THE HOSPITAL

To be Built Entirely by Citizens

MEETING SO DECIDES

The Whole Scheme Discussed
at Meeting on Monday Evening

A public meeting for the discussion of the hospital scheme was held on Monday evening. The attendance was very much smaller than the importance of the matter demanded and our citizens should wake up to the fact. However, the matter was thoroughly thrashed out with the result that the citizens have determined to take upon themselves the responsibility of erecting a hospital. It will be remembered that the Orangemen proposed to erect the building if the citizens raised $3,000 and hand it over to a board of directors appointed by the citizens to be conducted by them for a term of 30 years. The citizens were not satisfied with this arrangement and asked for a change in the proposition whereby the citizens could buy out the Orange interests after ten years. This was agreed to by the Orangemen and still there was some dissatisfaction with the scheme. After much discussion it was at last agreed that the citizens undertake to build the hospital. This of course will not prevent the Orangemen from subscribing to the scheme as citizens.

NEW OCEAN RECORD

Virginian Makes passage in Six days Flat

Montreal, July 26. Despite uniform and quick passages made by the Allan line new turbine the first actual ocean record was broken yesterday by the R. M. S. Virginian which arrived at Moville at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, making the eastern passage six days flat between Rimouski and Moville. This clips several hours off the previous record of six days 3 hours and 12 minutes made last year by the Bavarian. The Virginian sailed from Rimouski at nine o'clock last Saturday reaching Moville at 2 p. m. Friday despite several hours delay by fogs. Calculating the difference in time this makes exactly six days occupied in the passage.

Duncan Noble, R D McNair, J E Miller, K. Shives and Dr Graham were appointed to consider the first steps necessary in the undertaking. This committee will meet on Tuesday evening in the Baptist vestry.

Now that the matter seems to be started on a satisfactory basis it is to be hoped that the citizens generally, not only of the town but of the surrounding country, will take hold of the matter in the proper spirit and push the scheme to a successful issue.

Thomas F. Keary who was for many years an active and prominent citizen of Chatham, was killed in the Rossmore Hotel, in Boston, last Monday. Mr. Keary attempted to enter a freight elevator while it was in motion, and was crushed to death. He was buried Thursday. Many old friends here cherish kindly feelings for Mr Keary and deeply sympathize with his family. Mrs Keary and her children are living in Boston—World.

Barque Normanic Brought the Rescued man to Miramichi

The barque Normanic, Captain Johannessen, arrived in Port Thursday from Liverpool. The vessel had on board a Portuguese fisherman who was picked up from a dory off the banks of Newfoundland. The dory which is about 15ft long was also taken on board the barque. It bears the name "Rosa Jupiter."

When 20 miles north of Virgin Rock a dense fog lifted and Capt. Johannessen sighted the castaway in his vessel's course. The man did not appear to have been out long, and refused food that was offered him. He claimed to belong to Lisbon, Portugal, but could not make himself any further understood.

It is supposed the man belonged to a Portuguese fishing vessel and had become separated from it by a fog shutting down while he was fishing from the dory.

Capt Johannessen has been unable to find anyone in Miramichi who can converse with the fisherman. Even Interpreter Brobeck has been "floored."

The man is still on the Normanic and will probably go back with her.—Commercial.

MURDER RECALLED.

Discovery re Man Who Lost
His Life on Sugar Loaf Mountain.

The detectives who have been investigating a recent case of suspected murder near Campbellton, have made an interesting discovery in connection with the supposed murder of Michael Leary on the Sugar Loaf Mountain at Campbellton a few years ago. The mysterious disappearance of the stranger and the discovery of his body a year later on the mountain near the town of Campbellton will be remembered by many readers of The Times. In the month of June, 1888, Michael Leary set sail from Londonderry, Ireland, for Canada to join his daughter Mrs. Jeremiah O'Sullivan, at Toronto. On Sunday, June the 2nd, Leary arrived at Halifax and took the Quebec express for Toronto. At that time the Quebec express remained at Campbellton over Sunday. On Monday morning the train left for Quebec, but poor Leary was not among the passengers. He had disappeared as mysteriously as if the earth had swallowed him up. No trace of him could be found anywhere. The last place he had been seen was at Campbellton. On the 23rd of June, 1889, a year after his disappearance, the remains of Leary were found at the base of Sugar Loaf Mountain. Just here a strange coincidence may be noted. Leary disappeared in June, and his remains were found in June. A still stranger coincidence in connection with Leary's death is the discovery recently made by the police investigating a recent case in that vicinity. Reginald Burchill, who was hanged in Ontario for the murder of a young Englishman, was a passenger on the same train with Michael Leary and lay over in Campbellton on the Sunday in June, 1888, that marked the mysterious disappearance of Michael Leary. What connection there may have been between Leary's death and Burchill's presence at the place where he disappeared, is, of course, a matter of speculation, but the coincidence so recently brought to light, throws some light on the tragedy of the Sugar Loaf.—Times.

J. E. PRICE DEAD

I C R General Supt Passed away Yesterday

HIS CAREER

Had Worked his way up From Foot of The Ladder

J E Price, I C R General Superintendent, died this afternoon at his residence on Main St., at 14.30 o'clock.

Bad news travels fast. Within a few minutes after Mr Price had passed away, everyone in Moncton knew of the lamentable fact, and his death has caused a gloom to pervade the whole community.

J E Price was widely known over the whole I C R system, and throughout Canada. A thoroughly competent and practical railroad man, he worked his way from the bottom of the ladder to the position which he held at the time of his death.

In railway circles everywhere, Mr Price was popular, and well liked. Strict, but just, he was esteemed and respected by every one with whom he came in contact, and in railway circles everywhere his death will be learned of with genuine and heartfelt regret. By his death the employees of the I C R have lost a true friend, and the railroad itself has sustained a loss that is well nigh irreparable.

Beginning as a boy where the Intercolonial was known as the European and North American road, Mr Price entered the employ of the railway as a telegraph operator in 1867 at Petitcodiac, where his father, Mr W W Price, is now station master. In 1872, deceased was promoted to be a telegraph operator. The year following 1873, he was promoted to the position of train despatcher and continued as such until 1876, when he was appointed Assistant Superintendent on the Cton division. In April 1879 Mr Price was made train despatcher at Campbellton, and in October 1881 he was appointed District Superintendent at Campbellton. In September 1892, he became District Superintendent of Halifax and St John district. He was appointed in October, 1893, to the position of General Superintendent with headquarters in Moncton and in November 1901, was made Superintendent of the Moncton-St. Flavia district. In August, 1902, he was again made General Superintendent, with headquarters at Moncton and this position he held up to the time of his death.

The late Mr Price was a son of Mr W. W. Price I C R station master at Petitcodiac, and was born on October 18, 1854. His father and mother are still living, being respected residents of that place. Deceased married Miss Agnes Fleming, daughter of Mr. W C Fleming of Moncton and sister of Mr H B Fleming I C R chief train despatcher. He is survived by a widow, and four children. There are two daughters, Misses Emma and Jennie, and two sons, Leonard and George; all the children are at home.

Deceased is survived also by several brothers and sisters. The brothers are, Claude W., I C R train despatcher of Moncton; Horton of Sydney; Dr O B. Price, dentist of Moncton, and E. B. Price, I C R Locomotive engineer at Campbellton. The sisters are Mrs Lawrence, living with her father at Petitcodiac; Mrs Bray, Campbellton; Mrs Fred Seeley, Moncton; Mrs (Dr.) J. J. Daly, Sussex; and Mrs Hanson, Bathurst. The news of Mr. Price's death while not altogether unexpected, has made a profound impression

MAILS VIA SYDNEY.

But When Northern Route Is Taken Rimouski Will Be the Calling Place.

Ottawa, July 29.—The dominion government has had under consideration the mail contract between Canada and Britain. It is understood that a decision has been reached that in all future contracts the mail steamers must call at Sydney (C. B.) to deliver the mails during that period of the year when they run south of Belle Isle. From Sydney the mails will be forwarded to Montreal by special train the same as was done recently.

When the mail steamers run north of Belle Isle, then the mails will be landed at Rimouski, the same as at present. H. A. Allan of the Allan line, was here today conferring with the government in regard to this matter.

upon the community. Mr Price has been ill since July first with diabetes, and has been operated upon several times. Since he has been ill there have been but slight hopes for his recovery. At the beginning of the present week, however, he rallied, and a recovery was thought possible. During the past couple of days, however, Mr Price became gradually weaker, and the end came at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon.

It is believed by many that Mr Price's health was undermined by excessive work during the past winter, which was a most trying one to all officials connected with the operating department of the railway. During the continued severe storms which tied up traffic for weeks at a time on the I C R last winter, the late Mr Price worked indefatigably. He practically lived at the operating board in the I C R train despatching office, being there continually night and day for weeks.

Deceased was an esteemed member of the Moncton First Baptist church.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, but interment will probably take place in Moncton.

Died
McCormick.—At St. Joseph's Hospital, Chippewa Falls, Wis., Wednesday, July 26, 1905 of dropsy of the heart Dan McCormick, aged about 36 years. The deceased had been ailing for over a year. He had been employed by J. P. Nolan of the Phelan House up to June 29, when he went to the hospital. Little is known here of the family of the deceased. He was born in Campbellton, N. B., Canada, and came to Hayward with James Quail a number of years ago. The body was brought up from Chippewa Falls this afternoon, and will be interred in Greenwood cemetery at this place.—Hayward, Wis., Republican.

A WOMAN'S ORDEAL DREADS DOCTOR'S QUESTIONS

Thousands Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and Receive Valuable Advice Absolutely Confidential and Free

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions in regard to her private life, even when those questions are asked by her family physician, and many continue to suffer rather than submit to examinations which so many physicians propose in order to intelligently treat the disease; and this is the reason why so many physicians fail to cure female disease.

This is also the reason why thousands upon thousands of women are corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. To her they can confide every detail of their illness, and from her great knowledge, obtained from years of experience in treating female ills, Mrs. Pinkham can advise women more wisely than the local physician.

Della Emerentienne Montreuil, of 114 Latourville St., Quebec, Que., writes:

"I suffered for eight months with what the doctors called prolapsus, which caused great weakness all over my system, with fainting spells. I kept growing weaker and weaker. I tried several medicines which they claimed would cure my trouble, but nothing was the least benefit until I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and this helped me so rapidly that I could hardly believe my good fortune. I would gladly have paid $25.00 for that first bottle, for it started me on the road to health, and five bottles cured me. I am most grateful for my splendid, robust health, and shall certainly recommend the Vegetable Compound in glowing terms to all my friends and acquaintances, for it is deserving of all the praise I can give it."

Mountains of proof establish the fact that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for restoring women's health.

A UNIQUE LOCOMOTIVE FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

For working heavy freight trains over the severe grades and sharp curves encountered on the Rhodesia railway, which has now been recently extended to Katoano, 90 miles to the north of the Victoria Falls, and which is destined to form a very important link in the projected Cape to Cairo railway, a unique type of locomotive, has been introduced for service. This engine is divided into three main portions—the superstructure and two steam driven trucks. The superstructure consists of boiler, coal bunker, water tank and cab, which is on two long girders, that are themselves carried at two pivot points on the six-coupled trucks. By this means the whole weight of the engine is upon the coupled wheels, and the superstructure, on that account, available for adhesion. It can be accurately adjusted by means of a special spring connection, introduced at a selected position away from the center of the bogie; and as the wheel base of each engine is not more than 8 feet 6 inches, the engine which weighs 81 American tons, can pass round curves of three chains radius without the slightest injury to the road-bed. In addition to the advantage of traversing these severe curves the line of pull from the engine itself is kept in a position which reduces the side resistance at the pulling end. Each bogie is in itself an engine, with a pair of cylinders, valve motion, brake gear, and sanding gear complete, and bears the weight of half of the superstructure on a recessed steel casting. There are bolts passing through slot holes in these castings, which form a connection between the bogie and the superstructure, and a further security against an excess of movement is provided by the addition of check chains. The mechanical details by which the power is supplied and controlled, and the bogies have been carefully designed. The steam is carried from the front end of the boiler by means of a bull and socket joint to each pair of cylinders. The exhaust of the front bogie is carried through the smoke box, and is sufficient to keep up a draft through the fire box, and so maintain steam. The exhaust steam of the hind bogie is passed into the atmosphere, but could be utilized either for the purpose of increasing the draft or for an exhaust steam injector, if required. The driver supplies steam to both sets of cylinders by one movement of the regulator handle, and in the same manner he is able to reverse both engines, put the brake on, and actuate the sanding gear by one movement of each of the handles. There is no difference in the method of look out, or of handling the engine, from the practice of ordinary locomotives.

The boiler is of the "Belpaire" type, so commonly used on British railroads, and provides a especially large steam capacity and the usual facilities for washing out, etc. The locomotive was built by Messrs. Kitson & Co., of Leeds, England, and as illustrative of its great hauling capacity, it may be stated that the engine now regularly drawing twice the train loads formerly hauled by the most powerful locomotive on the Rhodesia road.

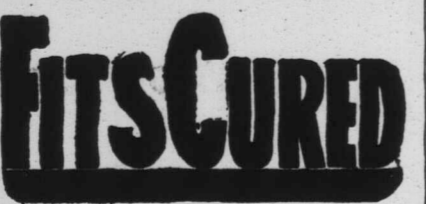

Each bogie has six wheels coupled, each of 4 feet diameter, and two outside cylinders of 16 inches diameter by 24 inches stroke. Other dimensions are: Heating surface, firebox, 136 square feet; tubes, 1,290 square feet; total heating surface, 1,726 square feet. Grate area, 34 square feet. Internal diameter of boiler, 5 feet. Length of boiler, 13 feet 4 inches. Thickness of boiler, 9-16 inch. Boiler pressure, 180 pounds per square inch. Length of firebox, 8 feet 7 inches. Height from rail level to top of funnel, 12 feet 10 inches. Height from rail level to center of axle, 7 feet 2 inches. Rigid wheel-base, 8 feet 6 inches. Total wheel-base, 34 feet. The engine tank has a fuel capacity of 3 tons of coal. The tender has a capacity of 7 tons of coal and 2,845 gallons of water, and when fully loaded, weighs 47 American tons. When in working order, the total weight of the engine and tender is 125 American tons. On a gradient of 1 in 66 combined with a curve of chains radius, the engine will haul a load of 624 tons (exclusive of weight of engine and tender) at a speed of 8 miles per hour with 75 per cent cut-off.

THE PROVING OF THE TRUTH.

ENQUIRY AS TO ADVERTISEMENT IN THE PRESS

Miss Jamison, of Masson, tells a Reporter she did not give Fruit-a-tives enough credit.

(From the Ottawa Journal)

Many hundreds of people read and marvel at the columns of advertising matters put in the daily papers all over the world in connection with the advertisements of patent medicines. Millions of dollars are spent every year in bringing to the attention of the public the benefits to be derived by the use of the remedies, and it is to the free use of printer's ink that many notable successes have been made. These medicines are advertised in all kinds of ways, but the bulk of the money expended by the exploiters of patent medicines goes into the columns of the newspapers.

But how many read a glowing account of good done by a patent medicine and take any trouble to find out the bona fides of the case mentioned? The writer admits being something of a sceptic in matters appertaining to patent medicines.

AN ENQUIRY MADE.
A few days ago, however, the writer happened to be at Masson, or as it is known, Buckingham Junction, with a wait of a couple of hours for the train. Now Masson is a very pretty little village, but two hours with nothing to do to a newspaper man is a somewhat tedious proposition. The columns of The Evening Journal were carefully run through by one of the patent medicine ads caught eye of the scribe. It was that given by Miss Jamison of Masson, for Fruit-a-tives or Fruit Liver Tablets.

In her letter to the proprietors of this remedy under date of Nov. 16, 1904, Miss Jamison said that she had much pleasure in reporting to you the great benefit I have received from taking Fruit-a-tives and I cannot say too much for a medicine that done me so much good." Continuing, Miss Jamison told of suffering from kidney trouble, that her complexion was sallow, with dark rings under the eyes, and headache every morning on getting up. Miss Jamison took the remedy, with careful following of directions as to diet, after taking three boxes she lost all ailments and regained perfect health.

VISIT TO MISS JAMISON
Here was a suitable case and favorable opportunity for the newspaper man to look into one of the cases of the genuineness of the advertisement.

Miss Florence Jamison is a charming young lady of about 22 years of age, and she had no hesitation whatever in talking of the merits of Fruit-a-tives. "Miss Jamison," said the reporter, "I see you have been making statements over your name in the papers giving great credit to the merits of Fruit-a-tives. Might I ask you your reason for giving such a strong testimonial of the efficiency of this medicine?"

"Why, certainly," replied Miss Jamison, "I am only too happy to give you any information I can. I have said nothing about Fruit-a-tives but what is the actual fact. Following sickness and death in the family, when I had a great deal of worry and nursing, I became terribly run down and few of the neighbors thought I ever be well again. I consulted the late Dr. Church and took considerable medicine but with poor results. In May of 1904, I started taking Fruit-a-tives knowing that it was a patent medicine, but having a medical man's authority that it would do me good. Personally I felt it could not do me any harm and I was prepared to do anything to do me good. I made up my mind to give the medicine a fair chance, and with this end in view I carefully followed the directions as to diet. I had suffered terribly with a chronic constipation which caused backaches, and I never knew what it was to get up in the morning without a headache that invariably lasted all day. In a very few days I felt the benefit of Fruit-a-tives and in an incredible short time the sickness left me and I was cured of my other ailments."

"Why," continued Miss Jamison, getting enthusiastic on the subject, "I had a sallow and mucky complexion and look at me now! I do not take Fruit-a-tives all the time, but I always have a box handy and take one occasionally. They are worth ten times the price in my estimation if they were only used for the benefit of one's complexion. You cannot say too much for Fruit-a-tives so far as I am concerned, and I am only too pleased to give my experience with the medicine."

A LOCAL CONCERN
The above enquiry is of more than usual interest, due to the fact that Fruit-a-tives, Limited, is a local concern, and from what is said of the medicine it is bound to become an institution of great magnitude. The medicine is made from pure fruit juices, put up in tablet form and no difficulty is experienced in taking them. They are the product of the experience of an Ottawa physician who combined the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, making a compound which strengthens the stomach and makes the liver active. The establishment of a company and the manufacture of the tablets in large quantities also naturally resulted in the reduction of cost of production, the result being the fact that this household remedy can now be sold for 50c a box, or a quarter what the original cost had to be.

The sceptical writer who looked into the case of Miss Jamison does not regret the time spent on the investigation, which certainly proved that that young lady not only derived wonderful benefits from Fruit-a-tives but she is naturally anxious to let others who are suffering know the facts.

A Warning to Mothers

To much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil causes nausea and has a tendency to gripe.
If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be check-ed. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists.

GREEN POINT

A very beautiful repast was given at the home of Mr and Mrs J. Comeau last Sunday at 5:30 p. m. The repast has taken place in order to honor the return of Miss A. Comeau, who has been visiting in Quebec for nearly a year. At the head of the table was seen Rev F. Van de Mortel P. P. accompanied by Mr and Mrs Comeau, Mr and Mrs Legue, Mr Burgess and many others. The dining room was tastefully decorated, and the table looked very well.

It was loaded with different kinds of very rich eatables. After the invited guests went to the sitting room where the gentlemen smoked a delicious cigar, after which they were entertained in the magnificent parlor.
Many beautiful songs were heard and beautiful declamation by the young ladies. Miss Comeau is a very popular young lady and her return is enjoyed by everyone.

Crops look very fine.

the coming of a bouncing boy.

It is with a feeling of sadness that we have to announce the death of Miss Inez Kennedy which occurred at her home on Saturday July 22nd, after an illness of three months which she bore with Christian fortitude—Miss Inez was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Frances Kennedy and was the 10th year of her age. A father, mother two brothers and two almost broken hearted sisters are left to mourn her loss. Much sympathy is felt for the family in their sad bereavement.

The funeral took place at ten o'- clock Thursday morning and was largely attended. The pall bearers were the Misses Alice Rall, Lily Barbary, Nora Morris, Barbara McAuley, Ada Gaul and Nora Malonee all of whom mourn the loss of an affectionate friend and school-mate.

Perce has always been one of the loveliest summer resorts of the Gaspe Coast and is this year invaded by a lot of strangers people, from Quebec and Montreal seeking refuge against the tropical heat of the cities. All the hotels are overcrowded and needless to say it is the picknicking season and our young ladies and young gentlemen seem to have a special taste for that kind of amusement.

Today took place one of the grandest picknicks ever given in Perce. The magnificent woods of Mount St. Ann were the theatre of the amusements and merry-making of the young people who came there to offer their heartiest congratulations and good wishes to Miss B. Granier who had come into her twenty sixth birthday and to Miss LeBoutillier who was celebrating her coming of age. The most distinguished guests who attended this picknick were Mr. R. A. Drapeau Mrs and Miss Drapeau from Rimouski, and the numerous friends of the young ladies made here will never forget the charming way in which they presided at the festival. The other guests who were all chosen friends of the Misses Grenier and LeBoutillier were as follows: Misses
H. and Janet LeBire, Miss D. Laviole

Why Tea Quality Varies

YOU know how the quality of strawberries from the same patch will sometimes vary from one day to another.

One day sweet, compact, well ripened, well colored, richly flavored—next day it rains, is cloudy,—following picking is soggy, sour, green, coarsely-flavored, poor.

Tea, also, on account of its volatility of flavor, after picking and during the curing process is very susceptible to weather changes. A few hours of sunshine or bad weather after picking may make the difference between good and poor tea.

So that while one picking may be first class, the next from the same garden may be very poor.

I select only the pickings which come up to the Red Rose standards of richness and strength in Indian, and delicacy and fragrance in Ceylon teas, and thus that "rich, fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea is produced and maintained.

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

JAPAN AND RUSSIA

According to despatches to the morning papers the statement of the Czar that he "would not conclude a shameful peace" has been well received in Russia. It is suggested that Czar's position is sustained by the people, but it must be admitted that it is difficult to arrive at any impartial view of this branch of the question. The press censorship and the restrictions on foreign journalists even prevent one from making an accurate estimate of public opinion in Russia. It is easily learned how the court party stands, but with the right of public meeting suppressed in many quarters and with a shackled press, how is it possible to obtain free expression of opinion? On the surface, indeed it does not look as if the prospects of peace following the meetings of the plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth are good. A Japanese representative was credited with making a statement placing the indemnity to be demanded at a very high figure, and mentioning conditions which would be most objectionable to Russia. M. Witte, the principal Russian representative, has intimated that he is not hopeful of results. Russia is animated, he says, by the best intentions, abiding peace is desired, but she cannot listen to some of the alleged demands of the victorious nation. M. Witte laid special stress on supposed Japanese claims based upon expected military success in the future, and said that idea could not be expected. The first thing he has to do, he said, "is to find a basis for fruitful discussion." It is to be hoped he will be more successful than he appears to think he will be, and that diplomacy will find a way to put a end to the awful slaughter of human life and destruction of property in the east—Globe.

Having failed to come to reasonable terms with Robt. J. Duncan and Jos. Duncan as to the value of land required, the Town Council has decided to have the matter go before a board of arbitrators. This is right and proper but why it was not done before the work was commenced on the new dam we cannot understand. It certainly is a cart-before-the-horse piece of business.

THE WORLD'S VIEW

A St. John boy saturated his brains with cigarette smoking until he was a mental and physical wreck and then drank carbolic acid and died. And now the St. John papers are making a great outcry against carbolic acid in the house, within reach of such as he, and want its sale restricted. We don't see any necessity for taking pains to preserve the lives of boys who wreck mind and body by indulging in cigarette smoking. Why should they live any longer? Of what good are they to themselves, their families or the community?

Arbitration, as the Town of Campbellton knows by past experience, is an expensive luxury; but however expensive it may be the Town is justified in the course it has taken in the Messrs. Duncan matter. Six thousand five hundred dollars for about ten acres of practically wilderness land is the limit.

An Inviting Study.

Rev. Dr. MacTavish, of Deseronto, Ont., Convener of the Presbyterian General Assembly's Committee on Young People's Societies, addressed a Union Meeting in the Presbyterian Church here on Wednesday evening. He was pleased to report that there had been a very satisfactory increase, both in the membership and contributions of the Societies during the past year, and that the outlook now was particularly hopeful. It is the aim of his committee to see Mission Study classes instituted in every congregation, and to organize unions in each Presbytery with the object of having each union support one missionary, at least, in either the home or foreign field. Dr. MacTavish has come east after attending the Conference of the Young People's Missionary Movement at Silver Bay, on Lake George, N. J. Speaking of that great gathering he said, "I regard it as a most significant and hopeful sign of the times that more than 600 young people should spend ten days together in the earnest study of mission fields, missionary methods and missionary principles, and yet this was the case at a Conference which has just closed at Silver Bay, N. J. It is equally significant that though the movement came into existence only three years ago, it was found necessary to hold two conferences this year, and even though 900 young people received instructions at these, the Secretary was reluctantly compelled to refuse over 100 applicants because of lack of accommodation. Next year four conferences will be held, one of which will be in Canada, probably during the holidays in the Ladies' College, at Whitney, Ont. The directors of the movement are the Mission Secretaries of 15 different boards in the United States and Canada. Rev. Dr. R. P. McKay, representing the Presbyterian Church, and Dr. C. P. Stevenson, representing the Methodist Church, are the two representatives from Canada. It is the intention to hold Missionary Institutes of two or three days duration in most of the larger cities in the United States and Canada during the coming autumn and winter. The study of Missions is becoming so popular that the four Secretaries cannot respond to more than a mere fraction of the calls made upon them for directors of classes and institutes.

IN A SHOE

Could have saved a considerable sum on Shoe Leather had she brought her children here for Shoes. We would have fitted every one of the youngsters nicely with Good Wearing, Good Looking, Comfortable Shoes, that would have given service.

THE RETURN OF SHERLOCK HOLMES ...

BY A. CONAN DOYLE

The Adventure of Charles Augustus Milverton

No. 7 of the Series

(Copyright, 1904, by A. Conan Doyle and Collier's Weekly.)

(Copyright, 1905, by McClure, Phillips & Co.)

It is years since the incidents of which I speak took place, and yet it is with diffidence that I allude to them. For a long time, even with the utmost discretion and reticence, it would have been impossible to make the facts public, but now the principal person concerned is beyond the reach of human law, and with due suppression the story may be told in such fashion as to injure no one. It records an absolutely unique experience in the career both of Mr. Sherlock Holmes and of myself. The reader will excuse me if I conceal the date or any other fact by which he might trace the actual occurrence.

We had been out for one of our evening rambles, Holmes and I, and had returned about 6 o'clock on a cold, frosty winter's evening. As Holmes turned up the lamp the light fell upon a card on the table. He glanced at it and then, with an ejaculation of disgust, threw it on the floor. I picked it up and read:

CHARLES AUGUSTUS MILVERTON, Applauders Towers,
Hamstead.

"Who is he?" I asked.
"The worst man in London," Holmes answered as he sat down and stretched his legs before the fire. "Is anything on the back of the card?"

"I turned it over."
"Hum! He's about due. Do you feel a creeping, shivering sensation, Watson, when you stand before the serpents in the zoo and see the slithering, gliding, venomous creatures, with their deadly eyes and wicked, fattened faces? Well, that's how Milverton impresses me. I've had to do with fifty murderers in my career, but the worst of them never gave me the repulsion which I have for this fellow. And yet I can't get out of doing business with him—indeed, he is here at my invitation."

"But who is he?"
"I'll tell you, Watson. He is the king of all the blackmailers. Heaven help the man, and still more the woman, whose secret and reputation come into the power of Milverton! With a smiling face and a heart of marble, he will squeeze and squeeze until he has drained them dry. The fellow is a genius with his way and would have made his mark in some more savory trade. His method is as follows: He allows it to be known that he is prepared to pay very high sums for letters which compromise people of wealth and position. He receives these wares not only from treacherous valets or maids, but frequently from genteel ruffians who have gained the confidence and affection of trusting women. He deals with no regard name. I happen to know that he paid £700 to a footman for a note two lines in length and that the ruin of a noble family was the result. Everything which is in the market goes to Milverton, and there are hundreds in this great city who turn white at his name. No one knows where his grip may fall, for he is far too rich and far too cunning to work from hand to mouth. He will hold a card back for years in order to play it at the moment when the stake is best worth making. I have said that he is the worst man in London, and now I would ask you how could one compare the ruffian who is hot blood bludgeoned his mate with this man who methodically and at his leisure tortures the soul and wrings the nerves in order to add to his already swollen money bags?"

"Technically, no doubt, but practically, I had seldom heard my friend speak with such intensity of feeling."

"But surely," said I, "the fellow must be within the grasp of the law?"

"Technically, no doubt, but practically, I had seldom heard my friend speak with such intensity of feeling."

"What a pity!" said I, "the fellow must be within the grasp of the law?"

husband the whole story and to trust to his generosity."

Milverton chuckled.
"You evidently do not know the ear!" said he.

From the baffled look upon Holmes' face I could see clearly that he did.

"What harm is there in the letters?" he asked.

"They are splendidly—very brightly," Milverton answered. "The lady was a charming correspondent. But I can assure you that the Earl of Dovercourt would fail to appreciate them. However, since you think otherwise, we will let it rest at that. It is purely a matter of business. If you think that it is in the best interests of your client that these letters should be placed in the hands of the earl, then you would indeed be foolish to pay so large a sum of money to regain them." He rose and seized his astrakhan coat.

Holmes was gray with anger and mortification.

"Wait a little," he said. "You go too fast. We shall certainly make every effort to avoid scandal in so delicate a matter."

Milverton relaxed into his chair.

"I was sure that you would see it in that light," he purred.

"At the same time," Holmes continued, "Lady Eva is not a wealthy woman. I am sure that £2,500 would be a drain upon her resources and that the sum you name is utterly beyond her power. I beg, therefore, that you will moderate your demands and that you will return the letters at the price I indicate, which is, I assure you, the highest that you can get."

Milverton's smile broadened and his eyes twinkled humorously.

"I am aware that what you say is true about the lady's resources," said he. "At the same time you must admit that the occasion of a lady's marriage is a very suitable time for her friends and relatives to make some little effort upon her behalf. They may hesitate as to an acceptable wedding present. Let me assure them that this little bundle of letters would give more joy than all the candleabra and butter dishes in London."

"It is impossible," said Holmes.

"Dear me, dear me, how unfortunate!" cried Milverton, taking out a bulky pocketbook. "I cannot help thinking that ladies are ill advised in not making an effort. Look at this!"

He held up a little note with a coat of arms upon the envelope. "That belongs to—well, perhaps it is hardly fair to tell the name until tomorrow morning. But at that time it will be in the hands of the lady's husband. And all because of a few lines of letter-writing. If it was circulated among terms when your client's future and honor are at stake. You surprise me, Mr. Holmes."

"What I say is true," Holmes answered. "The money cannot be found. Surely it is better for you to take the substantial sum which I offer than to ruin this woman's career, which can profit you in no way."

"There you make a mistake, Mr. Holmes. An exposure would profit me indirectly to a considerable extent. I have eight or ten similar cases maturing. If it was circulated among terms that I had made a severe example of the Lady Eva, I should find all of them much more open to reason. You see my point?"

Holmes sprang from his chair.

"Get behind him, Watson! Don't let him out! Now, sir, let us see the contents of that notebook."

Milverton had glided as quick as a rat to the side of the room and stood with his back against the wall.

"Mr. Holmes, Mr. Holmes!" he said, turning the front of his coat and exhibiting the butt of a large revolver, which projected from the inside pocket.

"I have been expecting you to do something original. This has been done so often, and what good has ever come from it? I assure you that I am armed to the teeth, and am perfectly prepared to use my weapons, knowing that the law will support me. Besides, your supposition that I would bring the letters here in a notebook is entirely mistaken. I would do nothing so foolish. And now, gentlemen, I have one or two little interviews this evening, and it is a long drive to Hampstead." He stepped forward, took up his coat, laid his hand on his revolver and turned to the door. A few moments after we heard the slam of the carriage door and the rattle of the wheels as he drove away.

Holmes sat motionless by the fire, his hands buried deep in his trousers pockets, his chin sunk upon his breast, his eyes fixed upon the glowing embers.

For half an hour he was silent and still. Then, with the gesture of a man who has taken his decision, he sprang to his feet and passed into his bedroom.

A little later a rakish young workman, with a goatee beard and a swagger, lit his clay pipe at the lamp before descending into the street. "I'll be back some time, Watson," said he, and vanished into the night. I understood that he had opened his campaign against Charles Augustus Milverton, but I little dreamed the strange shape which that campaign was destined to take.

For some days Holmes came and went at all hours in this attire, but beyond a remark that his time was spent at Hampstead, and that it was not wasted, I knew nothing of what he was doing. At last, however, on a wild, tempestuous evening when the wind screamed and rattled against the windows, he returned from his late expedition, and having removed his disguise, he sat before the fire and laughed heartily in his silent inward fashion.

"You could not call me a marrying man, Watson?"

"No, indeed!"

"You'll be interested to hear that I'm engaged."

"My dear fellow! I congratulate you!"

"To Milverton's housemaid."

"Good heavens, Holmes!"

"I wasted information, Watson."

"Surely you have gone too far."

"It was a most necessary step. I am a plumber, with a rising business, Escomb by name. I have walked out with her each evening, and I have talked with her. Good heavens, those talks! However, I have got all I wanted. I knew Milverton's house as I know the palm of my hand."

"But the girl, Holmes?"

He shrugged his shoulders.

"You can't help it, my dear Watson. You must play your cards as best you can when such a stake is on the table. However, I rejoice to say that I have a hated rival, who will certainly cut me out the instant that my back is turned. What a splendid sight it is!"

"You like this weather?"

"It suits my purpose. Watson, I mean to burgle Milverton's house tonight."

I had a catching of the breath and my skin went cold at the words, which were slowly uttered in a tone of concentrated resolution. As a flash of lightning in the night alone up is an instant every detail of a wild landscape, so at one glance I seemed to see every possible result of such an action—the detection, the capture, the honor of career ending in irreparable failure and disgrace, my friend himself lying at the mercy of the odious Milverton.

"For heaven's sake, Holmes, think what you are doing!" I cried.

"My dear fellow, I have given it every consideration. I am never precipitate in my actions, nor would I adopt so energetic and, indeed, so dangerous a course if any other were possible. Let us look at the matter clearly and fairly. I suppose that you will admit that the action is morally justifiable, though technically criminal. To burgle his house is no more than to forcibly take his pocketbook, an action in which we are prepared to aid me."

I turned it over in my mind.

"Yes," I said, "it is morally justifiable so long as our object is to take no articles save those which are used for an illegal purpose."

"Exactly. Since it is morally justifiable I have only to consider the question of personal risk. Surely a gentleman should not let his name be stained when a lady is in most desperate need of his help?"

"You will be in such a false position."

"Well, that is part of the risk. There is no other possible way of regaining these letters. The unfortunate lady has not the money, and there are none of her people in whom she could confide. Tomorrow is the last day of grace, and unless we can get the letters tonight this villain will be as good as his word and will bring about her ruin. I must therefore abandon my client to her fate or I must play this last card. Between ourselves, Watson, it's a sporting duel between this fellow Milverton and me. He had, as you saw, the best of the first exchange—but my self respect and my reputation are concerned to fight it to a finish."

"Well, I don't like it, but I suppose I must," said I. "When do we start?"

"You are not coming."

"Then you are not going," said I. "I give you my word of honor—and I never broke it in my life—that I will take a cab straight to the police station and give you away unless you let me share this adventure with you."

"You can't help me."

"How do you know that? You can't tell what may happen. Anyway my resolution is taken. Other people beside you have self respect and even reputations."

KINGARTH MYSTERY

Adjourned Inquest Held at the Court House This Afternoon

The adjourned session of the inquest held at Kingarth last month to enquire into the nature of the death of the unfortunate woman found floating in the booms at that place and also if possible to identify the woman was continued at the Court House this afternoon before His Worship Mayor McNally. The jury was composed of the same men as before—George Stanger, foreman; John Powys, Orinton McLean, Robert Kelly, Joseph Goodine and Harvey Mills.

Since the former inquest at Kingarth, Deputy Sheriff Foster of Woodstock has been working hard on the case and his efforts appear to have been successful. Mayor McNally, Clerk H. B. Rainsford and Dr. Camber of Woodstock have also been actively and untiringly engaged in clearing up the mystery.

The woman has been identified as a Mrs. Hussey, who had been living for some time with her son-in-law, Mr. Robert Wells, and who had left on the night in question for Woodstock.

At the inquest this afternoon the first witness called was Deputy Sheriff Foster of Woodstock. He said that he lived in Woodstock as provincial constable. He said that he had an interview with Dr. Camber and also with Mr. Bailey, a boot and shoe merchant of Woodstock, who identified the rubber as similar to that sold to Mrs. Wells with whom Mrs. Hussey was staying. Mr. Bailey was the only man in Woodstock who sold this kind of rubber. Dr. Camber also remembered making the teeth in question.

The next witness called was Henry Wells.

Mr. Wells said that he had lived in Woodstock as a mill engineer for six years.

His residence was about one half a mile from the river, he having lived there since last October. Mrs. Mary Jane Hussey owned this house previously, but afterwards she lived with him. The mortgage was foreclosed and the place sold to Mr. Wells, he giving Mrs. Hussey a written agreement to support her during her life. She lived with him from Christmas until April 22nd. She was missed on the morning of April 28th. Witness regarded her of sound mind although she worried a great deal. He had twice heard her say that she expected the river would be the end of her yet. No notice was taken of these remarks. On the night before Easter Sunday she went to bed as usual, sleeping up stairs. He and his wife slept down stairs.

Mrs. Hussey did not appear to be particularly worried that day. She stated previously that she was going to Houlton. Witness did not see Mrs. Hussey again. In the morning she was missing. They had never had any quarrels, but had always lived peacefully. Witness knew nothing further as to her departure.

JAPAN'S DEMANDS

Are Far From Moderate

ST. PETERSBURG, July 29.—The tone of the Russian press grows more warlike as the peace conference draws nigh, and the government on all sides is warned to resist humiliating demands, even at the cost of continuing the war.

"Peace on the Japanese terms, as outlined by Mr. Sato," says the Russ, which is the first paper to comment seriously on the Sato interviews, "can only be an armistice."

The Russ, which has now the largest Liberal following, finds the Japanese demands far from moderate and sees little chance of the conference ending successfully, if Mr. Sato has stated the Japanese position, but appears to believe that Baron Komura's spokesman is acting on his own responsibility. There seems the possibility of a bluff to pave the way for the acceptance of actual and more moderate terms by Japan.

The Soviet continues its fault-finding with the "tactlessness" of the visit of Secretary of War Taft, and Miss Alice Roosevelt to Japan, while the United States is the host of the peace plenipotentiaries.

How to get Consumption

Ninety per cent of the "lungers" contract consumption by allowing power of resistance fall so low that a favorable condition for the development of the bacilli is proved. In a healthy system consumption can't take root. But where there is weakness and debility, there you find tuberculosis.

For developing strength building up weak, nothing equals Ferrozone. It makes the blood nutritious and the nerves enduring. The way it converts food into nutriment, the appetite it gives is surprising. Just what the man verging on consumption needs—that's Ferrozone. If tired and weak don't put off. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets—at all dealers.

$5,000,000 Company

Montreal and British capitalists yesterday concluded an arrangement at the Windsor Hotel which will result in the formation of a $5,000,000 company to exploit the forest resources of Newfoundland; particularly in the manufacture of paper and pulp. The new project will unite and develop three well known Newfoundland properties, the Newfoundland Timber Estates, Limited, the Newfoundland Lumber and Pulp Co., Limited, and Exploits River Lumber and Pulp Co., Limited, comprising in all 1,650,000 acres. Most of this land is the cream of the Island's forest pulp and lumber acres.

The arrangements for the flotation of the new syndicate were heard by Mr. Harry Judson Crowe, vice-president and general manager of the New Foundland Timber Estates, Limited. He conceived the idea of uniting the three properties above mentioned, and after collecting the necessary data went to London in an effort to interest British capitalists. In this Mr. Crowe was entirely successful, floating the new enterprise with a capital of $5,000,000, under the name of the British Newfoundland Syndicate, Limited. Included in the venture are a number of leading British, Montreal and Boston capitalists, most of the latter being personally familiar with the properties the new company will operate on.

It is stated that there are already five sawmills on the new syndicate's lands, and 3,500,000 feet of logs. It is the intention of the syndicate to immediately erect a large pulp and paper plant, which within a couple of years will attain a capacity of 200 tons of paper per day. A number of leading British publishers are interested in the venture, one of whom is already owner of several extensive paper mills and it is stated that contracts have already been entered into for a large portion of the syndicate's prospective output.

A meeting of representatives of the various interests, involved was held yesterday at the Windsor, at which, it is announced, the agreement entered into by Mr. Crowe with the British syndicate was unanimously ratified. Amongst those present at this meeting were: Mr. Henry M. Whitney, president of the Newfoundland

Rich Find Of Silver

COBALT, ONT., July 29.—Another important find has been made, and one that would indicate that the ore of this district extends further than has hitherto been believed.

ed, except by the most sanguine. The north half of lot 13, con. 2, in the township of Bucko, is owned by a Swede named Peterson. He gave an option on the place to the Richardsons of Philadelphia for six months at the price of $5,000 the purchase to be paid when a discovery of silver was made.

There was an outcropping of iron seen from the start and the Philadelphia people have been working for two weeks. Yesterday at a depth of four feet the free silver was found.

The township of Bucko adjoins the township of Coleman, and is pretty well infested with prospectors.

R. R. Gamey has the south half of the Peterson lot, and on his half there is the same outcropping as shown in the Peterson's half. He has three men out prospecting, and has every hope of success.

TOWN COUNCIL

covered by the former reservoir which was transferred to the Town of Campbellton as aforesaid) and Joseph Duncan also of the said Town of Campbellton Farmer is the proprietor of 4.29 acres of the said lands and the said Robert L. Duncan claims and demands $5000 for the lands required of him and the said Joseph Duncan $5000 for the lands required of him as compensation or purchase money for the said respective lots of lands and the transfer of their respective title thereto to the said Town of Campbellton.

And whereas in the opinion of this Council the aforesaid amounts viz $5000 for the lands required from the said Robert L. Duncan and $1500 for the lands required from the said Joseph Duncan as herein before set forth are each in excess of the actual value of the said lands so required aforesaid and this Town Council cannot agree with the said Robert L. Duncan, and Jos. Duncan the respective, proprietors of the land so required or either of them for the purchase thereof and negotiations for the purchase by and transfer to the said Town of Campbellton of the said lands have failed.

Be it therefore resolved that this Council under and by virtue of the Act 60th Victoria, Chapter 58, Section 9, do give notice in writing to the said Robert L. Duncan, and to the said Joseph Duncan respectively, (they being the persons whose lands are intended to be taken) that the lands aforesaid of which they are the respective proprietors are required for the purposes of the Town of Campbellton, under the said Act and request each of them to appoint an arbitrator as required by and for the purposes designated in said Act 60th Victoria, Chapter 58, Section 9, and that this Council do forthwith appoint an arbitrator as required and provided by the aforesaid Act; and that the Lieutenant Governor in Council be requested under the provisions and requirements of the said Act to appoint the third arbitrator.

It was moved by Coun. Taylor, seconded by Coun. Joudry that the following notice be sent to Robt L. Duncan:

To Robert L. Duncan, of the Town of Campbellton, in the County of Restigouche, Farmer,

WHEREAS it has become necessary and the Town Council of the Town of Campbellton, has by resolution to that effect decided to increase the capacity of the Reservoir of the Town of Campbellton Waterworks system situate on the block known as "Parker Lake Outlet" by the erection of a new dam near the site of the old one,

Whereas it is deemed necessary that the title to the whole of the following lot, piece or parcel of land, situate on both sides of the brook known as "Parker Lake Outlet" in the vicinity of the Reservoir of the Town of Campbellton Waterworks System in the said Town of Campbellton, bounded and described as follows:—Starting from a post 25 degrees East from your (Robert L. Duncan) West line and 29 feet North from the centre of Parker Lake Road, running South 64 degrees 3 minutes, East magnetically 764.3 feet to a post and from thence 400 feet North 4 degrees 45 minutes East magnetically to another post thence 764.5 feet North 64 degrees 30 minutes West to another post and thence South 4 degrees 45 minutes West to the place of beginning, containing 6.39 acres (less the lands covered by the former Reservoir of the Town of Campbellton Waterworks System which were transferred to the said Town of Campbellton by the Campbellton Water Supply Company) of which you are the proprietor should be vested together with the possession thereof in the said Town of Campbellton,

And whereas the Town Council of the said Town of Campbellton have been unable to agree with you for the purchase thereof,
You will therefore take notice that you are hereby requested and required as provided under and by virtue of the Act 60th Victoria, Chapter 58, Section 9, of the Legislature of the Province of New Brunswick, to appoint an arbitrator to act with the two other arbitrators to be appointed as provided for by Section 9, of Chapter 58 of 60th Victoria, to determine the value of the before mentioned and described lot of land the same being required for the purposes of the Town under this Act.

A similar notice is to be sent to Jos. Duncan.

Conn Taylor asked Mr. McLatchy if it would be necessary ascertain the amount of land covered by the old reservoir.

Mr. McLatchy said that it would be better to have the exact area.

The Council then retired to committee room to confer with Mr. McLatchy re arbitrators.

On return of Council to business Coun Joudry moved that Robt L. Hickey be appointed caretaker of town horses, and street commissioner at a salary of $45.00 per month. Carried.
Council adjourned

Sir James Watson's Opinion.

He says that the commonest of all disorders, and one from which few escape is Catarrh. Sir James firmly believes in local treatment, which is best supplied by "Catarrhazone." No case of Catarrh can exist where Catarrhazone is used; it is a miracle worker relieves almost instantly and cures after other remedies fail. Other treatments can't reach the diseased parts like Catarrhazone because it goes to the source of the trouble along with their own breathe. Catarrhazone is free from cocaine, it leaves no bad after-effects, it is simply nature's own cure. Accept no substitute for catarrhazone which alone can cure Catarrh.
