The scouts assembled at last night. the College yard shortly before seven representative officials of the church, and leaders of other Troops, they sat down to an excellent dinner prepared Majestic Artists by lady friends. After the needs of the inner man had been amply supplied, a programme, the items of which were mainly contributed by the "FACE ON THE BAR-ROOM FLOOR" Scouts, was gone through. It consisted of songs, recitations, accordean ling, and flag instruction, and the lads acquitted themselves well; in particular, Scouts Tizzard, Butler, Jardine and Norman. A feature of the evening were the addresses given by Messrs. R. S. Furlong, representing Which in itself is saying a great deal. Owing to the late arrival of the s. Section (5) of the Newfoundland Customs Tariff sets forth:-"The importation into this Colony of any goods enumerated, described or referred to in schedule (c) in this Act. is prohibited under a penalty of $200." nder Section (2) of the Customs Act 'Importer' means anyone who imports and in whose name goods are manifested, and the person who proves property in goods imported, and the right to pass entry for same." Under the evidence submitted by the roseecution I find the defendants imported on five occasions, used clothing consisting of mens', ladies' and childrens' wearing apparel. Under the evidence submitted for the defence Margaret Everson admitted she had been selling (from four shipments) used clothing to her neighbours at Flat Rock for about a year and a half. Schedule c (b) of the Revenue Act prohibits used clothing when imported for sale. In my opinion the proof that the goods were imported for sale or to be sold is found in the fact that portions of the four shipments were sold. I therefore hold the defendants guilty of the charge preferred against them and fine them in the sum of $200.00. Dated at St. John's this 13th day of

Now that last month's summer is over, and Jack Frost has driven the barometer down, it's time for you to hear something about wool, and

WOOLLEN GOODS.

As you are doubtless aware, there are two kinds of wool, viz: Jaeger and the other kind, and

As Jaeger is in a class to itself, I stock it.

It is distinguished from all others by its fleecy appearance, softness to the touch, warmth and lightness of weight.

It became famous owing to the fact that no Arctic or Antarctic expedition ever started without having first obtained a goodly stock of Jaeger Wool Goods.

The greatest care is taken in the finish of all Jaeger goods which gives them a personality that obtains in no others. Let your next woollens be Jaeger.

The Westminster Gazette, which although liberal in politics, is not especially friendly to the former Premier, cannot discover any evidence that "Lloyd George has got home with the American people as a state man with a world cure policy, but as far as his visit has revived American interest in European affairs it has not been without value."

Considerable curiosity is being shown in learning what attitude Mr. Lloyd George will take toward Prime Minister Baldwin's new tariff proas to whether the launching of the protection issue will lead to a reunion of the two wings of the Liberal party which heretofore have been at

On this point the Westminster Gazette says Lloyd George "when suspected of mild sympathies with Imperial preference . . . Dramas of the Ringside PHRILLING SCENES AT BOXING

(By EUGENE CORRI).

The riotous scenes witnessed at the ingside on the occasion of the Mike McTigue-Young Stribling contest at columbus, Georgia, must have made the Irish boxer wonder whether he ought not to be dubbed the stormy petrel of the ring. Whenever he takes part in a contest there is some disagreement as to the injustice of the decision, whether it is given in the Irishman's favor or against it.

In Columbus, McTigue was threaten ed with violence at the pistol's point, and with the alternative of dangling at the end of a rope if he refused to go into the ring. And when he did go through with his contest, the referee was compelled to agree to Stribling being proclaimed the winner. However, after he had been safely escortofficial decision was a draw .

A Domestic Science teacher improves an old Virginia recipe with Libby's Milk

Domestic Science teachers are invariably fine cooks. And of course, they know food values.

Miss Harriet Palmer, teacher of Domestic Science at Lynchburg Col-lege, Lynchburg, Va., is keenly on the alert for new and better methods to replace the old.

For ir tance, Miss Palmer has found what Libby's Milk means in cooking—how it enriches food, giving it not only greater value but improv-

To demonstrate its quality of richness, she had her classes use it instead of fresh milk, in an old Virginia recipe for spoon corn bread. And they were all delighted with the new quality of creaminess and rich-

Libby's Milk enriches all cooking What Libby's Milk adds to this old Virginia recipe for spoon bread, it gives to all cooking. For it is very rich in butter fat—that quality which gives to cream and butter their great food value.

In one 16 oz. can of Libby's Milk there are 7½ teaspoons of pure butter fat! This high percentage is due to several things.

First, Libby's Milk comes from specially selected herds which pasture in the finest dairy sections of the country. For just this purpose Nature must have meant these places, with their shaded hills and grassy meadows. Here men specialize in dairying; in selecting herds that give the richest milk.

In the very midst of these localities are our condenseries where we remove more than half the moisture from this milk, making it double rich.

Nothing is added to it; none of its food values are taken away. But to bring it to you and others who live in far sections of the country, we seal it in air-tight cans and sterilize it. Get this double richness in the foods you serve e Try Libby's Milk in one of your special dishes. See how much its double richness adds in flavor; how it improves any recipe in which you use

You will find its use economical, too; and such a great convenience to have a supply always on hand! Try a can; you will find new pleasure in cooking and your family new appreciation of your dishes.

Write for free recipe folder We will gladly send you a copy of a new folder containing some of the best recipes sent us by good cooks who use Libby's Milk. Write for it today.

MARCONI.

Guglielmo Marconi, born (1874), Italian electrical engineer, was born at Griffone, near Bologna, his mother being an Irishwoman. His first experiments in wireless telegraphy were made in Italy in 1895, then put to practical use in England in 1896. In 1899 he established connection by the same means across the English Channel.; in 1901 between Cornwall and Newfoundland, and in 1902 between Canada and Newfonudland. In 1904 he entered into an agreement with the British Post Office for the commercial transmission of ocean daily newspaper was started on the ships of the Cunard Line. His system is in use in the British, Italian and other navies, and is at the present time established throughout the world
