LOYD GEORGE GAINS ON LAND SCHEME

PRESTIGE IN WEST COUNTRY ON INCREASE

Liberals Praise Former Premier For Heroic Stand

LIBERAL POLICY

Proposes State Resume Ownership In Order to Give Cultivator Security

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The Lloyd George scheme of land tenure is one that will have to be taken seriously. Unless labor can quickly evolve something better it may do much harm. This is the significant comment of the Daily Herald this morning in referring to the Premier's opening speech of his land campaign made last night, which is the subject of general and extended comment this morning.

The Liberals are either enthusiastically saying that it will not only commend itself to their own party but to other parties as well, or they are approvingly cautious.

SOME FEARS. Some Liberals express the fear that the scheme would create a new bureaucracy with a horde of officials, but say that on its main lines it is sound and they give the warmest praise to Lloyd George for his courage which they say is just what was needed to give life to the party preparatory to the next general election for which all are already looking forward, at least expecting that it will come before the autumn of next year.

ANNOUNCES POLICY. Mr. Lloyd George said that the official committee of inquiry over which he presided had concluded that it was useless to attempt to develop agriculture as long as the existing system of agricultural tenure was maintained.

Plea For Maritime Ports Impresses Big Shippers

BY A. M. BELDING. STAFF representative of The Telegraph-Journal and The Evening Times-Star, who is now on an active canvass of Canadian importers and exporters in behalf of the more general use of Canadian ports.

MONTRÉAL, Sept. 16.—"I know all about you," said Mr. Banks, purchasing agent of Canadian Vickers, when I was introduced by J. G. Galloway of the Canadian Pacific import freight staff and began to state the case for Maritime ports.

This day was a repetition of previous days, so far as the testimony of business houses is concerned. They all use Canadian ports whenever possible, but cannot always get the service to or from certain ports abroad.

A. Markus, president of M. Markus & Son, who import from Great Britain, Belgium and Germany, informed me that they bring 95 per cent. of their goods through Canadian ports, and at the close of our conversation he said he would advise their shippers on the other side to use Canadian ports only, if at all practicable.

MR. BRYSON, speaking for Peacock Bros., who import from Glasgow, and almost exclusively through Canadian ports, assured me he would write their shippers also, and wished me every success in my work.

E. S. Trudeau, purchasing agent of the Dominion Oilcloth & Linoleum Co., Ltd., said all their business is done through Canadian ports, and chiefly through Saint John in winter.

THE WEST INDIA COMPANY use Canadian ports only. Mr. Brookfield, however, said he had heard that products from Patras, Greece, were being delivered in Ontario via New York lower than his company could get them direct. The competition is evidently keen.

J. E. Schroeder, Italian importer, said he used Canadian ports only. He is a good Canadian.

In a previous letter the name of George Dew was used in connection with Belding, Cortiselli Co. This was an error. Mr. Buck was the gentleman interviewed, and Mr. Dew is with the Consumers Cordage Company.

I find as I go about among the business houses that business is solicited for Portland, Maine, and the steamships sailing from that port. This explains some of the business done through American ports. A number of those I interviewed would welcome the transfer of those Portland terminals to the State of Maine. It would simplify matters to some extent in relation to Canada, and would not then be possible for a C. N. R. official to remind us that the Canadian people have a large investment in the American port.

HYLAN ANNOUNCES HE'S OUT OF FIGHT

Statement Follows Defeat by Walker in New York Democratic Primaries.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Following the victory of Senator James J. Walker over Mayor John F. Hylan Mayor Hylan announces that he will retire to private life.

This decision came after hours of conference with representatives of William R. Hearst, and was declared by one of the latter to be final. As the Democrats see it, this will give Senator Walker a clear track in the general election, for while an insurgent movement of some sort is not altogether out of the question, they think there is nothing formidable enough in prospect to impair the Democratic city ticket on election day.

JAP PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS BURN

Only Some Records Saved From Houses of Peers and Representatives.

TOKYO, Sept. 18.—Tokyo was visited by fresh disaster this afternoon when fire raged through its parliament buildings. Both the House of Peers and the House of Representatives were totally destroyed by flames which roared quickly through the structures.

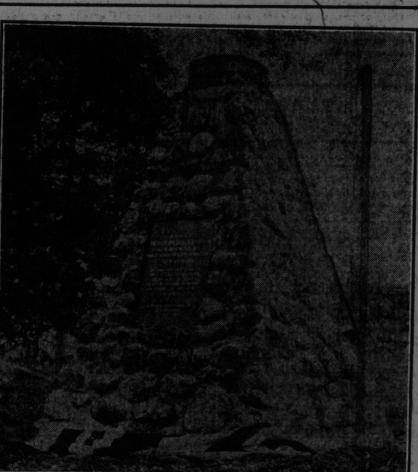

Firemen fought a hard battle, but succeeded only in saving some of the parliamentary records. Troops were called out soon after the fire started. After wrecking the two parliament houses the fire spread in the late afternoon to adjoining buildings.

MANY PAY RESPECTS TO BONAR LAW'S MEMORY

Thousands From All Walks of Life Witness Memorial Unveiling at Rexton—Ceremony Carried Out by Son of Late Prime Minister of England.

Special to The Times-Star. REXTON, N. B., Sept. 18.—Premier Mackenzie King, stopped in his strenuous political campaign to write a eulogy, the leader of the federal opposition, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, was present in person, the Premier-elect and former Premier of New Brunswick also sat on the platform whilst the country folk and prominent people fully representative of the life of Canada, did honor to the memory of Andrew Bonar Law, late Premier of Great Britain, when a cairn was unveiled in his birthplace here yesterday, Richard Law, a son, officiating.

It was an hour of patriotic and loving tribute, a testimonial imperial in scope, a ceremony in which all the other British connection might well have craved a share.

DR. MACLAREN'S ADDRESS. In his introductory speech Dr. MacLaren, chairman of the committee in charge of the erection of the memorial, spoke as follows:

"Here, in this town of Rexton, now called Rexton, in the Parish of Richibucto, County of Kent, there was born in the year 1837, Andrew Bonar Law, son of the Rev. B. C. PREMIER FLAYS STAND ON GRAIN RATE

Say Leader Is Trying To Square His Position

POSITION OF EAST

Objects To Action Taken By Montreal Board of Trade And C. P. R.

Canadian Press. VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 18.—Premier John Oliver criticizes Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, who is reported to have said in Halifax, Monday, that the freight rate reductions secured by the West on grain and flour are "utterly indefensible."

"If the Conservative leader and his following really believed that the recent legislation was discriminatory in its effect," said Mr. Oliver, "why did they not seek to amend the legislation during the course of its passage through Parliament?"

SACRIFICED SUPPORT. "The plain fact is that, either with or without investigation, and to the extent that my words of his could affect the election of western Canada, Mr. Meighen has sacrificed his western supporters in an effort to win favor in the Maritime Provinces."

"I think Mr. Meighen's utterances were simply trying to square himself with the position taken by the Montreal Board of Trade, and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in their application for rescinding the recent order of the Board of Railway Commissioners applying C.P.R.'s West Rate to the western movement of grain and flour."

B. C. ATTITUDE. "It would appear to me that if the existing rates on grain and flour, discriminated against the Maritime Provinces or any other part of Canada, that was proper course of action for the board of railway commissioners for an order to remove that discrimination. That is the lawful course followed by the government of British Columbia, and that course is open to the Maritime Provinces."

LIGHT CONTRACT TO BE REOPENED

C. N. R. Asks Return of Agreement With City Power Commission

N. B. Power Co. to Have Opportunity to Bid in Revised Tender.

It was said today that the Canadian National Railway had asked for the return of the contract between the railway and the City Commission for the supply of current by the latter to the elevator at Reid's Point.

SECRETARY EXPECTS IT. The secretary of the commission, R. A. White, said he had nothing in writing as yet from the railway in this connection, but he knew the request would probably be made, as there had been some conversation along these lines over the telephone.

It was said the request for the return of the contract was made because of representations by the New Brunswick Power Company that at the time the contract was given it was not understood by the company that tenders were to be called for. The contract now works out at about $7,000 a year to the City Commission.

MR. POOLER EXPLAINS. M. A. Pooler, manager of the New Brunswick Power Company, said that when the tenders were invited the N. B. Power Company put in bid for one-year term, while that of the City Power Commission was for a three-year term and the contract was awarded to them. A protest had been lodged with the Canadian National Railway by the company on the ground that they had not been given an opportunity to submit a revised tender for a three-year term and asking that they be given a chance to bid on the same terms as the City Commission.

Yesterday the Power Company was advised by the railway authorities that the matter was being reopened, and they would be given an opportunity to submit a revised tender for the supply of current on a three-year term.

20 YEAR CONTRACT IS RECOMMENDED. Result of Conference on Canadian Cottons and Maritime Electric Co. Matters.

H. Midram, the expert on the board, and himself to recommend to the board the approval of the contract between these two companies for a term of 20 years.

These present at the conference were Mr. Trosman, Mr. Midram, Mr. J. H. Gray, general manager of the board, and C. F. Gray, electrical engineer, for the Canadian Cottons, Ltd., and F. C. Coleman, vice-president and general manager of the Maritime Electric Company.

Operation Completed in 3 Years, While Business Goes On as Usual

Drug Store Raised So Carefully That Not a Bottle was Broken.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The borough surveyor of Northwich, Cheshire, has reported to the town council the completion of the lifting of the centre of the town an average of five feet, an operation which has taken three years.

The whole of the business portion of the town, including ten streets, three banks, the county court, and two hundred shops and houses, has been raised to counteract the effect of subsidence caused by the pumping which goes on continually beneath the town.

If the foundations had not thus been deepened the buildings would have collapsed.

customers. Only seven or eight buildings, including the ancient Angel Hotel in the Bull Ring, have had to be demolished because they could not safely be lifted.

There has not been one mishap. Once a motor-lorry coming round a corner struck the bearer of one of the props on which a shop rested, but about an inch of the bearer kept contact with the prop and the building was saved from collapse.

In lifting, parts of the lower brickwork were removed and small hydraulic jacks inserted. These, using one or two quarts of water, raised from 10 to 180-tons weight, and wooden blocks supported the building until brickwork filled up the space.

A fruiterer's shop with a frontage of 80ft. was removed bodily to another position. It was put on baulks greased with soap and pushed along a distance of 33ft.

Most of the buildings dealt with were in frames fitted to them with a view to their being lifted at some time.

CURIOUS MAN STOPS BIG SILK ROBBERY

Stands to Watch Men Loading Cloth and Becomes Suspicious. NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The curiosity of a man who stopped to watch several men loading silk in front of a warehouse prevented the theft of $35,000 worth of silk from the storehouse of Yue Guerin & Fils and the arrest of a truck driver on suspicion of aiding in the attempt to rob. The citizen told Policeman Robert Creevy, on traffic duty, that the place was being robbed. Creevy telephoned the Beach street station and hurried to the warehouse.

VON HINDENBURG VISITS COAL AREAS

Large Crowds Greet German President on Arrival in Bochum. BOCHUM, Germany, Sept. 18.—Deputations of coal miners in uniforms, flower bedecked school children, and detachments of civilian and veterans societies greeted President Von Hindenburg, on the occasion of his first visit to Germany's coal fields. The presidential party reached Bochum on its trip to the Ruhr yesterday and the soldier-president was immediately engulfed by throngs of cheering men, women and children. "I am happy to greet you as free men and women, who once again are living on free soil," said Von Hindenburg to those who had assembled.

"Here's How I'm Fixed"--

"If I live to old age I'll be able to enjoy a well-earned rest."

"If I should die earlier my good wife will have an income for life."

"If accident or disease lays me aside permanently before I'm sixty or even for a period of three months or more, I get a monthly cheque until I get better."

"If, later on, I urgently need cash, The London Life will lend me money."

"If my circumstances change I can adjust my policy to suit, without even medical examination."

"How's that for real life insurance protection?"

"The cost? Why, it actually works out at less than 2%, because the premium is only $202.00 a year for $10,000 protection and the annual dividends reduce this considerably."

"It certainly is different and I'm glad I've got it!"

When interested in life insurance ask the London Life representative for a Jubilee Policy. It is the kind described above and he is the only man who can give it to you.

The Evening Times-Star

The Evening Times-Star printed at 25-27 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by New Brunswick Publishing Co., Ltd., J. D. McKenna, President.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 18, 1925.

GETTING WORSE

The August record in the matter of wheat-for export shows how alarmingly the portion of our grain going through American channels is increasing.

Several business men in Montreal have been asking Mr. A. M. Belding a question which Saint John has found it difficult to answer.

Such a condition is in the interest of Canadian transportation, and certainly its continuation does gross injustice to the port.

ADVICE TO PARENTS

Professor Bruce W. Childs, who occupies the Chair of Social Science in Boston University, says the children of 10-day would have a great deal better chance of becoming useful citizens, if their parents were less childish and abandoned a great many of their selfish and even barbarous habits of training and restraining the young ones.

"Don't show off your child. It is not the duty of the child to feed a parent's vanity, but the parent's task to forget self-pride in dealing with his child."

"Don't expect commands to function in place of fellowship. Children can be led but not driven in these days."

A good many of them will probably say that they do not suffer from the weaknesses to which the Professor refers, but that they know a whole lot of parents who are greatly in need of the advice he gives.

It was a happy inspiration that led to the ceremony at Reaton yesterday, where a company of distinguished Canadians, in the presence of a great gathering, unveiled the Bonar Law memorial cairn.

It seems a pity that Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's communications from the spirit world—and he undoubtedly believes he is receiving them—are not more definite. He tells London that for three years past he has been getting warnings, and that of late they have become so pressing that he feels compelled to make them public.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."

Quaint Epitaphs

In Epitaphs: Graveyard Humor and Elegy (Simpkin), Mr. W. H. Beale has compiled an anthology of some beauty, much quaintness, and quite a little plain speaking.

It is not always the noblest poets who composed the best epitaphs. Wordsworth began an inscription on a monument to the second daughter of Sir Egerton Bridges:

"The palest green government proposes to erect plant for the recovery of 30 odd billion tons of salt from the Dead Sea—a giant salt-cellar of apparently unlimited capacity—and very soon huge chemical factories and warehouses will be established round the lake, and the peace and quiet of centuries will give place to the ceaseless whirl of wheels."

What unregenerate strain is it in us that makes the study of great crimes so fascinating? Once upon a time we all wanted to be pirates; and though our ambition was thwarted, a glamour still hangs over the Spanish Main.

The blame—if blame there be—lies with writers of fiction; for in real life your criminal is but a sorry knave, and a fool as well.

Take, for examples, the villains of those "Celebrated Crimes," of whom Mr. George Dilnot writes so skillfully and with such a wealth of knowledge.

Are clothes—made for man, or is man made for clothes? Paul Poirot, a Frenchman who seeks clothing reform, registers disgust because his fellow-men reject his suggestions.

Questioning. (Howard Willard Gleason in Adventure Magazine.) Westward of the sunset, where the sea is ever blue.

Crows and Golf Balls (New York Times.) A golfer who can be trusted as much as any golfer can be called up "The Times" office yesterday and protested against the doubts it had cast upon the report from Lenox that the crows were carrying off golf balls.

His eloquence was so rapid that it was hard to tell whether he was more concerned with the defense of golfing generally or of corvine intelligence, but he insisted that the Lenox story was entirely credible to him for the reason that he had himself seen a crow swoop down on a golf ball and carry it away, and, as the ball taken was his own, he could not be mistaken about it.

That was fairly good evidence that there are crows who could mistake a golf ball for something edible or otherwise interesting and worth stealing, but the excited witness also deposed, on further questioning, that his crew carried the ball only a short distance and then dropped it and flew away, making what seemed to be a scornful remark.

"DEAD" BUDDY COMES TO LIFE

Sixty-one years ago on a bluff near Deltona, Mich., Charles D. Wegster, of Flint, Mich., threw a blanket over his comrade, Charles D. Wegster, of Traverse City, Mich., believing he had been killed. To his amazement Cook met Webster very much alive at the annual G. A. R. encampment at Grand Rapids.

Westward of the sunset, where the sea is ever blue, Somewhere sails a galleon, with an ear-ringed, grizzled crew, Living over lives of strife, as deep-sea sailors do.

under the joint auspices of the yesty and the Women's Guild. The scene of this story is the far South. A tourist inquired how times were: "Stranger," replied the old fellow who was sitting idly on the stump of a tree, "I had a pile of brush to burn and the lightning set fire to it and saved me the trouble of burning it up. I had some trees to cut down but a cyclone leveled them and saved me the trouble."

WENT TO SCOTLAND.

"When he was 11 he went to Glasgow, Scotland, to make his home with relatives. His active and successful business career in the city is well known to us. This was followed by a seat in the British House of Commons, the holding of important posts as Minister of the Crown, rendering valuable service to the state during the Great War and finally attaining the high distinction of Prime Minister of Great Britain for a period all too short. Then came ill health and his lamented death in 1923 at the age of 66 years.

TRIBUTE TO CHARACTER.

"Those who may pass by, or men of Kent and all others, will think of him who left these shores at an early age, who rendered invaluable service as Minister of the Crown, and later became Prime Minister, who throughout his life showed the splendid qualities which constitute character—integrity, uprightness and disinterested service to the state. He brought honor to Canada. Beneath all this will run strongly the conviction that he was a man who followed the Glean." "After it! Follow it! Follow the Glean!" "After it! Follow it! Follow the Glean!" will be his inspiration and will so be treasured in the hearts of all who belong to the British Empire.

PLEASED AT PRESENCE.

"It is fitting, therefore, that there should gather here today, to do honor to his memory, the Lieut.-Governor of the Province, the Right Honorable Arthur Meighen, a former Prime Minister of Canada; judges of the province; the Premier of the province; Members of Parliament; distinguished visitors and people of this and the adjoining provinces.

"Nothing gives the people more satisfaction than the presence of Mr. Richard Law, son of the late Prime Minister, who has come from overseas to unveil this memorial to his distinguished father.

"Lieutenant-Governor W. F. Todd, of New Brunswick, declared that Bonar Law had ever retained a warm spot in his heart for his birthplace and for Canada. His efforts had always been directed toward the knitting of the Dominion together to the end that the British Empire might remain the queen of Empires for ever. He referred to Richard Law, son of the late British statesman, the best wishes of the people of New Brunswick, and requested him to unveil the cairn.

RICHARD LAW SPEAKS.

In unveiling the cairn, Richard Law, of England, son of the late British Premier, delivered the following address: "Mr. Chairman, Your Honor, Ladies and Gentlemen: "It is not easy for me to find words to express the thankfulness which I feel for this striking cairn, which you have set up here, in his birthplace, to the memory of my father. For I realize that my gratitude, however sincere, is irrelevant to your kindness, which is concerned with no emotions of mine but rather with the thoughts and actions of the man whom you so finely honor. And yet there is one emotion which I may cherish, I think, without egotism, I am the son of my father, and Canada is proud of her son. Here is a community of sentiment which is my true justification for speaking to you today.

TURNED FROM APPLAUSE.

"It is unseemly for me to dwell upon my own feelings, it is fitting that I, as a representative of my father and of his family, should try to express something of what he would have thought on such an occasion as this. The life of a politician is a thankless one in many ways. If he is an honest man he loses his best but his motives are misconstrued, his actions are misjudged, sometimes even he is despised. But there remains one consolation to him. What ever may be the ultimate importance of his work, he knows present power, the acclamations of multitudes, the admiration, perhaps the envy of his fellowmen. It was my father's peculiarity that while he accepted fully the limitations of a politician, he refused his compensations. He turned aside from applause, not, I think, because he disliked it (for he was human), but because he mistrusted instinctively any display of collective emotion directed towards a personal end. In all his life he never sought recognition and when he found it he seemed to despise it. But to this habit of mind there was one exception, the high opinion of his own people he always valued. And it is very easy for me to see him here, among his own people, accepting proudly the honor which you do him, and yet humble and with a touch of sadness, as his manner was."

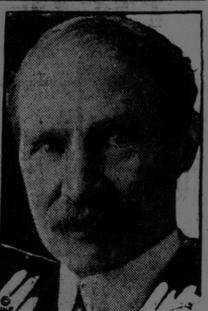

HIS INTEREST IN EMPIRE.

"My father's native country was Canada and the British Empire. I do not doubt it was his interest in the Empire which led him, late in life, into active politics. It was his love for the Empire which sustained him there. Two years ago I accompanied him on a voyage which he undertook for the sake of his health. He was in constant pain and there appeared in his speech two currents of thought which seemed to be his defense against the illness which had already seized him. He was concerned with a purely political question which occupied men's minds at that time. And it was his dear desire to sit, as Prime Minister of Great Britain, among the Prime Ministers of the Empire at the conference which was shortly to meet in London. Those whom he hoped to welcome as his colleagues were to stand about his grave. It was the last disappointment in a life that was not free of disappointments.

FUTURE VISIONED.

"Ladies and gentlemen, wherever we go in the world we find statues and monuments set up long ago to the memory of men whose actions and whose names have been forgotten equally. And when we see a new memorial we are inclined to speculate upon its meaning a century from now. We have lived in stirring times, but we know little of them and what we know is distorted. When we are dust, and when our children's children, with clear eyes unclouded by dead passions and unreal prejudices, survey the silent battlefield where we have struggled, men and women will stand out not as they seemed, not as they wished to seem, but as they are. When that day comes New Brunswick will have no cause to be uneasy for her Bonar Law memorial."

Memory Honored

DEED PRESENTED.

Chairman Dr. MacLaren introduced Richard O'Leary, of Richibucto, who presented a deed of the property upon which the cairn is erected to the Province of New Brunswick, a personal donation which was loudly applauded.

Dr. J. Clarence Webster, of Shediac, in a message of appreciation from Premier Mackenzie King, Lord Beaverbrook of London, Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor of Montreal and Premier E. N. Rhodes of Nova Scotia.

MEIGHEN GIVES EULOGY. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, referred to the appropriate suggestion which had resulted in the erection of a memorial to New Brunswick's most eminent son.

"Nature never nestled a child in surroundings more beautiful or scenery more lovely," said Mr. Meighen in reference to the home of Bonar Law. A study of Bonar Law's life showed that he was entitled to a very high position in business life. His handling of the complexities of finance was perhaps the surest and soundest of any of his generation.

EFFECTIVE IN DEBATE. "He brought into parliamentary life a style of speech and of debate which was new to the British House of Commons," said Mr. Meighen. "But Mr. Asquith, who was always in opposition to Bonar Law, had testified that he never met a former more worthy of his steel, unarméd with anything 'save his reasonableness, his patience and his candor.' Bonar Law had vanquished his foes in the House of Commons. Ramsay MacDonald, another opponent of Bonar Law, had also testified to his effectiveness in debate.

The children of New Brunswick would come to the cairn and share in the legacy which had been left by the great statesman.

New Brunswick was proud of her son, and well might she be proud, and Canada begged to share in the honor which was hers.

VENIOT PAYS HOMAGE.

P. J. Veniot, former Premier of New Brunswick, said he was born "within a gunshot of Bonar Law." The spirit of unity which was in Bonar Law was born in Kent county, Mr. Veniot said. The father of Bonar Law had preached unity of the two races inhabiting the country of Kent at that day, English and French. He explained that the cairn might have been a much more pretentious affair if some suggestion had been received from the rest of Canada and the Empire had been accepted. It was thought, however, to limit the contributions to the province of New Brunswick, it being felt that this would be more acceptable to the family of the statesman.

BAXTER GIVES SUMMARY.

Premier J. B. M. Baxter gave a most interesting summary of the eminent men in British and American affairs who were born in Kent county, and in concluding his remarks dealt with the outstanding personality of Andrew Bonar Law in the crucial period of Great Britain's history when he was its Prime Minister. An apt quotation from Kipling finished a most impressive and artistic speech.

TELLS OF EARLY DAYS.

Hon. H. A. Powell, of Saint John, school chum of the late Bonar Law in the Richibucto grammar school, dealt at length in reminiscence vein with the early days in the home village and gave an intimate picture of the sterling family life of the Rev. James Law's household, which was the foundation of Bonar's remarkable character. Mr. Powell closed with a quotation from Tennyson, very applicable indeed to the late British Premier.

RICHARD LAW WELCOMED.

George Jardine, elderly resident of Rexton, and close boy chum of the late Bonar Law, read an address of welcome to Richard Law from the people of Kent county, to which Mr. Law replied in both English and French. At the close of the ceremonial exercises many people visited the historic spots connected with the Law family and an informal reception was held at the place of memorial when the distinguished visitors were presented to hundreds of village folk.

CAIRN ABOUT 15 FEET HIGH.

The cairn is situated on the main street of Rexton under a sheltering group of willows and cannot be missed by passing travelers or its inspiration lost upon those who daily routine takes them past it ever and anon. It is a simple monument of obelisk type about 15 feet high with substantial base. It is cairn-like, a pyramided pile of round stone cemented together and bearing on its face a bronze tablet inscribed as follows: "In memory of the Right Honorable Andrew Bonar Law, Premier of Great Britain, 1922-1923. Born in the manse, Richibucto Parish, 1858—died in London 1923. His ashes rest in Westminster Abbey. Of noble character and sterling integrity he served his King and country faithfully. His passing was mourned by the Empire." Tributed from the Citizens of New Brunswick.

Canadian Press. MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—Hon. C. C. At Last—Something Effective For Wrinkles

It has been conclusively demonstrated that a simple home-made tarrackoo paste, applied to the face, will quickly eliminate wrinkles, worry, care and age marks. You need only mix a spoonful each of powdered tarrackoo and lemon juice, spread this over your face, then sit down before your mirror and watch the unwelcome lines disappear. In less than fifteen minutes your face will be as smooth and firm as a young girl's. Baginess will also melt away—youthful contour will be restored. It's simply wonderful how this harmless mixture works. The result, after the mixture is washed off the face, is infinitely better than from the most skillful face massage. And the cost is trifling—less than three cents per treatment. Buy "Tarrackoo" supply powdered tarrackoo in original package. So there's no excuse now for any woman looking so old, haggard or careworn.

Russian Break With Germany Is Visioned

Canadian Press Despatch. GENEVA, Sept. 18.—The reported visit of M. Teitcheiner, the Russian Soviet foreign minister, to Warsaw has proved a great topic of discussion among the delegates in Geneva, especially as the Poles assert that no specific questions between Russia and Poland are awaiting settlement. Some of the delegates interpret the visit as a move to break the German yoke and put forth the hand of friendship to France through Poland; others consider it a bid to get into the proposed security pact.

Steeple-Jack Has Thrill 200 Feet Up

LONDON, Sept. 18.—W. Larking, a steeplejack, was at work repairing the bronze statue of St. Helena on the Colchester Town Hall tower, 200 feet in the air, when a large flag hanging from a window, was blown by the wind round his legs. He was taken unawares and in danger of falling when he clutched at one of the bronze ravens which ornament the tower. He caught it, steadied himself, and, having freed his legs, resumed his work.

WINTER VEGETABLES

THIS is the season of the year when the average housewife begins to ask herself: What about vegetables?

Most of the reasonable fresh vegetables are off the market and yet a vegetable is desired with the meal.

Of course, had the been a thiefy housewife like Mrs. Mann of Anytown she might have had a supply of canned things on hand, and home-canned articles are likely to hit the right spot when the winter days arrive.

Now, from the standpoint of canned vegetables, there can be no choice between the fresh and the canned variety, so far as health values are concerned. Tomatoes are the only vegetables known to retain vitamins when thoroughly cooked.

Most towns, however, can supply parsnips, carrots and turnips throughout the winter months, as these vegetables lend themselves best to cold storage.

Also they are high in vitamins. Artichokes, well supplied with iron, can be obtained in most west coast territories and metropolitan. Of the canned varieties spinach is considered about the best bet, with green peas, sugar corn and beans next in line.

WEDDING WILL BE AS IN DAYS OF OLD

Dresses of Mediaeval Times Will be Worn at Society Nuptials in London.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—English society is keenly anticipating its first "mediaeval wedding" in twentieth century atmosphere, as the marriage of Miss Maudie Paget to Lord Glen Conner at Wells Cathedral on Friday is now described.

Miss Paget, who is one of the most prominent young members of English society, recently started conservative folk by announcing the world not wear the conventional bridal veil, and she now makes it known she will wear an authentic copy of mediaeval robes. Her gown is of cream-gold brocade. A headdress of mediaeval design will be worn. She will wear two rows of real pearls across her forehead, with pearl tassels on either side, the gift of the bridegroom's mother, Lady Grey of Fallodon. The bridesmaids will introduce a vivid note of color in their mediaeval dresses of velvet with hair-dresses of golden tresses set with colored stones. Two pages, Harold Strickland and Guy Tennyson, will dress in green velvet tights, green velvet shoes and gold tunics belted with green velvet.

Fresh From The Country. He was fresh from the country, and had come up to town for a holiday and to see a bit of life. He had read in the local papers that all sorts of fun could be had in London, and he decided to find out the truth of this statement for himself.

While walking along a city street he noticed a very high building, over the entrance gate of which was hung the following notice: "Please ring the bell for the porter."

Thinking it would be rather a joke, he rang the bell furiously, and the porter, who lived in the top of the building, hurried down the stairs, very hot and out of breath. On seeing the countryman, he demanded in very haughty tones what he wanted.

Our friend, with his sunburned face wreathed in smiles, pointed to the notice and replied: "Why can't you ring the old bell yourself?"—Yorkshire Post.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON A TRIP THROUGH ITALY.

"Where else did you go?" Nick asked the bright little traveler clock when he had finished telling about Egypt.

"Lots of places," said the little clock. "One place I loved was Italy."

"What was it like?" asked Nick.

"You might just as well ask 'What is the world like!'" sighed the little clock. "Italy is not only a big country and full of big cities, but it is full of all sorts of other things as well. There is a mountain that boils at the top and you can see smoke and real fire coming out. I really would not believe my eyes. I saw it the first thing when my master took me out of my case and set me on a stand where I had a direct view of the window. That was at a city called Naples. The sea there is as blue as blue-water on washing day, and so is the sky. It was lovely, I tell you."

"Where else did you go?" asked Nancy.

"My, my! You will have me talked to death," spluttered the clock. "We went to another place called Venice. That's a city in Italy, too."

"Is it on the sea like Naples?" asked Nick.

"I'll say it is," said the clock. "Not on the sea, but in it. Right in it, you might say. What on earth the houses stand on, I don't know, for the streets and alleys and everything are water. You have to go about in boats instead of buses or taxis or trolley cars."

"I know," said Nick. "You said it yourself. The houses stand on earth, on real earth. Little tiny islands—that's what the houses are built on."

"Well, I declare!" cried the astonished little clock. "I'll wonder never cease! There is a lovely church there, too—or cathedral as it is called. It's name is St. Mark's."

"Then we went to another city in Italy," said the clock. "Or are you tired listening. Maybe I am going too fast?"

"No, no!" cried the twins. "Please go on."

"The next city my master took me to in Italy was called Florence. That's a girl's name and easy to remember."

old and interesting. One place I did see was a funny old bridge with shops on each side. Goldsmiths and silversmiths have these shops and make a lot of jewelry that travelers buy. My master bought a lot of things to take home to his friends. Camos and corals, all set in the carvings.

"When we left Florence we went to a place called Pisa where there is a high tower about to fall over. It made me shiver."

"There! You are all fixed now," said Tick Tock. "We'll have to go."

"I know lots more," said the clock. "I feel so fine now, I could talk all night."

"Thank you, little clock," said the twins, "but we must really be going."

SHOOTS FOREMAN; GETS PRISON TERM

Maine Millman Angered When Discharged, With Wife Depending on Him.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 18.—A neat little man of inoffensive appearance, whose spectacles and dress gave him a decidedly clerical aspect, was sentenced to serve from three to six years at hard labor in State Prison at Thomaston on a charge of murderous assault by Judge Arthur Chapman.

He is Albert Clark, 40 years old, who pleaded guilty to an indictment naming him as the assailant of Michael Belanger of Brunswick, foreman in the mill where he was employed.

Belanger, a bullet wound in his body, has been in the Maine General Hospital since the assault, July 31, but is recovering and will be discharged soon.

Trouble between the two men is said to have been aroused by Clark's discharge from employment at the mill. He has a wife dependent upon him for support, and was angered at Belanger for refusal to restore him to his position.

FORTUNE FOR WIDOW

E. R. Stettinius of Morgan Firm Left Millions, Chiefly in Trusts.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Edward R. Stettinius, late partner of J. P. Morgan & Company, in his will filed for probate here, bequeathed practically his entire estate to his wife, through the establishment of trust funds.

The exact amount of the estate, which runs into many millions of dollars, was not disclosed.

Nervous Girl. "You say Maud makes you think of a canoe. How?" "It makes me little to upset her."

Warned Against a Worse Thing. "Solly," said Mr. Rubinstein to his eight-year-old, "why do you go upstairs two steps at a time?" "To have the stair cloth, fader."

"Good boy, good boy," said his father, "but be careful, mine son, not to split your trousers."

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

THE new gowns for fall seem to seek two extremes in their style development. They are either inclined toward the old high neck treatment and are very simple, or they are extremely lacy in effect. The model above is of the latter type. It is a most colorful affair of beautiful rose-colored crepe. The deep cream of the net and embroidery tone in with the rose tint. Pointed hemlines, or scalloped ones, and string belts, mark a number of the newest gowns.

Pen Held By Teeth, He Signs 650 Notes

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 18.—Sam Sloan, state treasurer, who is handless and armless, has started a task that would daunt most men—signing his name 1,200 times by holding a pen in his teeth.

The signatures are being placed on $500,000 worth of state bonds issued for the purpose of erecting buildings at the University of Arkansas.

There are 650 notes, each of $1,000 denomination, and each must be signed by the treasurer.

Grist For His Mill. A well-known novelist got into an argument with his wife over some ridiculous thing or other and when ten minutes later the misunderstanding was cleared up, he laughed and said: "Thank my dear, it seems like a chapter that has slipped out of a novel."

"More like a chapter that will slip into one," his wife retorted wittily.

REDS' SEEK SHARE IN SECURITY PARLEY

Russia Prepared to Block Negotiations Unless She's Included.

British United Press. GENEVA, Sept. 18.—Soviet Russia is preparing to block European Security Pact negotiations, if she is not permitted to participate in them, British United Press learns.

Foreign Minister Skrynski, of Poland, has departed from Geneva for Warsaw, where he will meet George T. Chicherin, Soviet Foreign Minister, Saturday. It is understood that the latter will propose some form of Security Pact to Poland, perhaps suggesting that the Allies and Germany admit the Soviet to the negotiations which are to begin here in October. Chicherin's plans are viewed as the determination of the Soviets not to permit the consummation of a Security Pact without Russian participation. It is expected that he will endeavor to prevent the forthcoming negotiations or to offset them by offering a Russian security agreement to Poland, Czechoslovakia and Rumania.

Cast iron shells of houses, complete with windows and outside doors are quoted on similar conditions at $150 a house for a parlor house with three bedrooms.

These houses are eligible for the subsidy under the Housing Acts of 1923 and 1924.

LONDON HOUSE F. W. Daniel & Co. Head King St.

"ABOUT TWO YEARS AGO I was troubled with a crop of boils. A crop of them. I lost eleven pounds in two weeks. Then I went to the Skin and Cancer Hospital. The head physician there laughed when I told him of the boils I had had. He said these boils were an internal disturbance and that I needed something to clear my system. He recommended Fleischmann's Yeast. I followed his instructions. It took no more than two weeks to clear my system, and I felt like a new-born man. I continued taking the yeast for another week or so; and since then I have never been troubled with any form of skin eruption." David Ginsberg, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"SIX MONTHS AGO I was in miserable health. My system was filled with poison, due to constipation. My complexion was pale and lifeless; my eyes were dull—I was merely dragging through life. I had no appetite, was nervous, irritable, and cranky. Although in my early twenties, I found no pleasure in living. At last I decided to try Fleischmann's Yeast. . . . Every day for a month I ate two cakes, and then reduced to one. That was six months ago. Today I am a new person. My eyes are clear and sparkling. My rosy complexion is the envy of all my friends. And when I awake in the morning I feel that I could play a sonata on a broomstick." Lena Lee Mastel, Collinsville, Ill.

The Most Important Thing in Life

Abounding health—how thousands have found it — through this one simple fresh food

"TWO YEARS AGO I found myself very unfit physically. I was fagged and nervous, fearful of chronic ill-health. I tried Fleischmann's Yeast. Amazing! It has entirely eliminated that weak, fagged condition; made me feel and look wonderfully fit. I am now adding Yeast to the diet of my small son. He was so under-nourished looking, and ordinary tonics did him no good. He is responding beautifully—his skin and eyes are clear, appetite fine, and he is fast losing his emaciated appearance." Mrs. Virgil Hart, Cross Plains, Texas

THIS FAMOUS FOOD tones up the entire system—banishes constipation, skin troubles, stomach disorders. There are many delicious ways of eating yeast—dissolved in water, fruit juices or milk, spread on crackers, or just plain. Start eating it today!

FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST IS MADE IN CANADA

"I NEVER KNEW when a bilious attack would come on me, even though I tried to be careful of my diet. It happened once when I was week-ending with some friends—another time when I was driving my car down a narrow mountain road. The usual violent headache followed, the usual gone feeling the next day from the effect of a purgative. I had heard of Fleischmann's Yeast, its aids to digestion and elimination. I tried that at first one cake a day. . . . My last bilious spell was at one year and three months ago and I feel positive that I will not have another." Nora Weber, Denver, Colo.

SYSTEMATIC PLOT BELIEVED BARED

Italian Authorities Make Many Arrests Among Communists and Seize Literature.

ROME, Sept. 12.—Subversive activities by Communists in Italy, are meeting with short shrift, at the hands of the authorities. Literature of various kinds have been seized by the police in Florence, Messina and other places which has led them to the belief that a systematic plot is afoot to bring about a general insurrection throughout the country.

In Florence, more than a hundred Communists have been taken into custody.

At Messina, in Sicily, the police also declare they have unearthed another centre of insurrectionary activity, and a number of arrests have been made.

TOWN CRIMELESS FOR NEARLY 30 YEARS

Residents Indignant at Proposal to Arm Auxiliary Constables.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The blameless life of Denham, a rural village, a sort of London urban Arcady only 14 miles from the city, has just received a rude shock.

Crime, even to the extent of petty larceny, has been practically unknown for nearly 30 years; yet the local authorities have suddenly decided to equip the three village constables—survivors of the days before an organized police force—with handcuffs, truncheons, armlets and whistles. The village constables are elected annually to assist the one uniformed policeman, provided by the Bucks Constabulary in cases of emergency. There has not been a case of emergency for over 27 years, and Denham is inclined to be indignant at the apparent reflection on its morals.

CRIPPLE GETS THIEF

War Veteran Chases Bag-snatcher and Phones The Police.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Stephen Walter, a crippled ex-serviceman of Green Bay, has been warmly commended by the Canterbury bench and thanked by the police for his plucky attempt, though confined to an invalid chair, to capture a bag snatcher.

Porpoise Swims 2,000 Miles In Fortnight

SHOOTS EX-FIANCEE AND ENDS OWN LIFE

Newark Policeman Forces Way Into Woman's Home; Fires Five Times.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Madeline Clearwater Montgomery, a young widow whose husband died four years ago from the effects of poison gas to which he had been exposed in the world war, was aroused from sleep in her home in Newark, shortly before 6 o'clock in the morning by the sound of voices raised in altercation. Standing at the foot of her bed, were two men, her brother, Gerum Clearwater, and Policeman Anthony P. Sheridan, to whom Mrs. Montgomery had been engaged until six months ago, when her continued ill-health had caused her to break off the engagement. Sheridan held a pistol in his hand with which he was menacing young Clearwater, and he exclaimed to Mrs. Montgomery: "Come into the kitchen, Maddie, I want to talk to you."

Instead, the young woman screamed and pulled the bedclothes over her head. The policeman fired five bullets into the bed. There was a shriek from Mrs. Montgomery and then Sheridan put the weapon to his left temple and sent the remaining bullet into his brain.

The young woman was wounded in the neck, the left arm and the chest. Two bullets had missed her.

She and Sheridan were carried to the City Hospital, where the policeman died two hours later. It was said that Mrs. Montgomery's condition was serious, though there was hope for her.

GOSSIPS NOW PICK BRIDE FOR PRINCE HENRY

Are Discussing His Liking for Lady Angela Scott.

HER FAMILY OF ANCIENT LINEAGE

Near East Affairs — Lord Methuen Now Constable of Tower.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—King George's sons may have some special privileges denied to ordinary youths, but they share one real disability. As surely as either of them, the married Duke of York excepted, is seen with an eligible little lady, the gossips practically publish the marriage banns. Talk is now interesting itself in court circles about Prince Henry and his liking for Lady Angela Scott, the youngest and prettiest daughter of the Duke of Buccleuch. Prince Henry is 25, and Lady Angela is just 20. Perhaps we may hear something officially when the Prince attains his army majority. And a Scottish dukedom may mark the event, reviving the old Edinburgh title.

SCOTTISH NOBLES.
The Montagu-Douglas-Scotts are of ancient Scottish lineage, and the first holder of the title was a warden of the marshes, in days when the job was no sinecure. His great-grandfather, who figures in "The Lay of the Last Minstrel," was a stubborn chieftain, a bonnie fletcher, and a great cattle-raider in days when the blue bonnets came over the Border more belligerently than nowadays. When he was brought as hostage before Queen Elizabeth, at her London court, that haughty feminist imperiously demanded how he dared offend Her Majesty. To which Sir Walter Scott, the Buccleuch ancestor, replied, with equal animation, "What is there a man may not dare?" This won the queen's admiration, and Elizabeth exclaimed, "With ten thousand such men our brother of Scotland might shake the firmest throne in Europe!" Today the Buccleuchs stand for the bluest-blooded Scots tradition, and their select social circle includes no suspicion of the new rich type.

STILL IN THE PICTURE.

If the worst fears of some genuine Near East experts are justified, and the Druse revolt against the French spreads into a general Arab rising overflowing frontiers, we may come right up against trouble. It is more than a coincidence that, in this event, Lord Plumer, the newly arrived Governor-General of Palestine, will be in command of British affairs nearby. The tough old warrior's dapper nose and camouflage a bright blue eye that has seen more real scrapping than most old soldiers. He was the cavalry commander who, even then by no means a gunpowder novice, kept pegging away at the relief of Mafeking. Later he commanded the Second Army in France, and his firm grip held the ruins of glorious Ypres against Germany and the odds of battle.

THE DRUSES.

The Syrian mountaineers with whom the French are now conducting rapid-fire negotiations are a strange people. The Druses inhabit the southern and western Lebanon area and are guesses as descendants originally of the Cushites, now the Kurds, a fierce tribe that re-peopled wasted Samaria after the second captivity of Israel. A thousand years later a fresh colonization took place, when 12,000 warlike Mardis were transplanted there from the Caspian by Constantine IV. For 800 years the Druses, one of the few sects who actively discourage proselytism, have practiced a strange mélange of religions, into which the Pentateuch, the Bible, the Koran, and the Suif are interwoven. They believe in an immortal God 10 times manifested on earth.

HANDSOME AND INDEFATIGABLE.

An essential tenet of the Druses' faith is that human souls are a fixed multitude, each endlessly inhabiting a new human shape. Sixty-five years ago the French were engaged in fighting the Druses, but were foiled by the mountain warriors taking to the Hauran Desert. They totaled 50 years ago no more than 80,000 people, handsome, hardworking, fierce-fighting. They can almost all read and write, and their indefatigable toil has created mountain plateaux of well-cultivated mulberry, olive, and vine, as well as corn, with earth laboriously carried up from the more fertile valleys. Their chief trade is the making and weaving of silk. They are not polygamists, and seem to have a strong feminist tradition. Tactfully handled, they might be quite admirable neighbors. But their proud independence hotly resents those methods the French colonial office has applied to the native races in Northern Africa.

MEN FROM OVERSEAS.

When the holidays are over, and ministers return to serious work in Whitehall, several important overseas appointments must be settled. There are two states governors to be nominated for Australia. Concerning these there is, I hear, a growing insistence down-under that the old system of imperial appointment should be abandoned in favor of local ones. If this feeling is found to represent real Australian opinion, there is not the smallest doubt that the home government will accede to it. A more spectacular appointment, much discussed in the newspapers recently, though not due for another year yet, is Lord Byng's successor in the Canadian Governor-Generalship.

LIQUOR QUESTION.

We are confronted by the extraordinary paradox that "dry" America will be for ever kept from going "wet" again by the powerful influence of the liquor traffickers. Bootlegging is far too profitable an industry, and far too popular for practical graft reasons with all sorts of officials, for any change in the existing regulations in our time. Whether gradually Americans will lose their taste for alcohol, and the liquor traffickers cease to be interested in resisting any repeal of the "dry" clause, hardly matters. Because then nobody would want it. But one noteworthy fact, I am told, already emerges. The liquor regulations may be a laughing stock for well-to-do folks, but virtually they keep the American working man sober. As a consequence he is saving money, owning his car, and far less full of industrial "unrest."

LONG-HEADED DOLLAR KINGS.

So much I gather from a well-informed American publicist, who produces official facts and figures to prove statement. Thus the long-headedness of America's great millionaire capitalists of industry, whose efforts really effected the "dry" miracle, seems justified within a decade. It was Rockefeller and Henry Ford who turned America "dry," proving once more, in the most astonishing manner, the almightiness of the dollar. And their reasons were purely materialistic business ones. They were after sheer industrial efficiency, and political calm. The Bolshevik menace frightened many Americans, in view of the immense foreign element in the United States. Their reply was a boundless financing of the saloon-smashers and prohibitionists.

BAKE YOUR OWN BREAD WITH ROYAL YEAST CAKES

The standard of Quality for over 50 years

AN OLD WARRIOR.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen's veteranancy has attained its 80th birthday.

AIRMAN OF OTTAWA FIGHTING THE RIFFS; SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

Major Walter Sussan Mentioned in Despatches For Gallant Flying in Morocco—Has Been in Service of Britain, Greece, France and Russia

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—A soldier of fortune in a new field of adventure, the air, is Major Walter Sussan, of Ottawa, the Canadian aviator, who, after a distinguished record in the Great War, is now fighting Riffs in Morocco.

Major Sussan recently leaped into the despatches through gallant flying in French Morocco, when, as commander of the Sherifian Escadrille, he led the bombardment of Shehaun, Riflian stronghold, which killed upwards of a hundred natives and totally disorganized the troops concentrated at that point.

FLEW IN RUSSIA.

Major Sussan was a resident of Ottawa for five years, coming to Canada from England and taking a position as master mechanic with a local firm which he held during his residence in this city. He was an expert of magnetos and in 1915 left to join up with the Royal Naval Air Force. He served with distinction until the end of the war and, on being discharged, returned to Canada and Ottawa in 1919. He remained in Ottawa only for a short time when, answering the call of the air and adventure once again, he left for Russia, where for some time he did flying for the Russian Government.

JOINED THE FRENCH.

He later went into the service of the Greek Government in fighting the Turks and while in this service is reported to have crashed and been made a prisoner. Later on he was released, returning to England. He then went to France and entered the flying service of the French Government on the Riffian front. While no mention of Major Sussan's service was contained in records available in Ottawa, he had many friends here who recall him quite well. He apparently gave Ottawa as his home on enlistment.

The aged field-marshal, who lost a leg and temporarily his liberty in a nasty episode of the Boer War, is now an ideal Constable of the Tower, and the historic crown jewels are in safe keeping. Sixty-one years ago he joined the Scots Guards from Eton, and he has been in most of our big and little wars. He wanted to share the rigors of the Great War, but had to chafe his game leg at Malta as Governor.

It has long been possible for a father to take out a form of insurance to pay for a son's school fees, and to start him on a career. An important London insurance office has now turned its attention to examine what it costs to launch a society girl, on the Mayfair stream—to equip her "coming out," and pay for her presentation at court. These gentlemen, learned in figures, have worked out the average cost at £411.2s. and they have solemnly set out, in a long list, all the things they think she

RICHARD LAW MAY VISIT CITY

Son of Former British Premier to Chatham After Rexton Unveiling.

Is Deeply Impressed on Visit to the Birthplace of His Father.

Richard Law, youngest son of the late Premier of Great Britain, Andrew Bonar Law, who unveiled a cairn to his father's memory at Rexton, N. B., yesterday, as noted elsewhere in this issue, may visit Saint John while on this, his first visit to Canada. He arrived a week ago in Quebec in response to the invitation by the Law Memorial Committee and proceeded at once to the home of Dr. J. Clarence Webster, Shediac. Last night, he was with the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Dr. Murray McLaren, M. P., Dr. Webster, Richard O'Leary and others in Chatham, when Mr. Meighen spoke. Mr. Law told a Times-Star reporter that he had not yet, of course, conceived any estimate of Canada, having seen so little of it. He understood it to be a country of varied potentialities. He was charmed with the beautiful roundabout Shediac and the country through which he motored to the birthplace of his father on Thursday. Beyond that he was naturally at a loss to arrive at any proper appreciation.

OF FINE TYPE

The late British Premier's son is an athletic young man of perhaps twenty-five years of age, sunburn haired, tall like his father, and quite in some ways in facial appearance which in turn is a resemblance imparted from the paternal grandfather, Rev. James Law, whose picture is so familiar to Rexton and Richibucto people. He is an Oxford graduate, and has but recently returned after an extensive tour in the Far East, which he says was for sightseeing purposes only, though Mr. Law is a student of architecture.

FATHER'S CRUSHING BLOW

Asked if he was going into business, the visiting young Englishman said he was at present reading law and left the impression that his mind was not definitely settled on the question of his future. During the war, Mr. Law's two elder brothers were killed, which crushing blow English writers have said greatly aggravated the illness of the late Premier, coming at a time also when he was being a cross of empire, those uncertain tragic days of 1918, the last year of the war.

CHARMED THE PEOPLE

In his mingling with the people of Rexton-Richibucto at the unveiling ceremonies yesterday and afterward in the old manse where his father was born, the church, his great-grandfather preached, the graveyard where his grandfather sleeps, Richard Law won the hearts of those with whom he came in contact by his charming courtesy and eagerness to absorb what to him appeared a thrilling experience. Those of the visitors from outside who had met the Prince of Wales when he was here remarked the resemblance in manner and speech—the fine training of English educational life and family circles.

There is a probability that Mr. Law will visit Saint John as he passes along on his Canadian trip.

SAYS NEW HOME OF PYTHIANS FINE ONE

Grand Chancellor Mowry Returns from Amherst—Will go to Grand Manan.

Capt. J. A. Mowry, Grand Chancellor Knights of Pythias, Maritime domain, returned to the city yesterday afternoon after an official visit to Chignecto Lodge of Amherst. While there he took part in the dedication of the new lodge hall on Wednesday evening. The Grand Chancellor said this was one of the most successful Pythian functions he had ever attended and the members of Chignecto Lodge were to be congratulated on their fine new home and the enthusiastic manner in which they were carrying on the work of the order.

Capt. Mowry said the conference held with the New Brunswick district deputies and other grand lodge officers at his home on Saturday evening of this week had been very successful and he believed would bear fruit during the year. Among those present at that conference were L. Stratton, A. P. G. G. and F. Blakeney, Moncton; George Cockburn, St. Stephen, and C. T. Green, J. C. Mitchell, J. R. Bell and F. A. Kinneer, Saint John. After the conference luncheon was served by Mrs. Mowry. The meeting was held at the summer home of the grand chancellor, Grand Bay.

TO GRAND MANAN

This afternoon Capt. Mowry will leave for Grand Manan to visit the lodge there and on Saturday evening he will pay an official visit to the lodge at St. Andrews. Several Saint John Knights are planning to leave on Saturday at noon by motor to be with the Grand Chancellor at St. Andrews.

Dr. Fred R. Taylor's Cattle Are Winners

Short-horn cattle owned by Dr. Fred R. Taylor, K. C., of Saint John, who operates a farm at Rothsay where he specializes in Short-horns, swept their department of the cattle show at the Fredericton Exhibition again. With their heaviest competition coming from John Miller, an Ontario breeder and exhibitor, Dr. Taylor's Short-horns won seven firsts, including the championships for both male and female. They took five of the eight divisions for the breed as well as the two championships, and also three seconds and two thirds. McIntyre Bros., of Sussex, cleaned up most of the prizes for Ayrshires at the Inge & Son and O. F. Gray, of Woodstock, making some inroads in the prize list.

SAY J. C. BERRIE TO HAVE CHARGE

Named Returning Officer for Saint John - Albert, Is Report

Some Appointments Said to be Settled On—City Conservatives Fix Primaries Date.

Political reports become more numerous as the new Provincial Government settles down to work and as the date of the federal elections draws near. J. Charlton Berrie will be the returning officer for Saint John-Albert in the forthcoming federal election. It was said this morning Sheriff E. W. Lynde, of Albert, was named as returning officer but it was said he had resigned as returning officer and Mr. Berrie was appointed to act.

It was said around the street this morning that the next issue of the Gazette would contain the announcement of the appointment of G. Earle Logan as clerk of the Board of Public Utilities for New Brunswick at a salary of $1,500 and that of Hon. E. A. Reilly, K. C., to the position of chairman of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission.

CONSERVATIVE PRIMARIES

The Conservative primaries for the city have been called for next Friday evening to select delegates to the nominating convention, which is to be held sometime around October 1. The city wards will meet at the Seaman's Institute but the meeting place for the North End and West Side wards had not been selected this morning.

REPORT FROM ROYAL

It was reported this morning that Rev. Archibald Sutherland, Chaplain, was spoken of as the Liberal standard bearer in the coming federal campaign in the constituency of Royal which comprises the counties of Kings and Queens, and that George B. Jones, the sitting member for the constituency of Apohaqui would be the Conservative candidate.

While it is a little out of the ordinary to see a minister of the Gospel as a candidate it was said Mr. Sutherland had signified his willingness to accept the nomination should it be tendered to him.

It was said this morning that in all probability the matter of who would be the senator from New Brunswick would be settled before Premier King leaves the province.
