THE BIRTH OF A NATION

Toronto theatre-goers are to see "The Birth of a Nation" for the last time on Saturday night. Ever since the week of farewell performances was announced, the patronage has been so great that renewed efforts were made to secure another extension of the engagement. But all to no purpose. The Basil Corporation controlling the rights for Canada is The Basil Corporation sending the production on a long tour opening in Guelph on Monday. This will last until June, and as the pro-ducer, D. W. Griffith has refused to grant an extension for the Canadian territory after that time, it is likely that Toronto will never witness the picturess again after this week. Mr. Griffith knows that he has created the first of the great motion picture masterpieces, and sooner than see it pass away through exhibition at cheap prices, he is going to lay his films eway and preserve them for posterity.

Edward Abeles, well-known star of the legitimate, and more recently star of a number of big photo dramatic productions, will, in the near future, apyear at Loew's Theatre here, in the wonderful drama written by George Broadhurst, entitled "Self Defence."

In "Self Defence" Abeles appears as an Italian boy, dumb, but not deaf, charged with killing his sister, her baby, and the husband. Grilled by the district attorney, he explained, in pantomime, exactly how he killed the hus-band, in self defence, after the latter had murdered his sister. During the time he is on the stage Mr. Abeles does not utter a word. It is one of the most remarkable and gripping drama ever shown in American vaudeville This is Mr. Abeles in real life, not in a in the war will come in the principal theatres, not on the side lines.

As to the fears about Saloniki, the object of holding on there is to force the enemy to attack the port with a force which at the least should 25c, 10c monthly, or $1.00 a year. H. be 400,000 men. As the forts are constructed on a perimetre of 50 miles, and the garrison is acting on interior lines, it would take at least double its number to sustain a siege. The occupation of such a point on the axis of a German advance or abreast of his communications is to contain as many of his troops as possible and ultimately to advance after he has suffered certain losses. Space forbids here a full explanation of the objects of this form of military operation which was first worked out by Wellington at Torres Vedras. . The official communique received from Paris last night records no undertaking of an offensive by the French in Champagne as the Germans gave out yesterday. Merely a bombardment of the German positions took place on this front and it is probable that in their extreme nervousness after the failure of Sunday to shake the French lines, the Teutons were misled by a feint at onslaught. The French stopped the Germans cold in their trenches when they emitted clouds of suffocating gas in preparation for an attack on the front between the Argonne and the Meuse. A curtain of fire deterred the enemy. French gunners caused an explosion and did damage to German trenches and field fortresses at several points on the front. The French dug themselves in a ridge hard by when the Germans exploded a mine at Hill 285 in the Argonne.

Opposition to compulsory military service in the British house of commons has practically lended, for a motion to reject the bill on its second reading was voted down by 431 to 39. It is expected that Earl Kitchener will attend to the threatened strike of the Welsh coal miners in the same manner as he attended to the Liverpool dockers when they persisted in walking out from their jobs.

THURSDAY MORNING

The Sixtieth Annuar General Meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Toronto was held at the Head Office, in Toronto, on Wednesday, 12th January, 1916. The chair was taken by the Vice-President, Mr. W. G. Gooderham. Mr. Thomas F. How, the General Manager, was elected secretary of the meeting, and Messrs. George R. Hargraft and C. H. Taylor were appointed scrutineers. The Secretary read the annual report, as follows:

The Directors of The Bank of Toronto beg to present their Report for the year ending 30th November, 1915, accompanied by a Statement of the Bank's affairs and the results of the operations for the year.

resort to our Rest or our Profit and Loss account for special appropriations for any of these purposes.

It is not necessary to do more than refer in a word or two to the general financial conditions in the Motherland and on the Continent. Loans by the different Governments abroad have been and are being issued on an unprecedented scale, and the waste of war material and supplies is so enormous that new loans follow upon the old at very short intervals. The countries which prior to the war were ready lenders, are now drawing heavily upon their reources, not only of income, but of capital. The only important country that has money available is the United States, where loans are now being sought by countries which had hitherto found in the neighboring Republic a field for investment of their surplus income. Fortunately, the United States had passed through a period of retrenchment, and their Banks had accumulated large surpluses. The new Federal Reserve Act had added largely to their power to use such surpluses to advantage, and they were in a position to lend freely to good borrowers. A recent estimate by The Wall Street Journal shows that during the past year they have made loans to the various Governments aggregating nearly $900,000,000. In addition, they have purchased of their own securities an amount estimated at over $1,000,000,000, and still have ample resources on hand out of which banking credits are being arranged to a very large extent.

pressed that Canada's trade relations with the United States were so important to that country, and we were such good customers, that we might reasonably expect they would be ready to purchase our high-grade securities. This they have done to an amount estimated at over $145,000,000, divided as follows: Deminion and Development of the same time strengthening our second line of reserves.

The immediate outlook is encouraging, but conditions are so abnormal, and there are such possibilities of unpleasant surprises, that no predictions can be made beyond the very near future. We have had a good harvest in all the Provinces and an exceptional harvest in the West, the total value of the grain crops in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta being estimated at $450,000,000. Up to the close of navigation there had been shipped out 174,591,545 bushels of grain, of which 146,585,088 bushels were of wheat of uniform high quality. The amount of money that has already been paid out in the West for grain marketed amount of money that has already been paid out in the West for grain marketed 502 75 has enabled farmers to largely reduce their liabilities, has given a stimulus to 382 64 nas enabled farmers to largely reduce their habilities, has given a stimulus to trade, and inspired the people of the Prairie Provinces with courage and hope. They have a large surplus of grain still to dispose of, the proceeds of which will go towards strengthening their position, and add to their prosperity. A grati-fying feature, also, is the increased attention that is being given to the produc-tion of live stells on the merchanic former products still continue $1,065,885 35 tion of live stock and to mixed farming, although grain products still continue to be the important factor.

That the credit of Canada should stand high, we point to the record of the past year. For years we have been a borrowing country, our imports very largely exceeding exports, necessitating borrowings to cover the debit balance of trade; but the Minister of Finance and other financial authorities were insistent in urging the duty of economizing and of reducing imports, also the equal duty of taking steps to increase the volume of our exportable products, and the extent to which this advice has been followed has, we believe, been a

The trade figures for eight months of the year ending in November show a total Canadian trade of $863,000,000, as against $766,000,000 for the correspond-ing eight months of 1914. Imports for the eight months were $298,000,000, a surprise to even the most sanguine. decrease of $20,000,000 for the corresponding period of the former year. The domestic exports for the eight months of the present year were $419,000,000, as against $269,000,000 for the same period in 1914. These figures show an improvement in our favor amounting to $170,000,000, while a large proportion of our recent abundant harvest has yet to go forward, and our manufacturers are busily engaged on orders for exportable products. It is quite probable that when the fiscal year ends on 31st March next Canada may have a favorable trade balance of $200,000,000 to $250,000,000. The Finance Minister recently invited subscriptions from the public to for seemed large, as no loan of this size had ever been presented to the people of Canada, but the response was so general that the subscriptions reached a total of over $103,000,000. The Government thereupon decided that with the consent of these subscribers the loan should be increased to $100,000,000, and to use $50,000,000 in assisting the Imperial Government to finance their purchases of supplies in this country. The consent of the subscribers was cheerfully given. The Directors on behalf of this Bank subscribed to the loan, and have been allotted $979,700 of the issue.

Had apyone a year ago predicted that it would have been possible to have reversed our debit trade balance into such a large-credit one, to have taken up an issue of Dominion Government bonds to the extent of $100,000,000, to have provided the funds necessary for the marketing of an unusually abundant crop and to have made provision for all the other requirements of legitimate busi and to have made provision for all the other requirements or regitimate busi-ness enterprises, the author of such a prophecy would have been regarded as extremely visionary and his predictions would have been derided. But the war and the conditions it has created overshadow everything else.

There is, we believe, but one feeling in this country, and one feeling amongst the stockholders of the Bank, that we are prepared to support the Government to the fullest extent of our power in alding the Empire in this crisis. As before stated, it is not possible to make any predictions as to the continued effects upon our financial system. The longer the war lasts the greater the 7,923 50 3,713 18 burden that will be thrown upon the country by the increased indebtedness that will be created. The necessity, therefore, for continuing to be conserva creased taxation, to make subscriptions to the special funds arising out of the ance sheet, and to make some remarks upon the changes that have taken place WILSON UNDER ATTACK creased taxation, to make subscriptions to the special runds arising out of the line obliged to war, and to do this out of the earnings of the year without being obliged to As the Vice-President has remarked, the year has been an unusual one.

As the Vice-President has remarked, the year has been an unusual one. For at least eight months gradual liquidation was in process and the country generally was avoiding any new commitments. A change, however, has taken place, and an improvement is manifest. The notes in circulation at 30th November were $5,504,704, as compared with $4,687,332 in 1914, an increase of $817,372. It is of interest, however, to note that the average circulation of the year was only $4,091,800, and the in-crease which has taken place has been during the last few weeks of the year. Big Row Develops in Congress

To a large extent this increase was due to the rapid marketing of the crop of

To a large extent this increase the Western Provinces. The deposits show a gain for the year of $3,844,786. Some of the amounts making up the increase are of a special character, and may not be permanent, but the average deposits for the twelve months show an increase of $2,631,003,

Current loans were on the average $3,160,486 less than for the previous year. For the same reasons that our circulation showed an increase in the later months of the year, loans have also steadily increased, so that they are now only $778.748 less than at the corresponding date a year ago. The fact that our loans were on the average over $8,000,000 less than they were the previous year necessarily affected profits, as we were without the earning power of that amount throughout the year. power of that amount throughout the year.

Cash reserves held were somewhat in excess of the preceding year, this being assisted by the reduction in loans and increase in deposits to which I have referred. It is, however, our policy, even at the expense of profits, to keep our cash position strong, and it is a satisfaction to have been able to while at the same time meeting all proper requirements of our cusdo this and we have made full provision to cover losses and also any amounts that could be considered doubtful. We should also state that the war tax on our circulation, increased special taxation by the different Provinces, and the spe-cial war tax stamp charges have amounted to over $65,000. This being over and above all ordinary business and municipal taxes. All the above of contingencies have been provided for out of the earnings of the year, and our reserve profits in Rest and Profit and Loss accounts remain unimpaired.

It is difficult, if not impossible, in such times as these to make predictions but I believe the Bank will have much better employment for its available ces throughout the year upon which we have entered.

There is still a large proportion of our Western crop to be marketed, and loans will be required to carry this during the ensuing months. We believe that the industrial activity and general improvement in business that have been stimulated by the abundant harvest, together with the special orders placed with our manufacturers for war supplies, justify us in looking forward to a more profitable year. It cannot as yet be stated what the effect is going to be upon the Banks generally of the withdrawal of deposits for investment in the Dominion of Canada War Loan. As stockholders you will be interested in knowing that the subscriptions made through this Bank, including the Bank's subscription I may repeat what has been said by the Vice-President, that to the extent that we can aid in the great task of financing this war, we are bound to do so and we feel sure the stockholders will support us in this. We also hope to continue to render useful service to the country and do our share in promoting its best interests by assisting in the development of profitable trade

Its best interests by assisting in the development of promable trade. The Vice-President then resumed: You have now heard the General Manager's remarks, and I wish to say that as stockholders our thanks are due to him and his staff for their highly efficient and faithful services rendered throughout a very trying year.

I have now pleasure, gentlemen, in moving, seconded by the Second Vice-President, that the report which has just been read be adopted, and that the same be printed and a copy forwarded to each Shareholder.

The Motion was carried. The Meeting also adopted a resolution tendering the thanks of the stock-holders to the President, Vice-Presidents and Directors for their careful management of the Bank's affairs during the past year.

Mr. Geoffrey T. Clarkson, C.A., was appointed Stockholders' Auditor. The following Directors were elected for the ensuing year: W. G. Good-rham, William Stone, John Macdonald, Lieut.-Col. A. E. Gooderham, Duncan Coulson, Joseph Henderson, Brig.-Gen. F. S. Meighen, J. L. Englehart, Wil

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 .- There was no indication tonight that the United States would take any further action in the case of the Americans slain by Villa bandits in Mexico beyond its demand for the apprehension and punishment of the outlaws, or at the most, to hold General Carranza responsible for the murders if it is shown that his officials were negligent in providing protection for the party.

AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS.

to the Shareholders of The Bank of Toronto:

I have compared the above Balance Sheet with the books and accounts at chief office of The Bank of Toronto, and with certified returns received om its branches, and after checking the cash and verifying the securities at he chief office and certain of the principal branches on November 30th, 1915, certify that in my opinion such Balance Sheet exhibits a true and correct ew of the state of the Bank's affairs according to the best of my information, he explanations given to me, and as shown by the books of the Bank. In addition to the examination mentioned, the cash and securities at the chief office and certain of the principal branches were checked and verified by ne during the year, and found to be in accord with the books of the Bank.

All information and explanations required have been given to me, and all ansactions of the Bank which have come under my notice have, in my opinn, been within the powers of the Bank. G. T. CLARKSON, Toronto, December 11th, 1915.

Chartered Accountant.

After the report had been read the Vice-President addressed the meeting collows:

Gentlemen: I am sure we all regret that our President is not able to be h us today, although it was his hope and expectation that he would be, but his absence it is my duty to make a few remarks in connection with the rewhich has just been read.

It is hardly necessary for me to say that the conditions under which the is of the Bank has been carried on since the outbreak of war have been such an unforeseen and unusual character that we had no precedent to guide is and we were obliged, therefore, as new developments presented, to deal the them from day to day. Under these conditions your Directors deemed i to hold a much larger proportion of reserves in cash, and generally to sue a very conservative course.

The uncertainties created by the war led our customers everywhere to pro very cautiously. Stocks were largely reduced, new commitments were Mded, and a waiting attitude was general. This policy was maintained for least eight months of our financial year. In consequence, our current loans e steadily reduced and interest-bearing deposits gradually indreased. The have to report that the percentage of profits earned on our Capital and is lower than we have been accustomed to, but it should be a satisfaction stockholders to know that we have been able to make very liberal profor all losses, to revise the value of our securities, to pay greatly in-

27,820 55 tive in management appeals very strongly to your Directors. We believe our duty to the country lies in two directions: We desire, so far as the resources of the Bank will permit, to afford facilities to such industries as will enable us to increase exports, and also to assist both the Dominion 39,382 64 and Imperial Governments in the heavy burden of financing that has been laid upon them.

This country has, in a very large degree, potential sources of wealth. Productive lands, forests, mines and fisheries, well-equipped manufacturing estab-lishments, a good system of railways, canals, and other means of transporta-37.203 19 tion, and an industrious and economical population, are factors that lie at the basis of national prosperity. If we, therefore, measure the possibilities of our country by our possession of these sources of wealth we may look forward with confidence. The increase in production the past year is an earnest of what can be accomplished in the future. We have the land, its productiveness is beyond question. It only requires men to work this land and a modest capital for development, to give us a yearly surplus beyond our present imaginings. And even in the land now under cultivation more intensive and careful farming will give a large and profitable increase. We desire to lay emphasis upon this, for the development of this country's agricultural possibilities is probably our nost important hope and ground of confidence for the future. But while we lay great stress upon our agricultural products, we must not fail to remember that our production of minerals is also steadily increasing, and our timber and fisheries will continue to prove important sources of income.

At present many of our manufacturing establishments, in addition to their ordinary trade, are working up to their fullest capacity on orders for military equipment and munitions, giving profitable employment to a large number of 653,994 82 operators. To assist, therefore, in increasing exports from the above source is, for the Bank, an imperative duty. In doing this we will none the less be aiding those whose business lies more in the exchange of articles in our domestic trade. Our producers in one direction are our consumers in another, and our interests are bound up with one another, but the great need at the present time is to increase production of those exportable articles to pay for our outside purchases and the interest on loans which have been and are being con-83,713 13 42.109 47

The profits accruing from increased production and the savings of our people will add steadily to the nation's capital, and to the extent that these tracted. profits and savings find their way into the Banks and increase their deposits, they will be available to give still further support to our producers and manufacturers, to give more employment to our working people, to carry the burden of indebtedness which is being incurred, and to assist in promoting prosperity. Our next most important duty as bankers is to aid the Government in financing. There is a limit, of course, beyond which we cannot go. Our resources are limited. We can only lend the surplus that depositors provide, and for this we must look to the individuals composing our population. The Banks have not yet arrived at the stage where they can undertake to provide all the capital that is required for the development of our natural resources. The country must continue to borrow abroad, in such markets as are open to it, such sums as may be required for future development. Our banking deposits are not equal to so great a task, and they must not be unduly depleted so as to lesser our working capital.

Neither can we weaken our financial standing by relying upon increas issues of Dominion Government currency. Our currency, whether of Bank notes or Dominion Government notes, should in its practical working be limited to what the country requires for its daily needs in enabling transfers of commodifies to be easily and conveniently carried out. Anything beyond that should be provided for by fixed capital.

The Banks will, therefore, be dependent upon the continued increase in deposits to enable them to continue to aid in financing the large requirements ahead of us, and the necessity is thus laid upon everyone to share in this.

The country has done well during the past year in meeting its own require-ments. It has not done so wholly. The Imperial Government has made large advances to the Dominion Government, but the amount received from Great Three-Inch Guns Promptly Britain for other purposes has not been large. As I have already stated, the Britain for other purposes has not been large. As I have already stated, the United States have taken $145,000,000 of our securities. But our own people have purchased $38,000,000 of municipal securities and have subscribed for Dominion and Provincial Government issues to the extent of $148,000,000. We are, therefore, financing ourselves to a greater extent than we have ever done are, therefore, financing ourselves to a greater extent than we have ever done before. How much more we can do it is impossible to say, but we trust that everyone will realize that it is his individual duty to carry his share of the financial burden. inancial burden.

There are many interesting figures presented in the financial summarie of the year to which reference might be made, but publicity is being given to them in the various addresses and journals that deal with our financial matters, and the whole subject is worthy of your careful attention this year.

The department as a whole it is inconceivable that they will be should recognize that there must be a willing to trust any successors to the change if another investigation is not same policy which has driven their to be looked for at an early date. nation to ruin. The people themselves are suffering as few nations have suffered, and they have borne it under the delusion that they have been conspired against and attacked without reason by those who desired their downfall. One day they must learn that it was Germany that was the aggressor, and that the war was engineered by the kaiser and his circle for the purpose of achieving world conquest. The policy of the allies has been to live and let live. Great Britain, above all, has practised free trade and thrown open her markets and her ports in every part of the world to all comers, and to Germans 'n particular. The late Queen Victoria, to show her trust and regard for Germany, assented to, if she did not instigate, the cession of Heligoland, with the result that the island has been transformed into a fortress base, from which the destruction of British power was to be aimed.

The Toronto World They arose out of his own personal acquaintance. One was of a German merchant, once wealthy, and now by the war reduced to absolute poverty, who wrote to a friend in New York to send him $500, as he was "down and out." Another case was of a lady of title accustomed to live in luxury. She has lost everything, and depends for her living on parcels of food, such as The prisoners receive, sent to her by a brother in the United States. The third case is of a gentleman of means, who, when the war broke out, thought he would maintain "business as usual." He kept up his establishment, including six servants. Recently the government notified him to dismiss five of these and pay their wages into the war treasury. Incidents like these can be multiplied from the knowledge of local people, so that the general distress in Germany must be of the keenest. With the death of the kaiser the national confidence will be shaken and all the miseries of the people will rise up and cover the house of Hohenzollern like pall.

In a long war when the leading spirit is lost the savage jealousy and friction among the under generals usually breaks out. Few are willing to accept responsibility for the condition of affairs existing in a defeated nation. Thus everything points to the probability of a general collapse should the kaiser succumb to his last enemy.

The world is sick of the treachery. the infamy, the brutality, of Germany's actions, and whether her people consented to them in ignorance or with knowledge, they cannot altogether escape responsibility. The allies have no desire to extirpate / the German nation, but they must insist that the German people extirpate the evil spirit that has been dwelling among them. The Prussian menace to the world is something the world cannot tolerate. Allies and neutrals are alike in that, and whether in Germany or in any other nation where the spirit shows itself, it will draw the enmity of the rest of mankind.

We believe these things must become clear to the German people. They are suffering, as we have said, great hardships and privations. These they have brought upon themselves, and as soon as they are willing to exorcise the evil spirit that torments them, we believe the allies will be ready to treat with them. But there can be no compromise. The evil thing must be torn up, root and branch, and utterly exterminated.

It may even mean the destruction of the aristocracy of Germany, as that has been known, and the adoption of democratic ideals and methods of government in the fatherland. That is the business of the German people. They will know what they have to do. They have many able men who know the history of other nations, and they must teach their fellow citizens that Germans must learn to live with other nations. if they are to live at all, as equals, and not as superiors, or supermen, or anything but plain and simple. human beings with the kindly hearts #### and the friendly offices of our common human nature.

That the strain upon the German people is heavy has been demonstrated in many ways. How long the organism can stand such unusual pressure i difficult to estimate. The yielding of ers strong link, such as the death of the kaiser, might bring about a sudden and complete collapse. Three incldents were related this week by a prominent educationist in the city.

RECRUITING DEPLETING THEOLOGICAL COLLEGES

Interprovincial Baptist Sunday School Secretary Consequently Appeals to Churches.

Recruiting is hitting the theological colleges, according to Rev. S. S. Bates, general secretary of the interprovincial Baptist Sunday school of Ontario, and Quebec. He has issued an appeal to the churches for co-operation in the work of his department, in which he says: "Christian education has the right of way. It is pleasant to report that the income fund of the churches is gradually inproving. War conditions have not only increased the cost of the necessaries of life in our educational institutions, but also prevented many students from enrolling. "During the last few weeks a con siderable number of young men from Woodstock College and McMaster University, as well as one professor from the latter, have enlisted. This means a serious financial loss to the colleges. As the colleges are giving of their life for the sake of ideals which we all cherish, and for the defence of our homes, surely we will not permit them to suffer thru our neglect." In order to secure new students for the colleges to take the places of those who have joined the colors Rev. Mr. Bates will make a tour of the Baptist churches in various parts of the pro vince during the next six weeks.

U. S. CONSUL AT SALONIKI NOT TO ACT FOR TEUTONS

Germany Will Endeavor to Bully Greece to Restore Diplomats to Posts.

ATHENS, Jan. 12 .- The American ambassador at Constantinople has ad-vised the American legation here of the arrest of eight Frenchmen at Constantinople as reprisal for the arrest by the entente allies of the consuls of the Teutonic allies at Saloniki. The German minister at Athens has informed American Minister Droppers that Germany does not agree to the American consulate at Saloniki being charged with German interests there, on the ground that Saloniki is Greek territory and the Greeks must protect foreigners and foreign interests. The American consul at Saloniki has been instructed accordingly.

ED. MACK JOINS THE RANKS OF BENEDICTS

The marriage of Ed Mack to Mrs. Maud Richardson Nicoll is announced today, and congratulations are in order. The ceremony was performed yesterday at the Metropolitan parsonage. The groom is one of the best known and most popu-lar of Toronto's sportsmen, formerly pres-ident of the Toronto Baseball Club, and head of the Don Rowing Club for many years. He is also at present actively con-nected with the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen. The happy couple are enjoying their honeymoon at Atlantic City.

BULL DOGS DROP ONE

TO THE CANADIENS

MONTREAL, Jan. 12.—The Canadiens defeated Quebec here in the N.H.A. fix-ture tonight by a score of 5 to 3. Quebec made the pace, which was only a moderately fast gait, in the first period, finishing the period with the score 2 to 1 in their favor. The score in the sec-ond period ended 8 to 3. Quebec were distanced in speed in the last session, when a number of violent disagreements occurred between the opposing players. The old feud between Newsy Lalonde and Joe Hall was renewed. They came to blows twice. On the second occasion Lalonde was given the first 'match foul' penalty of the season, and banished for the rest of the game, while Hall received a major foul-temporary banishment and a fine. chliman Sutherland Handicap COLLINGWOOD BEAT MEAFORD.

Irregularity marked proceedings at the Standard Mining Exchange yes-terday. In the morning session prac-tically the whole list was weaker and trade was very dull. Later in the day however interest was revived, some good buying orders were uncovered and a fairly strong recovery was made in quite a few of the leading stocks. The volume of business transacted for the day showed a decrease from the review day the total transact for the day snowed a decrease from the previous day, the total transac-tions amounting to 131,825 shares. The stocks exhibiting signs of strength were Timiskaming and Beaver in the slivers and Holly and Vipond in the Decrements. Porcupines. The market closed with a good tine and some brokers voiced the opinion that another upwars voiced a good tine and some brokers voiced the opinion that another upward swing was due to the market. The fact that the price of silver ad-manced again to 57, a new high record, had a stiffening influence on the Co-balt list. Word has been received from London from a dealer who keeps in close touch with the situation to the effect that silver prices will go up to 60 by the end of the month. If the prophecy is fulfilled it should have a decidedly bullish effect on the silver stocks as practically all of the larger silver companies have considerable quantities of the white metal in re-serve. the attention and it will be recalled that many of the big mining houses at London. England, sent their engin-etrs to examine the new Eldorado. So far as can be learned they were all the set of the the set of of the mines were then producing and the formation was entirely new to the experts, most of whom repre-
