the treasurer before the 20th of April. All meetings will be called by the president, with each team having one representative at it. A neutral umpire will officiate at each game.

Bird Notes

By W. E. SAUNDERS.

A change in the weather during the migration period, is often accompanied by a noteworthy migration among the birds, and the little rain on the night of the 13th., apparently announced to the birds, that the weather had changed. Be that as it may, the morning of the 14th., was an exceptionally interesting one for the bird lover. The rain had ceased, but the air and the ground were damp, and full of the promise of spring. The ducks heard the call and came in night and there is no recent record of so many water birds on the three ponds as at this time.

The conspicuous new arrival was the Ruddy Duck, so called from the red brown color of the bird, an against this dark an glowing color, the two cheek patches of satiny-white shine so brilliantly as to be sometimes dazzling. There were eight or ten of these little fellows with their comical tails carried at an upward angle of twenty degrees, and they splashed and preened themselves and dived with great joy. With them was a rare visitor—not seen at all in 1924—the Red Necked Holboell's Grebe, the largest and rarest of the Grebes that visit London. This fellow has an exceptionally red neck, and is an expert diver in common with most

The third rarity was a male Shovel-Duck, named for his broad shovellike bill. No more conspicuous duck than this, comes to our waters. Large areas of green, chestnut and pure white, make him easy to see and equally easy to identify. The female of this species is very similar to the Mallard, the Pin Tail and other motled gray ducks, which are very dif-ficult to distiguish one from the extreme and is perhaps the easiest of

The single tree Swallow which and at noon there was a Barn Swal low also.

WORK ON SEWAGE PLANT TO START IMMEDIATELY

Syphon System in South London Will Cost $100,000.

McBRIDE FAVORED

Local Man Recommended For Post of Building Inspector.

Commencement of work on a $100,-000 sewage syphon system in South London was ordered by No. 2 committee of the city council in session last night. Work will be undertaken as soon as plans are complete. Payment for the big job will come from a fund accumulated from percentages of local improvement taxes. Over $80,000 has already been accumulated and the city can secure a mandatory order from the provincial board of health to go on with the work. The construction of this duplicate system will mean much progress in the city's efforts to improve the sewage disposal equipment. The new syphon will be 4,600 feet in length, and will be constructed from 48-inch pipe. The existing syphon is only a 20-inch affair, and cannot adequately bandle sewage disposal

What the Much Younger Set Wears A-Walking in the Park in April.

Junior Fashions Reported by the Breath of the Avenue.

Along come April sunshine and yellow crocuses to Central Park and to the Bois de Boulogne. And rosy-cheeked nurses lead small, fashionable persons parkward. For a park in April is as delightful a place to play in-and as smart a place to be seen in -in America as it is in France.

When young New Yorkers go in for the first sporting events of spring, they go sailing slender, white-rigged boats in Central Park. And as true yachtsmen, they wear double-breasted navy coats with brass buttons shining as brightly as Captain Kidd's treasure.

And if small sisters are allowed to watch this manly sport, they too, may choose this simple coat. Only they will probably give it a feminine dash by topping it with a bright red hat.

For the more active sports such as racing scooters and playing tag, heavier coats are left in the laps of nurses-and sweaters are revealed. Hand-knitted slip-ons above full pleated skirts, and snug-fitting jerseys over wash frocks, or on little boys, above very brief, very straight trousers.
