CAPTURED PICKPOCKETS.

Detective Nickle Makes an Important Capture on the Market-Detroit Gang Were Beginning Systematic Operations.

When Mrs. Hartwick, of Ilderton, was leaving her home to come to market Saturday, her husband placed a sum of money in her purse to pay a bill. Mrs. Hartwick is not sure whether it was $9 or $11, but she knows that it was in $1 and $2 bills. Arrived in the city, Mrs. Hartwick spent some time on the market, and having occa-sion to look for her purse, found it gone. She at once reported her loss at the police station. Detective Nickle at once hurried to the market, and soon located a strongly-built young man in the act of pick-ing a woman's pocket. He was at ing a woman's pocket. once taken into custody, and brought to headquarters. Here he gave his name as Park Lewis, of Detroit. 75 CENTS WILL BUY A REGULAR $1.75 armchair; only 30 of them left. Keene Bros., 127 King street, opposite Market House. tain remarks he let fall induced the three detectives to visit a boardinghouse near the market, in the expectation of finding there accomplices of the man they had arrested. ORCHESTRAL SQUARE PIANO-Carved legs, splendid condition; a bar-gein; also 5-octave Beil Organ. San-born & Trebilcock, 183 Dundas street (Anderson's book store). Earlier in the morning Detective Nickle had noticed a young man acting suspiciously on the square, and the de-tective warned him that the city air was not good for his health. Evidently the officer's kindly solicitude was not appreciated to the full, for the detective found him at the market square boarding house in company with a young woman. The latter claimed to be the wife of the first prijam, 50c; no better jam put up. Choice tomato catsup, quart bottle, 15c; lemon snaps, 10c lb, 3½ lbs for 25c; molasses snaps, 8c lb, 3½ lbs for 25c; vanilla bis-cuits, 10c lb, 3 lbs for 25c; choice mix-ed biscuits, 10c lb; lemon biscuits, 10c lb; choice large roll butter, 20c; fresh eggs, 13c dozen, 2 dozen for 25c. In their rooms were found, among other things, a package of French chalk, used by pickpockets to make their hands slippery; a long roll ef cloth, apparently from a tailor's stock, and a com-plete opium smoking lay-out. The two were taken to the station, where the man was detained and the woman al-IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH OLD sores, piles, burns, skin disease, use New Century Magic Salve. 25 cents box. In Park Lewis' possession was found $9, in $1 and $2 bills. There was also Ludlum, 128 Michigan avenue, Detroit. It addressed him as "Dear Rock," was signed "Paddy," and told in uncouth spelling of the writer's being "pinched" in Windsor and sent to the Central at Toronto. Several letters signed "Park," written from Wayne county jail to the writer's wife, were also found, as well as letters addressed Miss Kitty Doyle, 23 Chester street Detroit. It will probably be found that both men are well-known professional pickpockets. One suspicious circum-stance is that the inside pocket of Park Lewis' overcoat is cut away in a manner adopted by pickpockets, to enable them to ply their calling when their hands are apparently reposing innocently in their pockets.

PROFIT ON BOOKS OF STAMPS. SWEEPING EASTERN TRANSVAAL The British are sweeping the Eastern Transvaal clear of everything useful to the Boers. All standing crops found a postcard addressed to Park have been destroyed, but the women and children are being cared for. Five bundred of them have been conveyed to Utrecht, where their wants are well attended to.

BOERS PLUNDER A TRAIN. Pretoria, March 30 .- The Boers derailed and plundered a freight train near Johannesburg last night.

London, March 31.-The process of hunting down the Boers still under arms drags along. The dispatches received last night related mainly the movements of marauding bands south of the Orange River Cradock and Stevnberg districts. Several of these bands have returned to the river, after being in the mountainous sections of Cape Colony for three months. Kedtzog, Kritzenger, Schee per and Van Reenan are the principal leaders, and their commandoes, while in feeble force, seem to be hunting for fording places where they can cross

DEWET BEYOND THE VAAL. Dewet, who was less fortunate in his invasion of Cape Colony, is now beyond the Vaal, and is collecting the scattered Boer forces in the Standerton district with a view to joining Botha. Serious as have been the blows dealt by French and Babington, no military expert ventures to predict when the Dutch powers of sistance will be exhausted. Yet there is a growing feeling that the British must impose rather than offer terms. DR. LEYDS HEARD FROM.

London, April 1.-John Xavier Merriman, one of the Cape Colony states-men, whom the Salisbury Govern-ment has denied a hearing before the House of Commons relative to the South African situation, in an interview today spoke at length on condi-tions in South Africa. Mr. Merriman has spent more than 50 years of his life in South Africa. He has been four times a member of the Cape ministry and now represents Namaquarand in

The crown colony administration is a most odious form of despotism. Against this the Boers will fight indefinitely.

"My colleagues and myself recommend, now that Gen. Botha has intimated his willingness for the Boers to relinquish absolute independence, that South Africa should immediately be federated after the manner of Canada and Australia. No other scheme promises the faintest hope of peace.

Already Germans are deeply rooted there, and they only await an opportune moment to hoist their flag from Zambesi to the Cape.

IN THE BRITISH HOUSE. London, March 31. - The debate in

House of Commons on South Africa showed the opposition to be divided. It consists of Milnerites and anti-Milnerites-those who are for conciliation and those who are for fighting to a finish, Home Rulers and Crown Colonists, Liberal Imperialists and Liberals who object to being otherwise designated. The rejection by Gen. Botha of the terms which the government offered is claimed to have strengthened the govrenment's case. The government determined to be master, conquerer as Lord Salisbury put it, of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State. The battle is now raging around Sir Alfred Milner. Some say that he has done the work and should be allowed to finish. Others maintain that he has been the evil hand, the British in Cape Colony swear by him and would feel affronted by his withdrawal. GOVERNMENT CONTROL

Hon. G. E. Foster's Suggestions on Brink Problem-Power of the Profit-Takers.

Toronto, April 1.-The features of the Canadian Temperance League yesterday in Massey Hall were the speeches of the Hon. G. E. Foster and Hon. Geo. W. Ross, who was chairman. The auditorium was crowded by an immense audience, who became enthusiastic when Hon. Mr. Foster suggested that the question of the government assuming control of the traffic in intoxicants was one that deserved the thoughtful consideration of the people of Canada.

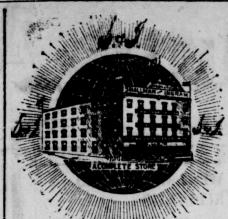

HON. GEORGE W. ROSS. Hon. Geo. W. Ross. who occupied the chair, congratulated the league on the splendid success with which their series of meetings this season had been attended. Hon. Mr. Ross said there were many persons who looked upon the subject of temperance reform as a very narrow one, and could not understand how men of various degrees of intellectual culture and such varied attainments could continue their interest in a movement so limited in its scope. The tendency and purpose of the league meetings were to dispel this illusion. He contended that temperance reform was a matter that touched upon and affected many of the great political, so-cial and economic problems of the day. It reached indeed the very vital springs of the social life of the peo-ple. He had no doubt that the moral tone of the life of the people had during past years been much alleviated and improved. The improvements had perhaps not been so noticeable as in the old land, where the moral degradation arising from intemperate habits of the people had taken a wide

ROOM FOR WORK.

In Canada, however, there was still for the philanthropist, the church and the temperance reformer to continue their efforts for many to come. Temperance had, moreover, its legislative side. It was question whether legislation on the subject had sufficiently broadened. In some countries legislation prohibited the traffic and in others restricted or Prohibition obtained in some of the states of the union, but not in others. The question was one that required thought, and could not be dismissed suddenly, as it reached down to the very life of our political constitution. Again, temperance had its scientific side, and required the best judgment and scientific investigation of our ablest men. The subject had, finally its religious aspect. What was wanted was to consider thoughtfully all the phases of the work, and when they had come to an understanding on them all the public course would be clearer. The league was doing this good work of obtaining all the possible light that could be thrown upon the question. It gave him pleasure to preside on that occasion, especially be-cause his old colleague, the Hon. G E. Foster, was to be the speaker of the afternoon. Although he had been associated with Mr. Foster, he had never heard him make a speech except for a few minutes. When Mr. Foster came into the House of Commons," continued Mr. Ross, "I went out." (Laughter.) He considered Mr. Foster as one of the clearest and most incisive debaters in Canada. HON. MR. FOSTER Mr. Foster caused something of a sensation by urging that the Gothenburg system be given a trial in Can-ada. The tendency of the people, he said, of late years, had been to aban-don local option in fighting intemperance, and to seek wider areas of restriction. Manitoba had passed a prohibitory law, and its constitutionality had only to be sanctioned to make it operative. Temperance people now wanted a law which would extend from ocean to ocean; but they might not be able to get it. Would it not therefore be worth while to consider if there was not some other way of accomplishing the object aimed at? He thought government control worthy of considera-The strongest bulwark of liquor traffic today was the selfish interest that individuals had in the traffic because of the gains that are made The men who made their money out of the traffic were the chief opponents of prohibition. The government were de nounced for failure to prohibit, but if his hearers searched beneath they would find that the power they had to overcome was the immense power lying behind the traffic. If this were true, would it not be wise to cut off every form of profit? This could be done by making the government the liquor seller. The objection was made to this that the government then be interested in making profits, but in his opinion no government could enlightened public opinion stimulating the liquor trade for gain. There would be no inducement to sell for gain; the sale would drop off; the money power would be no longer interested and the ultimate issue would be total prohibition. His point was that if the traffic must continue for years, it would be better to be conducted under the best than under the worst conditions. He was not prepared on that platform to say he would carry out the project, even if he had the power, but he commended the idea to the thoughtful consideration of the people.

TAUGHT A LESSON

New York Woman Learned Not to Judge by Appearances.

"I had a rather funny experience with the owner of the apartment where I reside the other day," said a woman who had just settled in one of the fashionable apartment houses of neighborhood of Morningside Heights. "The janitor and his helper were assisting my maid to set things to rights. A third man in his shirtsleeves, and acting like a laborer, was with the janitor and assisted in meving some of the furniture. When their work was done I gave to each of them a quarter for their services. I noticed that the man of the shirt sleeves did not take the money, and said, give it to the other two men to divide be-tween them. As I wished a rather elaborate gas chandelier in one of the rooms removed so that I could arrange some decorations in its place, I told the janitor of my wishes. He spoke to the man in the shirt sleeves, who at once came to me and told me it was impossible to remove the fixture. 'It is a very handsome fixture,' he said, and its removal would tend to injure the appearance of the apart-

"'That's your opinion,' I remarked, rather curtly, but mine is different. I have plans that I think will improve don't see what business it is of yours anyway, as I hire these apartments and pay the rent, and can do as I please about the gas fixtures, I suppose. 'Very true, he said blandly. 'I only happen to be the owner of the house, and I should prefer not to have the fixtures removed, as doing so might injure the walls. Still I will have it done if you wish, and will have a gasfitter come here at once.' Then he very politely bowed himself out of the Then he door, and I was left considerably abashed. Then it dawned on me that I had offered him a quarter for his work about the house. Now, I feel as if I never wanted to face him again, for he is a man worth very close to $1,000,000, so my husband says. It was only another incident tending to show how little one can judge people by outward appearances."-New York Times.

"What became of that swell gun which the Englishman Greville brought up with him to Sturgeon Lake?" asked one. "He found it was no good and got rid f it," replied a short dark delegate from "I'll tell you about it. He came to my camp and asked me how to fill cartridges. I had seen the gun and knew it to be a good one in the hands of a man who could appreciate it. I undertook to load the cartridge shells for him, and put in more wads than powder. He did not wait to see it done, so I fixed 'em up all right. I tried a couple of shots myself, and the powder did not throw the lead more than thirty feet. Then I called to Greville and What's the matter with this gun? She won't throw worth a cent.

"She's all right. Let me have her,' and he took the gun, while I threw a chip out in the water for him to shoot at.

"You should have seen his face. The rous about twenty yards out in the water, and the shot fell about half way. He tried a dozen cartridges, and some of them were so weak that you could hear the shot rolling down the barrel, hear the shot roiling down the barrel, and see them fail out in the water at his feet. He swore the man who sold him the gun was a thief, and he wrote to his solicitors in England about it. When he had finished swearing he turned to me and said:

"I'll sell you the gun for five dollars."

I'll sell you the gun for five dollars.' "I hesitated, saying something about it being a big price to pay for a gun that would not throw lead, but guessed I could get the price by trading it off with an Indian on account of its fine appearance. He got the five. I've got the gun. You've seen it shoot, haven't you, Bob?"

Compound.

It seems foolish to pay several hundred dollars for something which two dollars will buy, doesn't it? Yet that is just what thousands of asthmatics are doing every year, besides losing their health. They are trying to get free from the tortures of asthma, but unless they take Clarke's Kola Compound they will keep on trying. It is the only permanent cure. Mr. Allan Faulkner, one of the best-known farmers in Dufferin county writes: "For sixteen years I have been almost a constant martyr to asthma. Only an asthmatic could realize what I have suffered. Many days and weeks I could not leave the house, and night after night could not lie down. I spent many hundred dollars in search of a cure, and tried nearly all our local doctors and some in Toronto, but became worse each year. My druggist, Mr. Stevenson, of Orangeville, recommended Clarke's Kola Compound about two years ago. I took, in all, eighteen bottles of this grand medicine during nine months; each week I gradually improved, and am now completely cured. It is now over a year since being cured, and I have not had a single gradually improved, and am now completely cured. It is now over a year since being cured, and I have not had a single attack since, and have gained much of my old-time strength and weight. No amount of money nor anything else could estimate its value to me."

(Signed) ALLAN FAULKNER.

I have for years been personally acquainted with Mr. Faulkner, and can certify to the absolute truth of above statements. (Signed) THOS. STEVENSON, Druggist, Orangeville. Clarke's Kola Compound is sold by Chemists everywhere. $2 per bottle, three for $5, or from the Griffiths & Macpherson Co., Limited, Toronto, Canada. Sold by Anderson & Nelles.

The April Fool of Long Ago

In powdered wig and buckle shoe, Knee breeches, coat and waistcoat gay, The wealthy squire rode forth to woo Upon a first of April day.

He would forget his lofty birth, His spreading acres and his pride, And Betty, fairest maid on earth, Should be his own-his grateful bride.

The maid was young, and he was old; The maid was good to look upon.
What cared she for his land or gold?
Her love was for the good squire's son.

He found her as the noonday hush
Lay on the world, and called her name.
She looked up, conscious, and her blush
A tender interest did proclaim.

That April fool of long ago. flattered squire his suit did press

Without delay: "Say, wilt thou come," le said with pompous tenderness, "And share my wealth and grace my "Kind sir," the lovely Betty cried,

"I'm but a lass of low degree."
"The love that is controlled by pride Is not true love at all," quoth he.

I hold a man should woo and wed Where'er he wills—should please him-self."
"There is the barrier strong," she said,

"Of pedigree, and place, and pelf "Could one so lowly hope to grace Your home?" Right proud his air and tone:

You're pure of heart and fair of face; Why, Betty, you would grace a throne!" 'Since you so highly think of me'— Her tears and laughter were at strife— 'You will not mind so much, maybe, That I am Hubert's promised wife."

Pale went the good squire's florid cheek, His wrath flamed out-but Betty stood Brown-haired, red-lipped, blue-eyed and meek, A sight to make a bad man good.

She won him. "But why this guile— This secrecy?" his voice was rough. "We feared," she whispered, with a smile. "You would not think me good enough.

"An April fool am I. Come, come— My offer stands—as Hubert's wife." He laughed. "You'll share my wealth and home, And brighten up a lonely life."

He kissed her cheek and rode away, Unbroken was his heart, I wist, For he was thinking of a day A day back in youth's rosy mist, And of a form and of a face.

dear, dead love," he whispered The while he rode at sober pace—

ABOLISH THE HOUSE OF LORDS!

Herbert Gladstone Thinks This Must Be Done.

Strong Letter From the Late Premier's Son.

Salisbury's ...ness Said To Be Very Serious-Speech From Queen Alexandra to Her Danish Friends.

London, April 1 .- Herbert Gladstone, member for West Leeds, has issued a letter to his constituents making a striking indictment against the government which the Daily News de-"will be welcomed by all Liberals as a bugle call to action and as worthy of his father's son." He appears to have struck a note on which a majority of the Liberals can unite against what even the Conservative organs admit to be the weak management of the party in power. The from the following extracts: "The war in South Africa will cost not far short of £200,000,000 ($1,000,000,-600) and the settlement seems as far off as ever. There are problems to be solved in the far east of the first magdestitute of a clear, settled policy. Already the huge expenditure for the army and navy is going up by leaps and bounds and will force Europe to add to its ruinously large armaments.

"The Irish question is more to the front than ever, and the government seems to view it with apathetic impotence. "The advocates of the Liberals are not endeavoring to take up the government's burden until they have 'exacted conditions that their policy will not again be stultified by the rejection of their measures by the House of Lords. Whether the conditions should be exacted from the King or whether the Liberals must frankly appeal to the last, it is announced that an explosion country for the practical abolition of the chief's powder magazine killed the House of Lords is not quite clear. his forty wives. But anyway, as the Daily News says, it is a bold and somewhat startling suggestion, in which Mr. Gladstone seems to have put his finger on the weak spot of modern Liberalism.'

SALIEBURY'S ILLNESS.

London, April 1 .- The Weekly Dispatch repeats the story published in the Daily Express that Lord Salisbury is suffering from a kidney affection which is likely to incapacitate him for some time, and says it learns that the premier's illness has taken so unfavorable a turn that his proposed visit to asses. the Riviera has become almost hopeless and that the announcement of his resignation of the premiership and his retirement from political life may be anticipated before the end of April 1. The Dispatch says:

The premier's condition became so physicians were hastily summoned. In done. order to avert a crisis, a special prescription was made up, the application of which checked the approaching complications, but the premier's condition for the last day or two has disappointed all the medical men. One of the earliest callers on Saturday was a special messenger from the King."

BULLETINS.

London, April 1 .- The following bulletin was issued last evening: "Lord Salisbury was attacked with influenza The illness has run the normal course and has been attended by the usual prostration. The temperature, however, has been almost normal for the last two days and his lordship's strength has improved, with increasing power of taking food .--Douglas Powell, H. R. Walker.

Inquiries yesterday afternoon at the residence of Lord Salisbury elicited the information that he was "going on well and much stronger."

One of the private secretaries and no other person in authority was accessible, but the foregoing statement had been prepared for callers. Mr. Arthur J. Balfour went to Windsor yesterday to visit King Edward, although his majesty only left London Saturday afternoon. The visit is supposed to have had some connecwith Lord Salisbury's illness. Lord Cranborne, the premier's son, issues, however, a denial of this alarm-

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S ADDRESS. FENIAN LEADER'S FUNERAL. Dublin, April 1.—The funeral of Jas. Stephens, leader of the Fenian movent of 1866, who died on Friday, took place yesterday, the remains being in-terred in the afternoon in Glasnevin cemetery, in the presence of a great assemblage of people, including delegates from the various national organizations. Michael Davitt was among the pall-bearers. The coffin vas drawn by six horses without riders, and covered by beautiful wreaths from political societies. An Irish flag floated over it. At the re-quest of John Redmond, Nationalist leader in the House of Commons, Timothy Harrington, lord mayor of Dublin; William Field, M. P. for the St. Patrick's division of Dublin, and John J. Clancy, member for the North Dublin county, followed the hearse as representatives of the Nationalist parliamentary party. Stephens was buried beside his wife in the "mar-tyrs' plot." There were no speeches or demonstrations.

HE MUST RESIGN HIS SEAT. London, April 1.-As a result of the evidence heard in the trial of the petition alleging that the agents of Fred-ric Rutherford Harris, ex-secretary of the British Chartered South Africa Company, were guilty of corruption in the parliamentary election at Mon-mouth counsel for Mr. Harris, at the resumption of the hearing, announced that Mr. Harris, under the circumstances, must relinquish his seat in the House of Commons. the confidential agent of Cecil Rhodes, and won for the Conservatives a seat which had long been held by the Liberals.

NO MORE OPERATIONS FOR AP-PENDICITIS.

Paris, April 1.-If some Paris doctors are to be believed, there will be no more operations for appendicitis. Recent experiments have shown that the much dreaded malady is due in many cases to helminthiasis, which means the presence of two kinds of worms, ascarides and trichocephali, in the coecum. In one case a doctor's daughter was about to be operated on for appendicitis on the report of two experts that it was inevitable, when she was cured by the administration of santonine. The mode of discovering the worms was by examination of the excreta, which proved to contain quan-

Noted Actor and a Well-Known Preacher Dead.

Demise of Roland Reed in New York-Rev John Jasper Is No More-Comedian Mandeville Paralyzed.

Woodstock, Ont., April 1.-Conrad Seltzer, a well-known hog buyer of this town went into the undertaking establishment of James Bain Saturday to pay his dues for the Woodmen of the World. He joked around and was in a happy frame of mind. leaving the store Mr. Seltzer walked across the street, when he was seized with heart failure and fell dead on the sidewalk. His dead body was carried back to the undertaking establishment he had just left. He had a heated argument with another buyer over some hogs which both wanted. The excitement is believed to have caused his death. He was 45 years of age and leaves a wife and family.

A SIMILAR CASE. Hamilton, Ont., March 30.-Mrs. El-len Stokes, 91 Pearl street north, died suddenly this afternoon while on her way to a doctor's office. Deceased had been feeling unwell and boarded a West End car for the purpose of visiting her physician. When the car reached the corner of Hess and King streets the woman suddenly expired. The remains were moved to her late residence. Death probably resulted from heart failure.

EXIT ROLAND REED. New York, April 1.-Roland Reed, the actor, died in this city Saturday, at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rush. Roland Reed was born in Philadel-phia in 1856, and was the youngest of three celebrated comedians whom that city gave to the stage, the others being Joseph Jefferson and John Drew. Stuart Robson was touring the western circuit as leading comedian with John G. Cartlich, the original Mazeppa, when Reed, a 6-months-old babe was carried upon the stage of the old Walnut Street Theater in the old-time farce, "Peter White." There intervened a long interval, during which he was stage door tender at the Walnut and usher and call boy at the Arch before he again came before the

"I was promoted to prompter," he has said of his life in those days, "and used to read the plays to the actors, standing beside Mrs. Drew, who corrected me when I made mistakes. While I was still call boy Lotta came to play her first star engagement in Philadelphia. One day 'Bob' Craig, the comedian, fell ill, and I sang the songs with Lotta and made a hit. Then I applied for the position of comedian for the next season, but Mrs. Drew had already engaged another. I left the Arch, my father exclaiming: 'My boy, you've ruined yourself.'"

The young Reed then shifted to the Walnut and shared the comedy roles with Chapman, until in 1871 he went to New Orleans, St. Louis and Kansas City in turns. In 1873 he accompanied Lizzie Price, afterward the wife of Charles Fletcher, on her illstarred tour with "Lucrezia Borgia"

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.
Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health. As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains fruits and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten. But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaked digestive organs, and several years experience has proven Stuart's Dys-pepsia tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive, and a remedy which may be taken daily with the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels or any par-ticular organ but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase

Judge Archibald in Montreal Dismissed Delpit's Case-Marriage of Catholics by Protestant Minister Is Valid-Civil Law Above Ecclesiastical.

Montreal, April 1.—Judge Archibald on Saturday dismissed the action of Delpit, formerly secretary to a lieutenant-governor of Quebec, who asked to have his marriage annulled, after having lived seven years with his wife, and after she had been him children. had borne him children.

The ground on which he based his action was that, though Roman Catholics, they were married by a Protestant clergyman, therefore there really existed no marriage.

The case was taken up by the ecclesiastical court of the Roman Catholic Church, which upheld his view, but Judge Archibald dismissed the case on the ground that marriage is a civil contract, and that religious differences cannot affect it. not affect it.
This judgment establishes an important precedent, and is the first serious instance of the civil law in the Province of Quebec (which is molded on the old French law), differing with the ecclesiastical laws. Shorn of legal phraseology. tical laws. Shorn of legal phraseology, the judgment means that the decision of the court places the civil law in marriage above ecclesiastical marriages, and Mrs. Delpit will have to ask a higher court to give effect to the ecclesiastical judgment rendered in the case, which meant divorce. The judge stated that the state had no right to interfere with the internal affairs of a church of any creed, but parties in the church had a perfect right to go to any legalized authority to get married if they wanted to.

An appeal will be taken against the judgment, and the case, it is expected, will be carried to the privy council in England.

It is much to be desired that every part of Ontario shall be represented, so that we can show to the crowds of visitors that our fruit area is not limited to one or two small sections. Canadians will be as much interested as Americans, and will be looking for a first-class display. A comprehensive series of awards is now being arranged, and it is hoped that Ontario will do fully as well at Buffalo in 1901 as at Chicago in 1893. The department has appointed Mr. W. H. Fruit-growers who have, or expect to have, fruit suitable to exhibit should at once place themselves in communication with him. The credit of our province is at stake, and everyone who can help to advertise the fine climate and productive soil of Ontario should lend a willing hand. The exhibit must be in place by May 1, when apples from cold storage, fruits and vegetables in glass, and evaporated fruits will be placed on the tables. After that fresh fruit will be sent forward every week.

It is understood that High School en up residence at Toronto, and that take the task alone. his resignation as a member of the school board will shortly be forthcoming. The matter will likely come before the board on Tuesday next. The appointment of his successor rests with the city council. There appears to be little doubt of the trusteeship being given to Mr. J. H. McMechan. Mr. J. M. Logan is said to aspire to the position.

SALARY INCREASES.

Although salary increases amounting to only $450 will be recommended to the council Monday night, several aldermen seem to be of the opinion that this sum will not pass; that some of the city officers are quite comfortably off, and can well afford to waive an in-crease at this time of financial diffi-culty. The mayer himself thinks only three salaries should be raised. Tax Collector Hayes deserves an increase. Western Fair board met yesterday and decided to advertise for 1901's lithoder his charge, and the work has been he considers. One of the most importdone in an entirely satisfac-tory manner. Now he spends work, and he is undeniably a most capable man in his particular line. Clerk Tambling is the third civic employe whom the mayor considers merits an increase this year.

INTERSWITCHING PRIVILEGES.

Mayor Rumball's interswitching idea is again coming to the front, after having been eclipsed for a while by the Port Stanley Road matter and the sugar beet agitation. His worship has received a letter from Mr. C. S. Hyman, M.P., who draws his attention to a bill now before the railway committee, that is being pushed by the Grand Trunk. It is his determination, wrote Mr. Hyman, to exert all his influence to get the Grand Trunk Railway Company to agree to inter-switching privileges. This has been refused by them in the past, to the great detriment of local interests. It was their refusal that caused the mayor to suggest the spur line, by means of which cars of freight might be transferred from one line to another. Should Mr. Hyman be successful he will have accomplished that which influential deputations have failed to do in the past. His success would mean the abolition of the stub line plan, and much saving and ma-terial benefit to the city would fol-

Illinois Bachelors May Be Taxed to Maintain One.

Springfield, Ill., March 30 .- State Senator Dawson has introduced a bill providing for a tax on bachelors. It requires that when a man above the age of 40, who has not been previously married, applies for a marriage license, he shall be charged an additional fee of $100. This fee is to be applied to a fund for the erection and maintenance of a spinsters' home under the jurisdiction of the state.

INTERESTING FIND

London, March 30.—The diary of Major Andre, hidden for 100 years, has been discovered in England. This in-teresting find was made recently by Lord Gray while he was going over some family papers that probably had not been disturbed since the conclusion of the American war of indepen-

Lord Gray's great grandfather was a commander of British troops in Am-erica at that time, and served on his staff, and this accounts for the diary being in the possession of the present peer. The diary is apparently the ori-ginal, but in order to be sure it is not copy, Lord Gray is sending over to the United States to secure samples of Andre's handwriting, none of which can be obtained here. The diary is a story of the campaign day by day during the years 1777-1778. It is simply, but interestingly told from the soldier's standpoint, and is accompanied by maps, apparently drawn by Andre himself, and with a skill that would make him the equal of any military hydrographer of today.

Mr. Aikens was seriously injured. Chicago, March 29.—Death came to David Truax, of this city, today. He was surrounded at the moment by all his closest relatives save his daughter, Miss Sadie Truax, leading woman of the Grand Opera House Stock Company at Pittsburg. Miss Truax was playing "Camille" one evening during the week, and was just going on for the last scene in which Camille dies when a telegram was handed her announcing the fatal illness of her father. Having no understudy, the act-ress was forced to continue the work. Early this morning the news of father's death was telegraphed to Miss Truax, but she was compelled to appear in her role as usual tonight. Miss will leave Pittsburg tomorrow night that she may attend her father's funeral, which will be Sunday.

"It is easy for the Real Estate Owners' Association to talk, as they have no responsibility. If a large section of the city were burned down some night for want of police protection - and nearly all the fires at night are discovered by the police-the Real Estate Owners' Association would not be held responsible, but the police commissioners would. Another instance is the recent Hamilton road burglary.Owing to sickness in the force there was no man on that beat for 8 or 10 days, and the consequence was that those fellows were able to spend an hour or more breaking into the store, and drilling the safe without being detected. The city is certainly not over-policed.

CHARGES DISMISSED

Judge Edward Elliott Finds Evidence Against Detective Ward Not Sufficient to Warrant Renrimand

The charges preferred by High Constable McLoud against Detective Ward and Constable Wm. Sadleir were investigated Saturday by Judge Edward Elliott. The charge against Ward was that of allowing the prisoner Ensign to escape at Ingersoll a couple of weeks ago, while Sadleir was charged with disobeying the orders of the high constable by going to Toronto to back prisoners when expressly forbidden to do so by McLoud. Sadleir's defense was that he had been asked to go by Ward, and that he had not asked the county to pay his expenses. Ward said that Sadleir asked to be taken to Toronto, and he consented. Ward told the story of the prisoner's escape, as published in The Advertiser a day or two after the occurrence. Judge Elliott found the charge against Sadleir proven, and severely reprimanded him for his action in disobeying the high constable. A repetition of the offense would mean dismissal. The judge did not think that Detective Ward had been sufficiently guilty of neglect of duty to inflict any punishment. Another charge against Detective Ward will be heard on April 8. It is laid by Macbeth & Macpherson, on behalf of Edward French, of Belmont, who charges false arrest on a charge of damage to property by driving into another man's rig, and overcharge of constable's costs.

OFFER NO PRIZES.

The agricultural committee of the Western Fair Board decided on Saturday not to offer prizes for sugar beets at this year's Western Fair. The reason for this decision was that the test would come too early, as the beets do not mature till near November. Consequently it would advertise London's district in an unfair way. Believing, however, in the wisdom of testing this country, the committee will recommend that a supplementary exhibit be held early in November The fair board, city council and Hor-ticultural Society might then act in conjunction to make the test thor-

Drugging Will not Cure Catarrh.

Drugging Will not Cure Catarrh.

Doctors say so. Victims of snuffs, ointments and tablets tell the same story. Catarrh is a germ disease. The germs excite disease in the lungs, throat, nasal passages and bronchial tubes. Germs are hard to get at, but destroy them and you cure the disease. How can it be done? By carrying powerful medication with the air you breathe direct to the diseased parts. You must be sure, also, that the medication will kill the disease germs. Catarrhozone is guaranteed to do this, that's why it has created such a sensation in the medical world. You simply breathe Catarrhozone; it destroys the germs—it heals—in a word, it cures. Now you know everything about Catarrhozone, except what you can learn by using it. Catarrhozone never disappoints, and is guaranteed to cure Catarrh. Price $1; small size, 25 cents, at druggists' or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont

"Perhaps you would be willing that I should bring my sister to see you," Clifton said, after a moment of thought, during which he wondered how he could manage it. "I am sure that you and Annie would be congenial friends."

Shirley lifted her eyes to his, while she said gravely:

"Mr. Vining, you understand my position. I am a poor girl, without a home; I have no social prestige—at least here in New York—although I should be glad to make your sister's acquaintance, and I also long for young companionship. I do not wish to do anything of which your

I also long for young companionship, I do not wish to do anything of which your parents might disapprove."

Clifton flushed at her words.

Had there been a double meaning in them?

He was inclined to think so, because of the emphasis she had employed.
Did she fear that his parents might not approve of his own visits to Abby Knapp's humble home under the present reumstances? "Pray, do not depreciate yourself," he emarked, with some embarrassment. "My sister could not have a companion whom she would enjoy more than your-self. You are refined, you are talented, you are beautiful—

ou are beautiful—
"Mr. Vining is disposed to be profusely omplimentary," Shirley coldly interposd, with a sudden straightening of her lender figure and a haughty uplifting slender figure and a balgary of her pretty head.

Clifton saw that she was displeased by what he had said, and he grew startingly pale, while he wondered at the strange heart-sinking which he experiingly pale, while he wondered at the strange heart-sinking which he experienced over the fact.

"Have I offended you?" he regretfully questioned. "Pray forgive me. I spoke unguardedly—and yet I uttered only the truth," he concluded earnestly.

Shirley now flushed rosily, while at the same time she searched his distressed face. Then she smiled frankly, and a roguish twinkle gleamed in her lovely eyes. "That is a somewhat questionable apology, I am afraid, Mr. Vining," she cried. "You make a bold statement, for which you ask to be forgiven, and with your next breath you repeat the offense." "But am I forgiven," the young man persisted, bending to look more closely into her dancing eyes.

"Y-es, if you will not offend in the same way again. I am not fond of flattery." she answered, while her glance flattery," she answer drooped beneath his.

"A person who flatters is guilty of insincerity." he gravely returned. "But I assure you, Miss Livingstone, I was perfectly honest in what I said. although perhaps I was rather presuming to express myself so freely."

But his eyes, as they dwelt upon her face, still proclaimed that he regarded her as rarely beautiful.

"Then I shall have to ask you to think hereafter twice before you express yourself," she said shyly, and with fluctuating color.

"I am afraid that you are still disown mother's eyes good to see."

"Well, then, I should think you might help Miss Livingstone to get all the work of that kind she wishes," Clifton remarked. "Just speak to some of the ladies for whom you do fine washing and I feel sure that they giveness," and he extended his hand to will be glad to avail themselves of her land to avail the land to her as he ceased speaking.

Shirley unhesitatingly laid hers within it, her coldness all gone, for she saw that he was sincere, and, with an air that he was become a prince, he lifted would have become a prince, he lifted it and touched it softly with his lips. "Good-night!" he murmured, with a thrill of feeling which instantly sent the rich blood again leaping to her temples.
"Good-night." she returned tremulously; then, as he passed out, she went lously; then, as he passed out, she went directly to her tiny chamber and shut the door. She wished to be alone, for her heart was in a strange flutter, and she was trembling from head to foot, while she had suddenly become conscious that Clifton Vining, in spite of the fact of their short acquaintance, had become the light of the world to her.

A Pleasant Occasion.

Ottawa, March 30.-Hon, David Mills and Mrs. Mills gave a very smart dinner at the Russell House last night. Mrs. Mills wore an elegant gown of black brocade, trimmed with jet, cream lace and purple flowers. The tables were decorated with carnations and hyacinths in pink and white, with ferns, smilax and autumn leaves. Covers were laid for forty-six. Miss O'Meara and Mrs. Mills rendered vocal selections during the evening, Mrs. M. S. Hasbroucks recited, and Miss Patterson gave a pianoforte solo. Among these guests were Speaker and Mrs. Power, Colonel and Mrs. Turner, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. Melvin Jones, Mrs. and Miss Melvin Jones, Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Casgrain, Hon. Youth has a perseverance all iits own, but the trouble is it never knows when to stop.

If the man does not stop the cough the cough stops the man; stops his appetite, his sleep, his pleasure and his work. So called "cough remedies" sometimes relieve but they don't go deep enough to cure. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs and diseases of the respiratory organs perfectly and permanently. It stops the cough. It heals the lungs, stops the hemorrhage, if the lungs are bleeding, and by purifying the blood and increasing the action of the blood-making glands enriches every organ with the good blood which alone will make a good body.

"My husband had been coughing for years and people frankly told me that he would go into consumption," writes Mrs. John Shireman, of No. 265 28th Place, Chicago, Ill. "He had such terrible coughing spells, we not only grew much alarmed, but looked for the bursting of a blood vessel or a hemorrhage at almost any time. After three days' coughing he was too weak to cross the room. The doctor did him no good. I stated the case to a druggist, who handed me a bottle of Br. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. My husband's recovery was remarkable. In three days after he began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery he was up and around, and in two more days he went to work. Two bettles cured him."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness. They produce permanent benefit and do not re-act on the system. One

Throat Consumption

The Beginning of the Deadly Malady Which Eventually Overcome This Insidious Disease While It Is Amenable to Medical Treatment.

Inflammation of the throat and bronchial tubes, cough, weakness of voice, continual hawking and spitting, pain and difficulty in expectoration, loss of flesh, sleeplessness and general weakness of the system, are indications of throat consumption, which is in most cases the starting point of what leads to consumption of the lungs, and death.
It is the old story of catching cold after cold, one upon the other, until the system is weakened and depressed, and the germs of consumption find an easy entrance. General as well as local treatment is absolutely imperative for diseases of this nature, which attack the constitution, and aim at the vital organs of the body.

To clear the throat, ease and loosen the cough, and make expectoration easy, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is of incalculable value. It positively checks disease, and affords relief from the distressing symptoms which fasten themselves on the victim of our national malady.

Then it is that Dr. Chase's Nerve

Food should be regularly and persist-ently taken to restore vitality to the system, and prevent emaciation, loss of appetite, fever and the terrible night-sweats which sap the life from the weakening body. You can fight off consumption by this combined treat-ment, and thousands of persons today are living witnesses of the wonder efficiency of this treatment. But the best way by far is to prevent the necessity of a deadly combat with consumption. Call a quick halt to the cough and cold by the prompt use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It is beyond all odds the most thorough and far-reaching remedy ever prescribed for diseases of the throat and lungs.

Also remember as a positive fact that neither consumption, pneumonia nor any other constitutional disease can find its way to a system that is kept in Entries for the big Easter bowling tournament, which begins on Cood Friday at Montreal, should be in the hands of Mr. Louis McRoble, Victoria Rifles' armory, before April 3.

OUTLOOK FOR APRIL.

Rev. Ira Hicks, the scientific forecaster of weather conditions, has is-sued April predictions. In substance they are as follows: Owing to three extra causes being combined, weather disturbances will not only be more general and severe, but the storm periods will be prolonged so as to overlap each other at times. The first storm period from March 31 to April 5 has three causes besides planetary causes. Rain, hail and thunder may be expected on or next to the Storminess, with April rains, continue up to about the 4th. Tornadoes in day, 1,500 palm branches were distributed, in connection with the Palm be expected on or next to the 1st. some parts, and the storm-god may claim some victims. Cool weather, with probably snow and frosts, from 4th to 7th. About 8th and 9th change to warmer, heavy April rains, hail and thunder from east to west. From 12th to 18th a regular storm period, with crisis about 15th, when look for vicious electric storms, attended by rain, hail of St. Thomas, meets on Thursday and dangerous winds, low barometer, night in the Grand Central Hotel to high temperature, daily paroxysms of wind and downpours of rain. Another dash of cold winds and frost will follow. The last week of April is covered with a storm period. AMERICAN BRAINS.

Brain Workers Require Special Food

American brain workers have for some years past been largely using an especially prepared food for rebuilding the gray matter of brain and nerve centers. Any man or woman who cares to make a test by using this food, Grape-Nuts, for a portion of one or two meals each day, will find a distinct increase in vigor, and particularly in brain power.

Then if they feel disposed to know the reason why, they can have Grape-Nuts analyzed, or take the analysis of the London Lancet and the result will show that the food contains the natural phosphate of potash obtained in a natural way from the cereals, and albumen obtained in the same

These two elements unite together in the human body to make and re-build the gray matter of which the brain, solar plexus and nerve centers

These are scientific facts which can be ascertained by any careful investigator. The food, Grape-Nuts, is not only the most scientifically made food in the world, but almost any user will agree with us that the flavor is unique | bridgeWells,a notable name is removed and most winning.

BIKING ON A LADDER.

Mr. Charles G. Grant, the world's champion step and ladder rider, who is at the Grigg House, is well known to many people in London. Mr. Grant has finished a very successful year's work in the United States, and is spoken of by the press of the country as the most daring bicyclist in America. One of his favorite feats is to ride down a 70-foot ladder, the rungs of which are farther apart than those in an ordinary ladder. Mr. Grant is arranging to give a street exhibition early this week.

INTERESTING GATHERING.

The union meeting of Women's Mission Circles of the various local Baptist churches will be held Tuesday afternoon in the Adelaide Street Church. A special programme has been prepared for the occasion by Miss Lottie McLeod and Mrs. (Dr.) Arthur Woodburne (both members of the Adelaide Street Circle) but now engaged in missionary work in Cocan-ada, India. The public meeting in the evening will be addressed by Mr. C. J. Cameron, acting secretary of the Home Missionary Society, and by Rev. Dr. Sowerby, of the Talbot Street Church.

The theory upon which the city sewage is treated is air-tight basin the garbage generates bacteria, which in turn consumes all the noxious ingredients, so that only clear water is allowed to escape into the harbor. City Engineer Tracy is a native of London, Ont., of which city he was formerly engineer.

SUCCESSFUL LONDON SINGER. Referring to the concert given in Toronto last week by Mr. Francis Firth. formerly of this city, the Globe says: Mr. Francis Firth's concert in Association Hall proved to be a very successful musical event, both m regard to the attendance and the manner in which the programme was carrid out. Mr. Firth, who is rcognized as one of our lading baritones, sang a varied selection that afforded a good test of his versatility and powers as a singer. His own composition, "O, Father, Hear Me," with violin obligato, and piano and organ accompaniment, one of the hits of the evening. Mr. Firth's rendering of "It Is Enough," from the "Elijah," and of the "Dio Possente," from "Faust," af-forded illustrations of his smooth style and conscientious interpretation.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE PARISH. Mr. George Parish died suddenly Saturday night, at his residence, 92 Askin street, having been stricken with paralysis the evening before. He was well known as a merchant here for nearly half a century, and was an esteemed citizen whose death will be much regretted. For many years he was a trustee and class leader of tht Askin Street Methodist Church, was also a Mason, an Oddfellow and Independent Forester and a life member of St. George's Society. In connection with the funeral tomorrow services will be held at the Askin Street Methodist Church, where, yesterday the deceased's pew was draped with black. The surviving family consists of two sons and three daughters—George Herbert, in the postoffice department at Ottawa: Alfred, at home; Mrs. Dr. Rollins, of Oshkosh, Wis.; Mrs. Dr. Stryker, of Portland, Ore., and Miss Parish, at home.

ist Church. Dr. Hutchinson was present, and defended himself with some spirit, the result of the conference being that the medical health officer was exonerated by the board. The complaints contained in the petition grew out of the recent outbreak of smailpox on Hill street and the Hamilton road. A suspicious case developed in the family of Mr. J. H. Homister, proprietor of the hotel at the corner of the Hamilton road and Trafalgar street. The patient was not removed nor was the house placarded. Another similar case developed in the neighborhood soon after: and on Saturday a lantry at the storming and capture of third case of the same character appeared on Hill street. In the latter instance the patient was removed to the isolation hospital, but, it is alleged, the house from which he was taken was not fumigated. It is upon these circumstances that the charges against Dr. Hutchinson were based.
