IN AN OYSTER!

Michigan Man Finds a Long Lost Gold Finger Ring.

Galesburg, Mich., Dec. 2.—One day early n October, Maxwell Tillbaugh, of Grove in October, Maxwell Tillbaugh, of Grove street, while eating oysters, encountered street, while eating oysters, encountered some hard substance, which proved to be a worn gold ring of peculiar workmanship, and bearing on its inner surface the initials "M. B. T." Forty years ago Mr. Tillbaugh came to Michigan from Nantigo, Md., leaving his parents and two slaves, one of the latter having been his nurse in his childhood, and also a great favority with his mother Singular trafavorite with his mother. Singular to re-late, he recognized the ring as one given by his mother to the favorite servant above-mentioned, more than 40 years ago. during which interval both his parents have died and he himself grown wrinkled and gray-haired.

More as a matter of experiment than in the expectation of any result, Mr. Tillbaugh wrote to Maryland, and has just received a reply. The ring was bequeathed by the former colored bequeathed by the former colored nurse to a granddaughter, and the lat-ter is now employed in opening oysters by one of the great packing companies on Chesapeake Bay. Upon being inter-viewed by the postmaster at Nantigo, the girl remembered the loss of the ring, but could not tell when or where it occurred could not tell when or where it occurred It was more than 40 years since Mr. baugh had seen the ring thus strater brought once more to his notice.

The lease of the Burlington system to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway Company for a term of 999 has been comsummated at Burlington. Papers in the case were filed there. "There will be absolutely no change in the management and operation of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific Railroads under the Northern Securities Company," said Henry White Cannon, of New York, a direc-tor of the Great Northern and the Oregon Railway and Navigation Companies. "The Northern Securities Company is purely a financial proposition, and has no existence outside of New York and New Jersey. It does not seek to control the operation of the roads, nor to dictate their policy as to rates. There is absolutely no call for remedial legislation, as no law of anti-trust, state or national, has been violated."

as were never known before. People alshares. Bankers grew rapidly rich, and so great was their business that in many cases they bought adjacent houses and doubled the size of their banks. Brokers grew rich also, and bought fine houses, race horses and yachts. Everything flourished. Today all is changed. The bankers are doing no business and in many cases have much depreciated stock upon their hands, which they would gladly get rid of. Brokers are lying wondering how they are going to find money to keep up the houses horses which last season they had plenty of cash to buy. The boerse is half-deserted and business there is well-nigh dead. The piteous lament of women and of the workman's family today rises from one end of the manufacturing portion of the country to the other. Thirty-five thousand workingmen are idle in Berlin alone. All over the country is the same cry, and everyday masters are reducing the number their hands, because there is not work for the hands to do. And with all this the poor people have winter upon them.

NOT SOLD. London, Dec. 2 .- The Right Hon. W. J. Pirrie, head of the great Belfast ship-building firm of Harland & Wolff, denies that he has sold his interest in the White Star Steamship Line to an American syndicate.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC IN LONDON. Statistics published today show that since the present outbreak of smallpox in London 116 persons have died of the disease, 233 have recovered and there are 420 cases under treatment. Sixty per cent of persons who had not been vaccinated died, and 20 per cent of those who had been inoculated. There were 57 doubtful cases. The first case was reported on May 20.

MISSIONS IN CHINA TO COMBINE. The representatives of the three great missions in China, the American Board of Foreign Missions, the London Society and the Presbyterian Board are engaged in carrying out the most important scheme for co-operation in the history of missions in China. The consolidated missions will be called the North China Educational Union. They will embrace theological and female schools and the college at Tungchou. Rev. Dr. Sheffield, of the American Board of Foreign Missions, will be president of the united societies.

DECLINE IN SECURITIES. The stupendous fall in British Govvernment, railroad and industrial securities since the South Africa war commenced is almost without precedent. In two years, the Bankers' Magazine says, the net decrease in the value of 325 selected listed securities, amounts to the enormous total of £143.946.000. Consols, which the day before the Boer ultimatum were quoted at 103%, are now 91 13-16, whereas, in the same period, several foreign government stocks and American railroads rose in value about £47.000.000. The decrease in fourteen British and Indian government funds amounted to £76,392,000. The common stock of nineteen British railroads lost in value in the war period over £69,000,000, while the decline in railroad debentures and preferences brings the total loss to over £100.000,006.

Buller presided at the Hotel Cecil Saturday night, was the scene of great enthusiasm, and a remarkable tribute to the personal popularity of the discredited general. But it passed off without any actual anti-government

Long before the hour fixed for the reception the great courtyard of the hotel was crowded with Bullerites. The arrival of Gen. and Lady Buller was the signal for enthusiastic cheering. The most dramatic scene was in the banquet hall, where Gen. Buller, as presiding officer, necessarily proposed the health of the King, by whose order the general had been retired from the army. A remarkable demonstration ensued. For several minutes there was deafning cheers, the waving of handkerchiefs and singing. It is doubtful if London has ever seen a more hearty or more equivocal response to the toast to the King.

DISAPPOINTED HIS ADMIRERS.

I. N. Ford cables as follows: Gen. Buller has disappointed his admirers. They cheered him tremendously at the Devonian dinner last night, and assured him of their unstinted admiration for his brilliant services to the British Empire and their unshaken confidence in him as a skillful and gallant officer, but he adopted a cau-tions tone, and failed to tell anything more about the historic message he sent to Sir George White in Ladysmith, after the battle of Colenso. He excused himself on the ground that he was precluded from entering into any discussion of the subject, but, in view of what had already taken place, it seemed scarcely likely that he would have been stopped by mere considerations of discipline from revealing the whole truth about the heliogram, if he did not realize that his case was a

POOR CAMBON. Much amusement has been created by the French ambassador's ordeal at Thanksgiving dinner under the auspices of the American Society London. Throughout the evening M. Cambon was obliged to listen to perfervid expressions of Anglo-American brotherhood, which, toward the end of the dinner, developed into enthusiastic prophecies that the world would be controlled by English-speaking peoples, without a single reference to France except by Henry White, United States d'affairs, who officially disowned this thoughtless treatment of

The government had taken every precaution to prevent disturbances, including the issuing of orders prohibiting officers or soldiers from taking part gunboat up the Congo to Basokok, in the demonstration. A large body of police, many of whom were mounted, were stationed along the line of the procession's march, and notably in

THE WABASH

Continues To Be a Matter of Dispute.

Another Disaster on the Same Road Narrowly Averted by a Brakeman.

Detroit, Dec. 1 .- The only development yesterday in the matter of the big wreck on the Wabash at Seneca Wednesday evening was a statement sent out by the Associated Press from President Ramsey, of the Wapash, in which that official insists that the reports giving the number of dead and injured are exaggerated. There are several discrepancies, however, in the facts as he quotes them in the statement, besides which he throws absolutely no light on the question of what has become of the numerous Italians who, according to the rail-road officials' claims, made their es-cape after the crash. The Associated Press report of President Ramsey's statement is as follows: PRESIDENT RAMSEY'S STATE-MENT. St. Louis, Nov. 30. — President Joseph Ramsey, jun., of the Wabash, still insists that the reports giving the number of dead and injured in the wreck near Seneca, Mich., are exaggerated. His latest reports from Supt. Burns places the number of dead at wenty-one and the severely injured at twelve. He also stated that many of those reported wounded are only

"A message from Supt. Burns stated that eight bodies had been taken out of the wreck and identified, and that there were charred fragments of bod-ies representing, by undertakers' estimates, twelve or thirteen adults and one infant. This report also stated that Fireman Doud was still missing. "President Ramsey gave out this list identified dead: James Brown, Buffalo; Dominico Crebava, destination unknown; E. N. Deuell, Detroit; Ida Dunhart, Tupperville, Ont.; Girolono Trino, destination unknown; Carlo Trino, destination unknown; Job Witchell, destination unknown; George W. Youman, Kansas City." Mr. Ramsey says that eight bodies have been identified, and gives the names of the eight. The list does not include that of Mrs. Ann Upton. WHAT GOES UP

Nothing is more certain than that the use of so-called tonics, stimulants and medicines, which depend upon alcohol for their effect, is injurious to health in the long run.

What goes up must come down, and the elevation of spirits, the temporary exhilaration resulting from a of medicine containing alcohol, will certainly be followed in a few hours by a corresponding depression to relieve which another dose must

In other words, many liquid patent medicines derive their effect entirely from the alcohol they contain. Alcohol, and medicines containing t, are temporary stimulants and not in any sense a true tonic. In fact it is doubtful if any medicine or drug

A true tonic is something which will renew, replenish, build up the exhausted nervous system and wasted tissues of the body, something that will enrich the blood and endow it with the proper proportions of red and white corpuscles, which prevent or destroy disease germs. This is what a real tonic should do, and no drug or alcoholic stimulant will do it. The only true tonic in nature is wholesome food, thoroughly digested. Every particle of nervous energy, every minute muscle, fibre and drop of blood is created daily from the food

The mere eating of food has little to do with the repair of waste tissue, but the perfect digestion of the food eaten has everything to do with it. The reason so few people have per-fect digestion is because from wrong habits of living the stomach has grad-ually lost the power to secrete the gastric juice, peptones and acids in sufficient quantity. To cure indigestion and stomach troubles it is necessary to take after some harmless preparation which will supply the natural pep-tone and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and probably the best preparation of this character is Stu-art's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may found in every drug store, which contain in pleasant palatable form the wholesome peptone and di-astase which nature requires for prompt digestion. One or two of these excellent tablets taken after meals will prevent souring, fermentation and acidity, and insure complete digestion and assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets equally valuable for little children as for adults, as they contain nothing harmful or stimulating but only the natural digestives. One of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or other wholesome food, and they are in every sense a genuine tonic because they bring about in the only natural way a restorative of nerve power, a building up of lest tissue and appetite, in the only way it can be done by the digestion and assimflation of wholesome food.

aged 21, brakeman on the Peru-Mont-pelier accommodation of the Wabash Railway, proved himself a hero tonight by saving lives of passengers besides preventing a serious wreck. The ac-commodation, due at Peru at 7 p.m., was pulling out of Chili, about eight miles north of here, running for a hill, when McClain heard fast freight 97 coming at full speed around the curve, also making for the hill. He realized the danger, as the freight did not slacken up at Chili, and grabbing a red light, ran to the rear of the train and began swinging the light until it attracted the attention of the engineer on No. 97 as he came around the curve. McClain stayed at his post until the engine of No. 97 was about to strike the rear coach of the accommodation, when he jumped, landing on a cinder pile, and received severe scratches and bruises. The engine of No. 97 lifted the rear coach up about twelve feet, and the end landed squarely on top of the stack. The damage is slight. There were twelve passengers, and all were scattered about the coach, but none injured.

DISASTROUS COLLISION AT SAN FRANCISCO

> Two Young Skaters Lose Their Lives-Two Girls Burned to Death-Other Casualties.

San Francisco, Nov. 30 .- The ferry boats Sausalito and San Rafael collided tonight in a dense fog, and the fifteen minutes. It is thought that not more than 30 passengers were drowned, although the San Rafael carried between 150 and 200 passengers. The Sausalito was not seriously injured. The San Rafael left San Francisco at 6:15 with between 150 and 200 passengers. There was a dense fog on the bay. Capt McKenzie, of the San Rafael sent his boat along under a slow bell. He was somewhere near Alcatraz Island, when the Sausalito coming from Sausalito to San Francisco, crashed into her. There were but few passengers on the Sausalito, but they were badly frightened, and for a few minutes it looked as if both ships were going down. When it was seen that the Sausalito was not badly injured she stood by the San Rafael and officers, crew and passengers engaged in the rescue of the unfortunate passengers of the sinking vessel. ONLY THREE MISSING.

The number of lives lost in last night's collision on the bay between Supt. Burns, of the Wabash, had the ferry boats San Rafael and Sausanothing further to give out about the lito is still a matter of conjecture, and probably will never be accurately determined. So far as learned late this ally known to be missing. They are W. G. Crandall, secretary of a syrup refining works in this city, and a re sident of Sausalito: George Treadway a waiter on the San Rafael, and the 3-year-old son of Mrs. Waller, of Ross alley. The officers of the sunken vessel strongly maintain that nearly all were saved. About 30 people were injured. The only body recovered so far one supposed to be that of Crandall. It was washed ashore.

The night was so dark it was almost impossible to see a boat's length. The steam schooner Arctic ran down the French bark Edmond Rostand in the early morning hours, while the Encinal and Albatross came together in The Oakland and San Rafael came very near colliding when they reached this city at 5 o'clock in the morning. TWO YOUNG SKATERS DROWNED Flint, Mich., Dec. 2.-A sad accident happened here Saturday by which Roy and Willie Bingham, aged 11 and 16 years respectively, lost their lives in the icy waters of Thread pond, while skating. They were drawing little Clara Mende, aged 13 years, on a handsled and ventured on treacherous ice. The older brother and girl, playmates, were precipitated into the pond and struggled to escape death, when the younger brother sacrificed his life to save his brother in attempting a

The girl was rescued by C. Johnson, a colored lad, who was skating in the vicinity, and showed much bravery in his heroic efforts. The two lads were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Don Bingham. All had been forbidden to venture upon the pond.

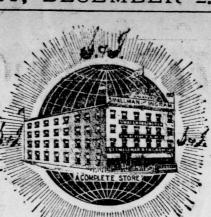

TWO GIRLS BURNED TO DEATH. Philadelphia, Dec. 2.-Nellie Kelly, aged 5 years, and her 10-months-old sister Ella, were burned to death as the result of playing with matches while Mrs. James Kelly, their mother, is in the hospital, severely burned. A FAMILY CREMATED. Altoona, Pa., Dec. 1 .- Shortly after

2 o'clock this morning, five persons— a mother and her four children—were burned to death at Gwyn Station, on the Wopsononock Railroad, three miles north of this city. The husband escaped with severe injuries. dead are: Mrs. Mary C. Burk, 42 years old; Adam G. Burk, 16; Mary E. Burk, 13; Joana Burk, 11; Joseph Victor Burk, 8 years. Carl W. Burk, the husband, is seriously burned about the back. Mrs. Burk and the children, save Adam, retired at the usual hour last night. Mr. Burk, who was in Altoona, did not get home until late. The lamp was burning in the kitchen Before he went upstairs he turned it low. A lunch was left on the kitchen table for Adam, who is a stage hand at the Altoona Opera House. It is not known what time Adam came home. About 1:30 o'clock Mrs. Burk was awakened by a dense smoke in her room. She awoke her husband. He dressed hurriedly and downstairs. kitchen door he found the kitchen ablaze. The draft caused by the opening of the kitchen door accentuated the fire, and with a roar the flames swept through the house. Burk's clothing ignited, and he sprang outside and rolled in the snow. He then summoned the assistance of neighbors. There was no hope of saving the house when they arrived, and to rescue the inmates was impossible. For one brief second Mrs. Burk appeared at an upstair window. In her arms she carried a child. Then the flames arose about her, and she sank back and was seen no more. was sent to a hospital crazed with grief.

A Popular Cure for Chapped Hands, Chafing, Sunburn, Frosted Face, Salt Rheum X and Tender Face After Shaving.

OLA CREAM is a scientific skin food and a most agreeable preparation for the prompt cure of any roughness of the skin. Unlike Glycerine, Cold Cream, etc., it does not irritate the skir., but soothes, softens and heals.

The peculiar advantages of OLA CREAM consist of its being entirely absorbed at once, leaving no external evidence of its having been used.

It is entirely harmless, and safe to use on the youngest babe or the most delicate skin.

Its power of healing is due to the fact that it becomes absorbed and is assimilated with the fatty layers, fibres and tissues, building them up and giving action to the muscles and tone to the nerves.

BEETLES EAT A CHURCH

The Edifice Is Built of Sandstone and the Walls Are Honeycombed.

Middletown, Ohio, Nov. 30.-The First Presbyterian Church of this city, a handsome brown sandstone struc-ture, is being ruined by a beetle that is eating its way into the stones. For some time myriads of small holes have been noticed in the side walls. Investigation showed that each hole penetrated for about two inches, after which it widened into a small room in which a beetle lived. The tower of the church is riddled. The beetle is a brown insect, has four legs and two large knife-like jaws. A similar beetle is known to exist in Germany that eats

The wrapper worn by her at the time. defense will also assail the dead man's habits, claiming that he had been fast growing intemperate, and that he was a member of a drunken party on the night of May 14, shortly before he met his death. The own-ership of the pistol will be made a strong point, as the defense will endeavor to prove, at least by inference, that it belonged to Ayres. Attorney Keene asserted that it would be shown that Ayres showed the same identical revolver to a man last December, that in February he loan-ed a loaded pistol similar to it, and sympathetic as I could, because I had ed a loaded pistol similar to it, and that a few days before his death he procured some oil with which to clean NO BLOOD ON WRAPPER.

Some of the strongest evidence that the defense will have to meet was introduced by the district attorney today, when Dr. E. M. Schaeffer, an expert chemist, testified that he had submitted the brown wrapper Mrs. Bonine stated she wore when she went to Ayres' room, to a most careful microscopic examination, and that he had been unable to find the slightest trace of blood upon it. In her confession Mrs. Bonine told how she felt Ayres' blood pouring over her shoulder, and how she returned to her room and washed the bloodstains out of the wrapper. Dr. Schaeffer's testimony directly contradicts this story, and in a measure supports the contention that Mrs. Bonine shot Ayres through the window from the fire escape.

FATHER OF VICTIM AS A WIT-NESS.

Much interest was manifested in the appearance on the witness stand of James Seymour Ayres, father of the dead man, who gave a pathetic account of his efforts to learn something from Mrs. Bonine. In most emphatic terms he declared that from the very first he suspected that she had killed his boy. When he first conversed with her he told her how his son had lost his mother when but 3 years old, and how dear he had been According to the witness, once. Then she looked up and smiled nine was the nerviest woman in what I thought was a deceitful to him. The room occupied by the criminal court in which Mrs. Lolo Ida Bonine is undergoing trial today presented somewhat the appearance of a junk shop from the fact that a number of the belongings of Ayres' room in the Kenmore Hotel were exhibited. These included the blood-stained carpet, which covered the floor, Ayres' two trunks and a section from the inner part of the well of the room, belonging under the window, showing blood upon plaster and washboard. The wrapper worn by Mrs. Bonine on the night of the tregedy was also shown. Lieut, James A. Moore, of the police force, was the first witness. He identified this miscellaneous assortment of chattels. He said that acting under Mrs. Bonine's instructions he had gone to her room the day she made her confession to the chief of police and had procured the wrapper and had delivered it to the detectives There are torn places under the arms of the garment, which he had not seen on that occasion, but he said on cross-examination that they might possibly have been there without his seeing them.

NOT A SIGN OF BLOOD. Dr. Edward M. Schaeffer, the chemist who made a search for blood on Mrs. Bonine's wrapper and analyzed the blood on other articles in Ayres' room, testified that he had examined the wrapper with great care and had failed to find any indication whatever "I did not find a spot as big as a pin's head." he said. He also said that the rips under the arms are now larger than when he first saw the dress District Attorney Gould asked: "In case of a struggle between a large person and a small one, in which the larger had been so wounded that blood poured over the smaller person's shoulder and the two had fallen to the floor together, would it have been possible to have cleansed the garment from the blood that should have got-

HICKS' HOROSCOPE

The Kind of Weather That We Are to Have in December, if the Rev. Gentleman's Calculations Are Correct.

[By Rev. Ira R. Hicks.] December begins in the midst of a regular storm period, near the centers of the Mercury and Venus disturbances. A low barometer, with generally threatening weather and active storms will spread over much of the country from west to east, by the 1st and 2nd, and rains will have turned to snow and sleet in the west and north, On cross-examination Dr. Schaeffer with a high barometer, blizzard and said he had not intended to say that cold wave coming in to view from the northwest. Some of the heaviest and most general sleet storms of the winter Dr. Schaeffer was subjected to a will most likely transpire inside the Mercury brace, and be central on 5th, extending to near the middle of the month. These are reactionary storm days, calling for falling barometer, When Dr. Schaeffer was excused change to warmer and rain, turning James S. Ayres, father of the victim, was called to the stand. He told of to blizzards of sleet, snow and cold wave just behind the area of low coming to Washington the day after barometer and higher temperature. 5th and 9th. On and about the 9th, another low barometer will start eastward from western extremes, it will grow rapidly warmer, and by the 11th marked storm disturbances will be organized and starting on their eastward journey. From about Wednesday, the 11th, to Saturday, the 14th, these storms of rain, sleet, snow and gales will pass over the country to the At-lantic coast. We caution our readers against the possible blockades of sleet and snow at this storm period. and against the sweeping cold wave almost sure to follow the storms. The North Atlantic sea and coasts will be visited severely by winter solstice had thrown his arms about me and storms about this time.

From about the 10th to 20th of De cember each year there is marked tendency to boreal, northwesterly gales, with low barometric areas southward. Peculiar magnetic and electrical disturbances often attend nese storms, the cold, blizzardous winds even from the northwest fre-quently charging all sorts of exposed objects with electricity. over most of the country. Ships on the North Atlantic will have rough and dangerous sailing at this time. A reactionary storm period is due the last three days of December, during which time the cold will relax, barometer fall progressively from west to east, and storms of rain and snow will result in many localities as the storm conditions march eastward across the country. The year will come to its close with rising barometer, clearing skies, and change to much colder generally. Of course, intelligent readers and observers of weather phenomena will understand that storm areas and weather changes are things to be studied in transit - they move from west to east like the crest of a flood or overthrow, with very different kinds of weather prevailing in the extremes of the country at the same time - warmer, low barometer, and fair to east, actual storms and precipitation in the center, with rising barometer and change to fair and colder coming down from the northwest. But all these conditions come and run their courses in periods clearly laid down in our storm diagrams and explained in our forecasts We can appeal to reason and intelligence, but never to ignorance and pre

Ex-Premier Semlin of British Columbia, having gone permanently out of politics, is now trying to make the growth of prunes pay. He has more sense than the latest ex-Premier of Canada, who professed to go permanently out of politics, yet keeps talking away, to the confusion of his friends and the enjoyment of those who were his opponents.

Jacob A. Riis, the New York philanthropist, recently delivered an address on "Theodore Roosevelt as an Example of Citizenship." Both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Riis are exemplary types of men that would add to the glory of any nation. President Roosevelt's motto is, "Better faithful than famous." and it is on account of his faithfulness that he has overcome many difficulties with which his path was beset. An indomitable will, coupled with honesty of purpose, will often surpass great genius.

The Toronto Star says Senator Landerkin made a great hit at the convention which brought out Archie Campbell as Liberal candidate for the vacant seat in the House of Commons for West York. Senator Landerkin, says our contemporary, is a past master in the art of stumping. He is more; he has a tained the 33rd degree in the knack of putting political truths in an attractive and understandable form. It is an accomplishment which makes him welcome whenever he responds to the call for a public address.

Fruit growing is fast coming to the front as a branch of agriculture. The subject of fruit production formed the chief feature at a meeting of the farmers' institute held in Broate recently. The discussion bore more directly on the subject of small fruit versus apples. It was predicted that before many years the entire lake front between Hamilton and Oakville would be divided into ten-acre lots for the purpose of growing small fruit. It is not at all likely, however, that such a transition in fruit growing will become general. The locality named is within convenient distance to both Toronto and Hamilton, so that the greatest advantage may be derived from local markets. Apples will doubtless still continue to form the staple article of our fruit exports.

The Boston Herald complains against the increased use of shoddy that continues to be a prominent feature in connection with the manufacture of woolen goods in the United States. The depression in the business of wool growers is due in large measure to the use of shoddy, owing to which less of the genuine article is purchased. Attempts have been made to increase the wool production by imposing such a tariff as would exclude foreign competition. But this did not have the salutary effect anticipated. The result has been the exclusion of wool from the composition of woolen goods, for a cheaper substitute. A high tariff is not always a panacea for dwarf industries. There is a principle which might with propriety be designated the principle of self-adjustment, which to a large extent counteracts any abnormities in tariff.

Whitney and the Corporations.

Mr. Whitney now says that his policy will be to abolish the provincial taxes collected by the Government from banks and other corporations, because it is direct taxation, to which be denied its rights. It appears that he expresses himself decidedly opposed. Direct taxation, as we understand it, is taxation that is collected from those who pay it. Canada's Contribution.

So far, the Dominion Government has spent $2,631,416 on the sending of Canadian contingents to help Great Britain to restore law, order and justice in South Africa.

The recital of this fact is a sufficient answer to those chronic Opposition kickers, who profess to voice the opinion of the Canadian taxpayers that much more money has not been spent in sending more men than the government of the mother country has deemed requisite. There is no reason for the belief that these grumblers represent anything but a very small section of the Canadian people.

The Critical Mr. Foster.

Hon. George E. Foster-the politician out of a job-continues to go up and down the country berating the Government of Canada for what he is pleased to call their inconsistency.

Let us admit, for the sake of argument, that the Government of today is not infallible-that while it has accomplished many reforms that its friends were not led to look for while it was in Opposition, it has not entirely lived up to the professions of all its friends while in Opposition. No government in any part of the world is ever able to do that. No government of which Mr. Foster was a member ever lived up to the professions of its leaders while in Opposition. And were Mr. Foster given the power to join a government tomorrow, he would not, despite all his carping criticism of others, add anything to its power of keeping up to the professions of its friends while in Opposition.

How do we know? By the record of the ex-Minister of

Yet it is notorious that as soon as he obtained office, he threw principle and profession to the wind, and was ready to indorse or to promise prosperity and progress. This right. condone anything and everything that was necessary to maintain himself and his friends in place. It is true that he said his lapses on the temperance question resulted from "moments of weakness," and it is true that when Mackenzie Bowell refused to let him have his way, he joined those members of the late Government whom Sir Mackenzle denounced as "a nest of traitors," and courageously went on strikebut only for six days. The temptation was too strong to resist when he heard that W. F. Maclean, M. P., was after the place he had just left, and so to prove how consistently inconsistent he could be even in a matter which he professed to be of lasting principle, he meekly crawled back and asked to be once more installed in office.

The old adage is, "Consistency, thou art a jewel." The new adage may well be read, "Inconsistency, thou art George E. Foster."

The Prince of Wales.

Those of the present generation have been so long accustomed to the "Prince of Wales" in public life, that the disappearance of the title seemed strange.

However, the disappearance was not for long. It was in what we might call a state of suspended animation, and is now really alive, and is worn by the gentleman who so recently appeared among us as the Duke of York. This title has a long and varied history, but even here criticism will not we must surrender the story that Edward I. presented his newly-born son to the Weish chieftain in Carnarvon Castle to redeem his promise blemish upon his honor and unable to speak a word of English." Some of the Opposition papers and politicians-Hon. George E. Foster, for instance-are clamoring for the Canadian Government to send thousands of additional men to fight in South Africa and to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars of public money in warlike preparations, in addition to that now undertaken.

We take the liberty to point out that these papers and politicians are in Ontario. In the Province of Quebec, Mr. Monk, the Conservative leader, takes a different view of the question. And he, Mr. Foster, and their friends should be united wherever found in condemning the increased expenditure which Mr. Foster and his Ontario Opposition friends are now so professedly anxious to see undertaken.

It is fortunate that in managing the affairs of the Dominion, the Government are not compelled to attempt to appease the discordant leaders of the Opposition.

Our Woolen Industries.

The keenness of competition in the Canadian knitted woolen trade is in reality due to the disposition to imitate each other instead of diversifying their products. Were an endeavor to remedy this put forth, the keen edge would easily be taken off the competition complained of.—Shareholder, Montreal.

Our commercial contemporary probably hits the nail on the head. The condition of affairs existing probably accounts for the fact that many woolen manufacturers are now very busy, while others are complaining that they cannot get along unless the tax on British goods is raised.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S BIRTHDAY Queen Alexandra today celebrated he fifty-seventh anniversary of her birthday. The day is a pathetic one in the lives of the King and Queen. On Dec. 1, thirty years ago, the King, then the Prince of Wales, regained consciousness after lying for several days at the brink of death. His first words on recovering were: "This is the princess' birthday." As Princess of Wales, Queen Alexandra won the love of all, especially of the poor, who have always found in her a friend who never grew tired of good works.

LONDON' WATER SUPPLY. It is usually only in summer that any outcry about London's water supply is heard, but now the inhabitants of certain quarters are beginning to realize the polluted character of the water with which they are being supplied. In fact, only one company draws its water from wells driven down into the chalk to such a depth as to be beyond chance of con-tamination from drainage and sew-age. Five draw directly from the Thames, but one company draws from a certain tributary of the Thames which, owing to the great demands made on its resources, has now de-generated from a swift running stream into a stagnant canal, dirty and almost devoid of current. to the alarm is the discovery that the smallpox, which is still on the in-

Some Facts Regarding the Late George M. Pullman, Son of the Palace-Car Builder.

San Francisco, Dec. 2.-The death of George M. Pullman, oldest son of the late Chicago millionaire palace car builder, who passed away at his home in Menlo Park, on Thursday last, was due to the rupture of a pulmonary artery. He was 26 years old. His system had been so weakened by excessive drinking lately that it could not rally. With him at his death were his wife, whom he married only two months ago, his brother Sanger, and Sanger's wife.

Young Pullman had cut a wide swath in California for several years After his separation from his first wife he came here, and even in tough San Francisco he made a sensation by his reckless drinking and dissipation. His sister had married Francis Carolan, of the fashionable Country Club at Burliname. But Pullman appeared so often drunk at the club that the directors were forced to bar him out. Sanger came out here and married one of the beautiful West sisters. At Sanger's home George met Mrs. Braziel, the elder sister of Sanger's wife, who was about ten years older than himself. She is still a very beautiful woman, and he became so infatuated with her that the day after his first wife secured a divorce from him he went with Mrs. Braziel to Nevada, and was married there on Sept.

At the time of his death Pullman was receiving $3,000 a year from his father's estate, and $12,000 a year allowance made him by his mother.

The Boston Journal reports its discovery of 818 couples in New England still enjoying married life after 50 years or more of it.

Among these was one from a Detroit woman of means, who was desirous of visiting the place, and who sought information as to the best means of accomplishing her purpose. Mr. Saunders' replishing her purpose. Mr. Saunders reply probably discouraged his eager correspondent, for he pointed out that the next boat for Sable Island did not leave until September—it was then May—and that once there the visitor would in all likelihood be compelled to remain there all winter. To those who know the conditions on the island such a fate is not ditions on the island such a fate is not alluring; yet precisely that fate has be-fallen a Halifax woman, according to a correspondent of the Montreal

"Landing on the island is at times exciting, and carries with it an element of danger. At no time does the steamer come nearer to the shore than half a mile. Generally the large lifeboats on the island are used, though frequently the trip is made in the steamer's own boats. As the boat approaches the surf the oars are drawn in, and the force of the inrushing water carries it speedily to the shore. As soon as the keel strikes to the shore. As soon as the keef strikes the sand the boat's crew jump over the side and run the boat up high and dry. Getting away is even more difficult."

TALK WITH MME. CAMILLA URSO

America's Premier Lady Violinist Interviewed.

Impressions and Experiences of an Artist Who Has Spent Her Life in the Service of Music.

Mme. Urso, the violin virtuoso, who appears at the Auditorium tonight, was visited by an Advertiser reporter at the Tecumseh House today and asked for a resume of some of her proplump, pleasant-faced little woman, who talks entertainingly, using excellent English, with a slightly foreign accent. She speaks frankly of herself and her work, but all her references are rendered devoid of the slightest trace of egotism by their ingenuous-

Mme. Urso answered the reporter's first question as to her early stage experiences, by saying:
"I do not, like Emma Abbott, try to gain local favor by saying that she was born a few miles from whichever place she happens to be appearing in. I was born in Nantes, in Brittany, my father being an Italian. I came to America when 10 years old, and have regarded America as my adopted country. Before coming I had played in France and Germany as a child prodigy, and had won the first prize at the conservatoire in Paris. I made my debut with great eclat, as they say, in my native town, when I was not much bigger than my violin: I have played almost everywhere since, having been around the world twice. This must be my fifth or sixth visit to London, my last one being some ten years back."

Asked as to the relative apprecia-tion of audiences of different nation-

"The American audiences, as a rule, want to be entertained and amused, not stirred. The artist gets to know his or her audience. her audience. I find that audiences composed of French-Canadians or Irish, for instance-those who have struggled much and suffered muchare most appreciative of sentimental and pathetic music. The English gen-erally are appreciative of the best music, as I have found in playing in England, in South Africa, in the Aus-Urso said: "I have been singularly fortunate in my career, and have never met with a reverse. Had I done so, I fear I would not have gone on, as I would not have the courage and energy of the great ures and difficulties. I work hard, of course, as one must who wishes to excel at the violin, which is a most difficult works, recently destroyed by fire at the Canadian Sault, will be rebuilt, with a much larger capacity.

Instrument, which is a most difficult instrument. Although I have been playing for 40 years, I still practice six or seven hours a day when not travel. or seven hours a day when not traveling. I know I play better today than I have ever done before. I find that fashions in music have changed as completely in 25 years as fashions in clothes, and the mere technique-the ways looking to one to excel oneself. I was the first woman violinist in America. Now I believe there are 15,000 women in America studying the violin, but few of them will ever make violinists. They are not willing to give the time and labor to it that it demands.' Comparing the remuneration of musical artists in America and in Europe

"In America they have the stars, who receive big sums, but the minor artists get little. In Europe they have no stars or minor artists—all are good. In the stock opera companies, there, the man who sings a star part one night may do nothing but bring in a letter or open a door the next. Here you have Melba, Calve and a few more stars, and you never hear the rest spoken of: there all are thorough artists, whose work is equally acceptable to the audience."

OTHERS INVOLVED.

Evidence was then presented to show that Laurie Marks opened an account withthe Credit Lyonnais, at the end of 1899. In October, 1901, he paid in the first Hudson check, amounting to £5,000. Later, he introduced Burge, who opened an account. After the first Hudson check was paid in, in October, Marks deposited two more Hudson checks, for £14,000. On Nov. 1, Burge, accompanied by Marks, cashed a check for £13,000, receiving £7,000 in notes. The same day the identical notes were deposited by James Mances, whom Marks had in the meanwhile introduced at the bank. Marks, Nov. 4, deposited a Hudson check for £30,000, and Nov. 8. Burge presented a check for £15,000, drawn by Marks in his favor, while Mances, cashed another of Marks' checks for £10,000. A witness testified to a numbank was enjoined the amounts standto the credit of the accused were: Burge, £13,589; Marks, £10,901, Mances, £15,987. The latter had also £18,000 worth of consols. According to the books, Marks received £82,000 from the Bank of Liverpool, of which amount £47,000 was transferred to Burge and £20,000 to

Mances, leaving Marks £15,000. BOGUS BROKERS. New York, Dec. 2 .- Frank Dillon and John F. Bennett are under arrest, charged with operating in conjunction with two other persons not yet arrested, a bogus stock brokerage business, under pretense that they were members of the stock exchange. It is charged that the men received $300,000 from customers. According to the detective department, they pretended to do a brokerage business under the near Liverpool, where he had been in name of August Zimmerman & Co. and J. W. MEN'S MEETING.

The men's meeting yesterday afternoon at the Auditorium was under the charge of the Fisk Jubilee Singers. The company interspersed the service with their beautifully-rendered Gospel hymns. Prof. J. N. Wark, one of the company, delivered an address on the negro problem. He said that the only problem was the uneducated negro, the educated negro being the solution of the problem. He spoke also of the work of Fisk University, where 500 ne-groes of both sexes are educated annually. A liberal collection in aid of the university work was taken up.

Mrs. Jane Locke died very suddenly on Friday at the family residence, lot 22. con. 8. Westminster township. Mrs. Locke had driven to Glanworth with her husband, Mr. John Locke, and when he was putting the horse in a sable, Mrs. Locke expired. Death was wholly unexpected and her demise has come as a shock to her large circle of friends. Mrs. Locke was born in England, and came to this country many years ago. She is survived by her husband, one of the most prosperous farmers of Westminster township. She was a member of the Glanworth Presbyterian Church, in which she was a very earnest worker. The funeral took place today at 1:30 p.m. to the cemetery at Glanworth, and was largely attended.

AT THE LONDON.

The Harry Lindley Comedy Company, which appears here next Thursday night, will open with the standard comedy, "The Circus Girl." Harry Lindley may be remembered by the older residents of the city when he was for a long time connected with the Holman Opera Company as comedian. It is said he has lost none of his wit and humor yet, and has surrounded his leading lady, Miss Adelaide Hunt, with a strong company of capable artists. He also introduces his own clever little daughter, Miss Mystic, who is said to be a clever entertainer. Specialties will be given between acts, and on Saturday "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be presented.

ANNIVERSARY.

Cronyn Memorial Church Closes Another Useful Year.

Impressive Services Conducted by Rev. N. J. Perry and Mr. Robert Drummond.

The 28th anniversary services were held yesterday at the Cronyn Memorial Church before large and deeply interested congregations. The services were conducted by Rev. N. J. Perry, M.A., of St. Thomas' Church, St. Catherines, an able speaker and a hard-working Christian man. The music for the day was furnished by an excellent choir of forty voices under the direction of Mr. Vivian

Hon. Mr. Foster's Admonition-Looks as If Ontario Will Fall Into Line.

Toronto, Dec. 2 .- At 3 o'clock vesterday (Sunday) afternoon, when Hon. George E. Foster, ex-finance minister, took the chair at the meeting of the Canadian Temperance League in Massey Hall, all seats in the large auditorium were occupied and not a few were obliged to stand throughout the meeting.

One of the matters to be considered at the present session was the erection of a bridge between Caradoc township and Elgin county, and the warden hoped that the mat-ter would be definitely settled one way the other, as it had hanging fire for many years. A committee had been appointed to revise the bylaws, and their report would be presented. Debentures to the amount of $20,000 to retire other debentures are to be disposed of. The Graham road bridge had been completed to the satisfaction of the warden and the engineer, the only fault apparent to the former being the sappy material of some of the pine in the flooring.

"Then—" and he swore a big oath.
"Then, you—" and he called her by what was by no means a pet name, "go up to your room and pack your things as quick as thunder!" He rang the bell more violently than ever. "Elise, call a tab. His anger may appear unreasonably excessive, and well calculated to defeat its own end. But to defeat its own end and to be unreasonable is the way of anger, and it was excessive because it had a twofold cause. Sic vita est.

There was a Mrs. Levi.
This sounds startling, when it is remembered what sort of a man was Mr.
Levi; but it is less startling when it is understood that Mrs. Levi was not Mr. Levi's wire, but his mother.

She was an old Jewess, something more than plain, but not sufficiently ugly to have borne such a son. "C'eait donc, Monsieur votre pere qui etalt si laid," as Tallyrand said to someone who was boasting of his mother's beauty. And, whether for his father's sake or his own, she doted upon her Nathan with a love that to any heart but a mother's is simply inconceivable, thinking him the best, wisest and noblest creature in the Levi's wire, but his mother. whether for his father's sake or his own, she doted upon her Nathan with a love that to any heart but a mother's is simply inconceivable, thinking him the best, wisest and noblest creature in the world. And, whatever his merits or demerits might be, he was at all events a model son.

Well he might be; well might he bestow upon his mother all the affection that was in his heart to bestow, for there was certainly no one in the world but she who would have held him either good or noble, who would not have held him either in fear or scorn. But he was to her as the very apple of her eye. She had been his protectress in his infancy, his willing slave while he was now snow-like who world, and he was now snow-like who world in the element of recklessness in his before Ottawa College on Saturday to the tune of 18 to 3, and now the College are Canadian champions. Still, on the whole, he had doubt-less acted like a prudent man, though a bold one. His logic had been perfect—it was morally impossible that Mr. Grode should have fought so desperately to get this picture without an adequate motive. They lived together in a large house in the neighborhood of Paddington, in much soitude as far as friends and acquaint-ances were concerned, but in a style of And yet—
So he took a fine sponge, which he dipped into some preparation, the secret of which he had bought for nothing from some needy inventor, and wetted and gently wiped the cracked surface to find some masterpiece of art. There must be something! Perhaps, even—wild and glorious thought!—it might be the very Venus Anadyomen of Apelles—that, indeed, would be cheap at a hundred thoughet. luxury as regarded themselves. Domestic matters were attended to by a housekeeper, who was a Jewess well on in years, and who was besides a devoted companion to the old lady, and a faithful servant to her master. These three made up the family; and there were a good many servants besides who found their places not altogether unprofitable fact, the expenditure of the household bordered upon the extravagant. Levi himself, if he was greedy in getting, was not sparing in spending—indeed, it is a characteristic of his people that, if they are alieni avidi—which may or may not be the case with more than with Contiler be the case with more than with Gentiles—they are also sui profusi. An avaricious Jew is, of course, as common as an avaricious Gentile; but a Hebrew is less common than a Gentile miser, let people say what they will. "The People," if they understand the value of money, know its use also.

But though—with the exception of his mother and of his housekeeper, Judith-he had no friends, a great many people were well, a great many far too well, acquainted with the hideous dwarf. The number of irons that he had in the fire were well nigh innumerable. He was practically the banker of half the eldest sons of England, to whom he advanced money at—well, shame refuses to say at how much per cent. But he was a generous banker in his way, and cared more for interest than for security; as the story of the sale shows, he was content to fisk much for the bare chance of a large return. His was the principle of blockade-runners; he went in for grand coups, risk much for the bare chance of a large return. His was the principle of blockade-runners; he went in for grand coups, and even calculated upon losing eleven cargoes out of twelve. But then, his profits upon the twelfth more than recouped him for his losses on the eleven. Then he was a dealer in pictures and in works of art generally, and he was the depository of more than half the jewelry of great ladies whose pin-money was not sufficient to pay for their pins. And he did a great deal besides in funds, in theaters, and in shares of all sorts and kinds. In fact, wherever money was to be turned, there was Nathan Levi, with his pitchfork in his vulture talons, to help turn it. And, somehow, he generally stood on the sunny side of the haycock. A man must have something to live for; and for him, upon whom no man could look without contempt, and no woman without loathing. What was there to live for but one thing? Indeed, in such cases. I doubt if the pursuit of gold, though for the pursuit of gold, though for blood is impure or watery,—if poison is circulating through your arteries instead of rich, pure, life

Detroit, Dec. 2.—Last week ended the football season for 1901, and the gridiron football season for 1901, and the gridfron warriors have stored their moleskins away until next fall, when another fight for championship honors takes place. Harvard's great victory over Yale at Cambridge gives the crimson gladiators a right to claim the college football championship of the east. Princeton beat Cornell 8 to 6; Yale beat Princton 12 to 0, and Harvard beat Yale 22 to 0. These four are the only teams that have any right to figure in the championship talk this season, for Harvard has also beaten Pennsylvania 33 to 6, Columbia 18 to 0, and the Military Cadets 6 to 0. The West Point team should, perhaps, rank second to Harvard on the eastern gridiron, having played both Yale and Princeton to a tie, and beaten Pennsylvania 24 to 6. In the matter of points secured, Cornell outranks all other eastern teams ranks all other eastern teams.

the matter of points secured, Cornell outranks all other eastern teams.

But there seems to be an equally good, and perhaps stronger college football team than Harvard's, and the Cambridge boys cannot with any justice claim the championship of the country. The University of Michigan team seems to outrank Harvard in scoring ability, and it is scoring that wins games. The schedules of the two teams were so different that a just comparison is impossible. But one team that played Harvard met Michigan—the Carlisle Indians—and in that one game Harvard has rather the better of the comparison, having beaten the red men 29 to 0, against 22 to 0 for Michigan. But the Ann Arbor team has met and defeated all the best college teams of the west without once being scored on, and in ten games rolled up the wonderful total of 501 points, which comes pretty near being a record. The University of Chicago, which Pennsylvania beat 11 to 0, was downed 22 to 0. Football is now played just as scientifically in the west as it is in the east, and there are half a dozen teams that would be able to hold their own or better with the eastern colleges were an intersectional series of games to be arranged. Next to Michigan comes Wisconsin.

ARMY VS. NAVY. ARMY VS. NAVY.

Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—Probably the most distinguished gathering that ever witnessed a football contest in this country, and admittedly the greatest crowd that ever entered the gates at Franklin Field, saw West Point defeat Annapolis on Saturday afternoon by the score of 11 to 5. From the moment that President Roosevelt and his party entered the great amphitheater until half an hour after the time-keeper had blown his whistle, announcing the cessation of his whistle, announcing the cessation of

MAY FIGHT AGAIN. New York, Dec. 2.—Young Corbett, of Denver, Col., who defeated Terry Mc-Govern in Hartford, Conn., last Thursday, said on Saturday that he and his manager, Johnnie Corbett, would meet McGovern and his manager, Sam Harris, in a newspaper office on Park Box this McGovern and his manager, Sam Harris, in a newspaper office on Park Row, this city, today, for the purpose of arranging another match. The match will be governed by the same conditions as to weight that prevailed in the one which proved so disastrous to McGovern, but there will probably be much more money placed at stake in the coming battle when articles have been signed and every other condition ratified. McGovern is more than anxious to try and retrieve his lost laurels, and, judging from appearances, Young Corbett is more than willing to give him the opportunity. Young Corbett on Saturday night met Dave Sullivan and agreed to a 25-round contest at 126 pounds for $5,000 a side. Final arrangements will be made today.

W. O. H. A. MEETING Berlin, Ont., Dec. 2.—A meeting of the Vestern Ontario Hockey Association was Western Ontario Hockey Association was held in the Walper House here on Saturday afternoon. The following officers were elected: Honorary president, A. G. H. Luxton, Georgetown; president, M. W. Dougherty, M.A., Guelph; vice-president, E. D. Seagram, Waterloo; secretary-treasurer, I. K. Ross, Berlin; executive, A. G. H. Luxton, M. W. Dougherty, Ed. Seagram, I. K. Ross and I. R. Falseter. Guelph, Ayr, Waterloo and Berlin were represented. Schedule will be arranged later.

THE NO-RECALL SYSTEM.

The news comes from the south that the no-recall or "one up" system of starting will not be used at the New Orleans track, which threw its gates open on Thanksgiving for a 100-days' meeting. "For this much," says the New York Press, "the men who bet on the races are indebted to the wisdom of the managers of the New Orleans meeting. The no-recall system has had a long and thorough trial in the east, and it has been found wanting. From the first it has been the worst kind of a failure. It is productive of scandal and destructive of form. It makes fraud easy, and, while making it easy, destroys all evidence of it. Beyond question, it has been responsible for much of the in-and-out running at Washington, and all of the scandalous gossip which flowed in the wake of that in-and-out running. One correspondent in the latter part of last week wrote: 'Out of 42 horses starting in three races today, more than one-third of the number were left at the post.' The Press thinks that it is about as strong a presentment as possible could be against a style of starting which should not be tolerated on any reputable course. So it would be if it were true, but as it is a lie pure and unadulterated, of course the statement stands for nothing. In the three races, out of 43 horses that were started, only five, or legs than one-eighth, through the stupidity of the jockeys, failed to get off with the rest of the fields. If the jockeys had been fined $100 apiece they would take care to get away in the future. A system that is alike to all, that is good enough for England and Australia, and every country in Europe, and that minimizes the jockeying tactics when recalls are likely, should be good enough for the united States. Of course, if the starter be incompetent, or absolutely antagonistic, and the jockeys are the same, no system would perfectly fill the bill.

AT BENNINGS. THE NO-RECALL SYSTEM. The news comes from the south that

AT BENNINGS. Washington, Dec. 2.—Favorites won four of the six races on closing day at Bennings. Jack Martin rode two winners. Conover won the steeplechase. Sister Juliet, owned in Toronto, was outside the money in the fifth race. Summary:

AT NEW ORLEANS. New Orleans, Dec. 2.—The feature of Saturday's racing was the defeat of Felix Bard, a strong favorite, in the Magnolia selling stakes at a mile. The favorite, though off none too well, seemed to have a chance up to the last furlong, but spirked the issue at the end. The weather sbirked the issue at the end. The weather was clear and track fast. Bristol was the only winning favorite. Summaries:

Dodd's Kidney Pills Continue to Make Remarkable Cures of Hopeless Cases.

St. Joseph De Homme, Que., Dec. 2. -(Special). - Mademoiselle Eugene Dube, a very popular young lady of this place, has been ill for a long time. Her trouble commenced some three years ago, and has gradually grown worse, till she was very much worn down with the constant pain and weakness.

Her friends were very anxious, and everything that could be thought of was employed to bring about her re-covery; but nothing came of it till someone suggested Dodd's Kidney

From the first two boxes an improvement was noticed, and when six boxes had been used the young lady was well as ever. She had then nothing f her old trouble or pain

REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS.

Toronto, Dec. 2 .- The recent prosecution of parents for failing to register births has had considerable effect.
During the month of November 504 were registered at the city clerk's office. In October the number was only 303, and in November, 1900, the number was 368. The delinquent parents have until Dec. 15 to register without fear of prosecution on account of previous tardiness. There were 276 marriages registered in November, 1901, and 213 in the same Month last year. The deaths registered were 271 in November, 1901, and 260 in November, 1900.

NORTH BRUCE ELECTION CASE. Toronto, Nov. 30 .- The particulars in the North Bruce election appeal against the return of James Halliday to the Dominion House were filed at Osgoode Hall today. Mr. Halliday's majority was 17, and his opponent was Major Campbell. It is the intention of the Conservatives, if the decision of the trial judges is against Mr. Halliday, to take the case to the supreme court. The hearing is set down for Dec. 10, at Wiarton, before Chancellor Sir John Boyd and Mr. Justice Mac-Mahon. The particulars contain a large number of charges of bribery through agents. In addition numerous cases are cited of men voting who had not the right to do so. usual charges of illegal hiring of rigs and the payment of money to bring voters to the polls are anticipated.

Premier Roblyn said immigration agents during the past year had brought into Manitoba and the Northwest a splendid class of settlers from

WRITE RIGHT.

"Scatter Decent, Helpful Things." Good, philosophical Ras Wilson once said to a new reporter: "Young man, write as you feel, but try to feel right. Be good-humored toward everyone and everything. Believe that other folks are just as good as you are, for they are, 'em your best, and bear in mind that God has sent them, in his wisdom, all the trouble they need, and it is for you to scatter gladness and decent, helpful things as you go. Don't be particular about how the stuff will look print, but let 'er go. Someone will understand. That is better than to write so dosh bing high, or so tarnashun deep, deep that no one understands. Let 'er go. "So on the above plan," says M. W. Porter, of Topeka, Kan., "I will write what I know of Grape-Nuts Breakfast a long period of indigestion and other disorders, with some misgivings, I took up the use of Grape-Nuts. Despite the hot weather I kept gaining in strength at that season of the year.

"I found the food an excellent stimulant for the brain, and I could do more and better work than I had ever done. It was a revelation to discover how closely the brain and digestive organs were in sympathy with each other. Whatever retarded the work of one had a corresponding effect on the other, and the food that tended to put one in proper shape acted accordingly on the other. I know that my great improvement mentally and physically came from dispensing with unwholesome food and using Grape-Nuts liberally."

ORGAN RECITAL. Mr. W. H. Hewlett's third twilight organ recital of the season at the Dundas Center Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon, was accorded the usual large audience of music-lovers. Mr. Hewlett's numbers were listened to with the delight that his musicianly rendering always inspires. He was assisted by Mr. George Fox, a violinist whose visits are always a source pleasure. Mr. Hewlett's next recital will be given on Dec. 28, when the assisting artist will be Mr. Harold Jarvis. Saturday's programme was:

Violin solo .. Mr. George Fox. Fanfare......J. Lemmens
Mr. Hewlett.

MME. URSO TONIGHT. It may not generally be known that Mme. Camilla Urso-still in the noontide of her fame-was the first woman to play the violin at public concerts in America, so that she embodies in her own person the whole achievement of womankind as violin virtuosi, being first in point of time in this country and easily first in artistic attainment (b) "The Coquette Conquered," James in all countries. Mme. Urso gives a recital at the Auditorium tonight, and there promises to be a large attendance.

"KERRY GOW" TONIGHT. The troublous times that have swept from Wicklow to Clare, and from Kerry to Antrim, have been told about time and time again on the dramatic stage; but ninety-nine times out of a hundred the red-coated constabulary that patrols the green old island, to-gether with their cape-coated, topbooted patrons, have monopolized all motives, incidents and results. Not so with Joseph Murphy's charming Irish play, "Kerry Gow," at the New Grand tonight. In this play human interest is developed through the loyal, loving hearts of Ireland, exactly as though the men and women, the lads and lassies of Ireland were sincere, sensible, bravehearted human beings, entirely similar to the natives of other civilized countries. And it is therein that is found the cause of the continuous popularity of "Kerry Gow." It tells the truth as to Irish scenes, Irish intellect, Irish ambitions and Irish triumphs. The Frank "McLean." who plays the part of Valentine Hay in tonight's performance,

"THE PENITENT." "The Penitent" is a wonderfully picturesque play. Its magnetism appeals to all, particularly those who have read the book, for through witnessing this presentation they will discover new beauties in the work. The staging of "The Penitent" will be found thoroughly adequate and in every way pleasing. The effects, both mechanical and electrical, are good, and the entire production will be pronounced eminently satisfactory. In the cast are such well-known names as Myles McCarthy, David Hanchett, Louis Leon Hall, Maud Claire Shaw, Minnie Bowen, Bessie Marlow and nearly a score of other players. This company will be the attraction at the New Grand Wednesday evening next.

"THE TELEPHONE GIRL." On Thursday evening there will be presented at the New Grand that favorite and breezy musical comedy, "The Telephone Girl." All the prominent cities of the country have been played during the past three seasons, ning with New York, where it enjoyed a most phenomenal run of over 250 nights, accorded it a most enthusiastic reception, and it seems not to have surrendered one jot of its popularity. As it is alleged that the company is the strongeest the play ever had, patrons of the New Grand may look forward to considerable pleasure. The company is headed by the big quartet of fun makers, singers and dancers, Frank Blair, Mabel Hite and Douglass

JOTTINGS FROM NEAR-BY PLACES

Muncey, Dec. 2.—A very successful concert was held in the Muncey Road Methodist Church on Thanksgiving evening. The talent consisted of Miss Edythe Parker, Miss Berenice Parker, Miss Nettie Moore and the Alma Glee Club, all of Alma Ladies' College. The chairman of the evening was Rev. C W. Vollick, who introduced the programme with a short address. Miss Edythe Parker sang a number of solos with much feeling and expression. Sile appeared to great advan-

One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the "Serenade Jingle" by the Alma Glee Club, which consisted of Misses Parker, Moore, Rohl Wallace and Hughson. In addition to this the programme was much brightened by the aid of the Edison standard phonograph. At the close of the entertainment, Mr. Shephard, pastor of the church, tendered a vote of

With Good Health for Capital-The Great Majority of Canadians Rely on Brain and Muscle for a Livelihood - With Ill-Health Ail Is Lost.

Canada is a nation of workers. The few who have acquired positions of wealth and leisure have done so through hard work, and the vast majority find it necessary to toil day after day, and year after year, to support themselves and those depending on them. Their capital is good health. So long as this lasts they are happy and contented, but, alas! too many are robbed of this capital, and find themselves unable to keep up the struggle With no earnings coming in, their small savings are soon exhausted, and want as well as disease stares them in the face. Disease is humanity's most deadly foe. Silently, gradually, it steals upon one, until at length it closes its fangs on its victim, and secretly robs him of energy, ambition and strength. In this age of keen competition, strenuous work and ceasless struggle, it is the nervous system that most readily feels the strain. Nights of sleeplessness, days of tired, languid feelings, depression, discouragement and despondency neuralgic pains, shattered nerves weakness and irregularities of bodily organs. These are some of the warnings of the approach of such serious and fatal diseases as nervous prostration, paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world, and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative of the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. ally, gradually and certainly it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defy the disease. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unlike any treatment you ever used. It does not act as a stimulant to whip up the tired nerves into exhausting action, nor, on the other hand, does it deaden and destroy the feeble nerve tissues. but by filling the shriveled arteries with rich, red, life-sustaining blood, it repairs the waste, and revitalizes and restores the body to health and As a permanent cure for nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, irritability and the weakness and irregularities which accompany an exhausted nervous system. A MARVELOUS ESCAPE. Woodstock, Dec. 2.-Edward Isles. an Ingersoll teamster, had a marvelous escape with his life in the Grand Trunk yard at Ingersoll Friday night. While driving across the track he was hit by an engine and thrown onto the pilot together with his team. Driver and horses escaped serious injury, but the wagon was badly smashed.

The historic battle ground, the Plains of Abraham, on which Wolfe and Montcalm met in the final settlement of the war, is now the property in perpetuity of the city of Quebec. PALE, SICKLY CHILDREN should use Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. Worms are one of the principal causes of suffering in children, and should be expelled from the system.
