EXPLOREERS SEEK $500,000,000 BURIED IN A SACRED LAKE.

Rain Alone Needed to Unveil the Marvelous Treasures, the Votive Tributes to an Indian Delay.

LONDON, July 19.—In a small city office situated in London-wall news anxiously awaited from a man who is sitting on the edge of a mountain lake in Colombia, Central America, waiting for rain.

Heavy rain may mean for him and for those in the city office in London-wall, the recovery of treasure worth, so experts say, at least $500,000,000. The hero of the vigil is H. Knowles, managing director in Bogota of Contractors, Limited. The story of the company is one of the most amazing romances of treasure-seeking in history.

The Lake of Guatavita, in Colombia, lies in the basin formed by the cone of an extinct volcano. It stands 9,000 to 10,000 feet above the sea level, and is but a few miles from the thriving little city of Bogota. Many centuries ago it was the Sacred Lake of the Chibchas, a race which the one of the Spanish conquerors numbered over 1,000,000 individuals.

The Chibchas worshiped the "Gilded Man," and devoutly believed that their deity made his home at the bottom of the Lake of Guatavita. Periodically they are declared to have made pilgrimages to the lake, when they cast every imaginable kind of treasure, gold, silver and jewels into the waters with the object of propitiating the "Gilded Man," who, through his army of priests, threatened all kinds of pains and penalties unless the treasure were offered in sufficient quantities.

The story of the Chibchas has many times been investigated by travellers, and all agree in believing that the lake contains untold treasure. Humboldt, the famous traveller and historian, was one of those who estimated its value at $500,000,000.

AN EARLY FAILURE.

Quenda, the Spanish conqueror of the Chibchas, was told the story of the treasure, and succeeded in reducing the water of the lake, then 24 feet deep, to fifteen feet. Then the sides fell in, and all his labor was wasted. Further attempts were abandoned, and the lake remained to a very large extent its former depth.

Where the great Spanish administrator failed, however, Contractors, Limited, a prosaic English company, formed just over six years ago, has determined to succeed.

The syndicate was formed for the purpose of exploiting a concession obtained from the Colombian government to drain the lake and recover for their own uses the treasure believed to be hidden by its waters. Among its directors are R. J. Price, M. P., and the Eastern Director of Norfolk, chairman, and C. J. de Murieta. Its capital was originally $150,000, and was increased to $175,000 in 1903.

After six years of hard work, however, some of those connected with the company are beginning to believe that the "Gilded Man" is still at the bottom of the lake guarding his treasure.

Encouraging finds of isolated gold and silver coins and jeweled goddesses have from time to time supported the tradition of the treasure, but so far the dreams of untold wealth have not materialized.

First the lake was drained. It was not an easy task, for it is some nine miles in length and unfenced difficulties were continually confronting the workers. The most harassing of these was the constant rain, which, winter and summer, hardly ever ceased.

LAKE DRAINED.

At last, however, toward the end of 1902, the welcome news reached London that Mr. Knowles and his staff of engineers and workmen had succeeded in cutting through the basin of the lake, and the water had been drained off successfully. There was great jubilation, and preparations were made for the large consignments of gold, silver and jewels which might be expected to arrive by the next boats.

Unfortunately, however, the water did not only barrier on which the "Gilded Man" has to rely for the safe-keeping of his treasure. The jubilation in London-wall was summarily ended by a cablegram stating that twenty-five feet of solid mud, or some 30,000,000 cubic feet in all, still lay over the treasure seekers and their quest.

But what is 30,000,000 cubic feet of mud when $500,000,000 is at stake? A new engineering feat was decided on—the construction of a great dam across the hole made in the side of the basin, terminating in a shaft through which the mud should be washed and carefully precipitated, so as to secure the gold and silver treasures as they were disturbed from their hiding place of centuries.

The dam was constructed, and with it the cleansing shaft, but while the work was in progress a strange thing had happened. The "Gilded Man" was evidently at work again.

For over three years the explorers had worked in the rain, in such a downpour, indeed, as was unprecedented in Central America. As the water ran from the lake, however, the rain had stopped, and a drought, equally without a parallel in the history of the country set in. For more than two and a half years not a drop of rain had fallen at the scene of the operations, and when the engineers had completed the construction of the dam it was only to find the sun had baked the 30,000,000 cubic feet of mud into the consistency of hard rock.

HIDDEN WEALTH.

Clothing Stolen by Henry Belmont Found Hidden in the Woods.

SOUTH BERWICK, Me., July 19.—Henry Belmont, who was arrested in Lewiston last Tuesday by request of the New Hampshire authorities on account of a burglary in Manchester, and who afterwards confessed that he robbed the clothing store of Beni N. Rowell, in this village, on June 7, was brought here today by Sheriff George O. Athorne, of York. The sheriff took his prisoner to the York woods where Belmont said he had secreted the stolen clothing. Under Belmont's guidance the sheriff found five suits of clothes wrapped in a raincoat, and they were identified later by Rowell. The prisoner will be given a hearing tomorrow.

DISREPUTABLE WOMEN IN THE POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning Cyril Jive, for deserting from the bark Matas was remanded to jail to await the sailing of the vessel on Tuesday next.

Samuel Dayton for being drunk on Union street was fined eight dollars or two months in jail. When arrested the man was in a disgraceful condition with his clothing torn and hanging about her. In court she said she was housemaid and cook for Fanny Wilkes on White street and Panny put her out. Mrs. Wilkes was in court and a stormy session was held between her and the Dayton woman until they were stopped by the court sergeant.

One man fined in the King square at midnight was fined $4 or ten days in jail.

James Sullivan, reported for keeping a ferocious dog promised to have the animal destroyed. He said that the dog was a St. Bernard and was named Charles Loss, the Dane, charged with stealing twenty dollars from a companion pleaded guilty and was remanded.

YOUNG FRENCHMAN CHARGED WITH STEALING

Edward Lapage, a stylish young Frenchman, was arrested this morning on the charge of stealing $22 from a boarding house companion. The money was in a tin cash box, and is charged with the theft of the money.

The detective discovered the broken box but not the money. Lapage was remanded to jail, and the case will be heard on Monday morning next.

H. K. T. BARTSCH DEAD.

The death occurred between 9 and 10 this morning at his home, 128 Charlotte street, of H. K. T. Bartsch, a well known resident of this city and leaves, beside a wife and two children, a large circle of friends. He was 32 years of age, and for the past 24 years has been engaged as a clerk in the office of D. C. Clinch, on Prince William street. He was engaged with Mr. Clinch during the first year of his business as a banker and has remained with him ever since, proving himself a steady, faithful and most capable employee. Mr. Bartsch was taken ill some time past, but continued to work up till Saturday last. On Sunday he took an ill turn, when Dr. Aday was summoned, and attended him until his death. His disease is known as valvular heart trouble.

The first day's sales at the great midsummer sale of the Union Clothing Co. was remarkable—everybody seemed more than satisfied with their purchases. The firm urge people to be on hand early today as big crowds are expected to attend this great sale.

Engineers sat down and wept. The rock-like substance still lies as an impenetrable bomb-proof lid over the golden coins and the silver dishes and ornaments, to say nothing of the jeweled goddesses and their glittering handmaidens.

A few natives in the region, remnants the great race of Chibchas, occasionally visit the scene and smile cheerfully at the downcast Englishmen. "It is all the work of the 'Gilded Man,'" who is watching over his treasure mountain," they say, and they plainly hint that when the rain comes—if ever it does come—to soften the mud, some other obstacle will defeat the desire of the treasure seekers.

Letter after letter from Mr. Knowles to the little office in the city delictedly refers to the determined opposition has placed in his way. "I regret to say rain absolutely refuses to fall here," he wrote in one of his letters. "This is all the more heartrending as it falls round me. I have been here hoping against hope, hearing the thunder and seeing the storm pass us by, which is an awful trial, as you can imagine."

"We really ought to get all the water we want in May," he wrote again; "but nobody can guarantee this."

So far his pessimism has been justified. The "Gilded Man" is taking care of his own.

TAKE MAGIC POWDER AND SEE THE DEAD

Extraordinary Visions Witnessed by Three Friends in Ruined English Abbey

Phantom Bishop Heads Procession to Throne in Transept of Old Edifice.

LONDON, July 19.—Three friends staying at Whitty have had an extraordinary experience. They saw in broad daylight a procession of mediaeval monks and nuns, headed by a bishop in full canonicals, wind slowly through the ruins of Whitty Abbey.

One of the party recently received from India a packet of powder, said to have mysterious psychical powers. He experimented with it, and saw visions of the dead. The Whitty vision also followed after taking some of this powder.

The three friends each took some of it, and almost immediately one of them heard the words: "Go to the south transept," another receiving the instructions: "At the abbey tomorrow as soon as possible."

The following extract from a letter written by one of the experimenters to Light describes what they saw at the abbey:

"We entered the abbey just at midnight, and went into the ruined south transept, and stood facing the east. One of my friends at once saw a long procession of brown-clad and cowed monks, and smelt incense very distinctly.

PHANTOM BISHOP.

"Following these monks I saw several white-robed priests, followed by the bishop in full canonicals and wearing his mitre. He was conducted to a sort of throne, placed in a line being with its back to the altar.

"When he was seated, several nuns in white habits appeared, and the bishop, who was wearing a white head-dress, her hands were crossed on her breast. I could not remember the date, but the vision was as clear as day, and I felt as if she had nothing to do with the ceremony, but was merely to fix the approximate date by her head-dress.

"As we left the abbey my other friend saw dotted about in the grounds—where several very material coins were feeding—more monks, who were walking about, evidently engaged in contemplation or prayer.

"We, none of us, heard any names, but I should know that bishop again anywhere if he ever saw fit to repeat."

TRANCE DREAMS.

Miss Annie Sansome, of Nottingham, a well known psychic, has also experienced with the powder. In the following letter to Light, she describes its effect on her.

"I seemed to go into a dazed condition, and the room and articles around me went dim. Then I found myself in a large city, in a great crowd of people, and the thought came to me 'This is London.' Then the vision changed, and I saw the spirit forms of a little boy and girl, wreaths of the street, first in rags and tatters, then in beautiful spirit robes, showing that, though poor on the earth, they were rich in the spirit world; that was the impression I received.

"Then I saw my brother's wife, who had died some time ago, and heard her name, 'Lizzie,' breathed quite audibly. I got the picture of a coffin and of a death to occur in the future, particulars of which I shall send you later if it happens as I saw it in vision.

"My mother also tried the powder, but did not get any results. It only appears to act on those who feel some psychic development. I did not feel any injurious effects from it, but a nice, soothing feeling that seems very much like the trance state."

ROOSEVELT HYSTERICAL IN PACKING EXPOSURES

Says a New York Lawyer, a Witness Before the Pure Food Convention.

HARTFORD, Conn., July 19.—Criticism of the methods pursued by President Roosevelt in connection with the convention of the packers by Frank S. Thurber, a New York lawyer, formerly a manufacturer, was the chief feature of this afternoon's session of the national pure food convention. He characterized as hysterical the publicity given to the reports concerning the packing houses by the President. He did not see why the President should have ignored his official reports and turned the matter over to "social settlement men" to decide.

A motion was later passed unanimously disapproving the sentiments expressed against President Roosevelt.

WHITE SLAVE DEALER GETS ONE YEAR'S JAIL

Harry Rothgerber Sentenced in London—He Had Led Many Girls to Their Death.

LONDON, July 19.—Harry Rothgerber has just been sentenced to one year's imprisonment by Judge McConnell for stealing a diamond ring from a London jeweler. The statements concerning the ring did not, however, attract as much attention as did the statements of Detective Sergeant Bisset, who appeared in court and read the following records regarding Rothgerber:

Deeds of a white slave trafficker. Long ago the Berlin police were looking for a certain Harry Rothgerber, from Cincinnati, who called himself a commercial traveler. In fact, however, he was an international fraud, and carrying on the white slave traffic. He was arrested on September 15, 1902, at the Potsdam Station, in Berlin. Rothgerber undertook to attract girls of better education and persuaded them to follow him to different foreign countries, where he sold them to people. In some cases he left his victims in London, Brussels, and different other towns in the United States, after which he returned to the Continent to find new ones. Some of the girls were assisted home by the Consulats. Many others perished in foreign countries. Some months ago the Criminal Investigation Department found out that Rothgerber was living under a false name with a titled lady at Charlottenburg, but he left after taking his lady's jewelry away. After his flight the lady found out that Rothgerber had obtained goods under false pretences in her name, and sold them again for cash. For similar offences he was wanted by the Hanover police. He was seen at the Potsdam Station, and was accompanied by a well-dressed and good looking girl, and was about to buy tickets for himself and her to Brussels. Officers who knew him arrested him.

The circus people also carry every convenience with them. There is the dining tent divided into three different sections, and where everything is as nice as could be found in the best restaurant. A barber shop is also seen on the grounds. Other tents are private offices, and one for the newspapermen. The animals of the show are a beautiful looking lot. The horses appear as intelligent as some human beings while the other animals seem to know exactly what is going on. One thing which is raised about this circus is the crowd of cheap fakirs who generally follow shows of this kind.

Among the animals of the show there are four giraffes valued at $65,000. In the menagerie there are 216 rare animals. There are twenty-four performing elephants, and a total of 650 horses. The show has 1065 employees and is run at a daily expense of $7,500.

CLOWNS.

In a hurry, but at the same time all the work was done in a remarkably short time.

When the circus posters stated, as usual, that the greatest show on earth was coming, it seemed to be hard to realize that it was really the biggest show on earth, but this morning those who visited the grounds could almost believe it as besides the main tent, which is 700 feet long there are four other large tents, any of which is as

NEW YACHT FOR ST. JOHN.

The sloop yacht Vagabond arrived yesterday afternoon. She is the property of Dr. Merrill, Ernest Everett and Horace Brown. She was formerly the Helen of Boston and was bought by the St. John men from Mr. Crocker of Weymouth, Mass.

The vessel is a commodious cruising yacht, 38 feet over all, 11 feet beam, 23 feet on the water line, and is five tons register. She was built in 1903.

She was sailed here by Mr. Matthews, who at one time sailed Irving Lovitt's yacht of Yarmouth. The trip here occupied about a week, the vessel being laid up in Cutten, Me., for two days on account of the heavy fog.

The new sail will carry the colors of the R. K. Y. C., and although she was built chiefly for comfort, is quite speedy, and will make a valuable addition to the fleet.

CIRCUS TICKET PRICES

Chas. Hutchinson, treasurer of Barnum & Bailey, announces the following prices and arrangements for circus tickets: The admission to the show is fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children, but these are not reserved seats, the latter being extra according to location. A grand stand chair costs one dollar, which includes admission; the ordinary reserved seats are seventy-five cents, which also includes admission, and the boxes, seating six people, are nine and twelve dollars, these tickets also including admission. The admission tickets are sold only on the ground when the door is open and not down town, but all other seats excepting the seventy-five cent reserve, viz., grand stand chairs and boxes, can be purchased at the downtown ticket office at regular prices as above stated. These seats will be on sale at J. McMillan's book store. The seventy-five cent tickets are not on sale down town, and like the fifty cent admission seats, can only be had on the grounds at opening hours. The report that the cheapest seat is one dollar is positively wrong, as the admission is only fifty cents and the reserve seats extra, as the above plainly explains.

SICK IN BED; HOUSE ON FIRE

Mrs. Doucet Was Rescued

Just in Time

Was Alone in House and Helpless, When

Exploding Lamp Set Bed on Fire

An exploding lamp caused a fire in Henry Doucet's home, 205 Germain street last night about eight o'clock. Only the prompt action of some of the neighbors prevented a serious ending to the accident.

The falling lamp set fire to a rug on the floor and the blaze quickly spread to the bed on which Mrs. Doucet, who was too ill to move, was lying.

Mrs. Doucet called loudly for help. There was no one else in the house, but some of the neighboring women, hearing the cries, rushed to the aid of the woman in distress. The fire, however, had gained too great a headway to yield to these measures.

The chemical engine arrived promptly, and with a few minutes' work put an end to the conflagration. The damage done to the house was considerable.

Some persons under the stress of excitement ran to a second alarm, and in consequence a large crowd of spectators quickly assembled to see the fire. Their relief at finding there was no great fire seemed to be somewhat tempered by disappointment at missing the spectacle of a big blaze.

DON'T WEAR YOUR WATCHES OUTSIDE

Extra Precautions will be Taken by the Police But They Cannot Watch Everyone

The chief of police intends to take all precautions possible to prevent a repetition of the robberies and petty thieving which followed in the wake of the circus at Portland and other places. The whole police force will be on duty today, night and day men alike, and they will be so generally distributed over the city as to prevent any serious trouble.

The chief will also supply five or six policemen at the request of the circus management to aid in keeping order about the grounds. Special call men also will be at hand at the police stations. The circus people also have a number of Pinkerton men with them to prevent, as far as possible, the operations of pickpockets.

Ladies who are in the habit of wearing watches on the outside of their dresses had better leave them home today, even if they look less opulent. It would also be advisable for people to leave their pockets empty, and not carry with them a great deal more money than they are likely to need.

REWARD OFFERED TO APPREHEND MURDERER

Selectmen of Massachusetts Town Want to Capture Boy's Destroyer

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., July 19.—The selectmen of the town today offered a reward of $250 for information leading to the arrest of the murderer of John Streub, the 12 year old boy whose body was found last Monday in the woods near Housatonic. This action was contemplated several days ago, but was postponed at that time, as the selectmen had reason to think that an arrest would be made very shortly without the incentive of a reward. The developments of the official investigation of the last few days, however, have been of little value, so the decision to announce the reward was reached today.

It is believed that the murder was committed on the morning of Tuesday, July 10. According to relatives of young Streub, he was absent from his home on the Monday night preceding, and the efforts of the detectives today have been directed in part to finding out where the boy spent that night. This part of the investigation is conducted on the theory that the boy was killed by tramps, but the officers do not deny that they are conducting other lines of inquiry pointing in quite another direction.

It was said tonight that there is little likelihood that any arrest will be made until after the inquest is held, and the date of the inquest has not yet been set.

"VERY FEW ESCAPE US"

Alert Work of Police Caused Arrest of Deserting Russian Sailor

Quick work on the part of the police force resulted in the capture of a deserter from the Russian bark Matas last night within an hour of the issuing of instructions for his arrest.

At roll call yesterday morning Chief Clark read the description of Cyril Jive, an eighteen year old sailor, who had been reported by the master for deserting from the Matas, which is lying at Walker's wharf.

Early in the evening Officers McCollom and Ward reported to Sergt. Baxter that a man answering the description was in a bar on Mill street. While watching for this suspect the sergeant noticed a man coming up Smythe street, who resembled more closely the man wanted.

He was arrested and taken to the vessel for identification. The skipper promptly declared him to be the right man, and he was forthwith escorted to the police station.

He will answer to the charge of desertion in court tomorrow morning.

Jimmy Walker, of 2 City Road, whose disappearance was mentioned in this paper on Wednesday last is still absent and his family do not know positively where he is, but they have reason to believe that the boy has been spending intervening time since leaving home at Woodstock, and that he came down yesterday and went out to Moosepath.

UNDERWEAR FOR TINY TODDLERS

4735—The fashionable woman is by no means a blind follower of fashion, but utilizes such good taste and discretion in the clothing of herself and her children as to combine style and practicality in everything. The little maid, between the ages of two and six, is continually on the move and needs to do in a day than older heads could think of in a week. With the present vogue of very short dresses the gathering of drawers tight at the knee is an excellent mode and one widely adopted by up-to-date mothers. This small drawer also pulls up with a string at the waist so that the little maid can not outgrow these garments before they wear out. A narrow embroidery may edge the drawers a ruffle of little value, but the decision to announce the reward was reached today.

NATIONAL SPINNERS' UNION SUPPORT LOCAL OPERATIVES

BOSTON, July 19.—A meeting of the Executive Council of the National Spinners Union, was held in Boston today to discuss the matter of taking action to aid the operatives in those cotton manufacturing districts of New England where wages have not been advanced. All the 15 members of the council were present.

The first business was a passage of a resolution endorsing the action of any district in endeavoring to secure an advance in wages. It was reported that wages had been advanced in nearly all the cotton manufacturing districts of New England where wages have not been advanced.

The Lowell wage schedule was discussed and it was voted to endorse the action of the Lowell spinners and to give them every possible support at the command of the National Union.

NEW TEN-WHEEL ENGINES.

Grand Trunk Railway Purchases Twenty Mammoth Locomotives.

The Grand Trunk Railway System, has recently purchased a number of new ten-wheel engines for passenger service from the Locomotive & Machine Co. of Montreal, and the American Locomotive Co. of Schenectady, ten engines being built at Longue Pointe and ten at Schenectady.

These engines will be distributed to different divisions of the system. They are built after the standard type used on this road, but have simple cylinders, 19 in. diameter x 28 in. stroke, with driving wheels 72 in. diameter, boilers pressure 210 lbs. per square inch. The weight of engine loaded is 155,000 lbs. So far these engines have given excellent service, being placed on trains making very fast time. They are quickly becoming popular with the men on the road, as they will handle an ordinary sized passenger train without any difficulty and keep time.

A RAILWAY TO FORT CHURCHILL
Mackenzie and Mann Said to Be Negotiating With the Dominion Government.

OTTAWA, July 19.—The impression is growing in political and railway circles that Mackenzie and Mann are negotiating with the Dominion for subsidies of land and money to aid them in the immediate construction of a railway to Fort Churchill, on Hudson Bay. The probabilities are that at the next session of Parliament an effort will be made to secure the renewal of the Hudson Bay Railway charter which has expired. The Canadian Northern will have a line built to Cumberland, a short distance from the north-west corner of Lake Winnipeg, by the time the snow flies. From that point to Fort Churchill is only four hundred miles. There have been rumors of a big railway deal in the air for some weeks, and a line to Hudson Bay is probably what is on the tapis.

A believer in the practicality of the Hudson Bay route expresses the belief that a railway to Fort Churchill would be a great thing for the Maritime Provinces, because coal, steel, rails, heavy hardware, etc., could be carried to Fort Churchill from St. John, Halifax and Sydney by steamer, leaving a comparatively short rail haul to the markets of the West.

Band night at the St. Andrew's Roller Rink last evening was another success, a very large crowd being present, including a large number of ladies. The rapid improvement that skaters are making in their skating was very noticeable, the majority making a very successful effort to keep time to the music. There is no more graceful exercise than roller skating, when skated to hand music, and after the beginners get a little more practice they will never want to skate fast. Despite opposition, the rink will be open as usual today, morning, afternoon and evening.

EDUCATION.
Before many years have passed New Brunswick and probably other provinces in Canada will have to face squarely the problem of education. This, by far the most important subject in any system of government, is reaching a stage where sweeping changes, perhaps even amounting to an entire reorganization, must be made. From time to time minor reforms in methods have been introduced, there have been extensions to the curriculum, salaries have been slightly advanced, and the training of teachers has been improved.

Within the past few years modern schools based on modern suggestions have been established, but these are as yet purely experimental. It will in the not distant future be the unavoidable duty of the people of New Brunswick to meet this problem face to face. There are evidences that important reforms must be inaugurated. One point which will perhaps call forth the widest discussion is to what grade should pupils be advanced in free schools. The movement of the age is towards the providing of that education which is most suitable to the children of those who pay the larger portion towards the maintenance of schools. Should the parents of the boy who intends becoming an artisan be compelled to pay for the advanced education of would-be lawyers and doctors? This is not a new problem, it is one of the oldest questions in dispute in the history of education, but it is also one which is coming nearer and nearer to the people of this province who view with something like alarm the steady increase in the annual grants for education. The curriculum must, in a very few years, be materially changed. There are a lot of nice subjects now taught as well as some which are useful. But those which entertain the children for the time being are of the least value in practical life. Others again are foolish, and are poorly presented. Pupils in their studies from at least one text book in this province are taught things which are often far from the truth, or at least which are grossly one-sided.

The problem of teachers' salaries is one which comes home to the government as it is, year after year, more difficult to secure qualified teachers. Educationists view with anxiety the numbers of young men and young women who, giving up the practice of their profession in this province, go to the west, where they have to better their conditions. There will have to be some stronger inducement held out to them to keep them at home, and already this province is contributing most generously to the support of schools.

There are other features which will have to be considered, which bear on the welfare of the young, and upon which the future of the province to a large extent depends. The standard of education must be maintained, and even raised if at all possible, but it cannot be done under the present system without enormous increase in expenditure, and this the province is unable to afford.

ON THE FENCE.
The picture of their leader, Mrs. Parkhurst, frantically endeavoring to shake her skirts free from the spikes on the top of a fence in order to escape the unpleasant attentions of an excited mob, must have appealed to the humorous natures of even the women suffragists of Manchester. But perhaps these people are so terribly in earnest that they could only regard Mrs. Parkhurst's delicate position as an unfortunate incident in a campaign which they are now carrying on. The suffragettes knew that metaphorically their leader was not on the fence, however much she might appear to be at the time, and they had no doubt as to which side she would land on. But it must have been an undignified proceeding to see James Keir Hardie and this woman strenuously "shining" up the pickets, gingerly feeling for footholds between the spikes, and finally landing in some citizen's cucumber bed, whence a few steps away a thoroughly aroused crowd hooted and yelled, threw what Max Twain would call "gobs" of mud, and made unkind remarks. It was at a meeting in Manchester last night, well until Mr. Hardie attempted to speak. The crowd had listened to the women, but Mr. Hardie was too much for them. He had opposed the South African colonists and stood as champion of the rebellious Zulus, and the people did not care to hear him. They charged the platform and carried consternation to the hearts of those determined comers who only a few weeks before had stormed Campbell-Bannerman's house, who held up Mr. Balfour, and who invaded the House of Commons. It was their turn to suffer at the hands of a mob, and no doubt the lesson has done them good.

But only think of Mrs. Parkhurst struggling like death to get over a spiked fence.

REFORMS VIA THE NOVEL
We've had our lighter novels Of the David Harum type, But now the "purpose" fiction 'Twould seem a nearly ripe; With ready fists The fictionists Will trembling corporations swage.

No doubt we'll have a novel That will tell how Gloomy Gus Worked for the sardine canners And found an awful muss; And then it should Be very good— That minnow-slaying octopus.

And then some ready writer, Who hopes his book goes well, The secret of the Glee Trust For royalties will sell; And when 'tis out 'Twill make, no doubt, A terrible, yet pleasing, smell.

And thus 'till novelists grow rich, And all the Trust grow poor; And all the world will benefit From this New Fiction Cure— It seems to me That it will be The golden age of Muckrakers.

THE TELEPHONE GIRL.
Several evenings ago a young man repaired to a telephone office and rang up his sweetheart at her residence. The bell was answered, and the young fellow inquired: "Is that you?"

"Yes, George, dear," came the reply. "Are you alone?" "Yes, darling." "I wish I was down there." "I wish so, too." "If I were there, do you know what I would do with my darling?" "No, George, I don't." "Well, I'd pull her ears till she opened her mouth, and then I'd put a lump of dirt in it. If that didn't answer I'd give her a sound flogging!" came the stalling reply.

And then Estelle faintly. Now they never speak as they pass by, and the man who was talking to his farrier about a balky mare says that anybody who will advise a man to put his arms round the neck of an obstreperous horse, and hug and kiss it, and hold it on his lap, and whisper words of love into its ear ought to be hung to the nearest lamp-post.

LOVE'S SWEET DREAM.
The wind swept a cloud of dust about them as they turned the corner of the street.

"Did you get any dust in your eyes, darling?" he asked, fondly, holding her closely to him, as though to keep the too eager wind away.

"Yes," she murmured, searching for his handkerchief. "Which eye, dearest?" "The right one, love. Did you get anything in yours?" she asked, anxiously, seeing his handkerchief appear.

"Yes, darling." "Which eye, dearest?" "The right one, love." "How sweet!" she exclaimed, with a glad light glowing in her well eyes. "Do you suppose, dearest heart, that it could have been part of the same piece of dust that got in our eyes, darling?"

"I hope it was," he said, beaming with one of his wistful smiles. "Wouldn't it be sweet, dear?" And then he howled round the corner as though it was in pain, and from the house three doors below a dentist's sign fell into the street.

AMBIGUOUS.
Visitor—"You'll be sure to tell Miss Smythe that I called while she was out?" "Maid—" "Oh, yes. She'll be delighted to hear it."

MAKING IT EASY FOR JOHN.
"John," she said, softly, "have you been advising about me to mother lately?" "No," replied John. "Why do you ask?" "Because she said this morning that she believed you were on the eve of proposing to me. Now, I do not wish you to speak to mother when you have anything of that kind to say. Speak to me, and I'll manage the business with mother!" And John said he would.

HIS NATIVE PLACE.
A ship dropped out of the rigging of a sailor of some fifteen or twenty feet, and fell plump on the head of a man who was standing on the deck. "Wretch!" said the officer, after he had gathered himself up, "where did you come from?" "An' sure, I come from the North of Ireland, yer honor!"

EVERLASTING FIRES
IN ROCKY MOUNTAINS
Great Coal Deposits Running From Colorado to Arizona Burning for Ages.

Through a long line of cliffs from Colorado to Central Utah, and then southwest toward Arizona, extensive beds of coal are found, and recent geological investigations into this coal formation of the Far West have developed what may be termed burning mountains, or coal beds, a fire with surface indications of constant combustion for ages past.

Like other coal producing States of the Rocky Mountain region, the coal fields of Utah are somewhat widely separated, and even the known fields have been comparatively little explored; therefore, very little is known of their productive area. The edges of these beds come to the surface in these cliffs nearly one thousand feet above the bordering desert, and in areas past this point the beds to the mountain cliffs until smothered by the accumulations of ashes and covering of superincumbent rocks. In places the heat of this burning coal has been so intense as to melt the rocks. From time to time the fires have gone out in these cliffs but at one point in the canyon of Prince Rupert where the coal is being mined, the rocks are found to be uncomfortably hot and the miners were compelled to retire for fear the fires would again break out.

Other coal fields in the desert west of Green River, at two places near tributaries of Fremont River the coals are burning, and have been without cessation since they were discovered by the earliest explorer. At certain intervals, as the burning of the thick beds progresses, causing convulsions in the earth, the rocks cave in, forming vents for the freer circulation of air. Then the coal burns more fiercely and the heat becomes so intense as to even melt the rocks. The origin of these fires has been the subject of much speculation.

Three explanations are commonly heard among the people—the Mormons who inhabit this particular country where the mountains burn. One explanation is that lightning has by chance struck the edges of these coal beds at various times since these mountains since they were discovered. Another is that forest fires raging in the mountains came in contact with exposed coal. The more thoughtful point out that the forests in this desert region are too sparse for forest fires to occur.

Still another and more common explanation is that the Indians built their camp fires under the protecting ledges of the mountains against the coal, and it was thus ignited. They point to the fact that the ruins of the habitations of cliff dwellers here and that in their day the coals began to burn.

The coal mines in this region seem to be another possible cause for these fires. In the dry mines, and most of them are dry mines, they observe that when a quantity of water is thrown upon a heap of dry coal it spontaneously begins to burn, and if not protected by some subterranean cause, are rent by some spontaneous cause, as sometimes happens, there may be a sudden access of water to the fresh, dry coal, causing spontaneous combustion.

If a few remained in the fortifications at Plectanar it was because the armistice which found them there, was respected. Reports contradicting these facts are false."

CROPS AND FORESTS SAVED.
Tuesday's Downpour of Rain at Quebec Came When Badly Needed.

QUEBEC, July 19.—Yesterday's downpour of rain will mean the saving not only of thousands of dollars' worth of farm products, in the vicinity of Quebec, but of many thousands of dollars in standing timber. The smoke from the forest fires, both on the north and south shore, which has hung over the city during the past few days, has cleared away, and the Richelle Navigation Company, which was obliged to suspend the Saguenay service on account of the dense smoke which overhung that district, resumed the regular service yesterday.

CREATE MINISTER FOR WALES
Surprise Sprung by the British Government Excites Anger of Mr. Balfour.

LONDON, July 19.—The government sprang a surprise in the house of commons yesterday, by proposing, without giving any warning, the creation of a minister for Wales. In the course of the debates on the education bill, Mr. Lloyd-George, president of the board of trade, announced that the government accepted the principle of an opposition amendment aiming to give parliament more control of the proposed Welsh education council, provided a minister and a separate department be established.

Ex-Prime Minister Balfour angrily denounced the casual way the announcement of a great constitutional change was launched in the house. He declared that such an announcement had never been heard in the whole history of parliament, adding: "The way this thing has been thrown at our heads without notice and with-

MONTREAL HARBOR REVENUE INCREASES
Harbor Revenue From Shipping $11,136,136 In Excess of Last Year at This Date.

(Montreal Herald.)
That the business of the port is increasing is shown by the revenue returns submitted to the harbor board by David Seath, the secretary-treasurer.

The statement submitted at an adjourned meeting of the commissioners held under the presidency of Hon. Robert Mackay, yesterday, indicated that the revenue for the month of June, received through the collection of customs, amounted to $82,750.

Of that amount, the imports yielded $12,000; exports, $12,000; and from wharfage, for local traffic, $5,750. The amount previously reported from the opening of navigation is $25,388, making a total of $88,128, as against $74,983 in the corresponding period of last year; or an increase of $13,145.

Of the total received since the opening of navigation, imports have contributed $58,800, as against $52,000 in the corresponding period of last year; exports, $14,750, as compared with $12,000, and local traffic, $13,228, as against $10,483.

Harbor Master McShane reported that from the opening of navigation to the end of June, there had been a decrease of fourteen in the number of sailing vessels arriving in the harbor, as compared with the like period of last year, but there had been an increase of 22,665 tons, and of inland craft there had been an increase of 189 vessels and 108,889 tons.

A conference is to take place at the next meeting of the board between the commissioners and the Anglo-Canadian Cold Storage Exchange representatives regarding facilities at the harbor.

Special provision is made for endowing on a prodigal scale a university, a technical college, and a secondary school on the Secheval estate, between Pretoria and Johannesburg, which is bequeathed to the education department.

The New Brunswick Tourist Association have arranged with Captain Peters of the 62nd to give band concerts in Rockwood park, near the tea house, each Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. PRAYERS BROUGHT RAIN.

Good Offices of Ste. Anne of Varennes.

MONTREAL, July 19.—According to the abiding faith of French Canadians who live in rural parishes of the Province of Quebec the virtues of Ste. Anne as a giver of good things has once more been strikingly demonstrated. Some of this last evidence of her beneficence comes from Varennes, where yesterday a religious procession was organized in the hope of inducing rain to fall after a drought lasting five weeks. In the church of this parish there is a picture of Ste. Anne that is popularly supposed to possess miraculous powers. This image was taken from the walls yesterday, and men, women and children marched after it throughout the parish, chanting and praying for rain. Towards evening clouds began to obscure the sky, and to the great gratification of the whole community there was a refreshing shower. To make the circumstances all the more convincing it is recorded that in the neighboring parish of Boucherville, where no procession was formed, rain failed to appear.

EMPLOYING PRINTERS

SNUB THE UNION

In Reply to Request for a Conference They Say They Have Nothing to Talk About.

BUFFALO, July 19.—The United Typothetae of America today flatly declined to confer with officials of the International Typographical Union in regard to the strike inaugurated nearly a year ago for an eight hour day and the closed shop. President Ellis, of the Typothetae received a letter signed by James M. Lynch, president, and J. W. Hays, vice-president, representing the executive council of the Printers' Union, stating that they were ready for a conference with a view to adjusting the differences that now exist. "Failing in obtaining this conference," the letter read, "the temper of the members of the Typographical Union will demand a continuance of the present struggle."

After this letter had been read this resolution was adopted: "Resolved by the Typothetae of America, that they have nothing on which to confer with representatives of the International Typographical Union, and that Mr. Lynch and Mr. Hays be so informed."

The following officers were elected by acclamation: President, Geo. H. Ellis, Boston; vice-president, Wm. D. Green, New York; treasurer, Thos. E. Donnelly, Chicago; executive committee, A. H. Barnes, Chicago.

STABBED BY HIS SON WITH A PIECE OF GLASS

NEW YORK, July 19.—Conrad Schirmer died tonight in the Harlem Hospital as a result of being stabbed by his 19-year-old son, Conrad, Jr., at the home of his son's sweetheart, Miss C. Lazarus, with a piece of broken glass. The stabbing followed a quarrel arising from the son's attentions to Miss Lazarus. The father was opposed to his son's courting. He refused to make a charge against his son. Young Schirmer is under arrest. BIG PACKING PLANT FOR WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, July 18. — (Special).—This city is to benefit materially from the exposures affecting the Chicago meat packing industries, and definite announcements will be made within a few days. A company backed by Thomas Lipton will establish an immense packing plant here in an effort to capture the trade with Great Britain, which the American scandals have killed.
Sir Thomas Lipton had planned to start a plant in Chicago or some other American centre on a basis capable of successfully competing with Armour, Swift or Cudahy, in the effort to make his brand of tinned meats as popular in England as his tea. Now, this would be impossible, and it is announced here that he had altered his plans, and decided to locate in Winnipeg, keeping his industry over the British flag.

CUDAHY WILL INVADE CANADA.

TORONTO, July 18.—The Cudahy Packing Company of Chicago is going to establish a branch of its big concern at Toronto Junction. It is understood that Cudahy regards this city as a good place to have a Canadian branch in view of the fact that Armour & Co., of Chicago, have a distributing agency in Toronto, and the saving in freight rates and duties, Packing Company, which has an Illinois charter, has been licensed by the Ontario Government to do business in the province of Ontario, but the company's capital in this province must not exceed $40,000. While the Ontario license gives the company permission to purchase and slaughter cattle, hogs and sheep, manufacture and dispose of products, to deal in meat provisions and in the way of that came the following special despatch to the Star from Hamilton, Ont.:
"It is stated here that a considerable amount of foreign capital is going to be invested in industries in this city and vicinity.
"At least two large manufacturing businesses have already been investigated in Hamilton, also one in Toronto, one in Guelph, and another in Paris. No details are available, but a shareholder in the Penman Manufacturing Co. stated that that concern had been definitely sold. It is also stated that large additional mills will be erected, including a cotton mill.
"The name of the syndicate could not be learned, but it is known that D. M. Stewart, the general manager of the Sovereign Bank, has been the medium of the foreign capitalists who are seeking investment in this country.
"It may be said that in every case the selection of the industries shows great judgment, as, without exception, they have all been immensely successful, and it is thought that with the steady growth of the country they will prove good investments for the foreigners."

FOREIGN MILLIONS COMING TO CANADA.

(Montreal Star.)
There was a rumor on the "Street" today that French investors were dicker for more Canadian stocks, and much in line with that came the following special despatch to the Star from Hamilton, Ont.:
"It is stated here that a considerable amount of foreign capital is going to be invested in industries in this city and vicinity.
"At least two large manufacturing businesses have already been investigated in Hamilton, also one in Toronto, one in Guelph, and another in Paris. No details are available, but a shareholder in the Penman Manufacturing Co. stated that that concern had been definitely sold. MONEY OUTLOOK IN CANADA.

In consequence of the outlook for the largest grain yield ever harvested in Canada, the requirements for currency during the movement of the crops will be necessarily on a more extended scale than ever. The note circulation of Canadian banks is restricted to the amount of paid-up capital, but as the banking capital within the past twelve months has been increased over eight millions, bankers will be legally entitled to issue $8,000,000 more currency notes than a year ago.
The maximum note circulation of the banks in Canada last year was in October, when it amounted to $7,464,444. While some of the banks had issued notes, to their full limit, the banks jointly, having a capital of $81,844,000 in October last, had leeway of $5,000,000 to come and go on.
As a rule, the minimum circulation of our banks is in May, and the maximum in October.
The note circulation is greater now than ever before in the summer months, owing to the general activity and prosperous conditions existing, but there appears to be no more apprehension in financial circles as to the ability of bankers furnishing sufficient currency for all purposes the coming autumn.

IT'S "TOO MUCH ROOSEVELT."

That Wall Street is ill—or, at least, complaining of being "all run down"—has been evident for some weeks. Its disease, whatever it may be, is all the more cruel because so mysterious. Wall Street feels that it ought to be in blooming health. Instead of the depressed sensation which it has so frequently suffered of late, it believes that it ought to be buoyant and overtopping with vigor. Nearly every business sign is not merely good, but excellent. General trade is flourishing. Railroad earnings are high. The promise of good crops at high prices is flattering. Under such conditions, the Wall Street barometer ought surely to be set "fair," instead of falling so frequently and alarmingly to "storm."
The puzzling nature of the Stock Exchange ailment has, of course, furnished a glorious opportunity to the financial doctors. They have gathered about the interesting pattern bent making the true diagnosis. But quot mediet, tot sententiae. There are many violent opinions, but no agreement. There is, however, pretty nearly a consensus among the Wall street physicians that, whatever else may have contributed to give the ailing stock market its sense of being "all gone," the chief trouble is too much Roosevelt.—New York Post.

WM. BURKE TRIED TO EMULATE HORATIUS.

Held the Mira Ferry Bridge Against the Alameda.

Grand Narrows bridge and delayed traffic on the I. C. R. for six hours about three years ago, were duplicated on the Mira River last Sunday when the custodian of the Mira Ferry Bridge refused to open the draw to allow a passage to the steamer Alameda, which was bound up the river with a number of passengers for the sacrament at Marion Bridge. Horatius is supposed to have been actuated by patriotism, John McKinnon by a desire to obtain some back pay; but what were the motives of Wm. Burke of the ferry are not known but it is probable that they will be ascertained before long, for the owners of the Alameda kept the steamer at the bridge throughout the day and expressed their intention of billing the local government for damage.

WATER AND SEWERAGE ACTION DEFERRED ON MEETING YESTERDAY.

Final Estimates of McArthur & McVey Expected Soon—More Stenographers Needed to Save Directors' Time

A short session of the water and sewerage board was held yesterday afternoon, the following being present: Mayor Sears, Ald. Willet, Pickett, McGoldrick, Willet, Lockhart, Christie and Bullock, with Engineers Murdoch and Hunter.

Ald. Bullock moved that the committee clerk notify the director of public works when this board undertakes any new project. The two boards were getting out of touch as a result of Director Lockhart no longer attending the meetings of this board. This was carried.

Ald. Lockhart said the departments of public works and of water and sewerage are both a stenographer. Two hours of valuable time is wasted every morning by the directors on account of the lack of a stenographer.

Mayor Sears said that the reason he called the meeting was to discuss several matters connected with the new water system soon to be in working order. He said that he had had a conversation with Mrs. Sterling Barker and others whose sewage empties into Loch Lennox. He asked that power to settle the matter be given to the recorder and the mayor. The matter requires immediate attention.

Ald. Lockhart moved that the claims committee be authorized to make a settlement in the matter. This was carried.

Ald. McGoldrick asked about the sewer on the premises of Mrs. Wilson, Paradise Row, which is in a bad condition.

Director Murdoch said the department would begin on the work next Monday.

Ald. Pickett said that a catch basin was probably necessary on City Road, near Stanley street, and another was needed on McFleasney near the residence of Dr. A. A. Stockton. He moved that the director and chairman have power to put in the catch basins if necessary.

Mayor Sears said that the final estimates on McArthur and McVey sections are expected immediately.

The committee then adjourned. A meeting of the claims committee to deal with the Barker House matter has been called by his worship for Monday next.

C. P. R.'s APPLICATION

The Price Suggested for the Property Desired by the Company Is Between $20,000 & $25,000

The committee appointed to look into the proposal of the C. P. R. to lay tracks and make improvements in the year of Protection street, met yesterday afternoon and considered the matter and inspected the plans which have been drawn up. Of the committee only his worship, with Ald. Willet and Lockhart were present. A number of other aldermen, however, were in the mayor's office and their opinion was heard.

The committee, however, did not decide upon anything definite and will meet again. The feeling was expressed that the situation was so bound up with nationalization that the city should be careful in making any disposal of its rights in this question.

The price suggested for the property was between $20,000 and $25,000.

The mayor read a communication from the minister of railways, in answer to a telegram sent by his worship on Monday last. The mayor has forwarded further particulars, and a reply is expected shortly from Hon. Mr. Emmerson.

The fine and warm weather of the last few days has proved very satisfactory to Chief Clark, who is the owner of the field in Lancaster on which Barnum & Bailey's circus is to be seen this afternoon. The field is a valuable hay crop, but on account of the wet weather lately the chief of police would not have harvested the crop without being anxious that the hay would not be trampled down and destroyed. The fine weather, however, of the last two or three days has worked wonders. Chief Clark takes from this field an average of eighty tons of hay each year, and sometimes as much as one hundred tons.

An English mail special, consisting of one baggage and one passenger car, arrived last night at 11.55, with mail and passengers from St. John. The mail, which arrived at Rimouski at 3.50 yesterday afternoon, too late to connect with the Ocean Limited. On the special there were quite a number of passengers passing through the city.

INTERESTING CASE IN CIVIC COURT

Major Grant Disclaims Responsibility for Bills Contracted by His Wife and Daughter

In the city court yesterday before Judge Ritchie there was a case over a small amount of money, which, however, caused a good deal of interest. The plaintiff in the case is F. A. Dykeman & Co., retail dry goods merchants, Charlotte street, and the defendant Major J. M. Grant of the well known firm of J. M. Grant & Co. of Wolfe street.

The whole amount of the bill was $46.23, and of this amount the defendant paid into court $27.77 and costs. The amounts in dispute are $18.46 for goods supplied to Miss Grant and $33.77 for goods purchased by Mrs. Grant.

The goods supplied to Miss Grant were first taken. During the examination an interesting fact was brought out, namely, that some of the bills were not signed by the defendant. They were entirely repudiated by Mr. Dykeman as having been so marked by him or his employees. Mr. Dykeman on being further examined said that the bills were not marked with his name.

His story, and while Miss Grant said that the payments had been made to different salesmen, Mr. Dykeman was of the opinion that all the writing was similar, and on cross-examination he said that as the writing was not of any of his employees, he inferred that the writing might be that of Miss Grant.

Mrs. Grant and Miss Grant were subpoenaed as witnesses for the plaintiff but did not appear.

The defendant went on the stand and the evidence that he had never given authority to his wife or daughter to run up accounts in his name. He had frequently warned them, but had often paid bills contracted by them. His wife, he said, had an independent income and his daughter was the recipient of a yearly allowance to cover her clothing expenditures.

The plaintiff's counsel pleaded that as defendant had paid money into court he admitted his responsibility and that could not distinguish between items covered by the amount paid into court and those which were not.

The defendant pleaded that he had made the payment on behalf of Miss Grant to cover articles supplied both to herself and to her mother.

After her husband's death, Mrs. Matthew took the farm and lived for a time with two of her sisters-in-law, Miss Eliza Matthew and Miss Mary Matthew. The former died and Mrs. Matthew came to make her home with Dr. George Matthew. It was at his home that death came to Miss Mary, and four or five years ago Mrs. Matthew went to the institution where she was so much beloved.

It is interesting to note that about forty years ago Mrs. Matthew's friends began to fear for her health, and all of them believed that the end was not far off.

Small of stature, with rather an excitable disposition, she had always been more or less delicate, but she attributed her long life to light eating and proper food.

LIVED OVER 100 YEARS

Mrs. Matthew Died Yesterday at Old Ladies Home

Celebrated Her 100th Birthday on the Thirtieth of February Last—Sketch of Her Life

Mrs. Susan Maria Matthew, widow of Robert S. Matthew, who celebrated her hundredth birthday on the thirtieth of February last, died yesterday at the Old Ladies' Home, of which institution she had been an inmate the past four or five years.

On the occasion of Mrs. Matthew's hundredth anniversary the committee of the Old Ladies' Home arranged a little celebration in honor of the event, at which a number of her relatives and friends were present. A programme of musical selections and recitations was rendered, which the old lady greatly enjoyed.

THE LATE MRS. SUSAN MATTHEW

Mrs. Matthew has been rapidly failing the past month, however, but retained the full possession of her faculties up to the last. Her end was peaceful. The remains will be taken on the noon train today to Hampton for interment.

The story of Mrs. Matthew's life, although uneventful, is interesting. Born at Norton Feb. 18, 1806, on the now owned by Stephen Fairweather, Mrs. Matthew was the youngest daughter of the late Isaac Ketchum (a Loyalist). There were three other sisters and one brother in the family. The sisters were Clara, who married Samuel B. Hoyt of Norton; Jane, who married Moses H. Perley of St. John, and Mary Ann, who married Thomas Leavitt, Edward Ketchum of the firm of Barlow & Ketchum was the only son.

Mrs. Jas. M. Hallett of Hazel Hill, Sussex, is a daughter of Mrs. Hoyt's; Henry F. George and Colerbrook Perley were sons of Moses H. Perley; Mrs. John H. Parks of St. John and the late Ezekiel Ketchum were children of Edwin Ketchum. Moses H. Perley was at one time commissioner of fisheries and served on the boundary commission.

Other relatives in this city are Miss Dole, daughter of Dr. Dole of Sewell street, whose wife was a relative of Mrs. Matthew. Dr. Margaret Parks of this city is also a relative. James Kirk of north end is a cousin of the late Robert Matthew and has always been an intimate friend of Mrs. Matthew. The late Robert Sneden of this city and his family were relatives of Mrs. Matthew. Mrs. Sneden, Robert Sneden's mother, died at her home in St. John about two years ago.

The late Robert Matthew was the son of David Matthew and Eliza Matthew, who were cousins. Eliza Matthew was a sister of George Matthew, father of Dr. George Matthew of the St. John Custom House. David Matthew was a sea captain, took charge of the large farm left by his father on Darling's Island, having as a neighbor the late Capt. City, father of the City of this city. For many years he was warden of the Hampton Episcopal church, and was always deeply interested in public affairs, serving for a long time as surveyor of roads for Kings Co. He died about 20 years ago.

After her husband's death, Mrs. Matthew took the farm and lived for a time with two of her sisters-in-law, Miss Eliza Matthew and Miss Mary Matthew. The former died and Mrs. Matthew came to make her home with Dr. George Matthew. It was at his home that death came to Miss Mary, and four or five years ago Mrs. Matthew went to the institution where she was so much beloved.

MONCTON WANTS NEW INDUSTRIES

Council Decides to Grant Bonus to New Firm

Board of Trade and Aldermen Discuss Means to Encourage New Business

—A Pretty Wedding

MONCTON, N. B., July 19.—That Moncton is going to make a strong effort to forge ahead in the industrial line was amply demonstrated at meetings held here this afternoon and tonight by the city council.

The city council met to discuss the question of bonusing a wholesale clothing store to be established here on a large scale by Campbell, the well known Moncton clothing man, who is to take over Humphrey's clothing factory and conduct it as a wholesale establishment on a much larger basis than formerly.

The tone adopted by the board of trade tonight indicates that not only were its members in favor of bonusing this, but using every means to secure other industries for Moncton, and it was intimated that an effort was now being prosecuted along these lines.

Many members expressed the opinion that while the I. C. R. was a great institution and had made Moncton what it is today, still it would not be well to rely altogether upon the I. C. R. but to induce all other industries possible, and in the greatest variety to locate here. The bonus asked by Campbell for a year was $10,000.

The board of trade tonight indicated that not only were its members in favor of bonusing this, but using every means to secure other industries for Moncton, and it was intimated that an effort was now being prosecuted along these lines.

Many members expressed the opinion that while the I. C. R. was a great institution and had made Moncton what it is today, still it would not be well to rely altogether upon the I. C. R. but to induce all other industries possible, and in the greatest variety to locate here. The bonus asked by Campbell for a year was $10,000.

DESPONDENT; HORACE PETERS KILLS HIMSELF

Sad Tragedy Occurred on the West Side Last Evening—Lifeless Body With Bullet Hole in Forehead

Discovered in Woodshed by His Wife—Brooded Over Loss of His Position

Lying face downwards with a bullet through his head, Horace Peters was found by his wife shortly after he had taken his life by his own hand.

The tragedy occurred between five and six last evening in the woodshed of his mother's residence on the corner of King and Union streets, West End. The intelligence of the sad affair was a severe shock to his relatives. When Mrs. Peters saw her husband lying in the wood house she thought he had faintly, and got her brother who lives across the street to come to her assistance. It was not till her brother came that she knew what had really occurred. When she grasped the full significance of the situation her grief was almost uncontrollable, and last evening she was in a highly nervous condition.

At the time of the suicide the deceased was alone, his wife having gone over to her father's leaving him in the house. Soon after Mrs. Peters went out her husband went down into the wood house and there deliberately took his life, by firing a bullet from a revolver through his forehead. No one heard the fatal shot fired, and unconscious of the dreadful tragedy that had occurred, Mrs. Peters on her return went in search of her husband, already dead by his own act, committed. It is thought, in a momentary fit of despondency.

Dr. Kenny was summoned, but his medical services were unnecessary, as was his opinion that death had been instantaneous.

The deceased has been in the employ of a hardware firm in Boston until a little over a month ago. At that time the business was taken over by a new firm and his position was given to a relative of one of the members. Mr. Peters then came home and has since been unemployed, but has not been in needy circumstances at all. It was his intention to go out west in the course of a month or so and seek employment.

His friends think that he must have been brooding over the loss of his position, and becoming temporarily insane, committed the rash act. They had not noticed anything peculiar in his movements lately that would lead them to suspect that he was contemplating such an act. It was rumored, however, that yesterday the deceased was up to Baywater and acted strangely, but his friends declined any knowledge that he had been there and had not noticed anything peculiar in his actions of late, although they said he was very anxious to obtain work.

The deceased was 34 years of age and was a son of the late Dr. Martin Peters. On December 22nd, 1900, he married Genevieve, daughter of John M. Driscoll, lumber merchant, of this city. He leaves two small children, boys, aged two and five years.

The deceased was well known in this city and highly respected. Mrs. Peters will have the sincere sympathy of her many friends in her sad trouble.

Coroner McFarland was called and upon enquiry decided that an inquest would be unnecessary.

was purchased in Boston and will be for many years a successful building and contracting business.

CANADIAN OIL COMPANY TO BUILD PIPE LINES.

A New Branch Company Formed Which Will Undertake This Part of the Work.

Recently a dominion charter was granted to a company under the name of the Canadian Transit Company, Limited, to deal in oil, oil wells, etc.
and to transport, refine and in other ways trade in oil. The capital stock of the company is $20,000, in 200 shares of $100 each. The head office is in Toronto. This company is in reality a part or enlargement of the Canadian Oil Company, as the president of the new company is John T. Main, vice-president of the Canadian Oil Company. T. H. Hamilton, vice-president of the Canadian Oil Company, and E. E. Grant managing director of the new company are members of the branches of the Canadian Oil.

The Canadian Oil Company was formed three years ago with a capital of $1,000,000, and was an amalgamation of the following companies: Grant Hamilton Oil Company, Ontario; Gail
Snyder Oil Company, Quebec; Sun Oil Refining Company, Ontario and Maritime Provinces; Walker Oil Company, Winnipeg, and also an oil refining company of Ohio. During the past year this company has had its capital increased to $1,500,000.
The oil had to be carried in tank cars from the oil fields to Petrolia, the Canadian Oil Company's refinery in Ontario, and the object of this company is to construct a pipe line direct to Petrolia from the Canadian port on Lake Erie, opposite Cleveland.
From the oil fields to Cleveland there will also be a pipe line and at that port the oil will be pumped into vessels and carried over to the Canadian side and then in the new pipe line to Petrolia.

MAGISTRATE TALKS ABOUT REWARDS TO POLICEMEN

Magistrate Ritchie in court this morning incidentally spoke on the question of policemen receiving rewards for the capture of offenders. He said it was illegal for policemen to receive the seventy-five cents for reporting persons for working in the city without licenses and a policeman has no right, according to law to receive a reward unless by a proclamation by the government.
He read the law on the matter and it showed that an officer for receiving a reward other than by proclamation was liable to a fine of 25 and can be dismissed by the police magistrate.

HAMPTON MAY DROP CONSOLIDATION PLAN

Some of the Ratepayers Want Another Vote Taken.

Centreville Will Have to Consider This Question in the Near Future—The Cost of the Florenceville School.

Probably there is no question at the present time that comes up for discussion more often in the rural districts of this province than the consolidated school question. For the past two years the chief superintendent of education with the assistance of the inspectors in the different districts have been laying plans for the consolidation of numerous districts here and there throughout the province. But the annual meetings of the ratepayers of these districts always seemed to put a check on their progress by giving a decision to continue the schools already in operation rather than try any experiments which might prove too expensive for them. Inspector Steeves, of Sussex, who is an enthusiast on this question, has in this way been doomed to disappointment many times, and has seen many a flourishing consolidated school, decorated within with works of art, and surrounded without by nature's handiwork—the pride of the country round about—vanish from his imagination as the returns came in from the meetings of the ratepayers.

In many cases there was no decided opposition to consolidation, but rather a tendency to hold back in the matter and let some other districts try the experiment. Now some of them are glad they did, for, it appears from recent reports that where consolidated schools have been in operation, the cost, not only of building and equipping the schools, but also of operating them has been far in excess of what the ratepayers ever dreamed. Recent reports from Kingston and from Riverview, in both of which districts there is a strong movement toward going back to the old system when they are left to support the schools themselves, have proved very discouraging to districts contemplating consolidation, and put a damp-ener on the enthusiasm of the strongest advocates of the new system. At Hampton, for instance, where both districts have been induced to vote for consolidation, the matter stands now at a very low ebb. Beside discouraging reports about the cost of the schools at home, the first grounds chosen for the erection of the new building, there to do so and for certain reasons of strong pressure brought to bear upon them by the owner of the property, the site recently selected, they claim they can never pay for, unless a gold mine should be discovered while they are waiting for the laying of the foundation. This property belonged to William Barnes, and $700 is the price attached to the four acres selected for the school grounds. It appears, however, that the only thing now required at Hampton before going about the work of purchasing land and constructing a new building, is an order from the Board of Education.
For some reason or other this order does not seem to be forthcoming, and some of the most prominent members of the committee in whose charge the arrangements for the new school were placed have apparently changed their views in the matter and no longer attend the committee meetings. Some of the ratepayers ask for another vote on the question, claiming that the last one did not fairly represent the views of the people regarding the consolidation of the schools. Many persons, they say, were brought in to vote who had not paid taxes for years, and who voted for the union of the schools because they had been brought there to do so and for certain reasons
of their own did not care to refuse.

It may be mentioned that the new consolidated school at Florenceville is reported to have cost the people $12,000, which is $2,000 in excess of the maximum sum voted by the ratepayers for the purpose. Meanwhile the ratepayers of Centreville, five miles away, will watch closely the progress of this school and its success or failure will influence them largely in their decision for or against consolidation at the next annual school meeting. The Centreville school building has already been condemned by the inspector, and has been threatened by the superintendent with having its superior grant withdrawn if some move is not made soon in the direction of a new school building with improved grounds. Thus the question for or against consolidation will have to be decided soon in that district.

SOUL SAVER AND LIFE SAVER East Indian Missionary's Prompt Work in Lower Cove Yesterday.

It was a fortunate thing for a tiny lot living in Lower Cove that Mr.
Kiwale, the native East Indian Missionary, did not care to leave the chilly waters of the Bay of Fundy, near the exhibition buildings yesterday. In staying ashore while his friend, Rev.
A. J. Prosser, swam, he was the means of saving the child's life. It was while Rev. Mr. Prosser was plunging about in the briny that the swarthy visitor, sitting on the embankment, turned sharply around to see a passing freight train. He was startled to notice a child of tender years standing upon the outer side of the rails, but in dangerous proximity to the cars.
A leap and a grab and he had the little one in his grasp, but it was so close a shave that Mr. Kiwale had to shove himself clear of the train wheels by placing his hands on the moving box cars. It so happened that Mr. Kiwale was the only adult in sight
—a providential escape for the child.
