BODY OF MURDERED TURK FOUND BURIED IN CELLAR, THRU EFFORTS OF FRIEND

Jealousy and Robbery Are Thought Motives for Calous Crime in Wolseley Street Rooming-House—Police on Hunt for the Murderers of Ramousch Hasson.

A blood-stained piece of blue serge cloth was the clue that led the four men to dig deeper in the ground of the cellar of the house at 159 Wolseley street Saturday afternoon and find the murdered body of Ramousch Hasson, a Turk. Hasson was killed on the morning of March 4, but his death was unknown until Saturday, when the body was dug up and his body found buried four and one-half feet deep at the northern end. Hasson's throat had been cut from ear to ear, and he had a wound on the left side of his forehead. The police are not certain yet as to whether this is a gunshot wound or an injury inflicted with a blunt instrument to render Hasson helpless.

One woman and six men are held in custody as material witnesses, while the police are looking for two foreigners on charges of murder, and three other men alleged to have knowledge as to the whereabouts of the two men being sought by the police in Canada, and the United States.

Following are those under arrest as material witnesses: Beatrice Wilson, a French-Canadian, living at 81 Muriel street; Rich Shroy, 103 Palmerston avenue; A. Salbe, 62 Robinson street; Usen Manib, 2 Kensington avenue; Sam Johnston, 69 Tecumseh street; Sheriff Felta, 3 Robinson place, and Simon Tahir, 2 Robinson place.

Further developments in the case over Sunday showed that Hasson had been murdered in his bedroom, which

16-ft. "Gadabout" Motor Boat

One of the admirable features of this boat is that it can be run anywhere that there is water enough for the ordinary row boat, and also may be used like a row boat in that the propeller is in a tunnel which allows the boat to be pulled up on the shore without danger of injuring the propeller. This feature also protects the propeller and rudder both from striking the bottom in shallow places and from tangling in weeds.

Illustrating Propeller and Rudder Arrangements

The keel of these boats is of Georgia Pine, the ribs of rock elm spaced in three-inch centres and the planking of cedar. They are painted outside and the decks, coamings and inside of the boat are oiled and varnished in the natural wood except beneath the floor, which is painted. They have four cross seats, as illustrated below, which will comfortably accommodate eight persons. There is a good high back to the stern seat and removable slat backs to the centre seats. The gasoline tank, which is of galvanized iron, holds six gallons, so that the boat will travel over sixty miles without refilling. There is a brass cleat on the front and back deck, a side steering wheel, a wire centre tiller line and rudder. They are powered with a 3 h.p. St. Lawrence Motor with battery ignition installed and tested. Speed about eight miles an hour 350.00

Tested in water before leaving factory.

Equipped with back rests. Each back extra 2.00

The 14-ft. Punts are built for those who want a boat for fishing or general knock about. The sides are of cypress and the bottom of cedar. They are 14 ft. long, 14 inches deep. Supplied with one pair of sweeps. Each 45.00

16-ft "Chestnut" Sponson or Air Chamber Canoe

LABOR MUST HAVE SAY IN BUSINESS

Humanity is Degrading Under Capitalism, Says I. L. P. Leader.

NATIONAL UTILITIES Government's Duty, to Feed, Clothe and House Its People.

The workmen in the future must ask, nay demand, that they shall have representation in the councils of the business in which they are indirectly interested, so that they will reap the full benefit of their exertions.

The Government's Duty. The speaker declared that the governments of today signally failed in their duties to the masses. Their first function was to feed, clothe and house its people.

War Inevitable. Turning to the great war, the speaker said that under the present system war was inevitable. Imperialism was preached in every country.

Production Necessary. The speaker said that greater production was necessary, but if the workman produced more he would only be further exploited.

Ruskin Pottery

So frequently I am appealed to for something new in wedding presents, something "original," "useful," being a few of the requirements, that it was with joy I halted the arrival of Ruskin pottery this week. These are being shown on the fourth floor, under the lighting fixtures, and some exquisite vases, bowls, pot pourri jars and smaller jars are in the collection. This lovely, leadless glaze, hand-made pottery is noted for its beauty of form and rich coloring. Each piece has a dominant note of broken color, and these harmonize with home furnishings and decorations. The colorings range from slightly broken colors, through gradations of two colors, to textures and patternings rivaling cloisonne enamel. A delicate bowl in Kingfisher blue and pearl luster is as light as eggshell porcelain. This bowl would delight any bride. Quite the loveliest are the Flambe pieces, especially sought after by collectors. I am told. Each piece is unique and unrepeatable. One handsome vase has rich colorings in purple blues with turquoise cloudings and glints of snake green, while another has ivory with pigeons' blood cloudings with mauve and deep blue markings. The great heat to which this pottery is submitted gives the full interpenetrative and penetrating effects, changing from splendor to splendor or to pale tints, which merge quite imperceptibly into the white of the body and gives the textures, veinings and dispoers so characteristic of old Chinese. A Japanese pottery expert has stated that Ruskin pottery is equal to some of the best Ming Dynasty (Chinese). The workmanship gives a particular interest to this attractive ware, which for gift giving is quite charming.

NOTED RUSSIANS DEAD ON YACHT

Eleven Men and Women Are Found Shot in Head and Red Outage Suspected.

Bucharest, April 18.—The discovery on the yacht Ostera, stranded at Sulina, one of the mouths of the Danube, of the dead bodies of eleven noted Russian men and women, each shot thru the head, and not a living soul on board, has presented the Rumanian authorities one of the most mysterious tragedies of Bolshevism in the Black Sea. The bodies have been identified as those of members of the noted Russian families of Faiztein and Skadowik.

The discovery was made by soldiers who, when they went aboard the helpless yacht, found the cabin half filled with water and the eleven bodies floating around. On board the yacht were 14,000,000 rubles in gold and paper and jewels.

The elder Faiztein still grasped a pistol in his hand when his body was found, and whether the party committed suicide or were murdered is a question that remains unanswered.

An investigation is being made by the Rumanian authorities, aided by Russian friends of the two families. All that is known is that the two families fled their estates to Odessa, and when the Bolsheviks arrived there in February put their belongings on board the Ostera, which was then towed by a Russian steamship, bound for Constanza. The tow ropes broke several times, owing to severe storms, and finally the yacht lost the steamer and proceeded to Constanza. The refugees were refused permission to land.

It is believed, as a result of the investigation so far, that after the yacht lost its tow it drifted at the mercy of the storm, and the refugees, six men and five women, became exhausted from the cold waves breaking over the vessel and lack of food. Unable to manage the yacht, the party made a despairing effort to put her ashore on the desolate beach near Sulina. There they succeeded in launching small boats, but Rumanian guards, under strict orders to permit no landing, thru fear of the Bolsheviks, ordered them to return to the vessel.

It appears that some coast fishermen started a rescue when the vessel began settling, owing to the pounding of the heavy seas, but soldiers prevented. How the families met their death probably never will be known. Some money and valuables were missing when the valuables the refugees had on board were checked up, and Rumania has been asked to attempt to recover them.

King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania have taken a great interest in the investigation, because, when the royal family was driven into exile, and the capital removed to Jassy, the king and queen were offered the magnificent home of the Faizteins, across the Bessarabian border.

The Faizteins belonged to one of the ancient families of German Mennonite colonists who settled in the province of Kherson at the invitation of the Russian government.

PEACE CONFERENCE IN SESSION TODAY

(Continued from Page 1.) main reasons for the calling of the conference it might as well be taken up at the very beginning. It is surrounded by many perplexities, among them naval and military questions, such as the manner of policing the Dardanelles, what form of control shall be set up in Constantinople, the delimitation of the boundaries of Thrace and Armenia and the question of the Greek position in Smyrna.

Another subject which will be brought before the council before its close will be the condition of international exchange and the position in which Italian industry has been placed by lack of coal. The Hungarian treaty will have to be passed upon finally, with the prospect ahead that the present Hungarian government may refuse to sign it. Then in addition there is the vastly important question of compelling Germany to fulfill the treaty of Versailles, regarding which an early declaration by the conference is expected.

REVOLT IN SONORA MAKING HEADWAY

Hundreds of Carranza Soldiers Said to Be Joining Rebel Forces.

Nogales, Sonora, April 18.—General Angel Flores, with five thousand Sonora troops, captured Culiacan, capital of the adjoining state of Sinaloa, yesterday, according to official announcement from Sonora military headquarters at Hermosillo.

The Sonora revolutionists proceeded immediately to march on Mazatlan, an important port on the Sinaloa coast. After occupying Mazatlan it was announced the Sonora troops will march on the state of Nayarit, with Tepic, the capital, as the objective. Large numbers of troops for the revolutionary movement against the Carranza government were expected to be obtained in Nayarit.

Hundreds of former Carranza soldiers have joined General Flores since he invaded Sinaloa last Tuesday, it was said. The telegram said Carranza forces joining the revolutionists brought with them full equipment, including arms, ammunition and food supplies. The Sonora forces when they entered Sinaloa were said then to number less than 2500 men. Five hundred troops were sent from here today under Col. Jesus Aguirre to reinforce the garrison at Agua Prieta and other troops concentrating there against any invasion of the state in that direction by Carranza forces. It was stated that 1500 troops were sent from Hermosillo today under General Manzo to reinforce General Flores.

Private telegrams from Hermosillo said word had been received there from Mexico City that General Pablo Gonzalez, a candidate for the presidency of Mexico, had inaugurated a movement to remove President Carranza, and put in his place a provisional president who would guarantee fair elections in July. The movement, it was said, has been endorsed by northern Mexico states.

Leaders here said that if Carranza were removed the Sonora movement would cease immediately.

General Flores is reported to have defeated Carranzista forces yesterday, thirty kilometers south of Guachivil, Sonora, killing 12 soldiers, capturing six wounded and thirty unwounded prisoners.

More than one thousand troops, principally Yaqui Indians, have assembled in Agua Prieta. Five hundred more are at Waco, a few miles south of here, and one thousand more en route. The troops at Neco are reported to have thirty Browning machine guns.

The state of Nayarit, Mexico, has endorsed the steps taken by Sonora against the Carranza government.

Revolt in Michoacan. Mexico City, April 18.—A revolt in the State of Michoacan, engineered by General Pascual Ortiz Rubio, governor of the state, and a strong supporter of Lieut.-Col. Alvarez Obregon, is announced in the government's second war bulletin issued early today. Governor Rubio, the bulletin states, has fled from Morelia, the state capital, with 100 men, accompanied by Major Jesus Millan, with a command of 60 men.

General De La Torre, who came to the capital to confer with President Carranza, has been ordered to proceed immediately to Acambaro and report to General Gruno Nieto, who has been substituted in the Acambaro region for General Jose Renteria Luviano, sent to take charge of the Sonora campaign.

According to the bulletin, Governor Rubio has fled to the hills, taking with him the contents of the state treasury. It adds that General Nieto has arrived at Morelia to take charge of military operations there and that a detachment of state troops had left the capital for Acambaro to pursue the outlawed governor and reinforce the Morelia garrison. While the revolt of pro-Obregon authorities in Michoacan had been expected, it was considered officially as a purely local uprising. The remainder of the state is reported to be quiet.

A despatch to El Universal from its correspondent at Morelia claims that Colonel Obregon is in that town. It is stated that he is in open revolt. This is not confirmed officially, however.

VICTIM OF GAS DEAD.

Mrs. A. Sabastiana, 52 Nelson street, died yesterday morning in the General Hospital from gas poisoning. Her husband was found dead in bed Friday night and Mrs. Sabastiana was also in so serious a condition from inhaling gas from a defective fixture that little hope was held out for her recovery.

CHANCE OF TROUBLE IN PACKING PLANTS

Whether any drastic action may be taken today by the employes of the big packing plants at the local abattoirs is problematical, but last night the outcome was not looked upon as any too favorable for general resumption of business along all lines. The matters under dispute between the companies and the men have been threshed out pretty well and in some quarters last night it was said that it would not be a matter for surprise if all the little knots and tangles were smoothed out today and if business went along as usual. With around 4,600 head of cattle, and 4,000 hogs in hand, any disruption of business now would spell disaster to the live stock trade locally.

When You Cannot Sleep

What can be more distressing than sleepless nights? Morning finds you tired, depressed in spirits and perhaps ill-tempered. Sleep is nature's way of restoring the nervous energy wasted by the activities of the day. Without sleep you are spending nervous energy without replacing it. Your vitality is running lower and lower each day. Hence the tired feelings, the headaches, the failure of the digestive system and the general depression and discouragement. The question is how to build up the supply of nervous energy in the body and the problem is solved by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Perhaps the best way for you to satisfy yourself on this point is by reading these letters from persons who have proven the value of this food cure under such conditions.

Kingston, Ont.

Mrs. S. Topliffe, 64 Union St., Kingston, Ont. writes:

"A few months ago, I was suffering from nervousness, headaches, sleeplessness, and a general run down condition. While visiting my sister, who was using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, she persuaded me to try it, saying she was sure it would help me. I secured a box, took it, and continued the treatment until I found myself greatly benefited, and able to sleep quite well. From the benefit I have derived, I would recommend it to anyone suffering from nervous debility and run down system."

"I have also used some of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and find it a very good ointment to keep in the house."

Kempt, N.S.

Mr. Ambrose B. Dowling, Kempt, N.S. writes:

"My system was all run down, I was weak and very nervous. For nights at a time I could neither sleep nor rest, and finally had to give up work. I read in a newspaper of a cure made by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in a case similar to mine, so decided to give this treatment a trial. A few boxes made a great change for the better, and after using eight boxes I can say that I rest well at night, and get a good night's sleep. I can now do my work on the farm, and my nerves are much better. I trust that others, troubled the same as I was, may benefit by this letter."

Windsor, Ont.

Mrs. John Lawson, 21 London St. E., Windsor, Ont. writes:

"I was troubled for a long time with nervousness and sleeplessness. My system became run down, too. I never knew what it was to have a good night's rest for ever so long. I spent a lot of money doctoring, but never received much benefit from their treatments. One day I bought some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after using the first box, I found relief. I could sleep better, and did not feel so tired upon rising in the morning. I continued using the Nerve Food, however, until I had built my system up again. I am stronger now and feel more like myself. I can also say that Dr. Chase's Ointment freed me from a case of piles, from which I had suffered for some time."

Port Hope, Ont.

Miss Myrtle Broadbent, Bloomgrove Ave., Port Hope, Ont. writes:

"I became run down through overwork, was very nervous, restless and subject to headaches. I could not sleep well, became easily worried and took weak spells. My nerves or muscles used to twitch and I had pains through my back. Besides this I suffered from indigestion and my appetite was poor. The doctor told me my whole system was run down and I needed one year of perfect rest and quietness. I did not act upon these orders, but instead began a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This medicine has done me the world of good by curing these symptoms and building up my system in general."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

To be a nervous bankrupt is a serious condition. To be sleepless is one of the surest indications that your nervous system needs just such assistance as is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

You can obtain Dr. Chase's Nerve Food from all dealers or Edmanson Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. Be sure to see the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., on the box you buy.

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 19.

Salvation by Overalls?

The Americans are truly a remarkable people. To whom else, on the divine footstool would it occur to bring down the price of tweeds by stimulating an unnatural demand for denim? Preachers in the pulpit, judges on the bench, dandies in their autos are sporting overalls as a protest against the high cost of their accustomed wear.

Presently, maybe, they will revert to broadcloth as a protest against the high cost of hard cotton. A vain circle of protests cannot obliterate a vicious circle of climbing prices. Patriotism is more than waving flags. Economic equilibrium is more than melodrama in spectacular economy.

But denim protest is useful so far as it weakens the powers that be to the truth that the production and distribution of commodities have become victims of rapacity to an extent that mortal flesh will not permanently endure. In the necessities of life there is no excuse for increases of profits out of all proportion to the services rendered, either in producing or in passing them around.

Two of the canons of orthodox commerce have been observed by the protesters, with the sanction of immemorial tradition, if not with the protection of law.

The first is the unwritten right of a seller to charge what he thinks the buyer will pay—a right that is assumed to be enlarged either by the scarcity of the article sold or the dire necessity of the purchaser.

The second is the custom of fixing profits on a basis of percentage of the seller's cost.

At present, both these standards of trading are accepted by practically everybody. But with regard to them, profiteering in one commodity has long been limited by a sort of international law. Gold has a common value all over the world. The world's business has been run on the standardization of gold, plus the assumption that any crisis in credit that might arise here or there could be met by the production of enough gold from some source—like the Bank of England or the mint at Ottawa—to restore confidence in the values of other commodities which were always to be tested and upheld by their relation to the supply of gold.

will prices continue to rise, heedless of divines wearing overalls or judges being clothed in denim.

The trouble all inheres in a fact to which Sir Edmund Walker vividly called the Bank of Commerce shareholders' attention, when he said we are living in a fool's paradise because we persist in thinking in terms of dollars instead of in terms of commodities. Until statesmen really tackle the illusions that create this fool's paradise we shall get nowhere, except farther into the difficulty of obtaining what we shall eat and wear without we shall be clothed. When statesmen live in a fool's paradise what chance is there for average people to rest on solid ground their apprehension of the facts that govern them?

Housing Makes Progress.

If the house is kind to Hon. Peter and his budget the legislature this week should have chances to discuss municipal housing. Development of schemes under provincial aegis has opened what may prove to be a new era in Ontario municipal governance.

Towns and cities have been highly suspicious of anything that might like Queen's Park interference with their functions. It was bad enough to have to go to the assembly for special legislation for this or that expansion of municipal service, but to think that the government might act like an overseer in the spending of money which became a purely municipal liability, was hateful indeed to lovers of local independence.

In several places where housing schemes have been undertaken there has been divergence between local and the provincial views. In many instances local ideas ran to the building of houses after the manner of old-world provision of workers' dwellings—and after the manner of some Canadian industrial housing.

Architects were employed, some of whom had scarcely ever planned for the habitation of wage earners. There was a coffin-like uniformity about their styles.

All schemes had to be submitted to the provincial secretary's department and it was frequently found that the local ideas were not agreeable to the central authority. Opportunities for friction were abundant enough, and friction might have developed, to the damage of both parties to a progressive movement in community service.

But the government has been fortunate in having at its command experienced architectural and constructional ability; and local commissions have found their schemes improved so that even very self-reliant alien-ment could tell the difference between the proposal and the improvements on it.

Indeed, many municipalities, instead of kicking against governmental supervision, have asked for more. They have recognized that co-ordination, based on wide experience and skilled knowledge is the true road to progress. Dwelling places of the average citizenry will henceforth be better than they have ever been.

'STILL EXCLUDED FROM ALMOST VIRGIN PASTURE.

One Sabbath Well Spent.

Will it bring a week of content—glorious yesterday? One Sunday after another was a dreary day, but at last the sun shone, the thermometer told a warming tale, and the wind off the lake had an occasional shiver in it, the blowing was from the south, which promised still kinder weather.

Everybody who strayed outdoors was in church for to enjoy the genial brightness was to be in the spirit on the Lord's day. Even the fellows lounging around the drug store occasionally, looked up.

Sir Hamar May Also Laugh.

Those who dread the working of democracy will say that it is foolish for the new chief secretary for Ireland to have to go electioneering in Sunderland when his place is in distraught Ireland. But the law that compels a member of parliament to seek re-election on accepting an office of profit under the crown, is as sound in theory and in practice as any law can be.

That is just as true under the special circumstances that today vex Irish government as it would be of the exaltation, say, of a Toronto lawyer to the solicitor-generalship. After all, a chief secretary for Ireland cannot be the whole government of that country, desirable as his presence in the island must be.

It was in Dublin during the first weeks of his tenure he could not do every chore that belongs to the administration. His chances of success or his certainties of failure must depend on the larger policies of the cabinet, for which he has only secondary responsibility. He is in Sunderland for re-election. The episode is invaluable as showing how he regards his job, when the Dublin environment is not absolutely dominant with his mind. An election like this causes a statesman, as it were, to talk about himself behind his own back. In the Greenwood case the situation is unusually illuminating.

Some of the chief secretary's critics are laughing because, they say, he likes to talk more to his constituents about himself than about Ireland.

A Jury in Cork.

How the Sinn Féiners do worry the friends of self-determination! The lord mayor of Cork was murdered in his own house by unidentified ruffians. The coroner's jury has returned a verdict of wilful murder against Premier Lloyd George and Viscount French, the lord-lieutenant of Ireland.

So far as the cables show, not a little of evidence was adduced in support of the verdict that would have the slightest right to a hearing in any court of justice, or even in a tribunal presided over by J. G. Lynch.

One is reminded of being in the Old Bailey when a poor devil was put in the dock, charged with some disgusting, but petty crime. As soon as the prosecuting counsel had barely outlined the facts he proposed to prove by evidence, a fellow jurymen temporarily forgetting that he had sworn that he would "true verdicts give according to the evidence," said aloud: "That's enough, he's guilty."

When the judge had charged on the evidence, the prisoner was acquitted. A coroner's jury has no more weight at a criminal trial which may follow its findings than a grand jury has. But it is part of the jury system, nevertheless, and its verdicts are supposed to be reached on the evidence submitted to it, and not on the prejudices or partialities of a jurymen. It is customary in such cases, for coroner's juries to exercise a commendable charity by finding that self-destruction has been committed "during temporary insanity."

It is an inversion of this charity to accuse a prime minister who was hundreds of miles away, and whose own interests are dead against the murder of a lord mayor.

Whoever is qualified to discover the road to justice for Ireland, the Cork jurymen clearly are not.

A Worthily Memorial.

Today, Toronto Daughters of the Empire start out in the campaign to Secure their quota of the funds necessary to the completion of the war memorial scheme to which the order has set its hand.

It is altogether likely that the campaign will be carried through with the thoroughness and ultimate success that characterized the work of the order done for Canada and Canada's soldiers during the dark, hard days of the war. No better consummation to this task need be asked for.

It is no merely ornamental memorial that the Daughters of the Empire would set up; but one that will tend towards the setting up of a higher standard of citizenship in the lives of coming generations. The memorial takes the form of an educational scheme to provide university scholarships for the children of men killed or permanently disabled as a result of the war, and, further, to set up nine post-graduate scholarships at a British university, to be distributed among the provinces of this country. The order scheme calls for half a million dollars, of which Toronto's objective is $75,000. Montreal, Ottawa and Quebec have each given more than their quota, and it is to be hoped Toronto will not fall behind these other cities in this work.

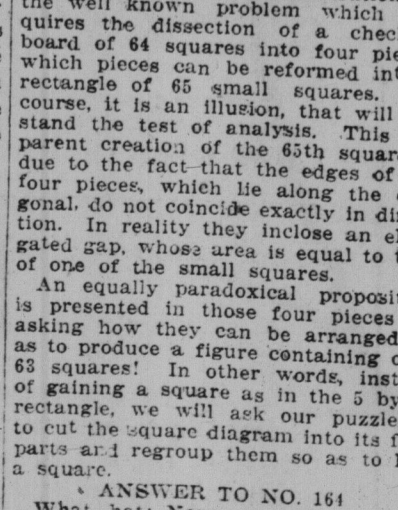

MARITIME FISHERIES NOW IN ONE DIVISION

Announcement by Ottawa—Ward Fisher Will Be Chief Administrator.

Ottawa, April 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—The fisheries of the three maritime provinces have been included in one division for administrative purposes by the fisheries branch of the navy department, and have been placed under the direct supervision of Ward Fisher as chief inspector of fisheries. The department anticipates that the organization will result in a good service, the object of which is to bring the government into closer touch with those engaged in the industry. Mr. Fisher was for some time district inspector of fisheries in Nova Scotia. He was later transferred to headquarters where, for nearly five years he was assistant to the superintendent of fisheries.

Here we have a demonstration of the well known problem which requires the dissection of a checker-board of 64 squares into four pieces, which pieces can be reformed into a rectangle of 65 small squares. Of course, it is an illusion, that will not stand the test of analysis. This apparent creation of the 65th square is due to the fact that the edges of the four pieces, which are in direction, do not coincide exactly in direction. In reality they include an elongation, whose area is equal to that of one of the small squares.

THE GIRL WHO SMILED THRU

By MARION RUBINCAM

"I CANNOT DO IT"

CHAPTER 60.

But no man who is in love with a girl can be put off indefinitely. One afternoon when Alice and Lawrence were out in his car he asked her again when she was going to marry him. And Alice knew from the tone of his voice that she could not evade any more.

"This summer," she said.
"No not June," Alice said hastily. "Any month but that."
"May, then—that's next month," Lawrence said, pleased to have the time earlier.

"I couldn't be ready so soon," Alice evaded.
"Mother's going to have the trousseau," she said, together at any time. Lawrence grumbled. It had been agreed that Mrs. Marlowe was to be allowed to supply the trousseau as her wedding gift. But she said, it was foolish for Alice to spend from her small income for clothes that Mrs. Marlowe was only too anxious to give.

"The law department," she said, "has had necessary the various lovely garments had been selected and laid by in a big cedar chest in Mrs. Marlowe's store room."
"It's mother," Alice answered. "She can't be in the present house alone, she's not well enough yet. I'll have to find her a comfortable place near wherever we go, with a family that can look after her if she should be suddenly, and I'll have to find a tenant for our house, and—"

"Alice," Lawrence cut in suddenly, "you're evading. The car will be done in two days. Do you love me—do you want to marry me?"
"Yes," Alice said in answer to both questions, and there was sincerity in her tone.

"When?" Lawrence asked again.
"July."
And that was settled.
Since the announcement of the engagement some time before, Alice had been entertained quite a bit by the friends whom Lawrence had known. This had necessitated the various lovely dresses, so Lawrence would not feel ashamed of her. She had expressed it, Mrs. Marlowe had tried to supply these, too, but Alice refused, allowing her however, to give the trousseau.

The one complete evening costume she had, in addition, with Clara's help, she bought a suit and a hat and new shoes and new gloves. And with this she managed to go thru a spring of great fertility—for her. She said she had not learned to "fix herself up," as she called it, but she was improving. But now a period of greater activity began, she was little entertaining as the warm weather came on, for which Alice was grateful. But Alice was in constant demand at the Marlowe's for fittings of pretty, summery dresses. Her measurements were carefully taken and sent to a fashionable tailor for a dark suit—she suspected the one she had bought was not quite "made enough"—and dainty blouses with quantities of handwork were being made. Mrs. Marlowe, with her own hands, was knitting a sweater of the softest blue and a skirt of striped heavy silk was made to go with it.

Alice had learned how to drive Lawrence's car, even how to repair any minor troubles that might occur. Lawrence's little cousin took her in hand when she had time, and showed her how to play tennis. Mrs. Marlowe wanted to teach her golf, but Alice never had a moment to spare for this, and they decided that it could wait.

"We'll have a wonderful time this fall on the links," Mrs. Marlowe said. "I'm not very good, but I can teach you a little, and we'll have some delightful visits while we play."
No wonder Alice was happy. She was to be a member of the country club of course, when she was married; she went there now and then with Mrs. Marlowe and tried to remember the names and faces of the many people she met. She felt she neither looked nor acted yet, like one of them, but she was wise enough not to let this trouble her.

"They know I've been poor, and I'm not ashamed of it," she told Lawrence. "You're a dear. Every day you say or do something to make me love you more," he burst out.
Alice was pleased at this confession. She went there now and then, but times she had no right to take Lawrence's love when she could not try as she would, return it absolutely. The old days came back to her—she could not forget David.

Yet she was bound now to Lawrence—bound by ties of friendship of gratitude, and by the solemn obligations of her engagement. She had to marry him.
And, of course, she would, and make him happy, too, as much as was in her power.

But one evening when she was alone she broke down.
"I cannot do it," she said. And repeated, "I cannot do it!"

Members Will Inquire About Work of Civil Service Commission.

Ottawa, April 18.—(Canadian Press.)—Further criticism of the work of the civil service commission is scheduled to take place in the house on Monday afternoon.

Gauthier (Temiscouata) will ask in the house on Monday "the names of the so-called experts employed by the Arthur Young Company to classify the employees of the various departments, and which department or departments did each expert classify, and what are the age, nationality, educational and practical qualifications, including positions previously held, with special reference to classification work, of each such expert, and the cost to the government for the services of each expert, the how many deputy ministers have approved the classification of their departments; does the Arthur Young Company pay an income or business tax in Canada; is it the intention of the government to continue the employment of the Arthur Young Company for some other purpose when classification is completed, and if so, what is it intended to employ them for?"

Thomas Hay (Selkirk) will ask details of the working hours of civil servants in the inside service, and if such hours are strictly observed, and the average salary and bonus paid.

The hounds met on Tuesday at Thorncliffe Farm at 3 p.m.

SPLENDID SATURDAY RUN WITH HOUNDS

Big Turn Out at York Mills in Ideal Weather—The Going Was Heavy.

A splendid run was experienced by all who turned out to the hunt Saturday, despite the going, which in many places was heavy. A large number of horse enthusiasts, both on foot and in motor cars, were present at the meet, which took place at York Mills. From the throng in the hounds ran east towards Bayview Avenue, where the first check took place. It was during this run that a very fine display of horsemanship was witnessed in a five-barred gate was negotiated in faultless style by Mrs. Douglas Young, Miss Dorothy Cassels and Miss M. Phippen, the latter, who quite a recent rider to hounds, was quite conspicuous by the mastery with which she handled her mount at her fences. Running southeast, the hounds broke a brisk hunting pace, where, although many good fences were encountered, no mishaps were registered amongst the field, the hounds finally finished at the Don Mills road, close to the Davies Farm. Noticeable amongst those in the saddle were: Mr. George Beardmore, M.P. H. on Sunrise, Mrs. Douglas Young on Mail Order, Mrs. Meas on Maad Muller, Miss Dorothy Cassels on Pilot, Miss M. Phippen on Fox King, Miss M. Phippen on O.K., Miss E. Carpenter on Light Wing, Miss J. Johnson on Signal, Mr. Hume Blake on All About, Col. Walker Bell, Major H. S. Thomas on Altar, Mrs. Major T. TOTTENHAM MAKES NEW SOCCER RECORD

Features of League and Cup Football Games Saturday in Old Country.

London, April 18.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Assistant Secretary at Tottenham and Birmingham's defeat at Clapton make certain that the cup finalists from Yorkshire will accompany Tottenham into the first league next season. Huddersfield yesterday played its fourth league match with a goal score of eight full points with a goal score of ten to two, an impressive performance even for cup finalists. Tottenham's match brought thirty visitors. Both goals were scored in the first half, the first five minutes before half time, and the team thereby registered their hundredth league match since the club's formation. Semi-ready Tailoring is clever in style

Smart, too Smartness is reflected in the superior style of Semi-ready Suits. When you come in to see them, note particularly the fine fabrics—such textures as have not been seen in Canada since 1914. Masterly tailoring lend the garments shapeliness and style. Physique type designing guarantees a nicety of fit, with an obvious effect that bespeaks quality and value.

BRANTFORD LINES DECLARE SURPLUS

Municipally Owned Rys. Show Residue of $143,903 For Year.

Brantford, Ont., April 18.—With total receipts of $143,903, the Brantford municipal railways closed the year with a surplus of $2,342, meeting all operating expenses, interest and sinking fund, but without making any allowance for depreciation. The record is considered a good one. The annual report has been forwarded by the street railway commission to the city council, which will receive it on Monday night.

There were 339,202 more passengers carried on the city lines than the previous year and 30,338 more on the Grand Valley radial, while earnings on the former were $28,333 more and on the Grand Valley $7,961 more. Operating expenses, however, jumped $31,000 more. The car mile run for the city lines showed 6.4 passengers per car mile, and on the Paris line 4.7 inches.

Consider Increased Fares.

The commissioners have considered increased fares and cite that over 400 U. S. and Canadian cities have advanced their rates. They point out, however, that decreased patronage under higher fares might result in lessened instead of increased revenue and present no recommendation.

The new line to Terrace Hill cost $99,162, but its full value cannot be secured until the St. Elizabeth's subway is opened for traffic, making a belt line.

It is not expected that there will be any request from the city under the proposed amended legislation for Sunday street cars, the Brantford and Windsor are most affected. The Grand Valley cars run from the end to end, as it is, and there has been no demand for Sunday service. It is thought here that such services would be conducted at a loss even if the question of Sunday cars was not considered from a purely religious standpoint.

IMPOSING SERVICE AT NOTRE DAME

Montreal Church Observes Centenary of Its First Pastorate.

Montreal, April 18.—The celebration of the centenary of the Venerable Marguerite Bourgeois, founder of the Congregation Notre Dame, opened on Saturday at the Mother House of the community here with early 8 o'clock mass, at which nine sisters of the congregation celebrated the 50th anniversary of their admission to the order, and was further celebrated at 9 o'clock high mass by His Grace Monseigneur Paul Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal, Monseigneur Pietro Dimaria, the papal delegate being present and occupying the throne of honor. The highest religious dignitaries of the province were present.

Monseigneur Gauthier read a letter from the Pope acknowledging the services rendered by the Congregation Notre Dame to the cause of education, and giving his apostolic benediction to the community. The papal delegate expressed the hope that the Venerable Marguerite Bourgeois would soon be canonized.

SHAVE CRANIUMS TO LOOK LIKE GABRIELE

Officers of d'Annunzio's Little Army Eager to Show Devotion.

Fiume, April 18.—Gabriele d'Annunzio's bald head has set the fashion for the officers of his little army, many of whom have shaved their craniums and are endeavoring to grow miniature Vandyke beards as copies of the poet's chin adornment. The Fiume aviators have adopted the craze with greater zeal than other branches and call themselves "iron heads." Youthful officers in their teens and early twenties have shaved their heads and are wearing little pointed beards in an effort to look as much like the poet as they can.

Mixed uniforms of French, Italian, blue and Italian grey-green are worn by d'Annunzio's men with great pride.

FIUMAN COUNCIL IGNORES D'ANNUNZIO

In Plans Relative to City Future Bolshevists GATHERING.

Fiume, April 17.—Captain Gabriele d'Annunzio has been completely ignored by the Fiuman National Council in the formulation of demands for a settlement of problems relative to the future status of this city. Delegates appointed by the council will meet Premier Nitti and carry on direct negotiations with the Italian government. Three of these delegates are already in Rome.

Hungarian Bolsheviki have been gathering here recently, some of them being brought into the city in Capt. d'Annunzio's motor cars.

Charges were made in the national council that the will of the majority had been thwarted, and that of a minority carried out. One member declared that the problem of the city's future must be settled immediately.

"We are in the midst of terrible unrest," he said. "The city is in danger of being swept by Bolshevism, the organizers of which are already preparing their plans for the seizure."

Plays, Pictures and Music

"Martinique"

The remote, chosen island of Martinique, a little island in the French West Indies, inspired Laurence Byrne to write his play of the same name, which is the attraction at the Royal Alexandra Theatre at this week, commencing tonight, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, and with Miss Josephine Victor in the leading role. The most fascinating place in the West Indies is Martinique, and the play deals with the character and situations which are a peculiar product of this locality—this Martinique, with its strange blend of Parisian refinement and tropical savagery.

A love story, entirely different than any told on the stage today, set in a magnificent background of palms and blue sky—in short, the tropics—sinks "Martinique" the dramatic novelty of the season.

Walter Hest, the eminent English producer, whose previous productions of "Bunny Pulls the Strings," "The Little Brother," and "The Master of Ballantrae," are so well remembered, is responsible for the lavish scenic spectacle and the distinguished cast which surrounds Miss Victor.

"The Bird of Paradise"

"The Bird of Paradise," Richard Walton Tully's singular play of Hawaii, now in its ninth season, returns to the Royal Alexandra Theatre for one week, commencing Monday evening, April 26, with usual matinees, with Florence Rockwell in the title role.

Oliver Morosco has surrounded Miss Rockwell with a very capable company, which includes Robert Brister, Brandon Evans, Spring Byington, Rose Watson, John Sumner and the five Hawaiian singers.

"His Chinese Wife"

At the Princess Theatre tonight the new Oriental-American play "His Chinese Wife," will open an engagement for the week. The play tells a very human story of a wayward son, Rodney Sturgis an outcast from his family, who was befriended by a Chinese tailor and whom he later married. The story is of rare human appeal, it touches the heart-strings and at the same time there is a delightful strain of comedy throughout the action. In the cast will be seen Florence Rockwell, Delmar, Miss Delmar was seen here last summer in the new play which was tried out here under the title of "Call a Doctor," and which has been accepted for production by David Belasco next season, with Miss Delmar in the role which she created here. Others in the cast are Mable Bert, Leah Winslow, Frances Neilson, Frank Connor, Doris Fellows and Jane Meredith.

"The Revelations of a Wife"

"Was it jealousy, neglect, mother-in-law or extravagance?" are a few of the important subjects discussed in a dramatic way in that new offering, "The Revelations of a Wife," that is attracting so much attention at the Grand Opera House, and where the engagement has been extended another week, with a matinee on Sunday. The play is hard to describe on account of it being a mystery play. It has to be seen to be appreciated. It deals with a much-discussed problem, "marriage and divorce," and solves a question, "should or should she not tell her husband all her past life?" It is a subject that will, no doubt, solve a question that has worried the minds of a number of girls contemplating matrimony. The Zancigs will be seen at every performance.

Belongs Everybody. It is stated on excellent authority that a masterful production is to be presented at the Grand Opera House commencing next Monday matinee, that will touch the lives of everybody, no matter what his station in life. The star plays a double role in what is considered the most emotional acting ever seen on the screen. It is stated that 40 Bolsheviks were ejected from the first showing of the picture in New York.

For the current week the management of the Allen Theatre have chosen a brilliant program. This consists of a thrilling detective story. A special Christie comedy. A beautiful piano solo by Roland Todd and a delightful springtime musical program by the Allen Premier Concert Orchestra. Mr. Roland Todd, the soloist will play "Prelude" by Rachmaninoff. The Allen Orchestra will give selections from "Angel Face," the recent musical attraction here.

"Partners of the Night"

The Strand Theatre is making preparations for exceptional crowds this week. The much-heralded thrill picture, "The Mystery of the Yellow Room," opens here today. This picture, based on the internationally famous Parisian detective story by Gaston Leroux, and directed by Emile Chautard, is one of those detective thrillers in which the French delight. Chautard has built up with fascinating skill the melodrama around the Yellow Room, apparently without means of exit, from which a criminal escapes after shooting a girl.

It is said to be a picture with scarcely an equal of its kind. It is showing at 11.40, 1.40, 3.40, 5.40, 7.40 and 9.40. Pictures of the prince's tour and Strand comedy and Review complete the strong bill.

THROWN FIFTEEN FEET WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO

Brantford, April 18.—(Special)—Frank Patterson, 18, an employe of the Brandon Shoe Co., had a narrow escape from death on Saturday morning when he was struck by a speeding motor car. The boy was thrown from a standing street car at the time of the accident and was thrown a distance of fifteen feet by the auto, which continued on its way in the direction of Paris.

Patterson was badly shaken up, and spectators declared that they could not understand how he escaped with his life, as they estimated the speed of the motor car at 40 miles an hour.

Following the accident Chief Slemin announced that at least one and possibly two men would be detailed to prevent speeding and other breaches of the motor vehicles act, which have been too frequent of late.

BELGIUM'S PROGRESS RAPID.

Brussels, April 18.—Belgium has made rapid progress toward industrial recovery since the armistice, largely owing to the fact that the country has had no serious strikes, says M. Jaspars, minister of economic affairs. He estimates that the nation's industrial output has now attained perhaps 70 per cent. of its pre-war record and that its mines are producing as much coal as in the year before the war.

St. John Man, While Demented, Sets Store on Fire, Using Coal Oil

St. John, N.B., April 18.—While demented, William H. Lacey, who has been ill mentally at various times since he was gassed overseas, scattered the contents of an oil tank in the grocery store of his mother, Mrs. Helen Lacey, 311 Germain street, about midnight on Saturday and set the place on fire. The store was wrecked and the lives of the occupants of a boarding house above endangered. All escaped, however, although a fireman was injured. Lacey was taken to the asylum today.

The difference between a man and a horse is that once you drive a man to drink he'll do the rest.

Christ Church at Tyendinaga Unveils Tablet to War Heroes

The names of 23 Tyendinaga boys who will come back no more are inscribed on the tablet. The tablet was unveiled by Rev. Archdeacon Dobbs of Kingston.

BOOTS AND SHOES TAKE UPWARD TURN Canadian Firm Says That Prices Will Advance.

Ottawa, April 18.—One of the district firms of shoe jobbers in the Canadian market, a well known shoe maker, stating that the price of shoes is bound to go considerably higher in a short time in this country.

The letter states in part: "We believe shoes will go higher. We do not think any manufacturer has been giving leather at replacement prices but averaging it with what they have on hand."
