

PLEA TO CHANGE SON'S NAME DENIED

Application of Woman Who Remarried After Divorce Turned Down

The Boy's Father Objected—Judge, Criticising Parted Couple, Says the Child May Choose a Cognomen for Himself Later On.

New York, June 23.—City Court Justice Callahan decided that a mother who divorces the father of her child and remarries, and then seeks to have the child's name changed to that of her present husband, can not do so over the father's protest even if the name happens to be her maiden name. The decision was handed down on an application by Mrs. Addie Rose, wife of Harry J. Rose, and daughter of Joseph Rose, wealthy diamond cutter, to be allowed to change the name of Lester Epstein, five years old.

Harry J. Epstein, father of the boy, opposing the change, pointed out that the boy's stepfather had not expressed himself in favor of it. Epstein, who is a real estate manager for Bing & Bling, told the court that after three years of married life he suffered reverses and was trying to earn a living for his wife and child when she and her father induced him to consent to a divorce in Reno on condition that he could visit the boy.

Epstein said the Reno decree contained no provision for him to visit the boy, as his wife and her father had promised, and that he found it difficult to do so. When he does see him, Epstein said, the child insists that Epstein is not his father, "because his mother and grandfather told him his father died in Nevada."

The decision said:—"The court knows no reason why the child should be endeared to another in preference to his natural father. The unfortunate predicament of this child of parents who so coldly and without apparent thought of its future arranged the dissolution of marital ties, does appeal to the court. The proposal made in the moving papers does not."

"This child should and in the course of time must know his parentage. If, when he fully appreciates the circumstances and is capable of selecting a name for himself, he selects the name of the man termed in the petition his 'stepfather,' he may do so."

JOIE RAY AGAIN FAILS TO LOWER MILE MARK

Wins Race in Harvard Stadium in 4:15 1-5—Misses Record by 2-5 Seconds.

Cambridge, Mass., June 23.—Joie Ray for the second time in eleven days failed to break the world's record for the mile run in the Harvard stadium on Thursday. The fleet Chicagoan could do no better than 4 minutes 15-5 seconds today, 2-5 seconds behind the world's mark of 4 minutes 13-5 seconds made by Norman Taber, July 16, 1915, on the same track. The conditions were quite good today, although Ray complained of a stiff wind after the race.

Watters, Harvard's freshman runner, ran a more thrilling race today than he did against Ray a week ago Saturday. He had a handicap of 155 yards and kept the lead until the last stretch when Rays sprint was too much for him.

At the start of the second lap Watters started to run abreast of Ray and proved invincible when the latter tried to shake him off.

Ray's times by quarters were as follows: "First quarter, 1:02-3; second quarter, 2:06-3; third quarter, 3:13; fourth quarter, 4:15-5."

In the shot put, Charlie Eastman of the Harvard failed to break the Crimson record by 1-2 inch, putting 46 feet 9-2 inches.

Boston, June 23.—An east wind wafted its way across Boston Harbor at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, and away went the torrid wave that was ending its third day. During its stay the heat caused eleven deaths, 100 prostrations and closed a score or more schools, mills and factories.

Philadelphia, June 22.—Yesterday was the hottest June day the Philadelphia weather bureau has ever recorded. The mercury ascended to 99 degrees, where it hovered until the approach of evening brought meagre relief.

All the public schools of the city were closed because of the heat, the first time such an order has been issued here.

Six persons have died from the heat wave within the last twenty-four hours. Three of them were drowned, which they sought relief from the heat.

Holyoke, June 22.—Two deaths from the excessive heat were recorded here yesterday. Daniel Hamlin, sixty-three, of 123 Pine street, died in the Providence Hospital. He was overcome yesterday and was picked up unconscious in Walnut street.

Schools were closed in Woonsocket and East Providence. More than a dozen textile plants suspended operations, while others released operatives in departments where the heat was most oppressive. Justices in the Supreme Court took the bench without their judicial robes, and juries were permitted to sit coolly. Three jewelry manufacturing concerns and many other light manufacturing plants in the city closed for the day.

Worcester, June 22.—Mayor Sullivan has arranged with George F. Booth, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, to allow people to spend the night in Worcester Parks as long as the present hot wave continues. The rules call for the clearing of the parks at ten p. m. The mercury reached ninety-eight this afternoon.

Chicago Cubs' Catcher Bats Way to Honors.

(Canadian Press.)—Chicago, June 23.—Bob O'Farrell, catcher for the Chicago Cubs, has entered the mad scramble for hitting honors in the National League, according to figures released today and which include last Wednesday's games. He has moved from eleventh place among the players who have participated in thirty-five or more games, to a triple tie for fourth place with an average of .365, compared with .338 a week ago. Roush of Cincinnati, who added only one point to his mark of the previous week, and Johnny Mookan of the Phillies, who suffered a slump, are tied with the Chicago star.

Zack Wheat, Brooklyn outfielder, has fallen off since the Dodgers' invasion of the west, but maintains first place with a four point margin over Charlie Grimm, the Pirate slugger. Wheat is hitting .389, compared with .409 a week ago. Grimm's average is .385 and Frankie Frisch of the Giants, eighth on his heels with an average of .382.

"Cy" Williams, of Philadelphia, continues to lead home run hitters with 20 circuit drives, his 145 total bases also leading in that department. George Grantham of the Cubs is tied with Sammy Bohne of the Reds for stolen base honors. Each has pilfered 13 sacks, the Chicago speedster annexing six in the last week, while the Reds' star failed to steal.

O'FARRELL IS NEAR THE TOP

Chicago Cubs' Catcher Bats Way to Honors.

Zack Wheat Still Leads the Nationals—The American League Hitters Getting Eye on Ball—Yesterday's Games.

With the advent of warmer weather, the pitchers of the American League are showing better form, Harry Hellman, of the Detroit Tigers, is still on the throne with an average of .428, the only player in the major leagues to pitch thirty-five or more games in the 400 class.

Eddie Collins, captain of the White Sox, is the runner up with an average of .374, and Jameson, of the Cleveland Indians, is third with .369. Collins has wrenched the sacrifice hitting honors by making eleven hits in six games. Comiskey's star second sacker is also leading the base stealers with twenty-four thefts. Johnny Mostil, his team mate, has stolen fourteen and is American League.

Ruth made only one homer during the week, which ran his string to fourteen, but he has been doing some consistent hitting. With a total of fifty-four runs, the Babe is easily the best run getter, and his total of 188 bases is far in front of his rivals.

Other leading hitters: Boston, .362; Ruth, New York, .354; Haney, Detroit, .354; Rice, Washington, .349; Ruel, Washington, .348; Miller, Philadelphia, .337; Cobb, Detroit, .335; J. Harris, Boston, .333; Myatt, Cleveland, .333; Severid, St. Louis, .326.

Yesterday's Games. New York, June 23.—With four teams in the American and two in the National id, the New York Americans celebrated their departure on their "away from home" trip by defeating the Boston Red Sox 4 to 2. The Yankees' "two bobs," Bob Shawkey and Bob Meusel played the stellar part in the win, Shawkey by pitching out of the bullpen and Meusel by clouting the ball and fielding well.

In the National the Giants climbed up another peg by drubbing the Athletics 10 to 1. Braves, Earl Smith, traded by the Giants to Boston recently, wielded a wicked bat against his former team mates, getting two home runs and a homer in four trips. Felix, also of Boston, got a home run but Scott kept the hits scattered and the Giants had the long end of a 9 to 5 score.

The Pittsburgh Pirates turned loose a broadside and scattered the Reds. Meadows held the Reds scoreless until the seventh when they got across their two tallies, and in addition the flinger helped his club win by getting three hits in three tries, two singles and a triple.

Donohue, Cincinnati pitcher, was forced to retire in the first inning when he was injured while attempting to stop a hot line.

The Cubs and Cardinals battled neck and neck until the eighth when Chicago put a pair of runs over the plate, winning 3 to 2. Seven out of fourteen hits in the game were for extra bases, Smith, of the Cards, and Miller, of the Cubs each getting a brace of two baggers.

Walter Johnson pitched the Senators to a victory over the Philadelphia Athletics, despite a home run by Perkins. He held the Mack crew to six blows, well scattered. The Senators acquired an early lead in the first and maintained it throughout the contest. Both leagues broke even in the day's home run race with two each.

Frederickson, N. B., June 23.—Frederickson's tax rate for 1923 has been fixed at $2.24. Last year's rate was $2.20 and the increase is explained by a fall-off in the incomes of wage earners, there having been wage reductions in the lumber and footwear industries here.

LIGHT AND POOR VISION. Room for Improvement in Illumination, Says R. E. Simpson.

In spite of a reduction of 50 per cent in the number of industrial accidents due to faulty illumination, the improvement of the last ten years still leaves much to be desired, declares R. E. Simpson, engineer of the Travelers' Insurance Company, who says that the number of such accidents to workers in the present country have subnormal vision.

As a result of bad lighting in the home, approximately 15 per cent of all vision, Mr. Simpson maintains, and because of insufficient or ill-arranged lighting in schools, where the demands upon the eyes are heavy, nearly 30 per cent of all students suffer from defective eyesight at the end of their school period.

These young people enter industry under a handicap, and when they encounter the frequently inadequate illumination of factories and other workplaces, they are peculiarly liable to accidents. It is estimated that from twenty-five to thirty million workers in this country have subnormal vision.

"We are told by those who have made exhaustive tests and studies that approximately 70 per cent of our muscular activities are dependent upon impulses induced by our sense of sight," says Mr. Simpson. "This fact, coupled with the average defective vision conditions, may in a large measure explain many accidents which for want of a definite understanding of their causes are at present ascribed to carelessness or heedlessness."

Cubs each getting a brace of two baggers. Walter Johnson pitched the Senators to a victory over the Philadelphia Athletics, despite a home run by Perkins. He held the Mack crew to six blows, well scattered. The Senators acquired an early lead in the first and maintained it throughout the contest. Both leagues broke even in the day's home run race with two each.

FIRE-FIGHTING METHODS.

(Chatham World.) We observe by our exchanges that the fire marshal at Andover visited a public hall where some performance was being enacted and took the names of all the men present, ordering them out for the purpose of fighting the prevailing fire.

This is apparently the law, and we must say that it is conceived in the right spirit if it is really on the state book.

It used to be the system in days gone by for the overseers of roads to order out all the residents of their district for the purpose of breaking out the roads after a heavy snow storm, and if this system was justified, and nobody would naturally be more necessary such concerted action must be in cases of destructive fires is quite apparent to everybody.

It should require no argument to establish this contention; in the case of road-breaking it might be only a matter of convenience, but in the matter of fires, whether of standing growth of lumber or farm buildings it is a question of personal loss to individuals or the community in the aggregate, and so it becomes not only a public duty or a moral obligation, but a real work of necessity.

We haven't the word bearing on this subject to refer to, but the logical assumption is that if all near-by residents could be compelled to work at a fire they would naturally be more careful to see that precautions should be taken to prevent any outbreaks—particularly if no pay were allowed except under exceptional conditions. Such an arrangement would obviously result in more care being taken by parties who lawfully set fires, while it would naturally be a decided check on the activities of those who negligently or criminally are instrumental in the destruction of our forest assets.

Within the last fortnight there have been numerous fires in the woods of New Brunswick and elsewhere and in many cases these fires are attributed to the careless burning of slash, and many fires are reported to have been illegally set and without permits from constituted authority, while a few instances of "hell" fires are reported.

The idea that we wish to give publicity to—that of compulsory fire service—would practically make every acre of our forest land a fire zone, and would naturally reduce the number of fires, whether resulting from negligence or malignity.

We believe our authorities are sincere in their desire and active in their efforts to prevent such great destruction of property, both public and private, and if our guardians would endeavor to punish those who are guilty of violations of the law in this regard we feel assured that a better condition in this respect would soon prevail.

GIANT BRITISH SEAPLANE MAKES 116 MILES AN HOUR

London, June 6.—(By mail)—Successful test flights, during which a speed of 100 knots (about 116 miles an hour) was attained, have been made at Coves this week with a huge Vickers Valenta seaplane for the Air Ministry, says The London Daily Mail.

What is claimed to be the smallest seaplane in the world is undergoing tests writes an air correspondent. Wings included it can be placed in a good-sized room. Of biplane construction, it has an 8-foot wing span, a hull 27 inches long and a eight-cylinder 60-horse power American engine.

4,000,000 bottles just like this are sold every year. Their contents have helped give new health and strength to an immense number of people who before were weak, sick, nervous and run-down. Among these millions of purchasers are an immense number of physicians, former United States Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of the United States Courts, Generals of the United States Army, and men and women in every walk of life. If you are weak, irritable, easily upset, don't sleep well, are under great stress, strain or worry, or if lack of iron in your blood is sapping your bodily and mental vigor, weakening your will power and thereby keeping you from making the money or the success in life that you should make, you need a bottle for yourself. It contains NUXATED IRON which is iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, seeds and apples. It helps make strong, forceful, red-blooded men and beautiful, healthy, robust women. Without iron, your blood becomes pale, thin and watery and loses its power to change food into heat and energy; therefore, nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it. To prove to yourself what Nuxated Iron can do for you, get a bottle of Nuxated Iron and see how your red blood corpuscles have increased and how much stronger and healthier you feel; how the color has come back to your face and how much energy and more energy you derive from it. It will not injure your teeth nor disturb your stomach. It is entirely different from ordinary metallic iron which people usually take. Be sure to get genuine Nuxated Iron in tablet form only. It may be had from any reliable druggist.

The whole secret of lovely nails is in the care of the cuticle How often lovely hands are ruined by ugly, ragged cuticle. Now women are learning that keeping the cuticle soft and even is really the most important part of the manicure.

Twist a bit of absorbent cotton about your orange stick and dip into the little bottle of Cutex Cuticle Remover. Then gently press back the cuticle on each nail. The surplus cuticle wipes off as you rinse your fingers, leaving the smooth, even nail rim that is absolutely essential for perfect grooming. Then one little touch beneath the nail tips with the orange stick will instantly remove all stains.

Give your nails this simple care once or twice a week and your cuticle will be always soft and lovely. Get a bottle of Cutex Cuticle Remover today from your druggist or departmental store for 35c. Or try one of the four convenient Cutex Manicure Sets—at 60c, $1.00, $1.50 or $3.00.

Judges Should Not Act As Arbitrators

Senator Belcourt Makes Strong Protest On Practice.

In the Senate at Ottawa leading lawyers have taken strong objection to the judiciary acting on arbitration boards. Hon. W. B. Ross said what he objected to was double pay for single work. Senator Belcourt said: "I object to judges sitting on commissions whether with or without pay. I do not think they have any business to sit on commissions. They are appointed for the purpose of presiding over courts and dispensing justice in their community. That is their proper function, and every time they go outside their sphere they are causing a serious detriment to the administration of justice. I have not yet heard of any commission presided over by a judge against which strong, sometimes very strong, accusations have not been made. They have been and are being made against every commission. They are very likely wholly untrue, but some of the mud sticks, and who is it that suffers? It is the judiciary every time. For my part I think we ought to prevent that if possible. If there is anything upon which the future of this and every other country depends, it is a due and proper respect for the judiciary. If that is destroyed or lost nearly everything else is lost. I have frequently expressed my opposition to judges acting on commissions, and I may be allowed to repeat what I have so often said. "Within the past 10 years we have seen judges, some holding the highest positions in a province, come down to Ottawa and lobby in order to obtain appointment as referees or arbitrators. What could be more injurious to the judiciary than that judges should be allowed to come here, and like ordinary office seekers, lobby or beg for appointment on a commission? I am not inventing anything. This fact is known—known in one case at least. Surely we have to stop that. Why not confine the judges to their natural functions, that of administering justice, and keep them out of quarrels, for commissions are generally the result of the object of a political quarrel. I cannot speak too strongly because I feel very strongly on this subject. It seems to me that we are making a very grave and serious mistake every time we allow a judge to go out and do something that is not strictly within his function."

Senator Gordon drew attention to the acceptance by two Ontario High Court judges of $20,000 as remuneration after the law prohibiting this had gone into effect, and asked that an expression of opinion be secured from the Justice Department as to the legality of this transaction. Senator Dandurand asked if there was any definite information as to the payment of this money to the judges. He said that he would submit Senator Gordon's statement to the Justice Department.

ALL EUROPE MATCHES COLORS AS YOUNG FLOCK TO STREET SHOWERS

Vivid Shawls From Prague and Green Skirts From Ireland Fashioned by Mothers of New York's Foreign-Born Into Bathing Suits Unknown to Beaches.

(New York Tribune.) Self-conventional civic order censors, whose conventional inhibitions led them to protest last summer against semirude bathing by children using fire department street showers, are credited with responsibility for more new styles in curb bathing attire this season than are to be observed on all the world's famous beaches, from Deauville to Coney Island.

Streets in which showers were operated last night for the first time this season swarmed with children clad gaily in home-made suits of odd designs and innumerable colors, fashioned lovingly by patient stylists from every corner of Europe—the mothers of New York city's foreign-born. Making bathing clothes for the kids, the old folks say, has been one of the winter tasks of women in all the winter settlements. The main idea, it seems, has been to spare their children from the shabby, gaudy, windowed Balkan butterfly. Around Seventy-first street and Third Avenue, for example, in little Czecho-Slovakia, scores of children are wearing shawls, suits made from print window shawls their mothers wore in Prague—fabrics of amazingly intricate design and coloring indescribably vivid, wherein Bohemia's inimitable pinks predominate.

Italians in Mott and Mulberry streets have entered into the spirit of what seems a city-wide shower bath fashion show. An attractive little Italian girl appeared in the Mulberry street section last night wearing trousers and a blouse of grosgrain silk, ablaze with orange, blue, red and green. An old woman relative of this youngster boasted that she wore the shawl from which this creation emerged when she sold flowers on the Piazza di Spagna in Rome fifty years ago.

"Did she bet? American express came," she grinned. "Now de flower girl nota no more." Reds for Russians. Balkan youngsters sport homespun linens and embroidered intricate designs of navy blue and scarlet, while Brooklyn's Bavarians revel in their native blue cotton, all spangled with the stiff and roughest roses and the greenest green leaves ever seen anywhere in all the world. Among Jane street's juniors Irish flourishes. One young enthusiast there, sporting himself in the cool stream, when asked where he got his gay green tights exploded delightedly: "Them's ma's old petticoat. Ain't they the cat's eyeballs?"

CANDIDATE IS FOR LOCAL OPTION

Toronto, June 23.—Advocating a local option clause for the Ontario Temperance Act, so that dispensaries under Government control could be established in Toronto and that people who so desired be thereby enabled to get good liquor at reasonable prices without having to play the role of hypocrites and prevaricators, J. A. McCausland, Conservative candidate for Seat A, in Southwest Toronto, made his position clear at a meeting held last night. He said he did not see why people in one district should be deprived of that for which they voted because those residing in other localities held different views.

RECENT DEATHS

Ira A. Armstrong. The death of Ira A. Armstrong, of Jerles Corner, occurred yesterday at the St. John County Hospital after a lengthy illness. The late Mr. Armstrong, who had been a patient at that institution since November, was well liked by the hospital staff and other patients in the soldiers' ward. He was an original member of the 29th Battalion and took part in many of the important engagements at Mons, Ypres and Vimy Ridge. While at the latter place he received wounds which necessitated his return home in 1918. The body was forwarded to his home, where the funeral will take place on Sunday, with interment in Sussex Corner cemetery.

Englishman's Tribute to a Great American Ambassador

"Thank God, We're In!"—A Man Who Widened the Outlook of the English-Speaking Races—Tablet in Westminster Abbey.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Sir,—The genial and versatile personality of Walter H. Page was at his death as well known to large numbers all over this kingdom as well as throughout America that there is probably not one but would agree that among his many eminent predecessors none more worthily upheld the high traditions of the American Embassy in London.

Just as it was my pleasure to have been introduced to several distinguished holders of his office on taking up their duties, including such well-known representative men as Bayard, Hay, Choate and Whitelaw Reid, and from time to time to receive each of them as an honored guest, so it was my equally good fortune to make the acquaintance of Mr. Page immediately after his arrival, to come in contact with him occasionally before the great war and to benefit by his erudition and the vast fund of information with which he illumined every topic of conversation.

It was, however, after the world conflict had begun, and especially during the crises of the fearful struggle, when civilization itself seemed doomed, that it was my privilege to meet him more frequently and to estimate at close range the measure of the man and his Olympian labors for the ideals of liberty, peace and fraternity.

Among these valued opportunities were two simple incidents which stand out by themselves and have been indelibly impressed on my mind.

The occasion of the memorial to Edwin Austin Abbey, the Royal Academician, who hailed from the States, was one of these events. The unveiling was performed in the crypt of St. Paul's Cathedral by Her Royal Highness Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll. The date happily chosen for this impressive service was the very day on which it became known on this side that America had joined us in the World War; and I was asked to receive Mr. Page at a special entrance. He gave me a most cordial handshake after his staggering outburst, "Thank God, we're in!"

Americans as well as British were there in large numbers, and the circumstances of this ceremonial observance as well as the environment of that sacred enclosure, with its centuries of hallowed memories, was a tribute to the solidarity of the Anglo-Saxon race, and left upon me, as it must have left upon others, a conviction of the essential oneness of English-speaking peoples for which the Ambassador himself toiled unceasingly in public and in private. Few there were who could have been unmoved while surveying the memorials to the men of our race whose foresight shaped our imperial destiny and whose genius left its impress on the stirring history of our empire.

Mr. Page's address on the life and achievements of Mr. Abbey was, needless to say, clear-cut and vigorous, notable for its thoughtful and uplifting message to all our kindfolk, and at its close his auditors were more than gratified by his going among them with that word of warm greeting, "Now we're allies."

The other pleasing incident was associated with my friend, the late Sir George Reid, who after America had joined us, was requested by our Government to plead the allied cause before the people of America. The suggestion was made that he should be given a friendly send-off at a dinner at the Athenaeum, whereupon I wrote to the American Ambassador to know if he would accord me an interview, as

The late Lord Bryce, who, as is well known, for the seven years previous to the war had been our Ambassador at Washington.

The remarkable "Life and Letters of Walter H. Page," recently published, reveal the many-sided activities of the man whose kinship will remain with hundreds of thousands a source of happiness if not of pride. The soundness of his judgment, his penetrating analysis of great issues, the concentrated wisdom of his writings and utterances, his kindness in others' troubles, his courage in his own, and his unflinching good nature under all circumstances must compel the unstinted admiration of readers of these inspiring books. No public man was ever more prodigal of his talents for the good of others, nor more profoundly in earnest in advocating a communion of aims and ideals among the people of the Old World and the New.

Few there have been who have so stirred the heart of civilized humanity by noble utterances in noble yet homely prose as did our great American kinsman; and probably to no other's language could the lines of the scholarly Dean Alford be more aptly applied:

Once in a lifetime is uttered a word That doth not vanish as soon as 'tis heard: One in an age is humanity stirred.

Once in a century springs forth a deed From the dark bands of forgetfulness freed. Destined to shine, and to help, and to lead.

There are no doubt large numbers in this kingdom as well as in the United States whose recollections of Mr. Page are fully as delightful as are my own and whose more or less intimate association with that master mind would enable them to recall countless memories of incidents, occasions, sayings, reports that were of far more than passing or merely personal interest and were often identified with acts of great public usefulness. I cannot help thinking, therefore—now that our indebtedness to America has been happily and finally adjusted—that these should be collected and included in a little volume, which, together with other gems from his admiring biography, would provide a treasure house of thought that would undoubtedly widen the outlook of the English-speaking races, promote the harmony of the Anglo-American relations and, mayhap, influence the peace of the world.

Not a few countries both in the Old World and the New have produced great men whose work and example have been of permanent benefit to the land of their birth, but with only a limited proportion of such did the sphere of their influence extend far beyond that of their own nationality. Of a still lesser number could it be said that they exercised themselves for the advantage of all mankind; and among this select few Page will ever have a place honored and unquestioned.

Bathe Them in TIZ

I had two favors to ask. I called at the embassy and was delighted with his breezy greeting: "Both favors are granted. Now tell me what they are."

My first was that he would honor me with his presence at this little function, the second that he would support Mr. Balfour (as he then was) in wishing Sir George a hearty godspeed on his momentous mission. The whole matter was discussed and decided in less than five minutes. But I continued to enjoy many more minutes of his sparkling conversation and sagacious comments on public affairs, both British and American, which we may now hope are daily becoming more practically one.

My second petition, equally readily granted, was not to be fulfilled, Mr. Page was the first to arrive at the Athenaeum, the last being Mr. Balfour, who at once took me aside, stating that he had been detained at a meeting of the Cabinet, and it had been impressed on him that there must be no speeches and no press representatives at the gathering if another Lusitania tragedy was to be averted, or Sir George Reid's services might be altogether lost to us. Nothing, however, could ruffle the chery urbanity of the American Ambassador as he moved among the guests, who joined me in doing honor to our gifted emissary from Australia. The company, in addition to Sir George Reid, Mr. Page and Mr. Balfour, included the Japanese Ambassador, the Greek Minister, the Portuguese Minister, the Bishop of London, Lord French, Lord Jellicoe, Lord Curzon, Lord Crewe, Lord Lincolnshire, Lord Milner, Lord Burnham and Ian Macpherson, together with the late Lord (Charles) Bessford, the late Lord Downham and

Polarine MOTOR OIL (light medium) for FORDS

The Ford expert will tell you "use a high quality light medium oil"

Let's look under your Ford hood for a minute—What do we find?

- 1. A small high speed engine, requiring a light free-flowing oil which can be readily distributed to all engine parts. 2. Closely fitted pistons with little clearance space, calling for a light medium oil with perfect sealing qualities. 3. Relatively tight bearings without oil leads, a condition demanding a light bodied lubricant which will work its way through to the bearing surfaces. 4. A high compression motor in which carbon accumulation in any quantity becomes serious, hence a light oil of low carbon forming tendency is needed. 5. A splash system of lubrication, entailing the use of a light medium oil which will lend itself to fine atomization when splashed by the moving connecting rods.

The above factors are among the important considerations upon which our engineers base their recommendation of Imperial Polarine Light Medium Oil for Ford lubrication. The experience of thousands of Ford owners proves the soundness of this recommendation. To-day—have your Ford crankcase drained, cleaned and refilled with Imperial Polarine Light Medium Oil—and you will realize new Ford economy and efficiency.

TWO BASEBALL BATTLES TODAY

McCourt, Paynter, Beattay and Parlee Likely to Work for Fredericton and Vets in Important Contests.

The Fredericton baseball team is here today to play two games with the Vets., one this afternoon at 3 o'clock and the second this evening starting at 7 o'clock on St. Peter's Park. The capital team has now a comfortable lead for championship honors and the G. W. V. A. team will present its strongest line-up in an effort to cut down the lead. Fredericton plans on using McCourt and Paynter, who are the probable stars of this evening's contest. It will be a case of two hard hitting baseball organizations meeting in contests that promise to be full of excitement and marked by keen play. With the glorious weather that prevails and with interest keen over the brand of ball being played, large crowds are expected. St. Peter's team, which played in Fredericton last evening, returned to the city by automobiles early this morning.

Bishop's Daughter Today Will Marry Professor of U. N. B.

Nuptials of Miss Helen Mary Richardson and Prof. B. E. Claridge in Fredericton.

(Special to The Times.) Fredericton, N. B., June 23.—Christ Church Cathedral at 3:30 this afternoon will be the scene of the most brilliant wedding of June when Helen Mary, eldest daughter of His Lordship the Bishop of Fredericton and Mrs. Richardson, will be married to Bertram Eugene Claridge, professor of forestry engineering at the University of New Brunswick. The prominence of the bride and groom and their wide circle of acquaintances makes the wedding of interest not only in this province but beyond.

The cathedral has been decorated especially for the occasion, the girl friends of the bride converting the interior of the handsome edifice into a place of floral beauty.

The ceremony is to be performed by the father of the bride, the Bishop of Fredericton, and her grandfather, Archbishop Fortin of Winnipeg. She is to be given in marriage by her brother, Wilfrid Richardson, late of the royal navy. Numerous invited guests from outside Fredericton are to be present.

The bride is to be gowned in deep ivory chiffon satin with satin beads at the waist, with drapery caught up with orange blossoms, and short sleeves beaded. She is to have a veil train to fall from the shoulders, veil of Honiton lace with orange blossoms and will carry a bouquet of lilies of the valley, sweet peas, maiden hair fern and infant's breath.

The bride is to be attended by four bridesmaids, two of them her sisters, Miss Phyllis Richardson, Miss Edith Richardson, and the others Miss Margaret Hallyer of Sydney, N. S., and Miss Edith Whitman of Annapolis, N. S. They are to wear pale blue or changeable taffeta silk with large, horn hats faced with mauve georgette and trimmed with lilac and old-fashioned bouquets. The flower girl will be Miss Nancy Daniel of St. John, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Daniel. The groomsmen will be Hamilton Claridge of New Haven, Conn., brother of the groom, and the ushers are to be A. H. Taylor, R. S. FitzRandolph and Wilfrid Richardson.

The bridal party will enter the church by the west door and upon their entry the choir will sing "Lead, Holy Father, Lead Us." While the register is being signed a selection will be played by the organist, W. J. Smith. Immediately following the ceremony, reception will be held at Bishop's Court, the residence of the parents of the bride. Girl friends of the bride will serve.

The honeymoon will be spent in Nova Scotia, the young people leaving this evening. Going away the bride will wear a navy blue tailored suit with Paisley silk blouse, navy blue straw hat and mink fur. After their return, Professor and Mrs. Claridge will take up their residence in Waterloo Row.

WATER PRESSURE LOW THIS EVENING

Water pressure on the higher levels in the city will be below normal this evening after 6 o'clock. It was announced by Commissioner Wigmore last evening. The water and sewerage department plan on making some repairs to several of the gates of the 24-inch main beginning at 6 o'clock this evening and residents of the higher levels are advised to draw a sufficient supply and save inconvenience. It will require several hours to complete repairs.

A LITTLE WANDERER

A well-dressed little chap about four years of age was picked up in Dalhousie street this morning by Sergeant Detective Power and Detective Biddiscombe and taken to the police station. He was clad in blue rompers and had very fair hair. When asked what his name was he found great difficulty in removing a piece of candy from his mouth long enough to answer the question. What he said sounded like "Johnnie O'Pinney." Asked if his father had a car he said "No, but he's going to get one." He didn't seem to know where he lived, but did know that he wanted his mother. Police Matron Miss Ross made strenuous efforts to discover his identity, but he smiled engagingly and mumbled incoherent sentences. Later, an anxious mother called the police station and found her child. His name was Clarence O'Brien and his home is at 103 Gilbert's Lane. He had been visiting with his mother at 160 Queen street and developed an irresistible attack of the wanderlust.

Schooner Puts in at Yarmouth—Trawler Snipe is Wrecked on Black Ledge.

(Special to The Times.)

Yarmouth, June 23.—Schooner Peter McIntyre, Capt. P. Boudreau, arrived in the sound on Thursday bound from St. John for Wilmington Del with pulp. On Wednesday George Goldberg, one of the crew was injured, an ankle bone being fractured, and he was removed to the Yarmouth Hospital for treatment. The captain expects to resume his trip today.

The crew of the wrecked steamer trawler Snipe were brought to Yarmouth on Thursday night. The Snipe is owned by the Deep Sea Fisheries Co. of Rockland Maine, and commanded by Capt. David Wise. The trawler left Rockland on Wednesday for Westport Banks with a call into Halifax. Thick fog and forest smoke prevailed during the night and when Thursday morning dawned the position was thought to be near Seal Island, but the captain was unable to get a bearing or make a light owing to the hazy weather. Capt. Wise cautiously proceeded through the fog until, without warning, the trawler brought up on Black Ledge with the tide half ebb at 6:40 o'clock. The vessel made water rapidly in the engine room and fires were extinguished. The Snipe settled heavily on the ledge at low water and at high tide the trawler filled. As she could not be floated Captain Wise left Mate Connors in charge and with eleven of the crew was brought to Yarmouth in tug Mary H. Cann.

The Snipe was built in Savannah in 1919, measures 409 tons gross and 208 net. She had made two trips to the Western Banks within the last two weeks and had landed 300,000 lbs. fish at Rockland a few days ago. Captain Wise was Capt. David Morrill of Brooklyn, returned to the wreck yesterday, the latter in the interests of the underwriters.

BOYS' WORK OF THE ROTARIANS

Conserving a Nation's Greatest Natural Resource

Addresses at International Convention in St. Louis—Some of the Things That Rotary Has Done for Them Already.

Saint Louis, Mo., June 21.—Conserving the nation's greatest natural resource—the boy—to the end that he will grow up with the idea that he profits most who serves best, is the idea underlying the boys work of Rotary International as outlined by Chairman Everett at the International convention here today. The entire afternoon was devoted to discussing this phase of Rotary activity. Rotarian Frank D. Slutz of Dayton, Ohio, made the chief address of the afternoon; Eddie Guest, the newspaper-poet of Detroit and a very active Rotarian in the city that has made walking a pleasure, was another speaker. Others on the afternoon programme included Dr. Phillippe Hanel of Quebec; Herman C. Pipkin of Amarillo, Texas; William C. Everett of Dallas, Texas, and others. At the beginning of the afternoon a musical programme was presented by the Independence Kansas Boys Band of 100 pieces, organized and supported by the Independence Rotary Club.

During the course of the afternoon and from reports presented at various boys work gatherings incident to the convention many interesting individual efforts on the part of Rotary clubs in the interests of boys were brought out. During the course of these reports it was found that since the beginning of this branch of Rotary activity several years ago the Rotary Club of Okmulgee, Okla., established upon land donated by a Rotarian, a playground, which they named "Rotary Park." In Orange, Texas, Rotarians raised $20,000 for a playground for the children a block of ground being tendered them for use as a permanent playground.

The Greenville, N. C., Rotary Club built a gymnasium and equipped it with $1,200 worth of apparatus. The Rotary Club of Prince Albert, Sask., raised $5,000 for a gymnasium for more than 700 boys of the city.

In Fond du Lac, Wis., the Rotary Club purchased a $7,500 camp site for Boy Scouts.

The Rotary Club of Atlantic City, N. J., purchased and decided to the Boy Scout council for scout use 22 acres of land to be used for a permanent site. A large mess hall was erected and donated to the council by the Rotarians.

Ypsilanti, Michigan, Rotarians built and equipped a boys' camp on the river near there with a fine lodge.

In Jacksonville, Illinois, the Rotary Club built at a cost of $5,000 a camp cottage on land donated by Rotarians. The Rotarians of Fayetteville, Arkansas, furnished a fine football and baseball field at an expense of more than $500.

Buffalo, N. Y., members of the Rotary Club gave over $500,000 for establishing an athletic field known as "Rotary Field."

Parsons, Kan., members of the Rotary club have built and equipped a "Rotary" boys community camp at a cost of $1,500 for the boys of Parsons.

This building is also being used by the farmers for their entertainments and social gatherings.

The Rotarians of Oklahoma City spent $25,000 for a site and equipment for a boys' playground.

In addition to these general activities, Rotary clubs throughout the country have interested themselves in juvenile delinquents and a statement of what some of them have done shows:

Delta, Colo.: Kept six boys from going to the reform school by taking them under their care.

Winnipeg, Man., Canada: Seven boys released from the Juvenile Court were placed in charge of Rotarian officers. The Rotarians attended the sessions of the Juvenile Court and recently had 4 new boys put in charge of Big Brother Rotarians. Have also secured positions for many boys and given them helpful advice.

Sydney, N. S., Canada: Conducted a campaign for a detention home and juvenile court resulting in city taking over the undertaking after a large majority in favor of plebiscite vote.

Toronto, Ont., Canada: Built an Opportunity Outlook which is to be a camp for delinquent boys who would "make good" if given a fair chance. The Rotarians gave generously toward this project, furnishing materials, etc.

Grand Forks, N. C.: Have mapped out a programme for special work with delinquent boys, a joint committee consisting of one Rotarian, one Kiwanian and one Lion, has been appointed for this purpose.

Wichita, Kansas: Made possible, through a guarantee fund, pledged and raised at a club meeting, the purchase and operation of a juvenile farm. The County Commissioners promised to buy the farm when the legislature authorized them to take such action, but to insure the plan going through the club will raise a fund of $25,000. This farm is for usage in the betterment of conditions for delinquent boys.

Perth Amboy, N. J.: The Rotarians are very much interested in the delinquent boy and several have been paroled and put under the care of individual Rotarians.

Evansville, Indiana: Boys Work Committee have fourteen boys assigned to them by the Juvenile Court. These boys are under the supervision of Rotarians and report weekly to them. The Rotarians attend the weekly sessions of the Juvenile Court.

Durham, N. C.: Persuaded the County Commissioners to build a cottage for delinquent boys at the Stone-wall Jackson Training School.

Niagara Falls, N. Y.: Endeavor to have all delinquent boys from Police Court placed by Rotarians.

Sheridan, Wyoming: Investigated a number of boys who were brought before the local court and obtained paroles for two, securing guardians for them and securing employment for them.

McPherson, Kansas: Handled 24 boys in the Juvenile Court and 4 boys outside of Court, provided work for them, etc.

SIR JAMES DEWAR'S ESTATE £129,555

Scientist Desired No Religious Ceremony, Memorial or Separate Biography.

London, May 23.—(By Mail)—Sir James Dewar, M. A., F. R. S., L.L. D., D. Sc. of Albert Street, W., and of Peterhouse, Cambridge, Fullerton, professor of the Royal Institution, Jacksonian professor of chemistry in the University of Cambridge, joint inventor of cordite, but most widely known from his successful efforts to liquefy and solidify air, hydrogen, and the then called "permanent" gases, a former president of the British Association and of the Chemical Society, who died on March 27, aged 80, left estate in his own disposition of the gross value of £129,555, with net personally £128,925.

He stated in his will that being a member of the Cremation Society, he desired his body to be cremated, the funeral arrangements to be of a simple character and kept entirely private and confined to members of his family, and that no religious service should be held at the chapel attached to the crematorium or elsewhere.

He particularly desired that no burials, fellowship, scholarship, or annual lecture, or any other memorial, be founded or connected with his name by public subscription, and that no biography of his life should be published as a separate book.

He left:

To the University of Cambridge, all his scientific apparatus in the chemical laboratory at that university.

To the Royal Institution, all his scientific apparatus there or in the laboratory attached thereto.

A sum in the discretion of his trustees (after consultation with his literary executor, James Douglas Hamilton Dickson) but not exceeding £200, for distribution in the form of cash or gifts amongst those who had assisted him in his scientific works at the Royal Institution since 1900.

£500 free of duty to James Douglas Hamilton Dickson (Fellow of Peterhouse, Cambridge), Hugh Monro Rose, (secretary of the Board of Visitors of the Royal Institution), and Ernest Scott Dickson (lecturer in the physical department of the University of Manchester), with a view to their assisting his wife in the examination or publication of his scientific MSS, lecture books, papers, and correspondence, and he desired his wife in her discretion and with the necessary advice to publish them on similar lines to the work on spectroscopy by Professor Living and himself, lately published by the University Press, the expenses of publication being borne by his estate, and subject thereto he directed that these scientific papers should be kept at the Royal Institution.

SURPRISE FOR COUNSEL.
English Judge Recalls an Experience at Bar.

London, May 19.—(By Mail).—During the hearing of a case yesterday, Mr. Justice Bailhache reminded counsel that the court was bound by what a witness said in evidence and not by what counsel said. "I was once counsel in a case in which fraud was alleged," His Lordship said. "My client in the box was asked: 'Do you still persist in your charge of fraud after the evidence which has been given?' To my amazement and disgust the witness said 'No.' The late Lord Russell of Killowen, who was trying the case, turned to me and said: 'What are you going to do now?' I said, 'Nothing' (Laughter.) Lord Russell turned to the witness and said: 'You have spoken like an English gentleman. There will be judgment against you with costs.' There was nothing more to be said," Mr. Justice Bailhache added, "and we all came away."

J. B. Fitzmaurice, a garage owner, at a meeting of the Bayonne, N. J., City Commission, presented to Director of Public Safety O'Connell a bill for $565 for storage of a dilapidated automobile which the police found abandoned in the city twenty months ago. Fitzmaurice is asking for $1 for every day the automobile has been in his garage.

The automobile, according to Commissioner O'Connell, is not worth more than $25. There is some doubt that the city will pay the bill.

Ends Life In Chase After Car Hold-Up

Robs Trolley Passengers and Flees—Wounded by Policeman, Shoots Himself.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 23—Conrad Winters, 35 years old, of New York, died in General Hospital here, as a result of wounds, self-inflicted, following a gun battle with a policeman, after his successful hold-up of a Fast Line trolley car.

Winters, according to passengers, boarded the car at Woodridge Avenue, near Bay Way, and drawing a revolver ordered Conductor Howard Davenport and thirty passengers to throw up their hands. He ordered Motorman George McDowell to keep the car going. Winters then is alleged to have robbed Frank Marshall, of 240 West Strawberry, a dispatcher for the Public Service Company, each of $7. The other passengers, meanwhile, were too frightened to move.

Winters forced McDowell to stop the car at South Broad Street, where he jumped off and started to board an Alhine trolley going in the opposite direction. The shouts of the passengers of the other car, however, attracted the attention of Policeman William Kroeschel and he started in pursuit of the hold-up man.

Winters, seeing that he was pursued, changed his route and headed for a patch of woods, firing back at the policeman. Kroeschel fired several shots

SMOKE OLD CHUM TOBACCO

In return, one of them striking Winters in the leg.

Winters then put his revolver to his head and fired twice. He fell unconscious. He was taken to the hospital, where his death soon followed.

Winters was identified at the hospital by the police, who said that he was a chauffeur in New York. A chauffeur's card bearing the number 147518, New York, was found in his clothes. The police also found $14.47 in Winters' pockets.

H. H. McLellan, provincial fire marshal left last evening for Petit Rocher and afterwards will motor through to Campbellton, looking into fire hazards along the way. The fire losses in New Brunswick have been greatly increased as a consequence of the forest fires. Mr. McLellan is convinced that some changes in methods of forest protection are a necessity.

On an unmarried man. As this was before the day of railroads in this section, these people traveled by boat up the St. John River and landed on what is known as the Salmon River flat, just below the mouth of the Salmon River. From there, they were taken by teams up over the hill to what was long known as the Old Emigrant House, which was located near the site of the present school house in District No. two, known as the Denmark School. The Emigrant House had been built by the Government for the new comers to live in until they were able to get houses of their own built on the lots of land allotted them. Of the original settlers who arrived in New Denmark on the memorial occasion, only three persons are left—Mrs. Edward Ahlgaard, Mr. Peter Carlsen and Mrs. Sophie Nielson, the two latter being only children when they arrived. The seven unmarried men left shortly after their arrival and soon after, two of the families left. There remained only five families, who then began to hew themselves homes in the primeval forest. From time to time, others arrived but the greater part of those who came became discouraged when they saw the conditions under which they must live and went away. A second party arrived in August, 1872, and a larger party consisting of about twenty families came in 1872. Of the latter, very few remained. What seemed to be the Operation Detailed—Previous Practice Not Necessary, Says Dr. Boucher, to Save Life After Immersion.

(Montreal Gazette.) With the arrival of the summer season and boating, canoeing, swimming and other aquatic amusements which occasionally result in accidents, the need of practical knowledge on how to resuscitate a person who has been drowned is of great importance. Dr. S. Boucher, director of the Health Department, issued yesterday some instructions to the public on that subject as follows: "Persons asphyxiated by submersion are frequently brought back to life, if someone knowing how to practice artificial breathing is nearby. "Anyone reading carefully these instructions will learn easily how to proceed, and should the occasion arise, will be able to perform the necessary work. "Several methods are used to practice artificial respiration, but the simplest one to apply is as effective as any

WANT TRACK AT THE ALLISON PLAYGROUNDS

Association Will Make Request to City Council - Status of Thomas Gosnell is Discussed - To Have Display at Exhibition.

The playgrounds association, at a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, decided to request the Commissioner of Public Works to construct a running track on the Allison grounds at once.

The first matter discussed was the Rockwood playground. The report was made by the committee which had interviewed Commissioner Frink but had not achieved any result.

Mr. Covey said the situation now was that $20,000 had been spent on the grounds and that there was nothing to show for it.

It was decided to supply the west side teachers with weekly street car passes. On motion of Mr. Covey it was decided to hand over the Allison grounds one night a week.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, for 5 p. c. of the contract price, but no cheque to be for less than fifty hundred dollars.

and Thomas Robinson; Alexandra, Miss Kathleen Lundy and William Donohoe; Bentley, Miss Agnes Dever and T. Gosnell. Miss Jean Kelly, assistant and supply, had offered to give sewing lessons to girls' classes.

The teachers had asked that lavatory conveniences be arranged for the Centennial and west side grounds, and that they be allowed access to the Centennial building.

The teachers had been instructed that one of them must be on the grounds and that too much attention should not be given to the indoor work.

Miss Heffer had solicited donations for materials from Manchester Robertson Allison, Limited, and had met with a generous response.

The report was taken up by sections. Mr. Covey brought up Gosnell's status, saying that Gosnell was playing professional ball. He did not think a man should be employed on the playgrounds who had other employment while several other boys were kept on the waiting list.

It was decided to supply the west side teachers with weekly street car passes. On motion of Mr. Covey it was decided to hand over the Allison grounds one night a week.

Many Matters Before Hydro Commission

Yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Civic Power Commission it was announced that work on the erection of the standard for the monumental street lighting system would be commenced on Monday morning.

The Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., contractors for the outdoor switching equipment, had advised that shipment had been made of the bulk of the material and erection would be begun on its arrival.

The action of the Common Council in turning down a recommendation of the commission regarding the purchase of poles from Lindsay Bros., Montreal, and calling for tenders, occasioned some criticism by the commission members.

The following recommendations of the engineer were adopted and authority for expenditure was given to the City Council.

The action of the engineer in purchasing a portable graphic recording meter, two universal transformers, and one portable voltmeter, was approved.

MOTORS
And Their Care

Importance of Grinding Valves.
It is not good policy to see how long the valves will hold compression without grinding. They should be attended to at least every 2,000 miles, whether the compression is leaking or not. Especially is this true with the exhaust valves. If they are neglected too long, they become deeply pitted, and then it is a long job to grind them into good condition again. In fact, if neglected too long, it may be necessary to install new valves.

Concerning Air-Pressure Systems.
Gasoline pressure systems give very little trouble, but there are two places which must be constantly watched. The filling cap and the check valve on the pump. Always see that the filling cap is screwed down extra tight, and watch the pressure gauge to see if the check valve is leaking air. If it is, a few squirts of gasoline may be all that is necessary to clear it out.

Radiator Efficiency.
Mud and dirt which become clogged in the cells of a radiator not only prevent the air from passing through, but also stop the heat from radiating, thus cutting down the capacity. A difficult case or overheating is sometimes found to be due to mud and dirt alone.

Keep This Pipe Clean.
The small pipe inside the radiator, with an opening near the filler cap, is the overflow pipe. It is placed there to allow excess water to escape when the radiator becomes too full, due to expansion of the water when it gets hot.

Watch the Overcharged Battery.
This is the open season for battery troubles. With darkness falling at a later hour these evenings, the necessity for burning headlights is cut down, and danger of overcharging is increased.

A Battery Test.
An emergency test of a battery can be made by use of a piler or a single wire across the terminal and across the posts. The condition of the battery is indicated by a weak or strong flash.

An Economy Tip.
Oil bought by the quart is much more expensive than the same commodity purchased by five or ten gallon lots, or even a barrel. Oil can be kept indefinitely without deterioration or loss through evaporation.

HORSE MEN!
Minard's should be in every stable. Quickly heals Cuts and Bruises and removes Swellings.

27 world-wide tests establish proof of Studebaker Light-Six economy

The fuel economy of the Studebaker Light-Six has been positively proved by 27 world-wide tests, which established an average of 26.9 miles to the gallon of gasoline. Light-Six consumption of gasoline and oil is low. Tire mileage runs high. And its low repair cost will be attested to by Studebaker's limited volume of repair parts sales, which in 1922, averaged only $13 per car for all Studebaker automobiles in operation.

line is considered while manœuvring in congested streets as when running along straight on free roads.

Be sure batteries, especially dry cells, are where they cannot get wet, as the pasteboard may absorb moisture and short circuit the cells.

Loose terminals corrode quickly. They also cause fuses to burn out, dim lights, etc.

When descending a hill, close the throttle. This is not only safer, but will save gasoline.

A coil that is adjusted for the largest spark will result in a useless waste of current.

Electrical apparatus of a car can be given too much or too little coil. Either will cause bad results.

Dirty spark plugs cause irregular firing.

Always carry on extra fan belt in the tool box for an emergency.

Never test a storage battery with an ammeter, always use a voltmeter.

To facilitate gear shifting, squirt a little oil on the clutch thrust bearing.

BAVARIA MORE FRIENDLY
Restrictions on Foreign Tourists Less Onerous

Munich, May 22.—(By Mail).—New regulations governing the admission of foreign tourists to Bavaria have been issued by the Ministry of the Interior, and are to come into force immediately.

On inclusive permit for the whole of Bavaria can now be obtained and it is no longer necessary for the traveller to report personally to the police authorities when, for instance, he arrives in Nuremberg from Munich. The cost of the permit will vary according to the nationality of the tourist; for British and Americans it will be approximately 10s or 12s and a half dollars, respectively, for the average stay. The lodging tax has also been considerably reduced. Prices in Bavaria are undoubtedly lower than in most other parts of Germany, and if the police have been instructed to interfere as little as possible with foreign visitors there seems to be no reason why Bavaria should not maintain its reputation as a popular tourist resort.

GERMAN DIVORCE RECORD STOPS
London, June 5.—(By Mail).—The number of divorces in Germany is decreasing, after having reached a record figure, says the Berlin correspondent of The Westminster Gazette.

Before 1914 there were about 18,000 divorces every year. In 1920 they amounted to 60,000—nearly one-fifth of all the cases dealt with in the law courts. In 1921 the number was about 46,000 and last year it fell to 33,773.

Does your battery leave you alone?

A battery can leave you alone in two ways. It can leave you stranded on the road because it will not crank your car, and it can leave you alone the way a good battery does, by not bothering you.

The better a battery is, the less you think about it. An Exide does its appointed tasks with such eager certainty that you soon come to take unfeeling service for granted.

The work a battery has to do is real work and calls for a real battery. There is no saving in buying a "bargain" battery, for it means not merely aggravating inefficiency in starting and lighting your car, but also frequent repair bills and short battery life.

The Exide assures you maximum comfort in motoring and it outlasts ordinary batteries to such an extent that it is a real economy. Promise yourself that your next battery will be an Exide.

A POLICEMAN INDICTED FOR FATAL CLUBBING

Accused of Manslaughter, a New York Official is Out on $5,000 Bail.

London, May 23.—(By Mail).—After a struggle in the dark and a chase, in which a fugitive and a policeman jumped twenty feet from a window, four men, alleged to be burglars, were caught at St. Paul's School, Hammer-smith, West, says "The London Daily Mail."

The man, who fell from the window, is lying under police guard at the Fulham Infirmary, St. Dunstan's road, West. Two policemen injured their hands in the struggle.

At about 11.30 p. m. on Saturday, Mr. Ruthven, the resident engineer at the school, heard voices in a passage. He locked a door in a passage leading from his house to the spot and went in search of police assistance. He found two policemen, who went to the school, and three others, hearing the news, rushed there on the foot-board of a taxicab.

Two policemen went to the basement, where they saw a light burning through a glass door, one pane of which had been removed. There were four men inside.

As the policemen approached the light was turned out. The police then rushed inside and grappled with the four men.

For some time the six men fought in the dark. Then three of the men rushed up the stairway pursued by the other policemen who had hurried to the scene, while a fourth man was held by a policeman.

One of the pursued men turned into a corridor, broke a thick plate-glass window with his hand and jumped out into the dark.

He fell twenty feet into an area. The policeman, P. C. Greatham climbed through the window, badly cutting a hand on the jagged glass, and dropped to the ground without hurting himself.

The other two men were caught on the premises and in company with the man held in the basement were taken to Hammersmith police station.

A TREATISE on the HORSE—FREE!

This book is one of the best ever written for the horseman and the farmer. It is plain, everyday, untechnical English. It deals with every aspect that horseman is likely to meet in his work. It tells how to choose a horse, how to break, train, and show, how to feed and shoe, how to handle a horse, but all you have to do is ask your druggist for it. It is absolutely free. Here is one opinion:

Source Reference, U.S., Jan. 10, 1922.

"Please send me by mail your GREAT book on horse training and medicine of your horse. Have been using your Kendall's Sports Treatise for years and think it is a great treatise." FERRY COXWELL.

You save in first cost and in operating expense if you install dependable Champions by the full set. Champion is a better spark plug, but because of its tremendous production, the price is only 75 cents for Champion X and 85 cents for the Blue Box Line.

Champion is outselling because it deserves to out-sell. Six out of every 10 cars you meet on the road are Champion equipped. More than two-thirds of the makes of cars selling for $2000 and upwards have Champions in their cylinders—including the fine European cars Minerva, Peugeot and Lorraine Dietrich.

The owner of a Rolls-Royce, Locomobile, Pierce-Arrow, Lincoln, Peerless, Winton, Cunningham, Wills Sainte Claire, Franklin or an H. C. S., pays but 85 cents for his dependable Champions. Why should the owner of a McLaughlin, Chevrolet, Oakland, Dodge Brothers or Maxwell pay more for his spark plugs?

So put in Champions by the full set. You will be one of the great majority of motorists if you do this. You save in initial expense. You save in gas and oil consumption. Your engine will perform better. Power and pick-up will improve.

A great game was played in Fredericton last evening between the home team and St. Peter's and was done by the former by a score of 3 to 2. The witnessed by one of the largest crowds

St. Peter's was a feature of the early stages of the game both pitchers were hit hard, but from that on they tight-

"WETS" SCORE IN MANITOBA VOTE
Government Sale of Liquor as Beverage Approved by 25,000 Majority—Prohibition Workers Disappointed

By a tremendous majority the Province of Manitoba yesterday voted to forsake the dry column and swing over to the wet. In Winnipeg city the wet majority was more than 25,000 in a total vote of 66,000. This means that the proposals of the Moderation

League have been adopted providing for the appointment by the Government of a commission of three members to administer the sale of liquors for consumption as a beverage in the permanent or temporary residences of permit-holders who may be residents of the province or guests. Breweries will be permitted to deliver direct. Prohibition workers expressed surprise and disappointment at the result. The Legislature will meet in July and enact a bill giving force to the expression of the electors.

Quebec Forest Fire
SITUATION LESS CRITICAL Quebec, June 23.—Heavy rains have considerably contributed towards extinguishing the more recent forest fire outbreaks and in many other districts brush fires have been entirely extinguished.
Although there is a general improvement in the situation there have been several new fires in some of the counties in the province.

Blister Prevents
Gibbons Sparring
Sore Lip Compels Challenger to Limit Training Work to Other Exercises.

Shelby, Mont., June 23.—An incident blister on Tommy Gibbons' lip caused Manager Kane to call off the boxing programme in the challenger's camp for a day. Instead of the customary boxing, Gibbons tugged and wrestled with Jimmy Delaney and his other partners for two rounds, doubled the time of his calisthenics and then called it an afternoon. In the morning he covered ten miles on the still muddy roads, and finished with rope skipping and work on the stationary and swinging punching bags.

Gibbons doesn't need much work just now, however. As a matter of fact, Kane is much more afraid that Gibbons will go stale before his big chance comes on July 4 than he is that Tommy will not train down fine enough, and the wily manager welcomes every chance to keep his charge from doing too much work.
George Manley, light heavyweight from Denver, has joined the camp and was ready to go on with Gibbons, had the latter done any boxing. Manley is a tall, rangy fellow and looks as if he might make Gibbons an excellent sparring partner.

Must Observe Taps.
Kane put a ten o'clock bedtime rule into effect at the camp. During the last week some of Gibbons' assistants have been doing most of their road work on the floors of the local dance halls, and in the morning there was no one up in time to go on the road with Gibbons.
Several of the men have bouts of their own here on July 3 and 4, and Kane will insist both for their own good and for Gibbons', that they must remain in strict training from now until the big battle is over.

Even in his abbreviated workout in the afternoon Gibbons showed the same speed of hand and foot that has featured his exhibitions ever since he debuted with Jimmy Delaney and he began training. As has been said before, Dempsey is likely to find difficulty in hitting Gibbons. The challenger is working with boxers who are as fast as the champion, and in nine days of boxing not one of them has been able to reach him with a solid blow. They have hit him, but they have never hit him hard. Dempsey is not a slow hitter, but neither of his hands travels as fast as that flickering left of Jimmy Delaney's, and the St. Paul heavyweight admits that he hasn't been able to land a telling blow on Gibbons yet.
Tommy has developed a co-ordi-
