

MAYOR IS PUSHING RICHMOND ST. SITE FOR LONDON'S NEW CITY HALL

His Worship Has Bonded a Block of Land 200 x 169 Feet, Running from the Grand Opera House to Maple St.—A Fight Is Looming Up Over the Matter.

According to the latest information at the city hall, the special committee named by the city council early in the year to choose a site for the new city hall, have practically decided on the location north of the Grand Opera House on the west side of Richmond street, including the corner of Maple and Richmond.

Mayor Graham, it is stated, has secured an option on nearly all the property needed, and is ready to close the deal. A number of the aldermen have decided to support him in his choice, and from present indications, the selection will be ratified by the council before many days have elapsed.

For some time, the city hall committee has had several informal meetings to discuss the question. The last was held on Monday when Mayor Graham broached the subject. He favored the site named, and suggested that the committee report to the council that the site met with their favor.

No Urgency. Ald. Coles, the chairman, did not see the necessity for urgency in the matter, and demurred. He also intimated that as there was not a quorum present, the committee could not recommend the purchase of the site.

After some discussion, the members adjourned. It was the intention of the committee to meet last night, but a quorum could not be secured. It was also stated that the members would get together Wednesday evening, but Ald. Coles, the chairman, has not sent out notices for the session.

There seems to be no doubt among several of the aldermen that Mayor Graham will carry out his scheme to have the hall located on the site. The property bonded has a frontage of about 200 feet, and is 169 feet deep. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Favors McCormick Block.

As mentioned above there will be decided opposition to the scheme to locate the hall on this site. Ald. Coles, the chairman of the committee, is not in favor of it at all, and will refuse to support it.

"I am convinced that the citizens of London want us to do something creditable for this city," he stated to The Advertiser. "As you know, personally I am in favor of the McCormick block, as it would make an ideal site, particularly if we could get the Government to go in with us. As I have said before, there are obstacles in the way of our getting this property, but we will not stop until we are absolutely convinced that we cannot succeed. In any event, we should place the hall east of Richmond street. I am opposed to the scheme to place the hall at the corner of Maple and Richmond streets. The site is only 200 feet by 169, and that is altogether too small. There are other objections to it as well. I will never support that site, as I think it would not be the right place for the hall."

Has Mayor a Majority.

It is known that other aldermen are of the same mind, although it was claimed today that Mayor Graham had a majority of the council in favor of his proposition.

In discussing the matter with a number of aldermen, the selection of this site was not viewed with favor. "The city is moving eastward," said one citizen. "If the suburbs are annexed, the centre of London will be shifted from Richmond and Dundas streets. The hall should be located some place near the centre of London, not to the north and west."

The city hall committee will get together shortly, although Chairman Coles has not yet decided on the time. "It is not necessary to make undue haste," said Ald. Coles. "We want to take our time and make a selection worthy of the city."

JUDGE HUTTON ONE OF "NICK" WILSON'S LONDON OLD BOYS

California Judicial Light a Former Resident of This City.

The name of George H. Hutton appears frequently in the Darrow case which is still being tried in California, and in which he is the presiding judge. Clarence S. Darrow is the lawyer who was alleged to have bribed a juror on the famous McNamara dynamiting case in Los Angeles, California, some time ago.

Judge Hutton is a son of the late

Joseph Hutton and Mrs. Hutton, former residents of this city. He received his education in the London public schools and graduated from which he graduated at fifteen years of age. He was a pupil of the late Nicholas Wilson, well known to Londoners. After his graduation from the college, he left for Minnesota, and took up the study of law in the Hamline University, of which his uncle is president. He graduated with high honors there, and on being called to the bar, was appointed claims agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, with headquarters at Shakopee, Minn.

Owing to a fortunate circumstance, an accident occurred on the railway which necessitated a visit to California to investigate the case. There he met his wife, who was a Miss Eccles, her father being a prominent businessman in San Monica.

He resigned his position as solicitor for the railway and took up his residence in San Monica, and received an appointment which represented great interests on the Pacific coast. He was solicitor for the famous Keating estate, the city of San Monica and for Senator P. Jones, of California. It was through his work in connection with the Keating estate that he received the appointment of judge in 1902 at the age of 34, and was at that time the youngest judge in the United States. His career in the judgeship since his appointment has been most distinguished, and his name has frequently appeared recently in connection with the Darrow trial.

A Brother in London.

Mr. Fred Hutton, 586 Central avenue, and manager of an East London store, is a brother of the judge. Their mother resides in Windsor with her daughter, Mrs. Laing.

Rev. B. Hutton, Bruce street, South London, is an uncle of the distinguished judge.

JUDGE HUTTON.

CHARTER FEE STATISTICS SHOW INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

Tremendous Increase in Commercial Concerns in Last Few Years.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Statistics issued today from the Department of State reflect in a singularly clear manner the tremendous growth commercially and industrially of the Dominion during the past few years. These figures show that the revenue of the department, which is derived from the tariff of fees for the granting of charters, is double for the first four months of the fiscal year, that of the corresponding period last year, and equal to the revenue for the entire twelve months three years ago.

The increase reflects the increase in the number of industrial and commercial companies throughout the Dominion. The majority of the charters granted have been for companies located in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, while Hamilton, London and Ottawa have also claimed a goodly share.

The tariff fees are collected as follows: When the authorized capital is $5,000 or less, the fee is $100. When it is more than $200,000 and does not exceed $500,000, the fee is $250, and $500 cents for every $1,000 or fractional excess of $500,000. For a two million dollar company the fee is $700; for a five million company it is $1,300, and for a ten million company, $2,300. The west exceeds the maritime by nearly double in number of companies incorporated.

THE WEATHER.

TOMORROW—CLEARING.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—8 a.m. Today—Moderate winds; unsettled, with local showers and thunderstorms. Wednesday—Westerly winds; clearing.

The following were the highest and lowest temperatures during the 24 hours previous to 8 a.m. today:

Stations.	High.	Low.	Weather.
LONDON	71	63	Fair
Calgary	70	58	Cloudy
Winnipeg	72	58	Cloudy
Port Arthur	69	56	Cloudy
Parkinson	72	58	Clear
Toronto	68	56	Clear
Ottawa	70	56	Fair
Montreal	70	56	Clear
Quebec	70	56	Clear
Father Point	62	38	Clear

The low area which was south of Nova Scotia yesterday has moved to Newfoundland, and the western low area is now moving across the Great Lakes. The weather is fine and moderately warm throughout the Western Provinces, and also in the Gulf and Maritime Provinces, but continues unsettled and showery in Western Ontario.

CLEAR DECK FOR DETROIT PROBE

Eighteen Aldermen Will Be Charged With Corruption When in Council.

BRIBED BY A RAILWAY

Principal Witness for the Prosecution is Former Clerk of Committee.

[Canadian Press.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 20.—When the decks were cleared in police court today for the arraignment of eighteen Detroit aldermen charged with having accepted or having announced their willingness to accept bribes in return for alleged municipal favors to be granted the Wabash Railroad, it was expected that the prosecuting attorney would commence the examination of the nine aldermen arrested on warrants alleging the receipt of bribe money. These nine aldermen were the first arrested.

The prosecution claims they accepted various sums in marked bills from an operative of a National Detective Agency posing, it is asserted, as an official of the Wabash road. It was understood that the nine other cases will probably be passed temporarily.

The aldermen who must answer to the charge of accepting bribes are: David Rosenthal and A. A. Deibel, Fifth Ward; Louis Tossy and Martin J. Ostrowski, Ninth Ward; Joseph L. Theisen, Eleventh Ward; Louis Brozo, Thirteenth Ward; Andrew J. Walsh and Frank J. Mason, Fourteenth Ward; Thos. E. Glinnan, president of the council, Eighteenth Ward.

The other nine aldermen, the prosecution claims, had agreed to accept bribes but failed to call for their shares at an appointed time, which, according to the prosecutor, was a short time before the first arrests occurred.

These men are: William Koenig, Third Ward; Wm. H. C. Hindle and Stephen S. Skrzycki, Seventh Ward; Patrick O'Brien, Tenth Ward; Richard M. Watson, Twelfth Ward; Thos. Lynch and George H. Ellison, Fifteenth Ward; Jos. F. Merritt, Sixteenth Ward; and Wm. F. Zoeller, Eighteenth Ward.

Former Council Committee Clerk Edward R. Schreiter, taken into custody when the first aldermen were apprehended and who is still out on bail, but for whom no warrant has been issued, is considered the principal witness for the prosecution in each of the cases. He recently made what he and Prosecuting Attorney Sheppard characterize as the former's complete confession in connection with his knowledge of so-called crooked methods employed by certain members of the Detroit common council for more than a decade past.

Recently the council abolished Schreiter's position which he held for many years.

MUST NOT LEAVE AUTOS TO OBSTRUCT STREETS

Fines Imposed in the Police Court by the Magistrate Today.

Obstructions of the streets in various forms were brought to the attention of Police Magistrate Judd this morning, automobilists being the chief offenders.

Under the new traffic bylaw no vehicle is permitted to stand on Dundas or Richmond streets for more than 30 minutes, unless some responsible party is in charge. One young man admitted that his car stood on Dundas street for over an hour, and paid a $3 fine. P. C. James Oakley laid the complaint.

Frank Auger, of London Township, however, raised objection on the ground that this was his first offence, and that he was not aware of the law. The court assessed the same penalty. P. C. William T. Mideghugh being the officer.

Bernard Wolfe left a packing-case on the sidewalk in front of his store for four hours. This brand of obstruction was worth $2. Richard Thompson had a horse obstructing Clark street by grazing in front of the sidewalk. P. C. McCullough caught the equine offender, so the owner paid $1.

SAVED BY RABBITS.

Los Angeles, Aug. 20.—The infusion of blood from two young rabbits here today, probably saved the life of the young son of V. Marr, manager of the Monrovia office of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The boy was slowly bleeding to death from his nostrils. Within ten minutes after the operation the nostrils ceased to bleed, and the boy was pronounced on the road to recovery.

REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS AT CITY HALL SHOWS NEED OF A HOME FOR NAMELESS BABES

Thirteen Infants 'Out of About One Hundred Come Into the World Without Protection of a Father—Dr. Campbell's Charge Causes Much Discussion.

The startling charge made by Dr. J. B. Campbell, of Dundas street, in The Advertiser of Monday evening, to the effect that there is no place in London now to take care of nameless infants, has created much discussion, and the doctor is being strongly commended for bringing the situation to the attention of the public. There is no criticism of local institutions or of the way in which they are performing their work. It is realized that the city is face to face with a new problem, as a result of a larger and more cosmopolitan population.

Certain it is that the need of a home to take care of children who come into the world under a cloud, and who have no father to support them, is pretty freely admitted among the medical men of London, and also by those who are in positions of authority in the charity life of the city.

A Deplorable Fact. It is a deplorable fact that illegitimacy is growing in this city as evidenced by the registration of births at the city hall. City Clerk Baker's books show that during July and August of this year about one hundred births were registered, and thirteen of these were illegitimate. And in this connection it is significant that eleven of the thirteen mothers were domestic.

Dr. Campbell states that as a result of there being no place where such babies can be properly taken care of, it is his belief that many little lives are sacrificed. The mothers have no way of taking care of the children, and the fathers are rarely ever found to assume any responsibility in the matter.

Superintendent Heard interviewed. Superintendent Heard of Victoria Hospital, says that the hospital is not a home for the care of babies. As a consequence, the mother when she leaves the institution must care for the child. In nine cases out of ten she cannot take the infant to the place where she had formerly been employed. She cannot place it in a home, because there is no such place to take care of infants, unless the city or someone responsible will agree to guarantee the cost of keeping. As a rule, an infant is placed somewhere or other.

SCHEPS'S STORY OF MURDER SUPPORTS CONFESSION OF ROSE

Repeats to Grand Jury His Relation of Part Played in the Rosenthal Plot—Tells of Acting as the Go-Between From Becker to Rose.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 20.—Sam Scheps was again the central figure in the Rosenthal case today, when he appeared before the grand jury prepared to repeat the story he told District Attorney Whitman, in which he corroborated in many essential details the confession of "Red Jack" Rose, implicating Police Lieutenant Becker in the killing of the East Side gambler.

It was this story of Scheps that Mr. Whitman desired the grand jury to hear before returning further indictments in the Rosenthal case. The state's attorney was clearly confident that before tonight's indictments would be returned against seven persons. Those to be indicted are said to be: Rosenzweig (Lefty Louie), formerly (Lefty) the "Big Boy" (Dago Frank), and Miller (Whitely Lewis), the four alleged murderers; Jack Sullivan and Wm. Shapiro, and Lieutenant Becker, on a superceding indictment.

Scheps Told All.

The state's attorney said that Scheps's testimony was not necessary to the conviction of Becker, but it gave the case against the police lieutenant a new twist. Scheps has told the state's attorney how he talked with Lieut. Becker a few hours before Rosenthal was shot, and how he persuaded him to go to get a divorce from Laura Gilbert, the divorced wife of Rosenthal. Scheps then told of the gathering of the gunmen, and how he and Rose waited for the news of Rosenthal's death.

Acted as Go-Between.

It was after the murder was committed that Scheps played his most important part in the Rosenthal affair. He acted as a go-between for Lieut. Becker and the police-striker, Rose, who was hiding in an up-town apartment-house. Scheps said he made several visits to Becker to consult with him as to what course Rose should pursue. Becker, he said, advised Rose to remain in hiding, but Rose was thoroughly frightened, and wanted to give himself up.

Several bank officials who have information regarding Lieut. Becker's bank account were under subpoena to appear before the grand jury today, along with several other witnesses in the police graft cases.

A Clearest Proof. Scheps's counsel, Bernard Sandler, declared, while his client was in the grand jury room, that Scheps would make a clear breast of everything.

Other witnesses examined today were the clerk of a hotel at Rockaway, where the gunmen celebrated after the shooting, and a photographer who made a group picture of them there.

Detective Cassassa testified in regard to the police hunt for suspects. Charles Platt, described as Becker's press agent, also testified. These witnesses, it was said, completed the testimony desired by the district attorney before he asked the grand jury to present a blanket indictment.

Sam Scheps was still the most interesting figure in the case today. His first act this morning was to give the keeper of the west side prison a list of articles he desired, to alleviate his confinement. These included an eiderdown quilt, six pairs of white silk socks, to be purchased at an exclusive Fifth avenue haberdashery which Scheps designated, a pair of slippers and many toilet articles.

Scheps today sent telegrams to George Howell, captain of the Hot Springs police and to Charles J. Pemphig, acting mayor of Hot Springs, thanking them for their many courtesies and expressing the hope that they soon would meet again.

CERTAIN CITIZENS WILL REFUSE TO PAY FOR MAIN ST. WALKS

Mr. Geo. T. Hiscox, a Large Property Owner, Instructs Solicitor to Take Action.

Certain property owners on Dundas and Richmond streets may object to paying for the cement sidewalks recently laid by Mr. W. J. Anthistle. They are being organized, and definite steps will be taken in a day or two to enforce their views. The merchants demand that the walks comply absolutely with the specifications laid down by the city and in some quarters there is a disposition to criticize the job.

The first step was taken by Mr. George T. Hiscox today, when he instructed his solicitor to notify the council that he would not be responsible for the sidewalks until such time as they were made to comply with the specifications. The solicitor was instructed to take whatever steps he considered advisable to protect Mr. Hiscox's interests. Other ratepayers will do the same. In this way it is hoped to call the attention of the council to the consideration of the present situation.

Mr. Hiscox's Position. "We are getting together to protect our interests," said Mr. Hiscox to the Advertiser. "We have to pay for the walk and we don't get full value for our money. No objection can be made to that. We are asking that we be satisfied that we are getting what we are paying for. We are getting what we are paying for. We are getting what we are paying for."

Further than this Mr. Anthistle would not discuss the situation. City Engineer Wright is still confined to his bed and will not be out for a few days.

C. P. R. WILL NOT CARRY DEAD HEADS

C. P. R. Detectives Are Busy Raking in Tramps.

Three gentlemen, who gave plausible excuses, were "raked" from the "side-door Pullmans" on the C. P. R. yesterday afternoon by railway detectives and were brought before Police Magistrate Judd this morning charged with trespass. Sentence was suspended in each case, and the gentlemen were released. The officers were detailed to see the men safely to the city limits by the walking route. William Horton, John W. Graham and William Wexmore (not well-known) were the prisoners. Mr. R. G. Fisher appeared to press self.

out. We have put up with too much of this business, and we intend to have more of it. The property owners along the street will take concerted action and we will fight this thing to a finish."

The Trades and Labor Council have discussed the question already, but on Wednesday evening a regular meeting will be held, at which the situation will be thoroughly threshed out. It is expected that a resolution, again demanding the city council to investigate the whole thing, will be passed.

Mr. Anthistle Explains. Mr. W. J. Anthistle, the contractor, informed The Advertiser today that as soon as the walks had properly settled, he would proceed at once to repair them and put them in good condition. "Some person must have broken the walk opposite 252 Dundas street," he stated. "I understand a horse backed into it and broke off a piece of it. However, you can rest assured that we will give the citizens a walk about which there can be no complaining. The walk has not properly settled as yet, and we will do nothing until it has properly settled. Then we will go over it, and wherever the walk is not right, we will make it so. I am sure that there will be no complaints when we have finished our work."

To the Letter. "Have you lived up to the specifications in laying the walks?" he was asked.

"We have lived up to them to the letter," he answered. "There may be patches here and there that are not quite right, owing to some cause or another, but we have tried in every way to do the right thing, and the citizens what they are paying for."

Further than this Mr. Anthistle would not discuss the situation. City Engineer Wright is still confined to his bed and will not be out for a few days.

KING GEORGE NARROWLY ESCAPES A SERIOUS AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Fast Speeding Motor, Swinging Around a Corner, Is Prevented From Colliding With Royal Car by Quick Work of a Chauffeur, Who Ditches His Machine.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 20.—A cable from London says: King George had a narrow escape from an accident yesterday while automobiling from Bolton Abbey, Yorkshire, where he had been staying with the Duke of Devonshire, to Abbeystead, Lancashire, where he is the guest of Lord Serton for grouse shooting.

An automobile belonging to Mr. David

Thornton, of Bradford, a merchant, turned a corner suddenly, and its chauffeur avoided a collision with the King's automobile only by running into a ditch, where the car was upset.

The King alighted and anxiously inquired whether Mr. Thornton or any of his party were injured. Receiving the assurance that no harm was done, the King shook hands with Mr. Thornton and proceeded on his journey.

SUNKEN GARDEN FOR NORTH END IS THE PLAN OF SUPT. DILGER

Has a Scheme to Beautify Eyesore Caused By the Old Gravel Pit.

Parks Superintendent Dilger is working out a scheme for the utilization of the Anthistle gravel pit on Wellington street, about which there has been considerable controversy for some time. The plans will be completed shortly, and will be submitted to the parks commission. It will then be up to that body to take action.

One plan is to make an athletic park of the pit, a regular stadium. The sides of the hills are to be terraced with cement facings, and the lower part leveled, and made into baseball, cricket, football and other fields. In the winter time, it could be used as a skating rink.

The other idea is to make a sunken garden out of the pit. He has elaborated plans for this, and Mr. Dilger declares that the expense would not be excessive.

Could Be Made Beautiful. "I do not know who owns the land, but I think the city could get possession of it for a comparatively low figure," he stated. "If it were placed under our control, I think we could make it a beautiful place. An athletic park would be an excellent idea. The nature of the land around the sides of the pit lends itself to cement construction work, and a stadium could be built at a comparatively small cost. The terrace work would not be expensive. The floor could be leveled off, and splendid playing fields made there. Provision could be made for baseball or any other game. In the winter time it could be made into an ice rink. A playground of this sort is needed in London, and we could furnish it to the citizens at a comparatively small cost. I am preparing plans, and will have them ready in a short time."

PIRATES IN DESPERATE ATTACK ON HONG-KONG BRITISHERS

Over-power Police and Kidnap Tax Collectors and Rich Men.

[Canadian Press.]

Hong Kong, Aug. 20.—A desperate attack was made last night by a large body of pirates on the island of Cheung Chow, forming part of the British colony of Hong Kong, and used chiefly as a missionary sanatorium.

Late in the evening a launch towed a large Chinese junk with a hundred pirates on board, arrived off the island where the pirates, who were well armed, landed and attacked the small police force on duty. They succeeded in overpowering and killing an Indian police sergeant and two other policemen. They seized their Winchester rifles, bayonets and ammunition, and then proceeded to loot the houses of the inhabitants, who number only about 2,700.

The pirates then kidnapped the Government collector of taxes and threatened to carry off a number of wealthy Chinese who, however, ran some themselves. The European inhabitants escaped unscathed.

A heavy downpour of rain frustrated the attempt of the pirates to fire the whole island, and the pirates were forced to retreat.

Communication between Cheung Chow and Hong Kong is cut off, and information is only obtainable by rowboats.

A NEW HOTEL FOR LONDON IF CITY WILL GUARANTEE BONDS

A Rather Novel Scheme Presented to Commissioner of Industries.

A new hotel near the new city hall is now being projected. Yesterday three gentlemen—one Mr. J. L. McDonald, of Toronto, the other two being from New York—had an interview with Mr. J. C. Anderson, commissioner of industries, relative to the proposition.

According to the information received by The Advertiser, the promoters are anxious that the city raise $200,000, or guarantee the bonds to that extent, and these gentlemen will go ahead and build the hotel, which will be one of the most modern possible, costing at least $250,000. They are anxious to have it located close to the city hall. They were given to understand that the city hall was to be located near the corner of Maple and Richmond streets, and was bonded on the northwest corner of the same streets for this purpose.

The promoters will return in a week's time, bringing with them plans and specifications for the building, and will present them to the manufacturers' committee.

The gentlemen in question saw me," said the chairman of the manufacturers' committee. "They are desirous of erecting a modern hotel here, but their plans and specifications are not yet ready. They want the city to raise or guarantee about $200,000, and they will go ahead with the scheme, and they will present the plans in detail. At the present time we can say little about it."

The project has long been mooted, but it has now reached the stage when something will be done.

"Nothing official has come to us," said Superintendent King to The Advertiser.

However, another official stated that there was no question but that the extension would be built. "It is but natural that it should be gone on with," said the gentleman known to The Advertiser. "Sarnia is becoming an important shipping centre, and has long been considered a desirable port of entry for the company, and it is quite certain that the C. P. R. will reach that point before long. The line will run through Petrolia. This town has at present no direct connection with either London or Sarnia. This will be good business for the company. I think they will order a rigid quarantine. Two more deaths are reported, one a child at Queenston, and the other at Crescent Beach. The provincial health authorities are in charge of the situation."

PARALYSIS SPREADING. Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 20.—Infantile paralysis has now spread to Stamford County, and Reeve, Boulton, will likely order a rigid quarantine. Two more deaths are reported, one a child at Queenston, and the other at Crescent Beach. The provincial health authorities are in charge of the situation.

A BOY SUICIDE. Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—Henry Rogers, an 18-year-old son of a once prominent Washington family, who had been an orphan since he was six, killed himself last night by inhaling illuminating gas. A few years ago his father, a well-to-do lawyer, shot the boy's mother while she was asleep, and then shot himself.

LONDON, TUESDAY, AUGUST 20.

SIR WILFRID'S WESTERN TOUR.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will next month start for the Pacific Coast, and will speak at many points in British Columbia and the prairie provinces. Later he will make a tour of New Ontario. Sir Wilfrid will be 71 years old in November, but he has a buoyancy of health and elasticity of spirits that he has never known before. Perhaps the very delicacy of his constitution, which made his youth and early manhood one long malady, has forced him to take precautions, of which he is now reaping the reward.

A Montreal contemporary, while admitting that Sir Wilfrid's tour will help to arouse the fighting spirit of his party, suggests that he will find conditions changed to his disadvantage; that as leader of an Opposition he will create less enthusiasm than as the head of the Government. This would be true of a less remarkable person. Sir Wilfrid has given more prestige to the office of Prime Minister than he has received from it. As a private member of parliament, he is still the most conspicuous figure in the House of Commons, and the country. It is not a covert sneer at Mr. Borden to say that there is no man whom the Canadian people are still so eager to see and hear as Sir Wilfrid Laurier. No gift of prophecy is needed to foretell his triumphal progress through the west. He can stand confidently upon every plank of the platform upon which he stood before the general election.

In British Columbia the opponents of Laurier made the naval question, a leading issue, demanding a fleet unit, Dreadnought and all, for the Pacific Coast. But the Borden Government has destroyed the Canadian navy project, or delayed it indefinitely, and will ask parliament to sink Canadian millions in the North Sea. If Sir Wilfrid's policy had been carried out, fast cruisers and destroyers would be in process of construction, and there would have been the nucleus of a fleet on the Pacific Coast, while the present Government will be talking about it.

As to the prairie provinces, is there any doubt of the warmth of Sir Wilfrid's welcome? The past year has confirmed the wisdom of his trade policy, and its popularity in the west. The grain-growers are more than ever insistent upon wider markets. They will acclaim the man who had the courage and foresight to try to meet their needs, and just demands. He has always had a series of ovations in his western trips, but it is probable that in his latest one he will be the object of hero-worship beyond anything he has experienced.

Sir Wilfrid will find in his first visit to New Ontario—the newest New Ontario—an active and enthusiastic Liberal party. In the vast region stretching from North Bay to Cochrane, a score of towns and villages have sprung up within the past ten years. Sir Wilfrid will see a country in the making, as in the west, and the miners and settlers will repay his journey with enthusiastic greetings.

A general election in the near future may or may not be on the cards, but Sir Wilfrid's tour will sow good seed. The spirit that prompts the veteran to so arduous a task communicates itself to his party. The Liberals are fortunate in their leader, and in his wonderful vitality.

ANOTHER ROMANCE OF THE NORTH.

A thousand prospectors are loose in the Gillies limit, near the town of Cobalt. These men are silver mad. Some of them have been in the country for years, and have nothing but a few doubtful claims to show for it. Others have left more prosaic pursuits to chance a race with fortune in the tract of three or four thousand acres which has been a forbidden garden since the first wonderful discoveries brought the adventurers of the earth into Ontario's vast hinterland.

These thousand men lined the boundaries of the limit for days before the signal came, eager as wolf-hounds on the leash, ready to battle for the 20-acre claims that would not more than half go around. As the midnight hour came they rushed into the promised land, lanterns flashing on revolvers in the belts of some, all grim and silent on their quest. The fates may mock them. It may be a fool's expedition for all of them; but have they not followed their dogs over many miles into far-away Ungava? Have they not paddled and plodded beyond the outposts of settlement and come back empty-handed? They will not miss a chance so close to home. So they are all there, the grizzled old prospector, who knew the horrors of the Dawson trail, the bearded youth who is fired by some tale of Rex Beach or Jack London. It is a dramatic occasion, and the prize, if there be any prize, is to the swift and the rock-wise. Close to our hum-drum workaday living, these are scenes that thrill the romantic nature and stir the pulse of those "who hear the red gods call."

POLITICAL REACTION IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The parliamentary recess which gives British politicians a breathing spell until October, if they choose to take it, finds the tide still flowing with the Unionists. Apparently no Liberal seat in England is safe; or if safe against the Unionists alone, it may be lost by the intrusion of a Laborite. By-elections, of course, are not infallible tests of public sentiment. An Opposition candidate may choose his weapons. He may ignore the features of his party's policy which are not attractive to his constituents, as did the successful Unionist candidate in Northeast Manchester, who shelved the tariff question. In a general election this "localism" is not so easily practised. Each candidate must stand on the fighting ground chosen by his leaders. In Manchester, for instance, the fiscal issue would dominate all others.

It would not be surprising, however, if the Unionists were justified in their prophecies of coming victory. Making allowance for the temporary unpopularity of the insurance act and the opposition to Irish home rule on the part of many Nonconformists who support the Government in everything else, it is probable that reaction is setting in, following the British habit known as the swing of the pendulum. Not since the first quarter of the last century has a British Government enjoyed so long a lease of power as the present one, excepting its predecessor, which held office from 1894 to 1905, under Salisbury and Balfour, in turn. The Liberal party, which has had no war to sustain it in power as the Unionists had in 1900, can well afford to rest on such an achievement. Much more can it afford to rest on its record, particularly upon its work for social reform. But it is not in the nature of present-day British Liberalism to rest upon the past. The present Government has not finished some of the great tasks to which it has set its hand, such as Irish home rule, Welsh disestablishment, manhood franchise and land reform. If it could carry these things through the present parliament, which has normally three more years of life, its leaders would no doubt gladly lay down the cares of office for a season, knowing that it would be for a season only. They are in honor bound to try to pass the home rule and disestablishment measures over the Lords' suspensory veto, a process of two years, but if they should fail through secessions in their own ranks or the lukewarmness of their Labor allies, they would go down with flying colors, with the satisfaction of knowing that a Unionist Government would be in an impossible position, heading for defeat from the moment it took office. It could not touch the tariff without precipitating a rebellion by the Unionist free traders, headed by the redoubtable Cecil. It would be forced to adopt the state insurance scheme, which Unionist candidates at by-elections feel free to attack in detail. It would be confronted by an exasperated Ireland, robbed of the reward of a century of struggle, just as it was about to taste the fruits of victory. Wales would be equally aflame over the refusal of disestablishment. The land reform campaign about to be inaugurated by the Radicals would gather momentum every day against a cabinet under landlord influence. Any attempt to abolish or reduce the super-taxes on large incomes levied by the Lloyd George budget would arouse a storm, particularly if accompanied by taxes on foodstuffs.

With time and tide on their side, the British progressive parties may look with complacency on a reaction to Conservatism. At the longest, it must be short-lived. Laurier's tour will set the prairies on fire. Vancouver gets a speech by Sam Hughes as a substitute for a fleet. The Right Hon. Walter Long, Irish Unionist leader, pooh-poohs the German naval budget. There is more likelihood of a scrap in Ulster than in the North Sea. A Liberal Government is in power at Westminster. Responsible Ministers have declared in public that British command of the sea is imperilled.—Toronto News. No Liberal minister has said any such thing. The Toronto News says the proposal of a conference to agree on a non-party naval policy came from Liberals. If this is true, they are probably the kind of Liberals who turned against their party on reciprocity. The Hamilton Herald, which was opposed to the Laurier naval policy, preferring a cash contribution to the admiralty, says: "This is not an unreasonable attitude. Remembering the criticism and ridicule which the Laurier naval policy has received from the Conservatives, it is hardly fair to expect the Liberal leaders to come forward and help the Borden Government out of a difficulty by endorsing its naval proposals." The West is not the only section of Canada in need of a parliamentary redistribution. In Ontario the riding of Nipissing, covering 20,000,767 acres, with a population of 74,126, has only one member. The riding of Thunder Bay and Rainy River, with one member, has an area of 46,459,187 acres and a population of 67,243. The remarkable growth of New Ontario since the last census is the explanation.

A Government report states that new-comers brought to Canada between January, 1907, and January, 1912, cash to the amount of $324,561,400, as follows:

Brought in cash from Britain.....$ 37,546,000
Brought in cash from U.S. 157,260,000
U.S. settlers' effects, value 110,982,000
British settlers' effects, " 18,773,000

Total.....$324,561,000
This will help to explain the great excess of imports over exports in recent years. Much of this money is represented by purchases of goods in other countries.

CHEEKY AND CHILDISH.

The appeal of certain Conservative newspapers to the Liberal party to drop the naval question out of the politics, is particularly cheeky, in view of the Conservative record in this connection. The Liberal party, through its leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, made a careful and conscientious effort to solve the problem of Canada's participation in the naval defence of the Empire. The Liberal party, after the most serious deliberation, adopted a policy and passed a bill on the lines of that policy through Parliament. They were prevented from carrying it out because of a scandalous campaign of misrepresentation. Before they will be ready to endorse another and different policy, it will have to be proven to them, either that it is a better one than their own, or else that emergencies have arisen which they were not formerly called upon to consider. In the meantime, the demand of the Conservative newspapers that the naval question be dropped out of party politics is childish.

There is DANGER AHEAD FOR
THE MAN THAT NEGLECTS
NAURE'S WARNING.

Dyspepsia Tendencies Are Serious and Should be Treated Accordingly.

There is a strong moral in the statement of James Schrum, of Pleasant street, Dartmouth, N. S. Like thousands of people, he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away; he was losing ground every day.

"I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave tone and strength to my stomach. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I don't know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs through my veins—clear skin and unmistakable evidences of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of curing the sickly enervated man and I strongly urge everyone in falling or lost health to use this grand remedy."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable. 25c per box, five for $1. all druggists and grocers, or postpaid from the Catawba Company, Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

A GREAT
ENGLISH EDITOR[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

One of the American editors of "The Hibbert Journal" once told me that the success of that learned publication had amazed himself and the other contributors, to say nothing of Prof. L. P. Jacks, D. D., the editor-in-chief, who directs the destinies of the Journal from a professor's chair in Manchester College, Oxford. The American scholar recounted how like the Hibbert Journal had gone down to death, but somehow or other it had attained a circulation of over ten thousand, and was actually a money-maker. For a publication of this kind, which is freighted with the heaviest goods in philosophy and theology, to attain such a success is, indeed, a phenomenon in the world of letters! Perhaps "The Hibbert Journal" has done so well because it welcomes articles from both radical and conservative scholars. Nothing is too heretical for its columns; in fact it does not seem to include the words orthodox and heterodox in its vocabulary. Battles between old and new theologians rage in its pages, but the warfare aids the circulation. No doubt a large element in its attractiveness is its appeal to readers of open mind. But, certainly, the loyal support which this learned review is receiving in England and America shows that an increasing body of men on both sides of the water have their minds open to truth.

The editor of this Journal is becoming a world figure in the realm of scholarship. His books, "Mad Shepherds," "Among the Idolmakers," and "The Alchemy of Thought" have won him renown as a vigorous writer who is able to handle the deep things of philosophy in a clear, eloquent, even humorous manner. For nine years "The Hibbert Journal" has been professor of philosophy in Mansfield College, the Non-conformist theological school at Oxford. When he was twenty-six years of age he took his M. A. degree at London University, then studied at Oxford, Göttingen and Harvard, subsequently entering the ministry, as assistant to Rev. Stopford Brooke at Bedford Chapel, and afterwards occupying pulpits in Liverpool and Birmingham.

Professor Jacks has just returned home after visiting the United States and Canada. Harvard honored him with the degree of D. D., and the Americans treated him so hospitably that he has just been telling an English interviewer that they are a splendid people. He was also enthusiastic in his references to Canada. In another fifty years he thinks that Canada may become the centre of gravity of the British Empire. It is always interesting to note what impression is made upon a brilliant English thinker by American conditions of life, and it is refreshing to find that Dr. Jacks thinks that there is still hope for the United States. "I have formed the conviction," said Dr. Jacks, "that the saving forces of American life are likely to come from the great universities. And America is in great need of saving forces at the present time. The professional politics of America are corrupt and debased to an extraordinary degree. In contrast with this, the universities and the educated classes manifest a splendid political idealism, which is destined ultimately to displace the professional politician, although it will be a long, uphill fight. As things now are, America is not a self-governing country, except in name."

This last statement will come as a surprise to the majority of American readers. It will also be a surprise to them, to think that their hope lies in the American university. This would be taken by most readers as a good word for Woodrow Wilson, but, from another remark in the interview—"I gather that the Hibbert editor would vote for Roosevelt if he had an opportunity."

Oh, we are the stay-at-homes, who wait
The homestead hearth beside;
We guard the shrine of our brothers' youth—
They followed the westward tide.
Our brothers love the western plains,
And they have half forgot
The clovered mead, the orchard cool,
The quaint, old garden spot.

The golden harvest of the West
They garner to their store;
The rich, ripe harvest of the plains,
And river's golden shore.
But old Ontario's lilac lanes,
Green hills and winding streams
Yet hold the homage of our hearts,
The romance of our dreams.

For we are the stay-at-homes, who wait
With patient, waiting love
The furrows oft-times turned before
The glad, blue sky above.

A white grub is appearing in potatoes around London. This never happened when the Liberals were in power.

The mere fact that his country apparently doesn't want to be saved, makes no difference to the sterling statesman of the U. S.

Zero in Rewards.
[From a letter ad.]
"There are 400,000 cases of typhoid every year in the United States. We will pay $100 reward to any one contracting typhoid through drinking water from our filters."

If these were the days of Tecumseh, Sam Hughes would likely be called "Young Man Looking-For-a-Punch-in-the-Eye."

Windows has the impunity to call London "a tank town." Better than to be known as "that place opposite Detroit."

One of the things Canada seems willing to import from the United States is the American race track tout.

The Stay at Homes.

Verne Dewitt Rowley, of the Detroit Free Press, formerly of The Advertiser editorial staff, has the following lines (suggestive of "Stay-in-Ontario") in the Toronto Globe of recent date:

Oh, we are the stay-at-homes, who wait
The homestead hearth beside;
We guard the shrine of our brothers' youth—
They followed the westward tide.

Our brothers love the western plains,
And they have half forgot
The clovered mead, the orchard cool,
The quaint, old garden spot.

The golden harvest of the West
They garner to their store;
The rich, ripe harvest of the plains,
And river's golden shore.

But old Ontario's lilac lanes,
Green hills and winding streams
Yet hold the homage of our hearts,
The romance of our dreams.

For we are the stay-at-homes, who wait
With patient, waiting love
The furrows oft-times turned before
The glad, blue sky above.

REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS.

board, the mother drifts away in an effort to earn a living for herself and the little one, and as the burden becomes too heavy, she forsakes utterly her child, and total strangers can hardly be expected to provide it with nourishment and look after it when there is no money coming in for its keep. It is a job for an institution, and the question arises, Who is to pay the bill?

City Is Protected. Mr. Heard admits that something should be done, but he points out that the city, so far as the hospital is concerned, is not loaded up with the expense of keeping such children to any extent beyond the time the mother is in the institution. Mothers are never allowed to leave the hospital without their babies.

The point has been raised that if the city were to establish a home for nameless infants, unfortunate women from all points of the compass would rush to London in their extremity, and it would not be fair to ask the citizens to support the children of outsiders who would seek to take advantage of such an institution here.

The Salvation Army Rescue Home, the Infants' Home, and the Mount Hope Orphanage all do a good work, but they expect that someone will pay for the keep of the infants provided the mother fails to do so. And these institutions are all overcrowded now.

Dr. MacLaren Speaks. Dr. MacLaren, corner, stated to The Advertiser today that while it may be true that certain infants in London die as the result of neglect, and even starvation, because they are nameless waifs, and have no one to look after them, the matter has never been officially before him.

Babes have been found along the river bank, in Chelsea Green and elsewhere, and it is possible that they may have been allowed to cruelly die, but generally the bodies were not found until it was difficult to prove the exact cause of death.

Little Napier Lad Had Remarkable Escape in Runaway Accident.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Napier, Aug. 20.—What might have proved a serious accident occurred recently when a horse and rider owned by Ogle Gough, was left tied at the hotel on the main road. Little Kenneth Mackey, aged three, was left alone in the rig. The same horse had run away a couple of weeks before, and in some way or other took fright again.

It dashed down the lane facing the hotel and turned a steep and sharp curve up another road, above a precipice to the river. It was a miracle that the rig was not thrown down the hill. However, after turning, the buggy was overturned and the little boy hurled through a barbed wire fence near the location of the old cheese factory. The lad was picked up on the sward side of the road, without any apparent injury, except a few scratches on the face and legs. Medical attendance was not necessary.

HERE'S A NEW PRINCETON BLAZER FOR LONDON OUTDOOR GIRLS

Here is a "Princeton" blazer, golf coat, with cap to match, which constitute a real beau-catcher combination for the girls who propose to spend as much as possible of the crisp, fall days out of doors.

This photograph shows the coat made in Norfolk style and in Princeton colors, a fashion traced to Woodrow Wilson's candidacy for the presidency. The alternating stripes of orange and black are striking. The loose belt and low collar are decidedly girlish.

The beauty of this outfit is that it will be appropriate for almost any outdoor sport, and it makes the wearer look smart and trim.

The cap is light and easily adjusted. The stripes on the rolling brim match the stripes on the coat.

SIX NOTABLE CANADIAN WOMEN

Selected for a Reader.

In response to a request from an out-of-town reader, the following sketch upon the lives of six Canadian women of note is given. In selecting this number, three have been chosen from the pages of THE ADVERTISER, and three others whose lives have figured in more recent events. Needless to say, it was difficult to choose from among the galaxy of brilliant women who call Canada their native land.

Lady Laurier, whose maiden name was Zoe Lafontaine, was born in Montreal, and received her education at the school of the Bon Pasteur in that city, and the convent of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart, St. Vincent de Paul, where she became most proficient in music. In 1865 she married Mr. Laurier in Montreal, he being member of the junior bar at that time. Owing to her husband's delicate health, the young couple shortly moved to the country, living in Arthursville, Que., until their permanent removal to Ottawa, when Mr. Laurier became premier. Lady Laurier is interested in several special organizations, but perhaps especially the National Council of Women, and the Victorian Order of Nurses.

In 1897 she accompanied Sir Wilfred to England on the occasion of Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee, and at this time visited Her Majesty at Windsor Castle, and attended the queen's garden party and state hall of Buckingham Palace. Subsequently, a tour was made of France and Italy. In 1901 Lady Laurier participated in the festivities incident to the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales, presenting the latter with a beautiful fur cloak on behalf of the women of Ottawa. She also attended the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, wearing on that occasion a magnificent diamond tiara, the gift of the members of the Senate of Canada.

Margaret Anglin, an actress, who has scored international fame, is a native of Ottawa, Canada, being born there in 1876, during her father's term as speaker in the House of Commons. Miss Anglin was educated at Loreto Abbey, Toronto, and Convent Sacred Heart, Montreal. In 1894 she graduated from the Empire School of Dramatic Acting in New York, where she had studied for some years; the art that was to make her famous.

The Birthday Calendar

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Some one whom you love will give you cause for grief, and changes and events will happen. Your most careful attention will be required by some personal or business affair. A cool head and steady eye will be your best aid.

These horns today will be brilliant and likeable and will share their positions with their friends generously, and often bringing themselves to want help.

Erie, was born in the County of Frontenac, Ontario, in 1830, her maiden name being Jackson. At 18 she married a whopper named John, and after his death, was married again in 1863 to a Mr. Rohrer. It was in November, 1864, that a schooner, named "The Conductor," heavily laden with grain, and with seven men on board, was wrecked during a storm. The crew took refuge in the rigging, and were discovered in the morning by Abigail Becker. She was all alone, with the exception of her children, and had no boat in which to go to the rescue of the unfortunate sailors. After building a huge bonfire on the beach, she waded out through the snow and water as far as she safely could, and by signs intimating to the men to swim to shore. Finally they did so; the captain going first. The brave woman, being tall and powerful, swam out a considerable distance, and carried him to the fire, repeating the performance in each case until all the men were safely to land. After they had thawed out their stiffened limbs at the bonfire, she took them to her house, where they were given dry clothing and hot drinks. Mrs. Becker was presented with the medal of the American Humane Association, but, as far as records show, no Canadian memorial exists.

Madeleine Vercheres. The third woman, whom I have selected, won her fame while still a slip of a girl. I refer to Marie Madeleine, daughter of Francois de Vercheres, who was born near Montreal in 1778. This was the time of Indian uprisings and threatenings, and when it was necessary for settlers to live behind garriaged walls. Madeleine was but 14 years old, and during the absence of her parents from Vercheres, she defended the fort with the help of but a few men, and held out young brothers, against an eight-day siege of the fortress. The girl, when about 400 paces outside the fort, was nearly captured by the Indians, who carried off 20 of the settlers from the fort. One of the Indians, who she managed to close, shouting "To Arms," thus giving the impression that the garrison was well armed. Night and day the brave Madeleine stuck to her post, cheering her brothers, and putting to shame a couple of the servants who tried to escape. When help came at last she was almost dead from weariness and want of sleep. In 1796 she married M. Pierre Lanandiere. Madeleine has been called the "Joan of Arc of Canada."

RAPID HEART.

Don't assume, because your heart beats rapidly that there is something wrong with it. Some hearts are naturally slow. Others are naturally a fast one. If you are suspicious of it, have yourself thoroughly examined by a competent physician. He says your heart is all right believe him—and forget your heart.

Problems of the Fair Sex Solved by Cynthia Grey

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received.]

Your Mother Wouldn't Ask It.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been keeping company with a young man for two years. I do not love him, but I know that he loves me. I have a ring from him. We have been angry twice already. Everything he wants his way. He doesn't want me to love him, and yet again make the mistake of saying "I love you." My mother says he is a good boy. Do you think I could learn to love this man? Does it pay to sacrifice my life and happiness for my mother's sake? A. M. Your mother wouldn't ask you to make such a sacrifice. You did wrong in accepting the ring. Give it back and tell the man you don't love him, and never again make the mistake of saying "I love you," my dear, is never a matter of will.

Your Folks Are Right.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am nineteen and am doing love with a man of eighteen, who is still in school. My folks object to our marriage very much, which makes my life miserable. Do you think I will do right in marrying him anyway? L. O. A girl of nineteen is so much more mature than a boy of eighteen that there exists what is equal to a difference of age. It is too young to marry, and being still in school, should confine his present interest to his books. If you really have his interest at heart you will refuse him, though he asks you to marry him. Your parents are right. You owe them respect to their wishes.

A Forest Inquirer.

Dear Miss Grey: I am a daily reader of your paper, The London Advertiser, and I find much good in it. I have many questions and answers, and would be greatly obliged if you would give me a list of good books, suitable for boys aged fourteen, also good authors of books that would be safe for a boy to read.

Dear Miss Grey: I like many others, I turn to you for advice. Trust you will kindly answer the following questions as soon as possible:

1. Are white felt hats worn all winter?
2. Do you think an office girl should be able to dress well on $14.00 a month (for clothes alone)?
3. I am twenty years old and have gone with a number of boys steady, but only for a short time with each. I never meet any boys that seem as nice to my idea. As the ones I first went with, I sometimes have a faint suspicion that somewhere in the affairs "I lost my heart." Do you think that possible, or am I just getting "old maidish?"
4. I used to be very bright and of very high spirits, but lately I feel blue and the world does not seem so rosy as it used to. Do you think I am getting old or just in need of an indiscretion? What do you think of me and my BLUENESS?
5. A.—1. Yes.
2. They may be cleaned fairly satisfactorily at home by covering with a paste made of laundry starch and benzine. Let the paste dry on the hat and then brush well. Of course, to have it done at a professional cleaner's gives much better results.

New Material Is Serge Eponge

It is not only the thin materials that must be considered on behalf of the holiday making contingent, though it is very pleasant to dwell upon them in warm weather. Already the new early autumn models are making their appearance and among them a very great success is promised for serge eponge, a variation of the praiseworthy friend of last season certain to tempt and delight the seeker after variety. Rough in texture, the new fabric resembles serge and also eponge and is an ideal choice for the neat tailor-made suit. Instead of the crystal buttons which have succeeded so well that people are wearying of them already, white bone is to be used, but anyone who possesses valuable buttons will have an opportunity of wearing them.

Many there are of real artistic merit and a unique appearance, and such will be of the greatest service when the early tailor-made and demi-tailor-made toilettes are being considered.

Cake Recipes

Many women who do not care for cooking in general are often fond of amusing themselves by the pleasant pastime of cake making. The art of cooking is born in most women, who begin by dabbling in sweet making in their nursery days. The stolen pleasure (and often stolen time) which this early cooking game afforded is in a measure repeated by those who have only time to play at cooking in their grown-up days.

The cake recipes given below will prove of interest to every housewife, whether or not she takes cooking seriously:

Queen Cakes. Six ounces flour, 1 ounce citron, 4 ounces butter, grated rind of lemon, 4 ounces sugar, 3 eggs, 4 ounces currants will be needed for this recipe. Cream the butter and sugar together, add the sifted flour and eggs alternately and beat well; add the chopped citron, lemon rind and currants. Mix well, put in well buttered queen cake tins and bake from 15 to 20 minutes.

Shrewsbury Cakes. To make this cake take half a pound of butter, half a small nutmeg, half a pound of flour, one and a half pounds of flour, two eggs. Cream the butter and the sugar together, add the eggs one at a time and beat; flavor with half a small nutmeg grated. Sift in the flour and mix with a little rosewater; roll out thinly, cut into rounds about three inches in diameter. Bake on a greased baking sheet in a moderate oven.

Sour Cream Cookies. One cup shortening, 1 cup sour cream, 2 cups light brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon soda. Flour to make dough soft enough to handle. Flavor as desired. This makes a soft cookie.

Hot Apple Cake. Line a pie plate with short pastry; pare and cut apples into eighths and arrange close together in concentric circles until centre is reached; sprinkle with sugar and grated nutmeg; then spread evenly over the top a mixture of beaten egg with two tablespoons of cream from the top of milk jar; dot with bits of butter; bake quickly in a hot oven and serve while hot.

No Games in Canadian Yesterday—Giants Increase Lead

GIANTS ADD TO THEIR MARGIN BY TRIMMING THE CARDINALS

New York Is Another Half Game Ahead of the Chicago Cubs.

ONE GAME PLAYED IN THE NATIONAL

Windy City Pastimers Are Held Idle, While Their Rivals Forge Ahead.

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—New York added another game to its lead over Chicago in the race for the pennant by defeating St. Louis, this afternoon by 5 to 2.

New York started scoring in the second. Murray singled, but was forced by Herzog. Sallee hit Meyers and Fletcher, filling the bases. Crandall then singled to left, scoring Herzog and Meyers. Fletcher stopping at second. Snodgrass singled over Smith's head, scoring Fletcher, but Crandall overran second and was out.

In the next inning, Becker's single followed by Murray's three-bagger gave the visitors another run.

Cardinals Count.
The home team scored in the fourth when Konechky singled, went to third on a single by Evans and scored when Hauser sacrificed to Murray. Evans scored when Oakes doubled to left field.

In the eighth Becker singled to center, stole second, went to third on Wings' throw to center, and scored. New York's last run when Oakes' throw got past Smith. Score: 11-2.

By Innings:
New York . . . 0 3 1 0 0 0 1 0—5
St. Louis . . . 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—2

Summary: Runs—Konechky, Evans, 2; Becker, 2; Herzog, Meyers, Fletcher, 2. Two-base hits—Oakes, Konechky, 3. Three-base hits—Murray, Herzog. Sacrifice hits—Mace, Hauser, 2. Errors—Snodgrass, 2; Crandall, 3. Left on bases—St. Louis 8, New York 3. Time 1:45. Umpires—Rigler and Finnegan.

CLIMBING SKEETERS STUCK IN THE MUD

Toronto Players Proved Themselves the Best Mud-runners Yesterday.

MAPLE LEAFS WON 8-2

Providence Walloped by Montreal—No Other Battles in the International.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—The climbing Skeeters, who have since come down like the proverbial stick, failed to cause a halt in the Leafs' pennantward march at the oaky island. In-closure yesterday.

Extraordinarily muddy mud made the field look like a swamp, but the players stuck to their jobs—mostly stuck—and finished out the game to an 8 to 2 conclusion. John Joseph Kelly's Klambers are on their way. Before somebody beats us to it we want to say that the Klambers are good "mudders," that the infield was a sea of mud, and other things like that, usually heard in connection with the "sport of kings."

The Leafs were left Jack Deschamps' in the opening game of the season here. Mr. McHale, another of the fingers on the staff of Lawrence Schaff, who made Beach City, Ohio, famous, hit the Leafs this season. But yesterday the combined efforts of the Skeeters' two best twirling cards did not suffice to cause any perceptible slackening of Toronto's speed in the pennant scramble.

A Talented Gentleman.
Before the shades of evening fell the spectators had the privilege of looking at Larry Schaff, the little fellow on the Leafs' staff for the Toronto to hit at. In addition to managing the Skeeters, keeping peace in the troublous family, Larry Schaff is a talented gentleman.

LEWIS M'ALLISTER STILL WISHES TO MANAGE LONDON BALL CLUB

Dinsmore and Wilson Were Released Today and Catcher Greenhaugh Reported—Shaughnessy May Coach McGill University Squad This Fall.

All the games in the Canadian League were postponed yesterday either on account of rain or wet grounds, and double-headers will be the order of the day this afternoon. In St. Thomas the directors asked the Peterboro management to play three games today, so that the game postponed from yesterday, and another postponed game could be included in the standing, but nothing was decided upon.

Ottawa plays two games in Hamilton and Guelph two in Brantford so that by the time that dusk falls on the different parks in the circuit the league standing may be greatly altered.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN LONDON TEAM MADE TODAY.
The London management today released Ernie Dinsmore and Catcher Geo. Wilson. Dinsmore was signed last week to substitute for Cossach, and the return of that regular from his home in Detroit has made it impossible for the management to carry Dinsmore.

Catcher Wilson, whom great things were expected, did not show signs of being fast enough for Canadian League company. To assist Benny Spear, Manager Barrett went to Buffalo and signed Catcher Greenhaugh, who caught one game for the locals in Hamilton earlier in the season. Greenhaugh at the time of his previous trial showed that he can hit, and the players state that his throwing to bases is as good as that of any other regular in the league.

M'ALLISTER WILL BE IN LONDON ON MONDAY.
Despite all rumors to the contrary there will be absolutely no change in the management of the local team this season, and it has not yet been stated that there will be a new manager at the head of affairs in 1913. The Ottawa papers are boosting "Red" Rowe for the position, but the London directors have decided to keep M'Allister yesterday stating that he was very eager to lead a Canadian League team, and not to take any steps in the matter until he had interviewed them. The Baltimore team, to which M'Allister belongs, will be in Toronto next week, and Lew will be in the city to confer with the directors on Monday.

TORONTO SENT ISAACS TO SYRACUSE.
Isaacs, the former Guelph third baseman, did not stay long in Class AA company, he having been sold to the Syracuse New York State League team by the Toronto club under an optional agreement. Isaacs was not considered fast enough for the International League and was sent to the Class B league for further seasoning.

All fans throughout the circuit will be pleased to hear that "Bill" Phyle will remain in the Canadian League for the balance of the season. The umpire who was to come in exchange for Phyle balked at the idea of going lower, so the deal fell through. In all possibility Phyle will be with the premier minor league organization next year.

The Ottawa papers state that Louie Bierbauer is the best player on the local team, judging from the past series in that city. Benny Meyer, the outfielder Toronto secured from Newark last fall, has become the sensation of the International, and is being highly praised by the Toronto papers.

The Toronto papers state that Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cincinnati National League clubs are following Meyer's records at present. The only reason that Kelley bought Meyer was for his ability on the coaching lines, and early in the season through accidents to other batters he was pressed into service in the gardens. He immediately made good, and has been used regularly ever since.

He leads the team in hitting. When he found that Hamilton did not appreciate his efforts to provide a winning team for that city, he cast about for a suitable section in which to form a Class D league. The hold that baseball has in the Province of Quebec caused him to decide upon a league there, and which would include the city of Hull. Now all his work has been some glimmering when he found that Hull would have a team because it was too near Ottawa.

YESTERDAY WAS AN OFF-DAY FOR PLAYERS.
The Ottawa papers state that a world of good by giving them an extra day's rest after the trip of last week, and the chances are that the team will commence to climb until the end of the season. Yesterday, several members of the Peterboro team, which has been playing in the circuit, were held back by the rain. Nearly all the players in the city yesterday attended the afternoon performance at the local theatre where Sammy Smith entertained a large audience with several songs. Sammy made such a hit that he has been re-engaged and will appear later in the week.

Several big league scouts are expected to be in attendance at the double-headers today. The Ottawa papers state that Louie Bierbauer is the best player on the local team, judging from the past series in that city.

SHAUGHNESSY IN ANOTHER BRANCH OF SPORT.
Frank Shaughnessy, the president of the Ottawa club, and who is at present managing the Port Wayne club in the Central League, is being sought by the University to act as the Rugby coach for that institution for the coming season. It is altogether likely that "Shag" will accept, as his home is now in Ottawa, and last year he showed a keen interest in the Canadian game. Frank Shaughnessy is a well-known name in the Southern States and was a great "An Interested Fan and Citizen" who directed an epistle to the Sporting Editor concerning the management of the London ball club will send his name as an evidence of good faith he may stand a chance of having his letter published.

News of the Harness Horses
Grand Marshall and Lady Postal distanced in their first start, what do you know about that?
Newell's victory at Fort Erie makes this his third win in a row. He is something unusual.
They have a big horse down east called King Gazette, that is, it is something unusual.
To date there are 20 new 2:10 trotters and 17 pacers, headed by Baden, 2:05, and Jackson II, 2:03.
The black mare, Susie M., was a pacing race in 2:12, at Augusta, is by Ray.
Frank Bogash, jun., is a pacer racing in the east and regarded as one of the best prospects. He won an Augusta stake in 2:12.
Dolly S. has not forgotten how to race on a half-mile track, as she beat many of the best horses in the country in 2:12.
Constantine, that won the second heat at Montreal, had a lot of speed when at Lansing, and it was a question when she would be able to carry it and feel like doing so. Her third mile in 2:03, at Fort Erie makes her look like one of the best of the year.
Greatest Lion, the old Michigan pacer, that can fall down other than any horse in the business, was second in 2:04, at Fort Erie.
Helen V. is an out-and-in performer of the most pronounced type. Most of her victories are when she sells in check, but she is also a favorite at Fort Erie.
Nowaday Jack trotted the second heat in the 2:10 race at Montreal, N.Y., in 2:16, which is a world's record on a half-mile track. This is the filly that drove Lord Allen out at Itabasca.
Some think that Irving Heart, winner at Jackson on Thursday, is good enough to hold over for the stakes. The horse has shown speed for a couple of years, and his owner, George D. Conner, has been waiting for him.
Gun, owned by Eugene Stallion, that won at Chatham and other Canadian towns in the spring, is lame. He looked like a star trotter in June.

Tecumseh's Batting and Fielding Averages To Date
Below will be found the batting and fielding averages of the members of the London Canadian League team, including the two games in Ottawa. The figures for these averages are compiled from the box scores of each game and every game, and are correct in every detail.

Louie Bierbauer is the only local player with a batting average of over .300, and he also leads the regulars in fielding with an average of .972. Linneburne is in second place in the batting, and has an average of .374, and he also leads the team in the matter of stolen bases with 37 to his credit. Bierbauer, Cossach, Powell and Neale are the only other members of the team that have stolen over ten bases during the season. Chaput, Wilson and Reltzman are the members of the team that the league has safely connected this season.

Chaput has not had an error yet, but Bierbauer is the real leader in 211 errors with only 6 errors in 211 chances.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 19.—Such portions of the baseball rules as restrict the number of men on a side to nine at any one time evidently are totally disregarded or else temporarily held in abeyance here in Boston. The Red Sox certainly had ten of them this afternoon, and it was the added starter Corridan who made the regular members of the cast who trimmed the Tigers. A REBEL DEFEAT

Mexican Insurgents Repulsed in Attempt to Capture Mochtezuma.
Douglas, Ariz., Aug. 20.—Rebels numbering 450 were defeated in an attempt to capture Mochtezuma, according to advice received here. Mochtezuma is an important town less than 100 miles southwest of this point, on the border.

Foreigners are preparing to leave the district. Many small towns have been taken by rebels. A group of 600 rebels, believed to be the vanguard of Orozco's advance in Sonora, hold the San Luis Pass, and the rebels appear to be in a position to retain the position until the entrance of the main rebel army. This group said to be the same which was encamped until recently at Patomas, opposite Columbus, N. M.

Gives Vim and Vigor to the System
There's nothing like Beef, Wine and Iron (C. & L.) for "run-down," "tired-out" people. It goes right to work to build up and strengthen and invigorate the system. Almost wonderful how quickly it does this. It's perfect food and tonic for the nerves—soothes and quiets "unstrung" nerves—completely cures nervousness. It's the tonic par excellence for those who want to keep well and strong.

BUYS 50,000 BARRELS OF CHOICE APPLES

Mr. J. G. Anderson Made Record Purchase of Splendid Simcoe Fruit.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Simcoe, Aug. 20.—A very important deal in apples was put through recently, when Mr. J. G. Anderson, M. P. P., purchased from the Norfolk Fruit Growers' Association, through Mr. J. E. Johnston, of Simcoe, Ont., the entire pack of apples for 1912. This pack is estimated to run between forty and fifty thousand barrels, and is considered to be the finest lot of apples grown in Canada. They are intended for both the export and western markets.

DORCHESTER FARMER DRAGGED BY HORSE

Mr. Wellington Topham Was Trying to Stop a Runaway.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Dorchester, Aug. 20.—Mr. Wellington Topham's horse ran away yesterday. It became frightened while tied in front of Mr. White's butcher shop and broke loose and ran as far as the Methodist Church shed, where it became tangled up with a post.

The shafts of the buggy, to which it was hitched, were smashed to pieces. Mr. Topham caught hold of the lines at first and was dragged some distance in the mud, but escaped without further injury than a badly bruised hand. After the horse broke loose it ran some distance, but was finally caught before any further mishap to it.

Miss Agnes Mullin was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, London, today having contracted typhoid fever. Dr. Banghart is in attendance.
Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Campbell and Miss Margaret are visiting at Komoka.
Mr. Rudd, of Detroit, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. Myrick.
Miss Minnie Pardee, of Evelyn, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. E. T. Shaw.
Miss Carroll and nephew, of Ingersoll, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. Carroll for a few days.

WARM WEATHER IS CRY OF THE FARMERS
Need at Least a Week of Sunshine to Get in Their Crops.

"Warm weather" is the general cry of the farmers now, and they claim that unless it comes right away and lasts for at least a week or so it will mean a big loss in the harvest. The recent rains have greatly interfered with grain cutting and threshing. If more rain should follow now farmers declare nothing can prevent a very large amount of "musty" grain, and they also fear that oats may sprout.

AROUND INGERSOLL.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Aug. 20.—Farmers are beginning to have grave fears for the crops that are yet to be harvested if the wet spell is not broken at once. In this vicinity there is considerable grain in the shock, while farther north there is much yet to be cut, but under present weather conditions work on the farm is at a standstill. The corn is one crop that is thriving as probably not in years, and if the weather continues as favorable during September it will be a bumper crop.

A LONG WET SPELL.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Mitchell, Aug. 20.—The continued wet weather is beginning to be seriously felt by the farmers. In some cases wheat and barley are still in the fields. The oat crop is nearly all cut, or ready to cut, with no chance to get dry enough to draw in. The old saying about 40 days' rain will soon be fulfilled, as one farmer was heard to remark that we have had 35 wet days so far.

MEANS EXTRA WORK.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Parkhill, Aug. 20.—Farmers in this district are having a large amount of extra work that they never figured on as a result of the recent heavy downpours. The grain that was cut has been so saturated that it will take days to dry, and many of the sheaves will have to have the bands cut and be spread out. The grain crop is a good average.

The rain has not interfered to any great extent with the flax, and a good yield is being harvested and cared for. Fruit is very plentiful in this district, especially apples.

NEED HELP BADLY.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Wingham, Aug. 20.—The return of sunshine today was most welcome for all the farmers in this district, as so much wet weather has seriously interfered with harvesting. Plenty of good warm weather is needed now in order that the grain may be saved properly. Grain cutting is in full swing, and in some districts threshing is well on.

Fruit is good. Farmers need help, but are having hard work to obtain men, and the excursion to the West has made a difficult situation still more complicated.

NEED WARM WEATHER.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Dorchester, Aug. 20.—Farmers here need a week of good warm weather in order to save the very abundant oat crop. Cutting, which was general, has been greatly hindered by the recent heavy rains, and great care will be needed if the grain that has been cut is to be prevented from sprouting.

Make some new Body and Brain Tissue every day or You Drop Back

Right Food Is the Only Supply Grape-Nuts

Food is made of selected parts of wheat and barley that furnish the natural phosphates required by the human system for rebuilding waste tissue in the nerve and brain centres, and supplies vital energy to body and mind.

FINE FOR CORN.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Chatham, Aug. 20.—The recent rains have been fine for the corn crop, and Kent farmers will reap their usual golden harvest from this source. Some magnificent fields of corn are to be seen, and a splendid yield is looked for.

The rains have to some extent interfered with grain cutting, but no serious results are anticipated.

Music and Drama

"Honey Boy" Minstrels.
Monday evening, August 26, Mr. Evans will present Looney Bierbauer with the handsome cup emblematic of the 1911 batting championship of the Canadian League. George "Honey Evans," the pre-eminent distinguished exponent of Ethiopian comedy, holds a unique distinction—that of having been an aerial passenger with three ill-fated aviators, who shortly after they had defied the clouds with him by their sides went to their death. This trio of intrepid birdmen, who with 161 others have sacrificed their lives in aerial navigation, were: William R. "Bill" Badger, the Pittsburgh millionaire-air-maniac, St. Croix Johnstone and John Moltsant.

"Honey Boy" was one of the most enthusiastic "bugs" in the country over aviation at its inception, and after taking several thrilling flights through the clouds with Badger, the flyer of plural wardrobe, who was familiarly known by Broadway boulevardiers, and Johnstone, in their machine at the Minneapolis, L. I. Aerodrome, shortly after they had secured their pilot's licenses, he decided to order an aeroplane. While he had the matter of a purchase of a machine in his mind, he was informed that Johnstone entered the valley of the shadow of death when their air-crafts were dashed to the ground about a year ago at the big aviation meet at Chicago, Ill. Then, the "Honey Boy," who is a fatalist, took this tragedy as ominous to himself, and called off all negotiations for an aeroplane.

CORRESPONDENCE
Front Street Breakwater.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:
I have for several years been trying to get the council of the city to make what I consider would be a means of doing away with all fear of floods in the district (Front street), and entirely do away with that expensive, foolish woodwork at the east end of this street, which has already cost the city near $3,000, and now has to be done over again. What I propose is that from the south of Maitland street to the east end of Colborne, a channel of 150 feet be cut, so that all ice and water coming down the river will go straight through to Clark's bridge. The material that would come out of this cut is (I am informed), the very best that can be got for concrete blocks, and as the cut would be mostly on city property, viz., through Trafalgar street, we then could connect Front street on the south side of the cut to the southwest corner of the Port Stanley bridge, which would be a great advantage to the men at the McClary works and the rolling mill, who could get through to their work instead of going over Clark's bridge, and then be able to use that hotbed of mud and mosquitoes that infest Mills' old island. We then would do away with all fear of floods, as around these bends in the river is where the ice accumulates every spring and causes the block.

The distance that would be needed to be cut is only about 400 feet west to Colborne street, a clear run for all water and ice. I think this could be done at a very small amount, and it would bring into the city a lot more houses for taxes, or it could be made into a good park, badly needed in this district. With a bridge at the south end of Colborne street to the new extension of Front street it would be a great improvement to the new state of affairs. The present state is a disgrace to this end of the city. Something has to be done before long or we shall surely be found some distance down toward Chatham.

In a very short time all the old river would be dried up if the water was prevented from going that way. This would be a good time to get some person to get the sand out for the concrete work of the white elephant that is to be put up at Waterloo street, and get the work done for the city cheap. I hope this matter may be agitated by some other person beside me in this district, as the council promised me to go over this proposal and see my ideas a month since, but nothing has been done yet and summer is fast going away. I dread another winter. I have seen good 15 days returning. Particulars, I am able to give an opinion. The lot I live on has been washed away 80 feet since the so-called breakwater was placed there. Nothing has been done to complete it to the end of lot 16. I did think that a new engineer would be able to get the council to do something. We do not want any more waste of money on repairing the match-work. Had this been done at the time that the first woodwork (I mean the cut), I consider that at least twenty houses would have been built in this district, if only secure from floods, and beautify the river, as well as increase the taxes. On behalf of Front street property-owners, Yours respectfully, T. J. WELLS, 80 Front street.
