ST. JOHN N. B., JULY 17, 1907

THE ROAD TO HEAVEN

Albeit the matter is one of peril for the ordinary layman one may, perhaps, be permitted to record his regret because of the impression, evident in some quarters, that the assault upon Mr. Waring's book by certain militant delegates at Woodstock is likely to produce a controversy of some magnitude.

Mr. Waring is not content with a plan to grasp control of transportation in the United States. He aimed at the capture of Mexico's railroads as well. A recent magazine article, which a contemporary has summarized, tells how President Diaz matched wits with the American dictator and how Harriman came off second best.

It appears that, in pursuance of his schemes for railway consolidation, Mr. E. H. Harriman conceived the idea of getting control of the Mexican lines and was invited by President Diaz to explain to him the whole process by which the merger could be accomplished.

UNCLE SAM VS. HARRIMAN

Harriman's plan to keep on watering stock and buying control of railroad after railroad, until he would have absolutely dominated transportation from the Canadian line to Mexico, is clearly outlined in the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission which was made public yesterday.

from Harriman's evidence before the commission, show how frankly he admitted the sort of game he was playing.

Q. Supposing that you got the Santa Fe?

A. ** If you will let us, I will go and take the Santa Fe tomorrow. Q. You would take it tomorrow?

Q. Then it is only the restriction of the law that keeps you from taking it?

A. I would go on as long as I live. Q. Then after you had gotten through with the Santa Fe and had taken it, you would also take the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, if you could get them?

A. Yes. Q. And your power, which you have, would gradually increase as you took one road after another, so that you might spread not only over the Pacific coast, but spread out over the Atlantic coast?

A. Yes. The recommendations of the commission, which will form the basis of additional railroad legislation, propose to forbid the inflation of railroad securities, to stop the buying of stock of other railway or steamship companies except connecting lines, and to insist that the railroad financiers stick to the legitimate purposes of transportation.

Harriman was not content with a plan to grasp control of transportation in the United States. He aimed at the capture of Mexico's railroads as well.

TEACHING PATRIOTISM

The Toronto Star gives expression to views touching the teaching of patriotism that are very generally endorsed.

PROSPERITY IN CANADA

The Montreal Herald is able to quote a high authority on the prosperous condition of affairs in Canada at the present time. It is no less than the president of the Maritime Manufacturers' Association in an address in Toronto recently made these observations:

in private or public affairs is treason, a lesson that cannot be too often impressed on children's minds.

SAVINGS BANK INSURANCE

An exchange presents very strong arguments in favor of savings-banks insurance, such as has been adopted by the legislature of Massachusetts, giving to savings banks the right to issue industrial policies; that is, small policies limited to death benefits of $500 or annuities of $200.
