GODERICH, C. W., OCT. 4, 1864.

BLOOD MONEY.

At the close of the recent Assizes, Mr. Justice Hagarty, who bears the character of a high-minded Christian gentleman as well as that of an able expounder and administrator of British law, characterized the Price received for White Men by crimps and recruiting agents as Blood Money. Never was the term more fittingly employed, for every man of sensibility...

White men, guilty of no crime greater than a complete ignorance of the depth of degradation of their human nature is loaded with infamy, even if he does no worse than receive pay for delivering up the galleys on proscribed by the laws. How much more intense should be our feeling of horror at the scenes being transacted day after day at our very doors...

trast as to style with the one we have just noticed—evening, in a marked manner, the versatility of the artist's pencil. We believe that this painting was produced from an original sketch taken on the spot by our worthy County Judge, the cares of whose laborious office, we are glad to know, are occasionally relieved by a few scattered hours snatched from his harassing judicial duties and devoted to the cultivation of his pencil. Among Mr. Crosswell's oil paintings, not Canadian subjects, which called forth universal commendation, was an admirable picture of the Dower Stone, near Shaugh River, in Devonshire. It, as Shakespear tells us, seems as to be found in the distance of the hills, and the light and shadow rising gradually with its veteran walls, and with the scars of ages from the bosom of an English woodland, and with a look of merging with the sky, is pregnant with moral wisdom of the highest order. We know of no subject more so full of the sentiment, as so suggestive of deep reflection, as a solitary rock rising in grim grandeur, such as here beautifully delineated. Its ever-varying expression at the lights and shadows, across its picturesque form, with the lichens fantastically growing up on its grotesque crevices and hoary scars, suggest a constant succession of imaginary shapes and fanciful resemblances, the wonderful beauty of which the artist has admirably embodied in this exquisite picture, which realizes throughout his thorough appreciation of the mysteriously suggestive power of the subject.

Such as we have always admired Mr. Crosswell's oil paintings, we think that at the late Exhibition he has even excelled all his former efforts, and perhaps this may be attributed to the more than usual faith that he has given them. His view of the Little Current, north of the Great Manitowish, with La Cloche Mountain in the background, is the best and most carefully finished picture we have seen from his pencil; while the "Falls near Dunham" and scene near the Depot of the Huron Bay Company, on the banks of St. Mary's, fully sustain the high opinion we have hitherto formed of his excellence in water colors. We are glad that all these pictures have been purchased by gentlemen resident at Goderich, where they will be permanently located, and within the reach of all who can dilate the beautiful in art.

We should also refer to Mr. C.'s successful efforts in engravings, historical and marine paintings, in all of which departments he carried off first premiums, but as he intends exhibiting again at the Union Exhibition in the Crystal Palace at Toronto, which will be open to morrow and on Thursday, we shall reserve our observations until the result of this further competition, which, we have no doubt, will fully sustain the favor he has recently acquired at Hamilton.

Why the Kippin Match was not Advertised.

To the Editor of the Huron Signal: Sir,—Will you please give a place in your excellent journal to a few remarks in reference to the manner in which the members of the Kippin Cradling and Reaping Society have been treated by the Globe?

The Directors of that society concluded that, as the Globe had very extensive circulation, and especially well patronized in this section of the County, it would be the best paper to advertise in, and accordingly gave orders to the secretary to send a copy of the Rules and Regulations to be inserted in that paper, with one dollar to pay for insertion, which probably would not occupy more than ten lines of print, but the advertisement did not appear in the Globe. The secretary sent them a letter requesting an explanation, and to return the money, but neither explanation nor money came. Now, Mr. Editor, as our pen has fallen to comment attention in that office, we have concluded to apply to you to publish wrongs which we have suffered. We would not think so bad of it, but many who take that paper and would like to have been at the competition heard nothing of it until it was over. It may be that some accident happened, or both letters went astray; if so, this cannot fail to meet their eyes, and they will take notice of it, we must quietly submit to a wrong, and we will know for the future what paper to advertise in.

By order of the Directors, THOS. WILSON, Secy., Kippin, C. W.

REMARKS.—While we think the Globe men understand their own interests too well to withhold such an advertisement intentionally, the above letter furnishes us with a text for saying a word on the subject of general advertising in this section. The first object in publishing a notice of such a thing as the Kippin Cradling Match is publicity—to make the matter well-known amongst those interested, and to secure such an object we claim that the County Paper is justly entitled to consideration, even in a business point of view. The proprietor of the Signal spares neither pains nor expense in the effort to produce a first-class local paper, and his labors are so far rewarded that the journal has now a larger bona fide circulation in all parts of the County than at any former period of its existence, and its range of influence is constantly widening, through the kindness of disinterested friends, so that now we have the satisfaction of knowing that any important fact published in our columns is absolutely sure to spread through the whole extent of the County. Advertisers know this, hence the liberal patronage we receive. It is not only right, but best, under the circumstances, to support HOME ENTERPRISE.

PERUVIAN HOME IN NINE DAYS.—We are glad to learn that the steamship Peruvian, which left Quebec on the 3d instant, made the run home, having reached Liverpool on the morning of the 12th, thus accomplishing the passage in nine days. Her Excellency Lady Monk and family, besides several distinguished officers of the army, were passengers by her.—Quebec Mercury.

A Baden letter mentions that Mile Killee, an actress of the Palais Royal Theatre of Paris, who had arrived in this city, determined to try her luck at the gaming table, and was fortunate enough to find herself, at the expiration of three quarters of an hour, the winner of 37,000. She was so wise as not to tempt the fickle goddess any further, and the same day started for Paris, probably wishing to resist the temptation to play again.

A letter from Texas to one of the leading Manchester manufacturers, is published in the English papers. The writer says Texas is in a flourishing condition, and many negroes have been brought into the country during the war, that labor is abundant and a large cotton crop is growing. He says the product of Texas the present year will be at least 500,000 bales, but he thinks the crop of the other Confederate States will not exceed 400,000.

Certified to be a true Copy of all the Lists of Convictions which have taken place before any Justice or Justice, on behalf the September Court of General Quarter Sessions of the Peace, as returned by said Justices to this office, from the June to the September Sessions, 1864, for the United Counties of Huron and Bruce.

Office of the Clerk of the Peace, Goderich, 26th September, 1864.

DAN. LIZARS;

Clerk of the Peace, Huron and Bruce.

Town & Counties

DR. CAMERON. Who has operated upon many persons in this neighborhood for eye and ear diseases with signal success, induced by special and pressing request, will visit Goderich on Monday, the 10th inst., and remain at the Hamilton Hotel for 13 days.

Mr. Geo. Ard has been appointed postmaster of Goderich in place of Mr. Wm. Harris, resigned.

Mr. D. McCannell is about to remove his Marble Cutting establishment from Goderich to Exeter. We wish him prosperity in his new home.

We would direct the attention of our town and county readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Fair & Co. a most excellent stock of Fall and Winter Goods is now being opened out at their establishment.

We have to thank the Rev. A. McKid for a few bunches of the finest grapes we have seen this year. They are of the Labelle variety, and were disposed of as printers say in their advertisements, "with neatness and dispatch."

It is said that a kind of tobacco, to show or smoke which makes a man forget he owes a dollar in the world. We suspect a good many of the readers of the Signal have laid in a stock of the article.

Mr. John Morris, of Colborne, has laid upon our table a nice present in the shape of a box containing something less than a dozen of the finest grapes of the Labelle variety. Mr. M. disposed of several bunches of the rich fruit at remunerative prices.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The third quarterly examination in S. S. No. 6, township of Goderich, Mr. J. Lawrence, teacher, took place on Friday last, in the presence of the trustees and a number of other visitors.

Mr. H. Fidler, right-horn-keeper of this town, wishes to state publicly that his wife, who has suffered from deafness for the past 25 years, underwent an operation by Dr. Cameron during his late visit here, the result of which is that she can now hear as well as she could before the commencement of her complaint.

LAW STAMPS.—Most of our readers are aware perhaps, that on and after the 1st of October, all law papers from which the Government derives any fees are to bear stamps representing the amount of such fees.

THE TOWN COUNCIL met on Friday evening last. Present, the Mayor, Deputy Mayor and Councilors, Horton, Waller, Cameron, Smith and Longworth. A letter and one or two axes from the Street Inspector were read and referred, and no other business being before the board, the Council adjourned in time to short a promising conversation on the Market Question.

FALL RACES. A fine race came off at the Market to-day. A wager of $1 a side was laid that Carson would carry Jimmy Robertson on his back and beat old Chirley Andrews in a race from the Market House to Fitzwilliam's sign post.

QUEEN'S DIVISION.—The election for this division took place on Monday, at Lindsay. Hon. John Simpson, the old member, was re-elected by a large majority.

Father Chiquay is at present in Stratford, Ont.
