TEN PAGES—ONE CENT

PLAYGROUNDS AT PORTSMOUTH, N.H., AT SMALL COST

How Small Town Has Done Good Work For Children

CITY ENGINEER PLANS

Taken up as Public Work and Assisted by Citizens Committee—Baseball League With Eight Teams—Fine Equipment

If the citizens of St. John could have an opportunity of seeing the public playgrounds of Portsmouth, N. H., they would not be content until something had been done in that direction. The people are unanimous in their desire to have such facilities.

There is behind the business part of the town a large area upon which nothing has been built, although the town has grown rapidly during the last few years. Less than two years ago the city engineer, J. E. Parker, was sent to convert this area into a playground. Work material has been laid in the surface, and a ball and roller. In one corner a baseball diamond was laid out. A running track was also provided. At one side a park bench was placed on the edge of the level field and there are fine trees in the park, affording a shade on very hot days. Some of the playground apparatus has been loaned them.

There was absolutely nothing when Engineer Parker began operations, but today there are a good baseball diamond, two tennis courts, an open-air stadium, two sand courts, two basketball courts, a volleyball outfit, swings, teeters and slides, and a supervisor and two teachers.

This year a baseball diamond, ball-diamond, and tennis courts were organized with no less than eight teams. The league plays four games per week, beginning at six o'clock in the evening. Night before last there were more than a thousand people watching the game, and the St. John man who saw it was told that their team had been invited to play hundreds of four nights per week. The game is free, although a collection is taken up. The league has already raised $1,000 and paid for bleachers to seat a thousand people. The receipts are for the benefit of the general playground. Each member of the team must be a member of the organization under whose aegis it is, and the expenses of the team are paid. It will be seen that with eight teams there are nearly one hundred actual ball players.

HAPPY TIME SPENT AT LOCH LOMOND

Following Choice Entertainment at Home of Mrs. E. B. Johnstone, Presentations Are Made to Miss Johnstone in View of Approaching Event

At the home of Mrs. E. B. Johnstone, Upper Loch Lomond, last evening, the summer boarders and some of their guests for the evening from nearby homes and towns, and many others, made a gay and happy gathering in the one cold winter's eve.

During the visit of the assemblage was a mineral show arranged by Joseph N. Shafter, managing editor of the Boston Financial News, who from his experiences of years before the footlights moulded his mind to the stage. The show was a most amusing performance, with black face specialties, local hits, topical songs and several good solos. Those taking part were Mr. Shafter, Miss Annie Tracy, Miss Debora, Miss Mabel, Miss Edith Brayden, Miss Eleanor McGrath, Ed. Cronin, Ed. Coll, Chip Olive and George McCallum. The audience, which was a musical director and conducted greatly to the success of the performance. It was given in one of the large dining rooms which was filled by performers and spectators, while the boarders were commanding a view through the open windows also occupied.

The musical show lasted an hour and at its conclusion, Mr. McGrath presented to Miss Elizabeth Johnstone, who is to be a principal in a happy event in the near future, a very fine set of silver spoons from the most expensive and a well-known maker of fifty handsome gifts from the ladies who are spending summer weeks at Mrs. Johnstone's. The show was arranged in a private deacon basket brought along by Misses Francis Ryan and Dorothy McDonald, and were presented amid the cheers of all. For Miss Johnstone, George McCafferty expressed her appreciation of and thanks for the presentation.

Then came bounteous refreshments and an hour of dancing brought a happy time to a close.

NUDE BODY FOUND FLOATING IN SEA OFF NOVA SCOTIA COAST

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 4.—The nude body of a middle aged man was picked up on the shore 25 miles south of Sheet Harbor, N. S., July 23, the report being made yesterday by Capt. Griffin of the fishing vessel he had been on Thursday from the grand banks.

The remains appeared to be those of a business man, and bore marks of violence. The body was buried at Sheet Harbor. The body was found in the course of Halifax steamer. Apparently the body had been in the water but a very short time.

FIERCE ATTACK ON EMPEROR WILLIAM

New View of Kaiser's Character Presented by Bellicose Press of Germany—Called The "Valorous Poltroon" and The "Timid"—Settlement of Moroccan Dispute Expected to Raise Storm in Certain Quarters

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The prospects of a speedy settlement of the Moroccan question between Germany and France are welcome on every hand, but the terms of the agreement, when they become known, probably will cause considerable dissatisfaction in various quarters in both Germany and France.

The negotiations between M. Cambon, the French ambassador, and Foreign Minister Kapp, the German, have been most difficult, and the French people prefer yet are not quite so optimistic as are the Germans as to the final outcome.

It is necessary to bear in mind, however, that the Emperor is a man of great energy.

It is also evident that the Emperor is more inclined to a warlike attitude than he was when he first became Emperor.

Major Von Kiderlin Wachter is thoroughly wearied of the whole incident, especially of his own personal difficulties, and the French diplomats are prepared for the outbreak of a storm of indignation among partisans on both sides of the frontier.

The French press, however, already

Don't Let Corns Torment You

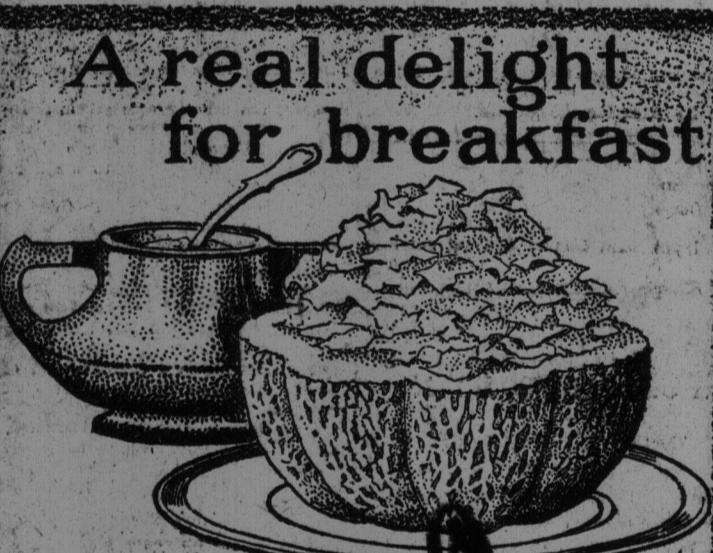

Corns are terribly needless. You can end the pain instantly. You can loosen the corn without even seeing it. In two days the corn comes out.

This is done with a little plaster, which contains a bit of B & B wax. It is applied in a jiffy. No pain, no soreness, no discomfort. You simply forget the corn. In two days take the plaster off, and the corn comes out. That is all there is to it.

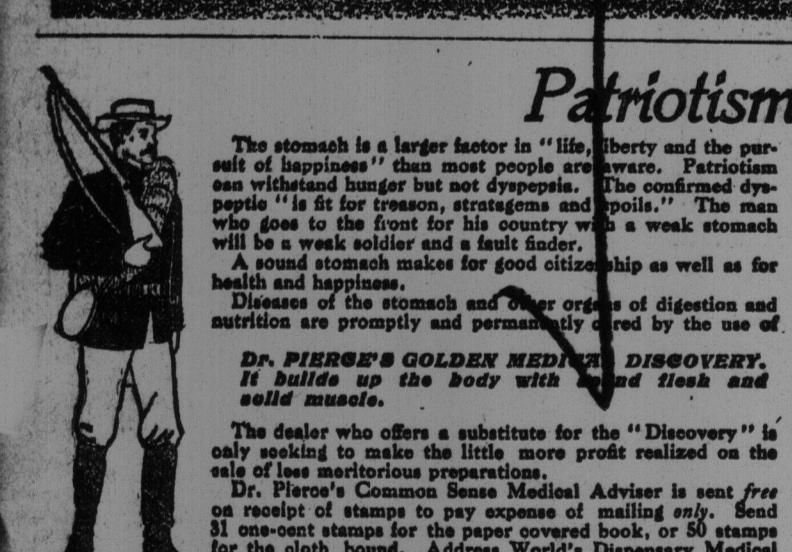

The Blue-jay plaster thus removes the common corns per year. Let it remove yours too. Get the package. Don't wait and suffer. End them now.

In the picture is the soft B & wax, which loosens the corn. A wrap around the toe. It is narrow to be comfortable. D is rubber adhesive to fasten the plaster on.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Sell
Bretby Hall Recalls Grim Tragedy of Ye Olden
Tyme — New Baronet Gained Royal Favor by Princely Gift

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company.)

Lord Carolean's unsuccessful attempt to sell Bretby Hall in 1660, before the Duke of the Stanhope Earl of Chesterfield, serves to recall the fact that it was at Bretby Hall that the tragedy that has served to inspire poets, playwrights and novelists for centuries had its connection with the death of the lovely wife of the second Earl of Chesterfield. She was Lady Elizabeth Butler, daughter of James, 1st Earl of Ormonde, who was one of the most brilliant wits of the court of Charles II, as well as one of the most blameworthy.

Yet her marriage to Philip Stanhope, second Earl of Chesterfield, furnished her many extra plaudits, and she had cause to regard her marriage vows but lightly, since he was perhaps the most cynical but at the same time disengaged of all the courtiers of the period.

Her mother, however, was a strict Puritan.

Concealing his anger, he induced his wife to accompany him from London, to his ancient home at Bretby Hall. On arriving there he discovered that his wife was guilty of unfaithfulness, and declared that he proposed to keep her at Bretby Hall as a prisoner, for the remainder of her life. She promised to do so, whereupon he had it firmly declared that he would believe her if she would pledge to him her innocence

while taking the Sacraments. She succeeded in getting the Communion bread in the Chapel at Bretby Hall had been brought to a close, within a few minutes after having partaken of the same.

Bretby Hall stands in a large and beautiful park, an area of some 6,000 acres, with a chain of ornamental lakes, and some glorious old trees, including one of which there are authentic and ancient records to show.

It is believed to be the oldest tree in the United Kingdom, and the oldest tree in Europe, and is said to be the object of a long siege on the part of the Parliamentarians, being held by the first Earl of Chesterfield for King Charles I.

Ultimate victory, however, did not come until after the death of his wife, made his escape through the lines of the besiegers, in order to join the King, and he died in battle with the enemy.

His officers and the besieging force were so much moved by the gallantry of the besieged, and by the heroism which the general understanding of the leader had inspired, that they gave him a full salute, and then buried him with honors.

The sixth Earl rebuilt it as far as possible on its former lines. It was in the reign of King James II.

In the reign of Charles II, and James II, his son, he was created Earl of Chatsworth, the country seat of the Dukes of Devonshire, but was made of the house of France, and consequently the hall was

ST. JOHN AND RECIPROCITY

How will reciprocity benefit the city of St. John?

Speaking generally, whatever benefits the provinces at large will benefit this city. If the industries of farming, lumbering, and fishing receive an impetus, and production is increased, with a larger free market, the city will share in the benefits of greater prosperity and growth in the province. There is not the slightest doubt that these three industries will derive great benefit from the larger free market. The farmer will raise larger crops because he will have a wider market. The lumberman will profit by free entry or lower duties on by-products of his mills. The fisherman will be encouraged to enlarge his operations.

St. John will derive benefit from an increased trade through the port, as well as from the greater purchasing power of the time consumed. There will be no doubt that the revival of the coasting trade, which would benefit this port very materially. The increased population would benefit some important interests. Every industry would be encouraged by the greater general activity following the adoption of the new trade agreement.

Put the question another way. Can reciprocity injure St. John? Everybody knows that it can do no injury. The citizens will not be subjected to any competition that would injuriously affect local interests. No intelligent person even pretends that such would be the case. The talk about a possible loss of winter port trade is utterly ridiculous, for the simple reason that this trade could go in bond through United States ports under present conditions. Not only does it do so, but American produce can be sent to St. John for export. Canada has the short route, and however much the north and south trade may grow the east and west trade will also steadily increase. The Canadian railways will not be running empty cars, but under reciprocity, there will be more trade all directions. St. John is the chief city of New Brunswick. What is good for the province generally must be good for St. John.

THE HAZEN WELCOME

The spontaneous welcome extended to Premier Hazen must have been very gratifying to the boys who distributed dodos around the city urging the election of the Liberal candidate over the band and the band and the premier. All of Mr. Hazen's fellow-citizens are glad to know that he was cordially received and bore himself with dignity at the coronation. The gentlemen who are so earnestly endeavoring in this city to save the Empire tried to make the provincial premier's return the occasion of a popular demonstration last evening. They did it not to honor Mr. Hazen, but for political effect in the federal campaign. Mr. Hazen, however, remembering the result of his interference in the last federal fight, may hesitate before plunging into this one, especially as his colleague, Hon. John Morrisey, only concedes one county to the Conservatives in the whole province of New Brunswick. Moreover, last night's press conference failed to realize this.

For genuine enthusiasm, the indifferent observer should await the visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to St. John. There will be no mistaking the quality of that visit, or the real feelings of the St. John people.

The outlook for a better West Indian steamship service appears to be improving.

Sir Frederick Borden will again contest Kings County, N. S. His election is a foregone conclusion.

The Conservatives are having trouble in securing candidates in this province. The Liberals are more fortunate.

Whether the British journalists make a long or a short stay in New Brunswick, they will see the province at its best, and cannot fail to be favorably impressed.

It is announced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will speak in St. John on Aug. 28th. That will be the occasion of the most enthusiastic political demonstration this city has ever witnessed. The man who has been so bitterly maligned by some of his Conservative and Nationalist enemies will receive the assurance that the people of

RAGING HEADACHE STOPPED AT ONCE

When He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

"Shanly, Ont., Sept. 23rd, 1910. You have probably heard of the greatest Headache Cure in the world before "Fruit-a-tives" came before the public. I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders.

One day my mother called on me when I had one of my raging headaches, and had my head almost raw from external applications.

I asked her if any person coming into the store (much less a commercial traveler) and I told him very curtly that I had a headache, but he insisted on my trying "Fruit-a-tives."

St. John appreciate his splendid service for Canada and the empire.

The Canadian Club has been fortunate in securing the attendance next Tuesday at a club luncheon of Mr. Charles J. Bonaparte, a distinguished citizen and attorney general of the United States.

The Standard says the Nible is a timid cruiser. The Standard's Quebec allies have quite a different opinion. They regard it as a crime against Canada to have naval vessels of any sort.

It will be most unfortunate if arrangements are not made for the widening of Mill street. The traffic there will increase, and provision should be made for it.

Senator King says the farmers of the west will convince Mr. Borden that they want reciprocity, and want it for this year's crops. The farmers of the east will do the same.

The Liberal convention in the Queen's Rink next Thursday evening will be the formal opening of the campaign in this constituency. By that time the Standard will be refusing advertisements, because the ad. type will all be needed to give proper expression to its feelings.

The Standard has the Liberals so thoroughly beaten and used up already that it should be able to retire from the job after another week and wait for the results of the vote on Sept. 21st. After that event, its retirement may be permanent.

Mr. Archibald, whose statements in the Maritime Merchant are quoted in this issue of the Times, believes the greatest development in this province in the next few years will be in fruit-culture. He finds that the Bay of Fundy region has exceptional advantages for orchard growth.

Citizens of the United States, even those who favor reciprocity, believe that Canada has rather the best of the bargain. And they believe this in spite of all that the Tory papers in Canada have to say about the impending ruin of this country.

Premier Hazen has returned from the green lanes and hedgerows of England to a world of trouble. None will envy him the pleasant respite he has had from the buzzing flies in the local Tory camp, who have scented his coming from afar, and now meet him again at every turn.

The Standard says in large type that "the Queens-Sunbury election is not to be won this year on a bag of peanuts and a pint of lemonade." Does the Standard mean to insinuate or suggest that the people of Queens-Sunbury were once conquered by a bag of peanuts and a pint of lemonade?

The Standard says in large type that "the Queens-Sunbury election is not to be won this year on a bag of peanuts and a pint of lemonade." Does the Standard mean to accept a judgment. It will be succeeded by Hon. Mr. Lemieux, who has been one of the ablest administrators Canada has ever had in the post office department. Mr. Lemieux has had experience as an active member of the cabinet, and will have no difficulty in mastering the work of the marine department. Dr. Boland, who will become postmaster general, is a popular and able member of the Commons.

An exchange says—"The Liberals are going into the campaign united. They are determined that the trade agreement shall be given a fair trial. If it is to be advantageous, so much the better; if it is dangerous it can be changed within a few months. That is the difference between the present agreement and that which was offered to the United States for over eighteen years by the Conservatives and for many of those years under the financial leadership of Hon. G. E. Foster."

In today's Times will be found some account of supervised playgrounds in other cities, which make St. John's two little school yards appear to be very insignificant attempts at providing the children with an opportunity for healthy play.

The trouble in St. John is that influential citizens who could lead a successful campaign for playgrounds are quite indifferent. How long before they realize that a "better St. John" means a St. John with playgrounds, and that the cost would not be great enough to deter the people from aiding in the work of providing the ground.

You Can't Leave the Beard Behind
So Don't Forget the Gillette

The hearty open-air vacation life seems to makes the beard grow as it never grows at home. To the man without a GILLETTE it becomes a downright nuisance. Cleanliness, comfort and self-respect demand the morning shave, trains, summer resorts and camps provide scant shaving facilities. That never worries the man with a GILLETTE Safety Razor in his grip or his pocket. In lurching cabin or swaying Pullman—on the back porch or beside a convenient stump—wherever the morning comes—he can enjoy his regular three-minute GILLETTE shave in solid comfort, with a lordly independence of place or circumstance.

Pack your grip with discrimination. Travel light. Leave out the "unnecessaries" of life. But whatever you do, don't discount your holiday by starting out without "The Razor of To-day."

Standard Sets $5.00. Pocket Editions $5.00 to $6.00.
Combination Sets from $6.50 up.

MORNING LOCALS

Owing to the representations of W. E. Anderson, secretary of the board of trade, the plans of the British Journalists have been changed so as to include St. John in the tour of the Canadian Press. A party of nine and ten representing the very oldest of the staff editors of the old country will be entertained in this city by August 17. The tour was originally arranged by Mr. Bonaparte, head of the Dominion immigration service in the British Isles.

Hon. Charles U. Smith, ex-censor-general, will speak at the Canadian Club on Tuesday next, August 8. The meeting will be held in Keith's assembly room, where a light luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock. Mr. Bonaparte is a man of more than national reputation and his visit to St. John will be looked forward to with great interest. His inter-

Cabinet Changes

Made Next Week

Hon. Rondolphe Lemire Will Take Place of Hon. L. P. Brodeur, While Dr. Beland is New Postmaster General—Fiscal Statement

Ottawa, Aug. 4.—The cabinet change foreshadowed some time ago in connection with the resignation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier minister of marine and fisheries and of naval affairs, to take the position in the supreme court bench rendered vacant by the death of Justice Girouard, will take place next week.

Hon. M. Beland is now winding up pending matters of departmental administration in connection with his portfolio, and will assume the official shape for his successor, Hon. Rondolphe Lemire, the present postmaster-general.

Dr. Beland, the young, able and popular member for Beausejour, will enter the cabinet as minister of marine and fisheries and will be sworn in within a few days at Murray Bay (Que.), where Grey now is.

The new minister will address meetings both in Ontario and Quebec during the coming week.

Hon. M. Lemire will go to Simcoe with Sir Wilfrid for the premier's opening speech of the session on August 18. The new ministers to accompany Sir Wilfrid to Simcoe will be Hon. Geo. P. Graham and Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King.

The cabinet council today succeeded in clearing up most of the arrears of departmental business and until after the elections it is not likely there will be any more formal meetings of the cabinet. Most of the ministers, however, either this week or next for their respective districts to plunge at once into active organizing and campaigning work. Hon. Mr. King left for Berlin Sunday, and Hon. Mr. Templeman, Victoria.

Hon. Dr. Puglisi goes to St. John tomorrow and Hon. Frank Oliver will leave for Fredericton Monday morning. Hon. Frederick Borden, who will again contest Kings, Nova Scotia, goes to Quebec tomorrow to meet Lady Borden, who is returning from England in company with her son-in-law, Capt. Leo McCrae. The latter is convalescent from the serious injuries sustained through being thrown from his horse in London during the coronation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will spend tomorrow in Montreal in consultation with party leaders in Quebec relative to organization of the election campaign and plans of campaign. He will return to the capital at night and spend next week here.

Frank McKenna, of Fairville, claims that he was held up on the Marsh Road last night and robbed of $28. He also got his face badly cut in the attack and had to go to the hospital for treatment. The police are working on the case.

A special meeting of the Board of Works was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the proposed widening of Mill street, and the chairman and Aldermen J. B. Jones and Kierstead were appointed a committee to look further into the affair.

While coming down a short flight of stairs in his home yesterday afternoon, E. L. Jewett missed his footing and fell. He struck his head, wounding himself so badly that he was attended to by Dr. Bentay and Dr. Emery. Other than some bruises and a severe shaking up, he was not seriously injured.

George Landry, of Moncton, passed through St. John Thursday en route to the Canadian west, where he will spend some months.

HOW TO SECURE BEAUTY

N. H., AT SMALL COST

In addition to what the Sunbeam League is doing, a Citizens' Committee has been formed to look along the playgrounds. They are not building, but have almost settled a very handsome pavilion. It has wide verandas on three sides, and in the rear a large entrance.

Providence has made it possible for even men and women to have a hair, but demands that they be cultivated and cared for. Neglect your hair and it becomes thin and lifeless. It then commences to fall out and just at the time you would be looking your best, it is all gone.

A woman's hair, set how often we see women who are otherwise very beautiful, carried off by the ravages of time.

Hair must have proper nourishment or die. Parisian girls are a picture to see, but are usually ignorant of what men can do who will refund your money if it fails to cure dandruff, stop itching of scalp, hair falling out and promote a thick and luxuriant growth. All drugs and tonics are largely bottles of the Gironix Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont.

Also sold and guaranteed in Fairville by Allen's Fairville Drug Co.

It will be interesting to note the names of the teams in the Sunbeam League of the town.

They are as follows:—Portsmouth Athletic Club, Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A., the Elks, The Morley Button Co., The Gironix Mfg. Co., The Elks Lodge, The Drill Co., The Steam Engineers, (from the navy yard), Howard, physical engineer, (from the Y. M. C. A.).

The changes of life is the most critical period of a woman's existence.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so easily remove the wrinkles through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like a special advice about your health write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Is Your Baby Doing Well?

Do you dread the summer? Are you afraid that baby can't stand the heat and sudden changes of temperature? Cow's milk is a danger.

NEAVE'S MILK FOOD (Starchless)

is the perfect diet for the youngest and most delicate baby. It agrees with babies who are wasting away on mother's milk. It is readily digested when cow's milk cannot be retained. And it is always the same—always the safe, tested, perfectly balanced food for babies from birth. Put your baby on Neave's Milk Food if you want to bring the little one safely through the first summer.

SPRUCE BUDWORM IS INJURING THE FOREST

Considerable measures sand even alarm has been felt by lumbermen and others interested in forest products over the possible predations in different parts of Canada, of the spruce budworm. (Tortrix fumiferana). It was found that the spruce moth suffered a great increase in numbers in 1909, which was killed by the larch sawfly about twenty-five years ago. As a result, however, the Division of Entomology of the Dominion Department of Agriculture during 1909 and still in progress, the situation appears to be much more serious and threatening than was at first considered possible.

The destructive work of the budworm was first reported two years ago from Vancouver Island, while the Douglas fir was attacked and from Quebec, where the spruce and the balsam suffered chiefly. In the case of Quebec, the pests were at first confined to the west central portion of the province, but have now spread on the east of the St. Lawrence and are still in progress, the situation appearing to be much more extensive than was at first considered possible.

While in the caterpillar stage these insects destroy the buds of the spruce and balsam, especially at the tops of the trees. They also bite the leading twigs, causing the loss of the extremities of the caterpillars, cause the tops of the trees to assume a reddish brown appearance. When a large area is attacked it appears as if it had been burnt by fire.

As such plagues of air insects can only be controlled by natural means, the Dominion Lumbermen's Association of the Intercolonial districts for the purpose of discovering a natural remedy that would meet the situation. Various insect enemies or parasites were found, that pray upon the caterpillars, and these were used to destroy the pest. As the percents of important parasites, especially of the minute species which attack the eggs of the balsam and spruce, are small, there is almost no reason for hoping for the extirpation of the latter. Judging by previous experiments, studies of this nature, it is to be expected that the caterpillars will be satisfied with the natural parasites in the course of a year or two, that is, before it has inflicted any serious damage to the spruce and balsam by fire.

Mr. Pankhurst, who presided in the Albert Hall, said that the insignificant band of women which had taken very active steps in the movement, only a few years ago had now become a mighty and an irresistible force, which was bound to win. HEARD IN A PULLMAN ABOUT RECIPROCITY.—American Business Men Say Benefit Will be All For Canadians—Nova Scotian Agrees Pact Will Help His Province

In the smoker of a pullman coming up from Boston yesterday, two gentlemen from America, One of them a member of a coal mine in Nova Scotia. Another was a merchant, who has an interest in financial affairs. The third was a Nova Scotian, who returned home after an absence of quite a number of years.

One of the American gentlemen mentioned reciprocity. Said the other:

"I think the Canadians have all the benefit of reciprocity."

Said the other, "I agree with you."

Then they spoke of the conditions down here, and who is interested in reciprocity.

Mr. Spencer said, "Nova Scotia would witness a very rapid progress during the next twenty years. He and his friends agreed that reciprocity would be of great benefit in helping to develop these provinces."

"What is the matter with your people here?"

One of them asked of the Nova Scotian.

"Well," said the latter, "Nova Scotia has great resources, but capital has been lacking for their development; and a central fact is that if Nova Scotia would put up a proposition, the chances are it will not be received with favor by other Nova Scotians. Our people seem to lack confidence in themselves and to lack confidence in themselves are not good for business."

Then one of the American gentlemen told this story:

I know an old Nova Scotia farmer, with whom I stayed at different times, and became very well acquainted. He had one thousand acres of land, with a good house and barn on it, and was in comfortable shape. Of course, much of his land was covered with timber. I said to him once that he must feel very comfortable, and that he had perhaps a good deal more ready money than he had."

"Well," he said, "I don't know, I have a mortgage of seven hundred and fifty dollars on this property." He said, "Well, could get it at any bank." He said, "Well, he had never thought of doing that; and so I told him, 'Well, you could get it at any bank, and it would be a great help to you; and it would be a great help to me.' I asked him why he did not sell enough of his land to pay that mortgage. He said he would rather hold the land, and that he had a good deal more ready money than he had."

Then he cut or sold enough timber to wipe out the mortgage. He said he did cut some timber every year.

"Well," he said, "I suppose you didn't get it at any bank?" He said, "Yes, I could get it at any bank."

"Well, he had thought of doing that; and so I told him, 'Well, you could get it at any bank, and it would be a great help to you; and it would be a great help to me.'

He said, "Well, I have never thought of doing that; and so I told him, 'Well, you could get it at any bank, and it would be a great help to you; and it would be a great help to me.'
