DEADLOCK ON QUESTION OF THE UKRAINE

Petrograd Report That Peace Negotiations Are Off

TEUTONS STILL WILLING

German and Austrian Representatives Leave for Brest-Litovsk—Russians Releasing Enemy Prisoners by the Thousands—Trouble at Kiev

London, Feb. 6.—The negotiations at Brest-Litovsk have been broken off, the correspondent at Petrograd of the Exchange Telegraph Company says. He informed:

Reports from Brest-Litovsk in the last few days indicated that a deadlock had been reached on the question of Ukraine. After the Ukrainian delegates had almost completed an agreement with the German and Austrian representatives, the Bolsheviks sent new delegates who said they were the real representatives of Ukraine. The representatives of the Central Powers, anxious to make peace with Ukraine and obtain food supplies, there, refused to recognize the new delegates, who represent the soldiers and workers' deputies of Ukraine, whom the first delegation was elected by the Ukrainian Rada.

This situation was considered at the council in Berlin on Monday, and the German and Austrian-Hungarian foreign ministers left for Brest-Litovsk.

Delegates Leave.

Amsterdam, Feb. 6.—The German and Austrian-Hungarian foreign ministers, Dr. von Kuehlmann and Count Czernin, left Berlin last night for Brest-Litovsk to continue the peace negotiations, according to a despatch from the German capital.

Three Russian army corps on the Russo-Romanian front, the Lokai, the Lokai of Berlin says, twice attempted to cross the Romanian frontier, but only small detachments succeeded in getting through. It is added that three thousand Russians with 200 horses crossed into the lines of the armies of the Central Powers.

At Kiev.

Petrograd, Monday, Feb. 4.—In reply to a despatch announcing that the Lokai Rada at Kiev had traitorously risen against the authority of the Soviet, the Black Sea fleet and the Soviet of the South, according to the Bolshevik telegraph agency, have declared their fidelity to the people's commissars.

Premier of Ukraine.

Amsterdam, Feb. 5.—M. Mulibowicz, chairman of the Ukrainian peace delegation, has been appointed premier of the Ukraine.

The Berlin Vossische Zeitung says the troops of the Rada have occupied Kiev and that the ministry of Mulibowicz contains no Bolsheviks.

Collision Kills Many.

London, Feb. 6.—A great number of persons were killed or injured in consequence of a collision between a train loaded with Red Guards and a government train sent to intercept the Red Guard train near Kem, northern Finland, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen. The trains came together at full speed, all the coaches being smashed.

Letish Problems.

London, Feb. 6.—An official Russian wireless despatch contains a declaration by Letish representatives from the Letish councils of soldiers and Socialists protesting against the assertion of the Austro-German delegation at Brest-Litovsk that the Letts had expressed a desire for separation from Russia. The demand is expressed that the German and Russian forces be withdrawn from the Letish territory so that the inhabitants can freely express their will for unconditional unity and undivided existence.

The Russian commission of war prisoners announces that local workers' and soldiers' councils are releasing enemy prisoners of war by the thousands. These men are moving toward Petrograd in great numbers and it is said that 6,000 already are in the Petrograd district.

A declaration similar to that made by the Letts has been issued by the Estonians. It demands full and unfettered self-determination for the whole of Estonia, including Oesel, Dagoo and the neighboring islands inhabited by Estonians.

The declaration says that the separation of the islands from the rest of Estonia would be a gross violation of the sovereign rights of Estonia and protests against the annexation of the islands by Germany under any circumstances or any pretext. The demand is made that

SAYS VON TIRPITZ WAS ORGANIZER OF GERMAN STRIKE

Prominent Socialist Testifies That Demonstration Was in Favor Of Peace By Agreement—Gets Five Years Confinement

Amsterdam, Feb. 6.—At his trial before a court martial Deputy William Dittmann, an independent Socialist, according to the Koelnische Zeitung, ascribed the strike movement to reaction against the maintenance of a state of siege and the machinations of the fatherland party. The accused deputy denied that he promoted the strike and declared it was only a demonstration strike against reaction. Our casualties were in favor of peace by understanding.

If the government had entered into negotiations as requested, Deputy Dittmann said, according to the newspaper, the strike would have lasted only three days. The intellectual organizer of the strike was Admiral Von Tirpitz.

The strike movement could not be connected with the Russian revolution, Dittmann testified.

Philip Scheidemann, the majority Socialist leader, corroborated Dittmann's testimony that the strike was in favor of a peace by agreement and that it had no connection with affairs in Russia.

Deputy Dittmann was sentenced to five years' confinement for inciting to high treason, and was given two months additional for resisting public authority.

BLAZE IN SOREL; WIPES OUT BLOCK

Sorel, Que., Feb. 6.—Damage to the extent of $100,000 was caused by an early morning fire here when a block of stores and houses was wiped out. The property was owned by the Wright estate. The fire began in a grocery store belonging to J. P. Paul and spread rapidly to a barber shop and a grocery store occupied by Charles Jones. The flames then leaped to the plumbing establishment of Hector Dalniece and the residential block of Avenue de la Paix.

A fire in the stores was caused by a gas leak from a stove. The fire spread to the stores and houses, and the fire department was called. The fire was extinguished after several hours of fighting.

NO FURLOUGHS FOR NAVAL BALL PLAYERS

Boston, Feb. 6.—Secretary of Navy Daniels issued an order that the reserve divisions of the navy to refuse summer furloughs to professional baseball players among the enlisted men, according to word received from Washington today.

Congressman Gallivan, of this city, recently presented a request to Secretary Daniels to allow "Jack" Barry, manager of the Boston Americans, to be excused from the navy for the season.

Other Red Sox players who have enlisted in the navy were, to play ball this summer on the grounds that President Wilson advocated the encouragement of athletics during the war.

Four Killed In Double Collision In Maine

Caribou, Me., Feb. 6.—Three passengers and a trainman were killed and twelve passengers were injured in a double collision on the Bangor and Aroostook Railway here early today. A passenger train bound from Bangor to Van Buren crashed into a snow plough which had been stalled in the snow drifts and a moment later another plough run into the rear of the train.

The dead have not been identified. The passengers, a man, a woman and a girl about twenty years old, thought to have been a Miss Shaw of Limestone, were in the rear coach, which was telescoped. Most of those who were injured also were in this car. The trainman killed was one of the crew of the stalled plough.

A gale during the night had piled huge drifts over the single track line, and a plough was sent out to clear the line. When it reached a point near this town it struck a solid mass of snow which brought it to a sudden standstill. A passenger train which was following close behind could not be stopped quickly enough to prevent its running into the plough. It is supposed that the snow picked up from the ground and whirled about by the gale, blizzarded the crew of the following plough that they did not see the train in time to stop. As it was going at high speed in order to have sufficient power to back the drifts, it smashed its way clear through the rear coach of the train. An unofficial thermometer registered thirty degrees below zero the work of rescue was difficult and there was much suffering.

Later the bodies were identified as follows: Frank Harding, commercial traveler, Bangor; Benjamin St. Peter, Van Buren; Anna Shaw, aged twelve, Limestone; Mrs. Hindley, Waterville. The most seriously injured of those taken to the hospital were: Mrs. E. Palmer, Caribou; Mrs. Samuel Shaw, Limestone; mother of Anna Shaw, and sister of Mrs. Hindley; Morris Smith, banker, Caribou; and Fred Gould, Van Buren.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT PLANS EXPANSION OF ITS WAR ACTIVITIES

Montreal, Feb. 5.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior, in addressing the Lumbermen's Association at a banquet in the Windsor Hotel tonight, said the government was on the eve of expansion of its war activities, and it might be compelled to exercise control over imports far beyond what it is doing today.

Cardinal Opposed To National Prohibition

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 6.—Cardinal Gibbons, in a statement issued here last night, declared himself opposed to the movement for national prohibition by federal amendment and in favor of retaining state control of regulatory powers over the liquor traffic. He also asserted that the adoption of a national prohibition amendment would mean the curtailment of personal liberty and be followed by an attempt "to impose other obnoxious laws" upon the nation.

MAY ORGANIZE NEW LAURIER-LIBERAL ORGAN IN TORONTO

Toronto, Feb. 6.—Lindsay Crawford, formerly editor of the Toronto Globe, stated today that his connection with the newspaper was terminated as a result of his speech at Montreal, in which he said that union government and the military service act had failed. It is stated in political circles that Mr. Crawford may become editor of a new Laurier-Liberal organ in Toronto, toward which, according to the same report, $800,000 has been subscribed.

CLARENCE CONWAY DEAD

Clarence Conway, of 5 Brussels street, died at noon today at his residence. He was eighty-six years old. For the greater part of his life he was employed in Shaw's bakery. Besides his wife, he leaves eight sons, Peter of Toronto, Clarence of Montreal, Alexander, Henry, Joseph, Lewis and Arthur all of this city, and Private Charles with the 140th Battalion in England.

DRASTIC MEASURES NEEDED TO SAVE SHAD AND LOBSTERS

Witnesses At Fisheries Inquiry Urge Closed Season Of Several Years—Want Less Drastic Rules For Engines and Boilers—Commission To Resume In Seattle

The session of the International Fisheries Commission was brought to a close this morning and Chief Justice Hazen announced that it would adjourn to meet in Seattle on April 24. At the meeting prominent maritime province fishing merchants gave evidence and all were unanimous in the opinion that, unless some drastic steps are taken, the shad and lobster fisheries will be entirely eliminated. They suggested that a closed season be appointed for three or four years and that it be rigidly enforced, contending that it would eventually prove highly beneficial to those interested in these industries.

The chief witness this morning was H. B. Short, manager of the Maritime Fisheries Corporation at Digby, N. S. In his answers to Hon. Mr. Redfield and Chief Justice Hazen he acknowledged that the success of the fishing industry depended upon the energy, general efficiency, the ability of the skippers to lead their men and knowledge of the fishing grounds. This statement was corroborated by all of the leading fishing merchants or their representatives present. They agreed that it was not a question of which had the better boat, but gave instances where a good captain with a poor vessel often produced better results than some captain with splendid vessels and the best possible equipment.

The difficulty at present experienced by American shipping men in getting the registry of their vessels changed from the United States to Canada was also discussed. T. R. Ferguson, chairman of the Board of Steamships in Ottawa, answering a number of questions put to him by Chief Justice Hazen and other members of the commission.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the laws were a bit too stringent and that the care taken in the states regarding inspection of boilers was adequate to protect both the lives of the people and property, and that the standard required in Canada was too strict.

After March 1 the clergy will receive no salaries from the government. However, they will receive four weeks' salary in advance. Clergymen who remain in their positions and who wish to continue their functions will be employed by the commissions of public charity on the condition that the clergy accept as private persons remuneration from the locality where they officiate.

Defies Anathema.

Referring to the action of the Most Reverend Dr. Tikhon, patriarch of all Russia, in issuing an anathema, the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says that the Russian church has long lost control over the people, owing to the younger generation tending towards irreligion. For this reason he does not expect that the patriarch's action will have much effect.

Dr. Tikhon, however, it is added, still has a powerful weapon at his disposal. If he should lay the country under an interdict closing the churches and not permitting the priests to baptize, marry and bury the dead, the effect on the population might be immediate and far-reaching as it probably would cause in the peasants a superstitious fear.

German Secret Papers Published In Paris—Mobilization Orders Opened a June 1914—Looting In Neutral Countries Revealed

Paris, Feb. 6.—Publication of German official documents was begun today by the Petit Parisien, which are alleged by the newspaper to establish that the war was premeditated and pre-organized by the Berlin authorities. The documents were brought to France by a "famous French scientist" who obtained them from a celebrated Russian revolutionary paper. The names are not given, it is said, as their publication would endanger the lives of the men.

The most important document is a circular dated June 9, 1914, in which the German general headquarters ordered all owners of factories to open the mobilization envelopes in their possession.

A circular dated Nov. 2, 1914, informs military agents on the frontiers of Russia, France, Italy and Norway that unlimited credits have been opened at German banks in Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, China and the United States, which the general headquarters authorizes them to use for the purpose of destroying factories belonging to the enemy, provoking strikes, damaging ships, burning supplies and destroying electricity centres. Special agents were being placed at their disposal, it was added, to bring about explosions and fires.

Applied Kultur.

Paris, Feb. 6.—The Petit Parisien publishes a letter of instructions to German military agents in the United States, dated January 15, 1915, and signed, "General Headquarters, Dr. Fischer." In the letter directions are given concerning the destruction of property in the United States by explosions and other means, and the following is added: "Agents to carry on destructive work, to recruit among the working men's unions, which have anarchistic tendencies."

MEXICAN MISSION TO ARGENTINA DISBANDED

Buenos Aires, Feb. 6.—The special Mexican embassy which arrived here some weeks ago, it is announced, will disband next Sunday. The fact that the Mexican mission is disbanding is taken to indicate that it has failed of its purpose.

Since their arrival here the Mexicans have been treated only as distinguished tourists, governmental departments apparently taking special pains to designate them as such whenever it was necessary to refer to the visitors.

SEIZURE OF CHURCH AND STATE IS ANNOUNCED

Bolshevik Government Issues An Official Statement

Resources to be Used For Common Weal—Priests Salaries Discontinued But People May Support Them

London, Feb. 6.—The separation of state and church by the Bolshevik government is explained in a long statement sent abroad by the Bolshevik official news agency. From this it is apparent that all ecclesiastical property has been declared to belong to the people and is to be used for the common weal.

The Bolshevik commissioners of public charity, who have been given control of the church possessions, announce that it is their opinion that this property should be "used solely for the alleviation of the lot of the classes suffering from exploitation by capitalist society." Accordingly, the expenditures for the support of the church and ecclesiastical ceremonies will be suppressed.

After March 1 the clergy will receive no salaries from the government. However, they will receive four weeks' salary in advance. Clergymen who remain in their positions and who wish to continue their functions will be employed by the commissions of public charity on the condition that the clergy accept as private persons remuneration from the locality where they officiate.

DEFIES ANATHEMA.

Referring to the action of the Most Reverend Dr. Tikhon, patriarch of all Russia, in issuing an anathema, the Petrograd correspondent of the Times says that the Russian church has long lost control over the people, owing to the younger generation tending towards irreligion. For this reason he does not expect that the patriarch's action will have much effect.

Dr. Tikhon, however, it is added, still has a powerful weapon at his disposal. GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

"DAMAGED GOODS" OPENS TOMORROW

Rev. J. A. McKean's Endorsement—Men Only This Week

(Advertisement.) Much interest has been aroused concerning "Damaged Goods" which is to be shown at the Lyric tomorrow, Friday and Saturday for men only, and the first three days of next week for women only. Children under fifteen years are not admitted unless their parents accompany them. The following endorsement from Rev. J. A. McKean, pastor of St. David's, should be, to say the least, convincing:

"Dear Mr. Spencer,—It has been my privilege to see the modern picture film called "Damaged Goods," and I hold little doubt but that its public performance will have great uplifting power, and accomplish the good for which it was created, namely, educating the people to the danger which surrounds them. If I could preach from my pulpit a sermon so convincing, I would consider that I had achieved a triumph. I have no hesitation in recommending "Damaged Goods," but believe it would be indecorous and unwise to have men and women see it at the same time, or permit the attendance of children under fifteen years of age, unless accompanied by their parents."

(Sgd.) J. A. MCKEAN.

REMAINING TICKETS FOR TOMORROW'S REVUE

That the Imperial Theatre will be filled from orchestra rail to the very roof with a fashionable and brilliant audience tomorrow night is assured. The ground floor and first balcony are both sold out solid. The boxes have been sold out for over a week. So many tardy buyers have been disappointed that the upper balcony is now fast disappearing as far as seats are concerned, despite the fact that the chairs are not reserved. There need be no hesitancy about buying the upper balcony seats, for this is just the kind of a show they are best adapted for, and furthermore, several large theatre parties in that region of the house will continue the gaiety of the scene to the topmost rows. These 50c seats are on sale in the Imperial lobby tonight and tomorrow forenoon, also at the door tomorrow night when the show takes place.

TINGLING RED-BLOODED STORY FOR A COLD DAY

William S. Hart, the good bad man of the movies, again appears at the Imperial tonight and tomorrow in a veritable classic of early western times, entitled "A Cold Deck." With all the picturesque quality of the days of the West, the excellent company portray a sweet though strenuous story of a sleazy girl and how she was befriended by a hardened gambler, a man whose fame for two-handness in gun work and desperate dealing was far and wide. Bill, bold, brave Bill Hart shines like the star that he is, and everybody will be delighted with his performance. A Mack Sennett comedy, entitled "A Pullman Bride," the British Government Weekly and the two singers, Annie Laurie Leonard and Harry Bennett, will complete a splendid bill.

WHERE ARE YOU GOING TONIGHT? WHAT DO YOU SAY, TO THE GEM

You'll see a stirring picture feature and two entertaining vaudeville acts for a very little money, and you'll enjoy heat and comfort while so doing. "The Crimson Dove" is the feature, a picture with a punch in it. See page 11 for details.

Tonight and tomorrow night the Palace Theatre screens "The Flow Women," a five-act Indian settler picture that is packed with thrills for every picture lover. See the Indians with their war-painted faces in an old-time war with the white settlers.

NORWEGIANS TO REMAIN NEUTRAL

"Cannot Break With One Belligerent" Is Reply To American War Trade Board—Recites Aid To Allies

Christiania, Feb. 5.—Norway's reply to the proposals from the American war trade board regarding supplies from the United States to Norway, published today, emphasizes the firm resolve of the Norwegian people and government to remain neutral.

"Norway in her commercial policy cannot break with one belligerent," the reply says, "without imperiling her general neutrality."
The Norwegian government entertains no doubts that the United States and her Allies will understand Norway's difficult situation. Norway justly claims that the country should not go without bread, thus being confronted with the alternative of complete distress or an agreement that might endanger her neutral position and possibly expose the country to war, which in a short time might destroy what the Norwegian people have taken centuries to build.

The reply also emphasizes the important benefits rendered to the United States and her Allies by Norway, and especially by Norwegian commercial shipping, which have been attended by great sacrifices in human life and ships. It adds: "The reply points out that Norway's efforts to the United States and her Allies the greater part of her exports in return for supplies necessary for her national health and productivity."

BRITAIN AND TURKEY EXCHANGE PRISONERS

Berne, Switzerland, Jan. 21.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—British and Turkish delegates, who have been conferring here for some time in regard to a proposed exchange of prisoners, have closed their negotiations after reaching what the British delegates describe as "a satisfactory arrangement."

The negotiations provide not only for the exchange of prisoners, but also for a complete inspection of prison camps. Turkey has about 10,000 British prisoners, mostly Indians, while Great Britain has 50,000 Turks. It is expected that the agreement will be immediately implemented and within a few weeks the first exchange will be made on Swiss soil, 1,000 British and 1,000 Turkish prisoners being exchanged for 1,000 British and 1,000 Turkish prisoners.

NO SCARCITY OF POTATOES

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—That there is no scarcity of potatoes in Toronto and that any overcharging to the consumer or any apparent shortage must be placed at the door of the retailer is the statement which emanated from the food controller's office today.

It has been stated that in Toronto potatoes are charging as high as 80 cents a peck for potatoes and are limiting their sales to half a peck. The controller is contending, however, to hold up the price of potatoes and no right to restrict the supply. The whole-sale price is controlled by the food controller and the department has full knowledge of the supply.

Mack of Fredericton, John Kennedy of Salisbury, F. G. Rennie of Sackville, George B. Thompson of Penobscot, R. G. Fowling of Hampton, Henry Main and Austin A. Allen of Moncton.

MUST CUT MORE WOOD IN N. B. FOR FUEL

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 6.—The department of the fuel controller already has taken steps to ascertain the outlook for wood for fuel in central New Brunswick. Clyde Leavitt of the forestry branch, conservation commission, is in charge of that portion of the fuel controller's department which deals with wood fuel and on his instructions C. H. Prince of this city, head of the forestry survey of the provincial department of lands and mines, is obtaining information concerning conditions in this section. It evidently is the wish of the fuel controller's department that the supply of wood fuel cut in this section of New Brunswick be doubled.

ADDITIONAL WAR TAX

Paris, Feb. 6.—Louis Klotz, the minister of finance, announced today that additional taxes amounting to $61,000,000 francs must be levied in order to meet war expenditures in 1918.

CATARRH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the voice, deranges the digestion, and breaks down the general health. It weakens the delicate lung tissues and leads to consumption.

SIX INJURED IN NOVA SCOTIA WRECK

Truro, N. S., Feb. 6.—No. 2 Midland train from Windsor to Truro last night met with an accident about one-half mile on the Hants county side of the Big Shubenacadie bridge over the Shubenacadie river, on account of a broken rail. One of the passenger cars left the road and went over the bank into the mill pond.

There were about forty passengers on the car, among whom were some fifteen students enroute to enter the Nova Scotia Normal College. Most of the passengers were more or less shaken up and generally scratched or cut from broken glass.

The most serious injured were a half dozen of the Normal College students, who were taken to the Annapolis Hospital with head and face wounds. Their names are: Marie E. LeBlanc, Little Brook, N. S.; Marie E. Comeau, Comeauville, N. S.; Marie F. Comeau, Little Brook, N. S.; Sarah R. Lyons, Forbes Point, N. S.; and Elizabeth E. Laffin, Hennisburg, N. S.

COUNTRY ROADS BLOCKED

Reports have reached the city of the immense depths of the snow drifts in the country districts and the poor condition of the roads. A man attempting to drive to Grand Bay yesterday found that so great was the amount of drifted snow, he could not get that far and had to turn back. There is another story of a farmer whose horse foundered in a drift yesterday and before the animal could be extricated it had perished from the cold.

Food Situation in Britain At Most Serious Stage—Rationing Whole Country Is Considered At Conference

London, Feb. 5.—Lord Rhonda, the food controller, met more than 100 members of the House of Commons in committee rooms of the house tonight and gave confidential information on the food situation and the existing stocks in the country and discussed with them the question of extending compulsory rationing to the whole country. Lord Rhonda spoke for an hour, but the proceedings were private.

An official report, which was issued, says that Lord Rhonda expressed the view that the food situation would be in its most difficult stage during the coming two months and asked the members to give him all possible help. Lord Rhonda, in the belief that many persons have rendered themselves liable to prosecution for food hoarding by inadvertence, has provided that during the week ending Feb. 18 such persons may voluntarily surrender their stocks for the benefit of the public and will be indemnified against prosecution. This privilege does not apply to persons against whom prosecution is already pending or whose domiciles have already been searched.

TWENTY-FIVE FAMILIES THREATENED BY FIRE IN HALIFAX BUILDING

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 6.—Fire this morning broke out on the top floor of St. Mary's Temperance Society Hall on Barrington street and caused a loss estimated at $5,000, principally by water. Twenty-five families rendered homeless by the disaster of December 6, were sheltered in the building and all got out safely.

The fire is said to have originated by the upsetting of an oil stove in the apartments of one of the families.

The lower floor is occupied by the Imperial Theatre, which was flooded by the water, and today's performances have been cancelled.

SHORE LINE RELIEF TRAIN STALLED ALSO

The Shore Line railway is still tied up and the latest report received at C. P. R. headquarters was to the effect that the relief train sent out from West St. John yesterday to assist the regular train stalled at Penfield, failed to reach its destination. Within half a mile of the tank at Penfield the engine ran out of water and had to be "killed." As the engine is very large the train cannot be moved either forward or backward. H. C. Grant, general superintendent of the C. P. R. for the Maritime division, has ordered a train made up in St. Stephen to leave tomorrow morning and reach the scene of the accident. It is impossible to determine when the line will be opened.

DE MONTS CHAPTER HAD BUSY YEAR

Reports Submitted At Annual Meeting Show Much Good Work Accomplished—Mrs. G. K. McLeod Regent

At the annual meeting of the De Monts Chapter, I. O. D. E., at the De Monts Chapter, Prince William street, this morning the following officers were elected for the coming year—Regent, Mrs. George K. McLeod; first vice regent, Mrs. W. E. Foster; second vice regent, Mrs. Ambrose; secretary, Mrs. Simon Jones; assistant secretary, Mrs. H. B. Robinson; treasurer, Miss H. S. Smith; standard bearer, Mrs. James J. Thomas; "Boys" secretary, Mrs. May Harrison; educational secretary, Mrs. M. G. Teed; Mrs. F. E. Sayre presiding as secretary at the meeting.

The sum of $22 was voted to the Free Kindergarten, $10 to the Soldiers' Club and $10 to the men of the Depot Battalion now suffering from the mumps.

On behalf of the executive of the De Monts Chapter, I. O. D. E., the regent, Mrs. G. K. McLeod, presented a report of the work accomplished during the year ending Jan. 31, 1917.

In all thirteen meetings have been held, ten regular and three special, with an average attendance of twenty-five. One regular member, Mrs. Cullip, and three honorary members, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Fugatey and Mrs. Christie, have been added to the roll, while two regular members have resigned, placing the membership now at forty-eight regular and three honorary members.

Since the last annual meeting the chapter has had the proud pleasure of presenting the badge of a husband or son overseas to nine members—Mrs. F. Caverhill Jones, Mrs. Teed, Mrs. White, Mrs. Sturges, Mrs. Coster, Mrs. Short, Mrs. Stewart Sclimner, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. McLeod. With two of these, I regret to say, have been called up to sympathize.

During the last month the chapter has been called upon to sympathize with the sewing of dresses for the war, and while we have not done badly still, as we see another year beginning with the men of the empire still in the trenches, still facing the hardships and dangers with courage undimmed, we as daughters of the Empire must not let our courage or energies flag but face the new year with equal determination, not satisfied until we have done our bit but with enthusiasm to do our utmost.

(Sgd.) GERTRUDE GORDON, Hon. Secretary.

(Halifax Chronicle.)
Many old friends will regret to learn of the death of William R. Dunn, for many years one of the best known journalists in eastern Canada, who passed away at the home of his mother, 7 Carleton street, early on Sunday morning. Mr. Dunn, who was fifty-three years of age, had been in poor health during the last ten years, and although he had been out and around the city until quite recently, his friends recognized that he was falling rapidly.

He was the eldest son of the late John Dunn, who for many years was manager of the Morning Chronicle. He grew up in the atmosphere of the publishing craft. He entered the service of the Morning Chronicle as a youth and quickly showed his aptitude for journalistic work. He was for several years news editor of the Morning Chronicle and was the first editor of the Daily Echo, which he started as the successor of the Citizen and Evening Chronicle. Later he founded and published, on his own account, an illustrated weekly which he carried on for several years. He then spent some work of the time. The New York Herald regarded it so highly that it gave Mr. Dunn what was then the rare distinction of printing his picture, accompanied by a very complimentary tribute to his fine reporting.

In those days, before the Associated Press had perfected its organization, most of the large American newspapers had their special correspondents at Halifax, which, then as now, was a very important world news centre, and Mr. Dunn was the correspondent of a string of the biggest news stories of the day were given to the world by him. The last notable story which he handled was that of the sinking of the French liner La Bourgoigne, in collision with the sailing ship Comarystre, off Sable Island on July 4, 1898, when over 600 people were drowned, the news of which was brought to Halifax by the survivors on July 6. Although Mr. Dunn had retired from active work ten years ago he had many friends who will learn with deep regret of his death. He is survived by two daughters who are married in the United States, also by his mother, three brothers and four sisters.

Dr. J. W. Robertson Tells Buffalo Audience That World Faces Appalling
Situation—Up to the Individual Now

(Buffalo Express.)
Dr. James W. Robertson, chairman of the central advisory food council of Canada, told the Buffalo chamber of commerce yesterday in an address that there was grave need of saving food for the fighting forces now. He called the food situation of the world appalling and urged that greater acreages be planted and that greater effort be made by the individual to curtail consumption of the food of the world essential to the soldier in fighting trim. Dr. Robertson said in part:

"At this time the food supply of our Allies in Europe is the gravest, most disquieting situation they have to face. If we all eat and waste this year, and next year, just as we used to eat and waste, then there will be still greater privation among our Allies, privation which may mean the weakening of our position in the war."

"The causes of the world-wide shortage are still cumulative. There was a general shortage in the northern hemisphere in 1916 of the five big cereal crops, wheat, corn, rye, barley and oats. The shortage was due partly to the weather and the withdrawal of labor from farm production. A conservative estimate placed the total number of men withdrawn from agriculture for fighting and munition making in the belligerent countries at some 30,000,000."

"The scarcity of food has been accentuated by losses due to destruction by submarines of the food supplies still available after these great losses, it cannot be said that they have been handed to the best advantage. The world's reserves of food, to carry us through the winter, are now at a low ebb. The world's reserves of food, to carry us through the winter, are now at a low ebb. The world's reserves of food, to carry us through the winter, are now at a low ebb."

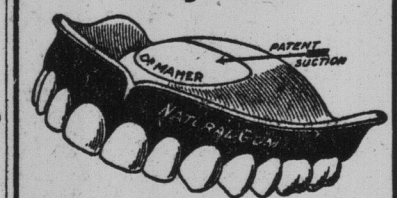

"The personal effort of individuals is the only way whereby the supply of food can be increased. It is necessary to be diligent in conserving what we have produced, in preventing all waste, and in shifting our own consumption from beef, pork and bacon, which the armies and civilian populations need from us to other foods which cannot be sent overseas."

"A careful comparison of the reduction in the consumption of food, by means of the compulsory regulations and voluntary co-operation, in shifting our own consumption from beef, pork and bacon, which the armies and civilian populations need from us to other foods which cannot be sent overseas."

ST. JOHN COUNTY LODGE.
The St. John County L. O. L. held their annual meeting last night. Reports of the officers for the year just ending were read and showed the lodge both in membership and finance, to be in a flourishing condition. The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year: Francis Kerr, county master; E. J. Anderson, deputy county master; James E. Arthur, county chaplain; W. H. McDonald, county recording secretary; J. H. Burley, county financial secretary; N. J. Morrison, county treasurer; Isaac Mercer, county director of ceremonies; J. K. Lawson, county lecturer; E. H. Morell and Robert Jones, county deputy lecturers.

At the annual meeting of the corporation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, North End, held in the Union hall, Main street, yesterday afternoon, J. B. Eagles was in the chair. A. B. Farmer acted in his capacity as secretary. There was the usual course of business, including the report of the officers for the coming year resulted in the re-election as president of Mr. Eagles. The other officers were: Mrs. R. A. Corbett, vice-president; F. W. Munro, H. Usher Miller, A. B. Farmer, Mrs. W. H. Miles and Mrs. George Steele, directors.

PUBLISH THE REPORT.

What is this talk about considering the auditor's report on the New Brunswick Power Company's affairs in secret session at City Hall?

The company is seeking authority to make a stiff increase in rates, which the citizens would have to pay. The city council placed an auditor on the company's books to learn if there was any justification for the proposed further levy upon the pockets of the people. That auditor is a chartered accountant of high reputation. He has completed his report. It is a public document dealing with a public matter of great importance to the taxpayers. It was before the city council yesterday and should have been given to the citizens today.

Mayor Hayes and Com. Fisher favored that course, but were voted down. The commissioners who voted any must see that it is of the utmost importance that the people upon whom will fall the burden of any additional charges made by the New Brunswick Power Company have access to the fullest possible information concerning every move in the proceedings, and that there should be no secrecy whatever at any stage.

The question is naturally asked—Why should the city solicitor take an active part in the discussion and advise the council to withhold the report from the public until it came out as part of the evidence to be laid before the Public Utilities Commission? What possible injury to the cause of right in this affair could possibly come from immediate and full publicity?

The people who are asked to pay for years to come the heavily increased charges proposed by the power company have a right to know how much real money that company invested, what its revenue is and has been, and whether there is any justification for an increase in the charges for its various services. The report of the auditor would throw valuable light on that matter, and the public have a right to it without an hour's unnecessary delay.

A NOTABLE ADDRESS.

Commissioner Redfield states that he has been severely and accurately last evening before the Canadian Club when he said that this was a war, not of nations, but of mankind against a common evil. The Christian, the Mohammedan, the Buddhist, the Shintoist—all religions are arrayed against the worshippers of the tribal god of Germany. It is the world against a nation possessed of a demon. Mr. Redfield's review of German policy since Bismarck tore up the Schleswig-Holstein treaty—the original "scrap of paper"—made it perfectly clear that the dual policy of military and naval development and peaceful penetration had for forty years been directed toward the one definite aim; and its success had made the nation mad with the pride of power until German preachers and philosophers hailed the supernatural who was to dominate the world.

The distinguished speaker reviewed the whole world-problem from the standpoint of right versus might, and made out a case that was unanswerable. Not least interesting was his talk on what the United States has accomplished along scientific lines since the war began, in order to overcome the handicap Germany had gained over all the other nations in times of peace. It was just an illuminating glimpse of the workshop of a great nation gathering its mighty forces for a supreme effort to vindicate the principles of democracy and their ability to stand the test of war against a giant autocracy organized to the limit for war purposes.

It was a notable speech by a representative American, and the crowded dining hall was a clear manifestation of the interest in view of such a man arouses among the citizens of St. John.

CANADA AND UNITED STATES.

St. John is interested in the visit of Mr. William C. Redfield, Commissioner of Commerce in the United States, and his associates in the fisheries conference, and the welcome extended to him and them by the Canadian Club last evening is expressive of a feeling that is universal.

In an address delivered in New York recently Mr. Thomas W. Lamont told the Canadian Club there some interesting facts about the changed relations between Canada and the United States. He said that before the war this country borrowed very little money from the United States, the amount in 1910 being only $3,600,000. In 1913 it was $50,000,000, and in 1916 no less than $207,000,000. The Canadian borrowings in England, on the other hand, fell from $277,000,000 in 1918 to about $5,000,000 in 1917.

Very significant also are Mr. Lamont's figures in relation to trade. He said that nine years ago Canada bought $180,000,000 worth of goods from the United States; while last year we bought $684,000,000 worth. Nine years ago the United States bought $20,000,000 worth of goods from Canada; last year that country bought from us $280,000,000 worth. Commenting on the changed conditions, Mr. Lamont said:

"It goes without saying that if we Americans have increased our business with you and our investments in your great country, we have at the same time studied you more, studied your resources, and the character of your development. We know Canada, we think now, far better than ever before. We appreciate her fine spirit more keenly than ever."

"And I want you here, you members of the Canadian Society, to appreciate that the increase of our attachment to Canada must not be measured simply in the cold figures of growing trade and our increasing investments with her. On the contrary, there has been an expansion of our respect and of our affection for Canada, far more important than that indicated by the barometers of trade. We have greatly admired the manner in which Canada has handled herself in this world struggle. It is figured today that if the United States had in the field, in proportion to our population, the same number that you have funged into the battle trenches, we should have six million men under arms."

"Speaking therefore for a great body of Americans who, I know, feel as I feel, I cannot too strongly express our admiration for Canada's course, for the sound measures of her government war financing, for the skill with which she has developed great supply and munition works, and most of all, I repeat, for her noble sacrifice of men."

It can be said with equal truth that the feelings of Canadians toward the United States have undergone a very marked change since that country entered the war. Before that a degree of prejudice had been kept alive in this country by flag-waving politicians who sought partisan advantage. In the earlier period of the war there was keen disappointment that the American government apparently could not see as clearly as ourselves that the very life of democracy was at stake, although our people fully realized the patriotic advocacy of the Allied cause by leading men all over the republic. When President Wilson severed relations with Germany, and the whole nation approved his course, there came a revolution of feeling in Canada, as at that time passed the wisdom of his course in waiting until certain that the whole nation was behind him became apparent. Since that time our trade relations have further improved, our governments are co-operating heartily in all war measures, and there is no longer any room for prejudice. The coming of Commissioner Redfield to St. John is an evidence that even such matters as trade jealousy are not to be permitted to mar the friendly relations brought about under the stress of a great common danger. The two countries have so many problems that are similar in peace time, and they can serve each other's interests with mutual benefit to so great an extent that they must draw closer; and this without in any way loosening the bond that unites Canada to the rest of the British Empire; for Britain and the United States are also drawing closer together in a really wonderful way. Between Canada and the United States, as the Toronto Star observes, "there will be increased acquaintance and a better appreciation of the trade importance of each country to the other, and of the ideals and aims which give both countries pretty much the same general purposes in the world."

The German press continues to deceive the people and to nourish the belief that no American army worthy of attention can be placed on the western front. The German soldiers will soon know better.

Auditor MacIntyre's report on the New Brunswick Power Company's affairs should be published at once. There is neither good ground nor colorable excuse for delay.

Rumors of impending big battles on the western front are revived. Confidence in the ability of the Allies to withstand enemy attacks is freely expressed.

Again it is rumored that the negotiations between Germany and Russia have been broken off. The internal disorder in Russia shows no sign of abatement.

The conference in Berlin between German, Austrian, Turkish and Bulgarian envoys may develop news of interest.

The open door at City Hall is especially necessary when a power company is seeking approval of a scheme to get more money out of the pockets of the citizens.

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

THE HOUR OF STORM.

(Douglas Malloch.)
I have stood in the rush of the waters, I have waded the rivers of rain, When the lightning had sundered the heavens and the thunder had shaken the plain.
And the mountain called out to the mountain, and the mountain made answer again.

And a voice has come out of the tempest, a voice that no quiet has heard, As loud as the bugle of battle, as clear as the call of a bird— A word winging out of the vastness in search of the hand of a word.

'Twas the song of a soul, 'twas the shouting of something supernatural, A sound like the sound of the thunder, A gleam like the heavenly gleam, And something inside of me answered, a voice like the voice of a dream.

For there is some mortal within us that never we capture or clutch, That weeps with the magic of music, that swells at a clasp or a touch, That speaks when we joy or in pain, that is old and new, and the pain is too much.

And only in moments of tempest, when the thunders their revelle roll, When life is a tide and a torrent, when man is a part of the whole, The mountain-top calls to the mountain, and soul answers back unto soul.

Eczema Cured
Five Years Ago

A Treatment Which Has Proven a Wonderful Healer of the Skin—Certified Evidence of Lasting Cure

Jordan, Ont., Feb. 1.—The old notion that eczema is a disease of the blood is daily being refuted by the cures that are daily being effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It matters not what the cause may have been if you apply Dr. Chase's Ointment regularly you will obtain relief and cure of eczema. Here is the proof. Mrs. Stephen G. Thwaites, Box 238, Jordan, Ont., writes: "I had eczema on my face and neck for five years. It was a bad case of eczema on my face and neck. I tried everything, but none cured it. One day I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it gave almost instant relief. He continued its use, but had not quite finished the second box when he was cured. It is now about five years since then, and it has never returned. We certainly can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, and are very grateful for his cure."

Dr. S. P. Coffman, Vineland, Ont., states: "This is to certify that I know Mrs. Thwaites and the party to whom she refers, and her statements are correct."

Mr. J. E. Jones, 228 University avenue, Kingston, Ont., writes: "I had eczema in my hand for about five years. I tried a great many remedies, but found that while some of them checked it, none cured it permanently. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and in six weeks my hand was completely better. I would not do without a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house if it cost $2 a box. I am giving my name to this firm so that it will get to those who suffer as I did."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Substitutes will only disappoint you. Insist on getting what you ask for.

The terrible smothering and choking up sensations and sinking spells, the feelings of dizziness and faintness that come over those whose heart and nerves are deranged causes the greatest distress of both mind and body.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in cases of such severity.

Mrs. A. M. Powell, Norval Station, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I did not get one night's sleep out of seven. I got to very weak that the doctor was called in, and he said it was my heart, and that I must take great care of myself. GETTING READY FOR AIR RAID

Ambulances Located and Awaiting Call for Casualties When London Hears Alarm

Among the organizations connected with the war is one very quietly but very effectively organized and directed—the London Ambulance Service. With the commencement of air raids need arose for extension of the L. C. C. service, especially at night, and the London Ambulance Service promptly obtained the services of volunteer ambulances. Easily distinguishable from the L. C. C. vehicles, these volunteer and service ambulances are painted a dark slate color.

The moment a report reaches headquarters that an air raid is imminent every ambulance volunteer receives a telephone message. Then, albeit the winter may be just sitting down to his dinner or supper, or he drives his ambulance to the headquarters of the London Ambulance Service, or to one of the chief ambulance stations, according to the location to which he may be attached, and there he waits until his services may be required to succor the wounded.

A peripatetic behind the scenes at the headquarters on the occasion of an air raid reveals a perfect system. Up in the "L. C. C." building, the L. C. C. sits at a table whereon is a map of London mounted on a board, and showing the various ambulance stations. Beside the map is a little board containing some hundreds of glass-topped pins, colored red and blue, and a telephone switchboard communicating with the exchange and with direct lines to each of the ambulance stations, which is operated by an attendant, who continually receives messages from fire stations, police stations, etc.

A message comes in from an ambulance station announcing that an ambulance has arrived there for duty. The telephone reports it and a numbered glass-topped pin is stuck into the map indicating the ambulance's location. As the ambulance comes into the yard below a pin is stuck into the headquarters section of the map. So the pins on the map continue to grow in number, and the official can see at a glance how many ambulances are in readiness at each station.

By and by, when messages come over the wire reporting casualties, orders are instantly sent to the nearest station for one or more ambulances to proceed to the spot.

Then directly a message comes over the wire announcing that an ambulance is leaving headquarters or another station.

RECENT DEATHS

Samuel Baird.

There died on Saturday, Feb. 2, at his residence, Chipman, Queens county, Samuel Baird, aged eighty-four. Mr. Baird, who was a son of the late Robert Baird, one of the early settlers of Queens county, was born and lived his entire life on the farm where he died. He was widely and favorably known in the county and on the Grand Lake, and scores of friends who have enjoyed the hospitality of his home on the Salmon River will doubtless regret to hear of his death, which followed upon a brief illness of six weeks. His wife, who was Elizabeth Snodgrass, of Young's Cove, Grand Lake, predeceased him by about a year and a half.

The late Mr. Baird leaves a sister, Mrs. Henry Porter, of Salmon Creek; and a brother, Charles, of Eureka, California; also the following sons and daughters: Robert, farmer, of Salmon Creek; Thomas, lumberman, of Stevensville, Montana; Isaac W., on the house, president of the N. B. Farmers & Dairyman's Association; Rev. Frank, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Woodville, N. B.; Edward, of Boston; Mary, at home, and Margaret, wife of Chancellor C. C. Jones, of the university, Fredericton. Mr. Baird, of Fredericton, is a grandson, and Mrs. F. Hoar, of Moncton, is a granddaughter of the deceased.

John H. Stevens.

John H. Stevens, proprietor of the Star Hotel, died at his home, N. S., on Sunday last. He was 68 years old and a native of Wallace, N. S., where for years he was engaged in business. He was a successful and well liked by the traveling public as well as by the people of the town. He is survived by his wife and three daughters, the son is Arthur who was his father's assistant. The daughters are Mrs. Harry Brown, Port Elgin, N. B.; Mrs. Boyd Brownell, Amherst, and Miss Fannie, at home. He was also survived by a brother in Vancouver, Mr. Alfred B. Baird, of Fredericton, is a grandson, and Mrs. F. Hoar, of Moncton, is a granddaughter of the deceased.

DAYLIGHT-SAVING.

(Buffalo News.)
We should imagine that the fact established through which the nation is passing will boost the plan for daylight-saving and that the proposed measure will speedily be passed. We have been apt to regard the proposition as something of a joke and talked about it in a detached and flippancy manner. But the present condition of things regarding coal and its shortage or unavailability has brought us to the point where we are fain to believe that there is something in the project. There are many reasons why we should adopt this daylight saving measure.

Even the little he does eat causes such torture, and is digested so imperfectly that it does him little good. What dyspepsia need not be, not dieting, or artificial digestants, but something that will put their stomach right so it will manufacture its own digestive ferments. For forty years now Burdock Blood Bitters has been making weak stomachs strong and curing severe cases of dyspepsia and indigestion that other remedies were powerless to reach. It restores the stomach to a normal healthy condition so that the food no longer causes distress, but is thoroughly digested and assimilated, and goes on its way making rich, red blood. Mrs. Henry Shaw, Campbellton (N. B.), writes: "I was for five years troubled with a weak stomach, and could not eat any food that would agree with me. Below New York's

Cheerful and Determined—
People Wait Three Hours
Daily to Buy Edibles—
Workingmen Demand

(Special cable to The New York Times).
London, Jan. 27.—The chief subject of discussion in London just now, from duke to dustman, is how to get food.
Butcher boys carrying meat through the streets are followed to find out where they get it. The people are getting thinner daily, but healthier, it is explained,
except for some cases of indigestion caused by the war bread. There are business men residing in London who boast that they are able to count their ribs for the first time in twenty years.

In spite of the war conditions, everybody here is cheerful and determined to hold out to prevent Germany becoming master of the world, even if the war lasts
another twenty years.
Prices at hotels and restaurants are still 25 per cent below those in New York. The quantity of meats here is 50 per cent less. Meals on meatless days cost double the usual rate, on account of the price of fish. A cargo of fish sold at auction after landing realizes high prices. The crew of one fishing vessel had $1,000 each as his share in a fourteen days' cruise. Prices are now regulated, but fish is scarce, because the men will not go out and risk their lives unless sure of big money in return.

Young American officers visiting London find difficulty in getting what they would call a square meal at night, as the restaurants are darkened and the visitors are unable to distinguish them from other stores. I was accosted last night in the Strand by two officers who had been one hour trying to find a restaurant.

One Helping of Meat.

No butter is served at the best hotels,
except a small pat at breakfast. People are fed up with jam. A teaspoonful of sugar is served in an envelope, and the war bread is dark and depressing to eat and of varying quality, according to the baker. A famous restaurant in the Strand gives only one helping of meat,
and charges higher prices than formerly
when portions were unlimited.

A New York banker was beaming with joy yesterday as if he had made a hundred thousand dollar deal because he had obtained a fresh loaf of white bread at a country inn where he had lunched.

A New York woman went to Selfridge's store, which was reported to have a supply of meat. She found a big crowd held back by the police. One woman fainted in the crush. While the crowd stood back the American rushed

through the lines into the basement.
There was only one woman there before her. The stock consisted of two ox-tails and two calves-heads. She bought the best head, had it packed in a bonnet box, escaped the hungry crowd, and reached home safely.

War conditions in New York are a joke compared with London. There are only small daily supplies of meat, fish, or poultry in the stores here, and these are soon exhausted. Many stores are closed altogether. The crowds wait patiently for tea, margarine, sausages and other foods until the police call out "no more today."

Beginning today, no milk or sugar will be served in restaurants, and only three ounces of meat, including bone, will be served at meals.
The American colony in London is giving up housekeeping on account of the daily struggle for food which is exhausting the women. A cup of sugarized tea and a slice of cake in an ordinary restaurant cost a shilling. A thimble-ful of demerol whisky costs the same.
Leaves Old Restaurant.

The proprietor of a city restaurant
run for 100 years by one family, is living in the country, leaving the business in the hands of the employees. He couldn't bear to see his old customers under the new conditions. The only food at Stafford station to supply hungry American passengers on a recent day was two sausages and one mystery pie, called pork
by courtesy.

Price of vegetables are fairly reasonable. Oranges, apples, and eggs average twelve cents each.
Workmen are clamoring for more beer
to make up for the loss of nourishing food. The general impression is that the government desires to make them realize the seriousness of war, because munition workers have been earning as high as $100 weekly and have been buying luxuries in great quantities.

The streets of London are dark and there are few policemen. The people in the streets are brusque, specially the women, who push the men aside. They wear simple costumes and big shoes and adopt a severe cast of countenance. The service in the stores and restaurants is indifferent. Any mild complaint by customers is met with the retort: "Don't you know we are at war?"

Few motor buses are running. Extra passengers are allowed to stand inside
and hang on the straps for the first time in London. New Yorkers now feel quite at home.

Calais Faces
Calais, Feb. 6.—With only one ton of coal available at all of the coal dealers in the city, Calais is facing a coal famine.

Three schooners carrying an aggregate of 900 tons of coal have been comman-doed at various points along the coast of Maine and there is a grave possibility of none of the coal reaching Calais. The Ernest T. Lee and the Kennebec, both two-masted schooners, each carrying about 300 tons, have been seized at Rockland, where they are now awaiting action
upon the part of the state fish administration to whom a complaint has been entered by the Calais people, declaring that the fuel should be sent here and not kept at Rockland. The vessel that is held at Eastport contains about 200 tons of gas coal consigned to the gas company and the captain will not attempt a trip up the river in the face of the ice fields. Two other vessels, also containing large amounts of coal and consigned to Guy Miner, are likewise held at Eastport.

USING MEAT TO BEST ADVANTAGE

Prominent Contractor Tells of His Experience and Outlines Economical Methods

H. D. Symmes of Niagara Falls, Ont., engineer and contractor, who has had much experience of an unusually successful character in the management of construction camps in Northern Ontario,
has prepared an article at the request of the food controller on the handling of meat and food conservation generally in such camps. As a result of more than twenty years' experience in feeding considerable numbers of men, Mr. Symmes believes that by proper grading of all meat, removing all flesh from the bones, carefully separating excess fat from the fish and delivering the meat to the consumer without bones, much saving would be effected. In his own camps, he has been able to reduce to a very small amount the quantity of food purchased.
The principle of the plan is to cook the meat without bone and to serve the cooked meat in such a manner that there will be no waste.

Methods of Handling Explained.
Mr. Symmes explains as follows his method of handling meat:
"It was brought into the kitchen and thawed out after which it was put on a block or hung up and all meat or fat was removed from the bone. Roughly speaking, there are two grades of meat and fat in all supplies received by the camps. The first grade can go into the pan without further preparation while the second grade requires to be cut up through the chopper. If one should go into a restaurant and after buying an ordinary steak should proceed to weigh the different parts of it, he would get about this result:
First class meat 40 per cent
Second class meat 20 per cent
Bone 20 per cent
Fat 20 per cent
"This is the showing after the meat is dressed by the butcher and the cook. In other camps, after the meat was dissected it was made up into cubes for roasting, each about eight pounds in weight, the object being to have the cubes of approximately the same dimensions and weight so that when in the oven in large quantities they would all be cooked to about the same extent. Fats were carefully separated and utilized. In most camps, the only fats kept are those from the drippings on the pans.

Heaping Dishes Wasteful.
"We found it economical to serve only four portions in a serving dish. The ordinary lumber-camp custom of heaping dishes of all food was not allowed. As the men gradually left the table and the end of a meal the dishes
were always taken back into the kitchen for re-warming and fresh portions issued to the remaining men. In this way
at the end of a meal there was practically no food left either on the table or on the men's plates."

Mr. Symmes adds that the cost of feeding, after hauling all materials sixty miles and after charging up the superintendent's wages, cook's wages, chore
boys' wages, fuel and 15 per cent profit
was made not to serve cheap meals but 50-1-2 cents per man per day. The effort was made not to serve cheap meals but efficient meals. He points out that it is not economical to provide the same class of food for lumberjacks as it is for men working underground. Ninety per cent of the food used by a lumberjack would be wasted by an underground man, he says, consequently it has been found advantageous, where it is necessary to feed both classes of men on the same job, to provide either separate dining rooms or at least separate tables for the various classes of labor.

Make Grading Compulsory.
Mr. Symmes says in conclusion: "The further suggestion is made that butchers be not allowed to sell to customers any meat except that separated from the bone. This meat should be divided into grades and if necessary, the price from time to time fixed for each grade. The result would be that when a person telephoned for a piece of meat of a specified grade he would not receive, as is now
usual, only from thirty to forty per cent
of meat that can be used on the table
but precisely what he orders.

"The saving of time and fuel in cooking might also be of some slight advantage, as also would be the collection of bone in central places for use as fertilizer. I am firmly of the opinion that if this system were adopted it would go a long way towards solving the food problem of the world's shortage of animal fats."

HIGH HONOR FOR
REV. DR. EATON

Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, and formerly pastor of the Bloor street Baptist church, Toronto, has been appointed director of national service for the United States. Dr. Eaton has been granted leave of absence by his church, and yesterday preached his last sermon there until after the war. His duties will be of a far-reaching character. Among other things Dr. Eaton will devote much of his time to the speeding up of shipbuilding, recruiting
both men and capital for that purpose.
He will also supervise the labor adjustments necessary to increasing the output
in the essential war industries.

Dr. Eaton, who is a Nova Scotian by birth, a graduate of Acadia University and an LL. D. of McMaster University, has won a continental reputation as a man of affairs. He was one of the most ardent supporters of the Allied cause in the United States prior to the entrance of that country into the war. His hosts of friends here believe that he is admirably suited for his new post.

BRUNSWICK CHAPTER

The annual meeting of the Brunswick Chapter, I. O. D. E., was held at the residence of Mrs. C. P. Baker, Managewagon road, on Monday afternoon.
The reports of the various officers were submitted. The treasurer, Mrs. Duval, reported a total of $1,880.83 received and an expenditure of $1,033.45. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mrs. C. P. Baker, hon. regent; Mrs. W. I. Fenton, regent; Mrs.
G. S. Mayes, first vice regent; Mrs. R.
D. Dole, second vice regent; Mrs. J. K.
Scumell, secretary; Mrs. Duval, treasurer; Miss Jennie Clark, assistant secretary; Mrs. John Allingham, Echoes correspondent; Mrs. W. J. Wetmore, standard bearer; Mrs. H. Barton, Miss Tilton, Mrs. Harold Mayes and Mrs.
Lewis, councillors.

FOR NURSERY USE
you cannot take chances on Soap. Four generations of Canadians have enjoyed the creamy, fragrant skin healing
lather of Baby's Own Soap—
the standard in Canada for nursery use, on account of its known purity.

and cats, in excess of requirements for feeding purposes, to make possible the compulsory use generally of flour made from these grains as a partial substitute for wheat in bread-making. This is now evident as a result of a careful survey made throughout Canada by Professor Harcourt, head of the department of chemistry in the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Professor Harcourt has visited all the provinces in Canada and has conferred with departments of agriculture and leading millers and bakers.
His reports have been confirmed by conferences between representatives with the food controller's office, the board of grain
supervisors of Canada, Wheat, Export Company, and millers and others who have made a careful study of the situation.

Substitution Not Sufficient.
The demand from Europe for wheat,
in order to provide the minimum required to maintain the physical efficiency of the armies and civilian populations, is such that by the end of spring there will not be a single pound of wheat or flour
in this continent in excess of what will be absolutely required for home consumption. This situation is indeed serious—the imperative necessity that they eat no more than they absolutely need.
Substitution alone will not save the situation, although substitution should be practised to the greatest possible extent.
By rigorous conservation measures, consumption of food has been greatly reduced in all the countries of Europe.
The Canadian people, too, must put their eating on a war basis. We must eat less —especially of bread (and all wheat products), meat, sugar and dairy products.
The ability of the Allied nations to continue the war to a successful conclusion depends upon willingness of the people of this continent to make food sacrifices which may become increasingly severe. The economies which the people at home are called upon to make are no less necessary than the sacrifices by the soldiers in the trenches. The efficiency of the Allied military forces will count for little unless the people at home are prepared to give them support by sharing their food resources with the people overseas, and ensuring that the Allied populations be fed until the next harvest.

Other Grains.
This appeal is made because, after allowance for feed required for live stock, Canada has no considerable surplus of any other non-exportable foods which may be used generally as substitutes for wheat, meat and dairy products. There are not sufficient supplies of barley, rye

DRASTIC MEASURES

NEEDED TO SAVE SHAD AND LOBSTERS

In answer to Chief Justice Haen, he said that men in the Lunenburg fleet make an average of from $100 to $110 a month. He then explained how the men received a share of the catch. He said the men on the trawlers get paid on a commission basis. He said it is true that captains on Canadian trawlers get more money than those on American trawlers. Canadian captains, he said, are not satisfied unless they make at least $400 a month. With reference to the food given the crews on the ships, they get the best on the market. They buy their fishing gear in the United States. Asked if he thought the American fishing owner was handicapped by being in competition with Canadian fishermen, he said he was sure they were not. He could not see why Americans cannot catch fish just as cheaply as Canadian fishermen. He felt confident that the market in England for fish would continue after the war. He found the markets increasing since the outbreak of the war and this is also due to the propaganda of the government inducing people to eat more fish.

Q-Then the element of character, ability to lead men and the skill of the captains enter largely into the success?

A-They certainly do. Q-Then the best men in the world would not get results if good competent men could not be secured to run them. A-That is true.

In answer to Hon. Mr. Sweet he said he could not see where there would be any great advantage to Canadian fishermen if any agreement was made to remove present restrictions. However, he said, he favored some agreement on an equitable basis which would be permanent.

With reference to the lobster industry Chief Justice Haen asked him a few questions.

Q-There is no question that the lobster industry is a waning industry?

A-That is true. Q-What are your views regarding the lobster industry?

A-Unless some drastic steps are taken the lobster industry will be exterminated. There should be a size limit and the law should be rigidly enforced.

Q-Under existing conditions can people along the southern shore of Nova Scotia send their catch to Boston via Yarmouth?

A-Yes. Q-Supposing the canning industry was abolished what would be the effect on men catching lobsters in a few years?

A-It would prove a benefit to them. Q-You would favor abolition of canning along that coast?

A-I certainly would. I believe it would be one of the most popular pieces of legislation ever enacted with the mass of people.

Q-Would you favor the passing of a law which would prohibit the catching of shad for three or four years?

A-I think a closed season would be the only thing which would save the fish.

Both Hon. Mr. Haen and Hon. Mr. Redfield both thanked Mr. Short for the valuable information he gave to the committee.

Hon. Mr. Redfield then asked Mr. Smith of Gloucester if American fishermen buy their dories in Shelburne, N. S. He said that they did, because they could get them cheaper.

Chief Justice Haen then called upon Mr. Ferguson to answer a few questions regarding the regulations governing the transfer of American ships to Canadian registry.

Transfer of Vessels.

Mr. Ferguson explained why it was difficult for American ships to change their registry from the states to Canada. He said that if a boiler is manufactured in the United States and a ship is seeking to change its registry to Canada, the same pressure, unless it was tested by Lloyd's. He explained that the standard is higher in Canada and this law was not made because of any accident. He acknowledged that it is harder for an American ship to change its registry to Canada, as far as boilers are concerned, is not for Canadian vessels to change their registry to the states.

Hon. Mr. Redfield said that the United States government would not accept any boiler with the makers stamp. He pointed out that there were inspectors stationed at the rolling mills where boiler steel was manufactured. These plates were then stamped by these inspectors. He then read sections of the law governing the manufacture of steel plates used for marine purposes. He said they have a record of every boiler and plate manufactured in the United States.

At the conclusion of the evidence Chief Justice Haen then said that he wished to thank all who kindly attended the sessions. He also expressed his appreciation for the manner in which they published the reports. He said, as elsewhere, he said, the session had been highly satisfactory. The men had shown a broad-mindedness worthy of commendation and had viewed the subject not only from a business, but also a patriotic standpoint. He said that he was pleased to have had Mr. Smith of Gloucester and Fred L. Davis, president of the Board of Trade of Gloucester, present at the session, for they had given valuable information. He said that if any person desired to submit any views on the subject that they should do so in writing and the commission would give them every consideration before making their recommendations to their respective governments. He added that the information already given should lead to drastic and effective measures being taken to protect shad and lobster industry.

KINDNESS BIG PART OF CURE AT THE WOMEN'S PRISON FARM

Some Remarkable Cases of Reform Are Accomplished—Bill of Fare Is Appetizing and Meal Costs Only Six Cents—Short Term Is Drawback, Says Matron

(Toronto Star.)
Dinner at the men's jail farm, followed by tea at the women's institution, was the enjoyable and extremely interesting experience of a Star lady reporter, who had been detailed to visit the new women's building. Not knowing that there were two separate farms, several miles apart, she had alighted at Stop 44, and was more than a little dismayed to be told she was at the men's prison farm. "The women's place is over there," said the driver pointing vaguely with his whip to the distant snow-clad hills. "However, I am taking this sleigh-load of prisoners to our place, and if you want to come along, hop in. There may be someone driving over to the other farm this afternoon."
With a fleeting glance at the car disappearing down the white track, she jumped in and shared the rug with the new prisoners.
The morning spent in looking through the splendidly equipped men's buildings was most interesting—and the dinner which followed—well, it is a wonder there is not a line of applicants waiting to be sent to jail. Potato scrapple, with means three big potatoes, and a very substantial piece of meat covered with brown gravy, a very generous helping of parsnips, bread, tea with sugar and milk, and carrot pudding, was the menu, and such a meal costs the institution only six cents! Everything is grown on the farm and prepared by the inmates themselves.
Taken for a Prisoner.
After the very entertaining morning, a three and a half mile drive in a big very careful handling. Once she loses her own self-respect, no punishment will ever effect a reform. We should be able to have her here with us long enough to build up a new self, and that cannot be done in a few months. When a young girl comes before the judges they say, "Oh, first offence, and they give her only a short term. That is the girl who should be given a punishment—not as punishment, but as an opportunity to come back to decency before she slips further down the path of immorality and loose living. We ought to have her with us until both the girl and ourselves are confident that she can stand on her own feet and resist the lure of her old life and her old associates."

Building Well Equipped.
After visiting the new, splendidly equipped building into which the women will move next week, the Star was given the opportunity of going through the little old farmhouse where the women are now stationed. Certainly conditions will be much better in the new roomy building, as the women are cramped in their present quarters. But everything fairly glitters with cleanliness, from the little cots with their bright blue counterpanes and snowy pillow covers, to the shining utensils on the kitchen cupboard.
The dinner is set on the scrubbed boards, and the little serving maids in starched blue dresses with white kerchiefs, apron, and cap, take turns in waiting on table. One of the aims of the institution is to teach the women economy and thrift, and in the very short time at their disposal to endeavor to give them some one trade to which they can turn when they are released.
The heads of the institution put their whole selves into their work, and take a personal interest in each girl. Kindness is a big part of the treatment.

Have Some Disappointments.
"Though we have many disappointments we have some success, which certainly encourages us to continue our work," said Miss J. A. Carson, the assistant matron, and she told the story of some girls who were sent to the farm last year. They were sent there for being unmanageable, but Miss Carson managed them as with a charm. "At her best time," she said, "I used to go to the fields with them every day. In the heat of the afternoon we would sit under the trees and eat the dainty lunch that would be sent us from the house. Such cozy chats we had, and gradually the girls learned to unfold their secrets and troubles. Then we would go to work with renewed vigor. Those girls, I guarantee, did as much work as so many men. In the evenings we would march back, singing, to the farm house. We pretended that we were college girls just helping at a work, and it used to please them so."
One of this group was an exceptionally pretty girl of about 19. She came to us with her moral nature absolutely depraved. She had been given the longest time anyone can get—two years less a day. By the end of the first year the open, free life here and the treatment she received had so strengthened her that we were able to put her in service as a domestic, under supervision. She is doing wonderfully well and her employers love the girl. She is not allowed out alone, yet, nor is she allowed money. We collect her wages and bank it for her, but every week or so we take her down town and buy what she needs. She sent us her photograph the other day, and we are as one of the dear rewards of our service. She wrote me that she looked back now with horror and loathing on the tragedies in which she had once played a part.
"We have been able to do good work with her, as we have been given time for our seeds to bear fruit. Short terms with the evils of a fine option are the greatest handicaps against which we have to contend. Even yet the magistrates continue to regard the sentence here as punishment and offer the option of a fine and costs. It is reformation we want, and paying a fine can never effect that."

War Flour Makes Good Bread

By The Editor

The FIVE ROSES Cook Book (over 450,000 copies in actual use)

DO NOT hesitate to be the first to bake the new War Flour into Bread. Let it second your patriotic efforts in the conservation of wheat and flour. In our Laboratories, using the same recipe as with the old FIVE ROSES, we produced a loaf from the War Flour possessing all the essential attributes that have made bread the staff of life.

The Test We Made

In appearance, the loaf we made from Government Regulation Flour was quite as appealing as that made from FIVE ROSES flour. It cut very satisfactorily without crumbling; the crust was thin, crackling, and sweet to the palate. The texture slightly more open possibly, but appetizingly fresh and yielding. We have no reason to doubt its keeping qualities. In lightness, flavor and general eating qualities, we can assure all FIVE ROSES users that we were delighted with the results obtained. The complexion of the loaf was naturally more creamy than the old FIVE ROSES loaf, but this in no way affects its nutritive or digestive properties.

So that, in making an early use of the new War Flour, thrifty housewives will be securing equal nutrition at less cost, besides contributing to the increased wheat supplies so sorely needed by our Allies. It is truly no sacrifice to economize with FIVE ROSES milled according to Government Regulation.

FIVE ROSES IN KHAKI.—To conserve wheat so essential to the Allied Cause, your favourite brand is now being milled according to Government Regulations. But the name "FIVE ROSES" which, for over a quarter century, has been a positive assurance of quality is still your protection. Users of "FIVE ROSES Government Grade" Flour are assured of the best available flour under all conditions. Fortunate possessors of the famous FIVE ROSES Cook Book can bake with the new FIVE ROSES with practically no change in their present recipes and in the certainty of excellent baking results.

CLOUDS OF STEEL GUARD LONDON AGAINST GERMAN AIR RAIDERS

American Correspondent Views Great Defences of British Capital From Seat in Battle Plane—Yankee Aviators on Duty There

(Correspondent of The Associated Press)
London, Jan. 4.—Flying at a speed of from 80 to 140 miles an hour and at a height of from 2,000 to 8,000 feet in one of the latest and fastest British battle planes, a correspondent of The Associated Press inspected the outer defences of London on a crisp morning recently.
Few Americans have any adequate idea of the magnitude of these defences and their present high state of efficiency. Millions of pounds have been spent on them and an army is constantly employed in manning and maintaining them.
A motor car took the correspondent to "somewhere in the outskirts of London," where it passed through roads camouflaged by shrubbery to a great aerodrome, one of the finest in England. This aerodrome boasts several German Gothaes at a height of between 11,000 and 12,000 feet.
The best view of things below was had at 5,000 feet. Aerodromes with battle planes ever ready for the German raiders could be seen dotting the landscape. Batteries of anti-aircraft guns could be discerned here and there.
The flight around the outer city was made at an average speed of eighty miles an hour, over factories and suburbs, a great arsenal, a famous school and a town best known for its American colony. Up aloft the weather was typical of the New York autumnal day. There was just a hint of frost on the roof tops, which made them show up more plainly than usual through the light mist. All was quiet and peaceful in an area which the presence of the Gothaes would in an instant transform into a battle front, encircled by the barrage from the anti-aircraft guns thousands of feet below.
RECEPTION TO PASTOR.
A reception was given in Knox church last evening to the pastor, Rev. H. C. Fraser and wife. The large Sunday school room was filled to its capacity by the members of the congregation who had assembled to bid welcome to their new pastor. All the other Presbyterian clergymen were invited to attend and many of them were present. Rev. J. A. MacKeigan of St. David's church, Rev. F. S. Dowling of St. Andrew's, Rev. Mr. McLeod of the Courtenay Bay mission were present and delivered addresses of welcome to Mr. Fraser, expressing the good wish of their respective congregations and hoping that his pastoral missions were served by them. The musical programme followed: Voca solo, Mr. Shaw; piano solo, Miss Gilchrist; vocal solo, Miss Grant; vocal solo, Mr. Stenhouse; quartette, Mrs. Goddard, Miss McArthur, Mr. Dunn and conclusion of the programme refresh-

NOVELIST DEFEATS ENGLISH BISHOP

Sir Conan Doyle's Plea for Hatred of Germans A Necessary Weapon

Urges Propaganda of Reasons for Hatred as Greatest Incentive to Vigorous Prosecution of the War

One thing we need is to hate the Germans more; if we hate them more we shall be able to kill more of them. Another thing we need is to explain to the Germans that we do hate them, and tell them why. Then they will fall in with our ideas and we shall be able to further our original project of slaughtering them. In the opinion of Arthur Conan Doyle, the greatest of our story-tellers, the only way to win the war is to hate the Germans more. He says that the British people are neglecting a powerful weapon in their war against Germany. That weapon is hatred. And we have to say of Doyle that he is not a British civilian entitled to be heard with more respect when he speaks about Germany. Some years ago he was of opinion that the ill-feeling between Britain and Germany had been artificially fostered. He joined an association to promote better understanding. He went to Germany in pursuance of his conscientious efforts to dispel misunderstanding. He returned and sounded the alarm. He warned the British people that if they did not heed the warning it contained they were insane. He resigned from the association to produce an entente between Germany and Great Britain. If there is a stout British patriot anywhere it is Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Credulity to Prisoners. In a letter to the London Times not long ago he told of having talked with a British officer who had been a German prisoner, and who described to him the insults, the injuries that the Germans inflicted upon their prisoners. When the prisoners were almost starving the Germans wheeled up a soup cauldron and displayed it between the bars to mock their misery. The civilians attacked them, despite the general remonstrances of the guards, and there was not a man, wounded or not wounded, who was not kicked by the German mob. "And," says Conan Doyle, "when a German flyer is caught red handed with his apparatus ready for the murder of the civilians of London, hurry him away that he may have a hot supper." He points out that from the beginning of the war the German authorities have recognized the military value of inciting in the Germans, soldiers and civilians, a hatred for their enemies. The Germans before this war had no good reason for hating the British. Nevertheless, they fought better because they did hate. The British have now the reason for hating the Germans. If they knew all the reasons they had they would fight more desperately, the civilian population would be more resigned to inconvenience and hardship; the war would be waged more determinedly. Therefore, why should not the British people be told the truth about German cruelties and abominations? To tell the truth in Blue Books does not serve the purpose. People do not read blue books. To distribute pamphlets would not achieve the end aimed at for the same reason. Doyle advocated the preparation of innumerable placards, and a statement, not drawn up in official language, but "humanly moving," which should be circulated in all parts of the British Empire where there is any likelihood of success. He said that the war is a war of nerves, and that the British people, with the South of Ireland and certain Scotch and English industrial centres—telling just what the Germans have done, and giving the names of the British witnesses and victims of their acts. He believes that the result would be great. He says that the scheme depends upon the proper circulation of the placards, and that therefore private organizations could not carry it through. The last was made in response to the flood of offers of money if he would undertake to prepare the indictment himself.

A Bishop Objects. Many letters were received by the Times in response to Doyle's suggestion. Eden Phillips, who stands with Doyle as one of the greatest of story-tellers, heartily supported the notion, and desired to contribute to a fund. Mr. Justice Eve also held the idea with enthusiasm, offered to contribute, and suggested that the proposed placards should be carried on among the pacifists and those who say "We are not fighting the German people," specimens of which breed are not wholly free from in Canada. Among those who dissented from Doyle's proposal was the Bishop of Winchester. He protested against the "Gospel of Hate," and said that if we condemned things the Germans had done, how could we conscientiously approve, imitating them, when it seemed to our advantage to do so? He urged that our cause is just, and that right will ultimately prevail; and that we ought not to compromise it by doing evil. He reprimanded Sir Arthur for not making the necessary distinction between the sin and the sinner, as Christ bade us do.

Doyle replied bluntly that it was useless to quote Christ while carrying on a war, that if we followed literally His counsel we should have "turned the other cheek to Germany," and the Hohenzollern would now be lord of the world. For his part he refused to see the metaphysical distinction between hating the sin and hating the sinner. When he saw a German kicking a wounded British officer he did not hate the kicking, he hated the German. If we had followed the idea of not imitating the German methods of carrying on war, we should not now be using poison gas, and should be at a tremendous disadvantage, nor should we be cheering aerial raids on German towns. The sin lies with the man who begins it; his blood is on his own head. There can be no question that the logic of the argument was in favor of Conan Doyle, but whether the British government will adopt his suggestion remains to be seen. It could follow no truer patriot, no man with a better understanding of the common sense of the average man who speaks the English language.

OTTAWA MAY SELL WOOD, BUT NOT COAL

Railway Board Insists Upon City Taking Vote of Ratepayers—Establish Fuel Yard

Two Ottawa Council by-laws providing for the raising of $100,000 for securing an emergency supply of wood for the city were approved by the Ottawa Railway and Municipal Board yesterday. Approval, however, was refused to another by-law calling for an expenditure of $100,000 in establishing a municipal fuel yard. The board stated that the ratepayers of Ottawa were their endorsement of such a proposal. The board of the board present, Chairman McIntyre and Commissioner Ingram, were not in agreement upon the proposal. The mayor maintained that he would not grant approval if after twenty days' interval no serious objection was raised. Mayor Fisher, supported by the whole Board of Control, and the city solicitor, Mr. Proctor, laid the city's request before the board. It was pointed out that a plebiscite had been taken on the question, and the people by an eight to one majority, had favored the establishment of a fuel yard. To take a special vote would not only be a direct verdict of the ratepayers but it was evident by a large majority that they favored the fuel depot, which would cost $8,000 to $10,000. The chairman, however, insisted that while he would not oppose anything in the nature of an emergency measure the proposal was of a more permanent character and he would not endorse it without a vote of the ratepayers. F. F. Hellmuth, K. C., counsel for the coal merchants was opposed to the board making any order regarding the fuel depot, as the ratepayers did approve of it until the views of the Fuel Controller had been secured.

STRONG MAN MUST JOIN. Meleton, N. B., Feb. 5.—George Raymond, the "strong man," who paid his fines amounting to $115 for pocket peddling, was again arrested here today under the Military Service Act. He is a British subject. The police state that Raymond was not legally married to the woman living with him as his wife and therefore he came under the Military Service Act. He was taken before the justices and passed in class A this afternoon and was taken to St. John by Sergeant McLeod and Corporal Brainer. There he will be placed in khaki. It is understood the woman who is called his wife will be sent back to her home in New York state.

FISHERIES TO YIELD LEATHER FOR FOOTWEAR

Interesting Evidence at Yesterday Afternoon Session of the International Commission

At the afternoon session of the International Fisheries Commission, which meeting here, many interesting things were discussed, and some most startling statements were made. J. F. Calder, fishery inspector, that unless drastic remedies were imposed, the lobster and fishery industries would be totally eliminated within a few years. Various remedies were suggested, chief of which was the suggestion of a close season for three years for the shad industry to recover, and a longer season for the lobster fishery. Another interesting feature of the session was the information furnished by Mr. Redfield, secretary of commerce in the United States, regarding the increase in the use of fish in the United States, and also regarding the new commercial use of fish—in the manufacture of leather. He predicted the time would come when fish would be used for the purpose of tanning the skins into leather. There was a large attendance when the fishing was resumed yesterday afternoon. Robert E. Wilson of this city, addressing the committee, expressed the belief that shad fishing should be stopped from the foot of the Reach up to the spawning ground, because it was there that many shad were caught and spawned was destroyed.

Walter P. Leonard, president of the Leonard Fisheries, was in favor of a close season for shad. He favored, too, equal rights for Canadian fishermen in the United States ports and American fishermen in Canadian ports. Regarding the lobster industry he proposed a longer close season to conserve the waning supply.

Mr. Calder, fishery inspector in the Carapobello area, was a most interesting witness. Regarding the lobster industry he predicted that unless drastic steps were taken, the lobster industry would be eliminated within a few years. He suggested an open season from December 15 to April 15 all around, as this would make enforcement of the close season a matter of nine-inch minimum. Asked by Mr. Hazen if prohibition of fishing in the spawning area would bring an improvement, Mr. Calder said it would be an effective measure, but he would not oppose anything in the nature of an emergency measure. Three years ago, he continued, there was a fairly good catch; in 1916 it fell to a very low level, and the situation was not improving. He said that the shad were being caught down in the upper Bay of Fundy. He said that the shad were being caught down in the upper Bay of Fundy. He said that the shad were being caught down in the upper Bay of Fundy.

Replied to Mr. Redfield, Mr. Calder said that the use of fish for leather was greatly since the war began and there was every hope that the extended market. He heartily supported the work of the commission, however, to frame a code of laws that would remove all possible feeling from the two countries. He said he was much interested in the grey fish, believing it to be superior to many other fish in the market. Improving Leather Supply. Mr. Redfield continued to say that fish were being used extensively to increase the leather supply, which had been suffering much from the decrease in number of cattle. He knew of

EXPANSION OF MINERAL INDUSTRY IS ESSENTIAL

Canada pays out more money for imported mineral products than she receives from her mines. The value of the mineral production for the calendar years 1912, 1914 and 1915 was $155,000,000, $128,865,000 and $137,100,000 respectively. The imports of products of the mine and manufactures of mine products for the same years were valued at $239,800,000, $181,575,000 and $146,524,000. As imports also include manufactured, or partly manufactured products, they are much more valuable than the minerals produced. If, however, Canadian minerals were turned into manufactured products in Canada, the present trade balance in minerals would be reversed. It is only fair, though, to point out that Canada is under serious disadvantages in the matter of manufacturing. The relatively small and scattered population makes distribution from points of production to points of consumption both difficult and costly. Similarly, where, for example, coal is essential for reducing ore and for manufacturing, the cost of transportation necessary to bring the two raw products together, bears heavily on manufacture. Copper, zinc and lead are produced principally in western Canada, while the manufacturers and chief markets are in eastern Canada. In spite of these handicaps, a comparison of the figures for imports and those for production shows the opportunity that exists for developing a home market that will increase as the war goes on. Premier Lloyd George in his recent address stated that "economic conditions at the end of the war will be in the highest degree favorable to the expansion of the world's production of raw materials, which will increase the longer the war lasts, and it is inevitable that those countries which have control of raw materials will desire to help themselves and their friends first."

MONTREAL TRAIN BADLY WRECKED; ONE MAY DIE

With more than 100 passengers aboard, three baggage cars and six passenger coaches of the St. John to Montreal express shot off the track at a slight curve in the frosty rails two miles west of Little Magog yesterday afternoon.

The injured were taken to Sherbrooke hospital and most of them are recovering. N. B., badly shaken up; William McBride, 238 St. Catherine street east, Montreal, hand and head badly injured; Jacques Charpentier, commercial traveler, Montreal, suffering from fractured limbs, and at a late hour the doctors did not hold out much hope for his recovery.

The cars rolled down the embankment, which was fortunately low, only the engine and the rear car remained on the track. The severe cold was a source of danger at first as the thermometer registered twenty degrees below. The auxiliary stoves in the cars were soon started and this rendered conditions bearable until help arrived. Mrs. F. B. Carvell was a passenger on the train but escaped uninjured.

WITNESS SAYS BOLO IS LYING

Paris, Feb. 5.—Bolo Pasha, who is on trial before the high court on a charge of treason, lost something of his customary nerve at the close of today's session, when the government's first witness, an expert accountant, M. Doyen, after solemnly turning to the prisoner with the declaration, "All of Bolo's statements are lies; he never recovers the commissions he alleges as the basis of his fortune," handed to the court, receipts, checks and other documents showing that Bolo had received half a million dollars each from the Guaranty Trust Company, of New York, agent of the Deutsche Bank before the war, and the Royal Bank of Canada.

Bolo's face lost the half smile, half sneer, which it had worn all day, and the sensational close of M. Doyen's testimony, and for the first time since the opening of his trial he waived the opportunity to interrogate.

M. Doyen occupied the stand for nearly two hours, detailing slowly and methodically his examination of Bolo's affairs. His testimony was often technical and many who had jammed their way into the building had left when the witness reached the climax.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The majority election at Digby yesterday resulted in the return of Frank W. Nichols. The councillors elected were: W. S. Winchester, H. E. Jones and A. Dillon.

The civic elections at Amherst, N. S., yesterday resulted as follows: Mayor, F. L. Milner; councillors, Harry McLean, Edward W. Knight and Charles D. Shiple.

Two more senators for Alberta have been appointed. They are Edward Michener, leader of the opposition in Alberta, and William J. Harner, deputy minister of railways and telephones. There are still two vacancies in Ontario, one in British Columbia and one in Saskatchewan.

SHOULD PAY ONLY FOR HEAT VALUE IN COAL

Government Would Save Money by Purchasing Coal by Test

It is estimated that the Dominion government burns over $1,000,000 worth of coal yearly, and yet scarcely any of this vast quantity is purchased under rigid, detailed specifications. Private corporations as well as governments in Canada buy coal mainly on its reputation or trade name, rather than under contracts specifying the heating value of the coal, its ash and moisture contents and other characteristics. To get proper value for its money, the consumer must know the heating value of the fuel he purchases.

The United States government spends $8,000,000 annually on coal, all of which, since 1906, has been bought on rigid specifications and subjected to chemical analyses and heating tests. If coal not up to contract is delivered by a contractor, he is paid less than the standard price for it.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—Sir Robert Borden, with probably two or three of his cabinet colleagues, plan to leave for England next May or immediately after the close of the coming session of parliament. The prime minister, as a member of the British war council, will attend a meeting of the council along with representatives of the other overseas dominions. Various questions affecting Canada's cooperation in the war are to be considered. Probably Hon. N. W. Rowell, chairman of the war committee of the cabinet, General Meuburn, minister of militia, and Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration and colonization, will accompany Sir Robert to London.

A conference of representatives of the provincial governments with the federal government will be held in Ottawa on Friday and Saturday of next week. Sir Robert Borden has invited each of the provincial premiers to attend the conference. The object is to discuss various war problems such as land settlement, agricultural production, labor supply and distribution, etc., with a view to securing the utmost possible co-ordination and co-operation in administrative and legislative work dealing with war problems.

Must Share Food With The Masses

All Petrograd First-class Restaurants to be Closed—General Dining Halls

Petrograd, Feb. 6.—The Moscow Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies has declared the German peace proposals unacceptable, and has suggested that the Council of National Commissioners organize a Socialist army to fight against German imperialism.

Representatives of 40 regiments of Don Cossacks addressed the Congress of 700-800 delegates, promising to exchange grain in exchange for cloth, nails, implements and other manufactured products. They said that the enemies of Gen. Denikin were now in control of the Don basin, and that a great coal supply was ready to be moved toward Petrograd.

The Petrograd Soviet held a meeting to discuss the food supply, at which Madame Smith-Falkner, a member of the food control committee, said that preparations were being made to prevent the fight for food from becoming a battle. The food commissioner announced that all first and second-class restaurants would be closed, and general dining-rooms opened, where the bourgeoisie must share the food with the masses.

Locomotives are being dispatched to gather food trains, wherever available the commissioner continued.

PITTSBURGH GIRLS FOLLOW LURE OF THE KHAKI UNIFORM TO TORONTO

(Toronto Star). "Come over to Canada and we'll marry you," said three young men from R. F. C. to three pretty Pittsburgh maidens at a military hockey match in the American town. And the girls came. Vilma Jager, Mary Matthews and Le Adler—none of them quite 19 yet. No prospective husbands awaited the last night at the Union station, on some policemen who promptly took them to the military hospital.

According to their own story, they were all stenographers, and had saved $150 among them to pay the expenses of their journey. Now they have only $5 left. To these disappointed ones, a group was a new twist. In the women court today they were righteously indignant at their detention; so indignant, indeed, that one of them drew a gun which brushed her coat where a policeman had touched it. All three were remanded to be deported.

Franklyn Farnum in

"A STORMY KNIGHT"

(Bluebird Five Reel Feature)

This Bluebird production is the attraction for tonight and Thursday. Franklyn Farnum and Brownie Vernon are co-stars. These two Bluebird stars who have been seen to advantage in some of the best productions released by this company, are seen in a detective story which will keep you "guessing" from the flash of the first scene to the last. In his cabin in the woods, John Winton is surprised one night by the appearance of a young girl seeking shelter from a storm. John did not know it, but his father and the girl's father who had been chums from boyhood, had set upon a plan to bring about a marriage between their son and daughter. The girl was appraised of the fact but the son was kept in ignorance, and because he did not know that it was all a scheme, he was led into a series of adventures which when told on the screen furnish rare entertainment. In this production you will see reproduced on the screen scenes of electric storm that will startle you because of their realistic appearance. There is a certain quality of suspense kept throughout the run of this picture that holds and holds tight. The manner in which young Winton is led into the net set by his father for the purpose of having his son settle down and make something of himself, is cleverly done. The mystery element predominates. There are nice bits of comedy injected and Mr. Farnum and Miss Vernon are given every chance to furnish the brand of entertainment of which, they alone, are capable.

LOCAL NEWS

A meeting of the Provincial Red Cross Society is being held in the mayor's office this afternoon.

FREDERICTON CURLERS HERE.
Six rinks of curlers from Fredericton arrived in the city this morning and will play the Thistles this afternoon and this evening. They are staying at the Dufferin.

TRAINS AGAIN LATE.
All trains due to arrive in the city today are very late owing to the condition of the roads, caused by the storm and frost of yesterday. The Montreal is reported six hours late and the Boston three hours late.

FOR POOR CHILDREN.
A meeting of the Comfort Circle of the King's Daughters was held at the Guild yesterday afternoon and several new members were elected. A solo was given by the president, Mrs. A. P. Crockett. It was decided to continue work for the poor children of the city.

THINKS FLEMING SAFE.
Fredericton Mail: The St. John Times calls upon the Conservatives of New Brunswick to repudiate J. K. Fleming, co-president. It rather looks at this stage as if the call was likely to go unheeded. Mr. Fleming is strong on scripture, and if he decides to stand pat and call upon the Conservative politician without sin to cast the first stone, he will not need to lose any sleep over the result.

HAZEN A. WHIPPLE.
Many will learn with regret of the death of Hazen Albert Whipple, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robertson Whipple, Summer street, West St. John, which occurred this morning after an illness of sixteen days. He was fourteen years old and was attending the Tower school. He was a very clever lad and was the leader in his class. He was very popular with the boys of his age and was prominent in school activities. Mr. and Mrs. Whipple will have the sincere sympathy of their friends in their bereavement.

POLICE COURT.
Two prisoners charged with being drunk on the streets last night were remanded at this morning's police court. John Collins, a soldier, was charged with being drunk and also having liquor in his possession. He was sent below. A serious charge against a well-known business man of this city was preferred this morning. He is being held in custody, as is also the wife of a Halifax citizen. B. L. Gerow is appearing for the man and E. S. Ritchie for the woman. After some evidence was taken both were remanded.

THE MAN IN THE STREET

Today the Man-in-the-Street has gone on strike; today he is the man-on-the-street and if he had a reasonable chance he would swap jobs with the man who tends the furnace.

In weather like this he does not pine for a place on the outside page; he wants to be tucked away inside—possibly on the athletic page for other indoor sports.

A Serious Question.
Paragraph in yesterday's paper about a young man riding a bicycle along Mill street neglected to say whether he was heading towards the provincial asylum or away from it.

Just as the weather is at its worst and the former poet felt that life would not be worth living without a drop of something to warm him up—along comes the provincial analyst with the statement that favoring extracts contain forty-four per cent. of alcohol. And now the cook is wondering where on earth those bottles of extracts could have gone.

At the Soda Fountain.
Customer—"I'll take vanilla."
Wise clerk—"Yes, sir; soda water or extract?"

When informed that there will be no food in Germany by May, Hindenburg announces that he will be in Paris by April. He must have heard how well the Allies treat their prisoners of war.

Does the field marshal expect to be looked by that time or will he head for Paris crying "Kamurai?"

Honesty Demands This.
No, dear reader, the Man-on-the-Street appreciates the compliment but that little cut at the head of this column last week was not intended for a portrait of him. Neither the dandy clothes, the graceful gestures nor the appealing attitude are part of his stock in trade. Someone put that over on him when he was not looking.

While they are at it, the fisheries commission might endeavor to ascertain whether the fish have any preference regarding the nationality of their captors or the port for which they are headed.

We may wait a few days for the auditor's report on the power report, but we will admit that the hesitation to publish it has rather stimulated our curiosity.

We cannot imagine, without convincing evidence to the contrary, that the public-spirited members of the company have anything to conceal from the public.

The whole civilized world will be sorry to hear about that attempt to throw a bomb at the Kaiser's palace—chief regrets being that the attempt failed.

It is understood that the proposal to use sharks' skins for shoe leather does not mean that the food profiteers are to be skinned alive; it is the other kind of sharks.

If there is any warmth in the rays emanating from the Sunshine Club, now is the time to turn on the heat.

LOYALIST CHAPTER ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual meeting of Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E., was held last evening at the home of Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong, Queen Square. The regent, Mrs. E. A. Smith, was in the chair. After the reports of the various officers were submitted the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Regent, Mrs. E. A. Smith; first vice-regent, Mrs. J. P. Fraser; second vice-regent, Mrs. F. S. White; secretary, Mrs. F. J. G. Knowlton; assistant secretary, Mrs. F. C. McNeill; "Elohim" secretary, Mrs. Daniel Mullin; educational secretary, Miss Ethel Jarvis; treasurer, Mrs. R. H. Anderson; standard bearer, Mrs. John E. Moore. Five of a council were elected as follows: Mrs. Arthur Bowman, Mrs. C. Allen, Mrs. T. E. F. Armstrong, Mrs. A. E. Crockett and Mrs. A. P. Barnhill; Mrs. Fred Peters was elected convener of the wool committee, Mrs. David Fildgen convener of the military entertainment committee, and Mrs. Fraser, convener of the military hospital committee.

FIFTEEN BELOW BUT NOW BECOMING WARMER

Since the early morning the thermometer has been steadily rising and at one o'clock the temperature was only five degrees below zero. Early this morning it was fourteen below, at nine a.m. twelve below, at noon six below. The report from the meteorological observatory is that warmer weather may be expected and that the indications show the very cold wave to have passed. It is expected that there will be a little snow before night.

REV. DR. NEILL AND BISHOP RICHARDSON'S MISSION TO FRANCE

Canadian Headquarters in France, Feb. 6.—(By W. W. Wilson, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press).—Rev. Dr. Neill, moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly of Canada, and Bishop Richardson, of Fredericton, representing the Canadian house of bishops, have been distinguished visitors at Canadian headquarters, where they have met the chaplains of all denominations in a general meeting to discuss ways and means of securing closer co-operation between the churches at home and the chaplains on the firing line. Bishop Richardson would make no statement to the Canadian Press correspondent on the measures that will probably be taken to secure such co-operation, but he expressed high appreciation of the work of the chaplains and admiration for the splendid morale of the Canadian forces.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO JOHN L. SULLIVAN

Boston, Feb. 6.—Final tribute to John L. Sullivan was paid today when his body was buried in Calvary cemetery. Crowds lined the snow-filled streets as the casket was borne from the home of Sullivan's sister, Mrs. Annie Lennon, in the Roxbury district to St. Paul's church, where the funeral mass was celebrated.

Leaders of the temperance movement were there to testify to their regard for the man who boasted that his greatest victory was gained when he conquered drink. Many were there also, whom the former champion had helped in their hour of need, while unimpaired of the bitter cold and demoralized transportation, neighbors who had watched Sullivan set the down to country life journeyed from his former home in Abington, where he died suddenly of heart disease last Saturday. Nor did the sporting fraternity forget their once great idol, and they came in numbers from far and near. Requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Fred J. Allen, assistant pastor of St. Paul's church.
