During the Hudson-Fulton celebration a number of British war vessels visited New York. The powerful and well equipped craft gave the Americans something to think about. It was a revelation to them of the power of the British navy. This is what the New York Post said of the squadron:--The British vessels are splendid specimens of naval architecture. Indeed, powerful as are some of our own craft, not one of them is the equal of the Inflexible. The Inflexible represents the latest theories of naval science, carried a battery of eight 12-inch guns, and possesses a speed said to be in excess of the Mauretania. In other words, the Inflexible, with battery of eight 12-inch guns, is twice as powerful as the two American battle ships, the Oregon and the Albatross. The Inflexible, with her rapid guns, could pepper a battleship with shells, and then nothing the tiny Albatross could do.

CANADA

Way to Avert War

His Excellency, like many other wise men, may be convinced that to be prepared for war is the best way to avert war.--Hamilton Herald.

Our Biggest Landlord

The land owned by the C. P. R. in the western provinces is equal in area to Holland and Belgium combined. Do you wonder that it is a haughty corporation?--Hullfax Echo.

Spain's Future

The belief is growing that Spain is destined soon to line up with the republic. Attempts to imitate Britain's forms without Britain's spirit are not marked out for continuous success.--Globe, Toronto.

Tariff Question

Some Americans are inclined to grumble about the prospective advances in the tariff. This is one of the first indications that they perceive there are two sides to the tariff question. Once they thought there could not possibly be any harm in putting it up and up every time anyone wanted it higher.--Globe, Toronto.

Loss to Militia

Brigadier-General Buchanan's death is a great loss to the Canadian militia. Of the Canadian officers who won distinction in South Africa, none did more than he to compel admiration for Canadian manhood and military skill and efficiency. And it is perhaps not too much to say that of all the officers in the Canadian contingents he was the most popular with the rank and file.--Hamilton Herald.

No Nearer Now

Our courts are supposed to administer justice, whereas it is largely law they administer. In civil matters the expense leaves law the luxury of the rich. In criminal law intent is the essence of crime, and so long as intent and not motive remains the essence of crime, so long will the stock-gambler escape and the bread-taker get six months for trying to save off starvation.--Review, Peterborough.

Must Walk Warily

A crisis exists already, and Lords and Commons alike must walk warily. Compromise will but add to the troubles, and an election at the demand of the Lords would be a virtual surrender of popular Government.--A surrender that would be most obnoxious to the masses, and stimulate into renewed activity that class of reactionaries which is perilously near to Socialism.--News, St. John's.

Flag Reciprocity

There is a growing feeling in Canada at least, that our cousins should reciprocate flag amenities more than they do. Unless there is some improvement in this respect the Stars and Stripes are likely to be seen less frequently in this country. The letters in the New York papers are indications that some Americans realize the want of international courtesy among their countrymen. The publicity given their reproaches should have a wholesome effect.--London Advertiser.

Finer Man of Two

Capt. Bernier was as eager to discover the pole as Peary was, and tried hard for twenty years to raise enough money to fit out a polar expedition. It was the dream of his life. But not only has he borne his disappointments like a man, but when he learned that Cook was on his way to the Pole he helped the Doctor with provisions, and when he learned of the doctor's success he sent him hearty congratulations. We think that, although Peary reached the Pole and Bernier didn't, our bluff Canadian sailorman the bigger and finer man of the two.--All proud of the Cap.--Hamilton Herald.

Present I. C. R. Policy Wrong.

Opinion of H. R. Emmerson

Montreal, Quebec, Oct. 20.--That the policy at present pursued by the department of railways in regard to the Intercolonial Railway will not prove successful is the opinion expressed by Hon. H. R. Emmerson this morning in an interview at the Windsor Hotel.

"In the first place," he remarked, "I think it was a mistake to place the management of the railway into the hands of four men, instead of one. There is now a hydra-headed management, each member of which is only a quarter of a manager. He must have his special car, his own staff and all the other apparatus of a manager. I don't think the expense thus entailed will be justified.

"If the parliament had placed the Intercolonial railway in the hands of a commission, which was responsible in parliament, I would not have complained, but this matter has not been a subject of legislation. Not a pen stroke has passed through parliament in regard to this change. The Hon. Mr. Graham has simply created a board of four managers where one would have done, and he is just as much responsible for the whole policy and conduct of the railway as ever he was.

"No doubt the board of management is composed of good men but I maintain that the policy which they have to carry out a wrong one. You can't suddenly make the water of Niagara flow another way, and you can't suddenly turn the Intercolonial into a success from a strictly commercial point of view. That is what the present policy is now directed to doing, and as a result cutting down is going on all over the I. C. R. system. I don't think it is wise to discharge a man here and a man there, for instance, because perforce the railway can be run without them, and neither do I think it wise to cut down renewals and repairs as is now being done. It may make a big showing for the first year, but we shall have to pay dearly for it later on.

Mistakes of Life

Judge Kenton addressed the Bartholomew Club, London recently, on "The Fourteen Mistakes of Life," which, he said, were:

To attempt to set up our own standard of right and wrong, and expect everybody to conform to it.

To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.

To look for judgement and experience in youth.

To endeavor to mould all dispositions alike.

Not to yield in unimportant trifles.

To look for perfection in our own actions.

To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.

Not to alleviate if we can all that needs alleviation.

Not to make allowances for the weaknesses of others.

To consider anything impossible that we cannot ourselves perform.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

To live as if the moment, the time, the day, were so important that it would live forever.

To estimate people by some outside quality, for it is that within which makes the man.

Illustrating his arguments, Judge Kenton told some anecdotes. A clergyman once said to a prospective bride: "It is a very serious thing to get married, and the girl replied: "Yes; but it is more serious not to get married."

"I would sooner vote for the devil than give you my vote," said an elector to a candidate. "Well, if your candidate does not come to the poll, you will vote for me?" was the reply.

A number of men were staying late at their club when a waiter announced that a lady was inquiring for her husband, who had promised to be home early, and all the men rose and said: "Will you excuse me for a minute, Mr. Chairman."

Mr. B. Brine is adding to his buildings at the "Bluff" Lake Utopia. An ice house, with a capacity of two hundred and fifty tons of ice, a forty foot extension to the big barn erected last summer. Extensive repairs will be made on the grounds and buildings used by the boys for the summer school, and accommodations for one hundred students prepared. Mr. Benjamin Brine of New York who manages the school, is having a motor launch built especially for the lake. He is enthusiastic over the site and encouraged by the good words of the boys, who spent the summer here, are spreading among their relatives, friends and over the different colleges and schools which they attend. This is the best advertisement they could have and Mr. Brine feels certain next summer will bring a very large number of boys to Camp Utopia.

The building operations now going on are under the supervision of contractor J. B. Spaul who has a large crew of men with him at Utopia.

Rheumatism for Several Years— Now as well as Ever

647 Main St., St. John, N. B., Nov. 27, 1908.

Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd.

I am writing to tell you I have been a victim of Rheumatism for several years, and have been treated by several doctors without finding any permanent relief until I got Father Morrissey's medicine. It has cured me so I am able to do my work and find I am as well as ever in my life.

Yours truly,
JOHN CRAWFORD.

Rheumatism cannot exist when the kidneys are in perfect working order for then they take out of the blood all the Uric Acid, which alone causes the Rheumatism.

Father Morrissey's "No. 7" Tablets

act directly on the kidneys, toning them up and helping them to clear the blood of the Uric Acid. If the Rheumatism is of long standing it may take some time to clear out all the poison, but almost from the first "No. 7" Tablets relieve the pain, and if used faithfully they rarely fail to cure.

Even if other remedies have done you no good, do not give up till you have tried Father Morrissey's "No. 7" Tablets.

Saturday Sermonette

THE MASSACRE OF THE INNOCENTS

If you go into the country these days be careful how you go through a strip of woods, and if you are going into the wilderness, get insured as largely as you can for the benefit of your wife, mother or mother-in-law and say your prayers before you go, for the chances are you will not come out alive.

Go where you will you will hear the sound of a gun, every day of the week, Sunday not excepted.

If the guns were always in the hands of careful responsible men it would not be so dangerous, but when the twin idiot of the man "who rocks the boat" is out of the asylum with a gun and shoots you because he thinks you are a moose, or points the gun at you that is not loaded, you had better make your will and "git relig'us" before you leave home.

If game licences were only given, for a few years, to the kind of imbeciles I have mentioned they would kill each other off and then we could go into the wilderness and feel comparatively safe.

Now, mothers and wives see their sons and husbands go away to the woods with as many fears as if they were going to the wars.

Some of the innocents who will be massacred this "Open Season" will be a few (all too many) of the men who will go to massacre those more innocent than themselves.

Much of the killing in the wilderness is innocent, and it is God meant it. But much of the killing is not innocent, for God never meant that harmless inhabitants of the wild woods should be wantonly destroyed to feed his cruelty or minister to his vanity.

Many a squirrel and many a bird will be shot by disappointed, incompetent hunters who will show that it was not poor marksmanship that was sending them out of the woods without the moose they went for.

The "head" that will not be shown with much pride, for it is an indifferent head, when secured at the expense of leaving the "carcase in the wilderness" is not very thoughtful, intelligent hunting; for the considerate hunter even with the rifle instinctively going to his shoulder as he gets within rifle distance of his quarry will—when he sees that the lordly moose that he thought he was hunting is only "a little one"—say "let him go and grow" if not for me for some other fellow.

We all felt badly, when we read the other day that a cow moose and her two calves were run down by a train and killed, and we all gave the driver the benefit of the doubt. It was unavoidable, "they were going around a curve and saw them too late to stop the train," or they would not be "shooed" from the track.

But many an innocent will be massacred by thoughtless hunters who, to try the new rifle, or to show their skill or to practise, will destroy a beautiful bird and still its joyous song forever.

Looking to the Future

Once a good many years ago, I heard a certain public man, a politician, giving his son a sort of lecture. It seemed that the young man had felt himself slighted, and had retaliated in a way that seemed very clever to himself, but must surely have been most exasperating to the party of the second part.

"You just cant afford a thing like that," said the father. "Better swallow any slight that is short of actual insult and think well before you decide anything to be an insult—laugh it off, act any way, but never make an enemy. You will be in public life some day, and you never know when an occasion will rise that will make that man very necessary to your plans. Look to the future—make friends that you will be able to use by and by, and no man or woman is too unimportant to be considered."

I turned away, a little sick at heart the counsel seemed so selfish, so worldly-wise, but I have long since come to recognize the real value that underlies it. We cannot afford to overlook what the future may bring, for we never know when we will need the very individual who seems so hateful, so contemptible for the moment; not in a slight that the old judge meant, but in a broader, better one. The occasion may arise when we may help that one—may reach out a hand to lift him up, and the soft answer, or no answer at all, will never be in the way, while the memory of recrimination and retaliation on our part, will create doubt of motives and a certain mistrust that will nullify the best and purest intentions.

It is perfectly true, too, that a good deal made impossible means as much deprivation to the one who wills it as to the one who refuses.—S. B. Wigot.

Wind on the Stomach

A Well-Known Westerner Tells of Suffering, Misery and Pain That he Cured With Nerviline

"A few weeks ago I ate some green vegetables and some fruit that was not quite ripe. It first brought on a fit of indigestion, but unfortunately developed into hiccoughs, accompanied by nausea and cramps. I was dreadfully ill for two days—my head ached and throbbled; I belched gas continually, and I was unable to sleep at night. A neighbor happened in to see me and urged me to try Nerviline. Well, I wouldn't have believed it, but I felt that any preparation could STRENGTHEN help so quickly. I took half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in hot sweetened water, and my stomach felt better at once. I used Nerviline several times, and was completely restored."

The above is from a letter written by G. E. Braun, a well-known stockman and farmer near Lettbridge, Alta.

Mr. Braun's favorable opinion of the high merit of Nerviline is shared by thousands of Canadians who have proved Nerviline is simply a marvel for cramps, diarrhoea, flatulence, nausea and stomach disorders. Safe to use, guaranteed to cure—you can make no mistake in keeping Nerviline for your family remedy. Large 25c. bottles; five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Why Liquid Catarrh Remedies Fail

They go direct to the stomach, have very little effect on the sinuses of the nose and throat, and entirely fail to cure. Only by cleansing the air passages by relieving the inflammation and killing the germs is cure possible. No combination of Antiseptics is so successful as Catarrhzone. In breathing it you send the richest pine balsams right to the seat of the disease. Irritating phlegm is cleared out, hoarseness, coughing and hacking are cured. For a permanent cure for catarrh, nothing equals Catarrhzone, 25cets. and $4.00 at all dealers.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—never from a simple cold only—you should always be sure, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppose it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough pills or powders containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—little by little—Cough Cure has become a household name. It is the only safe, reliable, and sure cure for Cough, Croup, Whooping Cough, and all other lung troubles. THE HONOR OF THREE GAMBLERS

"The best looking man of the lot, and the man who seemed to have the best head on him called himself Dalton, and the two others gave their names as Burton and Chapman. This Dalton was always talking about picking up some big game and said if he had the price of a trip on the river he would soon find a sucker that would be worth skinning, and then the two other fellows could climb aboard anywhere and help him to do the work."

"By some piece of luck Burton and Chapman got hold of a couple of farmers from Arkansas one night and hustled them out of more than $300. It seemed to make Dalton pretty sick to think that he wasn't in the game, and couldn't stand in with them for any of the swag, but he was just about as gentlemanly as ever."

"The very next night when Burton and Chapman was bucking the tiger at the Bay Horse and adding a bit to their pile, Dalton comes running up to tell them he had marked out a sucker at the Peabody who would be good for a big losing if they worked the game right. Burton, who had just struck an odd and even deal and was betting twenty-five on cases right along, didn't take much stock in it, but Chapman, who was playing three on a side, was for taking on Dalton's find if there was anything in it. After playing for half an hour or so they coaxed Burton to cash in his checks, he being about three hundred ahead of the game, and went downstairs to talk it over."

"I'd like to see myself quitting a fare game if I was three hundred ahead," interrupted the barkeeper, "more specially if they was still coming my way."

"Probably Dalton knew the wad they had wouldn't last long if they stayed at the fare table, and he persuaded them that his game was big and sure. Chapman brought Burton round all right and they finally got together on the job."

"The fellow at the hotel was supposed to be a cotton buyer, or something of that kind, on his way back north by the river, and he had money to burn and was always flashing pocketbook and blowing about it. So a pretty hard drinker, but crazy for poker, which he allowed he could play as well as any man living."

"Bet he was one of them fellows that came into jackpots with nothing, thinking it's all in the draw," remarked the barkeeper.

"There wasn't no jackpots in those days, and limits was a new ringer, a call for a sight being the usual; but that's nothing to do with it."

"These three honorable sports thought it would be the proper caper, as they were all gentlemen, to meet the cotton buyer at the hotel, strolling into Sid Cook's billiard room and getting acquainted. Then they could frame up a job to travel up the river with him."

"Burton wanted to let him get so drunk that he would have to be carried out, dead to the world. Then next morning Burton would hand him a couple of hundred dollars and tell him that was what he had won the night before. Dalton could come along and hand him another hundred or two, telling the cotton buyer that was his winnings from him."

"Of course if the cotton buyer fell for it and took the money, it would be confessing that he didn't know how much he had won or lost; and then Chapman would come along some time later in the day and ask the cotton buyer for twelve hundred or so that he owed Chapman for borrowed chips, which would put them something like eight hundred to the good."

"The trouble with this game, as Dalton pointed out, is that it is limited to one play and it takes nice judgement to know how much the third man should strike for. Dalton thought he had a much better scheme which was to let the sucker win a lot of money at first, so that he would think he had struck an easy thing and be willing to bet high."

"Then they could soad him good and hard and win everything he had."

Steel Oven

Heats Quicker - Saves Fuel

Make sure your new range has a steel oven, because steel is more sensitive to heat—absorbs it faster—than cast iron does. Pandora oven thus heats quicker—less time required to get oven ready for the baking—which also means less fuel-expense.

For Sale by Grant & Morin

After some talk the three sports agreed to word it that way.

"They got acquainted all right, and next day the four men started up the river on the Minneola. The first night out they just sized up their man, not wanting to hurry matters. "He was dead struck on the game of poker, he knew it all; but the thing that interested them the most was his pocketbook. After he had had about a dozen whiskies he fished his pocketbook out and it looked to have greenbacks enough in it to be worth anywhere from $500 to $5000 and not a cent of Little Rock money."

"Next morning they talked the thing over and agreed to let the cotton buyer win about $500 before his luck turned. They were to give him all the whiskey he could drink and still keep on playing and to tell him he was the greatest poker expert that had ever come across. Between his whiskey and his vanity they calculated to get him going so he would not know how much he had lost until it was all over."

"Nice combination for them," laughed the barkeeper. "A man that thinks he can play poker, has more money than is good for him, and does not know how much he can drink! Say, that was pretty soft for them, eh?"

"You bet it was, and they worked it for all it was worth. Those three made the silliest raises before the draw, and never bet on two pairs till the other fellows had filled and called two card draws without a pair in their hand, and all that sort of rot."

"They got so interested in showing the cotton buyer how inferior their game was to his that he didn't notice until they came to buy more chips that they had fed him pretty near all of their $600 capital, which he kept stuffing into that pocketbook all the time, and it lying right there on the table in front of them during the whole game."

"He didn't drink as much as usual at first, but along about 9 o'clock they thought it was time to fill up and throw the harpoon into them and get some of that money back. I calculate they must have overdone it a bit, 'cause the stuff went to his head and made him more interested in singing 'Rosalie, the Prairie Flower,' than in playing his hand. He kept passing out and throwing up his cards and singing louder all the time until it began to look as if he was going to drop off his chair dead drunk."

"Along about 10 o'clock, when the boat blew for the landing at Hickman, Ky., Mr. Cotton Buyer was hardly able to sit up straight. He said he felt pretty bad and wanted to lie down for a few minutes, so Dalton escorted him to his stateroom, holding him up to keep him from falling down in the middle of the cabin, but forgetting all about the pocketbook, which was left lying on the table."

"He must have been pretty drunk venturing the bar tender."

LUMBER INTERESTS SOLD

The purchase of an extensive lumber property in Albert County, New Brunswick by New York interests, is reported in St. John. According to the report, the Eastern Canadian Lumber & Construction Company Ltd., said to be incorporated in New York by New York men, has purchased the lumber property and saw mill of Isaac Prescott for approximately $1,000,000. It is said that the company will develop the hardwood lumber industry in that section and will reopen the Albert Southern Railway. The name of W. H. Malcolm of New York has been mentioned as one of those interested.

CANADA'S THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving is a day set aside by the civil authorities to be marked by special religious services in which thanks are returned for the abundance of good things that have come to the Canadian people during the year. It has been a year of plenty coupled with prosperity and success. It has been a year of peace. Industry and commerce have not lagged. There has been work for all, and the fruits of toil have added untold wealth to this young country. To the farmers overflowing granaries have been the reward of labor. The people are living in comfort, peace and abundance. It is at such a time in midst of prosperity that it is well to remember the full force of the teaching of Thanksgiving Day.

A MIX-UP

Wood pulp mechanically ground, imported into the United States from anywhere in Canada except Quebec and Ontario provinces, is free from duty until otherwise directed, according to a decision by the treasury department Saturday. If produced from pulp wood cut on private lands in Quebec and Ontario, it is admissible free of duty. But if produced from pulp wood cut on crown lands in either Quebec or Ontario it is assessable at one-twelfth of one cent per pound, and in the case of Quebec there is added a countervailing duty of 25 cents per cord as the equivalent of the export tax.

COUNTRY VS. CITY BOYS.

The comparative success of country and city boys in reaching high positions in life, is the subject of an interesting controversy in an exchange. A protagonist for the country boys gives the following figures secured by him in the United States:

Class of Men	Country.	City.
Presidents	4	23
Governors	4	41
Cabinet Officers	15	111

This would seem to be very favorable to the country boy. To make the figures more useful, there should be some statement as to the relative number of inhabitants found in the cities and rural localities from which the statistics are gathered. It is interesting to read the opinions of several prominent men who have spoken of the country environment as being more favorable. One railway president says: "Life on the farm is preeminently in my judgement as experience which develops independence and self-reliance, and, therefore I think the spirit of achievement more than any other I know of." Another railway president remarks: "I believe that the farm life lays a good healthy vigorous manhood in both mind and body."

President J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, says: "My present home is on a farm and my principle reason for making my home there, rather than at some of the 'lakes or in the city, is that I have 'three boys of my own, I am trying 'to give a fair start in life. I believe there is no end of arguments 'that living on the farm gives the 'best chance for a growing boy. 'While my making the farm my home 'sometimes works an inconvenience 'to me, I realize that the benefits 'of my children are well worth the 'inconvenience to me of getting in 'and out between my office and the farm.'—Chronicle.

BY THE WAY

Has the town got its full growth?

Don't let the young fry of the east go west to develop their muscles.

The town that expects to make a show must keep abreast of the times in improvements.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has promised Capt. Bernier all the latitude and longitude he needs for his next polar dash.

Resolutions are the chief product of some towns and always in demand. But they do not make towns grow.

And in course of time men came and planned factories, railways, and water facilities and connections and found St. George content to rest on her past. Her gaze was fixed afar.

The arrival of a lordly moose at the quarters of the construction crew on the N. B. S. Ry. a few days ago, made a change in the menu, by the addition of steak and choice roast. This act of kindness on the part of the "monarch of the wild," was much appreciated by the men.

Every year shows a falling off in the number of men entering the profession of teaching. Soon, unless salaries are raised, the public schools will be handed over almost entirely to women teachers.

Is it a good thing? Are women better of teaching school or rocking cradles? And whether they are or not, are grown boys as well taught and handled by women as by men? We want to know.—Ex.

A New York paper is printing some very odd names that are brought to its attention. Here are a few for its collection, every one said to be genuine: Rita Lotta Lamb, Ida Sweet Hart, R. U. Phelan Goode, Mabel Eve Story, Edna Broker Legge, Marian English Earle, Nealon Pray Dailey, I Betty Sawyer, Miss Etta Pye and Miss Carrie Coffey are two Kentucky lasses, and Constant Agony is a Canadian lumberman.

Before leaving the British shores, General Botha, premier of the Transvaal, expressed the gratitude of South Africa for the assistance rendered by all British political parties, and declared that they in South Africa have firmly resolved, after the blood and tears of the past, to build up a nation of which the Mother Country will be justly proud, and General Botha will probably be the first premier of United South Africa, and his testimony, highly creditable in itself, encourages the hope that the empire will be vastly strengthened by the creation of the new federation.—Toronto World.

One morning not long ago three tripped up to a butcher stall in a Baltimore market a jainty little thing out for her first marketing.

"My husband bought a couple of nice hams from you not long ago," she announced.

"Yes'm," said the smiling butcher. "I remember well. Fine hams, were't they?"

"They were delicious," said the young wife. "Have you any more like them?"

"Lots," responded the butcher, indicating a row of hams in the rear of a stall.

The young thing surveyed the hams thoughtfully. "Are you sure," she finally asked, "that they're from the same pig as that from which my husband brought?"

"Yes'm," answered the butcher, with-out so much as a quiver of an eyelid.

"Then you may send me three more of them," she said.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

We have been shown several ripe strawberries picked in different localities lately.

Mayor McGee is installing a new and up-to-date furnace, and an improved water system in his house.

A. C. J. Smythe has taken over the plant of the Calais Times. We wish him every success in his new venture.

B. Blundell has the contract for repairing the Clayborn house, and will commence work next week.

Small lots of fish have been taken at L'Etang and Duploquash the past week, but they still continue scarce in nearly every locality.

The town water supply was out of commission last week, causing great inconvenience. Repairs were made by Boyd Bros.

Judge Landy gave Monacelli a life sentence, on Thursday, for murder of Nicholas Yogan. The trial was held in Woodstock.

Men and teams are going into the woods for the pulp Co. The company have under consideration the erection of a saw mill on the Deser side.

An employee in one of the granite sheds left thirty dollars in his coat pocket which was hanging up. The money is missing and is supposed to have been taken during dinner hour.

Rumors of an elopement are in the air, in which a widow and a man with a wife and family figure. The couple are missing, and it is known that they have both left for the west.

George F. Dalton of Fairville, who was working with John F. Kane at Larriville, was thrown from a motor boat and drowned Thursday night. The boat was struck by a heavy sea.

Local football enthusiasts are out in force every night. The squad under the management of ex-Mayor Lawrence, are practicing hard and getting into condition to meet some of the crack teams of the Province.

Reports of an encouraging nature were received by local stockholders from the Gold King properties. The difficulties encountered by the company have been overcome, and work will be resumed at once. No further drawbacks are anticipated.

The new wharf which the Canadian government has had built at the neighboring island of Campobello, N. B., is now all completed and the Passamaquoddy Steam Ferry makes her regular landings at this place. While the new wharf was being built the ferry made her landing at the floating pier near the inn.

The chicken supper held by the ladies of the Catholic congregation was liberally patronized notwithstanding the wretched weather. "Drageorgian Hall" was tastefully decorated for the event and those who loved the storm were amply repaid by the good things galore served by the young ladies.

Mrs. James Hatt died at the residence of her son James Hatt Saturday aged 95 years. The funeral took place Tuesday. Many neighbors and friends were present to pay their last respects to the deceased. The remains were interred in the rural cemetery.

The death of Mrs. J. D. Turner occurred Thursday at Boscawen, N. B., after a lingering illness. Mrs. Turner was in her seventy-fifth year, and was a native of Sackville. Her maiden name was Miss Gallagher. The deceased is survived by two sons—J. H. D. Turner of St. John and Charles Turner of Roland, Manitoba; and four daughters—Lila and Bertha, at home; Lillie of New York, and Mrs. A. L. Foster of St. John. Burial at St. John Saturday.

Readers have learned that it pays to consult the advertising columns of their home paper when they want to buy anything. There they may find where the best is sold and often can pick up bargains they would have missed if they had not looked over the advertisements. A business man has something especially attractive in quality or price he makes use of printer's ink in these days and it is worth the ads. The merchant is watching and that is why.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

British Columbia elections will be held Nov. 25th.

Advertise in Greetings. It will pay you to do so.

Several new hands are working in the pulp mill, mostly from Back Bay.

Schooner Frances Goodnow went to sea Thursday, in tow of tug Wesley A. Gore.

Nelson Dodds was among the lucky hunters last week, bringing down a very fine moose.

The railway Commission has granted the N. B. Southern permission to raise its freight rates.

Repairs on the bridge around the basin have been completed and the bridge opened for traffic.

Red Granite Division will pay a fraternal visit to Second Falls Division Friday evening 29th. inst.

Calais tug, Wesley A. Gore came up river Thursday with schooner Andrew Peters in tow. She will load lumber for Norwalk, Ct.

Eastport and Calais have been playing some gilt edge base balls lately. The series stands Eastport 4 games won, Calais 2. The last game played went nine innings score 1-0 favor Calais.

Sardine herring have become so scarce in the waters hereabouts, that packers are obliged to send long distances for them, several hundreds of barrels arriving by Tuesday's steamer from Portland for the factories of this city and Lubec.—Eastport Sentinel.

Local granite concerns are making large shipments of granite to different points in Canada. Most of the mills are running up to their full capacity, and the managers report business very good for the fall season. Last week O'Brien & Baldwin received an order for thirty-five polished red granite columns from a Montreal concern.

Some of our correspondents must use more care, or we will be compelled to decline notes sent us for publication. We had a complaint from one of the outlying districts lately, that some personal references were offensive. We are inclined to think that no harm was intended, but it will be advisable to confine future correspondence to legitimate news.

W. J. Dean of Musquash, provincial game warden, was in the city yesterday en route to Queens county on a tour of inspection. So far this season Mr. Dean has only prosecuted two cases of game law violation, one in this city and one in St. Croix.—Sun.

The steamer Viking, which was being repaired on Hinds' railway, was floated off yesterday, after a thorough overhauling, and will go into commission at once. Her bottom which is of oak, was found to be in a remarkable good condition. Planking was replaced where needed, heavy new guard rails of birch added, deck houses placed in thorough repair, the machinery overhauled, and the boat painted from stem to stern, inside and out. Master Mechanic W. C. Greenlaw, who has had charge of the repairs, says the vessel is now as good and staunch as when first built.

Jack Johnson, the colored fighter who holds the world's heavy weight championship, disposed of the only white man except Jim Jeffries who seemed to have a possible chance against him, when in the twelfth round of a twenty-round encounter at San Francisco, he battered the hard-hitting "Michigan Assassin" Stanley Ketchell into insensibility. Johnson's superior weight over his plucky opponent, and the colored man's cleverness, stood him in good stead throughout, and Ketchell had scarcely a chance of winning at any time.

Eastport packers are importing sardine herrings, a condition rather unusual in the history of the sardine industry. The fish have apparently deserted the waters of Passamaquoddy and the sardine packers have been obliged to seek supply elsewhere. Portland has been sending quantities of fish by each steamer of the Eastern line and supplies are also received from other points along what is known as the western shore of the state. The steamer Calvin Austin, which arrived Tuesday morning, brought a large shipment of fish for the Seacoast Canning Co. and other firms are also receiving shipments via the same line.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by all druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for Constipation.

Coughs of Children

Especially night coughs. Nature needs a little help to quiet the irritation, control the inflammation, check the progress of the disease. Our advice is - give the children Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your doctor if this is his advice also. He knows best. Do as he says.

If you think constipation is of trifling consequence, just as your doctor will disabuse you of that notion in short order. "Correct it, at once!" he will say. There is blood about Ayer's Pills. A mild liver pill, all vegetable.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause rather than the effect would come into practice. A tiny, inside hidden, nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also gives strength to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail then these inside organs must suffer. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize again. Sold by all Dealers.

Go to the blood, if you are to drive out Rheumatism. A Wisconsin physician, Dr. Shoop, does this with his rheumatic remedy—and with seeming success. Rubens says the doctor never did cure rheumatism. It is more than skin deep—it is constitutional, always. Because of this principle, Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy is perhaps the most popular in existence. It goes by word of mouth from one to another, everywhere. Greatful parents gladly spread results. It is act of humanity, to tell the sick of a way to health. Tell some sick one. Sold by all dealers.
