MERRY OLD TIME OVER PRESENT SITUATION REGARDING ULSTER

Government Would Declare War by Withdrawing All Mails From Ulster, Thus Isolating it From the Rest of the World.

(Canadian Press Dispatch) NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—A cable to The Tribune from London this morning says:

There is good reason to believe that John McKinnon Robertson, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, had ministerial warrant for his speech at Newcastle the other night, when he threatened that if any attempt is made to set up a provisional government in Ulster after the passage of the Home Rule Bill the government will withhold the mails from Ulster, and thus totally disorganize business in Belfast by isolating that city from the rest of the world.

The Daily Mail recalls that in 1861, when the Southern States of America proclaimed their independence, Lincoln was urged to withhold the mails, but he declined on the ground that such conduct would be provocative.

desire to remain in the United Kingdom, and are unwilling to be driven out of it to please Redmond. A new turn was given to the situation yesterday by the visit of James Bryce, former British Ambassador in Washington, to Belfast. He is a former Chief Secretary for Ireland, and conferred with leading Liberals of that city many of whom he knows personally.

POLICE APPEAL CASE ADJOURNED—WHAT CONSTITUTES AN ARREST?

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston Had a Difficult Time Before the Chief Justice and Justices of Appellate Division at Toronto Yesterday—Proceedings in Full.

(SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.)

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—The appeal of Chief Slemm, Dr. Ashton, and the two Brantford police officers, ordered to pay $1,500 damages to Miss Gladys Meredith, commenced in the Appellate Court yesterday afternoon, before Chief Justice Mulock and Judges Riddell and Sutherland.

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston appeared for Chief Slemm and in detailing the evidence taken at the trial claimed that no evidence had been disclosed to show that at any time the girl had been under arrest. He pointed out that the evidence showed that certain reports had been made to Chief of Police Slemm and that there was a girl in a factory who had threatened to commit suicide and whose appearance had attracted attention.

"Were they in plain clothes?" asked the Chief Justice. "Apparently she knew they were detectives," replied Mr. Johnston. Mr. Johnston then related the evidence in detail, concerning the visit to the aunt's house and a subsequent to the police office.

"There was no indication, he claimed, to show that she was under arrest at any time. "She seems to have thought that she was under arrest," remarked the Chief Justice.

"Mr. Johnston, can you see that," said Mr. Justice Riddell, as he pointed out that evidence had been given to show that the girl had not been permitted to get her hat before she left the factory.

Mr. Johnston urged that the fact that one of the constables had given the girl car fare after she had left the doctor's place, indicated that he did not consider that he had held the girl in custody.

Chief Justice Mulock: "You can act an arrest, without arresting." Mr. Johnston retorted: "It takes more than the belief of the girl that she was arrested to make an arrest."

Mr. Justice Riddell: "They intended to put her into a position from which she could not get away until they were ready. Suppose, Mr. Johnston, that you were asked by a police officer to accompany him to the police station and you asked if you might go and get your coat, and the answer was given, no, but I will send a boy for it, what would that be?"

Mr. Johnston still upheld the view that if the girl went of her own accord, which he claimed, was shown by the evidence, that there could be no arrest. With regard to the charge of conspiracy, Mr. Johnston claimed that no common purpose had been proved in the evidence which had been taken at the trial, and that nothing had been added to show that there had been any prior scheme arranged.

Mr. D. I. McCarthy, acting for Dr. Ashton, objected to having his client drawn into the case at all. He claimed that he was absolutely innocent of the charge of arrest. His client considered that he had been called upon to clear the girl of the rumors and that he had considered himself her friend and had acted as such, and that he had been looked upon by the girl and her aunt as a friend.

Dr. Ashton, he claimed, had merely responded to the call which had been left in his office during his absence and had made a cursory examination at the police office and suggested that a subsequent examination should be made at his own office in the presence of Dr. Palmer, the girl's family doctor. This had been accepted to willingly by the girl and her aunt, and they had come to him two days later to obtain a certificate in order to controvert the rumors which had been current in the neighborhood of the girl's home.

Mr. McCarthy further stated that Dr. Ashton was perfectly willing to be tried in Brantford and did not wish to have a change of venue. He objected strongly to being drawn into the case which caused so much trouble and indignation amongst the people in Brantford because he considered he had acted in good faith throughout.

Mr. J. M. Godfrey, on behalf of Miss Meredith, referred to some of the incidents in the evidence which he claimed had been overlooked and held that from the time the girl accompanied the officers from the factory until she left Dr. Ashton's house, some four and a half hours later, that she was practically under arrest and was never given an opportunity to go home though it was long past the usual time for one so to do.

He laid particular emphasis upon the fact which was adduced from the evidence that one of the police officers not merely accompanied Miss Meredith to the doctor's house, directing her there, but waited in the house until the final result of the examination by the doctors had been announced.

Mr. Godfrey had not concluded his argument when the court adjourned. The case will be taken up again next week, at a time to be arranged by the counsel engaged.

CHURCHILL GOES TO CONFERENCE

He Joins Premier in Scotland to Talk Over Ulster Situation.

(Canadian Press Dispatch) LONDON, Sept. 27.—Another member of the British cabinet, Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, left for Scotland today to join in the ministerialist conference at Brodick, where it is understood Premier Asquith and Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George have been discussing the Ulster situation.

MAKE HOUSE OF REFUGE PAY FOR ITS UPKEEP

Committee at Work With That End in View—Work The Farm.

An effort will be made by the House of Refuge Board to place the institution on a more paying basis, and if possible make itself self-sustaining. This decision was arrived at, at a meeting of the board held yesterday. It is the intention of the board to go more extensively into raising food stuffs. As the board have 45 acres of land at their disposal it is their intention to work same and obtain the very best possible results.

Two armed men with handkerchiefs tied over their faces, tried to hold up Geo. Ruber, a market gardener, near Guelph, yesterday afternoon.

LEAVE MATTER WITH THE UNION

Trades Congress Takes Stand in Regard to the Militia.

(Canadian Press Dispatch) MONTREAL, Sept. 27.—While opposed on principle to union men belonging to the militia, because it was always called out in the time of strikes and was sometimes used against the men, the Trades Congress this morning showed that it was not prepared to go any further than it did yesterday when it simply approved the action of certain international unions that forbid their members joining the militia.

The resolution committee this morning refused to endorse a series of recommendations, which attempted to bind the Congress to pass a law compelling unions to expel their members if they did belong to the militia.

E. De Bellefeuille, Montreal, regretted that the recommendations could not be accepted. He said he had been foolish enough to serve his country by joining the militia. At the time of the dock strike in Montreal he had been called out and compelled to suffer the humiliating and to say horrifying experience of standing with ball cartridges in his pocket while he shot down a fellow workman who was demanding his rights.

S. Borris, Montreal, asked what difference there was between the resolution passed yesterday and the recommendations turned down. Delegate Rigg, chairman of the resolution committee, pointed out that while the Congress might approve of the action of certain unions in excluding militiamen, it could not very well dictate to other unions who had no objection to its men joining the militia.

Blind From His Birth He Rides To Hounds

Besides, Mr. King's Delicate Touch Enables Him to Judge Horses.

Very recently he rode at the opening meeting of the Devon and Somerset staghounds on Exmoor. Canadian banks have been told by the Finance department at Ottawa that they need not furnish statistics to the Royal Commission appointed to investigate agricultural credits in Alberta.

FOOT GROUND BY MOVING PLATFORM

Elmer Peirce Was Severely Hurt at Malleable Works Yesterday.

Elmer Peirce, the 20 year old son of Ex-Ald. Warwick Peirce, met with a nasty accident at the Malleable Iron Works where he is employed, yesterday afternoon. The young fellow was just stepping out of a car on to a moving platform in the shop and in some way he tripped. His foot was caught and the top of it from the accident proved indeed a very painful one. Dr. Barber was hastily summoned and the young man was removed home shortly after 5 o'clock. Many friends will hope for a speedy recovery.

Burford Fair Will be Hummer

Secretary Miles of the "Southern Fair", Burford, when questioned by a Courier man to-day, reported that prospects for the exhibition this year are the best yet, which is saying a good deal. The entries are pouring in faster than ever, and a record attendance is assured. One of the special features will be a separate tent containing an exhibition of products from the children's gardens now run in connection with country schools. The Twenty-Eighth Dragoon band will be in attendance, and there will be the usual diversions. The event opens on Tuesday, Sept. 30th, and Wednesday, Oct. 1st. On the latter date a special train will leave Brantford via the Grand Trunk at 1:20.

HOUSE SHORTAGE PREVENTS MARRIAGES

Many Intended Weddings in Rural England Have Been Delayed.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A recent inquiry in Dorset has emphasized the fact that in many rural districts in England marriages cannot take place because there is no house room for newly-wedded couples. During the last eight months 11 inquiries have been held by the local government board into the question of insufficient housing accommodations. President Chamberlain of the Grand Trunk denies that work is to be resumed soon on the Southern New England route.

NEW SCHOOL AT $45,000 AND NOT $60,000, SAYS FINANCE COMMITTEE

Frills and Fancy Trimmings Might be Eliminated to Reduce the Cost—Other Interesting Notes of Finance Committee's Meeting.

At a meeting of the finance committee of the City Council last evening, it was decided to recommend a by-law to raise $45,000 for a new school in the East Ward. The public school board asked for $60,000, but after an inspection of the schools by the Aldermen early this week it was thought that certain frills and trimmings might be eliminated from school buildings, which would in no way impair their usefulness and which would reduce the cost of the structures. Whether the trustees will accept the $45,000 by-law which will be put through the City Council without a vote of the ratepayers, is not known. If the board tells the council the amount is not sufficient, the by-law will be submitted to a vote of the ratepayers, the amount being raised to $60,000. The situation is rather a unique one but the members of the committee were unanimous in regard to the matter.

of the city. Ald. Sutch alleged that when a little trouble arose last summer Gosbar led out a gang of 35 foremen and all quite work, thus leaving the city in a hole. It was Ald. Sutch's opinion that the man should be fired, and he had a resolution to that effect, but withdrew it on assurances that the board of works would immediately take the matter up. A day or so after the meeting, it was passed around that Gosbar was let out, but the discovery was made last night that he has been re-instated. Consequently Ald. Sutch proposes to ask some more questions on Monday night next.

What Ho! Ald. Pitcher, at the meeting of the committee last night, pointed out the waste of water and money as evidenced recently when street watering employees with rubber hats and coats and the rain pouring down, were out on the street watering the thoroughfares, which were already rain-soaked. This matter was the subject of much caustic comment by members of the exchequer committee, who are trying hard to make both ends meet this year.

118 Miles An Hour Made In An Airship Flight

Speed Craze in France is Surely Going the Limit These Days—Some Speed.

(Canadian Press Dispatch) RHEIMS, France, Sept. 27.—Amazing speeds and the breaking of official records marked the opening day of the flying meeting here organized by the Aero Club of France. Five French aviators took part in the elimination race to decide which three of them should participate in the contest for the International Aeroplane Cup, which starts tomorrow. The course is a closed circuit with a circumference of six and a quarter miles around which the aviators flew ten times in the elimination trials.

Emile Vedrines was the first to ascend. He succeeded in accomplishing the distance at an average speed of 118 miles an hour, thus beating the world's record made by Maurice Prevost at Paris on June 27 last, when the speed record was over 111 miles an hour. Maurice Prevost was the next to ascend, and he did even better than Vedrines, the official record of his speed for this round being 120 miles an hour. Eugene Gilbert, Gabriel Espanand Rost, the other three Frenchmen in their trials, flew at lower speed.

RELIEF REACHES DUBLIN PEOPLE

Many Were Starving as Result of Disastrous Strike.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 27.—William Travers Jerome to-day resumed his duties as Harry K. Thaw's nemesis after having dropped the role for a time last night in order to play the part of "the good Samaritan." While motoring along a lonely road near this city late last night he found Victor E. Consalus, head of a local automobile sales firm, pinned beneath his wrecked car, unconscious. The Jerome machine was quickly transformed into an improvised ambulance and Consalus was hurried to an Albany hospital, where it was first thought his injuries would prove fatal. However, this morning it was stated that Consalus was not in a serious condition. Upon learning this Jerome left for Williamstown, Mass., to recover his own automobile left there when he was first informed of Thaw's deportation from Canada. He plans to return to New Hampshire early next week to continue his efforts to have Thaw returned to this state.

HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND NEXT

So Says City Official of Edinburgh Speaking in New York.

(Canadian Press Dispatch) NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—That Home Rule in Ireland will be followed by Home Rule in Scotland, was the assertion of F. J. Robertson, a city official of Edinburgh in an address last night on "Home Rule in Scotland," under the auspices of the Scottish Home Rule Association of New York. He summed up the purposes of the movement to obtain representative government in these words:

"It is proposed to relieve the present House of Parliament of purely Scottish business and to set up a House of Parliament in Scotland. The idea is that each of the four nations of Great Britain, Ireland, Scotland, England and Wales, are entitled to and should have their own legislation and control in all affairs of government concerning their own national life with an Imperial Parliament to look after matters of general common interest to all."

Mr. Robertson was the chief factor in the organization last May of the International Scottish Home Rule League. When he stepped from a New York Central train yesterday he had completed 17,000 miles of travel in Canada and the United States, speaking in nearly every important city on the subject of Scottish Home Rule. Last night he told his audience here of the enthusiasm his subject met with everywhere, resulting in local associations being formed among others, in Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Philadelphia, Chicago, Minneapolis, Seattle, Boston and Albany. He is paying his own expenses, and not a penny is being asked for as a campaign fund.

Cobb is Leading

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Twelve points to the good. Ty Cobb has entered the home stretch in the race for the batting championship of the American League. His chief rival, Joe Jackson, is hitting at a rate of .373 to Cobb's .385. This Speaker is apparently one of it after a rally that threatened at one time to put him on top. He has fallen behind Henriksen of Boston, batting .354 to the latter's average of .368 established in 26 games.

The Society Clock. The pendulum of the society clock swings slowly at present—later it will swing to a merry dance to be sure, since Eve was driven from Eden. In an airy costume of leaves—mayhap only a six ounce frock—its face has been gazed at, its hands must be obeyed, or goodness you will be late to dance to dines, to lunch, to shine, to bridge, to wine, as the case may be. Later the evening will tell up on "Vanity Fair," the music, the color, and above all the guests will soon be in line for the fray. Rumor says the coming season is to be a full one, with many dances in the social calendar. Listen! Won't you hear the jingling bells and their merry notes, as they come dancing down the line.

The Salvation Army. You put your book down and listen. The sweet strains of dear old hymns, that melody played by the Salvation Army, come from the streets, and the spheres, from their point of vantage on the corner. Now they tramp, tramp, past the window, marching to the battle cry of their unseen commander. What a long, wonderful, happy march! How their Commander-in-Chief has at the Army through many dark places of the world to raise the masses. "The meek shall inherit the earth." Perhaps with their simple mode of work and worship they are doing more for humanity to-day than any other agency.

Mr. Wedlake and his son have each a beautiful house near the Radical road shore. They motor daily during the summer to business in town. Mr. Ly and his son, formerly of Brantford, have built substantial houses, commanding a glorious view at the lake. Mr. Harry Tinkler of Woodstock has a well equipped cottage where Mrs. and Miss Finkle welcomed with the delightful courtesy of the old regime their many week-end visitors. Along the Radical Road—well named for a globe habitation—may be seen an ideal small farm, with many cottages thereon. It was purchased by the Toronto Globe Co. for a vacation place for its employees, who can each stay two or three weeks, or according to the time they have served on the C. P. R. has purchased a property to build a hotel. It is a beautiful highway; a place of dreams, where evening shadows falling on the lake as it murmurs its evening lullaby, tells its own mysterious story, echo answers—what?

McDONALD-ROBIN. The marriage took place in the Church of the Ascension, Killalea, Ont., Thursday morning, of Miss Mary Gillespie Bolin to Mr. George Alfred McDonald, B.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald, Peel street, this city, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Rev. Morgan performed the ceremony. The bride wore white satin with veil and a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret, and the groom by his brother, Alex. Little Miss Elaine Bolin, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl.

After the ceremony the party returned to the residence of the bride's parents, where a tasty wedding breakfast was partaken of. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald left at 1:30 for Montreal, sailing to-day for Glasgow where the groom will take a post-graduate course.

They were recipients of many handsome gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and son, Ross, just returned from the West.

THE MARKET QUESTION.

A walk through the Market on Friday night showed practically all the main points of vantage held by advance sentinels of produce, and meat also ready for the Saturday trade.

It is not necessary to dwell on the unsanitary nature of this state of affairs. Under the present gross lack of proper accommodation it is quite natural of course, for vendors to seek to hold good places in advance, and the blame does not rest so much with them as with the community for failing to afford proper quarters.

There should be covered buildings on the Square, and the present alleged City Hall torn down. An excessive outlay is not at all requisite for it is only necessary to visit Woodstock in order to ascertain the moderate cost of proper wet neat buildings. The rent of space at so much per annum would probably much more than meet interest, sinking fund and upkeep and in addition buyers, sellers, and produce would be under cover at all seasons of the year as they should be. As matters stand now food is subjected to the deposit of undesirable particles with every wind that blows, and on rainy days and days of extreme cold those having stuff for sale are subjected to serious and without doubt more than once, fatal illness.

Another added disgrace is the utter lack of a proper public convenience. The present condition of affairs in this respect is not only abominable, but just about criminal.

The people of Brantford have shown in a tangible manner that they can spend many thousands of dollars on a new Y.M.C.A. and a Nurses' Home. Both are most commendable objects but not less so, perhaps even more so, where the health of the people of a whole city and county is concerned should proper steps be taken to have marketing placed under sanitary and humane conditions. Leave out if you like the sentimental end of the matter and the dollars and cents fact remains of much trading lost under the existing state of affairs. Where people sell they usually buy and incident days keep many away who would come if not forced to stand in the open.

Year after year and by Mayorality candidate after candidate there is talk of this as a live issue which should be faced, yet nothing is done, and it continues to be the same old case of masterly inaction. It is to be hoped that citizens in the forthcoming municipal fight will enact a pledge from all aspirants as to some definite action with regard to this subject. Just let the Council send the matter to the people and without any doubt they will make it their business to do the rest.

LORD NORTHLIFFE AND CANADIAN PAPERS.

Lord Northcliffe has been tossing a bunch of criticisms at Canadian and United States papers. He does not like many of their methods and says that this, that, and the other thing would not be tolerated in the Old Land.

Northcliffe has had a most meteoric career. From a quite humble position on a newspaper he has become the controller of the London Times, still the greatest sheet in the world, the London Daily Mail with about a million circulation, and several other sheets. He runs big pulp mills in Newfoundland to help in the feeding of his many presses, and he accomplished all this before he was forty years old. He is known as the "Napoleon" of the fourth estate, and has rightly earned that title.

At the same time there are many things which he deems essential which are not that on this side of the Atlantic, and some things which he demands in connection with his publications which are not necessary here and could not be obtained.

For instance he thinks that all newspaper men should be able to write shorthand. Many of them in the Dominion can but the majority don't and the requirement is not an essential. How often do those in this country acquainted with Pitman's or some other system, ever find the need for using it. To take a speech, say of an hour, verbatim, would be to sacrifice far too much space. The essential points are all that are needed except on exceedingly rare occasions. He also thinks that reports should not be continued from one sheet to another, but that they should be contained all on one page. That would be an utter impossibility under the system of make up in vogue for one end of this continent to the other.

Lord Northcliffe has abundantly demonstrated that his ideas of a paper, mechanical and otherwise, have proved popular in Great Britain, but conditions here are different. What merchant here, for example, would pay for an advertisement without suitable display, yet across the briny there is practically no effort to make an ad. attractive. It more often than not is printed in a solid chunk.

BOY SCOUTS AND THE MILITIA.

The Toronto Star and other Liberal papers are criticising what they claim is an attempt to militarize the Boy Scouts.

As a matter of fact, that is not the intent, or the practice in connection with this excellent movement. The object is to train the lads in the acquirement of all that belongs to true manhood. To make them reliant, helpful to others, and in general to build up true character.

It is of course more than likely that in later years many of them will join the ranks of the militia, and why not? Anything wrong about that? There are many excellent citizens in Brantford and all over the country who have done that, and nobody has seen them running around looking for gore. To the direct contrary, they seem to be quite peaceful and law abiding.

The militia is all right, and the more Boy Scouts who get into the ranks when they become mature enough, the better.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

A better market.

An exchange remarks that the only time a certain citizen was seen going out with his wife was when the gas exploded.

London Laucer the famous medical paper says that breakfast is unnecessary. So are all other meals if you want to go in for the suffragette hunger strike game.

Hawkins King's prize winner was given another demonstration yesterday, this time in his home town, Orono, Ont. By this time he must begin to feel that he is part of a moving picture stunt.

Some of the wandering Doukhobors out West who abandoned their lands now want compensation for them. By the bye what compensation has there been for Johnny Canuck in getting hold of such a gang?

MERRY OLD TIME IN ULSTER SITUATION

the utterances of Sir Edward Carson and those associated with him and the War Office is keeping a close watch on the demonstration of Ulster volunteers. To-day's review will be subjected to the expert criticism of officers of the army intelligence department, who will report to Fall Mall as to the efficiency or otherwise of the forces.

Another London cable says: Orangemen laugh at the threat of John Mackinnon Robertson, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade in a speech at Newcastle on Thursday, to tie up the post office. They declare that no British Government would dare do any such thing in view of the immense English interests involved, but it did the provisional government would be able to cope with the situation through the Ulster signalling corps.

Further details as to the guarantee fund of $5,000,000 which is being raised by the Ulster Unionists are withheld, but it is predicted that when the executive committee meets on September 30 to deal with the fund it will be able to announce that it has reached or nearly reached $5,000,000. The inauguration of this fund has already affected the London insurance market. Several inquiries have been made by potential donors as to what terms would be offered to cover prospective liabilities. The market however, is cold at present, especially in view of the fact that the liability will begin when the fund reaches $5,000,000. A quotation of ten guineas per cent for a small amount is the only one recorded.

The radical papers continue to print reports of what they call "the Carson circus." The Belfast correspondent of The Daily Chronicle, alleged that a majority of the people there are taking only the mildest interest in the doings of the "provisional government." Many Unionists are said to be disgusted and some threaten to secede. Others are merely sitting on the fence. They see that the campaign is heading for the rocks and realize the fact that it has reached a point where it has become a ridiculous piece of humbuggery, but their material interests compel them to lie low and refrain from meretricious

FREAK PLANTS

Trap and Devour Insects. Digesting Bodies of Their Prey

Among the strangest of all nature's products are the insect-eating, or carnivorous, plants. They actually catch, eat, and digest various insects by a process practically as thorough as that of the animals.

The so-called Venus "fly trap" or "vegetable butcher" is one of the most remarkable of these. It grows in a wild state in the forests of North Carolina, where it creeps along the ground, presenting thousands of gaping mouths, into which the unsuspecting fly or insect is lured and imprisoned.

The leaves of this plant consist of two valves, shaped like clam shells, which, when closed, form a trap. The ends of the leaves are baited with a sweet juice which attracts the insect. The leaves are covered with minute hairs, which correspond very closely to the arrangements of the nervous system in animals. On the edge of the leaves are rows of long, fine teeth.

When the unsuspecting insect has been lured to the leaf by the attractive juice he steps upon one of the microscopic hairs, and the two valves shut with a snap, keeping Mr. Fly secure.

Still more curious are certain plants in Borneo, which distill liquors for the purpose of luring their victims. Many of these are miniature grog shops. In their leaves are little pitchers, which are filled with hard alcoholic liquors. Each of the pitchers has a tight-fitting cover which keeps the dew and rain from diluting the liquor. No scientists have yet succeeded in analyzing the liquors with any satisfactory results, but it is evident that they are of different kinds, since different species of the plants attract different insects.

The most unique of all the productions of nature is the plant popularly known as the "goose plant." It is a native of Guatemala, and receives its name from the bud, which has the shape of a goose floating along the water with its neck proudly arched. The flower is very beautiful, but repulsive. It has an odor resembling that of decayed meat. The plant attracts the carrion fly, which is the agent of fertilization.

RAND HIGH-GRADERS

Precious Metal Stolen After It Leaves the Stamps

Most people have heard of I. D. B. (illicit diamond buying), a crime which in South Africa is punished with penal servitude on the breakwater at Cape Town.

The Rand, however, has the lesser-known offence of I. G. B. (illicit gold buying). Considering that in the Rand mines only a few pennyweights of gold go to a ton of quartz, it is obvious that the miner does not get much chance of stealing the precious metal. When does the gold thief get his opportunity?

The pieces of quartz are ground into dust by powerful hammers known as "stamps." Water then washes the dust over inclined plates coated with amalgam. The gold instantly combines with the mercury in the amalgam, afterwards being easily separated by chemical process.

It is of this gold-laden amalgam that the dishonest employe will scrape off portions which, though small, will mount up to a good bit of gold in time.

What Has Become of—

A Hair Split
The beautiful girl's sweet smiles changed to dark frowns.
"You deceiver!" she hissed. "I hate you!"
The young man dropped his cane in astonishment.

"Yes, but not every hair on your shoulder," she retorted, as she held aloft a long golden one.

FRANK CLAWSEY TO FACE MANY CHARGES

No Less Than Five Were Rolled Up Against Him Today.

Facing five charges, two of theft, procuring liquor, drunk while on the "billed" list and having liquor in his possession, Frank Clawsey of this city appeared in the police court this morning, but on account of the fact that the crown was not ready to proceed, an adjournment in all the cases until Tuesday was made.

Clawsey is alleged to have stolen one jack and eight pairs of blankets, the property of Contractor Wm.

Wooden and the Slingsby, Manufacturing Co.; while the liquor charges were laid by License Inspector Eacrett. On a charge of having liquor in his possession, a plea of guilty was entered.

The usual list of drunks appeared before his Worship, those who made their first appearance being allowed to go and old offenders being fined $3.00 and costs.

At the request of the plaintiff, Mrs. Jane Squire, the charge of assault against John Squire was dismissed when the case was called in the police court to-day. Mrs. Squire expressed her willingness to withdraw the charge against her son in order that he might be given another chance.

Magistrate Livingston warned the plaintiff that the practice of swearing out informations and then refusing to press the charges must stop immediately.

Paris News

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Last evening about 7:30, a well known local young lady had a trying experience near King's Ward Park. As she passed the Baptist Church sheds on her way to the new station a man emerged from the sheds and started to follow her. The young lady broke into a run and made for the better lighted section on the opposite side of the street, and as she ran she followed the man and fled running, making for Dr. Lovett's residence. Just before reaching the verandah the man overtook her, threw her down and in the struggle tore her clothes. Dr. Lovett, attracted by her screams, came outside and the miscreant made off. The doctor gave chase but lost his man in the darkness. The young lady was not able to give much of a description of her assailant.

BELFAST, Sept. 27.—The review to-day of 11,000 Belfast volunteers belonging to the "Army of Ulster," by Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionist party, attracted thousands of people from the surrounding districts and every part of the Province of Ulster. Besides the four Belfast regiments, each of them commanded by a retired army or militia officer, the "Ulster war staff" consisting of General Richards, two retired colonels and two retired captains paraded.

The volunteers were armed with dummy rifles, as the carrying of fire arms by unlicensed persons is prohibited in the British Isles.

The usual Saturday afternoon sporting fixtures, including all the football matches, were played earlier than usual so as not to interfere with the big event of the day.

PLEASEING EVENT AT DUFFERIN SCHOOL

Presentation of a Flag—Formal Opening Took Place Yesterday.

Ralph Williamson, son of Mr. Dufferin Williamson, showed himself to be a true Canadian and loyal pupil on the occasion of the opening of the Dufferin School, which took place yesterday afternoon by presenting to the school a large flag. In presenting the flag he said that he felt very proud of the privilege of presenting it to the school for two reasons, because he was a member of the school and because his father's name was Dufferin. Principal and teachers and residents gathered together, felt proud of the boy who showed himself to be such a loyal Canadian as to present the flag, the money for which he had earned himself.

The school was beautifully decorated for occasion and the 200 citizens who gathered together expressed their approval. The school itself is a very fine structure and a credit to the school-buildings of the city.

Another feature of the opening was the presentation of bouquets to the teachers by the pupils. The chorus "O Canada" by the 400 pupils proved to be one of the finest numbers of the program given, which consisted of choruses and readings. Several short addresses were given by prominent citizens. A number on the program, worthy of special mention, was the solo rendered by Miss Senn, a kindergarten teacher.

A feature of the program which appealed greatly to the gathering was the orderly manner in which the pupils after program had been concluded, marched to their respective rooms.

Mr. George H. Ryerson, chairman of the school board, presided.

Geo. Ericson, a husky Swede, accused of arson and burglary, escaped from Gowganda jail under circumstances indicating outside assistance.

HIGH PRICES RESULT FROM THE MIDDLEMAN

So Says A. L. Vanstone in Regard to Local Market Situation.

Yesterday, Mr. A. L. Vanstone, the well known George St. grocer while discussing the market question with the Courier said, "The producer and the consumer ought to meet there and no one else." He strongly disapproves of the presence of so many middlemen on the market and believes this sort of dealer from the market. When the middleman is removed he believes such high prices would not prevail on the market.

There are men who will come on the market with probably 25c worth of stuff, just enough to give them the right and then go among the farmers and purchase and resell. The farmer does not know what is selling the best with the result that the middleman gets the better of him also.

Mr. Vanstone further states that a cheese vender, who buys his supply from the wholesaler has no right there. It is alright for the cheese to be sold by the manufacturer—otherwise it is all wrong.

He could not say whether it is being done now or not but he has known hogs to be bought at the pork

MILFORD ROANTREE DIED VERY SUDDENLY

Well Known Brantford Traveller Passed Away at Simcoe.

Milford Roantree, a traveller for George Watt and Sons of this city died of heart failure in the Melbourne Hotel, Simcoe, about 5:30 yesterday afternoon. The deceased who resided with his mother, Mrs. Catharine Roantree, 67 Balfour St., this city, had left the hotel a short time before his death, intending to return home. He was taken ill and returned to the hotel and retired to his room, a doctor was called and attended him.

The deceased was 28 years of age and had always resided in the city. For eight years he was employed with Mr. George Harp, grocer, and February last he became a traveller for the McCormack Biscuit Co., later going on the road for the firm in whose employ he was, when death overtook him. Mr. Roantree was well and very favorably known and the announcement of his death will be learned with the deepest regret.

Besides a sorrowing mother there are left to mourn his death a sister, Mrs. Frank Johnston of this city and six brothers, Chas. William, Norman, Frank and Edgar of this city and Albert of Toronto.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon from his mother's residence to Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Henry Pierce, Jr., left last night to bring the remains to this city and they will arrive this afternoon.

Mrs. Winsor Chase, aged 85, for 60 years a resident of St. Catharines, and Mrs. Catherine Southcott, aged 90, are dead.

COUNTY COUNCIL COMMITTEE MEETS

Estimates Presented for Road Around House of Refuge.

Two County Council committees met in the Court House this afternoon; the committee on jail supplies awarded the contract for the year's supply and the road and bridges committee considered the reports as to the House of Refuge and the building of a road branching off from the House of Refuge road and leading into the Brant Sanatorium. Each municipality will pay half the cost of the work. The City Engineer has estimated the total cost at $2,000, $1,000 for each municipality. The county engineer's estimate was somewhat higher. The city engineer estimated the cost of excavating at 30c and the county engineer at 35c. The removing of the trees was estimated by the city engineer at $100, and by the county engineer at $200.

The work would have been proceeded with before this date, but the county fathers would not have the work gone ahead with until the city gave a satisfactory estimate of the cost.

KITCHENER IN TEARS

An Incident in the Final-Soudan Campaign

Lord Kitchener is by no means the cold, unemotional man he is represented to be. In action he certainly is, as the late G. W. Stevens put it, "A brain working in a box of ice," but he can shed tears.

Once in the final Soudan Campaign, when sudden and torrential rains swept away the labor of months, he broke down, wept, and, like Job, asked why he should be thus afflicted. Again, in the final scene at Khartoum, when a thanksgiving service was held, the tears rolled down his face, and he made no effort to hide them.

At the Durbar there appeared 200 old men, all that was left of the Sepoys who remained loyal to the Mutiny, to be reviewed by the Duke of Connaught and the Viceroy. Lord Kitchener, of course, was there, and he gazed in silence at the line of quivering veterans.

Then he turned to a brother-officer of high rank and said: "If any, old chap, let's give these men a cheer!" All responded to the call, and a moment later it was seen that the tears were standing in Lord Kitchener's eyes.

Rev. Percival Mayes of Gravenhurst has accepted an invitation to become curate of St. George's Church, Gettelp.

TEACHING HORSES

How They Are Instructed to Count and Spell

Do horses possess hidden intelligence capable of development like that of a child? The question naturally arises in view of the experiments which have been carried on for years with the object of teaching horses to think, spell, and count, and the amazing results which have followed.

A few years ago a German schoolmaster observed that a horse which he used to ride and drive responded, apparently, to verbal instructions, such as "stop"; "turn to the left or right"; "walk"; "trot"; etc., and such was the intelligence of the horse that at last the schoolmaster was able, by vocal utterances alone, to drive the animal without touching the reins through the crowded thoroughfares of Berlin.

Ultimately the horse died, and following up the idea, the schoolmaster bought a five-year-old Russian horse which not only obeyed verbal commands, but actually achieved proficiency in arithmetic and spelling.

The system of training does not seem to be very complicated, the first step being to captivate the animal's attention by carrots and other signs of affection. The second, and far more difficult, stage was to teach the animal to control his movements, so as to adapt them to responsive expressions or rather to render the animal conscious of them.

The manner in which the horses count is by stamping the foot, and considerable difficulty was experienced in stopping the horses counting when they had reached the right total. For instance, one horse could not get himself to stop at the right number, counting six or seven instead of five, eight or nine instead of seven, unless the trainer counted with him.

Incredible though it may seem, Mr. Krall, a famous trainer, explained to his horses the rudimentary procedure of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division as he would to a child, and was greatly astonished at the ease and quickness of their understanding, for instance, in grasping the difference between 3x2 and 3. With the aid of a simple spelling table, the horses learned to spell, each letter being represented by a number. The association between each letter and a certain number being once formed, the idea of the number of stamps to make with its hoof according to a letter displayed—the spelling of words written on the blackboard was merely a matter of memory.

Further experiments have been made in regard to other animals, notably an Algerian donkey, a baby elephant and a German pointer, but with indifferent success. It might be mentioned, however, that among Mr. Krall's animal scholars is a blind horse. The animal's work is limited to elementary arithmetic. But such was its intelligence that it not only worked out spoken problems, but would also answer simple questions written on its flank.

Taking the Children:

The Race Francaise Society, whose object is the improvement of the French birthrate, has made the novel proposition of a tax on what it terms the "unproductives," whether single or married. There are 1,350,000 bachelors in France, 1,500,000 childless couples, 2,400,000 with only one child, 2,650,000 with not more than two children. The race requires, says the society, that every male citizen should be the father of at least three children, and it therefore urges the imposition of an annual tax upon all and sundry at forty-five years of age at the rate of about $6 for every absent child, or who has not three children living, or whose children died under the age of twenty-one. Such a tax would bring $100,000,000 yearly.

Queen's Odd Hobby

One of the oddest of Royal hobbies is that followed by Queen Maud of Norway who for years has made ivory her hobby. Not only has she a fine collection of ivory statues and other art objects, but she collects ivory in the tusk as well, and has a large collection of trophies of the elephant chase. Most of these are supplied with tiny gold plates, telling where and in what circumstances the animal from which the tusk was taken was killed.

ENGLISH MONEY

Some Facts About It Which Are Not Generally Known

The last tests which the sovereign undergoes at the Mint before it is issued are the weight and sound of it. The weight is tested by a wonderful automatic machine. The coins are pushed along one after the other, and those which are too light drop down one hole, those which are too heavy drop down a second hole, and those which are exactly true weight drop down a third hole.

These latter are then ready for sound testing. This is done by a workman who is seated in a glass sound-proof office. In front of him he has an object like an anvil. On either side of him, he has piles of sovereigns, and he bangs these on the anvil one after the other, keeping up a continuous rattle. The moment he hears a discordant note, he picks out the offending coin. The coins drop down into a receptacle below the anvil, and these are then all ready for issuing.

Sovereigns are legal tender to any amount, but that is not the case with silver coins, for they are only a legal tender up to two pounds, and a person is not bound to accept more than two pounds' worth of silver in settlement of a debt. As to copper Britons are not bound to accept more than one shilling's worth.

When a customer pays Bank of England notes into a bank they are put carefully into a drawer, and are used again just like cash. But if a note is cashed at the Bank of England or any of its branches, the cashier hands out the gold and destroys the note by tearing it in two.

The reason of this is that every note issued by the Bank of England represents its face value in sovereigns in the possession of the Bank. They are not allowed to issue as many notes as they think fit, for every single five-pound note issued by the bank there must be five sovereigns in the bank's cellars. The object of the system of banknotes is to facilitate the transfer of cash, and assist in the rapid discharge of business.

TREMBLING CITIES

The heavy traffic near St. Paul's, London, has shaken and cracked the columns of the cathedral so seriously that the Government is considering how the vibration can be lessened.

All large cities, however, are in a constant state of vibration. In places like London, Manchester, and Birmingham there is not a square inch of soil that is perfectly still. In some large towns it has been found necessary to insist on iron drainage pipes being used instead of earthenware ones. Though embedded in concrete, the average earthenware drainage pipe lasts only a few weeks uncracked.

Some months ago Professor Ingeleson experimented in different parts of London with a seismometer—the instrument used for measuring earthquakes. He found that though the trembling of the earth was naturally less in the suburbs than in the City, and between 1 a.m. and 6 a.m. than at other parts of the day, the constant vibration was such as to make a seismometer in London useless for its real purpose of registering far-distant earthquake shocks.

Of recent years there has been some talk of finding a fresh site for Greenwich Observatory, owing to the vibrations set up by the London traffic.

DYING FROM GALL-STONES

Doctors Said Only An Operation Could Save His Life—"Fruit-a-tives" Enabled Him To Pass Nearly 200 Gall-Stones.

J. B. HARDING, Esq.

46 Grove Ave., Toronto, Ont., Jan. 10th, 1913. I suffered untold agony from GALL-STONES, for the past three years, and tried many doctors without getting relief. I also paid $5.00 for one bottle of medicine which was useless.

"During one of these very severe acute attacks I was given some 'FRUIT-A-TIVES', and after taking a short treatment of this remedy, I passed gall-stones over an inch in length, and as many as one hundred and fifty or two hundred in number. 'FRUIT-A-TIVES' was the only thing that would relieve my pain. They are the greatest medicine in the world, and if there is anyone in Canada, or anywhere else, that suffers from gall-stones, I say 'Let them take 'Fruit-a-tives' and be cured!'"

"If this testimonial will further the good work of 'Fruit-a-tives', publish it with my full authority. Are you wondering how 'Fruit-a-tives'—a medicine made from fruit juices, can cure Gall-stones? We will tell you. The Gall bladder is the reservoir for holding the Gall, or bile, secreted by the liver. If there is insufficient bile, then the bile in the Gall bladder is thick and easily forms stones. When the liver is weak, it secretes very little bile, and then the Gall bladder is partially filled with a thick jelly-like mass of bile and this forms into lumps or stones. 'Fruit-a-tives' stimulates the liver to secrete more bile, and this increased bile softens the Gall-stones and by overfilling the Gall bladder, forces the passage of the stones through the Gall duct—and thus cures the disease. 'Fruit-a-tives' is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices. By a wonderful process, the medicinal properties of certain fruits are greatly intensified—then valuable tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into the pleasant tasting tablets known in every section of Canada as 'Fruit-a-tives'. It costs a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 35c.—At Dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

BURNS DELIGHTS IN LONG TRAMPS

British Leader Particularly Likes Long Hikes With Soldiers.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—"Why" was not J. Burns made secretary of war?

John Burns is a great walker. Twenty miles a day is relaxation from work for him.

Dies Taunting Savage Mongols Scotsman Bravely Meets Death

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The heroic death of a Scotsman who chose death rather than the desertion of three Chinese, who looked to him for protection is described by Reuter's Peking correspondent, who writes giving details of the fate in Mongolia of a Mr. Grant of Skelmorlie, Ayrshire.

Grant, an employee in the Chinese telegraph service was arrested by Mongols near Tabol when he was in the act of photographing a Mongol camp.

The party was stopped by Mongols, who took them to their chief. They described Grant, and the chief said: "Such a man is at the camp of the great chief some 40 miles further among the hills."

A Mongol attendant shouted and but came a man exactly answering the description of Grant. But he was a Russian. The party was bitterly disappointed.

The Wee Marquis Of Bowmont Is Really Some Lucky Infant

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Few children make their appearance in the world under happier conditions than the Marquis of Bowmont, the little son and heir whose arrival has been the cause of so much rejoicing in the Roxburgh family and in Haddingtonshire, where the ducal estate is located.

The duke is pathetically delighted. It was he who sent the news to the King and Queen, for, as is well known, their majesties have always shown a special liking for the Roxburghs, and it is understood that the King and Queen will act as sponsors for the infant.

The duchess is making good progress and she much wishes to spend her convalescence at Floors Castle if she is able.

Londoners Have Dirty Faces Says George Bernard Shaw

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Do Londoners go about with dirty faces? "Nobody's face seems to be clean, and I continually feel myself as if I hadn't had a wash for days," writes a traveller to one of the city's papers, recording his impressions on returning to London after a lengthy absence from home.

"I have to wash at least six times a day, and even then I feel grimy." "Every girl with a delicate complexion whom I see, if she does not wear a veil or use cosmetics, looks as if she would be very much improved in looks by the use of soap and water."

George Bernard Shaw, the famous playwright, speaking at a meeting of the Coal Smoke Abatement Society not long ago, said: "When I came to London first, I was struck with the fact that almost everybody wore gloves. Where I came from only a few wore gloves—as a tribute to their superiority. But in London I soon found it necessary to wear gloves."

GIRL LEAPS FROM BRIDGE TO DEATH

Chicagoan Cries "I am Only 20" Before Taking Fatal Plunge.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Crying "I'm only 20," an elaborately gowned girl leaped from the West Madison street bridge into the Chicago river early yesterday.

Hours of search by the police boat using grappling hooks failed to find the woman's body.

She was dressed in blue velvet and silk and wore a black picture hat. She was of refined appearance. It is thought the woman struck a piling as she leaped from the bridge and sank immediately.

SILENCE IN LONDON IS FAR FROM BLISS

Government Official With Numerous Friends, Finds Five Days Is Too Long.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—While his family are away on a holiday a government official has proved by experiment that in London a man possessing a great many friends and acquaintances may, while going about the streets as usual, pass five whole days without speaking or being spoken to. In the end he was compelled to break the silence, which had become intolerable.

CZAR'S DAUGHTER SOUGHT AS WIFE

LIVADIA, Crimea, Sept. 27.—Crown Princess Marie of Roumania is expected to reach this city soon with her eldest two children, Prince Charles and Princess Elizabeth.

Nobody conceals the fact that the crown princess is coming to arrange marriage for both children if possible. She would like the Czar's eldest daughter, Grand-Duchess Olga, as a wife for her son, and either Constantine Constantovitch or Cyril Viadmitrovitch as a husband for her daughter.

COME SEE MINNOWS PLAY, SAYS MASHER, IS FINED

FRANKFORT, Mich., Sept. 27.—When Sol. Solomon, a sailor from the steamer Illinois, went ashore at this place he found trouble in large chunks.

He accosted pretty Miss McCord at the ticket office of the Victoria theatre and asked her to walk down to the bay and watch the minnows chase the silvery moonbeams through the water.

WOMEN WARRIORS

The German Emperor delights to surround himself at the grand parades with four "colonelles," these noble warriors are the Empress, his daughter, the Princess Victoria Louise, and the Princesses of Schaumburg-Lippe, and the Grand Duchess of Hess-Darmstadt. Accompanied by these four princesses, the Emperor passes before the regiment, and the crowd gives voice to its admiration.

The "colonelles" are, in fact, superb attractions in their striking uniforms. The Princess Sophia of Prussia, sister of the Emperor and wife of King Constantine of Greece, shares the military state of her sister-in-law, the Empress. The Empress of Russia, born Princess Alix of Hesse, is chief of the Regiment of Uhlans and of the dragon regiment of the Prussian Guard; Princess Marie of Roumania is "colonelle" of the Roehlfeld regiment, and the Queen Mother, Marguerite of Italy, does not conceal her pride that she is chief of a battalion of Prussian chasseur.

Harry Merion, an Ottawa pickle manufacturer, has told the police that he introduced Abe Ribenstein to a young woman and left them together about one o'clock on the morning he was murdered.

German Emperor Most Fortunate in This Respect—Bequests Usually From Eccentric Subjects

It was something of a coincidence that within a very short period two wills should have been offered for probate, one leaving a great fortune to Empress William and the other bequeathing a large sum to King Alfonso of Spain. The benefactor of Alfonso was Albert Sapene, mayor of a city in the south of France, a man whom the King of Spain in all probability had never seen. Sapene ignored his relatives altogether in disposing of his property and they engaged counsel to contest the will.

Hermann Knorr, a Saxon landowner, left about $2,750,000 to the Kaiser, cutting off his widow with her dower and an annuity of $200. Knorr was undoubtedly inspired by patriotic motives when he left his fortune to the Kaiser, for his will did not specify William III, but mentioned the reigning Emperor, so that the landowner did not care particularly whether William or his son, the Crown Prince, was the beneficiary. He directed that the money should be used for the purpose of strengthening the army and navy of Germany at the discretion of the Kaiser.

This is not the first bequest the German Emperor has fallen heir to. Five years after he ascended the throne William was made the heir to Count Adolf Schack, who died in Rome. His estate consisted for the most part of a famous collection of paintings and objects of art in Munich, and the burghers of Munich had confidently counted upon the collection being left to the city. Great was their disappointment when the Kaiser was made heir.

Surrendered Art Treasures They expected nothing better than that he would move the collection to Berlin. However, he made a wise disposition of the estate when he presented the pictures to Munich, and it is this day they are among the chief treasures of the city.

Ten years later the Kaiser, who appears to be a particular favorite with eccentric will-makers, was left a beautiful house, surrounded by large grounds, in Southern Austria. He accepted the gift, and since then has used the premises as a convalescence home for officers of the German army. He has received several other bequests of a less important character, but his custom has been to relinquish them in favor of those who were his near kin of the testator.

Left Millions to Victoria The fact is recalled that the foundation of the large private fortune of Queen Victoria was laid by a bequest, from a subject of whom she heard for the first time when the contents of his will were announced. This was John Camden Neild, who left her $3,000,000, "begging her Majesty's most gracious acceptance of the same, for her sole use and benefit, and that of her heirs." The will was not contested, and the Queen, having erected a handsome monument to Mr. Neild, accepted the money and wisely invested it. Neild was the son of a jeweler who had done work for George III, and had left a fortune of more than a million dollars. His son was an eccentric character, and lived in the most miserly fashion, but was shrewd enough in his investments to more than double his capital. Neild's bequest inspired a number of others to leave their fortunes to Queen Victoria, and some of them were accepted, though others were immediately handed over to either the relatives or to some charity. For many years past no British sovereign has accepted money thus acquired.

SCHEMES TO BRIDGE ENGLISH CHANNEL

Some Ludicrous and Meant as a Joke, Others Probably Practical But Costly

The project to connect England and France by a tunnel being to the front again, it may be interesting to look at some other schemes for bridging the gulf. Those of Henry Fairbairn, in 1853, were decidedly clever, if wild. The main idea was to take down a considerable portion of the cliff between Dover and Folkestone and fill up the sea for an area of several miles with the material thus obtained. A huge harbor was to be formed at the extremity of the new piece of land, and similar works were to be undertaken at a corresponding point of the French coast. The two harbors were then to be connected by an enormous causeway, about ten miles in length. Further suggestions were that after the harbors had been made and protected by huge sea-walls, communication was to be continued by the construction of a chain bridge, a tunnel, a floating bridge, a bridge of ships, or a great steam ferry. Details of these and many other novel schemes including one for a marine railway to carry ships across the isthmus of Suez, occupy some 250 pages of a now rare treatise.

In 1856 Mr. Charles Boyd published his plans for a "Marine Viaduct or Continental Railway Bridge" between Dover cliffs and Cape Gris-Nez, at a proper altitude for the safe passage of ships of the largest dimensions. The bridge was to be supported by towers rising from the bed of the Channel. The towers themselves, about 600 feet apart, were to have fog-gongs and lighthouses.

Perhaps the most ingenious scheme was that propounded in 1847 by the late Angus B. Reach in 1847. This was to take the form of a line of rafts on a timber foundation carried by a bridge of boats, "the rafts to work on hinges on board each boat, so as to yield freely to the action of the sea." Trains were shown in a sketch running up and down the inclines formed by the trough of the sea. A further joke by the same author was a Channel Balloon Line, in which a train was shown on an aerial platform supported by three balloons.

LIFE ON THE PLANETS

Venus the Only One Habitable Says This Astronomer

Mr. Walter Maunder, the eminent British astronomer, has revived speculation as to whether the heavenly bodies are inhabited or not by publishing some careful calculations as to their temperature. He shows that the sun's temperature is more than 5,000 centigrads while the moon, owing to its lack of atmosphere, is at night at about the temperature of liquid air. Mercury, who always turns one face to the sun, must be far hotter than anything of which we have any knowledge, while Mars must always be at below freezing point.

The more distant planets—Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune—are far away from the sun that they receive scarcely any heat from him, while they are still in a nearly incandescent condition, and, according to Mr. Maunder, have probably no self nucleus.

Venus, however, has a mean temperature of 69 degrees centigrads, and at the equator one of 95 degrees centigrads, so that, allowing for the difference in pressure, water should boil at its equator. This would send forth such vast quantities of steam that the rays would cut off much of the sun's heat.

Mr. Maunder denies that any planet Venus can be habitable, and as to Mars he reserves judgment. The sun, Mercury, and the distant planets would be too hot for life to exist permanently, while Mars and the moon would be too cold, leaving only Venus as a possibility.

A Dead Language Read at Last To discover a language—or, rather, to learn to read a language long forgotten—is the achievement of a young Frenchman, M. R. Gauthiot. All we have known of Sogdians and their people is that Strabo and Herodotus mentioned them, that an Iranian text says that the Sogdians were the subjects of the country, and that a Basgia portrait appeared on the tomb of Darius Hydraspes. In the decrees of Chinese Turkestan the same have buried a vast civilization that was forgotten for centuries. The dry sand preserved intact numbers of manuscripts written in unknown characters. These M. Gauthiot managed to decipher by the fortunate finding of fragments that had notes in other known languages.

In Norway people who are not vaccinated are not allowed to vote at an election.

Two inquests held into the death of Ella Franks, aged 16, found shot in her home near Madoc, resulted in open verdicts. The girl's younger foster-brother has been missing since the shooting.

MUSIC

Popular Questions answered by a Popular Institution.

QUESTION—Which is generally recognized to be the most successful system of teaching piano; private tuition or attendance at a conservatory of music?

ANSWER—Mendelssohn was the founder of the conservatory system of musical education. Its success was so complete that all European countries quickly adopted the same method, and today nations boast of their national musical institutions, where thousands of students pursue their studies. The United States and Canada have their conservatories, which are conducted to the best interests of the pupils.

Such men as Mendelssohn, Schumann, Reinecke, Silloti, Rubinstein, and hosts of others recommend the conservatory system of teaching music.

ONLY 4 BINGLES OFF BIG TESREAU

New York Down Brooklyn Easily by a Score of 4-2.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—With Ira Thomas, Harry Davis and Dan Murphy of the Athletics, sitting in the grand stand at Ebbets' field yesterday, Jeff Tesreau showed them his best brand of pitching by choking off the Dodgers with four hits, the Giants again winning by a 4 to 2 score. Tesreau received glittering support, especially from Herzog and Shafer, and as the Brooklyns were guilty of the usual headless base-running, the big boxer's task was comparatively easy. Score: New York 4, Brooklyn 2.

WAS AN EVEN BREAK. Boston and Philadelphia Divided Double-Header.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—Philadelphia and Boston divided another bargain day affair this afternoon, the locals winning the first game by 6 to 3, and the Braves taking the second by 10 to 9. The second contest was a contest of heavy batting and sensational innings near the end of the game. Rixey was too much for Boston in the first game, and he would have scored a shutout but for wild throws by Dooin and Lobert. Scores: First game—Boston 3, Philadelphia 6; second game—Boston 10, Philadelphia 9.

Soft Ball

There will probably be ten teams in the soft ball league next season as against 6 teams this season. This was stated by a prominent member of the executive, and there is no reason why it should not be a reality. The teams in the league during the past season enjoyed a lot of splendid sport. There was much enthusiasm, and next year there promises to be a good deal more.

The Ham & Nott team are the champions this year, carrying off the silverware put up by Newman and Sons. This cup, which is a very fine one, was won two seasons. The cup has not as yet been formally presented to the winning team. This event will take place next week, and it is rumored that the screen door boys will have a spread of a stupendous nature.

Thursday evening the executive officers met in the Y. M. C. A. and concluded the business for the season.

FRANCIS OUIMET DEFEATED TRAVERS

The Match Was Decided on the Last Hole.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 27.—Champion met champion to-day, and Francis Ouimet, America's national open golf title-holder, added to his recent laurels by vanquishing Jerome D. Travers, the National amateur champion. Their match went 20 holes of varying golf before the youth prevailed. Ouimet's victory marked a Boston district against those of New York in the singles division of the preliminary tie for the Lesley Cup. A gallery of one thousand persons which spread over the links of the Country Club after the Ouimet-Travers match, to the entire neglect of the other nine matches, became so overwrought on the green at the twentieth hole as to commit what President R. C. Watson of the United States Golf Association declared to be "the worst exhibition of partisan feeling in American golfing history, and a disgrace to the sport."

The outbreak followed Travers' ill-fortune in driving into a trap beyond the twentieth hole on his approach. The champions had tied at 18 holes, and had halved the nineteenth, and Ouimet had reached the green in the twentieth with two strokes. Travers' mishap was appreciated by the deciding break, and the gallery, or a small portion of it, gave vent to its feelings by clapping of hands. When Travers came on the green he looked the crowd in the face for a moment, and then turned to the business of extricating his ball. He almost tripped himself again, then fell on a 12-foot putt, and saw the ball sink a two-foot putt after failing to run down one of eight feet for a three.

Football

The semi-finals in the John Hill Charity Cup series between the Y. M. C. A. and Cocksbutts United will be played at Agricultural Park this afternoon. Both teams are in the pink of condition and the game promises to be one of the best played this summer. The winning team will meet the Holywell Tigers in the final game next Saturday.

The game this afternoon will start at 5 o'clock, and there should be a good attendance of the football fraternity present. Don't forget to-day's football contests. Pick out your favorites and give them your support by your attendance at the games.

TYPICAL SCENE AT A WORLD'S SERIES BASEBALL GAME.

A glance at above illustration will cause the true fan to tilt back his chair and start relating now the "Red Sox" won the last "world's series." Then he will probably take out his wallet and see if it contains enough of the much desired long green to buy a piece of cardboard that will admit him to the baseball fan's heaven—a seat in the bleachers—at the coming world's series.

ATHLETICS LOST TO BOSTON AGAIN

Mackmen Played Like Tail-enders and Were Beaten, 10 to 4.

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—The Red Sox made the pennant winners of the American League look like tail-enders yesterday, the score being 10 to 4. Connie Mack sent in four pitchers, but none of them was unhittable. Leonard kept the Athletics hits fairly well scattered. Score: Philadelphia, 4; Boston, 10.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—Chicago defeated St. Louis yesterday by the following score: St. Louis, 2; Chicago, 3.

NEW YORK WAS BLANKED

Washington Pulled Off Five Nats Double Plays. NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Washingtons spread a network of double plays around the infield at the Polo Grounds yesterday, and every time the New Yorks had a chance to score, they ran into one. The home team was shut out by a score of 3 to 0. The New Yorks jammed themselves up against no less than five of these double plays, and principally for that reason were goose-egged notwithstanding that Joe Boehling laddered out eight bases on balls. Score: Washington, 5; New York, 0.

PITTSBURG BEAT CHICAGO.

Adams Allowed the Cubs Only One Run. PITTSBURG, Sept. 27.—The last game of the local season was played yesterday between Chicago and Pittsburgh, resulting in a victory for the Pirates 6 to 1. Adams pitching for Pittsburgh was in mid-season form. Score: Chicago 1; Pittsburgh 6.

FRANCIS OUIMET, WORLD'S CHAMPION GOLFER.

THE CHAMPION'S RIDE ON SHOULDERS OF ADMIRERS. Mr. Francis Ouimet, the youthful world's champion golf player, is nearing twenty-one and was born in Brookline, Mass., where he attended school until a year or two ago. His parents are French-Canadians, who moved from Montreal to Brookline some years ago. Mr. Ouimet is at present employed by a Boston business concern, but when he was attending public and high school here he played and caddied on the Country Club course, which he knows like a book. It is this knowledge which helped him to overcome the advantage of experience and age possessed by his two competitors, Hay and Vardon, of England.

SPORTING COMMENT

That Mayor of Newark surely proved himself to be some baseball fan when he declared a public holiday because Newark won the International League championship.

The curlers in the neighboring towns and cities are beginning to get busy and talk of re-organizing for the coming season. From all reports Brantford curlers will be exceptionally strong this season and when Jack Frost makes it sufficiently cold to make ice, the local knights of the stones will be out in full force. The curlers are looking forward to a most successful year.

Those interested in the work that is being done to stamp out tuberculosis in Canada are to be given a chance of helping the work along by attending the benefit football game this afternoon, Cocksbutts' United vs. Y. M. C. A., the proceeds of which will go towards the tuberculosis hospital fund. There is no doubt but that the game will be a cracker from 5 to 7. It is said that when the time comes for the big speculation there will be plenty of Mack money in sight.

It was thought in some quarters that Ottawa sports would be just a little bit peeved because of the fact that the champions were left entirely out in the cold in the recent draft of players from the Canadian league. Down in Ottawa, however, they are finding consolation in the fact that they will not have to look around for players next spring, their team being almost intact and the Ottawa Journal delivers itself of the following: "As the majority of the local players are still youngsters, the chances are that all will be back here in 1914, and Manager Shaughnessy will not have such a search for players next season as he did this spring. The Senators lose one good twirler in Renfer, but by next season Kane and Donovan should be in better shape and ready to look after their share of the twirling."

The long list of accidents to the players of the Toronto team this season has moved President McCaffery to drastic action, says the Toronto Globe. He will suggest that the clubs of the International League each hold a meeting and appoint one delegate to attend at a meeting in the offices of President Barrow to discuss the adoption of different spikes from those now generally used on the shoes of the players. It has long been agreed that spikes are accountable for most of the accidents.

The placing of wagers in connection with the coming world's baseball series has commenced and at the present moment the Giants appear to be favorites. It is reported in a dispatch from New York that a curb broker in New York offered to bet $1,000 on the Giants at even money, while professional bookmakers and gamblers at up-town resorts are inclined to back the Giants at odds of 7 to 5. Several wagers have already been made at 8 to 5, though the sums are small. One enthusiastic supporter of the Giants, who lost heavily last year, is out with a wager at 8 to 5. It is said that when the time comes for the big speculation there will be plenty of Mack money in sight.

BEHEST, 40 TO 1, WOODBINE WINNER

Jim L., at 20 to 1, and Sylvestris at 7 to 1, Also in Front.

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—Favorites and long shots divided the day's card at the Woodbine yesterday, the former taking four of the seven races, while Behest at 40 to 1, Jim L., at 20 to 1 and Sylvestris at 7 to 1, accounted for the other three events.

Hearts of Oak, this year's King's plater, started for the first time in a race for other than Canadian-bred horses and performed very creditably. The Giddings horse acted badly at the post, delaying the start many minutes, but got off well and made the running to the stretch, where Plate Glass, the winner, collared him. Hearts of Oak held second place without trouble.

In the steeplechase Jockey Kohler was thrown heavily when Fox Craft fell at the 12th fence and was removed to the hospital. It is said he is not seriously injured.

CANADIANS FIGURE IN PIRATE-NAP POST-SEASON SERIES. CLEVELAND, Sept. 27.—President Somers, of the Cleveland American League Club, announced to-day that he had received a formal acceptance from President Barney Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburgh Nationals, of his challenge for the post-season series of games.

The series will be under the jurisdiction of the National Commission, which will decide the date and place of the first game. The clubs will endeavor to have the opening game played on October 8.

A post-season between these two teams will prove much more interesting than several other city championships like Chicago and the Boston, to the Canadian fans, on account of the presence of Canadians on both the Cleveland and Pittsburgh clubs. George (Mooney) Gibson, who is a London boy, is a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates, while Jack (Glad) Graney is one of the stellar outfielders of the Cleveland Naps, a St. Thomas boy, a graduate of the Canadian League. Geo. Dunlop, the star short stop of the London club, who was purchased by the Cleveland team, will also figure in a measure in the coming big intercity series.

CAPTAIN BOYLE OF GIANTS INJURED

Second Baseman May Have Broken Shoulder in Auto Accident.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 27.—The supporters of the New York Giants in the world's series got a double shock yesterday when they learned that Captain Larry Doyle had been injured in an auto accident and Outfielder Fred Snodgrass had sprung a "Charley Horse" in the game at Ebbetts Field. Both are not likely to play again for a week and may be out of the series with the Athletics for the world's championship.

Doyle received his injury last night as he was driving home in the auto he won as the best all-around National League player of 1912. Pitcher Fromme, of the Giants was a passenger. Doyle became bewildered by the fog and steered the machine into a tree. Doyle was thrown out on his right shoulder. Fromme escaped with only a slight shaking up.

Doyle did not realize until this morning that his fall has possibly injured him seriously. A physician said the right arm was dislocated or the shoulder bone possibly broken. Manager McGraw said he would have Doyle placed under the X-ray.

Snodgrass opened the game yesterday with a single to centre and slowed up, turning first. He limped around a minute and then retired in favor of Cooper.

LONDON O.R.F.U. TEAM.

Cockneys Are Arranging a Number of Exhibition Games.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—London's O.R.F.U. is arranging a number of pre-season games, and the team is in the meantime being rapidly whopped into shape by regular workouts.

It was thought that a battle would be staged with Assumption College of Sandwich on October 18, but this has been abandoned for time being. A number of clubs are negotiating for a contest here on Thanksgiving Day, including Hamilton Rowing Club, Galt, Woodstock and Toronto Central Y.M.C.A. It was expected that London would go to Guelph for a session with the Ontario Agricultural squad tomorrow, but this match has been postponed until October 4. The arrangements otherwise will stand, however. To-night the team had a fast workout and practice match against London Collegiate Institute.

The youngsters were naturally not very dangerous opponents, but put up a fine game. Dusty Campbell, who has been ill, turned out and is again in good shape. "Yorkie" Richardson, a star soccer football player, is with the team, and is showing surprising speed as a ruckist. Roy Wright, who is fast, developing into an all-round athlete, will in all probability win the quarter-back position, while Cooper, the new centre scrimmage man, is said to be the most likely per-

Reminiscences of Brant

By An "Old Timer"
Chapter V.

Brantford was incorporated as a town by special act in July, 1847, under the following terms: "Whereas, from the increase of the population in the Town of Brantford, in the District of Gore, it is necessary to make provision for the internal regulation thereof, be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty that the said Town of Brantford shall be composed of the land situated in the Township of Brantford within the following limits of boundaries that is to say (Here followed the limits):

There were originally seven wards, namely:

West Ward, south of the Grand river.

North Ward, north of the Grand river.

South Ward, south of Colborne St. and west of Alfred to the river.

King's Ward, north of Colborne and between Cedar Street and West street.

Queen's Ward, between Queen and Market streets.

Brant Ward north of Colborne St. between Market and Alfred Streets.

East Ward lying east of Alfred street.

Later on five wards were substituted.

In 1877 the Town separated from the county and there were as arbitrators, the late Alfred Watts selected by the Town; the late Wm. Turnbull, on behalf of the County, and the late Judge Jones, appointed by the Lieutenant Governor of the Province.

Those three were all men of great worth and early prominence.

Mr. Watts passed away so recently that it is hardly necessary to repeat now what the Courier then had to say with reference to his career. His father, Mr. Charles Watts was born in London, England, in 1830, and and when the son, Alfred, was two years of age, the family immigrated to Niagara, Canada, where they remained two or three years, and then came to Brantford. Charles Watts commenced here in mercantile pursuits in a modest way, but his natural abilities soon led him to much bigger things, and he finally established a wholesale grocery trade recognized as one of the best in the province. He also went into the soap business, and many other enterprises. He was a man of great business instincts and when he passed away in 1868, had long been one of the leading residents of the place. Mr. Alfred Watts, after regular school attendance at Upper Canada College, and then joined with his father. He was prominent as before related in his obituary notice in a great many directions, ran three times for parliament, held many civic offices, gave financial backing to more than one railway enterprise, was prominent in connection with the establishment and administration of the civic waterworks system, and in general was an active and efficient pioneer. His outstanding characteristic was absolute honesty in word and deed. What he thought, he said with a directness not often associated with men who achieve many public offices, as he did. The surviving children in addition to a widow are: Charles Watts, Toronto; A. Watts, K.C., County Clerk and Solicitor; Alfred, Fall River, Mass.; and Ernest Watts, Vernon, B. C.

Mr. Turnbull came to Brant County from Scotland when a youth, and he became a prominent county resident, occupying all the municipal positions in the gift of his fellows from Deputy Reeve up to Warden. He was a man exceptionally well posted on municipal affairs, and was a tower of strength to the county in that regard. For many years he was secretary-treasurer of the Brant Mutual Insurance association, and also auditor of the Municipal Criminal Accounts. He was a man of large mind. In politics he was a staunch Liberal and his name more than once came up for Legislative honors. Although a staunch party adherent he counted many warm friends among Conservatives, and it used to be his delight to have a good humored tilt with them when he came to the city on Saturdays. Strong as he was in all his views he held the respect of everybody. He had eleven children, ten of whom are still living. Mrs. E. A. Ball, Brantford; Mrs. J. Geddie, Saskatchewan; Mrs. McKay, Harrison; Mrs. Millard, Brantford; Mr. Walter Turnbull, Brantford; Mrs. Spencer, St. Thomas; William, Chicago; Mrs. Chambers, Brantford and Reginald, London, Ont.

Judge Jones was a native of Stony Creek, Wentworth County, and was born in 1821 of U. E. Loyalist stock. After studying law he practised until 1853 in Hamilton and then was appointed the first Judge of Brant as a separate county. He occupied the bench with much acceptance and very seldom had any of his decisions upset. The children who survive him are: Mr. Jones, a lawyer of Hamilton; Col. Jones, Toronto; Mrs. G. Kerr, Toronto; Major Jones, City Engineer of Brantford, and Alfred Jones, a lawyer in Cochrane, Northern Ontario. The Judge was an ardent prohibitionist, was very prominent in the Methodist church and an active member in early life of the militia, having been adjutant of the 3rd Gore Militia.

Speaking of Judge Jones brings to mind the name of Edmund Burke Wood, who used to be a legal giant in this section. He was of Irish descent and his father had resided for some years in the States, but moved to Canada prior to the war of 1812. He had scanty educational advantages but was a deep student of nature, the Bible and Shakespeare. The accidental loss of an arm in early life turned his attention away from farm pursuits and he decided to go in for law. He became a student with a Hamilton firm and when admitted to the bar in 1834 started to practise in Brantford, and he speedily became a leading lawyer of the place and his platform orations in connection with public matters were magnetic. One of his favorite actions was to emphasize a point by striking the stump of his dismembered arm. He entered parliament as the member for Brant, and after he had thundered away once or twice in that chamber, he, as the Cabinet. Finally he acceded to the post of member of a county named after an Indian chief, was nick-named by the office until his retirement. Mr. Hardy, famous D'Arcy McGee's "Big Thunder" that sobriquet clung to him, and he was good not only to his friends but also to those who differed intellectually and capacity for work were enormous, and he was possessed of a large soured hospitality, building a mansion on the site on Brant Ave. where the Collegiate Institute now stands. His old time residence, up until that period was turned into a Young Ladies' College. At the time of his demise he was Chief Justice of the Province of Manitoba.

Speaking of "Big Thunder" brings to mind "Little Thunder"—the Hon. A. S. Hardy. He was born on Dec. 14th, 1837, at Mt. Pleasant, Brant County, the son of Russell and Julietta Hardy, both of U. E. Loyalist stock. His father owned a farm at the place named and he received a good education. He chose a legal career, and was called to the bar in 1865. He made rapid strides and was made Solicitor for Brantford in 1867. He soon became known as a fluent speaker, and when Mr. Wood resigned in 1873 as local member he was elected to the Local House when he was 36 years of age. He at once made his mark in the House and speedily became Provincial Secretary in Mowat's

To-day his wife, a cultured woman, works out by the day, endeavoring to support herself and little family. Think of it, you wives and mothers, who have homes of comfort and all that makes life worth living, what it would be to you to be deprived of these and forced to face the wash tub for an existence, as this poor wife has to do to-day?

But this home which was made a hell on earth through strong drink—as every drunkard's is—may be made into a heaven upon earth, as many have been made, as a result of the Neal Treatment. Three days only—the wonder of it—to effect a cure and make the victim of strong drink a new man, physically, morally and mentally.

We undertake to guarantee to effect a cure of the Drink Habit in Three Days, no matter whether the patient is a hard and constant drinker, social tippler, or goes on occasional sprees. Are you interested in a poor fellow going down, down, down?

QUEEN MARY SCOLDS YOUNGSTER FOR FLIRTATION

Prospective Son-in-Law Stands Properly Rebuked.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—In spite of various denials that have appeared from time to time, it now seems quite settled that Queen Mary strongly favors a match between Princess Mary and her young relative, the hereditary grand duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz.

Another obstacle in the way of the engagement is that as the result of Queen Mary's old-fashioned ideas of education, Princess Mary is far younger in mind than in years.

British Letter

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The quaint little house in Craven street where Benjamin Franklin lived in his more prosperous days, and from which he issued his delightful series of papers called the "Craven Street Gazette," forms part of a block of property which has been purchased for the construction of a large hotel.

The house is now conducted as a small residential hotel, much frequented by Americans. It bears above the front doorway the following tablet: "Lived here Benjamin Franklin, printer, philosopher and statesman. Born 1706, died 1790."

Here the great American philosopher resided after he had served his first apprenticeship in London and during the absence of his landlady, Mrs. Stevenson from home he entertained his fellow boarders with the issue of a whimsical series of papers called the "Craven Street Gazette."

One of the paragraphs was as follows: "At six o'clock this afternoon news came by the post that Her Majesty (Mrs. Stevenson) had arrived safely at Rochester on Saturday night. The bells immediately rung for candles to illuminate the parlor; the court went into cribbage, and the evening concluded with every demonstration of joy."

The tablet was affixed to the house which has been rebuilt, but in the same style as when Franklin lived in it, by the Society of Arts, before the London County Council undertook the work of marking the one-time homes of eminent persons in London.

HIGH TENSION RIGHT-OF-WAY

In regard to the proposal to have the Hydro-Electric High tension wires come in from the Brant sub-station over the right of way of the new railway, it is now said that it is only a question of rental price for the agreement to be completed. If the railway right of way is not secured it will mean the bringing of the heavy voltage wires through the streets. — Something which is considered undesirable.

ARISTOCRATS IN FIRE DRILL

LONDON, Sept. 27.—King George has just given the Duke of Devonshire a rap over the knuckles which caused the Duke to regard with mixed feelings the anticipated visit in December of the King and Queen to his splendid seat, Chatsworth House, Derbyshire.

Still the suffragette arson squad may relieve the Duke of his embarrassment. Thanks to them, he like all other aristocrats, is not certain his ancestral halls will stand during the night.

The fire drill has become a popular pastime with the house-parties all over the country this summer. In one or two instances practical jokers have given false alarms about midnight, it having been voted first rate fun to see the ladies of the party rushing for fire escapes in flimsy attire. But mostly the game is practiced in all earnestness.

Lord Brassey, long an expert fire fighter, took a leading part in extinguishing what might have been a bad fire at his beautiful place, Normanhurst, near Battle, Sussex.

Lady Cicely Baillie-Hamilton is another enthusiast who has just joined the Tarpoly fire brigade, and wears her gold badge of office with conscious pride. The Earl of Londesborough, who has had practical experience, has instituted weekly fire drills at Blankney Hall. Viscount Hamden, the Marquis of Breadalbane, the Duke of Marlborough and Devonshire, Earl de la Warr, the Earl of Chester, the Countess of Derby and the Duchess of Winchelsea are but a few of the society people who have taken advantage of their vacation to throw themselves with zest into the task of thwarting suffragist incendiaries.

"THE CHARITY GIRL"

By BILLY GASTON and EDGAR SELDEN

1. In 'Fris-co town, in 'Fris-co town, Tex-as Tommy chanced, Tex-as Tom-my danced, With La-sy Lis,
2. He could-n't stop, he could-n't stop, Loud the rack-et grew, 'round and 'round he flew, Said he "the fun, said she "I'm his," The way they hopped it was hot..... 'Round they swung, till the floor was sprung, has just begun, I would-n't miss it, guess not..... Fid-dles squeaked, the pi-an-o leaked,

Still they clung, while their feet they dung; Tom-my "Yipped," all hands gripped, Ev-'ry-bod-y
Cor-nets shrieked, while the drummer sneaked; Tom-my swore, till once more, Ev-'ry-bod-y

CHORUS.
start-ed in to trot, Yip, yip! When Tex-as Tom-my did the Tur-key Trot, Bear-Cats, "Ban" hugs, pre-sent did the trot, Yip, yip!

Use Chloride of Lime.

Next to corrosive sublimate the most effective germ destroyer and deodorizer is chloride of lime. Corrosive sublimate is such a powerful poison that it is dangerous to handle in the house. But chloride of lime is perfectly safe and very cheap. There are many uses to which chloride of lime can be put. Among these are sterilization of water supplies and sewage effluents, street sprinkling, flushing of hospitals, disinfecting of all kinds of receptacles, boats and railway cars; the extermination of vermin of all kinds, especially the typhoid carrying housefly.

Chasing.

Robby—I think I like you better than any of the other fellows that come to see sister Percy—I'm pleased to see it, Robby. Why do you like me the best? Robby—Because she always gets me stay around and hear what you say—judge.

Tobago Island.

Famed for its unending springs of pure, sparkling water, the island of Tobago lies about ten miles from the city of Panama, in the Pacific. Here the tall steamers plying between Balboa and San Francisco lie for their supply of fresh water, as do also the steamers that sail southward from Panama. The island is also famous for its splendid pineapples.

Preoccupied.

The professor had fallen downstairs, and as he thoughtfully picked himself up he remarked, "I wonder what makes me so preoccupied?"—Now Orleans Times-Democrat.

"Is life worth living?" "Not if you have nothing better to occupy your mind than such questions as that!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Kick About Coal Quality is by no means a rare thing these times, but it is a rarity with us, because we take care to buy only the best grades of coal, as we know our customers would not buy from us any inferior qualities—not twice anyway. At it is our policy to keep our customers, we could not afford to give them any but the best coal, full weight, without dirt or rubbish and at a reasonable price.

THE STORY OF LITTLE MUK A CLASSIC IN A PAGE

BY WILHEM HAUFF

1802-1827

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY IRVING KING. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

In this story, one of the many famous tales...

Although German love, long ago, and all...

IN Nica there once lived a man whom everybody called "Little Muk."

The idea of the town were overjoyed when the day came for Little Muk's periodical appearance on the street.

But, alas! These mirages disappeared whenever "Little Muk" came to them...

He never paid the least attention either to their pranks or to their offensive cries...

When the door opened again the frightened lady saw him emerge, escorted with great signs of respect...

Scarcely had he gone before his host beckoned to his son. The boy sprang up with hands outstretched...

He took the long stem from his pipe, unweaved the amber moustache and laid it on earnestly.

When the twenty-five were fully delivered he called the boys around him and told the story of Little Muk.

Little Muk's father was a distinguished but poor man of the city of Nica.

He was ashamed of his son because of his unfortunate shape.

One day he fell and hurt himself so severely that he died soon afterward.

Little Muk answered that he was entirely prepared for a voyage.

His father was a tall and powerful man. Therefore the clothes did not fit very well.

Merely and untroubled he walked all that day. Having gone forth to seek his father, he was alert for all the time.

He tried to stand still, but could not. In his desperation he shouted, "What! What! As one people to horses."

stairs, they would crouch on their cushions and wave their tails and purr as he nothing had happened.

Madam Ahavai was furious at the ruin of her rooms, and accused Little Muk of the mischief.

Little Muk saw to his great sorrow that he had not found his fortune in this house as he had hoped at first.

One morning after Madam Ahavai had gone out, he went to the garden and found a small treasure.

The treasurer offered to swear that it was the very gold that was missing...

Little Muk engaged in powerful reflections in his cell.

He had heard that the King's father had caused much treasure to be buried once on a time when enemies broke into the land.

He began to dig for treasure with his slippers, and he fell asleep with a smile of joy.
