WON'T FORCE G. T. P. TO USE ELECTRICITY AS THEIR MOTIVE POWER FOR RAILS

Mr. Burchill Gives Notice in Legislature of Motion Calculated to Protect New Brunswick's Forests—Wants to Take no Chance on Disastrous Fire From an Engine Spark

There is much speculation as to the meaning of the visit of Sir William. He is interested in the Grand Falls lease, but he has been made, however, by the syndicate in which Sir William is interested to have the lease set aside in favor of the syndicate. The present company is understood to have started work. No announcement has as yet been made as to the policy of the government will pursue in connection with the new assessment law, which will likely be introduced tomorrow. There is considerable interest in the provisions of the law here, and because of the advance discussion in the lobby, it is likely to be more minutely examined than such laws generally are.

ICE AT FREDERICTON HAS STARTED TO MOVE

Advices From Up River Points Show River to be Gradually Breaking Up—Governor Tweedie's Ball This Evening—A Fashionable Wedding

Fredericton, April 14.—(Special)—The ice in the St. John river opposite the city made a start at ten o'clock this morning and after shoving about 20 feet against the bridge piers, it seems to be badly honeycombed and incapable of doing much damage. The ice in the main Nashuapituck ran out yesterday and there is now open water for a considerable distance below the railway bridge.

SUPREME COURT

Fredericton, N. B., April 14.—(Special)—The Carleton case was up in the supreme court, F. B. Carvel, K. C., moved for a review of the taxation of costs. The amount asked was $100, and was refused. POLICE COURT

The five individuals who were arrested in the police court this morning were fined by the magistrate in the brief period of three minutes. They were all of one mind, and that was to be intoxicated. A novel phase of this morning's docket was that the entire quartette were men, which is a rarity in the police court. One was taken into custody each hour from 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 10 o'clock last night, with the exception of the case of George Costello, who was arrested at 3 and 4 o'clock; David Ritchie, between 4 and 5 o'clock; George Seidel, between 5 and 6 o'clock; Samuel Lockhart, between 6 and 9 o'clock; and Thomas Byron was arrested between 9 and 10 o'clock. Lockhart, who was charged with intoxication and profane language, was fined $8 or twenty days in the penitentiary, or both.

A warm rain had freed the ice jam from the upper steel arch bridge to Lewiston, and the pack held solid from that point to Lake Ontario. It is feared, tonight, that the river-pack has been sufficiently cleared to care for the thousands of tons of ice going over the falls tonight.

MONTREAL STOCKS

Montreal, April 14.—(Special)—In today's dealings Dominion stock continued the leading feature, advancing to 34 for common and 32 for preferred, but later fell to 32 and 30 respectively. The market in the financial plans of the company is stimulating speculative interests. JUST LIKE CHRISTIANS

An extremely polite and affable gentleman from the Orient requests the Times to publish this statement:—"The Chinese residents of the city express themselves much pleased with Judge Ritchie's decision and with his statement that they will be treated the same way as Christian people. They are very strong in their statement that they have been subjected to annoyance by the policemen, who seem to consider all their social gatherings as illegal. They say that they do not carry on any gambling or drinking at the meetings which they have, but simply gather together to talk over affairs at home and to read the Chinese papers which are subscribed for by some of the residents of the city."

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

A WORLD OF TROUBLE. The Times new reporter dropped into the Standard office last evening in a friendly way, and found everything upset. He stumbled over large type that had been brought out to announce the resignation of the minister of public works, and a summons to Mr. Hazen and Mr. Powell to enter the Foster cabinet. This type had been hurriedly thrown aside in a wild effort to fill up with matter that might be sacrificed if the hoped-for news should arrive at the eleventh hour. The editorial staff was tearing its hair. Ward had come in that the girls were trying to capture City Hall, and that there was a shortage of adherents in the legal department of the paper. The telephone wires were ringing violently, and the young men were answering the calls over a strained and troubled spirit. The new reporter's modestly murmured request for a two-minute interview was greeted with heated remarks—'This is a world of trouble and disappointment.' The editor prevailed the premises, and that it gave a saddened expression to the enlarged photograph of the editor of the Globe, which adorned the wall. The new reporter respectfully withdrew, and on his return to his office wrote the following paragraph:—"The citizens generally will sympathize with the new paper in its failure to deliver the goods. It has the type, and an earnest desire to swat the enemy, but by the time it gets ready the enemy is out of the next bill. This is a world of trouble and disappointment."

A Romance of Modern New York and Paris. By Hudson Douglas.

(Continued) "One high ball," he told the waiter, who had been looking to him as though for confirmation, and Quaintance noticed that he also signed the check for him.

Quaintance closed the book with a bang. The two turned upstairs again and scarcely had they disappeared when Corroyer came in.

"A nice sort of namesake, Steve!" commented O'Ferral, steering his friend toward a quiet corner. "It's probably just as well that—Here's J. J. again! Let's hear what he has to say for himself."

"Well, J. J. ? You're a nice sort of—" Corroyer came forward, his monadic dropped, his face expressing most abject penitence.

"I have put my foot into hot water, right up to the elbow," said he once more, "but I did not know at the first that he was not a gentleman. And so I asked him here to luncheon. And it was not possible then to turn him away from the door. But I have given him the mitt, O'Ferral, as quick as I could."

"All right, all right," responded his mentor. "I'm not complaining. 'Don't do it again, but—since he was here I just want you had kept him a few minutes longer. Qu—er—Newman wanted a few words with him."

"I couldn't help hearing some part of his conversation," said Quaintance. "What was the end of his story about some girl he met in a motor?"

JONAS HORNE, POETICAL TAR, AGAIN BURSTS INTO SONG

(New York Herald.) Tobias Tubb, of East Patheque, reached town on Friday night to see his old mate, Jonas Horne, of the barkentine Belle White, which lies snug in New-down Creek, while they fix their braces right. Horne lost no time in showing Tubb to certain friends at a certain

"For downright maiden modesty," said Horne, "Tubb takes color, the man on that peg leg of his has a heart not known to quake, and that, although he's gone through things that might make a devil stake. We call him 'Peg Leg' Toby—I'd be proud to wear that leg. I'd have met a most untimely fate it wasn't for that peg."

"This happened back in 'fifty-three. We sailed for Gardner's Isle. Long Island Sound—you know the place—and anchored for a while right in a dove close to the shore, and after midnight grub the whole crew lay to look for gold excepting me and Toby."

"The stayed to stand the watch on ship, and then we fell asleep. The next I knew I heard a creak and saw Toby make a leap and crack a grinning pirate's skull that peeped above the side. Then while a dozen men snarled up he grabbed me quick, and cried—

The Evening Times

The St. John Evening Times is published at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

These papers advocate: British Connection, Honesty in Public Life, Measures for the Material Progress and Moral Advancement of our Great Dominion.

AN HONORED PRESIDENT: There is one republic whose president does not need to envy kings or emperors. It is stated that President Diaz of Mexico is practically sure to succeed himself in the presidency, as he has done for over thirty years.

DISGRACEFUL TACTICS: The gross unfairness of the Central Railway Commission in its treatment of Hon. Dr. Pugsley is followed by similar treatment of the minister by the St. John Standard.

It is a controversy that cannot be settled in the columns of newspapers. Fortunately the commissioners recommend that Messrs. Tweedie and Pugsley should be proceeded against for a recovery of the $124,000.

It would be unfortunate if the troubles in Turkey should bring about a return to despotic rule.

It is an old and not very wise trick to garble a report for partisan purposes. The whole of the Globe's article is printed on another page of this issue.

Dr. Pugsley has very properly demanded that the evidence be printed with the commission's report. This should have been done without the asking, when the report made such grave charges against public men.

A GOOD BEGINNING: The decision of the liquor license commissioners to visit all premises for which license is asked is greatly to be commended.

As showing how deliberate the misrepresentation was, the following is quoted from Sir Wilfrid Laurier's article: "The Hon. Mr. Tweedie, Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, to confer with me upon the decision to be taken about the supposed scandal of the Central railway."

The statement was made out of whole cloth. Governor Tweedie stated today that not only was he not out of the province but he had had no communication with Sir Wilfrid Laurier or Hon. Mr. Pugsley since he met Mr. Pugsley here on Thursday last.

Two Norwegians, destined for the United States, landed from the Virginian on Friday last at Halifax. They were about 23 years old. DEATH OF SON OF SIR ALEX. LACOSTE

He was Well Known Inventor and Had Been for Ten Years Working on a Ship's Brake working on this invention for ten years, and recently one was successfully tried on the Canadian government steamer Eureka. A company was then formed to exploit the brake, and the United States government consented that one should be attached to the United States battleship Indiana.

This brake is now completed at the Cramp's shipyard, Philadelphia (Pa.), and it will be tried on the battleship next month. Mr. Lacoste was thus deprived of the opportunity to witness the expected success of his life work.

HE KNEW HIM.

DEATH OF MRS. McLAUCHLAN WAS DUE TO NATURAL CAUSES

Coroner's Jury Blames no Doctor—Patient's Neglect to Keep Quiet Furnished an Element of Danger—Coroner Berryman Talks Plainly to Jury

"We, the jury empaneled to inquire as to the cause of the death of Mrs. Annie McLauchlan, find from the evidence adduced that she died on the 29th day of March past at her residence, Charlotte street, in the city of St. John, and that her death was due through natural causes, accelerated by failure on the part of the deceased herself to carry out in their entirety the directions of her medical advisors."

This was the verdict returned by the jury last evening, after half an hour's deliberation in the inquest into the death of Mrs. Annie McLauchlan. The enquiry, which had extended over five sessions, created great interest, ladies in particular attending in large numbers. The final session last evening, which was held at 8 o'clock, in the smaller court room, was no exception to the others. The room was crowded. One lady brought a camp stool and shared this somewhat limited accommodation with a friend.

Dr. H. L. Spangler arrived early. When the verdict was given there was no demonstration. Coroner D. E. Berryman summed up the evidence in an address lasting forty minutes. Dr. A. W. MacRae, K. C., representative of the crown, and U. G. Teed and P. P. Raymond appeared for Dr. Spangler. H. A. Powell, K. C., who had watched the case for the Medical Council, was not present.

Before beginning his address the coroner said if anyone could give further evidence of importance he would be willing to hear it. Dr. MacRae and Mr. Teed replied that they had no witnesses.

The coroner in his opening remarks to the jury related the circumstances which led up to the enquiry, referring to the visit of Dr. Murray MacLaren, president of the Medical Council, and to the desire for an official investigation expressed by the medical men who had attended the patient. "I felt," continued the coroner, "that I ought to strengthen my hands by interviewing the attorney general and if he felt an enquiry was not warranted I was prepared to be dictated to by what he thought proper. The attorney general was neutral. He said 'it depends upon you as coroner. I will neither oppose an enquiry nor order one to be held.' It, therefore, devolved upon me to decide. I obtained all the information I could. I had an autopsy made, and I may say, gentlemen, the result influenced me in no way as corroborated the statements of the medical men, I made a point to have the jury selected from good citizens. All you have to do, gentlemen, is to say how, when and by what means Mrs. McLauchlan came to her death."

The coroner then referred to Dr. Emery having diagnosed the case as phlebitis and to his having given the patient positive orders to take absolute rest in bed. He said that there was no evidence suggesting the propriety of bandaging the limb or putting it in a splint so that it could not be moved and so as to prevent the patient from getting out of bed if she so wished. He drew attention to the patient having in a polite way dismissed Dr. Emery on the following day, and to his being summoned again in an emergency on March 28. He detailed the treatment given and spoke of Dr. Walker being summoned to divide the responsibility.

The patient, he said, sank and died that night. He commented upon the circumstances which led to Dr. Emery recalling the death certificate which stated that the patient died of embolism and said he regarded it as prima facie evidence that something was wrong.

Turning to a consideration of the testimony given by Dr. Spangler, the coroner referred in passing to nearly every state in the union having recognized osteopathy. He went on to speak of the visits of the patient on Feb. 4, 5 and 6 and to the doctor, who visited her on Feb. 12, having stated that he treated her until March 12, and to his diagnosis. Dr. Spangler, he said, admitted that the patient had phlebitis, but had stated that he did not order her to go to bed and she did not comply with the request. "About March 12," continued the coroner, "Dr. Spangler said he considered it desirable that a medical man should be called, and agreed to Dr. Emery. He stated without a tremor that he was in attendance on Mrs. McLauchlan from March 12 to March 28 and that she never received any treatment. He considered the case had been handed over to Dr. Emery and that he was treating her right along."

The coroner then briefly reviewed the evidence of other witnesses which, he said, was to the effect that the patient "constantly and repeatedly got up and went about the house."

Dr. Spangler, he continued, admitted allowing the patient to get up as far as to sit up and be in a more comfortable position. He thought in view of the reaction of the post-mortem that the minds of the jury must be satisfied that the diagnosis of Dr. Emery was correct. It was their duty, if they thought the treatment of any of the doctors caused her to lose her life, to say so. If Dr. Emery did not tell those in the patient's house what treatment

An Unbreakable Set of Teeth

There is a class of patients who do not object to paying a fair price for artificial teeth, if they can really secure comfort, usefulness and naturalness.

I have a set of teeth, such as is unobtainable in any other office in this city, to my knowledge. It is out of the ordinary line and unlike the teeth in general use. Its beauty is at once apparent, and it is practically unbreakable.

It will pay those who are desirous of obtaining the best to be had in the dental line, to call and inspect this for themselves.

I will gladly demonstrate the superiority over other plates, even if you have no immediate intention of investing.

At a meeting of the N. B. THE SOCIAL WORK OF ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Closing Exercises of Various Departments Will Be Held This Afternoon—A Good Exhibition of Work

The annual closing exercises in connection with the excellent work being carried on by the ladies of St. John's (Gospel) church will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the school room. The efforts to ameliorate the condition of the poorer children have been carried on in a most successful manner by active committees of workers in St. John's congregation, the ladies co-operating in the work among the girls and the men doing the work among the boys.

In each case they are taught to occupy their minds with something that will be uplifting and also instructed in useful directions. The girls, first at the sewing school are taught to sew, then as they advance in proficiency, to the Girls' Club for the older girls and after leaving to make clothes for themselves, to the cooking school.

The Boys' Club brings the poor boys together on stated evenings of the week for social intercourse, and the playing of games. They are also instructed in physical culture by Mr. Emery and military drill by William Vassie. In this way both boys and girls are kept off the streets at night and their time is occupied in a useful way.

The mothers' meetings from which this work springs, will also have their closing meeting this afternoon. There will be a programme and presentations of prizes to the girls, and an exhibition of work done during the year. The rector, Rev. G. A. Kolbidge will preside, and refreshments will be served.

HE CHANGED HIS MIND

When asked yesterday by a reporter of this paper if the Harrington matter would be dealt with by the school board at last night's meeting, Chairman R. B. Emerson stated that it would not. When further asked if copies of the newspapers commenting on the case had not been filed for the purpose of dealing with the incident, he denied that such had been intended, saying that the board would not interfere in matters of this kind.

It was on the chairman's authority, therefore, that the Times printed the statement in last night's issue. This explanation is necessary because the reports today show not only that the Harrington matter was brought up, but that it was brought up by the chairman himself.
