IN RE SAMOA. LONDON, Feb. 18 .- In the House of Commons today Sir Edward Grey, Under Foreign Secretary, said in reply to a question that there had not yet been made any special agreement in regard to the ownership of land in Samoa by foreign nations. There was no truth in the statement that Germany was about to annex the Samoa Islands. The British Government certainly desired to consult the interests of Australasia in regard to Samoa.

ENGLAND WARNED.

LONDON, Feb. 18 .- The Times' correspondent in Cairo says: The Khedive is determined to get rid of the present Ministry and render impossible the existence of any ministry working loyally with England. The Khedive is deaf to all advice from men of position and experience, but he is ready to listen to every idle tale from flatterers. He gives alarming proofs for his unfitness to discharge the duties of a ruler of Egypt. He is largely influenced by the Journal Egyptien, which openly promises him the armed support of the whole French nation in case of need. The interest of England requires that the Khedive's desperate course should be arrested with a firm hand. This can only be done by a sterner lesson than any yet

LONDON, Feb. 18 .- The House of Commons this evening rejected by a vote of 297 to 283 Joseph Chamberlain's amendment declaring it to be against public interest that the time of the House be wasted on bills which the Ministers admitted would not pass when measures involving great consti-

There never had been, he declared, and there never would be, a general election with a single issue. The Ministers regarded themselves as absolutely bound, until condemned by the House of Commons, to prosecute the policy which they had been delegated to carry out.

(United Press Dispatch.) MONTREAL, Feb. 18.—Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Liberal party in the Dominion, addressed a Liberal meeting of nearly 10,000 people at Soh-mer Park tonight. Mr. Laurier spoke in French, and dealt with the issues before the electors, covering the same ground as already covered in his pre-vious speeches. He scored the Gov-ernment for not announcing its decision in regard to the general elections, and challenged the Ministers to make some announcement of its plans. Regarding the Manitoba school question, Mr. Laurier said the Government was evidently afraid of it. It was a question that had to be settled, but it required men of courage to settle it, and the only policy that the Government seems to have was one of procrastination. Mr. Laurier said that his attitude in this question was what it had always been. He had frequently said, and he repeated it, that if the schools were Protestant, as had been repreented, it was an outrage on the Catholic minority, and justice demanded that the question should be settled as speedily as possible. He promised that if the Liberals were returned to power they would see that justice was done

Mr. Laurier also denounced the policy of protection, which he claimed had been an injury rather than a blessing to the country.

Mr. H. G. Joly indorsed Mr. Laurier and speeches were also delivered by Messrs. Tarte, Devlin and others. During the meeting what nearly proved to be a panic took place owing to the breaking of a window. The crowd rushed on the platform, and it was only after a strong appeal from Mr. Laurier that quiet was restored and the speakers were able to proceed. SOUTH PERTH ELECTION CASE. The delivery of judgment in the re-served point in the South Perth Provincial election case has been postponed until Saturday, March 2, at 11 a.m., and judgment will then be delivered in the Court of Appeal room at Osgoode Hall.

Quarterly Meeting of the London District W. M. M. S.

Reports Presented - Rev. John Mo-Dougall's Address on Women's Work-The Condition of the London District.

The quarterly meeting and convenvention of the Woman's Methodist Missionary Societies of the London district was held in the Centennial Methodist Church yesterday afternoon. The meeting had originally been called for the Dundas Center Church, but after the big conflagration the ladies of the Centennial Society kindly offered the use of their church for the gathering. The invitation was gladly accepted, and the workers were accordingly very grateful. The meeting was the most largely attended in the history of the district. At 3 o'clock the president, Mrs. J. H. McMechan, announced the opening hymn, and upwards of 250 delegates joined in the singing. The churches in the district were privileged to send as many delegates as they desired, and the congregations represented were Thorndale, Arva, Lucan, The Grove, Lambeth, Delaware township, Ilderton, Centralia, Belmont, South London, Wellington Street, London West, Queen's Avenue, Dundas Street Center, and the Centennial. Devotional exercises followed the opening hymn, and then Rev. A. G. Harris, pastor of the Centennial, briefly addressed the delegates. "I feel sad, indeed," he said, "and I am sure you also do, when I think that the place in which you were to meet today is in ashes. It is a sad loss, a loss which will be severely felt, and a loss which is deeply mourned. Expressions of sympathy have been extended to the congregations on all hands, but in one sense I do not think the first at aither sense I do not think the fires at either Dundas Street or Queen's Avenue Churches created greater sorrow anywhere than in my own congregation. When the announcements of the fires were made from the pulpit I saw tears shed and regret exhibited in other ways. However, our church, our school rooms and our hearts are open to you, and I hope your meeting will be beneficial."

Reports of auxiliaries, mission circles and mission bands were presented by secretaries from Queen's Avenue, Dundas Center, Wellington Street, Colborne Street, South London, Centennial, Arva, Baker's, Delaware, The Grove, Thorndale and other places. The reports were of a

MOST ENCOURAGING NATURE, and frequently elicited applause from the delegates. The work of the last quarter was principally dealt with, the money raised, the membership and average attendance being given in almost every instance. The methods of conducting meetings were described, and the schemes devised for raising funds were explained. Altogether, many useful and practical suggestions as to the most profitable way of promoting the work were imparted. Mrs. Griffith, of Thorndale, and Mrs. Westlake, of Arva, two prominent district workers, gave addresses on mis-sionary topics. Mrs. Fife, of London West, answered all questions put by

Interspersed with the business proceedings were acceptable solos by Miss Law and Miss Roblin, and flag exercises by the Colborne Street Mission Band, the latter consisting of short recitals by twelve boys and girls on the advance of mission work in the foreign

The ladies adjourned to the school room, where a bountiful tea was served and an hour spent in a very sociable way. THE EVENING MEETING. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock a public meeting of a most interesting character was held in the church. Rev. A. G. Harris presided. The proceedings were opened with the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesu's name," led by the choir of Dundas Street Methodist Church, under the leadership of Mr. Wm. Moxon. The chairman's opening address was devoted principally to a eulogy of the good work the Woman's Missionary Society. Mr. Harris was almost in-clined to make a regular missionary address, but this he left to Rev. Mr. Mc-Dougall, who had consented to come and speak. An anthem by the choir, an especially appropriate recitation by Miss Pitcher, and a very pretty number by fourteen girls from the Colborne Street Mission Band were given. The latter was entitled "The Light of the world is Jesus." It consisted of singing and reciting. Each girl was dressed in white and carried a long lighted candle encased in fancy paper. WOMAN'S PLUCK.

"It is now my privilege and pleasure." said Rev. Mr. Harris, "to introduce to you a minister who has become renowned, and whose address will doubtless prove of intense interest—Rev. John McDougall, of Morley, N. W. T., and founder of the McDougall Orphanage at that place. Mr. McDougall was applauded as he responded to the introduction. He announced the subject as "Woman's Missionary Society," and in his introductory he spoke of the difficulties he had experienced in his early work in British Columbia, but how year by year, they had been lessened by very substantial aid-financial and otherwise-from the Woman's Missionary Society, and to the ladies he re turned his greatest thanks. Mr. Mc-Dougall spoke of the work being conducted by the women in far-off and iso-lated fields. Statements that women were unfit for such labor were untrue. The speaker was personally acquainted with numerous cases where lady workers had given up everything to go back into uncivilized places to prosecute the work which they carried foremost in their hearts. "I tell you," said Mr. Mc-Dougall, "you have the material with you and of you to carry on this work successfully, and I am sure you will continue to illumine the world." (Applayse) The speaker part regited many plause.) The speaker next recited many incidents where women missionaries, with their husbands, had UNDERGONE THE SEVEREST TRIALS

Extended advertising of it forboded special offerings. This stock own, her husband's and her children's lives were in extreme dan-ger, and they were ordered to seek safe quarters several miles away. The wife strapped one of her children on her back, another in front, mounted a pony and started across wild, wooded, mountains—in which she was liable to be murdered by Indians, and forded many streams without the least hesitation. Her destination was reached without accident. "I tell you," said Mr. Mc-Dougall, warmly, "if you want heroism, pluck. NERVE AND BRAVERY (as my experience has taught it to me), you must go to the weaker vessel, as she has been called, for the strongest examples of it. They never murmur or grumble for a return to more settled countries where they would have no dangers to experience. Oh, ladies, I say you have the material to go and vanquish the world with sin and Satan against you. Send out 10,000 such women as I have been picturing to you and you would make possible the redemption of the world." (Applause.)

WORK IN THE LONDON DISTRICT.

Miss Luke read a paper on "The Out-look of Woman's Work," and Mrs. Mc-Mechan presented a report showing the number of auxiliaries in the London district to be 15; mission circles and junior bands, 7. No auxiliary had yet been formed in the Colborne Street Church. The income of the whole society for the year was $39,880, or an increase over the preceding year of $1,-834 17. The London district receipts were $2,225—$416 more than the previous twelve months. Of this sum the bands raised $793. The auxiliary membership was 510, and the members of the bands numbered 408. "In this district," said Mrs. McMechan, "we have about 6,000 members in our churches, and we hope this meeting will result in a vast increase in every auxiliary." The churches which have no auxiliaries are: Dorchester Station, Delaware Village, Colborne Street, King Street and York Street and all missions. Solos were given by Miss Ruse and Mr. Collins, and a vote of thanks accorded the Centennial ladies.

The June meeting will be held in the Wellington Street Church.

Counsel, acting for the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Company, have issued a writ against the Spectator Printing Company for $50,000 for alleged libel. The action is based on two articles which appeared in the Spectator on Jan. 11, a day or so after the collapse of the Binkley Hollow bridge. The Hamilton bridge works were sold by auction in Chancery office Monday morning. Mr. J. H. Tilton secured the property and plant at $49,900. It is understood the works will be opened up again. The creditors may receive a fair dividend, but there will be nothing for the shareholders. The works cost $135,000, and were valued at $80,000 some vears ago.

THE STUDENTS' BOYCOTT Was in Operation on Monday at Toronto

-A Compromise Probable. TORONTO, Feb. 18 - The boycott on the university lectures on account of the friction between the faculty and the students is in full force. A few lectures were given nevertheless, but only three or four students attended them. The medical students of the first and second year today met and decided to wait for three days b-fore taking any action. The Victoria students, so far as their lectures at University College is concerned, are joining in the boycott. Hon. G. W. Ross, in an interview, said the Government would probably see it. way to appoint a commission of investigation, but that it would be out of the question to look for the reinstatement of Prof. Dale. He stated also that Student Tucker, editor of the 'Varsity, would not be allowed to return to the institution. Mr. Ross stated also that such a commission could not be appointed until the students had returned to lectures. The students will probably compromise. from the Tight Lit-

COMPOUND. Thinks It Is the Right Medicine for Building Up Weak and Sickly Girls and Women.

PAINE'S CELERY

In the early part of January an English physician of high standing and considerable wealth, visited the principal cities and towns of Canada, after a tour in the United States.

He was exceedingly pleased with what he saw of the Dominion, and spoke in glowing terms of the good nature and hospitality of our people.

When asked what he thought of Canadians from a physiological point of view, he replied:
"Taken as a whole you have a fine, sturdy population; but there is room for improvement. You have splendid specimens of manhood; your women generally look healthy and vigorous, but you have too many who are pale, listless and half-dead looking, such as I have met in the United States. "Oh, yes! I know something about Paine's Celery Compound; I have used it occasionally myself, and know of its being used in England. I have recommended it to pale, weak and run-down women and girls in England, and it has produced very satisfactory and pleasing results. From what I know of the formula of Paine's Celery Compound, I have no hesitation, as a physician, in prescribing it in case of general debility, dyspepsia, nervous affections, kidney and liver complaints and general weakness. "Your pale, weak and half-dead women and girls have a true life-building agent in Paine's Celery Compound. There is no other preparation I know of that is so well adapted for the troubles of weak females.

"I am pleased to know that Paine's Celery Compound is so popular in your midst; it really deserves every line of praise now received from the public."

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earaches, bruises, cuts and sores successful to its action

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 18 .- There is trouble brewing in the Wesleyan Theological College here which may or may not assume serious proportions. The board of governors have appointed a Mr. Harris to the chair of church history. Mr. Harris has been instrumental in raising $30,000 for the benevolent fund, and this is the reason assigned for his appointment. The students and professors object strongly to the appointment. It is represented that Mr. Harris' standing in the college is no higher than many of the students whom he will be called upon to teach. The professors say that he is not fit for the position. A meeting of the students and professors was held on Saturday, and a requisition was sent to the board asking the cancella tion of Mr. Harris' appointment. One of the professors states that he will resign unless the requisition is granted.

THE DOWLY CASE.

Facts as Published Yesterday Confirmed by Her Husband.

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 19.-The case of Mrs. Dowly, as published yesterday, receives further confirmation from this town. The facts as told by her husband are as follows: "My wife was ailing from six to seven years with kidney disease, run down in flesh and could not sleep nights. She commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills about six months ago, and shortly after began to improve. After using four boxes it made a complete cure, and she is now well and strong, so that I have very good reasons for recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Old, Yet New.

The Greatest Novelty of the Present

Dr. De Witt Talmage Discourses on the Subject of "The Glorious Gospel"

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.-Rev. Dr. Talmage took for his subject yesterday afternoon, "The Glorious Gospel," the text chosen being, "According to the glorious Gospel of the Blessed God, which was committed to my trust"-

I. Timothy, i., 11.

The greatest novelty if our time is the Gospel. It is so old that it is new. It is amazing what substitutes have been presented for what my text calls, "The glorious Gospel." There has been an hemispheric apostasy. There are many people in this and all other large assem-blages who have no more idea of what the Gospel really is than they have of what is contained in the fourteenth chapter of Zend-Avesta, the Bible of the Hindoo. The old Gospel is 50 feet under, and the work has been done by the shovels of those who have been trying to contrive the philosophy of religion. There is no philosophy about it. It is a plain matter of Bible statement and of childlike faith. Some of the theological seminaries have been hotbeds of infidelity because they have tried to teach the "philosophy of religion." By the time that many a young theological student gets half through his preparatory course he is so filled with doubts about plenary inspiritation and the divinity of Christ and the ques-tions of eternal destiny that he is more fit for the lowest bench in the infant class of a Sunday school than to become a teacher and leader of the peo-ple. The ablest theological professor is a Christian mother, who, out of her own experience, can tell the 4-year-old how beautiful Christ was on the earth, and how beautiful he is now in heaven, and then consecrates him for time and eternity to him who said, "Suffer them to come unto me." What an awful work Paul made with the D.D.s, and LL.D.s, and the F.R.S.s when he cleared the decks of the old Gospel world to confound the mighty."

Ah, my friends, the Bible wants no apologetics. The Throne of the Last Judgments wants no apologetics. Eternity wants no apologetics. Scientists may tell us that natural light is the "propagation of undulations in an elastic medium, and thus set in vibratory motion by the action of luminous bodies"; but no one knows what Gospel light is until his own blind eyes, by the touch of the Divine Spirit, have opened to see the noonday of pardon and peace. Scientists may tell me that natural sound is "the effect of an impression made on the organs of hearing by an impulse of the air, caused by a collision of bodies or by other means' but those only know what the Gospel sound is who have heard the voice of Christ directly, saying: "Thy sins are forgiven thee; go in peace," The theological dude unrolls upon the plush of the exquisitively carved pulpit a learned discourse, showing that the Garden of Eden was an allegory, and Solomon's Song a rather indelicate love ditty, and the Book of Job a drama in which Satan was the star actor, and that Renan was three-quarters right about the miracles winter Fair showed Dr. Price's Bakin of Jesus, and that the Bible was gradually evoluted, and the best thought of the different ages, Moses and David, and Paul, doing the best they could under the circumstances, and therefore to be encouraged. Lord of Heaven and Earth, get us out of the London fog of ship by saying, "Not many wise men, not many noble, are called, but God hath chosen the weak things of the higher criticism! The night is dark and the way is rough, and we have a Lantern which God has put in our hands, but instead of employing that Lantern to show ourselves and others the right way, we are discussing lanterns, their shape, their size, their material, and which is the better light-kerosene, lamp oil, or candle; and while we discuss it we stand all around the Lantern, so that we shut out the light from the multitudes who are stumbling on the dark mountains of sin and death. Here also come, covering up the old Gospel, some who think they can by law and exposure of crime save the world, and many of the ministers have into the detective business. gone Worldly reform by all means; but unless it be also Gospel reform it will be dead failure. Politics will save the cities the same day that Satan evan-gelizes perdition. Here comes another class of people who in pulpit and outside of it cover up the Gospel with the theory that it makes no final difference what you believe or how you act-you are bound for heaven, anyhow. There they sit, side by side, in heaven. Garfield and Gui-teau, who shot him; Lincoln and John Wilkes Booth, who assassinated him; Washington and Thomas Payne, who slandered him; Nana Sahib and the missionaries, whom he clubbed to death at Cawnpore; Herod and the children whom he massacred; Paul and Nero, who beheaded him. As a result of the promulgation of such a mongrel and conglomerate heaven, here are millions of people in Christendom who expect to go straight to heaven from their seraglios, and their inebriations, and their suicides, when among the loudest thunders that break over the basaltic island to which St. John was expatriated was the one in which God an-nounced that "the abominable, and the murderers, and the whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their place in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone, which is the second death." But as I remarked in the opening sentence of this sermon, the greatest nov-elty of our time is the Gospel. And let me say to the hundreds and thousands of educated and splendid young men about to enter the Gospel ministry from the theological seminaries of all denominations, on this and the other side of the seas, that there is no drawing pow-er like the glorious Gospel. "Him hath God lifted up to draw all men unto Get your souls charged and surcharged with this Gospel and you will have large audiences, and you will not have to announce in order to assemble such audiences, a Sunday night sacred concert, with a brief address by the pastor; or the presence of "Black Pattis" or Creole minstrels, or some new exposure of Tammany, or a sermon ac-companied by a magic lantern or stereopticon views. The glorious Gospel of the Blessed God as spoken of in my text will have more drawing power, and when that Gospel gets full swing It will have a momentum and a power mightier than that of the Atlantic Ocean, when under the force of the September equinox, it strikes the Highlands of the Navesink. The meaning of the word "gospel" is good news, and my text says that it is glorious good news, and we must tell it in our churches, and over our dryoods counters, and in our factories, and over our threshing machines, and behind our plows, and on our ships' decks, and in our parlors, our nurseries and kitchens, as though it were glorous good news, and not with a dismal drawl in our voice, and a dismal look on our faces, as though religion were rheumatic twinge, or a dyspeptic ng. or a malarial chill, or an attack "blesseds" or "happys" Christ began is Sermon on the Mount: Blessed the oor, blessed the mourner, blessed the Maitland street.

meek, blessed the hungry, blessed the merciful, blessed the pure, blessed the peace-makers, blessed the persecuted, blessed the reviled; blessed, blessed, blessed; happy, happy, happy.

Oh, my text is right when it speaks of the glorious Gospel. It is an invitation from the most radiant Being that ever trod the earth or ascended the heavens, to you and me to come and be happy. Glad I am that all the Christian poets have exerted their pens in extolling the Matchless One of the Gospel. Isaac Watts writes, "I am not ashamed of my Lord." Newton writes, "Amazing grace, how sweet the sound." Cowper sings "There is a fountain filled with blood." Charles Wesley says, "Jesus, lover of my soul." Horatius Bonar says, "I lay my sins on Jesus." Ray Palmer writes, "My faith looks up to Thee." Fannie Crosby writes, "Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine." But I take higher testimony. Science what do higher testimony: Solomon, what do you think of him? And the answer is, "Lily of the valley." Ezekiel, what do you think of him? And the answer is, "Plant of renown." David, what do you think of him? And the answer is, 'My Shepherd." St. John, what do you "My Shepherd." St. John, what do you think of him? And the answer is, "Bright and morning star." St. Paul, what do you think of him? And the answer comes, "Christ is all in all." Do you think as well of him O man, O woman of the blood-bought immortal spirit? Yes Paul was right when he spirit? Yes, Paul was right when he styled it "The Glorious Gospel."

You thought religion was a straightjacket, that it put you on the limits, that thereafter you must go cowed down. No, no, no. By the cleansing power of the shed blood of Golgotha, set your face towards the shining pinnacles. Oh, it does not matter much what becomes of us here-for at the longest our stay is short—if we can only and there. Our Blessed Lord took our place. He purchased our ransom. He wept our woes. He suffered our stripes. He died our death. He assured our resurrection. Oh, I want to see it, and I will see itthe day of his coronation. On a throne already; methinks the day will come when in some great hall of eternity all the nations of earth whom he has conquered by his grace will assemble again to crown him. Wide and high, and immense, and upholstered as with the sunrises and sunsets of a thousand years, great audience room of heaven. Like the leaves of an Adirondack forest the ransomed multitudes, and Christ standing on a high place surrounded by worshipers and subjects. They shall come out of the farthest past led on by the prophets; they shall come out of the corn. Cornel down led on by the aposearly Gospel days led on by the apostles; they shall come out of the centuries still ahead of us, led on by the champions of the truth, heroes and heroines yet to be born.

And then from that vastest audience ever assembled in all the universe there will go up the shout: "Crown him! Crown him! Crown him!" And the Father who long ago promised his Only Begotten Son, "I will give thee the heathen for thine inheritance and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession," shall set the crown upon the forehead yet scarred with crucifixion bramble, and all the hosts of heaven, down on the levels, and up in the galleries, will drop on their knees, crying, "Hail, King of Earth! King of Heaven! King of Saints! King of Seraphs! Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and to thy dominions there shall be no end! Amen and amen! Amen and Amen!

A pleasant time was spent at the parlor social given under the auspices of the Guild of St. Matthew's Church, Florence, at the residence of Mrs. James Beatty on Friday evening. The early part of the evening was spent in games, and after partaking of refreshments a neat programme was rendered by the following: Mrs. Howell, Misses Maud Willson, Minnie Kyle, Jennie Hall, Bertie Rheintgen, Sarah Beatty, Minnie Bodkins, Ida Gordier, Mabel Beatty, and Messrs. J. A. Armstrong and Brommage. Rev. H. R. Diehl occupied the chair.

The remains of Mrs. Jeannette Paul Graham, of Komoka, one of the oldest settlers in the township of Lobo, were taken to their last resting place on Sunday. Mrs. Graham came to Lobo from Scotland in 1826, or 69 years ago. At this time Lobo was a wilderness, and London was only known as "The Forks." The obsequies were under the charge of Rev. A. Sinclair, of the Disciples. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in the district. The deceased leaves three children to mourn her loss-Mr. A. Graham, of London; Mr. D. Graham, of Komoka, and Mrs. Sarah Graham Steinhoff, of Strathroy. A very enjoyable social under the auspices of the Bryanston Presbyterian Church was held at the residence of Mr. James Elliott, con. 13, London township, on Friday evening, Feb. 15. Friends and neighbors to the number of 160 gathered there. A sumptuous re past was served by the ladies of the church, after which Mr. Alex. Grant, of Bryanston, a host in himself, took the chair, and a fine musical and literary programme, interspersed with speeches was carried out, in which the following took part: Misses Chermichael and Little Bethel; Mr. Johnston, Mr. and Miss McGuffin, Nissouri; Mr. and Miss Corsaut, Birr; Mr. Gough, Siloam; Messrs. Hayes, Langford, and Lowlance, London township. The proceeds of the evening, amounting to $40, will be devoted to the purchase of an organ for the new church.

Lactated Food Now Used in the Homes of Physicians.

It is a notable fact that our physicians are now fully alive to the important question of infant feeding, and are taking a great interest in Lactated Food.

Our ablest and best doctors have given Lactated Food many severe tests, and in every case victory and complete satisfaction has been the result. Scores of Canadian doctors are now using this wonderful food in their own families, which is surely a strong reason why the mothers of our land should make it their choice. A well-known and popular phy-sician writes about Lactated Food as follows: "I have used your Lactated Food with children and in old age with very satisfactory results. It is pleasant to the taste, and apparently easily digested and assimilated. It has been especially useful to old people, whose powers of digestion were weakened, furnishing them with a very pleasant and nu-tritious food."

THE AFRICAN EXPLORER. Johnston Lectures in St.

Andrew's Church. Dr. Johnston, the noted missionary and African explorer, gave his interesting lecture, "A Trip Through Central Africa," with illustrated stereopticon views, in St. Andrew's Church last night. The church was filled by an appreciative audience. Mr. Johnston is a powerful speaker, and his vivid description of the journey of 4,500 miles through the wilds of the Dark Continent kept his audience almost spellbound. Rev. W. J. Clark opened the meeting and made a few pleasant remarks in introducing the lecturer. Rev. Mr. Sawers offered a feeling prayer. Mr. Johnston earnestly wished to create an interest in this country for the Africans, who are not such fools as the white people think they are. There is a grand destiny for the negro, who displays great ingenuity in the manufacture of many useful articles. Water bottles, soup dishes, baskets, woodwork, ironwork, knives, war hatchets, battleaxes, spears, hoes, beheading swords, arrows, bows, pipes, etc., in many varieties, were shown and minutely de-scribed, to the amusement of the audience. The explorer described many hairbreadth escapes in his journeyings through Central Africa from the natives and wild beasts, and exhibited the skins of tigers, leopards, snakes, etc., captured during his travels. Dr. Johnston left his home in Jamaica in 1891 in order to find out the state of affairs in Africa, and with the aid of his camera has been able to present a good idea of the progress being made in civilizing the people in Central Africa. The views given last night, both of scenes in Jamaica and Africa were intensely interesting. The trip occupied eighteen months, the whole of the distance of 4,500 miles, with the txception of 500 miles by boat down the Zambesi River, being made on foot. Dr. Johnston has been laboring for twenty years in the West Indies, to which place he returns next month. He has set his heart on returning to Africa in the near future in company with his wife, who is at present in charge of his work in Jamaica.

BADLY RUN DOWN.

A Phrase that Expresses the Condition of Thousands-How One Man Regained His Health.

Mr. Geo. H. Quinn is one of the principal workmen in the establishment of the Brantford Carriage Company, and is highly esteemed by both his employers and fellow-workmen. At one time Mr. Quinn's system was so badly run down that he was forced to quit his trade, but no one seeing him today would ever imagine that his health was anything but the most robust. To a reporter of the Expositor Mr. Quinn said, in reference to his illness: "I was not really suffering from any disease. I was simply in that condition known as 'run down,' and my condition was so bad that I was forced to quit my trade. Having read so often of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I at last determined to give them a trial, and I can state emphatically that it was that medicine that made the complete and desirable change you see in my condition. I feel like a new man, am able now to do as much work as any man, and have not lost a day's work through illness since I finished the Pink Pill treatment. I can and do recommend Pink Pills whenever the opportunity arises, and I know of several in the shop who have taker them and been greatly benefited." ### JOHN CAMERON, London, Tuesday, February 19.

-The Free Press announces that action has been taken by the Conservatives against all the Liberal members of last year's London City Council, at present aldermen, with the view of having them disqualified for not providing for the sinking fund last year. This declaration will no doubt open the eyes of some of our citizens. Not the welfare of the citizens as a whole, but a political party advantage, appears to be the motive of these promoters of litigation, and of expense to citizens and to the corporation. It is now easy to interpret what Mr. Douglas meant when he explained that he did not desire to attack Ald. O'Meara's seat, but that "they," the machine politicians who are promoting the attacks on aldermen solely because they are Liberals, insisted on his trying to get the seat from a man whom they found they could not use.

-The Free Press asserts that it is still seeing snakes and things when it discusses the London Seat Steal. It must be in a dreadful way. Cannot its judge editor help it out of its trouble?

-In California it is proposed to have the veterinary department of the State University make anti-toxin for diphtheria, and the State Legislature will be asked to appropriate $3,000 yearly for the purpose. Those who have studied the conclusions of two superior courts, the subject ridicule this project, as they show that it takes fully six say that the cases which he decided months to get the horses in proper condition, and that the proposed appropriation would not pay the salary of a competent chemist familiar with

-Our city contemporary says the this stage. It is guilty of misrepresentation. The question was revived by Mr. Hume Elliot, son of its judgeeditor, who deemed it necessary to defend the outrage at the last meeting of the Conservative Association, and the Free Press gave publicity to his special pleading. Like Banquo's ghost, our contemporary finds the Seat Steal cannot be laid until the citizens of London have opportunity to resent it Judge Davis was prejudiced and perby putting Mr. Hyman in the place to which they elected him.

THE MEETING OF THE NEW ON-TARIO LEGISLATURE.

The first session of the new Ontario Legislature will begin on Thursday next. At one time, when it was thought that the Patrons of Industry would hold the balance of power, there was considerable excitement as to how the members would stand on test questions. It was this fact that raised so much excitement in the first bye-election held after the general election last June-that to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement from public life of Mr. W. R. Meredith, member for this city. The belief that in some way the Government might be prevented from obtaining a majority over the Conservatives, Patrons and others, moved the Conservative leaders to make a deadset on London with the object of preventing a change in the representation of the city. Mr. Marter, the new leader, Mr. Howland, and their associates, camped in the city for some time during the campaign, and the local Conservative managers put up Mr. Essery as being the most likely man to win. The result was highly satisfactory to the veteran Premier of Ontario, for the majority for the Liberal candidate was 803. Since then two other bye-elections have taken place-in Kingston and in West Algoma-and in both instances the Liberal nominees took the seats occupied by Conservatives, being elected by large majorities. Haldimand county is now vacant, and it is among the probabilities that it, too, will return the Liberal candidate, and it may happen that in another riding, where an election trial has yet to take place, Sir Oliver will score once more. But in any case, the Liberals have a good working majority in the new Legislature, and they will continue to mould the destinies of the Province for four years to come. When the House meets on Thursday the slate will stand as follows: Liberals, 50; Conservatives, 24; Liberal Patrons, 8; Conservative Patrons, 6; Independent and P. P. A., 3; vacant, 1. Supposing, on some question, the Conservative 24 had every other element outside the straight Liberals at its back, Sir Oliver would have a clear majority of eight, counting Haldimand against him. With Haldimand, his clear majority would be 10. But as in almost every case the Patron platform is similar to that of the Liberals, Sir Oliver can trust the Liberal Patrons to generally support him. Thus he will probably have majorities as large since he first became Premier of the Province, now 23 years since.

Some interest has been taken in the Speakership of the new Legislature. It may reasonably be taken for granted that the Government nominee, no matter who he is, will be elected. The indications are that the new Speaker will be Mr. W. D. Balfour, member for South Essex, one of the ablest and most painstaking members of the House, who has been in the Legislature for a great many years, and who, during the past four sessions, did excellent service as chairman of committee. There are few better posted or fairer men in the Legislature. The only regret, if Mr. Balfour is made Speaker, will be his loss as a debater of public questions.

From the construction of the new Legislature, the conclusion is forced that it will be a progressive one, giving special attention to the great staple industry of agriculture. The farming interest is strong, there being no fewer than 45 members either farmers or closely connected with that industry. The other members comprise sixteen lawyers, nine merchants, seven lumbermen, six physicians, four newspaper men, two contractors, one real estate man, an auctioneer, a land surveyor

In all probability the first session will be comparatively quiet and businesslike. There are not likely to be many new measures, either Government or private. Probably the most important legislation will be that promoted by electric railway companies for the purpose of extending electricity as an aid to travel and to commerce in the rural

HOW DO MR. JUSTICE STREET AND HIS ASSOCIATES RELISH THE ATTACKS OF THE ATTOR-NEY FOR THE SEAT STEAL?

Now that Judge Davis is in his grave, the London Free Press revives the statement that that respected judge gave a decision in reference to voters' lists objections on all fours with that given by Judge Elliot which deprived Mr. Hyman of the seat to which the majority of the electors of London elected him. When Judge Davis was alive, he was much annoyed to find that he was accused of thus deciding against were not similar to those disposed of by Judge Elliot. "I do not desire to be mixed up in the London election case," said Judge Davis to the writer, "but I decision in accord with that of Judge "Advertiser" revived the Seat Steal at | Elliot, and in the face of the unanimous decision of the Court of Queen's Bench and of the Court of Appeal to the contrary, I would not for a moment think of doing so. I have always respected the decision of the superior courts until they have been overruled by a higher authority." The judge kindly showed the papers in the cases to prove the conclusions that he had arrived at Doubtless it will be contended that sonally disaffected towards the judge editor of the Free Press when he thus spoke. Just as it is argued that Chief Justice Armour Chief Justice Hagarty, Mr. Justice Street, Mr. Justice Falconbridge, Mr. Justice Burton and Mr. Justice Maclennan, the "Advertiser" and every independent journal in the country (Conservative as well as Liberal) were prejudiced and personally opposed to the judge editor of the Free Press when they held that his decision was not in accord with justice. Even Mr. J. H. Fraser, revising officer, strong Conservative though he was, held that the Liberal notices in question met the law, and he purged the voters' list of the names of the bogus voters that Judge Elliot subsequently placed on the lists and permitted to vote, while so eminent a judge as Mr. Justice Maclennan declared that it would be an intolerable scandal if the views of Judge Elliot were to prevail. The real question, indeed, is, "Were the bogus voters entitled to vote because they had a proper qualification?" Mr. Fraser, revising officer, after three days' inquiry into the objections lodged against them, decided that they were not entitled to vote, and not one of them was able to meet the challenge of the "Advertiser" that they were so entitled. We published the grounds on which each bad vote was struck off by Mr. Fraser. But Judge Elliot, who has been solemnly charged with editing the Free Press and contending against the views entertained by the Liberals while the question was before the courts, defied the judges of the superior courts, against every British precedent. That he was enabled to do so, by the infamous Franchise Act, no matter how many higher courts might decide against his

Farmers are asked to support the National Policy because it gives them a home market for their products and saves them from American competition. At the same time a steamship line is subsidized to bring here Australian butter, cheap Australian mutton, beef, hides, pork, apples, canned meats and wool; cargoes of some of these articles are actually arriving, and the Canadian farmer, in spite of the duty, is being undersold in his own market.

The Government is paying money to encourage the export of Canadian butter, and money to encourage the import of Australian butter. Manufacturers are "assisted" by duties which are higher upon their raw materials, coal and iron, than upon their finished products. Farmers are "assisted" by the drawback on the materials of farm implement for export, which can thus be sold cheaper in Argentine and Australia than in Canada.-Toronto Globe.

MAKING STEEL WITH A GAS

FLAME. Hon. John Haggart seems to be tryng to rival the Tuppers as a Great Stretcher. The Kingston Whig tells the story thus: A gentleman in the iron business in Montreal city, has been simply astonished at Hon. Mr. Haggart's ignorance and his inability to conceal it. At Blenheim Mr. Haggart undertook to discuss the iron trade. "It was true," he said, "that one article, that of iron, was not so cheap in Canada as it could be bought abroad, but it was only a short time since a protection was put upon iron to such an extent as would develop the industry of Canada. The contention of the Government was that when the industry was established in Canada iron would be as cheap in this country as if there were no imposts whatever. Perhaps in the near future large furnaces would be built near Blenheim, because he noticed at Londonderry that the change from iron to steel was made by means of gas from coal."

And the Montreal man calls this "infernal rot," because, he informed the people through the Herald, Mr. Haggart never saw anything of the kind at Londonderry. There is no steel industry in Londonderry. There is a blast furnace for the production of pig iron. There was in connection with this a rolling mill for the production of merchant bar iron, and a puddling plant for the production of puddled bars, but both of these last named departments are closed down, largely owing to the operations and influence of the tariff

Evidently Mr. Haggart is not a reliable authority on some things, and his exploits in this case are remindful of a good story which some time since went the rounds concerning a man named John Smith. It had been reported that he had punished his children with undue severity for drinking home made currant wine, and so he felt called upon to send to the press an emphatic denial in these words: I don't make currant wine. I never bought any currant wine. None of my neighbors ever bought any wine of any kind. I have no neighbors, and there is no place within ten miles where my children could get wine. I never punish my children. I have no children."

Mr. Haggart will appreciate this little story when he has read what the Montreal man has said about him and his Blenheim speech.

London Presbytery Sustains the Two Calls

To Fill the Vacancies in St Andrew's and Knox Churches.

Both Calls Will Likely Be Sustained by the Respective Presbyteries-Rev. Robt. Johnston, Lindsay, and Rev. J.G.Stuart. Toronto, the Prospective Pastors.

At a special meeting of the London Presbytery held in the First Presbyterian Sunday school building this morning, Rev. E. H. Sawers presented the call from the congregation of St. Andrew's Church to the Rev. Robert Johnston, Lindsay. Rev. A. Miller, Mosa, the moderator, presided. The 'call' proper was a voluminous affair, the signatures of the members covering about twenty pages of foolscap, and those of the adherents six pages. Six hundred and twenty-nine members signed the call, and 160 adherents-685

Mr. Sawers was accompanied by Mr. James McSween, of the board of managers; Hugh Gunn, representing the adherents, and C. R. Somerville, on behalf of the session. A large number of church members were also present to hear the Presbytery dear with the case. Sawers stated that it contained a guarantee of $2,300 salary, together with free use of the manse and six weeks' vaca-

Then he proceeded to give the reasons. "I don't know whether they are always valid or not," said he, "or worth very much; but they have to be given according to law. The first is:

larger than the one Mr. Johnston is now in.
"Third—That the condition and size of our congregation requires it to have a man of experience and who has proved himself successful. "Fourth-That our people know Rev. Mr. Johnston, having had him with us for two months as assistant to our late pastor some years ago. Therefore they are voting intelligently (and that's a very good reason). "Fifth-That the vote of the membership is so largely in favor of Mr. Johnston it would be such a damper on the enthusiasm of the people should the call not be sustained that the result would be distastrous to our cause. (We Church would be locked up. I heard a gentleman say on this floor that if they did not get the man they wanted they might just as well lock up the door and hand the key over to the Presbytery. Such a church is better locked up.)

"Sixth-It is hardly possible for the ople to be as united on any other call as they are on this. "Seventh-That the call seems have been directed by the Ruler of All Things, and if accepted will no doubt strengthen our congregation and advar ce Christ's kingdom in our midst." "We cannot speak too highly of the moderator (Mr. Sawers) you have placed over our congregation," said Mr. C. R. Somerville, as he spoke in favor

Mr. James McSween said that the would have signed had not the time been so limited. He remarked on the church's splendid financial condition, and said that the congregation wanted and said that the congregation wanted a pastor as soon as possible to get St. Andrew's into working order again.

There was but one thing to do, in Mr. Clark's estimation, and that was to sustain the call. The very unanimous decision was due to two excess.

mous decision was due to two causes First, the moderator who had so wisely guided; and, secondly, the people who had so wisely been willing to be guided. They had set a good example to other congregations by their prompt-ness. He therefore moved that the call be sustained and forwarded to the Rev. Mr. Stewart, of the Stratford Presbytery, and Rev. Mr. Ballantyne, of Kirkwall, Hamilton Presbytery, were invited to sit as corresponding members of the Presby ery.

Rev. Mr. Sawers was appointed to repre sent the Presbytery at Lindsay. "Members of the Lindsay Presbytery have told me," said Mr. Sawers, "that they will deal kindly with us; that if a telegram making a statement that this call had been sustained here should be sent to Sunderland where the Presbytery is in session today it would expedite matters."

The telegram will be sent. "What has been done on behalf of Mrs. Murray ?" asked Rev. Mr. Henderson. Mr. McSween explained that until the new pastor should take hold Mrs. Murray received the difference between the cost of supply and the late pastor's salary. Then the also received a grant of $1,000-$200 or 5 years.

of the Presbytery.

Rev. W. J. Clark presented the call of the South London congregation to Rev. J. G. Stuart. B.A., St. Mark's Church, To- worth 7c, selling for 5c. ronto. The call, he explained, had not been taken around owing to the severe weather and scarcity of time. It was just signed in the vestibule and contained the signatures of 133 communicants and 40 adherents, a total of 173 out of 220 on the roll. The call guaranteed a salary of $1.400, and although nothing was said about holidays the board of managers were willing to grant one month's vacation each

The reasons were very similiar to those of the St. Andrew's congregation. The pulpit had been vacant for nine months and it was very desirable for the temporal and spiritual wellfare of the congregation that a choice should be made. It was pointed out that the congregation was united and was growing rather impatient; that they had been subjected to one disappointment, and it would not do to subject them to another. They felt that Mr. Stuart was eminently qualified to fill the vacancy, and until the choice had been made the work of the church was not only at a standstill, but was retrograding. Mr. James Thompson and Col. Gartshore were heard in support of the call. Rev. Mr. McDonald moved that the call be accepted. Rev. M. P. Talling seconded.

There was no opposition. Rev. W. J. Clark was appointed to represent the Presbytery in Toronto. Mr. Clark wished to make conditional arrangeents subject to the call being sustaine Toronto, that the induction take place on Tuesday, March 19, at 7:30 o'clock. But this matter was also left to the next meeting of the Presbytery.

A minute expressing sympathy with Rev. James Gordon, formerly treasurer of the Presbytery, in his illness was adopted.

Last night's session, which by the way was held under the shadow of a massive American flag, was concluded at 10:10. The flag in question was side by side with a Union Jack of the same size, and had been hung across the council chamber by the decorators who are preparing the hall for a ball. It was not noticed until after the meeting, when one of the aldermen laughingly remarked that Ald. J. W. Jones and Col. WILL IT GO THROUGH? Ald. O'Meara pressed his notice of motion to recommend to the Port Stanley Board that an embankment and arch be erected over Kettle Creek, on the G. T. R., and so give employment to the working-"In the first place," said Ald. O'Meara, "it is not going to cost the city one cent. An estimated expenditure of $70,000 has been apportioned for the erection of the bridges, and debentures have been issued for the improvement. And as soon as this improvement is done the company pays 4 per cent upon the cutlay. Therefore the city would not be the looser."

Ald. Callahan seconded the motion, and the matter was referred to the Port Stanley

"The Port Stanley Board does not report back," explained Mr. Kingston.
Then Mr. Powell objected to giving the board carte blanche, but the majority of the aldermen were willing to let the matter go to the board to be dealt with, and it went. COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The discussion commenced on the reading of the first clause of No. 3 committee's report. It recommended the adoption of the suggestion of the city engineer to water all streets within a certain area and to pay a certain portion of the cost of the same out of the general taxes.

Ald. Skinner moved that the clause be referred back, and Ald. Nutkins moved that it be struck out altogether. Ald. Pritchard thought the cost of watering should be paid by frontage. No part of it should be paid for out of the general

Ald. Powell thought that it was a fair and equitable thing that a certain percentage should be paid out of the general fund. Ald. Dreaney drew attention to the fact that the people on the outskirts of the city would have to pay a portion of the cost of the street watering in the central portion of the city.

It was argued by Ald. O'Meara that the general public reaped a benefit from the watering of the streets. "In justice to my ward," said Ald.

Natkins, "I cannot support anything like that. We have no sewer, we have no more than about four blocks of block pavement, and yet we pay our proportion of these special improvements. We are asked to support a scheme for another special im-provement whereby we would derive no benefit at all." Ald. Powell signified his willingness to have the matter lay over, and Ald. Weld spoke in favor of the scheme. After further discussion the clause was

The next clause recommended that tenders be called for street watering so that the estimates can be prepared. There was some objection to this, and Ald. O'Mears asked when the chairman (Ald. Powell) would require the tenders to be in. "Well, I may not be here," said Ald. Powell, "but if not, my successor will probably require them to be in within a couple of weeks." (Laughter.)

Ald. O'Meara thought that the figures contained in the tenders would become public property if called for so early, but Ald. Powell assured him that they would be kept secret. The clause was adopted. Clause 5 recommended that three arc lights be placed in the Covent Garden market.

"I move that the clause be struck out, said Ald. O'Meara. "I think No. 3 committee has been pretty roughly opposed tonight," said Ald. Pritchard in defending the clause, "Oh, I can stand it," said Chairman Powell. "Why, the revenue you derive from the whole Covent Garden will not pay for the three are lights," said Ald. J. W. Jones. "You gave them free gas. Now you want to give them electricity, too. I would go further, and give them free meat." Ald. Powell explained that the lights were only wanted for Saturday nights. They will be put in. No. 2 committee's report was read by

Ald. Wm. Heaman, chairman. It was adopted without debate. Ald. J. W. Jones, chairman of No. 1 committee, read the report of that committee. It recommended for payment accounts amounting to $4,393 44. Ald. Pritchard asked if the second installment on Bragg, Reed & Bragg's contract for japanning Victoria bridge had been paid. "No. 2 committee has not passed it," said Ald. O'Meara. "The account was signed by the chairman of No. 2 for the year 1894," explained

Ald. Jones. "Well, a more rascally piece of work was never done in the city," said Ald.

Pritchard.

A general kick was raised against the principle involved in the payment of $5 to Dr. Hutchinson for his share in examining

"I understand that no city official is to Leonard, $25 to F. A. Fitzgerald and b. allowed any perquisites," commented

The motion was lost, and Ald. Parnell

Ald. O'Meara, Wm. Heaman, Skinner and Parnell voted yea. The nays comprised the balance of the council. Ald. Weld's notice of the last meeting became a motion. It asked that Ald. Pritchard, Jones, Carrothers. Callahan,

Dreaney and Weld be a committee to wait on the county council or representatives of don't care who knows it, whether it is the county and to consider the advisability

Local Market. Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son

LONDON, Feb. 19. The attendance on the market was moder-

The attendance on the market was moderately good today. Wheat was steady and featureless, Cats were the center of attraction, and opened up with a boom black selling at 92c, and one load at 94c. This was caused by sharp competition between commission buyers, who at times form the ruling element of this market. Their fist off order soon ran low, and when the regular trade took hold it soon became evident the bottom would go out, as it quickly did, the close showing no advance over yesterday. Peas sold at 95c to 81, and barley got to 82c for colored; no bright offered. No beans, buckwheat or corn came in. Butter degs steady, with no change in the former a drop of 1c to 2c in the latter. #### SENT FOR TRIAL

Nelson Backwell Before the Police Magistrate.

"Betsy" Baker's Pal-Fred Johnston Also Committed for Assault.

Nelson Blackwell, the young man from East London, and "pal" of "Betsy" Baker, will keep the latter company in the county jail for a time. Blackwell was in the Police Court this morning and opposite his name were the charges "shop breaking" and "shop breaking and theft." On the night of Jan. 26, Biackwell, Betsy Baker and in rear of Loveless' grocery store, and the patrol with P. C. Ralph was called. Ralph went down the lane, too, and as he got behind Loveless' store, saw Blackwell and Baker working hard at an inside door. Blackwell was too quick for the policeman and disappeared over a fence, but Baker walked right into the arms of the law. James Quinn, who ran from the front of the store and hid himself in a snow drift, was also brought to the station. Blackwell laid low for a week or so, but was bagged on Dundas street by P. C. Johnston. The same evidence was offered in his case as Baker's, and Magistrate Parke sent him for trial. Timothy Toohey's butcher shop was also discovered to have been robbed that night, and Baker and Blackwell will be charged with that offense also. Fred Johnston, a young colored man, was accused of committing an aggravated assault on Mrs. Mary Hoskins, a respectable third ward widow. The evidence of Mrs. Hoskins and two young ladies sent Johnston for trial. Mrs. Hoskins says Johnston followed her on Burwell street one night lately and threw her down. She screamed and Johnston ran. George Underwood was too drunk to appear in court. He was fined $5 or twenty days, and took the days.

ALDERMEN ATTACKED.

Mean Legal Proceedings Set on Foot by Machine Politicians.

Liberal Aldermen Singled Out for Annoyance.

Up to a late hour this afternoon none of the notices of motion which Judge Edward Elliott yesterday granted leave to serve on Ald. J. W. Jones, John Heaman, Wm. Heaman, John Nutkins and Ed. Parnell, jun., had been served, and it is doubtful if they will be. There are wheels within wheels at work in the Conservative party, and yesterday afternoon's work was the result of this. There was a great deal of secrecy shown by the Conservative managers in their attempt to keep quiet the names of those behind the deal.

R. M. Chinnery Toothe kindly referred an inquiring reporter to Mr. Hume B. Elliot, the son of Judge Wm. Elliot.

"Where are you from ?" asked this son of an illustrious sire. "The ADVERTISER." "I cannot tell the ADVERTISER anything," thundered Mr. Elliot. "You will have to go to some of your Grit friends for your information." Down at the Court House in a pigeonhole in the office of Col. Macbeth, cierk of the peace, were lying a half dozen affidavits with a signature attached that Mr. E liot had reasons for wanting to con-For the moment they became public interested. Judge Edward Elliott granted Mr. Hume B. Elliot, at the judge's house late yesterday afternoon, leave to serve a notice of motion that on a certain day an application will be made to render certain aldermen's election void. The proceedings are known among legal men as quo warranto. The arguments will be heard in Toronto on March 1; that is, if they are pressed, which is not likely.

The Conservatives were of the opinion that yesterday was the final day on which any such applications could be made, but this is a matter on which there is a great deal of difference in legal circles.

Again it is hinted that Justice Falconbridge's decision in Ald. O'Meara's case, with regard to the aldermen's liability in not paying the interest on the sinking fund, will have a direct bearing on any future action.

Weekly Sittings of the High Court in London This Morning.

Five Cases Entered-Judge Edward Elliott Presides - James O. Cunningham, of Wardsville, Was Worth $12,000.

The popularity of the weekly sittings of the High Court at London, as recently granted by the Ontario Government, is rapidly growing among the lawyers and litigants of the Western Ontario peninsula. When the sittings are in good running order it is an assured fact that all legal business, such as usually went to Osgoode Hall, Toronto, will come to London, which means a reduction of expenses to lawyers and a benefit to this city in many ways. At this morning's session Judge Edward Elliott presided. Five cases were set for hearing-four coming up at 10 o'clock and the fifth at 2 o'clock in the afternoon-the latter being the hour at which solicitors who are unable to reach London by 10 a.m.

Something of this—expressing what she never said—was written in Silence's face. Her husband could not quite understand it -no man could; but he saw the soft tired look-tired, but not weak - there was nothing weak about her; and he put his arm around her very tenderly.
"My darling, speak; you know I will always listen to you, even though I may differ from you. For no two people can always think alike. But I want a wife, a counselor;

I did not wish a s'ave."
She laughed; still she paused a little before answering. It was hard to go against him—hard to put into plain, ugly words the fact that she, a wife, dared to think her husband wrong. Dear as he was to her—this passionately loved Roderick—there was comething in the other love, dimly dawning, growing daily into a mysterious yet most absolute reality, which made her at once clear-sighted and brave, with the courage that all women ought to have when they think of themselves, not as themselves, but as the mothers of men that are to be.

"Roderick"—he was startled by the sweet solemnity of her tone—"this seems a smaller thing than it is. Whether we accept the invitations or not, matters little; but it does matter a great deal whether we begin our married life with truth or untruth; whether we meet the world with an utterly tis kindness. Why not with a perfectly honest face, saying openly, 'We are poor; we know it, and it is not pleasant. but it is no disgrace; we are neither afraid nor

They were both silent.

"Think, dearest," she continued; "it is a question not merely for to-day or to-morrow, but for all our lives." "God forbid!"

The hasty mutter, the gloomy look—they went to his wife's heart, and he could see they did; but still she never shrunk.
"I, too, say, 'God forbid!' for I know even better than you do how hard poverty is.
Oh, my Roderick! when I think of what I have cost you"—her voice faltered—"of all you have lost through me!"
"Lost—and gained."
"Yes I will not lightly value myself.

Yes. I will not lightly value myself, underrate the woman you chose, who you thought would make you happy. And I will make you happy, even if we are not "The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her," he said, fondly. "But, come, this is real nonsense, and quite beside the question. What is the question, by the by? for I amigetting rather confused, and"—looking at his watch—"I must be off to my work. Oh, what a comfort work is! Don't you perceive that I have been twice as good, since I was at the mill?" She saw through the little loving ruse to save her pain; it made her feel doubly the pain she was giving—was obliged to give.

"You are always good"—taking his hand and kissing it—"and inexpressively good to me, no matter how great a burden 1 am."

"The heaviest burden I ever had to carry But that is neither here and the sweetest. But that is neither here nor there" - with a sudden change to seriousness, the serious, almost sad look that sometimes came over him, showing how the youth had changed into a man, the man into a husband—truly a husband—house band the stay and support of the house. "Dear, we have chosen our lot; we cannot alter it; we would not if we could. It is not all bright; I know that; but we must not make it darker than it is. We must not look

"And for the future-" Then her strength seemed to come into her—strength born of a 'further-looking hope' than even he could take in.

"It is of that future I think," she said. We may be poor, as I said all our lives. I hope not; but we may. Are we, and more than we, to make life one long struggle and deceit, by 'keeping up appearances,' or are we to face the worst, to appear exactly what we are, and trust the world to accept it as such? I believe it would—at least the good half of it. For the others, why need Gently 's she spoke, it was with a certain resoluteness, and the hand which clasped her husband's, felt firm as steel. "For me," she went on, laying her hand on his shoulder, and creeping close to him, "I am so proud, both for myself and you, that when these people invite me, I believe they really want me-me myself, and not my clothes or my carriage. And when they come and see me, I flatter myself it is really to visit me. And if I liked them, and telt them truly my friends, I would go and see them, and wish my husband to do the same, whether fley were poor professors—like ours at Neuchatel or your English dukes and Even if they said to us, as I have seen condescendingly affixed to church doors, *Come in your working clothes; for I am not even a professor; I am a working man." "Certainly; but something else as well. Look in the glass; you don't do it too often! could anybody mistake you for anything but a gentleman?"

"Roderick laughed, coloring a little. "My dove. you are growing a veritable serpent. Mistress Eve, you tempt your Adam on man's weakest point—vanity." "No, you are proud, not vain. Do not be afraid: I see all your faults clear as man, Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale light."
"Thank you."

"As you mine, I hope; because then we can try and cure both. Dear, we are like two little children sent to school together. We may have many a hard lesson to learn; but we will learn them-together. He was silent. As she had said, things were harder for him than for her. She recognized this fully. You could have seen by her face that her heart bled for him, as people call it—that cruel 'bleeding inside,' which natures like hers so well understand; but she did not compromise or yield one inch even to him, and he knew her well enough by this time to be quite certain she never would.

A week man might have resented this, have taken refuge in that foolish "I have said it, and I'll stick to it," or kept up that obstinate assertion of masterdom which usually springs from an inward terror of slavery; but Roderick was prone to neither of these absurdities. He had that truest strength which never terrs to yield, if there is a rational need for yielding.

"My wife," he said, at last, taking her hand and looking up with some gravity.
but not a shadow of anger, "what do you "Do richt and fear nocht,' as your motto-our motto—says. That is all."

"What is the right?" "The simple truth. Say and act it."
"How?"

"Let us tell our neighbors that we are not "Let us tell our neighbors that we are not rich enough for what is called 'society,' but that we feel their kindness, and will accept it, whenever we can. Occasionally we will go and visit them—Symington, for instance, is quite within a walk; and when they visit us"—she smiled—"I hope I shall be able to give them a little hospitality, without need of a Caleb Balderstone."

"My darling!" "Do not be afraid of me"—she kissed him with a slightly quivering lip. "I may be young and foolish, but I know how to keep up my husband's dignity, and my own. Now, shall I write the notes, or you?"
"You," he said, and plunging into a

"I don't know. I just say what I feel; but I try to say it as pleasantly as I can

Why not?"

"Why not, indeed! Only so few do it."

He looked at her, sitting at the head of his table—young, indeed, but with a sweet matronly dignity, added to her wonderful crystalline simplicity—looked at her with all his heart in his eyes. "People say that though a man's business success rests with himself, his social status depends upon his wife. I think, whether rich or poor, I may be quite sure of mine."

A glad light was in her eyes, but she made no answer, except just asking if the letters would do. "Yes. But, my little law-giver, I see

A scandalous affair is reported as having taken place in Berlin on Friday evening. ("Advertiser" Agent, D. B. McColl.) Feb. 18.-An accident happened here last night, happily without serious results. Mrs. Prudham, from Alvinston, and her sister, Miss Martha Mullins, were out visiting in the evening, and when coming home in the dark, missing the track a little, the cutter was upset and the ladies and robes were left on the snow. The horse came home with the cutter all safe, and the ladies are recovering from the slight shaking up their nerves. Last Friday night your correspondent paid a visit to the literary society of school section No. 4, El rid, and was no less surprised than pleased to see such a programme as was there carried out. There were visitors even from Dunwich, as well as South Ekfrid. All seemed to be highly pleased with the proceedings. The house was full, and the best of order was observed to the last, near 12 o'clock. Mr. Duncan Campbell was voted into the chair, and proceedings were begun by Miss Lizzie Mathers giving us on the organ the "Battle of Waterloo." Then came a reading by Miss Carrie Lee, followed by music on the violin and organ by Misses McKenzie, of South Ekfrid, and Misses McKenzie, of South Ekirid, and Messrs. Squire and McNab. A recita-tion, "The Smack at School," by Miss Tina Elliott, was so lifelike that were it not for the young lady's demure face and her dress, I could not resist the belief that the guilty "Will" himself was present, making his blubbering confession under the uplifted birch. Of course I did not hear the smack. We had a debate on the resolution that the heathen Chinee should be debarred from this country. Those who took the affirmative made out that poor John Chinaman was a veritable nuisance in this country, and those on the negative could not make out anything in his favor but his ability to flatten out shirt bosoms, and so, according to the de-cision, poor John will have to be sent home to be shot by the Japs. A song by Miss Mary Mair, and more music, by Miss Helen Dobie and a recitation completed an excellent programme.

The opinions here expressed but reechoe those expressed on all sides. The success scored by Pine-Malt is due solely to merit. It has not been extensively advertised. It has not been presented as a miracle-working remedy, able to raise the dead. Nor yet is Pine-Malt an ordinary double-barreled, hit or miss, patent jumble a century in the rear. An exchange says: The Davenport Brothers and Fay last night gave another of their mysterious seances to a large and astonished audience. 'The Grand Vizier."

Thomas Q. Seabrooke was the magnet that drew a large audience to the Grand last night. His hit in the "Isle of Champagne" last year aroused expectations of something first-class, and they were reasonably justified by "The Grand Vizier," his latest success. It is hardly equal to the "Isle of Cham-pagne," but Seabrooke is as funny as ever, and he is the whole show in him-self. He has a quiet comicality, a serious way of saying droll things, and a reposeful manner that are more effective than the boisterous, effervescent and often overdone methods of many in his line. "The Grand Vizier," like most American comic operas, so-called, is a bundle of laughable nonsense tied by a slender thread of a plot, with some light music thrown in to give the chorus an excuse for appearing. The airs, though reminiscent, are tuneful and pleasing, and two or three solos and quartets won deserved encores. Seabrooke was ably assisted by Irene Murphy, who has a clear soprano voice and charming presence. The scenery is appropriate and beautiful, and the wardrobe effects, including the bifur-cated skirts, are handsome and origi-The whole performance was heartily enjoyed by all. The Dairymen's Convention.

The Western Dairymen's Association will hold three district conventions this week—on Tuesday at Strathroy, Wednesday at St. Thomas, and Thursday at Simcoe. Among those who are expected to address the meetings are Hon. Thomas Ballantyne, Stratford; J. H. Monrad, Illinois; Prof. Dean, O. A. C., Guelph; Prof. Harcourt, Andrew Pattullo, Woodstock; J. S. Pearce and J. W. Wheaton, London. These local gatherings are held in those sections chiefly where it is difficult for the larger number of farmers to attend the annual convention. They have been attended with much success since the association has taken up this work, and the prospects for a successful series this year are very favorable. Mr. J. H. Monrad, who comes from Illinois, will addresss these meetings as well as those to be held in the north next week at Kincardine, Harriston, Flesherton and Newmarket. Mr. Monrad, who is a native of Denmark, has been intimately connected with dairy work for a number of years. His writings are looked upon as authorities upon all phases of practical dairying. He for-merly published the Dairy Messenger, a journal issued quarterly. Copies of this are now being sold as a sort of text book on dairying. In January Mr. Monrad retired from the editorship of the National Dairyman, published in Kansas City, and will make his first appearance in Canada at Strathroy on Feb. 19. It is hoped that every farmer and dairyman who can do so will avail himself of the opportunity of hearing Mr.

Monrad at some of these places. Everywhere and always analyses prove Dr. Price's Baking Powder abso-

Praise for the Captain and Crew of the Teutonic-An Heroic Deed.

The rescue of the crew of the Josie Reeves by the men of the Teutonic in the cold gale of Friday deserves recognition, even in the shadow of such disasters as the Eibe's. It was done in a wind of hurricane force, sharpened by a temperature that made ice the moment it came to rest. Owing to the thickness of the storm the Teutonic could not undertake to cross the bar, and while waiting for better weather she drifted down opposite Long Beach. where she met the schooner Josie Reeves, with nine men. We doubt if men ever voluntarily entered a small boat under more terrible conditions than confronted the four sailors and the fourth officer of the Tentonic who set out to the helpless schooner. It was almost cold enough for the lashings of the sea to be frozen white as fast as they formed. A man might as well have fallen into the Teutonic's furnace as to have gone overboard out of that boat; Death would have been as certain and almost as quick. But the boat was put off, and after an hour's desperate effort, in which the men's sufferings can perhaps be imagined, the attempt to board the schooner had to be abandoned, and luckily the boat got back to the steamer again. Then Capt. Cameron boldly took the steamer straight up to the poor schooner, so as to give her a momentary shelter under the Teutonic's great sides, and in that interval the schooner's crew managed to launch their own boats and get safe on board the Teutonic. It was an episode of heroism amid awful surroundings. Great credit is due Capt. Cameron for the handling of his men and his ship. and as for that special boat's crew we raise our beavers high. - [New York Sun,
